North America Cup draw shortchanges potential marketing coup

Mega powers Beau Jangles and Odds On Mr Mamba are set to collide in Saturday's eliminations – one week too soon.

by Brett Sturman

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

Harness racing had a script that couldn't have been dreamt of any better leading up to this year's Pepsi North America Cup, but at least a slight amount of luster has been removed as a result of the draw for the race that took place on Tuesday (June 2). Rather than having their highly-anticipated debut match up come with $1 million on the line in next week's final, Beau Jangles and Odds On Mr Mamba will square off for the first time this weekend in the first of two North America Cup eliminations.

Story lines to this degree don't come around too often. Last year's Horse of the Year and still unbeaten Beau Jangles against the fastest 2-year-old ever in Odds On Mr Mamba brings with it near unprecedented hype, for not only the North America Cup but for the entire industry. The only fitting scenario would have been for them to meet for the first time in next week's final with all the prestige and money on the line.

It raises the question: Did it absolutely have to be this way?

I reviewed the published conditions for the 2026 North America Cup, and didn't see where it said explicitly that the eliminations must be conducted through an open draw. The conditions address post position draws within the races. It addresses the draw process for post positions in the final itself. But what it doesn't seem to address, anywhere, is how horses are assigned to elimination heats in the first place.

To me, it simply looks like a gap for a scenario that was never contemplated. Whether Woodbine Entertainment Group has

And in a late-breaking twist from Wednesday morning, Beau Jangles' biggest threat may not even turn out to be Odds On Mr Mamba but rather Brandon Blvd. That's because in what had to be a massively difficult decision, Dexter Dunn has opted to drive Brandon Blvd in the elimination. James MacDonald will pick up the catch-drive of all catch-drives on Odds On Mr Mamba.

authority under broader Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario (AGCO) regulations, or could have gone against perhaps unwritten long-standing tradition to separate Beau Jangles and Odds On Mr Mamba is a question not answered in the nomination conditions. There's always been a general assumption that a blind draw is required for heat assignments, but perhaps it would have been possible for the track to have discretion in the seeding of the eliminations.

Even beyond Beau Jangles and Odds On Mr Mamba, this year's eliminations make an unusually strong case for seeding the eliminations. Not only does one of the eliminations contain Beau Jangles and Odds On Mr Mamba, but it also contains Brandon Blvd and Melillo. Four of the five most generally highest regarded horses are all in the same elimination, and you could make the argument that even the best four are all in the same elimination.

When elimination fields are drawn without any consideration for competitive balance, it has an impact on the final. This year now, there are sure to be horses from the softer elimination now coming through to the final that would have otherwise had to work harder for it in more balanced eliminations. By the same token, it's possible that someone from the stacked elimination including the horses named above as well as last year's Governor's Cup champion Gentleman's Club could miss out on the final. If the goal of the race is to have the highest qualified horses race in the $1 million final, the current elimination process is counter to that.

The good news is that what happened this year can be entirely preventable going forward. A rule change to the North America Cup conditions, or any major stakes race for that matter, could be in order for how eliminations are fundamentally determined. Or, a stipulation could be added that gives management absolute discretion in these circumstances, as it already has that level of discretion for other general racing conditions in the nomination rules.

As for Saturday's race itself, even though it's just an elimination, I would think there will be a more competitive spirit than normal. Beau Jangles remains unbeaten at 15-for-15 for his career and that alone should be an incentive for him to not want to take a defeat unnecessarily. And in a late-breaking twist from Wednesday morning, Beau Jangles' biggest threat may not even turn out to be Odds On Mr Mamba but rather Brandon Blvd. That's because in what had to be a massively difficult decision, Dexter Dunn has opted to drive Brandon Blvd in the elimination. James MacDonald will pick up the catch-drive of all catch-drives on Odds On Mr Mamba.

Beau Jangles and Odds On Mr Mamba meeting in their elimination isn't the end of the world, but harness racing doesn't get many moments like this either and there should be an obligation to protect them when it does occur. The horses and their connections have done their part to ensure a coming together for the highest profile match up in racing, and now rules should be written to ensure the build up for that opportunity is maximized.

RACING INTO THE FUTURE

Prediction markets using the HHR model to develop casino products

by Bob Duff

Historic horse racing (HHR) machines are providing a significant lifeline to the sport in jurisdictions where they have been approved. They've been a massive success story in Kentucky, for instance.

Last year, HHR machines generated a total handle of $12.2 billion, leading to $1.02 billion in gross gaming revenue. Those funds have significantly boosted purses for live racing and added hundreds of millions of dollars to the state economy in tax revenue.

Others are taking notice of the effectiveness of the HHR machines. Prediction markets, which have infiltrated the U.S. sports betting market by taking advantage of legal loopholes, are seeing the HHR model as another potential door opener to get their product a piece of the massive casino industry pie.

Prediction market companies like Kalshi and Polymarket utilize sports event contracts, where players back one outcome or another relating to an event, to do an end run around state sports betting regulators. Prediction market sites are federally regulated by the Commodities Futures Trading Commission (CFTC).

These sites argue, and are backed by the CFTC in their opinion, that as a federally regulated operation, they are not governed by state laws. Further, they slink into a gray area by citing their products as derivative trading. Since the odds on the outcome are generated by the competing sides of the event rather than from a betting line set by the house, they further assert that their products are not sports betting.

The issue is before the courts in several states, and the CFTC has taken the unusual position of filing suit against state Attorneys General on behalf of the prediction markets.

On the horizon could be another battle over a gray area operation that would be evolving from the use of the HHR model to create casino-style prediction markets. According to a prominent gaming attorney, this plan has moved beyond the hypothetical stage and into development.

“The [Historic horse racing] model is one that I think could be very readily translated into the prediction market space, and I would anticipate there are businesses that are thinking about how to do that right now.”

~ Stephen Piepgrass

“This is something I am sure people are talking about and thinking about right now,” Stephen Piepgrass, a gaming regulatory attorney and partner at Troutman Pepper Locke, told the website DeFi Rate. “The HHR model is one that I think could be very readily translated into the prediction market space, and I would anticipate there are businesses that are thinking about how to do that right now.”

HHR FOUND A LOOPHOLE TO GAIN APPROVAL

HHR machines took a similar path to existence. Currently operating in 12 U.S. states, HHR machines use past race results to power slot-like games. Players make pari-mutuel wagers on actual past races, and the specific information of that race they are wagering on isn't revealed until the bet is down.

Since pari-mutuel wagering is legal and regulated in the states that offer HHR machines, no casino license is required to operate HHR machines.

Prediction market contracts could take advantage of the same loophole. Evidently, the model under consideration would be a casino-style offering that would be layered atop a range of legitimate federal derivatives. By utilizing legal and regulated CFTC-listed event contracts to create these games, there would be no need to acquire a casino license to operate the games. Similar to sports event contracts, prediction market sites would have the backing of a federal regulating agency, enabling them to offer these casino-style games in all 50 U.S. states. Since only seven U.S. states currently allow legal and regulated online casino gambling, this could be a massive money maker for the prediction market sites.

“ I think [casino-style prediction markets] would take off very quickly as soon as the first one comes out. I think before we know it, everyone’s going to be doing it. ”

~ Stephen Piepgrass

Piepgrass is confident that once again, the prediction market companies have unearthed a foolproof method for doing an end run on state gambling laws.

“I don’t see the current legislation being the type of framework that would address this,” Piepgrass said.

And again, like the sports event contracts that now account for approximately 70 per cent of the prediction market revenue, these casino-style games would be making money hand over fist.

“I think it would take off very quickly as soon as the first one comes out,” Piepgrass said. “I think before we know it, everyone’s going to be doing it.”

That revenue would keep rolling while state regulators chase their tails, engaged in protracted court battles, desperately seeking to close the legal loophole.

“I think the window is narrower than what it’s been in the past for operating in this zone, but I do think there’s a lot of money that could be made in a small window,” Piepgrass said.

From a horse racing standpoint, the irony of this outcome is beyond frustrating. In HHR machines, the horse racing industry developed a business model that’s proven massively successful and profitable. It’s been a boon to the sport.

Now, one of horse racing’s rivals for the betting dollar is going to take that business model and create a similar product, one with the potential to dwarf the revenue generated by HHR machines.

Western Fair 2025-26 season went out with a bang

by Matthew Lomon

It was a picture-perfect night, both on and off the track, as The Raceway at Western Fair District bid farewell to its 2025-26 meet on Friday (May 29), capped by a Camluck Classic program for the ages.

“The atmosphere was awesome,” said Amy O’Toole, manager of equine programming at Western Fair. “The patio was packed, we had food trucks, live music, lots of giveaways, t-shirt tosses – there was a lot going on. It was a fun event. Everyone was there, it was all smiles and laughter.”

Morale was high across the board as fans, horseplayers, and horsepeople, alike, were treated to a record-setting night of racing on a long overdue picturesque day in London, ON.

“Mother Nature was tough on us all winter, but we finally got some nice weather,” O’Toole said. “Our attendance was one of the highest I can remember in recent years. I got lots of comments from guests saying that they didn’t remember it ever being that busy, so that was amazing.

“It’s so fun to see the stands packed like that. To see others coming out and enjoying something that you’re passionate about, which a lot of work goes into. It’s very rewarding and why we all do it.”

Headlining the dazzling on-track display was Tom Hill homebred Lou Hill, who with reigning Dan Patch Driver of the Year Jason Bartlett in tow, delivered on his lofty 1-5 favorite status with a 1½-length triumph in the $150,000 Camluck Classic.

Track history was also made by a pair of veteran performers in 5-year-old pacing mare Grit N Grace and 6-year-old trotting gelding Passarino.

The former, a Lorraine Rey homebred trained by Michael Kwietniowski, reset the record books after wiring the $50,000 Forest City Pace in 1:52.2 with Jody Jamieson in the race bike.

It was a terrific closing night to the 2025-26 meet at The Raceway at Western Fair District.

The new watermark for older pacing mares at the Raceway bested the former figure held by Camille and Gia's Surreal by two-fifths of a second.

Not to be outdone, the Garry Merner-trained Passarino took home the $16,000 preferred trot in 1:54.3 to stamp a new track trotting record under the direction of reinsman Mark MacDonald.

On hand for the night's feats was a boisterous crowd of familiar and fresh faces.

"There were a lot of younger people we noticed, so that was something promising that we liked to see," O'Toole said. "We're noticing people are starting to remember the event and put it in their calendars to come back every year. We're hitting the younger crowd, too, which is nice because they tell their friends."

"We're noticing a lot of that in the ads we run for it on our social media. People are commenting, tagging their friends – it's turned into an event that people enjoy coming to with their friend groups."

O'Toole added that she and the Western Fair team were "very pleased" with the night and "tremendous card of racing" that generated a significant uptick in live handle over last year's Camluck Classic.

~ Amy O’Toole

“The overall bet was around $825,000 for the program, and that’s pretty strong for our track, especially with the heavy competition on Friday nights,” she said.

“Our live handle for Camluck Night was up about 15 per cent from last year, and it’s on par with some of our biggest nights, so it feels good to be in that ballpark again. It feels like we’re going in the right direction.”

There were plenty of proud moments for the folks at The Raceway beyond a storybook finale, including the immortalization of one of the track’s most memorable equine stars, So Much More.

The two-time Forest City Pace champion, who collected 79 wins and more than $1.86 million in purse earnings across her remarkable career, was formally inducted into The Raceway’s Wall of Fame on Friday (May 15).

“That was a really cool one,” O’Toole said. “We hadn’t inducted anyone since 2019, when we honored [longtime local horseman] Larry Fitzsimmons. So, we sat down and talked about doing it again and thought she was the perfect horse, and that it was the perfect time to do it.

“We brought her connections out and had a trackside ceremony that night. It was special, I know they were really happy.”

That same night, the track also unveiled a new logo for the Forest City Pace, which will officially be renamed in honor of So Much More beginning next season.

“Nobody knew that was happening except for the connections and us,” O’Toole said. “It was a nice little addition to the Wall of Fame induction to have a race named after her.”

The most recent campaign also happened to be especially memorable for Michael and Shae Sumner, the father-and-daughter team behind ageless mare Ladies From Hell, who’s brilliance made her a double winner at this February’s Western Fair Awards.

After 10 victories and earnings of more than $67,000, the 12-year-old marvel repeated as Aged Pacing Mare of the Year and was the unanimous choice for Overall Horse of the Year, The Raceway’s top honor.

“They were so ecstatic,” said O’Toole of the Sumners. “They’re local connections who stable at Cerro Stables, which is about 10 minutes away from Western Fair. Cerro also sponsored that award, so that was special for them to present it to them. They were so proud – I know they just love her – and it was nice to see.

Trainer Lindsey Kerr enjoyed a standout season of her own, celebrating a pair of division winners (Claiming Pacer, Aged Pacing Horse) as well as capturing her first London training crown.

“She’s stabled at Dorchester Downs Training Centre, which we own, so that was a special one, too,” O’Toole said. “She had a challenging winter, and [Leading] Trainer was coming down to the wire, but it was nice to see that she was still able to get the awards.”

Giving back to the community was another point of emphasis for The Raceway this season, particularly through the Drivers’ Holiday Challenge in support of Toys for Tots.

“It’s becoming one of my favorite events,” O’Toole said. “This year, our marketing team spoke to one of the families the event helps, and it makes you realize more and more how many people we’re actually helping.

“I’m excited that we’re going to try and grow it even more this year.”

The facility at Western Fair also benefited from a handful of Ontario Racing-funded renovation projects, namely a new starting gate vehicle, upgraded paddock stalls, and new grandstand seating.

“The starting gate was built locally, and it was a huge upgrade,” O’Toole said. “There were no issues at all. The new paddock stalls were a nice improvement. We get comments about how nice our paddock looks from people that don’t come very often, and even some of the new drivers coming into town.

“The new grandstand seating really lifted the look out there. On the big nights, there was barely an empty seat. We appreciate having that for all our race nights, but our biggest ones especially.”

With another successful season now in the rearview, O’Toole and Co. will get a few well-deserved days to come up for air before commencing preparations for the London Classic Yearling Sale (Oct. 13-14).

“Entries closed about a month ago, so we’re putting together the master list and getting all that information organized,” she said. “That’s our focus for the summer.

“The sale is something we all love. It’s a fun event to plan and organize, and then see the horses that are entered, look them up, see which horses we’re getting, and then get to watch all their siblings that we’ve sold race all summer.”

Yearling sale prep is merely item number one on a lengthy offseason to-do list that the team at The Raceway at Western Fair will spend the next four months working through, in pursuit of raising the bar yet again.

“After that, we’ll sit down and plan out next year,” O’Toole said. “We’ll probably do that fairly soon. Get an idea of all of our events, what we need for them, and how we can make them better. I think everyone’s going to enjoy a little downtime and then get right back into it.”

MANE ATTRACTION

with JOHN BERRY

The Big M offered a sure thing in the Meadowlands Pace 41 years ago

by John Berry

Over the past 67 years, I have been told of many “sure things” on the racetracks of North America – probably more than 1,000.

The most lucrative one was the first time I ever attended the races, Aug. 22, 1959, when I was told that “Dr Hyslop couldn’t lose.”

He won, too, and I walked up to the window to get the tingling feeling of cashing a ticket – $8.80 – before being rudely intercepted by security telling me I was too young to cash the ticket. Luke, the gent who corralled me to the track, cashed it for me.

That was the night Su Mac Lad won the final race for John Peat, who escorted that one to one of the most storied careers in harness racing.

But, as the saying goes, “I was hooked!”

Over those 67 years since, I have been offered many sure things, but the vast majority of those have left me penniless at night’s end.

Fast forward to July 19, 1985 – the night of The Meadowlands Pace.

The Big M offered a sure thing – not only to me, but to every one of the 30,000 attendees.

They did have a free gift to all, a slim-lined, sturdy, multi-function calculator that I used for years, until I got my first PC.

But the sure thing came in the seventh race, the $1,018,000 Meadowlands Pace.

That was the event where the great Nihilator proved his superiority in grand style – and in a manner that cannot even be described in Roget’s Thesaurus.

Was Nihilator a sure thing?

Not really. Not 100 per cent.

But Nihilator had company in the form of entrymates Handsome Sum, Chairmanoftheboard, Pershing Square, and Primus, all part of the invincible Lou Guida entry.

[The 1985 Meadowlands Pace] was the event where the great Nihilator proved his superiority in grand style – and in a manner that cannot even be described in Roget’s Thesaurus.

I had never seen so many letters – 1a, 1b, 1c, and 1d – instead of just numbers, on a racing program.

That, by itself – a five-horse entry – is a 99.99 per cent sure thing.

As the show pool vaulted upward to heights never seen before, it became evident that a sure thing was developing faster than the mile that was expected of Nihilator,

With the show pool over $700,000 with a couple of minutes to post, I did some quick figuring with my new, slick calculator and found that, if I could put $300 on the Nihilator team to show, I’d be guaranteed a $15 profit and, coupled with a $2 wager on the rest of the field, I’d have a guaranteed win.

So, I started figuring what the show payoffs would be – just like the Roosevelt Raceway tote board days – further guaranteeing my sure thing win.

Anxious Robby was second choice in the show pool with $3,730 bet on him, Marauder was next with $2,642, then Forrest Skipper ($1,147), followed by New Bret, Witsend’s Wizard, and Pinocchio, where the possibilities could have really been earth-shattering.

The way I figured it, if things went my way, the three lowest show payoffs would be a minimum total of $702, give or take a few bucks, plus breakage.

And, if we really got lucky, New Bret would pay around $585, himself with Witsend’s Wizard coming in at $405 and Pinocchio returning a tad over $400.

So, my buds and I put together the $300 plus the $12 for the others and, bingo, we were all set for a couple of minutes of thrills.

Nevertheless, we were guaranteed a profit of $3 up to, possibly, $1,400 and change.

But, if things only guaranteed our $3 profit, The Meadowlands would suffer a minus pool of over $171,433.85 on a final show pool of $841,157 – $829,604 wagered on the Nihilator gang of five.

As the wings folded, our dreams of grandeur dissipated with every step of the mile as Nihilator didn’t need much help from his alphabetic friends and cruised around the oval in 1:50.3.

Oh, how well I remember that mile with Nihilator leaving from post 1 along with Chairmanoftheboard (1b) and, then, Pershing Square (1c) taking the field to a :27.4 opener.

Just after that, the “Magic Man,” Bill O’Donnell, sent Nihilator on a binge that put him on top halfway through the mile in :56.1 and it was all over but the shouting from there.

Pacing a final half in :54 – pretty snappy back 40 years ago – Nihilator pushed through the wire equaling the world record for a mile in a competitive race.

But this was no “competitive” race as he cruised home some seven lengths the best with Chairmanoftheboard (1b) and Benny “The Whip” Webster next and Dignatarian (number 8, post position 12), getting a sharp steer from Buddy Gilmour, to overcome that second tier post to be third, the only one outside of the Guida gang to hit the board.

Next were 1d, 1a, and 1c – Primus, Handsome Sum, and Pershing Square.

Anxious Robby put in a bid from the second tier 11 post and reached second turning for home, but the only other sure thing this day was that we were only going to win a buck or two – not the grand for which we were praying.

Nihilator proved on this racing day, that he had nothing left to prove.

From there, all Nihilator had to do was prove he could conquer a half-mile track – like the fabled one in Delaware, OH, which he did in his two heats in the Little Brown Jug.

But we’re talking about a sure thing on this race day – Meadowlands Pace race day.

Yes, The Meadowlands provided one for their huge crowd.

It was a sharp calculator for most, but, for me and two of my buddies, our sure thing was betting our $300 on Nihilator and his gang of four more to show, and $2 to show on all the others in the race, with the hope that a miracle through the betting windows would happen.

We ended up with a profit of $1 apiece and we, too, were part of The Meadowlands historic racing program where they handled $4,612,013.

ADVENTURES IN ILLINOIS

with NEIL MILBERT

Future of harness racing in Illinois continues to be grim

by Neil Milbert

The future of pari-mutuel harness racing in Illinois has become increasingly precarious after the Illinois legislature adjourned its spring session without voting on a bill that would have legalized a track/casino complex in downstate Decatur.

Bankrupt Hawthorne Race Course in south suburban Chicago remains the only harness track left in the state but the Carey family has yet to finalize a deal with a partner to perpetuate racing and introduce casino gambling there while offers also have been made to convert the property into a real estate development.

Members of the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Association (IHHA) were cautiously optimistic in the week prior to adjournment after Rep. Bob Rita and Rep. Lisa Hernandez co-sponsored House Bill 5469 calling for legalization of the proposed Decatur Downs racino, and elimination of the ban on a new track being constructed within 30 miles of Hawthorne.

A similar bill passed the Illinois Senate by a 49-8 vote last fall so if the House had passed Bill 5469 it seemed almost certain that the Senate would also have given its approval.

The following post on the IHHA website expressed the frustration of the organization's executive committee, which had lobbied long and hard for the legislation.

"There was plenty of finger pointing to the reasons why [legislators were blaming other legislators] but none of that matters now," the post on the IHHA website said. "We are still trying a few 'Hail Mary' type plays but we are not confident that they will be successful. This is incredibly disappointing to all of us. At this point in time, we can only hope that Hawthorne will find a partner before the mid-July date in bankruptcy court and we can continue to race in November."

Because of Hawthorne's inability to pay its figurative mountain of bills all 14 of the track's Suburban Downs harness dates in January and February were canceled and the Illinois Racing Board suspended its license on Jan. 26.

The suspension didn't affect the Hawthorne thoroughbred meeting but after the track filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy on Feb. 27 the start of the ongoing thoroughbred meeting was delayed from March 29 to April 19.

The thoroughbred meeting is scheduled to run through Nov. 1.

Then, Suburban Downs is scheduled to conduct a Nov. 6-Dec. 27 meeting. However, that is contingent on Hawthorne finding a partner that wants to continue racing and capitalize on the opportunity to conduct casino gambling at the site under provisions of the massive gambling expansion law the legislature approved in 2019.

Hawthorne announced plans for a $40 million racino in 2018 and began demolition of the grandstand in 2020. But the project stalled because track president Tim Carey was unable to secure financing, leaving an eyesore at the premises and a lien of $5 million because of unpaid bills from creditors who did the teardown.

If Carey sells the family-owned 107-acre property to a real-estate developer in mid-July the only pari-mutuel harness racing scheduled for Illinois this year will be at the State Fair in Springfield on Aug. 13, 14, 15, 19, and 20 and at the State Fair in DuQuoin on Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 and 2.

If the Decatur Downs racino bill had passed Conor Lucas and his father, Larry, who are the principal prospective investors, planned to begin racing at the track in 2028.

One of the apparent reasons House Bill 5469 wasn't voted on was because legislators were preoccupied with the Chicago Bears' proposal to get massive tax breaks to build a state-of-the-art stadium and entertainment destination on the site of the former Arlington International Racecourse and prevent the team from agreeing to a sweetheart deal in Hammond, IN, just across the state line.

But the Bears' bid – like that of the Decatur Downs racino – was unsuccessful.

The National Football League team bought Arlington for $197.2 million in 2023 from Churchill Downs, Inc. (CDI) for $197.2 million in 2023 with the stipulation that there be no racing or casino gambling on the premises. It was an obvious attempt to wipe out competition for the state's most profitable casino, the nearby Rivers Casino in which CDI holds a 62 per cent interest.

In order to lower their taxes, the Bears demolished what Architectural Digest described as "the world's most beautiful racetrack."

The loss of Arlington left dual-purpose Hawthorne as the only racetrack in the Chicago metropolitan area. The only other track remaining in the state is Fairmount Park, which conducts thoroughbred racing and casino gambling in Collinsville, across the Mississippi River from St. Louis.

EUROPEAN REPORT

U.S.-bred Allegiant smashes world record with stirring 1:48 Elitloppet victory

by Thomas Hedlund

U.S.-bred Allegiant shattered the world record while winning the $1 million Elitlopp final on Sunday (May 31) at Solvalla, going wire-to-wire in an incredible mile of 1:48 in her second race of the day and the first time she has ever raced without shoes.

The 5-year-old daughter of Tactical Landing out of Too Good For You – bred by Atlantic Trot Inc. and Hunterton Farm’s Steve Stewart and now owned by Swedish owner Tobias Persson – not only smashed Sebastian K S’s 1:49 world record for a five-eighths-mile track set at Pocono in 2014, Allegiant also erased Homicide Hunter’s all-time world record of 1:48.4 set at The Red Mile in 2018.

Watch the race replay here.

It is an incredible achievement for Stewart and his partners. He not only was a co-breeder of Allegiant, he owned a piece of her during her U.S. racing career during which she earned over $1 million, won the 2024 Breeders Crown for sophomore trotting fillies at The Meadowlands and was named the Dan Patch winner in her division that same year. Stewart also is a co-breeder and current part-owner of Allegiant’s sire Tactical Landing. He also was a co-breeder of Saturday’s (May 30) Sweden Cup winner Double Deceiver.

Stewart sent a one word text, in all caps, when congratulated on the victory: “AMAZING.”

As for the Elitlopp final itself, the drama began before the start as favorite Idao de Tillard (Severino) drew post 8 and never had a chance. The French superstar made a break before the gate released the field and was effectively eliminated before the race even began.

Don Fanucci Zet (Hard Livin) fired off the gate, but he was powerless to resist Allegiant, charging from post 7.

Adam Ström ställt
American-bred Allegiant (Örjan Kihlström) set a 1:48 world record while winning the final of the Elitlopp on Sunday at Solvalla in Stockholm.

Allegiant's driver Örjan Kihlström played his entire hand before the start.

He pulled the Norwegian headgear prior to the gate leaving, turning Allegiant into an absolute rocket.

The opening fractions were almost impossible to comprehend: :25.4 for the first 400 meters and a staggering 1:19.4 for the first 1,200 meters.

Those are numbers rarely, if ever, seen in harness racing.

Allegiant never appeared to slow down.

The American mare should have been exhausted. The race should have been over for her long before the wire.

But it wasn't.

Instead, Allegiant shrugged off every challenger and continued powering away while maintaining both speed and stride all the way to the finish.

"This is the craziest thing I've ever experienced in harness racing," said Kihlström after recording his fifth Elitlopp victory.

"It shouldn't be possible to reach the finish line after an opening like that."

What Allegiant accomplished – together with trainer Daniel Redén, caretaker Lina Pergenius and driver Kihlström – is unlikely to be forgotten.

This could go down as one of the greatest harness races ever contested anywhere in the world.

"Holy hell!" said Redén moments after the race. "Yes! No, this can't be real. I don't have any words. I smashed the TV in the barn.

"That effort was magical. I told Örjan just to qualify for the final. The plan was always to pull the Norwegian headgear before the start. This is easily the wildest thing I've ever experienced in my life in racing.

"I smashed the TV because I thought she was beaten, and then suddenly I heard everybody screaming."

A little later, speaking to the Solvalla crowd, Redén was somewhat calmer.

"I told Örjan to go from the start," Redén said. "I'm a realist. When I saw 1:04 for the first 500 meters, I thought it was impossible. I gave up on the race entering the stretch.

"But I'm unbelievably happy. We beat the French on our home track in front of this crowd."

Allegiant is the first Swedish-owned horse to win the Elitlopp since Redén first won the race in 2021 with Don Fanucci Zet, who finished fifth in this year's final.

Kihlström's previous Elitloppet triumphs came with:

From Above (2003)

Magic Tonight (2015)

Nuncio (2016)

It was the second Elitloppet victory for trainer Daniel Redén.

Don Fanucci Zet (2021)

He was also first across the wire with Propulsion in 2020.

"It was a pretty decent performance," Kihlström said jokingly afterward.

"It's unreal, but we felt she was capable of going very fast. She showed that in her Swedish debut at Örebro last year. It shouldn't be possible, but the plan was simply to let her run her own race.

"I look like a gorilla right now. Every hair on my body is standing up."

Allegiant was purchased for $925,000 U.S. at the North American Standardbred Mixed Sale in Ohio in December of 2024 for Persson, who has invested heavily in the sport. Stewart said he and some partners were the underbidders.

"It feels completely unreal," Persson said.

"I'm exhausted. I don't know what to say. Deep down I felt this could happen, and the feeling right now is unbeatable.

"I've spent years sitting in the E-stand screaming during Elitloppet, and now I'm standing here."

Allegiant set a world record while racing without shoes for the first time in her career.

Dream Mine (Maharajah) enjoyed a perfect trip in third throughout the scorching fractions and launched his bid leaving the final turn. Jörgen Westholm’s Derby winner could not erase the gap Allegiant had created but finished a tremendous second.

Go On Boy (Password) rallied from fifth and produced a spectacular late burst to grab third. When Romain Derieux turned for home, Go On Boy was dead last. To finish third in 1:48.2 was extraordinary.

“It’s completely insane,” Derieux said.

“I go 1:48.2 with Go On Boy and still have no chance of winning. He was outstanding.”

An American mare winning the Elitlopp?

We’ve seen that before.

But it hadn’t happened since Moni Maker (Speedy Crown) won in a world record in 1998.

Before that, another American mare made history when Peace Corps (Baltic Speed) won in 1991 for Swedish trainer Stig H. Johansson.

Mares to win the Elitlopp:

1953 – Frances Bulwark – Sören Nordin

1956 – Gelinotte – Charlie Mills

1957 – Gelinotte – Charlie Mills

1961 – Kracovie – Roger Vercruysse

1963 – Ozo – Roger Massue

1965 – Elma – Johannes Frömming / Jonel Chyriacos

1966 – Roquepine – Jean-René Gougeon / Henri Levesque

1967 – Roquepine – Henri Levesque

1968 – Eileen Eden – Johannes Frömming

1969 – Fresh Yankee – Joe O’Brien

1970 – Eileen Eden – Johannes Frömming

1976 – Dimitria – Léopold Verroken

1991 – Peace Corps – Stig H. Johansson

1998 – Moni Maker – Wally Hennessey / Jimmy Takter

2026 – Allegiant – Örjan Kihlström / Daniel Redén

“ It feels completely unreal [to win Elitloppet with Allegiant]. I’m exhausted. I don’t know what to say. Deep down I felt this could happen, and the feeling right now is unbeatable. I’ve spent years sitting in the E-stand screaming during Elitloppet, and now I’m standing here. ”

ELIMINATION RESULTS

When Don Fanucci Zet found the lead in the first heat, and was allowed to dictate the pace, much of the battle was already won. In a sharp finish – covering the final 400 meters in :26.3 – he held off a brilliant Dream Mine.

Redén-trained Don Fanucci Zet (Hard Livin—Kissed By the West) was quickest away from the gate, although Clément Duvaldestin briefly challenged with Idao de Tillard before electing to take the pocket after 250 meters. Mats E. Djuse angled Dream Mine out with 200 meters remaining and steadily cut into the leader’s advantage throughout the stretch, but he could never quite reel in Don Fanucci Zet, who stopped the clock in 1:51.3 for the mile.

Joining the winner in the final were Diva Ek (Trixtion) and race favorite Idao de Tillard (Severino).

Romain Derieux gave defending champion Go On Boy a good trip from fourth-over, and after a breathtaking stretch rally, the French star captured the second Elitlopp elimination.

Gio Cash held the lead comfortably for Dexter Dunn, while Örjan Kihlström quickly secured the pocket with Allegiant (Tactical Landing), leaving Fine Manners first-over.

French gelding Inexess Bleu (Vittel de Brevol), however, left the gate much sharper than most expected and after 500 meters Alexandre Abrivard had him parked outside Gio Cash. The French tank sat on the favorite’s flank while the pace remained relentless throughout.

After fractions of 1:08.9 for the opening 500 meters and 1:09.2 at the kilometer, the entire field remained tightly grouped entering the final turn.

By then, Romain Derieux had launched Go On Boy from fourth-over, and the defending Elitlopp champion looked formidable sweeping three-wide around the final bend.

The stretch drive became an instant classic. Jobspost (Ready Express) was last turning for home, but unleashed one of the fastest finishes ever seen in Elitloppet history. His :26.1 final quarter while circling the field earned him second place. Inexess Bleu finished third, while Allegiant was trapped behind the fading Gio Cash – who broke stride shortly before the finish – and had to settle for fourth.

LAST TO FIRST FOR GIOVAZ

Last turning for home and first at the wire.

That was the story of Giovaz (Maharajah), who tracked down Mimosa To Martini in the final strides to win the $100,000 4-Year-Old Elite for fillies.

Antonio Di Nardo followed cover three-wide down the backstretch before angling the Alessandro Gocciadoro-trained filly four-wide at the top of the stretch. Giovaz responded with a devastating turn of foot, lowering her lifetime mark by 2.4 seconds in the process.

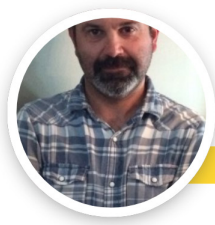

The daughter of Maharajah has enjoyed a stellar campaign. Earlier this year she captured the Premio Derby dei 4 Anni (€200,200), while her 2-year-old season featured victories in the filly division of the Gran Premio Allevatori (€180,400) and the final of the Anact Stakes Plus+ (€200,200).

Di Nardo unveiled another powerful closer from Alessandro Gocciadoro’s formidable stable when Golden Boy captured the $100,000 4-Year-Old Elite for colts and geldings at Solvalla.

Pure Count and Giotto Ek appeared set to settle the issue between themselves through the stretch, but neither could withstand the late charge of Golden Boy (Maharajah—Sinead Prad), who stormed past in the final strides to score in 1:50.4, equaling the Swedish record for foreign-bred 4-year-old colts and geldings.

Gocciadoro completed an exacta as stablemate Giotto Ek (Vivid Wise As) finished second, while the game pacesetter Pure Count (Googoo Gaagaa) held on well for third after setting the pace.

Golden Boy already owns an impressive résumé. Last season he captured the Group 1 Gran Premio Città di Napoli (€154,000) and also finished runner-up in the colts’ division of the Gran Premio Allevatori behind Ginostrabliggi. Additional highlights include third-place finishes in both the Gran Premio Tito Giovanardi and Premio Derby dei 4 Anni.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Horses are Kylah Dickson's happy place

by Chris Lomon

Sometimes it is a whisper. Other times, it is a shout. But every word from caretaker Kylah Dickson carries the same message of encouragement, admiration, and love for the horses in her care.

Dickson is not one to internalize her emotions when it comes to harness racing's equine athletes.

"I am a wreck, especially in the big races," she said. "I am very jittery, very excited and then I start pacing. When I first bring my horse to the track and then they do post parade and warm-ups, I am usually pacing back and forth. I get very worked up during the race. I am yelling their name and clapping. Even if there is a small percentage chance that they can hear me, I want them to know I am cheering them on. It just brings me so much joy."

Some of those moments have been captured through the lens of award-winning Woodbine Mohawk Park track photographer Clive Cohen. One image, taken after 3-year-old trotter Blue Jean Gal won her SBOA final, recently gained attention on social media.

"If you see someone crying or smiling in the photo, that's probably me," she said with a laugh.

Tears of joy have been the norm since Dickson joined the standardbred ranks two years ago.

When she went looking for work, she fell back on her love of horses as the foundation for her search.

"Horses have always been a big part of my life," she said. "My mom has always been an instructor, so we had horses growing up. I was on a horse before I could walk. As I got older, I finished high school and had a few jobs here and there. I was looking for something more full-time because I was also going to university and I found myself needing a job.

"I was looking for jobs in my area, and I just so happened to find an opening at a racing stable – for Julie and Bert Walker – and I thought I'd apply. I love horses. I had already been working with horses at the time, but not in the standardbred industry. So, I thought if I got the job that it would go well because of my love for horses. And when I did, I just fell in love with the racing industry as well. I didn't realize that I would love it to that degree, but that is exactly what happened."

“ I think the moment I truly fell in love with all things harness racing was after my first paddock. It really clicked. My first paddock was with a horse we called Phoebe – her race name was Angel Fly Away. Just seeing her race for the first time was unbelievable. I worked with her every day and then I got to see her whizzing around the track. Seeing a horse who I worked with race for the first time was such a thrill. ”

~ Kylah Dickson

It didn't take long for Dickson to know she was on the right track in her new role.

“I think the moment I truly fell in love with all things harness racing was after my first paddock,” she said. “It really clicked. My first paddock was with a horse we called Phoebe – her race name was Angel Fly Away. Just seeing her race for the first time was unbelievable. I worked with her every day and then I got to see her whizzing around the track. Seeing a horse who I worked with race for the first time was such a thrill.”

A bay daughter of All Bets Off out of the Art Major mare J M Chicago delivered Dickson with a treasured career first.

“My first win was with Yoda Queen,” Dickson said. “I remember that being a late night and not because of the race. I was on cloud nine.”

In typical fashion, Dickson paced almost as much distance as the pacer herself.

“The jitters, the energy that goes through you – it puts you on a whole other level,” she said. “I think I pulled an all-nighter after that win because I was just so happy.”

It was also a reminder, a most welcome one, that working in harness racing was tailor-made for Dickson.

“I thrive off of responsibility and taking accountability for my actions, so being able to put that into something and seeing the end result of what I am doing is just so rewarding,” she said.

Which is why Dickson feels as though she has hit the career jackpot regardless of when, where or what type of race – overnight, SBOA final or OSS Gold – the horses under her care are on track for.

When she does watch them compete, a certain thought always comes to mind.

“I like watching how they show up,” she said. “Every horse I have raced always puts in their best effort. It is so admirable. They have good weeks and bad weeks, but they are always putting in 100 per cent. You have to give them credit and respect for being able to do that. And the ones that love their job, it is just incredible to watch, to see how much effort they put in and how much they want it.”

And then there is the aforementioned Blue Jean Gal.

“The best part is the end of the day when all the horses are in their stalls having naps, or out in the field grazing, but knowing they are loved and being taken care of. I tell them that their happiness brings me a lot of happiness.”

~ Kylah Dickson

The daughter of Trixton out of the Yankee Glide mare Pine Knolls has been a force this spring, winning three straight races, including an OSS Gold opening leg on May 24.

For Dickson, it's not the victories, the 10 wins in 12 starts or the $227,362 in purse earnings that make the striking bay filly special.

“She was the first baby who came into the barn when I started working with Julie,” Dickson said. “I started in the spring. The first group came in that fall and she was one of the few babies I was given to work with. I started to bond with her from day one. I have a photo of her in her harness for the first time. To be part of the crucial first steps and to develop such a strong connection with her over the months, it has been such a wonderful journey.”

A journey that has had its challenging days.

“It took her some time to find consistency and the winner's circle,” Dickson said. “We put a lot of work into her last year. She wanted to run a bit at first and my heart would always sink a little in those moments. But, no matter what, I would always tell her that I was proud of her. She's a phenomenal horse.

“Even if you took away her success, she is such a one-of-a-kind horse and so intelligent. The way she looks at you and learns her routine so quickly is so amazing. She is very particular, very funny and is everything to me. She is sort of the yin to my yang, in terms of personality. I truly love her and what she has accomplished is nothing short of incredible.”

The horse, whose stat sheet reads, “Large star. Left hind coronet and heel, with dark spots; right hind heel white” is undoubtedly Dickson's heart horse, literally and figuratively.

“She and I have such a strong bond, where she will literally put her head on my heart and I think she finds comfort in that,” she said. “I talk to her quietly, so not everyone hears us.

I always tell her that she is a good girl and that I am so proud of her no matter what she achieves. I just want to see her come out of her race safe and sound.”

Dickson's favorite moments with Blue Jean Gal are found far away from the lights, cameras and action of race night.

“I can go sit in her stall; she isn't that way with everyone,” Dickson said. “She is very high alert, but she feels safe with me, and I completely trust her with my entire heart.”

While there are changes ahead in the coming months – Dickson is pursuing a Psychology degree at Wilfrid Laurier University and considering attending teacher's college – the caretaker's love of all things standardbred racing will remain the same.

“I would like to stay in harness racing and work with Julie after I am done with that,” she said. “I feel like I will always have a place in this industry because I love it. Anything I need to do with my studies, Julie understands and will give me the flexibility to work around that schedule. I am always so happy to be around the horses.

“I have the utmost respect for Julie and Bert and the operation that they run. Their dedication, patience and kindness to their horses is why I'm able to love being a groom. Julie, in particular, has taught me how to be a good groom and that has allowed me to develop this deep passion that I have for the horse racing industry.”

And whether it's through hushed tones or loud enough to echo throughout the grandstand, Dickson will make sure each horse under her care knows exactly that.

“The best part is the end of the day when all the horses are in their stalls having naps, or out in the field grazing, but knowing they are loved and being taken care of,” she said. “I tell them that their happiness brings me a lot of happiness.”

Eliminations drawn for 43rd Pepsi North America Cup

by Mark McKelvie / Woodbine communications

A pair of eliminations are set for this Saturday (June 6) at Woodbine Mohawk Park to determine the field for the 43rd Pepsi North America Cup (Grade 1).

A total of 16 3-year-old pacers were dropped in the entry box on Tuesday morning for Canada's most prestigious harness race. The group of 16 was then split by draw into a pair of $50,000 eliminations. The top five finishers from each elimination advance to the $1 million final on June 13.

The draw for the eliminations has shook out arguably one of the biggest elimination showdowns in Cup history.

The undefeated Horse of the Year Beau Jangles will find himself up against world champion Odds On Mr Mamba, multiple graded stakes winner Brandon Blvd, and Grade 1 winner Gentleman's Club. Those four make up half of the eight-horse field for the second Cup elimination.

Dr. Ian Moore-trained Beau Jangles will enter the Cup with an undefeated record of 15-for-15. The reigning Canadian and American Horse of the Year has posted three wins to start his sophomore season, picking right up where he left off at the end of 2025 with driver Bob McClure.

Beau Jangles is looking to join Tall Dark Stranger as the only horse to ever win the North America Cup after winning the Metro Pace (Grade 1) and Breeders Crown (Grade 1) at age 2.

Beau Jangles will leave from post 7 for owners Graham Grace Stables LLC, Kiwi Stables LLC, and Bolton Stables.

Driver Dexter Dunn had a tough choice for which horse to drive against the undefeated Beau Jangles. Dunn was listed on standouts Odds On Mr Mamba and Brandon Blvd and ultimately went with the latter. James MacDonald will driver Odds On Mr Mamba.

The Melanie Wrenn trained Odds On Mr Mamba turned heads last season when he set a world record of 1:47.4 at Hoosier Park. Racing exclusively in Indiana, the son of Odds On Equuleus has won eight of nine career starts, including his season debut on May 25 in 1:49.

Odds On Mr Mamba has drawn post 4 for owner/breeder Odds On Racing.

Brandon Blvd sent a powerful statement to his Cup rivals with a stakes record 1:48.1 win in last Saturday's Somebeachsomewhere Stakes (Grade 3). The Andrew Harris trained son of Downbytheseaside has won graded stakes in both of his starts this season, bringing his career record to nine wins in 12 starts. He is owned by Punisher 11 Stable LLC.

The second Cup elimination includes the Ron Burke trained duo of Melillo and Ubrute. Burke is looking for back-to-back Cup victories, which would bring him to three overall for his Hall of Fame career.

Melillo is two-for-four this season and comes to Mohawk off a 1:48.4 win at Harrah's Philadelphia in a Pennsylvania Sires Stakes event on May 24. Ronnie Wrenn, Jr., last year's Cup winning driver, will steer Melillo from post 3.

The regally-bred Ubrute will be stepping back up a level for the Burke brigade. The son of 2020 Cup winner Tall Dark Stranger was last year's Kentucky Sires Stakes champion and is one-for-two this season. Yannick Gingras will drive from post 5.

Slightly under the radar, but well-accomplished in his own right is Gentleman's Club for trainer Aaron Lambert. The Downbytheseaside colt posted a 13-1 upset in last year's Governor's Cup (Grade 1) at The Meadowlands. He's posted a win and a pair of seconds in three starts this season. Andrew McCarthy will drive from post 1.

Completing the field for the second Cup elimination is the John Pentland trained Redland Rocket Man (1:52, $193,205) from post 2 with Louis-Philippe Roy and the Jake Leamon trained Talbot Andretti ($93,601) from post 6 with Dunn the listed driver.

The second North America Cup elimination is carded as race 9 (10 p.m.)

The field of eight for the first Cup elimination likely feel they dodged a bullet by missing some of the top contenders. A top five finish will advance to the final, but a victory will secure a starting spot anywhere from post 2 to 6.

Burke trainee Al Papi is the top earner in the eight-horse field for the first elimination. The son of Papi Rob Hanover had a tremendous rookie season, winning four of 11 starts and only missing the top three once. However, Al Papi is winless in three starts to begin his 2026 season.

Gingras will drive Al Papi from post five.

The Burke stable also sends out last season's Ohio Sires Stakes champion Lindy Dragonwater. Winless in four starts this season, Lindy Dragonwater won five of 10 at age 2. Wrenn, Jr. is listed to drive from post 4.

Sweet Lovin Lou is another top contender for the first split. The Dan Lagace trainee was runner-up last weekend to Brandon Blvd in the Somebeachsomewhere (Grade 3). The son of Sweet Lou was notably third in last year's Metro Pace (Grade 1) and has only finished off-the-board once in 11 starts, which was due to broken equipment.

James MacDonald will guide Sweet Lovin Lou from post 6.

The Ontario Sires Stakes are represented in the first elimination by Windor (1:51.2, $245,659) for trainer Mike Vanderkemp, No Waitlist (1:53.4Q, $188,743) for trainer Blake MacIntosh, and Wholetthedogsout (1:55.2, $23,490) for trainer Pentland.

Travis Alexander trained Superchamp Hanover (1:51, $174,646) and Besim Odza trainee Azrael Blue Chip (1:51, $204,082) complete the field.

The first North America Cup elimination is carded as race 7 (9:12 p.m.).

Ohio SIRE STAKES REPORT

Sassy By The Sea now two-for-two in OHSS with win in second leg at Northfield

by Wes Mayberry / Ohio Harness Horsemen's Association

Sassy By The Sea scored her second straight Ohio Sires Stakes win of the season on Saturday (May 30) as Northfield Park Racino hosted four $75,000 divisions of the second leg for sophomore fillies.

In the first division of filly pacers, Sassy By The Sea (Tyler Smith) was in fifth place and trailed leader Estuary (Dan Noble) by more than seven lengths as the field passed the first two calls in :27.1 and :56. Estuary led the field past the three-quarter pole in 1:24.1 as Sassy By The Sea closed the gap to five lengths. Sassy By The Sea made it four wide entering the final stretch and used a late spurt to edge Laude Da (Chris Page) by a half-length at the line, finishing in 1:53. She'safirewoman (Brett Miller) was third. Sassy By The Sea is trained by Herman Hagerman for owners Hagerman Racing and Charles Reeve. The Downbytheseaside filly has won all three starts in 2026 after going winless in eight starts as a freshman. She has $113,582 in lifetime earnings.

Kb Wrecking Ball (Noble), a winner in the James K. Hackett Memorial final earlier this season, won the second division of filly pacers by three-quarters-of-a-length in 1:53.4. Trained by Deborah Swartz, the Fool Me Once filly was second behind first-leg winner Vanna By The River (Jordan Stratton) at the quarter pole but led the field at the next two calls en route to the victory. Shacarri (Page) finished second, and Seaside Shuffle (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) was third. Kb Wrecking Ball is owned by Bradley Delaney. She has hit the board in all nine seasonal starts with seven wins and earnings of $126,625.

Charlies Moni (Chris Lems), another 2026 Hackett final winner, won the first division of sophomore filly trotters in 1:54.2. The Vernon Beachy trainee led gate-to-wire and won by a length over Fairytale Moni (Wrenn Jr.) in second with Speedbewithyou (Austin Hanners) finishing third. A Ready For Moni filly, Charlies Moni has won three of four seasonal starts and has $132,422 in career earnings.

Rose Run Brooke (Wrenn, Jr.) won the second division of filly trotters in gate-to-wire fashion. The In Range filly, who finished third in the opening leg of the OHSS at Miami Valley Raceway on May 2, won Saturday's race by a length in a lifetime-best 1:55.4. Cast No Stones (Trevor Smith) was second followed by Divvy It Up (Miller) in third. Trained by Vernon Beachy for owner First Up Racing Stable, Rose Run Brooke has won two of four starts this year and has $238,635 in career earnings.

Celebrating its 50th season this year, the Ohio Sires Stakes resumes June 13 with the third leg for sophomore colt trotters at Eldorado Scioto Downs.

Knoxville pulls upset in NYSS at Buffalo Raceway

by Brian J. Mazurek for Buffalo Raceway

Knoxville ($19.32) was able to find racing room down the passing lane and used it to perfection to stun the defending 2-year-old champion Fragment by a length in the $121,800 New York Sire Stakes for the 3-year-old colt and gelding pacers at Buffalo Raceway on a sparkling Wednesday afternoon (June 3). He covered the mile in 1:53.2 over the fast track in pinning the loss on Fragment.

It was a three-way battle for the lead as Hunthehuntr De Vie (Mark Herschberger), Knoxville (Tyler Buter) and Unmatched Wisdom (Leon Bailey) all tried to take early supremacy. Unmatched Wisdom managed to take control as Knoxville found a spot in second with Hunthehuntr De Vie third. Meanwhile, Fragment (Jason Bartlett) was content in fourth place.

With fractions of :27.3, :55.3 and 1:24.2 posted, Unmatched Wisdom found company on the outside in Fragment with Knoxville stalking behind with a panel to go.

Turning for home, it was a two-pronged attack as Knoxville dropped into the passing lane while Fragment made his bid from the outside. But Knoxville proved to be too much as he drew away from Fragment by a length with Unmatched Wisdom holding on for third.

It was a nice bounce back for Knoxville who finished third beaten a length to Unmatched Wisdom in the NYSS at Saratoga Raceway back on May 24.

Owned by trainer Ray Schnittker, Louis Palumbo, Theodore Gewertz, and Milton Leeman, Knoxville (Huntsville—Let's Fall In Love) has now won twice in four starts on the season. The victory jumped his earnings to $78,790 on the campaign and to $154,674 lifetime.

There was a trio of $20,000 Excelsior Series paces for the sophomore gentlemen on the program.

Casper The Ghost ($13.18) took the first division as he used a :27.2 last quarter mile for Buter to collect an 8¾ length victory over River Ranch Dawson (Brett MacDonald) in 1:54.1. Johnny Wiggles (Bartlett) was the original second place finisher but was disqualified and placed fourth for interference at the top of the stretch.

Buter continued on a roll in the next bracket as he got Magic Journey ($4.42) up in the final strides in nudging out the pace-setting Jericho Johnny (Bailey) by a head in 1:55.4.

It wasn't a laughing matter in the final division as Killing Joke ($4.54) went gate-to-wire for Bailey in notching the comfortable three-length score over American Pastime (Braxten Boyd) in 1:56.1.

Buter completed the afternoon with three stakes victories while MacDonald and Drew Monti had a pair of wins each. Smith had three training scores on the program with Schnittker posting a pair.

Racing will continue this afternoon (June 5) at 2:30 p.m. with 13 races scheduled. There is a $647 carryover in the Pick 5 which begins in the second race.

Minnesota-sired sophomores highlight card at Running Aces

by Darin Gagne for Running Aces

The Sunday night (May 31) program at Running Aces featured the top trotters in Minnesota with not only the open handicap event, but two divisions of Minnesota-sired sophomores both won by driver Rick Magee, as well as the second leg of the Banker Volo series.

SV Shining Star (Magee, $3) delivered as the big favorite in the $17,500 Minnesota-sired filly trot, posting a new career mark of 1:58.3 for her fourth career win. The impressive daughter of Be The Best, sent off as the 1-2 favorite, is owned by Jay De Long and trained by Justin Anfinson. Anitra's Dance finished second and Model Good Looks was third.

Bang Bang Boogie (Magee, $4.60), sent off as the 6-5 second choice, rallied from fourth at the top of the lane to draw away for a 2½ length tally in 1:59.1 in the $17,000 colts division for his third win of the season for owners Stephanie Anfinson and Ken Stauffer and trainer Justin Anfinson. Hm Magical Money finished second and post-time favorite Sv Rough And Tough finished third.

Chicora (Casey Leonard, $2.80) made a triumphant return to Running Aces with a 2½ length tally as the 2-5 heavy chalk in the second leg of the Banker Volo series in 1:58 for her third career win for owner/trainer Jenni King.

In the $15,000 open, Chapolier (Luke Plano) was sent off as the 9-5 public choice from post 6 and was trying for his third straight trip to victory lane. Aces newcomer Fifty Rivers with driver Leonard got lots of pari-mutuel support as the 2-1 second pick and Escaper (Magee) was also highly regarded by players, going off as the 5-2 third choice.

Go Have Fun (Brady Jenson) left fast from the inside draw and faced quick challenges from both Fifty Rivers and Escaper as they wheeled around the opening turn, with Fifty Rivers briefly making the top just after the :27.3 quarter before yielding to Escaper for the pocket trip while Go Have Fun was relegated to third.

Escaper called the shots through the middle stages in :56.4 and 1:25.2 while Chapolier launched his rally from the back of the pack and Lexus Markus (Scott Cisco) picked up the cover.

Escaper held a short lead turning for home with Chapolier baring down on the outside as the entire field stacked up for the stretch battle. Inside the final sixteenth-of-a-mile Leonard guided Fifty Rivers into the passing lane and surged to the wire to grab a three-quarter-length victory in 1:55.1 over Chapolier while Go Have Fun, who angled clear late flew home to grab third money.

Fifty Rivers ($6.60) is a 4-year-old son of Fiftydallarbill and is owned by JMF Racing and trained by Kathie Plested. He now shows six wins and earnings of $92,380 on the season.

Leonard led the program with four driving wins while drivers Cisco and Magee and trainers Roland and Anfinson all posted doubles.

HARNESS RACING PRESS RELEASES, NOTES & ANNOUNCEMENTS

Purses for several classes at Yonkers to go up starting June 8

Beginning with the condition sheet for Monday (June 8), purses for most races at MGM Yonkers Raceway will increase by 10 per cent. For example, this purse hike will see the invitationals go for $43,000 and the opens for New York-bred 4- and 5-year-olds at $37,000.

The classes that will not see a bump include non-winners of $5,000 in their last five starts, $15,000 claimers and amateur trot events.

“We want to reward our loyal trainers with this purse increase, as well as our newcomers brought in by the recently-launched bonus program,” said race secretary Joe Frasure.

The new bonus program brought in 33 new horses during its first week.

Next month will also see the return of Wednesday racing to MGM Yonkers Raceway as the current run of Saturday programs ends on June 6 and won't return until Aug. 1. For the next two weeks, though, the oval races at 6:45 p.m. (EDT) on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday and 3:30 p.m. (EDT) on Saturday.

Business as usual for On To Norway's in his 26th consecutive win

On To Norway driven by John De Long for trainer Ron Burke finishes out his regularly scheduled victory as he makes it 26 straight wins at Hoosier on Saturday (May 30).

Out of his assigned post 8, On To Norway elected to give up a little ground out of the gate as the Jay Hochstetler stablemates Operator (Marcus Miller) and Ponda Jet (Kyle Wilfong) climbed up the ranks to get to the rail. Ponda Jet found the lead at the first quarter in :26.4 with Operator settled in behind and On To Norway pressing along the outside.

On To Norway calmly advanced into the lead on the backstretch, crossing over to the cones before reaching the half-mile mark in :55.2 followed by Ponda Jet on the De Long helmet. Nearing the stretch, On To Norway continued to cruise to the three-quarter turn in 1:24.3 with Ponda Jet and Operator being his only true adversaries as the trio began to separate from the rest.

Barreling down the homestretch, Ponda Jet found an avenue on the outside to take aim at On To Norway. On To Norway countered to the inside, holding Ponda Jet at bay by a length with a :27.4 final quarter to score in 1:51.4. Operator was third, 2¼ lengths behind the winner.

The Muscle Massive gelding is owned by Burke Racing Stable LLC, Frank Baldachino, Black And White Stables, and Michael Rosenthal. The 4-year-old On To Norway scored the 30th win of his career, boosting his lifetime earnings to $693,381. On To Norway accomplished his 26th straight win, having not lost since his 3-year-old debut on April 3 of last year. On To Norway paid $3 to win.

De Long would sweep the features on the evening, coming back a few races later to take the $22,000 FM open pace with Can'ttouchthese for trainer Roger Welch.

Getting the slight nod from the bettors at 5-2, De Long floated away into fifth with Can'ttouchthese on the first turn while Goo Goo Won (Kyle Wilfong) sprinted to the lead to take the field of seven to the quarter in :26.1. Goo Goo Won continued to lead with Tarshish (Marcus Miller) in the pocket as the tempo slowed to the half in :55.4. Tarshish took her shot from second on the final turn, moving alongside Goo Goo Won at three-quarters in 1:24.1 with Can'ttouchthese ranging up third-over, five lengths back of the leader.

Goo Goo Won repelled the challenge of Tarshish turning for home, before facing a new threat from Can'ttouchthese who towered off cover along with Fox Valley Lava (Brandon Bates) between mares. Rocketing home in :25.4, Can'ttouchthese powered clear in the final stages of the mile to win by a length in 1:51. Goo Goo Won held for second, with Fox Valley Lava third.

The 4-year-old homebred daughter of JK Endofanera—Can't Touch This secured her first win in three tries this season. Can'ttouchthese has won 18 of 32 lifetime, banking $569,976 for owners William De Long, Patrick De Long, and Douglas Riccolo.

First baby race of 2026 at Philly on Tuesday

At 10:25 on Tuesday morning, Harrah's Philadelphia unofficially opened its "summer season" with the first race for 2-year-olds, with four Brett Pelling trainees comprising the entire field. The winner was Lous Lucky Star (Sweet Lou—So Irresistible—Always B Miki), who went wire-to-wire in 1:59.3, with a smart last quarter of :28.1.

Andrew McCarthy had Lous Lucky Star away quickly from the outside post and had grabbed the racetrack before the first turn, followed by JK Alwaysbpositive (Papi Rob Hanover—JK Alwaysbealady), Bluebird Beach (Pebble Beach—Bunny Hop Hanover), and Sangiovese Hanover (Captaintreacherous—Sonoma Valley) in that order. Through fractions of :29.4, 1:01.2, and 1:31.2, the four raced along one behind the other, nobody leaving a gap the last half, and coming home, despite going at the :28.1 clip in the last split, it looked like the field was going under the wire the first time instead of the second time in the educational mile.

All Star Racing Inc. owns Lous Lucky Star, a $100,000 yearling as the first foal of her dam, who is a half-sister to the $500G+ winner Asweetbeachhere, the latter female also by Sweet Lou.

Replays of the Tuesday morning Harrah's Philadelphia qualifiers can be found at www.phha.org.

Bongiorno sweeps Big M's Exit 16W

The red-hot Joe Bongiorno ended up in the winner's circle for both divisions of the featured Exit 16W Pop Up Series, training and driving Federer and Best Chip in the $25,000 dashes for high-end conditioned pacers Saturday night (May 30) at The Meadowlands.

Federer, a 4-year-old gelded son of Captaintreacherous—Sweetest Emotion, left the gate quickly before yielding the top to 4-5 favorite Southwind Gendry, who cut out fractions of :26.4, :54.3, and 1:23.2, but "Gendry" took big-time pressure from Build The Wall throughout the final three-eighths, which softened him up for the stretch drive.

With a little more than a sixteenth to go, Bongiorno moved Federer out of the pocket and was loaded with pace as he split Southwind Gendry (who was to his inside) and Build The Wall (outside) to go on to a thrilling three-quarter-length score in 1:50.3, which equaled his lifetime best. Water Sports Teen closed with a rush to be second, with Kwick Sand A third.

"I wanted him to be more involved in the race tonight [as compared to recent starts at Pocono]," said Bongiorno. "He's been pacing home really hard. I had him stirred up ready to leave tonight. He was a handful, but he got the job done in the stretch. Gendry is a really good horse, but he kind of pulls up through the turns and then he'll sprint home, so I took my shot trying to keep my horse in there and it ended up working out well."

Federer recorded his 10th lifetime win in 44 tries to up his bankroll to $165,710. He returned $5.60 to his backers as the 9-5 second choice in the betting.

Best Chip completed Bongiorno's sweep after sitting a 3-hole before moving off the rail to go after leader Downbythewater (who led at the half in :54.1 and three-quarters in 1:22.3). The 4-year-old horse by Heston Blue Chip—Place Your Best still had work to do when the field straightened up for the drive, but in deep stretch, Downbythewater and the pocket-sitting 6-5 favorite Voukefalas briefly hooked wheels, allowing Best Chip to sprint past them both, as he hit the wire 1½ lengths in front of Downbythewater with Voukefalas settling for third.

"[Best Chip] is just a really nice horse," said Bongiorno. "The sky's the limit for him. I have high hopes for this horse. For him to jump up the way he has and race against the likes of Voukefalas and Downbythewater, I believe that if Voukefalas gets up the rail, he would've had the jump on me and he might've been tough to beat tonight, but, like I said, I think my horse is just getting his legs underneath him and I think he's going to be a very fast horse moving forward."

Owned by El Dorado Stables, who also own Federer, Best Chip racked up his eighth lifetime victory in 44 attempts. His earnings are just shy of $100,000. His backers collected a $5 payout after he completed the mile in a lifetime-best 1:48.4.

DIAMOND DAVE: Followers of Dave Little cashed plenty of tickets on the evening, featuring some attractive payouts.

The Big M TV veteran gave out the Early Pick-4, which paid $193, but Little suggested a $1 base-bet ticket (total investment, $36), which resulted in his fans cashing in for $386.

He then completed a Pick-4 sweep, by giving out the version that spans races 10 through 13, cashing in for $70.70 after another $1 base bet (investment, $36).

Finally, his biggest hit came when he touted a 9-1 winner in the 13th race (Marcus Seelster, $20.40) and a 14-1 chance in the 14th (Lunatic Fringe, $30.20). "Little's Late Double" returned $149, but if you played along with the regular simulcast show host, you cashed in big, for a total of $447, after he mapped out a $6 base-bet play (investment, $36).

ALITTLE MORE: Bongiorno's four driving wins and three training victories led both colonies... All-source handle on the 14-race program totaled $2,521,742.
