Sunday's Elitloppet shaping up as an epic European battle

Despite the absence of an American horse, this year's Elitloppet field appears to be one of the ages.

Gerard Forni

EUROPEAN REPORT
with THOMAS HEDLUND

Elitloppet 2024 might very well be something special. The preparations before the big mile race at Solvalla on Sunday (May 26) have gone smoothly and Solvalla's sports general Anders Malmrot has done a strong job finding the best horses in Europe at this moment, since American horses will be absent. There have been problems attracting trotters from continents other than Europe the past few years and in Elitloppet 2024, there is not even an American-bred horse in the two eight-trotter fields.

But we can look forward to a battle between the best French, Italian and Swedish horses. Solvalla managed to get a positive response when Prix d'Amérique winner Idao de Tillard received the first invitation to Elitloppet and when the second name was Francesco Zet, fans began to understand that this year's Elitloppet already had the ingredients for a very special dish.

France is a dominating country in Elitloppet history and the tricolor team would have been strong even without Idao de Tillard as its captain. Title defender Hohneck will definitely be a factor and last year's runner up Go On Boy possesses abilities that very well can end up with victory for Romain Derieux, again. Derieux upset with Dijon in 2019 and Go On Boy is a horse with maybe higher status than his previous winner.

Then there is Horsy Dream, the French tank that missed Elitloppet in 2023. What can he do on a five-eighths mile track? Probably win. Pierre Belloche's trotter, paired with Eric Raffin in the bike, is strong, fast and hard headed. The last invited horse from France was Gaspar de Brion, trained and driven by Matthieu Abrivard. Gaspar de Brion is a gelding and he is therefore not allowed to race in the biggest Grand Prix races in his home country, but he belongs with the top of trotters and his presence at Solvalla is welcomed.

From Italy, there is Alessandro Gocciadoro, of course. The dominating trainer will have two weapons behind the gate on Sunday. Bengurion Jet won the Sweden Cup this weekend last year and seems now to be ready to fight the very best horses. Gocciadoro will drive Bengurion Jet while Björn Goop is entrusted behind Denver Gio in the second elimination.

Capital Mail, trained by Gennaro Cassillo won the final of the Lotteria in Naples on May 1 and the 6-year-old is a dark horse among more merited trotters.

FRENCH SUPER TROTTER IN HARPER HANOVERS

Saturday's (May 25) race card at Solvalla is, as usual, a nice starter ahead of the Sunday's big event. The $112,000 Sweden Cup, with three elimination heats and a final later on the card, kicks off the weekend event at Solvalla, but the most prestigious race of the day is probably the $195,000 Harper Hanovers lopp over 3,140 meters. French top horse Izoard Vedaquais, trained by Philippe Allaire and driven by Benjamin Rochard, will be the bettor's first choice but there are some really strong opponents that he will face. Fun fact about the race is that American bred S.I.P., a world record holder as a 3-year-old on a half mile track (Delaware during the Little Brown Jug meeting in 2022), will try the strongest horses over three laps. A very positive debut over the actual distance was made in Örebro earlier this month and S.I.P. proved that longer distances suit him well.

Finals in the different categories of the V75 fill out the card and it's all through a very nice race day to look forward to.

Sunday's race card contains, beside the two Elitloppet eliminations and the $950,000 final, two finals in the Breeders

Sunday's race program is here.

ELITLOPPET FIELD

Horse, age, country

Denver Gio, 5, Italy

The 5-year-old Southwind Frank son knows how to win (14 out of 33) and has a great chance of getting a nice trip from the inside post.

Don Fanucci Zet, 8, Sweden

The winner of Elitloppet 2021 will get a new driver behind him this year. Magnus A. Djuse is dominating in Sweden and Don Fanucci Zet solved his preparation races in great style.

Go On Boy, 8, France

Trainer and driver Romain Derieux won Elitloppet 2019 with Dijon and in Go On Boy he has a horse that can move his legs very fast, at least in the race's ending parts. Runner up last year.

Joviality, 5, Sweden

Joviality came to Europe after an incredible career in the U.S. and bested the boys in the Derby over 2,640 meters last fall. A very well merited girl who proved to be strong even in the highest level of races as she finished third in the Prix d'Amérique in January.

Capital Mail, 6, Italy

Enters Elitloppet after an upset win in the $650,000 Lotteria in Naples and has some routine from French races in his early career. It's hard to estimate his chances in Elitloppet, but he is definitely a nice contribution to the race.

Önas Prince, 7, Sweden

Per Nordström's charming trotter impressed a lot in his $350,000 Paralympiatravet win at Åby on May 4 and Nordström has aimed for this objective since last fall, when it was discovered that the horse had to go through an operation. His ability to leave quickly can be decisive.

A Fair Day, 5, Sweden

Winner of the Breeders Crown for 4-year-olds in November, this amateur trained horse has become "The Horse for the People" in his home country. A very quick starter who needs to find an inside position in the hunt for a spot in the final.

Idao de Tillard, 6, France

This year's winner of the Prix d'Amérique had no luck in the draw. Post 8 is bad, but great horses usually solve the situation and it will be thrilling to see France's best trotter on a five-eighths mile track over the mile. The star of the show, at least before the race.

Hustle Rain, 5, Sweden

Mattias Djuse's first appearance as a trainer in Elitloppet and after Hustle Rain's Sprintermästaren win in July last year, the dream might have started about Elitloppet. Two starts this year, two times a runner up, but showed great condition when second to Barack Face in Copenhagen Cup recently.

Hohneck, 7, France

Title defender Hohneck loves Solvalla. After his triumph in Elitloppet last year, he returned and claimed the Masters final in October. But Philippe Allaire's trotter hasn't won a single race since then. A good post, the right weather and all energies in place. That's what it takes to defend the title, maybe.

Gaspar de Brion, 8, France

Gaspar de Brion finished second to Izoard Vedaquais in the Prix des Ducs de Normandie in his start prior to this one and behind him he had horses like Hohnneck and Idao de Tillard. The mile is nothing this French horse is used to, but historically we know that French trotters that enter the track of Solvalla are doing well.

Horsy Dream, 7, France

After missing most of the prestigious races during Paris' winter meeting, Horsy Dream has made a strong comeback. When Eric Raffin was back in the bike in the last start, Horsy Dream played with some of the best horses in France and this could very well be the winner in the final.

Francesco Zet, 6, Sweden

He has 18 consecutive wins ahead of Elitloppet and there are some really heavy trophies captured along the way. The Father Patrick son has been the dominant trotter in his crop and he tried older elite trotters in Boden last year. Carefully matched by trainer Daniel Redén, but still the favorite to win Elitloppet. The most exciting contender and the second star of the show.

Decision Maker, 5, Sweden

A pure Stefan Melander product. Nuncio is the father, Scarlet Knight the dam's father, and Decision Maker is the only horse with a sire that won Elitloppet (Nuncio in 2016). The progression in this mare is remarkable and an interesting event awaits her.

Borups Victory, 6, Sweden

Daniel Wåjersten's first horse in Elitloppet and Borups Victory has impressed in his preparation races this spring. Co-owned by NHL-star Mats Sundin (Toronto Maple Leafs) makes the horse more interesting in the public's eyes.

Bengurion Jet, 7, Italy

Alessandro Gocciadoro has plenty of horses that are good enough to enter Elitloppet, but the most obvious horse this year must be Bengurion Jet. A Sweden Cup win, a runner up performance in Åby Stora Pris and a third place in the Yonkers International Trot, among others, made his 2023 season lucrative.

Total Stranger vaults onto North America Cup scene

The full-brother to 2020 NA Cup champ Total Stranger has posted two sub-1:50 miles already this young season.

by Brett Sturman

With the 41st edition of the $1 million Pepsi North America Cup at Woodbine Mohawk Park just three weeks away, the latest top contender lists are complete with all of last year's best 2-year-old pacers. But there's one yet unmentioned horse who has shot near the top of my own list anyway, and that's Total Stranger who, I've been told, is indeed pointing to the race.

Winless in 11 starts last year at 2, though not without showing hints of high potential, he's rocketed off in 2024 with two wins from two starts at Harrah's Philadelphia, with both coming in insanely fast times given the track and race conditions.

Off two strong qualifiers at The Meadowlands in April, Total Stranger at Philadelphia on April 9 in a non-winners of 1, on a cloudy afternoon, he went to the front and blazed through fractions of :26.4, :53.3, 1:20.2 and then stopped the timer in 1:49.1. Driver Yannick Gingras was merely a passenger and 10 days later it was much the same. In a non-winners of 3 at the same track, this time with Tim Tetrick driving, Total Stranger once again crushed overwhelmed competition and won in a tick even faster than prior, in 1:49 flat.

By Bettor's Delight out of the world champion Precocious Beauty and a $425,000 Lexington Selected yearling buy in 2022, Total Stranger is a full brother to 2020 North America Cup winner and that year's Horse of the Year, Tall Dark Stranger. Second dam Precious Beauty, first dam of Sportswriter, is already a Hall of Fame broodmare, continues to bolster what's becoming legendary bloodlines. Have there even been full siblings that have both won million-dollar races, let alone the same one? There couldn't have been, right?

Last year, Total Stranger – who, like Tall Dark Stranger, is trained by Nancy Takter – earned over $75,000 with four second-place finishes from 11 starts. Though winless, he was timed twice in 1:51.1, once in a division of the Bluegrass at Lexington and another time in the Kindergarten final at The Meadowlands when he was just beaten third by a neck as a 25-1 longshot. He wasn't quite fast enough last year for the divisions very best when he attempted the Metro, Breeders Crown and Governor's Cup, but things have a very different feel right now. We'll see soon enough if his confidence gaining brilliance translates to North America Cup success, but he undoubtedly warrants attention.

Early in the season, only one 3-year-old pacer has gone faster than Total Stranger, and that's the current North America Cup favorite, Legendary Hanover. Last year's 2-year-old O'Brien winner, Legendary Hanover was scary in his most recent start last Saturday (May 18).

After winning his seasonal debut the week prior in 1:49.4 at Woodbine Mohawk Park, he came back next out to brush to the lead past a :26 flat opening quarter and eventually powered away while completely in hand to a statement-making 1:48.3 win.

Notable from that same race was Clever Cody, another top North America Cup contender. If you recall, Clever Cody was trapped in for his life in last year's Metro final, and he returned a winner this year two back at Miami Valley in an Ohio Sire Stakes. But last week, he had suffered broken equipment before the start of the race and fortunately driver McClure was able to safely navigate through the race without incident and would have actually been well-positioned otherwise. Seems certain to get another against his rival soon enough.

Naturally, many of the other recent races with North America Cup implications have taken place at Woodbine Mohawk Park. That includes last year's Metro winner Captain's Quarters, who made his seasonal debut five races later on that same card as Legendary Hanover. On his return, he was parked around the first turn, settled for a moment and then was caught three-wide when brushing to the lead past the quarter. From there, he was on cruise control and won as Jamieson pleased in a time of 1:50.1 and solidified his standing as one of the Cup's top contenders.

Funtime Bayama has already taken a mark of 1:49.4 by virtue of his win two weeks ago in an SBOA final as the heavy 2-5 favorite and he races Saturday (May 25) in a Gold leg against many of the usual Ontario Sire Stake names. Storm Shadow is another one who races Saturday in a different Gold leg and he may be currently under the radar. He battled on when last seen in that race against Funtime Bayama when he was used from Interestingly, one of the best 3-year-olds in racing right now is McCrunch, and he is not North America Cup eligible. He's also trained by Takter. McCrunch reminds me of another Takter trainee from last year, Cannibal, who wasn't well known until summer approached last year. As for McCrunch, unraced at 2, he just won most recently in 1:49.4 with a last quarter of :25.4 over North America Cup contender and last year's Governors Cup winner Captain Luke, who was making his first start back on the year.

Michael Carter prepares for Battle as the newest Meadowlands Mastermind

by Debbie Little

Michael Carter joins the third edition of the Battle of the Meadowlands Masterminds handicapping contest which gets underway Saturday (June 1) and runs through Friday (Aug. 2).

The “Battle” pits five handicappers – Carter, Dave Little, Jessica Otten, Gabe Prewitt and Ken Warkentin – against each other in an attempt to give out winners and earn money for their chosen charities.

“It’s a cool promotion, the Battle of the Meadowlands Masterminds, because it helps charity and it supports that kind of competitive fever,” Carter said. “It creates that kind of competitive atmosphere and, listen, I love to compete as much as anybody.”

Carter, a racetrack manager/assistant race secretary at Ohio’s MGM Northfield Park, has been working at least once a month with The Big M’s TV team since November of 2023, splitting his time between the Sam McKee Broadcast Set, the paddock and FanDuel TV.

Despite the fact that Carter works in Ohio, where he lives with his wife, Kait, and daughters Amelia, 3, and Anabelle, 15 months, he was all-in to do the six-hour drive to New Jersey, when necessary, and compete in the Battle.

So, what’s it like for Carter being the new kid in the competition?

“Very stressful,” he said with a laugh. “You stack up against some of the best handicappers in the country when you talk about the people who handicap The Meadowlands, right? When you work at The Meadowlands, like Dave and Jess, you have to kind of hone in on that craft, because there are gamblers looking for specific types of information.”

In addition to preparing to handicap the horses, Carter also has some thoughts about his competition.

“One of the things I think Jess excels at is the horseman aspect,” he said. “If a horse gets an equipment change, which, by the way, The Meadowlands is amazing at getting out to the betting public, maybe that equipment change means something to her. And if she finds out in enough time about it, then it may skew her handicapping.

“One thing I’ve noticed about Dave is he is very much a trip kind of guy; like he knows when a horse has pop. I’ve been sitting with him on the desk and my horse is making a three-wide sweep and I’m like, ‘Oh, my horse has got a ton of go,’ and he goes, ‘Nah, that horse doesn’t have anything,’ and sure enough, the horse flattens out through the stretch.

“Kenny sees everything. He sees everything from the sky. So, if anybody is going to know the races the best – I mean, obviously Jess and Dave will know them well – but it’s Ken. He sees every single race week in and week out. He knows all the drivers’ tendencies and he gives out a lot of really good handicapping information as well.

“And then of course you’ve got Gabe, who watches probably every replay in North America. This is a guy who was betting the Pick-5 at Batavia Downs at my wedding at the reception table. So, it literally is intimidating, but I’m looking forward to it. We’re all friends. We all have a sense of humor and I think when you do something like this, that’s important, right? This contest requires a sense of humor, more so from the social media aspect of things. We always have a good time and try to make some lighthearted jokes and I think that’s extremely important as well, that camaraderie between the five of us is unprecedented.”

Carter’s mornings are reserved for his daughters, and he keeps that important routine even when he has to make the long drive across I-80 to The Meadowlands.

“I take them every morning to their in-home babysitter, and that’s kind of my time to spend with them before I leave and I drop them off and normally I hit the road around 8 o’clock and make a couple of stops along the way,” Carter said adding with a laugh, “About halfway, I text Dave [Little] and say, ‘What are we having for dinner?’”

Carter has a personal connection to his charity, Pacing for the Cure, of which he is a board member.

“My mother actually had Multiple Sclerosis for a long time prior to having lung cancer,” Carter said.

“[Pacing for the Cure] had done some work with Post Time with Mike and Mike, our old podcast, so they had asked if Mike [Bozich] and I were interested in joining the board and they have really great family values.

“They do a lot of really nice things for people. When my mom passed away, they donated a medical machine in her honor to someone and they’ve been extremely supportive of not just my

“I’m very much an exotics kind of guy, exactas, trifectas, supers. Sometimes, it comes back to bite me on the butt and you have to go back to basics and remember sometimes when you have a really strong opinion, a simple win bet is as constructive as your exotic bets. If you like a horse, that’s say 25-1, and you bet him up and down in exactas and trifectas and boom, your opinion was right, but then the horse you needed to finish third, didn’t finish third, guess what, you’re walking away with zero. So, for me, it’s recognizing when I have a strong opinion about something and making sure that I make the correct wager at that time.”

mom, but my dad, who had Parkinson’s Disease. They have and always will be very supportive and carry a place in my heart and it’s a board that I’m proud to serve on.”

Little is playing for the Standardbred Retirement Foundation, Otten for New Vocations, Prewitt for St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital and Warkentin for the Harness Horse Youth Foundation.

From a betting perspective, Carter has a gameplan going in.

“So, I’m very much an exotics kind of guy, exactas, trifectas, supers,” he said. “Sometimes, it comes back to bite me on the butt and you have to go back to basics and remember sometimes when you have a really strong opinion, a simple win bet is as constructive as your exotic bets. If you like a horse, that’s say 25-1, and you bet him up and down in exactas and trifectas and boom, your opinion was right, but then the horse you needed to finish third, didn’t finish third, guess what, you’re walking away with zero. So, for me, it’s recognizing when I have a strong opinion about something and making sure that I make the correct wager at that time.”

“In those multi-leg wagers, it’s important when you’re constructing those tickets, if you don’t like the favorite, don’t use the favorite. You can’t be afraid of losing those multi-leg wagers because eventually that’s going to happen and it’s okay. So, in the long run, you will make money by taking stances against favorites that you don’t necessarily like.”

Carter said Little has given him some suggestions when it comes to his handicapping style.

“Dave gave me a hard time when I first started coming out there because I would send in my 50-cent Pick-4 and it would cost like $2.50,” Carter said. “He was like ‘Dude, come on,’ and I’m like, ‘What do you want?’ And he goes ‘If you’re going to do that, that’s fine, but it needs to be like a $5 Pick-4.’”

What makes the Battle a little different is the element of fan involvement, where not only charities win, but so do fans that come out to support their chosen handicapper.

“It costs nothing to enter, and at the end of the rainbow they have a 1 in 18 chance to walk away with $10,000,” said Little, who won the second edition of the Battle. “How can you pass that up? It’s the kind of thing I would love as a fan.”

For more detailed information about participating as a fan in the Battle of the Meadowlands Masterminds, go here.

So far, the Battle has been dominated by the Daves – the late Dave Brower won the inaugural edition in 2022 – but Carter hopes to change that.

“I mean, of course, it would be awesome to win,” Carter said with a laugh. “But the important thing here is that we’re raising money for a really good cause and, at the end of the day, we’re helping five organizations who, without this contest, wouldn’t have the money that we’re going to give them.”

“I think The Meadowlands has done a really good job, from a benevolent standpoint... As much bad publicity as there is that surrounds the sport just in general, I think these things that we can do to help charities, these good stories, do a whole lot of good.”

Trevor Henry talks babies at the brand new Grand River Raceway

by Dave Briggs

Ontario-based trainer/driver Trevor Henry is the newest trainer in the Twos in Training spotlight.

He was interviewed recently by Jaimi MacDonald at the newly-expanded Grand River Raceway in Elora, ON which has gone from a half-mile oval to a five-eighths mile track.

The video – which debuted on May 23 and can be viewed here – was produced by Curtis MacDonald's Cujo Entertainment and features aerial views of the new track.

Thank you to the Ontario Sires Stakes and Winbak Farm of Canada for sponsoring the Henry video.

Unbeaten Agent Of Fortune carries momentum into sires stakes opener

by James Platz

Memorial Day signals the start of Indiana Sires Stakes action for sophomore pacers and trotters at Harrah's Hoosier Park. Agent Of Fortune enters Monday's first leg undefeated thus far for owners Robert Paddock and Robert Taylor. The Dover Dan—Posterity filly, conditioned and driven by Taylor, was most recently a 2-length winner in the $25,000 Msnaughtbynature series final.

"I think she's a contender," Taylor said of his pupil, now four-for-four in 2024. "We're just hoping for the best and hoping she can stay consistent, healthy and sound and can make some money along the way."

As a freshman, Agent Of Fortune quickly became a contender at Harrah's Hoosier Park after making her debut on the Indiana fair circuit. She recorded back-to-back wins for Taylor, who felt she could compete on the big track.

"Early on in her training she showed that she could trot some, but she would make breaks and you kind of had to have kid gloves," he said. "I started her at the fairs in Converse just to get some experience. She won both of her races and she showed a good last quarter in her last start there."

Moving to the Anderson, IN oval, the trotter would reach the winner's circle in her third start, the opening leg of sires stakes. She took her freshman mark that day, stopping the clock in 1:55.1. Agent Of Fortune would register a pair of runner-up finishes in later sires stakes divisions, but in the weeks leading up to the $250,000 Super Final, she struggled to stay healthy.

"She got sick in September and we fought, we battled sickness," Taylor said. "We didn't even race her in the last leg of sires stakes trying to get her healthy for the Super Final. She was just not good when we raced her. She just wasn't healthy yet."

Agent Of Fortune closed out her freshman campaign with a ninth-place effort in the Super Final. Despite the disappointing conclusion, the trotter banked $78,950 for her connections.

"It's always frustrating," the trainer and co-owner said. "When you race horses, it happens. It's part of the business. Things just didn't swing her way. You count your blessings as you go. We were thankful that she made right at $80,000 last year and she's come back good this year."

“ [Agent Of Fortune is] a professional on the racetrack. She wants to race. She’s a racehorse. But she’s smart about it. She lets me do what I want to with her. The start before last we left from the outside a little bit. There weren’t any holes, so I gave her the cue to go on and she went right on to the front. Last week I didn’t want to go to the front with her. I ducked her in the 3-hole and when everything settled, I tipped her out and she went.”

~ Robert Taylor

According to Taylor, Agent Of Fortune is the third horse on which he has partnered with Paddock. When the two men attended the 2022 Hoosier Classic sale, Paddock had picked out a few horses he liked on the first day. They were unsuccessful in purchasing any of them.

“I think he wanted to spend about $15,000 and everything went above that,” Taylor said. “He told me, ‘Robert, I’m not coming back the second day. You just pick us something out!’ She was kind of my top pick on the second day for us. She’s turned out to be a real blessing.”

Agent Of Fortune is the fourth foal from the Lucky Chucky mare Posterity, a near $100,000 earner. Taylor purchased the Black Creek Farm-bred filly for $12,000. With her most recent win, the sophomore pushed past the six-figure earnings milestone.

Taylor said that the filly wintered well, returning to the barn in early January slightly bigger.

“She’s not a real big, heavy horse,” Taylor said. “But she grew taller and longer and she filled out some. She’s more of a streamlined type horse. She’s longer; long legs and long body. She probably grew three to four inches taller and four or five inches longer than last year. She trained back really good. She never really had any bad training sessions when we started back this year.”

Last season’s lone pari-mutuel victory made Agent Of Fortune eligible to the early closing series this spring. She has made the most of the opportunity. After winning her April 24 debut by nearly 4 lengths in 1:54.3, Taylor dropped the filly into the Msnaughtbynature series. She swept both legs before capturing the May 17 final as the favorite, trotting the mile in a seasonal best 1:53.4.

“She kind of surprised me her first start,” the conditioner said. “I thought she could trot in [1]:54 after a few starts, but I didn’t imagine she would trot a mile like that in her first start coming back. Knock on wood, she’s been very consistent for us.”

Taylor believes one of the keys to the filly’s success is her demeanor and willingness to follow the driver’s lead.

“She’s a professional on the racetrack,” he said. “She wants to race. She’s a racehorse. But she’s smart about it. She lets me do what I want to with her. The start before last we left from the outside a little bit. There weren’t any holes, so I gave her the cue to go on and she went right on to the front. Last week I didn’t want to go to the front with her. I ducked her in the 3-hole and when everything settled, I tipped her out and she went.”

Agent Of Fortune is not the only sophomore trotter in the barn for which Taylor has high hopes. Musclegfantastic, winner of last season’s ISS Super Final for freshman trotting colts, makes his debut Monday (May 27). He has two qualifiers to his credit, and like the filly, was not 100 per cent last year. The son of Muscle Massive—Busybeingdreamy finished the year with $187,865 on his card.

“He was another one that had some bumps in the road,” Taylor said. “He was sick and he had a quarter crack in the foot; we were battling for about a month getting him sound. He’s come back really good this year. Just like the filly division, there will be a lot of tough colts out there. I just hope he can be a contender this year.”

David Hewitt may have found his horse of a lifetime

by Adam Hamilton

If you believe in the harness racing gods, they have delivered what's only fair for veteran Aussie horseman David Hewitt with Extreme Sea coming along in the twilight of his career.

The 4-year-old pacer has raced just nine times, but has everyone in Down Under harness racing talking.

One of those is top Aussie driver Nathan Jack, who insists Extreme Sea is the horse to beat in the world's richest harness race, the $2.1 million TAB Eureka at Menangle on Sept. 7.

"He's a beast," Jack said. "I know the team very well and they've been telling me for ages how good the horse is. I think he'll win the Eureka. He's got unbelievable speed, but he's not weak either.

"In 12 months from now, I think he's the sort of horse everyone will be raving on about."

As if beating some serious horses to win the $100,000 Riverina Championship final at just his seventh race start on March 31 wasn't exciting enough, Extreme Sea has gone to a whole new level in two starts since.

He won a heat of the NSW Regional Metropolitan series at Menangle by 25.1m in a 1:54.3 mile rate for 2,300m on May 7 and stepped it up again to win the $100,000 final by 26.1m in a staggering 1:52.8 mile rate – just 1.4sec outside the track record – last Saturday night.

It will be a big shock if he doesn't repeat the dose in the overall $100,000 NSW Regional final again at Menangle this Saturday night (May 25).

"As good as the past couple of wins have been, and they have been amazing, horses can't do what he did at Wagga," Jack said. "That's when I saw what the Hewitts had been telling about him. I just shook my head at that win."

It was that Wagga win which convinced Leviathan owner Wayne Loader to make an early move and snap-up Extreme Sea for his TAB Eureka slot.

You have to go back about 30 years to understand why Extreme Sea is such a special horse to Hewitt and his family.

That's when Hewitt was training a freakishly talented pacer called Red Sea.

Getty Images/Club Menangle

Many felt he was the best pacer in Australia on sheer talent, but he was littered with injury issues.

With much care, attention and genius from Hewitt, Red Sea managed 24 starts – albeit across almost six years – and won 21 of them with two placings.

Hewitt remembers the day he saw a group of well-known Victorians in Sydney and they told him how highly they rated Rea Sea.

“He’d beat Golden Reign, he’s that good,” Hewitt said they told him.

Golden Reign was the same age as Red Sea and became a champion with 28 wins, including a famous 1995 Christchurch Inter Dominion, and banked almost $1.2 million.

“The best run at [racing] my guy had was 10 starts in the 1994-95 season and he won all 10 starts,” Hewitt said. That’s when those Victorians told me how good they thought he was. He’s a long, long story Red Sea. He had problems with all four legs in the end.

“It was such a shame to have a horse with his talent and never really get the chance to show it. I never thought I’d get another one like him, but maybe I have.”

That’s what makes the horse so special to the family, according to Hewitt’s son, Brad, who has driven Extreme Sea in all nine starts and is one of NSW’s most successful horsemen.

“I’m just so stoked for dad and mum [Maree],” Brad said. “Dad’s in his mid-60s now and worked seven days a week for as long as anyone can remember. All my life, I’ve heard the Red Sea stories. How good he was and what might have been without his injuries. Dad always said he’d never get another one like him and now this horse has come along.

“Red Sea was well before my time. I was just born, maybe six months old, when he won the Sapling Stakes as a 2-year-old. It’s such a great time for this horse to come along and he’s got all the making of being a horse to take dad into the big races, including the Grand Circuit, for the next few years. Not just part of it, but a serious player in it.”

Thankfully, Extreme Sea’s lack of racing for a 4-year-old hasn’t been due to injuries, more little niggles and some quirks.

“He was actually up and going at the very start of his 2-year-old year and we had him paid-up for Bathurst [Gold Crown, the first big Aussie 2-year-old race of the year],” David said. He was a very good 2-year-old, but there were a few little soreness things so we decided to give him time with the talent he’d shown.

“Then, when he came back, he galloped in his first qualifier when he pulled out from another horse’s back to make his [move] and “ [Extreme Sea will] need to be racing when those good races are on in Brisbane to get ready for the [TAB] Eureka, so it might as well be for good money up there. The experience will be good for him as well. It’s the good thing about already having our Eureka slot, thanks to Wayne [Loader], we can pick and choose the right races to prepare him without having to worry about whether we get a slot or not. ”

~ David Hewitt

“ [Extreme Sea’s] a beast. I know the team very well and they’ve been telling me for ages how good the horse is. I think he’ll win the [TAB] Eureka. He’s got unbelievable speed, but he’s not weak either. In 12 months from now, I think he’s the sort of horse everyone will be raving on about.”

~ Nathan Jack

it really scared him. It got in his head and it’s taken time to get him through that.”

Extreme Sea still hadn’t raced when last year’s inaugural TAB Eureka was raced at Menangle.

“We’ve always felt he’s one out of the box, but he’s been slow to mature and needed time,” Brad said. “Dad’s given him that and looks to be getting the rewards now. I know he’s not beating much, but you can tell by watching, and I certainly can when driving him, that he is a special talent.”

“Those [races] at Wagga in March have really brought him on. He just feels like a different horse, more tractable and mature I mean, in his past three [starts], and he should just keep getting better like that, too.”

Providing this week goes as planned, Extreme Sea looks set to travel interstate for what could be the first of many times in his career.

The riches of the Queensland Constellations winter racing at Albion Park awaits him.

And so too does some serious opposition, which will give a much clearer guide to where he sits in the TAB Eureka pecking order.

“He’ll need to be racing when those good races are on in Brisbane to get ready for the Eureka, so it might as well be for good money up there,” David said. “The experience will be good for him as well.”

“It’s the good thing about already having our Eureka slot, thanks to Wayne, we can pick and choose the right races to prepare him without having to worry about whether we get a slot or not.”

Father and son will travel together, but that’s when things could get tricky.

One of Brad’s stable stars, Captains Knock, is also Queensland-bound and is another to have landed an early TAB Eureka slot through Cordina Racing.

“Yeah, it’s not ideal to have a top 4-year-old of my own in the same season, but we’ll deal with that when we have to,” Brad said.

That could come as early as the $350,000 Group 1 Rising Sun at Albion Park on July 10. It’s a target race for both pacers.

Visibility good on Hunter Lofthus' horizon

by Chris Lomon

Hunter Lofthus was in a fog, literally, during his first standardbred driving win.

The weather was anything but picture-perfect on Dec. 10, 2023, at First Tracks Cumberland, with the oval enveloped in a thick fog for the day's races.

Fortunately for Lofthus, it was a much sunnier outlook by the end of the $4,400 dash.

"When I got to the track, the fog was ridiculous," Lofthus said. "I thought there was a chance that they weren't going to race. But I'm glad they did."

In rein to Martaritaondarocks, the native of Fairfield, ME, was in search of his first pari-mutuel victory on that Sunday.

The fog that blanketed the half-mile oval at the quarter and three-quarter poles was highlighted on the race charts.

And while some of the action was impossible to see, Lofthus would emerge from the murkiness in front and on his way to a treasured milestone score.

At the finish line, Lofthus and the bay daughter of Pet Rock–Bella Marta were 5¼-lengths clear of their nearest rival.

The Caine Mackenzie trainee paced the mile in 2:01.

"I had around 10 starts before that win," Lofthus said. "I was on a lot of longshots from the 8-hole. Finally, I got this chance. Cain told me the horse would be a perfect fit for me. And he was.

"I had been waiting for that moment and when it happened, it was exciting."

It was a mix of playful barbs and heartfelt applause that greeted Lofthus on his way back to the winner's circle.

"I could hear everyone yelling and screaming," he said. "A bunch of the other drivers [including Kevin Switzer, Jr., Nick Graffam and Aaron Hall], who I am friends with, came into the winner's circle. My girlfriend Emily and son [Brooks] were there too.

"There was a lot of teasing. People were telling me that I cut through the infield because no one could see me."

Lofthus and Martaritaondarocks would team up again for another win one week later at First Tracks Cumberland.

Joe Shaw Photography

Polyester winning at First Tracks Cumberland in April for trainer/driver Hunter Lofthus.

"I was glad to see everything this time," he said with a laugh. "I gave her pretty much the same trip as the week before."

This time, however, it was clear sailing.

"I watch a lot of replays on RTN and with the first win, I would have watched it about a thousand times by now," Lofthus said. "But you can't see much. This one was way different. But I'm grateful for both those wins."

Not too bad for a horseman with no ties to the sport.

It was, of all things, a chance meeting at a hamburger joint that led Lofthus to a life in horse racing.

In between jobs, he kept an open mind and watchful eye when it came to his career search.

Horse racing was not on his radar.

"Here, in Maine, it seems like most people get involved with the sport through their family," Lofthus said. "I had no experience at all.

"Six or seven years ago, I ran into a friend, trainer Benson Merrill. He asked me what I was up to, and I told him I wasn't doing anything. He happened to have 10 racehorses and asked if I wanted to come help by cleaning stalls, doing water buckets and other jobs around the barn."

Lofthus decided to give it a shot.

The next morning, he was at the barn.

Little did he know that it was the start of a new career.

"It was fun," Lofthus said. "I started out cleaning stalls, brushing horses, water buckets, and things like that. I did that for six or seven months."

His connection to the horses took some time to develop.

"I was very cautious around them at first," he said. "For some reason, I thought they wanted to hurt me. After a few weeks, I realized how kind, friendly and tame they were. It was then when I started to build those bonds with them."

One morning, Lofthus came to his boss with a request.

He wasn't sure what the response would be, but he figured it was worth a try.

"I convinced him to let me jog a horse," Lofthus said. "Then I jogged two and then I was jogging them all. I trained one and the next thing you know, I'm doing it full-time."

And doing it well.

Less than 40 drives into his career, Lofthus, who went on to work as a second trainer for Ron and Heidi Cushing, is now in the barn of Jamie Gerard.

The two co-own Forrest Blu, a 5-year-old son of Roll With Joe—Lima Fairest.

"Jamie has around 14 horses," said Lofthus, who had 27 starts as a trainer in 2023. "I go there every day and it's just me and him. It keeps me busy for sure."

"Here, in Maine, it seems like most people get involved with the sport through their family. I had no experience at all."

~ Hunter Lofthus

It also keeps Lofthus committed to his craft.

He's determined to make the transition from up-and-comer to established horseman.

"In the last five or six years, I've learned a lot from different people," Lofthus said. "I have also learned a lot from working with all types of horses. There is always more to learn, but I feel comfortable and confident in what I can do."

It makes his short-term and long-term objectives seem well within reach.

One goal is to have his own stable.

"I would love to have a couple of higher-end horses and a couple of claimers," Lofthus said. "I would also like to be successful enough to provide for my family. Maybe someday, my son will find his way to racing."

There are signs it might not be a longshot hope.

Brooks is already showing a fondness for all things horses.

"Emily has riding horses, so he is getting more familiar with them each day," Lofthus said. "He helps us feed them at night and he's been to the barn and met some of the racehorses. He has no fear, that's for sure."

Lofthus looks forward to those moments.

"It's exciting," he said. "I like that Brooks is being introduced to horses at a young age. As soon as he can push a wheelbarrow, I'll start bringing him with me."

Outside of family time, in the winter months, Lofthus hits the local waterways for some ice-fishing adventures.

During those trips, he will, on occasion, think about the unexpected career he has found.

Fog or fair skies, Lofthus is grateful for what he walks into each morning.

"Six or seven years ago, I never would have believed I'd be doing this," he said. "Now, I can't imagine doing anything else."

New Jersey

Brothers enjoying fairy-tale ‘Story’

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Dave Clamme and his brother Paul hope this is just the beginning for Endofstory.

The brothers, who reside in Indiana, are relative newcomers to racehorse ownership, having gotten involved in harness racing only two years ago, fulfilling a bucket-list item for Dave. Endofstory, a 3-year-old male pacer, was purchased under their Lick Creek Stock Farm moniker (a homage to their grandfather) in an onGait.com auction this past November. He was the fourth horse purchased by the brothers but is the only one racing now.

On Saturday (May 25), Dave and Paul will watch Endofstory compete in the $240,000 New Jersey Sire Stakes championship for 3-year-old male pacers at The Meadowlands. Endofstory won both his preliminary-round races in the event and will leave from post 6 with Dexter Dunn in the sulky for trainer Doug Dilloian, Jr.

“It’s been unbelievable,” Paul said. “It’s gone way beyond my wildest dreams. It was one of the things on my brother’s bucket list, to have a horse out at The Meadowlands. It’s turned out way better than we ever imagined. We are quite the novices, and quite lucky, I’m sure, at this point.”

Dave, who turned 78 earlier this month, was drawn to harness racing through handicapping. The first horse purchased by Lick Creek Stock Farm was a pacer named The Opener.

“I made a comment once that to have a horse was on my bucket list,” Dave said. “Well, that happened, and we had a little success there.

“We ended up buying Endofstory last year, and we got pretty lucky.”

Endofstory, a son of Lazarus N—Olivette Hanover, raced twice as a 2-year-old, posting fourth- and third-place finishes in the preliminary rounds of the New Jersey Sire Stakes. After being purchased by Dave and Paul, the brothers gave the gelding to trainer Jace Sundeen. He opened this year with a win in a conditioned race at Harrah’s Hoosier Park, then competed in a non-winners-of-2 series there before heading to New Jersey.

He won his NJSS opener in 1:51.1 from post 8, at odds of 34-1, with Todd McCarthy in the sulky. Endofstory and McCarthy were back in the winner’s circle the following week thanks to a 1:50.4 score that also was McCarthy’s 1,000th career victory in North America.

“I’m not going to say he really surprised us, but he did surprise us,” Dave said. “Our trainer here in Indiana said he was pretty aggressive, but he had a smooth gait. He said if we could just get him moving and keep him in control, we might have something.

Lisa Photo

"Jace was impressed almost the first time he put him on the track. He's done a great job. We appreciate all that he's done."

Dilloian was recommended to train Endofstory in New Jersey through a mutual friend of Sundeen.

"He's raising some eyebrows for sure, including mine," Dilloian said. "I got him probably eight or nine days prior to the first leg. They had him going well (in Indiana) and I think he's maturing and coming into his own at the right time. He's a talented horse and a pleasure to be around. There's really no magic secret with him; he's pretty simple. You wouldn't even know he was in the barn if you didn't look for him."

"He's very quick-footed. He's showed that he's versatile (in his two NJSS races) but I think if you race him off a helmet and feed him racetrack, it shows how explosive he is. He's got a real quick turn of foot."

Paul drove 1,300 miles roundtrip for both of Endofstory's NJSS starts. His sister Peggy and sister-in-law Diane joined him for the first, and he went solo for the second. Another trip is in the works.

"I've got friends here in Indiana that said I had to go," Paul said, referring to his initial visit to The Big M. "I hemmed and hawed about it, but I finally decided, yeah, I've got to go. For the second race, I went by myself. It's a long way to drive, but he did so well the week before, I couldn't hardly not be there."

He said seeing Endofstory give McCarthy win No. 1,000 was a bonus.

"It was a thrill just to be involved in that," Paul said.

McCarthy will be driving Brett Pelling-trained Arbitrage Hanover in the NJSS final. He also guided that horse to two preliminary victories in the series. Arbitrage Hanover, a son of Bettor's Wish—Ana Hanover, is 3-for-3 overall this year. He will start Saturday from post 10.

Endofstory has three wins and a second in five races this year, with earnings of $38,125.

"The horse has a whole cool story behind him, which is always fun to root for," Dilloian said. "I'm glad it's paying off for them. [Endofstory] is going to train a couple trips Wednesday and he's going into it as good as a horse could. Hopefully, we'll get a little luck."

Endofstory's future following the NJSS is undetermined, but, as Paul said, "Hopefully, this is just the beginning."

Added Dave, "We're all having a good time. We've had some success; we're not going to complain. We are quite, quite happy."

The Meadowlands also hosts the $240,000 New Jersey Sire Stakes final for 3-year-old female pacers Saturday. Odds On Steno, who won both preliminary legs, will leave from post 8 in the eight-horse field. Andy McCarthy will be in the sulky for trainer Tony Alagna.

NJSS finals for 3-year-old trotters are May 31.

Racing begins at 6:20 p.m. (EDT) at The Meadowlands. For free TrackMaster programs for the Big M, click here.

Patience has indeed been a virtue for driver Marvin Luna

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Marvin Luna is enjoying a rapid rise as a driver thanks to taking it slowly.

The 22-year-old Luna began driving in 2020, but never topped 48 starts in a season until breaking out with 594 last year. He won 83 times in 2023, a nearly 14-per cent clip, and guided his horses to $1.11 million in purses.

Now he is in position to shatter those numbers.

Luna has won 64 of 407 starts this season and earned $711,282 in purses. He is the leading driver at Harrah's Hoosier Park, where his 48 victories have already surpassed his 2023 total (46) at the Indiana oval, and he is No. 2 in the standings at Oak Grove Racing with 16 wins.

"It's been good; I'm very happy," Luna said. "I'm just grateful for everything that's happened. I hope it keeps going well."

Luna, a New Jersey native, was introduced to harness racing by his father, Angel. When he was a teenager, Luna worked for trainer Trent Stohler and later spent four years with Tony Alagna. It was during his time with Alagna that Luna began to cultivate an outlook and style that he credits with his success.

"I've worked hard to get where I am, but I think the reason I'm doing so well is all because I was patient," Luna said. "When I was 16 or 17, I wanted things to happen right away. I wanted drives. Tony is the man that taught me patience. He always made sure I had a level head, made sure I thought things through in a race.

"I drive patient, my mindset is being patient. That is what's led me to where I am today."

Luna had 17 career wins entering 2023. Last year's season began slowly, with him getting 50 drives and three wins through the first six months, but he got rolling from there. Luna won 80 of 544 drives the rest of the year.

Helping ignite his season was a horse named Topville Ohsolucky, a 2-year-old female pacer owned by Luna's father. Luna had not yet driven at Hoosier Park in 2023 when he arrived to sit behind the filly in the first round of the Indiana Sire Stakes on July 12. He guided Topville Ohsolucky to a second-place finish, added another second in the next round, and things began to snowball from there.

"She was the only reason I went to Hoosier," Luna said. "I was driving three hours from Lexington to drive one horse. She was finishing second and I think people started to notice me. It was because of that filly and my father that I got my foot in the door."

Mark Herron
Driver Marvin Luna.

This year, Luna has posted a 16.5-per cent win rate at Hoosier, best of any driver there with at least 34 starts. He is enjoying his success, but not letting it consume him.

"I don't let it get too much to me because I know they can take that leading driver title from me at any time," Luna said. "I try not to worry about it. I just try to go out there and do the best I can. If I'm leading driver at the end of the day, that's great."

Driving more frequently has helped Luna accelerate his comfort level in the sulky.

"Every time I get on the racetrack, I learn something new, and I make less mistakes," Luna said. "I'm a lot more confident in myself now. I still make mistakes; I just try not to make them twice."

In addition to his success at Hoosier Park, Luna has been winning at a better than 15-per cent clip at Oak Grove. His most lucrative triumph so far this year has come at the Kentucky track, when he guided 4-year-old female trotter Mambacita to victory in a leg of the Kentucky Sire Stakes.

Although it was the first time Luna drove Mambacita in a race, he was familiar with the Alagna trainee from having helped prep the horse for her career, which has resulted in nearly $900,000 in earnings so far.

"I worked for Tony when we bought her as a yearling," Luna said. "I trained her down at 2 and 3. That was a special win for me."

Of course, all wins are meaningful, and that's what drives Luna.

"The thrill of crossing the wire first is like no other," he said. "The adrenaline is amazing. That's what I love."

Freehold to play host to Lederman Memorial Race on Saturday

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Throughout his career as a track announcer, Larry Lederman was known for the wit and wordplay that punctuated his race calls. Amateur driver Anthony Verruso remembers those moments well, but that is not what stands out for him when he recalls winning races at Freehold Raceway with Lederman in the booth.

“When I got to the winner’s circle, he would always say, ‘And wearing the colors of Harold Kelly, it’s Anthony Verruso.’ I always loved that,” said Verruso, who was mentored by Kelly when he first got into harness racing more than two decades ago. “I thought it was cool he would say that. A lot of people there probably didn’t get it, but once he said that, they probably got it.

“He was a very nice man and very good at his job. And I think he was good at his job because not only did he portray the races in an entertaining and creative way, but a lot of times he made us part of it, and that made us feel special as drivers.”

Verruso will be among eight drivers participating in a Larry Lederman Memorial Race on Saturday (May 25) at Freehold. Lederman, who passed away March 5 after a lengthy battle with brain cancer, was the track’s announcer for more than a decade after taking over in the booth in 1998. The memorial race will be race 7, an American Harness Drivers Club event.

“Larry was not only a very valuable employee, but a great friend,” said Karen Fagliarone, Freehold’s director of racing. “His quick wit and ability to make people laugh was only one of his best qualities. He was so courageous throughout his battle. Even in his last moments of life, he was consoling me.

“We miss him dearly.”

Lederman, who began working full-time as an announcer in the mid-1980s at Atlantic City Race Course, was diagnosed with an inoperable brain tumor in 2011. He was forced to curtail his workload in the ensuing years, but still made occasional guest race-calling appearances at numerous tracks and remained a popular presence in the sport.

A native New Yorker, Lederman was introduced to harness racing by his father, who had a business in Manhattan and enjoyed going to Yonkers and Roosevelt Raceways. Before getting his start in racing, Lederman worked as a cab driver and did standup comedy at Catch A Rising Star, even appearing on the same bill as Robin Williams.

In 1977, he began working at the Daily Racing Form taking chart calls, but being an announcer was his ambition. He got his first fulltime job at Atlantic City in 1987 and two years later added Garden State Park to his credentials. He continued to work for the Daily Racing Form until 1990.

Over the years, Lederman became recognized for the wordplay, impressions, and observations he would mix into race calls. He called races nationally on both network and cable television and was the race-caller in Robert DeNiro’s 1993 film “A Bronx Tale.”

In 2011, Lederman received the Good Guy Award from the U.S. Harness Writers Association.

“He was the best,” said Yogi Sheridan, another driver participating in the memorial race. “He kept you interested. People sat and listened to hear what he was going to say next. You loved it. If you won, even with you coming back to the winner’s circle, he would say something to get people’s attention.

“I loved to listen to him. You knew you were going to hear something; you just didn’t know exactly what it was going to be. But you were guaranteed to hear something that day.”

In 2003, Verruso won an amateur event at Freehold that pitted drivers from the U.S. against drivers from Hungary. At the race’s midpoint, Lederman informed fans, “They reach the half in one-minute flat... USA time,” and later dropped a shout-out to Hungarian-born actress Zsa Zsa Gabor.

Other examples of Lederman’s wordplay, all from just one of Sheridan’s wins in 2010 with April April (sometimes referred to as April squared), included a mare named Algebra being “part of the equation” in the first turn, Jessie The Cowgirl “moooving to the lead,” Champagne Miss “showing a little bit more bubble” as she advanced on the backstretch, and April April “showering down on” her rivals in the stretch.

“He was great with his words,” Sheridan said. “You would go home and play it again and think, this guy comes up with the greatest things. It’s like having a rapper just put words into play, and you think how did he come up with that, even it all out, and make it sound good out of the blue? That’s a gift. That’s talent. He had it. He had it, 1,000 percent.”

Racing begins at 12:30 p.m. (EDT) at Freehold Raceway. Estimated post time for the Lederman Memorial is 2:30 p.m. For Saturday’s complete entries, click here.

Saturday is the final day of the track’s winter/spring meet. Racing will return to Freehold on Aug. 23.

Jiggy Jog S rolls in Big M's Cutler

The 2023 Breeders Crown and FanDuel winner, who finished off last year with a four-race win streak, extended her success to five victories in a row Saturday night (May 18) at The Meadowlands by taking the first major event on The Big M's bloated stakes calendar, the $145,150 Arthur J. Cutler Memorial for open trotters.

"[Meadowlands president/chief executive officer] Jeff [Gural] was down in the paddock earlier and told me how horrible I've been doing, so I had to pick my game up," said winning driver Dexter Dunn with a laugh. "But you sit behind a horse like Jiggy Jog and they make you look good."

There wasn't much in the way of action during the opening half, as Hillexotic, Asteroid, Dover In Motion and Jiggy Jog S lined up 1-2-3-4 past the quarter in :27.3 and half in :55.3.

Just after the half, Dover In Motion was moved to the outside by Dave Miller. Dunn put Jiggy Jog S right behind that one as the duo quickly made up ground on the leader, with Dover In Motion almost on even terms with Hillexotic at three-quarters, which went in 1:23.3.

'Jiggy' was now ready to jog.

With a little more than an eighth-of-a-mile to go, Dunn tipped the Ake Svanstedt trainee off her live cover and trotted past Dover In Motion in a thoroughly flawless performance, hitting the finish 2 lengths in front of a fast-closing Asteroid (another Svanstedt student). Dover In Motion settled for third. The final time of 1:50 equaled Jiggy Jog S's lifetime best.

"We floated out of there, got a good spot and got a great helmet from Davey [Miller] and when I tipped her off cover there, she showed the speed that we know she's got," said Dunn.

A 5-year-old daughter of Walner—Hot Mess Hanover, Jiggy Jog S returned $3.80 to her backers as the 4-5 favorite. She now has 19 wins from 36 career starts, good for earnings of $2,236,677 for owners Ake Svanstedt Inc, Steve H Stewart, John E Lengacher and Hickory Hollow Stables.

After going eight-for-11 a year ago with three seconds, Dunn had a bold statement about how good Jiggy Jog S could be in 2024.

"I think she's better, a little bit better [this year]," said Dunn. "She's gotten bigger. She's filled out a lot. She's really grown since last year and she was pretty fresh out there tonight. I think she was happy to be back at the races."

KARL CRUISES AGAIN: Karl continued his march toward Hambletonian Day with another win, taking the second of three $30,000 legs of the New Jersey Sire Stakes for 3-year-old colt and gelding trotters in 1:52.2.

The son of Tactical Landing—Avalicious once again raced from off the pace, and once again had little trouble winning for the second time in as many 2024 starts. His final quarter of :26.2 completed a 4-length win over Tony Adams S. He paid $2.10 as the 1-9 public choice.

1:48 IS GREAT: Only minutes after Legendary Hanover established an industry-fastest 2024-mile time of 1:48.3 at Woodbine Mohawk Park, the remarkable Oakwood Ardan IR ($2.40 to win as the 1-5 favorite), a 5-year-old gelded son of Sweet Lou—Trend Setter, won the TrackMaster Series final (for horses with a rating of 89.5 or less) in 1:48 to set a new North American season's best for trainer Robert Cleary, his seventh win in eight starts since his arrival from Great Britain last fall.

Just six races later, Maximus Miki equaled the 1:48 clocking after racing parked for the final half-mile in an iron-tough $46,500 open for pacers. 'Miki', a 5-year-old gelded son of Always B Miki—Beach Gal who is trained by Tom Cancelliere, returned $11.80 as the 9-2 fourth choice.

Both 1:48 performers were driven by Andy McCarthy.

A LITTLE MORE: After totaling seven winners combined last Saturday, the McCarthy brothers were at it again, rolling another seven on the program. On Saturday, it was Todd taking four and Andy three. One week ago, it was the other way around. All-source handle on the 14-race program totaled $3,584,315, the 33rd time from 39 cards this year when wagering went past the $3-million mark.

Security Protected, Captain Albano winners at Pocono

Two out of three favorites prevailed in $30,000 divisions of a Pennsylvania All-Stars event for 3-year-old trotting colts Sunday evening (May 19) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, with the fastest winner, the Father Patrick colt Security Protected, scoring in 1:53 after closing furiously in his seasonal bow.

Tim Tetrick tucked fifth with Security Protected early, then came out third-over and was not particularly well-served by his cover in a race with fractions of :27.2, :56.4, and 1:24.4. But Tetrick tipped the Marcus Melander trainee four-wide in the lane, and the pair rallied from sixth, 4½-lengths behind at the stretch call, to get the decision by a half-length over rail shooting White Shoe Hanover, coming his own last panel in :27.2, for Judith Taylor, Brad Grant, and Order By Stable AB.

The other All-Stars chalk was the Cantab Hall colt Blackhawk Zette, who opened his season with five straight wins at The Downs, including a sweep of his Weiss series, before finishing second in the Dexter Cup. Here he rebounded to his winning ways, inheriting the pocket after a :27.3 opener, staying there through a :56.3 half, then moving outside before the 1:25.2 three-quarters. Blackhawk Zette trotted smartly on to command, then was 2¼-lengths clear of closer Skydiver while lowering his mark to 1:53.3 under the guidance of Matt Kakaley for trainer Robert Baggitt, Jr. and J L Sadowsky LLC.

The only outsider winning an All-Stars division was the Bar Hopping gelding Usain Hanover, who made two speed moves during fractions of :29, :57.3, and 1:26, then sprinted home in :27.3 to withstand Luke The Spook by a half-length, with the 1:53.3 final clocking a lifetime best. Usain Hanover had gone 2-1-1 in the Weiss Series prelims before breaking in the final, and a subsequent break in an overnight caused the crowd to release him at 8-1, but he was at his best Sunday for driver Tyler Buter, trainer Nifty Norman, and Enzed Racing Stable Inc.

If you had been told before the evening's racing that Pocono would see its fastest trotting mile of the season, and it would be produced by a sophomore, you'd have been right, but the 2024 standard didn't come in a stakes race. Instead, the Chapter Seven gelding Dame Good Time put on the big speed show, going to the top past a :27 opener then hanging up numbers of :56 and 1:24.1 before stopping the clock in 1:52.1, not only a new mark but also within three-fifths of a second of Pinkman's nine-year-old local divisional standard. Dame Good Time is now two-for-three since being taken over by trainer Trevor Alexander for owner John Cummings, with Scott Zeron keeping his usual perch behind the horse.

Captain Albano, last year's champion 2-year-old pacing colt, made his 2024 debut a success when he captured one of four divisions of the $157,776 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes second preliminary at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania on Saturday afternoon (May 18).

Racing over a "sloppy" track (all eight of the stakes races save the first Stallion Series event were conducted in the slop), the son of Captaintreacheros was outside most of the :27.1 first quarter to take command, then yielded to Ivy Park and sat in the 2-hole behind that one through middle fractions of :55.2 and 1:23.4. Todd McCarthy moved "The Captain" to the Pocono Pike and saw his colt gain immediately upon getting clear ground, and the driver looked confident in his horse even though the official margin was just a head over his game foe at the end of the 1:50.4 mile.

Captain Albano now has eight wins and two seconds in his 10-start career, with a bankroll of $465,402. Noel Daley trains Captain Albano for Patricia Stable, L A Express & Sjoblom Inc., and Michael Dolan.

The team of Let It Ride Stables Inc. and Odds On Racing are part-owners of two of the other Sire Stakes winners, including the fastest victor, Rush In, who got home in 1:50.2 to take his second straight Sire Stakes start. Scott Zeron made a power uncovered move down the backstretch after fractions of :26.2 and :54.4, cleared to the lead before the 1:22.1 three-quarters, and drew off by 4 lengths over Captain Skippy. Linda Toscano trains the Heston Blue Chip colt, now four-for-six after not racing at 2; South Mountain Stables and Island Sun Stable also share in his ownership.

Breeders Crown champion Gem Quality now has two Pocono stakes wins in as many starts in this campaign, following up his Pennsylvania All-Stars win of last week with a 1:51 success here. Driven by Dexter Dunn for trainer Chris Ryder and owners Brad Grant and Enviro Stables in addition to Let It Ride / Odds On, the Captain Crunch colt sat fourth through :27.1 and :55.3 opening splits, got underway raw before the 1:23.3 three-quarters, then won by 1¾ lengths over Armada Hanover.

In the other Sires cut, the Sweet Lou gelding Sweet Beach Life forced a :27.1 initial quarter before sitting pocketed behind mid-fractions of :55.4 and 1:22.4, then used the Pocono Pike to record a new mark of 1:50.4. The winner caught pacesetting Solid Character by a length for driver Matt Kakaley, trainer Travis Alexander, and A Sweet Beach Life Stable.

Women Layer is undefeated in five 2024 starts and the only double Stallion Series winner after a 1:51.4 victory in one of four $20,000 StS events. Todd McCarthy picked up a Stallion Series win to complement his victory with Captain Albano by guiding the Sweet Lou gelding for trainer Brett Pelling and owners Howard and Judith Taylor, Order By Stable AB, and Jerry Silva.

Sweet Lou got a third siring credit in the day's stakes with the gelding War Machine, a $55 upsetter who took a new mark of 1:52.3 for driver David Miller, trainer Ron Burke, and the partnership of Burke Racing Stable LLC and Weaver BrusceMI LLC, Lawrence Karr, and Phil Collura. Captaintreacheros sired two Saturday stakes winners, including the colt Arson, a 1:52 winner when the track was still rated "good," for driver Mark MacDonald, trainer Tim Twaddle, and Thestable Arson Group and Hutchinson Harness LLC.

The meet's leading driver, Matt Kakaley, and trainer Travis Alexander completed a Sires-Stallion Series double with Target Acquired, a Betting Line gelding who lowered his lifetime best in 1:51.2, the day's quickest StS clocking, for Fiddler's Creek Stables LLC. The Kakaley/Alexander pairing also won the last race of the day to become the only horsemen with three successes on the card.

A sizable portion of this division is likely to be at Harrah's Philadelphia as the third PA-sired prelim for this bracket is part of their Super Sunday card on May 26. The best of the Sire Stakes group will be back at Pocono on Sept. 9 to race in their $252,000 Championship.

Purse increase ahead at Yonkers

A purse increase will take place at MGM Yonkers Raceway beginning with the condition sheet that comes out on Monday (May 27) and effective for races starting Monday (June 3). High-end races will have a boost of approximately 10 per cent, while low-end races will bump up by up to 15 per cent. In addition to the purse increase, Yonkers has a stakes-filled month of June coming up. On Friday (June 21), elimination races are scheduled for the MGM Yonkers Trot and MGM Grand Messenger Stakes, the first legs of the Trotting and Pacing Triple Crowns for 3-year-olds. Their companion filly events – the New York New York Mile and the Park MGM Pace – will also be on the docket when the finals occur the following Friday (June 28). The New York Sire Stakes circuit will also visit MGM Yonkers Raceway twice, with the first legs for 2-year-old filly trotters and rookie pacing males on June 25 and June 27, respectively. While there will be a Wednesday program on June 26, Yonkers is operating primarily on a Monday-Tuesday-Thursday-Friday-Saturday schedule through the end of September. Post time each night is 7 p.m. (EDT).

Big M put its best foot forward on FOX

With a national television audience completely to themselves, The Meadowlands put on quite a show Saturday (May 18) night when FOX Sports – along with the TV department at The New York Racing Association – displayed a two-hour broadcast with live racing and features that undoubtedly captivated racing viewers from coast-to-coast.

“What a tremendous start that was to our year on FOX Sports,” said Big M chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemyer. “The show had a great pace to it, and it had great talent as well, with NYRA's Acacia Clement serving as host and [Hambletonian Society president and chief executive officer] John Campbell co-hosting, that duo anchoring the broadcast from NYRA's headquarters at Aqueduct brought something special to the table. Acacia is great, and, as any harness fan knows, John was one of the greatest drivers in the sport's history. His insights always hit the bullseye.”

The show provided a highlight-reel's worth of action, starting with the featured Arthur J. Cutler Memorial, which was won by Jiggy Jog S, who extended her win streak to five in her 2024 debut.

Also in the spotlight was the Nancy Takter-trained superstar 3-year-old colt trotter Karl, who once again crushed his foes in a New Jersey Sire Stakes dash to remain the early favorite for this year's Hambletonian, which will also be shown on the networks of FOX.

“The 2024 harness racing series on America's Day at the Races couldn't have kicked off in finer fashion,” said Eric Donovan, the senior director of TV broadcast operations at the NYRA. “The outstanding performances of champions Karl and Jiggy Jog, in addition to many excellent in-show elements helped make the broadcast a tremendous success.

“As usual, the pre-eminent on-track duo of Jessica Otten and Gabe Prewitt were spot-on with their commentary, analysis and interviews. I'd like to thank the whole team, led by producer Bobby Klatt, for a great start to the season.”

While there will be thoroughbred racing shown on some of the FOX Meadowlands' shows to come, Donovan does like it when things are narrowed down.

“Focusing on one track, we feel like we were able to keep the viewers' interest piqued by concentrating on all the great stories that were in play at The Meadowlands Saturday night,” he said.

Here is the schedule for the remaining eight Big M broadcasts with the marquee event that will be shown. Where not listed, specific networks – FOX, FS1 or FS2 – will be determined:

- July 6: Graduate finals/Meadowlands Pace eliminations, 8-11 p.m. (FS2)
- July 13: Meadowlands Pace final, 8-11 p.m. (TBD)
- Aug. 3: Hambletonian, 1-7 p.m. (TBD)
- Oct. 18: Breeders Crown eliminations, 1-6 p.m. (TBD)
- Oct. 19: Breeders Crown eliminations, 8-11 p.m. (TBD)
- Oct. 25: Breeders Crown finals, 8-11 p.m. (TBD)
- Oct. 26: Breeders Crown finals, 8-11 p.m. (TBD)
- Nov. 30: Fall Final Four, 8-11 p.m. (TBD)

SATURDAY NIGHT SPECIALS: After totaling seven winners combined on Saturday (March 11), the McCarthy brothers were at it last week, rolling another seven on the program. On Saturday (March 18), it was Todd taking four and Andy three. One week earlier, it was the other way around.

Only minutes after Legendary Hanover established an industry-fastest 2024-mile time of 1:48.3 at Woodbine Mohawk Park, the remarkable Oakwood Ardan IR ($2.40 to win as the 1-5 favorite), a 5-year-old gelded son of Sweet Lou—Trend Setter, won the TrackMaster Series final on Saturday (for horses with a rating of 89.5 or less) in 1:48 to set a new North American season's best for trainer Robert Cleary, his seventh win in eight starts since his arrival from Great Britain last fall.

Just six races later, Maximus Miki equaled the 1:48 clocking after racing parked for the final half-mile in an iron-tough $46,500 open for pacers. 'Miki', a 5-year-old gelded son of Always B Miki – Beach Gal who is trained by Tom Cancelliere, returned $11.80 as the 9-2 fourth choice.

Both 1:48 performers were driven by Andy McCarthy.

(On Sunday (May 19), Ruthless Hanover became the fastest horse in North America in 2024 with a 1:47.1 clocking at Harrah's Philadelphia).

BIG PAYOUTS: There were a pair of big returns on the Saturday card, as the 20-cent Pick-6 paid $12,538, while the Early 20-cent Pick-5 came back $8,414.

While sitting alongside host Dave Little Saturday night on-set, DRF Harness editor Derick Giwner helped his following to a big score in the Early 50-cent Pick-4. Giwner's TV ticket came in and paid $156.25, but Giwner had the winning combination five times for a total score of $781.25.

Not to be outdone, Little had the Late Pick-4 a total of 24 times, so his $19 payoff resulted in his followers cashing in for $432.

HANDICAPPING FOR CHARITY: Ten local New Jersey charitable organizations have been selected to compete in the Meadowlands Charity Handicapping Contest on Saturday (May 25).

The contest offers a $15,000 total donation/prize pool, with every charity receiving a donation. Prizes will be awarded as follows: First place: $5,000, second place: $3,000, third place: $2,000, fourth place: $1,500, fifth place: $1,000, sixth-10th: $500.

For further information, go here.

TALKING HEADS TO TANGLE: The Meadowlands' fifth annual Sportscasters Charity Derby takes place on Friday (May 31), and features two harness races to benefit charitable organizations selected by area sportscasters.

Each sportscaster will be teamed up with a Meadowlands driver in a jog cart and will compete against other sportscasters in a field of four in a one-mile race.

Meadowlands Racing & Entertainment will donate $5,000 to each of the two winning sportscasters' selected charities, and, in addition, will also make a $1,000 donation to each charity selected by each sportscaster.

There are three new faces in the 2024 edition of The Derby: Chris Lopresti, Chelsea Sherrod and Perry Sook.

Charity race 1 (After race 3, with affiliation and charity):

- 1. Chris Lopresti (WFAN-660 AM, CBS Sports Radio, SiriusXM); St. Barnabus Hospital Health System
- 2. Don LaGreca (ESPN-NY 98.7 FM); Ronald McDonald House
- 3. Chelsea Sherrod (SNY); Grow Our Game

- 4. Mark Cannizzaro (NY Post); Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center

Charity race 2 (After race 5)

- 1. Maria Marino (Action Network); American Cancer Society/ Making Strides Against Breast Cancer
- 2. Marc Malusis (PIX11, SNY, WFAN); Make-A-Wish Foundation
- 3. Perry Sook (PIX11); St. Barnabus Hospital Health System
- 4. Keith Irizarry (MLB Network); Cavan McGovern Family Research Fund

PICK A WIENER: The sixth annual running of the Meadowlands Racetrack Wiener Dog Derby takes place on Saturday (June 1).

This event is free to attend.

Approximate Wiener Dog Derby post times:

- Race 1: 6 p.m.
- Race 2: 6:15 p.m.
- Race 3: 6:32 p.m.
- Race 4: 6:52 p.m.
- Race 5: 7:30 p.m.

Outstanding “Super Sunday” card at Harrah’s Philly

This Sunday afternoon (May 26) Harrah’s Philadelphia will be proud to present the best racing card of its 2024 season, and arguably one of the top programs anywhere in North America to date this year, when $657,571 will be on the line during a star-studded 16-race card that begins at 12:40 p.m.

Here’s an overview of the three $100,000 invitational events for the fastest established performers in the sport, along with third leg action of Pennsylvania Sire Stakes/Stallion Series racing for the “glamour division,” the 3-year-old pacing males, plus other top racing on the Super Sunday card:

$100,000 Betsy Ross Invitational Pace for mares (race 11)

The attention in the Betsy Ross will likely be focused on two horses. One is Twin B Joe Fresh, a $1.4-million winner at 2 and 3 while having many memorable battles with archrival Sylvia Hanover. Second to the streaking male pacer Macs Delight in her 2024 bow here last week and a winner of the FanDuel Pace against older adversaries last year. Twin B Joe Fresh will be starting from post 3 on Sunday, with Dexter Dunn slated for sulky duty for trainer Chris Ryder.

Lit De Rose has won over $260,000 already in 2024, with roughly half of those earnings resulting from her victory in the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series final at Yonkers last month. Herself an earner of nearly $1.2 million in her career, Lit De Rose will begin from post 5 for trainer/driver Pat Lachance.

$100,000 Maxie Lee Memorial Trot (race 12)

Hillexotic won the 2023 Maxie Lee Trot in 1:50.2, equaling the 2014 mile of Market Share as the fastest trotting clocking ever at Harrah’s Philly. He set the pace in the recent Cutler Memorial at The Meadowlands before tiring, but earlier he posted four-straight wins over two seasons, including a win at the Dayton Derby. Both driver Yannick Gingras and trainer Ron Burke have won the Lee four times, including last year’s success with Hillexotic, so they know the way to the Philly winner’s circle as their horse begins from post 2.

Hillexotic has earned over a million dollars, as has Venerate; Amigo Volo has bankrolled over $2 million. But sure to attract some notice is a horse who has yet to amass $100,000: Benjamin Hanover, who on April 25 here set a 4-year-old trotting gelding track record of 1:51.2, and who won last week at The Meadowlands in 1:50.3.

$100,000 Joseph Auger Memorial Pace (race 13)

Last year in the Auger Memorial Ruthless Hanover paced the fastest time ever over a five-eighths-mile track when he toured the Philly oval in 1:46.3. He made his seasonal debut last week after being away from the races for six months, and all he did was go right out and win in 1:47.1. He stands as the horse to beat from driver Andrew McCarthy and trainer Tom Cancelliere.

The horses on the far inside and far outside seem to have the best chance against Ruthless Hanover. Desperate Man is five-for-six in 2024, losing only when parked the mile in the Borgata final and still third; having to surmount the far outside in his 2024 bow will be Bythemissal, last year’s champion Older Pacing Male. Desperate Man is a millionaire; Bythemissal has earned over $2 million.

Other Highlight Races

The third preliminary of the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes and Stallion Series will be held Sunday, with three divisions of the $154,571 Sire Stakes and six $20,000 Stallion Series sections. Each has one division that on paper seems tougher than the others.

In the Sire Stakes, the 10th race cut features Captain Albano, last year’s 2-year-old pacing male champion who won a Sire Stakes in his debut at Pocono last week; Breeders Crown champion Gem Quality, another PaSS winner at Pocono and also triumphant in a PA All-Stars race at that track in his two starts this year; plus, two horses who have won Sire Stakes leg each, Booming Economy and Sweet Beach Life. Rush In, the only double Sire Stakes winner, draws away from the “toughies” in race 4.

In the Stallion Series action, Women Layer, undefeated in five starts this year including his two StS contests to date (the only double winner) and an All-Stars division, squares off in race 9 against Stallion Series leg winners Copperfield and War Machine.

There is a $50,000 invitational pace called the #senditin Philadelphia pace, with a field that would be the envy of most every racetrack on this continent. Andrew McCarthy and Tom Cancelliere team up again behind another major player, Maximus Miki, 10 6-2-2 this year and coming off a 1:48 victory at The Meadowlands. Millionaires Backstreet Shadow and I Did It Myway are also in the #senditin.

Serious fans of great harness racing will want to be checking out the Super Sunday card at Harrah's Philadelphia. Free Philly programs are or will be available at www.ppha.org.

PHHA / Harrah's Philadelphia

"The completion of the five-eighths-mile track has been highly anticipated and marks the beginning of a new era of racing at GRR," said Jenna MacDonell, Raceway manager. "Guests will enjoy outstanding race cards and developing new wagering strategies to adapt to the changes in the track."

GRR kicks off the race season on June 5 with a community celebration, featuring $2 hotdogs, $3 burgers, and $2 cans of pop. The BBQ will be set-up on The GrandWay Patio, consider grabbing a drink at The GrandWay Lounge bar.

On Wednesday (June 12), GRR will be hosting a formal ribbon cutting with dignitaries and specialists who were integral to getting the five-eighths-mile track built. It'll be a celebration of how far GRR has come.

Follow GRR on social (Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn) or subscribe to their mailing list on their website grandriverraceway.com to get updates and news.

Specialty race nights at GRR:

June 5 – Opening night.

July 12 – Wiener dog races.

Aug. 5 – Industry Day, featuring the Battle of Waterloo presented by Winbak Farms, 12:30 p.m. post time.

Aug. 30 – Harness the Hope Night – Giant Pink Patio Party on The GrandWay patio (dress in pink!).

Sept. 6 – National Caretaker Appreciation Day at GRR, OSS 50th Celebration.

Grand River Raceway

On Wednesday (June 5), Grand River Raceway (GRR) kicks off another exciting season of harness racing. This year they will be celebrating the first horses racing on their brand new five-eighths-mile track.

Grand River Raceway will host 48 standardbred race nights this season, including 18 OSS (Ontario Sire Stakes) events, from June through September. Racing takes place every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday night with a post time of 6:30 p.m. See the full schedule here. The track addition is the first new track construction since GRR built the half-mile track back in 2004.
