Here's why mutuel prices in harness racing have been more and more chalky

Short prices are a detriment for a pari-mutuel gambling game, and the fix is anything but easy.

BRUSH AND CRUSH

with DEAN TOWERS

When many of us cut our teeth handicapping the great sport of harness racing, very short prices were a thing.

We'd see Niatross at 1-9, where falling over a hub rail might be the only thing to thwart him; there'd be Mission Brief or Snow White where we'd wonder to ourselves: Do we really want to take 1-5 on a 2-year-old filly trotter, no matter how all-world she is?

In 2026, those microscopic prices don't involve horses like those greats. No, not even close. They happen everywhere, even when we least expect them.

Just this past week I perused the prices at various racetracks and counted six 1-9 shots. This wasn't the grand total — there were likely more — it was just on the races I was playing. Remarkably, there weren't even bridge jumpers involved in these races. They just organically happened.

At Woodbine Mohawk Park last Monday (Nov. 9), their popular 15 per cent takeout Pick-5 generated the following prices:

- Race 1: 3-5 winner
- Race 2: 2-5 winner
- Race 3: 3-5 winner
- Race 4: 3-5 winner
- Race 5: The priciest winner at 6-5.

We're lucky it wasn't a Pick-6, because the sixth race winner was 1-9.

Again, these races on paper did not look overly uncompetitive. In fact, three of the horses were not even morning-line favorites, and Mohawk's track handicappers did not have any of them as slam dunks.

For those of you who do play the sport regularly, I know you are nodding your head. This is not an isolated race card in harness racing. It's a "thing."

What in the world is happening?

I'll try and break it down.

Harness racing's low mutuel prices are a huge problem. In my view, handle can't grow and the betting side of the sport cannot thrive without major changes.

SHORT PRICES ARE NOT SUCKER BETS, THEY'RE ACTUALLY PRETTY GOOD ONES

We hear it often in the grandstand or on social media, "I am not betting her at 3-5, that price is crazy!" and "2-5 on an 8 claimer that got beat last week off a perfect trip, that's nuts."

It might feel silly to lean on what looks like suspect chalk, but it is simply not the case.

According to my numbers, at Woodbine Mohawk Park for 2026, favorites have won about 47 per cent of the races.

Of those nearly half the races, the $1 win ROI is $0.9256 — almost 93 cents. This translates to an ROI of -7.44 per cent. The short prices we see are not only highly predictive; they're beating the takeout by about half.

Meanwhile, let's look at horses 5-1 or higher, with the same sample.

These horses win 3.6 per cent of the time, and a $1 return is $0.5626 — a shade over 56 cents.

That works out to a negative 43.74 per cent ROI. This subset of horses are arguably the worst bets in any gambling game anywhere.

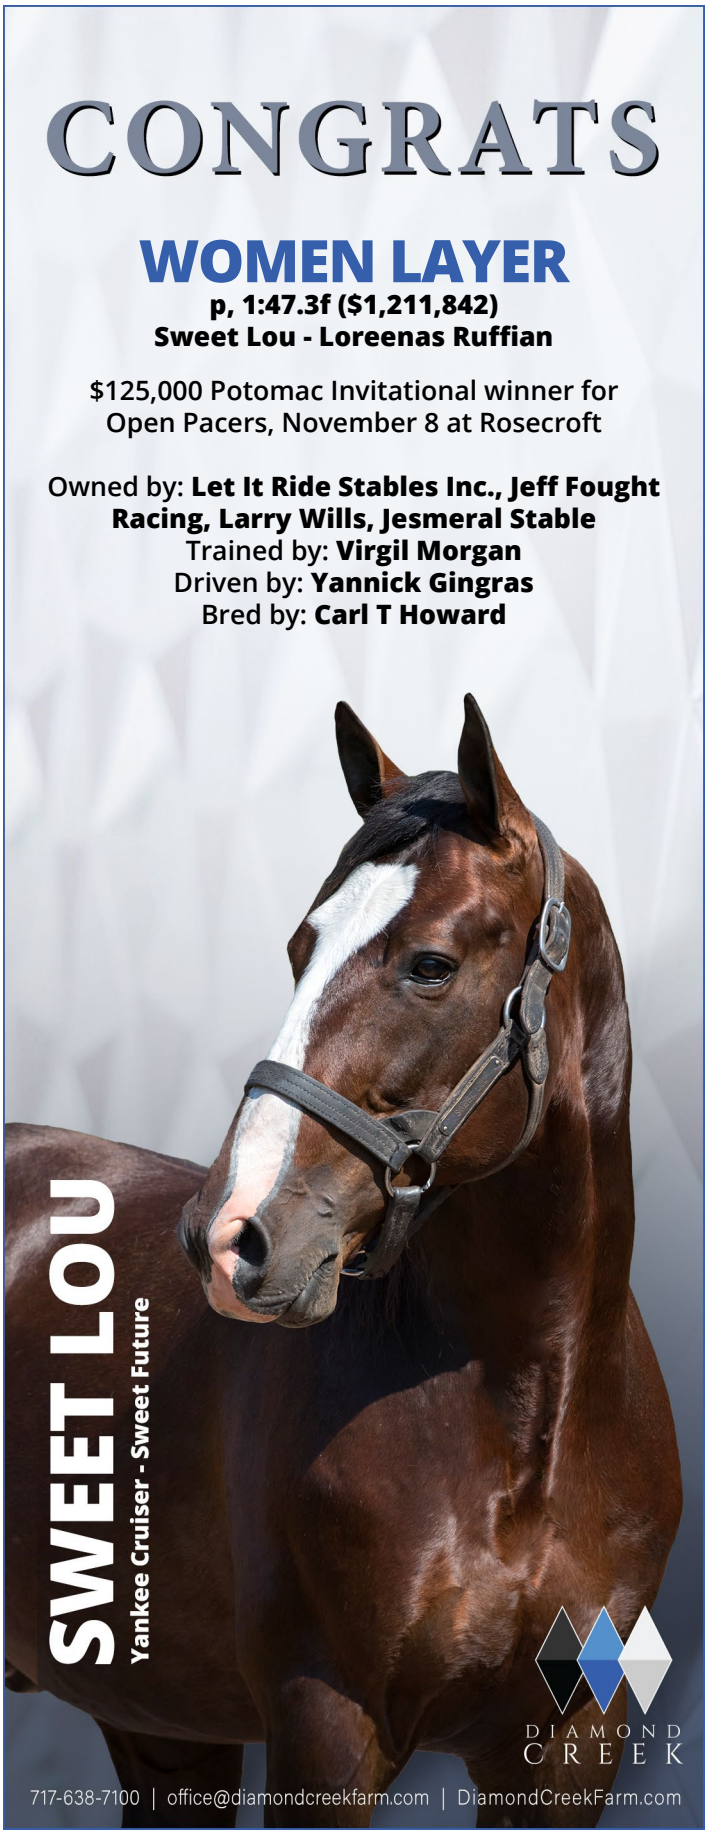

Why do we see so many short prices? In part because they are simply much better bets, and a smarter customer base (with fewer casual fans betting their favorite numbers) knows it.

IN THE REBATE WORLD THIS IS ONLY PART OF THE STORY

At this point you might be saying: "Sure, chalk is returning 93 cents for dollar bet, but people are still losing 7 per cent."

This is true; however, it's not "people," it's "some people."

We've all heard about the computer modelers with big bankrolls; the CAW groups. These teams bet serious volume — smaller teams can bet $50 million a year on both breeds, up to the largest who are rumored to bet a billion or more — and they aren't playing the same game as the rest of us.

Just this past week I perused the prices at various racetracks and counted six 1-9 shots. This wasn't the grand total — there were likely more — it was just on the races I was playing. Remarkably, there weren't even bridge jumpers involved in these races. They just organically happened.

The rebate world is a murky one, but it's accepted that the CAW teams get the best pricing on the planet. With, for example, a 9 per cent rebate on win action, a 7 per cent loss results in a 2 per cent flat bet win ROI.

When anyone has a flat-bet ROI of 2 per cent or more on any bet, they bet it hard to where the ROI approaches zero.

This means there's a whole lot of money hammering the chalk, and we're seeing increasingly (what we would call) ridiculously low mutuel prices.

SMART MONEY EVOLVES, MAKING IT EVEN CHALKIER

For the above sample of favorites, I noted the ROI was near a 7 per cent loss and that's accurate, but it's not the whole story.

That sample includes 3-1 or 4-1 favorites. It's not subset by price.

I do not have data to share with you about, for example, 8-5 shots or lower, but I've heard from players who do model it. They tell me that the ROI increases as prices get shorter.

We often see a 4-5 horse get beat down to 1-5 last flash. Frequently this happens because the horse is a good bet, not a bad one. The teams or sophisticated players who subset this data (based on their models) are the ones sending it in.

IT'S EASY TO BLAME THE TEAMS, BUT WE NEED TO LOOK IN THE MIRROR

In horse racing media, CAWs tend to take a lot of flak for low prices (not undeservingly), but in my view this misses the big picture.

If the market is making horses 1-5 or 2-5 in many of our races, it's signaling something important: It's telling us that the races are not competitive.

Barns (especially the big ones) use class drops to their advantage. When it's go-time in a cheap class, they're 2- or 3-5.

With so much purse money available and entry boxes not overfilled, drivers, and trainers can draw a bad post and give the horse an easy one. They might want to drop another line anyway, and when they enter the following week with a great post position, they're (you guessed it) 2-5.

Even pop-up series are difficult for race offices. Again, powerful barns are sharp, and if a Pollack or Burke barn has a very good horse that fits the condition, there they are, at yes, 2-5 or 3-5 to win the next three legs and final.

Unlike our thoroughbred cousins, our stakes races are not very different. When an elimination winner draws the best post, it's like pouring gasoline on the chalk parade fire.

Yes, the betting teams are making what might appear an even money shot 1-5 and eating their meal with ravenous gluttony, but the sport is the one putting these races on the menu.

IS THERE A FIX?

Back in the day there were a whole lot of nice 5-2 or 4-1 or 6-1 bets because pools were filled with casual money. With those fans getting their gambletainment from slot machines or scratch tickets or casinos, those days are long gone and are likely never to return.

With that realism, maybe harness racing can remove CAWs from the pools; that should help, right? Sure, it may move a 1-5 horse up to 3-5, but I'd submit the result would be less liquidity in the pools and lower handles.

What's in the sport's control is the races it cards.

Can races be made more competitive?

Can purse payouts be adjusted to encourage more action (action of course means fewer 1-5s taking a lead and everyone waiting until next week)? One clever player recently floated an idea that the sport slides purse payouts where if a horse from the worst posts wins, they can earn more than 50 per cent of the purse.

Can anything be done to change "drop and pops" that result in a parade of 1-5 shots that plague the sport?

This weekend, the Jacksonville Jaguars are -600 odds against the Tennessee Titans. That price attracts little money, which is why -10.5 "handicaps" are offered. Is harness racing's handicap system archaic, or can it still be used in new ways to make the races better?

Artificial intelligence and computer models are sophisticated enough to identify what horses are forecast to be super-strong chalk. Does the sport (I am looking at you, USTA) need to explore and invest in systems that can be used in each race office to card better betting races given the available horse population?

SUMMING UP

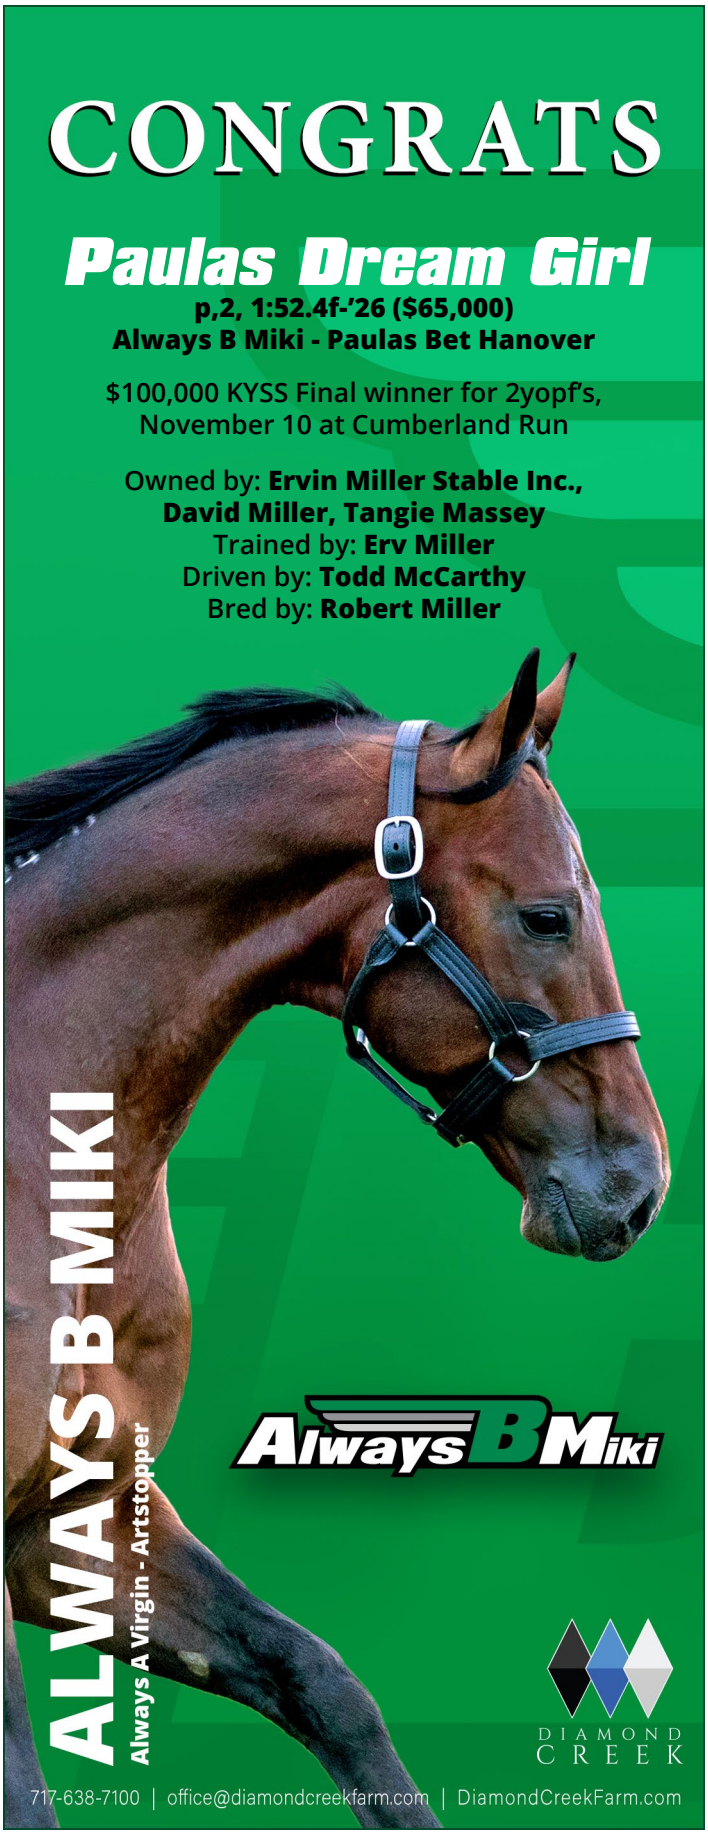

Harness racing's low mutuel prices are a huge problem. In my view, handle can't grow and the betting side of the sport cannot thrive without major changes.

And there is clearly no easy fix.

But, in my opinion, a serious discussion needs to take place in this sport. What can be done about the problem, if anything? What is achievable? Is there a path forward?

If we want the sport to be around for future generations to enjoy and wager, I think it's a task worth undertaking.

The late John Manzi on an elephant.

MEADOWLANDS MATTERS

with DEBBIE LITTLE

John Manzi was an original; often imitated, but never duplicated

by Debbie Little

With the passing last week of Communicators Hall of Famer John Manzi, 82, the sport lost its last link to a bygone age when publicists mattered.

In a time, unlike today, when every track had a publicity department, Manzi stood out. There were others who preceded him — Col. Dave Herman at Brandywine and Allen Finkelson at Monticello Raceway, and then, Pompano Park — but Manzi was an original who dwelt in no one's shadow, even though his time at Monticello followed Finkelson.

"Col. Dave, Finkelson, and Manzi were very much of that, you know, sort of Barnum and Bailey, if you could think of it, you could do it mentality," said Hambletonian Society consultant Moira Fanning. "And Manzi was a very creative thinker. I think it suited Monticello very well at the time, and he was a fun guy. If he was doing something, you wanted to be around.

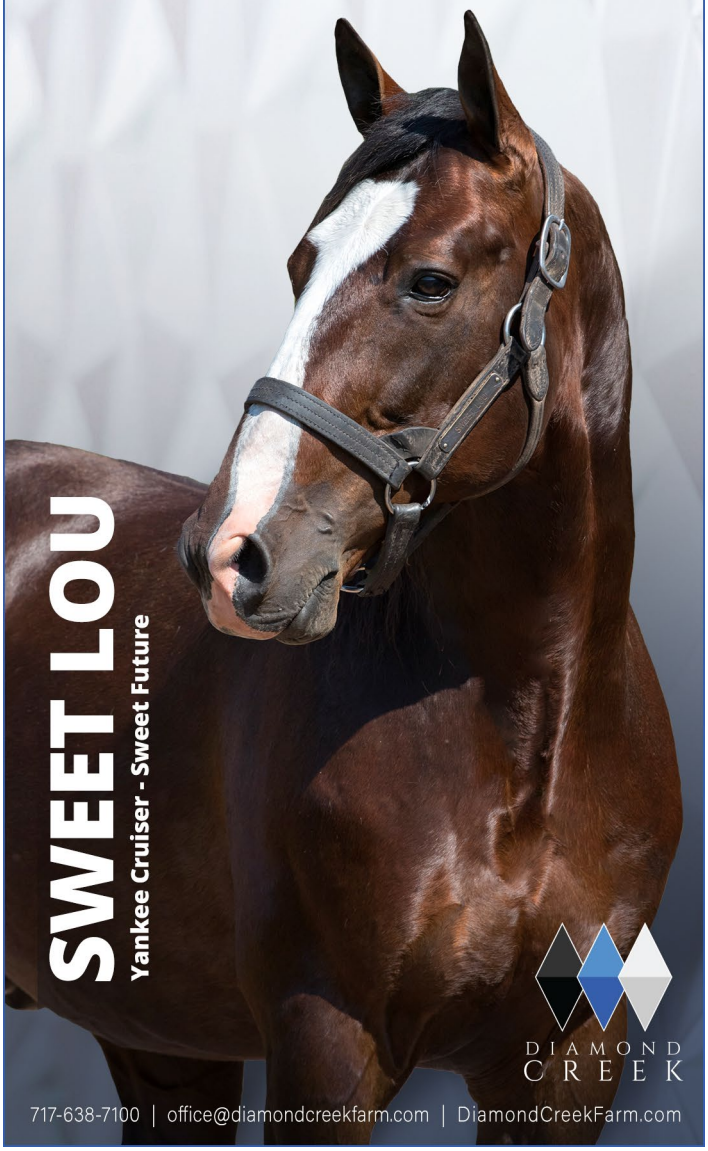

"I think he was creative in a way that is kind of gone from the sport today, and maybe it was because it was of a certain time and a certain era, but it's too bad it's gone."

On Monday (Nov. 9), Manzi's family and friends gathered at the Hall of Fame in Goshen, NY to share stories and celebrate him.

"He was a man for the times," owner/amateur driver Irv Atherton said. "I mean there was no better publicity director, no better man for the job. He was just gracious and full of fun and laughs."

Manzi was responsible for Artherton becoming an amateur driver.

Atherton said back in the late 1980s and early '90s, one of many creative races that Manzi dreamed up was the Battle of the Bosses, so horse owners could see what it was like to be on the track.

"It goes to show you that owners are not only competitive with owning horses; when you put them on a racetrack in a bike, it's even worse," Atherton said with a laugh. "We're really competitive. I mean, it was a great time."

Following the Battle of the Bosses, Manzi convinced Atherton to join the ranks of the amateurs in the Billings Harness Driving Series.

"He's responsible for the amateur movement," Atherton said.

Similar to Atherton, Meadowlands chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir was also convinced by Manzi to compete in a race at Monticello.

"One of my fondest memories was when he asked me to come to Monticello Raceway and participate in the Battle of the Brain Trust, and I gladly accepted," Settlemoir shared on Facebook. "When I got to the winner's circle with everyone after driving in the exhibition race, John greeted me with a high five and told me next time I would win.

"I'm going to miss you, John. You were a huge asset not only to Monticello Raceway, but to the entire sport of harness racing. I'll see you on the other side."

Hambletonian Society executive vice president Tom Charters shared a classic Manzi story that also involved Communicators Hall of Famer Barry Lefkowitz, who died early last year.

"Barry told it to me," Charters said. "It seems that neither Barry nor John had ever been to the baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, so they decided to share a road trip. It's probably two to three hours from Monticello to Cooperstown. But according to Barry, they had to stop at every garage sale, yard sale, and antique shop on the way. By the time they got there, it was 20 minutes to closing time and Manzi wouldn't pay the price of a full ticket. So, Barry said they got in the car and drove home.

"Barry had actually told me this at the last USHWA meeting either of them attended. Barry and I made a pact to come back to Goshen a couple days early so we could make that side trip to Cooperstown. Sadly, he passed away before we could get that done."

There were many stories and laughs shared in Manzi's honor.

"I think it's very hard to single out any one memory," Fanning said. "He could command a room. He had an endless supply of stories. I loved seeing him. He was always optimistic, always upbeat, always happy.

"I would say what impressed me the most was what a mush he was about his girls [daughters Michelle and Tracey], his family [especially his wife Sharon], and his cats. He never wavered in that, and I loved the guy, I really did."

He came from a big, talented, and well-respected harness racing family that included his dad, uncles, and cousins and Hall of Famers Cat Manzi and Eddie Lohmeyer.

"We started in a two-room schoolhouse, grades 1 through 3 and 3 through 6," Lohmeyer said of John. "He lived down the road from me, and we spent our whole young lives together. He was more like a brother to me; I spent more time with him than my own brothers for sure. And then we had racing besides that."

Lohmeyer's sister Judy added, "We all called him Johnny Boy in the family, and they [Johnny and Eddie] were a few years older than I was, so I don't really have any stories that I remember from childhood other than the two of them were always together and always playing ball together.

"All of our family was like that. All of our cousins, we all considered each other brothers and sisters, and although he was older than me, he was still very close and we all took care of one another."

Although he is best known for publicizing the races, John was proud of being a horseman and especially a driver. He liked to say, "Between me and my cousin Cat, we have almost 15,000 wins."

It's impossible to know how many trips to the winner's circle John made since the USTA didn't officially keep records back then, but when considering the Manzi cousins' combined stats, one might remember the Aaron brothers. Hank slugged 755 round-trippers and was baseball's Home Run King when he retired, while little brother Tommie hit 13 homers to reach a combined total of 768.

Lohmeyer said John loved to give him a hard time about one particular race.

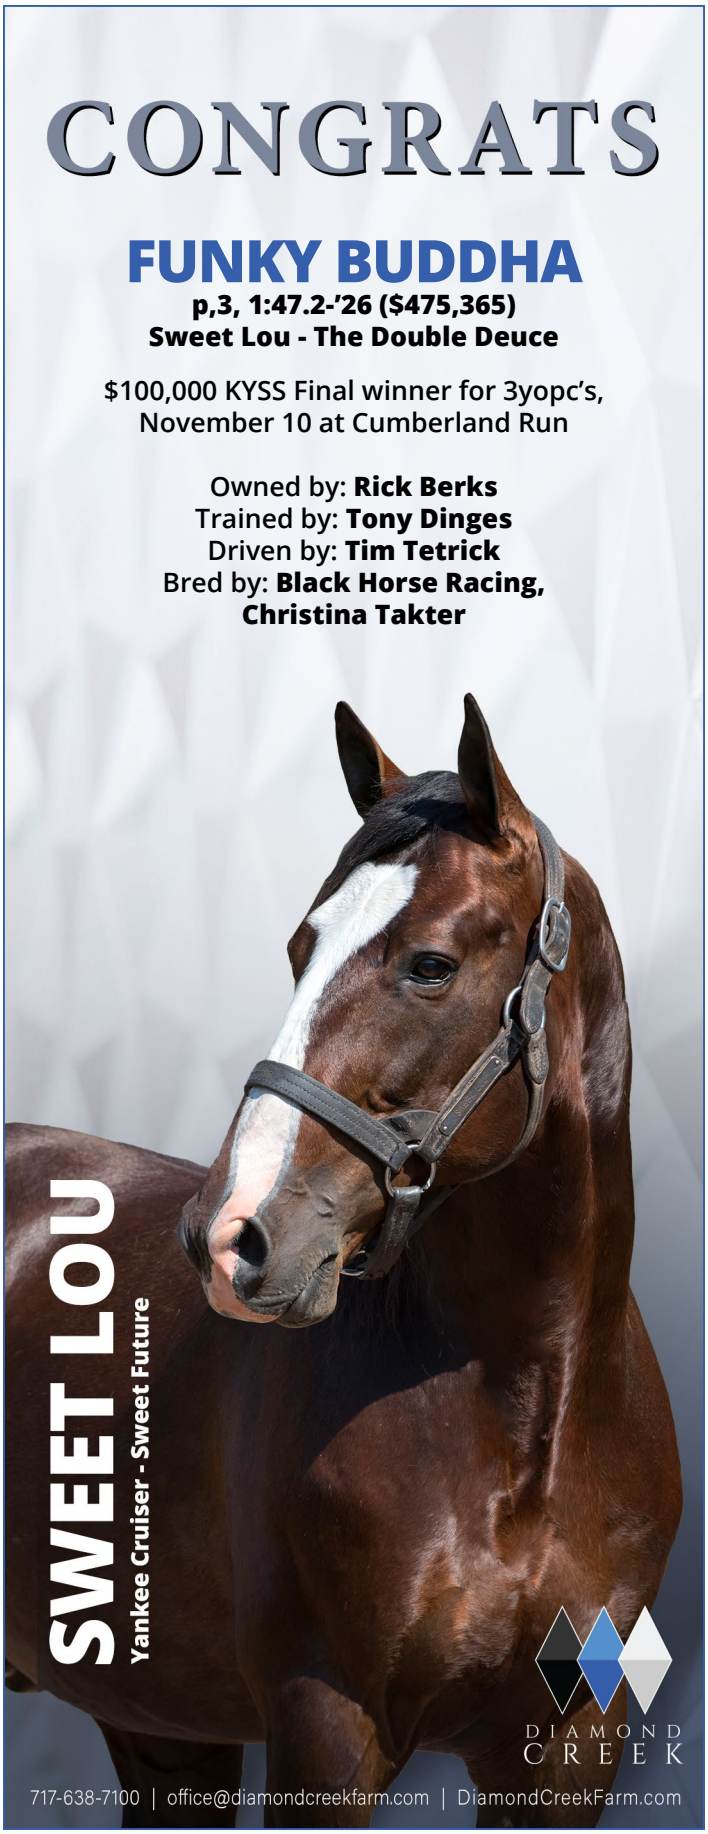

"He was driving a horse for me once at Freehold, and I always remember this because he brought it up to me all the time when his back hurt," Lohmeyer said with a laugh. "Well, at that time they had bits that were rubber and the inside was steel. Well, the bit corroded, so he went up the backstretch and the bit broke and he fell out the bike backwards and he came down on his back and, of course, that hurt him.

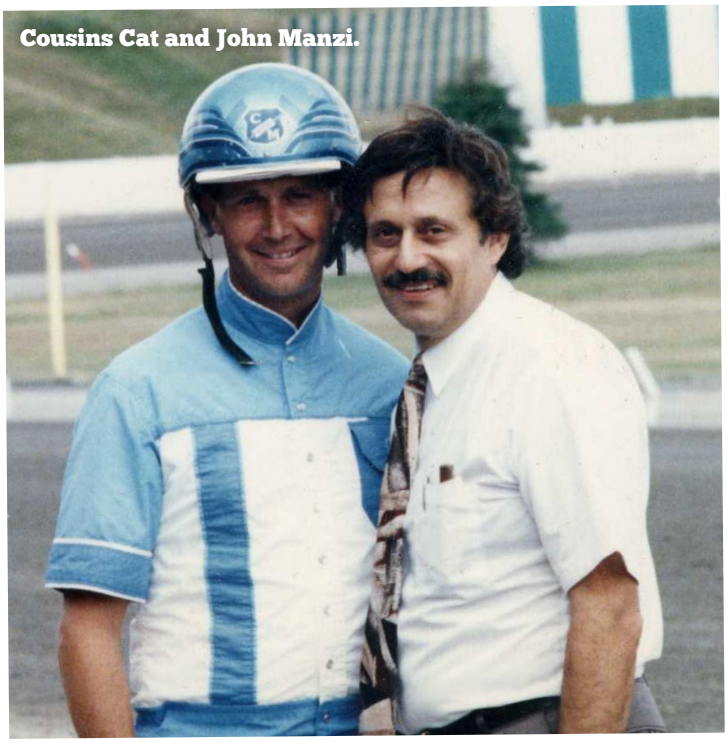

"So, every time his back hurt him, he was always bitching to me about it."

A packed room gathered to honor John, both at the church and the Museum, which was nothing new, since over the years, he had endured more than his share of roasts.

"I remember he was such an easy target," Fanning said. "You could come up with so many jokes about him, but he was such a good sport about it."

Communicators Hall of Famer Bob Heyden, unable to attend in person, sent a note that said in part, "He was a showman, not a show off."

Cousins Cat and John Manzi.

John liked to say, "I may be a has-been, but at least I'm not a never was."

None who really knew him would agree with the former, and were all thankful for the latter.

NOTE: I was one of many that John talked into competing in an exhibition event, in my case, for members of the media in jog carts without whips. Unlike the exhibition races most tracks do today, we were not in a double-seated jog cart with a horseman holding the lines. We were the ones driving. Thanks to that experience, I eventually got a matinee license and even got to jog Niatross.

In March, I had the honor of letting John know that the U.S. Harness Writers Association, at our meeting in February, had voted to name the Amateur Driver of the Year Award after him.

He was very happy to hear it and he ended the call the same way he always did saying, "Thanks for calling. Give Dave a kiss for me."

For one of Manzi's roasts I came up with a song about him that my husband Dave and I sung to him to the tune of the Miami Dolphins' fight song:

Monticello had John Manzi
World's greatest PR man
He laughs, and smokes, and does his hair
Like no mere mortal can
He dreams up hokey races
Like no one in the game
And when you say John Manzi
You're talking Hall of Fame

There've been drivers fat and ugly
Camels, elephants
Who can forget the buffalo
And the Penthouse Pets
Lawyers, Hunters, Bosses
Bartenders and the rest
And when you say John Manzi
You're talking harness racing's best

Rebuff gelding Gitcha Some tops Northern Indiana Yearling Speed Sale

by James Platz

The Northern Indiana Yearling Speed Sale returned after a one-year hiatus Tuesday (Nov. 10) at the Topeka Livestock Auction in Topeka, IN. Eighty-three of 93 yearlings entered passed through the sale ring, producing gross sales of $648,900 and an average of $7,818. Rebuff gelding Gitcha Some topped the session, bringing a $33,000 final bid.

When the Northern Indiana Yearling Speed Sale was created in 2021, it was one of three fall marketplaces for Indiana-sired horses, joining the Hoosier Classic and Midwest Classic sales, and preceding both on the calendar with a September date. As the Hoosier Classic sale was purchased, rebranded as the Midwest Standardbred Horse Sale (MSHS) and expanded to three days, demand was not high for another auction on the 2025 calendar.

With the Midwest Classic sale, traditionally held in late November, mothballed, and MSHS management tweaking the format earlier this year and scaling back to two days, sale consultant Richard Fry opted to revive the Northern Indiana sale, moving it back on the calendar to early November. The result was a 91-yearling catalog and two supplements, the second-highest entries in the sale's short history.

Four yearlings brought bids of $20,000 or more, with Gitcha Some bringing the highest price. Cataloged as Hip #17 from consignor Aron Bontrager, the gelded son of Rebuff is from Majestic Presence, a $200,000-plus winner with two winners from her first three foals. Gitcha Some is a full-brother to Cool Manner, a nine-time winner on the Indiana Fair Circuit, including the $25,000 Governor's Cup championship. Kenneth Graber was the winning bidder.

Seven yearlings from Rebuff's second crop averaged $13,243.

Jubitty, a filly from the first crop of 2021 Dan Patch Trotter of the Year Jujubee, was second on the sale sheet, selling for $30,000. Cataloged as Hip #14 and consigned by Samuel King, the yearling is out of KYSS leg winner Little Bitty Lies, who has produced Grand Circuit winner All The Truth, a six-figure earner with a mark of 1:53.3. S & R Racing purchased the filly.

A group of five Jujubee-sired yearlings sold for an average of $12,600.

Cruising Vegas was the highest-priced pacer of the session, hammered down for $25,000. Consigned by Double R Farm as agent, the colt is by first-crop sire Loubet, and is the first foal from Tellitlikeitis mare Tell Me Please. Faron Miller signed the ticket on the colt, cataloged as Hip #51.

Trotting sire Helpisontheway had the largest representation in the sale, with 12 yearlings consigned. Four of the top 10 yearlings sold were sired by the son of Chapter Seven. Dontstandintheway, Hip #11, topped the group, selling for $20,000. Consigned by Aron Bontrager, the gelding is a full-brother to Indiana Sires Stakes leg runner-up Copperstone. He was purchased by Mike Peterson.

Helpisontheway's progeny averaged $11,267.

Breeders Crown finals set for Eskilstuna

by Thomas Hedlund

The final major stakes races of the season for Sweden's 3- and 4-year-old trotters will be contested Saturday (Nov. 14) at Eskilstuna, where four $240,000 Breeders Crown finals are scheduled over 2,140 meters.

Swedish Trotting Derby winner Mellby Narrow failed to advance from his semifinal, but Swedish Trotting Kriterium winner Nanda Devi Cut (Maharajah), a year younger, made it through despite being defeated by Kodiak Zet (Father Patrick) in his elimination.

The likely favorites in the four divisions are Nanda Devi Cut in the 3-year-old colts and geldings, Zeebreeze in the 3-year-old fillies, Chamberi in the 4-year-old mares, and Zarex in the 4-year-old colts and geldings.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Horses are the key to Grace Harwood's happiness and standardbreds opened the door

by Chris Lomon

Grace Harwood loved working with horses; that much she was sure of. Standardbreds, however, were more of a question mark — at least initially.

When she began working at Amulet Equine, a rehabilitation and conditioning center in Belle Vernon, PA, in the spring of 2023, Harwood found herself surrounded by a breed she wasn't familiar with.

"Amulet mostly had standardbreds from the tracks," Harwood said. "I started there after working at riding horse barns for a couple of years. Horses have been my whole life since I was a kid. We always had horses growing up. I just knew I wanted to be around horses, and when I started at Amulet, I figured it was something different. Honestly, I wasn't sure how I felt about standardbreds at first. I've been around riding horses my whole life, the typical quarter horse or thoroughbred, but learning a whole new breed and discipline scared the crap out of me."

Harwood was tentative, but not close-minded, when it came to working alongside pacers and trotters.

It was a friend and fellow horseman who helped reshape her view of the breed.

"I started with basic rehab stuff, but I was really more interested in the racing side of things because Amulet also has its own racehorses," Harwood said. "The horses we rehabbed would, as part of their rehab journey, start 'jogging back' to get stronger. My friend Josh, who has worked in harness racing his whole life, was in charge of jogging them, and I asked him if I could learn. He taught me how to harness a horse and basically said that if I could saddle a horse, I could harness one. I got to do a ride-along with him first to learn everything, and eventually, I got to jog a horse by myself."

> "Harness racing has to be your life. My friend Josh told me, 'Harness racing is not a job or a hobby, it's a lifestyle. You have to want to get up and do this every day and if you can't, then it's not for you.' I took that in and really processed it because if it weren't for Josh, I would never have made it to where I am right now and I'm extremely grateful for that."

That moment, and that horse, A Fair Ol Dance, would be game changers for Harwood.

"That's when I knew I was going to love it [racing]," she said. "I eventually fell in love with the horses' personalities and how goofy and loving they are. About a year later, Amulet announced they were shutting down the rehab and we had to find new jobs. There ended up being a trainer from the track that would bring his horses for the salt chamber, and they posted they were looking for a groom."

Harwood applied and then waited to hear back.

Days later, she was offered a job working in the barn of trainer Brandon Presto at The Meadows in Washington, PA.

Not long into her new role, she recalled the words of her friend from her days at Amulet Equine.

"Harness racing has to be your life," Harwood said. "My friend Josh told me, 'Harness racing is not a job or a hobby, it's a lifestyle. You have to want to get up and do this every day and if you can't, then it's not for you.' I took that in and really processed it because if it weren't for Josh, I would never have made it to where I am right now and I'm extremely grateful for that."

Just as she is for the horses she has come to know.

Her list of so-called heart horses has become an extensive one over the past three years.

If she had to choose an all-time favorite, that honor would go to a 9-year-old son of Mach Three, who has 137 starts and 30 wins to his name.

"I have a soft heart for horses, but there have definitely been quite a few that touched my heart more than others," she said. "I really fell in love with Aussie Scooter. He was a big love bug and was more of a pet than a racehorse. All he wanted was love and attention, and he had won for us a lot and raced well. He was then claimed, but you have to just let them move on to their next adventure — it's part of the game.

"There's a lot more, like Woodmere Androlli, Neyreit, Mantador, Cruzin America, American Warrior, Ben Racin, and Mikilob Ultra. They all have their own personalities that make them unique."

They also make Harwood's role one she treasures.

"The best part of my job would be the horses," she said. "Just getting to be around and work with these incredible athletes is amazing. Standardbreds are as tough as they come and they deserve so much more credit than they are given."

Then there is the flipside.

"When they get sold or claimed or even hurt is always the absolute worst," Harwood said. "You build a bond with them and work hard to make sure they feel their best and are ready to go and then it all changes instantly. I always try to treat them how I would treat my own horses at home."

Harwood is a vocal supporter of those under her care on race days.

Whether they earn a win, finish in the top three, or finish off the board, every horse she tends to is welcomed back with open arms.

"I'm excited, but also nervous," she said. "I always want them to do their best, but you never know what could happen. They could run or equipment could break, but I always hope for the best of their ability."

Away from the pressures of racing life, Harwood's connection to horses stays strong.

Those interactions are viewed through several different lenses, breeds, and experiences.

"I like to ride my quarter horse and off-the-track standardbred," she said. "They keep me sane after working all day with the racehorses. I don't do a lot with them competitively, but I recently started cattle-sorting, and I mostly just trail ride or go to a little barrel race for fun.

"I also like to take pictures, too. I went to a tech school for graphic design and ended up getting into photography a little on the side and teaching myself until I met Chris Gooden who works at The Meadows. He has shown me a lot and let me shoot with him."

While Harwood has developed special connections with many of the horses she's worked with, one standardbred has earned an especially special place in her heart. That horse is Happy Trio, a pacer whose journey from the racetrack to retirement became another reminder of just how much the breed has to offer.

"When I first started at Presto Racing Stable in 2024, they had an older standardbred for an owner and he came from Ohio," Harwood said. "Happy Trio was a typical claimer that came and trained and was going to race at The Meadows, but unfortunately, he got really sore after a couple training trips and they thought it would be in his best interest to find a home and retire.

"I wasn't too sure at first about taking him, but it was the best decision I have ever made. I instantly fell in love with him and his goofy, happy personality. I got some vet work done on him and turned him out 24/7 and he is the happiest boy ever. Honestly, riding him under saddle was the easiest thing ever. He picked it up super-fast, which I read was typical of a standardbred, since they basically know everything — we just had to switch some stuff up. He learned leg pressure and riding with reins instead of line driving very quickly. I had originally planned for him to be a cute, little English horse, but he got bored easily."

Harwood found a remedy.

"He liked to turn and go fast and play around with goofy obstacles, and I taught him the barrel pattern," she said. "He absolutely loved it. I never would've thought a standardbred could barrel race, but he really opened my eyes to this amazing and smart breed."

Happy Trio's story is a perfect example of how much Harwood's perspective on standardbreds has changed since her first days at Amulet Equine. A breed and industry that were once unfamiliar have become a staple in her life.

"The knowledge I have taken in from everyone and every horse is something I am proud of," she said. "I have learned so much and still have a lot more to learn."

There is, however, one bit of knowledge that Harwood has mastered.

"I know that horses have always been the key to my happiness," she said.

Women Layer wins 11th Potomac Pace

by Rosecroft Raceway

After being eclipsed off cover by Dandy Ideal in the Breeders Crown open pace, Women Layer turned the tables on his rival in Sunday's (Nov. 8) $125,000 Grade 3 Potomac Pace at Rosecroft Raceway, emerging from the pocket in the final 150 yards to post a 1:48 victory.

Yannick Gingras sealed off the pocket with Women Layer as 3-5 favorite Dandy Ideal (driven by Tim Tetrick) pushed to a clear lead through a :26 first quarter. After rating a :54.3 half, Dandy Ideal faced a first-over challenge from Prince Hal Hanover (Todd McCarthy) up the backstretch and was forced to quicken to three-quarters in 1:21.1.

Prince Hal Hanover leveled off turning for home, enabling Gingras to wedge Women Layer to the outside with 150 yards to go. The 5-year-old Sweet Lou—Loreenas Ruffian gelding shifted gears and overpowered Dandy Ideal in deep stretch to win by a half-length. Prince Hal Hanover held third, another 5¼ lengths behind, over Coaches Corner (Jason Bartlett), who rallied belatedly off third-over cover.

Virgil Morgan, Jr. trains Women Layer, a 34-time winner with $1,211,842 in career earnings. As the 3-1 second choice, Women Layer paid $8.40 to win.

Gingras took a similar path to victory in the $50,000 Pete Medhurst Legacy Pace with Railroad Station, who eclipsed early leaver Icaco Hanover (Russell Foster) at the end of a :26.2 quarter before releasing even-money choice World Of Wishes (Tetrick) to the lead with a circuit to go. The 4-year-old Sweet Lou—Rodeo Rosie entire drafted behind middle splits of :53.4 and 1:21.2 before taking aim at World Of Wishes in upper stretch and powering clear late for a 2¼-length, 1:49.4 score. Icaco Hanover saved third, another 1½ lengths back, off a ground-saving trip.

Ron Burke trains 12-time winner Railroad Station, who paid $9 to win as the 7-2 second choice, for Burke Racing Stable, Hatfield Stables, Weaver Bruscemi, and J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby.

The 2026 Fall Meeting features live harness racing on Monday and Thursday evenings through Dec. 17.

SIRE STAKES REPORT

Cruising Mist tops in DSBF filly pace

by Bally's Dover

Legacy Racing of Delaware's homebred Cruising Mist took full advantage of a pocket trip and got the better of Harrington series champ Salty Beaches in the second of two $20,000 first-round Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund (DSBF) preliminary events for 2-year-old pacing fillies on Wednesday (Nov. 11) at Bally's Dover.

With Tim Tetrick at the lines for trainer Wayne Givens, Cruising Mist left from post 6 to secure the pocket behind Salty Beaches (driven by Allan Davis), who worked clear from post 8 to control splits of :28.2, :58.3, and 1:26.4. Just above the eighth pole, Tetrick angled Cruising Mist off the pegs, and the Powerful Mist—Image Cruisingaway filly sped clear of the leader by 1½ lengths to win in 1:56. Unberdnbywhathsben (Jason Thompson) finished third, another 3¾ lengths back, after stalking the top pair throughout the mile.

The win was the fourth in nine starts this season for Cruising Mist, who paid $2.60 to win as the 1-5 favorite.

In the first section, Rynesha and driver Ryder Skinner took a pocket tuck behind Jobs Not Finished (Thompson) to draft behind early splits of :28 and :58, tracked intently up the backstretch as the first-over Sunday Suppers (Montrell Teague) forced the pace to quicken through a :28.1 third split, and emerged off the home turn to win by a widening 2¼ lengths in 1:56.2 over the late-gaining High Prophet (Corey Callahan). Jobs Not Finished was a beaten third.

Land Of The Free (Brandon Givens), who was sent off the 1-9 favorite, failed to sustain a three-wide bid entering the homestretch and finished fifth.

It was the first career win for Rynesha, a Highalator—Hawthorne Hudson filly bred by Willow Mill Stables and owned by trainer Jason Skinner in partnership with Ryan Davila. As the 24-1 fifth choice, she paid $50.60 to win.

JETT PROPELLED, RACING HUNGRY TAKE DISTAFF FEATURES

After being upended by pocket rival Lenna last week, Jett Propelled ($4.60) used 2-hole tactics to nab pacesetter Remy Brown N by a nose and post a 1:52.4 win in the $25,000 fillies and mares open pace. Jason Thompson drove the 5-year-old Roddy's Bags Again—Jett Away mare to her 13th win of the season for owner/trainer/breeder Robert Shahan.

In the $20,000 fillies and mares winners over select pace, Glenn Goller and Stephen Demeter's Racin Hungry ($2.40) brushed to the fore with a circuit to go and evaded Square Deal by 2¾ lengths for a 1:52.3 win, her seventh of the season and second in a row. Pat Berry drove the 6-year-old Stay Hungry—Four Starzz Meliss mare for trainer Traci Berry.

Tetrick, Berry, and Chris Scicluna all recorded driving doubles.

MIKE FRANKS STRIKES WINNING CHORD IN DSBF PRELIM

Michial and Linda English's homebred Mike Franks maintained his winning ways in the first round of the Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund (DSBF) series for 2-year-old male trotters at Bally's Dover, rolling to his fifth consecutive score in the third of three $20,000 splits on Tuesday (Nov. 10).

With Ross Wolfenden at the lines for trainer John Wilkerson, 1-20 favorite Mike Franks forged clear of 9-1 second choice Amish Outlaw (driven by Eddie Dennis) through a :28.1 first quarter before backing down the tempo through middle splits of :59 and 1:28.2. Turning for home, the Southwind Frank—Hearditinaluvsong gelding extended his lead to two lengths and coasted to a 1:57.4 victory. Amish Outlaw narrowly protected second from Frosty Frank (Allan Davis), who mounted a belated bid up the open stretch.

Mike Franks, who in October swept the DSBF series at Harrington Raceway, extended his career record to six wins from nine starts and lifted his bankroll to $121,225. He paid $2.10 to win.

In the first division, Platinum Ice ($4.80) and driver Troy Beyer launched a first-over push out of third up the backstretch and powered to a 3¼-length, 1:58.1 lifetime-best win over 4-5 favorite Lebanon Levii (Eddie Dennis). Besim Odza trains the E L Platinum—Cool Cates gelding, who now has won two of six starts and earned $36,800, for owner/breeder Sonja Booth.

The second section saw Blazing Tui ($2.40) and driver Corey Callahan draft in the pocket behind Youcancallmeroy (Roger Plante, Jr.) before angling off the pegs above the eighth pole and coasting to a measured two-length, 1:59.3 win. Trainer David Wiest co-owns and bred the Yankee Royalty—Tui gelding, now a five-time winner from six starts, in partnership with Donald Wiest.

FRUIT SNACKER REPEATS IN OPEN TROT

Mark Howard's Fruit Snacker shrugged off a stern challenge from That Ole Bar Stool at the top of the stretch and posted his third win in as many starts since returning from a summer layoff in the $25,000 open trot.

Tony Morgan secured the pocket with 2-5 favorite Fruit Snacker behind Somebody Special (Brandon Givens) through a :27.3 first quarter before brushing to the top with more than a lap to go. The 4-year-old Dover Dan—First Avenue gelding rated a :29.1 second quarter before 21-1 outsider That Ole Bar Stool (Corey Callahan) confronted him up the backstretch. The two dueled past the 1:25.2 three-quarters and through the far turn before Fruit Snacker asserted off the home turn and won by a measured half-length. That Ole Bar Stool finished a game second; Somebody Special held third, another 4¼ lengths in arrears.

Will Reynolds trains 22-time winner Fruit Snacker, who paid $2.80 to win.

DAVIS SCORES 4,000TH CAREER WIN

Longtime Delaware horseman Allan Davis reached the winner's circle as a driver for the 4,000th time in his career when he teamed Arette ($25.80) to an 11-1 in a $12,500 conditioned pace.

Davis angled Jim King, Jr. trainee Arette off the pegs with seven-sixteenths to go, overtook the gapping Wheelhouse Hanover and caught the front flight before the far turn, and surged four-wide to collar even-money choice Papi Robazzi in the final 100 yards to score the milestone win in 1:54.4.

Since making his first trip behind the gate in 1995, the 50-year-old Davis has driven the winners of over $44.6 million and is in the midst of his 16th consecutive million-dollar season.

Troy Beyer and Brandon Givens led all drivers with three wins apiece on the 15-race card. Chuck Crissman, Jr. was the only trainer to win multiple races, recording a double.

MAJOR UPSETS ABOUND IN DSBF FILLY TROTS

Dismissed at double-digit odds, Franchesca and Angel In Flight both emerged from off the pace to capture their respective $20,000 first-round Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund preliminary events for 2-year-old trotting fillies on Monday (Nov. 9) at Bally's Dover.

In the second division, 26-1 outsider Franchesca and driver Russell Foster floated forward from post 6 for a 3-hole tuck behind 8-5 second choice Daringly (driven by Corey Callahan) and 1-5 favorite Vamoose (Eddie Dennis), who finished one-two in the $110,000 DSBF Harrington series final on Oct. 14. After drafting behind splits of :28.1, :57.1, and 1:26.3, Franchesca mounted her victorious rally off the turn for home, swinging three-wide around pocket foe Vamoose and surging in the final sixteenth to prevail by a widening half-length in 1:56.1, a full five seconds faster than her previous lifetime mark. Vamoose vacated the pocket in the upper stretch and saved second over Daringly, who finished a beaten third after controlling the tempo for most of the mile.

William Wyatt trains two-time winner Franchesca, a daughter of Southwind Frank—Stirling Charisma who competes as a homebred for Eric Foster. She paid $55.80 to win.

The first section likewise resulted in a massive upset, as 16-1 shot Angel In Flight and Corey Callahan sat fourth behind Diamond Advantage (Jason Green) through splits of :29.3, :59, and 1:29.1, angled second-over behind even-money favorite Dassie (Troy Beyer) on the final turn, and then fanned thee-wide in the upper stretch before rallying to collar Dassie by a head in 1:59.4. She Is Unstoppable (Allan Davis), who finished a one-paced fourth from the pocket, was elevated to third over Diamond Advantage, who broke stride at the finish.

Trainer Tom Lail co-owns Angel In Flight, who paid $34.40 in her maiden-breaking win, with Linda Mowbray. The Top Flight Angel—Silent Blessings filly was bred by Winbak Farm.

Callahan led all drivers with four wins on the 15-race card; Michael Cole and Tony Morgan recorded doubles. Joe Columbo recorded a training double.

The late Wiggle It Jiggleit (Montrell Teague) winning the 2015 Little Brown Jug.

HRU NEWS

HARNESS RACING PRESS RELEASES, NOTES & ANNOUNCEMENTS

Legendary pacer Wiggle It Jiggleit succumbs to illness

Pacer Wiggle It Jiggleit, one of harness racing's all-time greats, passed away after a short illness earlier this month at the age of 14.

Owned by George Teague, Jr. and Teague Racing Partnership, the Mr Wiggles gelding had a remarkable career, with earnings of $3.9 million and was the Dan Patch Horse of the Year in 2015.

Throughout his 39 victories in 66 lifetime starts, there were many impressive triumphs, but most will remember his epic performance in winning the 2015 Little Brown Jug as one of the best in the race's history. Wiggle It Jiggleit, driven by his regular driver Montrell Teague, overcame an outside trip and appeared to be retreating near the three-quarters to re-rally and edge out Lost For Words by a whisker in the tightest of photo finishes for an amazing victory.

Aside from the Little Brown Jug, he won many of the sport's biggest races for pacers, including the Canadian Pacing Derby, Dan Patch, Joseph Gerrity Memorial, Graduate, Battle of Lake Erie, Progress Pace, Meadowlands Pace, Max Hempt Memorial and Carl Millstein Memorial. He also set a world record for a 3-year-old pacer on a half-mile racetrack with a 1:49 win near his home base at Harrington Raceway.

Trained by Hall of Famer George Teague, Jr., "Wiggles" as he was affectionately known by those in the stable, spent the balance of his post-racing career at the Teague farm in Harrington, DE. Visitors were known to drop in and request to see the world champion. He was the second horse from the Teague stable to win Horse of the Year honors after Rainbow Blue accomplished the feat in 2004.

Southwind Chrome to be syndicated and stand in Indiana

Southwind Chrome (4, 1:50.1) has been acquired by a prominent group of breeders, trainers, and drivers and will be moving to Indiana in 2027. The world champion son of Chapter Seven has been standing at Walker Standardbreds in Illinois where he has been nothing short of dominant.

With two small crops of racing age, his 3-year-olds include Buckette and Dygert winning Pony Chrome (3, 1:52.2, $185,282) and the multiple stakes winning Go Go Go Chrome (3, 1:53.3, $157,648). Southwind Chrome's most recent freshmen crop was led by the undefeated colt The Monster (2, 1:53.3, $112,207). With just 95 foals of racing age, Southwind Chrome has sired winners of $1,142,149 in his first two crops racing with limited opportunities in Illinois.

The group that has purchased Southwind Chrome includes leading trainer Erv Miller and several of his partners, as well as driver Marcus Miller. Trainer Erv Miller had this to say about the stallion, "Southwind Chrome has produced the kind of 2-year-olds I like to train. They have good attitudes, early speed, and don't need the perfect trip to win. He definitely will be a big addition to the Indiana program."

Driver Marcus Miller, who has driven his fair share of winners added, "Southwind Chromes are the kind of horse a driver looks forward to. They are nice to handle, good gaited, and fast. But most importantly, they try. I am super excited to see what he can do in Indiana."

The ownership group also includes Indiana breeder Daryl Miller of Lyndar Stables, who said, "It's been my dream to be a part of a stallion. I couldn't be more excited to be part of one that is not only proven, but has the ownership support behind him for years to come."

The syndication will be handled by Jeff and Natasha Fought's Cornerstone Stock Farm, who also are part of the group that has acquired Southwind Chrome.

"This is a stallion that has been in the works for quite a while now," Jeff Fought said. "I wasn't sure it would ever happen honestly because the Walkers weren't keen on letting go of this horse, and I can't blame them. I can't think of a more perfect fit for Indiana, and to see what the horse has produced in Illinois, when he gets the fire power of Indiana's trotting mares, the sky is the limit."

Southwind Chrome will be standing at Premier Acres in Middlebury, IN for a fee of $6,000. A limited number of syndicate shares will be available for purchase with some very favorable terms for investors. Those interested should contact Jeff Fought at 260-463-1649 or by email at jeff.fought@cornerstonestockfarm.com.

Final major stakes card of 2026 on tap at Big M Saturday

The Meadowlands — as well as the entire sport of harness racing — has one big night left in its 2026 stakes arsenal, and the final eight shots will be fired Saturday (Nov. 14) night at the mile oval, when $2.27 million in purses will be up for grabs on Fall Final Four/FanDuel Championships Night.

The program on Saturday, as well as tonight (Nov. 13), will get underway at 6:20 p.m.

"Once again, we are happy to host a night of racing where divisional honors could be won and lost on the last huge night on the harness racing calendar," said track chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir. "There are many great storylines on Saturday's program, but two stand out to me.

"Twin B Joe Fresh, the 2024 Horse of the Year, will be making the final start of her phenomenal career in the FanDuel open mares pace. In addition, On To Norway and Super Chapter will matchup for the fifth time this year, in the FanDuel open trot, and despite On To Norway leading the series three to one, Super Chapter could get back in the Trotter of the Year conversation with a win Saturday.

"We're looking forward to a big crowd and a big night of betting, featuring three 50-cent Pick-4 wagers, one of which will be made up of the four FanDuel events, and another comprising the four Fall Final Four races. It's going to be a great night."

The eight stakes races that will take place that evening — highlighting some of the major players — are:

• Race 4 (post time, 7:35 p.m.): $150,000 FanDuel open mares trot — Marcus Melander-trainee Tactical Moni started the year 0-for-5, but got sharp at just the right time, recording back-to-back wins in the Oct. 16 Breeders Crown prep before scoring in the Oct. 24 final as the even-money favorite. Warrawee Michelle, an Ake Svanstedt student who is the defending Dan Patch Older Trotting Mare of the Year, finished second in the Crown final.

• Race 5 (post time, 8 p.m.): $300,000 FanDuel open trot — Were Breeders Crown champion On To Norway to defeat arch-rival Super Chapter, Trotter of the Year is his, and he will get Horse of the Year consideration as well. But if Super Chapter beats On To Norway, that second victory in five tries against that foe might be enough to take the TOTY hardware, given his resume that includes victories in the International Trot, Maple Leaf, and Cashman.

• Race 6 (post time, 8:25 p.m.): $150,000 FanDuel open mares pace — The incomparable Twin B Joe Fresh will look to finish her career with a five-race win streak. The Chris Ryder trainee won the Breeders Crown and Dayton Derby during her recent run of success.

• Race 7 (post time, 8:50 p.m.): $300,000 FanDuel open pace — Women Layer looks like the one to beat off a 1:48 score in the Potomac after finishing a close-up third in the Breeders Crown. Defending divisional champ Ervin Hanover recorded a spectacular 1:46.3 score at The Meadowlands earlier this year in the Dave Brower Memorial.

(All FanDuel events are for 3-year-olds and up)

• Race 8 (post time, 9:20 p.m.): $383,830 Valley Victory (2YOCGT) — In what looks like a wide-open event, Kindergarten winner Bentley Blue Chip takes on Command Center, who won the Bluegrass in a lifetime-best 1:54.

• Race 9 (post time, 9:45 p.m.): $386,830 Goldsmith Maid (2YOFT) — Birr Castle, the Breeders Crown winner from Melander, faces Svanstedt's Kountry Plunge, the New York standout who has seven wins in as many starts.

• Race 10 (post time, 10:10 p.m.): $300,000 Three Diamonds (2YOFP) — Miss Dolce had to overcome a tough trip before a late rally had her come up a nose short in the New Jersey Standardbred Development Fund final for trainer Joe Holloway. Ohio Sire Stakes standout Cleveland Darby will look to add to her field-biggest bankroll of $430,465 for Ron Burke.

• Race 11 (post time, 10:35 p.m.): $300,000 Governor's Cup (2YOCGP) — The last stakes event of the night is another where it looks like a handful of horses could prance down victory lane. The Brett Pelling-trained Hades scored in eye-popping fashion last week at The Big M in just his sixth lifetime outing in 1:51.2. Burke's Eastie Boy won the Matron in 1:50.1 while Joe Bongiorno's Seine missed a neck in last to Starstruck Dreamer, who isn't in this dash, but would likely be the favorite at post time were he.

THE FALL FINAL FOUR IS FOXY: The TV teams at The Meadowlands and the New York Racing Association (NYRA) will continue their partnership with one last 2026 broadcast that will bring high-end Big M stakes action into people's living rooms from coast-to-coast.

Fall Final Four/FanDuel Championships Night will be televised as part of the NYRA's "America's Day at the Races" series. Those eight dashes can be seen on FOX Sports 2 (FS2) from 9-11 p.m. on Saturday (Nov. 14).

TWO IS BETTER THAN ONE: This weekend will mark the return of a pair of well-known personalities — who are outstanding journalists, handicappers, and TV personalities — to the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set to sit in the co-host chair alongside Big M veteran TV host Dave Little.

First up tonight, serving as co-host will be John Rallis, the associate editor and columnist at TROT Magazine, who also serves as a TV personality on Woodbine Mohawk Park's nightly simulcast presentation. Rallis will then shift to another role on Saturday, when he will conduct the post-race winner's circle interviews for all eight stakes races on the program.

Hall of Famer Derick Giwner, the editor at DRF Harness, will co-host on Saturday. He writes a weekly column in the publication that is a must-read for both industry insiders as well as the casual fan.

Tonight, Gary DiLeo will provide the interview with winning connections from the paddock after the featured eighth race.

And, as usual, Hall of Famer Ken Warkentin will be in his spot at the top of the grandstand calling the action for both programs.

SWIM IN BIG POOLS: The Meadowlands offers the largest betting pools in harness racing, and the mile oval's fan base loves playing when the takeout is low. These are the wagers that will offer a low 15 per cent takeout over the course of the upcoming weekend. Both cards have 14 races.

This is the lineup for tonight's races:

• Races 1-5: 20-cent Pick-5

• Races 3-9: 20-cent Survivor Pick-7 (mandatory payout)

• Races 6-9: 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 estimated pool)

• Races 8-13: 20-cent Pick-6

• Races 10-13: 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 estimated pool)

• Race 11: 10-cent Hi-5 (Pentafecta)

This is the lineup for Saturday's races:

• Races 1-5: 20-cent Pick-5

• Races 4-7: All-Stakes 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 estimated pool)

• Races 5-11: 20-cent Survivor Pick-7 (mandatory payout)

• Races 6-11: 20-cent Pick-6

• Races 8-11: All-Stakes 50-cent Pick-4 ($75,000 estimated pool)

• Races 10-13: 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 estimated pool)

• Race 11: 10-cent Hi-5 (Pentafecta) ($25,000 estimated pool)

THE SCHEDULE: The pacers and trotters will be in action at The Big M every Friday and Saturday through the end of 2026, with just one exception, as there is no live racing on Christmas Day, Friday (Dec. 25).

In addition, there are three Thursday cards on the calendar: Dec. 3, 10, and 17.

All told, there are 16 nights of live Meadowlands harness racing remaining this year, and each has a post time of 6:20 p.m.

ROOM FOR ONE MORE: The 2026 Meadowlands stakes curtain will come down after one more night of big action.

On Saturday (Nov. 21), four $70,000 (est.) New Jersey Standardbred Development Fund finals for 2-year-olds of each sex and gait will be contested, putting the spotlight squarely on future Garden State equine stars.

Cattlewash 2027 stud book opens – stud fee to remain at $10,000

The Cattlewash Syndicate and Tara Hills Stud are pleased to announce that the 2027 breeding book is now open for Cattlewash, with his stud fee remaining unchanged at USD $10,000.

The announcement was made by David Heffering, manager of the Cattlewash Syndicate and owner of Tara Hills Stud in Port Perry, ON, where the stallion stands.

Despite Cattlewash's extraordinary success as a sire, and expectations among many breeders that his fee would increase for 2027, Heffering explained that the syndicate's decision reflects its recognition of the economic challenges currently confronting Ontario breeders.

"Given Cattlewash's success, we certainly understand why breeders might have anticipated an increase in his stud fee," Heffering said. "However, we recognize the financial pressures facing many Ontario breeders, and we believe it is important to support the people who have helped make Cattlewash such a success. We want breeders to continue having the opportunity to breed to a stallion of his caliber at a reasonable fee."

An outstanding production record

Cattlewash has quickly established himself as one of North America's most productive young pacing sires and a dominant force in the Ontario Sires Stakes program, where he leads all Ontario stallions.

According to Standardbred Canada's TrackIT statistics, Cattlewash's offspring have accumulated more than $18 million in career earnings, with 180 individual race winners and 40 performers earning $100,000 or more.

His production record is particularly impressive for its depth and consistency. Of 291 offspring eligible to race, 228 have become starters, representing 78.4 per cent, while 180 have become race winners — an exceptional 78.9 per cent of his starters.

His offspring have also demonstrated remarkable speed, with 118 performers recording times of 1:55 or faster, 75 achieving 1:53 or faster, and 16 recording miles of 1:50 or faster.

Cattlewash has produced 15 performers with earnings exceeding $250,000, four with earnings exceeding $500,000, two exceeding $750,000, and one millionaire.

The average earnings of his starters now exceed $79,000, further demonstrating the consistency and quality of his offspring.

Beau Jangles makes standardbred history

The remarkable success of Cattlewash as a sire received international attention on Nov. 6 when his outstanding son Beau Jangles, the 2025 Horse of the Year in both Canada and the United States, sold for $3.7 million at the Standardbred Horse Sale in Harrisburg, PA.

Purchased by New Zealand bloodstock agent John Curtin, Beau Jangles became the highest-priced standardbred ever sold at public auction, doubling the previous record of $1.85 million established in 2024.

The son of Cattlewash and Mrs Major Hill enjoyed an undefeated 12-race campaign as a 2-year-old, including victories in the Breeders Crown and Metro Pace, and has continued to distinguish himself among the sport's premier performers.

The historic transaction underscored not only the extraordinary racing accomplishments of Beau Jangles but also the growing commercial recognition of Cattlewash as a sire capable of producing horses of exceptional quality and value.

A commitment to Ontario breeders

With his offspring continuing to excel on the racetrack and in the sales ring, Cattlewash's reputation as a leading sire continues to grow.

The decision to maintain his 2027 stud fee at $10,000 reflects the syndicate's commitment to the Ontario breeding industry and its desire to make this outstanding young stallion accessible to breeders despite the financial challenges facing the industry.

Cattlewash, a son of Somebeachsomewhere from Road Bet, by Bettors Delight, stands at Tara Hills Stud in Port Perry, ON.

Breeders interested in obtaining an application for a 2027 breeding to Cattlewash may contact the syndicate's primary shareholder, Bill Donovan, by email at wjdonovanracing@gmail.com or by calling Tara Hills at 905-985-7770 or email to: office@tarahills.com

On To Norway on cruise control at Hoosier

Fresh off his world record score in the Breeders Crown, On To Norway returned home to Harrah's Hoosier Park where he vaulted off cover to a decisive score in the $22,000 open trot, winning for the 32nd consecutive time on Indiana soil in the process.

Leaving from the outside post 7, driver John De Long settled On To Norway in fifth off the wings while Ponda Jet (Kyle Wilfong) pushed to the lead around Finite (Trace Tetrick) to the opening quarter in :27.2. Ponda Jet was able to rate the tempo on the backstretch, reaching the halfway point in :56.3 when On To Norway began to tip off the cones. On To Norway flushed the cover of International Law (LeWayne Miller) on the final turn, riding the live tow second-over while Ponda Jet raced to three-quarters in 1:25.1.

Turning into the lane, On To Norway ripped off cover, charging to a narrow advantage over Ponda Jet as the field trotted midway through the lane. Behind the strength of a :27.3 final quarter, On To Norway began to draw clear, winning by 1¾ lengths on the line in 1:53.2. Ponda Jet held for second, with Drunk Up Drink Up (Brandon Bates) rallying from last to get up for the show spot.

Trained by Ron Burke, On To Norway has won 13 of 16 during his 4-year-old campaign, which includes wins in the Hambletonian Maturity, Graduate, and Caesars Trotting Classic while earning $937,750 on the year. Bred by Bennett Farms Inc of MI, the Muscle Massive—One Class Act gelding has won 40 of 49 in his career, banking $1,598,131 for owners Burke Racing Stable, Frank Baldachino, Black & White Stable, and Michael Rosenthal. On To Norway paid $2.20 to win as the heavy favorite.

LMC Peanuts Watchn wins at Big M

Recently employing what for him is a new tactic, LMC Peanuts Watchn took the Saturday night (Nov. 7) feature at The Meadowlands, a $16,000 claiming handicap for pacers in for tag of at least $20,000 and no more than $24,000, in a dazzling lifetime-best of 1:50.3.

The Chris Height trainee used to like life racing from well off the pace, but the 4-year-old gelded son of He's Watching—Major Millie has stayed closer to the action in his last three outings, resulting in two trips down victory lane.

Let go in the betting as the 5-1 third choice one start after a solid second at 11-1 and a win in the start before that at 2-1, driver Mark Herschberger had "LMC" sitting third from the start as All Alone and Juddy Douglas A raced 1-2 past the quarter in :27.1 and half in :55.3.

That's when Herschberger called on LMC Peanuts Watchn, who went up after the leader first up down the backside. Fans of the even-money favorite loved that, as Gallie Getaway, who wore down LMC Peanuts Watchn last week, picked up a live tow second-over as All Alone went past three-quarters in 1:23.1 while clearly in trouble.

With an eighth to go, LMC Peanuts Watchn powered past the leader while opening up enough separation on Gallie Getaway to hold that one at bay easily by a half-length to record his third win in four tries and 11th lifetime from 74 starts. Toto Hanover was third.

"This horse has been sharp," said Herschberger. "Chris has done a great job with this horse. As soon as he straightened up around the turn, he swelled up and took off."

LMC Peanuts Watchn paid $12 to win.

DEVELOPING FUTURE STARS: There were four $10,000 New Jersey Standardbred Development Fund races for 2-year-olds of each sex and gait contested on the program, and those winners were:

• Race 2 (colt and gelding pace) — Goal Oriented (Perfect Sting—Sangaal), driven by Joe Bongiorno, trained by Joe Holloway, winning time a lifetime-best 1:51.3 (now has two wins from eight starts), paid $9.20 as the 7-2 third choice in the wagering

• Race 3 (filly trot) — HL Kapara (Chapter Seven—Sel's Choice), Tim Tetrick, Harry Landy, 1:54.4 (third win in 10 tries), returned $2.40 as the 1-5 favorite

• Race 7 (colt and gelding trot) — Barolo (Alrajah One IT—Demaslado), Mark Herschberger, Nancy Takter, 1:55.3 (first win in six starts), $20.60 as the 9-1 sixth choice

• Race 9 (filly pace) — Perfect Body (Perfect Sting—Sweet Body), Scott Zeron, Chris Choate, 1:53.2 (fifth win from 12 outings), $5.40 as the 8-5 second choice

A LITTLE MORE: Herschberger led the drivers with three winners... Brett Beckwith was off all of his drives nursing a sore wrist, the result of being in a spill in Friday night's eighth race... All-source handle on the 13-race program totaled $2,138,574.
