

Shattering records: Lexington sale concludes with $60 million gross, record average

Hip #728 Zoetry, a Volstead filly out of Walner Payton topped the fourth and final session with a bid of $250,000 from Armitage Farm. The filly was sold by Hunterton.

Record fourth session powers sale above $80,000 average for first time.

The 2026 edition of the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale wrapped Thursday evening (Oct. 8), and the fourth and final session helped push the gross to over $60 million for the fifth time in history and established a new standard in sale average at $81,320, the first time topping the $80,000 mark. And more importantly, did so with fewer days and fewer horses.

Over the course of the four sessions which commenced Monday evening, 746 yearlings passed through the Fasig-Tipton Newtown Paddocks sale ring. The gross of $60,665,000 was the fifth best in sale history. That figure signaled a slight decrease over 2025's gross — $60,891,000 — with 144 fewer horses cataloged. By contrast, the overall sale average jumped nearly 19 per cent over 2025 ($68,417), and 10 per cent more than the 2022 figure of $73,690.

"Well, reading the numbers, we grossed the same this year as we did last year, within thousands of dollars," said sale co-manager David Reid. “The average was up. We ended up selling 746 horses this year and we averaged $81,000. I don’t think there’s been a sale that’s averaged $81,000 with that number of horses sold. It’s one for the historians, but we believe it’s a record. We grossed $60,681,320 for the whole sale. It’s just a testament to all the breeders, like we say, and the consignors. I think it just wraps up a great week here.”

Thursday’s session established records for the sale’s final day, with 125 yearlings grossing $4,978,000 while averaging just shy of $40,000 ($39,824). A dozen babies bringing $100,000 or more helped power the record numbers. The evening started strong, with the second horse through the ring, Hip #664 Brand New Man, bringing $110,000. The night finished with Downbytheseaside colt Hip #792 Walrus selling for $70,000.

“We made adjustments this year to our format and I think those were welcomed by both buyers and sellers,” said sale co-manager Bruce Brinkerhoff. “We had sensed a shift in the market over the last couple years and I feel the results speak for themselves.

“Our first session had the highest average in the history of the breed and our total sale average was also the highest ever for a standardbred sale. We came within a couple hundred thousand dollars of last year’s gross and sold 140 less horses. We had a great set of yearlings to market and the results reflect that.”

Thursday’s closing session, traditionally held Friday as a showcase of horses from regional programs in Indiana and Ohio, was ruled by offspring from Downbytheseaside. Of the 12 yearlings that brought six figure final bids Thursday, seven were from the Ohio-based stallion.

While “Seaside” led the session, it was a filly from another Buckeye stallion that fetched the top bid. Hip #728 Zoetry, an Ohio and Kentucky eligible yearling from the Hunterton Sales Agency consignment, fetched $250,000. The filly is the first foal from $800,000-winning Walner mare Walner Payton. Armitage Farm made the purchase.

“I made the comment before the sale that when people came up to me before the sale and say, ‘Who do you like?’ that I said you could talk about Jolene’s colt, that sold for $600,000 and those ones, but I said I know who is going to top the last session, which was this filly,” said Hunterton’s Steve Stewart. “My caveat to that was that if she doesn’t top the sale, that somebody got a very good buy. That was my line prior to the sale.

“Most people were, like, ‘Who’s Volstead?’ and what not. She’s Walner Payton, a Walner out of a Muscle Hill mare. Well, if you start looking around, there’s not a lot of top stallions at that time three years ago... now you’ve got Captain Corey and some other stallions, T C I.

“Back then, you didn’t have a lot of choices. The people had called me... Virgil Morgan and some of the Ohio people said,

'Have you got any Volsteads?' I said, 'No.' His opinion of the horse was a lot higher then, than it is now – it's kind of gone down a little bit, but I don't think he got the mares that could support him. I know that there was a really, really good filly Down Under. He stood Down Under for a year or two, so he can produce a good horse.

"But this filly... I told Armitage, who bought her, I think she has the most earning potential of any yearling in the sale because of the fact that she's a wonderful trotting filly and she's eligible to Ohio. And you don't have to beat Chapter Sevens and you don't have to beat Walners and the top Grand Circuit stallions – not to take anything away from Ohio, but when you're racing against third or fourth crop In Ranges... So, she's got a wonderful chance to earn money in Ohio. She's got a great fallback, if she's not a Grand Circuit mare, then she can earn a lot of money in Ohio."

Armitage Farms' Tim Hayes said that Zoetry will make a nice addition to the farm's broodmare band, but not before she gets a chance to race.

"We liked her pedigree and that she was dual eligible to Ohio and Kentucky," he said. "There's great earning potential in both those states and with being close to both states we'll be able to race both jurisdictions. With that pedigree, down the road, being a Volstead, she can get bred to just about anything.

"We paid what we had to pay. As far as buying and selling... when we're buying, it's what we had to pay. When we're selling, that's what they thought it was worth. Otherwise, you're just going to drive yourself crazy."

Steve and Cindy Stewart's Hunterton Farm topped all consignors in gross sales, with a roster of 106 babies bringing $11,717,000. Kentuckiana Farm ranked second in gross sales (92 for $8,540,000), followed by Preferred Equine (115 for $6,234,000), and Concord Stud Farm (47 for $4,842,000).

average of $242,857. Blue Chip Farm's nine-horse consignment followed with a $161,000 average, while Hunterton ranked third with a $110,538 average. Cameo Hills (30/$107,400) and Concord Stud Farm (47/$103,021) rounded out the top five.

Following last year's sale, Reid indicated changes were coming to the sale. Reducing the sessions from five to four, and cutting over 100 yearlings from the catalog achieved the desired results for both the sale company and consignors. The session adjustments were also reactionary to a number of factors.

"It was really a multiple tier effect – originally, the thought process was that the marketplace was being a little bit more selective, we felt, based on the prices that the horses were bringing," Reid said. "After last year's sale, management wanted to tighten it up a little bit. That was our first inclination. We had been over 900 yearlings being sold for a number of years and we really wanted to bring it down to closer to 800.

"Then, in March and April, when the dates for the Breeders Crown were released and it was moved forward a week, so The Red Mile dates were affected, so they went back to the traditional Thursday, Friday, Saturday racing. So, when they did that, we just kind of tightened it up more and we figured it wouldn't be a problem and we'd just adjust our schedule a little bit and go to four days with a little bit longer sessions.

"I think the initial response is obviously very good, but we'll analyze the whole situation again. All week, we've heard good things from the consignors. Coming off a night like tonight, I'm assuming people are happy."

Throughout the week, consignors indicated the changes had resulted in a stronger catalog and better results in each session. Stewart drove home the point again Thursday evening.

"Absolutely fantastic," he said. "We really pushed for that. We thought it made a lot of sense, to do away with 60, 70, or 80 horses and take those extra horses and just put 30 or 40... start the sale at 11 o'clock and they did it and I think it worked brilliantly.

"A lot of people said, 'Oh, 11 o'clock is too early.' We had the first horse in the sale at 11 on Tuesday and he brought $100,000. We had the first horse in the sale yesterday and it brought $75,000, and we were very happy with both of those sales. The money is Walner led all stallions in gross sales for the third consecutive year. This year’s group of 75 progeny garnered total sales of $11,204,000. His $149,387 per-yearling average was second only to Chapter Seven’s benchmark of $173,929 for 56 sold. To his credit, Chapter Seven grossed $9,740,000, and together, the two trotting sires accounted for nearly $21 million in total sales, over one-third of Lexington Selected Yearling Sale’s gross sales.

Ranked by gross, Walner and Chapter seven were followed by:

- Tactical Landing – $5,109,000 for 52, averaging $98,250
- Confederate – $4,300,000 for 51, good for a $84,314 average
- Captaintreacherous – $4,205,000 for 49, $85,816
- Sweet Lou – $3,547,000 for 47, $76,043

The first crop of pacing stallion Cannibal grossed $796,000 for 16 ($49,750 average), while trotting stallion Tactical Approach grossed $888,000 for 29 sold ($30,621 average). First crop sires Lou’s

Pearlman (three averaging $43,333) and Branded By Lindy (seven averaging $24,286) were also represented in Thursday’s session.

Don't make me leave!

by Gordon Waterstone

Dave Landry

BACKSTRETCH WITH GORDON

with GORDON WATERSTONE

No! Don't make me go! Don't make me leave! That's how I was feeling Thursday afternoon while attending the races at The Red Mile. How could anybody want to leave the historic track when it was 80 degrees with nary a cloud in the sky?

But alas, I had to as I had to make my way home so I could pen today's column. I decided to not head to The Red Mile for a morning tour because racing was getting underway at 1 p.m., and while driving to the track I was glad I didn't as the traffic was brutal.

After several consecutive days of eating dinner out, I decided to stay home on Wednesday night. Decided may not be the proper word as it was solely because nobody offered up an invitation. Not even the Brian Brown group, who gathered together for dinner at the Merrick Inn patio, where I live. And no, Judy and Diane Wilson, I did not open a can of spaghetti for dinner. It was a can of chili.

Before I headed to the track yesterday, I decided to grab lunch at Drakes, which is across the street from where I live. Manager Andy stopped by the table to chat for a minute as he had introduced himself a couple of weeks ago while I was there. Andy told me that this past Tuesday night there were two large groups of Canadians who dined at adjacent Malone's after attending Day 2 of the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale. I don't know who you all were, but Andy said everybody couldn't have been nicer and enjoyed the conversation.

There's still a couple of nights left before you might be leaving town, so be sure to stop in to Malone's or Drakes, and tell manager Andy or server Chasity I sent you. Not that it'd get you anything, but maybe I can get a free dessert in the future.

Speaking of the sale, I'll have a wrap-up in my next Backstretch With Gordon that will appear in Sunday's (Oct. 11) HRU. But after three days, my sponsors, Steve and Cindy Stewart's Hunterton Sales Agency lead the way with 93 sold for a gross of $10,847 million.

One thing I forgot yesterday but a great interview by Heather Vitale with Ken McPeck at the sale on Tuesday reminded me that I had also learned that the well-known thoroughbred trainer is going to start dabbling with harness horses via a connection with Kjell Andersen. Ken made history in 2024 when his horses Mystik Dan and Thorpedo Anna won the Kentucky Derby and Kentucky Oaks, respectively, over the same weekend. I remember sitting at the bar on the Merrick patio having dinner a few weeks later and a guy I thought I knew sat across from me. I thought it was John Fielding so I waved and he waved back, and then I realized it wasn't John, but rather it was Kenny McPeck. He grew up in Lexington and I later learned he was here because he was being honored by Mayor Linda Gorton the next day with Kenny McPeck day.

So back to yesterday at the races, which was the first of the final three days of Grand Circuit action at The Red Mile. I did a loop on the apron and it was there that I bumped into longtime Michigander friend Mike Micallef. Mike said he was there with his dad, so I went over to their picnic table and said hello to Lewis. Mike's wife Tracy was also there, as were a couple but I didn't write the names down. Sorry about that.

I noted to Mike that they were all sitting at a table that my dear, dear friend, Michigan Hall of Famer Lee Sattelberg, used to sit with his wife Denna and Patty Wright Robinson. Sadly, Lee passed away last November, and Denna just two months later also passed away. I was hoping to see Patty this year but she was unable to make the trip.

I stuck my head into the clubhouse and decided to take a peek at the buffet offerings. I stopped for a second to say hello to The Red Mile's president and CEO Joe Costa and CFO/COO Shannon Cobb, who were having lunch. The big Winbak Farm group were having lunch and I asked Chris Fout if they left their mascot Michael Carter home today and she said, "No, he's up at the buffet getting food."

As I walked back down to go outside, I ran into the Harness Racing Hall of Fame and Museum's director Janet Terhune and her daughter Kate Forry. It wasn't long after that I also saw Janet's husband, Mark Loewe.

I then took a walk along the upper grandstand boxes where I saw Dean Hoffman, Richard Stone, and Wally Mann huddled together in deep conversation. I saw Bill Bigler sitting by himself a few rows up in the grandstand seats so I joined him for a few races. Nick Salvi, Mario Zuanetti, and Bill Elliott each walked by and said hello.

Track announcer Gabe Prewitt handed the microphone off to Michael Carter — who has announcing skills and has done so at several racetracks — to call race 5. Michael had called an entire race card at The Red Mile several years ago, so he wasn't totally new to the booth.

Michael did a great job and his excitement showed as a thrilling stretch duel took place. And Michael called the winner. But his winner wasn't the winner of the photo finish so the order was reversed. In Michael's defense, the angle of the finish line is tough at The Red Mile, and I too thought Andy McCarthy won with Swing Dancing and not the Josh Sutton-driven Rose Run Zoar.

I did hear Michael apologize afterward, saying it wasn't the first time he called a photo wrong. And while Andy McCarthy may have come up on the short end of that photo, all in all he had a good day as he led the drivers with three victories.

While I was sitting with Billy, driver Tim Tetrick walked by in his colors. Tim had a break for a few races and was on his way to be interviewed by Bob Heyden. I think the interview may have been delayed one race as Jeff Gural was up next on the podium.

After Tim was done and heading back to the paddock, I stopped to ask him how he and the other drivers will be getting to Harrah's Hoosier Park tonight for the Indiana Sires Stakes finals. Today's stakes races at The Red Mile are all scheduled late on the card, and I saw no way the drivers could jump in cars and make it in time for their Indiana mounts.

Tim confirmed that they hoped to get to Hoosier Park by automobiles, but since trains were not available that they banded together to charter a plane from Lexington to Anderson. So, joining Tim on the plane I assume will be Yannick Gingras, Dexter Dunn, and Scott Zeron.

One horse I'm looking forward to seeing is in race 13, a $139,000 International Stallion Stakes division for 2-year-old filly trotters. Starting from post 5 is Dejeuner, who was a $1 million yearling purchase by Patty Key's Winning Key Inc. The daughter of Walner will be driven by Andy McCarthy for trainer Noel Daley. Dejeuner is winless in six career starts, but in four of those she chased the likes of the undefeated Wall Of Fame. I'm sure the connections are happy Wall Of Fame is sitting this week out.

A quick reminder if you are planning on being at The Red Mile for the final two programs, the Stable of Memories Museum will be open from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. Also taking place at the Stable of Memories on Saturday morning is the 50th Anniversary Celebration of the Harness Horse Youth Foundation. Tickets for the brunch are still available at <https://hhuf.org/50th-tickets/> or by finding Ellen Taylor. The brunch at Stable of Memories takes place from 8:30 a.m. to noon, with Hall of Famer John Campbell the keynote speaker.

A check of the weather forecast shows that the remnants of Hurricane Isaias are predicted to pick up the pace and instead of reaching Kentucky late Saturday night/early Sunday morning, they're saying we could see the rain Saturday afternoon during the card. Remember, traffic will be heavy leaving the racetracks as the UK vs. LSU football game starts at 7 p.m.

And while sitting in traffic edging my way to The Red Mile yesterday, I saw regular gas at $4.09 and diesel at $6.39.

Special Day (Andy McCarthy) winning the first International Stallion Stakes division for 2-year-old male trotters on Thursday at The Red Mile.

Whateverittakes As, Special Day storm to International Stallion Stakes wins

by Ray Cotolo for The Red Mile

Odds-on favorite Whateverittakes As and 5-1 shot Special Day both vaulted off speedy early fractions and past expended rivals late to win in their respective $135,500 divisions of the Grade 3 International Stallion Stakes for 2-year-old trotting males on Thursday afternoon (Oct. 8) at The Red Mile.

Entering from a narrow defeat as the 3-2 favorite in a Grade 3 Bluegrass division last week, Kentucky Championship Series winner Whateverittakes As motored off cover to win the quicker of the two divisions with a 1:52.3 effort in the later dash sponsored by the Burke Racing Stable.

Driver Tony Hall cruised from the outermost post in the octet to secure a mid-pack seat as Easy Down Blonde (driven by Tim Tetrick) engaged with early leader Gustav Vasa (Marcus Melander) to a :27.4 first quarter. Easy Down Blonde continued pressing forward and cleared control just before a :55.2 half, where Hall managed to flush cover into a third-over position moving to the last turn.

Mahalo (Scott Zeron) fronted the outside charge but covered once drawing to terms with Easy Down Blonde to three-quarters in 1:25. Jazzy Blues (Todd McCarthy) tipped wide from second over spinning for home with Hall following suit. Whateverittakes As then barreled down the center of the track to swoop to the lead and to the win by 1¼ lengths with End Result (Dexter Dunn) zipping through an inside seam from a stalking trip for second. Gustav Vasa held third and Easy Down Blonde tired to fourth.

"He's pretty versatile," Hall said after the race. "He's good off a trip, he can leave quick. Once we started training him, he was just great about everything. He just kept getting better as the winter went on, and it seems like later in the year he just keeps getting a little better. He showed signs early [but] he's got a couple little issues, so it's up in the air if we're going to go to the Breeders Crown or if this was going to be his last start. We'll know in the next few days what we're going to do."

Anette Lorentzon trains Whateverittakes As, a homebred for ACL Stuteri Ab. The Walner colt, out of Cantab Hall mare Fortunes Dream, won for the fourth time from seven starts in his career and has now banked $336,500. He paid $2.88 to win.

Special Day (Andy McCarthy) soared off cover to post a 1:53.1 victory in the first division for freshman trotting males, sponsored by the Greenhoe Syndicate and Hanover Shoe Farms.

Offenbach (Scott Zeron) pushed for the early lead but yielded command when pocket-sitter Red Storm Hanover (Ake Svanstedt) circled towards the front with oncoming outside pressure approaching a :28.1 first quarter. Free Scottie (Mattias Melander), pushing on the outside through the first turn, broke stride to the backstretch, leaving stablemate Gagosian (Dexter Dunn) uncovered while Special Day tracked behind the action from fifth. Gagosian meanwhile chugged uncovered towards Red Storm Hanover and then edged to the lead just after a :55.3 half.

As the tempo slowed to the last turn, The Reason (Yannick Gingras) tipped out of fourth to launch a first-over attack and McCarthy latched Special Day onto that cover. Red Storm Hanover then vacated as The Reason advanced, and Svanstedt's charge matched strides with tiring Gagosian to three-quarters in 1:24.3. McCarthy launched Special Day three wide rounding for home and kept grinding forward to snatch the lead in mid-stretch and kick clear from there for a 2½-length victory. Red Storm Hanover took second with The Reason staying on for third and The Italian Job (Todd McCarthy) closing widest of all for fourth.

"I skipped one of the legs of the sire stakes and he's starting to come back around," winning trainer Chris Beaver said after the race. "I've noticed lately he's got more life to him. I said if he won today, we'd think about [the Breeders Crown] pretty heavily."

A colt by Walner out of Muscle Hill mare Hello Tomorrow, Special Day has now won three races from nine starts and earned $156,670 for owners Chris Beaver, Bill Manes, and Leo Fleming. He paid $12.30 to win.

Live harness racing at The Red Mile resumes today (Oct. 9) with a 14-race card headlined by the $278,000 International Stallion Stakes for 2-year-old trotting fillies and the $208,000 International Stallion Stakes for 2-year-old pacing males. First-race post time is 1 p.m. (EDT).

ALL OVER ONTARIO

with MATTHEW LOMON

Ruth Moore can do it all, but chooses to focus on breeding and training

by Matthew Lomon

Horses had always been on Ruth Moore's mind growing up, but never a part of her life. Until one day, they were.

"There were no horsepeople in my family; no one had an interest in horses except for me," Moore said. "I just started going to the races with a family friend, helping him groom when I was maybe 10 or 11, and that got me hooked."

An adolescent curiosity quickly became a full-fledged fascination for Moore, who began building her equine education in both the barns of a highly respected Ontario racing family and the classrooms of Humber College.

"I started working for Lorne Brethour," Moore said. "I worked for Morley [Brethour], and I worked for Wim [Wilmot Brethour]. Murray [Brethour] was maybe 15 then. I was like a sponge — I just absorbed everything. I loved it right from the get-go."

"Then, I went to Humber for the Equine Studies course. I ended up working at the thoroughbred track between first and second year and worked for the Brethours part-time. I was three days at Woodbine with the thoroughbreds and four days with the Brethours."

Her time with the latter left a lasting impression.

"I stuck with the standardbreds," Moore said. "That was it for me."

Equipped with the tools to launch a career of her own, Moore took the leap and obtained her trainer's license in her early 20s.

Shortly after, the newly-minted conditioner purchased her first racehorse — a pacing mare named The Do Ins — from Millar Farms.

"She was a horse that didn't fit their class, so they sold her off cheap, and I bought her," Moore said. "She gave me one to have a little bit of fun training and racing."

The daughter of Armbro Ranger—Pats High Sea provided

"[My husband] Jamie [Hastie] and I, we just enjoy [harness racing]. That's why we do it. We don't do it for a living. It's a hobby, and the grassroots people, I believe, are what makes this industry run. We're just happy to be part of it."

— Ruth Moore

Moore with a wealth of first-hand experience, which proved especially beneficial on Aug. 28, 1993, at Kawartha Downs — otherwise remembered as the night of Moore's first training win, courtesy of San Ott.

"It was a long journey to get there; it was a big deal," she said of the quarter-length victory. "I bought that horse out of the Delaware sale [Blooded Horse Sale in Delaware, OH]. He cracked a knee before I got him racing, and then that was his comeback — he came back, and he won there."

"I just remember it being quite a feeling of satisfaction to finally get there and get a win with him."

Moore, emboldened by her journey to that point, was always on the lookout for the next challenge, and the ever-evolving horsewoman knew exactly where to find it.

"I was never satisfied with just being a groom, being a trainer," she said. "I wanted to go that one step farther and drive my own horses. I thought that the ultimate fun win would be one that you raised yourself, so I went that route."

Moore's aspirations came to fruition, exactly as she had intended, when she piloted Obra Colleen to a 5¾-length triumph on Dec. 2, 2000, at Flamboro Downs.

"My first win was on a homebred that I couldn't sell because no one wanted her, she was too small," Moore said. "Going into that race, I was fairly confident that she was going to win. I just drove her like she was the best, and that was it. She had some good stats her first few starts. She was a nice little filly for me. It was really satisfying because no one wanted her."

“I was never satisfied with just being a groom, being a trainer. I wanted to go that one step farther and drive my own horses. I thought that the ultimate fun win would be one that you raised yourself, so I went that route.”

— Ruth Moore

As for how Moore's first driving win measured against her first training win, she said, "Oh, there's no comparison. Especially, at that time, I had bred the mare, foaled the mare out, raised it, broke it. Michelle Hogan was working for me and helping me at the time, and we got her going — that win was pretty special.

"Plus, I shod her myself at that time. I was kind of a jack-of-all-trades master of none, but she was just a natural filly, and I had a lot of fun with her."

Moore, who in her words, "had no intentions of being a 'driver driver,'" ended up making 94 starts before relinquishing the reins for good.

It was an organic conclusion to that chapter of her career.

"I knew pretty much after that win that I got at Clinton [Aug. 28, 2011] with a little horse called Stars Go Blue," she said, adding with a chuckle, "I had all kinds of drivers on that horse, and no one could win. Then, I drove him, I got the win, and I was satisfied as weird as that sounds."

At the time, Moore's ventures in training and driving were largely complementary to her duties as a breeder.

"I was mostly playing around with what I didn't get sold because I had my own studs," she said. "I was running a breeding operation, not a training operation. The training part was just an on-the-side thing.

"I usually had three or four studs every year and a bunch of broodmares that I was boarding for people and breeding for people."

Moore's proficiency as an all-around horsewoman continues to shine through the trio of homebreds she and husband, fellow horseman James Hastie, race around the Ontario circuit today.

The group of pacers, R J Ringo, RJ Jean, and A Sailors Delight, all share the same mare, Smilesandchuckles.

The captain, with a 16-10-6 line and more than $175,000 in total purse earnings from 78 starts, R J Ringo has authored some of Moore and Hastie's most memorable moments.

"They've all raced relatively well, and it's been a journey for us because we've always been B-track trainers — [my husband] Jamie had a nice colt years ago — but when [R J] Ringo went to Mohawk, and we won back-to-back [in September 2024] that was probably one of the most satisfying things for us seeing that our little old homebred could go down there and compete."

Moore can always count on her big three giving their all, no matter the stage or opponent.

"They're just about as gritty as they come," she said. "They all go out and do their job, and they're happy to do it. They're just an honest, honest bunch."

Moore, who has been with Hastie since 2010, always had a vision for her life in racing. Now, with Hastie by her side, she gets to live out that dream on their terms.

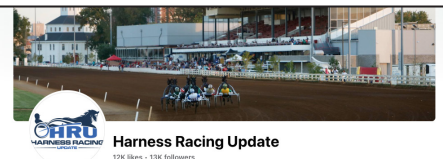

"Jamie and I, we just enjoy it," she said. "That's why we do it. We don't do it for a living. It's a hobby, and the grassroots people, I believe, are what makes this industry run. We're just happy to be part of it."

‘Beau’ vs. the ‘Rocket Man’ highlights $2.8 million Ontario Sires Stakes Super Final Night

by Dave Briggs / Ontario Racing

Trainers Dr. Ian Moore and John Pentland said they can't wait for another round of Beau Jangles vs. Redland Rocket Man, this time in Saturday's (Oct. 10) $350,000 Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Super Final for 3-year-old pacing colts at Woodbine Mohawk Park. It is carded as race 9, the final race of eight straight Super Finals featuring total purses of $2.8 million in purses.

The two Ontario-sired pacers have traded punches 15 times already with Moore's pupil Beau Jangles winning 11 of those.

But Pentland trainee Redland Rocket Man is in top form of late off a 1:46.4 Canadian-record mile, followed by an impressive two-heat victory in the $650,000 Grade 1 Little Brown Jug in Ohio, both in September.

As for Beau Jangles, he's won two straight and three of his last four and posted a career-best 1:47.2 mile in his $112,857 Bluegrass test on Saturday (Oct. 3) at The Red Mile in Lexington, KY.

That means Saturday's 16th meeting between "Beau" and the "Rocket Man" is primed to be an epic slugfest.

"I think it'll be a great race for Ontario racing and Ontario sired horses with John's colt in there," Moore said. "I was just looking at the program, and I see where [Redland Rocket Man] has got well over $700,000 made in Canadian dollars. That's pretty damn good for a Canadian-bred 3-year-old."

Pentland said the match-up is "wonderful" for the Ontario industry.

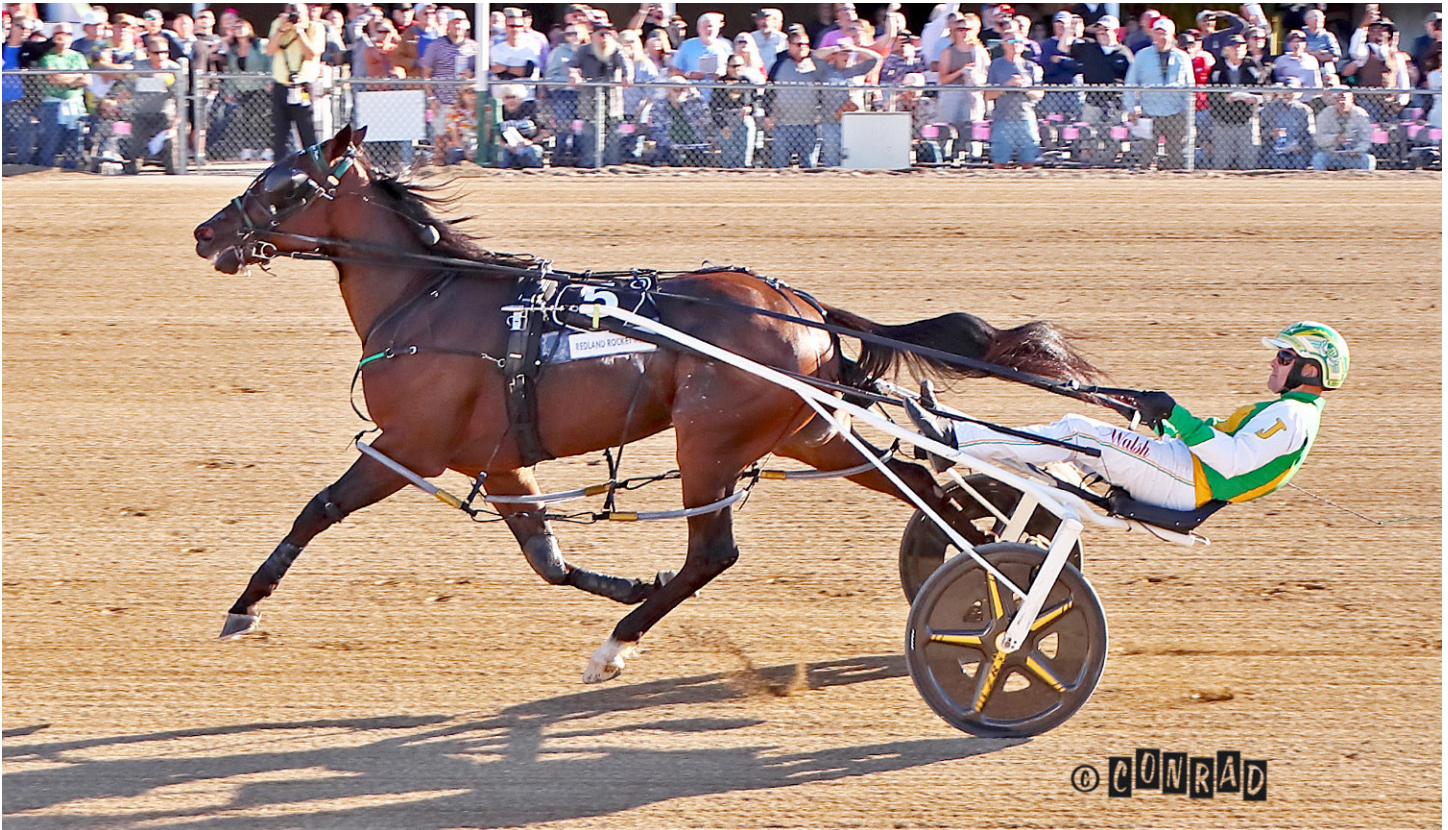

"We're really excited about it," Pentland said. "This is one of those races that people are talking about, and they'll certainly be talking about it after. It's exciting, and it's going to be a marquee race for sure."

Moore said it appears both pacers are heading into the Super Final in super condition.

Dave Landry

Beau Jangles (James MacDonald) winning his Bluegrass test on Saturday at The Red Mile in 1:47.2.

Brad Conrad

Redland Rocket Man (Jody Jamieson) winning the $650,000 Grade 1 Little Brown Jug.

“Earlier on in the summer [Beau wasn’t in] top form, and obviously Rocket Man was, and I think still is,” Moore said. “But, [Beau is] coming to top form now. I was very pleased last Saturday [with his race in Lexington]... The track was not fast that day, so [1:47.2] was a very decent mile, and I think the horse is going to excel from that.”

BEAU VS. ROCKET MAN – TALE OF THE TAPE

Lifetime, Beau Jangles has won 11 of the 15 head-to-head races with Redland Rocket Man and finished on the board 14 times. Redland Rocket Man has finished on the board seven times.

As for recent form, Redland Rocket Man has won two of the last three meetings and has finished ahead of Beau Jangles in three of the last four starts, including the Sept. 12 start in the $140,000 Simcoe at Woodbine Mohawk Park in which Redland Rocket Man set a Canadian record of 1:46.4.

In OSS competition, Beau Jangles has won seven of the nine meetings. Redland Rocket Man has won once, but finished ahead of Beau in two of the last three meetings.

Lifetime, Beau Jangles has won 18 of 25 starts. Redland Rocket Man has won seven of 26 starts.

During Beau Jangles’ perfect 12-for-12 rookie season, which ended with him being voted the Horse of the Year in Canada and the U.S., he out-earned Redland Rocket Man by $1,510,463 ($1,688,750 to $178,287). At 3, Redland Rocket Man has earned $272,797 more than Beau Jangles ($768,133 to $495,336). Lifetime, Beau Jangles has earned more than double what Redland Rocket Man has ($2,184,086 to $946,420).

In terms of Grade 1 wins on their resumes, Beau Jangles has both the $1 million Metro Pace and $959,000 Breeders Crown to his credit, both in 2025. Redland Rocket Man has the Jug, which was held on Sept. 24 of this year. Redland Rocket Man did not contest last year’s Breeders Crown, but was fourth in the Metro final. Beau Jangles did not contest the Jug.

THE OBVIOUS STANDOUTS

On Saturday, Beau Jangles, a son of Cattlewash out of Mrs Major Hill, is the 4-5 morning line favorite out of post 7 with James MacDonald in the sulky. Redland Rocket Man, a gelded son of Bulldog Hanover out of Granny Hanvoer, is the even-money second choice. He will have Jody Jamieson in the bike.

Moore said Beau Jangles is, “in great shape. He hasn’t lost a pound. If he did earlier, he’s put it back on... This will be Beau’s third race in 12 days. As you have heard me say in interviews prior, I have lightened up on the training on him, and it seems to have made a huge difference... I think [the training] might have been overdone in the past, though, not dramatically. Maybe others might have done more than I did, but I still think that's made a difference in the horse, recently. I think he'll handle the three races in 12 days no problem. I gave him an extra day off from Lexington. He raced Saturday, and came home Sunday. So, he had Sunday, Monday, Tuesday off and, basically, jogged yesterday and today."

Pentland said Redland Rocket Man, "came out of the Jug really well. There was just no race for him, so that's the reason he hasn't had a start since. I don't think it's going to affect him, and he's ready for the Super Final.

"I gave him a pretty-easy first week after the Jug. I don't train very hard, anyways. But we trained him about a week ago, and then I went and trained him on Tuesday, a fairly good mile, but maybe about 2:04 in the jogger."

Though it's obvious the two pacers are at the top of the 10-horse field, Moore said not to discount some of the other sophomore pacers in a solid group. As such, the trainer said he doesn't know how the race will unfold.

"I still don't think [Beau Jangles] needs to go to the front every time to win, but in [his Lexington] race, nobody else wanted to," Moore said. "It was really odd, but I think [this Saturday] will be different for sure. And you know, everybody wants to sit behind a good horse, I guess, sit in the 2-hole. So, it'll be interesting to see how it pans out. But yeah, I think [Beau Jangles is] coming back to his form. John's already at his form with Rocket Man, so it'll be very interesting. It will be a good race to watch for sure."

Pentland said, "They're nice horses, but if it comes down to just Beau and Red, it'll be the trip that wins the race."

Beau Jangles, bred by Tara Hills Stud in Port Perry, ON, was a $65,000 yearling purchase. He is owned by the Graham Grace Stable of Clifton, VA, Kiwi Stables of La Plata, MD, and Bolton Stables of Clermont, FL.

Redland Rocket Man, bred by Redland Farms of Bible Hill, NS and foaled in Oyster Bed Bridge, PEI, was a $30,000 yearling purchase. He is owned by Pentland of Dorchester, ON, Murray Cox of Rockwood, ON, and Gary Volpe of St. Thomas, ON.

Both pacers were sold out of the Preferred Equine consignment at the 2024 Standardbred Horse Sales Company's yearling auction in Harrisburg, PA.

"I'm looking forward to [Saturday]," Moore said. "I think it'll be a great race, no matter what happens."

Saturday's Super Finals will feature 77 Ontario-sired horses contesting the eight $350,000 2- and 3-year-old divisions beginning in race 2 and running straight through the Beau Jangles vs. Redland Rocket Man grand finale. The first-race post time at Woodbine Mohawk Park is 6:30 p.m.

Maine SIRE STAKES REPORT

Maine's glamour boys fly through Fryeburg

by Chris Tully for Maine Sire Stakes

Two $17,000-plus divisions of 3-year-old pacing colts and geldings in the Maine Sire Stakes soared through the Fryeburg Fair Blue Ribbon Classic on Wednesday (Oct. 8) in their final prep races before the lucrative Pine Tree State-bred finals a few weeks away.

The battle for supremacy amongst the glamour boys has continued between Daytoremember and freshmen champion Real Horrorshow, who recently took the points lead. Once again, they drew into separate divisions, thus each colt was able to equally advance their own agenda.

In the first $17,209 division for sophomore male pacers, a non-wagering event, Daytoremember rolled unfettered to the top and led the sidesteppers through an opening station of :29.3, with a more modest 1:01.1 half. With no challenges in sight, Silence Ofdarkness (Kevin Switzer, Jr.) remained in the pocket.

Past the half, the first to tip was Itsjustmoney (Andy Harrington) who advanced from fifth to third by the time the field hit the third panel in 1:31.3. Nonetheless, they couldn't catch Campbell and Daytoremember as the pair gained separation through the final turn and scooted down the lane to win by three lengths in 2:00.3.

The son of Dude's The Man is owned, trained, and was bred by Valerie Grondin, and picked up his ninth seasonal victory with $132,274 earned lifetime. Daytoremember skipped the last leg at the Cumberland Fair in lieu of the Massachusetts Breeders Stakes, and thus moved into second place in the points standings.

Silence Ofdarkness sat a pocket trip to retain second; Ghost Of Winter (Joey Mosher) finished third.

In the second $17,434 division it was another standard wire-to-wire frolic by Real Horrorshow and driver Kevin Switzer, Jr. Leaving swiftly to grab the lead, the son of Dude's The Man set opening fractions of :30.2 and a tempo reducing 1:02.2. Past the half, Dude's The Jet (Joey Mosher) pulled the right line from fourth and moved first over with Deuces Red (Steve Wilson) tipping three wide down the backside into a 1:32 third panel.

Switzer, Jr. still had Real Horrorshow on point with Rebel's Revenge (Aaron Hall) retaining his pocket position through the final turn and down the stretch. With the pocket sitter advancing, the wire arrived just in time and the pacesetter prevailed by three-parts-of-a-length in 2:01.

Capturing his ninth win of the season, and 18th of his career, Real Horrorshow, increased his lifetime earnings to $186,204 and is now the leading points earner in his division. Trained by the senior Kevin Switzer, who also co-owns with Kathleen Mofield and Anthony Sivik, Jr., he was bred in Maine by Luke and Patricia Varnum.

Nuh Uh (Andy Harrington) finished third.

The Maine Sire Stakes continues at Fryeburg with the 3-year-old trotters on Friday (Oct. 9). The series culminates with the $320,000-plus Sophomore finals, which take place at Bangor Raceway on the following Saturday (Oct. 17).

Endurance retired, to stand stud

Millionaire 3-year-old trotting colt Endurance has been retired from racing and will stand stud in 2027.

Super Endurance Stable, Bill Manes, Leo Fleming, and Mark Moger, owners of Endurance, 2,1:52.3m, 3,1:51.3f ($1,221,356), announced on Thursday (Oct. 8) that the Captain Corey—Love Session colt will begin his stallion duties in Ohio in 2027 at Hickory Lane Horse Farm.

“Endurance is the first and richest son of the prolific young trotting stallion, Captain Corey, to retire to stud in Ohio, which is one of the richest and most diverse regional racing programs in North America,” said Kevin Greenfield, syndicate manager. “Being a son of Captain Corey makes him the ideal outcross stallion for every major maternal trotting family in the sport. His maternal family is anchored by the top foundation mare, Ens Tag Session, who consistently produced tough and durable high grade stakes money-earning performers over many years, which include Triumphant Caviar [$811,547], Prayer Session [$777,990], and world champion Centurion ATM [$731,374].

“Endurance was aptly named as he was well known during his racing career as displaying extraordinary determination, unwavering grit, and an unmatched will to win, which will undoubtedly be passed on to his offspring,” Greenfield said. “Even though he unfortunately sustained an injury in the Hambletonian, everyone witnessed his immense potential on the racetrack.”

His trainer, Chris Beaver, said: “Endurance is the finest racehorse I have ever trained.”

At age 2, Endurance won six of his eight starts and set a 1:54.3 track record for 2-year-old trotting colts at Oak Grove in only his second lifetime start in a Kentucky Sire Stakes. He won three preliminary leg divisions and the $555,556 final of the Kentucky Championship Series at The Red Mile and finished his 2-year-old season a close second to Apex in the Mohawk Million while earning $768,589.

At age 3, he finished first or second in six of his seven starts with the Hambletonian being the only time that he did not finish top two while earning an additional $452,767. His victories included a division of the Grade 3 Stanley Dancer Memorial and a career-best 1:51.3 triumph in an elimination of the Oak Grove Trotting Derby. He finished second by a nose to the eventual Hambletonian champion Apex in their 1:50.4 elimination.

“It is unquestionable that Endurance has all the necessary qualities to become a premier trotting stallion in the sport when you combine his great racing record with his speed, tenacity, outstanding pedigree, and his conformation,” Greenfield said. “It is anticipated that he will be an extremely popular and appealing stallion prospect for all commercial breeders.”

Endurance will stand for an introductory service fee of $6,000 USD and is currently being syndicated. For more information on booking your mare or purchasing shares, contact Kevin Greenfield, syndicate manager, by calling 419-346-0609 or emailing kgreen56@gkflaw.com, or Hickory Lane Horse Farm by calling 419-422-3004 or emailing office@hickorylanefarm.com.

Grade 1 Breeders Crown supplementals and entries fast approaching

The entry box for supplements to the 3-year-old and older Breeders Crown races and for all eligible horses to declare in to the $7.2 million year-end championship events at Eldorado Scioto Downs Racetrack, in Columbus, OH, closes next week.

Supplemental entries for 3-year-old and open events are due and payable by noon (EDT), Monday (Oct. 12), at the Scioto Downs race office or the Hambletonian Society office in Cranbury, NJ. There are no supplements for 2-year-old races.

Scioto Downs previously hosted the Breeders Crown Pace (1988) and Mare Trot (1986). After major renovations, including a brand-new race paddock, gaming floor, and grandstand, the 2026 Breeders Crown at Scioto Downs will host a festival week culminating in the Crown finals on Friday (Oct. 23) and Saturday (Oct. 24). The event will feature more than $7.2 million in total purses, plus eliminations if needed, a golf tournament, post-position draw dinner, the Breeders Crown Charity Challenge, and other fan events.

Click here for more instructions on supplementing: <https://www.hambletonian.com/bc-races#schedule>.

All eligible Breeders Crown horses enter on Tuesday (Oct. 13) by 10:30 a.m. Two-year-olds will have eliminations on Friday (Oct. 16). All 3-year-old and up events that require eliminations will be held on Saturday (Oct. 17). Eligible 3-year-olds have the option of entering the sophomore event to which they were nominated or an Open event. All Scioto Downs post times for the Breeders Crown are 6 p.m.

You can access the Scioto Downs condition sheet here: Scioto Downs Breeders Crown condition sheet.

All eliminations will race for a minimum of $25,000.

If there are eliminations, post positions in the final will be determined by an open draw with the exception that elimination winners, in an order determined by lot, will draw for post positions 1 through 6 in the final. All other finalists will be placed in an open draw for the remaining post positions. Any horse(s) that receive a bye into the final will be in the open draw for post positions in the final. The sole Win and You're In horse (Birr Castle) for the freshman filly Trot will skip the elimination and draw for post 1-6 in the final. In all finals the winner receives 50 per cent of the purse but all horses that start in the final receive money.

All Breeders Crown 2-Year-Old races will be held Friday (Oct. 23), with a post time of 6 p.m. (EDT).

All Breeders Crown 3-Year-Old and Open events will race Saturday (Oct. 24), also with a post of 6 p.m. (EDT).

Two-year-olds contest Prospect finals at London

Two-year-olds completed the 2026 Prospect Series as they raced in four $25,000 finals on Tuesday (Oct. 6) at The Raceway at the Western Fair District.

Benjamin Blue Chip ($12.60) strolled to a 2:02 triumph in the colt trot, cutting the mile on the way to a 3½-length score over the surging Irish Exit (Jonathan Drury). Wolfpack Doc (Tyler Moore) was third after a first-over bid. Brady Galliers piloted the King Of The North—Essence Of Lindy gelding to victory, his third in the Prospect Series, for trainer Amanda Riley and owners Tom Riley of Roseneath, ON and Bryn Campbell of Port Hope, ON.

Snitchesgetstiches ($59.40) muscled to the front down the backstretch and fended off Snowdream Hanover (Samuel Fillion) down the lane to finish off a 28-1 upset in the filly trot. Odds-on favorite Pink Gin Fizz (Jody Jamieson) went wide off cover and chased the top two home in third. Snitchesgetstiches maintained a three-quarter-length margin to the line to prevail in 2:02.1 with Ryan Guy aboard for trainer Mike Armstrong. The Alarm Detector—Tymalpassuby filly broke her maiden with the victory for owner Rachel Burns of Cardinal, ON.

Team Jamison swept the pacing splits, with Jody Jamieson driving both sidwheeling winners to victory for his father, trainer Carl Jamieson. Untold Story ($19.60), despite going four-for-four in the prelims, was sent off at 8-1 due to the presence of Ontario Sires Stakes Grassroots leg winner Will Farroh but led all the way to prevail in the male pace. With his chief rival on flattening cover on the last turn, Untold Story slipped away and then held off the closing Will Farroh (Doug McNair) down the lane to win by 1½ lengths in 1:56.4. Aussie Pharoah (Mike Vanderkemp) held for show off an uncovered trip. Untold Story, a Bettors Delight—Unred Hanover colt, is owned by Hutt Racing Stable of Malvern, PA.

PA Lila ($4.40) came off a career-best effort in her last prelim appearance to take the final for pacing fillies in 1:58.2. The daughter of Cattlewash—Australia Hanover clawed to the front going to the quarter and held the lead for the remainder to win by 2¼ lengths. Th Penelope (Mark MacDonell) closed three-wide in the third quarter and finished gamely for second over Two Piece (Scott Young). PA Lila is owned by Carl Jamieson of Puslinch, ON. 1140545 Ontario Ltd. of Guelph, ON, George Harrison of Preston, England, and Joanne Morrison of Beaton, ON.

Champions converge on Northfield Park for Courageous Lady

A powerhouse group of pacing mares are set to square off in this year's Grade 3 Courageous Lady on Saturday (Oct. 10) at Northfield Park. Stakes credentials can be found up and down the entire field.

The nine-mare lineup includes a Breeders' Crown and Jugette winner, two-time Ohio Sires Stakes champion, New York Sire Stakes champion, James Lynch Memorial winner, and a New Jersey Classic winner, making for one of the deepest editions of the Courageous Lady in its history.

Leading the way is millionaire Loua Dipa who really needs no introduction. She is a Breeders Crown champion, Jugette winner and a Fan Hanover winner. It could take another special performance from this superstar as she draws post 8 with Ronnie Wrenn, Jr., listed at 4-1.

Loua Dipa will also renew her rivalry with Be Perfect BG, with the two accomplished mares set to meet once again. The pair have already finished heads apart twice this season including a spectacular stretch battle in the Fan Hanover. These two titans of the sport will throw down once again with Be Perfect BG having a slight post edge leaving from post 6 with Dexter Dunn and listed at 7-2.

The morning-line favorite belongs to Sangria Summer at 3-1 with Matt Kakaley driving from post 2. She also comes in with an impressive resume including wins in the James Lynch Memorial and Shady Daisy.

Also in the field is two time Ohio Sires Stakes champion Seaside Shuffle starting from the second tier with Chris Page at 10-1. Another Sire Stakes winner comes in from New York in the way of Savage Cindy from post 4 with Dan Noble and is listed at 9-2.

The race also features a special local connection in Perfect Thought, who is stabled at Northfield Park. She'll have the home-track advantage with Anthony MacDonald aboard from post 3 at 12-1.

Rounding out the field are Prtynproud Hanover, with three-time winner of this race Dave Palone, at 6-1; Vanna By The River, with Aaron Merriman, at 15-1; and Rodeo Dancer, with Brett Miller, at 20-1.

From the top of the morning line to the longest shot on the board, there are stakes credentials throughout the field. With multiple major stakes winners, champions from several state-bred programs, a local contender, and the latest chapter in the Loua Dipa-Be Perfect BG rivalry, the Courageous Lady has all the ingredients to be one for the ages.

Full field, drivers, and morning odds are listed below in post-position order.
