Pompano Park to go out with its head held high

After 58 years, the Florida track will play host to its final race card on Sunday.

by Brett Sturman

As Pompano Park enters its final card Sunday in the track's 58-year history, the fact that it has made it to this point is a testament to what has transpired at the track in recent years. Pompano has undergone a renaissance over the past decade, with its success accelerating even more so just in the last two years, but, sadly, it has finally run out of time.

Not too long ago, Pompano Park was left in obscurity. It wasn't uncommon for entire race cards to unfathomably handle less than $100,000. Today, from a handle standpoint, more money is wagered at Pompano than most other harness tracks on the continent.

From the track's inception in 1964 through 2014, there were just three instances of Pompano having a race card handle over $1 million. The next three instances of going over the $1 million threshold were accomplished by 2018. Then, an explosion was witnessed last year when the track had 21 separate $1 million nights in 2021. That included a record handle taken on closing night last season of over $1.7 million. Pompano has gone over $1 million in handle multiple times in 2022.

Track announcer Gabe Prewitt has been a constant in the track's handle resurgence.

"The thing I'm most proud of is that for a track with the historical significance of Pompano Park and the people that have made this home for decades, Wally Hennessey, Mickey McNichol and all the other drivers and trainers and horsepeople, is that everyone can step off the field a sense of pride," said Prewitt. "We're going to be the first track ever that's shutting its doors after having its two best wagering seasons of all-time, that's not something that ever happens. And not that it wouldn't have been fondly remembered by the people that had been here for decades if we closed when we were betting $80,000 to $100,000 a night because it was such a great place at one time, but we can go out now having gained respect back. I'm proud of what we were able to accomplish and send out the track as well as we could have."

Rumors of Pompano's demise date back to before even Prewitt first arrived on the scene at the track nearly a decade ago, and the fact that Pompano has made it even to this point is an accomplishment in itself.

"From being on the inside of some of these meetings, I do think that the success we've had did buy us a little more life," Prewitt said. "It would have been a lot easier to close a place that's doing no business than a place that has some life in it. The success we had last year played into a lot for us to even get a curtain call for this year because they (Caesars Entertainment) were under no obligation to race."

Though Pompano has had the unique challenge of operating with the persistent possibility of a looming closure, it hasn't differed from any other harness track by having to operate today with its heyday long in the past. The challenge in recent times had been trying to chart a course forward despite the prevailing notion that the track had run its course.

"With all respect to the beauty and the history of Pompano Park, we had to create our own path to try to be successful in today's climate, which is mainly off-track dollars to a large extent," said Prewitt. "We had to look in the mirror and ask ourselves things like why do we race on Friday and Saturday nights if it's not like we can offer a nice dinner in the clubhouse, let's look at our betting menu, at our takeout rates, and think how we can be more customer friendly. So, we had to take that look, recognize that we weren't going to be what we used to and find out how to carve a path in today's environment given the hand that we've been dealt."

It may seem today that the handle surge at Pompano happened almost overnight, but it was the result of a longer, more gradual process. As Prewitt explained, "You can't go from betting $100,000 to $1 million in two weeks, but you can go from $100,000 to $220,000. And then if you can get to $220,000 you can get to $350,000. And from there you just continue to climb. We were all shocked at how high we were able to go. I just

“It’s not like we died quietly. want competitive racing. Whether the condition is a TrackMaster rating of 70 or less makes no difference in my mind, but the fact that we did have maybe lesser quality stock and with all of the infrastructure problems we had, it really is amazing, and I just have to thank all the people that stood by us.”

Starting with Prewitt’s self-deprecating nature, another part of Pompano’s formula for success is that it never took itself excessively serious and embraced who they were while operating on borrowed time.

“Quite frankly, the people that were out there betting our product didn’t care that the grandstand was condemned, or the quality of your broadcast, or maybe the lights will turn on or they won’t, or if we’ll be able to get tote prices up after a race,” said Prewitt. “We didn’t give up. We were trying, and that’s probably what bought us some leeway even with all the challenges we had. We had a lot of engagement and listened to the fans, so I think people gave us a longer leash than they would have otherwise because we were trying.”

The role that social media played as the track’s handle ascended in recent years cannot be overstated enough. Individuals who came to know Pompano through online mediums such as Twitter and joined in nightly using the #senditin rallying cry, became affectionately known as the #senditin army, almost like an island of misfit toys.

“The place was sort of dying so to speak, and then came a resurgence that in large part included the #senditin army. These are people who love the place and bet on it every night and helped pick things up and get us carried across the finish,” Prewitt said. “Because we were very close to being off everyone’s radar, and we were able to pick the place up with all those people supporting the product and betting their money. You couldn’t pay for what we’ve had on social media every night.

“How cool is it to have this newer audience, to have gained traction and gained respect between the fans and in the industry. We’ve got people that have only known the place for a couple of years and only through social media interaction, and they’ve been booking trips, flying in here and seeing the place and it shows how easily you can fall in love with the place.”

Ultimately, the team at Pompano reached the end of its final year, but the track got a lot of mileage out of the rumored ‘final year’ going back over a decade.

“It’s not like we died quietly,” said Prewitt. “It makes me smile that we were able to give the place a sendoff it deserves given its history and with all the people that have raced and put in the work to race over the years. It’s been a very fulfilling way to know that we’re sending it out with a sense for all the people here that we’re going out on top.”

In recent years Pompano Park may not have always raced the highest quality horses, but this was not an operation that was outclassed. And certainly not outfought.

Are fixed odds a rocky road or a money maker?

The press has been bullish on fixed-odds wagering, but its success or failure hinges on some important issues.

by Dean Towers

With the legalization of sports betting in the U.S. (and now much of Canada), you've probably heard quite a bit about fixed-odds wagering for our sport. Next month, Monmouth plans to offer its races on a new fixed odds platform, with others sure to follow, including harness racing.

At recent expositions, racing insiders in the U.S. are extremely optimistic about fixed odds, and I guess we can't blame them. In Australia, fixed-odds wagering on horses via the TAB alone has grown from AUS$1.8B in 2010 to AUS$5.3B last year.

On this side of the pond, the gripes about late odds changes are ever-present and fixed odds address that complaint. As well, the younger demographic who grew up with -110 football games and +800 futures want to bet every sport the exact same way. This gives them a chance to patronize horse racing in a way they're comfortable with.

So, this is all positive, right? I'm not quite sold. If we dig a little deeper, I think there are some potential issues with these rosy outlooks.

BIG FIXED-ODDS WAGERING GROWTH WOULD BE GREAT, BUT WHAT DOES IT DO TO THE POOLS?

If fixed-odds wagering does take off, what happens to the pari-mutuel "WPS" pool? As many of you know, bettors need pool size to make wagers, and as that pool size shrinks with bettors moving to fixed odds, betting into them become less attractive.

Would fixed-odds wagering simply move money from 15 per cent takeout win pools to lower takeout fixed-odds ones? If so, it'd probably not all be negative because lower takeout could turn fixed odds bettors into regular horseplayers (who bet pick 5's and 6's and supers), but there is a cannibalization risk. And that risk could mean purse dollars.

CAN RACING ACTUALLY LOSE MONEY?

The pari-mutuel system is a remarkable invention. Through the wisdom of crowds, the tote board has been an amazingly accurate approximation of the horses win probability over the years. It beats the best speed figures, morning line makers, and at its high takeout, most computers.

Fixed odds don't work like that. They're set by sharp humans and computers, but they are beatable (especially at the lower takeout they'd have to offer). The groups who do grind out break-even or better in the pari-mutuel pools are certainly going to look for edges in fixed-odds pools. And I would proffer they will win.

Unlike the pari-mutuel system where losses are subsidized by losing bettors, fixed-odds losses are paid for by the house. And in this case, the house is racing.

To combat winning bettors, sports betting firms have simply banned them, or they limit their bets. You've no doubt read about this on social media. That usually means negative word-of-mouth, and is not something an enterprise wants or needs.

Additionally, this added risk could prompt the tracks or books to increase takeout. But that lowers their volume and could do more harm than good, especially as racing tries to gain sports betting dollars from those who are used to 10 cent lines.

WILL THE FIEFDOMS GET IN THE WAY?

You or I can log into any sportsbook and play the Yankees at -140 or the Blues at +180. Everyone offers games and it's seamless.

Unlike the pari-mutuel system where losses are subsidized by losing bettors, fixed-odds losses are paid for by the house. And in this case, the house is racing.

One thing horse racing's customers have learned over the years is that signal fights and internal conflict affect them measurably, and it's no bueno. If a racing entity wants to sign deals with sportsbook "X" but not "Y" and so on, horse racing could end up shooting itself in the foot. Customers can't bet what's not offered, and with so much choice for their betting dollar they aren't going to chase four different tracks around four different books.

IS THIS SIMPLY SOMETHING THAT JUST WON'T WORK?

While most point to places like Australia for fixed-odds success, one has to take into account the customer base. Down Under, win betting has been drilled into bettors for generations, and last year only about AUS$7B of the AUS$30B wagered was in exotics pools.

In North America, it's the opposite. We are an exotic bets Shangri-La, with decades of Pick 4 and 5 tickets flying around our TV screens and on social media. It's what we do. Is it possible we're a pari-mutuel continent and we won't embrace betting win only, so this is much ado about nothing? Time will tell.

After detailing the above potential pitfalls, I would be remiss not to say that I think fixed-odds racing has potential, and I am a broad fan of the concept.

Fixed odds can provide lower takeout; attracting new customers. Having horse racing offered on DraftKings or FanDuel – especially as racing spends so much money on television – is a smart way to get in front of eyeballs. Having our major races such as the Kentucky Derby or Hambletonian offered to everyone with a sports betting account has to be a good thing.

In the end, however, its success or failure probably comes down to what I think most things come down to – planning and execution. Here's hoping the powers that be have both figured out at launch.

Looking to conquer a second continent

Down Under mare Amazing Dream has landed in America and is already making a name for herself on a second continent.

by Debbie Little

What do you do when you're the best mare Down Under? In this case, look to conquer another continent.

The New Zealand-bred Amazing Dream is not the first top Down Under horse to try to make their mark in the U.S., but for her, timing could be everything.

"She's probably the first to come from Down Under right at her peak in a long time," said co-owner Gordon Banks. "Lazarus was past his prime when he came here."

Trainer Noel Daley never saw Amazing Dream race in Australia, but certainly knows her reputation.

"What I've seen in the last few years is that their best pacers go with our best pacers," said Daley. "And she's better credentialed than just about anything that's come here. Whether she's a mile horse, we'll see."

"She was even competing competitively against the boys. The best ones never come here. The best horse makes three or four million dollars down there. There's no need for them to come here."

Enviro Stables Ltd., comprised of Banks and his cousin, Marc Hanover, own quite a lot of horses racing Down Under, so when the opportunity to purchase Amazing Dream came up, they had to make it happen by bringing in partners Richard Gutnick, Tom Pontone and Joe Lozito, Jr.

"Believe me, there was a lot of pressure to keep her down there because in this period of February through April 30th, she could have raced for over $3 million Down Under. But we have all U.S. partners and they want to race her here this year in all the top races. So, to give her time to acclimate and be ready for the season, we had to bring her over now."

~ Gordon Banks

"Believe me, there was a lot of pressure to keep her down there because in this period of February through April 30th, she could have raced for over $3 million Down Under," said Banks. "But we have all U.S. partners and they want to race her here this year in all the top races. So, to give her time to acclimate and be ready for the season, we had to bring her over now."

For Enviro, including Gutnick, Pontone and Lozito seemed like a natural when you consider the same partnership already owns trotting mare Lady Chaos and trotting filly Bare My Soul.

"Gordon Banks was telling me that the best pacing mare from Down Under was going to be available for sale and I said to him let's buy her," said Gutnick. "He was silent for a little while and he said, 'Are you serious?' and I said, 'Yes, let's do it.' I said, 'I'll put the deal together, you go ahead and make the offer.'"

"Tommy Pontone and Joe Lozito are my main partners and they always say to me when I ask them if they're interested in a horse, they say 'If you're in, we're in.' With partners like that, it's fantastic."

Pontone considers Gutnick to be his brother from another mother since the two met in the 2012 Hambletonian winner's circle with Market Share.

"We were actually looking at a trotter in New Zealand and it didn't work out and he said, 'I've found a pacing mare,'" said

Pontone. "I didn't know anything about Amazing Dream and he wanted to do it and I just said if you're going to do it, I'm going to do it. When Richard calls me up, whether I agree with him or disagree with him, at the end of the day I go, 'Okay, brother, I'm in. I trust you. If you're in, I'm in.'"

Lozito has owned horses since 1985, including some with Pontone.

"Tom asked me to join up with Richard and we kind of created an instant friendship, partnership," said Lozito. "[Richard] is very good at what he does and he's a very loyal partner and is as honest as the day is long.

"When it came to Amazing Dream, Richard called and I said why would I want to spend that much money for a horse I can't go see race? Because I do like to go to the track. I'm probably very happy with it since Amazing Dream did so well on Saturday night."

What the partners paid for Amazing Dream has never been disclosed and that's okay with them.

"It would be terrible for me to say, because I love reading the speculation, and there were all sorts of numbers thrown around," said Banks. "It was a big number but it was a fair number. There were reports that some crazy people bought this mare for a million dollars. Untrue. Taking out Lazarus, there has not been a racehorse from Down Under in the last 10 years that sold for over half a million U.S."

Rounding out the "Dream" team are trainer Linda Toscano, caretaker Shelly Grieco and driver Todd McCarthy.

"We've been with Linda for 30 years," said Banks. "We won the Breeders Crown with Linda with Molly Can Do It. So, there's nobody better with fillies or mares than Linda. We never gave it a thought to give it to anybody but Linda. She's extremely patient and something you don't hear much about horsemen. She's wise."

"Linda is phenomenal," said Gutnick. "Everybody knows that. Linda and I share the same philosophy. If you don't wait on a horse, they make you wait even longer."

Toscano's had the mare for a couple of months now and is happy with her progress over that time.

"To look at her, she's pretty plain and not very big, but mighty as far as her heart is concerned," said Toscano. "She doesn't need me to tell anybody she's a good horse. She's the second winningest mare in Down Under history. I just need to not get in her way and not screw her up.

"[These owners] are just a great group of people. They genuinely love the sport and genuinely love to compete at this level and the fact that they've entrusted me with her is kind of special. Of course there's pressure, but this is the kind of pressure that we look for. Brad [Toscano's husband] just said something in my ear, but he's right, this is the kind of pressure that's a privilege and that's exactly the way I feel about it. The fact that they trusted me enough to allow me to condition her over here is a gift."

Grieco, who cared for the aforementioned Market Share, sees some of his relaxed nature in Amazing Dream.

"One day [Linda] said Enviro is going to send their good mare from Down Under and you need to make room for her," said Grieco. "Like Market Share, she has the laid-back attitude. Never misses a meal. If she leaves one morsel in her feed tub, I jokingly tell Linda you better call the vet immediately.

"There's nothing flashy about her, but she has a little Bettor's Delight head. I don't think I've ever really had a good, good mare that I could compare her to. I think the thing that stands out about her compared to most fillies or mares is nothing phases her. Some mares can be temperamental and moody and so far, I haven't seen that side of her at all."

After looking at a list of which drivers were committed to other pacing mares, the connections thought McCarthy was the perfect choice.

"He was a driving force in Sydney before he came to the States," said Hanover. "Down there, he always drove [our horse] Our Majordan [almost] every week."

"I spoke to Todd back in September in Lexington about driving this horse and he said he would if he could and he's been as good as his word," said Banks. "Now it's up to her to prove to him that he made the right choice."

McCarthy drove her to an easy victory at The Meadowlands on Saturday (April 9), in her U.S. debut. She has banked over a million in earnings and now has 25 wins in 49 career starts – including 10 Group 1 races Down Under – and has only failed to hit the board a total of five times.

"When I was asked to go with her, I felt that it was an amazing opportunity and that she'd been doing such a great job down "To look at her, she's pretty plain and not very big, but mighty as far as her heart is concerned. She doesn't need me to tell anybody she's a good horse. She's the second winningest mare in Down Under history. I just need to not get in her way and not screw her up."

~ Linda Toscano

there, so it was easy enough to give her a shot and I certainly hope it works out," said McCarthy.

According to Grieco, Amazing Dream doesn't like to stand and wait in line and she appreciated how McCarthy dealt with that situation on Saturday.

"We were going out to post parade and she was starting to get a little bully and Toddy just started sweet talking her," said Grieco. "He talks to her all the time. Going out in the post parade she's got earplugs in so she probably can't hear it, but to me it means a lot as a caretaker to know that your driver respects and cares for the animal between the shafts as much as you do. Because I am that type of caretaker, my horses are my kids and when they hurt, I hurt."

"It's always nice to work your butt off for good owners that appreciate the effort that you put into their horses. After so many years they become family. I've been with Linda going on 19 years. I just hope we can have a little fun with her this summer."

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Lisa Mariacher proudly carrying on her family's name in the game

by Chris Lomon

There's no doubt Lisa Mariacher's father would be proud.

During his time in horse racing, Al Mariacher earned a reputation as a top-rate standardbred trainer, a horseperson who always had his pacers and trotters in peak condition before the starting gate began rolling.

He was also respected and revered by his contemporaries for his generous ways with both humans and horses.

If she ever needed a reminder of just how well regarded her father was, she found it often.

"When I first got into racing, there were a lot of new people at the racetrack, but there were also lots of people from my dad's time. They would come up and say, 'I have to tell you this story about your father.' It would be a really funny story. I remember one night I was in the paddock and I had a horse that I owned. I wasn't training at the time. I was having trouble finding someone to warm the horse up. It was getting closer and closer to race time, and I was asking people, but no one had the time, and didn't really know who I was. Someone who did know my dad came up and asked if I wanted him to warm up my horse. After he did, I went to hand him money for doing it and he said, 'I don't want any money. If it was my daughter, your dad would have done the same thing.' It's so nice to have that kind of help if I need it and also to see how people felt about my dad."

Sixteen years after his passing, she's proudly carrying on the family name.

While she hasn't followed the same horse racing path her father did, Mariacher's fondness for the sport and its equine stars is quite similar.

Her association with the sport began at an early age before she circled back into the industry years later.

"My dad trained in the '70s, '80s and '90s," said Mariacher. "I was young at the time, but I was involved in it. Towards the end, before he retired, I got into riding horses. I did that for a few years and then I went away to college in West Virginia for equine studies. I came back home, had a son, and then got out of the horse business. Then, I met my current husband, Billy Verney. His father had a small stable at the same time as my dad. When I met Billy, he was working at a barn and had some horses. That's how racing came back into my life, kind of full circle, I suppose. I couldn't have asked for a better story."

A story that has had no shortage of compelling chapters so far.

Take for instance Mariacher's first training win. Or in this case, training wins.

It was a milestone moment that ended up being twice as nice.

"I actually had a double," she said with a laugh. "I had just got my license and I had a trotter, Iaintnomomaluke, and another one, now retired and that I still have, [pacer] M G Home Run. They both won on the same night [October 6, 2015, at Batavia Downs]. It was super exciting and it was a great night. It was amazing. I remember that Jim Morrill drove both of them that night and he has an amazing set of hands and can get so much out of these horses. I was really lucky to have him driving both of them."

Mariacher, who won three races in her rookie year, recorded a career-best 13 victories in 2021.

This year, she's off to a flying start, well on her way to setting personal-best numbers.

On April 6, she relived her double from six-and-a-half years ago when trotter Le Millenaire and pacer Pumpkinspicelatte both recorded wins.

"The last month has been very successful. I can really contribute that to the connections and the grace of God. I have absolutely amazing owners, who trust me and allow me to do what's best for the horse, whether that means getting them rest, moving them up in class or staying at the level where they are currently at. All of that makes a huge difference in how the horse performs. So, this success is about a lot of things, including supportive owners. Bad owners can give you a lot of stress and make you question your abilities, good owners can make it successful and fun."

She is also quick to give credit to those who sit in the sulky.

"The drivers I have on my current horses definitely play a role in my success. Each of them gets along so well with the horses they are driving for me right now."

Mariacher's not letting any of the big results go to her head.

"You can have the best horse, the best driver and the best post position, and anything can happen. You can get locked in, a horse could break in front of you, they could cancel that night because of weather – you always need a lot of things to come together to make a win happen. I don't start celebrating until they hit the wire."

And she doesn't forget the helpful words of wisdom spoken by her father.

One particular gem stands out above all the rest for the horsewoman who also runs an online fabric trim store.

"We don't have any grooms right now. We have six racing and two retired right now. It's just Billy and I. My son, Jesse, who is 15, is a very mature teenager. He's very involved in riding horses and he wants to become a blacksmith. He really helps us a lot at the stable and in the paddock. My thing is – and what my dad told me – that if you want anything done right, you have to do it yourself. No one is going to work as hard as you do for yourself. Because of that and the small number of horses we have, we are able to give them 100 percent every week. I know there are some great grooms out there, but it's nice to know everything that's going on with your horse and that you are right there."

For Mariacher, that also means she's right where she wants to be.

While she's happy to look ahead to future success, any trip to the racetrack is also a chance to walk down memory lane.

"When someone comes up to me and says, 'Hey, you're Al's daughter! He was such a great man.' That makes me feel that he is still with me here, through all of the stories that his friends tell me. I was really close with him and it's hard not to have him in my life, but through all of these people talking about him, it gives me peace. I always say that win or lose, I'm lucky. I have a family and job I truly love. Most can't say both."

Hambletonian winning trainer Osvaldo Formia dead at 83

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Osvaldo Formia, who trained Hambletonian winners Harmonious and Probe, died Saturday (April 9) in Florida. He was three days from turning 84.

In addition to his victories in 1990 with Harmonious and in 1989 with Probe, who finished in a dead heat for win with Park Avenue Joe, Formia was the caretaker for two Hambletonian champions: Speedy Somolli in 1978 and Trotting Triple Crown winner Lindy's Pride in 1969.

Formia was a native of Argentina, where his father, Constancio, was a well-known and respected horseman. Formia's first visit to the U.S. came in 1962 when Constancio's trotter Thomas Atkyns was invited to travel from Argentina to New York for the International Trot at Roosevelt Raceway.

The journey, though, was delayed for days by fighting related to a revolution in Argentina. Thomas Atkyns arrived only one day prior to the International Trot and was unable to compete. To reward the horse and connections for their perseverance, Thomas Atkyns was paraded before the International Trot crowd of 53,297, which roared in appreciation.

After a three-week stay, Formia went home to Argentina. A year later, he made a second trip to the U.S. and in 1966 he moved to the States for good.

Formia worked for Hall of Famer Howard Beissinger, who trained and drove Lindy's Pride and Speedy Somolli, in the 1960s and 1970s. After starting his own stable, Formia enjoyed a successful partnership with the Antonacci family's Lindy Farms and Lindy Racing Stable. Lindy Farms bred and owned Probe and Lindy Racing co-owned Harmonious with Sal Garofalo. Lindy Farms also owned Lindy's Pride.

"All of us at Lindy Farms are saddened by the loss of Osvaldo Formia," said a statement posted by Lindy Farms on Twitter. "He truly loved the horses and was a gifted horseman. We have many great memories with Osvaldo, and he will live on through his accomplishments on the racetrack and in the hearts of those who knew him."

Harmonious' win in the Hambletonian made Formia the fifth trainer to win the event in consecutive years, joining Henry Thomas, Ben White, Frank Ervin, and Billy Haughton. Harmonious gave his trainer a scare two days prior to the race when Formia found the colt cut and scraped in his paddock after suffering from colic. Fortunately, the abrasions were not severe. It was too late to start the horse on medication, so Formia treated the colic with Maalox.

"He's not a pretty horse," said Formia, as quoted by UPI, following Harmonious' Hambletonian triumph. "In fact, he's pretty ugly, but he's just a bull on the racetrack. When (the owners) bought him, I didn't like him. I think I've changed my opinion today."

Harmonious, who won 10 of 14 races and $1.03 million in 1990, was named that season's Dan Patch Award Trotter of the Year.

Other top horses trained by Formia included Dan Patch Award-winning trotters Lindy Lane and Rum Boogie. Creamy Mimi, who won the 2008 Hambletonian Oaks with trainer Trond Smedshammer, began her career with Formia the previous year.

"All of us at Lindy Farms are saddened by the loss of Osvaldo Formia," said a statement posted by Lindy Farms on Twitter. "He truly loved the horses and was a gifted horseman. We have many great memories with Osvaldo, and he will live on through his accomplishments on the racetrack and in the hearts of those who knew him."

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Chase for Olympic gold continues

by Thomas Hedlund

A Very Kronos, far from his best form, was the first choice in the first elimination ahead of the $315,000 Paralympiatravet (Åby on May 7) at Jägersro racetrack in Malmö last Saturday (April 9) and home trotter Upstate Face (Joke Face) grabbed a well-deserved spot in the big race at Åby in May, as well.

Upstate Face and driver/trainer Adrian Kolgjini was one of the big rookies in Swedish harness racing in 2021 and the now 6-year-old gelding got close to the already established top trotters in northern Europe during the fall. Upstate Face might very well be a horse for the Elitloppet, but first he will meet the older elite in Paralympiatravet over 1.3 miles on May 7.

Title defender, French top mare Delia du Pommereux received an early wild card for the final and a Danish rookie, Extreme, also got an early invitation from Åby.

Elimination races will be held at Romme (April 17), Halmstad (April 23) and Örebro (April 30) and in Saturday's race at Romme, Pasi Aikio-trained Who's Who chases a spot in the big final.

Milligan's School and Spickleback Face seem to be the toughest opponents for Who's Who and most likely one of these three trotters will fight for the win.

Easter is traditionally the start of the big races in the northern European countries and today (April 15) Färjestad holds its appreciated race card where 5-year-old trotters get their chances to show if they've managed to take the big step from the 4-year-old season.

The $52,500 Prins Carl Philips Jubileumspokal is the real deal even if only seven horses will gather behind the car. Last year's dominant 4-year-old Önas Prince won basically everything except for the Derby. He got lucky in the draw and will start from post 1. Per Nordström's horse will be tough to beat and it's no secret that the entourage around the horse dream about Elitloppet at Solvalla in May.

GOCCIADORO SEND TOP HORSES TO SWEDEN

Italian top trainer Alessandro Gocciadoro has installed some part of his horses in Sweden for the spring and summer races in northern Europe and there are some really well known trotters that he has brought north. In his home country, the big star Vernissage Grif (Varenne) claimed the title in the $166,750 Gran Premio Costa Azzurra in Turin on Sunday (April 10) afternoon.

Vernissage Grif hit the lead after a quarter of a mile and defended himself when Blackflash Bar attacked in the home stretch. The winning time was 1:54 and Vernissage Grif will most likely continue his journey up north, maybe even at Solvalla in May. The chestnut was dominating among older Italian trotters in 2021 by winning the $166,750 Campionato Europeo, $143,000 Gran Premio Citta di Montecatini, $120,000 Gran Premio Duomo, $145,000 Jämtands Stora Pris and $105,000 Årjängs Stora Sprinterlopp.

DIABLE DE VAUVERT IN TOP IN PARIS

The $97,500 Prix Jean Riaud over 1.7 miles was held at Vincennes last Saturday (April 9) and Prix de Paris winner Diable de Vauvert showed that he belongs among top French trotters at this moment.

Merited horses such as Cleangame, Gu d'Heripre and Elie de Beaufour entered the race and Cleangame seemed to claim the victory when the field turned for home in the last turn, but at that point Cleangame lost his gait and made a break. Diable de Vauvert finished impressively and won easily in mile rate 1:55 ahead of Rebella Matters and Gu d'Heripre.

The next objective for Bertrand Le Beller's trotter will be Prix de l'Atlantique at Paris-track Enghien on April 23. Then he will be aimed towards Sweden and Harper Hanover's race over 3,140 meters during the Elitloppet weekend.

EXTREME - NUMBER 5

Steen Juul trained Extreme (Chocolatier) became the fifth horse that received an invitation for the 2022 Elitloppet at Solvalla.

The 6-year-old colt will race the Paralympiatravet final at Åby on May 7 and then Elitloppet on May 29.

Extreme beat horses such as Aetos Kronos and Don Fanucci Zet when he won $105,000 European Championship 5-years-old at Åby in October last year and Denmark has a really interesting card to play in big races this year as Extreme has showed great qualities over basically every different distance there is.

Keep Rockin A controls own destiny in Blue Chip Matchmaker

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

With a win last week, Keep Rockin A put herself in position to advance to the April 25 final of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series for older female pacers at Yonkers Raceway. But the 6-year-old mare needs to keep rockin' tonight (April 15).

Keep Rockin A vaulted to No. 8 in the Matchmaker's points standings with her 1:51.4 victory on April 8 at Yonkers. It was Keep Rockin A's first win for trainer Jeff Cullipher, who bought the mare with ownership partner Pollack Racing in November. Prior to the sale, the Australian-born import won three times in the U.S., including the Betsy Ross Invitational.

The top-eight horses at the end of tonight's fifth of five preliminary rounds are eligible for the Blue Chip Matchmaker final. If horses are tied for the last spot, they will be drawn by lot to complete the field.

"It was a long time coming," Pollack Racing's Tom Pollack said about Keep Rockin A's win. "We liked her from the minute we got her, she's just had some bumps in the road. She was tying up, she shut her air off a couple times; it's just always been something.

"(Second trainer Rico Robinson) has done a really good job trying to fix everything. Last week, she finally put it all together."

Keep Rockin A, a daughter of Rock N Roll Heaven—Kept For Pleasure, has competed in every round of the series, posting a third and two fourths in addition to her win. For her career in North America, she has won four of 28 starts and $167,447.

"We would have loved to give her a week off at some point in the series, but unfortunately based on where we were and the fact that she's really not staked to a lot, we wanted to keep going and give her every shot here," Pollack said.

Tonight, Keep Rockin A is in the first of three $40,000 divisions. She will start from post five in a seven-horse field with Tim Tetrick in the sulky. Her division is stacked, with five of the top eight in the Matchmaker standings in the field: Easy To Please (second), Miss You N (tied fourth), and Best Head West and Mystical Carrie (both tied sixth).

Keep Rockin A is 5-1 on the morning line. Miss You N, starting from post one with Dexter Dunn driving for Virgil Morgan Jr., is the 5-2 favorite.

"It's been a real competitive series, for sure, and we got in with a tough group," Pollack said. "We control our own destiny. There are a lot of interesting scenarios, but it's nice to be in a position where if we race well, things hopefully fall into place for us."

Another horse that won last week to move into contention for the final was Lit De Rose, who is ninth in points. Lit De Rose, who sat out the third leg of the series, has a second and a fifth in addition to her victory.

"After the second leg, she scoped sick and had a little blood in her trachea, so I gave her the week off and put her on Lasix," trainer/driver Pat Lachance said. "She raced really good (last week); she was really strong."

Lit De Rose, a 7-year-old daughter of Leader Bayama—Intense, is owned by breeder Guy Corbeil of Quebec. The mare raced in Canada exclusively until November, when she joined Lachance's stable in New Jersey. Since then, she has won seven of 14 races and hit the board a total of 10 times.

"She's been very consistent," Lachance said about the winner of 30 of 85 lifetime starts and $466,777. "We thought she belonged (in the Matchmaker). She is as good as anyone with a trip. She leaves the gate real good, and she finishes strong too. When she's right, she flies home. She loves to get to the wire.

"She's got two moves in her, which is nice, and she is very versatile. She can race off the pace, she can be on the lead; it doesn't matter where you put her, she likes to race either way. That makes things a lot easier."

Lit De Rose is in the second Matchmaker division, which includes one other horse in the standing's top 10 — Racine Bell, who is tied for second. Racine Bell, starting from post one with Jason Bartlett driving for David Dewhurst, is the 7-5 morning-line favorite. Lit De Rose, who leaves from post six, is 6-1.

The third division finds the top horse in the series, Drama Act. The 5-year-old Ron Burke trainee has three wins and a third in the event and is safely into the final. George Brennan will drive Drama Act, the 6-5 morning-line favorite, from post four.

Division three also includes Karma Seelster, who is tied for fourth in points. She is 5-2 with Jordan Stratton at the lines for Andrew Adamczyk.

Racing begins at 6:55 p.m. EDT at Yonkers. For tonight's complete entries, click here. For the complete Blue Chip Matchmaker standings, click here.

Two winners for George Brennan in John Brennan Trotting Series

by Yonkers Raceway

A week after trainer/driver Trond Smedshammer doubled up in the John Brennan Trotting Series, driver George Brennan pulled off the same feat in Wednesday's (April 13) second round of the event at Yonkers Raceway.

Hat Trick Marleau improved to two-for-two in the series with a 1:55.1 tally in the first $25,000 split.

Away third, Hat Trick Marleau moved out of that position before the :28.2 opening quarter and took over the lead past that station. It was all Hat Trick Marleau from there, as he was unchallenged through a :58.1 half and a 1:26.4 three-quarters on his way to a 3 3/4 length decision over Tranquility K (Yannick Gingras). Top Me Off (Jordan Stratton) improved from last early on to third at the wire.

Ricky Bucci owns and trains Hat Trick Marleau, a 6-year-old gelded son of Crazyed. Hat Trick Marleau made his 16th appearance in the winner's circle, has now earned $161,981, and paid $2.30 to win as the 1-9 favorite. He was atop a $19.40 exacta and a $93.00 trifecta.

Brennan and B Nicking then knocked off favorites Seventier (Smedshammer) and Lula Muscle Pack (Gingras) in the second section.

Seventier shot to the lead from post one, but Gingras left with Lula Muscle Pack from the outside post seven and was able to work his way to the point past a :27.2 opening quarter. Gingras then backed down the tempo to :57.3 at the half and 1:26.1 at three-quarters, with B Nicking wheeling out first-over from third before three-quarters.

Lula Muscle Pack was able to keep the top spot around the last turn, but B Nicking forged his way by early in the stretch drive. From there, B Nicking had to hold off a rallying Seventier, who had space to angle out in the lane, and B Nicking was able to hold sway by a head in a 1:55.1 mile. Lula Muscle Pack had to settle for third.

B Nicking, a 5-year-old Wishing Stone gelding, is trained by Cad Gregory for owner/breeder Ben Robards. B Nicking has compiled a record of 9-6-5 from 31 lifetime starts, and he has now put away $110,421. A 9-2 offering, B Nicking returned $11.80 to win and keyed a $25.60 exacta and a $66.00 trifecta.

Toccoa Falls (Gingras) also remained undefeated in the John Brennan Trotting Series after bagging the third flight in 1:56.

Credit Con (Tyler Buter) and Lady Ann NO (Smedshammer) gunned out from posts five and six, respectively, and duked it out for early command, with Lady Ann NO pressing on two-wide to get to the engine. Toccoa Falls watched that transpire from fourth, but Gingras brought him to the outside prior to the :28.3 quarter and hit the front beyond that marker.

After he seized the lead, Toccoa Falls would go on to reach the half in just :58.3 and the three-quarters in a well-rated 1:27.3. That set up a sprint to the wire, and although Lady Ann NO had room to tip out on the last turn and came with a good rally, it wasn't enough, as Toccoa Falls kept her at bay by a head. Credit Con ended up third.

Per Engblom trains Toccoa Falls, a 5-year-old gelding by Trixton, for owners Evan Katz and Frank Canzone. Toccoa Falls is now an eight-time winner from 50 trips behind the gate, and he has now banked $141,168. Toccoa Falls, dispatched as the 1-5 favorite, paid $2.70 to win. The exacta was worth $7.00 and the trifecta kicked back $34.80.

Emotions Riches (Stratton) improved from third in his division of the first leg of the event to a dominant 1:56 decision in the second round finale.

After second and third choices Sevenshadesofgrey (Brennan) and Striking Genson (Austin Siegelman) made breaks on the first turn, that allowed Emotions Riches to get away third from post five. Stratton then came to the outside with his charge and moved him around leader Blake Space AS (Jason Bartlett) past the :29.1 opening quarter.

Emotions Riches put the half up in 58 seconds and then went a 28-second third quarter to put a gap on the field. There was no catching him from there, as Emotions Riches reported home a 2 1/2 length winner. Golden Genes (McGwire Sowers) came in second, and Striking Genson recovered from his break to collect third.

The victorious 4-year-old gelded son of Wheeling N Dealin is trained by Dennis Laterza for owners Latz A Luck Stable, Winners Circle Racing LLC., and John Campagnuolo. Emotions Riches scored his ninth career victory, and he has now pocketed $126,775. Sent off as the 3-5 choice, Emotions Riches returned $3.50 to win and led a $27.60 exacta and a $69.50 trifecta.

There is one more preliminary round remaining in the John Brennan Trotting Series next Wednesday (April 20). The final and consolation will then take place on April 27.

Stakes action continues at Yonkers tonight (April 15) and Monday (April 18) with the fifth and final legs of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series and MGM Borgata Pacing Series. There are three $40,000 divisions of the Blue Chip Matchmaker (races four, six, and eight) tonight, and a trio of $50,000 splits of the MGM Borgata (also races four, six, and eight) on Monday.

Yonkers is operating on a Monday-Friday live racing schedule with post time at 6:55 p.m.

TIGHT FINISHES ABOUND IN ROUND FOUR OF MGM BORGATA PACING SERIES

A neck, half a length, a neck, and half a length were the winning margins in four closely-contested $50,000 splits of the fourth leg of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series on Monday night (April 11) at Yonkers Raceway.

Defending series champion This Is The Plan was a convincing winner in round one of this year's event, but then was second-best after cutting a slow pace on March 28, followed by a fading dead-heat for fifth from the pocket a week ago. He bounced back tonight, though, taking the first flight in 1:51.

Driven by Yannick Gingras from post one, This Is The Plan moved out of the pocket to get around a fast-leaving Splash Brother (Tyler Buter) and had command before the :27.2 opening quarter. Gingras then backed down the tempo to :56.2 at the half and 1:24.1 at three-quarters, with 2-5 favorite Nandolo N (Jason Bartlett) moving up to This Is The Plan's outside after coming first-over out of third before three-quarters.

This Is The Plan continued to stave off Nandolo N's bid around the last turn, then responded when called upon by Gingras through the stretch, holding Nandolo N at bay by a neck at the finish line. Im Sir Blake A (Marcus Miller) worked out a second-over trip and was third.

Ron Burke trains This Is The Plan, a gelding by Somebeachsomewhere, for owners Burke Racing Stable LLC., Weaver Brussemi LLC., J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby, and Larry Karr. This Is The Plan is now a 22-time winner, and he pushed his bankroll to $2,626,719. Dispatched as the 2-1 second choice, This Is The Plan paid $6.70 to win and led a $13.00 exacta and a $13.80 trifecta.

In the second section, Tattoo Artist (Dunn) picked up his initial victory in this year's MGM Borgata Pacing Series, stopping the teletimer in 1:51.

Chase H Hanover (Kakaley) blasted out quickly from post five and grabbed early command, but he would be looped by Tattoo Artist from the two-hole, and then Tattoo Artist ceded command to American History (Todd McCarthy), who moved out of third prior to the 27-second opening quarter and landed on the point past that marker.

American History maintained the lead through a :54.4 half and a 1:22.1 three-quarters, but Dunn angled Tattoo Artist out two-wide midway through the far turn and went by American History early in the stretch drive. Chase H Hanover also had space to tip out in the lane and had pace to go with it, but Tattoo Artist had the jump on him and hit the wire half a length ahead of him. Bee Two Bee (Gingras) rallied from last at the half to third at the finish.

Georgia Panagi

Funatthebeach N (Jordan Stratton) pulled a 29-1 upset on Monday with a win in the Borgata Series at Yonkers.

Tattoo Artist is a 5-year-old He's Watching stallion trained by Chris Ryder for owners Let It Ride Stables Inc., Frank Cannon, and Diamond Creek Racing. Tattoo Artist, a co-holder of the all-age track record at Yonkers (1:49.3), has compiled a record of 21-7-7 from 52 lifetime appearances, and the winner's share of the purse made him harness racing's newest millionaire, as his earnings now stand at $1,018,527. Sent off as the favorite, Tattoo Artist returned $3.30 to win and keyed a $21.00 exacta and a $148.00 trifecta.

Funatthebeach N (Jordan Stratton) pulled a 29-1 upset last Monday in winning in the Borgata, and he surprised the favorites again in tonight's third test, sweeping from last to first in the final quarter at odds of 9-2.

American Dealer N (Scott Zeron), Semi Tough (Gingras), and Poseidon Seelster (George Brennan) all left the gate with purpose in this race, and they were three-wide for most of a 26-second opening quarter before American Dealer N relented at the inside, allowing Semi Tough to get into the pocket and Poseidon Seelster to the top. Brennan hit the brakes in the second quarter, getting to the half in just 56 seconds flat, and that prompted Captain Barbossa (Jason Bartlett) to get going first-over from fourth before that station. Pat Stanley N (Dunn) latched onto the cover to sit second-over, and Funatthebeach N and Stratton wound up third-over.

Captain Barbossa's try stalled out in second as Poseidon Seelster and Brennan picked up the pace to 1:23.4 at three-quarters. Captain Barbossa would then begin to back up on the last turn, and that sent Pat Stanley N and Funatthebeach N wide to try and get around him. Meanwhile, Poseidon Seelster remained in the lead and looked strong coming into the lane. However, that early three-wide position and hot tempo began to catch up with him, and Semi Tough, who had angled out of the pocket late on the final bend, went by him in deep stretch. Semi Tough couldn't hold on either, though, as Pat Stanley N and Funatthebeach N both surged by him to his outside, with Funatthebeach N taking the 1:51.4 decision. He downed Pat Stanley N by a neck, and Semi Tough had to settle for third.

Jeff Gillis and Mark Ford are the winning trainer/owner combination behind Funatthebeach N, an 8-year-old Somebeachsomewhere gelding. This was Funatthebeach N's 28th lifetime tally, and he now shows a bankroll of $457,539. He paid $11.00 to win and headed a $68.50 exacta and a $238.50 trifecta.

Leonidas A won all four of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series prelims he entered in 2021, and he's on track to do the same thing this year, as he captured the last division in 1:50.4.

Driven by Austin Siegelman, Leonidas A got away in third from post two and watched as Dragon Said (Joe Bongiorno) and None Bettor A (Dan Dube) tussled for the lead, with None Bettor A moving out and around Dragon Said to get to the front past a :26.4 quarter. None Bettor A would then reach the half in :55.3, but Leonidas A wheeled out first-over on the third turn and forged his way by None Bettor A prior to the 1:23.4 three-quarters.

After Leonidas A cleared, that left Jack's Legend N (Matt Kakaley) first-over, and those two would square off in a virtual match race through the last quarter. Jack's Legend N was very game two-wide, but Leonidas A was equally resolute on the inside and stayed in front of Jack's Legend N, bettering him by half a length. Western Joe (Dexter Dunn) was the third-place finisher.

The victorious 7-year-old gelding by Mach Three is trained by Sheena Cohen for owner Jesmeral Stable. Leonidas A made his 39th appearance in the winner's circle, and he has now pocketed $599,187. The 2-5 favorite, Leonidas A returned $2.60 to win. The exacta and trifecta were worth $7.10 and $19.20, respectively.

In other news from the 13-race program, the recent run of "Million Dollar Mondays" on the wagering front continued, with handle checking in at $1,004,166.42.

One preliminary round remains in the MGM Borgata Pacing Series next Monday (April 18) before the final on April 25.

BORGATA AND MATCHMAKER STANDINGS UPDATE

The fifth and final legs of the Matchmaker and Borgata are coming up on Friday (April 15) and Monday (April 18), respectively. The current top ten in the Matchmaker are Drama Act (262 points), Easy To Please (200 points), Racine Bell (200 points), Karma Seelster (192 points), Miss You N (192 points), Best Head West (187 points), Mystical Carrie (187 points), Keep Rockin A (178 points), Lit De Rose (155 points), and Man Dontforget Me (153 points).

As far as the Borgata goes, Nandolo N leads with 250 points. He is followed by This Is The Plan (227.5 points), Leonidas A (225 points), Tattoo Artist (212 points), Funatthebeach N (210 points), Pat Stanley N (200 points), Jack's Legend N (187 points), Semi Tough (182 points), Western Joe (174 points), and Poseidon Seelster (170 points).

The horses with the eight highest point totals will advance to the finals, which have estimated purses of $550,000 for the Borgata and $381,000 for the Matchmaker. There will also be consolations for each race.

$140,000 sale-topper for Preferred Equine Online

Points North, a 1:49.3 Canadian season's record-setter this year and Woodbine Mohawk preferred pacer, topped the April 11 Preferred Equine Online Mixed Sale at $140,000 after spirited bidding action.

The high-class pacer by stalwart Somebeachsomewhere became the co-highest priced horse and fourth $100,000-plus seller in just the first four installments of Preferred Equine Online's mixed sales. He was purchased by Jim Winske after being offered for sale by Preferred Equine Online, agent for Aaron Waxman.

\(View complete sale results\)

"It never fails," said sale manager David Reid. "Bring a quality racehorse in good form to auction, and there's a large audience of buyers ready to act. From the time bidding opened, there were 42 bids on Points North from 14 separate entities."

Reid pointed out that Points North is likely another online sale grad whose success will continue.

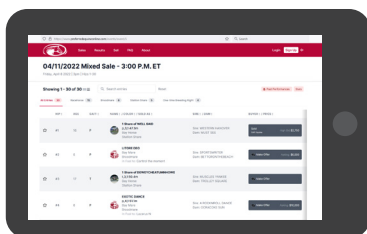

"The thing about our online sales I'm most pleased about – aside from the excellent participation in them – is the fact that we've sold 12 racehorses online that have already won 16 races for their new owners in the past month.

"People are 'all-in' and confident about both selling and buying good horses here on our transparent platform."

This just-concluded sale featured 30 hips, half of which were racehorses. The other offerings included broodmares, stallion shares and 2022 breedings. From the 15 racehorses cataloged 13 were sold, with the two not meeting reserves still available on a "make offer" basis.

The next mixed sale on tap for PEO is in two weeks. For information about the April 25 sale, or to enter horses, visit preferredequineonline.com.

Buter, McCarthy shine in Monday Weiss Series action

The $20,000 divisions of the second round preliminaries of the Bobby Weiss Series for 3-year-old fillies on Monday afternoon (April 11) at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono had a driving star on each gait – Tyler Buter won three of the trotting sections, and Andrew McCarthy won three of the pacing cuts.

Buter was perfect with his Weiss series trotting drives, and he handled the most impressive winner of the day, the Bar Hopping filly Mimi Ocean Hanover, who bounced back from a break in the first prelim, trotting to a new mark of 1:55.1 and posting the largest win margin of any Weiss section, 1¾ lengths, for trainer Annie Stoebe and owner R. Lynn Curry. After guiding "Mimi" to her second win in three seasonal outings, Buter was on the road to Yonkers to drive free-for-allers on their evening card.

Tyler also guided the only repeat winner in the trotting action, the Credit Winner miss We Could Be Heros, who was 1½ lengths to the good in a new mark of 1:57.3 for trainer Rob Harmon and the ownership of Harmon Racing Stable LLC and Harvey Eisman.

Buter's third winner was appropriately-named – the Chapter Seven distaff Storybook Ending, who was last save a misbehavior past head stretch but still could rally to break her maiden in 1:58.1 by three-quarters of a length for trainer John Butenschoen and the ownership of Harmony Oaks Racing Stable Inc. James Crawford IV, Heritage Standardbreds, and Carl Austin Jr.

Chapter Seven got a siring double when Gettinmystepsin broke her maiden in her seasonal bow, winning by a length in 1:57.3 for driver Andy Miller, trainer Julie Miller, and owners James, Ronald, and Douglas Allen.

While McCarthy won three of the pacing divisions (and added a fourth success in an overnight to take the day's driving honors overall), the other two sections produced the fastest times, including the fastest by Jillian B Miki. The daughter of Always B Miki equaled her career mark of 1:53.3 in taking her second Weiss prelim and fourth race overall, three-quarters of a length to the good for driver Jim Pantaleano and trainer Tye Loy, the latter co-owner with Rich Gillock.

Joining her as a doubler in the Weiss was the Captaintreacherous filly Silent Crossing, taking her third straight by a length in 1:54.1 for driver Mark MacDonald, trainer Jessica Fallon, and owners Hutt Racing Stable and Blake MacIntosh.

The sires of the two Weiss pacing doublers, Always B Miki and Captaintreacherous, each earned a second siring credit with a McCarthy-driven horse, both winning in 1:54.4. Always B Miki is the sire of IQ Hanover, who disappointed as a favorite last week, but here showed gameness in overcoming a hung-the-mile journey to notch a length margin for trainer Tony Alagna and the ownership of Robert LeBlanc, David Anderson, Joseph Barbera, and J Fodera 'n' M Frank Stable (spelling verified).

Captaintreacherous' second victory came from Southwind Java, a three-quarter length winner in her 2022 curtain-raiser in 1:54.4 for trainer Mark Harder, who is part of her ownership with Dean Lockhart, Wayne Carleton, and Deena Frost.

Andrew's other winner was 32-1 shot Covenant Woman, a daughter of A Rocknroll Dance, who was a rough-gaited last, 13¼ lengths off the leader at the three-quarters, but who found a weaving path via McCarthy between horses, coming her own last quarter in :28.1 to decision Some Kinda Angel by a nose while breaking her maiden in 1:55.4 in her third lifetime start for trainer Kenneth Hess Jr. and owner Troyce Craig Thomas.

Weiss Series action continues for "the boys" on Saturday (April 16) at 1:30, with trotters in their third and final prelim leg and pacers in their second prelim round; these races will be joined by a $25,000 fast-class pace. Program pages will be available at www.phha.org/downsmppps.html. It is also noted that Pocono will be dark in observance on Easter Sunday the day afterward.

Seaside Way captures Miami Valley's Hiteman Memorial in final stride

Seaside Way (Chris Page), a promising 3-year-old son of Downbytheseaside, upended heavily favored EL's Rocker (Mike Peterson) in the final stride to capture the $25,000 championship final of the Omar Hiteman Memorial Series at Miami Valley on Sunday (April 10). The 1:52 clocking equaled the lifetime best of Seaside Way, who paid $23.40 to win.

Page sat patiently in third as EL's Rocker put up moderate first half fractions of :27.4 and :57 before speeding up to trip the three-quarters beam in 1:24.1. As the field was coming off the final bend, Seaside Way was angled to the outside and began shortening the open lengths margin the favorite was enjoying. By mid-stretch it became obvious that the winning Ron Burke-trainee had a shot and the two-horse race was on — right to the finish line. It took the photo finish camera to determine that Seaside Way had snapped EL's Rocker on the wire. Rockin Sandsave (Trace Tetrack) enjoyed a pocket ride throughout and garnered the show dough.

Burke Racing, Weaver Brussemi, Knox Services and Slaughter Racing own Seaside Wave, who only managed one win as a freshman but banked $72,960 in 10 starts. Thus far in 2022, he has had four starts with a 1-1-1 scorecard and $17,690 earned. Next start for Seaside Way may be in a $20,000 elimination heat of the annual James K. Hackett Memorial on Thursday, April 21. Top finishers return for a $50,000 Hackett final on April 28. The Hackett series features four divisions for pacers and trotters with colt and filly splits. Total purses for the Ohio-sired Hacketts, which annually signal the start of the Ohio stakes season, could exceed $400,000.

Mullinax becomes the fastest pacer ever bred in Massachusetts

On the strength of his lifetime best winning effort of 1:49.1 at the Meadowlands on Saturday night (April 9), Mullinax (American Ideal—Up Front Kellie Jo) became the fastest standardbred of any age, gait or gender bred in Massachusetts.

Tim Tetrack was locked in fifth at the rail with Mullinax at the top of the lane before finding open road along the pylons and bolting home in :26.2 to win by one length to establish the new record.

Mullinax was foaled at the Longobardi Farm in Norfolk, MA in 2018 and became a Massachusetts Sire Stake champion at 2 while setting a track and stake record for a 2-year-old pacing colt (1:53.4). He then repeated as champion at three, sweeping all three legs and the final while setting another stake record for a 3-year-old pacing colt (1:51.3).

Now 4, Mullinax has 34 lifetime starts with 12 wins, seven seconds and five thirds with earnings of $356,724. Bred by his namesake, the late Ed Mullinax and his trainer Mark Ford, the fastest horse ever to come out of the state of Massachusetts is owned by William Varney of Bangor, ME.

Allan Davis won seven races at Harrington on Wednesday

Harrington Raceway's defending driving champion Allan Davis had a seven-win night on the Wednesday (April 13) program.

The 46-year-old Davis captured four of the first six races, three for his son, owner/trainer Tyler Davis and also a pair for trainer Joe Hundertpfund and Ross Shand.

The fourth victory came in the $15,000 feature as Secret Jet ($5.20) was a strong front end winner over Remarkable De Vie and Lizzy Lauxmont for his third win of the season. The 6-year-old Dejarmbro gelding has banked more than $56,000 this year for owner/trainer Tyler Davis.

Allan Davis picked up his fifth win aboard Outcry ($6), who was a dominant winner despite post 8 for trainer Hunderptfund and capped off the night with wins aboard Racinwiththewind ($8.60) and Canoe Trip ($4).

Driver Tony Morgan had a triple and pulled within five of the 17,000 win milestone, trailing only Dave Palone all-time.

Matt Sparacino / Harrington Raceway

Dunn wins six at Philly

Three-time defending Driver of the Year Dexter Dunn lit up Harrah's Philadelphia on Sunday afternoon (April 10), visiting Victory Lane six times, including with both of the feature race winners.

In a $15,300 pace for developing distaffs, Dunn moved the JK Endofanera mare Brilliant Beauty to the lead in front of the stands after an early scramble and was on cruise control from there, stopping the timer in 1:52.4 while defeating 2021 Breeders Crown finalist Shezafreaklikeme by 2½ lengths. Brilliant Beauty now has two straight victories for trainer Tee Wine and Jemaxpo Racing Stable LLC.

Brilliant Beauty was sent off as the 1-5 favorite; much more surprising was Dunn's success with the 23-1 shot Random Hanover in 1:52.3 in the $13,000 fast-class pace. The Eric Foster-trained Somebeachsomewhere gelding, who won his last local start during the last week of 2021, was behind nonflowing cover, then steamed three-wide from late backstretch onward to just catch pacesetter Lyons Steel by a neck for owner Arty Foster.

There will be racing today (April 15) at 12:25, and then Harrah's Philadelphia will be dark for live racing this coming Easter Sunday. Program pages for all Harrah's Philly racing will be available at www.phha.org/harrahspps.html.

Ohio stakes season to kick off with Hackett Memorials at Miami Valley

The James K. Hackett Memorials, which have signaled the opening of the Ohio stakes racing season for decades, are right around the corner at Miami Valley Raceway. Originally introduced at old Lebanon Raceway, the Hackett Memorial was picked up by Miami Valley when it opened nine years ago and has been expanded over those years to include divisions for all four categories of Ohio-sired 3-year-olds.

"We were pleased with the response to the Hacketts again this year," said race secretary Gregg Keidel. "There were 125 nominations, divided almost equally between pacers and trotters, colts and fillies. We raised the elimination race purses from $15,000 to $20,000 this year, plus the finals will race for $50,000 in 2022 versus $40,000 in 2021. These races are a preview of what patrons will see in the first legs of the Buckeye Stallion Series and the Ohio Sires Stakes, both of which will be featured the week following the Hackett finals here at Miami Valley."

Due to Miami Valley being dark today (April 15), Saturday and Sunday of Easter weekend, there are some minor changes in the draw schedule. Trainers of Hackett-eligible horses are advised to make special note of the days horses need to be entered, as follows:

3yo filly trotters – Enter Thurs. (April 14) by noon for eliminations on Mon. (April 18)

3yo filly pacers – Enter Fri. (April 15) by noon for eliminations on Tues. (April 19)

3yo colt trotters – Enter Fri. (April 15) by 2:00 for eliminations on Wed. (April 20)

3yo colt pacers – Enter Mon. (April 18) by noon for eliminations on Thurs (April 21)

Stallion subscription for 2023 Ohio Breeders Championship due April 15

Ohio stallion owners are reminded that the Stallion Subscription Fee for the 2024 Ohio Breeders Championship is due April 15.

Stallion nominations require a subscription fee of one half of the stud fee charged for the year of conception (2020), minimum of $300. Stallions must have been registered with the Ohio State Racing Commission and must have stood in Ohio the entire breeding season of the year the colt or filly was conceived.

This year's payment will cover foals for 2021 to be raced as 2-year-olds in 2023 and 3-year-olds in 2024.

For the last 37 years, the Ohio Breeder's Championships, raced during the Grand Circuit meet at the Delaware County Fair, have become an important series on the Ohio racing calendar.

In 2021, nearly $1,000,000 was distributed in the OBCs thanks to the support of the Ohio Harness Horseman's Association.

Forms are on www.LittleBrownJug.com and questions should be directed to Tom Wright by emailing lbjstaking@yahoo.com or calling (614) 847-1948.
