In the movie "Sabrina," Audrey Hepburn said: "Paris exists to remind you that all your dreams are real."

Owner Dave McDuffee and trainer Nifty Norman hope that quote is true since it's their dream to bring Bella Bellini to the Prix d'Amérique in 2024.

"My wife, she's got her bags packed already," McDuffee said with a laugh. "We love Paris."

“Nobody’s getting any younger and if you’ve got a good horse, why not try and have as much enjoyment as you can out of it. Wouldn’t it be great to bring a horse there one day? And we might have as good a horse as we’re ever going to get.”

~ Nifty Norman

But McDuffee isn’t putting the proverbial cart before the horse. He knows it’s a long season and there is no guarantee that Bella will end the year the same way she did in 2022. But until she tells him otherwise, he will continue to dream about competing in the “City of Light.”

“We all dream in this business,” said McDuffee. “Every horse we buy is undefeated and going to be the next world champion, and you know how often that happens. In this business, no matter what you think, it’s day to day and week to week. No matter what the plans are, we’re talking about a whole year out. And a lot of crazy things can happen in a year.

“We’ve had it happen over and over and over with other horses that we thought we were going to go somewhere with, and come the time to do it, they weren’t ready to do that.”

Upon hearing that the mare division of the Graduate series was being discontinued, McDuffee was considering retiring Bella and breeding her, but her impressive victory in the TVG Mares final gave him pause.

Norman remembers being at McDuffee’s place in Florida at Christmastime 2022 when the Paris conversation first came up.

“While I was there the race secretary from Solvalla called him to see if we’re interested in going to the Elitloppet,” said Norman. But, the timing of the race, the end of May, just didn’t fit into their schedule.

“The Elitloppet, I’d love to do that, who wouldn’t want to?” McDuffee said. “But I don’t think she’s the right horse to do that with at that time of the year. If it was later in the year at the end of the season, sure.”

According to Norman, that call did, however, get McDuffee thinking about another part of Europe at a different time of year.

“He hung up and Dave said, ‘I’d rather go to France,’” Norman said. “So, then we got talking about it. And I said, ‘Sure, if you’re game, I’m game.’ I was on board with it because it would probably be the end of her career kind of thing.

“Nobody’s getting any younger and if you’ve got a good horse, why not try and have as much enjoyment as you can out of it. Wouldn’t it be great to bring a horse there one day? And we might have as good a horse as we’re ever going to get.”

As they say, timing is everything, and since the Prix d’Amérique is in January, it fits perfectly into their plan for Bella.

“It’s this time of the year when there’s nothing else going on,” Norman said. “As long as you come through the 2023 season good and she’s sort of like she was at the end of 2022, why not? The timing is the key part but the way things have turned out there are less and less races every year and you’re starting later every year.”

Bella recently returned from her winter hiatus with Carter Duer in Kentucky, and according to Norman, looks great and is big, sound and healthy.

“Carter Duer called me [before I went down to pick her up] and said, ‘You won’t get over how much this mare has grown,’”

Norman said. "She grew a lot the year before, but they really don't get mature until they're about 6 or 7. We hardly ever get to see that because we don't have them that long.

"You retire a stallion at 4 and go and look at them when they're 6 or 7, they're massive. You go and see Captaintreacherous and he's twice the size he was when he was racing. He's a monster."

Bella started back jogging last week and McDuffee and Norman were looking to map out her season this week, having just received the stakes book.

"I'm looking at having her ready for the Cutler (May 20)," Norman said. "That probably will be her first start."

McDuffee said: "I don't want to race her too, too hard if we're going to try to do the Prix d'Amérique. I've got to keep her fresh for a year to do that and that's a long time. There's a lot to look forward to and we just hope that she continues to stay sound. That's the key to any horse."

They have not as yet contacted anyone in Paris and don't plan to for a while, because the timing is only right if Bella tells them it's right.

"That would probably be the last race of her career, actually, because I doubt that we would top that," McDuffee said.

Should they get there, this would be McDuffee's first time in the Prix d'Amérique. However, he was a co-owner of both Conway Hall and Trustworthy when they competed internationally as 3-year-olds in 1998 and 1995, respectively.

"We went to Italy to the Orsi Mangelli and won both of them, but that's the only time that I raced anything in Europe," McDuffee said.

Anyone who has watched Bella race would understand why the Prix d'Amérique at 1 11/16 miles could be a good fit for her. "The Great Pursuer," as Bella has come to be known at The Meadowlands, doesn't mind distance racing and is at her best picking off her rivals one by one down the stretch.

"I think she just likes to wind up," Norman said. "You've seen her at The Meadowlands. The last sixteenth she's doing her best work. She just trots over the top of them.

"And it's not like they go big fractions [in the Prix d'Amérique]. They just sort of idle along there and they get home good. I think the race would be perfect for her. As long as she's got live cover, [the extra distance] doesn't matter. With live cover she's going to beat most of them."

The only thing that is certain in Bella's future is that she will become a broodmare and, if nothing changes between now and then, McDuffee has the stallion picked out.

"I bought a share of Walner just to breed to her," McDuffee said. "I intended to do it last year and then I decided to race her instead. And I still own the share, so it's waiting for Bella.

"To me, he's the boy right now. I watched a couple of Walner's 2-year-olds [last week] at [Sunshine Meadows Equestrian Village] and they catch your eye. I tell you what, he's a top sire. No question about that. And she'll match up good with almost anybody."

For now, McDuffee and Norman will plan and dream and hope for one more magical season with Bella Bellini.

"Bella's a lifetime horse," McDuffee said. "Although I said that when we had Bee A Magician. I said I don't think I'll ever probably have another one like that, but to come up with this one on top of it is pretty special."

James MacDonald in strong position to take home second consecutive Canadian Driver of the Year Award

by Brett Sturman

If 2021 was considered a breakout year of sorts for driver James MacDonald, then 2022 solidified his status as one of the best drivers in Canada. On the heels of winning his first O'Brien Award as the Keith Waples Driver of the Year a year ago, it's likely MacDonald will take home the award for the second consecutive time as Canada's best driver when results are formally announced this Saturday (Feb. 4) evening.

Heading into 2022, it would have been hard to imagine MacDonald keeping pace with – let alone further exceeding – his tallies from 2021. All told that year, MacDonald won 322 times, earning over $6 million (USD) between races over Canadian and American soil. While the 322 wins that year was not a record for MacDonald (he won 335 times in 2014), his Race dates to be announced.

“A lot of people last year said [the success] was because I went to the States and I came back as a different driver. Maybe there is something to that, just something new, little more experience against different drivers. I lived with my brother Mark and stayed with and worked with a lot of high-quality drivers. And when I came back, I just felt great in the bike. I was really confident, and it led to success. And from there, as you start to do well, you start to get more good horses and it’s one of those things where success breeds more success.”

earnings were more than $2 million better than any seasonal earnings prior. In 2022, MacDonald took it up even more notches.

He won 451 races this past season, including 400 alone at Woodbine Mohawk; a number not seen with WEG-circuit wins since 2006. With earnings of over $7.6 million (USD) and $8.8 million (CDN; Note: Standardbred Canada records earnings at par, while the USTA converts), MacDonald boasted a UDRS rating of .344 improving further from his then-lifetime best rating of .318 from 2021. His 2022 UDRS was one of the sport’s best across all North America.

For MacDonald, it was a matter of keeping an even-keel mindset heading into this past season. Reflecting on his mentality, MacDonald said, “I would probably say that an overall consistency was kind of my goal for the year. I wanted to come back and not try to worry about numbers too much, just try to show up every night, grind away and come to the track with a good attitude. That first and foremost stands out.

“Obviously, the big eight-win night was awesome, it was something I’ll never forget. I had some big stakes wins and a good start to the year with the SBOA (MacDonald swept SBOA Finals in May with Adare Castle and Silver Label), and the Juravinski Cup with Linedrive Hanover. We had our own horse Hasty Bid who won the Wellwood consolation and then finished fourth in the Mohawk Million, so it was a good year all around with a lot of exciting things going on.”

MacDonald’s reference to the eight-win night was a record that occurred towards the end of the year. On Dec. 5 at Woodbine Mohawk, he won eight of the 10 races on the card, including reeling off wins in the last seven races of the night consecutively. After tripping out Locatelli at odds of 4-1 in the ninth race’s preferred trot that night and establishing a new career mark for the gelding, MacDonald capped it off with eight wins when he safely guided home race favorite Never Mind N in the nightcap.

Reminiscent of Michael Jordan’s iconic shrug game from the 1992 NBA Finals, MacDonald was in the zone that night.

“One hundred per cent,” MacDonald said. “I think if you talk to any driver when they’re having a good night like that, it’s almost like you can't do anything wrong. You could make what would normally be a mistake and it ends up working to your benefit. It's one of those things where you get the hot hand, you keep ending up in good spots. Obviously, you need the horses also to win and it was one fortunate drive after another that night. A million different things could have happened, but all the horses that night brought their "A" game, and it was really a special night for sure."

In part, MacDonald's five-week stint of driving in the United States in May of 2021 acted as a catalyst for what would follow in the next year and a half. During COVID-19 restrictions in Ontario, MacDonald drove in the States with success at tracks that included The Meadowlands, Pocono, Chester and Yonkers.

"A lot of people last year said [the success] was because I went to the States and I came back as a different driver," MacDonald said. "Maybe there is something to that, just something new, little more experience against different drivers. I lived with my brother Mark and stayed with and worked with a lot of high-quality drivers. And when I came back, I just felt great in the bike. I was really confident, and it led to success. And from there, as you start to do well, you start to get more good horses and it's one of those things where success breeds more success."

With Woodbine Mohawk Park operating predominantly on just a four-day-a-week schedule, MacDonald notched his 400th win of the year at the track with the horse Littlebearcat on Dec. 29. In doing so, he became only the fifth different driver to win that many races on the WEG circuit. Coincidentally, the last driver to reach that milestone came way back in 2006 and it was achieved then by none other than MacDonald's brother, Mark, at 404 wins.

"Mark, Anthony and all my brothers and all my family for that matter: they've always been my number one fans and cheering me on," MacDonald said. "You'll see us razzing each other quite a bit, but deep down we're doing everything we can to help each other succeed."

"[Mark] texted me when I was getting closer to his record, so when I hit 400, I heard crickets for the rest of the year. And then I had two nights at the end of the year where I could have tied or gotten closer depending on how things went, I got shut out those last two nights. So, he texted me on Jan. 1 and was like, 'Where did you end up? Did you end up beating me?' And of course, he knew. But with Mark and all my brothers, we're always picking on each other and it's always in good nature with the right intentions, and we always have each other's backs."

Dave Landry
Trainer Jack Darling.

You don't know Jack... Darling, that is

by Bob Heyden

Bulldog Hanover's trainer and part-owner Jack Darling was born on Feb. 3, 1953, making this his 70th birthday celebration 16 days before the 2023 Horse of the Year ceremony in Orlando, FL.

In a bit more than two weeks, they might have to change his name to "Media" Darling. As far as I'm concerned, he cannot win enough awards.

In case you missed the first couple of decades of Darling's career, here's a brief look:

- Did some driving early on.
- Broke through with his biggest year in 1996 and was named the Canadian Trainer of the Year, aided by names such as record-setting Metro winner Gothic Dream.
- Low Places, Diamond Dawn, Faded Glory and Diehard Fan formed a formidable freshmen filly quarter in the mid-1990s.
- Northern Luck entered the scene with a bang in 1997 posting a stakes record 1:49.1 in the Tattersalls and his North America Cup elim.
- Other names of significance were Lease On Life, Mattnamaras Band, Bayside Hall and Twin B Champ. You remember Twin B Champ. He was the favorite in the 2000 NA Cup won by Gallo Blue Chip.
- Northern Sky, a daughter of Northern Luck, made a name for herself.
- Jr Mint who captured the $500,000 Hoosier Cup in 2003.

So, you can see Darling is not exactly an overnight sensation.

DID YOU SAY 70?

Where would Darling rank on the older trainers list if Bulldog wins HOY?

1947 — Year one, Sep Palin (69) with Victory Song.

1948 — Year two, Bi Shively (70) with Rodney.

2023 — Year 76, Jack Darling (70) with Bulldog Hanover? We'll have to wait and see.

HOOSIER STANDOUT, AGAIN?

There's no doubt that Bulldog Hanover's Dan Patch and Hoosier Park Pacing Derby's track record of 1:46.3 in 2022 were the highlights of the Indiana track's racing season. But I submit, it is not the first time Darling has dominated at Hoosier Park.

In fact, in 1996 he dominated in Hoosier's first decade when he swept three $100,000 divisions of the Kentuckiana for freshman pacing fillies on the same night with Decor, Armbr Parkway and American Angel. All three were driven by John Campbell.

DARLING COULD BE IN FINE COMPANY

Here's a list of Canadian HOY trainers:

- Clint Hodgins in 1950 with Proximity and again in 1959 with Bye Bye Byrd.
- Joe O'Brien in 1955-1956 with Scott Frost and again in 1970 with Fresh Yankee.
- Ralph Baldwin in 1963 with Speedy Scot.

BOTH OWNER AND TRAINER OF HOY

Darling would be in even rarer air here:

1974 – Del Miller with Delmonica Hanover.

1976 – Stanley Dancer with Keystone Ore.

1979-1980 – Clint Galbraith with Niatross.

1995 – Carl Allen with CR Kay Suzie.

2002, 2006 – Blair Burgess with Real Desire and Glidemaster, respectively.

2015 – George Teague with Wiggle It Jigglet.

2016 – Jimmy Takter with Always B Miki.

BOB-BING AND WEAVING

In 1987, John Campbell won his first ever Hambletonian with Mack Lobell and would go on to win a record six. Guess who was making his Hambletonian debut that same year? Jimmy Takter who finished sixth with Sir Taurus.

In the next quarter century, nobody would win more money in the Hambletonian than Campbell and Takter. But they never teamed up until 27 years later in 2014 when Campbell drove Nuncio to a strong second-place finish in the Hambletonian. Guess who was driving the winner, Trixton? Jimmy Takter.

HorseTournaments adds Woodbine Mohawk Park, Meadowlands to online tournaments.

by Melissa Keith

An intriguing invitation went out to horseplayers last Saturday (Jan. 28), via email.

"Join tournaments today – harness racing comes to HorseTournaments," read the release. "After a successful trial period, we're officially expanding the HorseTournaments tournament schedule to include the standardbred harness racing programs at Woodbine and The Meadowlands. Keep an eye out for the 'harness' tag on select $12 and $55 tournaments running Fridays, Saturdays, and Mondays at HorseTournaments."

Tournaments are not common for North American standardbred racing, but they are popular with thoroughbred players. McKay Smith, president/founder of HorseTournaments, answered a few questions for this column about his company's latest inclusion of harness tracks, including Woodbine Mohawk Park.

He said that the current (re)launch wasn't the first time HorseTournaments has offered harness racing contests. Thoroughbred racing contests have been available from the start. The site later collaborated with the United States Trotting Association (USTA), introducing harness tournaments within the past decade, albeit in a different format from today.

"HorseTournaments has been operating domestically since 2010," Smith said. "Several years ago, we worked with the USTA on a series of free events covering harness racing, but this past month is the first time that we've offered paid contests covering standardbreds. Paid contests have been up for a couple of weeks now."

Woodbine Mohawk Park and The Meadowlands were the natural top-choice harness tracks to add to the contest menu. HorseTournaments is currently gauging players' interest in paid harness racing contests, to help determine future offerings.

"At this point, we're offering only Woodbine Mohawk [Park] and The Meadowlands, the reason being that they're the two most popular circuits," Smith said. "Depending on the response over the next few months or so, we'll make the determination whether we want to move forward with securing more harness track content."

Potential players shouldn't find it challenging to join and participate in HorseTournaments' contests.

"It's really quite simple," Smith said. "Instead of placing individual wagers through the pari-mutuel system, with tournaments, players are purchasing an entry fee, essentially a 'ticket,' to compete against other players. Players make a single horse selection for a group of races, typically 8 to 15, depending on the event setup. Each selection is equivalent to a $2 win/place 'mythical' wager."

"Players earn points, expressed in dollar amounts, equivalent to the real-life win/place payouts of those horses. Scores are accrued on a leaderboard, and top finishers win either cash or other prizes (such as entries to other tournaments) based on the event parameters. There are some other formats available (such as survivor or exacta games), but the vast majority of events run on the $2 win/place format, which has been the industry standard for horse racing tournaments for decades."

Smith confirmed that Canadians are able to take part in the contests. There are additional rules about age and residency requirements on the horsetournaments.com site.

When asked whether HorseTournaments was aiming to reach a new audience of horseplayers (i.e., the harness crowd), or show thoroughbred players that there are harness tracks worth playing, Smith said, "Definitely both. Through our efforts with the USTA years ago, we know that there's a percentage of our existing user base that has interest in harness tournaments, and theoretically, a swath of players out there that we've yet to reach. And yes, there's certainly a meaningful portion of our traditionally thoroughbred players that would appreciate the additional action. One of the things we like about harness content is the fact that so much of it runs during the evening and on weekdays, time periods when the thoroughbred schedule can be light."

Woodbine Mohawk Park and The Meadowlands do not host the tournaments independently, but do benefit from inclusion among the contest tracks on offer.

"It's also important to point out that tracks and horsemen earn revenue from HorseTournaments play the same as they would traditional pari-mutuel wagers," Smith said.

HorseTournaments is a well-connected and professional operation that bills itself as "horse racing's officially licensed tournaments site."

The president/founder said that, "through a management operating agreement, HorseTournaments has been an official, licensed affiliate of Xpressbet since 2018."

Xpressbet LLC is an advance-deposit wagering (ADW) brand of 1/ST (Stronach Group companies).

He confirmed that harness racing is here to stay on the tournament landscape, if the demand is there.

“Harness fans should participate for the same reason that thoroughbred players have found HorseTournaments so engaging. It’s easy to play, and it’s a different way to compete – and get rewarded – within the game that you already love.”

~ Eric Wing

“We intend to offer tournaments from the Meadowlands and Woodbine [Mohawk Park] every day that they conduct live racing.

“This is intended to be permanent, assuming that we have at least reasonable participation. One of the reasons that we hadn’t offered harness tracks previously was because we felt that the costs of obtaining the program data necessary to do so might be prohibitive vis-a-vis what we forecasted the revenue might be. As long as we’re not underwater, we intend to continue offering harness tournaments.”

Eric Wing is communications director of HorseTournaments. On Wednesday (Feb. 1), he said the Mohawk and Meadowlands contests were already generating interest.

“The response so far has been promising. As awareness grows and more people give it a try, we expect that we will be able to offer a wider variety of games and price points.”

There is nothing intrinsic to thoroughbred racing that makes it more suited to online contests than standardbred racing.

“Harness fans should participate for the same reason that thoroughbred players have found HorseTournaments so engaging,”

Wing said. “It’s easy to play, and it’s a different way to compete – and get rewarded – within the game that you already love.”

Harness bettors who miss the days of packed OTBs may even find HorseTournaments a new outlet for showmanship after a rewarding result.

“One key appeal, I think, is that it is a really special, heady feeling to see one’s name atop a tourney leaderboard: even if you’re playing for small stakes,” Wing said. “There is definitely a strong ‘ego component’ to contest play that regular, pari-mutuel play just doesn’t provide. That’s a big part of the fun of it all.”

HorseTournaments is currently welcoming suggestions about harness racing tournaments, which may be emailed to support@horsetournaments.com.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Caretaker Robert Predmore proves sometimes you can choose your family

by Chris Lomon

He doesn't share the same last name as the people he works for, but every morning he walks in the barn, it feels just like family for Robert Predmore.

"I've been doing this for over 15 years," said Predmore, a 29-year-old Ohio horseman. "I started with [trainer] Herb LeVan when I was around 13 or 14. I ended up getting my groom's license when I was 15. I took a break for two years and then I started for Herb's son, Hank. And now, I've been there for three years. I've been with the family for a long time, and they are a great family. I can't complain about any of them or any of the experiences. Herb taught me everything I know. He taught me about training, grooming, and anything that comes between the lines."

It was just over two years ago when Predmore made a call that would lead to a new chapter in his standardbred career.

After a short hiatus from racing, he was motivated to return to the sport.

"I think it was around December 2020 and I asked Hank [LeVan] if he needed help," Predmore said. "Eventually, I got the job and I've been here ever since. I'm pretty much Hank's right-hand man. I help jog and train and do a lot of other things around the barn."

The opportunity to work with the LeVan clan once again has been a rewarding experience.

These days, life in the barn is busier than ever, an operation that is enjoying great success, including with the stable's younger pacers and trotters.

"Right now, we have about 24 horses we are going with, and 12 of them are babies," Predmore said. "They are starting to come along pretty nicely, so that's something we are all excited about. That's the most babies we've had in a long time."

There are times, more often than not, when the LeVan horses are competing at different venues on the same day.

"When I go to the barn in the morning and see the horses tip their heads out, I always feel happy. That's a great feeling. [Trainer/driver] Louis [LeVan] is like my dad and Hank is like my brother. I've been in the business a long time with this family, so I've been very lucky. They treat me very well and I want to do my best job for them."

~ Robert Predmore

On this weekend, Predmore is behind the wheel by himself.

"If I have to, I'll warm up the horse," Predmore said. "I don't drive, Hank does about 95 per cent of our driving, but in case he can't be there, I can get the horses ready for the race. There are times when we have to be at two places, meaning two different rigs, so we divide and conquer. Wherever he goes, I'll go the other way. I know the horses like he does. I like when he drives them because like most trainers, he knows them better than anyone else does. It's a busy life for all of us, but we are all on the same page and we get the job done right."

Motivation, for Predmore, is never hard to come by.

Especially when he has plenty to look forward to.

"When I go to the barn in the morning and see the horses tip their heads out, I always feel happy," Predmore said. "That's a great feeling. [Trainer/driver] Louis [LeVan] is like my dad and Hank is like my brother. I've been in the business a long time with this family, so I've been very lucky. They treat me very well and I want to do my best job for them."

Predmore has worked with several talented horses throughout his time, past and present, a list that included a horse that made nearly 500 starts and a current 3-year-old who wasn't expected, at least at one point, to line up behind the starter car.

A bay son of Towners Big Guy—Spicy Dumpling, Caramel Dumpling competed in 489 races, winning 90 of them to go along with 248 top-three finishes and $276,108 in earnings.

"I've been lucky to have sat behind some nice horses over the years," Predmore said. "The best horse I ever sat behind was probably Caramel Dumpling. When I was first working with Herb, we raced him, and he was just an amazing horse. We raced him up until he was 14 and then we retired him. He was a big, old war horse. If the purse money was as good as it is in Ohio right now, he would have tripled his earnings. Back then, he didn't go for much, but he showed up all the time. That was the first horse I ever sat behind. He was probably around 6 or 7."

Eddie L, a bay son of What The Hill—Great Idea Jane, has come a long way since a less-than-forgettable debut at Paulding in June 2022.

Breaking stride at the outset and distanced, the $6,000 purchase at the 2021 Ohio Select Sale (Hip 279) went 3-6-6 from 21 starts last year.

"Out of all the horses, I'd choose working with the babies and the 3-year-olds," Predmore said. "I like starting out with them, seeing them progress, and working to get them to the races. We didn't think Eddie L was going to make it. He couldn't get around the turns very well, but we changed things up — people kind of laughed at the way we had him rigged up — but he did pretty well. We all worked hard together to make that happen."

When he isn't with his racing family, Predmore is spending time with his own family.

Perhaps, not surprisingly, horses and horse racing play a big role in their lives.

Even at the busiest points of the racing season, the Predmores find a way to take a road trip to various racetracks throughout the Buckeye State.

"Most of the time, when I'm not at the barn or at the races, I spend time with my wife and our two kids," Predmore said. "It's really hectic in the summertime, so there's not a lot of time to be able to get out and do things. But we will go to fairs together. There are dozens of them in Ohio, and we go to quite a few of them. We don't hit them all because that would be impossible, but we hit as many as we can. It's always nice when you have time to be around your family."

Something that Predmore is no doubt familiar with.

‘Artie’ ready for debut party at Big M

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Australian-born millionaire Lochinvar Art, who arrived in the U.S. stable of trainer Shane Tritton in October, is set to make his North American debut Saturday (Feb. 4) at The Meadowlands in a $27,500 conditioned pace. The 8-year-old stallion, a multiple Group 1 winner and track-record-setter Down Under, will face seven foes and is 5-1 on the morning line.

Lochinvar Art, a son of Modern Art–Ponder In Paris, has hit the board in 50 of 56 lifetime starts, winning 28, and earning $1.02 million. He enters Saturday's race off one qualifier, a 1:52.1 win (with last quarter in :26.3) at The Big M with Tritton's wife, Lauren, in the sulky. Lauren again will be in the bike for the stallion's debut.

"We've taken it a step at a time to get him used to here and he's been the perfect horse so far," Tritton said. "He's been great. He had some feet issues and a few other little things, but everything has seemed to sort itself out.

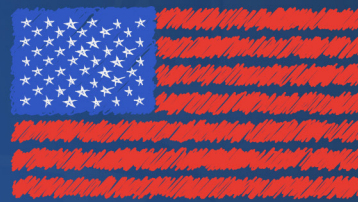

"My primary job now is to try to keep the horse healthy and keep everybody grounded until the horse shows what he can do. He obviously is a great horse, and usually great horses are always giving everything.

RESULTS & REPLAYS

US & CANADIAN RESULTS/REPLAYS AVAILABLE IN EACH ONLINE EDITION

www.harnessracingupdate.com

I'm sure he's ready to get out there and do something, but I just hope we can let him ease into it."

The Trittons enjoyed successful racing careers in Australia before moving to the States in 2020, so they already were familiar with Lochinvar Art prior to his arrival in their stable, but from the perspective of a rival.

"We've raced against him, and we know what he's capable of," Tritton said about the Team Tritton Inc.-owned pacer. "Every time you work him, every time you do anything with him, you can tell why he's such a good horse. One thing about him, he can really do anything. I've seen him race tougher than you could possibly ask a horse to be, and I've seen him come from last and show speed. He's a very good racehorse.

"He's well-mannered and you can kind of drive him however you like, which to me is his biggest asset. I think that's what has taken him this far, and I'm hoping it's what is going to keep taking him in this country. If he can be versatile, the rest of it can take care of itself."

If all goes well for Lochinvar Art, also known as "Artie," he will be pointed toward the MGM Borgata Pacing Series at Yonkers Raceway. The series, which runs for six consecutive weeks, begins on March 20.

"He's a horse that seems to get better the more he races, and he's very tough, so that series is probably right up his alley," Tritton said. "He loves racing, and he gets around a half-mile track good. That's really been the goal to aim for, and then we'll know from that exactly how far we can push things moving forward through the year."

Tritton expects Lochinvar Art to be staked "fairly heavily without going crazy."

"We'll have that conversation after Saturday night," Tritton said. "If he's going to be at his best, it's going to be this year. He's not getting any younger. If he is going to get his opportunity in this country to show what he can do, then this is the year he's going to do it."

Down Under horses hold the top-three morning-line spots for Saturday's race at The Meadowlands. Belmont Royale N is the 3-1 choice followed by Crunch Time A at 7-2 and Burnham Boy N at 4-1.

"It's exciting times, but this is just the first step," Tritton said about Lochinvar Art. "Whatever he does, we'll be happy with it. We'll learn and hopefully come the Borgata we'll have him tight and see where that takes us.

"This horse just needs to get used to the racing. Lauren works him every day, she knows him well, so that's a plus. She's as good as any driver in the world. It's a really good asset to have when you've got someone sitting in the bike that's just as invested as you are."

Racing begins at 6:20 p.m. (EST) at The Meadowlands. Free TrackMaster programs for The Big M can be found here.

USTA Board of Directors vote to amend rule on artificial insemination

In a special meeting of its board on Wednesday (Feb. 1), the U.S. Trotting Association's directors voted to amend the USTA rule on artificial insemination.

The existing Rule 26.05 Artificial Insemination was changed to allow frozen semen to be used in the breeding season, or year, immediately following castration or death of the stallion. The rule became effective immediately.

The measure passed with 38 voting in the affirmative and five in opposition. There were three abstentions, including president Russell Williams. Previously, the measure had been approved by nine districts during the just-concluded USTA district meeting cycle, was rejected by two others, and tabled for further discussion by two more.

"The special meeting of the Board of Directors was called for Feb. 1 in order to amend the rule in time for breeding season," said USTA executive vice president and CEO Mike Tanner in making the announcement following the meeting. "This change aligns a critical U.S. breeding practice with the rules commonly found in many European countries."

In his submission of the rule change proposal, Thomas Grossman from Blue Chip Farms said that, "Sweden, and many other countries in the EU Trotting union allow for the extended use of a stallion's frozen semen for one breeding season beyond the season/year of death."

MHHA issues statement on the new Plymouth, Michigan track proposal

As mentioned in Hometown Life last week, representatives from Northville Downs submitted a proposal to build a new racetrack in northwest Plymouth Township, just a few miles from the current location at Seven Mile and Sheldon Road in Northville.

This proposed new facility is being requested to be on a section of a 128-acre parcel near the southwest corner of Five Mile and Ridge roads.

We are excited by the announcement from Northville Downs to build a new facility in Plymouth. Our organization and the horsemen and women of the Michigan harness racing industry are looking forward to our continued partnership and tradition of horse racing in Michigan.

We are committed to working with the Plymouth, MI community to provide a unique entertainment experience while offering educational programs around harness racing.

All of us here at the MHHA and in the Michigan harness racing community fervently await the township's decision on the proposal so we can further the future of harness racing in Michigan while expanding our positive community outreach.

Daley's bill looks to resurrect Florida harness racing

According to a story by Anne Geggis that appeared on the Florida Politics website, Broward County (FL) Democratic representative, Dan Daley, has proposed a bill (HB 275) in an attempt to bring harness racing back to the Sunshine State.

After nearly 60 years, racing at Pompano Park ended in mid-April of 2022 following the passage of a 2021 bill that decoupled pari-mutuel betting and casino gaming.

According to Daley, the loss of harness racing could impact 15,000 jobs in his state and in a prepared statement he said, "Thousands of families are counting on us to do what is right for Florida."

Daley, who grew up in harness racing, also proposed a bill last year, which did not make it out of committee.

Batavia Downs sets new all-time betting mark

It was an historic day for the oldest lighted harness track in North America on Monday (Jan. 30) after the bettors came out in force and pumped $340,602 through the windows (from all sources) on 13 races to set a new all-time single card betting mark at Batavia Downs. That total is the highest handle since Western Regional Off-Track Betting reopened the Downs in 2002 and surpassed the old total of $339,000 which was realized over 14 races during the 2019 New York Sire Stakes Night of Champions finals.

"I'm very happy with today's record handle, it was truly a team effort by the staff and horsemen and women here at Batavia Downs," said Don Hoover, director of live racing/race secretary at Batavia Downs. Full, competitive fields and a cozy Monday afternoon off-track wagering slot were instrumental in these results.

One of Monday's driving factors was the $10,000 guaranteed pool in the Pick-5 race that kicked the day off in race one. There was $21,202 new money added to the $4,741 carryover and that spearheaded a total pool of $61,292 for that race alone.

Free full card past performance forms for the entire card of live racing at Batavia can always be downloaded at the Downs' website (bataviadownsgaming.com) under the "Live Racing" tab and all the racing action can be viewed as it happens at the Batavia Downs Live Facebook page.

Preorder the 2023 Stakes Guide

The United States Trotting Association (USTA) is now accepting preorders for the 2023 Stakes Guide.

The Stakes Event Guide will have the upcoming 2023 race schedule, as submitted by tracks and race sponsors. Events will be listed chronologically and separated by age, sex and gait. It also will include payment schedules and the 2022 results for featured races, including purses, number of divisions and the fastest win time for each event.

The Stakes Condition booklet is an alphabetical listing of conditions for both open and state-restricted stakes, followed by conditions for many of the continent's early and late closers, also sorted alphabetically. An index by track will help you find the early and late closers you want to race in.

Both the Event Guide and Conditions booklet will go to print in the middle of January 2023, with the goal of having it in purchaser's hands by Feb. 1, 2023.

Also available for purchase is the 2023 calendar, sponsored by the Hambletonian Society. The calendar has colorful images, race dates, sale dates and helpful USTA closure dates and deadlines. The 12-month calendar will span March 2023-February 2024, and is scheduled to go to print mid-February.

All publications are available to purchase through your USTA MyAccount by clicking Online Services, choosing “Click here to view products available from the USTA Store” followed by “Publications,” and the product you would like to order.

The USTA MyAccount service is available for free to both USTA members and non-members. Don't have a MyAccount set up? If you are a member, quickly set one up here using your USTA number and ZIP code. This will tie your MyAccount to your membership so you can utilize all its features, including owner's dashboard (free program pages for horses you own), online foal registrations and eligibility ordering. If you have never done business with the USTA, you can “skip this step” to sign up for a MyAccount.
