Landlord and tenant team up to rule Dan Patch Awards

Plus, Tetrick reflects on 2012.

by Bob Heyden

HOLLYWOOD'S HITS

with BOB HEYDEN

Here's a different look at Dan Patch Awards night on Sunday (Feb. 23).

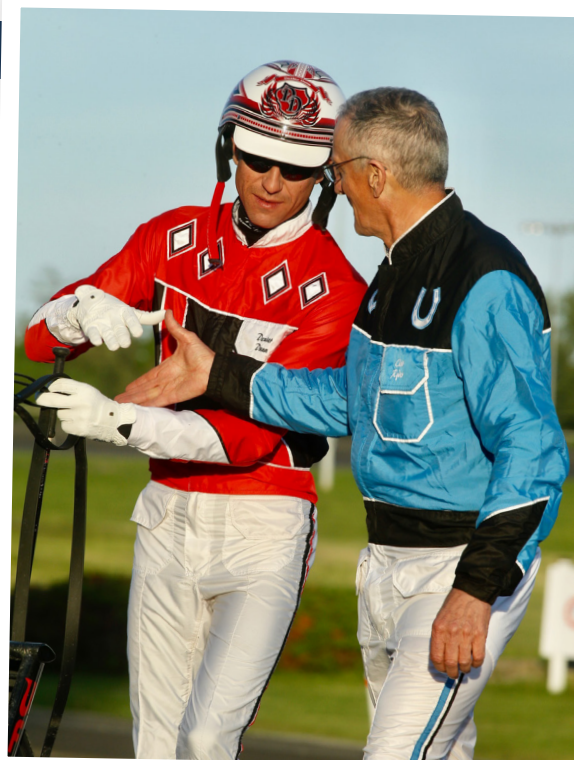

Chris Ryder is Hall of Fame (HOF) bound and also trains and co-owns the newest Horse of the Year (HOY), Twin B Joe Fresh. He's the landlord.

His tenant, the five-time Dan Patch Driver of the Year, Dexter Dunn. Don't tell me you forgot that Dunn stayed with the Ryders seven years back when he came over from New Zealand for good?

Dunn took home a record eight divisional titles in 2024 – Champagne Problems, Twin B Joe Fresh, Maryland, Jiggy Jog S, My Girl EJ, Winner's Bet, Abuckabett Hanover, and Miki And Minnie – one more than Tim Tetrick did in 2012. Dunn combined twice with Ryder also capturing the freshman filly pacer division with Miki And Minnie.

So, Ryder, the landlord, doubled up with the HOY and the HOF, while Dunn, the tenant, set a daily double mark of his own with a record eight divisional winners one of which he co-owns.

Dave Landry Driver Dexter Dunn (left) and trainer Chris Ryder have been teaming up since Dunn came to the U.S. This year, they partnered on the Horse of the Year, Twin B Joe Fresh.

“ Chapter Seven, what can I say? I was lucky enough to get the drive right after the Hambletonian of 2011 and for a year and a half or so won pretty much everything in sight. I’m not surprised at the sire he has become. ”

TETRICK ON 2012

Tim Tetrick remembers that magical 2012 season which resulted in a then record seven divisional titles and a 1-2 HOY finish.

Tetrick had a more than amazing season that year, and that is saying something for the man who set the earnings and the victories records in consecutive years (2007-08).

Here are his thoughts on that magnificent seven:

- Chapter Seven – He was just voted the 2024 Trotting Sire of the Year. In 2012, Chapter Seven was the HOY over stablemate Market Share.

“Chapter Seven, what can I say?” Tetrick said. “I was lucky enough to get the drive right after the Hambletonian of 2011 and for a year and a half or so won pretty much everything in sight. I’m not surprised at the sire he has become.”

- Market Share – “Once I figured him out, we did great together,” Tetrick said. “He had a long 3-year-old season and made a lot of money. And he gave me one of my greatest moments ever winning the Hambletonian.”

- Heston Blue Chip – [He] was a really top horse especially at the end of his 3-year-old season,” Tetrick said. “I did great with two American Ideals that year, him and American Jewel!”

“ [Captaintreacherous] had an incredible effort winning the last Wilson [in 2012] which amounted to a nighttime training mile of 1:49. He had a way of fighting you off when you got close and other drivers knew this and would try and time their move accordingly. Still, to this day, one of the best couple of horses I ever drove, maybe the best. ”

~ Tim Tetrick

- American Jewel – “So talented,” Tetrick said. “She might have been as good a 2-year-old filly as we’ve had. She was great at 3 too.”
- Anndrovette – “Nobody has made more as a pacing mare since [$3.4 million],” Tetrick said. “For three straight years she was the best pacing mare in the country. Not spectacular, but she wanted to win. If she had a bad race, she’d have no memory of it, and would bounce right back.”
- Check Me Out – “She’s one knee boot falling down to her ankles at the top of the stretch from having a 1:50 or even a 1:49 Hambo Oaks record [in 2012],” Tetrick said. “As it was, she recovered to be third before they placed her back. She was very gifted – had so much speed – and she’s the dam of King Of The North [the fastest Trotter ever in Canada, 1:50.3].”
- Captaintreacherous – “He had an incredible effort winning the last Wilson [in 2012] which amounted to a nighttime training mile of 1:49,” Tetrick said. “He had a way of fighting you off when you got close and other drivers knew this and would try and time their move accordingly. Horse of the Year Twin B Joe Fresh: the ride of a lifetime for her owners

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

When trainer Chris Ryder was recognizing the partners involved with female pacer Twin B Joe Fresh at Sunday's Dan Patch Awards banquet, he introduced Barry Spak by noting his fellow co-owner "likes to remain a little anonymous."

Well, those days are over. Spak, who has never attended one of Twin B Joe Fresh's races during her career to date, is ready to end his self-imposed exile following the now 5-year-old mare's coronation as 2024 Horse of the Year.

"They say it's hard to find a horseman that isn't superstitious about something," said Spak, who attended Twin B Joe Fresh's first qualifier as a 2-year-old in 2022 but never ventured to the track to watch her in action when money was on the line. "The more she won, the more I was hesitant to see her race live as a jinx. But the jinx thing is over. I plan on seeing as many races live as I can.

"When you have Horse of the Year, everything is done. You don't have to worry about jinxing anything."

He added with a laugh, though, "I guess my not showing up worked."

While Spak was not showing up, Twin B Joe Fresh always did. She finished no worse than second in all 13 of her races last year, winning 11 and earning $895,562 to lead all older pacers in money. She captured eight of the nine most lucrative races for pacing mares, including the Breeders Crown Mare Pace, Dayton Distaff Derby, Roses Are Red, Milton, FanDuel Mare Championship, Lady Liberty, and Dorothy Haughton Memorial.

Dating back to November 2023, she has won 12 consecutive stakes or invitational finals. Only two of those victories were by less than a length.

"She didn't just win them, she won them," said Peter Trebotica, Ryder's longtime assistant who with Ryder, Spak and driver Dexter Dunn owns Twin B Joe Fresh. "She's an amazing horse. I've known for three years, but I didn't know it would reach this pinnacle. Anyone that asked me about her, I kept telling them she's unbelievable.

"So, I've known. Now, everybody does."

Dunn agreed.

“She’s been great from Day One,” he said. “Before she even started qualifying as a 2-year-old, you knew she was something special. She was great at 2 and 3, and she got so much stronger for last year. She’s a big girl. And she’s super intelligent, unbelievably easy to drive; fast and strong.”

Although Spak has stayed away from the races, he has visited Twin B Joe Fresh at Ryder’s stable on a regular basis.

“I go to the barn quite often,” Spak said. “I remember seeing her last year and she had almost doubled in size. She’s like a tank. She’s an intimidating sight to see. She’s built tremendously.”

A daughter of Roll With Joe—Fresh Breeze, Twin B Joe Fresh has finished outside the top three only twice in 40 lifetime races, winning 30 and finishing second on seven occasions. The mare, bred by Brittany Farms and raised and sold by Twinbrook Farms, has earned $2.33 million. She was purchased for $65,000 at the 2021 Standardbred Horse Sale.

Ryder went to the sale looking to buy a yearling for the ownership group to replace a 3-year-old it sold a month prior to the auction. As Hip #630, Twin B Joe Fresh was late in the sale.

“I missed on some horses, but I knew she was coming up, so I didn’t push myself on the others because she was about the last one that I liked,” Ryder said in a 2023 interview. He added with a laugh, “So, when she came in, I kind of had to buy her. You’ve got to believe in fate a little bit.”

If Twin B Joe Fresh’s 2024 success removed the weight carried by Spak over fearing a jinx, she also removed the wait for Ryder to have a Horse of the Year. Ryder saw his trainees finish second in the voting three times in the previous five years: Bettor’s Wish in 2019, Party Girl Hill in 2020, and Niki Hill in 2021.

Twin B Joe Fresh became the second pacing mare in the 78-year history of the Horse of the Year Award to receive the honor, joining Shartin N in 2019.

“It’s quite an honor,” Ryder said. “All the credit goes back to the horse. She’s a fantastic horse; she just goes and goes. She knows how to win, and she’s got that speed. She’s just given us a great ride.”

The ride is not over. Twin B Joe Fresh is preparing for another season of racing and is expected to follow a schedule similar to last year.

“She’s been back three or four weeks,” Trebotica said. “We trained her before we left [for the Dan Patch Awards] and she’s super. I see her every day and the difference in her is unbelievable. She’s a woman now. Hopefully, everything works out. I don’t see why not. She’s got nothing to prove. We’ll see what happens.”

All of Twin B Joe Fresh’s connections are looking forward to another season with the star.

“It’s been a whirlwind,” said Spak, who owned horses in the late 1970s but got away from the sport while raising a family only to return in 2019 with Ryder. “Now, we set sails for this year and just hope she stays healthy. [Last year], she raced in May and went all the way to Nov. 30, and how Chris managed that so well is a tribute to him. Horse of the Year meant a lot to me, but it meant a lot more for Chris, and I was happy for that.”

Said Ryder, “There’s a little bit of pressure, but that’s our job. Touch wood, she’s been sound enough to keep repeating, to come back and do it again and again. She’s just fast, Dexter has driven her right, she’s just a good horse.”

Dunn added, “Hopefully, she comes back great and races great again. I’m looking forward to it. In my mind, everything she does now is a bonus, she’s done everything that’s been asked of her. For me, it’s not pressure, it’s more like just enjoy it. This is probably the ride of a lifetime.”

Scioto Downs to play host to 2026 Breeders Crown

by Eldorado Scioto Downs

Representatives from Caesars Entertainment and Eldorado Scioto Downs announced at the Dan Patch Awards on Sunday (Feb. 23) that the south Columbus oval will play host to the 2026 Breeders Crown.

“The Hambletonian Society is excited and proud to be bringing the 2026 Breeders Crown to Scioto Downs and the Ohio Harness racing community,” said John Campbell, president/CEO of the Hambletonian Society, which owns and services the Breeders Crown races. “Having worked with Joe Morris, and his team for two Breeders Crowns at Hoosier and seeing the commitment made to racing at Scioto Downs by both the OHHA and Caesars Entertainment, this was a perfect fit for all of us.”

Joe Morris, senior vice-president of racing for Caesars Entertainment said, “The support from the OHHA (Ohio Harness Horsemen’s Association) to have all divisions of the Breeders Crown in Ohio has been unparalleled. We’re grateful for the partnership between OHHA, Caesars and the Hambletonian Society to have the races at Scioto.”

In the rich 66-year history of Scioto Downs, the track has only ever played host to two singular divisions of the Breeders

Brad Conrad

Eldorado Scioto Downs in Columbus, OH will play host to the 2026 Breeders Crown.

Crown: the older mare trot in 1986, won by Grades Singing and Herve Fillion, and the older open pace in 1988, won by Call For Rain and Clint Galbraith.

“In the winter of ’22/’23 we built our new grandstand and now this winter, we have been building a new paddock,” said Jason Roth, director of racing at Scioto. “Caesars has invested heavily in the track, both for patrons and our horsemen. The culmination of these projects made Scioto a great potential host for the Breeders Crown, which we are thrilled to host next year.”

Scioto’s race meet historically runs from the Thursday after the Kentucky Derby through the Saturday before Jug week. Discussions for the 2026 racing season are still underway, but the Breeders Crown races will be held during October.

More information about the racing at Scioto Downs and future revelations about the 2026 Breeders Crown can be found at www.SciotoDowns.com.

The Meadowlands will celebrate International Women's Day on March 8.

by Debbie Little

The Red Mile's Emily Ratcliff will sit alongside Jessica Otten on the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set as part of The Meadowlands' celebration of International Women's Day (IWD), presented by Clinton Tractor, on Saturday (March 8).

“Women in the sport have continued to make strides, continue to do big things, and just as in any other arena or area it's important to recognize those, so I think the fact that we host a day where we can spotlight and highlight things like that is extremely important. And secondly, also to inspire. So, the fact that some young girl may be watching the broadcast and be able to see young women driving in a race, or young women on the broadcast and things like that, it may inspire somebody to jump in and explore the sport, which is exactly what we need.”

~ Emily Ratcliff

The Big M faithful have become familiar with Ratcliff over the last three years as a co-host of the Hambletonian broadcast on CBS, but she said she'll be breaking new ground at the East Rutherford mile oval next weekend.

“The extent of my experience at The Meadowlands is the Hambletonian broadcast,” Ratcliff said. “So, I've never actually been on the live feed at The Meadowlands, so this will be my first experience on The Meadowlands broadcast.”

Ratcliff, who grew up in the business in Anderson, IN, said she has had the opportunity to work with Otten on several occasions.

“But we never actually sat down on a set together until this past fall at The Red Mile,” Ratcliff said. “And it was truly just two girls talking and enjoying harness racing. It was a breath of fresh air, and was my first opportunity to work with her like that, and Emily Ratcliff will broadcast the International Women's Day card on March 8 at The Meadowlands.

“The extent of my experience at The Meadowlands is the Hambletonian broadcast. So, I’ve never actually been on the live feed at The Meadowlands, so this will be my first experience on The Meadowlands broadcast.”

~ Emily Ratcliff

we really just had a good time... So, we’ve kept in touch since then, and she asked me a couple weeks ago [to co-host at The Meadowlands for IWD] and I’m honored to do it.”

Prior to joining The Red Mile as the director of sponsorships in February of 2024, Ratcliff spent 12 years at her hometown track, Hoosier Park, where she is still involved on a modified basis.

Ratcliff said she has also done some work with the third member of The Big M’s IWD broadcast team, Jenna Otten.

“With Jenna, it’s so cool to see, because you can totally tell that she’s young, hungry, wants to learn, and she’s in her infancy,” Ratcliff said. “So, the fact that she’s reaching out and wanting help and taking criticism is wonderful to see.”

While Jessica and Ratcliff will host the night’s live broadcast, Jenna will be supplying interviews from the paddock.

Brand new for the 2025 edition of the International Women’s Day event at The Big M is the addition of a female race caller. Rideau Carleton Raceway announcer Melissa Keith is traveling in from Canada and will be the fourth member of the all-female broadcast team.

This is the third straight year that the International Women’s Day celebration will be presented by Clinton Tractor, and some women-owned businesses will also be involved. Terry Tauffner’s Corporate Images, Inc. will again be supplying the blankets, and Mackenzie Strange’s Mackenzie Made will be doing some gifts for the competitors.

The highlight of the evening will once again be a race for female drivers.

According to Jessica, the event has always been popular, and this year was no exception.

“I only posted it once, and I do have the 10 slots filled,” Jessica said in early February.

The final field is: Lauren Harmon, Leslie Joyce, Marianna Monaco, Vicky O’Mara, Alexandra Sarkine, McKenzie Sowers, Vicki Stratton, Sarah Svanstedt, Lauren Tritton and Christina Wyant.

In addition to the ladies’ race, there will be videos and interviews throughout the night with some of the sport’s top female trainers, drivers, and caretakers.

Ratcliff said that having a night like this one is necessary.

“I think, obviously, women in the sport have continued to make strides, continue to do big things, and just as in any other arena or area it’s important to recognize those, so I think the fact that we host a day where we can spotlight and highlight things like that is extremely important,” Ratcliff said. “And secondly, also to inspire. So, the fact that some young girl may be watching the broadcast and be able to see young women driving in a race, or young women on the broadcast and things like that, it may inspire somebody to jump in and explore the sport, which is exactly what we need. So, that part of it is important to me.

“Whatever your path may be, whatever direction you feel pulled towards, whether it be back in the barns taking care of these champion animals and getting to show up for them, whether it be driving, or on the broadcast or on the marketing side, I mean, I think it’s important to highlight that kind of stuff, because we need more of that.

“It’s important to know that the work that you’re putting in is being recognized, and I think that’s kind of what International Women’s Day kind of embodies as a whole.”

Cash Money Twenty is the real deal

by Neil Milbert

Trainer Mike Brink was a little leery last summer when Cash Money Twenty's owners William and Sherrie Bycroft and trainer Brett Ballinger offered to send him the 2-year-old gelding from Running Aces to race in Illinois.

They told him Cash Money Twenty is a son of Stevensville, and Brink hadn't had success with the stallion's offspring.

"I had two or three Stevensvilles and they weren't much," Brink said. "They could never close.

"I said [to the Bycrofts and Ballinger], 'Let me look him up and I'll let you know.'"

When he checked out Cash Money Twenty's past performance sheet, he saw the gelding had won all four of his races at the five-eighths-mile Minnesota track and flaunted a fast-closing final quarter in the most recent victory.

"Maybe this is the Stevensville that's the real deal," Brink said he thought to himself.

The veteran trainer added Cash Money Twenty to his stable and indeed the colt turned out to be "the real deal," and the 2024 Illinois-bred Horse of the Year.

"He's crazy fast – he wants to go a million miles an hour – and he's a little bit crazy on top of that, and I think a combination of those two makes him what he is," Brink said of the son of Stevensville—Hostess Lisa, by Sagebrush who set an all-time Illinois record for a 2-year-old when he won at Springfield in 1:50 and finished the year with a 10-race resume consisting of nine victories and one second.

Cash Money Twenty's earnings totaled $226,545. His most lucrative conquest came on the Night of Champions at Hawthorne Racecourse where he won the $206,253 Incredible Finale for 2-year-old pacers, richest of the 12 championship races for Illinois-breds.

"He's got all the tools," said the state's perennial leading driver Casey Leonard, who took the reins after Cash Money Twenty moved to Illinois and bought an interest in him from the Bycroft couple's Heart and Soul Racing stable before the Night of Champions. "He's an athlete.

"And Mike did a great job with him."

Brink, in turn, praised former trainer Ballinger for his role in Cash Money Twenty's smashing success story.

"After he came to us, we didn't have to do much with him," Brink said.

Cash Money Twenty also will be honored as the 2024 state champion 2-year-old male on Saturday night (March 1) at the Illinois Standardbred Banquet at the Illinois State Fairgrounds in Springfield.

In addition to the Horse of the Year and the 12 divisional titlists, the champion pacing and trotting sires and broodmares will be honorees.

Four accomplished horsemen, Terry Leonard, Freddie Patton, Jr., Bill Wright and the late Tom Tetrick, and three racing stalwarts of yesteryear, Mucho Sleazy, Fox Valley Tribal and King Johnny, will be inducted into the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Hall of Fame. Tom Shinn and LeAnn Shinn will be recipients of the IHHA's Lifetime Achievement Award in recognition of their contributions to the sport's archives in Illinois.

Based on their performances at the Illinois county fairs 23 pacers and 28 trotters will receive Colt Association awards.

Lou's Legacy, who stands at Dr. Richard Flacco's Flacco Family Farms, was selected the champion trotting sire for the ninth consecutive year.

Five of his offspring are 2024 champions: 2-year-old filly trotter Lou's My Number, 2-year-old male trotter Louise's Legacy, 3-year-old filly trotter Whiskey Lou, 3-year-old male trotter Lous Private Eye and older mare trotter Marvelous Mystery. Both Whiskey Lou and Lous Private Eye repeated as state champions.

Steve Searle trained Lou's My Number and Lous Private Eye and also Fox Valley Tessa, the champion 3-year-old filly pacer bred by Fox Valley Standardbreds. Lous Private Eye and Fox Valley Tessa have subsequently been sold and are with other trainers this year.

“ [Cash Money Twenty’s] crazy fast – he wants to go a million miles an hour – and he’s a little bit crazy on top of that, and I think a combination of those two makes him what he is. ”

~ Mike Brink

“We had the mother of Lou’s My Number [Ants Iner Pants] and she raced very well for us. Now, with Lou’s My Number, it’s like watching your own kids in sports.”

~ Steve Searle

“We had the mother of Lou’s My Number [Ants Iner Pants] and she raced very well for us,” said Searle, breeder and co-owner of the filly. “Now, with Lou’s My Number, it’s like watching your own kids in sports.”

Lou’s My Number went into the Night of Champions with a good but not great record of two wins, six places and one show but she rose to the occasion and won the richest trotting race, the $144,637 Fox Valley Flan in 1:56.4, setting the track record for her sex and gait.

“She kept getting better and better,” Searle said. “She broke the track record and she did it again in the Violet.”

Lous Private Eye was racing for her breeder, Flacco Family Farms, when she won the $134,744 Erwin F. Dygert Memorial Trot on the Night of Champions. She finished the year with a 14-race record of eight firsts, a pair of second and two third place performances and earnings of $94,235.

“I’ve been very fortunate to have the Flaccos as one of my main owners,” Searle said. “They send me Lou’s Legacy babies every year.”

The most successful of the 2024 state champions sired by Lou’s Legacy was Whiskey Lou, a winner of 13 of her 14 races for owner/breeder Randy Wilt and trainer Curt Grummel. Racing on a sloppy surface on the Night of Champions she won the $10,658 Beulah Dygert Memorial by four lengths.

Marvelous Mystery (9 4-2-0) also is a Grummel trainee and Curt co-owns the mare in a family partnership. She earned $66,484 and was clocked in a career best 1:52.3 at the DuQuoin State Fair. On the Night of Champions, she was victorious in the $80,000 Carl Becker Memorial.

Louise’s Legacy is trained by Erv Miller, who co-owns and co-bred the gelding with Geis Enterprise LLC. He finished his freshman year with five wins, four places and three shows in 12 outings for earnings of $189,563 and recorded a career best 1:56.4 when he won the $132,858 Kadabra on the Night of Champions.

THUMBNAIL PROFILES OF THE OTHER 2024 STATE CHAMPIONS:

• 2-year-old filly pacer: The Beautiful Things. Returning after being scratched from the first two of her previous three races for trainer Amy Husted and her husband/driver Kyle Husted she won the $224,623 Incredible Tillie by four lengths in 1:52.2

on the Night of Champions. She finished with nine triumphs in 10 starts, a bankroll of $198,752 and a career best time of 1:52.1 at DuQuoin.

• 3-year-old filly pacer: Fox Valley Tessa. After winning the $189,701 Plum Peachy as an 11-1 longshot on the Night of Champions she captured two more races to finish the year strongly after being scratched from two races in October because of sickness. Her bottom line was 15 4-2-3, earnings of $126,461 and a career best 1:53.2 in the Plum Peachy.

• Older male pacer: He’zzz A Wise Sky. In defending the divisional championship he earned in 2023, the 7-year-old horse had a workaholic campaign that saw him race 33 times and record eight victories, nine seconds and four thirds and deposit $164,947 in the coffers of the Filomeno family’s Triple ZZZ Stable. He won the $60,000 Phil Langley Memorial on the Night of Champions for the third straight year.

• Older mare pacer: Scorecard Dandy. Last year’s state champion 3-year-old filly put on an encore performance in 2024. The daughter of Sportsmaster was clocked in a lifetime best 1:50 on July 15 at Oak Grove, also won an open company race at Hoosier, and excelled in her home state on the Night of Champions by winning the $60,000 Tony Maurello Memorial for trainer Gregory Kain by three lengths in 1:51.2. She raced 27 times and recorded four wins, four places and six shows for a $100,750 bankroll.

• Older male trotter: Niko Man. In winning the $60,000 Plesac by four lengths on a sloppy track in 1:54.1 as the 1-5 favorite the gelded son of Cassis trounced last year’s Horse of the Year Goomster, who broke stride and was last in the field of six. Niko Man ended the year with a 25-race composite of nine firsts, three seconds and two thirds for trainer Ken Rucker.

• Pacing Sire: Somestarsomewhere. He earned the title for the third year in a row. His most notable offspring was The Beautiful Things.

• Pacing Broodmare: Gimmeazzmooch. She is the dam of He’zzz A Wise Sky.

• Trotting Broodmare: Bands One Eye Love. She is the dam of Lous Private Eye.

Joumba de Guez (Jean-Michel Bazire) set a 1:55.4 world record for mares over 4,150 meters while winning the $400,000 Prix de Paris on Sunday at Vincennes.

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Joumba de Guez, queen of winter in Paris, sets world record

by Thomas Hedlund

Nicolas Bazire-trained Joumba de Guez (Carat Williams) entered Sunday's (Feb. 23) $400,000 Prix de Paris more than a month after her big success in the $700,000 Prix de Cornulier and when the 4,150 meter race was summed up, Joumba de Guez had claimed another prestigious race in Paris.

Two laps at Vincennes is the ultimate test for most trotters and Joumba de Guez hit the lead with three kilometers to go. A little less than two miles remaining at that point and being in front of a field of strong, well-merited trotters as a mare is not the easiest task if one's looking for the win.

But Jean-Michel Bazire kept a high pace in front and made it hard for the opponents, which meant that Joumba de Guez had everything under safe control all the way. The mile rate of 1:55.4 over 4,150 meters is a new world record for mares over the actual distance.

Replay here.

Title defender Hussard du Landret finished well as the runner up ahead of Fakir de Mahey.

Three starts in 2025 has resulted in three wins and $531,000 earned, so it's fair to call Bazire stable's mare the queen of Paris during the winter meeting.

The meeting in Paris ends Saturday (March 1) with two $240,000-races. The Prix de Selection, for 4-to-6-year-old trotters, includes some really nice horses. Prix d'Amérique contender Keep Going is one of them and he will probably be the favorite in the hands of Eric Raffin.

The 4-year-olds start with a 25 meter advantage which means that J- and K-horses will have to chase the 4-year-old L-trotters in front.

The $240,000 Prix des Centaures monté race has the same conditions as the Prix de Selection, where the 4-year-olds have a 25 meter advantage.

Ontario-sired horses claimed seven O'Brien Awards, Part 2

This week, the spotlight turns to full-siblings Willys Home Run and Logan Park.

by Matthew Lomon

Part 1 is here.

Ontario-sired horses had their hoofprints all over the 2024 O'Brien Awards, claiming seven of the 13 award categories, including the Somebeachsomewhere Horse of the Year (Chantilly).

Making up the Ontario-sired septet are the aforementioned Chantilly (2-Year-Old Filly Pacer, Somebeachsomewhere Horse of the Year), Monalishi (2-Year-Old Filly Trotter), Stonebridge Wizard (2-Year-Old Colt Pacer), Willys Home Run (3-Year-Old Filly Trotter), Logan Park (Older Horse Trotter), Nijinsky (3-Year-Old Colt Pacer), and Its A Love Thing (3-Year-Old Filly Pacer).

Last week, All Over Ontario profiled Monalishi and Stonebridge Wizard in the inaugural edition of this three-part series honoring the top Ontario-sired performers of 2024.

This week, our celebration takes a family-focused turn with the award-winning sister-and-brother duo of Willys Home Run and Logan Park, both of whom are trained by the father-and-son team of Rob and Kyle Fellows.

While it was Rob who was listed as the conditioner of note for each of the Archangel—Rite Outa The Park trotters' maiden races, the humble horseman with nearly 1,600 career victories is all about the team.

"First off, it takes a village," Rob said. "We'd love to say it was something we did, but these horses were born to be good. I believe that.

"I've done this for over 45 years, and these are usually things that happen to other people. It's been a magical ride with both of them these last few years. They're professionals in every aspect. I'd love to take the credit and say, 'I' or 'me,' but it's a whole team effort – from the time we get them, send them to be broken at the Shetler farm, and then bring them back to train down. These two are special horses. We were just lucky enough to have them."

With Willys Home Run, in particular, there was never a specific moment that told Rob she would one day be special. Instead, as he recalls, she was the exception.

"You don't know how special they'll be, but right from the start she never did anything wrong," he said. "She had good manners. She had a good mouth. She didn't make breaks. She was willing to learn.

"When you're training them down, you always wonder in the back of your mind whether they're going to hit this proverbial wall that a lot of them hit because they don't become a Willys Home Run. We believed in her."

The reigning champion 2-Year-Old Filly Trotter rewarded the Fellows' unwavering belief yet again this past season with her second O'Brien Award, this time as Canada's 3-Year-Old Filly

“ Sometimes, luck has to be on your side. It's a tough game. We love it, we wouldn't do anything else, but the good ones, they have a way to stay healthy and fit. They overcome us as trainers. [Logan Park has] taught me how lucky we are when we get horses like him. ”

“ [Willys Home Run] is the whole package. There’s nothing about her that you would change. She’s made our life very easy. ”

~ Rob Fellows

Trotter of the Year, after registering eight top two finishes from 13 starts (4-4-0; $431,311 banked).

Five of the top eight finishes on Willys Home Run’s 2024 scorecard, including three of her four victories, came during the Ontario Sires Stakes program.

After getting off on the right foot with a strong round of qualifiers and a pair of seconds to the Susie Kerwood-trained mare R Liza in subsequent Gold contests, an uncharacteristic showing in the Gold Mid-Season Final prompted Rob and Co. to give their prized racer some time off.

The prudent plan paid off in spades, as Willys Home Run found the winner’s circle in her next three OSS tilts.

She completed her Super Final title defense with a 3¾-length score at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Oct. 12.

“I always believed she was as good, if not better than anyone else out there,” Rob said. “When you have your own, you believe they’re better than other peoples’, but the racetrack actually shows what happens.

“In the Super Final, she was as good as she was the year before.”

After 23 lifetime starts and a 10-7-1 line, Willys Home Run is closing in on the $1 million earnings milestone for her career ($955,246).

While her monetary contributions are certainly worthy of praise, the mild-mannered mare is simply a trainer’s dream.

“She’s not the one in the barn that’s banging on the stall,” Rob said. “She’s not hard to catch. She jogs. She does everything perfectly, and she even finished off to be a good race horse. I’ve had other horses like her that did nothing wrong, but couldn’t go fast, and I’ve had some crazy fast horses that didn’t have manners.

“She is the whole package. There’s nothing about her that you would change. She’s made our life very easy.”

Not to be outdone, Willys Home Run’s 7-year-old brother Logan Park captured the Older Horse Trotter title for the second consecutive year.

The veteran racer put together his finest year in his 6-year-old campaign, earning over $940,000 across 12 wins from 19 starts (12-3-2).

His most notable visits to the winner’s circle came in a late charging Dayton Derby victory on Sept. 28 and a front-leading FanDuel Open Trot Championship tally at The Meadowlands in his final start of the season (Nov. 30).

Logan Park also rewrote The Red Mile record books as the fastest Canadian-sired trotter with a winning time of 1:49.2 in the Allerage Farms Open Trot (Oct. 6).

“The good horses have that ‘it’ factor – whatever it is, we’d love to know how to identify it as yearlings – he had it,” Rob said. “He’s a good trainer, a good feeler, and he’s been healthy. As a trainer, when you get a couple horses, the hardest thing is to keep them on the track and have them healthy and competitive for when their stakes schedule goes.

“Sometimes, luck has to be on your side. It’s a tough game. We love it, we wouldn’t do anything else, but the good ones, they have a way to stay healthy and fit. They overcome us as trainers. He’s taught me how lucky we are when we get horses like him.”

The savvy competitor with 83 starts and over $2 million to his name has been a mainstay in Fellows’ stable since the day Rob and his Outofthepark Stable members Mike McAllister and Blair Corbeil, and long-time owner Arpad Szabo, purchased him at the 2019 London Selected Yearling Sale for $57,000.

The quartet later became a quintet when Logan Park’s breeder, Reg Higgs, asked to stay in following the transaction.

For all the marvelous moments they’ve shared together, reaching such extraordinary heights wasn’t without mild turbulence.

Like any dominant horse on the Ontario circuit, the natural path for Logan Park led to the United States.

However, as Rob recalled, Logan Park is a true creature of habit.

“When we went down as a 4-year-old to The Meadowlands for the Graduate [Series], I shipped down early to look after him and he didn’t eat,” said Rob, who noted similar instances at The Red Mile and Plainridge. “His biggest problem has been fretting when he gets away from home. At home, he eats well, he feels good, he trains well, but whenever we’ve traveled with him, it’s been hit or miss.”

In response, the Rockwood, ON-based horseman has worked tirelessly to remedy Logan Park’s regimen-related issues.

Whether it’s finding local farms to bunk at ahead of race dates or arriving early to give Logan Park more time to settle in, Rob will do whatever it takes to make sure his old friend feels his best come game time.

“These horses, they’re our lives,” Rob said. “We try to do what’s best for them 24/7. They can’t be upset; they can’t fret because the performance will show it.

“The more I can duplicate home life, the better he races.”

MANE ATTRACTION

You can lead a horse to water

by John Berry

There's an old proverb going back to the 12th century that states, "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make it drink." (But, if you hold its head underwater long enough, it will drink or learn to breathe through its eyes.)

That famous saying can be interpreted in many ways, but one of the most popular illustrates the fact that you can unearth an opportunity but can't force the implantation or usage by those seeing that opportunity for future success.

It's amazing to realize that mankind, as we know it, stretches somewhere around 75,000 to 100,000 years old with around 1,500 persons – starting from number one and – getting us where we are today.

Of those 1,500 persons, only the last three could fly in an airplane or drive an automobile; only the last three had the use of a telephone or enjoy music on a phonograph record.

Only the last two were protected from polio with a vaccine, or could enjoy a motion picture at the theatre.

Only the last one had cell phones, or computers or copying machines, cable television or the internet and email.

Incredible breakthrough medications, transplants, you name it. And, now, artificial intelligence.

Almost everything that has been invented and accomplished in our world has come forth during our lifetime, well, maybe a little bit longer than that.

In harness racing, we've seen the invention of hobbles, the bicycle wheel sulky, the totalizator system, the starting gate, simulcasting and the true evolution of speed, to name a few.

Imagine – just imagine – if those folks were led to the "fountains of invention" and didn't drink.

Many suggestions have come forth over the years to bring our industry and sport into the modern era.

Our sport has been modernized as breeders have done it, the proof being the speed evolution; even though some say that there are pros and cons to it in this day and age.

As far as speed is concerned, the charted line would read "1's" at every point of call.

While we have seen some innovation outside of the racetrack in our industry, such as streamlined record keeping, when comparing our industry to others, we seem to be lengths behind.

Yes, one can now wager at a variety of tracks from a simulcast venue or by telephone or computer from the comfort of home, but that has had a negative effect of live racetrack participation.

While the times are lightning fast in our sport, our industry lags behind, as other sports leaders and commissioners arrive at the fountain and, indeed, drink.

We see very few "BAR-BAR-BAR" one line slot machines these days.

Some have 100 lines. And the rainbows of lights and lure of those $20,000 jackpots (for 60 cents, or 75, or 88, or a buck) are just too appetizing to pass.

The illegal numbers racket has become a legal lottery with some prizes in the hundreds of millions.

Competition is everywhere and, besides a few more exotic wagers in pari-mutuel racing, it's been a tough go.

In a recent Mane Attraction, a suggestion was brought forth about a time-trial revival with feedback received on both ends of the fence – actually a triangle of opinions from “who cares” to “great idea to prove a horse’s real potential” to, as a “BDHC” member said, “only if I can bet on it.”

The recent Super Bowl proved the point, in fact, many points. Just a few of the prop bets available on the Super Bowl included the coin toss, the time of the National Anthem and the Star Spangled Banner, the color of the Gatorade splash, who will be shown first pre-game, Hurts or Mahomes, the Kick of Destiny, total songs during half-time show, first touchdown scorer, anytime touchdown scorers, last touchdown scorer, last turnover (fumble, interception), Mahomes passing (TD’s, Int’s, longest completion, total completions), Hurts, (same categories), several props on Barkley, Hunt, Pacheco, Worthy, Kelce and many others, MVP, first penalty, first team TD, longest FG.

You get the idea.

There was $71,000 bet on the coin toss.

There were 724,000 new sports betting accounts opened over the Super Bowl weekend.

At one point during the game there were 14,300 transactions per second being wagered.

As for the Kick of Destiny, 2,000,000 fans bet on it.

The Legal Sports Report estimated the handle on the Super Bowl was $1.5 billion.

Betting on the NFL was estimated at $35,000,000,000, that’s $35 billion.

In Major League Baseball, there are prop bets on hits, home runs, runs, RBIs stolen bases, total bases in a game, next pitch a ball or a strike – there are unlimited props offered – and you can build them yourself.

These are in-play today, and harness racing is sitting in the back row of the grandstand watching it all happen for some other sport, not ours.

Will any driver win eight races on a card this season; what’s the line on Aaron Merriman winning 925½ races this season? Or will Jeremy Bobbitt win 65½ races, or Marvin Luna win 399½ races, or Send It In Hanover take a mark of 1:47.2 either in a race or time trial?

Will Rusty Rail go an opening half in under :52.2? Will he lead by Over or Under eight lengths?

Will today’s feature race at The Meadowlands be Over/Under 1:48.2 with lines on the exact time, as well?

Will any driver over the age of 77 win a pari-mutuel race in 2025?

Will Bulldog Hanover’s world record hold up this season?

While the times are lightning fast in our sport, our industry lags behind, as other sports leaders and commissioners arrive at the fountain and, indeed, drink.

The possibilities are endless and the idea is to get our sport in the headlines and in front of everyone’s “ns.”

We’d better start leading the right leaders to water and hope they finally drink, before our great sport drowns because we can’t keep up with the “times.”

May The Horse Be With You.

Caligula's horse racing mania can inspire harness racing growth, Part 3

by Frank Cotolo

Part 1 is here.

Part 2 is here.

In the 1990s, it was my job keeping up with the standardbred business as an editor at TIMES: in harness. Having a broad publication platform allowed me to follow through on the Caligula Angle [sic] for another major sports promotion. My idea approaches introducing harness racing to younger generations (most of which are unaware it exists in the present). I intended to bury the direct Caligula inspiration (due to historic and pop-culture controversy) as well as remain silent about my penchant for the graphic chariot races in the Ben-Hur movie (which in and of itself is barely known). Also, my best weapon was simplicity.

To launch the fresh campaign as a member of the industry's Fourth Estate it was obvious where to start: the Harness Horse Youth Foundation (HHYF). Years before there was a TIMES: magazine there was the HHYF. Its creed is, "To provide young people [and their families] information and experiences with harness horses in order to foster the next generation of fans [and participants]." The brackets are mine since I wanted to focus on fans (vis a vis future pari-mutuel players).

HHYF was the of my boss, TIMES: CEO/publisher David Dolezal. He handed the foundation to Margot Taylor. Dolezal said, "I started HHYF but Margot gave it life." By the time I joined the initial staff of TIMES: Taylor already created programs (hands-on youth camps, et al) and fundraised and cooperated with other youth organizations to give the HHYF a profound industry presence. I met Taylor during the final years of her tenure. I immediately respected her upstanding presence and knowledge.

After Taylor passed in 1994 the perfect predecessor for the tasks took over, her daughter Ellen. I got to know Ellen Taylor well as TIMES: continued as a promotional leg for HHYF and I agreed with the industry voices saying Ellen knew "how to get things done and her accomplishments go way beyond the HHYF." During her trips from Indiana to Pennsylvania she became closer to my family. This was also the time when Callie Davies-Gooch emerged as TIMES: most productive marketing manager (after a stream of failures).

Working with Davies-Gooch on a daily basis made easier the pressures of maintaining a robust publication in an industry barely able to support the competition. She handled the tedious marketing tasks at the magazine while being an essential HHYF confrere. This is the duo I approached to volunteer my skills and produce an official HHYF booklet – using my Caligula angle – designed to catch the favor of kids. Ellen was open to the new approach the project was approved.

HHYF offered a library of educational booklets. They were filled with educational games, puzzles and generic information on the breed and breeding practices. The target audience was individuals 11 years old and up. The new booklet was called, Studying The Standardbred/The Basic Stuff.

It employed 11 pages with six deft sections presenting harness racing with a fan emphasis. A dozen pages of easy-to-read texts (with graphics) addressed dramatic elements of the sport theretofore missing in any past booklets for promotional attempts. I wrote the copy opening with the headline: Is harness racing cool?

"Up close, harness racing is big, loud, dangerous and fast... including the pounding of eight or more horses' legs as they smack the track, kicking up dirt as their hooves slice the surface..." and "You can realize more about the excitement and danger of harness racing if you were at a racetrack watching and listening and feeling the vibrations when a field of harness horses fly down the stretch pounding the earth..." and "If there is an accident... you would have the unfortunate experience of seeing how things could go wrong... you would experience something that is unlike any description anyone ever gave you about harness racing... you would know how skillful, how powerful, how exciting harness racing really is. Is that not cool?"

More emphasis on standardbreds followed with a comparison to thoroughbreds. The text referred to harness horses as "monster horses... more durable than thoroughbreds..." a harness horse "can fall and tumble in one race and be ready to go in another on the same day... You would never see a thoroughbred racing more than once a day and if a thoroughbred fell during a race, you might never see that horse race again, no less see it back next week and maybe even win."

In the next Among Ourselves episode, I will transcribe the remainder of the booklet (and describe its graphics) along with suggesting ways to update it as a promotion to present to the crowded-social media atmosphere.

Donna Lee, 72, dies

Donna Lee passed away peacefully on the evening of Feb. 19 at the Ephraim McDowell hospital in Danville, KY, after a courageous battle with health issues over the past few years. To a woman as successful as she, in what through her lifetime was largely a man's business, fighting adversity was something with which Lee was well acquainted.

Born on Sept. 5 of 1952 in Fairfield, IL, Lee was a highly regarded horsewoman who had a knack for horses that required a little "TLC" to excel, competing on a high level during a time when Illinois racing was at its best.

Early on, Lee raced a small stable between Quad City Downs and Fairmount Park where she won an all-women's driving club race and captured the UDRS training title at Quad City in 1990.

Dave Landry

The late Donna Lee was deeply loved.

With the closure of Quad City in 1993 Lee, along with her son Peter who did the shoeing and some driving before enlisting in the U.S. Army, moved operations to the Chicagoland tracks where she sent out state champions like Chicago Jazz and Havana.

As the future of racing in Chicago became more uncertain, Lee left her home state to join forces with her son Tony Alagna, upon whom her love of horses and harness racing had a tremendous impact. She would play a vital role in one of the top stables competing on the Grand Circuit.

Perhaps Lee's greatest contribution was affording Alagna the opportunity to remain state-side with one division of the stable while confidently sending many of his best horses to Canada for Grand Circuit stakes.

Under Lee's hand, the Canadian division of the Alagna barn would win three Breeders Crowns (Ramona Hill, Reflect With Me and American History), back-to-back Canadian Trotting Classics with Ahundreddollarbill and Slay, the Metro with Exploit and a Peaceful Way with Ramona Hill.

Along with those accomplishments, Lee particularly enjoyed having a role in the development of Hambletonian winner Ramona Hill and a few of her personal favorites including world record holder Dr J Hanover and million-dollar winner Caprice Hill.

Dogs were always a part of the family and in later years the Cavalier King Charles Spaniels Tess and Freckles were her constant companions. Lee also encouraged Alagna's love of the Morgan Show Horse and together they sent out a world champion named Akira Hamilton in 2023.

Time off for Lee meant time on horseback, her great affection for trail riding and the endurance ride serving as her favored form of relaxation. Land Between The Lakes near Paducah, KY was a favorite spot to join friends for camping and a ride to celebrate Lee's life at that location is in the planning stages for later this spring.

Lee leaves behind loving sons Tony and Peter and grandson Cameron. Lee, Tony and Peter have been united in the racing operation these past few seasons since Peter's retirement from the Sheriff's office in Chicago. Lee and Peter joined in operating the family training center in Harrodsburg, KY, while Tony remained at the New Jersey farm these past few winters.

Services for Lee were Thursday (Feb. 27) in Harrodsburg, KY. Any memorial contribution can be made to the Harness Horse Youth Foundation in her name.

USHWA conducts annual meetings on Dan Patch Weekend

The United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA) held its annual meetings this past Saturday (Feb. 22) and Sunday (Feb. 23), returning for the second straight year to the Rosen Centre in this central Florida city. The Dan Patch Awards Banquet, presented by Caesars Entertainment, on Sunday evening again provided the highlights of the weekend; the honors accorded Horse of the Year Twin B Joe Fresh and the other stars of the sport, both human and equine (mainly for 2024 accomplishments but in some cases recognizing career achievement), have already been written up and disseminated in the trade media.

Twenty-nine USHWA directors, including officers, active past presidents / life members, and At-Large / chapter directors, worked from late Saturday morning until well into the afternoon to examine and plan a framework for the Association's operations in 2025 and for years beyond.

Both old and new business were brought before the directors, suggested by various segments of the membership, and were explained to and examined by the group. Preliminary routes to accomplish such ends as met favor in the discussion were established.

The Writers made updates and refinements into its operating bylaws and rules and regulations, with the large number of suggested modifications often accompanied by spirited discussion and voting on both sides of the proposals at hand – in a few cases, resulting in tabling proposals pending more study.

The directors also voted to place Derick Giwner and Ellen Taylor, both with longtime distinguished accomplishments in their respective sections of harness racing, onto the summer ballot for possible election into the Communicators Hall of Fame (there has already been a separate release on these choices sent out).

Some 50 members of the organization, including the directors, attended a Sunday morning meeting designed for the general membership of the Association. The highlights of the major activities occurring during Saturday's gathering, especially the proposals of change to the Association's bylaws and rules and regulations along with the actions directors took on said proposals, were recounted and were a topic of continued conversation.

Reports from both all of the committees that oversee major areas of USHWA activity and from the officers of the Association were delivered. Any questions the membership had on any aspect of USHWA were encouraged and answered.

The USHWA officers were all returned for another year of service in their current positions. Voted to retain their jobs were Michael Carter as president; Heather Vitale as first vice-president;

Melissa Keith as second vice-president; Bill MacDonald as treasurer; and Jerry Connors as secretary. Barry Lefkowitz, the immediate past president of the Association, is via the bylaws the chairman of the board and thus no vote had to be taken on his serving another year.

With the word "contraction" appearing frequently in media concerning harness racing, the Writers Association was very pleased to stay at exactly 191 active members for the second straight year. This fact reveals the dedication of the group and the excellent coverage they provide of the best of racing, while also serving as an outreach/recruitment tool for bringing "fresh blood" to the sport. This core group, along with any recruits, will allow USHWA to carry on hosting its annual acclaimed Dan Patch Awards banquets and continue to knowledgeably vote to recognize the best and brightest in harness racing, both human and equine.

It Takes Two takes home HOY honors at The Raceway

The Raceway at Western Fair District handed out plenty of hardware to the top performers of 2024 during its annual awards night on Saturday night (Feb. 22) at the Top Of The Fair dining room.

Pacing standout It Takes Two was one of the big winners, taking home the Overall Horse of the Year trophy in addition to top older pacing horse. Garrett Rooney captured his first driving title in London, steering home 156 winners with purse earnings of more than $906,000.

Beckwith's weekend took him from Big M eight to Rising Star

It would be hard to find another 22-year-old in harness racing who had a bigger last weekend (Feb. 21-23) than Brett Beckwith, who was the leading driver at The Meadowlands on both Friday and Saturday night before jumping on a plane to Orlando to scoop up the 2024 Dan Patch Rising Star Award at the yearly United States Harness Writers Association banquet.

"It was a great time and definitely special to spend with my family," said Beckwith. "But I'm not big on taking days off. I really enjoy my job and to take Sunday [the night of the banquet] and Monday off was tough enough."

Based on how things are going, taking a couple of days off are unlikely to stop Beckwith from getting wherever his sulky skills are going to take him.

Beckwith, after winning four races on both Feb. 21 and Feb. 22 at The Big M, now has 25 wins there on the year, and finds himself in second place in the standings at the mile oval, sandwiched in between a pair of veteran superstars, with Jason Bartlett ahead of him (with 28 wins) and Dave Miller right behind (24).

“I thought I had a few that had shots,” said Beckwith, whose 608 wins during 2024 was good for third in North America. “But didn’t think I’d win four both nights. I had some power the first few months I was there and was getting my head kicked in.”

It was the son of longtime horsepeople Mark and Melissa Beckwith who doled out the headaches to his foes on Friday, registering his four scores while driving in just 10 of the 14 races on the card. Brett’s winners paid $9.80, $2.60, $6 and $15.60, good for a profit of $140 if one plunked down $20 on each of his starters.

Saturday brought another four walks down victory lane, but did much more for Brett’s backers bank balances.

His winners that night – from a total of 12 drives – returned $28.80, $4.20, $4.60 and $102.20. The $20 bettor who wagered a total of $240 on Brett’s horses cashed in for $1,398, a profit of $1,158.

Brett was extremely appreciative of Mad Max Hanover, who won the ninth race as the 6-5 favorite while recording the fastest mile of the year in the sport after stopping the clock in 1:48.2.

“I told [trainer] Jake Leamon that’s the most fun I’ve ever had driving a horse,” said Brett. “You could feel him right through the lines. I watched that horse race a ton when Timmy [Tetrack] drove him. Timmy always kept him rolling, so I tried to do the same.”

Mad Max Hanover at 6-5 is one thing, but Fulsome (in the 12th race) at 50-1?

“He surprised me,” said Brett, who’s currently fourth in the North American driver standings with 96 victories. “I thought I choked him; 20-1 would have been more fair for that horse.

“It’s a huge honor [being second in the standings at The Meadowlands]. If you would have asked me two years ago if I would have been getting drives at The Meadowlands, I wouldn’t have said yes. Things have progressed at an unbelievable pace.”

CATCH THE SHOW: Check out the live “Racing from The Meadowlands” pregame show at 5:45 p.m. every Friday and Saturday when track announcer Ken Warkentin opens up the mic with a scene set and program changes.

Big M TV’s Dave Little and Jessica Otten will reunite tonight after two weeks apart and will be on the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set, from where the duo will provide news, notes, selections and a look at the night’s featured races.

On Saturday, Little will be joined on set by the Editor at DRF Harness, Derick Giwner, who, after the recently concluded United States Harness Writers Association’s director’s meeting in Orlando, FL, is now on the ballot for possible election to the Communicators Hall of Fame in Goshen, NY.

Joe Romanelli will handle interviews from the back paddock while winner’s circle host Gary DiLeo will provide commentary and selections on the FanDuel Television (FDTV) feed.

OH YES, IT’S LADIES’ NIGHT: The Big M will celebrate women in racing on Saturday (March 8), as the track hosts International Women’s Day, sponsored by Clinton Tractor.

Otten and The Red Mile’s Emily Gaskin will host the night’s live simulcast broadcast and paddock interviews will be conducted by Scioto Downs’ Jenna Otten.

The night will include videos and interviews with the industry’s top female trainers, drivers and grooms, plus a race with an all-female field.

Shenandoah Downs meet celebrate 10 years of racing in Woodstock

Shenandoah Downs will celebrate its 10th year of pari-mutuel harness racing with a pair of seven-week meets at the Woodstock oval in 2025. The spring session will run from April 26 – June 8 and a fall meet will extend from Sept. 13 – Oct. 26. Dates for both campaigns were formally approved by the Virginia Racing Commission at its Feb. 14 meeting.

The track will conduct racing every Saturday and Sunday at 1:05 p.m. this year with three exceptions – Kentucky Derby Day (May 3), Preakness Day (May 17) and Belmont Day (June 7) – when first post will be 3:05 p.m.

The spring meet drops back two weeks on the calendar this year in order to accommodate simulcasting of all three Triple Crown legs. Previously, the meet wrapped up before the Belmont. On normal race days, wagering is offered on live races only. This year, fans can enjoy full card simulcasting from Churchill, Pimlico and Belmont on those Triple Crown days.

Racing applications for the spring session are due March 1 and are available via the shenandoahdowns.com website under the horsemen header. Peter Szymanski enters year two in his role as director of racing and Karen Fagliarone, who worked at Freehold Raceway for 42 years, takes over as racing secretary. Horsemen that have questions, especially as the application deadline nears, can contact Fagliarone at 732-239-0281 or e-mail her at raceoffice@shenandoahdowns.com.

New this spring is a schedule tweak to the Virginia Breeder's Fund Championship Series. For the last several years, $80,000 title matches in the 2- and 3-year-old pace and trot divisions had been held on closing day of the fall meet in a "Day of Champions" event. During last fall's edition, $720,625 in purse monies were distributed. This year, 3-year-old championships will be held closing weekend of the spring meet – trotters on June 7 and pacers on June 8 – while 2-year-old championships remain on closing weekend of the fall meet, but on separate days, trotters on Oct. 25 and pacers on Oct. 26.

The Virginia Breeder's Fund program has grown substantially in the past few years. In 2015, there were 35 foals registered in the program; in 2023, there were 105 registered.

The first crop of foals in the new Virginia Sired Stakes program – which started with the 2022 breeding season – will compete in a series of $60,000 finals during the fall meet. Prior to establishing this program there were three stallions standing in Virginia. In 2022, 19 stallions stood in the Commonwealth and 79 mares were bred.

Construction of a new 32,500 square foot horse barn on the grounds has begun and once complete, will provide permanent stabling for 148 horses during the meets. Since Shenandoah Downs started hosting races in 2016, stalls and tent canopies have been rented annually and erected prior to each meet – and taken down afterwards – on a pad site behind the paddock that can accommodate up to 190 horses. Several other barn structures – with permanent roofing – have been used as well. The new barn will ensure that all horses who reside in Woodstock the entire meet will have safe and secure housing. The project won't be complete in time for the upcoming spring meet but will be ready in time for the fall meet and the four-day Shenandoah County Fair meet that precedes it.

The Shenandoah Downs barn area will open on Monday (April 21). Additional meet details are at shenandoahdowns.com.

Empire Breeders Classic payments due

Tioga and Vernon Downs would like to remind the stakes-minded participants in racing that Empire Breeders Classic stakes payments are due on March 15.

The Empire Breeders Classic will follow the same format as the past few seasons, raced as a single event with no eliminations. The stake will be split into divisions if more than 10 are declared to race with the purse equally divided and entry fee reduced by the number of divisions.

Payments are due by March 15 to sustain a 3-year-old to race in 2025, nominate a 2-year-old to race in 2026 or nominate a sire standing in New York to make the 2024 foals eligible to the 2027 race.

All details and forms are posted on tiogadowns.com. Questions may be directed to 607-972-5500.
