Gural's reaching for the Benjamins to keep things lit in the Garden State

The owner of The Meadowlands, in conjunction with the New Jersey SBOA, has created the $1 million Meadowlands Trot and $500,000 Meadowlands Oaks Trot for 2027 to replace the Hambletonian and Hambletonian Oaks that have moved to Indiana.

MEADOWLANDS MATTERS

with DEBBIE LITTLE

by Debbie Little

Meadowlands president/chief executive officer Jeff Gural has said on multiple occasions that if he eventually gets a casino at his East Rutherford mile oval, he will raise purses.

According to a press release (see pg. 10) sent out on Thursday (Sept. 17), Gural will start delivering on that promise long before the casino question even goes to ballot.

In response to the decision of the Hambletonian Society to send its signature trots – Hambletonian, Hambletonian Oaks, and Hambletonian Maturity – to Indiana's Hoosier Park for at least three years, starting in 2027, The Big M, in conjunction with the Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association of New Jersey (SBOANJ), have created replacements.

The $1 million Meadowlands Trot and $500,000 Meadowlands Oaks Trot will make their debut in 2027.

"Well, simply put, even though we don't have a casino, we were taking $1.2 million dollars a year out of the purse account to fund the Hambletonian and the Oaks and the Maturity and some minor races," Gural said. "I breed trotters, and I love racing trotters, and I thought it was important to show the industry and to show the people who breed horses in New Jersey, and have stallions, that I'm serious about making sure that The Meadowlands remains the No. 1 harness track in North America, even though we don't have slot machines."

In addition to those two new Meadowlands stakes races for 3-year-old open and filly trotters, respectively, several other races will get a boost in purse: Stanley Dancer Memorial – $400,000 (est.), Del Miller Memorial – $400,000 (est.), Cane Pace – $500,000 (est.), Graduate Trot (open) – $400,000 (est.), Graduate Trot (mares) – $200,000 (est.), Graduate Pace (open) – $400,000 (est.), Graduate Pace (mares) – $200,000 (est.), New Jersey Classic Series finals (trot) – $300,000 (est.).

"Back in the day, the Dancer and the Miller races used to be eliminations and a final, and they used to be very important prep races for the Hambletonian, and then we got away from that, where we had no eliminations, and basically the purses were like $130,000," Gural told HRU. "So, I really wanted to come up with a program where, if you're buying trotters now, you're going to have a $400,000 race [Dancer on July 10] and then three weeks later, you're going to have a million-dollar race [Meadowlands Trot on July 31], and then three weeks after that, you're going to have another million-dollar race [the Hambletonian, although no date has been announced].

"So, I'm trying to do what I can to bolster the yearling sales, the breeders, and at the same time make anyone thinking of relocating out of New Jersey, understand that that's foolish, that we're not going anywhere.

"I believe that it's critical to have at least one racetrack that's not owned by a casino, where the program is designed for the yearling buyer and the yearling breeder, because it's a crapshoot when you buy yearlings. You can pay a million dollars, that doesn't mean you're going to get the best horse.

"I'm keeping the payments the same as they were for the Miller and the Dancer and the Graduate. So even though the purses are going up, the payments are the same."

In addition to raising the purses for Graduate Open Trot and Pace, Gural is also bringing back the Graduate Mare Trot and Pace.

"I've always been a supporter of racing older horses at 4, so I thought now that the Maturity is moving to Hoosier, that the easiest thing to do was to boost the purse for the Graduate, and then to come up with a graduate for the 4-year-old mares,

“Even though we don’t have a casino, we were taking $1.2 million dollars a year out of the purse account to fund the Hambletonian and the Oaks and the Maturity and some minor races. I breed trotters, and I love racing trotters, and I thought it was important to show the industry and to show the people who breed horses in New Jersey, and have stallions, that I’m serious about making sure that The Meadowlands remains the No. 1 harness track in North America, even though we don’t have slot machines.”

because there’s really not a lot of races for them,” he said. “If you look at the sales, they pay a lot of money for filly trotters.

“So, I wanted to have a solid stakes program to offer and encourage people not to go anywhere because I have every intention of making sure that The Meadowlands is the No. 1 harness track in North America.”

According to Gural, it was important to share this information now with the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale right around the corner.

“I spoke to some of the breeders, and they said to me, ‘As long as you announce it before the sales, we’re okay,’” Gural said. “So, I said, ‘Okay, I will announce it before the sales, so people know when they’re going to the sales in two or three weeks what’s going to be at The Meadowlands next year.’”

“This is better for the breeders. I’ve done them a big favor. I’ve just added a million-dollar race and [made the Dancer] a $400,000 race, so, if you’re lucky enough to get an Apex, you’re going to win a lot more money next year than you would this year.

“I think the sales will be strong because of what we’re doing.”

Purses for the eight races receiving boosts for 2027 are estimated, however, Gural said the million for the Meadowlands Trot and $500,000 for the Meadowlands Oaks Trot will race as advertised. He’s even committed to adding $150,000 of his own money through Allerge Farms to the Meadowlands Trot.

You can pay a million dollars, that doesn’t mean you’re going to get the best horse.”

— Jeff Gural

When asked why he felt it was necessary to personally help fund the new race, Gural said, “It’s important because I intend to ask the industry for help, and I asked John Campbell how much Mrs. Key put up, and he said $150,000... I need the industry to support me, and I don’t want someone in the industry to say, ‘Why should I support you?’ I’m putting my money where my mouth is, and I need additional sponsors... every penny of it is going into the purses for the stakes, none of it’s going into operating overhead. The money we get from the state can only be used for overnights.”

The Meadowlands is taking a page out of the Hambletonian Society playbook by looking for two $25,000 sponsors for each of the races listed above other than the Meadowlands Trot.

“Nobody on the Hambletonian Society writes a check,” Gural said, adding with a laugh, “I’m the only one writing any checks.”

In addition to the higher purses for those selected races, The Meadowlands will also offer a 20 per cent bonus to any New Jersey-sired horse that wins any of them.

“I just hope I buy a New Jersey-sired horse and I can win the race and I can give the bonus to myself,” Gural said with a laugh. “So, if you win the million-dollar race, you’re getting a check for $500,000. If [your horse is] New Jersey sired, you’re getting a check for $600,000.

“So, it gives an incentive for people to keep their stallions in New Jersey... In the last two weeks, we’ve had the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes, which go for $300,000. We’ve had the New York Sire Stakes finals, which go for $300,000, and next year we’re going to have the New Jersey Classic [trots] that will go for $300,000 plus the Sire Stakes goes for $225,000. So, there’s more money for New Jersey-sired horses than there are for Pennsylvania- and New York-sired horses in the finals, because we have two finals.”

When it comes to the 20 per cent bonus, Gural will again be digging into his own pocket, putting up half of the money (10 per cent) through Allorage Farms.

“When I ask someone for a $25,000 sponsorship, I want them to say, ‘Hey, Jeff stepped up for $150,000 plus this bonus, so I’ll help.’ I just need help for two more years, because I’m sure I’ll get a casino.

“We’re going to promote whoever sponsors these races. We’ll promote it, and everybody will know that they stepped up when needed for the next two years... I would hope that everybody we ask says yes, because I’m only going to ask the people that I think can afford it.”

In regard to the Meadowlands Trot and Meadowlands Oaks Trot, Gural said he’s all-in making sure those purses are $1 million and $500,000.

“You can put your head on the pillow knowing that those particular races, the Meadowlands Trot and the filly race will go for [a combined] $1,500,000,” he said. “I’m guaranteeing those. “It’ll go for a million and if I have to put in more than $150,000, I will for both races.”

Should that occur, it would be far from the first time Gural has reached for his wallet when it comes to The Meadowlands, as he put up $20 million and then raised $100 million to keep the place open, before the possibility of sports betting was even on the scene. And over time, when The Meadowlands was losing money, he loaned the company $17 million so they could stay afloat, and keep racing at the sport’s top track.

So, for 2027, The Meadowlands will still have a big daytime race card with a million-dollar race, it’ll just be a week earlier on the calendar.

“This is what I love to do, and I’m committed to getting a casino [at The Meadowlands],” Gural said. “And when we do, like I said, I’m going to put $50 million into the purse account from the casino profits, not from the state’s share. So, yeah, I’m committed to this. I hope people will recognize that I’m putting my money where my mouth is, and that they’ll step up and help. Because this is a major benefit to everybody that we have a big stakes program on, in this case, July 31.”

$1-million Meadowlands Trot coming in the summer of 2027

by Dave Little / Meadowlands media relations

The rumors of harness racing's demise at The Meadowlands are, apparently, greatly exaggerated.

The New Meadowlands Racetrack, in conjunction with the Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association of New Jersey (SBOANJ), is pleased to announce a couple of new stakes races to its 2027 schedule to go along with purse increases to some of the other top events in the sport.

The biggest waves in the stakes waters are the ones that will be stirred up by the brand-new $1-million Meadowlands Trot, a 3-year-old open, and $500,000 Meadowlands Oaks Trot, for 3-year-old fillies.

The updated stakes program should ease any doubts that breeders or owners might have had about the future of the harness game in the State of New Jersey.

Since the news of the departure of the Hambletonian and other Hambletonian Society stakes events, New Meadowlands Racetrack, led by chairman/chief executive officer Jeff Gural, has put together what will be an enhanced Championship Meet for next year. The following is a list of new stakes — and also current events — that will be raced for significantly increased purses. These highly impactful new dashes and purse increases for the others total over $4 million and will be contested at the mile oval in East Rutherford, NJ, in the summer of 2027.

"We were disappointed when the Hambletonian relocated to Indiana," said Gural. "So, we at The Meadowlands, along with the SBOANJ, decided to make the bold move of making sure our fan base has a huge day of racing to attend to see the best horses in the world compete on its biggest stage. That's why we are proud to announce the creation of the Meadowlands Trot and Meadowlands Oaks Trot."

NEW PAYMENT STRUCTURES HAVE BEEN IMPLEMENTED AS WELL:

- Meadowlands Trot: 3-year-old payment of $3,000 on Feb. 15. Starting fee $10,000.
- Meadowlands Oaks Trot: 3-year-old payment of $2,000 on Feb. 15. Starting fee $5,000.

- Graduate Trot (mares): Feb. 15, $1,000; March 15, $2,000.
- Graduate Pace (mares): Feb. 15, $1,000; March 15, $2,000.

The payments for the Dancer, Miller, and male Graduates remain the same despite the purses being significantly higher. For a 2-year-old to race at The Meadowlands, a $400 payment is required. If the horse was bought or sold from a sale or farm that is not a sponsor, they will have to give $600. All of the payments are going into the stakes purse account. Regardless, all payments are remaining the same except for the Trot and the Oaks. If anyone has a question, they can contact Gural.

To host these significant game-changing races, Gural is putting up $150,000 of his own money through Allerage Farms to sponsor the Meadowlands Trot and is seeking sixteen $25,000 sponsorships – $400,000 in total – for each of the eight races outside of the Meadowlands Trot. Additionally, any horse that wins the Dancer, Miller, Meadowlands Trot, Meadowlands Oaks Trot, Cane Pace or any of the Graduates, will receive a 20 per cent bonus if they are a New Jersey-sired horse, of which 10 per cent will be paid by Gural and Allerage Farms, while the other 10 per cent will come from the purse account.

The Dancer and Miller are sure to be popular with horsemen, as winners of those events not only will cash in big, but also earn byes into the Meadowlands Trot and Meadowlands Oaks Trot.

“What we are putting together should help the breeders and purchasers of yearlings, as there will be significantly more money available without leaving New Jersey,” said Gural.

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

Exclusive: Toast Of The Town set to supplement to Little Brown Jug

by Brett Sturman

Riding on a career-form wave, Toast Of The Town (Sweet Lou—New Year) will be the latest horse to supplement to this year's Grade 1 Little Brown Jug when supplemental entries are due tomorrow (Sept. 19).

Both owned and bred by Let It Ride Stables, with an ownership group that also includes Morrison Racing Stables, Jesmeral Stable, and Alberg Racing, as well as being bred with Bottom Line Racing, the group had been leaning of late to make the $45,000 supplemental payment. Let It Ride Stables' Eric Cherry confirmed to me that the group will indeed be moving forward

“Another factor that weighed into our decision [to supplement Toast Of The Town to the Little Brown Jug] was that we were able to see who entered the Kentucky Championship finals and with Brandon Blvd in there and probably out of the [Little Brown Jug] mix, it made our decision that much easier.”

— Eric Cherry

Chris Gooden

Toast Of The Town (Dave Palone) winning his Pennsylvania Sire Stakes event for sophomore pacing colts on Aug. 28 at The Meadows.

“[The decision to supplement Toast Of The Town to the Little Brown Jug is] also more than just financial. For our group [of owners], it’s also a lot of fun, which shouldn’t be discounted.”

— Eric Cherry

to make Toast Of The Town eligible to next week’s 3-year-old pacing classic.

“We are one of the few industries where the larger you are, the harder it is to be successful financially,” Cherry said. “We have taken the philosophy not to stake most of our 2-year-olds to larger races with the exception obviously being the sire stakes races. There are just too many horses that wouldn’t make sense otherwise. Instead, we’ve taken the attitude that when a horse has a real chance to do well, that we will supplement.”

A six-time winner on the year and currently on a win streak of three, Toast Of The Town has been dominant for the past month. The recent streak includes a 1:48.4 win at Pocono three races back in a Hempt consolation over Jug-eligible Superchamp Hanover, and most recently crushing PA-Sire Stakes consolation foes by over five lengths at Harrah’s Philadelphia.

In between those tries is the most impressive of the three wins. That’s when Toast Of The Town won a PA-Sire Stakes division at The Meadows in a time of 1:48.1 and notably defeated Grade 2-winner Melillo, a top-rated Jug eligible horse, as well as Superchamp Hanover again.

Though the Jug would be an obvious further step up in class for Toast Of The Town, he hasn’t been too far off from the sport’s best on limited tries this season. In this year’s Adios final, he lost by just three lengths when closing furiously from post 9. In a Tompkins Stake that followed at The Meadowlands, he was beaten six lengths to Brandon Blvd.

Aside from Brandon Blvd who has elevated himself from the rest of the sophomore pacing group, the list of Jug eligibles doesn’t seem particularly intimidating. And with Brandon Blvd in-to-go Saturday at The Red Mile in a $400,000 Kentucky Championship Series final, it doesn’t seem likely — though maybe still possible — that he would race on short rest with multiple heats a few days later.

Cherry said, “Another factor that weighed into our decision was that we were able to see who entered the Kentucky Championship finals and with Brandon Blvd in there and probably out of the [Little Brown Jug] mix, it made our decision that much easier.”

In its fifth year of breaking from tradition to now allow for supplemental entries, it’s always a question as to if it’s worth it to supplement — this year for $45,000 — knowing that you’re a bad post-position draw away from being doomed.

“It’s also more than just financial,” Cherry said. “For our group, it’s also a lot of fun, which shouldn’t be discounted.”

Toast Of The Town would be the second known supplement thus far to this year’s Little Brown Jug, joining Redland Rocket Man whose connections announced their intentions following that one’s eye-catching 1:46.4 win in the Simcoe Stakes at Woodbine Mohawk Park last Saturday. It was a race where fellow Jug-eligibles — Sweet Lovin Lou and Beau Jangles — ran second and third, respectively.

The supplements add fresh faces to a 3-year-old crop that’s seen a different horse each time win the bigger 3-year-old stakes races. That trend could continue if one of the newer shooters were to win, or, there would be plenty of storylines if a horse like let’s say Beau Jangles were to find redemption in Delaware, OH. Other Jug-eligible contenders include Al Papi, who most recently was second to Melillo on Sept. 6 in the $300,000 PASS final at Chester in 1:48.3. Fragment is another contender, and he too would enter the Jug on the heels of a $300,000 sire stakes win — his coming in New York at Yonkers this past Saturday.

With supplemental entries due Saturday, all entries along with the draw for the Little Brown Jug, will take place on Monday. It’ll be interesting to see all who entered, and of course, which post positions they draw.

ADVENTURES IN ILLINOIS

No Chicago racing in 2027

by Neil Milbert

Illinois Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association executive director Dave McCaffrey called Wednesday (Sept. 16), "a day of infamy" for Chicago racing.

"For the first time in over 100 years there will be no racing in the third largest metropolitan area in the nation in the succeeding year," said the former standardbred trainer and former president of the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Association after the Illinois Racing Board awarded dates for 2027.

The only dates awarded by the board went to Fairmount Park, which conducts thoroughbred racing and casino gambling in downstate Collinsville across the Mississippi River from St. Louis. Fairmount was awarded 73 live programs from April 6-Nov. 23.

The last remaining Chicago-area track, Hawthorne Race Course, officially went out of business earlier in the month when the Delaware shell corporation Allimac 23 closed on its acquisition of the bankrupt track, owned and operated by the Carey family since 1909, for $90 million.

Nevertheless, in a baffling move, Hawthorne president Tim Carey applied to the Racing Board for dates for Hawthorne and its Suburban Downs harness racing entity.

But Hawthorne failed to have a representative at Wednesday's hearings that prefaced the awarding of dates.

"The applications submitted by Hawthorne and Suburban Downs did not comply with the Illinois Harness Racing Act and regulations prescribed by the Illinois Racing Board," said the board's executive director, Domenic DiCera. "The Board rejected the applications from Hawthorne and Suburban Downs because of irreparable deficiencies."

The only racing at Hawthorne this year was the thoroughbred meeting that started three weeks later than scheduled in April and ended on July 19, nearly four months before it was scheduled to reach the finish-line.

All 14 of the Suburban Downs programs scheduled for January and February were canceled because of the track's inability to fund purses and now that Hawthorne has gone out of business the harness dates scheduled to run from early November through December have been erased.

With no racing in Chicagoland the fates of the Illinois Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association (ITHA) and Illinois Harness Horsemen's Association (IHHA) are up in the air but both organizations are holding out hope that new tracks will be built.

In the meantime, McCaffrey said: "We've got some money to divvy up in the bankruptcy proceedings. Some of that is designated for [thoroughbred] backstretch workers and [thoroughbred] owners and trainers, actually $350,000 in each pile. The funds have to be distributed in an Internal Revenue Service compliant fashion so we're developing criteria that complies with the IRS and the U.S. Bankruptcy Court [of Northern Illinois]. We're going to be able to give the backstretch workers who have been negatively impacted [by Hawthorne's financial turmoil] a little bit of money to offset the negative effect."

"Then, we've got a couple things we want to pursue in the State Legislature [in the fall veto session]. We'll probably be done as an organization by next spring."

However, McCaffrey pointed out "three separate groups have recently contacted us about the possibility of pursuing a thoroughbred racino license."

He declined to name the people involved with these groups but said none of them put in a bid for Hawthorne after it declared bankruptcy.

It's conceivable that these people checked out the possibility and didn't want to become entangled in the financial mess confronting Carey.

Other people are interested in putting a harness racino in downstate Decatur and in the south suburbs of Chicago when the 35-mile ban affecting builders in the Hawthorne area becomes non-existent because the 119-acre property is no longer a racetrack.

Hawthorne's 11 off-track betting parlors in the Chicago area are licensed to continue operating through the end of the year, according to the Racing Board's project director, Bob Dineen.

“That [2026] license expires Dec. 31,” he said. “It can't be renewed in 2027 because Hawthorne will no longer be licensed to operate.”

It remains to be seen how the OTB revenue will be distributed.

Clarity should be forthcoming when the Bankruptcy Court of Northern Illinois reconvenes on Wednesday (Sept. 23) to consider a request by U.S. Trustee Adam Brief to either dismiss Hawthorne's Feb. 27 filing for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection or change it to a Chapter 7 designation.

Brief is charging that the current owners cannot manage a successful reorganization and is citing “gross mismanagement” and “human cost.”

If Judge Timothy Barnes rules in favor of the U.S. Trustee, the Carey family would lose its debtor-in-possession status.

Brief's Aug. 26 filing points out that the $90 million in sale proceeds from Allimac 23 fall far short of the massive amount the track owes its multitude of creditors. The number of creditors is reported to be approximately 250 and estimates of the amount they are owed range from $100 million to $500 million.

The tenuous Triple Crowns

by Bob Heyden

The week before the Little Brown Jug is upon us, it's necessary to point out for the 23rd straight year there will not be a Pacing Triple Crown winner as Fragment captured the Messenger at Yonkers and Sweet Lovin Lou upset at The Meadowlands in the Cane Pace.

No Pan Intended was the last Pacing Triple Crown winner in 2003.

If neither Fragment or Sweet Lovin Lou wins the Jug, it'll be 29 straight Pacing Triple Crown races held with 29 different winners and the 2020 Messenger was canceled due to COVID-19.

For a repeater, you have to go back to 2017 when Stay Hungry took both the Cane and Messenger and seven years before that to Rock N Roll Heaven in 2010 who captured the Jug and Messenger en route to Horse of the Year (HOY) honors.

This would be the longest dry spell ever for single winners only. So, what's up? Better yet, what happened?

The last seven years of the 1960s saw seven Triple Crown winners with three on the pace and four on the trot. The top nine Cane Pace purses were consecutive from 1982-90. The Hambletonian saw its eight biggest pots from 2005-12 and the Messenger from 2006-09. The Jug is still a huge event and its purse is high, and the Kentucky Futurity has maintained a high-profile status, but not so much the Yonkers Trot, as its biggest purses were from 2006-09 with Glidemaster sealing the deal in 2006 with a record $728,930.

It's not the individual races so much but the series, especially on the pacing side, that seem to have had much better days as not a single horse this year raced in both the Cane and Messenger, which was 100 per cent unheard of in yesteryear.

We have two Triple Crowns and that no doubt waters it down some.

There have been 490 Breeders Crown races and 525 Triple Crown events, counting this year's Kentucky Futurity and Jug in that total.

The Breeders Crown is going great guns and really is the decider in year-end divisions and ballots. Yet the Triple Crown often seems like that favorite uncle who made us all laugh as kids who doesn't seem funny anymore.

Nothing would be more welcome than some kind of resurrection or even a rebirth of sorts to let's say the Messenger and the Cane and the Yonkers Trot.

What was once a badge of honor winning those races now seems more like a footnote. Many fans are not even sure, or curious about, what makes up our Triple Crown(s).

It has bounced around a bit, switched venues with a bit too much regularity, but it might just be the general malaise that racing everywhere has endured and with it it's treasured history.

No doubt the Triple Crown needs not just a tune-up but an overhaul, that is, if we even want it to be somewhere near what it used to be. Is that a pipe dream? Probably. I loved it when the spotlight really did shine on the horses in the post parades for the big races back at Yonkers and Roosevelt and even on the odd occasion at Freehold. Remember, the only pacing dead heat in a Triple Crown race came at Freehold in 2004 with Timesareachanging and Western Terror in the Cane Pace.

I look at the entirety of the Triple Crown series like someone standing on the ocean's shore with the Crowns on a raft a couple hundred feet out. They're stuck and still too far out to really recognize.

How far will it drift? Is it retrievable? Hey, not all of us today look like we did when we graduated high school. Heck, for me personally, I'm just hoping the ceremonies continue.

BOB-BING AND WEAVING

- Best Chip was the fastest horse on Meadowlands Pace Night (1:46.4), Hambletonian Day (1:46.1), and Canadian Pacing Derby Night (1:46.4). Not bad for a horse who started his career five-for-40.
- Bourbonista S is our reigning North America trotting queen with a 1:48.4 record. She started out six for her first 25.
- Super Chapter just won the Yonkers International Trot after the Cashman and certainly has his hat in the HOY ring. It would be a first, since no HOY trotter sired a HOY trotter. Will Chapter Seven, the 2011 HOY, become the first?

MANE ATTRACTION

with JOHN BERRY

Using technology to create more headlines and fans

by John Berry

Back when harness racing was in its infancy, trotting speed records were kept in seconds, half-seconds, and quarter-seconds.

Back in 1853, the untouchable world record for 100 miles was 8:55.33 – eight hours, 55 minutes and 33 seconds. It, of course, hasn't been eclipsed, and never will, although there are three such attempts still on my books.

Even before that – in 1846 – when the mare Ariel set the world record for 50 miles, that time was measured in half-seconds being 3:55.40½. That's three hours, 55 minutes and 40½ seconds.

There were also world records on the books at distances of 30 miles, 20 miles, 10 miles, six miles, going down the line to five, four, three, and two miles with the three-mile record of 6:55½ sets in 1893 by the chestnut mare Nightingale with her splits times in 2:22, 2:19, and 2:14½.

As time marched on, in 1894 – when they had races for trotting teams – found was a race timed in quarters-of-a-second as the 4-year-old fillies (yes, they classified a 4-year-old female as a filly back then) as Roseleaf and Sallie Simmons were clocked in 2:15¼.

Our sport, back then, had world records for trotting to wagon, trotting under saddle, three abreast, four-in-hand, and on half-mile tracks, any size track, and on highways, country roads, and village streets.

Places like New York, Philadelphia, and Boston hosted contests that were held on pretty darn good surfaced roads.

Back in 1818, for example, Boston Pony was challenged to trot a mile under 3:00, and he did it, marking one of the earliest of celebrated performances that made the headlines.

And he wasn't the first one to accomplish that feat.

In 1806, the trotter Yankee – some spell it Yankey – trotted a mile in 2:59 in Harlem, NY, that being the first recorded sub-3:00 mile with historical accounts referring to that mile as the beginning of American chronology.

Eventually, there were also speed records on the books for a-quarter-of-a-mile, a half-mile and, of course, one mile, followed by 14 additional record for odd distances, plus records for the fastest 2-year-old gelding, colt and filly plus the same for 3-year-olds, 4-year-olds, 5-year-olds, green performers.

Also listed were heat races with those performances reflecting first heat winners all the way up to ninth heat winners, that one during the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893, which took three days to complete.

Multiply that by two adding the pacers and you've got some very neat headlines, which is what harness racing should be all about to survive.

In fact, the pacers even had a 10-heat race in 1898, with the 4-year-old filly Kitty R winning the fifth, sixth, and 10th heats.

What's it all mean?

Well, there were well over 200 world records on the books – trotters and pacers, distances from one-quarter mile up to 100 miles, including ages beginning with yearlings and up to age 5, with further records including older geldings, horses, fillies, and mares, some as ancient as 20 years old.

In fact, until the powers-to-be put the age restrictions in place with mandatory retirement when a horse reaches 15 and amateur combatants 16, there were horses racing for purse money in North America as old as 26.

There were records in races and conducted in time-trials, eventually spreading to half-mile ovals.

Headlines! They all got the headlines, something our sport really needs in this era where headlines are few and far between when one veers away from harness racing internet sites.

Gam(bl)ing sites want nothing to do with our grand sport.

It is at its crossroads as we continue to lose our aging fan base to other forms of gambling where one can now bet on "two cock-a-roaches crossing the street," as described by a longtime BDHC (Broken Down Horseplayers Club) member.

The illegal numbers racket found legality when states decided that they could reap huge rewards by addressing it as the lottery.

The lottery takeout should make most sane gamblers cry and now there are sites popping up all over the place vying for your dollars and bribing you with bonuses that seem too good to be true.

And that's just the tip of the iceberg.

Harness racing needs a good shot of modernizing, getting headlines, and introducing initiatives that entice new players, new blood, new young blood.

We need the cooperation of newspaper and internet sports editors from those papers.

We need to pal up with on-air sports reporters and anchors.

We need headlines.

In my old racetrack days, yes, we did everything in fifths-of-a-second and made a big deal of new records established, even by a fifth-of-a-second.

More than 20-years-ago – Oct. 5, 2005 – there was a 2-year-old trotting gelding by the name of Famous Mark who set a track record for age, sex, and gait, covering the mile in 1:58.1.

I went up to see the timer that night and Eddie looked it up and said, “his actual time is 1:58.256.”

I thought “1:58.256? They can do that these days?”

That’s the ticket to, just maybe, getting an extra headline or two out of this.

Most others didn’t think so, but my crusade was only beginning.

Other examples followed like Delivered From Zin, 1:48.83 in 2011.

The 8-year-old trotting horse Chucaro Ahijuna on Feb. 26, 2005 in 1:53.798.

All I needed was one more track record mile for a headline.

It took nine years to get it.

Tug River Dylan, older trotting horse, March 17, 2014, 1:53.740.

I got some mileage out of it, too, until, a couple of years later, the 6-year-old trotting gelding trotted in 1:52.490, the track record, period.

We have had other close calls at Pompano Park with the track record at 1:48 3/5 by Panocchio and the aforementioned Delivered From Zin stopping the clock at 1:48.830 with Duc Orleans at 1:48.970.

At 1:49, we had the mare Velocity Vespa at 1:49.030, the gelding Prairie Jaguar at 1:49.040, and the gelding Scott Rocks at 1:49.081.

There are many more split by a hair but, with the prolific number of miles encroaching on the impossible 1:45, the possibility of garnering more headlines as the splits can be in the 1,000’s of a second, not a half second or a quarter second.

The Hambletonian was decided by two one-thousandths-of-a-second.

Let’s make something of it!

There’s no disputing the 1:45.4 mile achieved by Bulldog Hanover.

But there are three 1:46 performers – all aged – and doesn’t anybody want to know who is really next?

There are three horses at 1:46.1 – all aged – with the incredible Cambest achieving his mark 33 years ago, and Best Chip just joined that list this past week.

And one of those 1:46.1 performers is the 3-year-old Confederate in 2024.

There are also four in 1:46.2, including the 3-year-old Legendary Hanover.

McWicked and Rockyroad Hanover completing the top 10 – actually top 11.

There are five more at 1:46.3 and at least a dozen more at 1:46.4.

The top speed list consists of all pacers, of course – but, surely, they will change.

There’s a logjam at 1:46.4 with over a dozen hardly remembered these days and they could all have their own glorified list if the latest technology was used splitting horses, gelding, fillies, and mares and times in one one-thousandths-of-a-second.

Racing programs should show final times in the thousandths-of-a-second, as well.

These days, there are races that are decided by as little as one one-thousandths-of-a-second and bettors deserve every edge in their attempt to put their $2, or $20, on a winner.

If a horse is within a half-length of the winner, their race time is shown as the same as the winner: example 2:00 for the winner and 2:00 for the second-place horse one-half length away.

The winner’s time shown as 2:00.00 could put the next horse’s time at 2:00.499.

Our sport is determined, in many instances, by a nose.

We must give the bettor as much information as we can to keep him or her in the game.

Just look at the records in every other major sport: baseball, football, basketball, ice hockey, and soccer.

There are, literally, thousands upon thousands of records that teams disseminate to keep their fans hypnotized to their game.

We must use the technology in our grasp to rebuild confidence in the integrity of our great sport as the current technology is moving at a clip far, far ahead of Bulldog’s 1:45.4 mile.

May The Horse Be With You!

Whiskey Wow, Grand Reserve win in Kentucky Sire Stakes

by Ray Cotolo for The Red Mile

Whiskey Wow and Grand Reserve each registered a victory in their respective $35,000 third-preliminary divisions of the Kentucky Sire Stakes for trotting 4-year-olds on Tuesday afternoon (Sept. 15) at The Red Mile.

Whiskey Wow (driven by Todd McCarthy) looped to the lead past the quarter and held control to the finish of a 1:51.2 mile to win the Kentucky Sire Stakes division for 4-year-old trotting males. After the pair of Big Shoes (Scott Zeron) and Breakthrough (Andy McCarthy) lost stride at the start, Whiskey Wow pushed to plant towards the front and yielded command to outermost starter Boots N Beer (Joey Putnam) moving to the first quarter in :28.1. Todd McCarthy then circled Whiskey Wow to the fore and cruised through middle fractions of :56.3 and 1:24 before wrapping the mile snugly by two lengths while odds-on favorite Monserrate (Dexter Dunn) kicked to finish second with Boots N Beer chasing in third and Vugoo (Andy Miller) checking in fourth.

Matthew Wilson trains Whiskey Wow, a 4-year-old gelding by Crazy Wow—Whimzical Britt, for owner Burlin Brower. The gelding has now won four races from 10 starts this season and 13 races from 28 starts in his career, earning $239,945. He paid $6.12 to win.

Grand Reserve (Andy McCarthy) led every step to win the Kentucky Sire Stakes division for 4-year-old trotting mares, which was contested as a non-wagering race before the pari-mutuel card. Andy McCarthy cut a clip of :29.2, :55.4, and 1:24.1 in progress to a 1:51.2 victory by three-quarters-of-a-length over Winnpanzee (Dunn), who pushed from a pocket trip late but settled for second. Aperfect Annie (Marvin Luna) gave pursuit from third and Best Friends Girl (Todd McCarthy) finished last of the four.

Carter Pinske trains Grand Reserve, a 4-year-old mare by Walner—Bella Glos, for owner Hudson Standrdbd Stb Inc. The mare won her fourth race from 13 starts this season and her seventh race from 36 starts in her career, earning $199,911.

Trainer Mann Hughes collected a hat trick on the Tuesday program which included a pair of victories from the three $10,000 divisions of the Kentucky Wildcat Series for 2-year-old pacing fillies. Hughes sent longshots Tilton (Zyler Maxwell, 1:54.3 winning mile; $30.98 to win) and Cello Beach (Luna, 1:54.1; $22.48) to victories in the Wildcat Series and also scored a come-from-behind win in a $7,200 overnight pace with favored Lets Flip Onit (Zyler Maxwell, 1:54.2; $4.58).

Live harness racing at The Red Mile resumes on Sunday (Sept. 20) with a card featuring eight finals of the Kentucky Championship Series and over $3.2 million in purses. First-race post time is 5:05 p.m. (EDT).

Bang Bang Boogie, DP Freedoms Chrome both deliver the goods in top Running Aces trots

by Darin Gagne for Running Aces Casino, Hotel and Racetrack

The Sunday night (Sept. 13) program at Running Aces featured two divisions of Minnesota-sired sophomore trotters as well as the weekly open handicap trot.

Bang Bang Boogie (by New Jersey Viking) and driver Rick Magee went to the top from post 6 and never looked back en route to his eleventh win of the season in the $21,000 sophomore 'A' division with a 1:58.2 mile over HM Magical Money (Nick Roland) and My Little Maverick (Dean Magee).

Bang Bang Boogie, who returned $2.80 on top, now shows earnings of $99,510 from 16 starts this season for owners Stephanie Anfinson and Ken Stauffer and trainer Justin Anfinson.

DP Freedoms Chrome made it two wins in a row with a sharp 1:54.2 tally in the $21,500 open handicap trot for his 32nd career win. Dean Magee was in the bike for the three-quarter-length score over Fifty Rivers (Svendsen) and Peanutbutterfalcon (Scott Cisco).

The $4 winner is by For You Almostfree and is owned by Aimes Racing and trained by Elvin Zimmerman.

SV Rough And Tough (by Tom Ridge) rolled to a gate-to-wire tally in the $14,000 sophomore 'B' split for his 10th career win and a new career mark of 1:58.2 with trainer/driver Brady Jenson in the bike while Shots On Goal (Mooney Svendsen) completed the exacta and The Big Bomb (Brian Detgen) was home in third. The $2.80 winner pushed his career bankroll to $105,875 for owner Larry Mather.

Maine SIRE STAKES REPORT

Maine's Glamour Boys cruise through Bangor

by Chris Tully for Maine Sire Stakes

Two $17,000-plus divisions of 3-year-old pacing colts and geldings in the Maine Sire Stakes convened under sunny skies on Wednesday (Sept. 16) at Bangor Raceway before the regular card.

This season's glamour boys division, as they are affectionately called, has been a battle for supremacy between leading point earner Daytoremember and freshmen champion Real Horrorshow who is a close second. This week they drew into separate divisions, thus each colt was able to advance their own agenda.

In the first $17,434 division it was a typical wire-to-wire romp by Real Horrorshow and driver Kevin Switzer, Jr. Leaving swiftly to grab the lead, the son of Dude's The Man set opening fractions of :29.4 and :59.3. Past the half, Deuces Red (Mike Stevenson) rolled first over and found himself within a half-length of the pacesetter as the field approached the 1:29.1 third panel.

But that was all for show because Switzer, Jr. gave his charge the cue to continue and the gelding responded with a 29 second final quarter, tripping the timer in 1:58.1 while prevailing by 1½ lengths and avenging last week's defeat.

Capturing his sixth win of the season, and 15th of his career, Real Horrorshow, increased his lifetime earnings to $168,012. Trained by the senior Kevin Switzer, who also co-owns with Kathleen Mofield and Anthony Sivik, Jr., he was bred in Maine by Luke and Patricia Varnum.

Itsjustmoney (Andy Harrington) rallied for second; Dude's The Jet (Joey Mosher) was third.

In the second $17,434 division for sophomore male pacers, another non-wagering event, it was déjà vu all over again as Daytoremember enjoyed another pillar-to-post victory on his home turf.

Protecting his pylon starting position, Heath Campbell sent his charge out for a tour of historic Bass Park, admiring the quarter station in :28.4 and glancing at the 1:00 half before any other tourists decided to join the party.

Down the backstretch the final time Nuh Uh (Andy Harrington) had tried valiantly to improve his position as he led the outer flow into a 1:29.1 third panel. However, Campbell tapped the accelerator on Daytoremember and they sprinted home in :28.1, to win by 2½ lengths in 1:57.2.

The son of Dude's The Man is owned, trained, and was bred by Valerie Grondin, and picked up his seventh seasonal victory with $123,670 earned lifetime. Daytoremember continues to lead Real Horrorshow by 25 points in the divisional standings.

Ghost Of Winter (Joey Mosher) sat a pocket trip to retain second; Nuh Uh was third.

Looking ahead, the Maine Sire Stakes transitions back to the Fairs with a week of action at Farmington starting with the 3-year-old filly pacers on Monday (Sept. 21), followed by the all the 2- and 3-year-old trotters on Wednesday (Sept. 23).

Undefeated Shalom Hanover leads Metro Pace eliminations

Woodbine Mohawk Park is set to host eliminations this weekend for the Grade 1 Metro Pace and Grade 1 Elegantimage.

The Metro Pace for 2-year-old pacers will have a pair of six horse eliminations on Saturday night (Sept. 19) to determine the field for the $1 million final. The Elegantimage for 3-year-old filly trotters has two nine-horse eliminations tonight (Sept. 18) to decide the spots in the $400,000 final.

The first elimination for the Metro Pace will see Shalom Hanover put his undefeated record on the line for driver Louis-Philippe Roy and trainer Dr. Ian Moore.

A son of Papi Rob Hanover, Shalom Hanover is six-for-six going into the Metro elimination and will look to give Moore back-to-back wins in the richest race for rookies after winning last year with Beau Jangles.

Shalom Hanover's six wins include scores in the Pennsylvania Sires Stakes final, Grade 3 Nassagaweya, and Grade 3 Dream Maker. His current mark sits at 1:49.2.

Moore will also send out Cattletracks, who enters off a 1:50.1 win in last Saturday's Grade 3 Champlain Stakes.

New York Sires Stakes standout Rose Run Cowboy makes his Mohawk debut for trainer Ron Burke. The son of Huntsville has three wins and six top three finishes from seven starts. His most recent outing was second in a photo finish in last weekend's $300,000 New York Sires Stakes final. Yannick Gingras is listed to drive the winner of $334,275.

The second Metro elimination appears to be wide open on paper, as all six of the entrants have one or two wins on their record.

Burke trainee Eastie Boy is the highest earner at $227,653 in seven starts. The son of Sweet Lou is a two-time winner and was third in the Pennsylvania Sires Stakes final last time out. Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. is listed to drive.

Mascarpone gives Moore another entrant in the Metro eliminations. The son of Stay Hungry has two wins and $130,582 earned in seven starts. He posted a significant victory on Aug. 29 at Mohawk by winning a division of the Grade 3 Nassagaweya. Scott Zeron gets the driving assignment.

The first $35,000 Elegantimage elimination on Friday features last year's Breeders Crown winner Storybook Love.

Trained by Matt Bax, Storybook Love memorable deked through rivals to rally for victory in last October's Breeders Crown at Mohawk. The daughter of Chapter Seven struggled to get back to the winner's circle this season until capturing a division of the Grade 3 Simcoe Stakes on Sept. 4.

Storybook Love followed up her Simcoe win with a runner-up finish in last Saturday's $300,000 (USD) New York Sires Stakes final. Todd Ratchford has been her exclusive driver at age 3. She's posted one win and seven top three finishes from 12 starts this season for $278,020 in earnings.

The Nancy Takter trained Leading Lady has the highest earnings this season at north of $300,000. The daughter of Walner has just one win this year, but nine in the money finishes from 12 outings. Just like Storybook Love, Leading Lady also enters off a second-place finish, having grabbed runner-up in the $250,000 New Jersey Classic last Friday.

New York Sires Stakes champion Sharp Seven headlines the second Elegantimage split.

George Ducharme ships in Sharp Seven off her win in the $300,000 (USD) event last Saturday and sporting a seasonal record of five wins, seven top two finishes and $431,163 earned from 12 starts. Jason Bartlett is listed to drive the daughter of Chapter Seven.

Top Ontario Sires Stakes performer Cher Hill will also line up in the second split. The Gregg McNair trained daughter of Muscle Mass is coming in off a 6¼ lengths victory last Friday. She's posted four wins and earned $229,677 in 10 starts this year. Doug McNair will drive.

Aestas, Love Somebody, and She's A Home Run capture Keystone Classic victories

Hollywood Casino at The Meadows featured 2-year-old fillies Wednesday afternoon (Sept. 16), with two $40,000 Keystone Classics for pacers and a single $58,000 Keystone Classic for trotters.

Dave Palone steered Aestas and Love Somebody to victory, taking both divisions of the 2-year-old filly pacer Keystone Classic.

Aestas' effort of 1:52 was the fastest Keystone Classic division. After stretching an opening quarter in :27.2, Palone was able to get a favorable :57.1 middle half, setting up a sprint to the wire. With Wish For A Captain on her back, Aestas let go with a :27.2 final quarter for a three-length victory over the pocket sitter. Jodo Hanover would threaten but settle for the show spot. Steve LeBlanc trains the daughter of Papi Rob Hanover for owner Glenn Dyke. It was a career-best effort for Aestas, whose 2026 earnings are now approaching $100,000.

Pacing toward an uneventful three-quarters in 1:25, Love Somebody and Palone moved quickly from third on their way to a Keystone Classic victory. Head-to-head with Gold Impact at the head of the stretch, Love Somebody got a step on Fauvette Hanover before holding on to beat the pocket sitter by a step. Linda Toscano trains Love Somebody for owners and breeders Country Club Acres Inc and Joe Sbrocco of Ohio. Love Somebody now boasts two wins from six starts and a new lifetime career best of 1:52.2.

She's A Home Run and Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. cleared to the lead past the quarter and never relinquished it on their way to winning the $58,000 Keystone Classic for 2-year-old filly trotters. Leaving from post 8, the daughter of Captain Corey worked through an opening quarter of :28.1 to get to the lead. Withstanding a minor threat at the three-quarters and a two-pronged attack from Sevenoofs Hanover, who finished second, and The Captains Wife, who finished third, She's A Home Run secured her third seasonal win with a 1:56.2 victory. Vernon Beachy trains for owners 518 Group LLC and Ryan Smith of Ohio.

Wednesday afternoon, Wrenn, Jr. led all drivers with four wins.
