Niatross had greatest recovery in Pace elims history

Niatross and Clint Galbraith.

As we wait for the single elimination of the 50th edition of the Meadowlands Pace to take to the track on Saturday night (July 4), there is no better time to look back at a Pace elim from more than four decades ago.

One of, if not the best, standardbred to ever look through a bridle, Niatross, won the 1980 Meadowlands Pace.

The son of Albatross out of the Bye Bye Byrd mare Niagara Dream, was impressive in his sophomore campaign, and no matter how well he performed in the Pace final, his elim could be viewed as the better of the two races.

Serena Williams once said, "I really think a champion is defined not by their wins, but by how they can recover when they fall."

You could say that literally described Niatross since his Pace elim followed an actual fall in his prior race, the week before, on July 5.

At Saratoga, trainer/driver/co-owner Clint Galbraith had Niatross racing on the lead along the inside but with less than a 16th-of-a-mile to go, the pair went over the hubrail into the infield. Remarkably, Niatross and Galbraith rolled right up seemingly unfazed.

Despite the fact that his perfect 19-race win streak – including a 13-for-13 2-year-old campaign – had come to an end, The Meadowlands faithful bet the classy colt down to 1-5 in his Pace elim, the second of three held on July 11.

Early in his elim, Niatross made a wicked break on the lead, which surprised all of those watching, including driver John Kopas.

At 23, Kopas had guided Nat Lobell to a second-place finish behind Escort in the inaugural Pace in 1977, and three years later was preparing to take on Niatross.

Kopas, driving Ontario-sired colt Alberton, trained by his father, Hall of Famer Jack Kopas, had finished second in the first Pace elimination to Storm Damage.

John said he remembers watching Niatross' elim from the drivers' room at The Meadowlands.

"He recovered and finished fourth to make the final," John said. "Clint said he hit the bike causing him to make a break."

A source close to the Niatross camp said that the pacing phenom's regular bike was damaged in the incident at Saratoga and that the one they used for the Pace elims was apparently too small because Niatross was hitting it.

John said they must have figured that bike thing out because in the million-dollar, 12-horse final, Niatross was Niatross.

"I think he cleared to the front, maybe just past the half, and the race was over," John said with a laugh.

That was the first year since its inception in 1977 that the Meadowlands Pace final went for at least $1 million; it was also the first horse race, harness or thoroughbred, to go for that amount of money.

“Well, as far as I’m concerned, he’s still the greatest standardbred ever. I’m not taking anything away from [Somebeachsomewhere], I mean, he was a great horse, no question, but to me, Niatross is still the greatest I’ve ever seen, and I’ve been around quite a while. He was so far ahead of his time, it was incredible.”

– John Kopas

Having a horse of Niatross' caliber, cache, and charisma compete in and conquer the Meadowlands Pace helped to solidify the race as one of the top in the sport.

Niatross' Pace elim has long been viewed as one of the best recovery performances in harness racing, perhaps only bested by the unbelievable accomplishment of T C I in the 20?? Mohawk Million.

At the age of 22, after being diagnosed with cancer, Niatross was humanely euthanized on June 7, 1999. Niatross was buried at Walnridge prior to being cremated and then buried on the plaza at the Harness Racing Museum & Hall of Fame, in Goshen, NY, where there is a memorial marker that says, "He was perfect."

"Well, as far as I'm concerned, he's still the greatest standardbred ever," John said of Niatross. "I'm not taking anything away from [Somebeachsomewhere], I mean, he was a great horse, no question, but to me, Niatross is still the greatest I've ever seen, and I've been around quite a while. He was so far ahead of his time, it was incredible."

Note: In 1996, I was one of a small number of journalists that procured the profound privilege of jogging Niatross when, at 19 years old, he went on a 20-city North American tour.

Under the watchful eye of Walnridge Farm's Chris Coyle, I jogged the champ at a small training track near the Central New Jersey farm.

Not knowing what an incredibly sensitive mouth Niatross had, I let up a little on the lines and he just took off. I remember Coyle saying to me as I sped past him, "You may want to slow him down a little."

Basically, the entire time I was jogging, all I was thinking was, "Don't be remembered as the one who killed Niatross."

A photo of me jogging Niatross appeared in the New York Post, the newspaper I worked for at that time.

Niatross also had a connection to the Post, because in 1980, when he had that incredible recovery in the Pace elims, he was named the New York Post's Athlete of the Year, beating out Jack Nicklaus, Muhammad Ali, and the U.S. "Miracle on Ice" Olympic hockey team.

Despite lower key Pace elimination, Saturday's Big M card is set to deliver fireworks

by Brett Sturman

What a difference one month makes, or for that matter even one week. All winter and through spring the 3-year-old pacing conversation had been dominated by Beau Jangles and Odds On Mr Mamba, and now just like that the consistent 1-2 punch in all Meadowlands Pace rankings up until about five minutes ago won't even make the race.

There's no denying that the changed complexion dampens the hype some, as tonight's sole elimination race looks vastly different than one would have first thought prior to the draw. But the Pace elimination is just one of eleven races on a heat-abbreviated card loaded with high drama throughout. With 4th of July fireworks planned at the conclusion of the card, here's my thoughts on where sparks may fly throughout the major stakes races.

RACE 3, GRADE 3 JL CRUZE OPEN TROT

Last year's Trotter of the Year Lexus Kody has interestingly yet to be favored in any of his prior three starts this year, but that trend will change tomorrow night. In this smaller field of seven, Lexus Kody returns off a convincing 1:50.4 at Woodbine Mohawk Park; a track he seems to have an affinity for. He had second-over cover in that race although it wasn't the greatest as he had to go wide while losing some ground into the lane, but once he got rolling, he went right on by his closest rival tonight Aetos Kronos, and humbled that one when going on to win by close to four lengths. Now at age 10, Aetos Kronos is seeking his first win of the season while going for top connections of Melander and Dunn; is obviously capable as could be said for top trotter Up Your Deo who owns a strong history here for Svanstedt. It seems the winner has to come from one of these three, with it being Lexus Kody's to win or lose.

RACE 6, GRADE 3 SIX PACK MARES OPEN TROT

As a non-race sidenote, why is a race for open mare trotters named for a trotting colt? Shouldn't it be named something like, the Atlanta? Ditto for race 11 later where mare pacers are named for a pacing colt. Who knows?

As for the race itself, Bourbonista won last out in the Armbro Flight at 43-1 and if you didn't know the odds you would have thought she was 6-5. Showing speed in that $154,800 final, she was shuffled a bit from the 2-hole as the leader tired, angled out, sped to the inside and powered away to that four-length win in a new lifetime best of 1:50.4, proving her strong close two back here at The Meadowlands was not a fluke. Tough to get a good feeling on Warrawee Michelle early in the season. She was tired late after a first-over try in the Armbro Flight and then last out at Pocono was no match late at all from the pocket against Dame Good Time; maybe more coming in the third start back. Elista Hanover wasn't looking to do much in that race here towards the end of May on the sloppy surface even before she broke, but she did get very hot here around this same time last year. Miracle Maven coasted the last time seen here as the heavy favorite and did well for herself in the Armbro Flight. Bravo Angel is always a threat and came on well towards the end of her mile last out with her patented late close. She has shown a speed dimension as well but against these I would guess she'll be coming from off the pace. Yo Tillie was scratched out of her Armbro Flight elimination on June 13 and this will be her first start of the year; seems like a lot with post 10 for the 4-year-old.

RACE 7, GRADE 1 MEADOWLANDS PACE 3-YEAR-OLD OPEN ELIMINATION

I wouldn't say the Meadowlands Pace is suddenly wide open with Beau Jangles and North America Cup winner Odds On Mr Mamba being non-starters, but it does open the race more to horses who have gone from otherwise longer chance status to contenders. Al Papi, Lindy Dragonwater, and Melillo have accepted byes to next week's final, and that leaves seven of the 10 horses in the elimination to advance.

Brandon Blvd who raced giant in the North America Cup final will assume the role of Pace favoritism and might even be odds-on for the final depending on how his elimination goes. Sweet Lovin Lou is another who suddenly has his profile raised once again. Going back to the end of May in the Somebeachsomewhere, he was very good late to be second to Brandon Blvd, won his North America Cup elimination, but wasn't at his best for the final. Zeron retains the drive and we'll see how this one does here at The Meadowlands. Gentleman's Club is another fascinating one. He won the Governor's Cup here last year at 2 to close out his season and put up a giant 1:47.4 mile here just last week on the change to Dunn. It's back to Andrew McCarthy now with Dunn on Brandon Blvd and it will be interesting to see what he brings tonight as an encore. Bookie J was upset last out by Ryder stablemate Obliterate in the NJSDF final; neither of those two might be too far off from the rest of these.

RACE 8, GRADE 2 STAN BERGSTEIN GRADUATE FINAL 3-YEAR-OLD OPEN TROT

What a race this has shaped up to be, and what a strong group of 4-year-old trotters to join the older trotting ranks.

Super Chapter will be favored as deserved but there are loads of threats to him here. Starting with two of the three stronger Svanstedt entries, both Warrior and Mr Mouton are upset threats. Warrior flashed home last out with a :26.1 final quarter to sprint late into Super Chapter who walked them to the half in a :57.1 split in that race. Warrior pulled off a shocker against Super Chapter last year in Lexington as well. Mr Mouton was absolutely raging through the stretch in his prior Graduate leg and in the process derailed the 27-race win streak of On To Norway; this is a horse with only 15 lifetime starts and has obvious talent. As for On To Norway, he was game in defeat in that Graduate leg where he ended up coming first over against Go Dog Go and did eventually get past that leader late before being snatched up by the race winner. Gingras is bound to be aggressive early from the outside post and what better race with $230,000 on the line to start a new streak. Go Dog Go is a tough one to predict. He put in a nice stretch move two back against Super Chapter but really didn't have an excuse last out when I thought he was a winner midway through the stretch. His best gives him a chance, as could be said for any of these listed.

RACE 9, GRADE 3 DAVE BROWER MEMORIAL OPEN PACE

All the big FFA guns are back out for this one and that includes last year's divisional champion, the 1:46.2 winner Ervin Hanover. He returns here off that win two weeks ago in the Gold Cup at Mohawk where he worked out a third-over trip from post 9, came four-wide into the stretch, swept and got up by a half-length over the pace setting Lou Hill. He looks to make amends from that seventh-place finish to close out the year here last year in the FanDuel at odds of 4-5; could be looking at an identical price in this race. Captain Albano will begin from post 11 in the second-tier and while this will mark his eighth start of the year, it'll be just his first on a non-half-mile track; looks like the main threat to the favorite. In the past, the likes of Bythemissal, Coaches Corner, and Maximus Miki would all be stronger possibilities but current form doesn't seem like it's quite there right now to the level of Ervin Hanover. Ken Hanover could be a possibility if Tetrick can work a trip from post 9.

RACE 10, GRADE 2 STAN BERGSTEIN GRADUATE FINAL 3-YEAR-OLD OPEN PACE

Prince Hal Hanover really was impressive when returning to The Meadowlands in his Graduate leg two weeks ago and that race marked him as squarely the one to beat now. Heading into that race I thought Captain Optimistic would have been made the favorite by virtue of his 1:46.4 win the week prior, but the public wasn't fooled by the win times. Prince Hal Hanover was coming off that strong first-over try in the Gold Cup won by Ervin Hanover, and he delivered in that race against Captain Optimistic when driven like he was the best horse – and he was. Rematch coming between those two while starting right next to each other in posts 5 and 6. Ayeaye Captain Deo was closing well late two back off the hot pace in that race won by Captain Optimistic and did upset in a Graduate leg at Mohawk three back. Stratton back aboard and could work out a nice cover trip out of post 3; a lively pace aids his cause. Fallout was a determined winner here two weeks ago in his Graduate race but has the misfortune now of landing post 10; he was game two back as well and would think he'll be firing. Bruno No No No delivered that 1:48.2 half-mile record five back in his Juravinski elimination but hasn't won since; Swingtown almost upset two back and probably would have if not for being briefly blocked when looking to the inside.

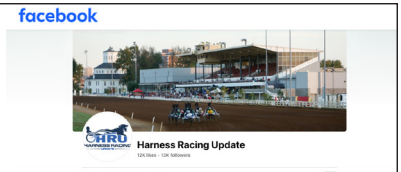

RACE 11, GRADE 3 PERFECT STING MARES OPEN PACE

Ryder stablemates Miki And Minnie and Twin B Joe Fresh enter this race with tune-ups at Plainridge and Chester, respectively. In the case of Twin B Joe Fresh, that Chester win in 1:48.4 against lesser might serve as a needed confidence builder as the near $3 million career earner looks to right the ship early into her 6-year-old season. Louies Girl N comes off a solid third place finish in the Roses Are Red where she rallied nicely from third over into Miki And Minnie and The Last Martini; was an elimination winner two back. Always B Naughty won this division's Breeders Crown last year; driver change coming to Kakaley. Rodeo Drive Deo had too much work to do against these last out in the Roses Are Red final; post 10 is an obvious hindrance.

ADVENTURES IN ILLINOIS

with NEIL MILBERT

Hawthorne bidding deadline extended

by Neil Milbert

Judge Timothy Barnes has bought more time for prospective bidders to submit offers to buy bankrupt Hawthorne Race Course. After a Delaware-based “stalking horse” bidder, ALLIMAC made a $90 million offer before Judge Barnes in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for Northern Illinois on June 25, hoping to get a better offer, he decided to extend the bidding deadline to July 10 and delayed the sale hearing from July 13 to July 20.

A “stalking horse” bid is a preliminary agreement to sell and to acquire Hawthorne.

A new bidder must offer more money than the shell company that apparently wants to discontinue thoroughbred and harness racing at the only track in the Chicago metropolitan area and tear it down to develop the real estate.

The identity of the “stalking horse” is shielded by Delaware bankruptcy laws.

The Blood-Horse’s Bob Kieckhefer quoted Judge Barnes as saying, “I cannot imagine $90 million will stand. I think the process will be more robust if the real estate bidders are competing with the going concern bidders.”

Hawthorne’s creditors reportedly number 250 and its debt is estimated in the neighborhood of $138 million.

A sale price of $90 million probably would mean unsecured creditors would not recover any money.

Illinois Thoroughbred Horsemen’s Association president Chris Block said in a Chicago television interview that he is “cautiously optimistic” that Hawthorne will find a buyer who wants to continue racing and add the casino component that 2019 gambling expansion legislation entitles the track to conduct.

In 2020 Hawthorne received permission from the Illinois Gaming Board (IGB) to become a racino and Tim Carey, president of the family-owned track, embarked on what he said was going to be a $40 million undertaking. A portion of the grandstand was then torn down to launch the racino project but Carey failed to secure financing, leaving an eyesore for fans and unpaid creditors who did the demolition. In the ensuing years he repeatedly assured the Illinois Racing Board (IRB) that he was “right on the cusp” of securing financing but it never materialized and the track’s indebtedness escalated.

Hawthorne’s creditors reportedly number 250 and its debt is estimated in the neighborhood of $138 million.

Overwhelmed by its mountain of debt, Hawthorne declared Chapter 11 bankruptcy on Feb. 27 after the Racing Board suspended the license of its Suburban Downs harness meeting on Jan. 26 for failing to meet its financial obligations. All 14 of the January and February harness dates were canceled.

The current thoroughbred meeting began on April 19 – three weeks later than scheduled. It is scheduled to run through Nov. 1 and be followed by a Nov. 6-Dec. 27 Suburban Downs harness meeting.

According to Daily Racing Form statistics, handle at the thoroughbred meeting has fallen significantly when measured against the 2025 numbers. On the weekend of June 27, there were 14 live races over two days with an average of 5.6 starter per race and the handle of $755,260 was less than half of last year’s total for the same time-frame.

At the most recent hearing Judge Barnes unlocked $1.9 million in bankruptcy funds, enabling Hawthorne to continue thoroughbred racing through Aug. 1. That increased its debtor-in-funding line of credit liability with JDI Loans from $16 million to about $20 million.

On behalf of Hawthorne, Hilco Real Estate, and Province LLC have contacted nearly 8,000 potential buyers and there have been multiple telephone conferences, in-person meetings, and site visits.

Although the potential to add casino gambling to live and simulcast racing makes Hawthorne more attractive than if it were solely marketed as a racetrack, it’s not as big a deal as it would have been if Carey had been able to implement it after receiving Gaming Board approval six years ago.

In the interim, new casinos have opened in the metropolitan area and temporary facilities also are operating while their owners are building permanent structures. Adding to the possible saturation, slot machines are being proposed at O’Hare and Midway Airports. Midway is located about 15 minutes south of Hawthorne but if there were slots at the airport the number of people who’d go to the racino to kill time during long layovers would dwindle.

THE DOWN UNDER DIARY

with ADAM HAMILTON

Will Leap To Fame win third Inter Dominion?

by Adam Hamilton

As has been the case in most major races for the past three years Down Under, this Brisbane Inter Dominion is all about the great Leap To Fame.

He adorns every poster and all the promotional material for the sport's most iconic event.

Why wouldn't he? Leap To Fame is a Queenslander, this series is run again on his home track and he is chasing more history in his already phenomenal career.

Had it not been for a health setback in late 2024, Leap To Fame would almost certainly be racing for his fourth Inter Dominion's ultimate honor over the next few weeks.

The 7-year-old has won two Inter Dominion titles (2023 and last year) and a third this month would make him one of just four pacers to have done so.

Our Sir Vancelot was the first in 1997, '98, and '99. Im Themightyquinn also won three in a row in 2011, '12, and '13.

In between them was the benchmark, the Inter Dominion's greatest ever contestant, fellow Queensland pacer Blacks A Fake. He won four crowns in 2006, '07, '08, and 2010.

More remarkably, Blacks A Fake contested six consecutive Inter Dominion finals and ran second in the other two, the last of them as a 10-year-old at Auckland's Alexandra Park in 2011 when he was understandably past his prime.

In a fairytale scenario, Leap To Fame would win his third crown and return for a swansong tilt at equaling Blacks A Fake's four wins in next year's series – the last of the three in this rotation at Albion Park.

But for now, it's all about winning a third.

And another massive milestone awaits.

Dan Costello

Leap To Fame (Grant Dixon) in the winner's circle after winning the 2025 Inter Dominion.

“There’s more depth to the [Inter Dominion] series than people seem to think. Winning these is never easy. You’ve got a horse like The Janitor knocking on the door, especially over the past six months or so, and I’ll be watching the Rising Sun with huge interest as well. I can see it playing a real role in the Inter Dominion this year.”

– Grant Dixon

Leap To Fame heads into the series with 15 Group 1 wins, so victory in the $1 million final on July 18 will make him equal on the all-time Australasian Group 1 list with former greats Lazarus and Westburn Grant.

That’s only fitting for his remarkable body of work all around Australia and New Zealand over the past three years.

The betting markets say this is Leap To Fame’s final to lose, again.

But his always cautious and modest trainer/driver Grant Dixon is a lot more circumspect.

“There’s more depth to the series than people seem to think,” he said. “Winning these is never easy.”

“You’ve got a horse like The Janitor knocking on the door, especially over the past six months or so, and I’ll be watching the Rising Sun with huge interest as well. I can see it playing a real role in the Inter Dominion this year.”

Let’s explain why.

Saturday night’s $350,000 Group 1 Rising Sun, a race restricted to 3- and 4-year-old pacers, carries a golden ticket for the winner into the $1 million Inter Dominion final two weeks later (July 18).

Captains Mistress is a raging hot $1.60 favorite (for a $1 bet) to win it.

While it’s a cracking race itself, the chance of a champion mare like Captains Mistress winning the Rising Sun and bouncing into another clash with Leap To Fame is deliciously tantalizing.

They have met just once in the $1 million Miracle Mile on March 14 when Leap To Fame won, but Captains Mistress was buried in traffic and never got a chance to let down. She finished fifth.

Outside of that, Captains Mistress has won her other nine starts since moving from New Zealand to join Jason Grimson’s stable.

She is very special.

The Grimson factor is very real in Inter Dominions.

It was the 2021 Sydney Inter Dominion final when Grimson first announced himself in the big league.

He transformed a washed-up “claimer” Boncel Benjamin into a star and upstaged a strong field to win the pacing final, albeit on protest.

Grimson repeated the dose the following year with another “has been” pacer in I Cast No Shadow to win the Melbourne Inter Dominion final.

Captains Mistress would lap those two pacers.

And Grimson has back-up power this year. Recent stable additions Minos and Dangerous have everybody talking.

Minos turned heads when he charged home for third to Leap To Fame and The Janitor in their final lead-up race at Albion Park two weeks ago.

And, other than Captains Mistress, Dangerous would be the most talented horse to join Grimson’s barn from another trainer.

Formerly trained by Shane Sanderson in Victoria, Dangerous won a heat of the 2024 Sydney Inter Dominion and was fifth to Don Hugo in the final. He’s won 13 races with another 16 placings and will go into the opening round of heats having his first start for Grimson.

Champion Victorian trainers Emma Stewart and Clayton Tonkin have taken a string of runners, headed by last year’s TAB Eureka and Chariots Of Fire winner Bay Of Biscay, to try and win their first Inter Dominion.

But once again it looks like Leap To Fame against the rest.

Queensland has a great chance of winning the trotting final as well with the gifted but slow learning Gus.

Only once since 1978 have horses from the host state won both finals and that was Don Hugo (pacing) and The Locomotive (trotting) in 2024 at Menangle.

With superstar Victorian mares Keayang Zahara and Jilliby Ballerini missing the series for different reasons, Gus is the standout talent and class factor.

I won’t say he’s bullet proof, but winning the huge Group 1 double in Christchurch on New Zealand Cup Week last year – the Dominion Trot and New Zealand Trotting free-for-all – showed how far Gus has come.

At home and with a perfect build up, Gus deserves to be a commanding favorite for trainers Chantal Turpin and Pete McMullen, who also have The Janitor in the pacing series.

HRNZ/Race.Images NZ

Gus will be one of the favorites in the Inter Dominion trotting final.

The x factor is Stewart and Tonkin's Susan Is Her Name, the lone trotter they train in a team of 100-plus horses.

Susan Is Her Name has been plagued by injuries, but boasts being the only trotter to have beaten Keayang Zahara in a race.

That was back in May, last year, and injuries have prevented Susan Is Her Name from racing for the 15 months since.

It's a daring and radical tilt at such a big race, but Stewart and Tonkin are backing her sheer talent.

Defending champion Arcee Phoenix has found form again at the right time, but this is a stronger series than last year.

His trainer Chris "Snooze" Svanosio has taken another four trotters up for support, with the emerging Lovemeto pushing Arcee Phoenix for stable top seed.

There's something special about the Inter Dominion.

And having Leap To Fame chasing more history in front of his home crowd sets the scene for another amazing chapter in the storied history of the great event.

ALL OVER ONTARIO

with MATTHEW LOMON

Ken Mathieson's life is better with harness racing in it

by Matthew Lomon

Ken Mathieson's nearly four decades as a hobby horseman have taught him plenty about the game, and by extension, life itself.

Between the exhilarating highs and heart-breaking lows, the prevailing lesson, no matter the circumstances, has always been clear: racing becomes a part of who you are.

"I've been in and out of the business the past few years; I've had a couple of bad spells," Mathieson said. "But once you're in the game, once you get hooked, you're in it for life – and that's what I'll be."

The only member of his family in the sport, Mathieson's interest in standardbreds sprouted from trips to Flamboro Downs with his father-in-law in the late 1980s.

His curiosity quickly developed into full-fledged passion with the help of longtime friend, and later business partner, Henry Banakiewicz.

"He's been a great partner of mine from the beginning; he still is" Mathieson said. "In those early days, it was Henry who said to me, 'I know this guy who trains horses.' That person was [trainer/driver] Jimmy Whelan, but the day I went out to visit, he happened to not be there."

Morrison added with a laugh, "After that, Henry said, 'Well, I know this other guy. And it was [trainer/driver] Larry Nickle. I started going up on my days off to learn how things worked, and that's how I got my start.'"

In the years that followed, Mathieson's connection to the game remained strong, mostly in an ownership capacity.

It wasn't until 2021 that the first-generation horseman officially took his involvement to the next level, obtaining his trainer's license.

Mathieson's first objective as a conditioner was to get bay pacer Alethia to the races. As he told it, the daughter of Western Ideal—National Gallery got close, but a tendon injury forced her into an early retirement.

"I've been in and out of the business the past few years; I've had a couple of bad spells. But once you're in the game, once you get hooked, you're in it for life – and that's what I'll be."

– Ken Mathieson

It was Alethia's contributions off the track, however, that would deliver the most memorable chapter of Mathieson's racing career.

"After she had recovered from the injury, I made a broodmare out of her," he said. "The second foal [Mattjestys Pride] I had out of her didn't really pan out, but the last one I had, Life Is Better, set a couple of track records at Clinton [Raceway] and Leamington [Raceway]."

"Every time I went to the track with that guy, I knew I was at least getting a check. He made me look good. I learned a lot from him."

Life Is Better entered the world as something of a miracle baby for Mathieson, who lost the first foal out of Alethia and had arrangements to breed to Hall of Famer Camluck before the plan fell through.

While it wasn't the most auspicious of starts to Life Is Better's career, as he missed roughly six months after injuring himself in his stall, the Betterthancheddar bay blossomed into Mathieson's most prolific performer.

Between 144 starts around the Ontario circuit, Life Is Better accumulated a 28-18-18 line, good for over $158,000 in total prizes.

The reliable pacer's best work came on Aug. 7, 2022, at Leamington Raceway, where he reset the track record for older pacing stallions by a full second (1:55.4), and again on June 18, 2023, at Clinton Raceway, where he rewrote the same category, finishing in 1:54 flat.

The latter feat remains fresh in Mathieson's mind.

"The best memory was when he set the track record at Clinton," he said. "To be honest with you, it was almost like winning the North America Cup for me."

Unfortunately, the horse that supplied the highest of highs for Mathieson also brought on the lowest of lows.

“The best memory was when [Life Is Better] set the track record at Clinton. To be honest with you, it was almost like winning the North America Cup for me.”

– Ken Mathieson

“Two years ago, we ran into complications following a procedure and I had to put him down,” he said. “When that happened, I thought that was the end of it for me. He was the best one I ever had, and to be honest, when I had to put him down that day, man, I was pretty upset for a while.

“That’s when I got right out of it for six months. I couldn’t even look at a horse.”

That half-year away from the game gave Mathieson, by trade a porter at St. Joseph’s Healthcare center in Hamilton, ON, time to re-evaluate his relationship with the sport.

“A lot of the guys that were helping me out, said ‘Listen, it happens to all of us,’ Mathieson said. “There are ups and downs in this game, and sometimes there are more downs than ups. You just have to find a way to move forward.’ And eventually, that’s what I did.”

Despite the sour taste left by the tragic loss of his star pupil, Mathieson found his way back to the track with a plan to honor Life Is Better.

“I have a Bettors Delight colt out of Alethia named Life Is Better Now,” he said. “He’s a 2-year-old, so he’s coming along slowly but I’m not in a big rush with him.”

Alongside the living tribute to his cherished former pacer, Mathieson picked up a pair of claimers from friends in 4-year-old Wicked Ending and 5-year-old Beethreepo, the latter whom he co-owns with Banakiewicz.

A future that once looked bleak has begun to fill with promise.

“I’m going to retire in a few years, so I’m trying to build something that will keep me occupied,” Mathieson said. “I have the two claimers right now, but the hope is I can progress from there and just keep going... I’m never going to be out of the business, let’s put it that way.”

With a plan in place, the Hamilton-based horseman has everything he needs to continue feeding the passion so many have helped him sustain over some 40 years.

“I can name 20 people off the top of my head who have helped me; they’ve all been so willing to teach or offer help anytime I’ve asked,” he said.

It’s a list dedicated to both friends and family.

“Ken Oliver, the last guy I worked with, he’s helped me out quite a bit,” Mathieson said. “He doesn’t get the recognition he deserves. He’s an all-around horseman that does pretty much everything, and is a good guy.

“My girlfriend, Teresa, she’s put up with me for the last 25-30 years. The same goes for my son, Kenny. I’ve missed a lot of Saturday and Sunday nights with them racing, but they’ve been really supportive and I’m forever grateful for that.”

As Ken Mathieson discovered, life is better with harness racing in it.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

No one is putting Hayley Walters over a barrel when it comes to standardbreds

by Chris Lomon

Championing the standardbred breed is always twice as nice for Hayley Walters.

Whether she's trackside or in the rodeo arena, the young horsewoman from Delaware is a passionate advocate and powerful voice, sometimes literally, for the breed that traces its bloodlines to 18th-century England.

A competitive barrel racer, Walters and her two retired standardbreds, Special T Rocks and Firecracker Graham, often turn heads when they arrive at events.

It hasn't always been a warm reception for the daughter of groom and driver Kyle Walters.

"I went to this one show series and people found out I have a standardbred," Hayley said. "And they looked at us as though we wouldn't be able to compete against their quarter horses."

The reaction after Hayley and her horse walk out of the ring is typically quite different.

"I have had some doubtful times, people thinking that I am not able to compete because I have a standardbred," she said. "But I know in my heart that we can do it. Firecracker Graham is placing against other breeds and doing so well. Special T

Rocks has done the same. He won a buckle for me. I wouldn't be shocked if Firecracker Graham won us a buckle this year. They are both so talented."

A son of Rocknroll Hanover out of the Artiscap mare Ladys Special Girl, Special T Rocks hold status as Hayley's heart horse.

Her connection to the 18-year-old bay gelding, who won 56 of his 201 starts, along with $751,386 in purse earnings, dates back to her pre-teen years.

"When I went to the barn with my dad, he actually got to groom him for [trainer] Joe Hundertpfund," she said. "He was an open pacer in Delaware, and everyone knows who he is. I fell in love with him. He was such a nice horse, and he had a big personality.

"Once he retired, I got him and retrained him to be a riding horse. He's the best horse I could have ever asked for. I can point anything at him and he'll do it. He tests me at moments, for sure. We are going to the National Standardbred Show in September. I don't ride English, but I put an English saddle on him, and he acts like we ride that every day. He reminds me of why I love horses so much."

Hayley's passion for horses and horse racing was developed at an early age.

She often accompanied her father to the Hundertpfund barn, where she gladly lent a helping hand.

"My dad has always been in racing – his entire side of the family has always been it," she said. "He started out as a groom for Joe, and he was gracious enough to allow my dad to bring me to the barn when I was a little kid. I would brush the horses, give them bubble baths and I'd jump in and clean a stall, too. I thought it was fun and I never saw it as work."

When she wasn't at the barn, Hayley somehow found a way to be around horses.

"I would go to my grandmother's and she would babysit me," Hayley said. "We would go across the street, and I would ride a pony named Honeybun. I realized that I loved horses, so that's when I got the chance to go to the barn and do all that."

A life-changing moment came one morning when Hayley had a front-row seat on the racetrack.

"My dad would put me on his lap, and I would jog horses with him," she said. "I loved it so much and it made me want to take care of the horses and help them. I fell in love with them."

So much, in fact, that despite an often-hectic barrel racing schedule, Hayley is a steady presence at the races and in the barn.

She brings a broad set of skills to the racetrack whenever she's called upon.

"If Joe needs someone to fill in for his staff, I will fill in for them," she said. "I graduated from school a year early, so I have more chances to do that. I go to the track, whether it's Ocean Downs, Harrington or Dover, and I do a lot of catch paddocks, especially for Joe. I don't take care of a certain number of horses. I just help out.

“My dad would put me on his lap, and I would jog horses with him. I loved it so much and it made me want to take care of the horses and help them. I fell in love with them.”

– Hayley Walters

"If they are close when they are coming down the stretch, I do try to stay quiet, but I will catch myself saying things like, 'Come on, you can do it.' Even though they aren't my horses, I get nervous myself because I want to see the horse do well. I just love being around the horses at the track and paddocking for people. I love helping out in the barn, too. It's something fun that I get to do."

Keeping pace with a busy life is her biggest challenge, a skill born of necessity, but one she has mastered.

"It can be time-consuming, taking care of my horses and then being at the track," she admitted.

But the rewards make every challenge worthwhile.

"The best part is when you see the early mornings, the long nights, the blood, sweat, and tears pay off," she said. "It is so rewarding. Whether it's one of my horses placing in the ring or seeing a horse I have helped out with win a race, it's the best feeling."

As is showing the barrel racing world what standardbreds are capable of.

For Hayley, those moments are a mix of pride and passion, as well as a platform to showcase her adoration and respect for her favorite breed.

Each time she competes, she sees perceptions continue to change.

"My two horses started placing and then people started to realize what they can do," she said. "They don't just show up, they go in and show everyone how talented they are.

"I like to do barrel racing for a lot of reasons, but mostly to let people know that standardbreds have everything it takes to be successful in that world."

Somemore Blue leaves no doubts in INSS

by Connor Mahoney / Harrah's Hoosier Park

Quickly bouncing back from her last outing, Somemore Blue driven by Marcus Miller for trainer Erv Miller victorious in a decisive win in the third round of the $94,500 Indiana Sires Stakes 3-Year-Old Fillies Pace on Saturday (June 27) at Hoosier Park.

Accelerating out of post 6, Somemore Blue set the tone immediately fighting off any challengers for an early lead at the quarter in :26. Leading the seven-horse field single file, Somemore Blue tapped the brakes on the backstretch with Klorox Queen (Trace Tetrick), Treacherous Woman (Kyle Wilfong), and Whoomp (John De Long) lined up behind the pacesetter.

With the field growing closer at the halfway mark in :55.1, Somemore Blue stayed on the gas pedal while the field remained unchanged. Electing to be first over, Whoomp slid to the outside, closing in on the leader. At the three-quarters in 1:22.4, Somemore Blue started to build the gap as the setting sunlight grew between the pacers as Klorox Queen and a charging Whoomp followed.

Not giving them a chance down the stretch in :26.1, Somemore Blue found another gear churning away to slam the wire in 1:49 for a lifetime mark winning with a motionless Marcus in the bike to cruise by 3¾ lengths. Whoomp settled for second, while Treacherous Woman rallied back for third, 8½ lengths back of the winner.

The 3-year-old filly is owned by Stepbystep Racing, Kenneth Duffy, Lava Java Stable, and Never 2 Late Stable. Somemore Blue was bred by Lavon Miller. For her fourth win of the season in five tries, Somemore Blue added a first and third leg victory in INSS action. Somemore Blue increased her lifetime earnings to $382,191 and paid $3.40 to win.

New York SIRE STAKES REPORT

Uncle Rob has big day in NYSS at Buffalo Raceway

by Brian J. Mazurek for Buffalo Raceway

It was a spectacular day for Uncle Rob ($3.88) at Buffalo Raceway on Wednesday afternoon (July 1) as he collected the victory in the $110,200 New York Sire Stakes for the 2-year-old colt and gelding trotters with a 1¾ length score over Celebrity Dubai in 2:00.3.

Besides getting the $55,100 first place check, Uncle Rob (Andy Miller) etched his name into the Buffalo Raceway record book as his time equaled the track mark for 2-year-old gelding trotters set by Tobern on July 5, 2023.

Stablemate Speaker Craig (Tyler Miller) did the heavy lifting on the front end, setting fractions of :29 and :59 through the opening half. With Uncle Rob getting the perfect pocket trip, Celebrity Dubai (Jason Bartlett) came a calling with a big move down the backstretch the final time and briefly took the lead heading down the lane.

But Uncle Rob shook free on the outside down the long Buffalo Raceway lane and powered his way to the win. Celebrity Dubai settled for the nice second place payday with Mormont (Dan Daley) rallying in deep stretch for third.

Uncle Rob, who had the only pari-mutuel victory and start among the eight entrants, is now a perfect two-for-two in his career. Fresh off a 5¾ length win at Harrah's Philadelphia on June 18 in his career debut, Uncle Rob (Met's Hall—Jesse's Con) is owned by the Andy Miller Stable Inc. and is trained by Julie Miller. The score jumped his seasonal earnings to $61,000.

In the lone $20,000 Excelsior Series race for the freshman male trotters, Telling Tall Tales ($3.98) and driver Brett Beckwith used the passing lane to top Im Vengeance (John Stark, Jr.) in 2:02.4 while Betelgeusebluechip (Kyle Swift) was third.

Telling Tall Tales ($3.98) is co-owned by Harmon Racing Stables, William Muggleston, and Robert Robinson and is conditioned by Rob Harmon.

In the $14,700 open pace for the fillies and mares, Utopia Blue Chip ($6.66) got out of the bridesmaid role and finally got to the winner's circle with a neck decision over Face The Shadows with Gentrify (Brett MacDonald) taking third in 1:55.

With a pair of second place finishes in the open pace for the damsels, Utopia Blue Chip (Dale Spence) got rolling out of fifth place at the half-mile marker as the favored Elegant Woman A set the pace with splits of :28.2, :57.4, and 1:26.3. Those proved to be too much, and the closers started to roll into contention.

Face The Shadows (Kevin Cummings) had taken the lead turning for the wire but Utopia Blue Chip was able to track her down late and claim the win.

Leased and trained by Spence, it was the fifth win in 23 starts on the campaign for Utopia Blue Chip (Sweet Lou—Reign On Me). The victory jumped her seasonal earnings to $51,377 and to $270,716 in her career.

David McNeight, III and Monti each had doubles on the card.

Racing will return this afternoon (July 3) at 2:30 p.m. with 13 races on tap.

COWBOY CANDY AND FENDILICIOUS WIN NYSS RACES AT YONKERS

The New York Sire Stakes circuit was at MGM Yonkers Raceway for the first time in 2026 on Monday night (June 29), and Cowboy Candy and Fendilicious won their respective sections of the opening leg for 2-year-old pacing fillies.

In the first division, which went for a purse of $78,700, Cowboy Candy (Andy McCarthy) led early after showing speed from post 1, but she released a two-wide Holly's Choice (Matt Kakaley) to the top just after the :28.2 opening quarter. Holly's Choice then backed down the half to 58 seconds before favorite Too Pink To Pass (Lauren Tritton) went first-over out of the 3-hole on the third turn.

Too Pink To Pass advanced into second before Holly's Choice reached three-quarters in 1:27.2 and sustained her uncovered charge to hit the front coming off the final bend. However, as Holly's Choice and Too Pink To Pass had been battling, Cowboy Candy had room to get off the pylons when Annie O (Jason Bartlett) gapped from second-over, and McCarthy then tipped Cowboy Candy to the outside of Too Pink To Pass in the lane. Too Pink To Pass dug in gamely, but she couldn't stave off Cowboy Candy, who got up to win by a half-length in 1:56.4. Huntrix (Scott Zeron) advanced from fifth to third in the final quarter.

Aaron Lambert trains Cowboy Candy, a daughter of So Surreal—Caviart Elena bred by Eric Taddeo, for owner Chain Lightning Stables LLC. She won in her second start and paid $13.38 to win as the 5-1 fourth choice. The exacta was worth $45.52 and the trifecta kicked back $258.32.

The second $77,300 split went to Fendilicious (Bartlett), who cut fractions of :30, :59.4, and 1:28.3 en route to a 1:57.1 victory in her pari-mutuel debut. Hurrikane Schmazy (Yannick Gingras) pulled out of the pocket going to three-quarters but couldn't make any headway until deep stretch when she closed to within a length of Fendilicious, and Wine Down Wednesday (Tyler Buter) finished in third.

A filly by Huntsville, Fendilicious was sent out by Deborah Daguet for owners Michael Rosenthal, Kareo Stable Inc., and Donald MacRae. The Crawford Farms-bred returned $9.62 as a 7-2 offering and keyed a $32.22 exacta and a $171.76 trifecta.

Winning a trio of $20,000 Excelsior Series events were:

- Huntsvilles Honey (by Huntsville and bred by owner Joseph Trice, paid $2.70 to win) in 1:57.1 for driver Matt Kakaley and trainer George Ducharme;
- Spider Claire (by So Surreal and bred by co-owner/trainer Paul Roy with co-owner Ersilia Roy, paid $42.44 to win) in 1:59 for driver Yannick Gingras;
- Clear Choice (by Courtly Choice and bred by Winbak Farm, paid $4.48 to win) in 1:59.3 for driver Matt Kakaley, co-owner/trainer Blake MacIntosh and co-owner Glenn Dyke.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday through Friday live racing schedule with post time each night at 6:45 p.m. (EDT), though the oval will be dark tonight (July 3).

K T Part E fastest mare ever at Running Aces

by Darin Gagne for Running Aces
Casino, Hotel and Racetrack

The top featured event on the Sunday night (June 28) harness racing program at Running Aces was the $35,000 Ron Banks Memorial final, a free-for-all (late closer) for fillies and mares with a field of seven very talented pacing distaffers, and the contest did not disappoint fans, providing gate-to-wire action and a shiny new track record.

When the gate pulled away Wish I Had Thyme (Nick Roland) got the first call but Premier Desirey (Rick Magee) was hot on her heels and surged to the top to register the opening panel in a snappy :26.4 while Brady Jenson activated K T Part E to make an early move toward the front from third and Teelatini (Luke Plano) tracked inside in fourth.

K T Part E cleared to the front just before the three-eighths mark and was well settled on the lead as they posted a :54.3 opening half mile. The leader did not get much of a respite before Teelatini was sent into action with a strong first over bid down the backstretch and she drew on even terms with K T Part E as they headed into the far turn, while Miss Fancy Nancy (Josiah Miller) followed the cover and Premier Desirey was still snug in the pocket at the 1:22.2 three quarters.

KT Part E was still fending off Teelatini when they swung for home and she dug in impressively with a strong surge as they entered the final sixteenth-of-the-mile. Premier Desirey shook free from the pocket and tried to take her shot at K T Part E, but there was no catching her on this night and she went on to post an impressive 1½ length tally in 1:50.1 to become the fastest pacing mare ever at Running Aces. Premier Desirey was home second and Teelatini was a very game third in the record mile.

The previous record for pacing mares was 1:50.4 set by Mother Mary in 2025.

K T Part E ($3.20) is a 4-year-old daughter of Cattlewash. She is also owned and trained by Jenson and she now shows 16 wins from 32 career starts with earnings of $116,528.

SV Shining Star (Be The Best, $2.80) delivered another big performance as the big favorite in the $17,500 Minnesota-sired sophomore filly trot in a career best 1:57.4 over Anitra's Dance and Model Good Looks. Magee was the winning driver for trainer Justin Anfinson.

Bang Bang Boogie (New Jersey Viking, $2.60) lived up to the hype in the $17,500 sophomore male division, turning in a career best 1:57 tally over My Little Maverick and Wisco Money Heist, also with Magee in the bike for Anfinson.

Roland, Magee, and Anfinson all had doubles on the program.

Maine SIRE STAKES REPORT

Snowonthepines is a sure thing

by Chris Tully for the Maine Sire Stakes

Snowonthepines, the unbeaten 3-year-old Maine-bred pacing filly, was barred from the wagering in just her third start of the year at Bangor Raceway on Wednesday (July 1), a track decision that had little effect on the outcome.

With regular driver Kevin Switzer, Jr. out of town, Bruce Ranger got the call in the $15,434 division of the Maine Sire Stakes for sophomore sidestepping distaffs. Leaving with the same dominance as in her previous outings, the daughter of Dude's The Man set swift early fractions of :27.4 and :58 in the first circuit, having been pressed in the early going by eventual pocket sitter Ekorus (Nick Graffam).

Past the half and heading down the backstretch She's A Firefly (Andy Harrington) moved first over and got to the head of Ekorus into a 1:27.1 third panel, with Snowonthepines putting five lengths between herself and her pursuers.

With no apparent threat to her dominance, Ranger set Snowonthepines on cruise control and proceeded down the Bass Park homestretch. Unfettered, the pair glided across the wire by 6¼ lengths the best in 1:56.4, a new lifetime best.

Winning all nine of her races at 2, Snowonthepines has three wins this season for trainer Marc Tardif and owner/breeder Leighton Property. There were no mutuels on the winner as she was barred from the betting.

Ekorus, the 1-5 favorite finished second; Graceofspades (Dave Ingraham) got up to be third.

In the other $15,209 division, the 4-5 favorite Dudelookslikeafly looked like she was going to have things her own way.

Driver Aaron Hall sent the daughter of Dude's The Man right to the top in an instant and led the field through opening panels of :29 and 59.4 to the half, while Just Delightful (9-5, Ron Cushing) was pressing onward first over from the start.

Heath Campbell tipped Heymickeyyousofine (3-1) to grab that second over cover while heading to the midway point. Approaching the 1:29.2 third panel, a determined Just Delightful looked the leader right in the eye. Off the turn Heymickeyyousofine tipped three wide with Just Delightful still engaging the leader Dudelookslikeafly.

With all three horses battling for supremacy down the homestretch, Just Delightful, who was parked out every step of the way, digs in and gets up under the shadow of the wire to prevail by a quarter length in 1:59.

Trained by Heidi Cushing for owners Ron Cushing, Steve Downey, Anthony Romanelli, and Joseph Romanelli, it was a new lifetime mark for the daughter of Western Maverick. Bred by Lynn-Marie Plouffe, she returned $5.60 for her second career victory, and first of the season.

Dudelookslikeafly hung on for second; Heymickeyyousofine was third.

Looking ahead, Cumberland hosts all the 3-year-old trotters on Saturday (July 4), with the 2-year-old pacing fillies making their pari-mutuel debut on Sunday (July 5) at Bangor.

REAL HORRORSHOW GETS REDEMPTION

Real Horrorshow was able to get back into the win column with a victory at Cumberland Raceway on Saturday (June 27) after surviving a thrilling, stretch-long battle with Rebel's Revenge in the second leg of the Maine Sire Stakes for 3-year-old pacing colts and geldings.

Last season's Pine Tree State-bred freshmen champion Real Horrorshow had never tasted defeat until last week when Rebel's Revenge sat a pocket trip and stormed down the lane to catch the colt with the previously unblemished record in his first start of the year.

Fast forward a week and the script was the same in the $15,434 Maine Sire Stakes event where Real Horrorshow was, once again, bet down to the heavy favorite at 1-5. Regular pilot Kevin Switzer Jr. sent him right out from the start, blazing to an early lead. Second choice and last week's victor Rebel's Revenge (9-5, Aaron Hall) ducked into the pocket and proceeded to give chase through a :29.1 opening panel and a softer 1:00 half.

Rebel's Revenge was headstrong in the garden spot while heading down the backside the final time, with the pacesetter hitting the third panel in 1:29.2 and looking to gain some separation. Off the turn Hall tipped Rebel's Revenge and began to apply steady pressure on the leader. Gaining ground with every stride the pair were locked in another furious clash down the stretch, with Rebel's Revenge advancing within a neck of Real Horrorshow.

For the respective connections, the race was a real nail biter – right down to the wire, but ultimately the day belonged to Real Horrorshow who showed the necessary grit and fought back to retain the lead and split the beam in 1:58.2, a new lifetime best.

Trained by the senior Kevin Switzer, who also co-owns with Kathleen Mofield and Anthony Sivik, Jr., the son of Dude's The Man returned $2.40 for his first win of the season. He was bred by Luke and Patricia Varnum, and now has $110,664 in lifetime earnings.

Dude's The Jet (Dave Ingraham) finished third.

In the other $15,659 division the early morning line favorite Daytoremember (9-5, Heath Campbell) rolled out aggressively to take command from post 6. From that point the son of Dude's The Man set comfortable fractions of :29.2 and 1:00 to the mid-station.

Down the backside and heading to the third stanza Itsjustmoney (5-1, Switzer, Jr.) maintained a tight pocket as the favorite hit that marker in 1:29.3. Around the turn the aggressor tipped and began to gain ground on the leader. As they turned for home the pair were neck and neck with the momentum favoring the outside swinging Itsjustmoney who had a full head of steam.

With nothing but racetrack in front of him Itsjustmoney overpowered Daytoremember to break his maiden and score by 2¼ lengths in 1:58.4.

Owned and trained by Marc Tardif the son of Thirty Two Red got his first win in 12 lifetime starts. Bred by Bobbi Jean Carney, he returned $13.20.

Deuces Red (Mike Stevenson) got up for third.

Driver Aaron Hall started his day with a score aboard Maggie At Bat (1:57.3, $11.40), which was his 1,000th career victory. Hall won two more on the afternoon program with Zoes Precious RN (2:00, $19) and Head Of The Table (1:59.1, $12.60). Kevin Switzer, Jr. also enjoyed three wins on the program.

During July the schedule at First Tracks Cumberland reverts back to Friday-Saturday, with the exception of the three-day run from Friday (July 24) through Sunday (July 26) during the penultimate weekend of the meet. In addition, there will be no racing today (July 3), a federal holiday.

First post is 12:15 p.m. (EDT) during the extended pari-mutuel meeting, which runs through Aug. 2.

HARNESS RACING PRESS RELEASES, NOTES & ANNOUNCEMENTS

Southwind Farms to cease operations at conclusion of 2028 season

It is with deep sadness and reflection that we announce Southwind Farms will cease operations at the conclusion of the 2028 season.

The closure of Freehold Raceway and the ongoing uncertainty of the Meadowlands – has made it impossible to sustain what was once a thriving and proud breeding operation in New Jersey.

Unfortunately, a facility of Southwind's size, history, and purpose cannot simply be relocated to Kentucky or Ohio. As a result, the decision to close, while painful, is unavoidable.

Our plan moving forward is as follows:

- A full dispersal of Southwind-owned mares will take place in the coming month on PEO online.
- A limited foal crop 2027 will result only from mares in existing partnerships to which we are contractually obligated.
- There will be small yearling crops in 2027-28.
- Regarding the stallions, all strategic decisions will be made by the respective syndicate managers.
- Our core staff will remain in place through 2028.

Many of our long-standing team members will retire from Southwind at that time, including our farm manager Laura Young, whom has been with us for over 35 years.

We are proud to say they will retire with the respect they have earned over decades of dedication to Southwind Farms and the standardbred horse industry.

By 2028, the iconic Southwind gates will close for the final time.

We extend our deepest gratitude to everyone who supported Southwind Farms throughout the years. Our morals, values, and commitments were always upheld, and that mattered to us. We are especially thankful to Barry [Skolnick], whose generosity and integrity allowed Southwind to continue for many years following the passing of his parents. His stewardship honored their legacy and ours.

We are going out with dignity and respect. It brings us comfort to know that Southwind was truly loved and respected within the industry. While the farm will close, the Southwind name – and what it stood for – will live on for many years to come.

$20 million appropriation for NJ horse racing restored

Gov. Mikie Sherrill on Tuesday night (June 30) signed New Jersey's FY2027 state budget, a $60.7 billion spending plan that includes a $20 million appropriation for horse racing purses in the Garden State.

The governor's proposed budget, released in March, had allotted $5 million for purses, a decrease of $15 million from the funding provided in previous years. The State Legislature restored the appropriation to $20 million as part of the budget process.

This annual funding, shared equally between standardbreds and thoroughbreds, is part of a second five-year, $100 million reauthorization of the purse appropriation program first established by the Governor and Legislature in 2018. The program was reauthorized shortly after the initial five-year period concluded in 2023.

An economic impact study in 2024, completed with assistance from the Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association of New Jersey, showed horse racing generated $75 million annually in tax revenue for the state.

The SBOANJ board, along with the state's standardbred industry's political action committee, TrotPAC, and policy partner AMG, met with numerous legislators throughout the budget process as it worked vigorously to help ensure the purse funding was restored to $20 million. The SBOANJ is grateful for everyone's hard work and extends its sincere thanks to Gov. Sherrill and the State Legislature for their continued support of New Jersey's racing industry.

Beau Jangles to miss Meadowlands Pace

The connections of star 3-year-old pacing colt Beau Jangles have announced that the reigning Horse of the Year will miss the upcoming Meadowlands Pace, with eliminations this coming Saturday (July 4).

In an official statement from the connections following a fifth-place finish in this past weekend's Ontario Sires Stakes Gold Series at Woodbine Mohawk Park, trainer Dr. Ian Moore and owners Graham Grace Stables, Kiwi Stables, and Bolton Stables shared an update on the career winner of more than $1.95 million.

"After careful consultation with our veterinary team, it has been determined that Beau Jangles has a lung infection," the statement said. "We have made the difficult decision to not enter Beau Jangles into the Meadowlands Pace in the best interest of the horse's long-term health and well-being.

"While this is certainly a disappointing outcome for our connections and supporters, the horse's health must always come first. We remain optimistic that with appropriate treatment, rest, and recovery, Beau Jangles will be able to return to competition when fully fit.

"We appreciate the understanding and continued support of our owners, fans, and racing community, and we look forward to providing updates on Beau Jangles' progress as they become available.

"The entire Beau Jangles team continues to be grateful for everyone's support and kindness; it truly means more than we can express. We just need a little time to help 'Beau' get back to being Beau!"

After an undefeated freshman campaign, Beau Jangles started his 3-year-old season with wins in the SBOA Stakes and Ontario Sires Stakes Gold Series before being defeated, finishing third in both his elimination and the $1 million final of the North America Cup, when he was beaten just a half-length in a 1:48.1 mile behind Brandon Blvd and winner Odds On Mr Mamba.

Meadowlands revises live racing due to forecast

Due to the forecasted heat advisory this week The Meadowlands has modified its racing schedule.

Following the cancelation of the Thursday (July 2) race card, which has been re-scheduled for Thursday (July 9), post time for tonight (July 3) will be pushed back to 7 p.m., when the forecasted temperatures will drop below the 105-degree heat index, making it safe to race. Twelve races will be carded for that night.

Saturday (July 4) will have a special early post time of 6 p.m. The live race card features two Graduate finals, Meadowlands Pace eliminations (if needed), Perfect Sting, Dave Brower Memorial, Six Pack, and the JL Cruze.

Following the races, at approximately 10:35 p.m., there will be a free fireworks show to celebrate America's 250th anniversary.

For racing and simulcasting information, visit PlayMeadowlands.com.

Summer sizzle sets up schedule shakeup at Big M

A dangerous heat dome is currently affecting Northern New Jersey – which includes East Rutherford – bringing stifling humidity and heat index values in the upper 90s to low 100s through the July 4 weekend.

As a result, the intense weather conditions have made it necessary for management at The Meadowlands to make some changes for the upcoming holiday weekend.

First of all, the live program of racing that was scheduled to take place on Thursday (July 2) was canceled. That card was moved to Thursday (July 9).

Due to anticipated heat indices that could reach the mid-100s, post time tonight (July 3) is 25 minutes later than usual. The first of 12 races will get underway at 7 p.m., late enough for racing to be conducted safely as temperatures come down.

Finally, Saturday (July 4) is a huge night of racing and fun. The forecast high temperature that day is close to 100, but a stray shower or thunderstorm could help make things more comfortable.

Post time for the 11-race program is 6 p.m. The early post is necessary with the track presenting a fantastic fireworks show to celebrate America's 250th birthday. The last race is scheduled to go at approximately 10:35 p.m. with the free fireworks presentation to follow shortly thereafter.

For more fireworks information, go here.

The race card will be stocked with explosive stars who will burn up the track as a single elimination for the $810,000 Meadowlands Pace presented by Genova Burns LLC highlights the program. In addition, there will be a pair of Stan Bergstein Graduate Series finals, one for pacers and one on the trot, each of which will go for $230,000. Also on the card will be the $153,200 Perfect Sting, $168,100 Dave Brower Memorial, $129,400 Six Pack, and $131,250 JL Cruze.

“After a remarkably tough winter, here we are dealing with a brutal heat wave,” said track chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir. “So, we decided to make some moves that will protect our equine athletes and the people who care for them. Everybody has to realize that these kinds of temperatures are no joke, so everyone who is participating in the races, or, for that matter, coming out to the races, has to be aware of how they are feeling and take care of themselves by limiting how long they are out in the heat while always keeping hydrated.”

THE BABIES GET UP EARLY: There will be 10 baby races/qualifiers contested Saturday morning at 8 a.m. for those who want to get a glimpse at some of the stars of tomorrow.

Matt Zuccarello will be back calling the action for a third time.

SATURDAY STARS: There will be plenty of star power present on the Saturday evening program. Some of the bigger names participating include:

- Race 3 – JL Cruze: Lexus Kody, the 2025 Dan Patch Trotter of the Year.
- Race 6 – Six Pack: Yo Tillie, last year’s 3-Year-Old Trotting Filly of the Year, takes on Warrawee Michelle, the defending Older Female Trotter of the Year.
- Race 7 – Meadowlands Pace elimination: Brandon Blvd is now clearly the one to beat with Beau Jangles recovering from a lung infection and North America Cup winner Odds On Mr Mamba opting out.
- Race 8 – Graduate Trot: Super Chapter, the defending 3-Year-Old Male Trotter of the Year, has been dominant thus far in his 4-year-old campaign.
- Race 9 – Dave Brower Memorial: Ervin Hanover, last year’s Older Male Pacer of the Year, looks to stay unbeaten in three 2026 starts.
- Race 10 – Graduate Pace: Prince Hal Hanover is off a powerhouse score in 1:48, taking down Captain Optimistic, the fastest performer in the game this year by virtue of a 1:46.4 clocking two starts ago.
- Race 11 – Perfect Sting: The battle of the stablemates pits Chris Ryder’s Miki And Minnie, a lifetime earner of $2.1 million, against Twin B Joe Fresh, who has a bank account of $2.8 million.

CATCH IT ON FOX: Saturday night’s huge racing program is too good to just be seen locally, which is why all seven stakes events on the Big M card will be shown to a nationwide audience as part of the New York Racing Association’s (NYRA) “America’s Day at the Races” series.

The three-hour live broadcast can be seen on Fox Sports 1 (FS1) and will begin at 8 p.m. Providing commentary and analysis will be the team of Jessica Otten and Gabe Prewitt.

The presentation is the second of seven that will feature Big M races during the 2026 stakes season. FS1 will come right back on July 11 at 8 p.m. with a show that features the $810,000 Meadowlands Pace final presented by Genova Burns LLC.

WHO’S ON THE SHOW? This weekend, TROT Magazine associate editor and Mohawk TV personality John Rallis and DRF Harness editor Derick Giwner will be on hand participating in The Big M’s live simulcast presentation.

Tonight, Rallis will join regular host Dave Little on the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set while Gary DiLeo provides interviews from the paddock.

Saturday night will find Giwner sitting alongside Little on set with Rallis handling interviews from the winner’s circle.

By the way, the next evening, on Sunday (July 5), Giwner will be at the Harness Racing Museum & Hall of Fame in Goshen, NY, being inducted into the Communicators Hall of Fame.

As usual, Ken Warkentin will be in his spot at the top of the grandstand calling the action for both programs.

Scioto Downs hosts Buckeye Stallion Series

Trainer Virgil Morgan, Jr. had four winners in the Buckeye Stallion Series events for 3-year-old colt pacers on Saturday (June 27) at Eldorado Scioto Downs.
