

Rocketing to victory in the 81st Little Brown Jug

Less than two weeks ago, Ontario horse Redland Rocket Man wasn't even eligible to the Grade 1 Little Brown Jug. Then came a 1:46.4 mile that convinced trainer John Pentland to pay the supplemental fee that led to his first Jug victory in his first attempt.

by Nicole Kraft

After Redland Rocket Man won the Simcoe Stakes on Sept. 12 at Woodbine Mohawk Park with a 1:46.4 mile that was the fastest time by any 3-year-old in North America this year, trainer and co-owner John Pentland knew the gelding deserved a chance to compete in the Little Brown Jug.

There was just one problem: He was not eligible.

To enter, Pentland and his fellow Ontario-based partners, Murray Cox and Gary Volpe, would need to fork up $45,000 in a supplemental fee. They did not hesitate to write the check.

Redland Rocket Man wasted no time paying them back.

With Jody Jamieson in the sulky, the Ontario-sired son of Bulldog Hanover out of Granny Hanover took the lead from the start of the final of the 81st Little Brown Jug and captured the coveted trophy in 1:49.4, bringing home nearly half of the total purse of $650,000 and giving Pentland his first Jug victory in his first try. Melillo finished second and Al Papi was third.

"It was a once-in-a-lifetime shot," Pentland said. "I had support from my partners and my wife and the people who work for me – they all said, 'Let's do this.'"

"To finally get my first Grade 1 win and do it in the Little Brown Jug, I'm not sure it comes better than that."

After a week of near-consistent rainfall, Delaware County in Ohio overcame early dampness to send the Jug race off under clear cerulean skies on a 68-degree textbook autumn afternoon. Eleven horses entered the race, requiring two $50,000 elimination heats to determine the eight horses that would return for the final later in the afternoon.

Redland Rocket Man's connections in the winner's circle.

Al Papi left no doubt he was the horse to beat in the first elimination heat, taking the lead from the start and winning by nearly two lengths in 1:51.1 for driver Yannick Gingras and trainer Ron Burke, who were seeking their fourth Jug victory together.

"He's a speed horse," Gingras said. "I knew this track would suit him really well."

Redland Rocket Man took a far more challenging route to his second-elimination win, sitting fifth in the field of five through the first half of the race before going three-wide to circle the field around the final turn and win, pulling away by four widening lengths in 1:50.2.

"A horse can only go so fast, but he just seems to go forever," Pentland said.

The elimination winners then drew for the two best starting positions in the final, and Redland Rocket Man landed the spot closest to the rail. Pentland said as soon as he saw Redland Rocket Man had drawn post 1, he knew the race was theirs to lose.

"I saw that red saddle pad sitting on my chair, and I thought, 'I think we've got it,'" he said with a chuckle.

As the sun dropped behind the Delaware County Fairgrounds, Redland Rocket Man was a little slow leaving the gate but quickly surged past Al Papi to take the lead.

"I had to get into my horse hard because, for whatever reason, he didn't fire on the inside," Jamieson said. "Maybe I didn't have him ready enough to leave, but I had him ready enough to where Yannick couldn't cross down, and that was the race right there."

Jamieson kept Redland Rocket Man in front through the first half before Al Papi mounted a challenge and pulled within a nose.

That's when Redland Rocket Man seemed to have had enough. With a wave of his tail, he shifted into top gear and quickly opened up daylight, winning by more than four lengths to improve to 4-3-1 in 14 starts this year and push the $30,000

Al Papi (Yannick Gingras) went wire-to-wire to win the first Jug heat.

Harrisburg yearling's earnings to the brink of $550,000 in 2026 and over $677,000 lifetime.

As a jubilant crowd of the pacer's connections flowed onto the track, many dressed in grey and neon-green T-shirts emblazoned on the back with "Redland Rocket Man," Jamieson took the pacer the long way back to the winner's circle, seeming to greet every fan along the fence line.

Jamieson won his first Little Brown Jug in 2007 with Tell All. Nearly two decades later, he savored every moment of his second Jug victory, this time partnered with a horse — bred by Redland Farms in Bible Hill, NS — whose connections hadn't even known a week earlier whether he would be in the field.

"I didn't think I'd ever get another chance at it again," Jamieson said. "But here we are, back in the winner's circle."

GRADE 3 BUCKETTE THREE-YEAR-OLD FILLY TROT

Driver Lamar Wingard and Pony Chrome didn't see a pylon for the first three-quarters of the mile, but that didn't matter thanks to a game effort by the Southwind Chrome lass in the $79,350 Buckette for sophomore filly trotters.

Wingard, who was making his first trip around the Delaware half-mile, poked Pony Chrome's nose in front at the three-quarter pole and defeated Kerstin (Yannick Gingras) by 4¼ lengths and Wendalyn Hanover (Tim Tetrick) by 6¼ in 1:55.2.

Lewayne Miller trains the filly for the partnership of Equine Spa and Thomas Jeff Carey.

OHIO BREEDERS CHAMPIONSHIP 3-YEAR-OLD COLT PACE

The leading driver, David Miller, and the leading trainer, Virgil Morgan, Jr., in the history of the Delaware (OH) County Fair teamed up to take the first $66,100 division of the OBC for 3-year-old colt pacers with Tsunami Seas.

Miller sat patiently as Caillou Hanover (Atlee Bender) and Skull N Crossbones (Chris Page) battled for early control.

Tsunami Seas used the cover of Skull N Crossbones around the final turn and swept past a tiring Caillou Hanover to score a 1¾ length win over stablemate Odds On Rpj (Luke Hanners) and Crocodile Station (Dexter Dunn) in 1:52.2.

The gelded son of Downbytheseaside is owned by Jeffrey Rector, Larry Wills, and Hutchison Harness.

Tsunami Seas now has a three-race win streak and $313,757 in his bank account.

Fire Run received a perfect first-up trip and wore down the pacesetter When Is Parade (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) to win the second $66,100 division in 1:52.

When Is Parade was a length back in second, Thunder Nation (David Miller) was another length behind in third.

Loua Dipa (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) winning the $240,000 Grade 1 Jugette final on Wednesday at the Delaware County Fairgrounds.

Loua Dipa cruises in 56th Jugette

by Jay Wolf / Little Brown Jug

Loua Dipa received a confident drive from Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. in the second heat to win the $265,000 Jugette for 3-year-old filly pacers on Wednesday (Sept. 13) at the Delaware (OH) County Fair.

When the field of eight was sent on their way in the $240,000 final, the even-money favorite, Loua Dipa outsprinted Darlin's Angel (Lauren Tritton) and led past the opening quarter in :27.

The supplemental entry, Vanna By The River (Aaron Merriman) was the first to apply pressure on Loua Dipa while parked on the outside past the half-mile station in :55.3.

The field bunched up as they reached the three-quarters in 1:24.3.

The pocket sitting Darlin's Angel was looking for room in the inside and the other Ron Burke trainees, I'm A Lou Lou (Tim Tetrick) and Sandyboots Yankee (Yanick Gingras) came from the outside.

At the wire, it was Loua Dipa by a-length-and-a-quarter over Darlin's Angel, who out photoed I'm A Lou Lou in 1:53.

The homebred son of Sweet Lou is owned by Burke Racing Stable and Weaver Brussemi.

As a trainer, Burke hoisted the Jugette trophy for a record sixth time.

Tetrack sent the Hambletonian runner-up, Big Ranger, to the lead before the opening panel in :29.3.

Positions remained unchanged past the half in :57.4.

Soulful Saul (Kurt Sugg) was the first to pull to the outside before the three-quarters in 1:27.1.

Big Ranger used a :28.2 final panel to record the 1¾ length win over Grape Crush. Rose Run Banker (Chris Page) rallied from last to get the show spot.

The In Range colt, a winner of 14 of 17 career starts, is trained by Anette Lorentzon for Madison Global.

The first $61,025 division Tom Largo overcame the outside post 6 to grab the lead and cruised to a three-length score in 1:55.3 over the "good" surface.

Rose Run Boom (Luke Hanners) was second and Bitcoin King (Aaron Merriman) rounded out the trifecta.

The Long Tom gelding has 12 career wins and $455,762 in earnings.

He is owned by Jughead Stable, G. Peters, and Robert Kubiak.

Wrenn, Jr. and Beachy sweep OBC Freshman Colt Trot

The driver/trainer combo of Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. and Vernon Beachy swept the $71,375 OBC divisions for 2-year-old colt trotters with Mind On My Moni and Debt Free.

Mind On My Moni rebounded from a narrow defeat in the $300,000 Ohio Sires Stakes final (Sept. 12) and cruised to a gate-to-wire effort in 1:59.2.

Wrenn, Jr. had the Ready For Moni gelding off the gate's wing quickly from the outside post 6 and they passed the opening quarter in :29.4 and the half in 1:01.2.

Aaron Merriman pulled Commanders Moni before the three-quarters in 1:31.2.

Mind On My Moni held off a late charge from the pocket-sitting Iluvmymoni (David Miller) to record the three-quarter-length win. Commanders Moni held on for third.

Mind On My Moni is now seven-for-nine on the season.

Stablemate Debt Free used similar front-running tactics to win the second $71,375 division in 1:58.

Obsessed With Me (Brett Miller) was 1½ lengths back in second and Satan's Fury (Aaron Merriman) was another length back in third.

The Ready For Moni gelding has now earned $230,438 with his fifth career victory.

Both winning fillies are owned by the 518 Group, Gitup Racing, Ryan Smith, and Todd's Auto.

Caesars Trot Night, Marcus Melander, and some September numbers

by Bob Heyden

Tonight (Sept. 25) is Caesars Trot Night at Hoosier Park with a boatload of stakes with some Breeders Crown previews. Let's take a look at this special night, past and present.

The ninth edition of the Caesars Trot welcomes back Lexus Kody, the richest trotter of 2025 and the dead-heat winner from last year. Periculum, who dead heated with Lexus Kody, is not here this year.

Ponda Jet is the only 2024 and 2025 participant returning. His 1:50 flat track record is the Indiana/Hoosier current all-time mark.

French Wine took down the Breeders Crown last year and only some bad luck, and the second tier, cost him the victory in the 2025 Caesars Trot, where he finished third.

Yannick Gingras and his talented Antognoni S is also going to give it a go, as one of 22 on the card for Team Burke.

Marcus Melander won this six years ago with Gimpanzee and Nancy Takter just two years back with that year's division titleholder Winners Bet.

John Butenschoen is going to try and beat the boys with three-quarters-of-a-million earning mare R Dutchess. Remember, Bella Bellini turned the tables on the guys in 2022.

Also featured on the Caesars Trot card is the Hoosier Park Pacing Derby which has seen a parade of close contested finishes recently.

Maximus Miki uncorked a long three-deep move to the :54 half last year and somehow hung on in 1:47.4 for Scott Zeron.

The 2024 edition featured a gamer than game Little Rocket Man in 1:48.1, while Allywag Hanover was a winner at 4-1 in 2023 in a fantastic finish holding off Lou's Pearlman and Ponda Warrior, the year after Bulldog Hanover set the current track record of 1:46.3.

In 2021 Ocean Rock was helped by the five-eighths wipeout of This Is The Plan who was aiming for a three-peat.

Lazarus N started to make a name for himself on these shores in 2018 with a :25.4 finale to secure a 1:48.4 victory with HOY McWicked coming fast.

Back in 2015, 11-year-old Foiled Again was dead game in 1:50.3 on the off going.

But most will focus in the direction of On To Norway as he puts his mind-numbing 28 straight victories at Hoosier Park on the line. His 1:48.3 makes him North America's fastest trotter. John De Long has never lost with "Norway," 27 straight at Hoosier and one at Indy.

NOTE: Mike Peterson started the Hoosier Park streak with Norway on April 10, 2025, then De Long took it the rest of the way.

WHAT A YEAR SO FAR FOR MARCUS MELANDER

Trainer Marcus Melander, 34, is having a season for the ages, finishing 1-2-3 in the Jim Doherty, winning the Hambletonian in a 1:49.2 record, and scoring his second Yonkers International Trot with Super Chapter just the third 4YO since 1990 to win it. He also won the International with Cruzado Dela Noche in 2018.

He won the 2026 Cashman and Maple Leaf Trot with Super Chapter and the Hambletonian Oaks with Nezuko Kamado S.

He also trains the quickest female ever, standout Bourbonista S (1:48.4).

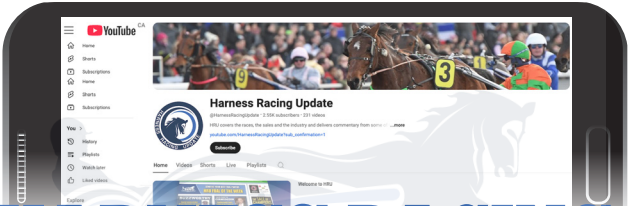

His career six million-dollar wins on the trot is the most for any trainer ever not yet 35. Fellow Sweden Per Eriksson had three by the time he was 31.

If things continue on this path for him, he's got a shot, with the rich Breeders Crown coming up, to better Ake Svanstedt's record of earnings per start mark that was set in 2023 of $16,404. Melander almost did it last year with $16,104.

SEPTEMBER BY THE NUMBERS

- It's the 20th anniversary of Jimmy Takter debuting and winning the Jug with Mr Feelgood driven by Mark MacDonald. MacDonald was licensed in Ohio just hours before the race.
- We are only eight days out from wrapping up the Trotting Triple Crown with the moved-back-one-week Kentucky Futurity on Oct. 3. The first two legs have gone to brothers-in-law Lucas Wallin and Marcus Melander with Inexpressable (Yonkers Trot) and Apex (Hambletonian), respectively.

Breaking down all the action across Saturday's Metro Pace and Mohawk Million card

by Brett Sturman

In addition to the two separate million-dollar events, three other stakes will combine to offer a total of $3.5 million in purse across the five big-money races. With stars in action such as Apex, Shalom Hanover, and a host of others, here's how I see things playing out.

RACE 6, $400,000 GRADE 1 ELEGANTIMAGE FINAL 3-YEAR-OLD FILLY TROT

Most of the major stakes tonight seem genuinely wide open and such is the case as the action begins here in race 6 with the Elegantimage.

At a presumably square price coming in, BUSY MISS LISSY S lands post 10 but does get a driver change back to Dunn which will aid her cause. This one didn't have the easiest trip last week in her elimination when moving early and then racing most of the remainder of the mile without cover and held well. Dunn drove her two back at Pocono in that pretty unbelievable comeback when breaking after leaving into a :26.2 opening quarter; beat eventual Hambletonian Oaks winner Nezuko Kamado S prior in their elimination.

LEADING LADY is always a contender and will rightfully attract attention once again while starting from the rail but needs to find that winning knack. Has now been second in four straight (three of those at odds-on), and has been second overall in eight of 13 on the year. Is she due?

The resume of KNGTSTLKRS GAMES didn't look super enthusiastic prior to last week but give her credit for stepping up off that nw3 win to come right back and win her elimination last week at odds of 57-1. She came on well from third-over to score that upset but a far shorter price looms now. NUANCE was another that showed a strong closing finish last week when she caught favored Leading Lady. She's been excellent in every start since the start of August; dangerous connections here with Melander and James MacDonald.

STORYBOOK LOVE was a Simcoe winner here three back and will look to replicate her Breeders Crown magic from last year. CHER HILL was a dominant OSS Gold winner two back and then did well last week when finishing second in her elimination. In that race she moved to the lead, took pressure from Busy Miss Lissy S and did well to stave off that rival even though she was caught late by the upset winner.

NYSS star SHARP SEVEN was beaten only three lengths last week after being far back early and deserves a call out in a wide-open race.

Selections: Busy Miss Lissy S, Nuance, Leading Lady

RACE 7 – $510,000 GRADE 1 SHE'S A GREAT LADY FINAL 2-YEAR-OLD FILLES PACE

For as open as the preceding race was, this one might be even more of a head-scratcher. It seems realistically that most of these are no better than a length or two of anyone else and the outcome of tonight could be entirely dependent on trips.

Three of these fillies nearly triple dead heated three weeks ago in a Gold leg when WAVES OF FORTUNE, TWIN B MAYREAU, and MONEY CARLO were all separated by just a nose. Starting with tepid morning-line favorite Waves Of Fortune, that won has now won four in a row after beginning her career with two losses to Money Carlo. The Beaton trainee makes her first start since that narrow Ontario-sired win and prior to that was an Eternal Camnation winner; has won three of her last four when coming off the pace.

You could argue that in that Sept. 5 race which was also the last time we saw Twin B Mayreau, that she might have been the one with an excuse. After showing speed to sit the pocket that night, she was caught in behind a tiring TWIN B COPACABANA and while she eventually found room to the inside, that loss of momentum cost her when losing by the slimmest of margins. Fellow Twin B, "Copacabana" notched well-earned wins two and three back over Money Carlo and JERSEY BULLDOG but wasn't at her very best when under heavy pressure at the top of the stretch last week; could easily bounce back as barnmate to Waves Of Fortune.

As for Money Carlo, she came back next out to be second at odds of 3-5 to the tripped out QUED UP; who has the misfortune of landing post 10 following the dreamy two-hole trip against Money Carlo. Qued Up took a lot of action in that race relative to the respect she had been given in prior comparable races, and that was a fast win time of 1:49.4 for the quickly developing filly.

TROTting INTO THE FUTURE!

From that same 1:49.4 Champlain I really liked the try from ACEANDATEN who had to come first-over and race uncovered all the way from sixth in that race. She was still grinding and reaching late despite the tough trip; possible with a trip from the second-tier for McNair.

Jersey Bulldog caught probably the softer of the Champlain splits but that aside, she's been right there against this same group all season. She was a couldn't-lose 1-9 in that race and will offer a far different price now. TREACHEROUS NOVA seems maybe forgotten now while making her first start since the end of August but that Eternal Camnation try wasn't bad; longshot chance from the rail.

Selections: Twin B Mayreau, Aceandaten, Waves Of Fortune

RACE 8 – $1,000,000 GRADE 1 METRO PACE 2-YEAR-OLD OPEN PACE

Going from two wide-open races to maybe a not-so wide-open race brings us to this year's edition of the Metro Pace.

Just one year removed from campaigning 2-year-old horse of the year Beau Jangles, trainer Dr. Ian Moore has another star brewing in SHALOM HANOVER and the comparisons to Beau Jangles appear inevitable. Shalom Hanover looked to be in a different stratosphere to his competition last week in his Metro elimination, and his win time of 1:49.4 was over two full seconds faster than the other elimination. He'll loom the heaviest of favorites to run his unbeaten record up to eight.

Ron Burke's EASTIE BOY seems to be the most likely of anyone else to pull off an upset. Eastie Boy wasn't bad whatsoever two back at Pocono when overshadowed a bit in that premier showdown between Shalom Hanover and Starstruck Dreamer. This one sat third that race after leaving from post 7, waited for clearance at the top of the stretch that day and certainly wasn't giving away any ground to the top two throughout the stretch when missing by only a-length-and-a-half. Will be interesting to see what he can deliver if given a chance. In looking for a bomb underneath, GLOBAL CHOICE was a solid second last week to Eastie Boy when closing with a final quarter of :25.2. His prior race in the Champlain was an insanely hard-used trip; second start James MacDonald.

Selections: Shalom Hanover, Eastie Boy, Global Choice

Canadian Trotting Classic but at least some level of doubt could be made if you're looking for a reason to play elsewhere.

Following up on that 1:49.2 record in an all-time Hambletonian classic, Apex came back a month later and was way short in his return when finishing fourth at The Meadowlands. He did follow up that race one week later with a win in that New Jersey Classic final to return to his winning ways, but he did get off pretty easy that race with a :57 half mile and there were a bunch of others that weren't far off from him in the end. All of that said, he does have a big class edge on most of these and if the Apex we all know shows up he's the likely winner; looks to avenge last year's Breeders Crown defeat at this location.

MAGIC PUNK raced well in the Beal three back and then had loads of late trot two back in his NJ Classic elimination, but unfortunately broke at the very start of the final and it was too much to overcome. He was a Goodtimes elimination winner earlier in the year here and has potential here if he brings his best. NIX NACKEN put together a couple of nice wins in his Beal consolation and then in his NJ Classic elimination but couldn't quite reach when having the unenviable task last out of racing first-over to Apex into that slow first half. He did hold well that night for second.

TOUCHEDBYANANGEL and STROBE LIGHT continue their rivalry; well-acquainted foes both step up off recent races in the Simcoe and Ontario Gold action. AI was a Hambletonian finalist and invades off an easy NYSS score at Yonkers.

Selections: Magic Punk, Nix Nacken, Apex,

RACE 10 – $1,000,000 GRADE 1 MOHAWK MILLION 2-YEAR-OLD OPEN TROT

The connections of WRONG SOUNDS RIGHT spoke confidently of their horses ability in the winner's circle following his NJ Classic win two weeks ago at The Meadowlands, and the 2-year-old Tactical Landing colt will have every chance to back up those beliefs in this year's edition of the Mohawk Million.

Wrong Sounds Right was awesome in that NJ Classic win when taking a new mark of 1:51.4 and he's really looked the part this entire 2-year-old season. In that recent win, he avenged his earlier loss to Lifetime Dreamer in that fast mile on Hambletonian Day when he was at a tactical disadvantage; only question might be how he does in first start away from The Big M.

ACCESS HANOVER had a ton of late trot two back after being shuffled back to almost last when just coming up shy in the Wellwood final, and then backed up that try with a Champlain win from the pocket against Detonator Hanover. OCEAN STORM – winner of that Wellwood final two back – also was a next-out winner; his win coming at Tioga in a Reynolds division.

NEVIS PEAK began her career hot at The Meadowlands and then delivered another top effort when second to the still-unbeaten Wall Of Fame, but hasn't been as strong in either Peaceful Way race at Woodbine Mohawk Park at the end of August. Qualifier from 10 days ago looks strong; one of four fillies in here compared to six colts. Fellow filly ATHENA'S GIRL is two-for-two over the track here and that includes her win two back in the Peaceful Way final. She was third last out at Hoosier in the Jim Doherty when not at her very best on the front; was beaten by both her stablemates in the race where Melander fillies ran 1-2-3.

Selections: Wrong Sounds Right, Ocean Storm, Athena's Girl

The Raceway at Western Fair is pumped up for the new season

by Matthew Lomon

In the horse business, the term “offseason” can be a little misleading, as the time between the season that was and the season ahead is filled with plenty to keep busy.

That rang especially true for the folks at The Raceway at Western Fair, who, after closing the books on the five-eighths-mile oval’s Spring meet on May 29, wasted little time preparing for the return of live harness racing on Friday (Oct. 2).

“Our team had a good off-season, but it goes by quickly,” said Greg Blanchard, director of equine programming at Western Fair District.

“You’re trying to find a little time off in the summer, but in the meantime, you’re cleaning up things from the past season while starting to look ahead and get some planning done in preparation for the next season.”

The lengthy offseason to-do list included tackling various capital projects, maintaining the Western Fair Association’s Dorchester Downs Training Centre, and coordinating the upcoming London Classic Yearling Sale, running Oct. 13-14 with viewing beginning on Oct. 12.

“We certainly don’t pack up our bags and go away for two months,” Blanchard said. “We want our team to enjoy their summer, get some time off, and recharge the batteries, but it’s always exciting when the racing season is on the horizon.”

Anticipation is especially high ahead of Western Fair’s 2026-27 campaign, as the track, like its peers around the province, will experience significant purse increases as part of the recent Ontario Government-supported initiative that saw the province’s standardbred industry receive more than $14 million in funding from Ontario Racing.

Blanchard envisions the investment having the same immediate impact at Western Fair that it had elsewhere.

“Since that announcement came earlier this summer, I think we’ve seen the impact on horse supply at various tracks,” he said. “Field size looks like it’s been a lot stronger, and there’s a little bit of a gap in the signature racing for a two- or three-week period before we start, so I think demand at the entry box is going to be very high when we return.”

With the increase of approximately 42 per cent (roughly $7,000 to $10,000) on overnight purses at the signature level, daily purses are projected to average more than $100,000 this season at Western Fair.

“It’s been long overdue for our horsepeople,” Blanchard said. “They’ve had to deal with a flat purse structure here for more than a decade while the cost of everything has gone up. It was fantastic news; it adds a whole level of optimism and gives our team and our horsepeople a big boost going into the season.”

The London, ON oval has seen a notable increase in inquiries for stalls at Dorchester Downs following the announcement.

"That's a sign to me, and I think the purses will create a climate where you'll see more people perhaps buying horses and bringing them to Ontario, and fewer horses being sold and moving on to other jurisdictions as we've seen a lot over the last 10 years," Blanchard said.

In addition, Western Fair's two signature races – the Camluck Classic invitational pace and the So Much More (formerly the Forest City Pace) – will feature bolstered purses this season.

The Grade 3 Camluck Classic will rise from $150,000 to $200,000, while the So Much More will double from $50,000 to $100,000.

Strengthening the track's flagship events has been top of mind for some time.

"That's something we wanted to do, certainly with the So Much More," Blanchard said. "We've been wanting to give that a bump – $50,000 is a nice purse, but for the quality of mares that we've been able to attract, we felt that a purse increase was warranted, and this was the right time to do that."

"The Camluck as well, it's been $150,000 for a long time. With today's climate, believe it or not, $150,000 needed a little bump, too. I think that added $50,000 will do a lot for attracting some of those top-quality horses that we maybe haven't been able to get the last couple of years."

"They're obviously our signature races, but they've become important races on the calendar for older mares and older pacing horses. I think those purses are justified, and I'm happy that we were able to do it in concert with an overall purse increase in our program."

The potential influence on this and future London Select Yearling Sales is not lost on Blanchard, either.

"A stronger overnight program in the province is going to give buyers that much more confidence coming to the sale to buy Ontario-sired horses because we know they can compete with the best in the world – they've proven that year in, year out," he said.

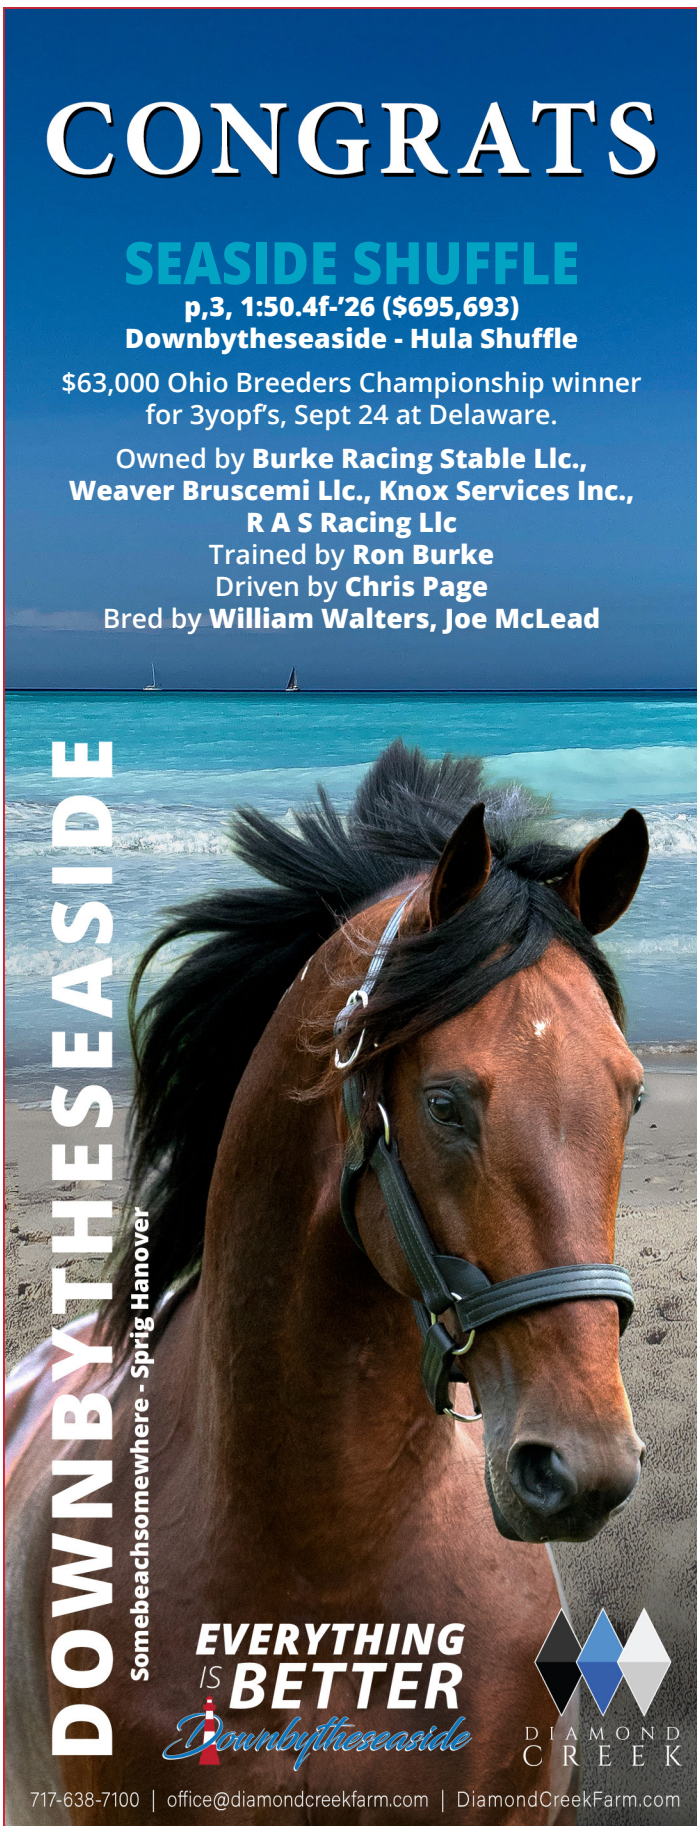

"I think it's just going to get better here going forward. It was really good news for the entire industry, and I expect that to have a positive impact on this year's sale. Not to mention, we have a really exciting catalog. One of the best, if not the best, we've offered to date."

Horseplayers should also feel the trickle-down effect of more lucrative purses, with greater opportunities for full and competitive fields.

In response, Western Fair revamped its wagering menu with enhancements to its Pick-3 offerings.

Beginning opening night, the minimum wager on both the early and late Pick-3 will increase from $0.20 to $2. The late Pick-3 has also been rebranded as "The Closer," featuring a $2,000 guaranteed pool every race night.

"Horseplayers are looking for value, they're looking for opportunities, and as soon as we announced it, we heard from some core horseplayers, and they thought it was great," Blanchard said. "They're looking forward to it, which was nice to hear."

When the fall season kicks off Friday, the on-track product will receive an additional boost from competitive battles for top driving and training honors.

Austin Sorrie enters atop the driver standings with 109 wins, followed closely by Garret Rooney (103) and rising star Brady Galliers, who recorded 88 victories across the spring meet.

"We've been a great feeder track, as many became a top driver here before maybe moving on to become stars at Mohawk," Blanchard said. "That leaves opportunity for new guys. It remains a really deep and balanced driver colony and that's a big part of why our racing remains so competitive and entertaining."

The battle for top conditioner status is equally compelling, with veteran horseman Gerard Demers pacing the field with 39 wins. Cameron McQueen (31) and Jodie Cullen (29) are both within striking distance.

"There's a lot of parity on the trainer side, which is something that's exciting, good for horseplayers, and will make for a fun first three months of the season," Blanchard said.

As far as festivities, fans can expect the return of several local favorites, including the 21st edition of Harness the Hope, twice monthly editions of the Trifecta Tuesday promotion, and the seventh annual Drivers' Holiday Challenge in support of Toys for Tots, taking place Dec. 8.

The facility itself has benefited from an array of cosmetic upgrades, headlined by the newly minted Wall of Champions display.

"We were able to upgrade our main lobby with a couple of murals on our walls that pay homage to the history of the track, including a new Wall of Champions, which allows guests to revisit the winners of our signature races over the years, as well as the different iterations and sponsors over that time," Blanchard said.

Western Fair's outdoor viewing experience also received a jolt, courtesy of new picnic tables and patio heaters.

"We're trying every year to keep enhancing the facility and elevate the fan experience," Blanchard said. "We're always working toward that, and we're happy that we've been able to make some of those changes coming into the season."

As a new era at Western Fair sets in, the Raceway remains focused on strengthening its ties to the community it serves.

"Western Fair Association's purpose is to be the heartbeat of the community in a variety of ways," Blanchard said. "From the racing perspective, it's the same thing — anything we can do to involve our local and regional community in a night of racing and support the various groups and organizations that make London such a great place, we want to do that."

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Harness racing has literally left an indelible mark on Leanne Davidson

by Chris Lomon

Long after the last horse has been tucked into its stall, caretaker Leanne Davidson is still watching and caring.

"I overly worry about them," Davidson said with a laugh. "I have cameras in the stalls, so I can keep an eye on them. It's horses, literally, almost 24/7 for me. It's barn, racetrack, sleep, and then back to the barn."

Yet none of the routine or behind-the-scenes work is viewed as tedious. Quite the opposite, in fact.

A life built around horses has always felt like home for Davidson.

Her love for horses and horse racing began at an early age, with time spent at Dresden Racetrack watching drivers and trainers put their trotters and pacers through their paces each morning.

She had a front-row seat for it all.

"My dad was a trainer when I was very young, so that is how my connection to racing all started," said Davidson, who would eventually take on the role of groom in her father's stable. "When I was around 4 or 5, we were stabled at Dresden, at the barn that is no longer there. Of course, I was there every day while my dad took care of the horses.

"Horsepeople took a board and put it from the barn to the fence, and that is where I sat for the day. I got to sit there and watch everyone jog their horses. All the horsemen that were there would take care of the kids who came out to the racetrack. It was a very family-oriented atmosphere, much like a fair track, where everyone helped everybody out."

When her father stepped away from racing, so too did a then-teenage Davidson.

"We had a couple horses at home, so we had that attachment," she said. "I had my kids and lived in the city, so I had that urban lifestyle."

It was, of all things, a drive outside the hustle and bustle of city life that steered her back to the racing world.

Looking out her car window, Davidson saw something that immediately drew her attention, prompting her to pull over.

"When my kids started school, I drove past [trainer] Darryl Laver's place and he had an old broodmare out in the field," Davidson said. "My dad knew Darryl from back in the day, so we stopped."

And then it hit her.

"It was that moment, the one that allowed me to get back into racing," she said. "I had always loved it, and I missed it when I was away from it."

Her unabashed affection and reconnection to the sport prompted a purchase.

Not only was Davidson ready to resume her caretaking career, she was also set to join the ranks of horse ownership.

It was a modest purchase, a $5,000 claimer with a larger-than-life name that belied his physique.

"I had never owned any when I was younger," she said. "Not long after I decided to come back, I bought Real Big. He was not really big. He was this tiny little thing, who tried his heart out when he wanted to and some days, he did the opposite. But that was okay to me."

Real Big was the beginning, but it wouldn't be long before another horse would leave a much deeper imprint on Davidson.

His name was Petro Dealin.

A bay son of Wheeling N Dealin, the trotter, bred and owned by Laver, would race 50 times, winning on six occasions and hitting the top three 23 times.

"When I first got back into racing, we were racing his mother, Harleigh Ryder, and that was the first foal out of her," Davidson said. "He was special. He had a personality, so he was entertaining. He had the typical Wheeling N Dealin attitude, where he couldn't stand still for very long. He learned how to get out of his stall pretty early on. Unfortunately, we lost him to an injury."

Davidson still gets emotional over the passing of Petro Dealin.

Her bond with the bay is there for anyone to see.

"He was the inspiration behind my first tattoo," she said. "I took his horseshoe — the guy at the racetrack pulled his shoes that night he passed – and the tattoo artist was able to put that horseshoe print on me. It has the little markings on them... just a way to always remember him.”

There have been other unforgettable horses – many of them – over her time in racing.

Davidson doesn’t have to manufacture the closeness she feels with her horses.

“We have had lots of wonderful horses over the years,” she said. “They have such unique personalities, and you fall in love with all the quirks. Sometimes, you fall in love with the things that drive you crazy. I have an old trotter now. At this point, he’s more pet than racehorse. He goes out and does what he wants each day. He knows when he comes back to the barn that it doesn’t matter.”

What does matter to Davidson is maintaining a meticulous approach and patient hand with each horse she’s tasked with taking care of.

“I love when we get a horse here, we take care of it and you can see that they are happy,” she said. “They are racing to their ability and everything is good for them. I love seeing them flourish. We do a little bit of breeding. I love seeing the foals and the characteristics they get from the mares. And seeing them develop and make it to the races... it’s amazing to watch a horse you have had from day one makes it to the races. It’s even more special when a homebred wins their first race.”

A familiar face has joined her in the barn, someone whose love for equines, it seems, matches strides with hers.

“My daughter, Brooke, has the horse bug, too,” Leanne said. “She goes out and jogs them and trains them. She’s been great at it.”

Brooke no doubt has a great mentor to look up to, one whose passion for horses is on full display during the races.

Leanne is literally in the zone in those moments.

“My heart races so fast,” she said. “It doesn’t matter what race it is. My heart races the whole time they are on the track. People can be around me and I don’t even know they are there. I am locked in on my horse. I just want to see them cross the wire and that they are okay. Hopefully, they race great, but if they don’t, that’s okay.”

Certain moments, although few and far between, can be challenging for Leanne.

“When you have a horse where you can’t figure them out – their equipment, or they aren’t feeling right – that is the toughest part,” she said. “My first priority is to make sure they are happy and healthy.”

For Leanne, caring for horses has always been about a bond that follows her long after she leaves the barn.

ADVENTURES IN ILLINOIS

with NEIL MILBERT

Hawthorne faces more issues

by Neil Milbert

Judge Timothy Barnes of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court of Northern Illinois has delayed until Wednesday (Sept. 30) and, if necessary, Oct. 7, decisions on requests by U.S. Trustee Adam Brief, the Illinois Gaming Board and the Illinois Racing Board regarding ongoing issues confronting Tim Carey, the president of permanently closed Hawthorne Race Course.

Originally, hearings and decisions were scheduled for Sept. 23.

Brief wants the court to either dismiss Hawthorne's Feb. 27 filing for Chapter 11 bankruptcy or change it to a Chapter 7 designation, thereby stripping the track that formerly conducted harness and thoroughbred meetings of its debtor-in-possession status. He is charging that the president of the family-owned former racetrack cannot manage a successful reorganization and, alleges "gross mismanagement and human cost."

The Gaming Board has filed a motion to take away the dormant casino and sports wagering license Hawthorne was granted in 2020 because it no longer operates a racetrack.

The Racing Board is asking the judge to allow it to begin administrative proceedings to revoke the Hawthorne organization license that is scheduled to expire on Dec. 31 and take action to terminate the licenses of the 11 northern Illinois off-track betting parlors operating under the Hawthorne umbrella and take away its advance deposit wagering license.

There also are some other Hawthorne issues that the Racing Board is asking Judge Barnes to consider:

- Hawthorne closed its on-site OTB without providing advance notice that is required by the statute;
- Carey failed to submit the bookkeeper reports requests by the board for the thoroughbred horsemen's purse accounts for July and August — the last report received was for the week of June 29;
- Another alleged violation was the $720,000 in unpaid charitable assessments intended to support backstretch surfaces.

Hawthorne's closing leaves the Chicago metropolitan area – which had seven racetracks in the early 1970s – without a single one and Illinois without a pari-mutuel harness track.

The board notified Carey on July 1 that the track was $593,893 in arrears for its thoroughbred meeting and $126,000 for its Suburban Downs harness meeting and set a 30-day deadline that expired without any payments being paid.

Hawthorne's bounced checks and deficient purse account prevented Suburban Downs from conducting its winter harness meeting in January and February and its November and December dates had to be cancelled after the track went out of business.

The thoroughbred meeting got underway in April three weeks later than scheduled and ended on July 19, nearly four months prior to the scheduled closing date.

Hawthorne's closing leaves the Chicago metropolitan area – which had seven racetracks in the early 1970s – without a single one and Illinois without a pari-mutuel harness track.

The state's only surviving racetrack is Fairmount Park, a racino that conducts thoroughbred racing in downstate Collinsville across the Mississippi River from St. Louis.

Located in suburban Stickney, near Chicago's Midway Airport, Hawthorne inaugurated thoroughbred racing in 1891 and added harness racing in 1970.

Four years after Illinois banned gambling in 1905 the track was sold by its builder, Edward Corrigan, to Thomas Carey, who was instrumental in reviving betting on racing in the early 1920s. Thomas Carey and his heirs owned the track until Sept. 2 of this year when Allimac 23, a Delaware shell corporation that was the only bidder in the bankruptcy proceedings closed on its $90 million acquisition.

Allimac reportedly was representing data center giant Digital Realty of Austin, TX.

If Digital Realty plans to convert the 119-acre site into a data center it faces major obstacles. The Stickney Village Board has passed a resolution banning data centers and the next-door suburb of Cicero has passed a resolution opposing their construction in close proximity.

NOTE: In my Sept. 18 column the name of the Illinois Racing Board projects manager, Bob Denneen, was misspelled. I apologize for the error.

SIRE STAKES REPORT

Dunn strikes grand slam in Kentucky Golden Rod finals

by Ray Coto for The Red Mile

Dexter Dunn, the leading driver of the 2026 meeting at The Red Mile by a sizeable margin, added four more victories to his holster inside of the eight $50,000 Kentucky Golden Rod Series finals contested on the Tuesday (Sept. 22) card.

Dunn opened the stakes action with undefeated Gagosian, who collected his fifth straight victory when taking his competition around the track to win the $50,000 Kentucky Golden Rod Series final for 2-year-old trotting colts and geldings in 1:55.2.

Dunn cruised out of post 8 to lead with the Marcus Melander trainee through a :29.2 first quarter and faced minimal pressure through middle splits of :58.3 and 1:27.2 in progress to a 2¼-length win with MadebyVolo (Todd McCarthy) chasing from a ground-saving trip in second. Dad's Tab (Tim Tetrick) kicked from second-over for third and Senor Julio (Marvin Luna) rallied from last for fourth.

A colt by Walner—Basquiat, Gagosian has now banked $50,000 for owners Brittany Farms LLC and S R F Stable. He paid $5.04 to win.

Dunn immediately returned to the winner's circle when ripping off cover with Rowdy Station to seize victory in the $50,000 Kentucky Golden Rod Series final for 2-year-old pacing colts and geldings.

After parking through the first turn and to a :28.1 first quarter, Dunn fished cover to race third-over while A Bettor Dream (Luna) flushed out of fourth to lead the outside charge to a :56.1 half and 1:24.2 three-quarters. Dunn swung Rowdy Station to the center of the track spinning for home and surged by rivals to take the lead in the stretch while holding off a late push from Reflector (Todd McCarthy) by a head as he rallied from second-over late. A Bettor Dream gave pursuit from third and Perfect Joe (Yannick Gingras) sat a stalking trip for fourth.

Chris Ryder trains Rowdy Station, a gelding by Huntsville—Rodeo Rosie, and co-owns him with Henderson Farms, Robert Mondillo, and Pryde Stables Inc. The gelding won his fourth race from seven starts and has now earned $56,100. He paid $13.88 to win.

Dunn and Ryder teamed for another victory on the card when 8-5 chalk Need You Now steamrolled first up into the last turn to take the lead and win the $50,000 Kentucky Golden Rod Series final for 3-year-old pacing fillies in a 1:51.2 mile.

Dunn planted Need You Now into fourth through a :28.1 first quarter and stayed put as Naughty Beauty (Gingras), the second favorite at 9-5, led the field to a :57 half. As the tempo quickened to three-quarters in 1:24.3, Dunn angled Need You Now off the pylons and marched forward to eventually collar Naughty Beauty in the lane. From there, Need You Now coasted to the beam a 1¼-length winner chased by pocket-popping She's A Rich Girl (Tim Tetrick) in second. Nash (Todd McCarthy) rallied from off the speed for third and Naughty Beauty settled for fourth.

Ryder trains Need You Now, a homebred Captaintreacherous—Dream Outloud filly, for owner Dr. Fred Kruszelnicki. The filly won her third race from 12 starts this season and her fifth race from 19 starts in her career, earning $98,135. She paid $5.46 to win.

Dunn and trainer Melander completed a bookend of the day's finals with a victory by Mine Mine Mine in the last final of the day, the $50,000 Kentucky Golden Rod Series final for 2-year-old trotting fillies.

Settling into third from the pylon draw through a :28.3 first quarter, Dunn looped Mine Mine Mine towards the lead on the backstretch and grabbed control before a :56.4 half. Your Grace (Luna) tipped off the pylons from fourth heading for the last turn and inched up the rim towards the leader, but Mine Mine Mine clicked past three-quarters in 1:25.2 and held her ground to the finish. Putitondad'stab gave chase from a pocket trip in second, beaten 2¼ lengths, with Your Grace settling for third and Only By Request (Mattias Melander) closing from third-over for fourth.

Chapel sprung from a shuffle to score a 1:53.2 win in the $50,000 Kentucky Golden Rod Series final for 3-year-old trotting colts and geldings.

Scott Zeron sent Chapel for the front out of post 6 and yielded command to longshot Caraxes (Gingras) passing a :28.3 first quarter. Nicholson (Dunn) soon brushed forward to take the lead, but Dunn then parked Castro (Atlee Bender) as he pressed towards the top approaching a :56.3 half. Castro matched strides with Nicholson to three-quarters in 1:25, where Zeron found clearance to slide Chapel off the pylons for the stretch drive. Chapel eked through a gap at the top of the lane and gathered speed to take the lead and hold his ground late for a half-length win over Lethal Legacy (Andy McCarthy), who split horses from an inside path for second. Nicholson took third and Impossible Bi (Marcus Miller) closed down the center of the track for fourth.

Anette Lorentzon trains Chapel, a gelding by Chapter Seven—Beautiful Game, for owners Dream With Me Florida LLC and Follow Me Stable LLC. The gelding collected his fifth win from 15 starts this season and from 21 starts in his career, earning $76,947. He paid $11.72 to win.

Joey Putnam placed Era Dominance on the front after the quarter and left his rivals to the rear for a 1:51.2 victory in the $50,000 Kentucky Golden Rod Series final for 2-year-old pacing fillies.

Putnam pushed past longshot leader Holy (Todd McCarthy) after a :27.4 first quarter to take control with the 3-5 favorite while maintaining her speed through a :55.4 half and 1:24 three-quarters. Era Dominance turned away a first-over challenge from Odds On Momma (Dunn) coming for home and strode to a snug victory by 1½ lengths with Jk Alwaysbpositive (Tim Michael Hitchcock trains Era Dominance, a filly by JK Endofanera—Always Soggy, for owner William Hartt. The filly won her fourth race from six starts and has now earned $96,735. She paid $3.48 to win.

Luna marched 9-5 second choice Numanthia up the rim moving for the last turn and muscled clear of the competition for a 1:53.2 victory in the $50,000 Kentucky Golden Rod Series final for 3-year-old trotting fillies.

Luna landed Numanthia into fourth out of post 8 coming to a :28.3 first quarter and angled off the pylons approaching a :56.4 half to challenge new leader Julia Priceless (Andy McCarthy) through the last turn. Numanthia drew alongside Julia Priceless and effortlessly edged past three-quarters in 1:25.1 to scamper three lengths clear of her rivals heading for the finish. Pillsbury burst onto the scene late from last but settled for second, beaten 2¼ lengths, with Clemency (Todd McCarthy) chasing from a second-over trip for third and La Mancha (Trace Tetrick) following from a ground-saving journey in fourth.

Bob Stewart trains Numanthia, a filly by Six Pack—Illuminata, for owners Morgan and Nicolas Roussel. The filly has now won five races from eight starts this season and seven races from 16 starts in her career, banking $88,775. She paid $5.92 to win.

Ron Burke trainee Stingman persevered through a parked mile to land a 1:50 victory in the $50,000 Kentucky Golden Rod Series final for 3-year-old pacing colts and geldings.

Gingras floated Stingman out of post 2 to race seventh through a :27 first quarter as odds-on favorite Benny B Hill (Dunn) led a shuffle for the lead to the backstretch. Gingras nestled Stingman into the outer tier and found himself uncovered once L B I (Andy McCarthy) brushed by Benny B Hill to take the lead to a :54 half. Stingman dug into L B I through the last turn, pushed past that rival after three-quarters in 1:21.3 and kept him at bay all through the lane for a game victory by three-quarters-of-a-length. Benny B Hill chased in third with Gunmetal (Todd McCarthy) giving pursuit from a second-over trip for fourth.

A gelding by Perfect Sting—Captiva, Stingman competes for owners Jack Piatt III, Scott Croftcheck, Joseph Seman, and William Schmid. He won his 11th race from 20 starts this season and from 22 starts in his career, earning $117,150. He paid $6.10 to win.

Live harness racing at The Red Mile resumes with the start of the Grand Circuit meeting Thursday (Oct. 1), featuring the Bluegrass Stakes for 2-year-old trotting males and 2-year-old pacing fillies. First-race post time is 1 p.m. (EDT).

Maine SIRE STAKES REPORT

Maine trotters frolic at Farmington

by Chris Tully for Maine Sire Stakes

With the Maine Sire Stakes back on the Pine Tree State's famed fair circuit all four divisions of 2- and 3-year-old trotters found their way to the Farmington Fair on Wednesday (Sept. 23) for five $16,000-plus divisions of the diagonally gaited set.

The only $17,035 pari-mutuel race for freshmen male trotters witnessed Heath Campbell send Pembroke Zagursky right to the top while 2-5 favorite U Know I Know (Ken Watson) made a break at the start.

Campbell arrived at the first station in :29.4 with a six-length advantage, while Come On Charlie (Mark Athearn) was making up ground to close the pocket gap by the time they hit the half in 1:01.3.

Back on stride, U Know I Know was out and rolling first over in third when the pacesetter hit the third panel in 1:31.4. At that point Campbell sent his charge on a faster path to the finish, posting a :30 final quarter and winning by 10½ open lengths.

It was the second straight score for the son of Pembroke Slugger who took a new 2:01.4 record and returned $5.40.

Trained by Valerie Grondin for owner Brenda Varney, he was bred in Maine by the late Bill Varney.

U Know I Know rallied for second; Race Me Bruno was third.

A pair of $16,000-plus non-wagering events for 3-year-old trotting fillies resulted in wire-to-wire efforts for both Out Last Quote (driver Steve Wilson, trainer Charlene Cushing) who picked up her second consecutive win and a new record in 2:01.2, and Hayden (Gary Hall) who found redemption after an uncharacteristic miscue in her last outing to stroll home a winner in 2:05.1.

In the $16,783 Maine Sire Stake for 3-year-old trotting colts and geldings, Wilder N Idy (Mark Athearn, Gretchen Athearn) got back to his winning ways, nearly equaling his lifetime mark with a 2:00.3 triumph.

For 2-year-old trotting fillies in the $16,681 dash Princess Caledonia rolled from pillar to post in 2:05 for trainer/driver Gary Hall.

Looking ahead, the Maine Sire Stakes action continues at Farmington with 2-year-old male pacers on Friday (Sept. 25). Then the series transitions to the Cumberland Fair with the sophomores racing Sept. 29 through Oct. 2 and then the lucrative freshman finals slated for Saturday (Oct. 3).

For more information about the Maine Standardbred Breeders Stakes, follow them on Facebook @ MaineBreedersAssociation, or go to their website: MaineSireStakes.com.

SNOWONTHEPINES GETS NUMBER 19 AT FARMINGTON

Maine's top 3-year-old pacing filly Snowonthepines picked up her 19th lifetime win on Monday (Sept. 21), at the Farmington Fair, and retains her perfect record.

With the first $17,209 division for sophomore distaff pacers, held before the regular card, it was yet another wire-to-wire circuit for divisional star Snowonthepines.

Driver Kevin Switzer, Jr. posted swift early fractions of :28.1 and :58.4 with Ron Cushing and Just Delightful sitting in a tight pocket through a 1:29.3 third panel.

Snowonthepines had some pressure from the stalking Just Delightful, but prevailed by three-parts-of-a-length in 1:58.1, it was the filly's 10th consecutive seasonal victory, and 19th of her career.

Last season, the daughter of Dude's The Man was victorious in all nine of her 2-year-old outings, and now has $179,533 in lifetime earnings for trainer Marc Tardif and owner/breeder Leighton Property.

Race Me Ireland (Andy Harrington) was third.

In the second $17,209 division the 2-5 favorite Dudelooklikeafly (Aaron Hall) cut moderate :30.2 and 1:01 fractions to the half.

Heading past the half and down the backstretch the final time, Perfectly Lovely was sent first over by driver Kevin Switzer, Jr. Reeling in the leader down the stretch the daughter of Western Maverick prevailed by a quarter-length in 1:59.1.

Trained by Jimmy Nickerson for owner Joseph Trice, it was her first win of the season, and a new record. She was bred in Maine by Lynn-Marie Plouffe and returned $12.60.

Graceofspades (Dave Ingraham) was third.

Wagering menu announced for Mohawk Million Night

Woodbine Entertainment today released the official wagering menu for this year's Mohawk Million card taking place this Saturday (Sept. 26) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The richest night in Canadian racing is headlined by the Mohawk Million and Metro Pace, two $1 million Grade 1 stakes. The card also features three additional Grade 1 events: the Canadian Trotting Classic, She's A Great Lady, and Eleganceimage.

An extensive wagering menu will complement the evening's stakes action, highlighted by a $100,000 Guaranteed Early Pick-5 and a $100,000 Guaranteed All Stakes Pick-5. Plus, mandatory payouts of the Pick-6 (race 5) and the Jackpot Hi-5 (race 7).

A special $5 Woodbine Stakes Pick-3 will also be offered, linking races 6, 7, and 10. Note that this wager will appear as a separate card from the main Woodbine standardbred card and will be listed as "Woodbine Stakes Pick-3" wherever Woodbine wagering is available.

The Bet Ontario Handicapping Contest will also return to Woodbine Mohawk Park, marking the fifth of six qualifying legs in the 2026 series. On-site registration will be available prior to race 1.

Participants will exchange $100 for a tournament-specific HPIbet wagering card and compete by wagering on races at the host track, with all winnings theirs to keep. The top three finishers will receive $500, $300, and $200, respectively, and earn berths in the championship on Oct. 10. Strong performances can also help participants qualify through the overall standings.

With just two qualifying legs remaining, the Sept. 26 contest provides horseplayers with another opportunity to earn prize money and move closer to a championship berth.

Below is the full list of featured wagers for Mohawk Million Night:

- Race 1: $100,000 Guaranteed Early Pick-5
- Race 3: Early Pick-4
- Race 5: Pick-6 mandatory payout
- Race 6: $100,000 Guaranteed All-Stakes Pick 5
- Races 6, 7, and 10: Woodbine Stakes $5 Pick 3
- Race 7: Jackpot Hi-5 mandatory payout
- Race 9: Late Pick-5
- Race 10: Late Pick-4
