Breaking: Horse of the Year Beau Jangles to be sold in Harrisburg

The stallion prospect has the potential to be the most expensive standardbred ever sold at auction.

by Dave Briggs

Exactly a year to the day after Beau Jangles posted his greatest career victory in the Breeders Crown, the owners of the reigning U.S. and Canadian Horse of the Year are announcing the 3-year-old pacing colt, and prime stallion prospect, will be sold on Nov. 6 at the Standardbred Horse Sales Company Mixed Sale in Harrisburg, PA (see full press release on pg. 10).

The deal will disperse the partnership between the Graham Grace Stables LLC of Clifton, VA and Kiwi Stables LLC of La Plata, MD on Beau and two other horses they share – Breeders Crown-winning mare Call Me Goo, who is in foal to Chapter Seven, and 2-year-old trotting colt Yankee Boss, who finished sixth on Friday (Oct. 23) in the $700,000 Breeders Crown at Eldorado Scioto Downs.

Beau Jangles' majority owner Adam Ainspan of the Graham Grace Stables, told HRU on Friday that it, "was always the plan, at some point in time, that [Beau Jangles] would be sold. I don't think any of us really wanted to be in the breeding game.

"The question was, would we race him next year with some degree of risk? I think, depending on how he does, it could affect his value. I never really wanted to be in the breeding game. I was happy to take a small share of him if somebody wanted to go ahead and take over... and still, I guess, could depending on who purchases him. But that being said, I didn't really want to be in charge of it... So, based on that, it made sense to go ahead and sell at this point in time."

> "[Beau Jangles is] in a strong position to be the highest-priced standardbred ever. We've never sold a horse while he is still the reigning Horse of the Year at public auction."
> — Bob Boni

HRU requested comment from Kiwi Stables' principal Jonathan Roberts, but did not receive a response prior to press time.

Bob Boni, who will handle the sale through his Northwood Bloodstock, said "Beau" has the potential to surpass the record auction price of $1.85 million paid for 3-year-old trotting colt Amazing Catch at the Harrisburg Mixed Sale in 2024.

"[Beau Jangles is] in a strong position to be the highest-priced standardbred ever," Boni said. "We've never sold a horse while he is still the reigning Horse of the Year at public auction.

"He's the top breeding horse in the crop, to me, because… he had a year as a 2-year-old that nobody, in recent memory, has had. He dominated a very, very strong group of horses, and it was a level of brilliance that you look for when you breed… Steady doesn't get it for me. I want horses that, at some point in their career, showed they could do something extraordinary, and that's what he did."

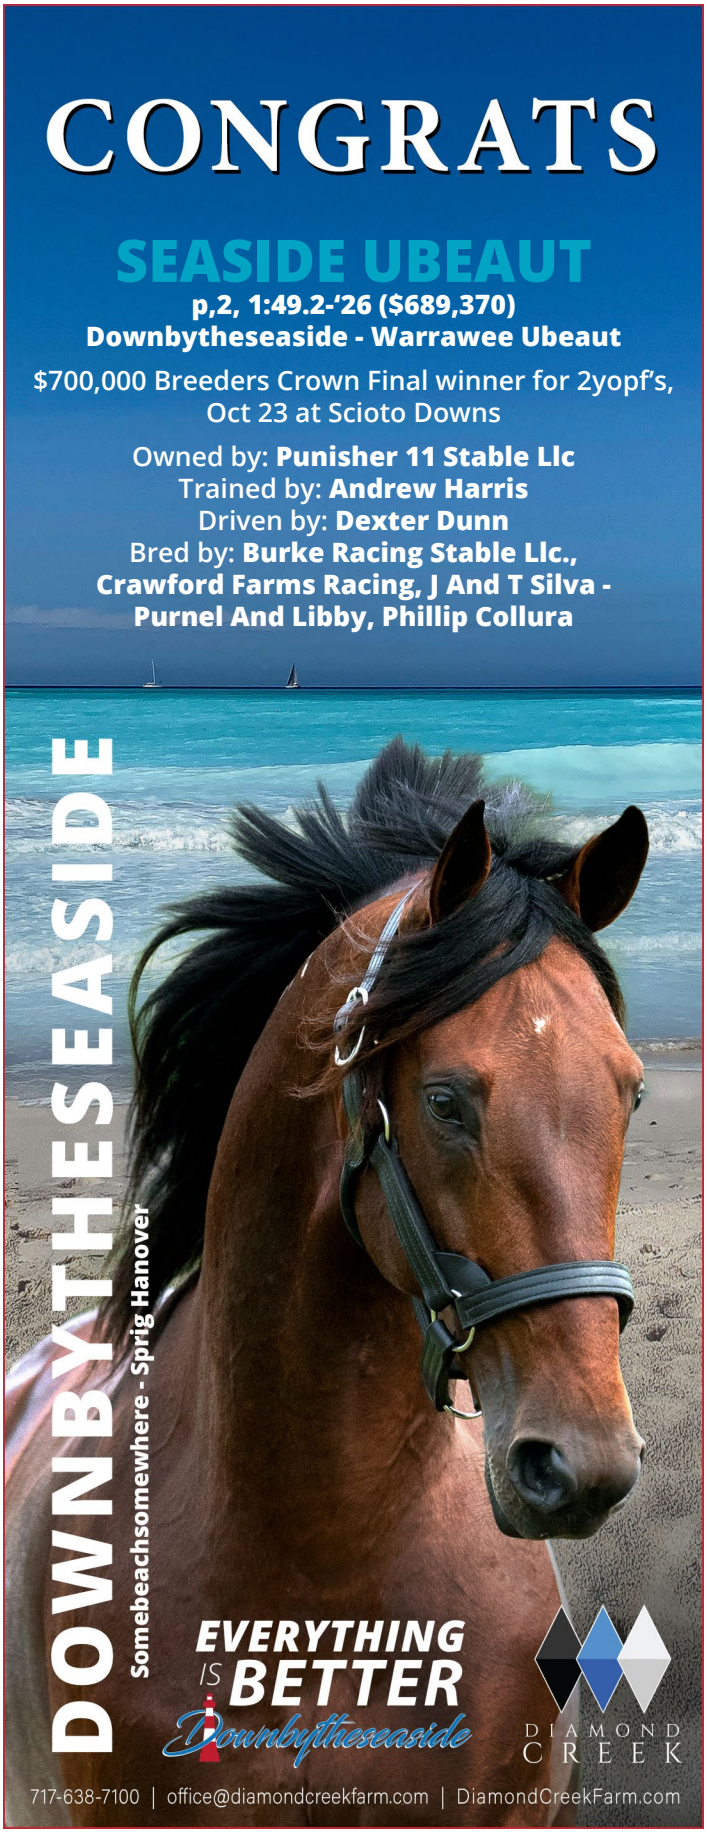

For Boni, who was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 2025, this three-horse consignment will be his first return to selling horses since parting company with Alliance Bloodstock earlier this year.

"I like staying busy," Boni said. "Putting the statements together, doing the release, making a presentation. I love that."

Beau Jangles, a son of Cattlewash out of the Art Major mare Mrs Major Hill, was bred in Ontario by Tara Hills Stud, which also stands Cattlewash. He was sold for $65,000 out of the Preferred Equine consignment at the 2024 Standardbred Horse Sales Company yearling sale and renamed in honor of one of Ainspan's dogs.

Beyond the Graham Grace and Kiwi Stables, Beau is also owned by the Bolton Stables of Clermont, FL, and, since Oct. 13, by driver James MacDonald of Guelph, ON.

Trained by Dr. Ian Moore, Beau Jangles was a perfect 12-for-12 as a rookie racing exclusively in Ontario and collecting Grade 1 wins against Grand Circuit company in both the $730,000 Metro Pace and $700,000 Breeders Crown, both held at Woodbine Mohawk Park. He set a stakes, track, and Canadian record of 1:48.3 while winning the Crown, and ended the year with earnings of $1,227,326.

His sophomore season hasn't been as rosy, as HRU documented recently, but the colt still earned $411,285, recorded a 1:47.2 mark at The Red Mile and has a record of 6-1-3 in 15 starts. Lifetime, Beau Jangles is 18-1-3 in 27 starts and has earnings of $1,638,611.

Ainspan said the ride Beau Jangles took him and his partners on, "was spectacular" and allowed him to acquire a few talented thoroughbreds that have stakes potential next year at 3.

"[Beau's] actually changed things for me," Ainspan said. "I wouldn't have the 2-year-olds about to become 3 on the thoroughbred side without Beau... He's spurred on the whole operation to the level where it's at. For me, and my wife, we get to stay at a fairly high level, but still cut back as we get older. I just feel really blessed to be in that position, and it's been a lot of fun because of Beau.

"The thing that I'll remember the most, honestly, is in the North America Cup when he turned for home on the lead. The roar from the crowd was something. I really felt like we're at the Kentucky Derby. I really wish he could have won just to give the fans that thrill, and so. But, in horse racing, no matter what, you never get everything. I'm just so grateful for everything he's given to us."

Boni said Beau Jangles, "truly has every quality you want in a horse. He's a great-looking horse. He's a great-gaited horse. He's hit levels of performance that few have hit, and he's by a sire line that has shown that it continues to prevail."

Beau's sire, Cattlewash, was sired by Somebeachsomewhere, the stallion that has had the greatest impact on modern-day pacing bloodlines.

"It will be interesting to see how people address this [sale]," Boni said. "Do people get together? Do people not? This also doesn't preclude somebody from saying 'I want to race him.' He's fully capable of doing that, so it opens all those doors."

As for Call Me Goo, who Graham Grace and Kiwi Stables share with William Roberts of Brandywine, MD and her former trainer Ake Svanstedt, Boni said, "you have a Breeders Crown winner in foal to Chapter Seven, and it's her first foal. You don't have to say much more than that."

Beau Jangles (James MacDonald) recording his 1:47.2 career-best mile while winning his $79,000 Grade 3 Bluegrass event on Oct. 3 at The Red Mile.

Beau Jangles to be sold in Harrisburg

by Northwood Bloodstock

Champion Beau Jangles (p, 3, 1:47.2 – '26, $1,638,611), the only current Horse of the Year to ever be offered at public auction, will be featured in the Supplement to the Standardbred Horse Sales Company's Mixed Sale in Harrisburg, PA. Beau Jangles will be sold on Friday (Nov. 6).

Consigned by Bob Boni's Northwood Bloodstock Agency, Beau Jangles will be joined by the outstanding 2-year-old trotting colt Yankee Boss (2, 1:52 – '26, $177,726), a stakes-winning son of Captain Corey, and the Breeders Crown winner Call Me Goo (4, 1:50.4, $1,152,792), now in foal to Chapter Seven and carrying her first foal, as part of the three-horse partnership dispersal.

"It is truly a privilege to represent one of the most dominant pacing colts of the modern era in Beau Jangles as his undefeated 2-year-old campaign was culminated by his powerful Breeders Crown victory for driver Bob McClure and trainer Ian Moore," Boni said. "With his exceptional breeding potential, this is truly a unique opportunity and in my 50-plus years of coming to Harrisburg I cannot think of any that could rival him. Without a doubt he possesses every quality to be a great pacing stallion in any program."

Long-time owner and partner Adam Ainspan of Graham Grace Stables, who selected Beau Jangles, called him "the greatest horse we have ever had and a champion by every measure," and Garth Bolton of Bolton Stables, and Jonathan Roberts of Kiwi Stables also commented on their champions "commanding physical presence and charisma and limitless ability and the great joy that he brought to so many." All agreed on how much they now look forward to his next chapter and the anticipation of his producing stakes-winning colts and fillies in his image.

In addition to headliner Beau Jangles, the partnership will also be selling the impressive Bluegrass winner Yankee Boss (2, 1:52 – '26), the 2-year-old stakes winner of $177,726 to date and a very legitimate 2027 Hambletonian prospect and the exceptional Breeders Crown winner Call Me Goo (4, 1:50.4, $1,152,792), carrying her first foal and in foal to the perennial leading trotting sire Chapter Seven. Clearly the colt or filly she is carrying could be at the very top of the market in the '28 select sales.

"It has been an honor to work with this ownership group and to represent the very best our sport has to offer," Boni said. "There is only one Beau Jangles and only one Horse of the Year every racing season and the memory of his record-setting, undefeated 2-year-old season will never be forgotten. This is truly a once in a lifetime opportunity and someone will be leaving Harrisburg with one of the greatest young pacing champions that we have ever seen."

Hip #1600 Call Me Goo will sell Thursday (Nov. 5) and Hip #1601 Yankee Boss and Hip #1602 Beau Jangles will sell Friday (Nov. 6).

A fertility report for Beau Jangles will be available at sale.

The Northwood Bloodstock Agency consignment will be located in the North Hall in Row F and Row G and for further information please contact Bob Boni at 201-709-1907 or 201-863-2082 or northwoodbloodstock.com.

Wrong Sounds Right's impressive world record kicks off Ohio's Crown weekend in style

by Dave Briggs

It was a memorable night of firsts and stirring performances under clear and perfect Ohio autumn skies on Friday (Oct. 23) as Eldorado Scioto Downs kicked off Breeders Crown weekend with aplomb.

The 43rd edition of the series marked the first time in 38 years that a Breeders Crown event had been held at the Columbus, OH track and the first time the five-eighths mile oval will play host to all 12 Crown finals with eight 3-year-old and open events on the docket for tonight (Oct. 24).

But, on Friday, the four 2-year-old events were in the spotlight and each delivered something special – perhaps no more so than Scott Farber's homebred rookie trotting colt Wrong Sounds Right posting a 1:51.3 world record that erased the 1:52.1 mark set by Father Patrick in 2013 while winning his Breeders Crown elimination at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania.

As for Wrong Sounds Right, Friday's victory in the $700,000 Grade 1 event, was his fifth straight win. The Jim Campbell-trained son of Tactical Landing out of Broadway Jo Ell, won the Mohawk Million on Sept. 26 at Woodbine Mohawk Park and now has earnings on the cusp of $1 million – $948,750 to be exact – in only nine starts.

After Friday's performance, clearly Wrong Sounds Right will be pegged as the early favorite for the 2027 Hambletonian.

It was the third Crown victory for driver Todd McCarthy and the seventh lifetime for Hall of Famer Jim Campbell, who holds the records for both the biggest Breeders Crown upset of all time (Sandbetweenmytoes, 203-1 in the 2020 Crown for 3-year-old pacing colts) and the biggest Hambletonian upset in the race's 101 years (Cool Papa Bell at 52-1 for Farber in 2022).

Just don't expect Wrong Sounds Right to be a longshot anytime soon.

On Friday, he was sent off as the 3-5 favorite and impressively rebuffed a strong challenge from Access Now despite stiff fractions on the front end for most of the mile.

In the first Crown event of the night, homebred 2-year-old trotting filly Birr Castle delivered a first Breeders Crown victory for owners Eddie Lohmeyer and his wife Dr. Patty Hogan, the team behind Pheasant Hill Farm of New Jersey. Though, Hogan, a renowned equine surgeon, joked she had worked on plenty of horses that have gone on to Crown glory.

It was also the first Breeders Crown victory for Birr Castle's sire, Captain Corey.

As a trainer, Lohmeyer has previously had 12 Crown starters without a victory.

Sent off at 7-2 in the $700,000 Grade 1 final, the filly, named for a castle in Ireland, improved to 6-2-1 in nine career starts for trainer Marcus Melander, who won his eighth Crown, and driver Scott Zeron, who won his 10th. Birr Castle, who is out of the Donato Hanover mare Melania, now sports earnings of $866,786.

The final Crown of the night – an ultra-competitive and entertaining $700,000 Grade 1 final for 2-year-old pacing colts – also produced a memorable first.

Blazin Lou (Sweet Lou—Beautiful Lady) gave trainer Tony Dinges of Carlisle, PA his first Crown victory in his first attempt.

As Starstruck Dreamer (McCarthy) and Shalom Hanover (Louis-Philippe Roy) battled up front through most of the mile, Dexter Dunn had to wind through traffic and open up in the lane to win with a 1:50.1 mile that tied the track record, improved Blazin Lou to 6-1-2 in 12 starts, and upped his earnings to $519,550 for owner Rick Berks of Paris, KY.

It was the second Crown of the night and 25th lifetime for Dunn, who won two races earlier with 2-year-old pacing filly Seaside Ubeaut, who fittingly provided the home team with an Ohio-sired winner – out of post 8, no less. The daughter of Downbytheseaside out of Warrawee Ubeaut stopped the clock in 1:50.1 – the same time as the boys – to give the Punisher 11 Stable LLC, led by trainer Andrew Harris, their second Breeders Crown in as many years to go with the one Yo Tillie earned in the 2025 3-year-old trotting filly final.

Seaside Ubeaut has now earned $680,370 for the New Jersey-based ownership group that includes Bill Pollock, Bruce Areman and Harris – and that's important because she was a $500,000 yearling at the 2025 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale.

Friday's Crown appetizers offered a little something for everyone and was a tasty setup for tonight's main course.

Birr Castle rallies to win Crown for freshman filly trotters

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager for Breeders Crown

Pheasant Hill Farm homebred Birr Castle and driver Scott Zeron fanned out wide from sixth on the final turn and stormed through the stretch to win Friday's (Oct. 23) $700,000 Grade 1 Breeders Crown 2-year-old filly trot by one length over Nevis Peak in a track-record 1:53 at Eldorado Scioto Downs. Blue Ranger finished third.

Kissme Ifyoucan fired off the starting gate from the outside post 9 to lead the field around the first turn, but Climatic Hanover was already applying pressure and grabbed the front just past the :27 opening quarter. Her time on top was short-lived as 6-5 favorite Blue Ranger pushed on with driver Dexter Dunn to take control on the way to a :55.1 half.

Meanwhile, first-over Nevis Peak was leading an outer flow, followed by Two Day Hanover and Birr Castle. Nevis Peak was a parked-out leader at three-quarters, in 1:23.1, as the group geared up for the stretch drive. Zeron moved three-wide coming off the final turn and Birr Castle trotted home in :29.1 to win for trainer Marcus Melander and Pheasant Hill Farm's Ed Lohmeyer and Dr. Patty Hogan.

"Maybe she's not the absolute best horse every time she steps on the track, but she's the one that wants it more than any of the other ones, and that was what she displayed today," Zeron said. "I've been first-up a lot with her, and I was trying to avoid that today because first-up in the Breeders Crown usually means first-up before the tote board, and that's a long way to go, especially for young horses. I ended up being third-over, maybe out of position, but they were racing enough where they came back to us."

Birr Castle was the "Win and You're In" starter in the Breeders Crown, advancing directly to the final thanks to her victory in the Jim Doherty Memorial on Sept. 18 at Harrah's Hoosier

Park. The daughter of Captain Corey—Melania has now won six races and finished no worse than third in nine starts. She has earned $866,786.

The win gave Zeron his 10th Breeders Crown trophy and Melander his eighth. It was the first for Pheasant Hill Farm's Lohmeyer and Hogan.

"I can't say I was confident because it's an incredible group of fillies, but I knew she belonged in it," said Dr. Hogan, the renowned equine veterinarian. "She's just been wonderful. She loves to come from behind. It was a lot of ground to make up, and it's such a great group of fillies, but she's unbelievable. I'm just in awe.

"I've fixed lots of horses that have won Breeders Crowns, but I really didn't appreciate the feeling that everyone was chasing – and now I get it. It's unbelievable, incredible."

Birr Castle was raised at Lohmeyer and Hogan's farm in New Jersey.

"Eddie said why don't we keep this filly and get a mark on her because the mares [in her family] are getting old," Hogan said. "We can keep her as a broodmare."

Seaside Ubeaut dominates in Ohio debut

by Jay Wolf

Making her first start on Ohio soil, the buckeye-bred Seaside Ubeaut overcame an unfavorable post, but was able to cruise to an easy score in the $700,000 Grade 1 Breeders Crown final for freshman filly pacers Friday night (Oct. 23) at Eldorado Scioto Downs.

The Downbytheseaside filly is owned by the trio of Bill Pollock, Bruce Areman, and trainer Andrew Harris under the banner of Punisher 11 Stable.

When the field of 10 was sent on their way, Cleveland Darby and Scioto's leading driver, Chris Page timed the gate perfectly and assumed the early lead.

The bulky field appeared to have some confusion early in the back of the pack.

Avoiding any issues were the outside starters, Cowboy Candy and Seaside Ubeaut.

Midway around the first turn, Jason Bartlett and Cowboy Candy (post 7) were forced to either take back or move forward. They elected to go to the lead at the opening quarter in :26.4.

Seaside Ubeaut, who left from post 8, marched to the point as the field crossed the finish line the first time.

Once on the lead, Dunn was able to control the pace through the :55.3 half and 1:23.1 three-quarters.

Doug McNair started the outer flow with Aceandaten, who started from the second-tier, providing some cover for JK Lady Liberty and Scott Zeron.

No one was able to get within a length of Seaside Ubeaut the rest of the mile and the filly used a :27 final quarter to score in 1:50.1.

The winning time was just one-fifth-of-a-second off the world and track records.

Cowboy Candy finished three lengths back in second and Cleveland Darby was another 1¼ lengths back in third.

Aceandaten held off Lauren Tritton's Too Pink Too Pass for fourth.

"When she got to the front, I knew we'd be good," Harris said. "She's on the front and she's a different animal. She's just an incredible filly and she's gotten so much better as the year's gone on."

Seaside Ubeaut has now earned $680,370 on the season, picking up her fifth victory in eight tries.

Dunn continued his hot streak in this division. The New Zealand native has won five of the last six editions of the 2-year-old filly pace.

"It is going well right now," Dunn said. "These races are really hard to win."

Two races later, Dunn would pick up his 25th Breeders Crown title, ranking seventh on the all-time list.

Harris signed the ticket for Seaside Ubeaut at last year's Lexington Select Yearling Sale for $500,000.

"Besides the terrific pedigree, she's built like a Mack truck," Harris said. "She's not real tall, but she's real muscular."

Her dam, Warrawee Ubeaut, was a two-time Breeders Crown champion (2018 2-year-old filly pace and the 2019 3-year-old filly pace) and two-time Dan Patch Award winner.

She was bred by Burke Racing Stable, Crawford Farms, J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby, and Phillip Collura.

The connections will have a chance to double up in the Crown, as they will send out Brandon Blvd, the morning line choice and another Downbytheseaside, in the 3-year-old colt pace.

"I love the Downbytheseasides," Harris said with a laugh. "I hope to pick a couple more of them up in Harrisburg."

World record for Wrong Sounds Right in Breeders Crown 2-year-old colt trot final

by Greg Reinhart for Breeders Crown

Wrong Sounds Right overcame being parked for almost half a mile through a demanding tempo and just kept finding more once he did land on the lead, winning Friday night's (Oct. 23) $700,000 Grade 1 Breeders Crown 2-year-old colt trot final at Eldorado Scioto Downs in a world record 1:51.3.

Driven by Todd McCarthy for trainer Jim Campbell and owner/breeder Runthetable Stables, Wrong Sounds Right floated away from post 5, and with the best spot available somewhere in mid-pack, McCarthy elected to drive on two-wide as Presidente (driven by Dexter Dunn) and Lifetime Dreamer (Yannick Gingras) were side-by-side at the quarter in a quick :26.4. Lifetime Dreamer made Wrong Sounds Right continue to work as they raced in front of the stands for the first time, and Wrong Sounds Right managed to take control finally just before the half in :54.3.

"It wasn't probably how I dreamed it going for me, but I didn't like where I was going to get away early, and I decided to press on," McCarthy said about his strategy. "I figured that there would be a little bit of speed, and I would have to pay a bit. He's just so classy, this horse. He can do it either way, and I've got so much faith in him."

Access Now (Bob McClure) loosely followed Wrong Sounds Right's move to the point and was left first-over when Wrong Sounds Right was able to slide down to the pylons. Access Now would then advance up to McCarthy's wheel at the 1:23.2 three-quarters as Whateverittakes As (Tony Hall) worked out a second-over trip and Jimdougie Armitage (Åke Svanstedt) sat third-over.

There just wasn't any catching Wrong Sounds Right around the last turn or through the stretch, though, as his :28.1 final quarter kept him clear from Access Now and gave McCarthy a chance to put his whip in the air in celebration. Access Now got the better of Lifetime Dreamer for second, followed by Whateverittakes As and Jimdougie Armitage.

The time of 1:51.3 bettered the previous standard for a freshman colt trotter on a five-eighths-mile track of 1:52.1 set by Father Patrick in his Breeders Crown 2-year-old colt trot elimination at Pocono in 2013. It also matched the overall 2-year-old world record set by another Campbell trainee in filly Cooler Schooner at Pocono in August 2013. This was the third Breeders Crown win for McCarthy, the seventh for Campbell and the second for Scott Farber's Runthetable Stable as both a breeder and an owner.

"Jim Campbell has done such a wonderful job with bringing this horse up and having him ready every time," McCarthy said. "He's had a wonderful season, and he's just a beautiful horse. It's pretty special."

Campbell, who lost longtime client Jules Siegel's Fashion Farms when Siegel retired from the business and dispersed after the 2025 racing season, certainly landed on his feet with Wrong Sounds Right.

"It just caps off a great year with this horse," Campbell said. "He's been a blessing from God to have a horse of this caliber. He's just a pleasure to be around. Aside from what he's done on the racetrack, he's just a happy horse. He's a professional. Everything we've thrown at him, he handles it. He really showed tonight how tough he really is.

"He's the type of horse that never stops going. When he would train down, he would just trot through the wire, and there was no end to him. He showed that tonight. I'll be honest, I was a little worried because he really didn't clear just until before the half. He really had a tough first-half, but he's a professional. He loves to race and he loves to win. It's a real pleasure dealing with Scott Farber with a horse of this caliber. Scott said a couple of months ago, 'We've got a nice horse, let's just have fun and enjoy it,' and that's what we're doing."

A Tactical Landing—Broadway Jo Ell colt, Wrong Sounds Right went through the 2025 Standardbred Horse Sale in Harrisburg, PA, where Farber paid $35,000 to purchase the horse back. That's been a prudent investment, as Wrong Sounds Right now has a summary of 7-1-0 from nine starts and has earned $948,750.

"I'm really happy about that buy-back," Farber said with a laugh. "I've said to Jim repeatedly, 'Could you imagine if we let this horse go at that price?' It's been great, and with a little bit of luck, and I'm not wishing anything on any other horse, I can tell you right now he's my Horse of the Year. I think he deserves some consideration for Horse of the Year overall. I know that's a bold statement. I've been making them all year long, and he's been backing me up all year long - world record after world record after world record, tying track records everywhere he goes. This horse is amazing.

"I just told Todd out on the track, when I saw :54.2 come up, I was ready to kill him, but this horse, he does what he does - he just grinds. He grinds and grinds and wears horses down. He's a tough horse to beat. He's got a lot of heart. It's a great group. They're wonderful people to work with. Obviously, Jimmy and I go back 30 years, and Todd has just been great with any horse we've ever given him to work with. He just knows how to handle horses. He's got a way with my horses. I can only speak from experience with me. I've had a lot of success, and there's no arguing with success."

Sent off as the 3-5 betting favorite, Wrong Sounds Right paid $3.20 to win.

Blazin Lou takes Breeders Crown 2-year-old colt pace final and enters divisional conversation

by James Platz

After a stellar performance last week in his Breeders Crown elimination, favored Blazin Lou returned to Eldorado Scioto Downs Friday evening (Oct. 23) and delivered another impressive effort in the $700,000 Grade 1 Breeders Crown final for freshman colt and gelding pacers. Driven by Dexter Dunn, the Sweet Lou—Beautiful Lady colt stopped the clock in a track record-equaling 1:50.1 to secure trainer Tony Dinges his first Crown triumph in his first entry.

"It's amazing," Dinges said during a winner's circle interview. "I never dreamed it would happen."

Drawing the rail in the field of nine, Dunn got away fifth in the early going as Ocean Party (Chris Page, post 3), Starstruck Dreamer (Todd McCarthy, post 4), and Shalom Hanover (Louis-Philippe Roy, post 5) all fired off the gate, also joined by Eastie Boy (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) looking for early position. Shalom Hanover pocketed Starstruck Dreamer racing to the quarter pole, clicking off a :26.2 first panel. As the field passed the grandstand for the first time, Dunn moved Blazin Lou to the outside, joined by Mr Bear (Marcus Miller), but L A Captain (Bob McClure) brushed three-wide to assume the first-over position.

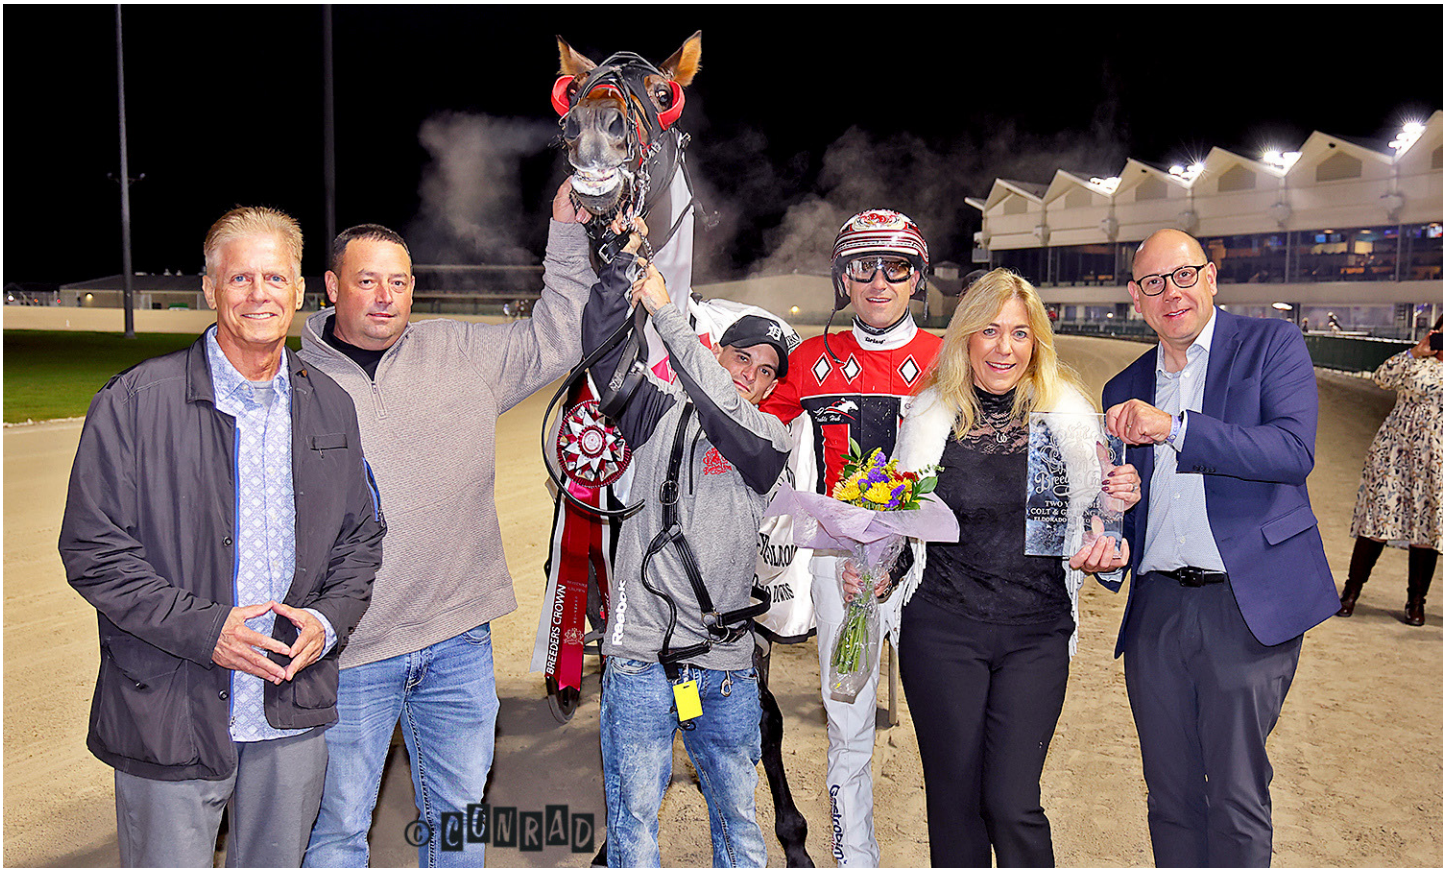

Reaching the half in :55.3, L A Captain continued to stalk on the outside, but Dunn was not content to sit with the bettors' choice, angling three-wide on the backside. Blazin Lou quickly closed on the leader and applied pressure nearing three quarters, timed in 1:23.4.

As the two colts rolled out of the final turn, Blazin Lou took a couple of awkward steps before sprinting past Shalom Hanover to reach the wire first. Starstruck Dreamer slipped to the inside and surged late for second, a quarter-length off the winner, as Shalom Hanover settled for third. Eastie Boy, 30-1, dashed home late for fourth. Blazin Lou returned $4.40, $2.20, and $2.10.

"I thought he was going to get it, you know, he kept digging and, you know, about 50 feet before the wire, I could tell that he was home," Dinges said.

Said Dunn of the stretch drive: "When I peeled him three wide, he was moving with authority and he just ducked over a couple of strides. We straightened him up and, you know, he powered on from there."

Blazin Lou is owned by Rick Berks of Paris, KY, who also won this same event in 2015 with Boston Red Rocks. The colt sold for $110,000 at last year's Lexington Selected Yearling Sale. With the victory, Blazin Lou has won four consecutive, and five of his last six seasonal starts. He now sports a 6-1-2 record in 12 attempts, and the victory pushed his career earnings to $519,550. Jeff Fought's Cornerstone Stock Farm bred Blazin Lou.

The winning time equaled the Scioto Downs track record set by Act Fast in 2022.

"About halfway through the season, you know, he kept getting better and I didn't think we saw the bottom of him at that point and apparently we haven't," the trainer said.

Blazin Lou's achievement also stamps him as a contender for divisional honors.

Dunn finished the evening with a pair of Crown wins, Blazin Lou's triumph being his second. He has collected 25 trophies since arriving in the United States. He last piloted a freshman colt pace final winner in 2023 at Hoosier Park, in rein to Gem Quality.

Sweet Lou's impact on the division continues. After winning the final in 2011, he has now sired three different winners in Ammo (2022), Louprint (2024), and Blazin Lou.

Breeders Crown analysis and selections for Saturday's card

by Brett Sturman

Here's how I see all 3-year-old and older Breeders Crown divisions tonight (Oct. 24) at Scioto Downs playing out.

RACE 3: $600,000 OPEN TROT

It's been a dream 4-year-old season for SUPER CHAPTER and to finish it off in the Breeders Crown he'll have to overcome a difficult post 8. To date this season, he's three-for-three against EMOTICON LEGACY but tonight's strategic edge does go to the latter. The last time these rivals met was three weeks ago at Dayton and in that race Emoticon Legacy took a bold first-over challenge to Super Chapter before being turned away late; a different type of trip could produce a different result for Emoticon Legacy who cruised last week as the heavy favorite in his elimination. ON TO NORWAY starts immediately to the inside of Super Chapter, and is responsible for handing that one both his losses this year, both coming by the same margin of a neck in back-to-back weeks at The Meadowlands in July. Those were epic battles, but since then On To Norway has uncharacteristically most recently broke stride in three of his last four. Which "Norway" shows up in the Breeders Crown; the more recent one, or the won that won 27 races in a row with a 1:48.3 world record? ANTOGNONI S looked sharper earlier in the year but was still favored most recently three races ago against On To Norway; grinded well throughout his mile last week with an overland journey from post 8. FRENCH WINE seems like a longer chance but did win this race last year; lands the rail off a first-over try last week. GO DOG GO chased Emoticon Legacy last week when making his first start since Sept. 5; his very best would make him an interesting price play.

Selections: Emoticon Legacy, Go Dog Go, Super Chapter

RACE 4: $400,000 OPEN MARE TROT

It feels like she's done it quietly, but WARRAWEE MICHELLE has put together one of the more accomplished careers of any trotting mare, ever. Now standing at $1.8 million in career earnings, yet another Breeders Crown win would push her over the $2 million lifetime mark. After beginning her 5-year-old season 0-for-seven though, at times, still racing quite well despite the record, she's now captured two straight including the Dayton Oaks Derby by over four lengths and is once again the one to beat. TACTICAL MONI dominated in her Breeders Crown prep race over the Scioto track last week and it was her first win in five starts since moving barns to Melander. Lands the rail and retains Dunn; could be peaking. R DUTCHESS was super against most of these four races back at The Meadowlands but hasn't been able to replicate that success on smaller Ohio ovals in her last pair; live cover would aid her chances. WALSPEA has loads of speed but is a wild card from post 9. She wasn't able to stave off Warrawee Michelle two back on the lead at Delaware; far tougher spot here. YO TILLIE is better than her most recent; seeks to rebound with second tier start. WOMAN OF PASSION showed speed last week and now gets Lasix.

Selections: Tactical Moni, Warrawee Michelle, Yo Tillie

RACE 5: $664,500 3-YEAR-OLD FILLY PACE

What a turn this division has taken in the second part of the season. The likes of LOUA DIPA and BE PERFECT BG have given way to a newer, different set of contenders for this Breeders Crown final. SANGRIA SUMMER has been on a tear since August, and a win now will solidify her status at the top of the division. She went right down the road last week to post the faster of the two elimination wins, hers coming in 1:49.3. I'm sure James MacDonald will want to be on the front with her, but the same could be said for the two immediate horses to her outside; will be interesting to see how this early part of the race takes shape. HOPE HILL was the other elimination winner, hers coming in a time of 1:50 flat, and improved to a perfect three-for-three on the barn change from Virgil Morgan to Engblom. In that race, she defeated Indiana standout WHOOMP who had to come first over prior to the half and fought on gamely against the heavily backed Hope Hill. DARLIN'S ANGEL comes out of that same elimination and wasn't quite able to close through the passing lane but has been right there against the top fillies all year long; nice work by trainer Juan Cano and driver Lauren Tritton throughout. MISS JUM JABBER received a less than enthusiastic drive last week as the 3-5 favorite and things won't be any easier now from post 8; should now offer far greater odds than anything she's offered all year.

Selections: Sangria Summer, Hope Hill, Whoomp

RACE 6: $664,500 3-YEAR-OLD FILLY TROT

I previewed this race somewhat in Wednesday's edition where the breeding behind elimination winner LITTLE ROAD was featured. Looking objectively beyond Little Road, this is one of the more seemingly wide-open Breeders Crown races. NEZUKO KAMADO S just held last week to notch her first win since the end of August. The Hambletonian Oaks champion has been at the top of this group going back to last year and looks to capture a Breeders Crown that eluded her as a 2-year-old. CUSTOM is a highly intriguing price play coming from post 7 for Engblom and Bartlett with a 12-1 morning line. An NJ Classic winner three back in a career-best 1:51.2, she was motoring home last week when stacking wide from last around the final turn in her elimination to just miss against Nezuko Kamado S; up to Bartlett to find a way into it but I do think she's good enough. SHE'S MONI has been just that of late, parlaying early speed into three straight wins. Two back she won the Kentucky Filly Futurity and then came right back last week in her elimination to notch the win over a late charging BUSY MISS LISSY S who was uncovered from fourth but lands the outside post for the final. VICTORIANAS SECRET lands an inside post coming off a defeat last week as the beaten favorite. SETYOURSIGHTSHIGH hasn't won since her Hambletonian Oaks elimination on Aug. 1 but closed well last week and obviously dismiss Melander and Dunn at your own peril. STORYBOOK LOVE won this division's Breeders Crown last year.

Selections: Custom, She's Moni, Little Road

RACE 7: $443,000 OPEN MARE PACE

Going from a wide open race to what should be more of a two-horse race, TWIN B JOE FRESH and FRANCENT N will square off once again, this time for Breeders Crown glory. Twin B Joe Fresh seems to have returned to her better self of late, and that includes her front-end elimination win last week. Her main rival, Francent N was raced off the pace in that race and had to come first-over from prior to the half and there's no shame at all in chasing Twin B Joe Fresh home to finish second. Francent N did beat her in consecutive races at Woodbine Mohawk Park in a f&m open and then right back in the Milton; although Twin B Joe Fresh had a near impossible trip in that latter race. It could come down to driving strategy here between Louis-Philippe Roy on Francent N and Dexter Dunn on Twin B Joe Fresh. It seems like every Breeders Crown winner from last year has drawn the rail tonight, with THE LAST MARTINI being the latest, who dead-heated with Miki And Minnie last year as a massive longshot. UNREASONABLE was the 3-2 second choice last out to Twin B Joe Fresh at Dayton; will be going forward early in an attempt to overcome the outside post.

Selections: Twin B Joe Fresh, Francent N, The Last Martini

It's been a dream 4-year-old season for Super Chapter and to finish it off in the Breeders Crown [open trot] he'll have to overcome a difficult post 8. To date this season, he's three-for-three against Emoticon Legacy but tonight's strategic edge does go to the latter.

RACE 8: $664,500 3-YEAR-OLD COLT TROT

BIG RANGER returned to Scioto last week when cruising in his Breeders Crown elimination and will look for similar home cooking in tonight's final. With exception of the tougher trip two back in the Kentucky Futurity he's been monstrous all season with trainer Lorentzon and depending on how things went Friday, Big Ranger could complete a rare family sweep if full sister Blue Ranger won her 2-year-old Breeders Crown. After not being able to find the winner's circle through his first eight races of the year, DIABOLIC HILL has found a winning knack and enters the final with two straight wins. In his elimination win last week, he was able to close to the inside of APEX and notch a career best win; no reason he can't do it again. Apex remains a tough one to figure since the Hambletonian. There was nothing wrong with his runner-up finish last week and is more than capable of winning the final; maybe could use a trip. INEXPRESSABLE is better than I would have given him credit for a few months ago. He led early last week before being placed back to fourth where he then came first-over to miss by less than two lengths; fast 1:49.3 winner two back. Another overachiever has been NIX NACKEN, moving all the way up from the NJSS-Silver leagues to be a Canadian Trotting Classic and Kentucky Futurity winner; picks up Wrenn as Zeron goes to Inexpressable. AMERICAN POWER has had his moments against these; could do worse than a Melander horse from the rail.

Selections: Big Ranger, Diabolic Hill, Apex

This [open pace] seems like a wide-open race to close out the Breeders Crown festivities and you could make an honest case for almost anyone in here.

RACE 9: $664,500 3-YEAR-OLD COLT PACE

The complexion of this race has changed following turn of events from last week's elimination races. GENTLEMAN'S CLUB went from 26-1 elimination outsider to being one of the favorites for tonight's final. Don't forget this horse was a 1:47.4 winner the week prior to the Meadowlands Pace, and it looks like he's arrived at the Breeders Crown as the "fresh" horse. He came first over from fourth last week to wear down Beau Jangles and prevail in a time of 1:48.3, the faster of the two eliminations by a full second. BRANDON BLVD finished second in his elimination and was the 1-9 favorite but that was the circumstance of the trip more than anything else. In that race, eventual winner MELILLO crawled to the half in :56.2 and it was all over from there, as Brandon Blvd attempted a three-wide move around longshot cover but had too much ground to make up. AL PAPI could be a sneaky play in here. He showed sharp :26.1 opening speed in his elimination, was shuffled, and was knifing through late with a ton of pace. SWEET LOVIN LOU was motoring from the back of the pack and arrived on the scene late in that elimination won by Gentleman's Club; he's been incredibly consistent since August and has already upset this year in the Cane.

Selections: Al Papi, Gentleman's Club, Brandon Blvd

RACE 10: $662,000 OPEN PACE

This seems like a wide-open race to close out the Breeders Crown festivities and you could make an honest case for almost anyone in here. From the rail out, WOMEN LAYER impressed last week when showing speed to secure a 2-hole trip and then moving past pacesetter BEST CHIP in the stretch. He's gotten along well with Gingras in those last three starts and this one was a winner here last year in a fast 1:47.3; advantageous starting slot. Best Chip lasted on the front end to beat many of these a few back in the Canadian Pacing Derby at Mohawk but interestingly wasn't able to sustain in his last pair at the five-eighths-mile Ohio tracks. Picks up a new driver in Jason Bartlett. DANDY IDEAL came off cover to just get up over PRINCE HAL HANOVER in his elimination; Tetrick ends up here over Best Chip. CALICOJACK HANOVER was right there at the end in his elimination in a blanket finish; goes third start for Burke. Prince Hal Hanover has been game in almost every race this year; lost a heartbreaker last week and will be an obvious short-priced contender. KEN HANOVER has come up short in his last three races, all at short prices and maybe just isn't at his very best. ADMIRAL HILL and SURREAL IDEAL seem like longshots from the outward posts. ERVIN HANOVER cut a fast clip last week but still had things relatively his own way. Like Ken Hanover, he could be slightly off form and post 9 only adds to the uncertainty.

Selections: Women Layer, Prince Hal Hanover, Dandy Ideal

Prince Hal Hanover (Todd McCarthy) winning at The Red Mile in 2025.

THE VIEW FROM WOODBINE MOHAWK PARK

with MELISSA KEITH

Ron McLellan on chasing the Crown with Prince Hal Hanover

by Melissa Keith

Only the second of two 2026 Grade 1 Canadian Pacing Derby eliminations barred show wagering. The clear reason was the 1-2 favorite, 2025 Dan Patch and O'Brien Older Pacing Horse of the Year Ervin Hanover (p, 5, 1:46.2s; $1,514,150). To his outside on that July evening at Woodbine Mohawk Park, another son of Captaintreacherous faced the formidable field from post 9, which has produced just 4.9 per cent of winning pacers this year at Mohawk.

Prince Hal Hanover (p, 3, 1:47.2m; $1,786,712) and driver Todd McCarthy were ready.

Crossing over to race second-over fifth into the first turn, the 4-year-old stallion followed the cover of Ervin Hanover to the quarter, then advanced uncovered to the half. After he cleared the favorite, Prince Hal Hanover led to three-quarters, vulnerable after getting there in 1:20.4. Dexter Dunn pulled the pocket with Ervin Hanover, and Women Layer unleashed a late kick down the center of the track. In the three-horse win photo, "Prince Hal" held on by a determined nose for his fastest (1:48 flat) victory this year. Afterward, there was a winner's circle presentation celebrating his reaching $2-million (CDN) in career earnings.

"He keeps going forward, but he's not too far from going to stud," said Ron McLellan, a member of the Prince Hal Hanover Stable of Cambridge, ON. McLellan lives in Bathurst, New Brunswick and has owned horses with trainer Dr. Ian Moore for decades, including Prince Hal's maternal grandsire Shadow Play (p, 4, 1:47.4m; $1,549,881).

With post 5 in the Breeders Crown open pace final on tonight (Oct. 24) at Scioto Downs, McLellan said Prince Hal Hanover's fortune may have turned for the better, when it counts most.

"We hit some real luck," he said of the draw. "To be honest with you, he's a lot like Shadow Play; he earns every penny he races for. I remember when we raced Shadow Play as a 4-year-old [with co-owner Serge Savard of St. Bruno, QC], he didn't go right to stud. Shadow Play was syndicated as a 3-year-old and Blue Chip [Farms] wanted to race him as a 4-year-old, and with Prince Hal, it's the same way. It's hard to race 4-year-olds against 5-year-olds."

Prince Hal Hanover has built a reputation as a horse who races best on the front end, as he did in three straight wins at the start of his 2026 season, including the Grade 2 Charles Juravinski Memorial elimination and final at Flamboro Downs. In last year's Grade 1 Breeders Crown 3-year-old colt and gelding pace elimination at Mohawk, Prince Hal wired rivals as well, but his place finish in the 2026 Breeders Crown open pace last Saturday night (Oct. 17) showed a side that McLellan considers overlooked.

"He wants to win and he can race any way you want," he told HRU on Wednesday (Oct. 21). "I think he's better from behind, but he doesn't get a chance."

In his latest Breeders Crown elimination, Prince Hal Hanover got away single-file third as 2-1 favorite. He sat patiently along the pylons as Ervin Hanover challenged Calicojack Hanover for early command, only tipping first-over approaching three-quarters. Drawing alongside leader Ervin Hanover down the stretch, Prince Hal was stung in the final strides by fast-closing Dandy Ideal.

"They're a good group of horses," McLellan said. "They're fast and they're tough, and, well, it's the best horses in North America. Honestly, he's been racing that [class] almost since the day [Moore] put a harness on him. We started him in the [2024] Tompkins-Geers, which he won in Toronto."

That maiden-breaking Mohawk debut was from off the pace for driver Bob McClure. Prince Hal Hanover's only other 2-year-old win was in a Pennsylvania Sire Stakes division on Aug. 4 at Pocono, but he hit the board in seven of 10 seasonal starts, finishing second in the Grade 1 Metro Pace elim and final.

At 3, Prince Hal Hanover started the year with sharp back-to-back qualifying wins at Southern Oaks Training Centre in Sorrento, FL, Moore's winter training base. After front-end wins in a PASS leg at Pocono and the Grade 3 Somebeachsomewhere at Mohawk, he closed in :25.4 to nearly collar Louprint in their Grade 1 Pepsi North America Cup elimination. He started from post 9 in the North America Cup final, a "race that he never even got to race," in McLellan's view.

"David [Miller] took him back to last," McLellan said. "At the quarter pole, he was 12¾ lengths behind. He lost by four lengths."

He finished eighth despite closing in :26.3, the fastest last quarter.

There was another literal setback in the horse's next Grand Circuit race.

"As a 3-year-old, Prince Hal won the Grade 1 Meadowlands Pace, and was placed second for interference," his owner said. "A few years earlier we were placed first [with Lawless Shadow in 2021]."

A combination of gate speed and late speed served Prince Hal Hanover well in the 2025 Grade 1 Adios final at The Meadows, which he won by a head over Swingtown.

"He drew the 8-hole, and they were eight-wide," McLellan said of the Adios final. "It was the 29th year, and I believe he was only the second horse to win the Adios from the 8-hole in the history of the Adios."

With 14 wins from 25 starts last year, Prince Hal Hanover could have rested on his laurels. He had also been treated for a quarter crack that developed late in his sophomore season as a result of wear and tear over some hard tracks.

"We normally sold our horses at the end of the 3-year-old season, almost always, or if they were going to stand stud." McLellan said. "But in this case, Ian said to me in February, 'You know, we raced him late last year [2025]... He normally gets three months off; he ended up getting 2½ months at the most, and he probably could've used another whole month to get him ready to race.' He said he had to let Prince Hal Hanover's hobbles out, I think an inch and half in February."

It was worth keeping Prince Hal Hanover to see what he was capable of at age 4. McLellan said the only frustrating part was how luck was seldom on his horse's side.

"I've never owned a horse that never at one point in time got the perfect opportunity," he said. "He never got it once. I thought he had it, maybe, when he went to Lexington two weeks ago in the Allerage. But it's pouring rain and everything, and he won in [1]:49 [over a good surface, 1 second variant]. We were hoping for good weather. I really believe the horse can pace a mile in [1]:46."

Prince Hal Hanover's most impressive performance may have been his place finish in the June 6 Grade 2 Battle of Lake Erie.

"I would say one of the best races he ever went was the one at Northfield," his owner said. "[1]:48.4 on a half-mile track and he was parked the whole mile. I believe, coming off the last turn, he was five-wide. It was crazy."

Although he finished second by a nose to Mossdale Ben N that race, he came home in co-fastest :28 flat last quarter for driver Matt Kakaley. The adventurous off-the-pace trip was worth it, in McLellan's opinion.

"When you can race them any way, you have to take your chances," he said.

Finishing on the board in 17 of his 18 starts so far this year, Prince Hal Hanover grew into the potential he initially showed as a $130,000 yearling at Lexington. Although McLellan didn't attend that 2023 sale, he told Moore he was interested in the colt on the basis of pedigree and video.

"[Moore] said, 'He just looks like a real nice horse, but he's going to have to develop,'" McLellan said with a laugh. "He didn't stop growing since. He's still growing."

There was plenty to like about the young Prince Hal Hanover.

"He was the first colt of the mare, Percy Bluechip, and she was a tremendous mare," McLellan said. "Her first lifetime start, she won at Georgian [Downs] in 1:51.2, and that was a record for a 2-year-old filly. She was a full sister to Arthur Blue Chip, and she was identical to him. They would just float over the ground, and they were big horses."

Both Percy Bluechip and Arthur Blue Chip were O'Brien divisional champs at age 2. McLellan said he thought that Prince Hal Hanover "still had more to show people" as a 5-year-old, but partners on the horse were leaning heavily toward sending him to stud. This was confirmed in a joint announcement by Dr. J Stallion Management and Blue Chip Farms on Wednesday (Oct. 21). Prince Hal Hanover will be syndicated late this year, and will stand at Blue Chip in Wallkill, NY in 2027.

"We were approached last year [by several interested parties], also," McLellan said.

While he cannot attend Prince Hal Hanover's last race due to an illness in the family, McLellan will be watching attentively from his Maritime home. He has never won a Breeders Crown, despite sharing ownership of many top horses over his 55 years in the business.

"We've had a lot of good horses, more than most people in 10 lifetimes," he said, grateful for the success he's enjoyed with Moore and a slew of other friends and partners.

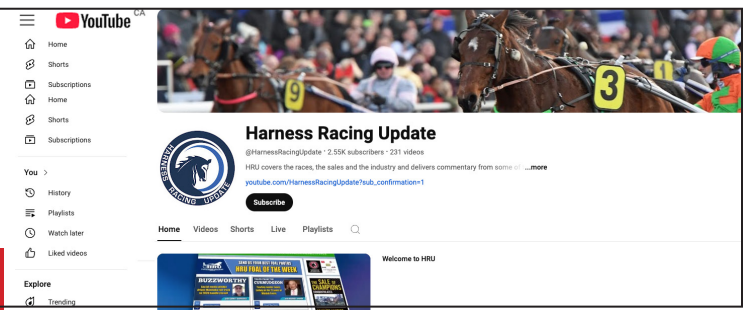

For Prince Hal Hanover to go out on top would be a fairy tale ending.

"There weren't very many overnights in his life," McLellan said. "This is his 50th race... I'd love to see him have some luck, just for the horse, you know, in the Breeders Crown."

Ten unbreakable Breeders Crown records

by Bob Heyden

Records are made to be broken, but it would take quite a bit of doing to topple these Breeders Crown marks shown in top 10 reverse order.

10. Peace Corps' four wins in as many appearances with three different drivers: John Campbell (1988 and 1989), Stig Johansson (1990), and Torbjorn Jansson (1992).

9. Jenna's Beach Boy's three-straight wins at 2, 3, and 4 from 1994-96. No Pacer has ever done three straight at any age other than Jenna's Beach Boy and it's even tougher to do so in three different classes. In the last three decades, this record has not been challenged.

8. In 1995, 12 different drivers won a Breeders Crown race. Everyone with their very own DNA. Compare that to 2013 when only the upper crust won with all 12 Crowns going to the top 5 $-winning drivers in North America.

7. Brittany Farms bred nine Breeders Crown 2YOFT winners.

6. Dexter Dunn won six Crowns in 2024 the year after having the lowest priced winner $2.20 Jiggy Jog S, as well as the highest priced winner $48.60 Gem Quality at Hoosier Park. That was unprecedented.

5. Andy McCarthy's incredible 2019 season where he had four winners in just seven Crown drives with none favored: Ramona Hill ($31.80), Reflect With Me ($56.20), Caviart Ally ($7.80), and Dancing Lou ($12.80).

4. John Campbell winning a Crown 15-straight years to start off the series from 1984-98.

3. Jimmy Takter's multiple trotter and pacer Crowns in the same year. In 2015 he had two pacers, Always B Miki and Pure Country (both undefeated), as well as four trotters, The Bank, All The Time, Wild Honey, and Creatine. A 2-, 3-, 4-, and 5-year-old all winner all in one year.

2. Yannick Gingras winning four-straight 2YOFTs from 2014-17, all favorites all by Muscle Hill: 2014 with Mission Brief ($2.80), 2015 with All The Time ($4.50), 2016 with Ariana G ($3.40), and 2017 with Manchego ($3). It should be noted that Jimmy Takter from 2012-17 had a stranglehold over this division taking five of six.

1. The amazing Always B Miki's 12-year Breeders Crown dominance. On the track, he won his Crown elim at 3 in 2014 but was injured and missed the final. Thanks to Dr. Patty Hogan, who attended to his considerable needs the next eight months which included re-injuring himself, he made it back at 4 to take the Breeders Crown and then repeated at 5 in his HOY season. Wait, it gets better. His first crop came upon the Crown scene in 2020 with Perfect Sting and he hasn't missed since with eight winners in his first six crops not skipping a year. No other stallion has ever won a Breeders Crown in each of his first six crops. His $3,213,869 ranks No. 11 all time, which is not bad considering he was foaled in 2011, in the 28th Breeders Crown year. Four times in that period from 2020 to 2025 a freshman Breeders Crown winning pacer has repeated at 3, with three of those four being Always B Mikis: Perfect Sting (2020-21), Sylvia Hanover (2022-23), and Miki And Minnie (2024-25).

Custom can win big today – but may be sold on Sunday

by Lisa Harkema for the Hambletonian Society

Thomas Lind-Holm was elated when Custom, a daughter of Walner, delivered her trademark strong finish in her Breeders Crown elimination last week, narrowly missing out on a win, but qualifying comfortably for the $664,550 Grade 1 final for 3-year-old filly trotters today (Oct. 24) at Eldorado Scioto Downs in Columbus, OH.

Tonight, she can write herself into the history books like so many from her illustrious maternal family, and Custom's Danish owner is hopeful of a good result.

"I feel she's on an upward curve, while I feel that isn't necessarily true for everybody else in that field," Lind-Holm said. "I just wish for a little racing luck. In the Hambletonian Oaks, for example, Custom had no racing room and was trapped behind horses. That can happen since she lacks early speed and simply isn't fast off the gate."

Lind-Holm has had great success as a breeder in both Sweden and his native Denmark, often crossing French and American bloodlines. With that in mind, his purchase of Custom made a lot of sense.

"Indeed, her pedigree was a big reason for me, with Walner as a sire and an excellent French maternal family," he said. "In fact, I feel Custom may be a little underrated since she has a French dam. To me, that is a mistake. I understand Americans aren't familiar with the bloodlines, but I don't understand why they don't show more respect for the French stallions and mares as they've proven themselves in North America."

If Custom wins on Saturday, she'll be the second winner of the Breeders Crown for 3-year-old trotting fillies with French blood in her pedigree; the 2007 winner Southwind Serena being the first as her sire Varenne had some French blood on his maternal side. If we look at all Breeders Crown finals, other winners with French blood in their pedigree include Joviality, Ecurie D, Bold Eagle, Commander Crowe, Market Share, and Brigham Dream – and of course Varenne, who was so spectacular he's worthy of being mentioned twice.

Custom does not merely represent a French maternal family, however: she hails from the most successful maternal family in France over the last two decades. Oddly enough, her maternal family also represents one of the finest and most legendary mares in U.S. trotting history.

Confused? Let's dive into the maternal pedigree.

If we look at the sires along the maternal line we see Ready Cash, Coktail Jet, And Arifant, and Florestan, so it's clear some of the very best stallions have been used. However, let's look at the maternal line itself. Custom's dam Goldy Mary (Ready Cash) was a good mare with a second place in a Group 2 race at Vincennes to her name. Not always steady on her feet, she had speed, something that a personal best of 1:54.2 at Vincennes underscores. Her maternal great-grandam, however, was something else.

Mara Bourbon had inherited the strength and toughness of her sire And Arifant and used it to win four Group 1 races, including one under saddle, and an additional 10 Group 2 races in Europe. Lacking gate speed, Mara Bourbon just used good old-fashioned strength and willpower to wear her opponents down. In the Prix Louis Jariel at Vincennes in 2005, for example, she had to trot three-wide almost the whole race but just kept going and in the end won handily against some of the best in her crop. She lacked the raw speed of some of her opponents, a reason all of her 16 career wins came over distances longer than a mile, and occasionally she made breaks, but Mara Bourbon firing on all cylinders was a terrifying proposition.

But Mara Bourbon wasn't the only one in her family who knew a thing or two about winning big races. Her younger sister Qualita Bourbon, a daughter of Love You, won 21 of 31 lifetime starts and is described as one of the best young mares France has ever produced. Unfortunately, her career ended early, as she was bred at 5.

These two sisters, who amassed more than three million euros between them, were both exceptional. Their brother Sam Bourbon, second in the European Championship for 3-year-olds in 2009, was also a very good trotter. Still, there is, pun intended, a much stronger Bourbon to be found in the family. Their older sister Kamera Bourbon, herself a good trotter with nine career wins, is a grandam of a certain Face Time Bourbon, one of the best trotters in French history and at 10 already firmly established as the best sire in the country and possibly in Europe.

Toss in current European star Epic Kronos, a four-time Group 1 winner, Mara Bourbon's son Follow You, a Group 2 winner, and Kamera's daughter Scala Bourbon and it's easy to see how Custom represents some of the very best bloodlines French trotting has to offer.

For this reason, Mara Bourbon's dam Etta Extra (Florestan) is also considered one of the best, if not the very best, broodmares in French history. Etta Extra was nothing special on the track, but her owner, famed breeder Rainier Engelke, had purchased her at a yearling auction specifically for her broodmare potential – and for good reason: she was an impeccably bred granddaughter of 1977 Elitlopp-winner Dimitria, another excellent racing mare.

This maternal family is not really French, though. It arrived in Europe when mare Anna Maloney, hailing from White Plains, NY, was sold to Belgium in 1921 and then taken to France. Anna Maloney was lighting fast and timed in 2:06-1/2 at Toledo in 1919, but had, to put it mildly, questionable manners on the track. There was no questioning the ability, but "Anna" was both capricious and a bit temperamental and was known for her on-track antics – so much so that the media even referred to her as the "loose-brained Anna Maloney."

When bred to the French stallion Passeport, however, she produced four mares who won races today designated as Group 1 or 2. One of these was the fast Heroine B, the fifth dam of Dimitria. The best of these four, though, was the double Prix d'Amérique-winner Amazone B, who often overcame big handicaps using the raw speed inherited from her dam and the strength and willpower — sounds familiar — inherited from her sire. And yes, she also inherited a pinch of the loose-brained antics: a few times Amazone B just gave up and quit midrace despite her driver's insistent urging.

Another of Anna Maloney's daughters, by the way, also produced the 1943 Prix d'Amerique-winner Nebuleuse V, further documenting how this is a maternal family which has produced big winners throughout trotting history.

And it goes further back as Anna Maloney's speed has a clear and well-known source: her third dam is none other than the legendary Nancy Hanks, who lowered the absolute world record three times in 1892 and became the world's first 2:05 trotter.

Now, 134 years later, Custom can be the first trotter from Nancy Hank's maternal line to win a Breeders Crown final. Nothing would please Lind-Holm more, although he's just as keen to see what happens in the final for the 3-year-old trotters.

"Jesper Hansen, who has the 'Wynn' breeding in Denmark, and I bought Crysti Dream when she was carrying Diabolic Hill, and then sold him at the auction," he said. "Imagine if both him and Custom wins? That would be truly special."

He doesn't own Crysti Dream anymore, but has her 2-year-old son, Nassir Dust, already a Group 2 winner in Europe. Lind-Holm's U.S. breeding operation is limited to Golden Rain S, a daughter of the incomparable Mystical Sunshine, winner of the Breeders Crown mare trot both in 2006 and 2007, in foal to Muscle Hill.

And maybe Custom will join Lind-Holm's broodmare band? The Dane is unsure.

"I really don't know, actually," he said. "She's eligible for all the big 4-year-old races in Sweden, but there are also racing options for her in the States. And of course, she's also got solid broodmare potential. But she may not even be mine anymore come next week: she's selling at the Selected Sales online auction on Sunday. Both her and Busy Miss Lissy are actually listed in that auction, so we'll see what happens."

Scioto Downs will host eight Breeders Crown championships for 3-year-olds and older pacers and trotters tonight. First-race post time is 6 p.m. (EDT). Tonight's action will be aired on FOX Sports 2 (FS2) 7-10:30 p.m.

Hoping for a storybook sequel: Storybook Love chases Crown glory

by Chris Lomon for Breeders Crown

The connections of Storybook Love are dreaming of another storybook ending at the Breeders Crown.

At the 42nd edition of standardbred racing's premier championship showcase last year, Storybook Love, trained by Matt Bax and driven by Todd Ratchford, delivered a performance straight out of a Hollywood script.

In front of a packed hometown crowd at Woodbine Mohawk Park, the trio captured all the spoils in the $700,000 Grade 1 2-year-old filly trot final, with the rookie stopping the clock in 1:52.2.

"She won her elimination last year," said Bax, of the 33-1 upset engineered on Oct. 17, 2025. "Then we went into the final thinking it would be a longshot that she would win, but Todd gave her an outstanding drive and we ended up getting it done, the type of win you dream of almost your whole life."

Ratchford, who, like Bax, captured his first Breeders Crown victory in his first appearance, still vividly remembers bringing Storybook Love, the highest-priced yearling on the third day of the 2024 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale at $210,000, back to the winner's circle.

"Seeing all my family, picking up my son, and taking pictures with everyone, hugging my mom and dad and siblings, having everyone there and watching us cross the wire is definitely the first thing that comes to mind," he said.

Today (Oct. 24), Bax and Ratchford will have the chance to repeat that picture-perfect moment, this time at Eldorado Scioto Down in the $664,500 3-year-old filly trot final, with a horse who holds the distinction of being the only 2-year-old champion from 2025 to make it back to a Breeders Crown final.

Claus Andersen
Storybook Love (Todd Ratchford) winning the 2025 Breeders Crown for 2-year-old trotting fillies at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

"I think since that win last year, I have come to truly appreciate her versatility," Bax said. "She gives you her best effort every start. When you are training these athletes down and they are giving you everything they've got every time, you develop a true appreciation for them and what they do."

The daughter of Chapter Seven out of the Credit Winner mare Stirling Debutant is owned by Al Libfeld and Brad Grant. She heads into the final following a third-place finish in her Breeders Crown elimination on Oct. 17. One start earlier, she finished second at 26-1 in the Grade 1 Elegantimage at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Sept. 26.

"Things are really lining up," Bax said. "She has a nice post [1] for the final on Saturday, she came out of her elimination really strong, so you put it all together and we're very excited."

Ratchford expressed his desire to return with Storybook Love for another shot at Crown glory immediately after the 2025 triumph.

"Last year, after the Breeders Crown, when I was being interviewed, I said that I want to be back with her next year, in the same position," he said. "And that's where we are."

Bred by Alan and Larry Troyer, the brown filly will take on eight rivals this time, a formidable group of foes that includes Hambletonian Oaks winner Nezuko Kamado S, who set a divisional track record with a 1:51.2 mile in her Crown elim, and Kentucky Filly Futurity champion She's Moni, also an elim winner.

Bax knows what to expect from Storybook Love when the starter calls the field.

"She is cool as a cucumber," he said. "She puts her game face on and knows what she has to do. She loves being out there. When she's in her stall, she's a laid-back filly. She knows what a routine is and she likes things to be a certain way."

Storybook Love, who has fashioned a record of 5-10-4 from 27 starts, along with $768,147 in career purse earnings, also knows her standing in the Bax barn.

"She wants her carrots in her stall each morning," Bax said. "She lets you know that she's the queen, she's the boss. Horses like her, they know they're good and it gives them that little edge."

Admittedly, Bax will do considerably more pacing than Storybook Love will be trotting on Saturday night.

"I'm not standing still, that's for sure," he said with a laugh. "I'm not going to pass those vibes onto her. She's so relaxed. Maybe she can keep me calm."

For now, nervous excitement is the prevailing theme for Bax.

The significance of another opportunity to capture Breeders Crown glory is not lost on the trainer, a lifetime winner of 130 races.

"Right now, I'm just so happy to be in this position, to have the opportunity for her defend her crown," he said. "I'm happy for the owners and for her, too. We know she is going to give it everything she's got and hopefully, it all works out. You don't always get moments like this, so you do want to enjoy it."

Ratchford is embracing the moment, too.

The former standout hockey player suited up for the University of Windsor before embarking on a professional career in Europe and the United Arab Emirates.

Now, he is counting down the days until the Breeders Crown version of puck drop.

"It is a six-hour drive from Ontario to Scioto, so you are constantly thinking about it, like I did before the eliminations," Ratchford said. "You try your best to keep your mind off it, but as soon as you get on the track, the nerves go away and you are focused on the task at hand."

Having a steely-nerved teammate like Storybook Love is something Ratchford doesn't take for granted.

"She is just a very cool horse," he said. "We are both very calm when it comes to our work. We don't get flustered, I find. Every race, as soon as she turns to go to the gate, she stops, relaxes, takes a deep breath and soaks everything in. That goes back into me and then we both go from there. We're just a good team."

One that could very well be poised for another crowning moment.

"They work well together," Bax said. "Todd knows her inside and out. He appreciates everything she has done for him and really respects her. Hopefully, we can all do it again this year."

Melillo looks to bear fruit in Breeders Crown

by John Sacco for Breeders Crown

In Italian and romance languages, Melillo's name means "little apple."

Melillo, the 3-year-old pacing colt, could become the apple of the Fredericktown, PA-based Burke Racing Stable's eye with a win tonight (Oct. 24) in the $664,500 Grade 1 Breeders Crown 3-year-old colt and gelding pace at Eldorado Scioto Downs in Columbus, OH.

He's going for the whole bushel.

Melillo, the winner of the second of last week's Breeders Crown eliminations, is owned by the Burke Racing Stable, Dr. Jason Melillo, and Weaver Bruscemi LLC.

According to Dr. Melillo (MA-LIL-OH), the horse was named by co-owner Mark Weaver against the concerns of Dr. Melillo, who feared the name would be pronounced wrong.

"I think Mark names all the horses, and he usually comes up with some really great names," said Dr. Melillo, who resides in Powell, OH, in Delaware County and a suburb of Columbus. "He sent me a text a couple years ago and he showed me the name and I'm like, 'Dude, do you want everybody to mispronounce this horse's name? Because everybody mispronounces my last name.' I get all kinds of different permutations of it. And so he goes, 'Hey, if he wins, they'll pronounce it correctly.' I thought OK, fair enough."

Melillo, a son of Sweet Lou—Rosemary Rose, will leave from post 2 in the race, which also features Gentleman's Club, who has the rail and won the first elimination this past Saturday. From post 3 and out the pacers include Funky Buddha, Brandon Blvd, Melillo's stablemate Al Papi, Sweet Lovin Lou, Odds On Mr Mamba, Fragment, and Cooperstown Boy.

Brandon Blvd, who Melillo bested in the elimination race, is the 5-2 morning-line favorite.

Melillo and Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. on track at Scioto Downs.

Melillo, who will be driven by Ronnie Wrenn, Jr., has grinded through the 2026 season, highlighted by a victory in the Grade 2 Carl Milstein Memorial at Northfield Park in 1:50.4 on Aug. 18. He has earned $844,467 in his sophomore campaign and captured the $300,000 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes final at Harrah's Philadelphia on Sept. 6. In addition, he was second to Al Papi in the $420,500 Grade 1 Delvin Miller Adios, $300,000 Grade 2 Max Hempt Memorial, and $550,000 Grade 1 Little Brown Jug.

Since making his first Breeders Crown start in 2009, trainer Ron Burke has earned $16 million, started in 244 Crown finals, and won 24 trophies in the championship series. He's won this division twice: with Sippinonsearoc (2025) and with Dorsoduro Hanover (2018).

"I think he's starting to get the recognition," said Hall of Fame trainer Burke about Melillo. "To me, if he wins the Breeders Crown, he's the 3-year-old pacer of the year."

Burke said he likes the chances of Melillo and Al Papi.

More ballyhooed 3-year-old pacers Beau Jangles and Redland Rocket Man failed to advance out of the first elimination.

"You can see the gap between the horses is not that great, between one through seven or eight," Burke said. "It's just not.

"I think both [Melillo and Al Papi] have progressed and gotten better as the year has gone on. The idea is that the big money is at the end of the year and you don't want them raced out. I'm happy with both."

In 2026, Melillo has won five times in 18 starts, been second six times, and third three times. He's finished in the top three 77.8 per cent of the time and in his career, he has finished in the top three 26 times out of 32 races (81.3 per cent).

"Melillo just shows up every week, but that's kind of a common theme with Ronnie's horses," Weaver said. "He's not afraid to race him in all the big races. Some of them can handle it, and some of them can't. Melillo has battled in all the big ones this year, and we got one more to see how he does.

"There's a lot of assumptions made along the way. I remember they always said there was just the big three early in the year, they talked about Beau Jangles, Brandon Blvd, and Odds On Mr Mamba, and I was kind of [saying] it's more than just the big three – that it was and still is a pretty wide-open group. Last year, we had to go up to Canada [Woodbine Mohawk Park] to race in the Breeders Crown. That's a road game for us. This year, we're at home. You must be able to sustain [performance]. We have two good chances. Al Papi was loaded [Saturday]. If he had any room, I think he might have won."

Dr. Melillo is an OBGYN, moved to private practice and is now a full-time administrator. He is excited for tonight's final and feels winning a Breeders Crown title is the top race in the harness season.

It's a long way from the time Dr. Melillo let Burke know he had interest in owning standardbred racehorses.

"I didn't know how it worked," Dr. Melillo said. "He said: 'All right.' He goes, 'I'll look for some horses and when we find some, I'll have Mark get ahold of you.' I started buying horses with Ronnie and one of the first horses we bought, and the first race I went to, she set the track record at Scioto. I didn't know what to do because I had never experienced it before. I didn't know if you had to prove that you're an owner. So, I didn't even get in the winner's circle to take a picture. Ronnie called me and asked what I was doing? He's like, 'You go take a picture with the horse.' He told me to just go in and take the picture with the horse. I didn't know what to do."

Dr. Melillo won't be unsure tonight if Melillo wins the Breeders Crown.

"I'll be running to the winner's circle, if he wins; I may be there before the horse," he said.

Dr. Melillo said he couldn't ask for more than consistency and he's hopeful Melillo is peaking at the right time.

"He's been a contender in every race throughout the year," Dr. Melillo said. "He hasn't had the easiest go of it either. I mean he's had terrible draws. He hasn't had the greatest trips; he'll get hung out sometimes or he'll get caught between or he'll get locked in. But somehow, he's determined and he gets up there and he gets himself in the mix, almost every time. It's fun to watch.

"I've had a lot of cool things happen in my short stint in this, my little corner of this sport. I've done some breeding. I've had a couple sire stakes winners. I had a real good trotter with Ronnie, who came in second in the Breeders Crown. I've had horses race in the Jugette, but this would be something special because the Breeders Crown has the panache. People who don't understand harness racing understand when you say Breeders Crown, they know it's a big deal."

How about those apples?

Scioto Downs will host the Breeders Crown championships for 3-year-old and older pacers and trotters tonight (Oct. 24). First-race post time is 6 p.m. (EDT) and tonight's action will be aired FOX Sports 2 (FS2) from 7-10:30 p.m. Click here for free past performances.

Inexess Bleu dominates Grand Prix du Sud-Ouest

by Thomas Hedlund

Inexess Bleu gave Idao de Tillard absolutely no chance in Wednesday's (Oct. 21) $220,000 Grand Prix du Sud-Ouest at Toulouse, France. Heavy favorite Idao de Tillard (Severino) and Clément Duvaldestin took command after 800 meters but surrendered the lead to Inexess Bleu (Vittel de Brévol—Pearl of Charm) and Alexandre Abrivard another 400 meters later. The pace picked up considerably down the final backstretch, and Idao de Tillard tipped out to challenge in the stretch. However, he never seriously threatened the leader. Instead, Inexess Bleu drew clear to an uncontested victory in a 1:58 mile rate for 2,750 meters. Idao de Tillard had to settle for second in a 1:58.2 mile rate.

In late summer 2025, Inexess Bleu broke stride in the Group 2 Grand Prix de la Fédération du Nord. Seventeen days later, he captured the first Group 1 victory of his career in the Grand Prix de Wallonie before adding another triumph at the highest level in the UET Elite Circuit final at Solvalla, where he produced a spectacular late rally to defeat Don Fanucci Zet (Hard Livin). This spring, he broke stride and was disqualified in the Elitlopp final without ever getting a chance to play a decisive role. However, he bounced back to prove strongest in the Group 2 Prix Jean-Luc Lagardère at Enghien. On this October afternoon in Toulouse, with the sixth and final leg of the 2026 Trophée des Grands Prix en Région on the program, making amends for the disappointing performance in Belgium the previous month was particularly important. Especially since this would be his final start of the season.

> "In 2025, [Inexess Bleu] won every race, so when things went wrong, it almost felt abnormal. I was a little nervous today because he had made a break in his previous start, and we only had one race left before the end of the season. We simply couldn't afford to have two disappointing performances in a row."

Looking to keep momentum rolling off another positive London Classic Yearling Sale

by Matthew Lomon

The stars, as they say, were aligning ahead of what turned out to be the most successful London Classic Yearling Sale (LCYS) by average sale price in four years ($32,663).

Between a steady influx of government funding and a deep roster of Ontario stallions, momentum had already been building ahead of this year's auction.

"The mood was really good coming into the sale," said Greg Blanchard, LCYS sale manager and director of equine programming at Western Fair District. "I got the sense from most of the breeders that there was a lot of optimism coming in. Certainly, from our perspective as the sales company, we felt good about the catalog and the climate coming into this year's sale."

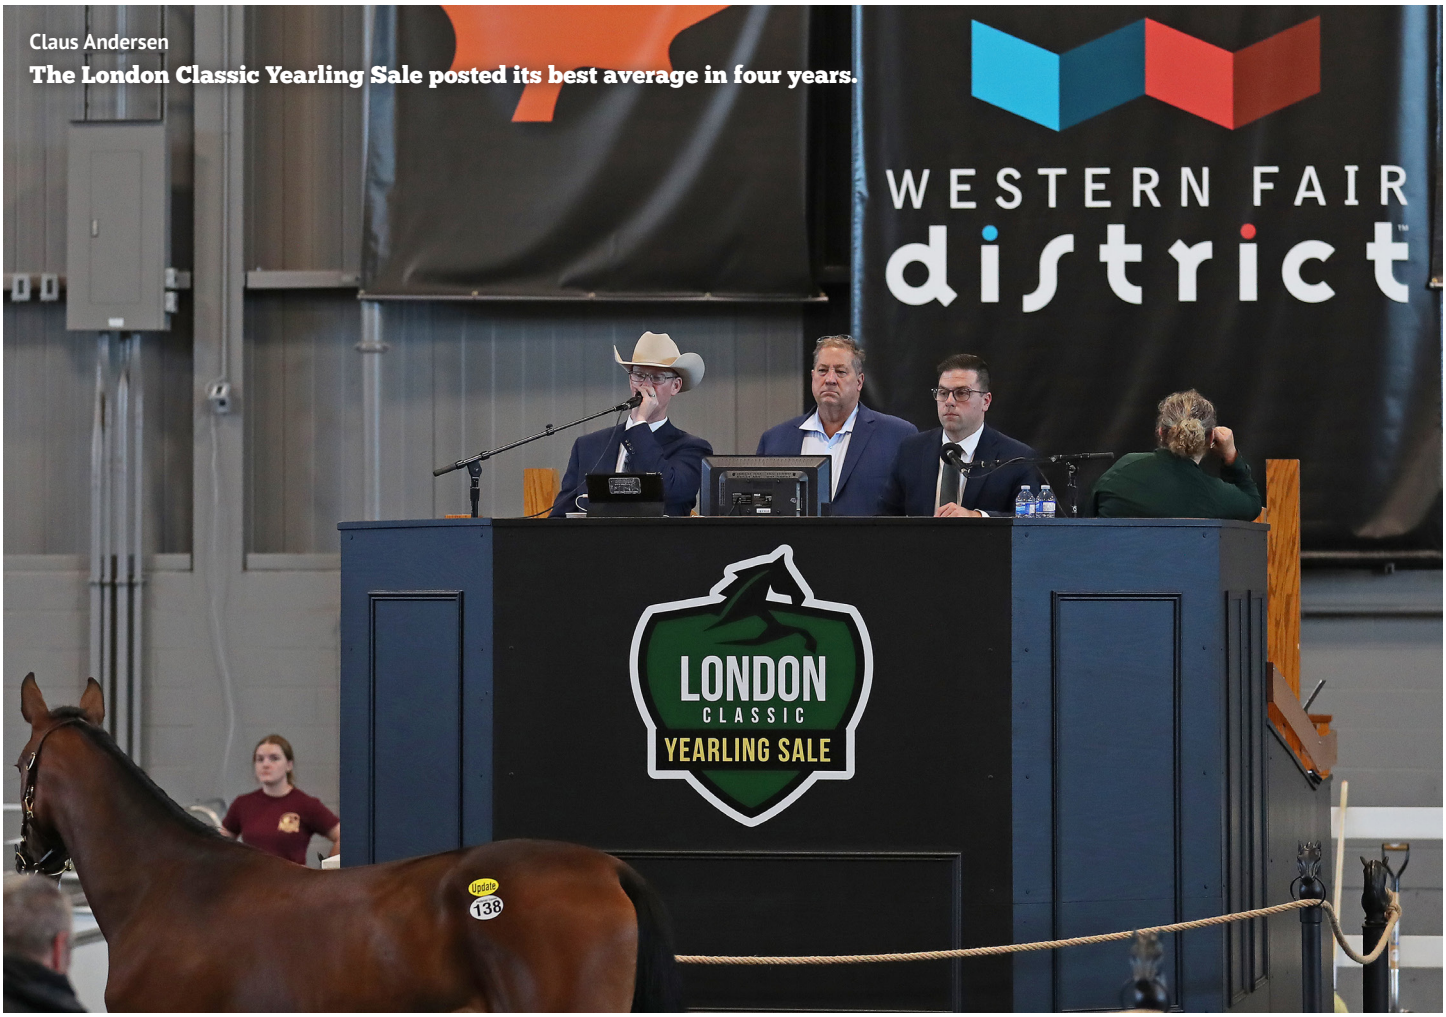

Breeders, as Blanchard noted, were particularly bullish about their sale prospects, specifically citing the province's commitment to provide an additional $14 million annually to the standardbred industry over the next five years – the vast majority earmarked for purses and horse improvement programs such as the Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS).

"What I was hearing most from the breeders coming into the sale was that the enhanced purse funding was certainly creating that optimism and what they felt was going to be more confidence with buyers," Blanchard said.

"Anecdotally, a lot of them said they had more visits to their farms prior to the sale this year, which is generally a good indicator."

Greater confidence was a common theme across the board.

"Even from potential buyers, I was hearing that coming in," Blanchard said.

Claus Andersen

The London Classic Yearling Sale posted its best average in four years.

> "We had our [London Classic Yearling Sale] co-sale toppers on Day 1, but we also saw more of that extreme fluctuation from the bottom end to the top. Whereas Day 2 was a much stronger middle market – the pricing was much more consistent throughout the second day. It was interesting to see the dynamics of the two days and how they both achieved the same end result in terms of average, but they were different in how they felt."
> — Greg Blanchard

The additional flow of provincial funds has led to purse increases across Ontario's three levels of harness racing (Premier, Signature, and Grassroots), bolstering the circuit's competitive depth.

"In Ontario, with not only the strong OSS program, but now a really strong overnight program and a large portion earmarked to focus on Ontario-bred horses – it's a pretty robust program overall," Blanchard said. "I think the climate is much more attractive going forward."

The revamped environment may also have given buyers greater assurance in their purchasing decisions, with earning opportunities extending beyond the highest levels of competition.

"Not every horse that sells is going to be a world champion or a top stakes horse," Blanchard said. "So, no matter where that horse ends up fitting, there's earning potential. There's a good opportunity to recoup your investment, and that's what drives the market ultimately."

Bidding was strong across the two-day sale, as 264 yearlings were sold. On Day 1, a total of 133 yearlings sold for $4.412 million, fetching an average of $33,173.

Hip #55 North Lite and Hip #86 Vaughn Seelster shared the title of sale topper, each fetching a $150,000 price tag.

Day 2 of the sale saw 131 yearlings sold, bringing the total gross to $8.623 million.

While the sessions mapped out differently, the result — a 6.6 per cent increase in average from the 2025 auction — meant both were a success.

"We had our co-sale toppers on Day 1, but we also saw more of that extreme fluctuation from the bottom end to the top," said Blanchard. "Whereas Day 2 was a much stronger middle market – the pricing was much more consistent throughout the second day.

"It was interesting to see the dynamics of the two days and how they both achieved the same end result in terms of average, but they were different in how they felt.

"Going into Day 2, we were up in average over the year before. Then with Day 2 being so solid, we were able to maintain the average, which was a nice bump of approximately 7 per cent over last year."

The total gross was down 2.7 per cent from a year ago ($8.86 million), but that wasn't unexpected with 25 fewer yearlings sold in 2026.

Alongside the sales company, consignors were largely pleased with the prices their crops returned.

"I think some were very happy," Blanchard said. "I would say others were certainly satisfied. I didn't really hear from any that said they were disappointed. I think, overall, everybody had at the very least, a really good sale."

Part of the positivity among sellers post-sale, Blanchard added, stems from an awareness within breeders that their offerings must evolve to align with buyer demands.

"They're all realistic, too," he said. "They realize that certain pedigrees aren't what the buyers want anymore, and they'll adjust and make those shifts accordingly. But that doesn't happen overnight, and that's why I have so much respect for the breeders because it's a very challenging business.

"You're always thinking three years or more out on the horizon with your decisions, so it's hard just to pivot. But collectively, I think every operation has focused on improving and I'm seeing that improvement every year with the groups of horses they're bringing. The quality gets slightly elevated each year. I think the Ontario-breds are going to be more and more sought after in the coming years."

> "It's hard not to get excited about the breeding program here [in Ontario] for the next number of years. I think there's a lot of momentum that we've gained in this past year, and we have to make sure we maintain and build on that going forward, collectively as an industry."
> — Greg Blanchard

For proof of Ontario's steadily improving status, Blanchard says to look no further than OSS Super Finals night, which he believes helped drive the success of the London Sale.

"That was as good a night of racing as I've seen all year anywhere," he said. "It was fantastic. That night, and the vibes from that night would've spilled over to our sale. It was the best of our Ontario program on display. Then we saw that with the yearling sale, the next crop of those potential champions on display. The climate's good, the breeding end of it is very strong, so I think it's a recipe for good things here."

A key ingredient in that recipe is the wealth of broodmares and stallions standing in Ontario, the latter of which Blanchard praised as some of the "most attractive and sought after, not only in Canada but in North America."

The group includes top pacing stallions Cattlewash, Bulldog Hanover, and Big Jim, as well as Muscle Mass, Green Manalishi S, and King Of The North on the trotting side, among countless proven others.

It is now incumbent on the industry and its people to capitalize on the recent momentum.

"It's hard not to get excited about the breeding program here for the next number of years," said Blanchard. "I think there's a lot of momentum that we've gained in this past year, and we have to make sure we maintain and build on that going forward, collectively as an industry."

If the most recent sale provides any indication of what to expect next year, then everyone involved will have held up their end of the bargain.

'There's a lot of work putting the sale together," Blachard said. "It's months and months of planning from the time we take entries until the time that first horse walks into the ring.

"We're already looking forward to next year, and before you know it, we'll be calling for entries. I'm really anxious to see what the catalog next year looks like because if the quality increases again, that's really exciting to think about."

Brandon Blvd to stand at Hanover Shoe Farms

Dr. J Stallion Management and Hanover Shoe Farms are proud to announce that 3-year-old pacing colt Brandon Blvd, (p, 3, 1:47.2m, $1,570,842) will stand in Pennsylvania at Hanover Shoe Farms commencing with the 2027 breeding season.

During his 2-year-old campaign, Brandon Blvd won seven of 10 starts, including victories in the Bluegrass and International Stallion Stakes. Brandon Blvd set his 2-year-old mark of 1:48.4 winning his Breeders Crown elimination which at the time was the fastest mile ever paced in Canada by a 2-year-old.

This year, at the age of 3, Brandon Blvd has nine wins in 13 starts and has never been off the board. Brandon Blvd's sophomore wins include the Meadowlands Pace, Hempt Stake, Paul Revere Pace, and the Somebeachsomewhere. In addition, Brandon Blvd showed his grit and determination with a second-place finish in the North America Cup coming first over before the half and being defeated by a mere half-length.

Bred by Crawford Farms and a former $425,000 yearling, the royally bred and impeccably conformed Brandon Blvd is out of the American Ideal mare Alexis Faith (p, 3, 1:50.3f, $586,546), who is a half-sister to world champion and 2021 Dan Patch Horse of the Year Test Of Faith.

"Brandon Blvd is the complete stallion package," said Dr. J. "Pedigree, performance, and physical presence, 'Brandon' has them all in spades. Brandon Blvd rejuvenates the Somebeachsomewhere sire line in Pennsylvania, a state that makes obtaining dual eligibility relatively easy. I am thrilled to be partnering with Hanover Shoe Farms. Brandon Blvd's 2027 book will include several of Hanover's best mares, several of Odds On Racing's best mares, and 12 high profile fillies owned by Punisher 11 Stable.

Russell Williams, Hanover Shoe Farms president said, "One of several exciting breeding lines we plan to follow with Brandon Blvd is the ability to breed probably the best grandson of Somebeachsomewhere to some of his best granddaughters, touching up the dominant pacing line of the past quarter century."

Trainer Andrew Harris added, "Brandon Blvd has the speed, heart, intelligence, and will to win that can't be taught. I believe that what separates Brandon from his peers is his desire to compete at the highest level. These are all qualities that great stallions pass on to their foals."

According to regular driver Dexter Dunn, "Brandon Blvd is all class. He does whatever I ask of him and is a real racehorse, he wants to race and he wants to win."

The introductory service fee for Brandon Blvd will be $12,000 U.S. Brandon Blvd will be syndicated at the conclusion of his 2026 racing season, please contact Dr. J at 717-578-7395 or drjablonsky@drjstallionmanagement.com for more information.

Prince Hal Hanover to stand at Blue Chip Farms

Dr. J Stallion Management and Blue Chip Farms are proud to announce that Prince Hal Hanover (p, 3, 1:47.2m, $1,785,454), will stand in New York at Blue Chip Farms commencing with the 2027 breeding season.

A top-level performer all three years he has raced, Prince Hal Hanover won the Somebeachsomewhere, Adios, Milstein, Bluegrass, and an elimination of the Breeders Crown at 3 competing against one of the very best 3-year-old crops in recent history. This year, at the age of 4, Prince Hal Hanover has been a major player in the older pacing ranks. Many 4-year-olds have tried this but very few have succeeded. Prince Hal Hanover won the Pacey Mindlin and swept his elimination and final of the Juravinski on the half-mile track Flamboro Downs in his first three starts as a 4-year-old. He has gone on to win a leg of the Graduate, an elimination of the Canadian Pacing Derby and the Allerage and is racing in the Breeders Crown final tonight. Possessed with blazing gate speed, "Prince Hal" is a factor every time he races and has missed the board just once in 2026.

Bred by Hanover Shoe Farms, Prince Hal Hanover is out of the Breeders Crown winning mare Percy Bluechip (p,3, 1:51.1f, $874,267), she a sister to millionaire Kenneth J.

"I have always admired Prince Hal Hanover; he always shows up," Dr. J said. "He's fast, he's tough, and he has the gate speed to put himself in any race. Never count him out. Hanover purchased his dam in 2019, my first year as the executive vice president there. It's very satisfying to see a mare I selected produce a horse like Prince Hal as her second foal."

Tom Grossman of Blue Chip Farms said, "Prince Hal Hanover's second dam Advantest was one of the first high-end race fillies we invested in and after her career all she did was throw top horses. We are very excited to have all that Blue Chip blood back on the farm and in New York State. We are big believers in stallions from top maternal families, and we are very excited for Prince Hal's future in New York."

Trainer Dr. Ian Moore added, "Prince Hal Hanover is without question one of the toughest and fastest horses I have ever trained. He shows up every week on every size track, from any post position with any kind of trip. 'Hal' is a class act that has every characteristic in a racehorse that you would want, and I truly believe he will pass on all those qualities as a stallion."

Regular driver Todd McCarthy echoed those sentiments.

"Prince Hal Hanover is one of the toughest and fastest horses I've had the pleasure of driving," McCarthy said. "He gives you everything he's got every time he steps on the track, and his manners make him an absolute pleasure to drive. He's got the speed, heart, and attitude you look for in a great racehorse."

The introductory service fee for Prince Hal Hanover will be $7,500 U.S. Prince Hal Hanover will be syndicated at the conclusion of his 2026 racing season, please contact Dr. J at 717-578-7395 or drjablonsky@drjstallionmanagement.com for more information.

Aetos Kronos S to stand at Tisbury Stud after racing career

Aetos Kronos S by Bold Eagle out of the Muscles Yankee mare Will Of A Woman, will take up stud duties at Tisbury Stud in Paris, KY at the conclusion of his racing career.

Owned by Jeff and Michael Snyder, Aetos Kronos S has competed in the biggest races and won against the best trotters in the world.

The classy son of Bold Eagle is the winner of 24 races (three Group 1s and four Group 2s) and earned an impressive $1,816,265 in his career. Known for speed, Aetos Kronos S won Sweden's Hakan Wallner Memorial in world record time and also set a track and Canadian record to win his $50,000 Maple Leaf Trot elimination in the first sub-1:50 mile on Canadian soil going 1:49.4.

With a pedigree as strong as his race record, Aetos Kronos S' sire Bold Eagle is one of the most notable race horses in history. Bold Eagle is a two-time winner of France's Prix d'Amérique and third richest trotter behind Varenne and Moni Maker.

Hailing from the Conch maternal line, his dam side is just as impressive. Aetos Kronos S is out of stakes winning mare Will Of A Woman and half-brother to multiple stakes winner Woman's Will (1:54.1, earnings of $602,991) and producer of Woman Of Passion (1:50.1, $650,447).

Third dam Conch is one of the most influential mares in trotter breeding. Conch is the dam of Vikings Kronos who is widely known as the creator of Europe's modern trotter. He is the sire and grand sire of many top studs in the world today.

"This is very exciting for me, my family, my farm, and Kentucky standardbred industry" says Austin Luttrell, owner of Tisbury Stud. "To stand a horse as high caliber as Aetos Kronos for my first stallion is a dream come true."

Owner Jeff Snyder said, "Aetos Kronos has been an amazing horse for us starting as a top 2-year-old in Sweden. Unfortunately, he lost more than two years of racing at the time of his being in top form due to an injury. We then decided to bring him to America after two years of inactivity and competed the last two years (at 9 and 10 years old) competitively against the best horses in North America.

"We are so excited to find a great home for Aetos Kronos and look forward to buying his yearlings."

Aetos Kronos S will stand for a stud fee of $6,000. Please contact Austin Luttrell to book your mare at 859-397-6639.

Visit past Crown contenders at Scioto's Millionaires Row

Four past Breeders Crown contenders — Foiled Again, Golden Receiver, Mission Accepted, and Pinkman — will be on hand to greet fans at Eldorado Scioto Downs tonight (Oct. 24).

The three geldings and one stallion have an astounding 719 starts, 244 wins, 131 seconds, 97 thirds, and $14.1 million in earnings between them.

To commemorate these horses and their accomplishments, the Ohio Harness Horsemen's Association will have a booklet giveaway, featuring statistics on and photos of all four horses. There will also be a limited number of Foiled Again plushies available free for kids, limited to one per child. Adults who would like a plushie can purchase one for $10 with proceeds going to New Vocations Racehorse Adoption Program.

Fans can visit Millionaires Row, located behind the grandstand, tonight from 4:30-8 p.m.

The 22-year-old Foiled Again needs no introduction. The all-time money leading standardbred has been a snowbird, wintering in Florida and spending his summers in Pennsylvania. Always available for meet-and-greet opportunities, Foiled Again has been enjoying the retirement life for the last seven years. "Foiled" competed in six Breeders Crowns, winning in 2013, finishing second in 2010 and 2011, and third in 2012.

Golden Receiver, at 21 years young, has been a part of the Cherokee Stables All Standardbred Drill Team for the past eight years and a 4-H show horse under the guidance of Emma Thornsberry. During his eight years of racing, Golden Receiver earned $2.2 million and finished second in the 2012 Breeders Crown and also competed in 2013.

Mission Accepted was a Breeders Crown contender in 2019 and 2020. He did double duty, racing and standing at stud during the 2022 and 2023 seasons, and earned $1.4 million lifetime. Fully retired to stallion duty since 2024, the 11-year-old currently stands at Winterwood Farm in Ohio.

Pinkman had an amazing 3-year-old year, winning the 2015 Hambletonian, Canadian Trotting Classic, Kentucky Futurity, Earl Beal Memorial, Zweig, and Stanley Dancer on his way to being named the Dan Patch Trotter of the Year. Pinkman won the Breeders Crown in 2014, was a 2015 second-place finisher, and a contender in 2017 and 2018. Having earned $2.8 million during his six-year racing career, the now 14-year-old Pinkman has been living in retirement at Richard McClelland's farm in Zanesville, OH.

The 2026 Breeders Crown finals at Scioto Downs continues tonight (Oct. 24) with the 3-year-old and open events (races 3-10). More details about the racing can be found on the Scioto Downs website and Hambletonian Society website. Available seating reservations can be made on Open Table. Live racing starts at 6 p.m.

Woodbine Mohawk Park receives Milton Excellence Award

Woodbine Entertainment is honored to share that Woodbine Mohawk Park has been named Large Business of the Year by the Milton Chamber of Commerce at the Milton Excellence Awards Gala, held Oct. 21 at Rattlesnake Point Golf Club.

Since 1981, the Milton Chamber of Commerce's Milton Excellence Awards have celebrated outstanding achievements in business and community leadership. Woodbine Mohawk Park has received this prestigious recognition in its first year of nomination, making the award especially meaningful.

Woodbine Mohawk Park has been a longstanding part of Milton's landscape, serving as an entertainment destination, community gathering place and employer for residents across the town and surrounding areas. It is also a vital part of the Ontario horse racing industry that supports thousands of people and businesses, from the local farms and training centers, to the veterinarians, blacksmiths, feed suppliers, and beyond.

Woodbine Mohawk Park's success and community impact are made possible by its dedicated team members, whose passion and commitment help create memorable experiences for guests and strengthen community connections.

"Every day, our team is committed to delivering an exceptional experience, whether through world-class racing, outstanding hospitality or the many interactions that make a visit to Woodbine Mohawk Park memorable," said Michael Copeland, CEO of Woodbine Entertainment. "We're proud to be part of the Milton community and grateful to the Milton Chamber of Commerce for recognizing the contributions our excellent team."

Woodbine Entertainment sincerely thanks the Milton Chamber of Commerce for this recognition and looks forward to continuing to welcome the community to Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The community will have a great opportunity to visit Woodbine Mohawk Park on Nov. 28 for the fourth annual Winter Wonderland and Market, taking place from 3 to 7 p.m. Families are invited to celebrate the holiday season with an afternoon of festive activities, including a holiday market featuring more than 40 local vendors, children's activities, a visit with Santa and live entertainment. Admission and parking are free.

Stakes favorites upended at Pocono on Tuesday

The favorites had a rough time of it in each of the two $47,550 John Simpson, Sr. Memorial divisions known as the Davidia Hanover for 2-year-old trotting fillies, on Tuesday afternoon (Oct. 20) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, with photo finishes going to a 11-1 shot (the second choice) over a 21-1 proposition in one cut and a horse sent off at 7-1 just ahead of a 12-1 shot in the other section.

The Captain Corey—Angel Eyes Hanover filly Andersson Hanover stayed undefeated in her four lifetime starts at Pocono while taking a new mark of 1:56.2 in the quicker division. Patrick Ryder, driving for trainer/father Chris Ryder and owner John Mc Keon, Jr., moved the victorious filly to the lead past the quarter, but her retaining supremacy looked to be in trouble as 1-20 favorite Patty's Girl came uncovered early on the backstretch and got fractionally ahead. But the first-up freshman soon lapsed from gait, leaving Andersson Hanover a clear path to the finish, which she maintained by a half-length over the late hard charge of Declan Shea.

The Tactical Landing—Made it Happen miss I'm A Hugger left, yielded, then came raw past the half against favored pacesetter Daringly. The duo battled through the turn, and in the lane, it was I'm A Hugger who forged to command, then hugged on to the lead strongly to withstand Eternal Light, still fifth in midstretch, by a neck in 1:56.3, a lifetime record. Braxten Boyd guided the freshman filly for trainer Ray Schnittker and owners Daisy Acres and Vincent Ali, Jr.

Meet driving leader Tyler Buter notched three victories on the afternoon, including one for top trainer Ron Burke, but he was one behind Pocono's second-leading driver for the meet, Anthony Napolitano.

Racing at Pocono resumes today at 1 p.m. Free Pocono program pages are or will be available at www.phha.org.

Bally's Dover 2026-27 season opens Nov. 2

The Delaware harness racing circuit returns to the state's capital city on Monday (Nov. 2), when Bally's Dover kicks off its 2026-27 meet.

The 83-day stand, which runs through April 1, 2027, features live harness racing on a Monday-through-Thursday schedule with a daily post time of 4:30 p.m. (ET). The only exceptions to this schedule are dark days on Thanksgiving (Nov. 26) and the entire week of Dec. 21-24.

Over $1.3 million in purses will be contested in Grand Circuit events during November, headed by the $300,000 Progress Pace, for 3-year-olds, on Wednesday (Nov. 25). Additionally, the Matron Stakes will bring the sport's top 2- and 3-year-olds to Bally's Dover, with all four rookie divisions taking place Thursday (Nov. 5), and all four sophomore sections on Thursday (Nov. 12).

Delaware-sired horses will square off in the final Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund series of 2026 through November and December. The $110,000 championship races for 2-year-olds will take place Nov. 19-25, followed by the 3-year-old finals the week of Dec. 14-17.

Pre-meet qualifiers will take place Tuesday (Oct. 27), beginning at 10 a.m.; entries are due to the race office by Monday (Oct. 26), no later than noon. During the meet, qualifiers will take place weekly on Wednesdays beginning at 10 a.m. with entries due to the race office the preceding day no later than 11 a.m.

The opening day program will also be drawn on Oct. 27.

The weekly draw schedule is as follows:

Race Day	Draw Day
Monday	Tuesday
Tuesday	Wednesday
Wednesday	Thursday
Thursday	Monday

Entries are due to the race office no later than 11 a.m. each day.

Condition sheets will be posted throughout the meet at horsemen.ustrotting.com.

Horsepeople are encouraged to use the USTA online entry system. To contact the race office, call 302-857-3230 on race days between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Bally's Dover is located at 1131 North DuPont Highway in Dover, DE, minutes off Exit 104 on Delaware Route 1. For more information on harness racing, sports wagering, gaming, and events at Bally's Dover, visit www.ballysdover.com.
