2026 SHSC YEARLING SALE AT HARRISBURG
STANDARDBRED HORSE SALE COMPANY

by Ray Cotolo

The second session of the Standardbred Horse Sales Company yearling auction in Harrisburg, PA carried the momentum of year-over-year gains into Tuesday (Nov. 3).

Session 2 of the Black Book sale saw the two-day gross reach $34,278,000, a 12 per cent increase from the 2025 two-day gross of $30,594,000 and a maintenance of the opening-day gross gains of around 15.5 per cent. The sale average across the two days of $59,718 is also a 5.6 per cent increase from the 2025 average after two days of $56,550.

"Everything is up," said Dale Welk, president/director of operations for the sale. "We're in good shape. We're back to the year before last. It was a good, strong middle today. The way the middle market has been, the up and down and not-so-good, but it was great today. You saw all the six-figure horses that went through the ring today, it was amazing."

Tuesday's figures also saw a slight increase in single-session gross year over year with $15,464,000 in sales, an 8.1 per cent increase from 2025's second-session gross of $14,301,000. The average for the second session of $38,660 comes in fairly level from 2025's second-session average of $38,547, though 29 more horses went through the ring this year.

"Some of the middle horse that I was kind of worried about… the $30,000 and $40,000 horses, some of them were selling for $80,000 and $90,000, which is good to see because that means the middle market is at least here and hopefully it'll stay for a while," Welk said. "I don't know if maybe it's because we're the last big sale and there's still people that are getting shut out. I still had people coming in saying, 'We'll be back tomorrow. We need to get some more horses.' It was a tough buy for anything that was really good, like yesterday was. I'm really happy."

As Welk mentioned, the Black Book sale wrapped its second of three yearling sessions at improved gross figures dating back to 2023. The most recent Black Book sale to end with better gross figures across the two days happened in 2022 with around 70 fewer horses sold that year. In averages, this year's sale level's on par with 2024, which also sold around 50 fewer horses.

"When I saw some of the crowds that came in today, I thought 'Oh, we're going to have a good day,'" Welk said. "You get all the right people here and things are going to happen."

Hip #307 Princess Citrus, a Gimpanzee filly out of Empressive Hill, sold to Al Crawford of New York for $200,000 out of the Hunterton consignment.

SECOND SESSION STORYLINES

Only a pair of yearlings breached the $200,000 territory on Tuesday. Hip #503, a Bulldog Hanover colt consigned by Hanover Shoe Farms named Splendor Hanover, topped all sales when leaving the ring at $205,000 for Marc Vaillancourt of Montreal, QC. Al Crawford of Syracuse, NY made the second highest purchase of the day at $200,000 on Hip #307, a Gimpanzee filly consigned by Hunterton Sales Agency named Princess Citrus. Splendor Hanover is out of the Captaintreacherous filly Sail By, who is a full sister to stakes winner Combustion and from a maternal line that includes the dam of Dan Patch 2-Year-Old Pacing Colt of 2014 Artspeak. Princess Citrus is out of the Muscle Hill mare Empressive Hill, dam of 2026 William Wellwood Memorial winner Ocean Storm and from a maternal line tracing back to the regal Pizza Dolce.

Al Crawford said of his purchase "Steve Stewart shared four that he liked with us and she was our favorite. I was looking for a few Gimpanzee yearlings to race in Kentucky with Tony Alagna. I look at stallions, videos, and finally the page; if they don't have a great video, I pass. But she had a great video and a solid page, so I bought her."

Ontario-based trainer Dan Lagace continued a trend of paying talent forward when reaching deep for Hip #262, a Captaintreacherous filly consigned by Hanover Shoe Farms named Covent Hanover. Lagace struck the winning bid of $175,000, the third highest of the session as well as the most he's paid for a yearling while he continues to ride the wave of success from his Grand Circuit competitor Sweet Lovin Lou into next year. This filly is out of the stakes-winning mare Charisma Hanover, whose foals include 2026 Breeders Crown open pace runner-up Calicojack Hanover.

"Sometimes it's alright to be the underbidder," Lagace said with a laugh. "Some of my best buys are the ones I didn't get, but my one partner forced me to go an extra $5,000 so that's how we ended up with her. Some of my partners [from Sweet Lovin Lou] are in — Big Al[s Stable], Miki Rae. I always thinks it's too high, it doesn't matter what I buy, it's too high. I was hoping for $140,000, $150,000 or something like that, but Burke's just finished second in the Breeders Crown with that horse. Calicojack [Hanover] raced in Canada most of his life, so we know the horse. So, yeah, we just bought it I guess."

The fourth highest sale of the day came with Hip #191, a Captain Corey colt consigned by Hanover Shoe Farms named Aegis Hanover. Dave McElrath of Brookfield, OH bought the colt out of Donato Hanover mare Aarena Hanover, whose bloodline includes granddam Precious Pleasure, a full sister to 1993 Hambletonian champ American Winner.

Annie Stoebe and Bob Cleary also registered among the top of Tuesday's session with a $160,000 purchase each. Stoebe, winning her first Breeders Crown this year with Diabolic Hill in the 3-year-old colt trot, won on Hip #478, a Captain Corey filly consigned by Shaffer Equine LLC named Karats Are Devine. The filly is out of the Kadabra mare Razburrito, who is a half-sister to 2012 Hambletonian Oaks winner Personal Style.

"She was a very nice individual and, looking at the page, the previous foals have done a lot with not a lot on the sire side," said Stoebe, who is soon entering just her seventh year in her training operation. "I feel like Captain Corey is really going to step the mare up, so I'm very happy with getting her. Al [Crawford] bought the filly, so being a partner in Diabolic [Hill] — we're definitely targeting different lines because we're planning for his future as well. It's very surreal and it's happened fast, but I think keeping my numbers small and staying true to myself and not changing really has helped."

> — Dale Welk

Cleary sparked late fireworks with just six horses left to sell on Tuesday when he won the auction on Hip #590, a Sweet Lou filly consigned by Hanover Shoe Farms named Victorious Hanover. The filly is the second foal from Somebeachsomewhere mare Viva La Deo, who is out of double millionaire Rocklamation and is a half-sister to Breeders Crown winner Rocknificent and stakes winner Rocket Deo.

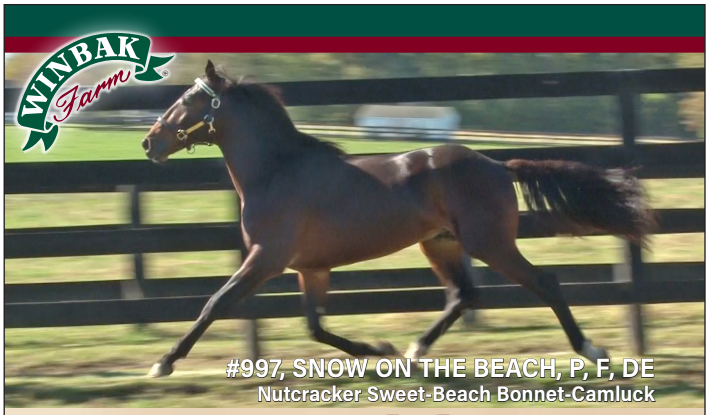

"On the second dam, there's world champions and real good racehorses," said Cleary, who signed as agent for owner Royal Wire Products. "When you put Sweet Lou into that family, you could end up with anything. I thought she had a beautiful head, neck, and shoulders... a real wide chest to her. I think she's going to grow and develop a little bit more. I actually had a feeling that she might make $200,000 and we wouldn't quite go that far, but I was actually quite happy to buy her for what we bought her for. I think she's got potential to be a really nice race filly."

The final yearling session of the 2026 Standardbred Horse Sale will see just over 300 horses go through the ring on Wednesday (Nov. 4). And as the last of the yearlings go through the auction, broodmares, and racehorses will begin shipping in and walking through the halls of the Farm Show Complex for a heavily anticipated catalog of the Mixed Sale that includes 2025's champion pacing 2-year-old Beau Jangles.

"We're starting to get a lot of interest in the Mixed Sale now," Welk said, adding with a laugh, "Of course, everyone is wondering about when Beau Jangles in going to get here. He's coming in late tomorrow afternoon, so he'll be here tomorrow evening."

Wednesday's session will begin at 10 a.m. (EST).

RACING INTO THE FUTURE
with BOB DUFF

How will the Hambletonian move impact harness racing's future?

by Bob Duff

History was my major in university. Of all the areas of study offered by institutions of higher learning, history may be the one accompanied by the most major misconceptions.

History is not merely about the memorization of events and dates. It's a study of how all of these moments impact our evolution as a society, both in positive and negative ways.

You've probably heard the infamous saying that what we learn from history is that we never learn from history.

So why bring all of this up in a column about horse racing? Well, because one of the most historic events in the sport is relocating. After more than a century, the Hambletonian, the biggest trotting race in the world, is leaving the shadow of the Big Apple.

"A sad day for New Jersey and the tradition of trotting," three-time Hambletonian winner Åke Svanstedt posted on X. "Hambletonian and The Meadowlands have shared so much history — it's hard to imagine one without the other."

Instead of racing across from Manhattan at The Meadowlands in East Rutherford, NJ, trotting's signature event will be taking place next year in Indiana at Hoosier Park.

This is not good news for the sport on many levels.

HRU's own Dave Briggs summed it up succinctly: "The Hambletonian belongs at The Meadowlands."

Again, as Briggs correctly points out, this is not intended to be a knock against Hoosier Park. The track will play host to the $1 million race for the next three years and will likely do a bang-up job.

Likewise, it's not a knock against the Hambletonian Society. It's their job to secure the future of the race, and there was definite uncertainty at present with The Meadowlands, which has held the race since 1981.

> "No decision regarding the Hambletonian is taken lightly by the board. The Hambletonian has enjoyed a long and successful run at The Meadowlands since 1981. All Meadowlands management teams have been great partners in promoting the race and the surrounding events. However, the board received a proposal [from Hoosier Park]... that will only guarantee continued opportunity and growth for the Hambletonian and the sport."
> — John Campbell

"Entertaining proposals to host the Hambletonian became necessary when The Meadowlands did not exercise its exclusive right of renewal for the Hambletonian in September 2025," the Hambletonian Society said in its release.

Under its bylaws, in this scenario, the Hambletonian Society was required to open up the race to bidders. And Hoosier Park won the bid.

The Hambletonian Society's press release on the decision said that Hoosier Park "came with an incentive-laden contract."

"No decision regarding the Hambletonian is taken lightly by the board," Hambletonian Society president/CEO John Campbell told the Bergen Record.

"The Hambletonian has enjoyed a long and successful run at The Meadowlands since 1981. All Meadowlands management teams have been great partners in promoting the race and the surrounding events.

> Is harness racing accepting that it's just going to be a regional sport in the Midwest and nothing more? Is it a wise move for the sport to abandon a presence of one of its major races in the vicinity of the largest city and media market in North America?

"However, the board received a proposal… that will only guarantee continued opportunity and growth for the Hambletonian and the sport."

Will it, though?

IS IT BETTER TO BE A BIG FISH IN A SMALL POND?

TV networks root for the New York Yankees to make the World Series and the Los Angeles Lakers to reach the NBA finals for a reason. It's because major markets sell. They drive ratings. Advertisers are attracted to big-time events.

Selling interest in the Hambletonian in Indiana isn't going to be the same as selling it as the sport's signature event in the largest U.S. media market.

Instead of competing next to the city that never sleeps, the sport is making it easy for people to sleep on the Hambletonian.

Even in Indiana, the Hambletonian won't be the star racing attraction. There's that other race, the 500-mile one held every May in Indianapolis. It's kind of a big deal.

There's no question that harness racing is on the rise in the Midwest. Kentucky is booming. Indiana is solid. Ohio, home to the Little Brown Jug, is also going strong.

Who knows? Maybe this power move to the Midwest is exactly what the sport needs. Solidifying its base and ensuring the future.

Is this what everyone wants from harness racing, though? To be a regional sport, small potatoes, a big fish in a small pond? This move will basically turn harness racing into a foreign entity on the U.S. coasts.

Harness racing is slipping away in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. New York does okay, but no longer plays host to as many signature events. Moving the Hambletonian doesn't bode well for the sport's future in any of these states.

While looking to the future is always vital, forgetting the past can be lethal. Will the Hambletonian get more attention in Indiana? Maybe. But what does this say about the industry?

Is harness racing accepting that it's just going to be a regional sport in the Midwest and nothing more? Is it a wise move for the sport to abandon a presence of one of its major races in the vicinity of the largest city and media market in North America?

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Jesse Pare can't turn down the opportunity to learn from her horses

by Chris Lomon

Whenever Jesse Pare needs to put things into perspective, she knows exactly where to turn.

She won't receive any words of wisdom, sound advice or verbal encouragement of any sort, but it doesn't mean the young caretaker ever walks away from the interactions disappointed.

In fact, it is quite the opposite whenever she spends time, whether it is short, long or somewhere in between, with the champion bay filly Cant Turn You Down.

"Horses like Cant Turn You Down, also known as Katie, can teach you so much if you let them," Pare said. "She makes every day a good day, and she never lets the so-called 'bad days' get to her. She's always had a positive outlook on life even if she's had a million reasons not to. I strive to be more like Katie and I think others should, too."

Although that is admittedly easier said than done on certain days, Pare, who works in the barn of Ontario-based trainer Zach Carroll, will seek out Cant Turn You Down during tough times.

It is a connection she has never once taken for granted.

Along with her calming influence, Cant Turn You Down, a 3-year-old daughter of Cattlewash out of the Big Jim mare Amulet Seelster, also has the profound ability to generate unlimited excitement within those closest to her.

Unraced at 2, the filly, trained, bred, and co-owned by Carroll, has been a sophomore sensation in the Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) ranks.

Sporting a mark of 10-1-0 from 12 starts, Cant Turn You Down's most recent success came in the $350,000 OSS Gold Super Final for 3-year-old filly pacers on Oct. 10 at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

It was her ninth consecutive win.

"Cant Turn You Down is my greatest accomplishment and is one horse I will never forget," Pare said. "Her journey has been the most testing but rewarding experience for me. I'm incredibly proud of her and I am proud of myself for keeping her sharp and happy all season."

She also brings out a different side of Pare on occasion.

Whenever Cant Turn You Down goes postward, her doting caretaker transforms from mild and muted observer to an animated and lively super fan.

"I like to watch races alone by a quiet TV," Pare said. "I'm typically pretty calm. Cant Turn You Down has certainly had me shed a lot of happy tears and had me screaming at the TV, which typically isn't like me."

Pare also points out another pair of pacers, 6-year-old gelding Reign Supreme and 6-year-old mare Lady Terra, as other horses in the Carroll barn she has connected with.

"They are both classy racehorses who have been very good to me," she said.

Having a strong bond with horses is by no means a recent thing for Pare.

Growing up on her grandparents' (Brian and Debbie Eckentein) standardbred farm, she gravitated towards horses at an early age.

When she was 15, she got her first job working as a groom for John Petland.

"That's where I learned all the basics, from harnessing for the first time to paddocking on my own," Pare said. "I met Zach Carroll at the right place and at the right time. I was looking for a change of scenery, and he was going out on his own to start his own stable."

It has been a perfect match for Pare, an opportunity that she is grateful to have.

Despite the plethora of pluses, she finds in her role, there are, admittedly, difficult moments that require an equal measure of strength and resiliency.

While there are times when she might second-guess herself, Pare views it as a valuable learning experience.

"The toughest part of the job is when you are pouring your heart and soul into a horse and you are still feeling like you've failed them," she said. "That's something I felt with Cant Turn You Down early in her career and then getting her to where she is now.

> "The best part of the job [of being a caretaker] is having a connection with the horses and being their person – knowing that I know them better than anyone else."
> — Jesse Pare

"But that's what makes grooms want to be better and try harder for their horses."

As for the most rewarding part of her job, Pare circles back to the kinship she has forged with those horses under her care.

Whether they happen to be Gold Super Final champions, overnight regulars or grinding out in the claiming ranks, is of no matter to her.

That they are cared for and understood is the barometer by which she measures her own contentment and fulfillment.

"The best part of the job is having a connection with the horses and being their person – knowing that I know them better than anyone else," she said.

With the 2026 racing season having already started to wind down, Pare has found time to rest her body and mind, a welcome opportunity to re-energize and recharge after a jam-packed summer.

"Racing this year has definitely consumed a lot of my time," she said. "I'm enjoying the down time catching up on sleep. But I wouldn't change it and I hope next summer will be just as busy."

A summer that will see Pare continue to look to her horses for inspiration and incentive.

"Harness racing has given me so much confidence and purpose in life," she said. "I'm just so grateful for that."

Road to Oak Grove Derby and Oaks continues

Two standout 2-year-old trotters added to their spectacular seasonal resumes by capturing the $700,000 Grade 1 Breeders Crown finals on Friday (Oct. 23) at Eldorado Scioto Downs, further cementing their dominance on the Road to the 2027 Oak Grove Trotting Derby and Oaks.

In the colt division, Wrong Sounds Right secured another automatic qualifying berth for the 2027 $500,000 Oak Grove Trotting Derby by winning the Breeders Crown 2-year-old colt trot. Driven by Todd McCarthy for trainer Jim Campbell, Wrong Sounds Right set a world record of 1:51.3 in his victory. The colt, with seasonal earnings of $948,750, is owned and bred by Runthetable Stables.

In the filly division, Birr Castle earned her third automatic qualifying spot in the eliminations to the 2027 $300,000 Oak Grove Trotting Oaks by capturing the Breeders Crown for 2-year-old trotting fillies. Driven by Scott Zeron for trainer Marcus Melander, Birr Castle stormed through the stretch to win by one length in a track-record 1:53. She is a homebred owned by Pheasant Hill Farm's Ed Lohmeyer and Dr. Patty Hogan and now has seasonal earnings of $866,786.

The "Road to…" series was established to reward top 2-year-old trotting performances and enrich Oak Grove's premier events. A series of designated Grand Circuit and Sire Stakes races serve as automatic qualifying events to the Derby and Oaks eliminations.
