Could Dunn surpass Tetrick's single-season earnings record in 2025?

After earning $16.6 million in 2024 in just 1,394 starts, it's certainly possible Dunn could set a new standard this year, but it will require a lot of work.

by Brett Sturman

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

Coming off his highest earning year since driving Stateside full time, it raises the question as to just how much higher Dexter Dunn can go in the upcoming season. Concluding last year with a record breaking six Breeders Crown wins and being impeccably positioned to do more of the same now, could Dunn go so far as to approach Tim Tetrick's record-breaking earnings season from 2008?

If you don't want to read through the next thousand words or so to find out I can save you the suspense. The answer is almost certainly 'no,' but researching the question proves just how insanely good both Dunn's 2024 season with $16.6 million in earnings was as well as Tetrick's in 2008 when he accomplished $19.7 million in earnings.

That Dunn was able to reach $16.6 million in earnings last year with just 1,394 starts is astonishing. That's an incredible $11,908 per start.

Put it this way, the last time anyone beat $16.6 million – and it hasn't happened often – was in 2014 when Yannick Gingras got to $17.3 million, but it took him 2,250 starts to get there ($7,688 per start). Dunn did nearly the same in almost half the starts.

By comparison, in Tetrick's record setting 2008 year it took him 4,048 starts to come just shy of $20 million ($4,866 per start), though he would go on to reach similar heights with fewer starts as the years went on. Looking back on it now, the run that Tetrick started with in 2007 through 2023 is unbelievable.

But back to the question and what it means going forward: How did Dunn achieve so much with so few starts? Simply put, he won a lot of the races that counted most. Dunn won an unprecedented percentage of the biggest races throughout the year. By the numbers, there were 105 races last year Dunn raced in that carried a purse of $200,000 or greater. He won 37 of those (35.2 per cent). Of races for $300,000 or more, he won 20 out of 53 for 37.7 per cent. And then for races that carried purses of $500,000 or more, he won nearly 50 per cent, capturing eight out of those 18 races.

One would have to think that those numbers would approach Dunn's ceiling for how many of the biggest races one person can possibly win. Even if Dunn were to go into those same races this year with the same (or let's say even slightly higher) quality level of horses, there's bound to be a similar number of losses for the sole reason that the best horse won't win every time.

What's interesting when you look at the availability and purse structure of stakes from last year compared to 2008 is just how many more opportunities there are today. Back then, the very best stakes went for more money than those stakes go for today. The Hambletonian for example, went for $1.5 million at that time compared to $1 million today. The Meadowlands Pace was a $1 million race back then too. But those and other purse reductions have been offset and more by the emergence of increased sire stakes opportunities.

Kentucky is a great example as to how things have changed. Today, there is an endless string of various KY-sired events where purses are dished out at not only The Red Mile, but also at purse distribution tracks Cumberland Run and Oak Grove. The result is a culmination of finals varying from $80,000 on the low end to $400,000 on the high end and for all the divisions. Last year, Dunn won three $400,000 finals in Lexington alone. Tetrick didn't have these same number of opportunities in 2008.

Repeating the Kentucky model elsewhere, there's plenty of enhanced sire stakes conditions that Dunn will continue to have across Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and other states if he elects. You could do the math horse by horse and calculate next year's possible earnings for Maryland, Twin B Joe Fresh, Miki And Minnie and right on down the line, but all these races by themselves won't net Dunn's total by another $3 million. Keep in mind also: Dunn's 2024 totals already included winning the Mohawk Million ($740,000 USD), the $1 million Yonkers International and he swept four Dayton Derby races in one night where purses totaled $1 million.

Now, could Dunn break the record and get to $20 million if he wanted to by simply driving in more races? Absolutely, he could. It doesn't look like that will be the case though, and it underscores the quantity and quality of drives that Tetrick has put together historically.

In 2008, where Tetrick amassed 902 wins for the $19.7 million of the 22 races offered that year for $500,000 or more, Tetrick won just three of those (all for $500,000, exactly). Of the sport's 45 races that year of purses $300,000 or greater that Tetrick raced in, he won just five of those. There were smaller, additional stakes thrown in there too, but it shows that Tetrick accomplished those record feats on the back of a grueling year-long schedule through the overnight races.

Summing up that year, Tetrick last raced on Dec. 7 when he raced 20 times across races at Chester and Dover. He concluded that day and his year with a win in a $7,500 claiming race with a purse of $6,000 – emblematic of that tough, blue-collar year.

At the same time, Dunn's 2024 was truly magical. Even if the stars align further in 2025 and you somehow give Dunn an extra million – which would mean he is winning almost every big race everywhere – that would still only get him to maybe $18 million. Is there an extra $2 million somewhere to be put together? We'll find out.

Daley's Dan Patch double led to trainer title

by Debbie Little

Noel Daley is looking forward to new experiences in 2025.

For the first time in his career, Daley will start the year as the reigning Dan Patch Trainer of the Year and he'll be bringing back one of the champions that helped get him that title.

Even though trainees of the 63-year-old native of Queensland, Australia, raked in earnings of $4.87 million in 2024, a career best for Daley, he thought the battle for Trainer of the Year, voted on by the members of the U.S. Harness Writers Association, would be a tough one.

Dave Landry

"Obviously, you've got a case to give it to Ronnie [Burke] every single year," Daley said. "And I sort of thought, 'Ah, he had such a good year with these 2-year-olds, they probably should be giving that to him this year.' So, I was generally a little surprised I got it. I thought, you know, he was just as likely to have it as anyone else. And Chris Ryder, he had a good year with a couple of different ones.

"I'm quite aware it could have gone five or six different ways. I really am. So, I don't know how much I won by, but I imagine it had to be close."

As it turns out, it was not close, with Daley garnering 77 votes, while Ake Svanstedt and Burke received 29 and 21, respectively.

Owner Harvey Fried has had horses with Daley for over 20 years.

“This is our third year in a row [going to the Dan Patch Awards Banquet], which is shocking, but, you know, because of Pebble [Beach], then [Captain] Albano, and then this year with [Albano and Sig Sauer], and I expect to be back next year with Albano again.”

~ Harvey Fried

“He’s very accessible,” Fried said. “He’s a gentleman, knowledgeable, and does everything he can to make the horse right, as opposed to pushing him and pushing him. Even with Sig Sauer, who was a very delicate horse to have to train early on because he had some problems, [Daley] got him ready for all the big races. And that’s Noel.

“If you call him, he’ll call you back. I probably talk to him more as a friend than I talk to him as an owner, because we go back a long way.”

But it’s not just Daley’s work on the track that stands out to Fried.

“Listen, he’s a single father; he’s special,” said Fried about Daley raising his 12-year-old son, Max. “There are not too many men like him that would have done what he did. That’s another thing that always amazes me, that he does that, taking care of his child for all these years by himself. He’s a great guy.

“I’ve got eight grandchildren, and five children, so family is very important to me. He’s just a good man.”

Fried’s Patricia Stable co-owns Daley’s Dan Patch winning double, Captain Albano, and the aforementioned Sig Sauer.

Although the plan was for both 3-year-olds to go off to stud, due to less than perfect fertility numbers, Captain Albano is coming back to race at 4, a somewhat new experience for Daley.

“The better, younger ones that I’ve had, every single one of them went to stud,” Daley said. “I raced [Mr] Muscleman [at 4 and older], because he was a gelding. So, he was the last of the good ones that I’d ever brought back, you know, because the other ones were colts, I guess, they all got jobs.”

Daley said he’s excited about the upcoming season with “Albano.”

“I just haven’t had one to race in good older races, and not a pacer at all in any of the good races, really, in God, forever,” he said. “So, I’m looking forward to it.

“If I was ever to bring one back, I was quite happy the way that he ended out the year. He was great. Since I brought him back, he looks even better. He’s a great looking horse, but he looks even better now. He’s a real character to be around. He’s got the right attitude and everything about him.”

After his success with 2005 Dan Patch Trotter of the Year Mr Muscleman, who won three-straight divisional honors starting as a 3-year-old in 2003, Daley got a reputation.

“I had luck with trotters there for a few years and the next thing you know, I was a trotting trainer,” Daley said. “And then, we bought Pebble Beach [in 2020]. He was the only pacing colt I bought that year, Pebble Beach. We bought one, and he was the best one. ‘Pebble’ started it and then we ended up with Albano. But I don’t have any preference.”

Fried, along with Martti Ala-Sepalla, are Daley’s not-so-secret weapons.

“I’m very lucky, [Fried’s] the reason why we ended up with Pebble Beach that year,” Daley said. “Harvey loves watching the videos and he’d watch all the videos of pacers. And then I’ve got Martti Ala-Sepalla, who loves watching the videos of all the trotters, which suits me just fine, because the last thing I want to do is watch 1,000 videos. Some people do love that, not me. I’d rather have them pick them out, then I’ll go and look at them. And I don’t love everything they love, but you know, it’s a good head start for me to have those couple of guys.”

Fried picked out both 2022 Dan Patch 3-Year-Old Colt Pacer Pebble Beach and Captain Albano, who has now won back-to-back Dan Patch awards at 2 and 3.

“So, this is our third year in a row [going to the Dan Patch Awards Banquet], which is shocking, but, you know, because of Pebble, then Albano, and then this year with the two of them, and I expect to be back next year with Albano again.” Fried said.

In addition to his horses being honored, Fried is happy to see Daley getting some national recognition.

“I thought he deserved it before this, but that’s just me,” said Fried.

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Two-time defending Prix d'Amérique champ Idao de Tillard shut down due to injury

by Thomas Hedlund

Prix d'Amérique winner Idao de Tillard (Severino) is injured and will not be able to race for the rest of the Paris winter meeting.

Trainer Thierry Duvaldestin announced Wednesday (Feb. 5) that his champion trotter will miss the rest of the races in Paris due to a sprained ankle. That means that Sunday's (Feb. 9) $400,000 Prix de France will miss its biggest name, the title defender Idao de Tillard.

"The winter meeting is over for him," Duvaldestin said to French media Le Trot. "It's a hard blow, but if we put it in perspective, he won the biggest race."

The Prix de France, thought to be the biggest and most prestigious 1.3 miles race in the world, now includes some other big names, but unfortunately, the interest for the race was not as high this year as it has been in years past.

Balancing the bad news with something better, Horsy Dream, winner of Elitloppet and several other big races last season, may be back on track during the spring, according to his trainer Pierre Belloche. Horsy Dream unfortunately missed the entire winter meeting in Paris, due to an injury, but now it looks like he will return to Stockholm to try to defend his Elitloppet title at Solvalla in May.

Gerard Forni

Driver Clément Duvaldestin kicked up his legs in celebration on Jan. 26 at Vincennes as Idao de Tillard defeated an 18-horse field to win back-to-back Prix d'Amérique championships.

With Idao de Tillard missing from Sunday's Prix de France, at least two different horses will capture Grand Prix titles in Paris this year.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Paige Porter wears her heart on her sleeve and the back of her neck

by Chris Lomon

To most, 985141001313029 would be nothing more than a set of 15 random numbers. To Paige Porter, they are far more significant.

On a recent January night at Western Fair Raceway, the half-mile standardbred oval in London, ON, six horses lined up behind the starter car for the third race.

Standing trackside on an evening where the mercury had dipped to -16 Celsius (3.2 Fahrenheit), Porter, the groom of Hes Touring, paced nervously as the race got underway.

Anxious feelings would give way to audible anticipation of victory mid-way down the lane as she watched the son of Hes Watching power home to record a 1¾-length win in a time of 2:02.1.

As she stood on the track waiting for the 7-year-old bay and trainer/driver Mike Horner to come back for the winner's circle photo, Porter recalled what she was told on her first day on the job.

"When I first started, I was told not to fall in love with the horses," she said. "But I didn't listen."

No, she did not.

"I actually got this horse's microchip number tattooed on the back of my neck," Porter said with a laugh.

The digits are far more than a fashion statement or artistic expression.

Instead, it is a symbol of Porter's unabashed love for a wily veteran.

"He's my pet and I think everyone knows they shouldn't claim him," she said.

“ My number one goal for the past two-plus years is to win a blanket in an OSS race. That is at the top of my list. [Trainer] Mike [Horner] said if we don't get a blanket this year, he'll get one custom-made for me for Christmas. But I also want to see all the babies we are training make it to the track this year. ”

Race dates to be announced.

“ I am a chaotic person to begin with. People actually refer to me as a ‘Walking Red Bull.’ So, I’m jumping up and down, yelling at the top of my lungs [during a race]. I do get nervous with certain horses, just because you don’t know what to expect from them.”

~ Paige Porter

Porter has worn her heart on her horse sleeve almost from the first moment she started her harness racing career.

It wasn’t something she had initially anticipated.

“I started in the riding world and switched to this,” she said. “Riding costs a lot, so when I moved out on my own and had to pay rent, I knew I wanted to work with horses. I wanted to do something that I felt was out of my comfort zone. I ended up going to work with [trainer] John Pentland – my best friend’s mom is engaged to him – so that was an easy in, so to speak.”

One afternoon, on the drive home after her first handful of days as a groom, a thought struck Porter.

“I remember saying to myself, ‘What have I been doing the last 10 years by not doing this?’” she said.

It was horses like Oh Gouda, a bay daughter of Betterthancheddar, who made Porter realize she had landed a dream role.

The mare, co-bred and co-owned by Horner, was a handful at times.

Oh Gouda was also an imposing presence, quite the opposite of her groom.

“When I first came to work for Mike, she had just turned 3,” Porter said. “She’s a big filly, and being a Betterthancheddar, she is stubborn, opinionated, but she also has this wonderful personality, where she wants to be loved and cuddled. She loves her treats too. The meanness is balanced by that loving attitude.

“I am a small person, 5-foot-4 and 98 pounds, so she was a lot to deal with being that big and rambunctious. But she got us 12 wins in one year, so I figured she could do whatever she wanted.”

In this instance, a little attitude helped the pacer to do big things on the racetrack.

“If you are that good on the track, it’s okay to misbehave a little bit,” Porter said.

And, as she would discover, it is okay when a horse doesn’t cross the line first.

“Racing in the Grassroots Series for the first time in 2024 was a big highlight,” she said. “It was with Thai Tour, then a 2-year-old, who I had helped break and is a full-brother to my heart horse, Hes Touring.”

Family ties to her beloved horse had already made Thai Tour a special horse for Porter, but it was doggedness, not DNA, that won her heart on the evening of Sept. 24 at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Seconds before the start of the Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) consolation final for 2-year-old colts and geldings, Thai Tour, the 2-1 second choice, broke stride.

“Race over,” Porter recalled thinking to herself.

The bay colt, co-owned by Horner, thought otherwise.

“He came right back and wound up sweeping most of the field and finished second,” Porter said. “I have never had a horse race like that. It is the first thing in my memories of 2024. That was the most amazing recovery I had ever seen.”

Porter was both seen and heard during that race – just like always. She is unmistakably energy personified.

“I am all of that,” she said. “I am a chaotic person to begin with. People actually refer to me as a ‘Walking Red Bull.’ So, I’m jumping up and down, yelling at the top of my lungs. I do get nervous with certain horses, just because you don’t know what to expect from them.”

Winner’s circle photos are typically anything but picture-perfect for Porter.

“I am always talking to the horses,” she said. “Every photo that has been taken in the winner’s circle, my mouth is open, and I am giving them a pat. I talk to them like they are going to respond to me.”

One statement Porter would like to make in 2025 is seeing one of her horses draped in a certain look in the aftermath of a particular racing series.

“My number one goal for the past two-plus years is to win a blanket in an OSS race,” she said. “That is at the top of my list. Mike said if we don’t get a blanket this year, he’ll get one custom-made for me for Christmas. But I also want to see all the babies we are training make it to the track this year.”

Having Porter along for the journey will no doubt help those odds.

Not surprisingly, there is nowhere else she would rather be.

“The best part is being around the horses – it helps with mental health a lot,” Porter said. “I just started jogging and training last summer because I eventually would like to become a driver.”

She already has her colors picked out.

“Pink, white and black,” Porter said. “I don’t think I will be a catch driver. I would like to train and drive my own horses, basically, just be what Mike Horner is. I tell everyone I want to be Mike Horner. He cares more about the horses than anything else.”

As does Porter.

She wants every horse in the barn to know that.

“There is an apple farm just up the road and you can get a 20-pound bag for seven dollars,” she said. “Mike and I usually take turns each week where we will buy four bags, which last only a few days.”

When she isn’t working in the barn, apple shopping or shouting out encouraging words on race night, Porter is in the saddle, having rekindled her passion for the show ring.

“I compete horses in the jumpers too, around the London area and southwest Ontario,” she said. “I missed the riding part, so

“I actually got [Hes Touring’s] microchip number tattooed on the back of my neck.”

~ Paige Porter

I leased a pony, and I am back to doing that whenever I can. I enjoy that a lot.

“I’m also into snowmobiling. I hate winter, but that is a bright spot for me.”

Standardbreds are a constant source of happiness, regardless of the season.

And when weather permits, people might take notice of that unmistakable tattoo on the back of her neck, and see those numbers, 985141001313029.

Numbers, Porter will tell you, that are hard to put into words, but always close to her heart.

Can a time trial revival give new life to harness racing?

by John Berry

When harness racing was a “true” spectator sport, all eyes were on Lexington’s Red Mile in the fall for their always historic Grand Circuit meeting.

Located, literally, in the heart of Lexington, just about every who’s who in harness racing was somewhere on the fabled grounds – either on the backside or in the stands – witnessing the very best and exciting moments in the sport.

Part of their fall extravaganza, besides the races, were the time trials conducted during the fall meeting. After all, it was the era of the 2:10 2-year-old list and the 2:05 3-year-old list and there were plenty of horses that came close during the season, but were a nose, head, or neck away from those coveted lists with a 3-year-old having a mark of 2:05.1 but race-timed in 1:59.3, a neck back of the winner and no black ink to show for it.

Yes, other time trials were featured with horses looking to pierce the 2:00 list, still fairly rare in the 1970s and 1980s.

At The Red Mile, some years had well over 200 time trials and the fans in the stands were as enthusiastic for them as one of the Kentucky Futurity or a $900 overnight race.

Back in 1980, when a 3-year-old pacing colt entered the track for his crack at a world record, the anticipation was electric. After all, the great Niatross had all the headlines and was looking to eclipse The Red Mile track record of 1:52 set by Steady Star at the beginning of the decade.

There are no sufficient words to describe the reaction of the crowd as Niatross turned for home off three-quarters in 1:21.4 – one had to hear it to feel it!

Time trials are out-of-favor these days as the breed-for-speed era continues but, time trials could prove a very valuable asset in an era where, first, the fans seem to be left at the post, as one BDHC (Broken Down Horse Players Club) devotee said and, second, time trials could serve a triple positive purpose in the future.

Of course, there are arguments that time trials are no longer needed since the records now show the fastest time a horse

Prop wagers could include:

1. Whether the TT would be successful or unsuccessful. 2. The time for the trial in either beating the advertised time or several other times listed with varying odds... the idea is to get interest and headlines back for our sport and attract both the aging fan and, particularly, the new blood.

has achieved on any size track, no matter if it finished dead last where the winner won in 1:47 and the horse in question was timed in 1:48.4.

BDHC member Smitty said, “most any horse can draft along in a record time for itself but I think it’s important to see the talent of the horse on its own... and time trials do just that.”

Smitty has a very strong argument and this “best time” feature does little to improve the visibility of the sport in the eye of the bettor.

But in this day of sports betting and prop betting, time trials could open the door for an unlimited amount of play – not necessarily pari-mutuel betting, which may be becoming passe to many – but in the prop betting arena by giving the punters something on which to wager between the agonizing and patience gnawing 25-to-27-minute wait between races.

In the Sept. 30, 1980 Red Mile program, there were over 200 time trial events listed with for example, Valley’s Wind trying to beat 2:10.1 pacing and winning the time trial in 2:06.4.

The 2-year-old pacing filly Contingency also attempted to get on the 2:10 list and did so with a 2:02.2 performance... significant (at that time) for sales catalogs.

Of course, there are risks in time trials, as well, as in the cases where horses “spit the bit” turning for home or make a miscue.

But great horses like Niatross used a time trial to etch his name in history.

The history books are loaded with horses that made world records in time trials... going back more than a century.

Ironically, since Lady Suffolk's first recorded mile under 2:30 in 1845 in a race, as the standard was reduced to Ullan's 1:58 mile in 1912, every single world record trotting mile reducing the time, from 2:14 3/4 (1874) to Ullan's miracle mile performance, was against time.

On the other side of the ledger for pacers, there were many racing records from Aggie Down's 2:29 performance in 1844 to the record of Minor Heir in 1910 of 1:59, but there were many time trial records set by Dan Patch – the fastest allowed being 1:55 1/4 in 1905 (a 1:55 TT was not allowed due to an out-lawed windshield being used in another).

In any event, time trials, as mentioned, could set a triple purpose if the powers that be would be amenable to change. The first would be to put a "true" record on any horse looking to lower their mark, second, it would give the spectator something to see during the long breaks between races and, three, the number of prop wagers available to gain spectator interest in our sport could improve greatly with headlines garnered with any unusual success.

Prop wagers could include:

1. Whether the TT would be successful or unsuccessful.
2. The time for the trial in either beating the advertised time or several other times listed with varying odds.

These, of course, would be prop bets, not pari-mutuel, but the idea is to get interest and headlines back for our sport and attract both the aging fan and, particularly, the new blood.

From football prop bets on whether the next play will be a rush or a pass... or a baseball pitch being a ball or a strike, time trials could offer yet another way of instant gratification for the bettor – just as a punch on the repeat bet button give the guy or gal at the slot machine.

For the nay-sayers that say this can't be accomplished, time trials could be available at every larger track facility and held the week any Grade 1 event is scheduled with an invite seeking horses where an improvement in their lifetime mark may play a significant role in any future sales catalog benefitting breeders and consignors.

By the way, on that note, horses successful in completing successful time trials could be compensated with a (as yet to be determined) stipend, possibly paid by those potentially benefitting from the TTs – the breeders.

In any event, maybe it would help us keep up with the "TIMES" and accomplish the goals to the bettors staying with us between long racing intervals and, quite possibly, giving the sport more headlines on internet sites, including prop betting sites, Facebook and Snapchat, Lemon 8, YouTube, Threads, Instagram and the hundreds more that are in our tech future.

We have nothing more to lose!

May The Horse Be With You.

Luc Blais on the emerging legacy of Dan Patch Trotting Broodmare of the Year Emoticon Hanover

by Melissa Keith

Last week, Luc Blais wasn't sure about what music would accompany Emoticon Hanover's Dan Patch Award presentation on Feb. 23. After all, it was the mare's first American award, despite a stellar career on both sides of the border. He laughed and said his girlfriend, Liisa, was searching for the right song to honor the 2024 Dan Patch Trotting Broodmare of the Year.

"I think she's going to find one, that's for sure," Blais said.

Dave Landry
Trainer Luc Blais.

The Campbellville, ON trainer said Emoticon Hanover's first Dan Patch Award came as something of a surprise, "because the States has got a lot of good broodmares there."

Emoticon Hanover (4, 1:50.2f; $1,778,033) has two foals of racing age, Drawn Impression (3, 1:51.1m; $518,497) and Emoticon Legacy (2, 1:52.3m; $162,656).

The 12-year-old daughter of Kadabra—Emmylou Who excelled throughout her four-year racing career and was named Canada's Older Trotting Mare of the Year in 2019. Blais was her only trainer, working for owner Determination (Serge Godin) of Montreal, QC.

"I think that she was consistent," Blais said. "She was ready every race. She never raced a bad race. She was very professional. She presented herself every race and gave everything."

Emoticon Hanover first qualified on June 12, 2015 at Mohawk, finishing fourth but winning her next baby race on June 26. She broke her maiden in her pari-mutuel debut, a July 12, 2015 Ontario Sires Stakes Gold leg at Georgian Downs. Although scratched sick from her next OSS leg, the filly rebounded to win Gold leg 3 on Aug. 4 at Mohawk.

At age 3, Emoticon Hanover recorded seven victories, beginning June 3 in a Mohawk conditioned race, followed by a going-away win in OSS Gold there. She picked up wins in the OSS Gold at Georgian Downs, Casual Breeze and Simcoe Stakes at Mohawk, and the OSS Gold Super Final, her fastest (1:53.1s) race of the year. She finished second to Broadway Donna in their Breeders Crown elimination and final at The Meadowlands.

Blais said that Emoticon Hanover showed steady progress when she returned to the races as a 4-year-old.

"Mares are like that, I think," he told HRU. "Mares that are tough, they can race every year, tougher and tougher. I think she learned this job more with age, [and became] better and better."

In her first 2017 start, Emoticon Hanover finished third to eventual O'Brien Trotting Horse of the Year Odds On Amethyst in the May 8 Mohawk preferred trot. She would go on to win seven major races at five different tracks: the July 15 Miss Versatility leg at The Meadowlands, Joie De Vie at Tioga Downs, the Sept. 21 Miss Versatility final at the Delaware County Fairgrounds, the Allerage Mare Trot at The Red Mile, and the Breeders Crown Open Mare Trot final at Harrah's Hoosier Park. She set a 1:50.2 world record in the Joie De Vie, which was then the fastest mile by a 4-year-old trotting mare on any size track, and would remain her lifetime mark.

In her 5-year-old campaign, Emoticon Hanover won the May 21, 2018 Miss Versatility leg at Mohawk, followed by her June 8 Armbro Flight elimination, before finishing second to 2016-17 Dan Patch and O'Brien champion Hannelore Hanover in the Armbro Flight final. In line to Dan Dube, Emoticon Hanover finished out the year with a three-race win streak over surfaces rated sloppy to good: the 2018 Breeders Crown Open Mare Trot elim and final at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono,

“Yes, [Emoticon Hanover’s foals] are very ‘awake’ like her. She was a very ‘awake’ filly; you know, she was always on the job, and they are all like that. They like to work, they’re workers, and I like that. She gave a lot of herself to the babies... We start with the babies and we break them. We’ve got a nice place at Cane Run Farm for the mare, and she did a very good job. Now we’ve got a homebred to break and that’s exciting.”

~ Luc Blais

followed by the TVG Mare Trot at The Meadowlands, in which she outdueled Hannelore Hanover by a neck.

“On the sloppy tracks, I think she was very good,” Blais said. “She sometimes had a little bit of a problem with her feet, but soft tracks, she liked that.”

In 2019, Emoticon Hanover opened the year at Mohawk, first romping in a May 6 conditioned race, then repeating in leg 1 of the Miss Versatility Series. Taking on ascendant 4-year-olds Atlanta and Manchego as well as males, Emoticon Hanover held her own. She was runner-up to Manchego in the 2019 Breeders Crown Open Mare Trot elim and final at Mohawk, and finished the season with wins in the TVG Open Mare Trot at The Meadowlands (by a head over Atlanta) and the Dec. 2 Mohawk preferred trot.

The mare retired sound and healthy in late 2019.

“He decided, Mr. Godin,” Blais said. “She gave us lots of thrills, and he decided that year to retire her and make a broodmare out of her.”

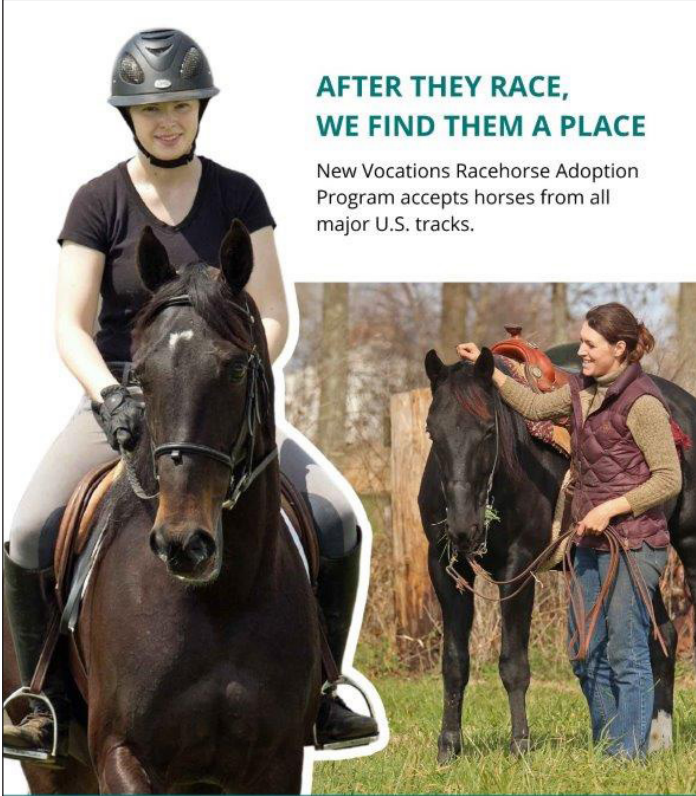

After 27 wins from 74 career starts, she had nothing more to prove on the racetrack.

“You got it,” Blais said. “Two Breeders Crowns and the Super Final in the OSS. She beat lots of good mares.”

Emoticon Hanover’s first foal was born in 2021, on her own April 14 birthday. Muscle Hill filly Drawn Impression won her Aug. 11, 2023 career debut at Mohawk, then swept her Peaceful Way elim and final before scratching sick from the Champlain. The filly won her 2023 Breeders Crown elimination over a sloppy Hoosier Park surface, finishing a close fourth in the final.

Drawn Impression came back at 3 with four seasonal victories, sweeping the 2024 Casual Breeze, Simcoe and her Elegatimage elim at Mohawk for Blais and driver Louis-Philippe Roy. She was edged out – by a head – by French Champagne in the Elegatimage final. The Determination homebred won her 2024 Breeders Crown elim at The Meadowlands, but ended up fourth behind Allegiant in the final. Even so, Drawn Impression’s dominance at Canada’s top track made her a top-two finalist for the 3-year-old trotting filly division at the 2024 O’Brien Awards, coming up Saturday (Feb. 8) night. She was runner-up to Willys Home Run in O’Brien 2-Year-Old Filly Trotter Award voting last year, and they face each other again for 2024 divisional honors.

Emoticon Hanover produced a Walner colt on May 1, 2022. Emoticon Legacy followed in his dam’s footsteps, winning his first career start, a July 18, 2024 Millard Farms Stake elimination at Mohawk. Scratched sick from the final, Emoticon Legacy returned with another win for trainer Blais, owner/breeder Determination, and driver James MacDonald in his William Wellwood Memorial elim. He was a going-away winning favorite in the Sept. 13 Champlain at Mohawk, then captured his 2024

Breeders Crown elim at The Meadowlands. He finished sixth behind Maryland in the final.

It’s not just good genetics that make Emoticon Hanover an award-worthy mother. Blais said she had settled perfectly into broodmare life in Georgetown, KY.

“It’s night and day,” he said. “When she was racing, she was very hyper. Now, as a broodmare, she looks like a million bucks. She’s just smooth and good with the babies. Very good.”

The 2024 Dan Patch Trotting Broodmare of the Year has a 2-year-old Walner colt in training with Blais (Emoticonnwalner) and a yearling Muscle Hill colt named Data Breach. As with Emoticon Hanover’s previous offspring, both have been retained by Determination, a finalist for Canada’s 2024 Armstrong Breeder of the Year Award.

The 2021 O’Brien Award of Horsemanship winner trained two divisional finalists for owner/breeder Determination last year, Drawn Impression and 2-year-old trotting filly finalist Lasting Dream (2, 1:54.1s; $290,181).

Blais said Emoticon Hanover’s foals share her attitude.

“Yes, they are very ‘awake’ like her,” he said. “She was a very ‘awake’ filly; you know, she was always on the job, and they are all like that. They like to work, they’re workers, and I like that. Racing the next generation of Emoticons puts a smile on Blais’ face.

Leading owners at Ontario tracks, Part 4

by Matthew Lomon

Part 1 is here.

Part 2 is here.

Part 3 is here.

Over the past three weeks, All Over Ontario has made stops, well, all over Ontario, spotlighting the leading owners at the province's grassroots tracks in 2024.

The inaugural edition of the four-part series heralded the clubhouse leaders from Hanover Raceway (Robert Jenkins, Jr., William Burgess, and Jeffrey Kelly), Dresden Raceway (Cameron McQueen), and Georgian Downs (A1Stable).

Part 2 covered the title-holders at Kawartha Downs (Amanda Riley), Flamboro Downs (Triple S Equine/Carl Kuepfer), and Clinton Raceway (Larry Lane).

The celebration continued in Part 3 with the chart-topping trio at Western Fair (Colonel Schneider, Jr.), Hiawatha Horse Park (also Schneider, Jr.), and Leamington Raceway (Michael Stamp and Janet Larcombe).

Rounding out the star-studded cast in the final leg of our four-part production are the prize-winning owners at Grand River Raceway (Gino Toscani) and Rideau Carleton Raceway (9096 9205 Quebec Inc./Stephane Pouliot).

Toscani and Pouliot will join their series predecessors at the 36th annual O'Brien Awards on Feb. 8, where they will be honored in a special presentation alongside the best and brightest in Canadian harness racing.

Each ownership awardee (24 total) will receive a custom plaque and a complimentary ticket to the ceremony, as part of the Owner Recognition Program.

Toscani punched his ticket to Saturday's ceremony after pacing the ownership standings at Grand River with 20 winners.

Across 111 starts altogether, the horses competing under the 35-plus year racing veteran added nine seconds and 15 thirds for an earnings total of $125,633.

"It's nice to be the leading owner," said Toscani. "I do run a lot of horses, but Grand River's a fun place to race. It's a good track."

By his count, the Mount Hope, ON-based horseman currently has about 55 horses stabled in Ontario and another 23 in Florida.

Having a deep roster has long been part of the strategy for Toscani.

"I buy a lot of babies, so a lot of them become racehorses," he said. "Some of them I decide to keep, some of them I decide to sell. You end up with quite a few horses when you keep some and buy babies every year.

"As long as they're making a little bit of money, I'm happy with that."

Razzin Jazz and Betthebeachyankee were two, in particular, that more than delivered on their quotas this past season at Grand River.

The former, a daughter of Racing Hill—Jazz Sensation, was nearly perfect at the Elora, ON oval, recording trips to the winner's circle in five of six starts (5-1-0) for $22,625 in winnings.

Razzin Jazz's Grand River racing mate, Betthebeachyankee, scored in three of his starts at the recently expanded five-eighths-mile oval (3-0-1), banking $15,506 along the way.

The 4-year-old out of Betting Line—A Beach Cowgirl turned in his finest performance of the meet in his fifth and final outing on Sept. 27.

Working alongside driver Austin Sorrie, Betthebeachyankee led every step of the way to cross the finish line in 1:50.3 as the second-longest shot on the board (11-1; paid $25.40).

"He surprised me," said Toscani in praise of his determined pacer. "But most of my horses race pretty well there. They like the track."

The veteran horseman has crossed paths with several standout standardbreds, both past and present, over his nearly four decades in the business.

“ I tried racing in Toronto for about six months a few years ago and I'd be racing 15 horses six or seven nights a week; you don't have much of a life outside racing. For that reason, I'm drawn to Rideau [Carleton Raceway]. Two days a week and my week is done.”

~ Stephane Pouliot

“It’s nice to be the leading owner. I do run a lot of horses, but Grand River’s a fun place to race. It’s a good track.”

~ Gino Toscani

Cam Terrific, who Toscani conditioned and piloted throughout the 1990s, amassed a 22-24-24 line across 167 lifetime starts for $592,594.

In more recent years, and still to this day, 7-year-old pacer Whichwaytothebeach has been a consistent source of success for Toscani.

The son of the legendary Somebeachsomewhere has proven well worthy of his regal lineage, banking nearly $1 million across 101 contests (25-16-12; $964,373).

Toscani has yet to occupy the race bike behind Whichwaytothebeach, but as he pointed out, there’s been no reason to deviate from the plan.

“I always like to drive some of my own,” he said. “But I always say, ‘if somebody can do better, I still benefit.’”

Before we close the curtain on our month-long tour of the Ontario B-track circuit, we have one more destination to visit.

Rideau Carleton Raceway concluded its 2024 meet on Dec. 15 after racing two nights per week for 10 months.

At the final bell, it was 9096 9205 Quebec Inc. walking tall as the five-eighths-mile course’s leading owner with 30 wins.

Overall, the outfit reeled in 34 seconds, 37 thirds, and $219,962.

The man behind the numerals, driver/trainer/owner Stephane Pouliot, is proud of what his modest stable of pacers and trotters were able to accomplish.

“For 15 or 16 horses, I’m definitely happy with the wins and money I collected at Rideau,” Pouliot said.

Rooted in Gloucester, ON, the very township where Rideau resides, Pouliot said he enjoys spending much of his calendar year racing at 4837 Albion Road.

“I like to race at Rideau because it’s not a huge track,” he said. “I can go for the summer and race all my horses over two days. After the week, you have time to enjoy other hobbies and parts of your life.”

That dynamic, he added, better aligns with his goals of a work-life balance.

“I tried racing in Toronto for about six months a few years ago and I’d be racing 15 horses six or seven nights a week; you don’t have much of a life outside racing,” said Pouliot, adding with a laugh, “For that reason, I’m drawn to Rideau. Two days a week and my week is done.”

The accomplished horseman put forth a strong 2024 campaign, netting a combined 92-113-121 record between 794 driving and training starts for $689,877.

A key figure throughout Pouliot’s success was 9-year-old pacer Sunny Bo.

Claimed six different times during his racing career, the resilient son of Sunshine Beach—O See My Bo made 22 starts at Rideau last season, crossing the finish line first in exactly half (11).

With four more seconds and a third on his Rideau resume, Sunny Bo cemented himself as the MVP of Pouliot’s close-knit ensemble.

“He’s an older, classy horse,” Pouliot said. “He has a big heart, and he loves to race. He’s good for me.”

Swayzee (Cameron Hart, blue and yellow colors) squeezes through in deep stretch to win the Hunter Cup on Feb. 1 at Melton Park.

THE DOWN UNDER DIARY

Swayzee got the better of little brother Leap To Fame in Hunter Cup

The powerhouse siblings probably won't clash again until July's Inter Dominion.

by Adam Hamilton

Leap To Fame and Swayzee are charging towards more Down Under history.

The pair, who just happen to be siblings, have dominated our biggest races for the past 18 months and look set to continue to do so after headlining an epic Hunter Cup at Melton last Saturday night.

This time it was 7-year-old Swayzee, who upstaged his 6-year-old half-brother Leap To Fame by a head as they obliterated the track record with an unthinkable 1:51.9 mile rate – taking 1.3 off the mark set by Tiger Tara in 2019.

It was a race for the ages and one of the greatest modern-day chapters of the iconic Hunter Cup, Australia's greatest staying race.

Swayzee's win took his career earnings to $1,988,393.

He should smash through the $2 million barrier when he next steps out – and won't have Leap To Fame to contend with – in a $60,000 race at Albury in country New South Wales next Friday (Feb. 14).

That will make Art Major mare Lettucereason, the dam of both Swayzee and Leap To Fame, the only Down Under mare to have produced two pacers to win over $2 million.

Leap To Fame did it long ago. He's banked $3,315,535.

Incredibly yet frustratingly for the Kahlefeldt family who own her, Lettucereason, who was handy on the track with 17 wins and $180,073, has only had three foals to race. The other was no slouch either. Maximus Red won 24 races and $448,117.

In brighter news, Lettucereason has a 2-year-old filly this season by American Ideal called Senses and recently foaled a filly full-sister to Leap To Fame (by Bettors Delight). Swayzee is by Rock N Roll Heaven.

In any normal era, Swayzee would be a champion.

Not only has he won two New Zealand Cups – the only Aussie pacer to do so – but he's also bagged a Hunter Cup, Victoria Cup and Blacks A Fake. He beat Leap To Fame in two of those.

If Leap To Fame wasn't here, minor placings for Swayzee in another Blacks A Fake (last year) and the 2023 Inter Dominion final would have been wins as well.

As great as Swayzee has been in his own right and as competitive as he has been against his younger brother, last Saturday's Hunter Cup was the win he needed.

In the words of his top young driver Cam Hart: "This is tops. This is my biggest win yet."

It was Swayzee's biggest win, too. Sure, those two NZ Cups were phenomenal, but any race in this part of the world without Leap To Fame isn't the ultimate test.

This Hunter Cup had it all. It was the strongest open-class race Down Under has seen for at least a decade.

Not only was it the fifth clash of Swayzee and Leap To Fame, but the star Kiwis were back in Australia, too, headed by Republican Party. Dont Stop Dreaming and Tact McLeod were there, too.

Throw in the newly crowned and emerging Inter Dominion winner, Don Hugo, and the Hunter Cup oozed depth like the golden days.

The pre-race hype was huge and, crucially, the race delivered.

Leap To Fame drew the worst possible barrier (inside the back row, gate eight), while Swayzee also had the back row but a huge change of pushing through, settling in front of Leap To Fame and then charging around to take the lead.

That's exactly what happened.

Trainer/driver Grant Dixon was able to quickly get away from the inside on Leap To Fame, but then left with no option to move around midrace and sit outside Swayzee after he had taken the lead from Tact McLeod.

In the pre-race words of Hart on Swayzee: "I can't beat Leap To Fame for speed, I have to make it a grueling staying test and try to get him chasing hard and outside his comfort zone."

That's exactly what he did.

Hart "put the handlebars down" and ran times in front we've not seen before in such a staying race.

Swayzee scorched through a :56.3 middle half (1,600-800 meters), while Leap To Fame was making ground three-wide and then sitting outside him.

Hart upped the tempo again with a :27 flat split from the 800-400 meters.

Still, it looked like Leap To Fame was travelling better on the home bend, while Swayzee had been under hard driving from the 550 meters.

"I know it looked that way, but I knew it was Swayzee and he wouldn't stop," Dixon said on Leap To Fame. "He just keeps going the same speed. He wasn't going to come back to us, we had to get past him and that's so hard to do."

Swayzee held on to win by a head and beat Leap To Fame for the first time since they first clashed back in July 2023.

Kiwi pair Republican Party and Tact McLeod were very close-up in third and fourth, respectively, underlining their improvement.

It was a race which captivated everyone, even a large number of thoroughbred folks, who have taken much less interest in harness racing over the past decade or so.

Everyone asked, "When will we see them [Leap To Fame and Swayzee] clash again?"

Sadly, we will have to wait a while as they head in different directions in the coming months.

Swayzee is back at Jason Grimson's Menangle stables preparing for the fourth leg of the NSW Carnival of Cups series at Albury on Feb. 14. If he can win there and again at Penrith on March 14, he will bank a $1 million bonus.

Grimson will bypass the $1 million Miracle Mile on March 8 because Swayzee's isn't suited to sprint racing.

His next "major" target is the $1.25 million Group 1 Nullarbor at Perth's Gloucester Park on April 25.

Leap To Fame has stayed in Victoria. He will be in tomorrow (Feb. 8) night's $100,000 Group 2 Cranbourne Cup, then head to the $100,000 Newcastle Mile on Feb. 21 before the Miracle Mile.

Instead of the Perth slot race, Leap To Fame is crossing the ditch to race in New Zealand for the first time in the $1 million Race by Betcha at Cambridge on April 4.

So, fans will almost certainly have to wait for the enhanced Brisbane Inter Dominion series at Albion Park in July for the big bulls to meet again.

It's quite fitting given it's been the scene of four of their five clashes so far.

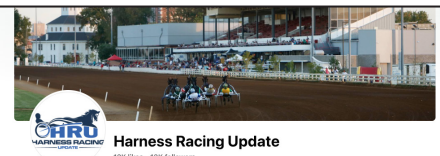

Fans are already counting down the days.

HRU Foal Of The Week

Cameo Hills welcomes its first foal of 2025, a Walner colt out of Delilah Hanover

by Kathy Jones

This Walner colt out of Delilah Hanover from the Donato Hanover family is the first foal born at Cameo Hills Farm in New York in 2025. The colt, which arrived on Jan. 29, is the second foal out of Delilah Hanover and he is a full-brother to filly Day One Dandy, who is a yearling this year. Delilah Hanover made over $300,000 on the track and had a mark of 1:54.2f. Delilah Hanover, a daughter of Muscle Hill out of Danielle Hanover, is a half-sister to Chapter Seven mare Darlene Hanover (a winner of $591,250). Danielle Hanover is a Cantab Hall sister to Andover Hall-sired 2007 Horse of the Year Donato Hanover, who earned just shy of $3 million on the track.

New look for Kindergarten in 2025

The Kindergarten Series has a fresh look for 2025.

Originally conceived to assure races for 2-year-olds that are not top horses or getting started a bit later than others, the purse for the finals had risen to the point that the quality of the horses competing gradually eclipsed that level.

Also, The Meadowlands continuing to race live after the Hambletonian through mid-September in 2025 provided options to stretch the legs over a longer period.

The 2025 finals have been set at $125,000 Guaranteed, which means they will be raced for exactly that amount. The possibility for a consolation still exists.

The revenue from payments that had been included in the finals purse has been redistributed over the legs thus the purse for each has been increased to $25,000. The five legs will be spread over four months with the finals on Nov. 1.

These revisions should assure nominators races for 2-year-olds that need starts be it getting started, between stakes, or to try and level up to the various Grand Circuit stakes, without having to be concerned about finding a spot or facing older horses.

This schedule also blends nicely with the New Jersey Sire Stakes (NJSS) and New Jersey State Development Fund (NJSDF) stakes that have previously been raced at Freehold to provide a stakes opportunity virtually every week from July 4 through Nov. 22 (aside from the six weeks thoroughbred racing takes over) for those that stay home and race.

All stakes information on the 2025 season at The Meadowlands is available on the website.

The Kindergarten schedule is provided here:

Kindergarten Classic at The Meadowlands

OSS Grassroots purses to increase 24 per cent in 2025

To kick off its second half century, the Ontario Sires Stakes program will expand to six Grassroots Series opportunities in 2025 with purses for each division increasing to $25,000.

Fueled through a partnership with the Central Ontario Standardbred Association (COSA) and Woodbine Mohawk Park, the change will see overall purses at the Grassroots level increase by 24 per cent over the 2024 season.

“We heard the feedback from owners and trainers that purses needed to be higher in the Grassroots,” said Bill O'Donnell, chair of Ontario Racing's Standardbred Improvement Program (SIP) committee and president of COSA. “And we hope the additional leg will have a positive impact on the horse population through the fall.”

The six Grassroots Series opportunities will be contested in five legs, with one leg having two events numbered “A” and “B.” The five legs will be followed by $25,000 Grassroots consolations, on Thursday (Sept. 25) for the 2-year-olds and Friday (Sept. 26) for the 3-year-olds, and $75,000 Grassroots Championships, on Saturday (Sept. 27), all at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

As in the 2024 season, each Grassroots champion will be able to enter and draw into its respective Gold Series Super Final if it does not fill with Gold Series point earners.

In 2025 the five Gold Series Legs will be worth $180,000 divided by the number of divisions, or $140,000 for a single division, followed by $300,000 Super Finals at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Friday (Oct. 10) for the 2-year-olds and Saturday (Oct. 11) for the 3-year-olds. The Gold Series Mid-Season consolation and finals will not return in 2025.

The Prospect Series will once again consist of eight opportunities contested in five legs, with divisions going for a purse of $8,000. The Prospect Series finals will be increased to $20,000 and go postward Friday (Oct. 3) for 3-year-olds and Tuesday (Oct. 7) for 2-year-olds, both at The Raceway at Western Fair District.

“Creating the budget was challenging again this year,” said O’Donnell. “Wagering by Ontarians on horse racing provides about 60 per cent of the funding for the OSS and it has decreased by almost $100 million over the last two years.”

Fewer Grassroots Series divisions and Gold Series Mid-Season consolations than budgeted, along with an increasing number of single division Gold Series legs, saw the OSS program finish under budget in 2024, which helped support the expansion of the 2025 Grassroots program. COSA and Woodbine Mohawk Park also committed to funding half of the purse for the additional Grassroots Series opportunities.

“A strong OSS program is important for racing in Ontario,” said O’Donnell. “We are all committed to making sure it continues to be one of the best sires stakes programs around.”

What’s been happening at The Big M lately? Everything!

Much like Forrest Gump’s box of chocolates, lately at The Meadowlands, you never know what you’re going to get.

Longshots were the rule two weeks ago after six horses paid $50 or more over a 28-race span, and while racing last Friday (Jan. 31) did see three horses win at odds of 12-1 or more, what it didn’t see was a single winning favorite on the 14-race program.

Long-range record keeping on this occurrence is not available, but what has been confirmed is that at least one favorite did win on every completed card during 2022, 2023 and 2024.

This happened 13 days after the first triple dead heat for win in Meadowlands history.

“We’ve seen our share of out of the ordinary things of late,” said Big M chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir. “And our fans have been enjoying every minute of it. While our track is known for favorites not winning as often as most – if not all – harness tracks, for us to go an entire night without one is almost unimaginable.”

When there are few, or, in this case, no winning favorites, there are either big payoffs or carryovers on the track’s popular multi-leg wagers, and that’s exactly how things played out Friday.

After a 20-cent Pick-5 payoff of $4,092.68, the Early and Late 50-cent Pick-4s returned $551.75 and $989.55, respectively.

The 20-cent Pick-6 was almost hit, as heading into the payoff leg (race 13), there were two tickets alive, both with 6-5 favorite Miss Dottie Mae. But she went parked the opening half, which took enough out of her to be gunned down by 5-1 fourth choice Take Your Pick at the finish.

Winner’s odds for the sequence were 7-2, 12-1, 2-1, 9-1, 2-1 and 5-1, creating a carryover of $21,413.55. Those with five correct selections cashed in for $188.92.

The carryover led to bettors pouring $107,130 of “new money” into the pool Saturday (Feb. 1) for a grand total of $128,543. Winner’s odds for that sequence were a popular 9-2, 1-9, 7-5, 3-1, 4-5 and 6-5. The payoff was reduced to $126.96 after four horses ended up scratching out of the payoff leg.

Just one week earlier, a carryover of $28,744 led to a gigantic final pool of $212,687 in the Pick-5.

Chalk players got a little money back on Saturday when five public choices clicked, but eight of the other nine races were won at odds of no less than 2-1 and no more than 9-2, a very good zone for players. There was one longshot, Dance Partner in the fifth, who returned $70.60 to win.

WINNERS, WINNERS EVERYWHERE: After that tough Friday night card, all three Big M TV handicappers had a big Saturday night.

Dave Little led the way, selecting five winners on top, highlighted by Curbside Pickup, who returned $11 in the eighth race. Little also tabbed the first race Exacta ($75) and Trifecta ($256.60) as well as the Early Daily Double ($35.80).

But he wasn’t done yet.

After giving out the cold Exacta ($27.40) in the 11th, Little then treated his followers to a 40-cent ticket on the 20-cent Pick-6, good for $253.92 after an investment of $64.80 and finished the night off with a $2 ticket on the 50-cent Late Pick-4 that paid $21.25 (a return of $85 for a $36 investment).

Ken Warkentin and Jessica Otten each had six winners.

Warkentin’s highlight was Bonaparte ($14) in the fifth race, and he also tabbed the fourth- ($101), fifth- ($82) and 12th- ($19.40) race Trifectas.

Otten tabbed a pair of 9-2 shots – Revolver N ($11.40) in the seventh and Curbside Pickup – as well as giving her faithful the $47.80 Exacta in the eighth race and the Late Pick-4.

SATURDAYS WITH BARTLETT: Thus far in 2025, there have been five Saturday night programs at The Meadowlands, and one driver has stood far in front of the rest on that night.

Jason Bartlett, the 13-time leading driver at Yonkers Raceway, has won six, five, one, three and three races, respectively, on Saturday nights at The Big M, accounting for 18 of his track-leading 21 victories.

Recently, Bartlett, 43, became just the 14th driver in harness racing history to reach the 11,000-win plateau.

CHECK OUT THE SHOW: On live race nights, check out the live “Racing from The Meadowlands” pregame show at 5:45 p.m. when track announcer Warkentin opens up the mic with a scene set and program changes before the team of Otten and Little take over from the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set with news, notes, selections and a look at the night’s featured races.

Joe Romanelli will handle interviews from the back paddock while Andrew “Shades” Demsky will provide commentary and selections on the FanDuel Television feed.

On Saturday night, catch Otten and her guest, Brett Beckwith, the 2024 Dan Patch Rising Star of the Year, on the next installment of “In the Sulky.” It takes place at approximately 5:50 p.m.

THE BILL OF FARE: Every night, The Meadowlands offers a marvelous menu of popular wagers that offer a low 15 per cent takeout.

They are:

- 20-cent Pick-5: Race 1-5
- 20-cent Survivor Pick-7: Races 3-9 (mandatory payout nightly)
- 50-cent Pick-4: Races 6-9 ($50,000 guaranteed pool)
- 20-cent Pick-6: Races 8-13
- 50-cent Pick 4: Races 10-13 ($50,000 guaranteed pool)
- 10-cent Non-jackpot Pentafecta (Hi-5): Race 14

Antognoni S scores at Big M

Giancarlo Antognoni is regarded as one of the best Italian soccer players of all time. While it’s a stretch to consider Antognoni S as one of the best trotters ever, the Ron Burke trainee took another step toward being a very good one after taking the Saturday (Feb. 1) night co-feature at The Meadowlands, a $17,500 high-end conditioned trot.

Since his arrival in America from Sweden two weeks ago, he has won both of his starts at the mile oval with the ease of a penalty kick with no goalkeeper.

Sent to the gate as the 1-9 favorite, Antognoni S had a bit of trouble heading to the quarter, but driver Dave Miller kept things together after the 5-year-old gelded son of Father Patrick—Bouncing Bax went parked around the first turn before briefly finding a 4-hole tuck.

“I was starting to get a little concerned [in the early going],” said Miller. “I was just kind of floating. It wasn’t looking good in the first turn, so I just went ahead [to the lead]. He was strong right to the wire.”

Out just after the three-eighths, Antognoni S cleared the top before the five-eighths with an authoritative brush past Little Expensive, who had the point at the half in :57.1.

Antognoni S had no problems from there, sailing past three-quarters in 1:24.2 before reporting home an easy 5½-length winner in 1:53.2. Winter Soldier was second with Little Expensive third.

“He felt pretty comfortable [in the stretch],” said Miller. “He was doing that pretty much on his own. He felt good the whole way.”

Owned by Burke Racing Stable, Weaver Brusceci, FAC Racing and Yannick Gingras, Antognoni S returned $2.20 to his backers. He’s now won eight of 22 lifetime starts.

Gingras, who drove Antognoni S in his U.S. debut last week, is high on his horse.

“We bought him hoping he would be a nice horse and maybe a high-level trotter on the smaller tracks,” Gingras said. “So far, we like him and are happy with what he’s done so far.”

‘CHASE’ IMPRESSES: Off consecutive third-place finishes in races won by For Once Inmy Life and Brue Hanover, respectively, Chase H Hanover got to be the bully of the playground in the co-featured $17,500 high-end conditioned pace.

Driver Jordan Stratton fired away from post 9 and had his horse on the lead at every call on the way to a 1:50.2 win by 1¼ lengths over the pocket-sitting Lyons Steel. Mad Max Hanover was third.

The race set up as a matchup between “Chase” and 2-1 second choice – and eventual fourth-place finisher – Sherlock N, who pressed the winner around the far turn.

"I was a little nervous because I know how good that horse is," said Stratton. "But when I called on my horse, he was all business.

"[Lyons Steel was right behind me] and felt like he had a lot of pace, but I shut him off [in deep stretch]."

Chase H Hanover, a 7-year-old gelded son of Captaintreacherous—Calgary Hanover who is trained by Jordan's brother, Cory, returned $4.80 as the 7-5 favorite. The earner of over $1 million has won 30 of 101 lifetime starts for owners El Dorado Stables and Robert M. Weinstein.

A LITTLE MORE: A carryover of $21,413 led to players putting $107,130 of "new money" into the 20-cent Pick-6 pool. After a sequence that saw winner's odds of 9-2, 1-9, 7-5, 3-1, 4-5 and 6-5, winning tickets were exchanged for $126.96... Jason Bartlett led the driver colony with three victories... Cory Stratton, Joe Bongiorno and Bill Mac Kenzie topped the trainers with a pair of winners each... All-source handle on the 14-race card was $3,611,100, the biggest night of business thus far this year at The Big M.

2025 Stakes Guide is online

The 2025 Stakes Guide, the industry's most comprehensive collection of race conditions, payment schedules and race schedules, is available online at <http://horsemen.ustrotting.com/stakes/>.

There are 207 sets of conditions posted covering the majority of stakes and early and late closers in North America, with events held in most jurisdictions in the U.S. plus multiple Canadian provinces included. Payments are due starting Feb. 15 for many 3-year-old and some 2-year-old races.

Printed copies of both the Conditions Guide and Event Guide are still available and can be purchased through a USTA MyAccount (available to both members and non-members); once logged in select "Click here to view products available from the USTA Store." Orders can also be placed by calling Member Services Monday-Friday from 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. at 877-800-USTA. The cost to purchase a printed edition of the Conditions Guide is $20, while the Event Guide is $10; prices include standard shipping within the U.S.

The Stakes Calendar, which is scheduled to go to print in mid-February with an in-hand date before March 1, is still available for pre-order. The large format 11×14 calendar runs from March 2025-February 2026 and includes race dates, sale dates, important USTA deadlines and office closed dates. The price for a Stakes Calendar is also $10.
