Sire of NA Cup probable fave is Gorgeous, but unloved

I'm Gorgeous didn't draw enough interest to continue to stand as a commercial stallion and is currently racing in Ohio at age 11. A win Saturday by his son Lather Up in the $1 million race at Woodbine Mohawk Park would go a long way to restarting I'm Gorgeous' stallion career.

Lather Up (Montrell Teague) handily won his NA Cup elimination by 2-3/4 lengths over St Lads Neptune in 1:49.2 at Woodbine Mohawk Park. It was the fastest of the three eliminations.

As the field lines up for Saturday's $1 million Pepsi North America Cup at Woodbine Mohawk Park, the post time favorite may be a lightly-raced Ohio-bred colt named Lather Up. Just 223 miles away at the Ashtabula County Fairgrounds in Jefferson, OH, Lather Up's sire, the 11-year-old I'm Gorgeous, is being prepped for an overnight event on Tuesday night at Northfield Park.

As a racehorse, I'm Gorgeous won four of eight starts as a freshman, including victories in the Tompkins Geers, New York Sire Stakes, and an elimination of the Woodrow Wilson, where he established a freshman record of 1:50.4.

As a three-year-old, he won eliminations of the Cane Pace and the Little Brown Jug, finishing second to Rock N Roll

Heaven in the Jug final for owners George Teague Jr. and Elmer Fannin.

After a successful four-year racing career, stud duty seemed a certainty for I'm Gorgeous. The bay son of Bettor's Delight out of the $536,237-earning mare, Joy, found himself at the newly rejuvenated Sugar Valley Farm to start the 2012 breeding season.

I'm Gorgeous covered a respectable 64 mares his first season, but those number decreased to just eight mares in 2015. Despite the few chances, I'm Gorgeous has produced five $100,000 winners, including Ohio Sire Stake Champion Miss Me Yet ($396,718), Lather Up ($152,265) and Gorgeous Road ($136,576).

"I would still be standing him, but he wasn't getting any support. I always had faith in him because his mother (Joy) was probably the best Andrel mare ever. It was a unique cross (with Bettor's Delight), so you could breed him to just about anything," said Joe McLead, co-owner of the Delaware, OH nursery.

"Financially, there was no way to keep him as a commercial breeder, so we decided to sell him. We thought the person who bought him would stand him at stud."

But to the surprise of McLead, he was put back into training and took a qualifying mark of 2:02.2 at Monticello Raceway, late in 2016.

I'm Gorgeous showed his durability in 2017 with 42 seasonal starts, despite that fact that he didn't wear a harness for nearly five years. He bankrolled almost $45,000 for his connections, racing mostly in claiming and conditioned events in New York and Ohio.

I'm Gorgeous was slated to be hip number #956 in the 2017 Blooded Horse Sale's Fall Speed Sale, but was made an "Out" when he was purchased privately by Jeffrey Stacy of Cedar Bluff, VA. Stacy turned the stallion over to the 29-year-old Cory Deyermand to train.

"We bought him with the intention of racing him this year and breeding him next year," said Deyermand. "I have a filly out him that was a top Ohio Sire Stake horse (Gorgeous

J J Zamaiko

I'm Gorgeous winning in the snow on March 13, 2018 at Northfield Park in 1:56.4.

Road), so I was familiar with him as a sire."

In 14 starts this season, I'm Gorgeous has a 1-2-3 record. His lone win came on a snowy night in March in 1:56.3.

"He is racing okay this season. He's a pretty tough luck horse as far as racing. He has paced in (1):54 in nearly every start and only made $6,500," said Deyermand.

"He's a sweetheart to be around. You never would know he was a stud. He likes his work and he trains hard. He's a pleasure to be around."

"We are fairly certain that it is still the plan (to stand I'm Gorgeous at year's end). Jeff stood Powerful Toy in Ohio and he recently died (on June 4). As fate would have it, I'm Gorgeous could step in and take his place," said Deyermand.

With his most famous son going for fame in Canada Saturday night, Stacy and Deyermand will be watching the action closely.

"We definitely will be cheering on Lather Up. A win would be good for us obviously."

Two greats I turned down; deep thoughts on Lasix and why standardbreds keep getting faster, while thoroughbreds do not

by Ron Gurfein

Tidbits: My Hambletonian selection Wolfgang crushed his foes in his elimination of the Goodtimes at Mohawk. All things remaining status quo, he should easily repeat the effort in the final.

Why do the producers of major thoroughbred races on TV persist in having basketball and football specialists anchor their program? It's truly an accident waiting to happen. Not only does it kill the flow of the program, but it makes the show so amateurish. Plus, it annoys me to no end, like the TVG announcers that do the show for harness racing. Where are Dave Johnson and Gary Seibel. When I was a kid, the announcer would do his homework. An icon like Marty Glickman could call harness, thoroughbred, basketball, football etc., all like a pro.

The Tony Alagna show was great at the Meadowlands Saturday morning and Captains Court had a great debut. Brittany Farm bred five winners in the eight races they were in and could have done better if the race office separated first- and second-time starters. Kudos to Joe Holloway who had a very good morning, too.

Justify was fabulous. I may not have made my followers a ton of money, but you didn't lose. Coolmore has purchased the breeding rights to the colt so the future is interesting. They paid a reported $60 million and I wouldn't be surprised if the number went up to $75 million with Triple Crown perks.

In the elims to the North America Cup, Alagna kept his hot hand going when Stay Hungary with Doug McNair became airborne in the stretch to win the first heat. The game little Bettors Delight colt Wes Delight was a delight for Emma Pettersson and Mark Harder with the talented Corey Callahan driving. The last division was the quickest and won by the odds on favorite Lather Up with a very crafty drive by Montrell Teague. The final will be quite a race.

For anyone interested in Broadway, I saw a fabulous show last weekend. If you have three spare hours some day go see My Fair Lady —it was outstanding. I saw the original 62 years ago and even though they modernized it a bit with some new songs and a little tilt to the story, I loved it.

Norman Rosen asks: I have been a racing fan for more than 50 years, why do the standardbreds keep going faster and the thoroughbreds remain basically the same?

I think there are a lot of different answers to this question. Breeding is the first answer. Although both breeds are guilty of excessive inbreeding, standardbred owners are far more limited in choice than their thoroughbred counterparts. Inbreeding can create physical and mental defects, but it may well create speed. Therefore, we are making a faster horse, but a more brittle one.

I have trained harness horses for close to six decades and there is no similarity between what a horse looked like in my barn in the 1960s and in the recent years. The modern standardbred is finer boned, lighter on his feet and overall a far more athletic looking individual. On the other hand, the thoroughbred hasn't changed a bit. A great example of this would be a comparison of Secretariat, a product of the 1970s and Justify the winner of this year's Triple Crown. Both were big rangy chestnuts but the former was much lighter boned and more racy than the latter.

The next reason — and one that, to me, is just as important — is the hub rail. Since we have removed all the hub rails in our sport, the tracks are automatically faster because the drivers feel more comfortable coming close to a pylon than a steel fence. Therefore, the tracks, although they measure the same, they become shorter. On the other hand, the same rail that was at the thoroughbred track in 1900 is still there.

Equipment is another factor to take into consideration. There have been 20 new versions of race bikes since I had my Houghton Faber. Each generation of sulky was a faster model. Add to that the harness with a quick hitch today versus tugs and tie downs of yesterday and the lighter weight harness, the story has no end.

I do however eliminate drugs from this equation because all trainers don't use fancy drugs and when all the horses are going the same speed, performance enhancers are not involved. It's when 1:50 is a good mile and a colt wins in 1:46 then I become suspicious.

Last, but certainly not least, is shoeing. Our running horse friends have been slapping on aluminum plates forever. Blacksmiths in our sport have to be far more sophisticated and the nuisances of shoeing for various racetracks and for speed and gait have improved immeasurably over the years. I was watching the North America Cup on Saturday and noticed there were more shoeing changes in one night than there would have been in one month in 1960.

People ask me all the time is it possible that we will catch up to thoroughbred times and the answer is an emphatic no. Although they have been stagnant we have only improved five or six second in the past 50 years so we still need another 12 seconds to be equal. Totally impossible.

Bob Pandolfo asks: I have a question regarding Lasix. Racehorses, especially thoroughbreds, but to some extent standardbreds, don't run as many races as they used to. Could Lasix have anything to do with that? Is it hard to keep a horse hydrated when using Lasix? In your opinion should Lasix be legal? Almost every horse races on Lasix is it over used? Did any of you champion horses race without Lasix?

WOW. That's a great LONG question. In answer to the first part, if you read the question that precedes this on speed you will note I talk about inbreeding. I think the frailty caused by this is far more deleterious to the amount of starts per horse than the use of Lasix. After speaking to many formidable veterinarians, they all agree that eliminating the use of Lasix would reduce the amount of horses available to race by more than 20 per cent. I personally never used the drug in all my years of training until I used it on a pacing filly recently with little success. I believe all horses bleed, obviously some more than others, which automatically makes Lasix a necessary evil.

It isn't hard to keep a horse hydrated on Lasix because in the modern training world I believe that dehydration is a major concern of today's upscale trainer. Mike Lachance was a great proponent of over-hydrating horses 30 years ago.

As for Lasix being legal, it has to be. We are suffering from a lack of horses in all forms of racing to ban Lasix no matter how much I dislike the drug would be a suicide move for the industry.

Is the drug over used? Probably. But that is the norm. It is a performance-enhancing drug, so if you have to race against it you are foolish not to use it or be at a severe disadvantage.

To answer the last part of your question, no champion horse of mine ever raced on Lasix. I don't recall ever using the drug until two years ago, as I mentioned earlier. Trotting horse trainers are lucky in that respect because the Hambletonian Society has forbidden the use of the drug in their races and most trainers stay away from it. On that note, my selection for the 2018 Hambletonian, Wolfgang, raced on Lasix in his elimination to the Goodtimes on Saturday, but I am not concerned. Come the first Saturday in August, Sir Jimmy will have it figured out.

Bob Marks asks: Tell me about some of the ones you turned down that became great.

Thank goodness this is not a long list, or maybe my selective memory has shortened it. By far my two worst mistakes came more than 40 years apart. In 1973, my good friend and partner Donnie Prussak gave me a blank check to go to Lexington and buy the full-brother to Songcan (Florian—Ami Song). His name was Songflori and he looked nothing like his brother who was a big, rough-hocked colt that Donnie had purchased at the bargain price of $5,000 two years previously. He was a great two- and three-year-old and became a fairly good sire.

I didn't like Songflori mostly because he was so different than his brother, but I was still wet behind the ears and I asked the opinion of two of the sport's great breeders at the time and two friends, Phil Tully of Woodstock Stud and Morty Finder of Pine Hollow Stud. Unfortunately, both agreed with me. Subsequently, I walked to the sales ring and watched Delvin Miller sign for the bay colt for $23,500. He went on to win almost $500,000.

The next mistake was a few years ago when Billy Popfinger asked me to look at Marion Marauder in Lexington. I must be honest, I didn't like him at all. He was far from my type of colt — squat and short-legged and not a lot of trot in the paddock. Talk about wrong, I was pathetic. In fairness to yours truly, the horse looks far better now that he has matured, but my praises could not be higher for Paula Wellwood for selecting him and creating a fabulous colt. Another instance of the apple and the tree.

Thanks again for all the kind words from my readers. Please keep the questions coming. Next week, Bob Marks asks what are your thoughts on the move of the Hambletonian from DuQuoin to the Meadowlands — has it become more like the Kentucky Derby or was DuQuoin a truer test of a champion?

Have a wonderful week.

Handicapping Pepsi North America Cup stakes night

by Brett Sturman

Race 3 - The Armbro Flight Race 3 $250,000

Can the sport's #1 ranked horse, Hannelore Hanover, be beaten? After defeating male rivals in the Cutler in her first start back, she's crushed in her last two races, both at odds of 1-9 and it's hard to see a scenario occurring where she doesn't win again. For what it's worth, Emoticon Hanover did beat her once last year in a race at Tioga in 1:50.2, which coincides as Emoticon's lifetime mark. She looked solid herself last week and we'll see if she can trot late with the reigning horse of the year. Caprice Hill is one that I feel could always go with these at her very best and she's obviously better than her 1 for 15 record over the last two years. She had a good amount of trot last week from an impossible spot and could be involved early from the rail. Celebrity Ruth waited too long to tip off backpedaling cover last out, but it might not have mattered anyway.

Picks: 5-1-4-2

Race 6 - $100,000 Mohawk Gold Cup

I think most would agree that the most "likely" to win would be McWicked, but an upset from Check Six isn't something that should be out of the question. Burke usually picks these spots carefully and Check Six has been known to surprise against these types in the past. Recent form isn't bad and he has a good post edge on all his main rivals; worth a swing.

McWicked won easily last week going first-over in 1:49.1 and aside from price there isn't a real reason to go against. He was also an open-length winner the second most recent time he raced here and Dave Miller can do it on or off the pace with him. Rodeo Romeo is in career form for Ryder and nearly got to Mach It So at Pocono last week; picks up the services of Tetrick now. It would be quite a story if Jimmy Freight won – a 3-year-old who is only in here against older because he wasn't Cup eligible – but this is an awfully tall task. He did rally off cover last week to get the job done against slightly lesser older horses so I guess it's possible; has Moreau and Roy working in his favor. Sintra wasn't bad last week, but couldn't do anything off the cover of McWicked. Great Vintage is the wild card in here. That was one of his best race miles ever last out at M1 but now it's post 10 for the 10-year-old; Takter has managed him brilliantly through the years.

Race 9 - $415,000 Fan Hanover Final

In a pretty evenly matched group of 3-year-old fillies, it's Sudden Passing who I think rates the best chance in here. Trained by McNair, she was given a (too) patient drive last week by Jamieson but it paid off when she was able to sprint when clear to get the win over the heavily backed fave. Now 3 for 4 on the year after being 0 for 5 last year, this one had pace all throughout the mile but had to wait and then weave when blocked; if anything it should serve her well as a prep for the rich final.

Alexis Faith brushed easily last week to the front and looked clear but couldn't stave off the top choice when it counted. Always tough to completely discount a Casie Coleman trainee and she could easily rebound in the role of beaten favorite. In that same elimination, Just My Luck was coming widest and fastest of all; one of two Paul Reid trainees in here along with Kendall Seelster.

Kissin In The Sand scored in her elimination last week, but I think she's liable to be a bit overbet in this spot. She took advantage of second over cover in a race where the leaders couldn't go forward in the stretch, but others behind her were closing as well. Kendall Seelster had the misfortune of being on the inside during that race when all the action was to the outside; I wouldn't discount Shower Play at big odds either.

Picks: 2-5-3-4

Race 10 - $266,000 Goodtimes Final

In a potential Hambletonian preview, last year's freshman divisional champion Alarm Detector squares off against the 2-year-old Matron winner Wolfgang in what should be a highly anticipated showdown.

Both colts make their seasonal debut last week in winning their respective Goodtimes eliminations. Alarm Detector coasted home while eased down near the wire to win in 1:53.1 for trainer Baillargeon, while Wolfgang trotted almost a full second quicker in 1:52.2 for Gingras and Takter. Alarm Detector would have been heavily favored had this race occurred last year, but it looks like Wolfgang has improved noticeably. No one was getting close to him last week, including Hat Trick Habit who could only make a brief first over bid, and Wolfgang is my choice as the likely second choice in wagering.

Breeders Crown winner Fiftydallarbill was closing late on Alarm Detector last out although the race had already been decided by that point. It was nonetheless a good first-over try and he was well clear of the rest. Lawmaker chased the top choice last week as a big longshot, but it was just his first raced of the season and he held well enough; should be well positioned again. Hat Trick Habit will offer a much bigger price this time around; needed more in his elimination in his first start over the track.

Picks: 4-3-7-5

Race 11 - $370,000 Roses Are Red Final

For Shartin N, this is shades of the Matchmaker all over again. In that series at Yonkers, she miscued in her race immediately prior to the final, but was able to mind her manners and dominate the next week when it counted most. She's lucky to make the final following an amazing recovery after she broke early, and was lucky that the mare she interfered with finished fourth. This one ended up closing in :25.3 in her elimination and was pacing an absolute storm down the lane. Seemingly in an all or nothing spot, King and Tetrick are more likely than not to have her figured out.

Blazin Britches took advantage of the break by the favorite last week to win handily with no one able to get close. That looked much more like the Britches we saw last year and that was a good bounce back mile from her seasonal debut at Hoosier. With or without Shartin N in the picture, we know better from last year not to underestimate this speedy lass from Brown. Tequila Monday was the other elimination winner last week in a race that was dominated by the front couple mares. She was chased home in that race by longshot The Joy Luck Club who couldn't reach the pacesetter, but who did good for herself to hold off Nike Franco N who had every chance to pass her late but couldn't. Blue Moon Stride didn't have the easiest go of it last week and L A Delight isn't outclassed but Gingras will need to find a way into it.

Race 12 - $1,000,000 Pepsi North America Cup:

Lather Up seeks to offer driver Montrell Teague redemption following a gutsy loss three years ago with Wiggle It Jiggleit in this race, and the duo look to be the ones to beat. Granted, Lather Up was the beneficiary last week from when Lost In Time and Courtly Choice hooked wheels at the top of the stretch, but he still paced a streak on the inside through the stretch to win that race in 1:49.2, the fastest of the three eliminations. All of his prior races this year have been monstrous; you have to hand it to Teague and Francis for what they get out of these modestly-bred horses.

Stay Hungry was loaded last week in his elimination when McNair waited until halfway down the stretch to tip him off cover. Last year's Dan Patch divisional runner-up is a formidable threat and the one that I'm leaning towards to capture Cup XXXV.

Not to be overlooked, Done Well finally tasted defeat for the first time in his career last week and he didn't do it lightly. After grudgingly wearing down the Coleman trained Summer Travel, he held off the second over Hayden Hanover but the oncoming Stay Hungry was too much. A slightly different trip tonight and the outcome could be different. Wes Delight has been overachieving this year and won the third elimination last week when Callahan squeezed out of the pocket in the stretch. He's a horse that may be overlooked despite his record and will offer a price. Nutcracker Sweet rebounded nicely last week to be second from post 9 after being given a sweet cover trip by Tetrick; gets David Miller now.

Picks: 2-7-4-3

Wes Delight after winning his NA Cup elimination by a neck over Nutcracker Sweet in 1:50.2.

Wes Delight part of 'deep group' in Pepsi North America Cup

The elimination winner will battle Lather Up, Stay Hungry and seven others in Saturday's $1 million race at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Trainer Mark Harder says Saturday's Pepsi North America Cup might lack a prohibitive favorite, but it does not suffer from a lack of talent.

"Just because there's not a standout doesn't mean there's not a lot of good horses," said Harder, who will send out Wes Delight in the $1 million event for 3-year-old male pacers at Woodbine Mohawk Park. "There is probably a bunch of them that can win it. No one is running away from anybody, I don't think. It's a deep group."

Wes Delight was one of three North America Cup elimination winners last weekend, along with Lather Up and Stay Hungry. That trio has won 11 of 13 races this year, with no finishes worse than third.

In the eliminations, Wes Delight won by a neck over Nutcracker Sweet in 1:50.2, Stay Hungry won by a head over Done Well in 1:50, and Lather Up won by 2-3/4 lengths over St Lads Neptune in 1:49.2.

"He's been good all along (this year) and he was good again," Harder said about Wes Delight, who has won five of six races this season. "He's just doing his thing and racing great every week."

For his career, Wes Delight has won eight of 17 starts and earned $226,823. The son of Bettor's Delight—Maid West is owned by Rick Phillips, Deena Frost, and Harder.

"He showed a lot of talent last year at 2, but just struggled with his gait a little bit," Harder said earlier this year. As for whether the colt has fulfilled Harder's expectations this year, the trainer said, "He's been what I hoped, more than what I expected. You hope for the best and hope you don't get the worst."

The connections of the elimination winners picked their starting positions for the final and Wes Delight will leave from post No. 3 with driver Corey Callahan. Stay Hungry will start from post two and Lather Up will start from post four.

"They'll race hard; they always do when it's a million dollars," Harder said. "(Wes Delight) is so handy; he can leave, he can duck, he can sit. He's a complete racehorse. If he has a good healthy week, it's up to the driver to figure it out."

Stay Hungry, trained by Tony Alagna and driven by Doug

McNair, was the O'Brien Award winner as Canada's best 2-year-old male pacer in 2017. The son of Somebeachsomewhere—My Little Dragon has won one of two races this year and seven of 11 lifetime, totaling $561,664 in purses for owners Brad Grant and the late Irwin Samelman. He was the 2017 Breeders Crown champion.

Alagna, who won the North America Cup in 2013 with Captaintreacherous, also sends out American History in the North America Cup final. American History was third in his elimination, setting the fractions from post seven before finishing three-quarters of a length behind Wes Delight. The son of American Ideal—Perfect Touch has won four of eight career races and will have Yannick Gingras in the sulky.

Lather Up, who set multiple track records in Ohio last year at age 2 before being sidelined because of illness and a near-fatal reaction to antibiotics, is a perfect 5-for-5 this season for driver Montrell Teague and trainer Clyde Francis. The homebred son of I'm Gorgeous—Pocket Comb is owned by Gary and Barbara Iles. He has won nine of 12 career races and earned $152,265.

The North America Cup field also includes Lost In Time, who was the Dan Patch Award winner for best 2-year-old male pacer in the U.S., and Nutcracker Sweet, both from the stable of trainer Jimmy Takter. David Miller, who has won the past two North America Cup finals, will drive Nutcracker Sweet. Scott Zeron will pilot Lost In Time, whose ownership group includes professional wrestling legend Ric Flair.

Over the past 10 years, three 2-year-old divisional champions have returned the following year and captured the North America Cup: Captaintreacherous in 2013, Sportswriter in 2010, and Somebeachsomewhere in 2008. All three received both Dan Patch and O'Brien awards at age 2.

Done Well lost for the first time in six career races when he finished behind Stay Hungry in his elimination. Brian Brown, who won last year's North America Cup with Fear The Dragon, trains Done Well. Two-time North America Cup-winner Tim Tetrick will drive the colt, who won four races last year before being sidelined by injury.

The 35th edition of Canada's richest harness race, showcasing the finest 3-year-old pacers on the continent, will go postward at 10:40 p.m. (EDT) and will be broadcast live on TSN2 from 10-11 p.m.

The North America Cup undercard features the $415,000 Fan Hanover for 3-year-old pacing fillies, $370,000 Roses Are Red for pacing mares, $250,000 Armbro Flight for trotting mares, $266,000 Goodtimes for 3-year-old trotters and the $100,000 Mohawk Gold Cup Invitational for older pacers.

Hannelore Hanover (Yannick Gingras) dominated her Armbro Flight elimination.

Taking Flight

Two years ago, winning the Armbro Flight in a Canadian record mile of 1:51 was a springboard to stardom for Hannelore Hanover. Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park, she will go for a third straight win in the Armbro Flight final.

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

The 2016 Armbro Flight Stakes can be looked upon as Hannelore Hanover's coming-out party, and in the two years that followed she went from an intriguing newcomer among older female trotters to the sport's reigning queen.

Hannelore Hanover was a star on the Indiana circuit at ages 2 and 3, but eight races into her 4-year-old campaign made her presence felt on the Grand Circuit by winning the Armbro Flight by 6-1/2 lengths in 1:51, still the fastest mile ever by a female trotter in Canada. The next week she made her first appearance in harness racing's weekly Top 10 poll and has remained a fixture in the rankings ever since.

Last year, Hannelore Hanover captured Horse of the Year honors in both the U.S. and Canada. On Saturday, she goes for an unprecedented third consecutive win in the Armbo Flight when she faces nine rivals in the $250,000 race for older female trotters at Woodbine Mohawk Park. The 6-year-old mare, unbeaten in three starts this season, is the 2-5 morning-line favorite.

Since the beginning of her 4-year-old season, the Ron Burke-trained Hannelore Hanover has won 30 of 40 races and finished worse than second only three times.

"She just shows up every week and puts in a great effort," said Frank Baldachino, who owns Hannelore Hanover with the Burke Racing Stable, the Weaver Bruscemi partnership, and J&T Silva Stables. "You kind of get spoiled after a while. She's just all racehorse; all business when she goes on the track. Hopefully this week she'll be all business again."

Named in honor of renowned German amateur driver Hannelore Würzinger, Hannelore Hanover is a daughter of Swan For All out of High Sobriety. She was purchased for $32,000 at the 2013 Standardbred Horse Sale and has subsequently earned $2.58 million on the racetrack. Her family includes Mack Lobell, who is joined by Moni Maker as the only two-time Dan Patch Award Horse of the Year honorees in the past 35 years.

Hannelore Hanover, who was the first trotting mare since Moni Maker in 1999 to receive Horse of the Year honors in the U.S., will have the chance to duplicate their accomplishment this year.

"Buying her as a baby we had limited expectations, hoping we had a nice Indiana Sire Stakes horse," Baldachino said. "For her to achieve the success she's had over the last two years is pretty amazing. You never think about that. Then when you get to this level everybody is gunning for you now, trying to knock you off that level, but she just keeps maintaining it. That's what is pretty special."

Hannelore Hanover and driver Yannick Gingras defeated male rivals multiple times last year, most notably in the finals of the Breeders Crown Open Trot and Maple Leaf Trot, as well as in the Allerage Farms Open Trot. She became the fastest female trotter in history when she won the Allerage in 1:49.2 at Lexington's Red Mile and was the first mare to beat the boys in the Breeders Crown Open Trot since Moni Maker in 1998.

She finished last season with a win in the TVG Series championship for trotting mares and brings a six-race win streak to Saturday's Armbro Flight. Hannelore Hanover's victories this season include the Cutler Memorial at the Meadowlands, a track-record-equaling triumph in a division of the Great Northeast Open Series at Harrah's Philadelphia, and a 5-1/2 length win in 1:52 in her Armbro Flight elimination.

"It's been awesome; I couldn't be happier," Baldachino said about the start of the season, which has seen Hannelore Hanover push her career record to 39 wins in 61 races. "She looks great, she's got a great way of going, Yannick's happy with her, Ronnie's happy with her — we're all happy with her."

Hannelore Hanover and Gingras start the Armbro Flight from post No. 5. The field also includes Emoticon Hanover, who also won an Armbro Flight elimination and handed Hannelore Hanover one of her losses in 2017 with a world-record mile in the Joie De Vie Stakes at Tioga Downs, and stakes-winners Celebrity Ruth, Caprice Hill, Dream Together, and Ice Attraction. Emoticon Hanover and Dream Together are both trained by Luc Blais.

"(Hannelore Hanover) looks great, but Emoticon Hanover is a great horse, too, and there are other nice horses in there," Baldachino said. "All her main competitors are inside of her. I don't think they're just going to let her waltz to the lead and cut her own fractions. There's an entry in there and there could be some horses mixing it up early, so we'll see. Hopefully Yannick gets her in the right spot. We leave it up to him."

First race post time is 6:30 p.m. for the 15-race card. The Armbro Flight is race three. Following is the field for the Armbro Flight Stakes. For complete entries for Saturday, click here.

Wolfgang hoping to cook up a Goodtimes victory

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Wolfgang will try to continue his rise among Hambletonian Stakes contenders when he faces nine rivals in Saturday's $266,000 Goodtimes Stakes at Woodbine Mohawk Park. The Goodtimes is one of the stakes stops on the road to August's $1.2 million Hambletonian.

Two of the past four winners of the Goodtimes have gone on to capture the Hambletonian, Marion Marauder in 2016 and Trixton in 2014. In addition, last year's winner International Moni won an elimination of the Hambletonian.

Saturday's Goodtimes is part of a stakes-filled card at Woodbine Mohawk Park, headlined by the $1 million Pepsi North America Cup for 3-year-old male pacers. The night also includes the Armbro Flight for older female trotters, Roses Are Red for older female pacers, and Fan Hanover for 3-year-old female pacers.

Wolfgang, who was ranked No. 9 in last week's Road to the Hambletonian, compiled by Meadowlands Racetrack announcer and analyst Ken Warkentin, is among seven Hambletonian-eligible trotters in the Goodtimes. The others are Alarm Detector, Cruising In Style, Hat Trick Habit, Hill Street, Lawmaker, and Missle Hill.

Alarm Detector, who was No. 3 in last week's Hambletonian rankings, and Wolfgang each won his Goodtimes elimination. Wolfgang, making his first start of the season, captured his division by 2-3/4 lengths over Lawmaker in a career-best 1:52.2.

"I'm very happy with the way he went last week," said Yannick Gingras, who drives Wolfgang for trainer Jimmy Takter. "It was his first time out and he was loaded with trot. I think he did it the right way and I think he's got a big chance."

Last year, Wolfgang won three of 10 races and earned $316,275, which ranked fifth among 2-year-old male trotters. The colt's victories included the Matron Stakes and he finished second in the Kentucky Sire Stakes championship and season-ending Valley Victory Stakes.

Fourth Dimension, who was last year's Dan Patch Award winner for 2-year-old male trotters and was No. 1 in last week's Road to the Hambletonian, won the Valley Victory. Fourth Dimension is yet to race this year.

"I think if I got loose a little earlier in the Valley Victory I could have given Fourth Dimension all he wanted," said Gingras, who has driven Wolfgang in his past four starts. "Even before that, I watched him race and he looked like a horse that could go a long ways.

"I thought coming into the year he was probably the best trotter I had to drive for the Hambletonian. Jimmy said all along he was coming back strong. We couldn't be any happier with where he's at right now."

Wolfgang, who hails from a family with chef-inspired names, is a son of My MVP out of Summer Savory. He was purchased for $60,000 at the 2016 Lexington Selected Sale and is owned by Brixton Medical Inc., Goran Falk, Hatfield Stables, and breeder Fair Island Farm.

Wolfgang (Yannick Gingras) was an easy winner in his Goodtimes elimination.

Alarm Detector, who was the O'Brien Award winner for best 2-year-old male trotter in Canada, won his Goodtimes elimination by three-quarters of a length over Breeders Crown champion Fiftydallarbill in 1:53.1. Alarm Detector also was making his seasonal debut.

"I was okay with it, mile in (1):53, it's getting a little cooler right now at this time and you can train them as much as you want, but it's not like racing," trainer Ben Baillargeon said after the win. "He was ready and up to the task."

Alarm Detector, a son of Chapter Seven out of Final Countdown, has won seven of eight career races and earned $237,032. His victories last year included the William Wellwood Memorial at Woodbine Mohawk Park. He was purchased for $110,000 at the 2016 Standardbred Horse Sale and his family includes Dan Patch and O'Brien awards winner Ken Warkentin, who was named in honor of the Meadowlands' announcer.

The colt is owned by Thomas Rankin, Elizabeth Rankin, Claude Hamel, and Santo Vena.

Following is the field for the Goodtimes Stakes. The connections of Wolfgang and Alarm Detector, as elimination winners, selected their respective post positions.

Unheralded Shower Play jumps up in Fan Hanover

The Ontario Sired filly finished second to Kissin In The Sand in their Fan Hanover elimination last week for locals Rene Dion, Susie Kerwood, Martin Leveillee and Louis-Philippe Roy.

by Ray Cotolo for Woodbine communications

A force to reckon on the Ontario Sires Stakes Grassroots circuit last season, Rene Dion trainee Shower Play makes her Grand Circuit debut Saturday in the $415,000 Fan Hanover final on the Pepsi North America Cup undercard at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Owned by Rene Dion along with partners Susie Kerwood and Martin Leveillee, the three-year-old filly by Shadow Play from the Bettors Delight mare Alice Emily has made only seven starts in her career, with five coming from an abbreviated freshman campaign resulting in three wins and two seconds.

"We staked her a little bit in Ontario," co-owner Kerwood said. "As a two-year-old — she was a $15,000 yearling [and] even though we liked her a lot, we just put her in a few stakes. Sometimes when you put them in a lot of stakes, you want to try to make them and they aren't quite ready for it. We staked her conservatively and said 'if she's good enough, she's going to make the money anyway.'"

Shower Play, who has earned $54,962 in her career, capped her two-year-old season on Sept. 1 with a 10-length victory in a division of the Ontario Sires Stakes Grassroots Series in 1:53. She scratched sick from her next start on Sept. 18 and went away until her three-year-old season.

"We just had viruses going through the barn and with two-year-olds you can treat them all you want, but sometimes you race them and they don't come back well," said Kerwood. "We just thought highly enough of her to shut her down and start her up next year."

Training in Quebec over the winter, poor weather and track conditions delayed Shower Play's three-year-old debut. Not wanting to "train her for the sake of training her because the track wasn't good or the weather wasn't allowing it," Kerwood said Shower Play has returned to the races just a little bigger.

"She always was very strong, but she's more mature looking. She's a big, absolutely beautiful — she's a stunning filly. She's got a very nice size to her. She was maybe a little babyish last year, but this year I find that she's just bigger and more rugged."

Shower Play returned to the track May 25 with a 1:56.2 qualifying effort at Woodbine Mohawk Park and won six days later in her first pari-mutual start of the year with an off-the-pace 1:52.2 performance.

"I wasn't really sure how much she was up to [in her debut]," Kerwood said. "The one thing about her is that she's tough. I think when she's within striking position, she's the type of filly that gives all she's got.

I'm not going to say I was surprised when she did what she did, (but) it was a good effort. (Driver Louis-Philippe Roy) loved her and that's half the battle right there."

New Image Media

Her following start was the elimination for the Fan Hanover, drawing against world champion Youaremycandygirl as well as local stars Percy Bluechip and Kendall Seelster.

"Usually what we do is we take it one race at a time, and the way she raced (in her debut), we weren't sure how many fillies were actually going to be in the Fan Hanover so we kind of just took a gamble and put her in," Kerwood said. "We maybe would have liked to have another start in her before the Fan but it just didn't work out that way."

Sitting off a swift pace set by Youaremycandygirl and Ubettorgo Go, Shower Play stormed from last to finish second to Kissin In The Sand in a dead heat with Im Trigger Happy

"Going into it I was like 'Oh boy, she drew into the tough division, but I think she can qualify,'" Kerwood said. "Nothing surprises me about her because she is such a nice, strong filly, (but) how fast she is I don't know. I wasn't really surprised — she raced so tough; you look in the program, it looked like we were racing in the final. I was really pleased with how well she finished up."

Roy will drive Shower Play, listed at 8-1 on the morning line, from post-four.

Kissin In The Sand, off a 1:51.1 victory in the elimination, goes from post-three as the 5-2 morning-line favourite for trainer Nancy Johansson.

"There're a lot of good fillies in the race. I'm just hoping we're going to get a nice trip," Kerwood said. "I think whoever ends up getting the trip is going to win the race. But we're hoping to get a nice trip and to be somewhat close at the top of the stretch, and if she kicks like she can be, I think she can be close."

O'Mara on Jate Lobell's NA Cup triumph in the first million-dollar race in Canada

by Bob Heyden

The first million-dollar race in Canada was the 1987 North America Cup won by Jate Lobell by a nose over Frugal Gourmet at Greenwood Raceway in downtown Toronto.

Mark O'Mara trained and drove the winner for Joe McCluskey of Michigan. Trevor Ritchie was the runnerup for Blair Burgess.

Jate Lobell would go on and defend his divisional title at 3 and then stood at Kentuckiana Farms. He surged well past $100 million in siring credits and produced three NA Cup champions from his first half-dozen crops: Safely Kept in 1992, Davids Pass in 1995 and Gothic Dream in 1997.

Recently, I caught up Mark O'Mara to remember NA Cup of 31 years ago.

How did you feel and how was the pressure going into the 1987 NA Cup?

"I felt it some, but I think Joe (McCluskey) felt it more. We had just sold a quarter interest in the colt to Kentuckiana Farms. The whole experience was great there at Greenwood. They never seemed to get enough of us. Gracious hosts. I particularly remember being on a radio show that Wayne Gretzky was also on."

Where does Jate's win rank among his best ever races?

"Right there. That one, the Confederation Cup and the American National were probably his three best. When he set his mark at 2 — 1:53 — the track was drenched with rain the first heat at the Red Mile but not the second. Jate never seemed to be bothered by the conditions. That race was up there also."

How did the NA Cup-play out?

"I raced him on the front and they kept coming at me. I couldn't let anyone go. All the while, Frugal Gourmet was sitting right behind me. In the stretch, it was the two of us to the wire. I remember thinking — hoping maybe — because I wasn't sure of the photo, that Jate deserved to win because of all the work he did. I didn't want him to lose by an inch after all that.

"Trevor (Ritchie) then outdrove us all in the Meadowlands Pace"

(Frugal Gourmet defeated Laag and Run The Table. Jate Lobell was seventh in his only career off-the-board finish).

Did you realize at that moment how special winning the NA Cup was?

"I'd say yes. Remember, that was the only NA Cup I ever drove in. But yes, I knew it was a very big deal and we were sure enjoying the moment. Remember, too, that we had just gone for $500,000 the week before in the NJ Classic."

Jate set his lifetime mark of 1:51.2 capturing the NJ Classic, avenging his only defeat at the hands of Run The Table (1:51) from May in the $200,000 NJSS Final. For the uninitiated, Jate Lobell in 1986, at age 2, ran the table with a perfect 15-for-15 season and was Horse of the Year runnerup to Forrest Skipper.

"That was a tough year in a way because (Jate Lobell) wasn't eligible to a lot. I watched as Cullin Hanover won the Wilson ($1.5 million plus) and Redskin taking the Governors Cup for a Million and a Half. It wasn't easy to watch. But we did all we could have done. Jate just was more advanced than the others."

Do you remember Jate training down? Was he anything special?

"Not early on. I remember going down to Florida around a holiday and we were training them in 3:00 or so. He was okay, but I wasn't buzzing them or anything. He always covered a lot of ground. Early on, he seemed to be doing things easier than the rest. Henry Lunsford and my father (Frank) worked with him early, and I got him for his last three weeks. He trained on a smaller track. You couldn't really ask my father who he liked because he liked them ALL!."

Jate did something else you don't see today — four double-heats as a freshman.

"No you don't. It didn't bother him. But nowadays you won't see freshmen going double heats."

Was Jate a versatile colt?

"Absolutely. He didn't need a trip of any kind or be up front or behind. It didn't seem to matter a lot to him. We decided later in his career to make sure he got a chance. We didn't want to be blamed for 'pilot error'. But no matter what, it can happen, and it did in the final start of his career in the Breeders Crown. I finished third, but I didn't give him enough room or racetrack. He finished with a lot of 'go', but too late."

NA Cup tidbits

• Blair Burgess lost the NA Cup by a nose two years in a row — with Amity Chef in 1986 and Frugal Gourmet in 1987.

•The first 4 winning drivers in the NA CUP recorded their lone career million-dollar win:

1) Mark O'Mara 1987 Jate Lobell

2) Yves Filion 1988 Runnymede Lobell

3) Steve Condren 1989 Goalie Jeff

4) Bud Fritz 1990 Apaches Fame

• In 1991, Precious Bunny made some history by becoming the first horse to win a million-dollar with two different drivers — John Campbell in the NA Cup and Jack Moiseyev in the Meadowlands Pace. (Mach Three would duplicate this a decade later, winning the richest ever Metro with Mike Lachance and then the following year the Meadowlands Pace with John Campbell)

• Homebreds went 1-2-3 in 2012 in the NA Cup,headlined by the biggest win of Bob McIntosh's double Hall Of Fame career — Thinking Out Loud.

• Speaking of Bob McIntosh, his was not the only "MAC" attack in NA Cup history. Paul MacDonell won in 2008 with Somebeachsomewhere and then just two years later Mark MacDonald won with Sportswriter

• Brett Pelling is the only trainer in history to win two million-dollar pacing events in the same year and not win the division title with either one: 1995 with Davids Pass (NA Cup / Meadowlands Pace) – division title went to Jennas Beach Boy and 1999 with The Panderosa (Cup/Pace) — division title went to Triple Crown winner Blissfull Hall.

First million-dollar handle

The first million-dollar handle came at Hollywood Park on May 17, 1947 when $1,002,429 was bet. The attendance was 26,986. The handle was $38,000 more than Roosevelt Raceway had in 1947 on Aug. 22 ($964,709).

Italian Urlo dei Venti wins Oslo Grand Prix

by Thomas Hedlund

The people behind Italian Lotteria winner Urlo dei Venti declined the invitation for the Elitlopp in the end of May, but the 5-year-old son of Mago d'Amore was back behind the gate when the Oslo Grand Prix was held Sunday (June 10) in Norway.

Before the race, most of the attention was on three of the most interesting trotters in Europe at the moment and Jerry Riordan's International Trot winner Twister Bi got most of the trust from the bettors. But Twister Bi had a bad day and made an early break behind the gate and instead Italian Urlo dei Venti opened quickly for the lead for driver Enrico Bellei.

The 5-year-old, who won the Prix du Luxembourg in Paris and Gran Premio della Lotteria in Naples earlier this season, showed no mercy to his opponents. When Enrico Bellei asked for more action with a quarter to go in the 1.3-mile race, Urlo dei Venti flew away from the chasers and came home in mile rate 1:53.2 to earn $186,000.

"Everything worked perfect for the horse on this track and it became easier for us when Twister Bi disappeared early in the race. Urlo dei Venti is just a fantastic trotter and we aim for Prix d'Amérique next year", said Enrico Bellei.

Norwegian Evil Enok M.E. finished strongly for the second place and Uza Josselyn did a great job as third in the race.

Harness racing in Italy is strong for the moment. On top of Urlo dei Venti's big win in Oslo, trainer Alessandro

Italian trotter Urlo dei Venti (Enrico Bellei) won Sunday's Oslo Grand Prix in a mile rate of 1:53.2.

The victory capped a strong month for Italians in northern Europe.

Gocciadoro has had some great weeks in the northern countries in Europe the past month.

On the same day, the Gran Premio Unione Europea was scheduled in Naples, Italy and Gocciadoro was alone in the home stretch behind his Orsi Mangelli winner, 4-year-old Vitruvio (Adrian Chip) who won in mile rate 1:55.3 over 1.3 miles.

Vitruvio earned heavy $216,000 with the victory.

Giveitgasandgo sets record in Oslo

American-bred Giveitgasandgo (Yankee Glide) became the first trotter to note a kilometer time below 1.10 (approximately 1:52.3) at Bjerke racetrack in Oslo. The Frode Hamre trained 4-year-old won in 1:52.2 for Erik Adielsson in Fyraåringseliten. Adielsson aimed for the lead, got there and Giveitgasandgo sprinted away to an easy win worth $24,900. Giveitgasandgo won the same kind of race during the meeting of Elitloppet and there is no doubt about the horse's qualities on 5/8 mile tracks in Europe. He is already at this point one of the most interesting trotters for the biggest races around the continent.

Coquin Bebe wins Energima Cup

French-bred Coquin Bebe (Rancho Gede) won elimination and final of Energima Cup in Oslo. Jorma Kontio got the opportunity to send the French horse to the lead in the final and when the pace was slow after the first quarter, Coquin Bebe had no problems to hold challenging King City on the outside in the home stretch. 1:55.3 is a moderate note and the reward was $37,500 in the final.

Pace Baby Pace (Yannick Gingras) at Monday's Gaitway Baby Races.

Gaitway Baby Races highlight potential stars

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Yannick Gingras was impressed with 2-year-old female pacer Warrawee Ubeaut when he trained her earlier this year in Florida, and the filly continued to get high marks from Gingras following her first qualifier on Monday (June 11) at New Jersey's Gaitway Farm.

Warrawee Ubeaut, a daughter of Sweet Lou out of Great Memories, paced her mile in 1:56 with a :26.3 final quarter to win by eight lengths for trainer Ron Burke. She was a $70,000 purchase at the Lexington Selected Sale and is owned by Burke Racing Stable, Phil Collura, J&T Silva – Purnel & Libby, and the Weaver Bruscemi partnership. She is a half-sister to O'Brien-winning millionaire Warrawee Needy.

"When I was in Florida I really liked her; she was one of my favorite fillies that Ronnie had," Gingras said. "She's a little fussy with her mouth, has little quirks about her, but today she came a quarter in :26 and change and was very strong. I was really happy with her."

There were nine qualifiers for 2-year-olds Monday (June 11) at Gaitway, where the Burke Brigade sent out 21 of the day's 45 rookies and won six of the races. The remaining three qualifiers for the 2-year-olds were won by Team Orange Crush, the wife-and-husband duo of trainer Julie Miller and driver Andy Miller.

Gingras won four times with 2-year-olds, with female pacers She's Allright and Pace Baby Pace along with male pacer Semi Tough joining Warrawee Ubeaut.

She's Allright, a daughter of Sweet Lou-Atsallrite Hanover, won in 1:54.3. She was bred by owners Burke Racing, Weaver Bruscemi, Michelle Yanek, and Collura. Her family includes Dan Patch Award-winner Allamerican Native and stakes-winner Apprentice Hanover.

She's Allright's went off stride last week.

"I was a little careful with her, but she didn't offer to do anything wrong today," Gingras said. "There are little things to work on with her, I have to talk to Ronnie, but she had plenty of pace as well."

Pace Baby Pace (Sweet Lou-Breakheart Pass) won in 1:56.3 and Semi Tough (Somebeachsomewhere-Jan It Jackson) won in 1:54.3 with a :26.2 final quarter. Pace Baby Pace is owned by breeders Burke Racing and Weaver Bruscemi. Semi Tough, who was purchased for $115,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale, is owned by Burke Racing, Frank Baldachino, J&T Silva – Purnel & Libby, and Weaver Bruscemi. His family includes stakes-winner Sunshine Beach.

Ken Weingartner / USTA

Goes Down Smooth (3, Joe Bongiorno) and Skyway Kon Man (6, Trond Smedshammer).

"A bunch of the pacers went very well," Gingras said. "A lot of them went (1):54, (1):55, (1):56, so a lot of them have speed. You want to see how they do it and if they have manners. You need a quick turn of speed, but have to be able to turn it on and off and turn it on again.

"A lot of horses have one quarter in them, but if you want a top horse you need two quarters at different times in the race, not just back-to-back quarters. They've got to come back to you when you ask them. That's kind of what you're looking for now."

Burke's remaining winners were male pacer Bicorne Hanover (Art Major-Boldnbrash Hanover) in 1:55.3 with driver Joe Bongiorno and male trotter Goes Down Smooth (Muscle Hill-Peach Martini) in 1:57 with Andy McCarthy.

Bicorne Hanover was a $47,000 purchase at the Standardbred Horse Sale and is owned by Burke Racing, Weaver Bruscemi, James Martin, and William Switala. His family includes Dan Patch and O'Brien awards winner Big Jim. Goes Down Smooth was purchased for $82,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale and is owned by Burke Racing, Switala, Martin, and Weaver Bruscemi.

Winners for the Millers were 2-year-old female trotters Reilly K in 2:00.1 and Paint The Corners in 2:00 along with male trotter Klutzy in 1:57.2.

Reilly K (Donato Hanover-Athena Miss) was purchased for $50,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale and is owned by Andy Miller Stable, Nick Surick Stable, and Daniel Plouffe. She is a full-sister to stakes-winner Make Or Miss. Paint The Corners (Andover Hall-Nuvola) is owned by breeder Al Libfeld. Klutzy (Cantab Hall-Upside Hanover) was purchased for $55,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale and is owned by Stroy Inc.

Trainer Trond Smedshammer had two second-place finishers among the 2-year-olds, sending out four starters in three races. Matterlei (Explosive Matter-Hawaiian Lei) finished second to Reilly K and Skyway Kon Man (Conway Hall-Keystone Sadie) finished second to Goes Down Smooth.

"They were OK," Smedshammer said. "There were no real surprises. That's all you ask for, that they behave and finish with a little trot."

Smedshammer has 18 total 2-year-olds this season.

"I don't see any stars in there, but they're training down pretty solid," he said. "But you don't really know until you start racing."

Did bettors get a fair shake in chaotic race at Monticello?

by Garnet Barnsdale

Race 10 at Monticello this past Tuesday was eventful and – to at least one reader that contacted us about the race – controversial.

The first indication that this wasn't your typical Tuesday afternoon winners over $4,000 pace was when Jim Deveaux – who was following along in third heading to the quarter pole – suddenly urged his horse Road Untraveled several lanes off the rail while looking behind him.

It became quickly apparent that Deveaux was getting out of the way of the #7 horse Culinary Delight N, who was flying up on the outside, but was clearly having some kind of issue because his driver, Larry Stalbaum, was getting the attention of the drivers in front of him to alert them to get out of the way.

As they went around the turn heading towards the half, the field scattered as in the interest of safety everyone got out of the way of the troubled horse. That left 1-5 favorite Iwillmakeyousaywow alone on the lead with only two other horses within 8 1/2 lengths of him after most of the field getting scattered.

Iwillmakeyousaywow was never threatened, jogging to a 5-length victory while Culinary Delight was eventually pulled up safely. After the race it was announced that the troubled horse's issue was that it had lost its bridle, so kudos to Larry Stalbaum for not only alerting his fellow drivers to the imminent danger, but also for managing to pull his horse up without incident.

But what about the bettors? Despite every horse in the race showing an "I" symbol in the official chart to indicate that it had suffered interference due to Culinary Delight's issues, the race was made official and paid out as if nothing happened.

That's what the reader who pointed out the race and incident took exception with and when you watch the replay of this race and see horses going everywhere to avoid the horse with no bridle, you have to wonder if he doesn't have a very good point. Anyone that didn't cash certainly didn't get a fair shake in this race.

George Napolitano, Jr. earns 9,000th win

George Napolitano Jr., the all-time leading horseman in Pocono Downs history, goes so fast that a mere pencil cannot stay with him. It took a check of the USTA computer to show that the 12th race on Monday (June 11) and his victory with Myidealson N was the 9,000th of his career.

"George Nap" becomes the 21st North American-based driver to get to 9,000 wins, and ranks #12 among active drivers. The leading driver in North America in 2010 with 753 visits to Victory Lane, Napolitano has won a mind-boggling 29 titles at Pocono – 11 driving win titles (including the last six, and he leads the colony right now), nine UDR championships (including the last five), and five training win titles. He has also won nine titles "down the Turnpike" at Harrah's Philadelphia – six for sulky victories and three for UDR.

George will have his entire family to the track on Saturday night, where he will join with them to be honored in the Hanover Shoe Farms Winners Circle for this milestone triumph.

Manchego remains unbeaten, dominates PA All-Stars

Manchego kept her place in the spotlight intact Tuesday (June 12) in one of four $30,000 divisions of the Pennsylvania All-Stars event for three-year-old trotting fillies at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono, overcoming the tuck-then-first-over trip to post a 1:52.4 victory.

The undefeated daughter of Muscle Hill found herself in the middle of a quintet of strong leavers, and Yannick Gingras backed the winner of $917,188 into a midpack tuck, then started first-over on the second turn after Nixie Volo, who had been responsible for the early numbers of :27.1 and :56.3. Manchego started to gain the advantage at the 1:24.4 3/4s, but for a second the upset-minded had a thrill as Nixie Volo kept the champion out on the turn. But Manchego simply increased her distance consumption in her effortless way, coming home two lengths to the good of late-closing Top Expectations, with Nixie Volo another 1¼ lengths back in third. Manchego's 1:52.4 equaled her personal mark, achieved last year at both Mohawk and Lexington.

Jimmy Takter had the filly in top shape after a 22-day racetrack layoff, getting her 14th win in succession without much of a sweat for owners Black Horse Racing, John Fielding, and Herb Liverman. Manchego commanded so much of the crowd's respect, she drew almost $19,000 of the $22,000+ win/place/show pool, and the Exacta she headed with 43-1 Top Expectations second returned only $15.20 (the second choice was 23-1 behind the 1-9 shot).

Then, the most marked of mutuel contrasts followed 18 minutes later, as the Explosive Matter filly Highland Dynamite made the most of a pocket trip behind pacesetter Bill's Lady, going up the Pocono Pike to catch that foe in 1:53.1 while returning $250.80 to win and combining with Bill's Lady, the 5-2 second choice, for a $4878.80 exacta. Simon Allard guided the Pierre Paradis-trained shocker, who reduced her mark 5.2 seconds while gaining into a :55.2 back half for the Highland Thoroughbred Farm. (The other galloping reference of the night came in race four, where the winner was named Justified.)

Southwind Angelica came out before the ¾ to challenge pacesetting favorite Basquiat and wore her down late in their division, posting a neck victory while taking a new mark of 1:54.2. Another daughter of Muscle Hill, the winner stepped her own back fractions in :55.4 – :27.4 in taking the decision for driver Andrew McCarthy, trainer Jonas Czernyson, and owner Thomas Dillon.

The final All-Stars contest was taken by the Donato Hanover filly Live Laugh Love, who gained solidly from third midrace to take the lead in early stretch and win by herself in 1:54.3. The Nifty Norman trainee, a Sire Stakes winner and then second to Manchego in her two previous starts, ran her record to 4-for-5 in 2018, with earnings of $117,227 lifetime for Melvin Hartman, David McDuffee, and Diamond Creek Racing.

NJ Governor Murphy signs sports betting legislation

On Monday (June 11), governor Phil Murphy signed Assembly Bill 4111, allowing sports betting at New Jersey casinos and racetracks for certain professional and collegiate sports or athletic events.

"Today, we're finally making the dream of legalized sports betting a reality for New Jersey," said Governor Murphy. "I'm thrilled to sign Assembly Bill 4111 because it means that our casinos in Atlantic City and our racetracks throughout our state can attract new business and new fans, boosting their own long-term financial prospects. This is the right move for New Jersey and it will strengthen our economy."

Under the legislation, a licensed casino or racetrack may accept wagers at a sports wagering lounge at its respective premises, and can petition to operate a sports pool at a temporary facility during the construction of a sports wagering lounge. In addition, licensed casinos and racetracks can seek to operate an online sports pool beginning 30 days after the effective date of the bill.

Individuals placing wagers must be at least 21 years of age. The bill also provides that athletes, coaches, referees, and other persons with potential influence or access to non-public information regarding sporting events, are prohibited from placing bets on sporting events overseen by the league in which they participate. Additionally, wagers cannot be placed on high school sporting events or collegiate athletic events taking place in New Jersey or involving New Jersey teams.

The bill authorizes the Division of Gaming Enforcement and the New Jersey Racing Commission to issue emergency regulations for a period of up to 270 days to govern sports betting. These regulations are to allow for already-licensed casinos and racetracks to apply for a transactional waiver that will enable them to commence sports betting.

The estimated State tax revenues that could be generated from sports betting are projected at approximately $13 million in the first full year of operation.

Bill sponsors include Assembly Members Eric Houghtaling, John J. Burzichelli, Joann Downey, Ralph R. Caputo, Raj Mukerji, Paul D. Moriarity as well as Senate President Steve Sweeney and Senators Jeff Van Drew and Vin Gopal.

Sidewalk Dancer, Serene Stride win PASS splits

Sidewalk Dancer peeled off cover past the three-quarters, turned on the jets in the lane and rolled to her third straight victory in the $159,868 Pennsylvania Sires Stake on Monday at The Meadows. The event for 3-year-old filly pacers, known as the Adios Betty, was contested over two divisions, with Serene Stride taking the other split.

All the victories in Sidewalk Dancer's current streak, including a PASS leg at Harrah's Philadelphia, have come since trainer Chris Oakes began treating her with Lasix. Winning driver Brett Miller believes the medication is making a difference.

"I think it's played a big part," Miller said. "Last year, she was real high strung, so I'm sure Lasix is really helping her. She's amazing. Let's keep our fingers crossed and hope she stays sound."

In the Adios Betty, Sidewalk Dancer followed the live cover of Cult Icon before exploding late to triumph in 1:52, two lengths better than the rallying Alexa's Power. Early leader Sansovina Hanover completed the ticket. Northfork Racing, Omar Beiler and Dennis Coons campaign the daughter of A Rocknroll Dance-Road Sign, who lifted her lifetime bankroll to $157,779.

Serene Stride had a more anxious journey, stalking Double A Mint from the pocket and hoping to find the Lightning Lane before the closers brushed by.

"I was a little bit worried about that," said winning driver Tony Hall. "Once I got down in there and she cleared the horse on the lead, she kind of sat down on me the last 50 feet. She just kind of coasted through. The track's a little heavy today on the inside, and I'm thinking that might have played a part."

Serene Stride held off Aldine Hanover, who found a late seam, by a head in 1:53.3, with Ideal Talker third.

Mark Harder conditions Serene Stride, a daughter of Somebeachsomewhere—Southwind Siren who won for the sixth time in seven 2018 starts and now boasts a lifetime bankroll of $126.678, for Emilio and Maria Rosati.

Jackpot Hi-5 mandatory payout announced for Pepsi North America Cup night

Woodbine Entertainment today announced a mandatory payout for the Woodbine Standardbred Jackpot Hi-5 on Saturday, June 16.

The Jackpot Hi-5 mandatory payout adds to an already stacked card, which is headline by the $1 million Pepsi North America Cup.

Horseplayers will be flooded with big pools and competitive racing all evening leading up to the Jackpot Hi-5 mandatory payout on the card's 15th and final-race.

Several previous Jackpot Hi-5 mandatory payouts have topped more than $2 million in new money. The most recent mandatory payout at Woodbine Mohawk Park on October 14, 2017 had $2.3 million in new money wagered.

Horseplayers can expect to play into larger Hi-5 pools this week leading up to the mandatory payout. Tonight (June 15), is the final night to play ahead of the mandatory payout, could see a Hi-5 pool of over $100,000.

Ilana Z Tam pulls off 22-1 shocker in PA Stallions

Stranded outside without cover past the half, Ilana Z Tam bowed her head, brushed past the leader and pulled off a 22-1 shocker in Tuesday's $80,000 Pennsylvania Stallion Series stake at The Meadows.

The event for 3-year-old filly pacers was contested over four divisions, with Seen At Rio Deo, Miss Hill and Zuluwarriorhanover taking the other splits. Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. enjoyed a stake double behind Miss Hill and Zuluwarriorhanover among his four wins on the 13-race card.

Ilana Z Tam followed the cover of Dark Force and Eric Goodell, but when they cleared, the daughter of Bettor's Delight—She's Rockin was in the rare air, an unenviable spot for a filly who had finished out of the money in her four previous starts this year.

"She raced good last week; she had a lot of go for the first time," said trainer/driver Pat Lachance, who owns Ilana Z Tam with Z Tam Stables. "But I didn't think Eric would clear; I thought I'd be second over. I thought I was in trouble, but she showed up. She raced big."

She bulled past Dark Force and scored in a career-best 1:53.4, a neck better than 3-5 favorite Dreams On Me, who was charging through the Lightning Lane. Dark Force saved show.

The victory by Seen At Rio Deo also was unconventional and, at 17-1, about as unexpected. She was last at the half and sneaked up the cones rather than join the outside flow, a risky move that can yield a lack of late racing room.

"The outer tier looked a little shaky when I gave it a look going down the backside," said winning driver Jim Pantaleano. "The horse who was first over wasn't responding, so I just took my chances. Obviously, we got lucky going up the inside. But she looked impressive last week, and they expected another big race from her."

When the outside challengers retreated, as Pantaleano thought they might, he angled Seen At Rio Deo off the cones. She roared through the stretch and downed Real Fine by 3/4 lengths in 1:53, a life mark. Butchie Beach completed the ticket. Tony Alagna trains the winner, a daughter of Somebeachsomewhere-See And Be Seen, for Alagna Racing LLC and Deo Volente Farms.

Miss Hill's win was more by the book, as she quarter-poled to the top and defeated Come Get The Cash by a length in 1:52.2 — yet another life mark — with Pretty Proud third.

"She paced home really easy and was well within herself," Wrenn said. "I don't know what stakes she has coming up, but she's a nice filly. I'm sure she can compete in anything they want to put her in."

Bruce Clarke conditions the daughter of Somebeachsomewhere—Ram Rocker and owns with Patricia Waldeck and John Coffey.

NJ Secretary of Agriculture visits Fair Winds

New Jersey Secretary of Agriculture Douglas H. Fisher visited standardbred breeding facility Fair Winds Farm on Friday and presented owner Mark Mullen with a proclamation from Governor Phil Murphy declaring June the Month of the Horse in the Garden State. The horse was designated the state animal in 1977.

Other officials attending the ceremony included State Assemblymen Ron Dancer and Eric Houghtaling as well as Monmouth County Freeholders Gerry Scharfenberger and Patrick Impreveduto.

The event, arranged through the Standardbred Breeders & Owners Association of New Jersey, included a tour of Fair Wind Farm, a visit with Dr. Patty Hogan at Hogan Equine Clinic, which is located on the grounds of the farm, and a presentation from the Harness Horse Youth Foundation.

Fair Wind Farms, a 500-acre breeding and boarding facility in Upper Freehold Township, was the state's Standardbred Breeder of the Year in 2017. It has been in operation for nearly 50 years.

"It's so exciting to be here at Fair Winds Farm," Fisher said. "It's a premier institution. We're treated to foals out in the fields and it's always wonderful. The equine industry is amazingly important in this state. We have rolling acres of farmland that are supporting equine activities in the state and it's imbued in the history of New Jersey in so many ways."

Assemblymen Dancer and Houghtaling told those in attendance that Thursday was a "big day" for the state's equine industry because the legislature had unanimously passed a bill that would permit casinos and racetrack to offer sports betting and the assembly advanced a bill that would exempt horse boarding from state sales tax.

Gov. Murphy signed the sports betting bill Monday.

"We didn't get the slots at the tracks to help us, but we have an opportunity now to bring in additional incremental revenues that are direly needed," Dancer said. "We have a great opportunity, we're just waiting for the governor to sign the bill. (And) we're going to do away with the sales tax being charged to everyone that is boarding horses. This affects the entire equine industry. We want to get this done so we can preserve and enhance this great industry that we have."

Houghtaling, too, was buoyed by the sports betting bill and its potential impact on the equine industry.

"As I'm thinking about that bill, I'm also thinking about standing on properties like this and preserving these kinds of properties," Houghtaling said. "We haven't been able to make (racinos) happen but now we're going to have sports betting that will be helpful to Freehold and Monmouth Park and the Meadowlands. That will be great for our horse industry."

Monmouth County Freeholders Scharfenberger and Impreveduto also presented Mullen with a proclamation celebrating the equine industry and the Month of the Horse.

"When I think of Monmouth County, certainly you think of the shore, but the other half of that equation is these beautiful farms we have out here," Scharfenberger said. "It's very important we keep it that way and support horse farms and horseracing and support the open space all this provides us."

Other speakers during the event included SBOANJ Executive Administrator Al Ochsner and Mullen. Fair Winds, which is home to 35 broodmares, last year enjoyed its best yearling sale at the Standardbred Horse Sale, with $1.74 million in gross sales and sales-leading average of $92,000 for 19 horses.

"We've faced many challenges over the years keeping racing and breeding in New Jersey strong," said Mullen, who also serves as the SBOANJ's first vice president. "These recent legislatives success that we had yesterday with the sports wagering and the revision of the sales tax are significant and important improvements for us.

"We have one other legislative effort that we're hoping to lobby for, which is a little bit of a budget resolution that would help our purses for racing, both Standardbred and Thoroughbred, and we need some additional support in the assembly to help that go through. Thank you all for coming out."

Fisher and other visitors remained on the farm for more than an hour, touring the facilities and talking with members of the racing community.

"I think we're going to see some brighter days going forward," Fisher said.

Mitchell named to WEG board

Woodbine Entertainment Group (Woodbine) has announced the appointment of Hugh Mitchell to its Board of Directors.

Mitchell is the president and chief executive officer at Western Fair District in London, ON.

Throughout his successful career, Mitchell has led the horse racing industry in various prominent roles including as the chairman of the board of Harness Tracks of America (HTA) and as a member of the Ontario Racing Board of Directors.

In addition to his role as a current member of the Board of Governors at Fanshawe College where he was a past Vice-Chair, Mitchell is also a past president of Tourism London, as well as director of both the London Chamber of Commerce and Canadian Association of Fairs and Exhibitions. Earlier in his career, Mitchell worked for Woodbine as the company's senior vice-president of racing from 1998 to 2005.

"The Woodbine Entertainment Board of Directors looks forward to working with Hugh to utilize his immense industry expertise," said Clay Horner, Chairman of the Board, Woodbine Entertainment. "His insight, extraordinary industry and community relationships, and broad business and industry experience will be valuable as the company takes on transformative projects such as the redevelopment of the lands surrounding Woodbine Racetrack and Woodbine Mohawk Park, as well its increasing industry leadership role as it administers the management of Ontario Racing under the Ontario Racing Management (ORM) banner."

"The Woodbine executive team benefits greatly from the leadership and expertise of our board members," said Jim Lawson, Woodbine CEO. "Hugh's knowledge and understanding of the Ontario horseracing industry is second to none, and we look forward to working with him and the rest of the board to create a vibrant and sustainable future for horse racing in Ontario."

Barn Girl wins 50th race

Barn Girl thwarted the late challenge of Ready Any Time and went on to capture Wednesday's $20,000 filly and mare preferred trot at The Meadows, her eighth win in 11 starts this year and the 50th victory of her career.

Barn Girl endured a demanding opening quarter — three wide in :27.1 — before reaching the front, a trip that could have made her vulnerable. But in characteristic fashion, she dug in for Aaron Merriman when Ready Any Time loomed boldly and defeated her by 3/4 lengths in 1:54. The pocket-sitting Expose Yourself finished third.

Bill Bercury trains Barn Girl, a 6-year-old daughter of Cash Hall—Turquoise Sweetie who lifted her lifetime bankroll to $683,668, for Renee Bercury. It was one four wins on the 13-race program for Merriman.
