Charlie May-be not: NJRC upholds Lawless Shadow's Meadowlands Pace victory

by Debbie Little

New Jersey

For about a month and a half, owner Don Tiger's Charlie May reigned as the Meadowlands Pace champ after being reinstated on Feb. 10 in a 15-page decision, by New Jersey Administrative Law Judge (ALJ), Andrew M. Baron.

That initial ALJ decision was pending a final decision by the New Jersey Racing Commission (NJRC), and the NJRC did not agree with Baron.

As with all decisions adjudicated by any ALJ in the state of New Jersey, they are brought before the NJRC and can be accepted, rejected or modified.

At the NJRC's public meeting held on Wednesday (March 23) afternoon at The Meadowlands, the six commissioners voted in favor of a motion from commission chair Pamela J. Clyne to uphold the original racetrack judges' decision over the recommendation of ALJ Baron.

In her motion, Clyne referred to the strong video evidence of Charlie May going off-stride and interfering with other horses as the basis for the racetrack judges' correct decision to disqualify Charlie May on the night of the 2021 Meadowlands Pace.

Tiger was in attendance and took the opportunity to share his thoughts on the decision during the public comment portion of the meeting.

He read examples of how other sports made wrong calls but owned up to their mistakes. He explained that the racetrack judges did not "exhaust any and all measures" in making their decision on Pace night, therefore going against their own rules.

He also said that transparency is important for all major sports and he hoped that one day the Commission would consider that.

This decision does not become final until after the conclusion of a review period.

In a previous edition of HRU, attorney Howard Taylor explained that from his many previous experiences before the NJRC, they never accept the decision of the ALJ if it is contrary to that of their own racetrack judges.

On Feb. 21, Taylor sent a letter to the executive director of the NJRC, Judith Nason, explaining that he was representing Dr. Ian Moore and Frank Cannon, two of the owners of Lawless Shadow, who was declared the winner of the Pace after Charlie May was disqualified.

In the letter, Taylor said his clients were upset that they were never advised that there would be a hearing before ALJ Baron and had they known they would have had a representative present as they have interests in the outcome.

He went on to say that the purpose of his letter was to ask the Commission to “consider rescinding Judge Baron’s ruling for the above reasons and conducting a new administrative hearing affording all who’s rights were affected, the opportunity to participate.”

Taylor sent a subsequent letter to Nason on March 17 which said: “I received your letter dated February 28, 2023, containing a letter reportedly sent to all with an interest in the Appeal filed by Don Tiger in the above matter. My clients who own Lawless Shadow, Frank Cannon and Dr. Ian Moore, strenuously deny ever receiving any such letter.”

The letter went on to ask for documentation that the aforementioned letter was actually sent to any, or all, of the owners with interests.

Obviously, this point is important to the connections of Lawless Shadow since Tiger plans to continue his fight.

“We are definitely going to appeal to the appellate court and we feel very strong [about the case] too,” said Tiger following the NJRC final decision.

Tiger has always believed that it was Southwind Gendry – not Charlie May – that was responsible for causing the chain reaction and that the judges are on the record saying they never even looked at Southwind Gendry.

In a Meadowlands recap from Saturday (March 18), driver Yannick Gingras had just won that night with Southwind Gendry and was quoted saying in part: “My horse struggles a little bit in the last turn. He just slows down a little, that’s why they got close, but once he straightened away, he was good again.”

The quote is interesting when you consider that the incident on Pace night took place late in the far turn.

Hoosier Park begins its 30th season tonight.

Hoosier Park kicks off 30th harness meet tonight

The Anderson, IN oval hopes to continue its strong momentum with a pair of 14-race cards on opening weekend.

by James Platz

Tonight (March 24), Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino will raise the curtain on its 2023 meet. Offering 160 days spanning late March through early December, the Anderson, IN track is conducting its 30th season of harness racing. Rick Moore was on hand when Hoosier Park first opened Sep. 1, 1994. As an employee of Churchill Downs, he was there to assist with launching the state's first pari-mutuel track. Now serving as vice president and general manager of racing, Moore remembers that first race meeting well.

"I still remember what we were racing for," said Moore, who joined the management team 10 days into that first season. "We had $27,000 a night for purse money. I think I'm pretty close when I say that. We were carding six races a night and we were simulcasting five others from Balmoral and Maywood. I think it was a combination of the two.

"Look where we are now. Racing for close to $110,000 of our money a night and throw in breed development money and we're at around $150,000 a night. I think we distributed around $35 million last year between our money and breed development money. Just think about that. I know it's 30 years, but still, we've come a long way."

Over three decades, Hoosier Park and the Indiana product have grown and emerged as serious players in harness racing. Indiana-sired horses have made great strides, competing in the lucrative sires stakes program and outside the state and on the Grand Circuit. The track, meanwhile, has assembled an impressive open stakes program that attracts the sport's top horses annually.

"It wouldn't happen if it wasn't for everybody rowing in the same direction," Moore said. "It's the racing commission, it's the Indiana Standardbred Association, Harrah's Hoosier Park, it's the breeders, everybody involved.

~ Rick Moore

“If everyone doesn’t have the same focus, it doesn’t work. But we do. We’re all in this together. We all want to make harness racing in Indiana the very best there is. It’s something for all of us to be really proud of, where we are today.”

Hoosier Park will play host to the Breeders Crown for a third time later this fall. And while planning is ongoing, Moore’s focus is kicking off the 2023 meet with good momentum. It will help that the pair of opening weekend cards were well-supported by horsepeople at the entry box.

Tonight’s (March 24) program features 14 races, with 121 horses slated to race and seven of the contests attracting nine starters or more. Saturday’s (March 25) card includes 124 starters, with 10 of the 14 races offering nine or more starters. More than half of the horses entered each night have charted lines this season.

“Fourteen on Friday and Saturday night this year,” Moore said. “Almost everyone that entered got in. I say this every year, but nobody believes it more than me: I really believe in momentum. I don’t care what business you’re in, it’s all about momentum. I think getting off to a start where we have 14 strong races on both nights, strong entries, good response from horsemen from many different parts of the country, I think it bodes well for the rest of the meet.”

Last year, the Hoosier Park product generated $117 million in all-sources handle, a nice increase over the $111 million produced in 2021. Moore said the success of 2022 is not attributable to just one item, but several. Australia, for instance, wagered nearly $12 million on the Hoosier Park signal last season. Horse of the Year Bulldog Hanover also competed in Indiana, generating additional interest and wagering on the signal. Another factor is the track’s schedule – racing later into the year – and post times.

“We’re making sure we’re not overlapping other tracks to the extent that you can,” Moore said. “We try to maximize where we place our races. Our three biggest nights, Dan Patch, Caesar’s Trotting Classic and Hoosier Champions Night, were all record handle nights last year. It’s going to be tough going up against those numbers this year, but it’s our intention to beat that.”

This season, racing will begin each night at 6:15 p.m. except for Saturday programs. Beginning April 8, post time each Saturday night will move to 7 p.m.

Moore believes another factor in the track’s success is instant guarantees that are attractive to bettors.

“We probably do more guaranteed pools than anybody,” he said. “When we have a carryover in the Pick-4, Pick-5, Hoosier High-5, we are quick to guarantee that the next pool, and I think that has resulted in quite a bit of increased handle as well. We are big believers in it. We think that is what the gambler is really looking for. They love that carryover money. They like to go after it.”

Hoosier Park and parent Caesar’s Entertainment have completed some facility upgrades leading into the start of live racing, with others still in process. Moore said that $2 million was invested in replacing roofs on 14 barns. Beginning Sunday, the track will begin upgrading the infield video board.

“This infield board has served us well, but it’s 12 years old, and technology changes constantly,” Moore said. “You’re going to see a spectacular new video board.”

Money is also allocated to improve the apron area. Moore said that while plans are not final, the emphasis is on updating the apron so that is more enticing and family friendly.

“We’re just trying to make this the best place for people to come to race and for people to come to watch racing,” Moore said. “We’ve got 160 days of top-notch racing. Nearly nine full months. I don’t know of a better state bred program, and a very competitive one.”

The Enforcer

by Debbie Little

Judge Lou Haskell will start his new job on Friday, March 31, enforcing specific rules that track president/chief executive officer Jeff Gural think are vital to the continued success of The Meadowlands.

Gural believes their work towards eliminating what are commonly known as "courtesy tucks" – among other things – has helped to improve their bottom line.

"We are very pleased by the efforts most of the drivers are making to close the holes and the feedback from customers has been positive and we believe [it] is reflected by our increase in handle," Gural said. "We believe hiring Lou will help us to continue to improve the product."

Courtesy Lou Haskell

Lou Haskell has been hired to enforce The Meadowlands' driving rules.

For Haskell's part, he looks forward to working with the horsepeople at The Meadowlands, many of which he has worked with before in his many years as a judge.

"I wouldn't have taken the job if I didn't believe in what they were doing," Haskell said. "I work for the track. I work for Jeff Gural and there are very specific things that I'm looking at. What I'm doing does not overlap what the [New Jersey Racing] Commission is doing.

"Jeff has things that he doesn't like that are going on, on the racetrack and he'd like to see it done differently. He's the boss. He doesn't want it to happen and we're going to stop it."

As a native of Saratoga Springs, NY, Haskell, 65, grew up at the racetrack and has been around harness racing since he could walk.

"My dad and my uncle owned standardbreds, so I literally spent every weekend on the backstretch at either Saratoga Harness or Vernon Downs," Haskell said. "I was just always passionate about it. I would get that knot in my stomach going through the stable gate. And it was that way my entire life."

As a young boy, it was Haskell's plan to work in harness racing, but his parents aimed him towards a more stable profession, so instead he graduated from the State University of New York (SUNY) Plattsburgh with a degree in marketing.

"And I went out into the business world and I was miserable," Haskell said. "Just miserable. And then by the time I was 30 years old, I started owning racehorses."

At the age of 50, Haskell was diagnosed with cancer for the first time and the prognosis wasn't good.

"It was Hodgkin's lymphoma and it wasn't supposed to have a good outcome, but it did," Haskell said. "And I decided right then and there, enough. I need to do something that I really want to do. You only have one go at this, do what you love."

"I went to the USTA [U.S. Trotting Association] school in Columbus. Took the judge's course. Passed. And the rest is history. And I've been a racing official ever since. It was the greatest thing I ever did. I love the game. I love being a judge. I'm passionate about it. It's just something I really enjoy."

In addition to being USTA licensed, Haskell is also ROAP (Racing Officials Accreditation Program) certified at their top level.

“The first punishment will be a warning and then the second punishment will be the next weekend off. And then we’ll see how it goes. The third part is you’re out, so they’re serious about this. It’s going to happen. It’s going to be enforced and those who are averse to it or who don’t want to play by the rules are just going to have to suffer the consequences.”

~ Lou Haskell

“My accreditation is in standardbred racing and that’s what 98 per cent of my experience is,” Haskell said. “Level one is the highest level you can be. And, of course, it’s based on experience.”

Haskell has worked at several tracks over the years, most recently spending three years at Plainridge Racecourse. His time there was cut short, however, when he received a third cancer diagnosis. He has now battled three different types of cancer and come out on the winning end every time.

He believes he will be the first virtual racing official in the country since his job will not require him to be on site at The Meadowlands.

“The beautiful thing about what I’m going to be doing and working from home [in Florida] is that I have numerous different ways to watch the races,” Haskell said. “Numerous different platforms. So, if I need to look at it again and again and again, I can certainly do that. I’m not restricted by the next race coming right up. So, it’s a win-win I think.”

The four rules that Haskell will be focused on, broken down to their most basic points, are:

- 1 – Courtesy Tucks
- 2 – Half in, Half out
- 3 – Coming off the rail just out of the far turn to let horses go up the inside
- 4 – Drivers leaning too far back in the bike down the backstretch

In races involving 2-year-olds there will be more latitude used when enforcing the “courtesy tuck” rule, however unlike in previous years, the rules will be enforced in stakes races.

The penalties have also gotten stricter.

“The first punishment will be a warning and then the second punishment will be the next weekend off,” Haskell said. “And then we’ll see how it goes. The third part is you’re out, so they’re serious about this.

“It’s going to happen. It’s going to be enforced and those who are averse to it or who don’t want to play by the rules are just going to have to suffer the consequences. I don’t really know what else to say.”

With all that said, Haskell does understand that every race is different, just as every horse’s ability is not the same.

“If a horse can’t keep up and a horse gets in in front of him so be it,” Haskell said. “It’s not about trying to punish anybody. That’s not my goal at all. And that’s not their goal. It’s about evening up the playing field a little bit.

“[Gural] wants the horses coming from behind and the outside horses to have a better chance at coming up from off the pace. I’m pretty sure that’s part of the thought process in all of this. And I think he’ll get that.”

Hall of Famer Wally Hennessey knows Haskell from Pompano Park. And although they didn’t always see eye-to-eye on everything, Hennessey said he has nothing but the utmost respect for Haskell and the job he did.

“I think they made a terrific hire at The Meadowlands,” Hennessey said. “I don’t know where you’d search to find one better. I think Jason [Settlemoir] and Jeff could have searched the world over and not found a better hire.”

Hennessey appreciated the way Haskell dealt with everyone because you always knew where you stood.

“When you have inconsistencies that’s when you run into problems,” Hennessey said. “Why me and not him? But that’s not going to be brought up because it’s going to be everybody.

“I think you’re going to see it’s going to be alright because the guys at The Meadowlands have got to know and they will know that they’re not dealing with a rookie here. He’s somebody who has been there and done that. It’s not like you’re listening to him and you’re saying ‘Well, what would he know?’ Well, he does know.”

For Haskell, fairness and consistency is everything when it comes to enforcing rules.

“They have to be upheld without prejudice for the guy who has one horse or one drive or the guy that drives 5,000 horses or the guy that wins eight races a year or the guy that wins 800 races a year,” Haskell said. “They know who I am, I know who they are. I’m not out to hurt them. I’m not out to hurt anybody. Everybody will be treated exactly the same, regardless of your name, experience or trophies. Everybody has to be treated equally. It’s so very important.”

James MacDonald: Lots to like in New Holland Series finals

by Melissa Keith

The inaugural New Holland Series concludes with finals this Saturday (March 25) night at Woodbine Mohawk Park (WMP), with a $72,000 final for trotters and a $70,500 final for pacers. Preliminary legs for each gait took place this month at the Campbellville, ON, track, providing a local opportunity for non-winners of $150,000 last year.

Nautical Hanover (p, 3, 1:50.3f; $258,404) has been the story of the series so far, sweeping past rivals in well-timed victories March 11 and 18 for driver James MacDonald. He dazzled at WMP on March 3, closing in a sharp :25.3 behind winner Camara Moment and runner-up Backstreet Gambler in 1:52.2s before going into the series.

Owned by Richard Berthiaume of Pointe-Aux-Trembles, QC, the son of Captaintreacherous—Naughty Marietta equaled his lifetime mark at Mohawk, in the first leg of the New Holland Series. He returned to his current home track on Dec. 3, 2022, when the now 4-year-old pacer debuted for trainer Benoit Baillargeon and driver Sylvain Filion, finishing second by a head to Rockme Rollme in nw12000l5cd company.

Nautical Hanover faced the top 3-year-old pacing colts of 2022 in his Adios elimination and final, finishing third and seventh, respectively. He also finished sixth in a Meadowlands Pace elim, third in an MGM Messenger Stake elim at Yonkers and fourth in the Messenger final. Campaigned by Tony Alagna during his stakes seasons at age 2 and 3, Nautical Hanover won just one race as a freshman and three more times the following season, taking a 1:50.3f mark at Harrah's Philadelphia against other male 5-year-old and younger pacers, non-winners of three pari-mutuel races or $38,500 lifetime.

MacDonald said he was pleasantly surprised by Nautical Hanover.

"Honestly, I didn't know what to expect," MacDonald said. "He was flying his last start [for Filion] but it was a different caliber of horses."

"I like [the New Holland Series]. Anytime you try and make the product better I think it helps. It's always fun driving top horses and it's a great way to bring some new ones to the circuit."

~ James MacDonald

The pacer's late speed is an asset, but no guarantee of a series sweep, in MacDonald's estimation.

"Not necessarily," he said. "It's great to have that move in your back pocket, but with more money on the line you have to be very versatile to win these races."

The reigning O'Brien Driver of the Year will also be driving one of the top horses in the New Holland Series final for trotters. Although Locatelli (4, 1:50.4s; $324,562) went inside consecutive pylons on the first turn in a March 6 opening leg, finishing double-lapped at the wire and set back from third to fifth, the beaten 1-2 favorite redeemed himself on March 13. line to MacDonald, the Muscle Hill–Girlie Tough gelding held off a fast-closing Franks Angel for the 1:54.3s win.

Trained by Harry Poulton and owned by Thestable Locatelli Group, Guelph, ON and Hutchison Harness LLC, North Ridgeville, OH, the 5-year-old trotter climbed the class ladder at Mohawk late last season, capturing the Dec. 5 preferred in a perfect pocket trip. The 1:50.4 victory was MacDonald's seventh driving win of that memorable card, plus a new personal best for Locatelli, equaling Mohawk's track record for older male trotters.

Locatelli became a Mohawk regular in December 2021, with MacDonald handling early driving duties. They began 2022 with two victories together in WMP conditioned company.

The gelding began his 3-year-old season with trainer Nancy Takter in the New Jersey Sire Stakes at The Meadowlands, eventually moving to Poulton following a number of break-marred efforts, including the Hambletonian final, in which he ended up tenth, the Earl Beal Jr. Memorial at Pocono, in which he was eighth and then failing to make the Breeders Crown final.

"I think he has a great shot to win," MacDonald said. "The post [nine] will make it more challenging for sure, but he has all the tools to get the job done."

He attributed Locatelli's trouble in the opening leg to the gelding requiring a tightener.

"It was his first start back after a short break," MacDonald said. "I don't think he was right on top of his game. Having another start will help his chances. It's a wide-open race, but I definitely like him."

There is no trotter who stands out like Nautical Hanover has done on the pacing side of the New Holland Series finals. There were four winning trotters on two nights with two preliminary series legs apiece: the Carmen Auciello trainee Itstimetogohome (Doug McNair); the Shawn Steacy trainee Ritson (Scott Young); the Per Engblom trainee Sermon (Bob McClure); and Locatelli.

New Holland Series finals night has something extra for racing fans venturing to the track. The trotting and pacing finals are races 5 and 7 respectively on the Saturday night program. And the first 300 racegoers through the doors will receive a special New Holland collectors cup and a free $2 wagering voucher, courtesy of sponsor New Holland, the agricultural equipment and farm machinery manufacturer. The company will also have an equipment exhibit set up to check out and photograph at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

MacDonald said the late-closing series is a nice addition to the early season lineup at WMP.

"I like it. Anytime you try and make the product better I think it helps," he said. "It's always fun driving top horses and it's a great way to bring some new ones to the circuit."

Note: Live racing at Woodbine Mohawk Park takes a short break after Saturday, March 25, resuming on Saturday, April 1 with a special 6 p.m. post time.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Good advice has taught Lauren Harmon to be patient

by Chris Lomon

Lauren Harmon knows first-hand that a little change can make a world of difference.

Her career is in its early stages, but the 22-year-old owner/trainer/driver from Jackson, MI, has already shown a penchant for making wise decisions, whether her own, or acting on the advice of others.

Emerald Chip is the perfect example.

It was around two-and-a-half years ago when the third-generation horseperson was looking to buy a horse, specifically, a trotter.

Her father, long-time driver and trainer, Don Harmon, felt he had found an ideal one in Emerald Chip, a gelded son of Chip Chip Hooray, who had plenty of miles and success on his resume.

"I had a horse before and I fell in love with him too, but unfortunately, he wasn't able to race anymore," Harmon said. "My dad told me about this trotter that he thought I would like. At Northfield, we always have an amateur driving series and it's always a trot. I was looking and looking and couldn't find a trotter worth buying. My dad kept on telling me, 'You need to buy this horse.' He felt he was an easy horse to drive and an easy horse to get along with. Luckily, the guy who trained and owned the horse let me drive him the first two starts before I decided to buy him. And my dad was right. He was easy to drive and a nice horse to be around, so I bought him. Ever since that night, I've fallen in love with him."

The pair enjoyed immediate success on the racetrack, including five-straight top-four finishes to kick-off their partnership.

On Nov. 13, 2021, in an amateur race at Northfield Park, the duo posted a one-length score in 1:56.3.

While things went smoothly, for the most part, in the coming months, a certain trend began to emerge that left Harmon scratching her head before she began tinkering with Emerald Chip's equipment.

Lauren Harmon in action.

"He got to a point where he started making breaks, not often, but it seemed he did every time he had the rail," Harmon said. "I made an equipment change and talked to my dad about it. He said that he thought it was the right thing to do. It worked out, but it didn't work on the rail. We were trying to figure out if it was me doing something to cause it or if it was him. We couldn't seem to figure it out. I kept racking my brain, thinking of what I could do differently when he draws the rail. My dad said, 'Why don't you take everything off him?' He had an open bridle and I had a Murphy on him, so my dad suggested to take it all off. He thought that maybe he couldn't see the other horses, so I should race him without it."

Although she trusted her father implicitly, Harmon, whose grandfather, Reid Harmon, owned, trained and drove standardbreds, wasn't sure if the new approach would work.

"I always want to keep an open mind and not be resistant to change," Harmon said. "Still, I was sweating bullets as soon as we got on the track the next time when he had the rail. I thought, 'What are we going to do? How is this going to pan out?' He stayed flat and we ended up winning that night. It was great to win, but even more knowing that you don't always have to approach things with one set plan."

“The biggest thing my dad preached to me was patience. Whenever I race a horse, whether they are up or down in class, you have to prepare them the right way and drive them the right way, as an individual. If you happen to get stuck with an outside post, more often than not, you stick to the rail. If everyone is pulling, maybe you sneak up the rail and win or at least hit the board. I learn something new every day and that’s important. I always want to be open to that. You also have to be willing to make changes that might seem outside your comfort zone.”

~ Lauren Harmon

It’s an outlook that has served her well.

Shortly after turning 18, Harmon earned her driver’s/trainer’s license in August of 2018.

When she’s not teaming with Emerald Chip, Harmon and her father are tending to the string of horses races at Northfield Park. TheStable.ca is a fractional ownership stable serving over 900 clients. It was established in 2016 by Anthony MacDonald and his wife Amy.

Life in racing, Harmon said, is almost always busy, but also rewarding.

Having her father (he recently had a hip replacement), who raced all over the U.S. and posted over 3,900 career driving wins and 938 as a trainer, along for the ride, has been a treasured opportunity for Harmon.

“Right now, it feels like I’m getting to where I want to be,” she said. “I have 60-plus here at Northfield that I’m grooming for Anthony, so it’s a really good time for us. My stepmom left her horse, Poof Daddy, with us too. I’ve had a lot of fun driving him. He’s like my horse when it comes to driving. He’s a pacer, but he’s very easy to work with. I’ve had the chance to drive him in overnights and go up against pro drivers and to be able to do well against them is a great feeling.”

So, too, is in knowing she ended up in a fulfilling career.

“I think it just kind of happened,” Harmon said. “I trained my first horse in the bike with my dad when I was 16. I really enjoyed it and I knew then that I wanted to drive horses. I didn’t think it would turn into a career, but it just kind of happened that way.”

Perhaps the biggest highlight to date came during the week of one of the biggest events on the standardbred racing calendar.

Despite the enormity and pressure of the moment, Harmon rose to the occasion.

“It was quite the accomplishment to get to drive for my boss, Anthony MacDonald, at the fair in Delaware, OH, during Jug week,” Harmon said. “There were three divisions, two on Sunday and one on Thursday, Jug Day and I won with his horse, Walkonthemoon, in one division on Sunday and I drove my own horse in another division. We had a lot of road trouble in that race, but it was still awesome to put my own horse in at Delaware. I had four drives the week of Delaware and that was amazing. I came back and won the final on Jug Day with Anthony’s horse.”

And she did it by leaning on the words of her father, who taught her early on that in order to find success in life on and off the racetrack, a patient hand and willingness to learn can combine to produce a winning formula.

It’s something Harmon thinks of often when the starter calls the field to line up behind the gate.

“The biggest thing my dad preached to me was patience,” Harmon said. “Whenever I race a horse, whether they are up or down in class, you have to prepare them the right way and drive them the right way, as an individual. If you happen to get stuck with an outside post, more often than not, you stick to the rail. If everyone is pulling, maybe you sneak up the rail and win or at least hit the board. I learn something new every day and that’s important. I always want to be open to that. You also have to be willing to make changes that might seem outside your comfort zone.”

Personal objectives, for Harmon, are kept simple.

“I don’t really set a particular goal,” she said. “I want to learn more and try to do better than I did the year before. I want to keep taking those small steps forward.”

No doubt she’ll like where she’s headed.

MGM Borgata Pacing Series gets underway at Yonkers

by Yonkers Raceway

Lochinvar Art A, Hellabalou, Leonidas A, and Idealsomemagic A emerged victorious from the four $50,000 divisions of the opening round of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series for free-for-allers on Monday night (March 20) at MGM Yonkers Raceway.

Driver Lauren Tritton hustled Lochinvar Art A away quickly from post five in the first division and cleared Soaring Now (Andy McCarthy) well before the :28.3 opening quarter. From there, Lochinvar Art A didn't face any outside pressure through a :57.2 half and a 1:25.1 three-quarters.

Lochinvar Art A sprinted home in :27.3 to win by three lengths in 1:52.4. Rockin Withelvis A (David Miller), who was sent first-up from fourth before three-quarters, was able to get by the pocket-sitting Soaring Now late in the mile to finish second. Bad Tothe Bone N (Jason Bartlett) and Dean B Hanover (Jordan Stratton) completed the top five.

Trained by Shane Tritton for owner Team Tritton Inc., Lochinvar Art A, who has now been victorious in all four of his U.S. appearances, is an 8-year-old Modern Art stallion. This was his 32nd career win and he has now earned $1,091,318.

He paid $2.30 to win as the 1-9 favorite. The exacta was worth $7.70 and the trifecta kicked back $20.40.

In the second division, Hellabalou (Yannick Gingras) set up shop on the point from the pole position and carved out a :27.1 opening quarter and a :56 second half with even-money favorite Jimmy Freight (Scott Zeron) in the pocket. After tucking in fourth from post seven, Anothrmastrpiece N (Bartlett) went on the march first-over as the field went under the wire for the first time and advanced into second as Hellabalou tripped three-quarters in 1:24.2.

Anothrmastrpiece N continued to pester Hellabalou on the rim on the final bend and into the lane, but Hellabalou put him away for good early in the stretch and then was able to keep a pylon-skimming Jimmy Freight at bay as well, prevailing by a neck in 1:52.1. Backstreet Shadow (Matt Kakaley) finished full of pace from third-over to finish third, followed by Belmont Royale N (Miller) and Anothrmastrpiece N.

The Adios champion from two years ago, Hellabalou, a 5-year-old stallion by Sweet Lou, is trained by Ron Burke for owners

Mike Lizzi

Idealsomemagic A (Jordan Stratton) won the fastest MGM Borgata Pacing Series division on Monday, with a XXXXX score. It was the first leg of the series.

Burke Racing Stable LLC., Eric Good, Weaver Brussemi LLC. and Larry Karr. Hellabalou is now a 19-time winner and has pocketed $556,654. Sent off as the 3-1 third choice, Hellabalou returned $8.20 to win and led a $20.40 exacta and a $45.00 trifecta.

Leonidas A (Austin Siegelman), the runner-up in the MGM Borgata Pacing Series final in 2022, pulled off a 10-1 upset from first-over in the third division. Tattoo Artist (Dexter Dunn), the 1-5 favorite, led through opening-half stations of :27.4 and :56.4 while Leonidas A, who was able to find a spot in fourth after floating out from post seven, tested the waters uncovered prior to the half.

Tattoo Artist maintained command through a 1:24.2 three-quarters and around the last turn, but he came up empty in the stretch as Leonidas A put him away and struck the front. From there, Leonidas A went on to score by half a length over Priceless Beach (Miller), who tracked the victor from second-over. Defending MGM Borgata Pacing Series champion Funatthebeach N (Stratton) grabbed third from third-over, with American Dealer N (Joe Bongiorno) fourth and None Bettor A (Kakaley) fifth.

Matthew Medeiros trains Leonidas A, an 8-year-old Mach Three gelding, for owner Jesmeral Stable. Leonidas A now has 47 career victories, a bankroll of $943,007 and he paid $23.00. The exacta and trifecta payouts were $143.50 and $772.00, respectively.

Monday night's last MGM Borgata Pacing Series showdown saw former MGM Grand Messenger Stakes champion American Courage (Kakaley) tip out of third before the :27.1 quarter and take command from Semi Tough (Gingras) beyond that marker. American Courage stayed in front through a :56.1 half and a 1:24.2 three-quarters as Nandolo N (Bartlett) moved first-over into second, with Idealsomemagic A (Stratton) following him second-over.

American Courage was still clear around the last turn and into the stretch, but Stratton cut Idealsomemagic A loose three-wide and once he saw clear racetrack, Idealsomemagic A powered home, catching American Courage and defeating him by half a length in 1:52 flat. Covered Bridge (Tyler Buter) got up for third at 31-1, Nandolo N held on for a fourth-place result and Hemsworth N (Miller) advanced from eighth at the half to fifth at the wire.

VIP Internet Stable LLC. and Bukers Stable own the Cory Stratton-trained Idealsomemagic A, a 9-year-old gelded son of American Ideal. Idealsomemagic A, who returned $8.20 to win and was atop a $35.40 exacta and a $585.00 trifecta, has compiled a record of 19-18-8 from 91 lifetime tries and he has now put away $217,566.

The MGM Borgata Pacing Series continues for four more weeks before a $200,000-added final estimated to boost the purse to $500,000 on April 24. That card will also include the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series final and consolation events for both races.

MGM Yonkers Raceway will also offer the MGM Borgata Pacing Series champion a win-and-you're-in opportunity to both the $200,000 Battle of Lake Erie at MGM Northfield Park on June 10 and the $200,000 MGM Aria Pace at Yonkers on MGM Yonkers International Trot Day (Sep. 23).

The Pick-5 pool at MGM Yonkers Raceway will be seeded with $10,000 and also have a guaranteed pool of $25,000. This initiative, which started on Thursday (March 23), will continue on Thursdays into April and is being offered in partnership with the Standardbred Owners Association of New York as part of the United States Trotting Association's Strategic Wagering Program.

Stakes action will resume at MGM Yonkers Raceway on tonight's (March 24) 11-race program with four $40,000 sections (races two, four, six and eight) of the second leg of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series for pacing mares. Leg one winners Amazing Dream N and Drama Act face off in race eight and the other first round victor, Karma Seelster, competes in race six.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday through Friday live racing schedule with post time at 7 p.m. (EST).

Boyd and 'Lucky' aim for Grand win

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Braxten Boyd and Lucky Artist A came a head short of collecting their first Grand Circuit victories in last week's opening round of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series, but the driver and mare will get another chance tonight (March 24) as the six-week event for older female pacers continues at MGM Yonkers Raceway.

Lucky Artist A and Boyd will start from post four in a field of six in the second of tonight's four $40,000 Matchmaker divisions. Lucky Artist A is 5-2 on the morning line, the second choice behind Gia's Surreal at 2-1.

"It's exciting to be able to drive this mare in this series," said Boyd, who has appeared in a handful of Grand Circuit events during his budding career, but almost entirely with longshots. "I've gotten some checks, but I've never had a chance like I do in this one. She's a legitimate horse."

Boyd, who turned 23 on March 8, is coming off a 2022 campaign that saw him set career highs for starts with 2,245, wins with 270 and purses with $3.96 million, which more than doubled his previous best in the money column. He entered Wednesday with 617 lifetime triumphs, including several in state-bred stakes.

"I've got to keep putting my time in, but you always want to latch on to a real good horse," said Boyd, who put more than 90,000 miles on his car last year as he competed up and down the East Coast, from New York to Florida. "You're always trying to improve. It's a grind, but it's better to be busy than not. It's been good."

Boyd began driving Lucky Artist A for trainer Ricky Bucci in October. The two have clicked, with five wins and five seconds in 14 races together. Three of the wins and three of the seconds, came in the open handicap for female pacers at Yonkers.

"Right from the get-go, I loved her," Boyd said. "She's a tough gritty mare and she will race any way you want. She can literally do anything. She can race from the back, she can cut it, come first over, come out of a hole very hard, she can grind; she's not anything specific.

"She's not super fast off the starting gate, but she'll get there and she'll do anything you want. She's a very nice mare."

Australian-bred Lucky Artist, a 10-year-old daughter of Artistic Fella—Corella Magic, has won 24 of 106 races and earned $421,966 since arriving in the U.S. from Down Under in 2019. Overall, she has captured 35 of 159 starts and banked $468,184.

In last week's Matchmaker opener, Lucky Artist A got away fourth in an eight-horse field, moved second over at the half and battled down the stretch to finish second to Karma Seelster in 1:52.4.

"She just got outpaced a little bit, but she raced very well," Boyd said. "She's been in very good form."

"She's got a good foundation under her right now. Ricky did the smart thing and gave her the week off before the series. Hopefully, we can accumulate enough points that he can pick a spot (to take a week off during the series)."

The top-eight horses at the completion of the series' five preliminary legs are eligible to advance to the Blue Chip Matchmaker final on April 24 at Yonkers. Horses receive 50 points for winning, 25 for second, 12 for third, eight for fourth and five for fifth. In addition, all starters in each round receive 25 points.

Joining Karma Seelster in the win column last week were Drama Act and Amazing Dream N.

Six-year-old Karma Seelster is the 3-1 second choice behind Racine Bell at 7-5 in the third of tonight's four divisions. Drama Act, a 6-year-old who is the Matchmaker's defending champion, is the 9-5 choice over 7-year-old Amazing Dream N at 5-2 in the fourth division.

The 2-1 favorite in the first division is 6-year-old Mabalene N, who was scratched sick from last week's first round.

Another newcomer to the series this week is 5-year-old Hot Mess Express, a multiple winner on the Grand Circuit who is making her seasonal debut.

Racing begins at 7 p.m. EDT at Yonkers. For free TrackMaster past performances, visit the Standardbred Owners Association of New York website here.

The 2023 HHYF summer schedule now available

The Harness Horse Youth Foundation (HHYF) horses have been delivered to their 2023 conditioners: CD's Miss M to the Ross Leonard Stable, I Want Another to the Hank LeVan Stable, Royal Attire to the Ryan Miller Stable and Ima's Hit to Vicky Rouch. Many thanks to these generous volunteers for their time and energy in getting the stable fit for a busy summer.

Speaking of HHYF summer, as usual, the schedule is packed full of a variety of programs and many locations. With stops in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Maine (tentatively) and New Jersey: so much education, excitement and increased awareness for harness racing is anticipated.

"HHYF summers are important to the industry" HHYF executive director Ellen Taylor said. "Not only do our events create invigorating energy from new horse-loving participants but the potential to increase awareness for harness racing venues close to our camp locations stimulates even the hardened trainer to take in a breath of fresh air when he/she sees the kids having fun and learning."

Spoiler alert: HHYF's first stop will actually be at Shenandoah Downs on April 29 so technically HHYF is now offering spring programs in addition to the regular months of June/July/August.

Many thanks to those who help make the HHYF programs possible. To date, those who have generously donated include the U.S. Trotting Association, Ohio Harness Horsemen's Association, Lindy Farms, Meadows Standardbred Owners Association, VA Equine Alliance, The New Meadowlands/Vernon Downs/Tioga Downs, Martin Granoff, Brittany Farms, Cameo Hills Farm, Fair Island Farm, Hambletonian Society, Chris McErlean, Pinske Stables, Joe Holloway Stable, Pacesetter Farm and Jim and Georgia Simpson. HHYF continues to seek funding for the programs. Please contact the HHYF office by mid-May if you are interested in contributing to these important initiatives to help ensure harness racing's future.

Please visit hhyf.org/summer-programs/ for complete list of all HHYF events including those requiring pre-registration. The horses and staff are looking forward to seeing YOU at a HHYF event this summer.

Big M the Saturday place to be

Even when things haven't been as rosy as they currently are at The Meadowlands, it's always been a destination for some of the best — if not the best — harness racing in North America.

These days, the business of betting on the No. 1 harness product in the world is booming at the mile oval.

Wagering at The Meadowlands has been through the roof since the start of 2023, as there have been 21 Friday and Saturday night programs conducted this year with every one seeing wagering exceed $3 million.

Last weekend, all-source betting totaled $3,250,074 on Friday (March 17) before $3,643,854 was put in play Saturday (March 18), putting the weekend's total approximately $100,000 short of $7 million.

FILLING THE BOX: "As long as we can continue to get strong support at the entry box by our horsemen," said the Meadowlands chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemyre, "we can offer large fields, which, in turn, will keep The Big M No. 1 in the nighttime horse racing — be it harness or Thoroughbred — marketplace. Another huge factor in our success has been our driver colony — the best in the world — adhering to the "no tuck" rule here at The Meadowlands. Instead of slow, uncontested fractions, we get non-stop action, which leads to far more contentious racing, which our fan base loves."

Friday will offer a 14-race card with 132 horses, an average field size of 9.42, while Saturday's 14 dashes will have 128 horses, for an average field size of 9.14.

"We have been working with the drivers toward more exciting, less predictable racing," said track president/chief executive officer Jeff Gural, "and the increased handle this year shows that it is working. I'm hopeful that they will continue to cooperate in the best interest of our on-track product."

HASKELL COMING ABOARD: Judge Lou Haskell, 65, will join The Meadowlands team next week as the track continues to improve the product in anticipation of the national television exposure that lies ahead with eight shows on Fox Sports Network outlets that get underway on April 29.

Last year, the shows on FS1 and FS2 were shown to a Thoroughbred-centric audience, and Haskell will be part of the team to continue to oversee a harness product some viewers may not be familiar with can be as exciting as the runners in the hope of creating "crossover" fans.

SCORES GALORE: Last Friday's notable Big M payouts included the 20-cent Survivor Pick-7 ($3,736), Early 10-cent Hi-5 ($2,064), 20-cent Pick-6 ($1,584) and Late 10-cent Hi-5 ($2,950).

On Saturday, the Survivor returned $5,568 while the 20-cent Pick-5 paid off $1,181.

SAVE THE MONEY FOR WAGERING: As always, free past performances for every race of every Meadowlands card are available by going to playmeadowlands.com.

CHECK OUT THE SHOW: The live "Racing from The Meadowlands" simulcast show takes place every racing night, live from the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set, with news, notes, selections and commentary on the night's featured races.

Join The Big M's team of Dave Little and Jessica Otten beginning at 5:45 p.m. immediately after track announcer Ken Warkentin gives out program changes. During the night, Edison Hatter will have interviews from the back paddock as well as providing commentary for FanDuel TV's coverage of the races.

This weekend, live action will take place on the usual Friday and Saturday night schedule with a first-race post time of 6:20 p.m.

TWEET US: Everything Meadowlands is available by going on Twitter. You can check in with the Big M team for early changes, racing information and staff selections by going to @themeadowlands or #playbigm.

On race nights, stay in touch with Otten (@JessicaOtten1), Little (@DaveLittleBigM), Warkentin (@kenvoiceover) and Hatter (@Edison_1999_).

THE SENSATIONAL SEVEN: These are the seven wagers The Big M offers nightly to the bettor that offer both a low minimum wager as well as a low 15 percent takeout. In addition, the two Pick-4s offer a guaranteed pool of $50,000.

The list:

- Race 1: 20-cent Pick-5
- Race 3: 20-cent Survivor Pick-7
- Race 6: Early 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 guaranteed pool)
- Race 7: Early 10-cent Hi-5
- Race 8: 20-cent Pick-6
- Race 10: Late 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 guaranteed pool)
- Race 14: Late 10-cent Hi-5

HATTER'S RACE REVIEWS: Race reviews and selections by The Meadowlands' morning-line odds maker, program analyst and TV talent Hatter are available 48 hours before a given race card. To access this valuable information from one of the brightest young minds in the sport, simply go to playmeadowlands.com, go to the “handicapping” tab, then click “race reviews”.

THE RACES KEEP ON COMING: Live racing at The Meadowlands will take place every Friday and Saturday for the next 20 consecutive weeks. Post time is 6:20 p.m., except for the last day of the meeting, Hambletonian Day, Saturday, Aug. 5, when the first race heads to the gate at noon.
