With pro drivers required to commit to The Big M, is carding four amateur races beyond the pale?

The pros and cons of the GSY.

by Debbie Little

Since having full fields and being well bet can in no way, shape, or form be considered to be a negative, maybe a lot of it is about the "A" word.

"Amateur" can have a stigma connected to it since most consider the definition to be incompetent or inept, rather than someone being unpaid.

The GSY amateur races have become a regular selection on The Meadowlands' Friday night menu.

Although not everyone's cup of tea, the races have been consumed in a big way at the windows.

But a week ago Tuesday, when the Friday (March 25) draw showed four GSY races, a discussion started on Twitter.

The original post basically questioned why the track would mandate the best drivers in the world to compete in March only to have four races given away to a bunch of amateurs.

It's unclear if it's the amateurs, the mandate or the combination of the two that is unappealing to the author of the tweet, but the majority of the replies were focused on the GSY. One said these races are a black eye to a prestigious track, another refuses to bet amateurs and thinks they belong at a fair track, while another likened them to the New York Knicks taking people out of the stands to play for a quarter.

When asked to explain the point of these races, the author of the original tweet wrote "They always have full fields and people bet them hard. Pretty much that's it."

GSY member Tony Verruso, the 2021 Amateur Driver of the Year, tries to take the tweets in stride.

"Of course it bothers you when somebody makes an off comment about what you do, but I don't take it to heart," said Verruso. "If you don't like it, don't bet it. What's the big deal? Obviously, other people do because it's getting bet."

"Somebody said to me 'How can you be an amateur, you've won so many races?' I said, amateur doesn't mean novice. There's a difference. Most of us have been racing for 20 years."

Perhaps it's as simple as the number of amateur races is too many for some.

"Four races is a lot of races, but they've also done this all winter long, so this is nothing new," said pro driver Scott Zeron. "I honestly think it's a great outlet and I hope more people get interested in it. It's super fun and it gets those guys to buy horses, too."

In September, November and December of 2021, the GSY averaged slightly over three races per card on the 12 nights that they competed.

In January and February of 2022, they only had two races per night, but since the beginning of March, they've been at three until last week, when they went to four.

"If I had 300 [entries] in the box for a double draw, I wouldn't have to be going three or four divisions of amateurs," said Meadowlands' race secretary Scott Warren. "And the GSY has been there through thick and thin. There've been 16 different drivers win in the GSY this year so far and they bring people to the track when they're racing."

"It'd be different if we were putting them on the track and they weren't betting any money, but they are betting money on those races."

This week, Warren had 256 in the box, up 30 over the corresponding weekend from last year and five more than last week. But with Harrah's Philadelphia opening on April 3, it's only going to get harder to fill races.

One of the things that make the GSY races attractive to bettors is full fields. Warren has acknowledged that the track handles more on a full field of bottom level horses than on a short field of good ones.

ON ITS WAY TO BECOMING THE NO. 1 SOURCE OF SUCCESSFUL ONLINE SALES

“One of the reasons I started the club was to get people to put skin in the game, to get new people to invest in horses,” said Yarock. “And I’ve always had as one of our conditions, an owner/driver preference.”

“The one week that we had [GSY] races one, three and five was the night that gave us the Pick-5 carryover for the Saturday night because they were part of the longshots,” said Warren.

GSY’s Cote Keim won at 60-1 and was a major factor in the only Pick-5 carryover of the year, a pool that swelled to well over $300,000 the following night.

The Friday night that Warren referred to was on March 11, where the three GSY 10-horse fields saw $737,604 bet, good for an average of more than $245,000 per race. To put that into some perspective, when the average per race is $245,000 for a 13-race card, the total handle is $3.1 million.

Some also think that trying to pick the winner of a GSY race is simply blind luck, but when you consider the favorite wins a third of the time, it’s not like you’re randomly throwing darts at a board.

In contrast, the favorite overall at The Meadowlands wins 40 per cent of the time, a number that would certainly be higher if the GSY were not part of it.

It was alluded to on Twitter that one of the reasons that the GSY gets full fields is that their purses are much higher.

The purses on the GSY races are somewhat higher than they would be if those same horses were racing for the pros, but that’s not why those races fill.

What is apparently lost on many is that most of the horses entered in these races are owned, trained or both, by amateur drivers.

When Dave Yarock founded the GSY, he wanted the club to be different and didn’t want them to just be an amateur field of catch drivers.

“One of the reasons I started the club was to get people to put skin in the game, to get new people to invest in horses,” said Yarock. “And I’ve always had as one of our conditions, an owner/driver preference.”

It’s also been suggested that if the amateurs weren’t around, that their four fields would just switch over to the pros, but that is incorrect.

In fact, Warren has made it clear on more than one occasion that without the amateurs, he might get one additional race for the pros, but it would be a struggle to fill the rest of the card.

“If there weren’t any amateur clubs, I wouldn’t own four race horses,” said Verruso. “So, if you don’t think that helps the game somehow, then you’re not paying attention.”

Yarock agrees with Verruso.

“If it wasn’t for the amateurs, I wouldn’t be in the business,” said Yarock. “I would not have other horses. I would not own a farm. A lot of the guys that come for the amateurs bring horses for the overnights, so we’re adding into the other pool as well.

“We do a good job. We fill our races. We have good competitive races. We have a good handle and we bring a lot to the industry. We’re one of the biggest growth areas of the sport.”

Professional owner, trainer and driver Stacy Chiodo understands what it’s like to kill time in the drivers’ room while the GSY is on the track, but her perspective is unique since her husband, Bruno, competes in the GSY at The Meadowlands.

“I do see both sides and it comes down to drivers starts for the pros and it comes down to handle for the racetrack,” said Chiodo.

One of Chiodo’s partners has been talking to her lately about getting a license to drive with the amateurs.

“Back in the day at Garden State Park, he got to do something in a [double-seated] cart,” said Chiodo. “And he said it was the most amazing thing he ever did and that was the thing that got him to want to buy a standardbred.”

Meadowlands’ chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemyer thinks the GSY style of driving brings back a piece of The Meadowlands past.

“The amateur races look similar to The Meadowlands races in the 1970s and 80s with contentious early fractions that led to more horses being able to close from the back and have a chance to win,” said Settlemyer. “I understand the drivers’ point of view, obviously, but at the end of the day we need the trainers and owners to support the box here at The Meadowlands to be able to put on all the races that we do.

“Just like everything else, we get positive and negative [feedback about the GSY], but I would say it’s more positive than negative at this point.”

Ultimately, all the back and forth on Twitter boils down to this: Do the pros want to sit out for four races? No. Is GSY to blame? Also, No.

“Bottom line is, the track is looking out for the best product and their handle and if that’s what they need to do by including the amateurs in the early double and in the early races on the card to get the handle then that’s what they’re going to do,” said Chiodo. “And if that fails, nobody has a job. So, to me, suck it up. If you’ve got to be there until 11, 11:30 at night, that’s what you decided to do for a living. We don’t work 9 to 5. I’m sorry. That’s part of the lifestyle that all of us chose because of the passion that we have for this business.

“Everybody wants to bitch about the post drags. I can’t stand them. It makes us get home an hour later, but if that brings in more money to the racetrack, so be it. It’s going to keep me employed for years to come.”

Scioto Downs' grandstand razed, but will rise again

The historic grandstand at 'Ohio's Showplace of Racing' in Columbus will be replaced by a new $20 million open-air structure.

by Jay Wolf

When Eldorado Scioto Downs opens its 2022 race meet in mid-May, its iconic and once critically-acclaimed grandstand will be a thing of the past and a new $20 million, 30,000 square foot grandstand will be under construction.

To make way for the new facility, the existing grandstand is being torn down after the 63-year-old structure was closed to patrons in early 2017 after a building inspector concluded that the grandstand was unsound.

"Everything is on schedule," said Jason Roth, Scioto Downs' director of racing. "This was supposed to be an eight-week tear down and we are week six right now."

The new grandstand will remain open-air and will feature 768 stadium seats, 280 terrace and apron seats and two VIP suites that will accommodate an additional 130 guests. The current clubhouse and race book will remain unchanged and will be open during the construction.

"The plan is to start construction in May. They will work throughout the meet and we should have the new grandstand open for next May," said Roth.

"They are actually using the concrete of the old grandstand as backfill for the new grandstand – crushing it into number two stone."

Scioto Downs operates a live webcam (watch here) to allow horseman and patrons follow along with the demolition and eventual construction progress.

Live racing is scheduled to resume at the South High Street oval on May 12 with a Tuesday through Saturday race week with a 3:15 p.m. post time.

The mid-afternoon start time is required since the home stretch will be without its current lighting system.

Roth also noted that the judges and photo finish will be housed in temporary quarters in the current winner's circle area.

Scioto Downs has a long-history at its south Columbus site.

It was Charlie Hill's dream to build a state-of-the art track to replace the aged Hilliard Raceway, the site of the current Franklin County Fairgrounds.

The location was selected prior to the Columbus outer belt was constructed that would eventually be just a couple of miles north of the facility and make getting to the track an easy trek.

Hill broke ground on his $3 million, 140-acre dream facility in September 1958 with an ambitious goal of having it ready for a summer 1959 meet. A cold, wet winter caused construction delays, pushing the inaugural Scioto Downs to the fall.

The original 2,700 seat grandstand featured a 'tilted thin-shell' concrete roof supported by 'hyperbolic paraboloids (shaped like inverted umbrellas).' The curvature allowed the use of 'inches thin' concrete to provide strength.

The grandstand was comprised of five prefabricated concrete shells. Each shell was 120 feet long by 60 feet wide. Nearly 9,000 cubic yards of ready-mixed concrete and 40,000 concrete masonry units were used to construct the grandstand and clubhouse.

Columbus based Kellam & Foley were the construction architects and the Sheaf Construction Company was the general contractor.

The Scioto Downs grandstand was nominated by the American Society of Civil Engineers as one of America's 12 'outstanding civil engineering achievements of 1959' – eventually finishing second to the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

The Portland Cement Association, 'a national organization to promote and improve the use of concrete,' promoted the futuristic design by taking out media ads showing the structure and citing low upkeep costs and its 'maintenance free' benefits.

Scioto Downs was used for several other non-harness racing events, including concerts, flat-track motorcycle racing and was the host of the Ohio High School Cross Country championships for 26 years.

Long time patrons eagerly await and current Eldorado Scioto Downs' management looks forward to the upcoming race meet and bringing Scioto Downs back as 'Ohio's Showplace of Racing.'

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Courtney Brooks cherishes every training victory she collects

by Chris Lomon

Her winner's circle look has changed over time, but the feeling of posing for a post-race photo is very much the same for Courtney Brooks.

When the bay pacer Redwood Again went postward on the night of Oct. 9, 2019, his trainer was battling butterflies as the field picked up speed and then was sent on their way in race eight at Rosecroft Raceway in Oxon Hill, MD.

Brooks, in search of her first training win, felt her stress level climb as she watched intently as the son of Dragon Again, who she also owns, was sent to the front by Frank Milby.

Holding a half-length advantage at the stretch call, Redwood Again and Milby went to work, determined to hold sway.

At the wire, the pair was a half-length the best, stopping the teletimer in 1:54.4, including a final quarter paced in :28.4.

For Brooks, the milestone victory brought out a torrent of emotions.

The performance and the high praise helped make for an interesting look in the winner's circle.

"In the picture, I look stunned. I could not believe I had gotten my first official training win. I wasn't just an owner any more. I was a trainer. I was over the moon," she said.

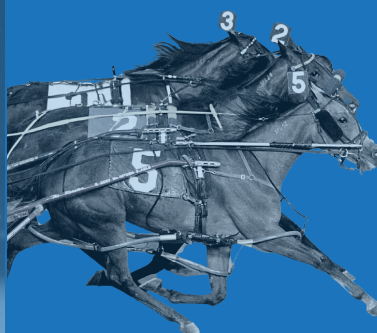

While she now manages to sport a look of sheer joy over stark surprise, the feeling of winning is the same as it's ever been.

Brooks cherishes every victory she collects.

"You still get very excited for each one and I love that last quarter, when you see your horse in front or gaining. I still get butterflies every time. I still get nervous. But when you watch that horse cross the line first, it's one of the most special feelings you can have. Just being around the horses, watching them give everything they have, they truly are amazing athletes."

Brooks would certainly know.

The native of Price, MD, comes from a harness racing family. Her grandfather is Eddie Gannon, her uncle is Jay Gannon, and her father is Wayne Young.

Her love of racing and the horses came at an early age.

"My grandparents got into the business, so my whole family has been it. Growing up, I always did the stalls and the buckets during the summer or days off. In 2015, we purchased the family farm and one of our boarders had a horse, Philly Fanatic. He was going to turn her out for the summer because he was so busy painting. I asked if he would lease her out to myself and my cousin, MacKenzie Kiel. We leased her for the summer. We had a pretty good summer. And I thought, 'You know what? I really would like to do this.' So, in October of that same year, I bought Redwood Again, and it's been great ever since. After that first night at the track, I came home, and I knew this was it for me."

She quickly understood the nature of the business, that there would be highs and lows, long hours, big wins and tough defeats. None of it fazed Brooks, who has found the perfect harmony between being a realist and an optimist.

"You know not to count on winning all the time because it just won't happen. The next day is going to come and you're still going to have to do the work whether you win or lose. But I've been very lucky. I've had good, well-mannered horses, so they've almost made it too easy for me. They've all had wonderful manners and they never give me any problems."

Precision Blue Chip is an ideal example.

The stall next to Redwood Again at Windswept Farm where Brooks does her training was home to the pacing son of Bettors Delight.

Now 7, the lifetime winner of 28 races and nearly $200,000 in purse earnings came into Brooks' barn after she reached out to the family of the owner who had passed away.

"He has been my one-in-a-million dream horse. I knew 'Chip' was easy-going and very relaxed, very well-mannered. I was able to get him and got a little bit of help from my dad and uncle in getting him straight. He's been amazing for me. He's been Horse of the Meet a couple of times at Rosecroft, and he always tries."

Outside of her busy racing life, Brooks enjoys any opportunity to ride Credishire, a retired trotter she adopted from SRF in New Jersey.

Courtney Brooks and Precision Blue Chip.

Courtesy Courtney Brooks

Now 11, the son of Credit Winner had a brief racing career, posting a second from four lifetime starts, along with $2,115 in earnings.

"I really enjoy riding him. He is an absolute dream riding horse. Nothing fazes him. He's nice and relaxed."

Brooks and her family also have Belted Galloway cows on their farm, which her children show through the 4-H Youth Livestock Program.

One of her children, oldest son Benjamin, has picked up his mother's passion for the horses.

"At the beginning of COVID – I think he was 14 at the time – he could get his schoolwork done in the morning and then come to the barn to help me. He started going to the track and he got his groom license. He would be the fifth generation tied to the sport. He goes to the track when he can, usually during the summer, too."

For the person in charge of the two-horse operation, the feeling of being around the horses hasn't changed much since the days when she helped out her father, grandfather and uncle.

Every moment spent with Redwood Again and Precision Blue Chip is a good one for Brooks.

"They get super excited when I go into the barn, making noise and ready to go out."

It's always a picture-perfect scene for both the horses and their proud owner/trainer.

Etonnant and Vivid Wise As ready for Elitloppet

by Thomas Hedlund

Two new names have been introduced for the 2022 Elitloppet at Solvalla. Last year's runner up, Vivid Wise As (Yankee Glide), bred in Italy and trained by Italian top trainer Alessandro Gocciadoro, will get his chance for revenge in Stockholm on May 29 as he received an invitation from Solvalla on Saturday (March 26) afternoon.

Before that, Criterium de Vitesse winner Etonnant (Timoko), trained by Richard Westerink in France, was invited to this year's Elitloppet. Etonnant has shown great abilities over all kinds of distances as he claimed the 4,000 meter-race Prix de Paris in 2021 and a mile race, the Criterium de Vitesse, in Cagnes-sur-Mer this year.

Title defender in Elitloppet, Don Fanucci Zet (Hard Livin) was the first horse that got an invitation for the big mile race at Solvalla this year.

CANADIAN ELEMENT IN ELITLOPPET 2022?

It's not impossible that Solvalla and the Elitloppet will get acquainted with a Canadian horse this year. Solvalla's sport's general Anders Malmrot has contacted connections to Perfetto, two-time O'Brien Award winner regarding an eventual trip overseas in May.

"Perfetto is an interesting horse for me this year and he was on my list of conceivable trotters already last year. Contact have been made between Solvalla and the connections of the horse and they are interested in coming to Solvalla. It would be a great opportunity for Canadian harness racing to present a competitive horse in Sweden and I really hope that Perfetto races well in the next races to come in Canada," Malmrot told HRU.

Perfetto, a 7-year-old son of Majestic Son, trained and driven by Dagfin Henriksen, could well be the horse representing North America at Solvalla this year.

AMPIA MEDE SM BEST IN PARIS

The French winter meeting recently ended, but Paris track Vincennes has opened its gates again for the spring and there will be some interesting race cards coming ahead of the French harness racing fans.

Fabrice Souloy trained Ampia Mede Sm (Ganymede) for example, is one of the more exciting trotters trained in France. She claimed the $98,875 Prix du Bois de Vincennes on Saturday (March 26) afternoon as she started 25 meters ahead of top gelding Cleangame. Ampia Mede Sm, bred in Italy, has delivered several top performances on France soil since she arrived in Souloy's barn and in Saturday's race she came home in a mile rate of 1:57.2 over 1.7 miles.

STOLETHESHOW STOLE THE SHOW

The V75 finals were on the agenda when Solvalla raced Saturday (March 26) and in the $63,700 C.Th. Ericssons Memorial for elite trotters, Frode Hamre-trained Stoletheshow (Dream Vacation) took an impressive triumph from the lead for driver Björn Goop.

Who's Who was the heavy favorite in the 2,140 meter race, but when Stoletheshow hit the lead after a quarter of a mile, while Who's Who was placed in third over, Goop literally stole the show and the duo never gave the opponents a chance to challenge for the win.

Stoletheshow noted a mile rate of 1:55.2 and the 7-year-old colt can very well be a serious factor when the last spots for Elitloppet will be picked.

Open pacers battle in second round of MGM Borgata Series

Saranac Blue Chip wins the MGM Rewards Gents Pacing Series, State Of Mind posted 16-1 upset in MGM Rewards Ladies Pacing Series final.

by Yonkers Raceway

Nandolo N repeated his first leg victory, Scott Zeron guided Whichwaytothebeach and American Dealer N to triumphs, Ostro Hanover pulled off a major upset, and Jack's Legend N turned a pocket trip off hot fractions into a win in the five $50,000 divisions of the second round of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series on Monday night (March 28) at Yonkers Raceway.

Driven by Jason Bartlett in the opening split, Nandolo N sat in third while Elver Hanover (Yannick Gingras) and Poseidon Seelster (George Brennan) left in front of him. Elver Hanover got to the point from post seven off the first turn, but Brennan wanted the front with Poseidon Seelster and got him there after a :26.3 opening quarter. Poseidon Seelster would go on to reach the half in :55.1 and the three-quarters in 1:23.1, but Nandolo N had attacked first-over on the third turn and was up to engage the tempo-setter at three-quarters.

After a battle around the last turn, Nandolo N put Poseidon Seelster away in the lane, then pulled clear to prevail by 2 1/2 lengths in 1:51.4. Dean B Hanover (Jordan Stratton) rode Nandolo N's cover and wound up second, and Poseidon Seelster had to settle for third.

Shane Tritton and Team Tritton Inc. are the winning trainer-owner combo with Nandolo N, an 8-year-old Betterthancheddar gelding. Nandolo N, the 1-2 favorite in tonight's race, now has 17 career victories, has stashed away $338,211, and paid $3.10 to win. He also fronted an $11.80 exacta and a $23.00 trifecta.

In the first leg Whichwaytothebeach was hampered by an outside draw, but he started from the inside tonight and took advantage to score in 1:52.4. Captain Barbossa (Bartlett) shot straight to the front from post six, but Whichwaytothebeach, sent off as the 9-5 favorite, vacated the pocket to take control prior to the :27.3 opening quarter. From there, Zeron backed down the fractions to 57 seconds at the half and 1:24.2 at three-quarters and was left on a clear lead when Town Gossip (Joe Bongiorno) made no headway after going first-over from third.

Whichwaytothebeach wasn't out of the woods in the lane, though, as Pat Stanley N (Stratton) gained on the inside after sitting on pylons and Captain Barbossa loomed to the outside after tipping out of the pocket, but neither one could get by Whichwaytothebeach, who lasted to tally by a head over Pat Stanley N. Captain Barbossa was the third-place finisher.

Chris Brokate

State Of Mind (Jason Bartlett) winning the MGM Rewards Ladies Pacing Series final on Wednesday at Yonkers at 16-1.

Whichwaytothebeach is a 4-year-old Somebeachsomewhere gelding trained by Nifty Norman for owner Gino Toscani. Whichwaytothebeach now has a record of 13-7-6 from 31 lifetime efforts, and he has pocketed $576,954. He returned $5.70 to win and keyed a $32.80 exacta and a $138.00 trifecta.

It looked like déjà vu in the next section as American Dealer N and Zeron, also getting relief at the draw after starting from post seven a week ago, tallied on the engine in 1:53. American Dealer N, dispatched as the 7-5 favorite, carved out fractions of :27.4, :57.2, and 1:25, then dug in when needed in the lane to beat pocket-sitter Splash Brother (Tyler Buter) by a length and a quarter. Groovy Joe (Tim Tetrack) sat on the cones in third and ended up finishing in that position.

Linda Toscano trains the victorious 5-year-old American Ideal stallion for owners Enviro Stables Ltd. and Ken Jacobs. This was American Dealer N's 12th triumph from 38 appearances, and he pushed his bankroll to $269,911. The 9-5 favorite, he paid $4.90 to win and led a $25.00 exacta and a $129.50 trifecta.

Favorites had been eight-for-eight over the two weeks of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series through tonight's third division, but that changed in a big way in the fourth flight as 21-1 Ostro Hanover (Bongiorno) knocked off 1-2 choice This Is The Plan (Gingras) in a 1:53 mile. Ostro Hanover, who raced from off-the-pace from post six last Monday, left quickly from post four, then yielded to a two-wide This Is The Plan prior to the 28-second opening quarter.

This Is The Plan kept the tempo comfortable, hitting the half in just :57.3 and the three-quarters in 1:24.4, and it figured to be tough to get by him from there. Ostro Hanover had other ideas, though, as Bongiorno guided him through a seam on the inside in the lane and out-kicked This Is The Plan, the defending series champion, to score by half a length. This Is The Plan had to settle for second, and Tattoo Artist (Dexter Dunn) turned a second-over trip into a third-place result.

The upset winner is trained by Jenn Bongiorno for the ownership group of Ben Mondello and JB Racing. Ostro Hanover, a 7-year-old gelded son of Betterthancheddar, made his 26th appearance in the winner's circle, and he has now earned $556,881. He returned $44 to win, the exacta kicked back $152, and the trifecta was worth $339.00.

Like Whichwaytothebeach, American Dealer N, and Ostro Hanover had before him, Jack's Legend N (Matt Kakaley) delivered after getting post relief tonight, rallying past a tiring pace-setter American History late to win tonight's final MGM Borgata Pacing Series test in 1:51.2. Kakaley left from post four with Jack's Legend N, but he was overtaken by American History (Todd McCarthy) off the first turn, and then American History opened up a big lead through fast fractions of :26.2, :54.4, and 1:21.3.

American History was still up by open lengths on the last turn and entering the lane, but the finish line wouldn't come in time for him, as Jack's Legend N steadily reeled him in on the inside and then got by in the last couple of strides to get the decision by a head. Im Sir Blake A (Marcus Miller) collected third.

Trainer Josh Green also co-owns Jack's Legend N, an 8-year-old Bettor's Delight gelding, with partners Rich Lombardo Racing LLC., David Kryway, and Eric Good. Jack's Legend N is now a 32-time winner in his life, and he has stashed away $731,877. The 3-1 third choice, Jack's Legend N paid $8.90 to win and was atop a $24.20 exacta and a $226.00 trifecta.

Wagering was active throughout the 12-race card and handle totaled $1,044,491.77, giving the oval another "Million Dollar Monday" in that department.

SARANAC BLUE CHIP CLEANS UP IN MGM REWARDS GENTS PACING SERIES

Saranac Blue Chip polished off a sweep of this year's MGM Rewards Gents Pacing Series at Yonkers Raceway with a 1:54.3 win on the front-end in Tuesday night's (March 29) $57,800 final.

Driven by Jordan Stratton from post one, Saranac Blue Chip made the lead with little dispute and set opening-half fractions of :27.2 and :57. Stratton then mashed the accelerator with Saranac Blue Chip on the third turn, and they would put a gap on the rest of the horses on the way to the 1:24.3 three-quarters.

Nobody was able to make any headway on Saranac Blue Chip on the final bend, and though High Baller (Matt Kakaley) and Jet Ace (Joe Bongiorno) did close in from second-over and third-over, respectively, in the stretch, Saranac Blue Chip hit the wire half a length to the good.

A 4-year-old American Ideal gelding, Saranac Blue Chip is trained by Dan Morrissey for owner Leona Morrissey. This was his 10th win from 42 career starts, and he has now earned $154,385. Sent off as the 6-5 favorite, Saranac Blue Chip paid $4.40 to win and was atop a $28.80 exacta and a $558.00 trifecta.

In a $30,000 consolation event of the series, Dance It Out (Bongiorno) sat in the pocket behind Samson Blue Chip (Jason Bartlett) through fractions of :28.2, :57.3, and 1:25.3, then tipped out two-wide on the last turn. Samson Blue Chip dug in gamely in the lane, but Dance It Out wouldn't be denied and got by him nearing the wire to prevail by a head in 1:54.1. Rhodena Road (Jim Marohn Jr.) checked in third.

Bill MacKenzie trains Dance It Out, a 4-year-old gelding by Sweet Lou, for owners Vincent Ali Jr. and Alma lafelice. Dance It Out has compiled a record of 6-4-5 from 22 lifetime appearances, and he has now banked $85,622. Dance It Out was the 2-5 choice and returned $2.90 to win. The exacta was worth $6.00 and the trifecta kicked back $20.40.

STATE OF MIND UPSETS IN MGM REWARDS LADIES PACING SERIES FINAL

At 16-1, State Of Mind surprised the favorites in Wednesday night's (March 30) $56,400 MGM Rewards Ladies Pacing Series final at Yonkers Raceway, using an inside trip and capitalizing on a battle in front of her to win in 1:53.4.

Off The Record (Scott Zeron) blasted out from the pole position and forced Gabby's Girl (Matt Kakaley) to tuck in behind her from post two in the early going. Meanwhile, 2-5 favorite Belina (Jordan Stratton) moved up methodically on the outside towards the front, but she didn't clear until after a :27.1 opening quarter went on the board. Belina then backed down the tempo to 56 seconds at the half, with Gabby's Girl moving out first-over from third before that station.

Gabby's Girl quickly moved up to engage Belina on the lead, and even gained a slim advantage on the rim prior to the 1:24.1 three-quarters. However, Belina was able to hold inside position and then dispatch Gabby's Girl for good on the last turn. Meanwhile, Off The Record had gone three-wide after being able to get out of the pocket and into a second-over position, allowing State Of Mind (Jason Bartlett), who had gotten away in fourth from post five, to move into the two-hole on the final bend.

After Gabby's Girl retreated before the top of the lane, that gave Bartlett a path to tip State Of Mind out two-wide to chase after the battle-weary Belina. While the favorite did have something left and dug in to start the drive to the wire, State Of Mind was going the better of the two and forged her way by in mid-stretch. From there, State Of Mind went on to tally by a length-and-a-half over Off The Record, with Belina third and Pull Me Through (Jim Marohn Jr.) back in fourth. JM Betonsix (Yannick Gingras) grabbed the fifth-place check.

A 4-year-old Roll With Joe mare, State Of Mind is trained by Nik Drennan for the ownership group of Donald Lindsey, Paul Kleinpaste, William Alempijevic, and Garth Bechtel. State Of Mind, who raced in two of the three preliminary legs of the MGM Rewards Ladies Pacing Series and was third on each occasion, now has seven victories from 23 lifetime tries, and she boosted her earnings to $97,337. She paid $35.00 to win and led a $279.50 exacta and a $773.00 trifecta.

Tonight (April 1), Yonkers will play host to the third leg of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series for open pacing mares. Mystical Carrie and Easy To Please, who improved to two-for-two in the series a week ago, are both off this week, but the likes of Miss You N, Drama Act, Dragon Roll, Karma Seelster, Blue Ivy, Scarlett Hanover and Racine Bell are in action in a trio of $40,000 divisions.

On Monday (April 4), there are five $50,000 flights of the third round of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series for free-for-allers. This Is The Plan, Western Joe, American Dealer N, and Ostro Hanover, who have all won a leg of the series thus far, meet up in the eighth race, and three of the second leg winners (Whichwaytothebeach, Jack's Legend N, and Nandolo N) face off in race nine.

Yonkers is currently operating on a Monday-Friday live racing schedule, with post time each night at 6:55.

Drama Act 'got it all together'

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

There is no need for theatrics with Drama Act. She simply knows how to give a winning performance.

A 5-year-old female pacer, Drama Act has won 23 of 42 career races for owner The OK Corral, which also bred the horse. She currently is competing in the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series for pacing mares at Yonkers Raceway, where she will enter tonight's third round in a tie for fourth place in the point standings.

The top-eight horses at the completion of the series' five preliminary legs are eligible to advance to the Blue Chip Matchmaker final on April 25 at Yonkers.

"She's our lottery ticket," said Joe Vander Heyden, who with his wife Nancy breed and race as The OK Corral and have watched Drama Act earn $452,612 in her career. "She's a money-maker. What's not to like about her? I might be a little prejudiced, but she's got it all together. She's a terrific looking mare. She's very slick gaited and she likes to race. She's just a natural."

Most of all, Vander Heyden added, "She has a big heart, and she likes to win."

The Vander Heydens typically sell the horses they breed, which was the plan originally for Drama Act. But she threw a shoe prior to the yearling auctions in 2018 and stressed a hoof, leading to her remaining at home.

"It was meant to be," Vander Heyden said.

Drama Act, by Well Said, was the first foal out of Lounge Act, who Vander Heyden brought as a broodmare in 2016. As a 2-year-old, Drama Act raced five times, winning four, including a division of the Keystone Classic. Her only loss was a second-place finish to future two-time Dan Patch Award-winner Lyons Sentinel on the Grand Circuit.

At 3, her victories included the Courageous Lady as well as two state-bred stakes in Pennsylvania. Last year, she won 14 times and set a world record for a 4-year-old female pacer on a half-mile track when she scored in 1:50.1 at Northfield Park in December.

"She only had five starts as a 2-year-old, which was a good thing," Vander Heyden said. "We brought her along absolutely perfect. First was Bobby Williams, he's the one who took care of her hoof. Then Donnie Harmon and Krista Harmon did a marvelous job with her bringing her along at 2. I saw the potential in her, and I talked to Ron Burke (during the following year) to see if he wanted to train her, and he said he would love to.

"I also kept the third sister out of the family, (2-year-old) Party Lounge, and Ron Burke has her now too. She's staked to the roof."

Ken Weingartner / USTA
Drama Act.

This year, Drama Act has a win, second, and third in three starts.

In the first week of the Blue Chip Matchmaker series, which featured four divisions, Drama Act posted a 1:52.2 win for driver George Brennan and trainer Ron Burke. Last week, when another four divisions were on the card, she finished third by a length despite coming home in :27.2, the fastest final quarter-mile of the race.

Tonight, Drama Act is the 5-2 morning-line second choice in the first of three divisions. Miss You N, who is the mare tied with Drama Act in the standings, is the 2-1 favorite. The field also includes sixth-place Dragon Roll, eighth-place Bolt Of Beauty, and the event's defending champion, Machnhope.

"She's something," Vander Heyden said about Drama Act, who is staked to numerous Grand Circuit events following the Matchmaker. "I still expect big things out of her."

The top-two horses in the Matchmaker, Easy To Please and Mystical Carrie, will sit out this week after wins in each of the first two legs.

Third-place Racine Bell is the 2-1 morning-line favorite in the third of tonight's three divisions, which also includes seventh-place Best Head West (5-1). Racine Bell will start from post seven while Best Head West leaves from post six. The field also includes Scarlett Hanover (5-2), who is tied for ninth in points and starts from post three.

Karma Seelster, also tied for ninth, is the 9-5 morning-line favorite in the second division.

Racing begins at 6:55 p.m. EDT at Yonkers. For tonight's complete entries, click here.

Monti evolves with a little help from his friends

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Drew Monti recently got career win 2,000, but more important to the 27-year-old driver than accumulating victories is adding relationships.

Monti, a Buffalo native who began driving regularly in 2013 and received that year's Rising Star Award from the Upstate New York chapter of the U.S. Harness Writers Association, is coming off a career-best year for purses, with $2.65 million, in 2021.

He made nearly 45 per cent of his starts at Plainridge Park, where he finished third in wins behind two previous leading drivers at the track, Bruce Ranger and Shawn Gray, and second in earnings. His triumphs included six state-bred stakes, including two Massachusetts Sire Stakes championships.

In addition, Monti tied for third in wins at Batavia Downs in 2021 and tied for fifth at Buffalo Raceway. He also spent time early in the season at The Meadows, where he picked up 25 victories.

Monti hopes to use knowledge gained on and off the track to continue to build upon his successes this year.

"The experience of different tracks and different drivers always helps you as long as you're receptive to what's going on," Monti said. "There are a lot of people out there, and people might not know their names, but they're really good at what they do. And a lot of people that are good at something in this sport usually are pretty good at other things too. Those are the people I feel like I gravitate to. People that can do the whole job and can teach you."

"That's how I've evolved. So many people have had an influence on me, one way or another. I try to sharpen my skills every year that goes by, every new place, and keep developing. I've gotten to be friends with a lot of different people, and that's a great takeaway from it all. I think that's the key to getting better."

"The job isn't just on the track. Being able to manage yourself, your personality, that has its place. Of course, you have to do the right things on the track, but you have to be a standup guy and do right by people. You can't get anywhere and earn respect if you don't operate the right way."

Monti followed his father, Darrin, and grandfather, Carl, into harness racing. He still helps manage a small stable in New York with his dad.

So far this year, Monti is second among drivers in wins at Buffalo Raceway, one victory behind Kevin Cummings. He will turn his attention to Plainridge when the track opens for its 2022 season on April 11. This will be Monti's fourth year at the track. He finished second in wins in 2020 and fourth in 2019.

Steve Roth

"I kind of found a little bit of a home at Plainridge," Monti said. "I thought I had a great year, great sire stakes year, last year. I'm very proud of that. The people I'm set up with, they couldn't be better. For one, Jimmy Nickerson, that's my main client there. He's treated me like family. When you have people like that, people that want to include you where it's 'we' and not 'I', there is not a better feeling."

Monti teamed with Nickerson for one of last year's Massachusetts Sire Stakes championships, with 2-year-old male pacer Striking Impact. Monti's other title came with 2-year-old male trotter Bill Bauer for trainer Paul Kelley.

"I'm definitely looking forward to when the racing picks up a little bit," said Monti, who recently bought a house in Buffalo. "I've been having a very good meet at Buffalo, but it's been only two days a week, which isn't too busy. It's harder to stay sharp. I'm anxious to get back at it five or six days a week."

Buffalo races on Wednesdays and Saturdays now (adding Fridays in May).

As for getting his 2,000th win, which occurred March 12 behind Gerry Sarama-trained YS Lotus at Buffalo, Monti said it was "a big accomplishment."

"I'm proud of it, very proud of it," Monti said. "But I wasn't hung up on it. For me, it's been more like year by year trying to win more races, make more money, get out there more and more."

And learn more and more. It all adds up.

Preferred Equine Online tops $1.7 million in online sales

With its first three online mixed sales now in the books – including the just-concluded March 28 sale – Preferred Equine Online has now accounted for more than $1.7 million in transactions.

Five of the horses sold in the first two online sales have already won for their new owners, including Derf Hanover, who's now taken impressive, back-to-back scores in the upper trotting classes at Woodbine Mohawk Park for Triple S Equine and trainer Gerard Demers.

"I expected our new online sales venture to be well-received, but thus far it's actually exceeded expectations," said sale manager David Reid. "Each sale has been a win-win for both buyers and sellers, and the feedback we've received has been nothing but positive."

"Our goal was to create an avenue for commerce that complements live mixed sales, and to do so in a professional manner and on a frequent basis. These online sales give owners the chance to sell at the most opportune time, and as well all know, when quality horses hit the marketplace, buyers are lined up."

The March 28 sale, which included three stallion shares, one breeding, two racing or broodmare prospects and 19 racehorses, grossed $588,100, with the racehorses and racing/breeding prospects averaging $27,238.

All 25 lots offered were sold.

The sale was led by four horses that sold for $76,000, $56,000, $48,000 and $48,000. The top two sellers were both consigned by Preferred Equine Online as agent for Sara Baillargeon.

Topping the sale at $76,000 was the 4-year-old Somebeachsomewhere racing and breeding prospect Blonde Onthe Beach, a stakes winner with a mark of 1:51.4f who's from the immediate family of millionaires If I Can Dream and Western Terror. She was purchased by Diamond Creek Farm.

HP Napoleon p,4,1:49.3, the next-highest seller at $56,000, went to the Weaver Brussemi partnership, who bought two racehorses in the sale. The 6-year-old gelding has been racing successfully in the upper conditioned classes at Woodbine-Mohawk and has lifetime earnings of more than $219,000.

Preferred Equine Online's next three mixed sales – each two weeks apart – are scheduled for April 11, April 25 and May 9. Those wanting to enter racehorses, broodmares, stallion shares or seasons for the next sale may do so now at www.preferredequineonline.com.

Ontario Select Yearling Sale set for Sept. 25 at Winbak Canada

"Due to the sale's success in 2020 and 2021, we decided that Winbak Farm will play host to the Ontario Select Yearling Sale for the third consecutive year," said Jack Burke, Winbak Farm general manager. "This date was chosen so horsepeople could enjoy both Canada's richest night of racing at Woodbine Mohawk Park and the Ontario Select Yearling Sale." The $1 million Mohawk Million is set for Sept. 24.

Winbak Farm plans on the Ontario Select Yearling Sale being the premier of yearlings from the first crops of McWicked and Stag Party.

"Winbak Farm will be supporting the sale with a large selection of Ontario-Sired horses including first crop yearlings from 2020 Canadian Racing Hall of Fame Inductee, McWicked and O'Brien Award Winner, Stag Party," said Burke.

Winbak Farm will also offer trotting yearlings from The Bank.

"We are also excited to offer the first crop of North American yearlings from the exciting Millionaire, The Bank," said Burke. "The Bank sired the 2020 2-Year-Old Trotting Filly of the Year in Italy, Caramel Club."

In addition to the new stallions, Winbak Farm will sell yearlings sired by proven Canadian sires.

"In 2021, four Winbak Farm stallions, Archangel, Betterthancheddar, Bettor's Delight and Shadow Play, sired O'Brien Award winners, and these four stallions will all have yearlings in Winbak Farm's 2022 consignment at the Ontario Select Yearling Sale," said Burke. "Winbak Farm is proud to be the breeder of 2021 Canadian Horse of the Year, Desperate Man, who was sired by Shadow Play."

Entries are now being accepted. The deadline for entries is April 15.

Please note that entries will be capped at 160. There is a $282.50 entry fee (HST included) per horse.

Harrah's Philadelphia starts 2022 season Sunday

The 2022 harness racing season at Harrah's Philadelphia begins this Sunday (April 3), with the first of 14 races scheduled to start at 12:40 p.m.

The two feature races on the inaugural card are in the middle of the program, races eight and nine. First in line is a $14,400 pace for the class-climbing "non-winners of 5 races" sort, with Shake It the likely choice from post two in the field of seven for driver Dexter Dunn and trainer Chris Ryder after the altered sophomore son of Heston Blue Chip opened his seasonal account with Meadowlands victories in 1:52.1 and then 1:51.2.

Dunn and Ryder will try for a sweep of the opening day features at Philly with Shake That House, an American Ideal gelding who has won $818,807 while facing the best of his generation. He'll go from post four in a field of eight in the $13,000 featured fast-class pace, making his seasonal debut after qualifying in 1:52.2 at Philly on March 25.

Harrah's Philly will again be featuring as talented a driving and training colony as can be found anywhere in North America, which adds to the competitive nature of the racing / handicapping / betting at the southeast Pennsylvania oval.

In April, Harrah's Philadelphia will operate on a Sunday – Thursday – Friday schedule, with Sundays at 12:40 and the other two days at 12:25, with the exception of a dark day on Easter Sunday, April 17.

Thomas Hicks named to Hall of Fame Screening Committee

Thomas H. Hicks, a well-known harness racing journalist, businessman, successful owner/breeder, and chair of the budget committee of the United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA), has been named to the Hall of Fame Screening Committee of USHWA by the Association's president, Barry Lefkowitz.

Hicks is a devoted fan and student of world-class trotting all over the globe, and has reported on these races for going on a decade, for Harnesslink and other publications.

Hicks, who earned an MBA at the University of Pittsburgh, is founder and managing partner of Renaissance Partners LLC, a turnaround and crisis management firm providing expertise and insight to the manufacturing, service, retailing, and hospitality/entertainment industries. It was this solid analytical background in improving an organization's financial stability that led him to be named as the chair of USHWA's budget committee, where his efforts, along with the organization's treasurers and other key people, have led USHWA to a period of an unprecedented monetary strength.

Hicks was the breeder of Crazy, a winner of over $1 million on the racetrack and later the sire of the winners of $30 million in North America before being exported to The Netherlands in 2019, and other stakes-quality standardbreds.

The former executive director of the Florida Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association, Hicks is the national director and the treasurer of the Florida Chapter of USHWA.

The screening committee of the U.S. Harness Writers Association meets at Goshen NY on Hall of Fame Day, July 3, and examines the biographies of Hall candidates submitted by USHWA's chapters. Their selections will join the top candidates for the Communicators Hall of Fame on a summertime ballot; those candidates receiving 75 per cent of the yes-no ballots will have been elected to the sport's highest honor.
