Meadowlands "Money Man" Stu Berman retiring

*After over 47 years on the job,
Saturday is the last day at work for
The Big M's director of mutuels.*

by Debbie Little

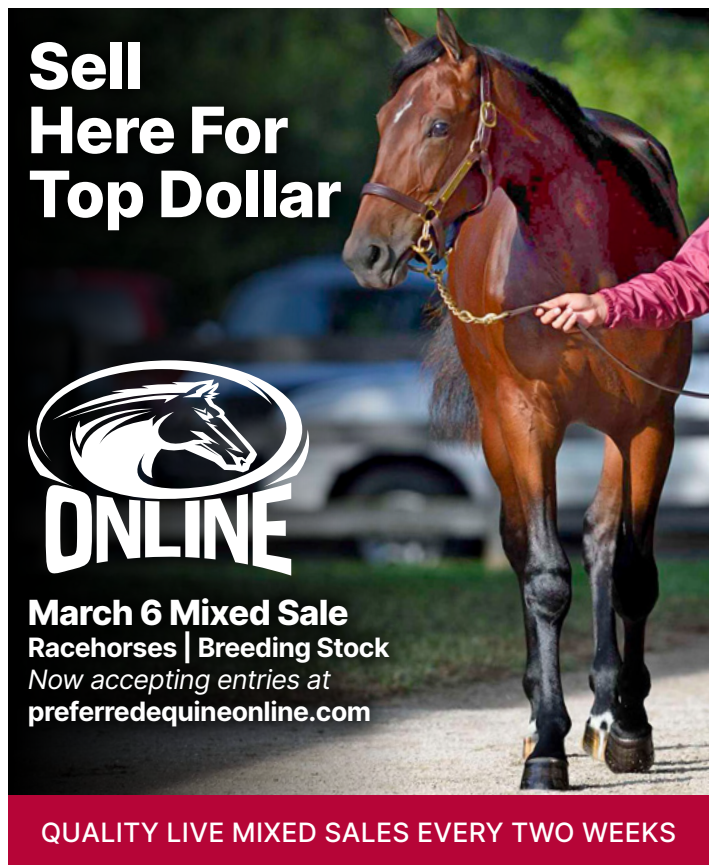

No insult meant to driver Scott Zeron, but director of mutuels Stu Berman is the true "Money Man" of The Meadowlands.

Berman, 70, is calling it a career on Saturday (Feb. 25) after over 47 years at The Big M, which started on opening day, Sept. 1, 1976.

"I was a $5 cashier [on opening day] and the place was wild," Berman said. "The second night, they put me in the money room because it was just crazy there."

Berman, who grew up in Vineland in southern New Jersey, had previously worked at Atlantic City Racecourse and Garden State Park before venturing north on the New Jersey Turnpike for the opening of The Meadowlands.

In retirement, Berman plans to spend more time with his wife Carole and their family.

“When we came over here [to the new building in November 2013], I was in the office with Bob Halpin [former director of mutuels] and when Bob was going to retire in 2014, he recommended me for the job.

“I have to thank Jason [Settlemoir] and Mr. Gural and Marianne [Rotella] for putting me in this position. I appreciate it.”

Berman has a lot on his plate on a nightly basis and is in constant contact with the judges, tote, race secretary Scott Warren and post-time coordinator, Michael Antoniadis.

“The life of a mutuel manager is very hectic after a race is over because you don’t want to make any mistakes,” Antoniadis said. “Stu has never made a mistake, but I’ve been there when [other tracks] have put up the wrong order. That’s happened many times in my life. It’s never happened [at The Meadowlands], because he’s thorough.”

Within a week, Berman was in the calculator room, handling 500 tellers and verifying the money room every night to the dollar.

Although his job is much easier to do now with computers, Berman has a soft spot for those early days.

“This was before simulcasting and the casinos,” Berman said. “We were the only game in town. Everybody wanted to bet The Meadowlands.

“Back in the day people just wanted to bet. There was always 20 people in line for every race.”

The first casino in New Jersey, Resorts International, opened on May 26, 1978.

“I had a $20 window that was busy every night,” Berman said. “Where my window was situated, it was where the horsemen would come in and make their bets. The owners used to take me out to the winner’s circle when their horses won. I’ve got a lot of [winner’s circle] pictures.

In those early days, Berman also worked the $50 or $100 windows and met his fair share of celebrities. Steffi Graf, Lou Piniella, Mickey Rivers, Pete Rose, George Steinbrenner, Donald Trump and Roy White, to name just a few.

“I was always nice to everybody,” Berman said. “Lou Piniella didn’t really want to talk, he just wanted to bet.

“Don Zimmer was the best. He would always have two World Series rings on, Yankees’ 1998 and 2000. He’d always say which one do you like better? And I’m a Phillies fan. He was the nicest guy you’d ever want to meet.”

Berman also met and became friends with Phillies’ pitcher Dan Plesac. The two still go to games together.

Likening himself to a Meadowlands’ version of a Swiss army knife, Berman said he can perform many different jobs when needed.

And to see the way The Meadowlands is succeeding now – 12 years after it almost closed – is a testament to a lot of people and he’s one of them. Take it from somebody that’s been around mutuels for his whole life, this is one special guy. ”*

~ Michael Antoniadès on Stu Berman

One of the things that Berman likes most about his job is interacting with the fans, which he gets to do during afternoon simulcasting.

And it’s those bettors that he was thinking of when the COVID-19 pandemic shutdown The Meadowlands for about three months.

“When we closed March 16 of 2020, any ticket from September of 2019 that wasn’t cashed, the people would have lost their money,” Berman said. “I didn’t want to see people lose their money because of COVID-19.”

Knowing that the current rules stated that you only have six months to cash in your ticket, Berman spoke with New Jersey assemblyman Ron Dancer to get the six months extended to a year.

“I wrote the thing and sent it to him and they took care of it and put it through and Gov. Murphy signed it,” Berman said. “I always thought about the bettors. What would they do in this case? They had no recourse. They had to get paid.”

“In my opinion, that’s the best thing I ever did. I was helping the bettors. That’s who I care about.”

In his retirement, Berman plans to spend more time with his wife of 43 years, Carole, his two sons and daughters-in-law and three precious grandchildren.

“I’ve already been told when I come back from my vacation, I’ll be taking my grandsons and granddaughter to school,” Berman said.

According to Antoniadès, there has been and is greatness at The Meadowlands – Dave Brower, Ed Gorman, Dave Little, Sam McKee, Ken Warkentin – and Berman should be included.

“This guy probably belongs in that little circle of people, but he is never seen,” Antoniadès said. “But he’s as important as anybody.”

“Without a good mutuel manager, none of this succeeds the way it’s supposed to. He doesn’t perform in the public eye but he’s essential and he’s legendary. And I’m not just saying it because he’s going. That guy is a pivotal part of The Meadowlands.”

Antoniades knows that since Berman is a huge Eagles’ fan that he’s still in mourning over the loss in the Super Bowl a couple of weeks ago, which Berman attended in Glendale, AZ.

“How legendary is he?” Antoniadès said. “Fox wouldn’t even start the Super Bowl on time because he was there. They dragged seven.”

“I could spout superlatives for an hour, but I think the general feeling is you sit back and appreciate a person that gave his life to The Meadowlands and was a pivotal part. And to see the way The Meadowlands is succeeding now – 12 years after it almost closed – is a testament to a lot of people and he’s one of them. ## Judges decide winner of Criterium des Jeunes

by Thomas Hedlund

Sunday's (Feb. 19) race card at Vincennes, Paris, contained the first big group-race for 3-year-old trotters and the $215,000 Criterium des Jeunes became a sparkling show where the judges at Vincennes had to work hard before the result was announced.

Björn Goop replaced injured Eric Raffin behind the Tomas Malmqvist-trained Kamehameha, who has been one of the French K-crop's best horses so far and Goop wasn't shy when he immediately sent Kamehameha to the front in the 2,700-meter event.

The race favorite, the Philippe Allaire-trained Koctel du Dain (Boccador de Simm) connected on the leader's outside, a quarter of a mile into the race and the story of the Criterium des Jeunes would be about these two horses.

Kamehameha and Koctel du Dain fought side by side in the stretch and for a while, the outside favorite got the advantage in the race. But Goop succeeded in his attempt to find power and moral in Kamehameha and the duo came back strongly on the inside, but the comeback was not for free. On two occasions the leader touched Koctel du Dain's left wheel and when the horses hit the wire, it was tight. Kamehameha was the winner of the race at first glance, but the judges had to look at the stretch run several times and for almost 15 minutes, before the result was announced.

The interference made in the stretch, in addition to the tight ending of the race affected the judges' decision and they changed the order of finish for the two horses. Koctel du Dain claimed the trophy, while Kamehameha had to settle for the runner up spot after the official result was announced at Vincennes.

Two top trotters battled and the drama surrounding the race was certainly liked by the audience, but it must have been a hard punch for the people surrounding Kamehameha, obviously.

Koctel du Dain claimed the title in the Criterium des Jeunes in a new stakes record 1:57.2 (mile rate) over 1.6 miles and

FINNISH TRIUMPH IN WINTER TROT IN SWEDEN

Bergsåker racetrack played host to the $110,000 Bergsåker Winter Trot on Saturday (Feb. 18) afternoon. The open event for older trotters was contested over 2,640 meters. When the race was over, a Finnish trotter entered the winner's circle.

Mika Forss drove Hannu Korpi's Hierro Boko (From Above). Forss aimed for the front position immediately as the car left the field of 12 horses.

Hierro Boko was pretty much left alone on the lead, while more merited trotters kind of waited for each other in the back of the field. Hierro Boko sprinted to a safe win in a mile rate of 1:58.4 over 1.6 miles and even if the race was held over 2,640 meters, the feeling is that Hierro Boko more than likely is a mile trotter.

Korpi will aim for the Seinäjoki Race in Finland during the spring and if everything goes well, Finland might have a horse for the really big races in Europe during the season.

TIME FOR BIG BATTLE OVER 4,000 METERS

Vincennes' winter meeting is getting close to an end, but before the spring begins in Paris, the third and last Grand Prix race will be held. The $420,000 Prix de Paris, over 4,150 meters, is traditionally the last Grand Prix race during the meeting and it seems like this year's edition can be something really special. Both Prix d'Amérique winner Hooker Berry and Prix de France winner Ampia Mede SM are in the list of horses entering the race.

The definitive entries list is set Thursday (Feb. 23), after this text was written, so there might be some changes regarding horses willing to race four kilometers on Sunday (Feb. 26).

For now, these trotters are on the list of contenders:

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Things going swimmingly at Saratoga for trainer/owner Meg Reynolds

by Chris Lomon

Trainer/owner Meg Reynolds certainly felt the love at Saratoga Raceway this Valentine's Day.

It was only fitting that the neck victory in the fourth race at the half-mile New York oval came on the hooves of 9-year-old Ocean Colony.

The gelding, who has paced 145 career miles, rallied for the win as the even-money choice, coming home in :29.3.

"Right now, the biggest highlight is this horse, who I own myself," Reynolds said. "I had a chance to claim this horse, Ocean Colony, two years ago at The Meadowlands. He's a classy, classy horse. He has almost $500,000 on his card. He's raced in all of the big races, the North America Cup and Breeders Crown. He's just one of those horses you dream of training. He's not the horse that he once was, but he loves his job and he's done really well for me. I claimed him with a partner for $10,000 in the winter.

"We moved him up off the claimers at The Meadowlands. And then I moved him over to Plainridge. I took him over there, but I didn't want to put him in for a tag because I liked him. I raced him in the open and he missed winning by literally a nostril. It was so exciting because I've never won an open. It was huge. He just tries so hard."

And on occasion, he also outraces his odds.

Last November at Plainridge, Ocean Colony was saddled with the eight-hole, the tote board showing 99-1 odds beside his number. With Matthew Ahearn in the race bike, the bay rallied for a one-length score at 106-1.

"I almost fell over," Reynolds said.

Born in New York, the horsewoman has worked diligently to earn status as a rising star trainer.

Her longstanding association with horses, dates back to her early childhood years.

"My dad was in the business a while back," Reynolds said. "He mostly had county fair horses and one or two raceway horses.

He raced in Canada and around the fairs in northern New York. I was really young. They ended up selling their horses before I really got into it, so I showed riding horses for years."

It was through that channel that Reynolds got to know the standardbreds.

The more she learned about pacers and trotters, the more it piqued her curiosity.

"I showed the riding horses out of county fairs and racehorses were always around," Reynolds said. "I was always so interested in them. I actually got an opportunity to work for Harold Smith, a trainer in northern New York. He gave me a job cleaning stalls. His help quit and I started being a groom for him and it kind of took off from there. I worked for him for six years and ended up training with him. I moved on to other tracks and worked for other trainers."

Things would soon go swimmingly, pun intended, for Reynolds' racing career.

A pair of opportunities opened the door for a full-time gig.

"I worked for a trainer here at Saratoga and one winter, he left to go work in Florida and left the horses with me," Reynolds said. "I had one or two of my own and it was really nice to have that chance to do my own thing, to try things and run my own barn. I remember thinking then that this was what I wanted to do. So, I kept the horses for him over the winter and then I went out on my own.

"I started with about four or five racehorses and I was at a farm that had an equine swimming pool," Reynolds said. "I started doing some rehab work for trainers at Saratoga. I ended up with a full barn of 20 for a time, half rehabbing and half training. I ended up getting an opportunity from an owner who had horses on the list for swimming. I ended up training those horses and that led to me eventually buying some other horses and growing my barn. I've been on my own for about six years."

Although she's her own boss, Reynolds remains eager to learn from others at the racetrack and stable.

Each day presents the possibility of acquiring helpful advice, something she can introduce into her own approach.

"I still find you learn something new in this business every day," Reynolds said. "I still talk to other trainers, drivers and grooms to learn more. I respect what they all do. You can learn something from everybody. Horses are individuals and have likes, dislikes, and issues, so the best thing you can do is be open to learning."

Which is why Reynolds also keeps an open mind when it comes to her operation, which currently stands at nine horses.

One of those horses comes in the form of No Ordinary Man, a now 7-year-old son of Betterthancheddar.

The bay gelding has 19 wins and over $201,000 in lifetime earnings.

Despite his lackluster aesthetics at the 2015 Harrisburg Sale, No Ordinary Man caught Reynolds' eye.

"My owner sent me to Harrisburg with $70,000 and put a lot of trust in me," Reynolds said. "That was a huge thing for me. I researched and studied. He wasn't a nice-looking animal in the sale and even my owner was a little hesitant. But he looked like a horse that wanted to work for somebody and maybe he needed some individual attention. He got me my first Yonkers' win and had a four-race win streak and paced in 1:52 at Saratoga, so we've had some nice luck with him. I just bonded with him. It took me a long time to figure him out, but we had a great connection."

Reynolds is hoping to add a talented sort to her barn this year.

If that does come to fruition, it could provide her with one of the goals she has set out to achieve in 2023.

"I would like to maybe acquire a top-level pacer again that can do well," Reynolds said. "I'd love to win an open, that's been on the radar for a couple of years. Hopefully, we can get that done. I have nine in the barn right now. I'm hands-on, so nine or 10 would be the ideal number."

When she's not at the racetrack or with her horses, Reynolds appreciated any chance to spend time with her family.

Admittedly, it's not always easy to get away from the demands of her career.

"I like to spend time with my family," Reynolds said. "My family is three hours north of Saratoga, so it's tough. I don't take a lot of time from my barn, but when I do, I head north to be with my family. My sister and I recently caught a concert. I miss a lot of birthdays and other events, but they understand. I have a hard time leaving my barn, but that's not a complaint."

‘Vixen’ set to debut for new connections

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Ester Balenzano enjoyed great success with her homebred male trotter Melady's Monet, and now hopes to rekindle some of that magic with a recent acquisition, 4-year-old female trotter Perfect Vixen.

Melady's Monet retired at the age of 13 last August with 86 wins – which tied for the 11th most victories by a trotter in history – and $2.04 million in purses. Balenzano purchased Perfect Vixen a little more than a month later, following the then 3-year-old's win in the $50,000 New York Sire Stakes Excelsior Series “A” championship in her final start of the season.

Perfect Vixen hit the board in 16 of 18 races last year, winning 11. Overall, the daughter of Muscles Yankee–Foxy Zette, captured 12 of 26 starts and earned $119,267 for previous owners Edward Reich and Irwin Lampert and trainer Scott Mongeon.

Hermann Heitmann, who trained Melady's Monet over the course of the gelding's final four seasons, is training Perfect Vixen. The mare will debut for Balenzano and Heitmann in Friday's (Feb. 24) $12,000 preferred handicap at Freehold Raceway.

“It was a great opportunity to purchase Perfect Vixen at the end of her 3-year-old season because she is an extremely talented mare,” said Balenzano, who races as Melady Enterprises LLC. “I've discussed her future with Hermann and she will be brought along slowly with the hope that as she matures this year, we can race her in higher stakes next year.

“Hermann is an excellent conditioner and always puts the horse first, as do I and that is why I've always had a lot of success with him.”

Perfect Vixen has excelled on half-mile tracks during her career, picking up 11 wins and hitting the board a total of 16 times in 20 starts. She will race on the half-mile ovals at Freehold and Yonkers Raceway to begin this season and her schedule could include the John Brennan Trotting Series, which starts April 5 at Yonkers.

Her new connections are no strangers to success on half-mile tracks. Melady's Monet won 65 times on half-mile circuits, including 57 at Yonkers, which is the most triumphs for any horse there in at least 30 years.

“(Perfect Vixen) is made for a half-mile track with her size,” Heitmann said. “She's very good and she's got a good attitude. She likes to go. I don't have to do anything. I've got no complaints at all.”

Perfect Vixen, who qualified with a win in 1:58.4 at Freehold last week, will start Friday from post eight with Eric Abbatiello in the sulky. She is 8-1 on the morning line in the eight-horse field. Miss McKee, who was second in last week's preferred handicap, is the 7-2 favorite.

“It's tough to start right away from the eight hole, but what are you going to do,” Heitmann said. “We'll start her a couple times at Freehold, and then we'll see at Yonkers.

“She's only 4, and the 4-year-old year is always a tougher one. We'll see how she develops. We have to take one step at a time, but she is very nice so far.”

Racing begins at 12:30 p.m. (EST) at Freehold Raceway. For Friday's complete entries, click here.

On-air personality Chad Rozema leaving Woodbine for raceway manager role at Grand River Raceway

Woodbine Entertainment today announced that long-time on-air personality Chad Rozema will be leaving the organization to pursue a new opportunity.

Rozema originally joined Woodbine in 2007 as a commentator for HPItv before becoming a main stay host and analyst for Woodbine's standardbred simulcast coverage. He also served as a backup race caller and has contributed to Woodbine's thoroughbred and standardbred social content.

Notably, Rozema has been a trusted host and analyst for Woodbine's network coverage over the last decade-plus. Rozema contributed to Bet Night Live on The Score, Racing Night Live on TSN, and many of Woodbine's marquee events, including The Queen's Plate and Pepsi North America Cup.

"Chad has been an integral member of our Woodbine team, providing great enthusiasm and professionalism to our racing products and broadcasts," said Jim Lawson, CEO, Woodbine Entertainment. "We will miss having Chad on the Woodbine team, but we're excited to watch him excel in his new role. On behalf of Woodbine and our fans, I would like to thank Chad for his contributions and wish him the best of luck in his new endeavor."

Rozema has accepted a position as raceway manager at Grand River Raceway. His final broadcast will be in late March.

Woodbine wishes Rozema the best of luck in his new role.

Summary of USHWA national meetings

The United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA), celebrating its "Diamond Anniversary" 75th year, held its annual meetings this past Saturday and Sunday (Feb. 18 and 19) at the Rosen Shingle Creek Resort in Orlando, FL. The Dan Patch Awards banquet, presented by Caesars Entertainment, provided its usual fitting climax to USHWA's annual weekend gathering of its directors and membership; the honors accorded Bulldog Hanover and the other stars of the sport in 2022, human and equine, have already been written up and disseminated in the trade media.

Twenty-seven USHWA directors, including officers, past presidents / life members, and at-large / chapter directors came together Saturday afternoon to examine and plan a framework for the Association's operations. Extended presentations covered the sport's Hall Of Fame in Goshen NY, and how USHWA and the Hall would face the problem of the Communicators Hall Of Fame running out of exhibit space; the social media output of USHWA, which will be expanded and bring more focus to USHWA-related accomplishments and activities; and how the group can continue the momentum built by the record amount of sponsorship and dinner journal advertisement sales that allow USHWA to maintain a solid financial structure and thus present a first-class Dan Patch banquet every year.

The Directors also voted for Tim Bojarski, multitasking communicator for outlets in Ohio, Massachusetts, and his native New York, and the late Dave Brower, a Meadowlands mainstay and nationally-known broadcaster who tragically passed away last fall at age 53, to appear on the summer ballot for possible election to the Communicators Hall of Fame (there was a separate release on these choices sent out Saturday evening). The group also made updates and refinements into its operating by-laws and rules and regulations, often after spirited discussion and voting.

Some 45 members of the organization, including the directors, attended a Sunday morning meeting focusing on the general membership of the Association. The highlights of the major activities occurring during Saturday's gathering were recounted and were a topic of continued conversation and reports from all of the Committees that oversee major areas of USHWA activity and from the officers of the Association were delivered. Any questions the membership had on any aspect of USHWA were encouraged and answered.

Harness Racing Update on Facebook
/HARNESSRACINGUPDATE

The slate of officers from this past year were again voted a one-year term in their respective positions: Barry Lefkowitz as USHWA's president; Michael Carter as 1st vice president (Carter was an excused absence as he welcomed his daughter Anabelle Caroline into the world on Valentine's Day); Heather Vitale as 2nd vice president; Bill MacDonald as treasurer; and Jerry Connors as secretary. The immediately-previous president of USHWA, Kim Rinker, serves as the chair of the board of directors via by-law and also will remain an officer.

In a time of contraction in many areas of harness racing, USHWA actually added to its active membership during the 2022-2023 period, revealing the dedication of USHWA's members and the excellent coverage they provide of the best of racing, while also serving as an outreach/recruitment tool for bringing "fresh blood" to the sport. This core group, along with any recruits, will continue to allow USHWA to host its annual acclaimed awards banquets and continue to knowledgeably vote to recognize the best and brightest in harness racing, both human and equine.

Nikola Jokic and Tim Tetrick are two of a kind

A story of the friendship between top athletes Nikola Jokic and Tim Tetrick was featured in The Denver Post on Sunday (Feb. 19).

Writer Mark Singer chronicled the bond between the two men born out of a love of harness racing.

In the story, Tetrick explained how when he sees Jokic, he wants to talk to him about basketball, while Jokic only wants to talk about harness racing.

"He loves horses more than he does basketball," Tetrick said. "You can see his passion in his eyes every time he's gotten to go to the track with me or the farm. It's kinda like when I go to a game, or get to go down to the locker room with him, I've got stars in my eyes, and he's like, 'You're an idiot, this is boring. Let's go back to the track.'"

Big M website provides wealth of knowledge

If The Meadowlands website – playmeadowlands.com – doesn't provide absolutely everything a handicapper needs to pick winners at the mile oval, then it comes mighty close.

Players who go to the website can access huge amounts of pertinent information, beginning with the No. 1 thing a player needs: the program. Every race of every race card is available on the site. But many people are likely aware of that.

What they may not be aware of are some of the other things that are available.

How about comments and race reviews? These are compiled by Edison Hatter, the track's morning-line odds maker. In the comments/race reviews, Hatter offers his insights on every horse on the program, as well as offering selections on every race. It's a good idea to follow along, Hatter picked 10 winners on a single card late during 2022.

What many handicappers like best is checking out replays. The regular Meadowlands bettor is a shrewd player. Secrets are hard to come by at the mile oval, but if one regularly checks out race replays, they can find things, such as when horses go bad trips or when they are overloaded with pace but have no place to race in deep stretch and turn that information into a big score.

Entries, results, wagering formats, post position statistics. All of that is available by visiting the site. Not to mention the numbers that pertain to the drivers and trainers at the sport's top venue in the world.

The Meadowlands historically boasts the toughest driver colony in the sport with pilots from all over the globe making up the roster.

At the top of The Big M heap (from a gambler's perspective) during 2022 was none other than Dexter Dunn, the four-time defending Dan Patch Driver of the Year.

There are many numbers about the 33-year-old New Zealand native that impress, but none that impress more than his ROI (return on investment). A year ago, Dunn guided 117 winners from 613 drives at The Meadowlands. Incredibly, a win bet on every one of his starters resulted in a profit of 6 percent.

In terms of the Universal Driver Ratings System – a “batting average” based on on-the-board finishes – only two Big M pilots had UDRS that exceeded .300.

Dunn had a UDRS of .308, which was second best to Yannick Gingras, who had a UDRS of .326 while winning 136 races – tops at the track – during the year.

This year, the top nine in the UDRS standings at The Meadowlands reads like a who's who of the top drivers in the game. Those with at least 50 drives are: Gingras, .343; Scott Zeron, .284; Dunn, .281; Dave Miller, .259; Jordan Stratton, .235; Joe Bongiorno, .232; Jason Bartlett, .229; Andy McCarthy, .223; George Brennan, .211.

These are the win percentage leaders: Gingras, 22 percent; Bongiorno, 16; Stratton, 16; Zeron, 15; Bartlett, 14; Dunn, 14; Andy McCarthy, 13; Dave Miller, 12; Brennan, 11.

In terms of ROI, two drivers stand head and shoulders in front of the crowd, as Zeron's fans have collected a mind-boggling 37 percent profit with Brennan's cashing almost as impressively, at 36 percent.

BIG M TROPHY TAKERS: It was a good night for The Meadowlands at the 2022 Dan Patch Awards Banquet at the Rosen Shingle Creek Resort in Orlando, FL, on Sunday (Feb. 19) as Edison Hatter walked away with the Lew Barasch Breakthrough Award while longtime track announcer Ken Warkentin was honored with his election to the Communicators Hall of Fame at the Harness Racing Museum.

Warkentin will be formally inducted in July in ceremonies that will take place in Goshen, NY.

“All of us at The Meadowlands are so proud of Edison and Ken,” said track chief operating officer and general manager Jason Settlemoir. “And, of course, we are pleased that the United States Harness Writers saw fit to put our dear friend, the late Dave Brower, on the ballot for the Communicators Hall of Fame. Were he to get the needed support – and it's hard to imagine he won't – he'll be inducted in the summer of 2024.”

The evening ended with the coronation of Bulldog Hanover as Pacer of the Year and Horse of the Year. Was Bulldog special?

You make the call. In the history of the Horse of the Year balloting, which began in 1947, he is the only horse ever to win in a unanimous vote.

There were 136 ballots cast, and Bulldog was named on every one.

Among his many accomplishments, for many, the one that stands out for the Bulldog is his 1:45.4 mile at The Meadowlands in July, the fastest mile in the history of the sport.

“On behalf of The Meadowlands, we want to send a resounding thank you to Bulldog Hanover,” said Settlemoir. “We watched him make history all summer long at The Big M, setting the world record for the fastest mile ever in front of a national television audience. The spine-tingling moment the unprecedented 1:45.4 flashed on The Meadowlands timer will never be forgotten.”

WILD WAGERING: During a season that's seen remarkable handle numbers night in and night out, last weekends were the best of 2023.

On Friday (Feb. 17), a total of $3,400,130 was put in play, the most money wagered on any Friday this year.

Twenty-four hours later, action was again vigorous, as $3,802,550 was wagered on Saturday's (Feb. 18) program, giving The Big M a new 2023 high.

The two-day total of $7.2 million marked the second time this year that weekend (specifically Friday-Saturday, as there have been two Sunday cards) handle exceeded the $7-million plateau.

Also, the streak of $3-million handles is alive and well, as for the 13th time in as many attempts this year, Friday and Saturday night wagering went past the $3-million mark.

GET TWEETING: Everything Meadowlands is available by going on Twitter. You can check in with the Big M team for early changes, racing information and staff selections by going to @themeadowlands or #playbigm.

On race nights, stay in touch with Jessica Otten (@JessicaOtten1), Dave Little (@DaveLittleBigM), Ken Warkentin (@kenvoiceover) and Edison Hatter (@Edison_1999_).

THE RACES KEEP ON COMING: Live racing at The Meadowlands will take place every Friday and Saturday for the next 24 consecutive weeks. Post time is 6:20 p.m., except for the last day of the meeting, Hambletonian Day, Saturday, Aug. 5, when the first race heads to the gate at noon.

DUNN'S IN THE SULKY: On the Saturday (Feb. 25) pregame show, Dave Little's “In the Sully” guest will be Dexter Dunn.

They'll talk Bulldog Hanover, Bella Bellini and Driver of the Year immediately after track announcer Ken Warkentin gives the program changes. The pregame show kicks off at 5:45 p.m.

Over $3,000 in prizes will be up for grabs, and for those of you who want to enter, or just sample a bunch of delicious chili and salsa, go to <https://playmeadowlands.com/event/meadowlands-winter-chili-cook-off/>

GALLERY LAUNCH PARTY: On Wednesday, March 1, come out to The Meadowlands and check out the launch of the newly redesigned Gallery from 6-9 p.m.

The Gallery will have sports action on 16 LED TVs, not to mention a jumbo 220-inch screen.

Are you planning to arrive early? The first 100 guests receive a mini-basketball set.

The event is free but guests must RSVP prior to enter.
