What are the chances of another 2-year-old for Horse of the Year?

by Brett Sturman

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

Don't look now but trainer Dr. Ian Moore has another candidate in Shalom Hanover – but would voters go to that well again?

Of all things harness racing on social media platform X these days, there's been one topic that has me feeling giddy – devilish even – and that's the thought of another 2-year-old thrust into the debate for Horse of the Year.

That's because on the heels of a thrilling win Monday (Sept. 7) over prior unbeaten and fellow 2-year-old juggernaut Starstruck Dreamer, it's Shalom Hanover (Papi Rob Hanover – Sammy's Magic Girl) who has now run his career unbeaten streak to six and is certain to make his top 10 debut when this week's Hambletonian Society/Breeders Crown Poll is released. Shalom Hanover is trained by Moore, who of course trains last year's 2-year-old Horse of the Year champion, Beau Jangles.

In winning his $300,000 Pennsylvania Sire Stake championship for 2-year-old colts and geldings two days ago, Shalom Hanover won in 1:49.2, the second straight time he's won that fast when racing at Pocono. That mark equaled his win from an Aug. 3 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes race, which established a new all-time track record and was only one-fifth-of-a-second off the North American record on a five-eighths-mile track – temporarily. In between those Pocono races were easy, open length wins at Woodbine Mohawk Park in a pair of Grade 3 races, the Dream Maker and more recently Nassagaweya Stakes.

For as fast as Shalom Hanover had been in Pennsylvania, Starstruck Dreamer would soon go even faster. Following up a 1:49.4 win on the same card as Shalom Hanover's first 1:49.2, Starstruck Dreamer would then next-out set the freshman all-time five-eighths harness record when winning in an unbelievable 1:48.4 time at Harrah's Philadelphia.

When the two stars met earlier this week it was Starstruck Dreamer who, despite post 8 against Shalom Hanover's pole position, was made the 1-2 favorite while Shalom Hanover went off at even money. In the race, Shalom Hanover parked Starstruck Dreamer past an opening quarter of :26.3 before sitting the pocket through fractions of :54 and :1:21.3. Once into the stretch, Shalom Hanover gathered momentum along the inside, started coming, and sprinted late to just get up by a head over an equally dead-game Starstruck Dreamer in what now seems like a suddenly "ordinary" time of 1:49.2.

When the idea of Moore-trained and Beau Jangles barnmate Shalom Hanover was first floated it might as well have been tongue-in-cheek. But as of this moment, it now feels at least like a completely reasonable conversation to have.

It's been well established through last year's writings just how rare it is for a 2-year-old to win Horse of the Year. Not only would Shalom Hanover – or Starstruck Dreamer for that matter – need to continue to win at or near an unbeaten rate, but other top contenders would need to stumble at times. Just last Friday, for example, when making his first appearance since winning the Hambletonian, the sports No. 1-rated horse Apex came up inexplicably short at The Meadowlands at odds of five cents on the dollar when finishing fourth in a New Jersey Classic elimination. There's still far too much racing to start playing what-if for each of the top contenders – and I do believe strongly the likes of Brandon Blvd, Super Chapter, On To Norway, and others are much better positioned than the top one's last year – but let's just say for now that Shalom Hanover continues to win and look like yet another generational 2-year-old.

Whether fair or not, Shalom Hanover or Starstruck Dreamer are going to be judged harsher due to how last year's award winner Beau Jangles has come back thus far at age 3.

As was chronicled beautifully by Dave Briggs one week ago, it's not that Beau Jangles has been bad by any stretch of the word at age 3, and most recently won in a career-tying 1:48.3 mile. But when you put his sophomore record into the context of the sky-high expectations that come with the territory of being Horse of the Year at age 2, you're going to get measured differently.

Whether fair or not, Shalom Hanover or Starstruck Dreamer are going to be judged harsher [for possible Horse of the Year honors] due to how last year's award winner Beau Jangles has come back thus far at age 3.

The race for Horse of the Year last year was hotly debated, where in the end voters opted for Beau Jangles with the hottest points for argument against being that the horse never raced outside of Ontario, as well as being a 2-year-old. In that tally, Beau Jangles won comfortably in the end notching 62 votes, more than twice of runner-up in the voting, Louprint, with 30 votes.

For Shalom Hanover, being PA-bred and having raced in the U.S. four times now, that part of the debate gets taken away. But as for being a 2-year-old, I'm sure there could be some reluctant 'Beau' voters, who seeing that the horse is more mortal this year, could think it's a mistake to vote right back again for a 2-year-old. And from the same Moore barn no less.

Going back to 2014 when JK She'salady won Horse of the Year as a 2-year-old filly, she too, didn't have the same level of success at age 3. As was quoted by Moore in Briggs' column, Frantic Hanover who had the five-eighths 2-year-old record last year of 1:49.1 and whom Beau got much deserved credit at the time last year for beating, hasn't come back the same at all.

It just shows much can change between 2 and 3. An honest case can be made that because certain 2-year-olds have an advantage over their peers as a matter of developing faster at the younger age – and may not hold the next year as those other horses develop – that 2-year-olds shouldn't be considered at all. I don't think I necessarily subscribe to that notion, but it is an interesting point.

Just into September now there's still a massive amount of racing left to take place, but it will be worth keeping an eye on the pulse should Shalom Hanover continue to win in record setting fashion.

Three-time Metro winner.

For over a decade and a half had the highest -priced Breeders Crown winner: $140.60 with Bays Fella in 1990.

Some of the greatest horses he's driven include Billyjojobob, Admirals Express, Duke Of York, Village Jasper, Village Connection, Village Jiffy, Rustler Hanover, Invitro, and Lifetime Dream.

Personally, I've known him since the mid-1980s when he gave it a whirl at The Meadowlands for a while, during the Robins Wonder days.

Trotter or Pacer? Made no difference to MacDonell.

He reminds me a bit of "Gentleman" Jim Doherty. (Hall of Famer also from Canada). Totally decent/good guys but you had to be well aware that both were going to stand their ground on the racetrack to say the least.

MacDonell was Dexter Dunn before "Double D" made it to these shores in terms of caring for the horse, deflecting credit to the horse and the connections, and away from himself.

MacDonell started to make a name for himself in the 1990s with Bill Wellwood a big part of it.

Twice Riyadh was denied Breeders Crown glory and Village Jiffy emerged victorious.

Lifetime Dream was just that.

Billyjojobob was a star in Sweden as well as North America and MacDonell had a hand in that.

Rustler Hanover was the first in the great line of sons of Rich N Elegant and MacDonell was part of the ride.

Duke Of York competed versus the best trotters regularly.

MacDonell and compadre Paula Wellwood, Bill's daughter, teamed incredibly to take the first two Wellwood Memorials in 2005 and 2006 after Bill's passing: Was It A Dream and Laddie.

Shortly after, a colt named Somebeachsomewhere entered the picture with a perfect six-for-six freshman season of 2007 with MacDonell driving for Brent McGrath and the Schooner Stable. That carried over to 2008 and his epic season completing his career at 20-for-21 over $3.2 million and was, and is, the highest average per start pacer in history. His 2008 neck defeat to Art Official ranks high, if not at the very top, of many who compile lists of the greatest ever races.

Personally, that was the turning-point moment for me with MacDonell, because of the way he handled the noise, the nonsense, the gibberish. Concerning his drive, people love to assign blame. It had to be MacDonell's fault if you listened to the blatherers. He got beat a neck in the fastest ever Meadowlands Pace in 1:47 flat.

Here's my one and only memo to those hysterical (still) over the lone loss in Somebeachsomewhere's career. Ten cents on the dollar folks means one thing. Forward. No tucks, no hesitating. Go. The :51.4 record Meadowlands Pace half-mile time was not MacDonell's doing folks. He went three deep to secure the top and wound up getting edged by a horse who had the Bob Beamon-esque night of his life and secured the victory in 1:47 flat.

That night I appeared on TV right after and said two things: “That was the greatest effort I’ve ever seen [from Somebeachsomewhere] and he will never lose another race ever again [and he finished 10-for-10].” MacDonell through it all was as gracious as ever. He never ducked from the rock throwers. You are never quite sure how someone will react when thrust upon the greatest stage. His was legendary. Human behavior professors should call him in, and add a “Somebeachsomewhere summer 2008” to their curriculum.

It’s been a great run for MacDonell at 45 years plus. I’m just one of the many well-wishers.

MacDonell was never flashy or outrageous. Was he business-like? Yes.

In many ways he reminds me of Sam McKee. Born just 10 months apart in the early ’60s. Whoever was in charge of stamping newborns with goodness and decency clearly hit both of them twice.

MacDonell’s existence was chock full of grace and dignity and full cooperation with any who needed it.

I believe the next time MacDonell grumbles under his breath will be the first. He’s been something of a silent force.

A knowledgeable guy, well informed, and always accessible, which is not a guarantee folks in the world of horse racing.

I have long felt that part of MacDonell wished to be anonymous. Sorry, maybe on Cape Breton now but not during a career like that.

As soon as I heard the retirement was official, I began my unofficial search for the next MacDonell.

Be patient please. I am afraid it might be a while.

Leap To Fame could chase another career first

by Adam Hamilton

For the past three years, the passionate harness folk in Western Australia have been watching in awe with a slice of jealousy as the great Leap To Fame has gone on his feature race rampage.

From his own backyard at Albion Park, to Melton, Menangle and regional or country tracks like Newcastle, Cranbourne, Redcliffe, Kilmore, and Shepparton.

Leap To Fame has even been to New Zealand twice, both islands in fact.

But his army of adoring Western Australia fans felt destined never to see him in the flesh.

Until now, Western Australia's richest race, the $1.25 million Group 1 Nullarbor (slot race) has basically clashed with Cambridge's race [the Race by Sport Nation].

As he neared his eighth birthday, a trip right across Australia was simply not an option owners Kevin and Kay Seymour or co-trainers Grant and Trista Dixon would consider.

That may have changed in the blink of an eye.

Well, with the scrapping of another race to be precise.

For the past two years in April, Leap To Fame's diary has been blocked out. It was again for next April.

Cambridge in New Zealand's North Island was his one-race target.

Leap To Fame made one of the biggest statements of his stellar career to win the $1 million Race by Betcha in 2025 at Cambridge, turning the tables in the most emphatic and crushing fashion on Don Hugo, who had beaten him a month earlier in the Miracle Mile at Menangle.

Somehow, about five months ago, Leap To Fame raised the bar of his greatness yet again with the most dominant win of his almost 100-start career when he returned to Cambridge for the slightly re-named Race by Sport Nation.

He didn't just win, but thrashed the best field assembled yet this year in the most awe-inspiring of title defenses.

In the euphoria of the moment, Seymour was moved to break the news all fans hoped for, Leap To Fame would not go to stud this year. He would race on for another season with a Cambridge three-peat a driving factor.

"We love this race," Seymour said. "Coming here to win not once but twice has been up with the greatest thrills the horse has given us.

"The people here [in New Zealand] have taken us in so well. The way they appreciate our horse is something really special.

"We can't wait to come back and try to do it all again next year."

But there will be no next year for Cambridge and its $1 million slot race.

Politics and financial constraints in New Zealand harness racing have seen a raft of cuts, headed by the abolition of not just the $1 million pacing slot race, but also the $600,000 trotting slot race.

It's a blow for New Zealand and the broader game Down Under. But it's a win for Western Australia and its passionate harness racing fans and participants.

Until now, Western Australia's richest race, the $1.25 million Group 1 Nullarbor (slot race) has basically clashed with Cambridge's race.

Although run in Australia, Perth is so far from Brisbane, it's a much easier trip and travel schedule for Leap To Fame (and many other star pacers) to go to Cambridge, via a direct flight from Sydney into Auckland.

That's been a driving force in Cambridge's race being stronger than Western Australia, especially drawing Leap To Fame.

But all that's changed.

The Nullarbor now has no opposition. It's got its own blank (and very attractive) slot in the feature race calendar.

And when you add in the fact the $300,000 Group 1 Fremantle Cup is run a week after the Nullarbor, the best pacers can race for $1.55 million in the space of a week at the same track.

There is no doubt this will be by far the strongest Nullarbor yet on April 23 at Gloucester Park.

But will Leap To Fame be there?

His team is hedging their bets, but the fact is we should definitely know in the next couple of weeks.

On Monday (Sept. 7), the bids for slots in next year's Nullarbor closed.

History says the Seymours, just as they did at Cambridge, will buy their own slot if they intend to take Leap To Fame.

Presuming Western Australia officials only need a week or so to process the bids, we should know by mid-to-late September if Leap To Fame will chase another first in his remarkable career.

Not only has Leap To Fame never raced in Western Australia, but his champion trainer/driver Grant Dixon has not taken a horse west across a 35-year career.

Go back another 20 or so years when Dixon's father, Bill trained, and he never went west, either.

But this is a farewell tour of sorts for Leap To Fame.

It will be his last year of racing, most likely culminating with a fourth Inter Dominion campaign in his own backyard, Albion Park, next July.

Then it's let down time before starting stud duties, either in Australia or New Zealand.

Despite the fact the Seymours have said they will manage his racing schedule more in this twilight of his career, it just makes sense for Leap To Fame to tackle the Nullarbor.

He's nearing a racetrack return now but won't go to the Group 1 Victoria Cup at Melton on Oct. 17.

Politics and financial constraints in New Zealand harness racing have seen a raft of cuts, headed by the abolition of not just the $1 million pacing slot race, but also the $600,000 trotting slot race.

Instead, he will be held back and try to chase his first win in the iconic New Zealand Cup on Nov. 10 in Christchurch.

Then he's back home for the Group 1 Blacks A Fake in early December.

Unlike last year, Leap To Fame won't tackle a string of races in Victoria during the summer. It's more likely just one lead-up race, maybe in the Cranbourne Cup, before chasing his second win in the Group 1 Hunter Cup.

Then comes the Miracle Mile in March.

Without Cambridge, there is now a big gap between the Miracle Mile on March 13 and the start of the Brisbane Inter Dominion in early July.

The Nullarbor fits perfectly.

Perth has such a proud and rich harness racing history and produced some of the greatest pacers Australasia has seen.

Preux Chevalier, Im Themightyquinn, Village Kid, Pure Steel, Mount Eden, San Simeon, Satinover, Jack Morris, The Falcon Strike, and Baltic Eagle are just some of the superstars to hail from the west.

A few years back the great Kiwi Lazarus made a huge splash when he went to Perth and won an Inter Dominion final.

But Leap To Fame going would be next level.

He is at least the equal of any pacer who has come before him Down Under.

Winning in front of a packed Gloucester Park, with all its wonderful history of magic moments, would add another layer to his greatness.

That's a moment I'd want to be trackside for.

Surely that's just too tempting for the Seymours and Dixons not to give it a crack?

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

Dalton Walls has plenty of reasons to believe

by Chris Lomon

When Dalton Walls decided to go out on his own again in 2026, he wasn't sure whether the horses would put him back in the flow of racing or if he would have to find another career. He made the decision to bet on himself.

Long before he trained his first standardbred, the multigenerational horseman was well-versed in the outlook he needed to find success in racing.

"Being a third-generation horseperson on both sides, I grew up in a barn," Walls said. "As soon as my mom and dad could put me to work, I was cleaning stalls and doing other jobs. I was around 10 or 11 when I started jogging horses. When you do those first training miles, you understand that rush, the feeling of going fast. But no matter what I did, you were always expected to work hard, be committed to what you were doing and do it all the right way."

Walls, who spent a summer working for Jeff Nisonger when he was 15 said, "So, I learned a lot of valuable lessons and heard a lot of great advice — from my family and others — along the way. I remember Jeff telling me that the business comes 10 moments at a time, and the one win will get you the tough nine ones."

He has never forgotten those words or what they mean, even when a career in racing was a question mark for a time.

"My dad [longtime horseman Bruce Walls] wanted me to go to college," Dalton said. "I started with a couple of horses when I was around 18 or 19, but I did go to school for one year to pursue a business major. I left some horses at home with my dad. I was only 45 minutes down the road for college, but after a year, I decided I wanted to come back to racing and do that on a full-time basis."

His first training win came in 2017, when he sent out Blue Bank K to a 19-1 upset at Scioto Downs on Aug. 16. It was the start of a three-race win streak for both Dalton and the trotting son of Break The Bank K, whom he co-owned.

Dalton never saw any of it coming — and for good reason.

"He was an inexpensive colt, who I bought at the Blooded Horse Sale here in Ohio," Dalton said. "I struggled with him a lot early in the summer. He had been such a pain and then he got pretty sharp after that."

The first win in the natural hat trick was, understandably, the most memorable.

"It was such a rush to win that first race, a feeling you don't understand until you finally experience it," Dalton said.

Keeping the faith in his often-difficult trotter emboldened Dalton.

After a four-win rookie season from 18 starts, he won seven races in 2018. His breakthrough campaign came in 2021 when he won 23 races, which he followed with a career-best 24-win season the following year.

It was Big Box Hanover, a trotting son of Uncle Peter who helped a then-teenager Dalton hit his best stride.

"He changed the course of my career," he said. "I had him with me from 2019 to the fall of 2020. He is still racing now and just went over $1 million in career earnings. For a 19-year-old kid, it was a dream come true. He was second in a Sires Stakes final and second in a Breeders final — just a tough, hard-knocking horse who was fun to be around. He was so good to me, the type of horse you need to catch a little traction early in your career."

Now, with nearly 500 training starts to his name, Dalton's standardbred life hasn't been without its share of difficult times.

"When I got out of high school, I had two great owners," he said. "They were with me for about six years or so. Both got a form of cancer within the same year and one of them passed away. I spent the past two years working for [trainer] Ronnie Gillespie."

This year has been a renaissance of sorts for Dalton.

After a 24-start campaign in 2024 and 19 in 2025, he wasn't certain as to how his 2026 would play out.

Dalton went into the year with a modest mindset, looking to re-craft his operation and hopeful of achieving some success.

He has far exceeded those goals.

"It was pretty scary this year going out on my own again," he said. "I wasn't certain how the horses – modest-priced and homebreds – would race and whether it would put me back in the flow or if I would have to find another job."

Dalton's band of pacers and trotters had an emphatic answer for that question.

"They have been amazing for me, and I couldn't be more grateful to the horses and my owners," he said.

He reached the $1 million mark in career purse earnings this summer and is on pace for his most productive season.

"My short-term goal is to continue to keep that foothold and keep pushing in the right direction," he said. "The long-term goal is to upgrade the stock and be successful in Ohio. I love the culture and the horsepeople around here."

Dedication to his objectives means precious little time to pursue outside interests.

There is, however, one hobby – although that might be a stretch – that Dalton has come to enjoy.

Not surprisingly, it is played out inside the barns.

"I do play darts with other trainers, so I guess if that is a hobby, that would count," he said. "It is just something we do to blow off some steam and give each other a hard time."

Dalton is hoping to hit some more bullseyes on the racetrack before the end of 2026, a year in which he has already set a career-best mark in purse earnings.

"The whole barn is heading towards finals, whether it's Sires Stakes, the Buckeye, or at the fairs," he said. "It would be nice to see them get there and be as competitive as they can be, and then we can get ready for the baby season again."

"My dad was struck in the face [by a horse] four months ago and had to spend time in the ICU, but we finally have him back in the barn and he was out on the track jogging again. It's a real blessing to have him back."

Dalton has plenty of reasons to keep believing.

"Starting back up again, I have so many people to thank for believing in me," he said. "Rob Rodrigues, Dr. Hartzel, Dr. Gilbert, Dr. Friedland, Ronnie Gillespie, and Ryan Miller – they have all supported me. When you have the support of family, friends, and fellow horsepeople, it makes you believe in yourself."

"That's always a good feeling to have."

New York SIRE STAKES REPORT

New York Sire Stakes finals drawn

by Yonkers Raceway media

Two- and 3-year-olds are ready to compete in their $300,000 New York Sire Stakes finals as part of a stakes-laden program on Saturday afternoon (Sept. 12) at MGM Yonkers Raceway, and post positions for those events are now set.

Saturday's program, which begins at 11:50 a.m. (EDT), also includes the Grade 1 $1 million MGM Yonkers International Trot and two invitationals.

As for the sire stakes finals, the 2-year-old colt and gelding trot saw Archon, who won the final prelim at Yonkers on Aug. 31, draw post position 5 for trainer/driver Dan Daley. He faces the likes of Uncle Rob (post 1), Gio's Hope (post 6) and Bailey J (post 7), all multiple victors in the legs of the series.

Al (post 3) will look to defend his title from 2025 in the 3-year-old colt and gelding trot but is pitted against a formidable field that includes two from the Ake Svanstedt stable led by Read The Room (post 8) and Chapter Geo J (post 6).

Fragment landed the pole position as he looks for his second straight sire stakes crown in the 3-year-old colt and gelding pace. Cooperstown Boy (post 2) has won two straight in the sire stakes and Fearless Partners (post 7) captured a sire stakes leg at Batavia and then won the Empire Breeders Championship over Fragment at Tioga.

Kountry Plunge comes into the sire stakes final for rookie trotting fillies with a four-for-four record and starts from post 1. Others in that field to taste NYSS success during the prelims were Jula Florence (post 2), Seveallisto (post 5) and Chapizzy (post 6).

Annie O (post 4) and Cowboy Candy (post 8) were the two dominant forces in the 2-year-old pacing filly ranks and are set to face off in their final. Fendilicious (post 2), Phast Phyllis (post 3), and Huntsvilles Honey (post 5) also posted wins in the sire stakes in the opening rounds.

Odds On Monetary (post 1) and Savage Cindy (post 5) emerged as the leading 3-year-old filly pacers during the regular season, but Liberty Style (post 6) is the defending champion for this group and Surreal Spirit (post 7) won two of her last three prelims at Yonkers and Tioga, with the latter coming over Odds On Monetary.

Sharp Seven (post 5) has her eyes on back-to-back sire stakes championships in the 3-year-old filly trot, but Who Dares Wins (post 4) and Lauren's Chapter (post 2) both had multiple victories in the prelims – as did Sharp Seven – and Storybook Love (post 8) comes in off a victory in the Grand Circuit Simcoe Stakes at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Last, but certainly not least, are the rookie colt and gelding pacers. Rose Run Cowboy (post 4) is riding a three-race win streak, but this is a deep group where only one of the seven entrants didn't capture at least one win during the NYSS prelims.

The full fields for the New York Sire Stakes finals can be found at the end of this release.

Trainers should be aware that there will be a strict detention policy in place for all New York Sire Stakes races, as well as the MGM Yonkers International Trot, Bob Miecuna Trot and the Aria Pace. Pennsylvania

SIRE STAKES REPORT

Shalom Hanover wins during exceptional PASS 2YO Finale Day at Pocono

by PHHA / Pocono

The top Pennsylvania-sired 2-year-olds gathered on Labor Day Monday afternoon (Sept. 7) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, contesting their four $300,000 championships and four $50,000 consolations. This recap summarizes the championship and consolation by each of the divisions. (Spoiler alert: there will be no front-end horses going on to win in this article.)

PACING COLTS AND GELDINGS

The long-awaited super match between five-for-five 2-year-old pacing colt standouts Shalom Hanover and Starstruck Dreamer was won in dramatic fashion by Shalom Hanover (Papi Rob Hanover—Sammy's Magic Girl) in 1:49.2, which equals both his own mark, taken in the divisional track record he set at Pocono on Aug. 3. Starstruck Dreamer suffered no diminishment in reputation as he battled on only to succumb by a neck.

The post-position draw, with 'Shalom' getting post 1 and 'Starstruck' post 8 (which became post 7 due to a scratch), was thought by many to give a decided edge to the Dr. Ian Moore-trained colt. But the Pocono bettors did not agree, sending off Starstruck Dreamer at 50 cents on the dollar and Shalom Hanover at 11-10.

Shalom Hanover took immediate control from the rail, with Eastie Boy away well but tucking behind the pole horse as Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. realized it would be the big two doing the work here (and was rewarded for his assessment with third). Louis-Philippe Roy and Shalom Hanover pushed away hard with a :26.3 split, with Starstruck Dreamer (Todd McCarthy) having no viable option but to press on and take his chances setting the pace.

The middle fractions went in :54 and 1:21.3, with everybody's eyes still on the front duo. Shalom Hanover went to Starstruck Dreamer's left in the lane, and for a second it looked like his late thrust might not get him there, but the trip proved decisive in deep stretch, with Shalom Hanover garnering a head decision over his big rival. The winner is owned by Shalom Hanover Stable.

"Before the race, Shalom Hanover was calmer than he had been before, so that was a good sign, for him to be more relaxed," Roy said after the race. "I was happy after the first five [wins], but now I am even happier."

"In the race, post position definitely made a big difference. We used the luck of the draw to our advantage — we made it work that way. These horses will meet again, and it could be another great matchup."

"Shalom Hanover will be going to the Metro now — that was the target for him."

Lounado would be one of three consolation winners who just missed out on a championship starting spot by finishing ninth in the point standings, and as if expressing his disappointment, the Sweet Lou—Lucy's Pearl exploded out of the pocket through the stretch for driver Matt Kakaley and was by himself at the end of his 1:52 consolation for a new mark. Lounado, coming off a win in the Parshall Futurity at Greenville (OH), is trained by Todd Luther and is owned by Greg Luther Racing LLC.

PACING FILLIES

Despite winning all three of her PASS starts to be the top prelim point winner, the Captain Crunch—JK She'salady filly JK Lady Liberty was second choice in the betting, but she was victorious while taking a new mark of 1:51.1, benefiting from a clever drive by Scott Zeron.

The early fractions of :27 and :55.2, with Aestas finally claiming the top, did not much involve the two choices — though perhaps My Taylors Swift, the Kentucky shipper and favorite, tucking fourth on the first turn would have impact, because directly behind her was JK Lady Liberty.

My Taylors Swift went up to the 1:23 three-quarters to challenge the leader two-wide on the turn; meanwhile Zeron, after following the chalk's cover, maneuvered back to the inside after the pocket horse gave way. And JK Lady Liberty was indeed the fresher horse in the last eighth, steaming up the inside for a fairly easy triumph; Loyal To The End and Gold Impact would be along to be second and third respectively, ahead of My Taylors Swift.

JK Lady Liberty was second in her career bow, then has reeled off five straight wins, looking like a seasoned profession on the track. She is trained by Nancy Takter for 3 Brothers Stables, who also raced her dam, an expert at precociousness who won Horse of the Year at 2.

The Captaintreacherous—Jolly Miss Molly filly Love Somebody, another who had just missed out on her championship by being ninth in the prelim point totaling, had to take the difficult uncovered route from sixth, challenging pacesetter favorite Fauvette Hanover in the consolation. But in the end, it was Love Somebody who proved to be the strong horse, breaking her maiden in 1:53.4. Yannick Gingras was in the sulky for trainer Linda Toscano and the ownership of Country Club Acres Inc and Joe Sbrocco.

TROTTING COLTS AND GELDINGS

Recently-elected Hall of Famer Åke Svanstedt sent out the first three finishers in the trotting colt championship, with Jimdougie Armitage the favorite who rode a pocket journey, just working his way by late over Big Time Trot S in 1:55, equaling his mark.

Jimdougie Armitage had the early lead with Svanstedt driving; Yannick Gingras with Big Time Trot S eyed a 3-tuck then decided to press forward past the :28.2 quarter for command. He set mid-fractions of :56.4 and 1:25.4; point leader Dream Shaq had been out the mile and began to fade, but “Jimdougie” looked fresh after the garden journey.

But the pacesetter had some trot left as well, and for much of the stretch it looked like the 8-1 leader might withstand his favored stablemate. But the Pocono surface certainly was not helping pacesetters on this day; Jimdougie Armitage persisted and finally was a head more photogenic. Yankee Boss came a long way to be third, missing first by only a neck, and completed the Svanstedt trifecta.

Jimdougie Armitage has now won his last three races, the previous two first-over and now this one after the fine journey. His ownership reads S R F Stable, Knutsson Trotting Inc, Brochart Stable Inc, and Svanstedt & Midnight Sun.

The Greenshoe—Fashion Spooner colt Black Tesla joined a backstretch two-wide flow third-over, then ducked inside for the stretch rather than fan wider, and that strategy worked well for driver Ridge Warren as the Nicklas Andersen trainee used the famous Pocono Pike for a 1:57.4 consolation victory, catching favored Southern Hanover by a neck. Wayne Stoltzfus owns the winner.

TROTTING FILLIES

The Captain Corey—Melania filly Birr Castle had been odds-on in all four of her previous pari-mutuel starts, with three wins and a second, and a 3-2-1-0 Sire Stakes prelim scorecard that put her No. 1 in the point standings.

But Orinoco, who beat her last week, was in here, as was Two Day Hangover, her stablemate in Team Melander who was unbeaten in three career starts, including two PASS wins. And Birr Castle did have to start from the outside post 6. So, the crowd let her get away as the 5-1 third choice – and Birr Castle bounced back to capture her championship, with the 1:53.4 time equaling not only her own mark but also the championship record for her division, set by Ginger Tree Lex last year.

Pattys Girl took early control, but Orinoco in second and Two Day Hangover in third looked itchy to go, and indeed in front of the stands after the :27.4 quarter Orinoco first moved to the top, with Two Day Hangover on her heels and taking over the racetrack by the :56.1 half. Shortly after that, Birr Castle got underway from last for driver Scott Zeron.

Birr Castle had a relentless forward gear and kept gaining to the 1:24.4 three quarters and through the turn, and Orinoco was ready for more from the 2-hole in the stretch. Faced with pressure from both sides, Two Day Hangover gave a bit of ground, and in the dash to the wire Birr Castle proved three-quarters-of-a-length better over Orinoco for trainer Marcus Melander and Pheasant Hill Farm (Ed Lohmeyer).

Another competitor who just missed out on a spot in her final by finishing ninth in the point standings, the Captain Corey—Caviart Jenny filly Cabaletta Hanover got a nice consolation prize: winning her consolation in a lifetime best 1:56.1. Matt Kakaley got her into gear in the second half and kept gaining until she made the lead, coasting home for trainer Emily Bost, who is also the co-owner with Steve Salerno, who took win crowns in both training and driving at PcD and also was a UDR champ.

FINISHING LINES: Hustle Rain S set fast fractions of :26.3, :54.3, and 1:22.3 in his first U.S. start, but favored Dame Good Time had him in his sights, and the Chapter Seven gelding went by the impressive newcomer by three-parts-of-a-length with a 1:50.4 victory in the $27,500 fast-class handicap trotting feature. Dexter Dunn drove for trainer Nicholas Devita and owner John Cummins... Pocono will now take a short "reconditioning" break — there will be no live racing on Saturday (Sept. 12) or Monday (Sept. 14). The next racing card will take place on Tuesday (Sept. 15), which will be drawn today the Sept. 9... Free Pocono program pages are or will be available at www.phha.org.

$1.4M PASS 3YO CHAMPIONSHIPS MEMORABLE AT PHILLY

A total of $1,400,000 in purses were offered on Sunday afternoon (Sept. 6) as Harrah's Philadelphia hosted the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championships for 3-year-olds, with four $300,000 finales for each gait/sex combination, and $50,000 consolations for each group as well. The championship and consolation reports will be grouped below.

PACING FILLIES

Miss Jum Jabber gave a performance for the ages in the 3-year-old pacing filly Sire Stakes championship, grinding first-over against 2025 national champion Loua Dipa, wearing that filly down, and then holding off 64-1 shot Say Goodnight, who won this championship last year at 66-1, in 1:49.2.

Andrew McCarthy got the winning filly, sent off the 4-5 favorite, away in midpack as Darlin's Angel overcame post 8 to make the top during a :26.3 opener, then ceded the lead to Loua Dipa (surprisingly 9-2) well before the :54.4 half. Miss Jum Jabber got the grinding lasso out late on turn two and inexorably grinded up to Loua Dipa to the 1:21.4 three quarters, with Say Goodnight right on the Miss Jum Jabber's back.

Miss Jum Jabber and Loua Dipa began their competition back on May 1, when the former came from last to photo out the latter, and four months later they were still locked in battle, with McCarthy and his filly finally getting a discernable edge in midstretch. But Say Goodnight (who ironically was driven by McCarthy in last year's PASS championship; Tyler Buter had the mount this day) had a prime cover trip and narrowed in, but Miss Jum Jabber showed her grit by holding on by a neck; Loua Dipa settled for third, ahead of second choice Sangria Summer, who got forward position then was shuffled out of major contention.

Brett Pelling trains Miss Jum Jabber, the only leading prelim point winner to win among the sophomores Sunday, and Pelling Racing LLC owns the winner of $336,139, now the winner of 11 of 13 after not racing at 2.

Lyons I Wanna Chip, who won her Stallion Series championship in 2025, upgraded her ticket nicely in the 2026 PASS consolation, lowering her mark to 1:50.4. Jason Bartlett went to the top with the daughter of Stay Hungry after the quarter, and there were no anxious moments after that for trainer Petter Engblom and Threelyonsracing.

PACING COLTS AND GELDINGS

It was a bit of a chess match near the front of the championship of the glamour division, and when the match was over, Melillo emerged the king of the division in 1:48.2, a new mark and only a fifth off the PASS championships' all-time record set by Seven Colors right here at Philly in 2023.

Papa Rick bulletted from post 8 to the lead; Melillo was looped and pressed on for Ron Wrenn, Jr. to get the lead shortly past the :26 quarter. Wrenn, Jr. backed the tempo down sharply in front of the stands, and Yannick Gingras, sensing the developing situation, came from third with Al Papi, getting to the lead by a :55 half and then pacing a blue streak down the backstretch to reach the three-quarter pole in 1:20.3 (yes, :25.3 down the back), with Melillo close and Sneaky Squeaky advancing some despite the rapid split.

Sneaky Squeaky (understandably) melted a bit in the drive to the wire (although still third), and it was a late showdown between the members of the Burke Brigade. Melillo went to the inside of the pacesetter and s-l-o-w-l-y worked his way past, the final margin three-quarters-of-a-length. The victory made the favorite Melillo a millionaire ($1,033,274, to be exact) for Burke Racing Stable LLC, Jason Melillo, and Weaver Brussemi LLC.

Toast Of The Town, an altered son of Sweet Lou who was ninth in his preliminary standings and thus just missed the big-money championship, was in absolute charge in his consolation, coming home in :54.3 - :27.1 to complete his mile in 1:50.1. The Noel Daley trainee has won his last three starts for Let It Ride Stables Inc, Morrison Racing Stables, Jesmeral Stable, and Alberg Racing LLC.

TROTTING FILLIES

Little Road, the Fordham Road filly bred, owned, and trained by Roger Hammer of Vivid Photo fame, dug down deeply to resist the stubborn first-over bid of favored Carve to win her championship event, giving driver Brady Brown "the biggest thrill of my career."

After winning her Sire Stakes consolation in 2025, Little Road handled the step up with perfection. Brown had her away swiftly, racing three-wide to the eighth and two-wide to the :27.3 quarter to make the front, then got a bit of a breather to a :56.4 half. But then relaxing time was over for the rest of the mile as Carve, just a neck off in the Hambletonian Oaks, moved towards the middle of the backstretch and went up to pressure the leader to and past a 1:24.3 three quarters.

Grace Zimmers

Geologic (Yannick Gingras) winning the $300,000 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship for 3-year-old trotting colts.

This duo battled each other fiercely through the stretch, with Little Road showing plenty of moxie to turn back the favorite by a neck; Shimmering Hanover, who sat a pocket trip, came up the inside for third.

The Greenshoe filly Nuance, coming off three straight seconds, made the breakthrough in her consolation, equaling the clocking she posted in a Meadowlands qualifier by stopping the timer in 1:52.2. Todd McCarthy was out almost to the three eighths in a protracted early battle before going to the lead, but in the stretch none of her rivals could stay with Nuance, a $310,000 yearling, who succeeded for trainer Marcus Melander and Courant Inc.

One last note: last year, when Little Road won the 2025 consolation, second in that race was Nuance. So, both fillies raised their games a notch on Sunday.

TROTTING COLTS AND GELDINGS

The Captain Corey gelding Geologic went to early command, yielded for the pocket, backed out behind the first-over around the far turn, and finished strongly to win in 1:52.1, equaling his mark and only a fifth off the track record.

There was no shortage of front-end action during challenging splits of :26.4, :54.2, and 1:22.4, with Fineline Hanover making an uncovered bid for the fourth lead change of the race. But there was one more change to come, with Geologic able to swing out from the pocket, first two-wide behind him then three-wide for the drive home to be the fresh horse to the wire. Paul Kelley is the trainer of the winner of four of his last six for Go For Glory Stable LLC, Matthew Lamont, Paul Kelley Racing Stable, and VIP Internet Stable LLC.

Captain Corey continued his fine season as a sire when his son Jim Beam, the heavy favorite who also was ninth in his preliminary point standings, went right down the road while taking a new mark of 1:52.1. Tim Tetrick and his colt did not have an anxious moment throughout the mile in winning for trainer Scott DiDomenico and owner Allen Wenc.

Kentucky SIRE STAKES REPORT

Heart Of Secret prevails in Kentucky Championship Series

by Ray Cotoledo for The Red Mile

After finishing runner-up in the last three preliminaries of the Kentucky Championship Series for 2-year-old trotting fillies, Heart Of Secret found the winner's circle with a pillar-to-post score in the $80,000 fourth preliminary on Monday afternoon (Sept. 7) at The Red Mile, stopping the clock in 1:53.2.

Leaving from the outermost post in the field scratched to nine, driver Joe Bongiorno sent Heart Of Secret forward and planted onto the lead over 4-5 favorite Redice (driven by Atlee Bender) through the first quarter in :29.2. Bongiorno then let Heart Of Secret roll in the second quarter to up the tempo towards a :56.3 half, where Fleur Delacour (Mattias Melander) tipped out of fourth to lead the outer tier to the last turn.

Heart Of Secret snagged a minor breather to three-quarters in 1:24.3 as Fleur Delacour loomed up the leader's neck but then struggled to surge by once spinning for home. Bongiorno called upon Heart Of Secret in the lane and the Petter Engblom trainee responded to keep Fleur Delacour at bay to the beam by three-quarters-of-a-length while Redice angled to the three-wide path and gave chase in third. Sweetest Of All (David Miller) rallied from midfield for fourth.

A filly by Gimpanzee—House Music FR, Heart Of Secret competes for owners Follow Me Stable LLC and Engblom Farm LLC. She collected her third victory from six starts this season and has now banked $160,000 in earnings. Sent off as the second choice in the betting, she paid $6.60 to win.

Sabia (Mattias Melander) posted the fastest win from the pair of $30,000 Kentucky Commonwealth Series divisions for 2-year-old trotting fillies with a 1:54.4 first-up effort through the last turn to down leader Diana Hanover (Peter Wrenn) by a neck. Marcus Melander conditions the Gimpanzee—Bellareina Dolce filly for owner S R F Stable. She paid $2.90 to win.

Petter Engblom pupil Hanna Hill cleared command past the quarter and strolled to a length win with a 1:55 effort in the other Kentucky Commonwealth division. The Tom Hill homebred, by Gimpanzee out of stakes-winning mare Caprice Hill, paid $4.04 to win.

Monday's card also featured three $15,000 Kentucky Golden Rod divisions for freshman trotting fillies, which were won by Your Grace (Marvin Luna, 1:55.4 winning mile; $2.30 to win), Two To The North (Miller, 1:55.3; $4.74), and Mine Mine Mine (Mattias Melander, 1:54.4; $6.32).

KOUNTRY LEGACY LUNGES TO KENTUCKY CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES WIN

Indiana invader Kountry Legacy popped when shipping for the $80,000 final leg of the Kentucky Championship Series for 2-year-old pacing fillies on Sunday night (Sept. 6) at The Red Mile and snatched victory in a 1:51.1 effort.

Starting from the pylon post, Kountry Legacy (driven by Trace Tetrick) pushed to protect position as Goodwalkspoiled (Kyle Husted) brushed forward for the lead through a :27.3 first quarter. Goodwalkspoiled strolled up the backstretch as Banana Beach (Josert Fonseca), parked from the start when floating out of post 9, progressed uncovered up the rim with Seaside Ubeaut (Dexter Dunn) slotting into a second-over spot and Jk Simcha (Marvin Luna) into a third-over seat approaching a :56.1 half. Banana Beach began to waver around the last turn and began to retreat at three-quarters in 1:24.2, giving Kountry Legacy room to angle out of the pocket. Once given clear sailing, Kountry Legacy quickened smoothly and slid by Goodwalkspoiled while staving off flanking late pursuers with a :26.2 final quarter to win by two lengths at the beam. Jk Simcha rallied for second over Seaside Ubeaut while Dame Frances (Atlee Bender) skimmed the pylons for fourth.

Jeff Cullipher trains Kountry Legacy, a filly by Capt Midnight out of world champion mare Shartin N, and co-owns her with Pollack Racing LLC. The filly won her fourth race from seven starts this season, has now banked $142,296 in her career, and paid $7.10 to win.

Baby Puppy (Bender) ripped off a forward stalking trip to take the lone $30,000 dash of the Kentucky Commonwealth Series for freshman pacing fillies with a 1:51.3 effort later in the card. Bender sent the Erv Miller pupil to the fore through a :28.2 first quarter but found himself shuffled to third when Haven (Dunn) and then Holy (David Miller) brushed towards the top heading to a :55.3 half. After three-quarters in 1:24, Bender had ample room to angle Baby Puppy to the center of the track and swooped to a length win over rallying stablemate Ryan Station (Marcus Miller). The Bulldog Hanover—American Cheer filly races for owners Ervin Miller Stable Inc, Stepbystep Racing, and Bryn Campbell, and she paid $5.62 to win.

The Sunday card also featured a pair of $15,000 Kentucky Golden Rod Series divisions with Bordeaux Station (Marcus Miller) taking top honors with a pillar-to-post 1:51.1 victory by 2½ lengths over pocket-sitter Odds On Momma (Dunn). Rob Rittorf trains the Sweet Lou—Bottle N Cork filly who paid $2.46 to win. Brett Pelling pupil Jk Alwaysbpositive (David Miller) converted a pocket trip to win by 4¼ lengths in the other division in a 1:51.4 mile and paid $2.68 to win.

Maryland SIRE STAKES REPORT

Maryland 2YO champs crowned at Ocean Downs

by Maryland Standardbred Race Fund

Maryland's top 2-year-old trotters and pacers took center stage Sunday night (Sept. 6), at Ocean Downs, contesting four $100,000 Maryland Sire Stakes finals on a night that featured dominant favorites, major upsets and a driving double for Roger Plante, Jr.

While four different juveniles left Ocean Downs as Maryland Sire Stakes champions, the performance of the night belonged to Nobody Knows It, who simply overwhelmed her rivals in the $100,000 final for 2-year-old trotting fillies.

NOBODY KNOWS IT BREAKS HER OWN STAKES AND TRACK RECORD

There was little suspense once the wings of the starting gate folded in the $100,000 Maryland Sire Stakes final for 2-year-old trotting fillies.

Sent off as the overwhelming 1-20 favorite, Nobody Knows It and driver Corey Callahan blasted immediately to the front and never looked back.

The daughter of Betting Gangster S—Goo Luck Charm opened an eight-length advantage at the quarter in :28.4 and continued to control the race through fractions of :57.4 and 1:27.

Nobody Knows It entered the stretch five lengths clear and then poured it on, trotting home in :29 to stop the clock in 1:56, winning by an emphatic 9½ lengths over stablemate That's It For You, who finished second in 1:57.4.

More impressively, the 1:56 performance broke her own Maryland Sire Stakes and Ocean Downs track record, adding another milestone to an already remarkable freshman campaign.

She had previously established the standard, only to return on championship night and lower her own mark when the $100,000 final was on the line.

The fractions underscored just how dominant the performance was. Nobody Knows It trotted quarters of :28.4, :29, :29.1 and :29 — essentially carrying her speed throughout the entire mile over the Ocean Downs half-mile oval.

Richard Hans trains, owns, and bred Nobody Knows It, while Callahan handled the driving assignment.

IN THE WORST WAY SPRINGS THE NIGHT'S FIRST UPSET

The evening began with an upset in the $100,000 Maryland Sire Stakes final for 2-year-old trotting colts and geldings.

The heavily favored Wings Of Warning, sent away at 2-5, made an early break from post 2 and was never a factor, opening the door for the remainder of the field.

Lil Gerald established the early tempo, taking the field through the opening quarter in :30.1 and the half in 1:01.3. My Mago moved to the front approaching three-quarters, reaching that station in 1:32.3.

Meanwhile, In The Worst Way had remained within striking distance for driver Corey Braden.

Fourth and 4¼ lengths from the lead at three-quarters, the son of Il Mago—Greatestofease began closing in on the leaders before taking command in the stretch. He finished strongly to score by three lengths in 2:03.1.

Doc's Mago rallied for second, while My Mago held third.

Sent off at odds of 9-1, In The Worst Way returned $20.60 to win.

Herman Hagerman trains the gelding for Hagerman Racing of Ohio.

SWEET COUGAR POUNCES IN FILLY PACE

Another upset followed in the $100,000 final for 2-year-old pacing fillies, where Sweet Cougar turned a well-timed first-over move into the biggest victory of her young career.

With Roger Plante, Jr. in the bike, Sweet Cougar settled fourth during the early stages as R U Kidding and eventual favorite All That Rusty battled for position.

All That Rusty took control before the half and led through a half of :59.1. Plante then put Sweet Cougar into motion. The daughter of Cougar Hall—Classic Mosee advanced first-over and was alongside the leader at three-quarters in 1:29.2. By the head of the stretch, Sweet Cougar had taken command. From there, she drew away to win by 2¾ lengths in 1:59.2, pacing her final quarter in :30.

If I Win Uwin finished second, with 29-1 outsider Dapper Dudette completing the trifecta. All That Rusty, the 2-5 favorite, faded to fifth.

Sweet Cougar rewarded her backers with a $14.20 win payoff.

Joseph Offutt trains Sweet Cougar and owns and bred the filly in partnership with Karen Offutt.

SHOOTOUT GIVES PLANTE A SIRE STAKES DOUBLE

Plante, Jr. wasn't finished.

He returned later in the evening and completed a Maryland Sire Stakes driving double aboard Shootout in the $100,000 final for two-year-old pacing colts and geldings.

Unlike his come-from-behind trip with Sweet Cougar, Plante, Jr. wasted no time putting Shootout on the engine.

The son of Wearinmysixshooter—The New Americana left from post 5 and secured the lead before the opening quarter in :27.4. Plante, Jr. was then able to give his colt a breather through a :30.3 second quarter, reaching the half in :58.2.

Shootout remained in command through three-quarters in 1:28 while race favorite Cash Is Better tracked him closely from the pocket.

The showdown developed exactly as expected through the final turn.

Cash Is Better remained within striking distance, but Shootout had enough left.

Plante, Jr. asked his colt for more in the stretch, and Shootout responded with a :28.2 final quarter to turn back Cash Is Better by 1¼ lengths in 1:56.2.

Cash Is Better was second in 1:56.3, while longshot He's Got Talent finished third.

Shootout, sent off as the 6-5 second choice, returned $4.60.

Steve Le Blanc trains Shootout for Delaware owners Glenn Dyke, Leblanc Racing Inc, and James Stuart. Dyke also bred the colt.

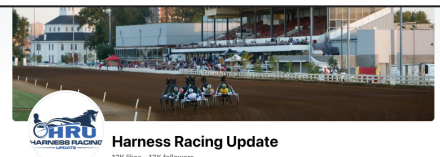

GO WEST, YOUNG MAN

Maryland Sire Stakes will now take the estimated 138-mile trip across the Chesapeake Bay Bridge to Exit 4a off the beltway to Rosecroft Raceway where action will occur for all divisions.

Preliminary legs will be raced on Sept. 21, 24, 28, and Oct. 1 leading up to Showcase of Champions Night on Sunday (Oct. 11) when $800,000 in purse money will be up for grabs.

DP Freedoms Chrome, Peanutbutterfalcon, Alilthundadownunda make headlines at Running Aces

by Darin Gagne for Running Aces Casino, Hotel and Racetrack

The Sunday night (Sept. 6) harness racing program at Running Aces was packed with huge performances, career marks, milestone wins, and even a new track record.

DP Freedoms Chrome (by For You Almostfree) stepped up to the plate to score his first win of the season and his 31st career win with a new track record of 1:53.2 for older stallion trotters in an $11,600 conditioned event.

The talented 5-year-old who was the 2024 Minnesota Horse of the Year now holds three track records here at the Minnesota oval and also pushed his career earnings to $403,945 for owner Aimes Racing and trainer Elven Zimmerman.

Dean Magee was in the bike behind DP Freedoms Chrome for the record mile and the win mutuel was $2.80.

Peanutbutterfalcon and driver Scott Cisco rallied inside late to capture the $17,000 open handicap trot in a career-best 1:54.1 mile for his 23rd career win. He prevailed in a thrilling three-way photo over Fifty Rivers (Casey Leonard) and Inferno Dk (Brady Jenson).

The winner, a 4-year-old son of Quality Kemp, was the 2025 Minnesota Horse of the Year and now shows earnings of $277,657 for owner/trainer Dan Roland and breeder Jeri Roland.

Peanutbutterfalcon paid $13 to win.

Alilthundadownunda (by Malak Uswaad N), who was the 2021 Minnesota Horse of the Year, refused to be outshined on this night and delivered a very sharp closing effort, storming home in the lane to capture his 50th career win in an $8,500 conditioned pace with a 1:54 mile.

The game 10-year-old gelding now shows $549,096 in career earnings which places him among the richest Minnesota-sired horses to date.

Mooney Svendsen was the winning pilot for owners Set The Pace Racing and Ken Stauffer and trainer Nick Roland.

Alilthundadownunda returned $6.80 at the windows.

SV Shining Star (by Be The Best) recorded her seventh win of the season in the $17,500 Minnesota-sired sophomore filly trot in 1:58, paying $5.80 with Rick Magee in the bike for trainer Justin Anfinson, and that pair also teamed up to capture the $17,500 male division with Bang Bang Boogie (by New Jersey Viking) for his 10th win of the season with a 1:57.4 tally. He returned $3.60 on top.

Drivers Rick Magee, Brady Jenson, Casey Leonard, and Mooney Svendsen and trainer Justin Anfinson all had doubles on the program.

Snowonthe pines, Just Delightful repeat at Windsor

by Chris Tully for the Maine Sire Stakes

It was déjà vu all over again as Maine's top 3-year-old pacing fillies, Snowonthe pines and Just Delightful, repeated their dominance on Labor Day Monday (Sept. 7), the final day of the Windsor Fair.

A week ago, harness racing fans and fairgoers witnessed both fillies take their two $17,000-plus Maine Sire Stakes divisions in grand fashion, and seven days later it was much of the same.

With the first $16,984 division carded as an early, non-wagering race, Just Delightful drew into her own division, and made quick work of the competition.

Co-owning driver Ron Cushing hastily grabbed the top and rolled to a :28.2 opening panel. With a :58.4 breather going to the half, the daughter of Western Maverick had Dudelooklikeafly (Aaron Hall) sitting in a tight pocket through the 1:28.1 third panel.

Around the final turn and through the stretch Cushing gave Just Delightful her head and the filly responded by leaving the rest of the field in her wake, drawing off by 8¾ lengths to score in 1:58.

Trained by Heidi Cushing for owners Ron Cushing, Stephen Downey, Anthony Romanelli, and Joseph Romanelli, it was Just Delightful's fourth lifetime victory, with her earnings now at $96,907. Bred in Maine by Lynn-Marie Plouffe, she has nine second-place finishes in 17 career outings.

Graceofspades (Dave Ingraham) finished second; Dudelooklikeafly was third.

In the second $17,209 division for sophomore distaff pacers, held before the regular card, it was another wire-to-wire romp for divisional standout Snowonthe pines.

Driver Kevin Switzer, Jr. posted moderate early fractions of :29.4 and 1:00.4 with Heath Campbell and Heymickeyyousofine stuck to his helmet into a 1:30.4 third panel.

The pacesetting duo rolled on to victory as they usually do, with nary a care in the world. Stopping the clock at 1:59.4, it was the filly's ninth consecutive seasonal victory, and 18th of her career.

Last season, Snowonthe pines was victorious in all nine of her 2-year-old outing, and now has $170,929 in lifetime earnings for trainer Marc Tardif and owner/breeder Leighton Property.

Heymickeyyousofine finished second by 1½ lengths; Ekorus (Joey Mosher) was third.

The Pine Tree State-bred series moves to Bangor for the next few weeks, starting with all of the 2- and 3-year-old trotters today (Sept. 9), followed by the freshmen male pacers on Saturday (Sept. 12).

MAINE'S TOP COLTS RETURN TO WINDSOR FAIR

The glamour boys division returned to Windsor Fair on Sunday (Sept. 6) with two $17,000-plus Maine Sire Stakes legs for 3-year-old male pacers, just a week after their last visit.

In the first $17,434 event, which was held before the regular card, driver Kevin Switzer, Jr. left swiftly with Real Horrorshow into a :29.2 opening panel, putting divisional rival Daytoremember (Heath Campbell) into the pocket seat.

Switzer, Jr. reduced the tempo while leading the field to a 1:00.2 midway point, with the field stretched out in single file formation. With Daytoremember breathing down his neck, Switzer, Jr. hastened the pace with a 1:29.4 third panel, and by the time the pair hit the head of the stretch Daytoremember was just a half-length off the pacesetter.

With a fierce battle ensuing in deep stretch, Heath Campbell got Daytoremember up to score by a nose in the shadow of the wire in 1:58, posting a :28 final quarter.

Trained, owned, and bred by Valerie Grondin, it was the seventh seasonal victory for the son of Dude's The Man, and ninth of his career. His earnings now exceed $114,000. Daytoremember now leads the Real Horrorshow in the point standings, with just three more legs before the lucrative final at Bangor on Oct. 17.

Nuh Uh (Andy Harrington) finished third.

In the second $17,434 division for sophomore male pacers, held on the pari-mutuel card, it was Ghost Of Winter and Joey Mosher who matched strides with stablemate Rebel's Revenge (Aaron Hall) to take his division in a new lifetime best 1:58.

Trained by Marc Tardif for owner Leighton Property, the son of Deuce Seelster now has three wins on the season and $43,589 in lifetime earnings. He was bred in Maine by Kristina Hall and returned $5.60.

Silence Ofdarkness (Aaron Hall) was third, and all three were trained by Tardif.

Gerald W. 'Jerry' Sarama, 83, dies

Jerry Sarama, one of the most prolific harness racing drivers to ever come out of Western New York and a man that helped define what a catch-driver was, passed away on Sunday (Sept. 6, 2026).

Sarama got started in the business in 1963 at the age of 21 after serving his country for four years in the Marines. His father Walter and brother Dan were racing horses and when he was discharged, he started working as a groom for them.

Jerry didn't drive in his first race until three years later and his first win was with a horse named Double Trouble, and he would springboard Jerry into the local limelight after stringing five wins in a row. Jerry got noticed for his driving work in an era when catch-driving was a new idea, and owners wanted him driving their horses.

The first horse to give Jerry national recognition was an invitational pacer named Armbro Harvey who he drove all over the Northeast in 1969, competing against the likes of Overcall and Rum Customer. The exposure Jerry got there afforded him the chance to make more connections and gain more drives which pushed his career on a fast track.

Jerry had a break-out year in 1974 when he posted 166 wins, 117 seconds, and 86 thirds and finished as the 10th best driver in North America. Those stats were also record breaking in Western New York and never before seen at the time.

After winning 240 races in 1975 and claiming his fifth overall driving title, Jerry moved to New York in January of 1976 to race at Roosevelt Raceway to try and establish himself on the big circuit. However, things didn't work well on his first try there. But when Jerry returned to Western New York in 1976, he posted another career year. Besides winning another driving title, he became the first driver to ever win four sub-two-minute miles on that circuit in one season.

At that time, Jerry was experiencing extraordinary success in overnight races with horses like Free Chase, Mar Con Cash, Ray's Daughter, Sun City Baron, Jambo Bea, and Sea Comet. During that particular stretch of his career, then track announcer Joe Alto dubbed Jerry, "the man with the hands," because of his soft touch at the lines and that name stuck with him for the rest of his life.

In 1980, Jerry catch-drove a 3-year-old colt named Danielle's Romeo in the open pace at Buffalo and won in 1:57.4, which tied Albatross for the second fastest mile in track history. The horse's connections were so impressed with Jerry's work, they asked him to go to New York and drive their stable of 18 horses for them. So, he went back down to try again and this time it went like he had hoped.

The single biggest highlight of his tenure in New York was when he finished second with Bays Fella behind Matt's Scooter in the $461,404 Messenger Stake at Yonkers in 1988. Sarama cut the mile with fractions of :28.2, :57.4, and 1:27 before Matt's Scooter overtook him at the top of the stretch and won by 2½ lengths. And oddly enough, it was Mike Lachance, who spent much of his early career driving at Batavia against Sarama, driving Matt's Scooter.

Later in his driving career, Jerry encountered a series of setbacks. In two separate driving accidents that occurred a couple years apart, he broke his hip and his ankle. He continued to drive for several more years afterwards, but his starts were far fewer. So, he transitioned from the sulky to the jog cart and continued training full time from 2005 until he retired in 2022.

As a driver, Jerry had 2,630 wins and earnings of $11,466,058, going over the $1 million mark three times when that really meant something. On the training side, he had 1,162 wins and $6,581,732 in purse money.

Jerry Sarama was predeceased by his mother, Rose (nee Kaznica) Sarama, father Walter Sarama, and brother, Daniel Sarama. He is survived by his daughter, Debbie (Paul) Kalstek and grandchildren, and nieces and nephews Angela (Jeffrey) Moeller, Cindy (late Richard) Kush, Jackie (Joseph) Ruhland, David Sarama, Daniel (Judy) Sarama, and Scott (Deborah) Sarama. He is also survived by many dear friends, especially Mike Torcello, Tom Mariano, and Roesnell Colley.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend a Mass of Christian Burial on Tuesday (Sept. 15) at 9:30 a.m. in St. Andrew Roman Catholic Church, corner of Reiman and Crocker Streets, Sloan, NY. There will be a private interment in Western New York National Cemetery in Corfu, NY. Flowers are gratefully declined. Donations may be made in Jerry Sarama's name to the VA Western New York Healthcare System. Share online condolences at www.smolarekcares.com.

McNair surpasses $100 million in career earnings

Doug McNair joined elite harness racing company on Sunday evening (Sept. 6) at Woodbine Mohawk Park by surpassing $100 million in career driver earnings.

On the heels of a five-win performance Saturday night, McNair entered Sunday $36,152 shy of $100 million. He quickly knocked that number down to $6,152 by winning a pair of Ontario Sires Stakes Grassroots events at Clinton on Sunday afternoon.

Returning to Woodbine Mohawk Park for the evening, McNair finished second in his first drive to edge within $652 of the milestone.

The milestone moment occurred in the evening's sixth-race, as McNair teamed with the Dave Menary trained 7-year-old trotter Stable Genius to win a $17,000 overnight. McNair was joined by family and friends in the winner's circle for a special presentation following the victory.

A resident of Guelph, ON, McNair has been among Canada's top drivers since debuting in 2008. The 36-year-old reinsman has over 5,100 wins and 12 $5 million-plus earning seasons, with 2026 set to be the 13th of his career.

McNair's career accomplishments include an O'Brien Award as Canada's Driver of the Year in 2017, two National Driving Championships (2018, 2022) and three Breeders Crown victories.

Entering Sunday, McNair sat second in the Woodbine standings for 2026 with 189 wins, $4.5 million in earnings and an impressive win percentage of 21.8 per cent.

Hollywood Casino at The Meadows crowns eight PA Stallion Series finals champions

Hollywood Casino at The Meadows hosted the 2026 Pennsylvania Stallions Series finals on Saturday (Sept. 5), crowning eight freshman and sophomore champions.

Celtic Wave completed a perfect four-for-four Stallion Series season with a career-best 1:50.4 in the 2-year-old colt and gelding final. Settling on the lead steps before the half, the gelded son of Captaintreacherous proved his division dominance with a three-length victory for driver Corey Callahan. Celtic Wave is owned by Kiefer Elite Bloodstock, Theresa Donnelly, and John Berger, who also trains.

Odds On Wonderful and Mike Wilder sprung a 16-1 upset in the 2-year-old filly pace final. First over past the half, the daughter of Stay Hungry powered to a three-length, 1:51.3 victory for owners Odds On Racing. It was the second Stallion Series win for Odds On Wonderful and trainer Virgil Morgan, Jr.

Lions Tale sat buried in third entering the final turn, but Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. found room along the inside to capture the 2-year-old colt trotting crown by a head. The 1:55.3 clocking was a lifetime best for the gelded son of Bar Hopping, who is trained by Marcus Melander. It was the second Stallion Series victory for Lions Tale and owners Brixton Medical Inc and Hatfield Stables.

Sevenoops Hanover and Matt Kakaley went from worst to first to capture the 2-year-old filly trotting crown. Trained by Petter Engblom for owners Engblom Farm LLC, Evan Nation, and Hickory Hollow Stables, the daughter of Greenshoe was near-perfect in Stallion Series action, winning three of four starts. Sevenoops Hanover was a $3,000 Harrisburg purchase.

Sandyboots Yankee and Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. went coast-to-coast in 1:49.4 to grab the 3-year-old filly pace crown. The daughter of Always B Miki picked up the victory for trainer Ron Burke and owners Burke Racing Stable LLC, Weaver Brussemi LLC, Lawrence Karr, and Phillip Collura. It was a career best for Sandyboots Yankee, who had two 2026 Stallion Series victories prior to Saturday.

Winnerscircleseeker was just that in the 3-year-old colt division, winning the Stallion Series final by nine lengths. First over down the backside for Ronnie Wrenn, Jr., the gelded son of Sweet Lou rolled to a 1:48.3 victory, giving trainer Burke his second Stallions Series final of the afternoon. The performance was a career best for Winnerscircleseeker, who is owned by Burke Racing Stable LLC, Lawrence Karr, Phillip Collura, and Bradley Grant.

Just Teasing turned a perfect Andy Miller drive into a 3-year-old filly Stallion Series crown. The daughter of Captain Corey sat comfortably in the 2-hole until the head of the stretch, before a :28.2 final panel carried her to victory and her first 2026 Stallion Series win. Julie Miller trains Just Teasing for Andy Miller Stable Inc, Jean Goehlen, and Windsong Stable.

Emmett Hanover and Aaron Merriman cleared to the lead at the three-quarter pole but had to fight to the wire to hold onto the 3-year-old colt Stallion Series crown. Second in two previous Stallion Series events, the son of Greenshoe turned in a career-best 1:53.3 effort to win by a nose for owner Nick Shaw. The Meadows regular Justin Pirillo trains Emmett Hanover, who now has seven wins and more than $75,000 on his card this season.

Saturday afternoon, Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. steered six winners to earn top driving honors, while the Burke Brigade's five wins gave them top training honors.

Racing will resume today (Sept. 9), with a 13-race card. First-race post is scheduled for 12:45 p.m.
