Long live The Pomp

Scenes from the final card of racing ever at Pompano Park.

Long-time leading driver Wally Hennessey pulls a Herve Filion tribute on the way to the winner's circle Sunday after track record (1:48.3f) holder Panocchio's 1:51.3f win in the Bill and Martha Cass Memorial Pace.

An air of denial, or maybe hope, lingered over the weeks leading up to the final live races at Pompano Park. Good-sized fields, an active backstretch, a significant fan base — at least online — and strong handle. These were not the indicators one would expect from a track on the brink of closure. And yet, April 17, 2022 was the end for Florida's only pari-mutuel harness racetrack. As the final 19 races unfolded Sunday night, beginning with a trio of non-wagering Florida Amateur Driving Club (FADC) Miles, there was still a sense that the news couldn't be real.

For starters, Pompano is — was — a vibrant place. Closing night didn't feel that different from a regular night of racing at "The Pomp." In the first race, after Billy Muggleson and trotter For a Dreamer secured a 1:56.2f victory, the winning driver was credited and applauded for his 100th win. Long-time publicist/announcer John Berry called early races and conducted winner's circle interviews throughout the evening. He and Gabe Prewitt introduced the Pompano personalities for whom the last-ever races were named, describing a wide variety of individuals integral to the track's personality. Not all were obvious: Race 10, the #SendItIn Invitational for male pacers, was dubbed "The John Sailey 'Fluff' Memorial Pace" for "a fixture in the racebook" who "passed before the season started," said Prewitt.

Pompano Park broke ground on June 19, 1963 and first opened for harness racing on February 4, 1964, after the land was acquired by Frederick van Lennep in 1953. He and wife Frances Dodge van Lennep, proprietors of Castleton Farm, KY, built the "Winter Capital of Harness Racing" on the site of an outlawed thoroughbred track that closed in 1926 after a single day of racing. Ironically, according to historian Frank J. Cavaoli, it was the Florida governor's opposition to allowing pari-mutuel wagering at Pompano that killed the original thoroughbred meet. The track's fate as a harness venue was sealed with the decoupling of standardbred racing last year, approved under current Florida governor Ron DeSantis (R) despite bills brought forward by Dan Daley, Florida House Representative (D) for District 97.

The value of the racetrack and backstretch property has also soared as the surrounding area has become densely developed and populated. In his 2005 book, "Images of America: Pompano Park Harness Track," Cavaoli noted that it cost just $5.5 million to build. Isle of Capri Casinos acquired the track in 1995. When Eldorado bought out Isle of Capri's 13 properties for $1.7 billion in 2016, Pompano Park was part of the deal. Eldorado Resorts Inc. subsequently purchased Caesars Entertainment Corp. for $17 billion in 2020. This February, Caesars announced it was formally rebranding Pompano Park as "Harrah's Pompano Beach," representing the elimination of racing from the grounds.

Hennessey and company in the winner's circle for the last time at Pompano after Beach Forecast won the final race, the Allen J. Finkelson Memorial Pace.

Pompano was a harness track which attracted generations of participants and fans. Tyler Jones is the son of horseman Dustin Jones. The 27-year-old driver told Harness Racing Update that he made a conscious choice to relocate from Ontario to Pompano Park for its final season.

"I decided in late summer of last year that I would come to Florida to help my dad break his yearlings and train back the 2-year-olds turning 3. Racing at Pompano was something my dad and I had discussed. I was hoping to maybe get a few drives throughout the winter, considering I didn't really know anyone that raced there. My dad talked to a few people that he knew to see if they would be able to give me a drive. Then one day at the farm, Shane Arsenault came by and he called a few people for me as well. My first drive was for Gaston Dumont and France. The following week Marc Major gave me two horses to drive. And everything snowballed beyond my expectations from that point."

Jones said that although the track was "far removed from its prime years," he had unforgettable learning experiences and career milestones in his brief time at The Pomp.

"My first win at [Pompano] with BJ Lorado was incredible. Winning the open 2 pace with Jet Rock in 1:50.4, which is my fastest career win. Winning three races in a row twice with Fox Valley Tinka and again with Blue Devil. Then of course simply racing against legends every night like Wally [Hennessey] and David Miller, Kevin Wallis, Peter Wrenn... Guys that have thousands of wins, while I only have under 1,500 career starts. To be driving every night against them, and getting multiple drives on a card while they are also there, was a big highlight."

Losing Pompano happened gradually enough that many horsepeople, including Jones, expected it, but still couldn't believe the day had arrived.

"I really don't know any of the details on how and why The Pomp met its demise, but it seems like it's been quite some time coming, so it was inevitable that eventually it would be shut down," said the driver. "I think it would have taken an enormous influx of investment to get the place back to its shiny old self, and I don't think that was ever going to happen. Clearly Caesar Entertainment thought [it was] best for them to invest in their casino expansion [instead of] the horsemen."

On the backstretch, smoking a cigarette outside the grooms' quarters, long-time caretaker Mike Cashman was also reflective about the imminent closure. The 73-year-old brother of late Castleton Farm president and general manager John Cashman Jr. remembered looking after racehorses at Monticello 50 years ago, starting out working for Bill Popfinger. A resigned Cashman noted he'd heard rumours about Pompano shutting down "for about five or six years now," but at the start of the COVID-19 pandemic, a botched eviction of backstretch caretakers indicated the future wasn't that far away.

"It was all messed up," he said. "They [facility management] came back the next day and said it wasn't true [that grooms had to leave]. I just knew they were gonna develop this place for more money."

Now all horses and horsepeople must be off the grounds by May 1. Cashman wasn't sure where he would go next.

"Maybe Sunshine Meadows, Spring Garden Ranch. A lot will go to Pocono, Hoosier. Some are going to Lexington. My brother is going to Tioga," he said, adding that he would prefer to stay in Florida, ideally at another pari-mutuel racetrack ("Somebody was talking about opening one up by Orlando.")

Cashman, who was at Pompano when it played host to Breeders Crown events from 1984-1993, expressed anger about decoupling in Florida, a major impediment to any would-be standardbred racetrack operators.

"Why the hell are they [Caesars/Harrah's] holding onto the [pari-mutuel wagering] license when they don't want to race?"

The final night at Pompano was all about the racing, with memorable moments like Jody Jamieson's first and last driving victory there (1:53.3f, with Protect Blue Chip in the Joanie Uszak Appreciation Pace), and Wally Hennessey standing on the sulky, Herve Filion-style, after track record (1:48.3f) holder Panocchio's 1:51.3f win in the Bill & Martha Cass Memorial Pace. It was fittingly Hennessey, the track's leading reinsman, who captured the Allen J. Finkelson Memorial Pace with Beach Forecast (1:50.4f). It was Pompano Park's last-ever race on a night in which total handle was $1.43 million, third highest in track history.

An informal funeral procession for the track followed, led by Hennessey, pulling a sulky. Some who loved the track walked or rode along on a golf cart, alongside the dismounted outrider's white horse. A dog defecated on the racing surface, which several witnesses described as a fitting metaphor for the racino's ownership.

Tyler Jones reflected on what the best outcome might look like, for the future of Florida harness racing.

"I think the best hope now is to build a new racetrack and get a fresh start, which I know isn't anywhere close to happening soon," he said. "But if it does, I'll definitely be back, and hopefully have my own stable of young horses to break and train and have a racing stable which I can race at said new track for many years."

Trainer Richard Banca pleads guilty in doping case

by Bill Finley

Trainer Richard Banca, one of several harness horsemen involved in the widespread doping case that involved numerous indictments back in 2020, entered a guilty plea on Tuesday (April 19). He was charged with one count of drug alteration and misbranding, which is a felony.

Banca will be sentenced Sept 6. Others who have pled guilty to similar charges have been hit with sentences in the neighborhood of three years.

Banca will be sentenced Sept 6. Others who have pled guilty to similar charges have been hit with sentences in the neighborhood of three years.

According to court documents released in conjunction with Banca's guilty plea, in or about 2015 through at least January 2020, Banca adulterated and misbranded drugs with "the intent to defraud and mislead, in interstate commerce, and caused the adulteration and misbranding of drugs in interstate commerce..." It was also charged that Banca, "misled and deceived state and federal regulators with respect to the distribution, purchase and receipt of various misbranded and adulterated performance enhancing drugs, and the use of such misbranded and adulterated drugs to improve the performance of racehorses under Banca's and others' custody and care."

It was in 2015 that Banca's win rate took off. After winning 55 races in 2014, he won 174 races in 2015 and 200 in 2016. He won at least 153 races over each of the next three years.

Banca has also been ordered to pay a forfeiture in the amount of $120,975, which represents that value of the drugs involved in his case.

He was arrested in March of 2020 and released after posting a $200,000 personal recognizance bond. The court documents released at the time Banca was arrested include a deposition from FBI agent Bruce Turpin, who testified that during a March 9, 2020 search of Banca's property in Middletown, NY agents found a number of illegal substances and handwritten notes with instructions on how to administer those drugs. Turpin said that Banca worked with Conor Flynn and Louis Grasso in a joint effort to administer illegal drugs to horses and to deliver drugs to others for the purpose of doping their horses. Flynn was Banca's assistant at the time.

According to a Feb. 13, 2022 report in the Albany Times Union, agents found inside Banca's office a handwritten ledger with a list of horse's names, a syringe and a note offering instructions on how to administer a custom drug concoction through a tube inserted down a horse's nose and throat. The paper also reported that agents found a substance labeled "bleeder" and a second bottle containing adrenaline.

In 2011, Banca was sanctioned by the New York Racing and Wagering Board for Oxymetazoline violations and given a 90-day suspension and a $1,000 fine.

Prior to his pleading guilty, Banca's case was scheduled to go to trial June 27. That remains the trial date for several others involved in the harness industry who have been arrested on doping charges. The list consists of Grasso, Flynn, Donato Polisenio, Thomas Guido and Rene Allard. At the time of his arrest, Banca was the leading trainer on the year at Yonkers with 42 wins, one more than Allard.

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Olle Goop dead at 78

by Thomas Hedlund

Olle Goop, one of the most merited trainers and drivers in Europe, died on Wednesday (April 20). He was 78.

Goop, the father of Björn Goop, won 7,696 races as trainer and claimed 66 track champion titles in Sweden as driver. Olle won 6,745 races as driver and he won several of the most prestigious races in the world.

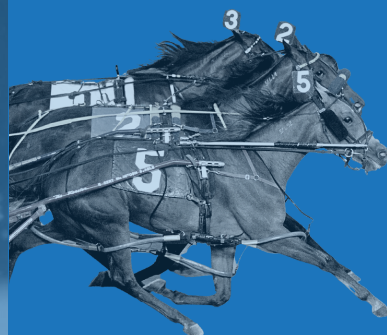

Grades Singing was his most merited trotter throughout his career and with Conny Nobell, Olle won the Kriteriet, The Derby and Elitloppet as trainer in 2004-2006.

The late Olle Goop.

TOP TROTTERS IN PARIS

Saturday's (April 23) $215,000 Prix de l'Atlantique over 1.3 miles will be a great show for the harness racing fans in Paris. The Enghien track is well known for its long home stretch and Prix de l'Atlantique is often a spectacular race.

Delia du Pommereux will prepare herself ahead of the trip to Gothenburg, where she is the title defender in Paralympiattravet at Åby on May 7. The Sylvain Roger -trained mare will face some really good trotters in Paris this Saturday. Etonnant and Vivid Wise As (both invited to Elitloppet), will try to claim the big trophy at Enghien and the 12 horses strong field is top class.

CANADIAN TROTTER SIXTH HORSE IN THE ELITLOPPET

Seven-year-old Canadian trotter Perfetto (Majestic Son) became the sixth horse to get an invitation for Elitloppet 2022.

Perfetto has been mentioned as one of the best older colt/geldings in Canada two years in a row and he finished third behind Lindy The Great and Forbidden Trade in last year's Maple Leaf Trot.

Dagfin Henriksen trains and drives Perfetto, who will join Back Of The Neck on the plane from America in May.

HAPPY VALLEY FLEW TO VICTORY

Vincennes' race card on Saturday (April 16) featured some high staked races and some impressive performances were made on the black track of Paris.

Happy Valley (Royal Dream) claimed her seventh win in her last eight starts when she flew to victory in the $130,000 Prix Henri Levesque. Driver Jean Philippe Dubois noted that leader Heliade du goutier was captured in perfect time ahead of the wire and 5-year-old Happy Valley came home in mile rate 1:57.1 over 1.6 miles.

The 5-year-old colts battled in the $130,000 Prix Robert Auvray and Hooker Berry (Booster Winner) was outstanding since Jean-Michel Bazire hit the lead with half a mile to go. Hooker Berry jogged to a safe win in 1:56.2 over 1.6 miles ahead of Have A Dream and Hip Hop Haufor.

Fabrice Souloy-trained Ampia Mede Sm (Ganymede), bred in Italy, disarmed leader Decoloration from outside position in $97,500 Prix du Treport and by that claimed her third win for the year.

BORN UNICORN SECURED A SPOT IN PARALYMPIATRAVET

First choice Who's Who went off stride in the first turn when the second elimination for the $315,000 Paralympiattravet was held at Romme racetrack on Sunday (April 17) afternoon. The disappearance of Who's Who opened up for Daniel Redén-trained Born Unicorn (Raja Mirchi), driven by Björn Goop, who made a strong first over performance as he claimed a spot in the final at Åby on May 7.

The next elimination is held in Halmstad on Saturday (April 23) and Danish harness racing's new star, Extreme, is the horse to beat, even if he's already in the final at Åby since trainer Steen Juul received an early wild card for the race. The 6-year-old Chocolatier son Extreme is also invited for the Elitloppet at Solvalla later on in May.

Trainer Redén fined $10,500 by Sweden's Supreme Court in Propulsion case

by Dave Briggs

Sweden's Supreme Court has ruled trainer Daniel Redén must pay a SEK 100,000 (about $10,500 U.S.) fine in the Propulsion case, overruling the decision of the country's trotting association Svensk Travsport (ST) not to fine Redén.

The decision was announced Tuesday (April 19), bringing an end to the case that has dragged on for nearly two years.

The short version of the story is this: Many years after he began racing in Sweden, ST discovered Propulsion underwent a nerve procedure in the United States before being sold to his current Swedish owner, Stall Zet (Brixton Medical AB) — even though the procedure was clearly disclosed to ST by the U.S.

Trotting Association (USTA) in the horse's export certificate. That Propulsion had been nerved was not disclosed before Redén purchased the horse for Stall Zet at the 2015 Tattersalls Summer Mixed Sale. The trainer said he was not informed about it later, either.

ST ruled in 2020 that since the horse was ineligible to race all along, Stall Zet must return SEK 26,000,000 (about $2.9 million (U.S.)) earned in 45 starts in Sweden over five years.

Stall Zet has already returned some €150,000 ($162,742 U.S.) Propulsion earned in Finland and about €593,000 ($643,375) the trotter earned in France. The owner has also repaid about SEK 18,000,000 ($1,905,645) of the 26,000,000 owed in Sweden.

The Supreme Court cited strict trainer responsibility rules for fining Redén. ST went unpunished for its many failings in the case (see background).

ST CEO Maria Croon said in a press release (translated via Google Translate): "The whole case has been difficult for everyone involved and for the entire trotting sport. It is now a relief that the case has been settled and both parties have had to present their views on the case and two independent bodies have had to assess this."

Cameron Hart, another Aussie young gun in rapid ascension

The 23-year-old driver has four Group 1 victories in the last 12 months and nearly pulled off an upset in the inaugural $NZ900,000 The Race.

by Adam Hamilton

The deeds of Dexter Dunn and brothers Andy and Todd McCarthy are really starting to inspire a generation of young driving talent Down Under.

First it was gun NSW youngster Jack Callaghan to declare his wish to one day soon follow in their footsteps.

Now his off-track mate but on-track fierce rival, Cameron Hart, has shown his hand.

"Whether it's in a year, two years or five years, I'll definitely give the States a crack for sure," Hart said. "I've just turned 23. How can I not look at Andy, Dexter and now especially Toddy, who I drove alongside so often, and think what it would be like?"

But for now, Hart and Callaghan, who looks like he may try his luck in the U.S. earlier than Hart, will continue to push each other and thrill harness fans Down Under.

Hart took his first "real" international step last weekend when he partnered with friend and big supporter, young Menangle trainer Jason Grimson, to almost snatch New Zealand's inaugural $NZ900,000 The Race – Down Under's first harness slot race – with Majestic Cruiser.

The recycled pacer endured a tough trip and still went within a neck of upsetting NZ's best pacer, Self Assured, in a performance that both stunned and left many Kiwis wondering who Grimson and even Hart were.

"It wasn't the first time I'd driven in New Zealand, but the other time was a few years back as a junior driver when I was really just starting out and hadn't achieved much," Hart said.

"Jason's been such a huge supporter of mine. He and another (NSW) trainer Jarrod Alchin have been the ones who have taken my career to the next level over the past 18 months to two years with the opportunities they've given me on good horses and in big races.

"So, for Jason to back me in and want me to drive Majestic Cruiser and then for him to run such a big race ... that was really satisfying."

Just 48 hours later, Hart teamed with Grimson for their first Group 1 victory together when Ideal Dan won the $A100,000 Riverina Championship final at Wagga in regional NSW. It was special on so many levels because both young horsemen started their careers in the Riverina region.

"And we've been wanting and trying to win a Group 1 together for a while now. For me it was the best moment of my career so far," Hart said.

"It was the same race night 12 months earlier where I won my first Group 1 on Techys Angel, but we were in lockdowns then and not many people got to the track. This time all my family were there and to get it with Jason meant so much more."

It was Hart's fourth win at Australia's top level (Group 1) in the past 12 months.

He's come a long way from the six-year-old kid driving in pony trots, to the 11-year-old driving trackwork and the early teen who actually thought about becoming a jockey instead of a driver.

"I'm still pretty small, but I was tiny back then and couldn't put on weight no matter what I did, so there was a phase there where I thought about being a jockey," Hart said. "Dad wasn't keen and mum's from a trotting family (her brother is successful Riverina trainer Trevor White), so they quickly pulled me back into the harness world and I've only ever wanted to be a driver since I was about 12 or 13."

Hart didn't waste much time chasing his dream, starting driving at 17 and moving to Sydney in pursuit of success in the big smoke before he turned 19.

"Uncle Trevor (White) was the first big influence, then came Shane Sanderson, who was training a team of 15 at Menangle and, after I called him a couple of times, gave me a chance by saying he'd help cover some of my living costs if I wanted to move to Menangle and try freelance driving," Hart said.

"Shane had some nice Menangle horses and he was so patient as I learnt to drive on the (much) bigger Menangle (1400m) track than I was used to back home. I really learnt a lot in that time driving for Shane and because he trained at the Menangle complex, I made some important contacts as well."

Sanderson then moved south to Victoria, so Hart went truly freelance and that's when Grimson and Alchin emerged as training force and snapped him up as their stable drivers.

"Their rise to prominence has driven mine," Hart said. "Jason's had the most incredible past 18 months and Jarrod had a massive 2021 with his young horses and they both backed me all the way on their best horses."

Hart won last year's NSW State driving premiership and finished a close second to the champion Luke McCarthy on the Menangle metropolitan table. Callaghan finished second state-wide and fourth on the Menangle list.

"I'm sure if you ask Jack (Callaghan) he'd say the same, but I think it's great we have both to push each other to get the best out of ourselves," Hart said.

"Jack and I are just part of a great group of young drivers in NSW and the best part is, we're all great mates and socialise off the track. You pinch yourself a bit when you look over and see so many of your young mates lining-up for the start of the really big races."

RICHEST RACE IN THE HARNESS WORLD COMING TO AUSTRALIA

Australia is poised to host the richest harness race in the world.

In a gala launch in front of the iconic Sydney Harbour Bridge last Tuesday (April 20), the $A2.13million Eureka was launched.

It will be Australia's first slot race and the first running will be at the spacious 1400m track at Menangle, an hour outside of Sydney.

Before the Americans start plotting how to snatch the riches, there are some important and restrictive clauses to consider, most notably the fact it is restricted to Australian-born pacers only. And even then they have to be 3- or 4-year-olds at the time of the race.

"The Eureka is unashamedly designed to grow the Australia harness racing industry. It is part of our 'Advance Australia' strategy to encourage owners and participants to buy Australian-born yearlings," Harness Racing Australia chairman Graeme Campbell said.

"It will drive opportunities for local sires, generate external investment in the industry and identify new income streams."

There will be 10 slots for sale at $A100,000 per slot.

NINE WINS ON ONE CARD SMASHES RECORD

Australia's training and driving records were smashed to pieces last weekend.

In the most dominant display in the history of the sport Down Under, co-trainers Emma Stewart and Clayton Tonkin teamed with driver Mark Pitt to win nine of the 10 races at the feature Launceston meeting in Tasmania last Saturday night (April 16).

The only race they didn't win was restricted to local horses only, so Stewart and Tonkin were not eligible to have runners.

Stewart and Tonkin's nine wins bettered the previous record they shared with Shayne Cramp with eight wins at a single meeting.

Adding to the achievement, Stewart and Tonkin had just 10 starts on the night for the best possible result, nine wins and a second. The second came when they snared the quinella in the $A100,000 Group 1 feature Easter Cup with Longfellow and Like A Wildfire.

Pitt's nine wins, the last of them on Captain Rival, was beyond belief.

With the average Australian harness meeting having about eight or nine races, the previous most wins at a single meeting by an Aussie driver was six wins.

"It's hard to get my head around. Sure, I had the right horses from a great stable, but it rarely turns out that everything goes right in every race," Pitt said.

Something old and something new as London yearling sale returns to Ontario

The London Selected Yearling Sale has been reborn as the London Classic Yearling Sale now under the stewardship of The Western Fair Association. Meanwhile, Winbak will continue having the Ontario Select Yearling Sale at its Inglewood, ON farm.

by Dave Briggs

Ontario's "newest" yearling sale is more accurately a return to form.

The London Classic Yearling Sale, to be held Oct. 18 and 19 at the Agriplex at The Western Fair District, is the latest incarnation of the old London Selected Yearling Sale held at that site.

What's changed is the sale is now owned and operated by the Western Fair Association. Greg Blanchard, Western Fair's director of sales and retail operations, has been named the sale's general manager.

Blanchard said Western Fair took over the sale because it has, "a facility that is second to none, we're an agricultural society and it fits with our mandate. Just wanting to show our commitment and support to the standardbred industry in the province is the main factor."

Today (April 22) is the deadline for entries to the London Classic Yearling Sale, which will return to being a live auction. The past two years, the London sale was a virtual one due to the Agriplex being used as a COVID-19 vaccination site.

When that sale went online only, one of its ownership partners, Winbak Farm, opted to hold its own in-person auction instead at its Inglewood, ON farm. Thus, the Ontario Select Yearling Sale was born. While Blanchard said he had hoped Winbak might rejoin the London sale this year, Winbak Canada farm manager Pat Woods confirmed Wednesday that plans currently call for the third edition of the Ontario Select Yearling Sale to go ahead at the farm on Sept. 25.

"We had a good sale last year and we were happy with how things worked, so we just thought that we'd continue doing it," Woods said. "Greg Blanchard and I have talked since December back and forth about plans and ideas. We're not opposed to the London sale or what they are trying to do and we wish them all the best, but just for us it's a little less shipping and we have the facility here. It worked for us the last couple years, so we just thought that we'd continue with it. It'll just be kind of a year-by-year (decision)."

“As soon as I was approached about doing this, I got excited about it because of my long-time involvement in the industry. It’s a new area of the industry (for me). I haven’t worked intimately in a sales environment, so I’m just excited about working with all those folks on that side of it.”

~ Greg Blanchard

While Blanchard is an industry veteran who has worn many hats – race caller, publicist, TV personality, track manager chief among them – this will be the first time he has managed a yearling sale.

“As soon as I was approached about doing this, I got excited about it because of my long-time involvement in the industry. It’s a new area of the industry (for me). I haven’t worked intimately in a sales environment, so I’m just excited about working with all those folks on that side of it,” Blanchard said.

He said he has received a lot of positive feedback about an in-person sale returning to the Agriplex and believes the right thing to do is to put on a sale very similar to the London Selected auctions of old.

“Being that this is new for me, the last thing that I wanted to do was come in and try and make a bunch of changes and turn everything upside down,” Blanchard said. “My approach is to get a year under our belts and we’ll look probably pretty similar to a typical sale that’s been held there in the past.”

One big difference is the sale will be held on a Tuesday and Wednesday, as opposed to the weekend.

“Being there as a spectator numerous times, I could see myself how the energy would leave the building later in the day on that Saturday, as people started to leave and make their way up to Mohawk for Super Finals,” Blanchard said. “We likely weren’t getting all of the same people back the next day, either. That never sat right with me, so I picked the brain of a few experienced people in the industry and the feedback was that there would be a good reception to trying the weekday format. So, with the natural date in mid-October, that gets you in between Lexington and Harrisburg. Then, being a weekday, landed this year especially between the OSS Super Finals and Breeders Crown eliminations.”

Woods said the Sunday, Sept. 25 date for the Ontario Select Yearling Sale works well because the Mohawk Million will be held the night before at Woodbine Mohawk Park, which is located close to the farm.

“We have a great reputation and partnership with Woodbine when they host these great stake races,” Woods said. “They are getting the Breeders Crown back again, so when they have their richest night of racing it’s great and there will be a bunch of people in town. We’ll have the sale the next day, so people will come in and watch these great races and then they’ll come out to the farm. We’re 30 minutes away, so they’ll come out and look at the yearlings, bid, and hopefully take something home. It helps support our Ontario program.”

Woods said the Winbak sale is a chance to showcase the yearlings of four of the farm’s new stallions – McWicked, The Bank, Stag Party and the Jimmy Freight.

Currently, the sale will feature some 46 Winbak yearlings, plus some yearlings from other consignors.

“We’ve got Bettors Delights coming, Cheddars (Betterthancheddar), Archangels, MVPs, McWicked, lots of Shadow Plays... one Sportswriter, one Hes Watching,” Woods said. “I do feel that we have an outstanding line-up of horses. From all indications of how those yearlings look for those four first-time stallions, they look every part of a racehorse. We’re getting a lot of good reviews from outside of our farm as well, from reputable farms letting us know that they love the way their horses look... The Stag Partys very correct. The Bank – nice trot, good moving. There’s a lot of talk about the McWicked... I have a bunch of Jimmy Freights here at the farm that are foals, as well as the ones that we foaled out and raised last year... every indication is that they are very correct and good looking.”

Back in London, the Seelster Farms consignment will be one of the highlights, with more to be revealed after entries closed.

“Entries have been coming in steadily. I don’t want to let the cat out of the bag just yet, but I’m pretty excited when I see some of the youngsters that have been entered and the pedigrees that, I think, are going to be very well-received. So, so far so good,” Blanchard said.

Seelster has been the long-time leading consignor at the London sale and farm reproduction manager Ann Straatman is the former sale manager of the London Selected Yearling Sale.

“She will help me through the process because she’s had the experience,” Blanchard said of the transition.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Work ethic critical to growing success of New Jersey's Jacob Stillwell

by Chris Lomon

He was describing a veteran trotter, but Jacob Stillwell could very well have been talking about himself.

Dark Pool, a 9-year-old son of Cantab Hall, has travelled far more miles than the 22-year-old standardbred driver/trainer from Jackson, a township in Ocean County, NJ.

But despite their difference in racetrack experience, the bay with 166 career starts, 33 of them wins, and the rising star horseman who has 180 combined starts, do share one thing in common.

When it comes to work ethic, the duo shares an unmistakable connection.

"He's taught me a lot and he's a very nice horse to drive," said Stillwell. "He fights right to the end, and he never gives up. He's a hard worker who shows up every time."

Just like the man holding the reins.

Although his family tree is rooted in horse racing, Stillwell didn't branch out and feel a connection to the sport until his final year of grade school.

But when he did discover it, Stillwell was hooked from the very start.

"I wasn't much into horses until I was in eighth grade. I went to the farm one day with my uncle Paul [trainer, Fusco] and from there on, I just fell in love with it. It's always been in my family, so I guess it was only a matter of time for me. Once I started going to the farm, then jogging horses and taking care of them, I fell in love with it."

So much so, in fact, that his career calling became crystal clear soon after those initial experiences.

In 2020, he launched the driving side of his racing life, making three starts and earning a second-place finish.

The following year, Stillwell added trainer to his repertoire. In 40 starts, he won seven races, along with seven seconds and four thirds.

That season included a pair of treasured milestones.

"It was a rush," he said of his first driving win, on January 21, 2021. "I was at Yonkers and I drove Dark Pool, my uncle's horse. We left and just followed the pack and at the half, I pulled him and he did the rest. I was just a passenger for him. We ended up winning by four lengths. It was so nice. That was during the pandemic, so at Yonkers, they didn't have the winner's circle at that time. It was just me and my uncle. But it was still amazing, just so exciting."

As was his initial score as a conditioner.

This time, however, it was a picture-perfect moment.

Vicki Wright
Jacob Stillwell in action.

"My first training win came at Freehold with a mare I still have called Iron Mistress. Everyone was in the winner's circle that day. She raced so well for me that day. I wasn't driving, but my cousin, Vinnie Ginsburg was. It was pretty cool seeing one of my horses out there and winning a race under my name. It was great to have my cousin give me my first training win."

Stillwell hasn't slowed down since then, adding more victories on both sides of his stat sheet.

Despite the successes, he remains driven when it comes to his dual horse racing role.

"When it comes to driving, it's about knowing everything about each horse you're sitting behind, learning different ways and skills to help bring out the best in them. With training, again, it's all about learning what makes each horse tick, making sure you are sending them out there at 100 per cent and ready to go. I just love seeing their faces every morning, to walk into the barn and see them waiting for you. Each one is different and each one is special."

Currently, Stillwell has six horses in his barn.

For now, that number is a perfect fit. But he'd like to see that count increase in the near future.

"One day, I would like to get some more horses and some more wins. My goal with driving is to keep learning and keep getting better. My long-term goal would be to go out and drive with the professionals one day and become a regular somewhere. Training, I want to get more wins and have more horses."

He doesn't need to be reminded those victories might not come when anticipated.

Despite his relatively new status to standardbred racing, Stillwell has embraced the understanding of expecting the unexpected whenever his horse lines up behind the gate.

"With racing, you never know what can happen out there. You get to know that right away. There are a lot of ups and downs. There are times when you think there's no way you can lose, but you do, and then there are times where you feel you don't have a shot and you end up winning. You just never know. That's why when you do win, it's always a special feeling, that you accomplished something."

Whenever he does experience that sense of accomplishment, he sports a familiar familial look, specifically, the driving and training colors he proudly wears.

"My colors are the ones my family have always had, the red, white and green. They were my grandfather's colors and I thought when I got mine, I'd stay with them. He started the tradition in racing and I wanted to carry that tradition on. That's very important to me."

Whenever he's afforded the time to take a break from the demands of racing, Stillwell can often be found hanging out with his driver cousins, Vinnie and Rob Ginsburg.

Two particular subjects always seem to work their way into the trio's leisure time conversations.

"I like to relax and play videogames with my cousins. But we always end up talking about the races and the horses."

And that's just fine with Stillwell.

After all, being around the racetrack is everywhere he wants to be.

"I like seeing when my hard work pays off. When one that train wins, it's a great feeling to know all that effort you put in resulted in a win. With driving, if I make the right move and we win, it shows me that my hard work in becoming a better driver has paid off. It's rewarding to get better and get the win because of the hours you put in."

#BET ON HARNESS

HOW MUCH DID YOU BET TODAY?

Anatomy of a handle

by Debbie Little

Trying to take in a good handle is like a game of chess. There are a lot of moving pieces and it's hard to recover from a bad move.

The Meadowlands started out playing smart on Saturday (April 16), but then they were shown a move they couldn't see coming.

"We were on the way to handling $3 million going into the sixth race," said Meadowlands' post-time coordinator Michael Antoniadis. "So, we were averaging close to $240,000, $250,000 a race, but then it started to rain."

The rain began in race six, but didn't appear to be the reason for the $201,376 race handle. The $50,000 guaranteed early pick-4 (races 6-9) had a strong showing with $86,049 in the pool, but with two scratches, the carded field of eight was reduced to six creating smaller win, exacta and trifecta pools.

Since Daylight Savings Time started in mid-March, thoroughbred tracks have been racing later, especially on Saturdays, with several having Kentucky Derby prep races, thus increasing the scramble for every dollar.

"I think the story of the night, if there was no rain and we were allowed to continue the way we were going, we would have been headed towards $3.1 [million]," said Antoniadis. "And we were fighting a lot of traffic those first six."

The time between the races is always an important component in a handle discussion. The late Pick-4 (races 10-13) did much better even though it started with a seven-horse field and had a deluge to contend with, because there were 29 minutes between races nine and 10.

"The gold standard is Saratoga thoroughbreds," said Antoniadis. "They go every 34 minutes and we can't afford to do that. Twenty-four to 25 is our perfect little scenario and we can't afford to do that all night either, so we pick our spots."

"Race 10 we did fine. We ended up about five or six minutes behind Los Alamitos and we ended up on TVG. We were about 10 behind Woodbine [Mohawk Park]. We were about 12 behind Northfield. We were in good spots with all the tracks we were trying to communicate with. But then when we started going quick, if you get the post times for [Mohawk] and Los Alamitos, you'll see that we crashed into everybody the next race by going short."

Race 11 at The Meadowlands went off at 10:27 p.m., just four minutes after both Los Alamitos and Mohawk, while Big M race 12 split the other two tracks, a minute after Los Al and a minute before Mohawk.

"You could tell on television that the track was getting wetter, more water was spraying and there were a couple of flashes of lightning, so that was the reason we sped things up some," said Meadowlands' race secretary Scott Warren.

As technologically has advanced, some things remain old school, and one of them is that many people don't like to bet until after they see the post parade.

"It was a trifecta of problems," said Antoniadis. "Short intervals, short post parades and increased competition from tracks we were running into. All that was weather related."

Antoniades believes if it wasn't raining, instead of the average handle for the last three races being just under $148,000, it would have been over $200,000 and wouldn't have resulted in a loss of almost $70,000 per race.

Shortening the post parade from a typical seven minutes down to five may not seem very different, but it was, because the numbers don't lie.

"The shorter the post parades, the more damaging it is to handle and that's a simple explanation through 50 years of horse playing," said Antoniadis. "People do not go to the windows until they see the horses on the track."

It wasn't the best situation for Warren, who works hard to put together a competitive and bet-enticing card.

"It's very frustrating," said Warren. "But, Michael [Antoniades] didn't all of a sudden sit there and start placing races in wrong spots."

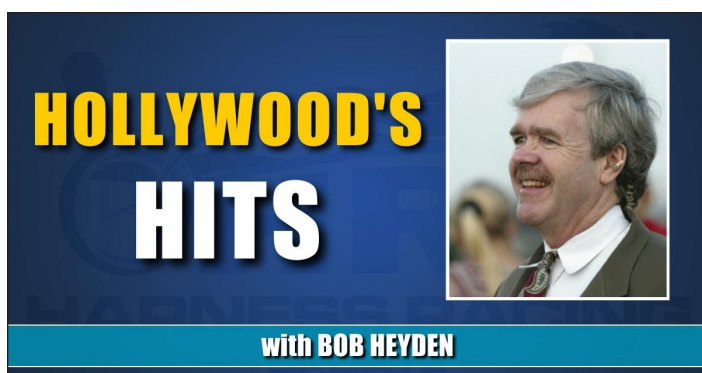

The bright spots of the night, not counting the lightning, were races three and four, which brought in higher-than-expected handles due to a shoe repair and a recall, respectively.

"I think they should pass a rule with the New Jersey Racing Commission that there should be either a shoe repair or recall every race," said Warren with a laugh.

At the end of the day, $2,784,627 is still a very good handle for a Saturday night, but it's hard not to think about what might have been. Without the rain, $3 million was possible, if not expected. The flip side is that without the shoe repair and recall, the rain could have done much more damage.

"I think it was a push," said Antoniadis. "There are times when handle gets inflated and times when handle gets depleted. No fault of anyone."

Celebrating the career of George Brennan on his 55th birthday

by Bob Heyden

George Brennan, who turned 55 on Wednesday (April 20), is the next driver on track to reach $200 million lifetime.

He is the only driver to win both the Meadowlands Pace and the Woodrow Wilson while debuting in both with different horses. In 1995, he won the Wilson with A Stud Named Sue. The following year, he won the Meadowlands Pace with Hot Lead.

Brennan is also the only driver to win the Hambletonian the Oaks without having driven anyone in the elim. He did that in 2011 with Bold And Fresh, who paid $51.40.

Let's take a look at some of Brennan's other highlights:

Brennan has been leading driver in New England, at the Meadowlands and at Yonkers.

In 2011, he became just the second driver, joining Brian Sears (2009 and 2013), to win both the Hambletonian and the Hambletonian Oaks in the same year. Broad Bahn won the $1.5 million Hambletonian for trainer Noel Daley and Bold And Fresh the Oaks for Doug Miller. Broad Bahn was the third choice at $14.60 and Bold And Fresh the sixth choice at 24-1. That year the pot was $750,000 for the Oaks, making Brennan's best ever day a $1.2 million+ afternoon at the Meadowlands.

Dave Landry
George Brennan.

Maybe the best horse Brennan ever drove was Shark Gesture. He won the Breeders Crown at 3, then resurfaced with the Remmen barn three years later and took the Canadian Pacing Derby, the Haughton, the Dan Patch and the first ever Roll With Joe.

Brennan won history's richest race ever taken by a maiden – the 2003 Metro with Mark Harder-trained Camelot Hall at a purse of $830,798.

The driver also won in a world record time of 1:46.4 in the U.S. Pacing Championship on Hambletonian Day in 2006 with Holborn Hanover, also trained by Harder.

Brennan won the 2006 Goldsmith Maid with Falls For You, the same year he set the half-mile Yonkers Trot record of 1:55.4 with Glidemaster while subbing for an injured John Campbell. It was the richest ever Yonkers Trot edition ($728,930). It was the career finale for Glidemaster, that year's Horse of the Year and Triple Crown winner trained by Blair Burgess.

In 1995, Brennan drove both 2-year-old pacing division winners Chippies Ruler and A Stud Named Sue – both for trainer Liz Quesnel. The winter prior, Brennan came down from his home base in New England and won his first Meadowlands race with veteran trotter Indianapolis.

Brennan has done great work with trotting talent. He won the 2010 Kentucky Futurity with Wishing Stone, the 2004 Hambletonian Oaks with Silver Springs for a $500,000 pot, swept the Del Miller in 2010 with Glide Power and Springtime and won three straight Dexter Cups at Freehold – in 2005 with Lindys Five Hundred, in 2006 with A Rod and in 2007 with Manfinity.

Fillies and mares have been something of a specialty on the Brennan menu of accomplishments. Glowing Report for trainer Jerry Silverman won over $2 million mostly with Brennan in the sulky. The driver won the Milton back to back with Loyal Opposition in 2004-2005; the 1998 Shady Daisy with Galleria; The Mistletoe Shalee with French Panicle in 1999 and then Hana Hanover in 2007 (He came back to win the Breeders Crown with Hana in 2009). Brennan also took freshman filly Stylish Artist to the winner's circle in the Breeders Crown.

He also took back-to-back Breeders Crowns for sophomore pacers in 2006-2007 with Shark Gesture and Artists View. The latter was the beneficiary of a speed duel between Tell All and Always A Virgin. Buzzy Sholty trained the $90 winner.

Some of his other free-for-all wins were with Alexie Mattosie in the 2011 William Haughton, Betterthancheddar in the 2012 Franklin for $500G and then the Quillen Memorial for $217G; Copywriter in the Garnsey Memorial, Doctor Butch in the $275,000 Rooney in 2013 and a couple of Tattersalls of note: 2003 with Whatanartist and 2006 with Shark Gesture.

Happy Birthday to the "Minister Of Speed."

Patience paying off for Hagerman with Cold Hearted Gypsy

The homebred sophomore pacing filly wired the field in her Hackett elimination on Tuesday at Miami Valley.

by James Platz

Last season, Cold Hearted Gypsy set a national season's mark as a freshman pacing filly in her first pari-mutuel start. It would be her only visit to the winner's circle in 2021. It was a calculated strategy for owner/breeder/trainer Herman Hagerman, one that has produced two victories in three seasonal outings this month. Her latest triumph came Tuesday (April 19) in a James K. Hackett Memorial elimination, where she wired the field at Miami Valley in 1:52.2 for driver Trace Tetrick.

"She started off really good, but she got a little hot," Hagerman said of Cold Hearted Gypsy's freshman campaign. "The first time we qualified her, I told them not to put her on the front in a qualifier because I didn't want her to leave all the time. We raced her off the pace in her first qualifier and she was good."

Problems arose with the second qualifying effort, where the filly won on the front end. Follow that with her Ohio Sires Stakes debut at Northfield Park, cutting the mile and stopping the clock in a lightning-fast time of 1:53.1. It was a recipe for disaster had Hagerman had allowed it to continue.

"We just backed her off and ducked her off the gate. I knew it was going to cost me money, but I didn't really care. I was looking to make her a better racehorse," Hagerman said. "Chris Lems drove her for me every start last year. He knew she was getting hot. He really helped me. I think if I would have had the wrong driver on her last year, she could have gotten ruined. If somebody would have kept leaving with her, it would have ruined her."

Instead of leaving every start, Lems patiently ducked Cold Hearted Gypsy off the gate and worked on teaching the daughter of Racing Hill—Blueridge Adalia. After her winning debut, the filly made six more starts, collecting a second in a fair stake and third in the Ohio Breeders Championship at Delaware. She raced off the board in four other attempts, her best finish a fourth-place effort in the $300,000 OHSS final. Cold Hearted Gypsy finished the season with $52,997 on her card.

"Last year we kind of took some beatings, but we just ducked her off the gate trying to teach her how to race," said the conditioner.

Cold Hearted Gypsy is the second foal from Badlands Hanover mare Blueridge Adalia, a mare that Hagerman campaigned. She was purchased as a yearling out of the Blooded Horse sale for $2,200. On the racetrack, Blueridge Adalia was a six-figure earner, winning the Virginia Breeders elimination and final at both two and three.

"When I first got into racing we were going out to Virginia to Colonial to race. I bought Blueridge Adalia at the Blooded Horse sale because she was a Virginia bred. That was actually the first yearling I ever bought to break," Hagerman said. "We always liked her. She was the first horse I had that I owned myself that did well. We wanted to keep her and I wanted to try a baby out of her."

Blueridge Adalia's first foal, McArdle gelding Adalia's McMoney, logged six wins and $40,565 in purse earnings while taking a mark of 1:57.2 over two seasons. Hagerman has since sold the pacer for a riding horse.

"I raced him as a 2 and 3-year-old at the fairs. To be honest with you, he wasn't anything like she is. He didn't really work out," the breeder said.

Hagerman's strategy last season appears to be paying dividends in 2022. Cold Hearted Gypsy paced fourth in her sophomore debut at Northfield, a 1:55 effort on April 2. The filly returned a week later to register her first win of the year. Steered by Lems, the homebred tripped the timer in 1:54.1 as the favorite. According to Standardbred Canada statistics, the time is the fastest of the young season for any 3-year-old pacing filly on a half-mile track.

"This year, I changed her bridle a little bit, and she's been two fingers. A total different horse than she was last year," stated Hagerman. "Now she's very relaxed in the race and in the post parade. She's like a different horse than she was last year."

The Kidron, OH resident shipped Cold Hearted Gypsy south to Miami Valley in hopes of earning a spot in next week's $50,000 Hackett Memorial final. Picking up the services of Tetrack, currently leader in the track's driver standings, the sophomore made it look easy Tuesday. Sent to the lead from the rail, the pacer set fractions of :27.4, :56.2 and 1:24.1. Cold Hearted Gypsy turned away the challenge of favored When You Kiss Me and held a two and one-quarter length advantage at the wire. Her winning time was the best of two $20,000 eliminations.

"She's good gaited and she has really good gate speed, but she doesn't have to be on the front. I never trained her on the front last year when I was training her down, or this year," Hagerman said of his charge. "She likes to pass horses. She can race off the pace as good as she can on the front. She has such good gate speed, it's pretty easy to get to the front if the driver wants her there."

Cold Hearted Gypsy is fully staked to the top events in the Buckeye State's program. Hagerman is optimistic the filly will shine not only this season, but in years to come. That was the objective when bypassing short-term gains for a bigger, more rewarding payoff.

"She can go. I've never trained a horse down like her. I have some good horses in the barn, and nobody I've got trains like she does. Hopefully she'll make a good aged horse for me," he said. "I loved her mom and we'll have her forever. We'll have this one forever. It is special knowing I raised her, took a shot and bred the mare."

Final Borgata leg in the books, rich finals on tap for Monday at Yonkers

by Yonkers Raceway

The 2022 MGM Borgata Pacing Series preliminaries started with favorites going five-for-five in leg one and ended with the chalk registering a three-for-three mark in Monday's (April 18) trio of $50,000 divisions of the final round at Yonkers Raceway.

Leonidas A (Austin Siegelman) heads into next Monday's (April 25) $549,000 final as the horse to beat thanks to a 1:51 tally in the opening split, giving him four wins in the four legs he competed in.

Siegelman got away in the pocket with Leonidas A and watched as Dragon Said (Joe Bongiorno) parked out Semi Tough (Yannick Gingras) through fast fractions of :25.4, :53.4 and 1:22.1. Dean B Hanover (Jordan Stratton) made a three-wide move from second-over going to three-quarters, but as Semi Tough began to fade, Siegelman was able to squeeze out two-wide with Leonidas A before Dean B Hanover could get over and lock him in.

Dragon Said, Leonidas A, and Dean B Hanover battled across the track around the last turn, but at the top of the stretch, Leonidas A shook away from his rivals and went on to defeat Dean B Hanover by a length and a half. Im Sir Blake A (Marcus Miller) was third, followed by Chase H Hanover (Matt Kakaley) and Western Joe (Dexter Dunn).

The victorious 7-year-old gelding by Mach Three is trained by Sheena Cohen for owner Jesmeral Stable. Leonidas A made his 40th appearance in the winner's circle, and he has now pocketed $624,187. The 1-9 favorite, Leonidas A returned $2.20 to win. The exacta and trifecta were worth $26.20 and $99.00, respectively.

In the second section, Jack's Legend N (Kakaley) went to the lead from post one and controlled the race through well-rated stations of :28.1, :57, and 1:24.4. Bee Two Bee (Gingras) tipped out first-over from third going to three-quarters and pressured Jack's Legend N throughout the last quarter, but Jack's Legend N was game and held him off to tally by half a length in 1:52.2. Poseidon Seelster (George Brennan) got third after a pocket trip and Splash Brother (Tyler Buter) was fourth from second-over. Whichwaytothebeach (Scott Zeron) grabbed fifth.

Trainer Josh Green also co-owns Jack's Legend N, an 8-year-old Bettor's Delight gelding, with partners Rich Lombardo Racing LLC., David Kryway, and Eric Good. Jack's Legend N is now a 33-time winner in his life, and he has stashed away $775,377. Dispatched at 3-5, Jack's Legend N paid $3.20 to win and was atop a $12.00 exacta and a $21.40 trifecta.

The final flight saw Tattoo Artist (Dunn) make quick work of his six rivals, dominating on the front-end in 1:51.3 romp.

Dunn put Tattoo Artist on the point straight away from post two, and he clicked off panels of :27.3, 5:6.1, and 1:23.2. Tattoo Artist got a gap on the rest of the field heading to three-quarters, and his margin only increased from there, as he hit the line 4 1/4 lengths ahead of Diamondbeach (Brennan). This Is The Plan (Gingras) raced in fourth for the first three-quarters of the mile and would end up finishing in third. Belmont Major N (Tyler Buter) and Ostro Hanover (Bongiorno) completed the top five finishers.

Tattoo Artist is a 5-year-old He's Watching stallion trained by Chris Ryder for owners Let It Ride Stables Inc., Frank Cannon, and Diamond Creek Racing. Tattoo Artist, a co-holder of the all-age track record at Yonkers (1:49.3), has compiled a record of 22-7-7 from 52 lifetime appearances, and his earnings now stand at $1,043,527. Sent off as the 3-5 favorite, Tattoo Artist returned $3.40 to win and keyed a $59.00 exacta and a $158.50 trifecta.

In other news from the program, the recent run "Million Dollar Mondays" on the wagering front at Yonkers continued, with handle closing at $1,000,438.

FIELDS DRAWN FOR MGM BORGATA PACING SERIES AND BLUE CHIP MATCHMAKER SERIES FINALS

On Tuesday afternoon (April 19), the draws took place for the finals of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series and Blue Chip Matchmaker Series, which will be held on Monday, April 25 at Yonkers Raceway.

In the $549,000 MGM Borgata Pacing Series final, leading point-earner Leonidas A wound up with post six for Austin Siegelman and Sheena Cohen. Leonidas A, a 7-year-old Mach Three gelding owned by Jesmeral Stable, posted a four-for-four record in his preliminary round events and will look to improve on the fifth-place finish he had in last year's final.

Drama Act, a 5-year-old Well Said mare, was the top point-getter in the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series and had fortune on her side in the open draw for the $381,000 final, landing the pole position for driver George Brennan, trainer Ron Burke, and owner-breeder The OK Corral. Drama Act raced in all five legs of the Matchmaker, posting three victories, one runner-up finish, and one third.

The full draws for the finals are as follows:

$581,000 MGM Borgata Pacing Series Final (Race 8)

1. Tattoo Artist (Dexter Dunn/Chris Ryder)
2. Semi Tough (Yannick Gingras/Ron Burke)
3. Jack's Legend N (Matt Kakaley/Josh Green)
4. Funatthebeach N (Jordan Stratton/Jeff Gillis)
5. This Is The Plan (Yannick Gingras/Ron Burke)
6. Leonidas A (Austin Siegelman/Sheena Cohen)
7. Nandolo N (Jason Bartlett/Shane Tritton)
8. Pat Stanley N (Todd McCarthy/Cory Stratton)

$381,000 Blue Chip Matchmaker Series Final (Race 7)

1. Drama Act (George Brennan/Ron Burke)
2. Racine Bell (Jason Bartlett/David Dewhurst)
3. Easy To Please (Jordan Stratton/Cory Stratton)
4. Best Head West (Matt Kakaley/Nick DeVita)
5. Miss You N (Dexter Dunn/Virgil Morgan Jr.)
6. Mystical Carrie (Marcus Miller/Erv Miller)
7. Karma Seelster (Doug McNair/Andrew Adamczyk)
8. Keep Rockin A (Tim Tetrack/Jeff Cullipher)

In addition to the finals, there is also a $100,000 MGM Borgata Pacing Series consolation event (race six), a $75,000 Blue Chip Matchmaker Series consolation (race five), and another $50,000 race for horses that were eligible to the MGM Borgata Pacing Series (race four).

As an additional reminder, the Empire Terrace Dining Room will be open Monday night.

The price point will be $80 per person, plus tax and gratuity for the food. There will also be an open bar available for $40 per person, plus tax and gratuity. For reservations, please call 914-457-2531 on Friday or Saturday. For more information outside those days, please reach out to the race office.

Yonkers' 12-race card on Monday begins at 6:55 p.m.

JOHN BRENNAN TROTting SERIES PRELIMS COMPLETED

Trainer Trond Smedshammer holds a strong hand heading into next week's John Brennan Trotting Series final, as he won two of the three $25,000 divisions of the last preliminary round that took place on Wednesday night (April 20) at Yonkers Raceway.

In the first split, Smedshammer steered Seventier to a 1:55.4 triumph. Seventier got around P L Oscar (Jim Marohn Jr.) to take command before the :28.1 opening quarter and then backed down the tempo to :58.2 at the half and 1:27.2 at three-quarters. Seventier would trot away from the competition in a 28.2 last quarter, defeating The Irishman (Jordan Stratton) by 3 1/4 lengths. P L Oscar wound up third.

A 4-year-old Chapter Seven gelding, Seventier is owned by Purple Haze Stables LLC. This was his ninth career victory, and he has now earned $123,776. The 1-5 favorite, Seventier paid $2.70 to win and led a $51.50 exacta and a $225.50 trifecta.

Smedshammer's other victory came courtesy of Lady Ann NO in the third and final section. Lady Ann NO stepped to the point from post three, slowed the pace down to just :29.4, 1:00, and 1:29.3, and used a :28.1 final quarter to hold off pocket-sitter Sevenshadesofgrey (George Brennan) by half a length. Top Me Off (Mark MacDonald) was third after a first-over try.

American Viking Racing Stable owns Lady Ann NO, a 6-year-old Norwegian-bred Credit Winner mare. She has a record of 8-4-4 from 28 lifetime tries, and she has now put away $168,480. Lady Ann NO was the 4-5 choice and returned $3.70 to win. She also keyed a $21.00 exacta and a $69.00 trifecta.

While Smedshammer has a strong-looking duo for the final, they'll both have to deal with Hat Trick Marleau (Tyler Buter), who completed a three-for-three run through the prelims with a 1:54.3 triumph in tonight's second flight. Hat Trick Marleau led the way through fractions of :27.4, :56.4, and 1:25.3 and would hold off a two-wide bid by pocket-sitter B Nicking (Brennan) in the stretch to score by a neck. Bazillionaire (Austin Siegelman) checked in third.

Ricky Bucci trains and owns Hat Trick Marleau, a 6-year-old gelded son of Crazy. Hat Trick Marleau made his 16th appearance in the winner's circle, has now banked $174,481, and paid $2.20 to win as the 1-9 favorite. He was atop a $3.30 exacta and a $10.20 trifecta.

The John Brennan Trotting Series will wrap up next Wednesday (April 27) with the final and consolation.

Holloway to be inducted into Delaware Sports Hall of Fame

Harness racing Hall of Famer Joe Holloway will be honored along with eight others at induction ceremonies for the Delaware Sports Museum & Hall of Fame on May 12 at the Chase Center on the Riverfront in Wilmington, DE.

Holloway, 66, who graduated the University of Delaware in 1978 with a degree in animal science, is the second member of his family to enter the Delaware Sports Hall of Fame. His brother, Jack, was a 2008 inductee.

While Jack coached wrestling, Joe tackled horse racing and was selected for the Harness Racing Hall of Fame in 2019.

Holloway's eighth and ninth Breeders Crown trophies came courtesy of his tenth divisional champion, Perfect Sting, who won harness racing's end-of-season premier event in both 2020 and 2021.

A mainstay in the training colony at harness racing's premier venue, he teamed with owner David Rovine with Tuff Choice, winner of 13 straight races at the Meadowlands in 1985.

It would be his masterful handling of $1.9 million-earner Jenna's Beach Boy that would put Holloway into the spotlight. Jenna's Beach Boy would win three Breeders Crowns, take home divisional honors in 1994, 1995 and 1996, earn Pacer of the Year in 1995 and 1996, and establish a world record of 1:47.3 that stood for a decade.

Holloway was voted the sport's top trainer in 1995, thanks, in part, to She's A Great Lady, who earned just shy of $1 million and was a divisional champion in both 1995 and 1996.

Some of his other post-season honorees included 2012 Two-Year-Old Pacing Filly of the Year Somwhorvarainbow, 2015 Three-Year-Old Pacing Filly of the Year Divine Caroline and 2016 Horse of the Year Always B Miki.

Joe and his wife, Judy, reside in Freehold, NJ and have two sons, Tyler and Chris.

Test Of Faith wins Philly qualifier

Reigning Horse of the Year Test Of Faith won her first racetrack appearance of 2022 during Tuesday morning (April 19) qualifying at Harrah's Philadelphia, with a neck victory in 1:57.3 on a cold day.

David Miller kept the 4-year-old daughter of Art Major—Cannae Cammie in the two-hole as She Knows It All put up crawling fractions of :30.1, :59.4, and 1:28.3. 1½ lengths down at the stretch call, Test Of Faith had enough in her first start back to hold off a late burst by Virgo, with High Minded another neck back in third.

Brett Pelling trains the winner of $1.57 million for owners Melvin Segal, Kentuckiana Racing Stable, and Eddie Gran. Pelling has indicated that his planned first start for the mare is in the Graduate Series on Kentucky Derby Day, Saturday, May 7, so there may be another qualifier in the works next week before Test Of Faith goes into a race.

Two other quality Pelling distaff trainees also raced in the Tuesday Philly qualifiers. The veteran trotting mare When Dovescry was third in her qualifier behind the $500G+ winner Swan For All and the ageless FFA Melady's Monet, who finished in that order, separated by a neck, in a brisk 1:55.3. Three-year-old pacing filly Treacherous Dragon finished second in her qualifier to sophomore colt Born To Be Country, a 1:56 winner in his debut for Team Orange Crush.

Artful Way scores 70th lifetime win at Plainridge

The featured $25,000 winners-over pace at Plainridge Park on Monday (April 18) was won by the venerable 10-year-old Artful Way who was overlooked at 7-1 and led most of the way to victory. The win was also the 70th of the gelding's illustrious career giving him a phenomenal 36 per cent lifetime win percentage.

Skyway Victor (Luke Hanners) took the lead off the gate but Artful Way (Jay Randall) pulled and gained command at the quarter in :27.2. After Randall gained the lead the rest of the race was history. After going to the half in :55.3 and three-quarters in 1:23.1 without a legitimate challenge, Artful Way took his one length lead in the stretch and maintained it to the wire to win in a season's best 1:51.4.

With the winner's share counted, Artful Way ($16.80) enhanced his career bank account to $798,870 for owner Kellogg Racing Stable and trainer Jackie Greene.

Forest City Pace returns to The Raceway at Western Fair District

With the 2022 Camluck Classic slated for May 27, The Raceway at Western Fair District has also teamed up with a new title sponsor for a distaff Invitational on the star-studded card. After a 10-year absence, the Forest City Pace will return, offering a $50,000 purse in Canada's only four-turn Grand Circuit stop for older female pacers.

Mac Lilley Farms of Dutton, ON is sponsoring the 2022 Forest City Pace. The 50-year-old standardbred breeding and training facility is currently home to four stallions (Dali, Il Sogno Dream, Panther Hanover, and Sunfire Blue Chip). Mac and Ann Lilley purchased their farm's first stallion, Zip Tar, back in 1972. "It is important to create more opportunities for the great pacing mares, as colt races far outnumber any races for the mares," said Ruleen Lilley, speaking for the three-generation family farm. "It is a step in the right direction."

The brief but bright history of the Forest City Pace is rich with the names of talented mares. Southwind Madonna (p, 5, 1:49.3s; $1,016,051) captured the inaugural edition for driver Lyle and owner/trainer Carl MacArthur, winning in 1:55.1h in 2009. Dreamfair Eternal (p, 8, 1:49.0f; $2,545,060) and catch driver Chris Christoforou took the trophy in the mare's 2010 O'Brien Horse of the Year season, winning in 1:54.3h for owner/breeder John Lamers and trainer Pat Fletcher. Richard Berthiaume's Voelz Hanover (p, 8, 1:49.2s; $1,772,654) upstaged a stellar field which included show finisher Dreamfair Eternal the following year, pacing to a 1:54.2h victory for driver Mario and trainer Benoit Baillargeon.

The most recent edition was won in 2012 by Rocklamation (p, 1:48.3m; $2,281,795) and driver Scott Zeron, for owners Our Horse Cents Stables, Jerry Silva, and Stable 45 of Florida. Her Ron Burke-conditioned stablemate Camille (p, 5, 1:48.3f; $1,282,287) was runner-up, but still holds The Raceway's divisional mark for older female pacers: 1:52.4h, set the same year. With the impressive group of mares invited to the Forest City Pace's revival this May, that decade-old record could be in danger.

Horsemen's Hockey Tournament sign-up closes Monday

The 2022 Horsemen's Hockey Tournament is quickly approaching and with that comes the deadline for players to sign-up.

The deadline to sign-up and play in the 2022 tournament is this Monday (April 25).

To sign-up, click here.

The 2022 Horsemen's Hockey Tournament will be held on Sunday, May 1 at the Cambridge Sports Park.

The tournament will continue with its open draft format. Captains (to be named later) will draft their teams from the list of players signed up for the tournament.

The draft will take place on Wednesday, April 27. The location will be announced in the coming days.

The entry fee for this year's tournament is $50 a player (to be paid at the door). The entry fee guarantees a minimum of three games and a meal at the conclusion of the tournament.

The Horsemen's Hockey Tournament could not be made possible without the support of past sponsors. Any individuals or groups interested in sponsoring this year's event are encouraged to reach out to organizers Curtis MacDonald (i.curtis.macdonald@gmail.com), James MacDonald and Mark McKelvie (mark.mckelvie@live.ca) through social media or e-mail.

Fundraiser information for Ross Croghan

If you are a horseman then you know or heard of Ross Croghan, "The Crocodile Man," a native of Sydney, Australia.

Croghan is known for being ranked among the all-time leaders in training wins at The Meadowlands, capturing Big M training titles in 1999, 2000, 2006, 2007 and 2008. Ross was on top of the world at one point and time during his racing career.

Even though he was on top he always helped the man next to him, always giving to whoever asked or needed it. Well now it is time for the horsemen family to come together and give back to Ross Croghan.

On June 1, 2020, Croghan's life changed. A simple back procedure that was supposed to fix a broken vertebrae went wrong. After this "simple procedure" Croghan could not train and owners pulled their horses leaving him with one out of 28.

Since June 1, 2020, Croghan has been through eight surgeries (number nine is being scheduled in the next month or two), five skin grafts, staples that were removed premature causing the incision to reopen and an infection started that traveled throughout his entire body. This infection caused fluid to build up in his body and has to be drained twice a month. Ross went from one broken vertebrae to two because of a botched procedure.

Since then Croghan has traveled from JFK Medical Center, Central State Freehold, Jersey Shore Medical Center and NYU, which he is currently still going to. Croghan's medical condition has been decreasing month by month, week by week and day by day. Will one of the top trainers in our industry ever train again? Time will tell, but in the meantime his family is asking for help from his horseman family.

On Aug. 8, 2021, Croghan finally received some good news. He became a grandfather to a little boy named Dominic. Croghan talks about taking Dominic on the track to jog all the time and hopefully that day will come.

A golf fundraiser will be put in place for Croghan in the near future, but in the meantime any donations will be the biggest help for Croghan and his family. If you would like to donate, please reach out; if you would like to just speak to Croghan and make his day, please reach out. Times have changed for Croghan and he needs his horseman family more than ever.

Please send donations to: 49 Red Valley Road, Millstone, NJ 08510

Please call: 609-389-4299.

HHYF scholarships available

Applications are now available for three scholarships offered by the Harness Horse Youth Foundation. Completed applications are not due until June 1, but early submission is encouraged. Click here to access the applications and each scholarship's eligibility requirements and general information.

The HHYF scholarships include the newly-created Harold & Marcia Snyder Memorial Scholarship whose intent is to assist individuals and the families that make up the harness racing industry; the Curt Greene Memorial Scholarship for students who have demonstrated a passion for harness racing and have financial need; and the Sweet Karen Scholarship for alumni of HHYF Summer Programs. HHYF has awarded over $630,000 in scholarship grants since 1976.
