A look at all 17 Pepsi North America Cup horses, and who can win

Eliminations for the $1 million race at Woodbine Mohawk Park will be contested on Saturday.

by Brett Sturman

Following two years of pandemic-related scheduling interruptions, Pepsi North America Cup edition XXXIX at Woodbine Mohawk Park marks the first time since 2019 that the race will resume in its traditional June slot. Having drawn 17 entrants, two eliminations are set for this Saturday (June 11), with the top five finishers in each elimination returning for next week's $1 million final. Here's my assessment for each horse in the event, grouped by likelihood to win.

FAVORITES

Beach Glass: One of the big storylines heading into this year's North America Cup is the unexpected driver change here, going from Paul MacDonell to Yannick Gingras. Given MacDonell's long-standing friendship with trainer Brent MacGrath — as well as his ties to the Schooner Stable ownership group, most notably from their ride together with Somebeachsomewhere, winners of this race in 2008 — the change warrants more attention than normal. From Trot Insider earlier this week, MacDonell said that the mutual decision was made in the best interest of the horse and cited both his own age and not having the intent to travel to race Beach Glass in any U.S. stakes this year.

I spoke with MacGrath on Thursday, and he echoed those sentiments. He said, "One thing led to another, and Paul said, 'If you want to get one of the top guys, you're going to have to offer them the North America Cup, too.' So, that's all it was, that's it. Paul's been a very important part of this team, and he's going to continue to be."

As for Beach Glass, he comes off a half-length defeat where he was second last week in the Somebeachsomewhere, while making his first start of the year. "We had a little sickness when we shipped up from Florida and I went cautious – I would rather have raced him the Somebeachsomewhere short, than in an overnight, sick," said MacGrath. "I took my time with him and gave him the two to three weeks he needed, and he responded well. He's probably going to be one of the greenest horses to ever race in the North America Cup. Even in the Breeders Crown last year, he went into that with just three starts. He had never even had a training mile until June 15 last year. He had some issues all winter that we had to deal with as a 2-year-old, and he got too aggressive at the Meadowlands. So, I fooled around with the bridle all winter and I'm very confident in the horse and I'm very happy with how he raced the other day."

"There were a lot of positives about that race and there may have been drivers that would have pushed him harder, but that's not Paul and that's not me. I don't worry about getting beat, I worry about the horse coming out of his race well and being ready to go. The eye has been on the North America Cup since the Breeders Crown and that's where we're heading. I'm extremely happy with the driver that we've got and I'm happy with the draw, having missed the top two picks at least going in, that we don't have to fight with. I'm very optimistic he fits this group and I like our chances. This horse is ready to race, and we've got a guy on him Saturday night that likes racing and knows his way around the racetrack. He's as good as getting a horse into position as anybody and look forward to a good summer with this colt."

Night Hawk: Enters off a career best mile of 1:48.4 at Pocono and that race went at least two full seconds quicker than the other two Pennsylvania Sires Stakes divisions that went that same day. That win likely came a bit tougher than he was expecting, but he's yet to put in a bad race through six career starts and has proven himself in that short span against many of these. The connections of trainer Brian Brown and driver Dave Miller won this race in 2017 with Fear The Dragon. Miller also won this race in 2016 with his Night Hawk's sire, Betting Line.

Pebble Beach: Interestingly, more than a few people on social media weren't fond of his Somebeachsomewhere win last Saturday. I'm not one of them. Yes, he did drift across through the stretch and his time was slower from a speed-favoring time the race prior at the Meadowlands, but he was the dominant force in this division for much of last year and last week's race didn't do anything to detract from that. Last week's win was never in doubt, and if anything, he should be strong now in his third start of the year.

CONTENDERS

Caviart Camden: Maybe he got a little tired towards the end of last year but has looked strong in his two starts this year. Co-fastest all-time record holder for a 2-year-old of 1:48.3, he paced his back half-mile in that most recent start at Philadelphia in about :54. Appears slated to get a new driver in Andrew McCarthy.

Early Action: I gave him contender status from his freshman resume alone, including a win to close out last season with a win in the Governor's Cup. There's nothing wrong with running third to older horses Allywag Hanover and Chase H Hanover in that recent qualifier, though he did appear a bit short in both qualifiers prior against fellow sophomore's, many of which are in this stake. Let's see how his elimination sets him for the final.

I Did It Myway: Another that enters the North America Cup off a fast win at Philadelphia. That race did set up for him and even with that, he had to push to get by a longshot. With that said, he was successful last year at two and has the look of a potential upper echelon colt.

Mad Max Hanover: That most recent race at Pocono was really impressive. He set an honest pace including a fast third panel and fought on tenaciously against Night Hawk after having been passed in the stretch. If you remember last year, he nearly shocked at 50-1 in the Governor's Cup last fall. He's a legitimate contender.

“Paul said, ‘If you want to get one of the top guys, you’re going to have to offer them the North America Cup, too.’ So, that’s all it was, that’s it. Paul’s been a very important part of this team, and he’s going to continue to be.”

– Trainer Brent MacGrath on why Paul MacDonell gave up the drive on Beach Glass

POSSIBLE WITH SOME LUCK

Ario Hanover: Yet to be worse than second in five starts this year and is the second horse in here for Miller and Brown. He was gapped off a hot panel down the backstretch at Pocono last out before finding his best gear late; maybe is capable of handling another step up.

Magical Arthur: He got the lead in about two steps despite starting from the outside in his Somebeachsomewhere division, then yielded to two favorites – I’d say grudgingly to one of them – before having enough left to rally past both of them late in the stretch. That time of 1:50.3 established a new lifetime best and he’s moving in the right direction.

Market Based: Could certainly argue that he deserves contender status, but I feel that he needs to do it outside of Pennsylvania. He’s known to be erratic at times and both of those recent PASS wins were earned off perfect pocket trips; trainer Takter has won this race in two of the last three years.

Stonebridge Helios: Ontario-sired star was a little over-bet last out in the Somebeachsomewhere and didn’t exactly get an ideal trip after taking back and then brushing from last. His prior two races against Ontario-restricted competition were excellent as were most his races last year; anxious to see how he responds to the recent defeat.

I’D BE SURPRISED

Century Inspector: Seems like a reach for a colt that lost in a maiden race last month but did qualify well enough recently behind another North America Cup entrant.

Fouever Boy: Exits a nice PASS win at Pocono last out, and that was on the heels of a hard-used try against similar two back. He’s better than the 2 for 17 record indicates as shown in some of his races from last year; maybe can be heard from.

Frozen Hanover: He comes off an encouraging mile, closing well in the Somebeachsomewhere to not miss by much. That was his first start in a few weeks, and I'd expect this one to be Roy's pick over #1 in his elimination.

Kolby Two Step: Is another that closed noticeably well last week. He came first over from 6th at about the three-eighths marker to pass them all except Pebble Beach. He took a fast time here last year and as I'm writing this, maybe I wouldn't be so surprised after all.

Ron: Qualified willingly but has his work cut out for him against these. On this one I truly would be surprised.

Velocity Chaps: He showed some potential last year including being beaten only a length in an International Stallion Stake in Lexington; those recent Scioto lines may not be as bad as they look. Trainer Evers conditioned last year's 2-year-old divisional winner for the same ownership group, Monte Miki.

Mohawk race secretary O'Sullivan on the challenges of filling cards

by Melissa Keith

This week, Woodbine Mohawk Park added Tuesdays to the racing schedule. That makes for five cards a week at Canada's biggest track, and more work for relatively-new race secretary Tony O'Sullivan.

"I actually finished training the first of October," he said. "I started here December 1st."

O'Sullivan is a familiar name already, as a trainer with 1,190 career victories from 4,220 North American starts and $30.2 million (Cdn) in purses won. Now retired from that side of the sport, he said the experience remains valuable in his current role at Mohawk Park.

"I think having that background definitely helps, just knowing the caliber of horses and things like that from racing pretty much every class over the last 20 or 25 years. But, yes, it's a steep learning curve. It's not an easy job and like most things, it has its challenges, so there's a lot to learn."

“...Obviously, higher-end horses in any jurisdiction, they’re the ones that are tougher to come by. So it’s usually the lower-end horses [available to race], and it’s hard to appeal to them and find the right spot for them, even if on paper it looks like it’s the right spot.”

~ Tony O’Sullivan

The New Zealand native gained knowledge on classifying horses first-hand, decades before succeeding long-time race secretary Scott McKelvie, who retired March 31.

“I went to New Jersey in 1996, and worked for Paul Jessop and then Ross Croghan. I came up here, and worked for Nat Varty and ran Mark Harder’s Canadian operation for a few years. Then at the end of 2004, I opened up my own stable,” he said. “I had kind of had enough of training and wanted to move on to something else, and when this became available, it was a position that I can certainly take a hold of.”

Contemporary race secretaries must deal with a troubling trend.

“I think what makes it most challenging is the shortage of horses and the declining population,” said O’Sullivan. “We have a lot of racetracks here in Ontario and we race at the same time as each other, and it does make it hard for everybody, even on the training side, to know where to go. Obviously, higher-end horses in any jurisdiction, they’re the ones that are tougher to come by. So it’s usually the lower-end horses [available to race], and it’s hard to appeal to them and find the right spot for them, even if on paper it looks like it’s the right spot.”

He added that “a lot of factors” have depleted racing stock.

“I think the breeding numbers have gone down everywhere over the last few years. Obviously, in Ontario, we took a big hit in 2013 after the Slots [at Racetracks] Program got canceled. I think it took a lot of breeders a while to get their confidence back and get their money back, and to get confidence in the [current] program. Then there’s the natural attrition of people getting older and not being able to continue taking care of horses; trainers cutting down for the same reason: that they’re a little bit older and having staffing issues. So it’s kind of a snowball effect, and then you throw COVID on top of it – it’s a perfect storm.”

There’s another reason it’s been tough to fill some classes lately: speed.

“When you’re dealing with a horse supply problem, people probably raise it more than they usually would, because race offices are asking for horses, and the horse men want to help out and we certainly need them... They’re just going so fast – most of the horses are going as fast as they possibly can – and racing all the time probably isn’t ideal for most of them.”

Mohawk's recent Pop-Up Series incentivised entering horses who might otherwise spend time at smaller tracks.

"Early on and through the winter, it probably kept us going in some ways," said O'Sullivan. "It probably helped us with four, five or six races a week. What it really did, and what it was aimed at, was the lesser-quality or lesser-earning horses being able to come here and race for money. Some of them certainly made more than they would have [racing elsewhere], and a lot of them made more than they did last year, so it did work. We have another couple [Pop-Up Series races] going on at the moment that are getting us fresh faces here – not as many; obviously with the big track in the summer, the speed that they go is the issue. It probably frightens people away, but I think overall they've been a success. I think the gamblers like them and there's certainly been horses make good money in them."

The Ontario Sires Stakes and Prospect Series are bringing young horses back to the track, plus the Grand Circuit has multiple stops in Campbellville over the coming months. This eases the burden (slightly) for the race secretary.

"When you know that you can count on potentially 'x' amount of races for a race card, it certainly helps. It means that instead of coming up with 10 or 11 races, you may have to come up with 7."

Recent cancellations of Miss Versatility and Graduate Series legs for trotting mares were evidence of industry-wide issues, explained O'Sullivan. (Both series are administered by The Meadowlands.)

"I think the Miss Versatility, we had three entries for it, and the Graduate mares, we had four. I know for the Graduate, there were one or two that went to the program in Kentucky [Oak Grove's Four-Year-Old Kentucky-Bred Series]. When you're dealing with kind of a small pool group there, it only takes one or two people to go in another direction, or somebody to get hurt, to deplete the race."

It's no coincidence both races were for elite trotting mares.

"They're worth more money, probably, than they can race for, and you also eliminate the risk of something going wrong" when they are sold overseas or bred instead of competing.

Major events aside, there remains the matter of five cards a week. Monday morning (June 6), the race office announced it was "extremely short in all classes Thursday." Later that day, 83 of 99 horses entered had drawn in for 10 races. O'Sullivan shared more about what it currently takes to write and fill classes at Mohawk Park, to be continued in the next column.

Notes: Tuesday qualifiers were canceled (weather). This morning's (June 10) qualifiers include the first baby races of the season. North America Cup eliminations are Saturday, June 11; tickets are on sale for the June 18 final, on-track during race nights and at Guest Services, beside the main entrance ($10 general admission; free for youth 17 and under).

Battle lines have been drawn

A pair of Canadian based pacers look to take the $200,000 Battle of Lake Erie.

by Jay Wolf

The Battle of Lake Erie was one of the biggest naval battles and U.S. victories during the War of 1812, which pitted the US against the British and their then colony, Canada.

Some 210 years later, a pair of Canadians – Jimmy Freight and Tattoo Artist - will be invading MGM Northfield Park Saturday night (June 11) looking to capture the 36th edition of the equine battle.

Owned by Adriano Sorella, Jimmy Freight comes into the Battle as the top-ranked horse in the first Hambletonian/Breeders Crown poll of 2022 and is currently on a six-race win streak.

Claus Andersen

The 7-year-old is fresh off a first over victory in the $117,000 Camluck Classic at The Raceway at Western Fair District, defeating the pacesetter Tattoo Artist by two lengths in 1:50.2.

“The one thing about him since his comeback is that he’s able to race from off the pace, or on the front. He’s become very versatile and that kind of helps,” said Sorella. “There was speed on the inside, so we figured there was no way we were going to leave and get to the front.”

“(Driver) Louis (Roy) made the move nice and early and knew he had a good horse. Louis told me that he knew he had it won at the three-quarter pole. He knew what type of horse he was sitting on.”

Sorella has tapped fellow Canadian, Billy Davis, Jr. to drive his colt and Northfield Park's leading conditioner Cory Kreiser to train.

“We knew going into this race that we would have (competition) with the eliminations for the NA Cup, the Fan Hanover and Roses Are Red, so we knew that even though we wanted Louis (Roy), we knew we had some competition from those elimination races,” said Sorella.

The Sportswriter stallion is currently pulling double duty – racing and breeding. He retired from racing after his 2019 season but was brought back to the track in 2021, winning 10 of his 18 starts since the comeback.

Jimmy Freight has been acclimated to his new surroundings, arriving at the Kreiser barn well in advance of the event.

“Jimmy is not a very good shipper anymore. Ever since he went to stud duty, he becomes rambunctious when he goes to ship very far. He thinks he's going to the stud barn and gets worked up,” said Sorella.

Jimmy Freight is quite familiar with the Northfield Park oval. He was second in the 2019 Battle of Lake Erie and the 2018 Carl Milstein Memorial.

“He's always done well on a half-mile track. As I said, he can race on the lead or off the pace now. He does it his way now. He's a pretty handy horse.”

Jimmy will have to be handy on Saturday. When the post positions were drawn for the invitational on Tuesday, Jimmy Freight found himself with the outside, post #8.

“When the posts came out, I starting getting messages saying he could overcome (the poor post). I know those people were just trying to cheer me up,” said Sorella, laughing. “We got post 8. It is what it is. It's post 8. People are expecting a lot of speed on the front end. I don't see it that way.

“It seems like any time we draw into a final on a small track, it is not the best conditions. In the (2018) Messenger, he set the track record at Yonkers in the elimination and drew the 8 hole in the final and just gets beat by a head to Stay Hungry.

“Can he overcome the eight (hole)? I don't know, there are some good horses in there. We are not going down there to score around that racetrack.”

Tattoo Artist, a Dr. Ian Moore trainee, is coming off a gate-to-wire victory in the $46,800 free-for-all pace at Woodbine Mohawk Park on June 4 in 1:48.3.

The 5-year-old stallion by He's Watching and Stylish Artist is owned by the Let It Ride Stables Inc, Frank J. Cannon and Diamond Creek Racing and will leave from post 6.

Mark MacDonald will pick up the driving assignment from his brother, James, who will be staying in Ontario for the Woodbine Mohawk Park card.

"Tattoo is just a super little horse who gives his all every time he sees a starting gate," said Moore. "I think the Northfield track should suit him very nicely and we are looking forward to racing there in the Battle."

Northfield's director of racing operations, Dave Bianconi has put together another deep Battle field, The field of nine includes Ocean Rock (the 2021 Breeders Crown Aged Pace champion), Nicholas Beach (the fastest performer in 2022), Funatthebeach N (the richest pacer this season), Leonidas A (the second richest horse in 2022), Catch The Fire (another double duty performer), This Is The Plan (winner of $2.6 million in career earnings) and Sectionline Bigry (10 wins in 17 seasonal starts).

Saving harness racing one comment at a time

by Debbie Little

Haven't you ever wanted to know how a horse trained this week or why he wasn't so impressive in his last start?

A partnership between Marty Marsh's www.insideharness.com and The Meadowlands is focused on answering those questions.

"The wagering public has been asking for as much insight as possible for each race," said Meadowlands' chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemyer. "We are working with Inside Harness to provide as much additional information as possible. We are very excited about this initiative and look forward to seeing the results over the next few weeks. We greatly appreciate the cooperation the horsemen are giving us."

Ontario-based Marsh is a harness fan, bettor and former owner, who launched his site a little over a year ago hoping to give bettors a better understanding of why things happen and what to expect.

"I hang out with bettors and I am a better myself, so I know what they're saying and they care about getting a fair shake for their bet," said Marsh. "I just think we need transparency to survive."

Marsh has experienced negativity from uninformed bettors and knows that we as an industry need to do better.

"I was at the OTB watching a race for $250,000 and the favorite broke. The guy behind me said, 'That driver broke that horse on purpose.' And another guy said, 'You think so?' And the first guy said, 'The trainer probably told him to break.'"

"I looked at the guy and said, 'Let me get this straight, the trainer woke up at 5 in the morning, put $250 worth of gas in his truck to drive to Toronto to be there for Lasix. And he's racing for $250,000 and he said to his driver, 'We don't really want to win today, just break him?'" The guy looked at me and just shook his head. He didn't know what to say."

For any that have yet to sign up on Inside Harness, it's free, and as a member, it allows you to see comments provided by trainers and drivers at different tracks across North America.

As practically a one-man band, Marsh contacted trainers and drivers to try to get them to join in his efforts. It may have been pretty slow at first, but thanks to Brandon Bates, Dan Rawlings, Randy Taft and Tim Twaddle, the ball started rolling.

"I wouldn't know [Marsh] if I fell over him," said Twaddle. "I shouldn't assume, but I was assuming early on that they reached out to me because they knew I was a fellow Canuck and I wouldn't say no. This game needs help and anything that I can do, no matter how small, I hope can help it."

Twaddle's comments have been popular with site goers because he takes the time to explain what he means rather than just using insider lingo. And he hopes his fellow horsemen will consider doing the same.

"It's a little bit more than saying, 'He should be good tonight,'" said Twaddle. "Give them some information of what happened through the week and why you think he's going to be good. Maybe he had a foot abscess that's over now. Maybe he trained extra special. Something different in his routine that would give them the edge and make them want to bet a little bit."

“I hang out with bettors and I am a better myself, so I know what they’re saying and they care about getting a fair shake for their bet. I just think we need transparency to survive.”

~ Marty Marsh

Since its inception, Marsh has had over 500 handicappers sign up and over 300 trainers and almost 200 drivers, averaging about 30 posts a day and sometimes more on the weekends.

But after reading a column in HRU a couple of weeks ago about better educating bettors, he was inspired to try something new.

"And I read that column and I said you know what? I'm going to contact The Meadowlands and go right from the top and see what happens," said Marsh. "I contacted Mr. Gural, he loved the idea and he hooked me up with Jason and said, 'Let's get it in here.' So, if it wasn't for [that] column, I probably wouldn't have done that. I probably would have kept doing what I was doing and hoping that it caught on."

Prior to contacting Gural, only five or six Meadowlands' trainers/drivers were posting, one of which was trainer/driver Stacy Chiodo who posted regularly.

"I just figured if it's something that's going to benefit the sport, then what is the big deal to take five minutes," said Chiodo. "It is easy to use."

On Thursday (June 2), The Meadowlands reached out to their trainers/drivers resulting in comments for 55 horses on Friday, while on Saturday, out of the 113 programed horses, 83 had comments. Many had both trainer and driver comments.

“The drivers and trainers control this,” said Marsh. “This is their baby, I’m just the facilitator.”

"When I talked with Mr. Gural and he said, 'I think I can help you out,' I didn't realize he was going to be that much help. It's working out better than I even imagined."

Meadowlands' TV talent Dave Brower and Dave Little read comments from Insideharness.com on the air throughout the night on Saturday and the track even created a two-leg Inside Harness series with a $25,000 final on Saturday, July 2.

The tagline for Inside Harness is “Almost Straight From The Horse’s Mouth.” Nowhere was that better shown than on Friday with the comments for Hurrikane Georgie.

The 4-year-old gelding had a three-race win streak and trainer John McDermott said, "Ray Charles can see Georgie is in career form," but owner/driver Peter Kleinhans had something more to add.

"Morning line thinks he's the best by assigning him favoritism at 9-5," said Kleinhans. "Whoever drew the race and assigned him the outside thinks he's the best. His trainer thinks he's MUCH the best. I think he's just OK in here. He did win his GSY1 pretty handily. Then he won two more races against weaker fields, and the TrackMaster Ratings he earned were lower than just about any horse in the race. This is a significant step up in class, and he's a speed horse with a ton of early speed inside of him. He could get it done, and I certainly hope he does, but this race is no gimme. As far as strategy, trainer wants me to fire to the lead. I'm not so sure what I'm going to do... I'll know about three steps out of the gate, but unfortunately the betting will have already closed. In other words, no insight on strategy from over here!"

For the fourth straight week, Hurrikane Georgie was sent off as the post-time favorite but finished a close third.

Even though Meadowlands' social media supervisor, marketing coordinator and TV talent, Jessica Otten, worked a 16-hour day on Saturday between baby races, posting on social media and paddock interviews, she still made herself available to assist drivers and trainers with the Insideharness.com signup process.

"I've had multiple people call me and I've helped them sign up and made it a little easier for the drivers that are on the road constantly," said Otten.

Since The Meadowlands got onboard, the combined number of drivers/trainers posting has risen to 628 while the number of bettors has increased to 706.

Twaddle has heard fellow horsemen lament about the future of the sport, but he chooses to see it differently.

"How about this is the greatest job in the world," said Twaddle. "We all love what we do. We friggin' love horses. Why wouldn't you do everything in your power to keep that alive? Can you imagine waking up and not being able to go to the barn and train your horses or race your horses? So, what do we do to fix that? I'd be screaming from the highest rafters come and look at our product, it's the greatest game in the world. You can make money at it. It's so much fun. It's endless entertainment.

"I just know that doing nothing is not the way to go, so if we can preach about our horses or our stable a little and get somebody interested in spending a few bucks at the windows, then good for us."

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Ohio-based trainer Marion Chupp is off to a solid start in his career

by Chris Lomon

Don't expect Marion Chupp to ever boast about his racing success.

He's posted some impressive stats since he launched his standardbred career four years ago, a rookie season that produced 13 wins, four seconds and nine thirds from 54 starts, accompanied by just over $85,000 in purse earnings.

As for the secret to his early good fortune, the Ohio horseman gave the lion's share of credit to his band of pacers and trotters.

"I had a lot of luck with a lot of horses that first year in 2018 and it just seemed to work," said Chupp. "I'm just being honest. For a while, it seemed like everything I got in took off and worked out really well. You're very grateful for that. When you start, you want to do your best and continue to learn. You know there are going to be ups and downs, but I was fortunate to have had a lot of good luck that first year."

The decision to carve out a life in racing came years earlier when Chupp was in the driver's seat, so to speak.

"I was hauling horses for a lot of trainers and that was the time when I realized I'd like to have my own career in racing. I met a lot of different trainers and got connected. After I hauled the horses, I worked for [owner/breeder/trainer] Herman Hagerman for a few years, and it just kind of went from there."

Under the tutelage of Hagerman, the aspiring conditioner had a front-row seat for a five-star harness education, learning invaluable lessons along the way.

Every day he finished his work at the barn, Chupp felt grateful to have picked up a new skill.

"With Herman, what I was able to learn was what went into taking care of the horses and just the basics. Mostly, it was watching and learning from him, seeing what he did, and picking up all those pointers. I also had a couple of my own horses when I worked there."

Two of those horses, Long Live The King, and Curly's Son, played a pivotal role in Chupp's development as a trainer and driver.

“I was hauling horses for a lot of trainers and that was the time when I realized I’d like to have my own career in racing. I met a lot of different trainers and got connected.”

~ Marion Chupp

A son of trotter RC Royalty, Curly’s Son would be a game changer for the young man looking to make a name for himself in racing.

Bred by Annmari Daley, the black gelding, who has trotted 225 lifetime miles, became an immediate source of education and inspiration for Chupp when they were paired together near the end of 2018.

Curly’s son was also money in the bank, literally.

“He really carried me. When I first started, he was a blessing to have because there are always bills and he seemed to pay them. He was a very nice horse and I’ve had him since he was four. He’s 10 now. I was very lucky to have him because I don’t know if I’d still be doing this if it wasn’t for him.”

And then there is Long Live The King.

Now seven, the trotting son of Full Count, bred by Flowing Mineral Farm (OH), would become an accomplished performer for Chupp.

Not that it started out in promising fashion.

“I had Long Live The King when he was three years old. He never panned out and we spent a lot of time with him. He’s been with me throughout my racing career. I drove him at fairs and I think he stayed flat at one of those fairs. Now he has the track record at Northfield for 4-year-old geldings, 1:53.1.”

In typical fashion, Chupp doesn’t take credit for the impressive turnaround.

Instead, he lauds driver Chris Lems for his efforts in working with the once troublesome trotter.

“Chris has helped me a ton. He drove for me. The reason he did was because of Long Live The King. He’s a very hot horse and a lot of drivers don’t like that. He seemed to get along with him and has driven for him for years. He got along with him and I just put him on everything else. It’s all worked out and here we are.”

Where that is, now in his fifth season in the training and driving ranks, is a place that has Chupp constantly smiling, despite the ups and downs associated with horse racing.

Still, there is no place else he’d rather be.

“I’ve been around horses my whole life. I used to buy and sell ponies when I was 12. So, I’ve always felt a close connection to the horses. Right now, we have 22 at the one barn – we actually have two different places – and we have about 15-17 at the other barn. A lot of the babies and 2-year-olds are at the other barn, and the main one is where we keep the others. We’re pretty busy these days, but I have a lot of good help. We have a very good crew and that really does make a difference. My crew and I will go out on a pontoon boat that I bought. We go to a spot that’s about 45 minutes from the barn. We go there a lot when we can. I also like to golf too. But it doesn’t happen as often as you want it to.”

Chupp is unabashedly proud of his team, which includes another relatively new name in the game.

“One guy that started working for me, Eric Miller, he just started driving qualifiers. He’s taken an interest in the sport. He’s been with me almost since day one and he’s been really good to have in the barn. I’m just happy that we have a very dedicated group. This is also the first year that we’ve started out with close to 10 babies. Last year, we only had two. They both made it to the races but weren’t anything special. Hopefully, we have good luck this year.”

Despite a 2021 campaign in which he won a career-best 76 races as a trainer, Chupp viewed the season as somewhat of a disappointment.

Grateful for the successes, the drive and strive to be better is what motivates him.

“Last year was a little soft. It wasn’t the best year ever, but it was okay. I do have a lot of horses, and just like you would expect, some pan out and some don’t. It’s just a case of trying to do the best you can with each one, finding their best conditions and giving them the opportunity to do well. Sometimes they work out and sometimes they don’t. That’s just the business we’re in.”

None of that uncertainty prevents Chupp from setting objectives.

One of his main goals is to reach the century mark in wins in a year.

Whether it happens in 2022 or not, it won’t diminish his enthusiasm and dedication for the horses and horse racing.

“I’d love to win 100 races in one year. It’s certainly something I’d like to achieve one day. And I’d love to have a 2-year-old that could compete in the Sires Stakes ranks. Hopefully, we can have a few more babies and some nice overnight horses. Northfield’s classes are pretty good for the non-winner types. You can make some good money there.”

Whatever happens to be in store for Chupp – big wins, talented horses and eclipsing career-high numbers – none of it will affect the outlook of the man from the Buckeye State.

He’s happy to let the horses do the talking while maintaining his team-first philosophy.

“I know I’m very lucky to be in the position I’m in. Working with the horses is always a great feeling. And to know I have a great crew, that just makes it so much better.”

Seymour hoping Leap To Fame is the horse he's always dreamed of owning

by Adam Hamilton

Leviathan Aussie owner/breeder Kevin Seymour is letting his mind wander.

After more than 40 years of strong and passionate involvement across so many levels of harness racing, Kevin and his wife, Kay – deep in their twilight years - have found the horse they have been dreaming of.

And that dream could carry them across to North America in the next couple of years.

The horse is the exceptionally talented Leap To Fame, a son of Bettors Delight, who has won 11 of his 14 starts and stamped himself as potentially Down Under's "next big thing" by blitzing his rivals in the Group 1 NSW Derby at his most recent start back in February.

In the days after his imperious win, offers of $A1 million or more came flooding in for Leap To Fame.

Seymour, a billionaire businessman, said he and Kay "entertained" selling, but in reality Leap To Fame was and is going nowhere.

"We've waited a lifetime in harness racing for a horse like this. We've had some lovely horses, but he could be our first champion. He's got everything you look for in a horse," Seymour said.

Leap To Fame's credentials will soon be further tested when, in his and the Seymours' own backyard of Queensland, he tackles upcoming feature races like the Group 1 Rising Sun (July 9) and Group 1 Queensland Derby after that.

It is the Rising Sun that has everybody talking. In just its second year, the race is restricted to 3 and 4-year-old pacers with the 3-year-olds (like Leap To Fame) getting the advantage of a preferential barrier draw.

But it also means a relatively inexperienced 3-year-old taking on older, top class and more seasoned pacers.

"I don't think the Derbys are a concern, but this Rising Sun, against the 4-year-olds, will be quite a test at this stage of his career," Seymour said.

Longer term, Leap To Fame's value has also been enhanced by the unveiling of the world's richest race, the $A2.1 million Eureka, to be run in Sydney on Sept. 2, next year. Like the Rising Sun, it is also restricted to 3- and 4-year-old pacers, but they must also be bred in Australia.

“It’s all about managing him well and looking after him now to maximize his potential. That’s where Grant Dixon (trainer/driver) is so great. He’s got a track record for doing that.”

~ Kevin Seymour

It’s perfect timing for Leap To Fame, who is an Aussie-bred and will be deep into his 4-year-old season and arguably at the peak of his powers.

“That certainly made it easier not to sell,” Seymour said. “He’s the sort of horse who could be a $A3-4 million money earner.

“It’s all about managing him well and looking after him now to maximize his potential. That’s where Grant Dixon (trainer/driver) is so great. He’s got a track record for doing that.”

Seymour is certainly no stranger to major races, having already bred and/or raced topline in Colt Thirty One (48 wins and over $A1 million), Majestic Mach (35 wins and over $A800,000 and, of course, he was a big part of the group who bought Mr Feelgood from the US and enjoyed huge success.

Mr Feelgood won two of Down Under’s biggest races in 2009, the Inter Dominion final and the Hunter Cup. He retired with 39 wins and almost $3.4 million in the bank.

So much of Seymour’s success stems from his foundation mare, Call Girl, a Tempest Hanover mare he bought from New Zealand in 1982. She became the matriarch of a pacing dynasty, of which Colt Thirty One and so many of Seymour’s other pacing stars are part of.

“I bought two foundation mares, Call Girl was the first and Mistrion the second. You couldn’t have picked two better mares as it turned out,” he said.

Majestic Mach and so many other stars have stemmed from the Mistrion line.

Most of them were born and raised at the Seymours’ Egmont Stud, which shot to prominence through the stunning success of stallion Fake Left, who had such a remarkable impact, especially in Australia.

While Egmont Park has been scaled right back these days, the Seymours still have a hunger for success.

“How lucky are we to have Leap To Fame come along at this stage of our lives,” Kevin Seymour said. “He could take us on quite a ride over the next few years.”

Seymour is open in saying his wish is for that ride to include a racing stint in the US.

Courtesy Dan Costello / Albion Park

Kevin and Kay Seymour.

“What a thing that would be. If he keeps developing and is as good as we hope, to take him over and do Australia proud,” he said.

“We haven’t just talked about it, we’ve thought about it. Logically, going when he’s five (early 2024) would be the time.

“It’s always been an ambition of mine to do a Mr Feelgood in reverse. He did great things in North America and then came here (Australia) and won just about every big race that matters.

“I’d love to win the big races here and then take Leap To Fame across to the States for their biggest races before we bring him home and stand him at stud. He’s got enormous stud value being a Bettors Delight out of a really good family.”

Seymour knows there will be those who laugh at his “plan”, but he’s not fazed.

“Oh, I’m used to that, whether it be in business or with the horses,” he said.

“I remember when we bought Mr Feelgood to come here and race, everyone knocked us. They said he was a speedy squib and wouldn’t handle the longer races. He won our two biggest staying races.

“We’ve got plenty to chase here for now, but Kay and I would absolutely love to take Leap To Fame across to fly the Aussie flag if he’s as good as we think he’s going to be.”

Grand Fashion impressive in Magical Acres qualifiers

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Grand Fashion is a full sister to recently crowned New Jersey Sire Stakes champion female trotter Fashion Schooner and half-sister to two-time Dan Patch Award-winner Broadway Donna, but she is her own girl.

Grand Fashion was among Wednesday's (June 8) nine winning 2-year-olds during the first of this month's weekly qualifiers at Magical Acres training center. Bred and owned by Fashion Farms, the daughter of Walner—Broadway Schooner won in 2:01.4 with Tim Tetrick in the sulky.

"I was very happy with the way she went," trainer Jim Campbell said. "Her manners were good, she trotted home nice; Timmy liked her a lot. She did everything that we could have asked of her today. We're going to take her up to The Meadowlands a week from Saturday."

So, does Grand Fashion share any similarities with her siblings?

"None," said Campbell, who trained Broadway Donna during her career and now has Fashion Schooner in his stable. "She is totally different than any of them. Not in any bad way, but she's just her own. She's been a tough one. She was tough all winter training, just trying to find the right things that suited her equipment wise and everything like that. But she's always showed that she was very athletic and had speed to her."

Fashion Farms was not the only owner to win with a homebred 2-year-old at Magical Acres on Wednesday. Trainer Tom Cancelliere sent out two winners — male pacer Feel My Wrath and female pacer Absolute Power — for his brother, breeder/owner John Cancelliere.

Feel My Wrath (Western Shore—Some Kinda Girl) won in 2:00.1 and Absolute Power (Sweet Lou—Power Pack Hanover) won in 1:59.4, both with driver Corey Callahan. Feel My Wrath is from the family of Hall of Fame broodmare Cathedral, his third dam, while Absolute Power is from the family of Grand Circuit winner Panther Hanover.

Also winning two qualifiers was trainer Jonas Czernyson, who scored with male trotters Smooth Landing, in 2:02, and Templeton, in 2:00.4. Both were driven by Daryl Thiessen.

Templeton (Muscle Mass—Dornello) was purchased under the name Dominic Hanover for $52,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale and is owned by Czernyson, Aldebaran Park, and Lars Berg.

Smooth Landing (Tactical Landing—Ostrich Blue Chip) was purchased for $40,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale and is owned by J Czernyson Aldebaran Park, Barry Carter, Lars Berg, and Geoffrey Dubrowsky. His family includes Quincy Blue Chip, a New York Sire Stakes champion and Empire Breeders Classic winner.

Female pacer American Wisdom (American Ideal—Tori Hanover) posted the day's fastest time among the 2-year-olds, winning in 1:58 for trainer Linda Toscano, driver Scott Zeron, and owner Brittany Farms, which also bred the filly. Her family includes O'Brien and Dan Patch Award-winner American Jewel as well as millionaire Luck Be Withyou.

Rounding out the list of winning 2-year-olds were male pacers Handlelikeaporsche and Maskless, and female pacer Rock My Socks.

Handlelikeaporsche (Lazarus N—The Signature) won in 2:00.3 for trainer Chris Ryder and driver Dexter Dunn. He was purchased for $100,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale and is owned by Ryder, William Ezzo, Robert Mondillo, and Barry Spak. His family includes O'Brien Award-winner Vegas Vacation.

Maskless (Heston Blue Chip—Dance With Danger) won in 2:05 for trainer Nik Drennan and driver James O'Donnell. The homebred colt is owned by Let It Ride Stables and Bottom Line Racing.

Rock My Socks (Boston Red Rocks—Kattimon) won in 2:01.3 for trainer Jake Leamon and driver Dunn. She is owned by Rick Berks and was purchased for $30,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale. She is a half-sister to O'Brien Award-winner Classic Pro and Grand Circuit winner Devil Child.

Atlanta's sister among winners at Gaitway

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Ron Burke sent out 26 freshmen during Monday's qualifiers for 2-year-olds at Gaitway Farm, with In Italian, a full sister to multiple Dan Patch Award-winner Atlanta, attracting a good deal of attention.

But the $750,000 yearling purchase was not alone in generating a buzz during the first of this month's weekly sessions at the training center.

In Italian, who was the sales topper at last fall's Standardbred Horse Sale, won her qualifying debut in 1:59 for Burke and driver Yannick Gingras. The daughter of Chapter Seven—Hemi Blue Chip is owned by Brad Grant and Howard Taylor. She was bred by Order By Stable.

Also winning in 1:59 for Burke and Gingras was male trotter Celebrity Bambino, from the family of Dan Patch Award winners Housethatruthbuilt and Master Lavec. Celebrity Bambino trotted the second half of his mile in :56. He is owned by Burke Racing Stable, J&T Silva Stables, Knox Services, and Phil Collura. The son of Muscle Hill-Celebrity Ruth was bred by White Birch Farm and purchased for $120,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale.

"(In Italian) was very good," Burke said. "She gets better all the time. Every time we ask her to go faster, she goes faster. She is very much like her sister; I think that if she has a target, somebody to aim at, she's going to be even better.

"She's very professional, does everything right. She reminds me of her sister. I don't know if she has the speed yet that Atlanta has, but not too many do.

"We love (Celebrity Bambino). He trained down like a killer. He seems like a top colt. We're very happy with him. He's just perfect. He does everything perfect. He really does."

Celebrity Bambino and In Italian were among Burke's eight winning 2-year-olds on Monday. He swept the three qualifiers for filly pacers with Stop The Show, Hungry For Love, and Esperanza Hanover and also won with male trotter Herodotus and male pacers Ervin Hanover and Loubet.

Stop The Show, a $400,000 buy at the Lexington Selected Sale from the family of Dan Patch Award-winning filly Put On A Show,

Ken Weingartner / USTA

Hungry For Love (Stay Hungry—Lover Of Art) is a half-sister to stakes winners Art Scene and Summer Charm. She won in 1:57.1 for owners Thomas Dillon and Scott Dillion. She was bred by Brittany Farms and purchased for $80,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale.

Herodotus (Bar Hopping—Regal Woman) won in 1:59.4. The colt is owned by Burke Racing Stable, Hatfield Stables, and Weaver Brussemi. He was bred by Dr. William Solomon and sold for $50,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale.

Ervin Hanover (Captaintreacherous—Eloquent Grace) won in 1:54.1. He is owned by Burke Racing Stable, J&T Silva Stables, James Simpson, and Weaver Brussemi. He was bred by Hanover Shoe Farms and purchased for $115,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale. His family includes millionaires Ginger And Fred and Fred And Ginger.

Loubet (Sweet Lou—Atsallrite Hanover) won in 1:57.2 for breeder/owners Burke Racing Stable, Weaver Brussemi, Michelle Yanek and Phil Collura.

“Overall, it was good,” Burke said. “There were a couple that were real good, but we expect them to be good too. Overall, I was very happy.”

Trainer Julie Miller won two of the 2-year-old qualifiers with female trotters, Friends After Six and Wind Chime.

Wind Chime (Father Patrick—Wind Stroll) won in 1:59 with a :27.4 last quarter. She is owned by Andy Miller Stable, Gty Stable, Walter Zent, and Tony Holmes. She was bred by Holmes and Zent and was purchased for $60,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale. She is a three-quarter sister to Valley Victory and Kindergarten Classic winner Fast As The Wind.

Friends After Six (Tactical Landing—Bambino Supreme), from the family of multiple Dan Patch Award-winner Six Pack, won in 1:59.2. She is owned by Andy Miller Stable, Never 2 Late Stable, and William Devan Jr. She was bred by Steve Jones and sold for $55,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale.

Rounding out the day's 2-year-old winners was male pacer Ammo (Sweet Lou—Beach Gal) from the stable of Joe Holloway. He won in 1:56 for owners Val D'Or Farms and Ted Gewertz. New Kentucky-bred 4-year-old series kicks off with three track records

by Bob Brady / Kentucky Harness Association

The new 4-Year-Old Kentucky-bred Series, with divisional purses of $50,000 for each leg and finals of $150,000, kicked off Tuesday afternoon (June 7) at Oak Grove with three track records.

Horse & Gelding Pace: Goldie's Legacy equaled the track record of 1:48.4 set earlier in the meet by Surfer Beach. Goldie's Legacy, son of Always A Virgin out of AG-N-AU Bluegrass, driven by Yannick Gingras paced his first quarter in a blistering :25 and led the entire mile to equal the track record. Goldie's Legacy is trained by Jeff Cullipher, owned by Pollack Racing, LLC and Jeff Cullipher, and bred by Dave Yoder of Kentucky.

Mare Pace: Blue Diamond Eyes, a winner of over $1 million at 2 and 3, outpaced her competitors to set a new 4-year-old mare pacing track record of 1:49.1 over the fast 5/8s mile surface. Driven by Yannick Gingras, a winner of two of the KY-Bred divisions, Blue Diamond Eyes is trained by Ron Burke, owned by Tom and Scott Dillon and bred by Brittany Farms of Kentucky.

Mare Trot: Beltassima, a daughter of Trixton out of Beltane Hanover, led the entire mile while winning by five lengths in 1:56.1. The victory kicked off her season for owner Crawford Farms while bringing Beltassima's lifetime earnings to $347,947. Beltassima was driven by Andrew McCarthy, trained by Tony Alagna and bred by D Farm, LLC of Kentucky.

Horse & Gelding Trot: Cuatro De Julio, a son of Trixton out of the Ready Cash mare Clarabelle, set a new track record of 1:51.1 to earn the victory for driver Andrew McCarthy, giving him two of the four winners in leg one of the new 4-year-old series. With career earnings of $586,711, Cuatro De Julio is trained and owned by Marie Ortolan Bar and D Farm, LLC, and bred by D Farm, LLC of Kentucky.

"We are off to a great start with this new series. New opportunities for 4-year-olds will only continue to advance the Kentucky program. The team at Oak Grove continues to do a great job. The next two months of racing leading into The Red Mile will be exciting," says Bob Brady, Kentucky Harness Association president.

“Glamour division” in PASS action at Philadelphia

by PHHA / Philadelphia and Pocono

After three preliminaries of the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes for 3-year-old pacing colts, there were no repeat winners on Wednesday afternoon (June 8) at Harrah’s Philadelphia as Layton Hanover and Energetic Hanover emerged victorious in their respective $69,179 divisions.

Layton Hanover couldn’t be a repeat winner because his victory was the first of his 2022 season, but he’s picking a good time to get sharp. On a hot day and over a speedy and speed-favoring racing surface, Matt Kakaley sent the Captaintreacherous gelding to the lead before the :27 quarter, got a mild rest to a :55.3 half, then sped up considerably to the 1:22.2 three-quarters. In the lane it was pocket-sitter Dancin Sancho, a double Stallion Series winner stepping up, who extended him, but Layton Hanover held off his inside bid by a head in 1:51, lowering his mark by almost three seconds. Favored Hammering Hank, in his seasonal debut, did not have great cover, but he came home in :27 against the bias to be third, another three-quarters of a length back.

Layton Hanover had had a fourth and a third in his previous PASS starts, so he should be in a good position to make the Championship on Sept. 3 at The Meadows. Travis Alexander is training the winner for Fiddler’s Creek Stables LLC, D’Elegance Stable IX, T L P Stable, and Carmen Iannacone.

The betting was all over the board in the leadup to the second division, but the plurality of punters finally settled on the right horse – the gelding Energetic Hanover, who gave sire Captaintreacherous a sweep in the Sire Stakes. Energetic Hanover and driver Todd McCarthy sat fourth as JM’s Finaltreasure started off with fractions of :27 and :55.4, then followed Atlas Hanover out to be in second-over position as that foe challenged the leader to a 1:22.4 three-quarters. In the stretch Atlas Hanover gained the lead, but Energetic Hanover was, well, energetic, taking the lead and then holding off the late bid of PJ Lou by a neck in 1:51.1, his fastest-ever mile. PJ Lou, who had been in the pocket, backed out and wide around the winner to get the deuce, just ahead of Atlas Hanover.

Unraced at 2, Energetic Hanover has now won four of his last seven for trainer Brett Pelling and the ownership of David McDuffee, Melvin Hartman, Steven Arnold, and Paul Bordogna. He had been sixth in his only other PASS race.

Grace Zimmers

Layton Hanover (Matt Kakaley) won his Pennsylvania Sires Stakes division for 3-year-old pacing colts on Wednesday at Harrah’s Philadelphia in 1:51.

On the Stallion Series side, a familiar theme – the dominance of Sweet Lou – was again in evidence, as sons of the sire took all four $20,000 divisions.

Code Cracker is still perfect after three Stallion Series clashes, on Wednesday setting all the pace en route to reducing his mark to 1:51.2 while winning by over six lengths. Yannick Gingras drove the sharp gelding, home first in four of his last five, for trainer Ron Burke and the partnership of Burke Racing Stable LLC and Weaver Brussemi LLC, Michelle Yanek, and Phil Collura.

Trainer Jennifer Bongiorno accounted for two StS victories. The gelding Boston moved his Stallion Series record to two-for-two while equaling his mark of 1:52 for driver Dexter Dunn and owners Glenn Goller and Stephen Demeter while withstanding Bay City by a half-length. Then the gelding Threshold, parked the mile in his other StS attempt, didn't have it too much easier here, having to go first-over, but he still got the job done in 1:52.1, a new mark. Rocknroll Gold was a half-length behind the winner, who was driven by David Miller for JB Racing, John Lengacher, Barbara Bongiorno Stable LLC, and J R & Collin Ryan.

A final Stallion Series cut saw Jo Pa's Warrior, sixth in a Sire Stakes and then second in an StS contest, find winning stakes form, quarter-moving to command and then withstanding Good Deal by a half-length while equaling his lifetime speediest clocking of 1:52.1. Tim Tetrick drove the colt for trainer Jim Campbell and Emposimato Stables.

A final note: Hammering Hank, winner of the 2021 Stallion Series Championship, was third in a Sire Stake race, and True Blue Lindy, winner of the 2021 Sire Stakes Championship, was third in a Stallion Series contest.

BAPTISM FASTEST PA ALL-STARS WINNER AT POCONO

Baptism was the fastest winner in three groups of 3-year-old trotting fillies contesting $30,000 divisions of a Pennsylvania All-Stars contest on Sunday (June 5) at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono.

There was no doubt the daughter of Southwind Frank – Fall From Grace (she out of the dam of Archangel) was speedy – she went to the three-quarters in 1:23.4 in a Stallion Series at The Meadows in her last start. What was unsure was her stamina – in that race she came home in :32.1 to just hold on.

But Baptism put it all together on Sunday – taking the early lead, letting two horses go by in early fractions of :26.3 and :55.3, then moving uncovered mid-backstretch to take the lead by the 1:24.1 three-quarters. And Baptism finished very strongly for trainer/driver Åke Svanstedt (wearing the colors of Diamond Creek Racing, co-owner with Crossover Racing), tacking on a :28.1 kicker to stop the clock in 1:52.2, a new mark by 3 3/5 seconds and just a tick off the seasonal trot standard at Pocono. Pacesetter Samosa held for second, but was 6¼ lengths behind.

Manon remained undefeated in three seasonal starts for trainer Lucas Wallin and driver Tim Tetrick, being used hard early to get the lead in her All-Stars cut, but then going on to lower her mark to 1:53. Once she had paid the :27.1 early price for command, the daughter of Bar Hopping–Are You Ready (dam of two $390G+ winners) stayed in control the rest of the way, with middle fractions of :56.4 and 1:25.1 going up before Manon came home in :27.4 to cross the wire 2½ lengths ahead of closer Eternal Lee. Manon started only once at two, but she is developing rapidly for Harbor Racing Stable LLC.

In the other cut, Mon Cheval had two Sire Stakes seconds (one to Manon) so far this year, but here she made the winning breakthrough, parlaying a pocket trip into a 2¼ length victory over pacesetter Ebbies Lady. The winning time for the daughter of champions Father Patrick and Shake It Cerry equaled the clocking of 1:54.2 she recorded in a Meadowlands qualifier at 2, coming after fractions of :28.1, :57.2, and 1:26. Driver Yannick Gingras and trainer Nancy Takter, coming off a monster day with 2-year-olds at The Meadows Saturday, combined on Mon Cheval (the only favored All-Stars winner) for Solveig's Racing Partners.

Saundra scores for Baillargeon in 3YOFT Gold opener

by Austin Stanton / OSS publicity

Three-year-old trotting fillies started their Ontario Sires Stakes Gold season on Monday (June 6) at Woodbine Mohawk Park, and just like their pacing contemporaries it was an upset win over a heavy favorite.

Saundra, making her OSS debut for trainer Benoit Baillargeon, went off at 19-1 from post seven and won the $157,200 division by a length over 2-5 favorite Adare Castle.

“Adare Castle was definitely the horse to beat tonight,” said Baillargeon. “Until we beat her, I didn’t know if I was ever going to beat her, but our mare was sharp tonight.”

Sylvain Filion piloted Saundra into third position as they entered the first turn and trailed an opening panel of :27.3 set by Hang On Baby, with Adare Castle sitting fourth. The daughter of Resolve made her move mid-way through the backstretch.

“Sylvain got away third, and he wasn’t going to give cover to Adare Castle,” said Baillargeon. “So, when he made his move, he went to the front, and it worked. The mare responded very well.”

Through three quarters of a mile Saundra led by a length. Adare Castle slid behind for cover as the pair entered the stretch, but the Thomas Rankin homebred was more than game, trotting home in :28 for her first career stakes score in a time of 1:53.2.

Saundra is out of World Class Image, who produced R First Class, a trotting gelding who won the OSS Super Final as a 3-year-old in 2017. Baillargeon trained R First Class, and World Class Izzy, an OSS Grassroots winner from the same family.

“Mr. Rankin told me last year that she was a nice mare, said Baillargeon. “They all have speed, but she has smarts on top of it.”

This was the first OSS start for Saundra, who made her debut in October of 2021. She won her first time out, and a leg of the Ontario Sired Harvest Series to post a 2-0-0 record in four starts.

Shane Weber conditioned her last year for Rankin, and he qualified the filly to start her 3-year-old campaign before transitioning her to Baillargeon’s barn.

“That’s the relationship I have with Mr. Rankin,” said Baillargeon. “The boys on the farm start them off, then they come to me. This mare is a very naturally gaited trotter. Shane did a good job with her.”

The $78,600 for first place pushed Saundra over $136,000 in career earnings.

“She’s a good mare,” said Baillargeon. “There’s another girl in town now.”

Adare Castle held on to finish second. The daughter of Muscle Mass has 12 career starts, and a record of 9-3-0 for trainer Mark Etsell, and his ownership partners Robert Newton, Graham Hopkins, and Peter Porter.

Wheeling N Dealin filly Portofino was third to round out a $1 trifecta that paid $999.20. She showed late speed for trainer Ken Sucee, with Paul MacDonnell driving her home in a final quarter mile of 27.4.

Meadowlands Mixed Sale slated for July 26

Tattersalls Sales Co. announced today that its annual Summer Mixed Sale will be held Tuesday, July 26 at The Meadowlands. The live, in-person auction lands squarely on the most exciting time of year at the track – right between the Meadowlands Pace and Hambletonian.

“We’re really looking forward to ramping up another live sale at the world’s greatest racehorse marketplace,” said Tattersalls manager David Reid.

“There’s certainly a need for it, as every jurisdiction will be racing in the heart of summer and those wanting to sell racehorses prior to yearling season will find more than an eager audience of buyers. It’s basically prime time to cash in.”

With the 2020 Summer Mixed canceled because of the pandemic, last year’s sale was well anticipated, well attended and deemed a huge success by all; and strong sale figures bear that out.

The 2021 sale average of $34,673 showed a 36 per cent increase from 2019. The median was up a whopping 50 per cent and the top-selling racehorse, Eurobond, brought $205,000.

Reid said the Summer Mixed will again have a sharp focus on in-form racehorses. “But we’ll certainly welcome race fillies, broodmare prospects and in-foal mares, as quality in that sector of the market brings a premium any time of year.”

Like last year, the sale will be livestreamed and offer real-time bidding on Proxibid for those unable to make it to the Meadowlands.

The entry deadline for the sale is yet to be announced, but according to Reid entries for the main catalog – and especially the supplement – will be taken as close to the sale date as possible. Payment to sellers will be expedited.

Those planning to enter horses or wanting more information can visit the Tattersalls website at tattersallsredmile.com or call the sales company office at (914) 773-7777.

Winbak Farm to present the 2022 Battle of Waterloo

Grand River Raceway (GRR) is pleased to announce Winbak Farm will be the presenting sponsor of the 25th edition of Battle of Waterloo, held on Aug. 1, 2022.

The Battle of Waterloo, a stake for Ontario Sired 2-year-old pacers, is the signature race held annually at GRR and a key early season race for all colts racing in the Ontario Sires Stakes program. The stake, with a projected purse of $250,000, is the feature event during the annual Industry Day Civic Holiday Monday (the first Monday in August) special afternoon race card.

With less than a week until GRR’s race season begins, GRR is excited for their upcoming season as they plan to return to full capacity, after the subdued 2020 and 2021 seasons.

“We are thrilled to have a standardbred industry leader such as Winbak Farm partner with Grand River Raceway,” said Jamie Martin, raceway manager at Grand River Raceway. “Their drive to breed winners and ongoing commitment to raising awareness of the industry in Ontario aligns with what we strive to do at GRR. This made them a natural fit for The Battle of Waterloo.”

Founded in 1991 by Joe and JoAnn Thomson, the flagship Winbak Farm is located on 2,000+ acres of lush Maryland farmland, with operations extending into Delaware, New York, and Canada. The farm is the industry’s largest single family owned and operated breeding farm. Winbak Farm’s dedication to raising top quality harness horses has earned them Breeder of the Year on three occasions, and three Horse of the Year graduates, among other accolades. They are also breeder of 2021 Canada Horse of the Year, Desperate Man, and a leading breeder for Ontario Sires Stakes (#1 in 2010, 2013, 2014, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020 and 2021).

“Grand River Raceway has always been an integral part of the Ontario harness racing industry,” said Pat Woods, Canada manager, Winbak Farm. “It was an easy decision for Winbak Farm to partner with Jamie Martin and the GRR team. We love their vision, dedication, and commitment to improving this sport and racing here in Ontario. It is an honor for us at Winbak Farm to have our name associated with such a great two-year-old “Battle of Waterloo” race. So many outstanding horses have won this event over its 25-year history and we are so proud to be a part of it.”

“Winbak Farm is proud to partner with Grand River Raceway,” said Joe Thomson, Winbak Farm owner. “The Battle of Waterloo is a prestigious race that horses bred by Winbak Farm and horses sired by Winbak Farm stallions have raced well in. We look forward to starting a partnership with Grand River.”

PEO Mixed rings up $430,000 in sales

Fast and fresh racehorses were the order of the day at the Monday (June 6) Preferred Equine Online Mixed Sale, with Yonkers and Meadowlands regular Demeter N p,1:52.4h leading the way with a purchase price of $88,000.

The lifetime winner of more than $256,000, who earned $118,000 last year alone, was consigned by Preferred Equine Online for Martin Budkey and was bought by Larry Stalbaum.

This, the company's eighth online sale, posted gross receipts of $430,000 and an average of $26,875 for 16 of 20 cataloged horses sold. (View complete sale results)

Also selling well was the sleek and speedy Always B Miki 4-year-old Texas Miki p,4,1:51'22 ($62,862), a three-time winner this year who's racing in the upper conditioned classes at Woodbine-Mohawk. He was sold by PEO as agent for Benoit and Sara Baillargeon and purchased for $72,000 by SLL, agent for Levit and Tritini Stable.

Other top sellers included the Muscle Hill 4-year-old Nylander 4,1:52.2 ($111,528), who brought $60,000 after a series of last-minute bids. Winning out as the horse's new owner was John Barnard, who took home three of this sale's offerings.

Horses who did not meet their reserves still have the opportunity to sell. Interested buyers may visit the sale page and click on "make offer."

Proprietor David Reid said he continues to be thrilled not only with the sale results, but with the growing level of participation in each ongoing event.

"Customers know they can sell a good horse on our online platform and not only reach interested buyers from all over, but be well-rewarded from their sale," Reid said. "These are serious, quality horses being offered on the platform and that's all it takes to bring out buyers from every jurisdiction."

"The full service we offer to buyers and sellers, along with the platform's state-of-the-art technology and the full transparency the public sees in each transaction, creates confidence in selling here. That in turn creates new commerce — and that's what drives the industry."

The company's next online sale will be conducted June 20, with an entry deadline of June 15. For information or to enter horses, visit preferredequineonline.com.

The highlight of the Banquet evening is the announcement of the Harness Horse of the Year, in addition to the naming of the Trotter of the Year and Pacer of the Year – three votes that are not announced until Banquet night. USHWA also presents the highest award it votes on solely, the Stan Bergstein Proximity Award, and the Banquet is the first public acknowledgment of the newest Hall of Famers and Communicators Hall of Famers.

"We are very glad to announce that USHWA will be again presenting our Dan Patch Awards Banquet at the Rosen Shingle Creek Resort," said Barry Lefkowitz, USHWA president. "The facility has drawn near-universal praise from all of those who have come to central Florida for the USHWA weekend over the last few years, and we will do our best to continue to preserve that grand tradition.

"We are especially excited that this year is the 75th anniversary year of USHWA, founded by early newspapermen at Roosevelt Raceway. We intend to have a special section in the Souvenir Journal with the highlights of the history of the organization, and other surprises are being planned in conjunction with USHWA's year-long celebration of its 75th anniversary."

Further details about the banquet (room reservations, dinner ticket information, advertising in the souvenir journal, sponsorships) will be posted as they become more established, on USHWA's website www.usharnesswriters.com and on the major websites and social media covering the sport.
