Celebrating the 35th Anniversary of Canada's first million-dollar race

With the Pepsi North America Cup set for Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park, it is a perfect time to get Mark O'Mara's memories about the 1987 North America Cup won by his trainee Jate Lobell.

by Bob Heyden

The 1987 North America Cup won by Jate Lobell was Canada's first million-dollar harness race. And it was won by a nose over Frugal Gourmet.

Mark O'Mara was Jate Lobell's trainer/driver and Joe McCluskey of Battle Creek, MI owned the son of No Nukes from that sire's first crop.

Recently, we caught up with O'Mara, now 65, who had fond memories of Jate Lobell and the NA Cup win of 35 years ago.

You had been in Canada prior to the NA Cup. How was your experience that summer?'

"Well, we went to Greenwood and Flamboro and Blue Bonnets. I got married (to Martha) the day after the New Jersey Classic (where Jate Lobell set his lifetime mark of 1:51.2 defeating Run The Table at the Meadowlands). Then the day after that, I left for Canada for a while with Jate Lobell. They — the tracks and the management — were quite gracious. I would say they rolled out the red carpet for us. Jate Lobell, he was a rock star by that time. His profile had built up quite a bit from 2-3. Everybody wanted to know Jate, to meet him. It was quite a time."

Did you say Rock Star?

"Yes. Being 16-for-16 at 2 can do that. His reputation grew off that season for sure."

How did you come to get Jate Lobell?

"We went to the Garden State Sale to get a trotter. That year there was a lot of buzz about the first crop of No Nukes. He was well supported. But I knew that No Nukes was fast, but also erratic. Because of that, we weren't looking particularly at his (offspring). It just kind of worked out and he fit into our budget. As it turned out, we wound up with the best one. To be honest with you, we thought we bought a raceway horse, maybe one for the New Jersey Sires Stakes."

Jate was 16-for-16 at 2 the same year Forrest Skipper was 15-for-15 and voted Horse of the Year.

"We hadn't staked him to a lot at 2. He was not Breeders Crown eligible. We did supplement to the Kentucky Pacing Derby and that was a big race for us. By the end of the year it seemed everybody wanted Jate Lobell — Lou Guida included."

Joe McCluskey owned. How was he dealing with all the new found notoriety and attention?

"He was kind of a nervous guy to start with. The pressure was with him mostly, not so much me. I really didn't have any. Especially at 2. Joe was now talking to a lot of people and eventually his new partners. The deal to syndicate him was made between 2 and 3."

For 2 to 3, was there a big difference in Jate Lobell?

"He grew into himself. He never did have the weight I wanted on him, but that was because we raced him a lot back then. Today they have shorter schedules. As a 3-year-old he was not a big horse, but thick and muscular. It seemed that a different horse was coming at him each week at 3. That wasn't the case at 2. One was better than the next. They caught up to him somewhat at 3."

What was Jate Lobell's best quality?

"He covered the ground easily. A natural? Yes. Easy gaited. Light on his feet. You were going faster with him than you felt. From the start, he seemed to do things easier than the others. Ralph Lunsford deserves a lot of the credit early with Jate. Jate was in Florida initially with dad (Frank) but Joe McCluskey had another horse and wanted to be able to see them both train. Lexington was closer to Michigan than Florida. So, that is where he wound up training down at 2.1 didn't get him until a month or so before he raced at Maywood."

"I ddn't know (we won) when we crossed the wire. Frugal Gourmet was on my back and had been getting sharper. It was a great experience." ~ Mark O'Mara

Were you "on the map" prior to Jate Lobell?

"I don't think so. We had done all right up until then. My father might have been, but not me."

Take us to the North America Cup. You were the first odds-on favorite (35 cents on the dollar) in the North America Cup, which was in its fourth year. So, basically, you were supposed to win.

"I didn't know when we crossed the wire. Frugal Gourmet was on my back and had been getting sharper. It was a great experience."

In the fourth straight NA Cup photo, Jate Lobell held on a nose. He returned $2.70 to win in a nine-horse field starting from post 1. The fractions were: :27.3, :55, 1:23.3 and 1:52.3. It was a new NA Cup record by nearly two full seconds.

Jate was seventh in the Meadowlands Pace three weeks later after getting stuck in New Jersey Turnpike traffic earlier.

He wasn't undefeated at 3, but was easily the 3YOCP of the year and banked $1.6 million – for a $2.2 million career that led to the Hall of Fame.

"I'm quite proud of the Hall Of Fame for him. I know he sired three winners of the North America Cup in his first few years (1992-Safely Kept, 1995-Davids Pass and 1997-Gothic Dream) but I am especially proud of the broodmares that are carrying on his name," O'Mara said.

"Jate Lobell was the first horse we had that could go the whole route. Remember that in 1987 I had Firm Tribute as a 2-year-old. Nobody paid much attention to him, but he was second in the 1988 Hambletonian from post 13."

Pepsi North America Cup night stakes analysis

Analysis and selections for all stakes across the rich Pepsi North America Cup card that includes three Pick-5 wagers — two guaranteed at $100,000 — and the mandatory payout of the Jackpot Hi-5.

by Brett Sturman

Saturday is a huge stakes night at Woodbine Mohawk Park, highlighted by the Pepsi North America Cup. There are three Pick-5 wagers on the card. The first two (races 1-5) and the all-stakes one (races 7-11) each have a $100,000 guarantee. The last one (races 9-13) is not guaranteed. There's also a mandatory payout of the Jackpot Hi-5 in race 13.

Here's my picks for the stakes on the card, including my all-stakes Pick-5 ticket. Further handicapping via a special Woodbine program insert is available here.

RACE 5, $100,00 MOHAWK GOLD CUP: INVITATIONAL

FUNATTHEBEACH N is the sports new #1 in the Hambletonian Society/Breeders Crown poll, but will probably be no better than the fifth or sixth wagering choice in this race alone, so go figure. A feel-good story for sure capturing two rich races in dramatic fashion, but he was a non-threatening 7th at odds of 20-1 when last seen here in a free-for-all.

For all the recent talk of horses being excused a couple of starts before trying their best, ALLYWAG HANOVER came out of the gate blasting last week in a race that wasn't much more than a prep for the Gold Cup. He was used not only to make the lead but then again to retake by the half, though he was no match for Bulldog Hanover who put up the mile of his life. JIMMY FREIGHT had been on an absolute tear before running into a hopelessly uphill trip from post 8 last out at Northfield in the Battle of Lake Erie. He was understandably tired towards the end of that mile; can he bounce right back? Prior mile at Western Fair was awesome. WORKIN ONA MYSTERY was overlooked again last out in the Commodore Barry at Philadelphia, and he remains in raging form; class horse is obviously more than capable. LINEDRIVE HANOVER went toe to toe with Carbine last out in a tough first-over trip through fast fractions; is only two races removed from that record 1:49 mile at Flamboro and maybe goes a bit overlooked in this spot. LITTLE ROCKET MAN had a useful prep over the track last week.

Picks: Workin Ona Mystery, Linedrive Hanover, Allywag Hanover

RACE 7, $251,000 GOODTIMES FINAL (START OF $100,000 GUARANTEED PICK-5)

PRETENDER went an interesting trip last week, getting away without much hurry, landing sixth after starting from the rail. Nonetheless, he grinded away first over to give FAST AS THE WIND a challenge before backing away late. That test drive should set him up well for the final; was awesome in capturing the New Jersey Sires Stakes final in May. FAST AS THE WIND is tough to knock and even that race three back looks better than it first did considering what that race's winner Rattle My Cage has gone on to do. Valley Victory winner won't get off as easily to the half this week. TWIN B ARCHIE was able to push by and hold off the pacesetting rival in his elimination off a pocket trip to earn a lifetime best mark of 1:53.1. LOOKS LIKE MONI was stubborn against TWIN B ARCHIE in that elimination last week though his post for the final isn't ideal. WORLD AT WAR DEO had to await clearance though much of the stretch and had visible trot once clear to the outside; likely to be sent early. ARCHERY SEELSTER had some late trot to offer last week and can save ground from the rail.

Picks: Pretender, World At War Deo, Fast As The Wind

RACE 8, $401,000 FAN HANOVER FINAL

SEA SILK has come back as good as she was last year at 2 which saw her conclude that season as runner-up from post 10 in the Breeders Crown and had the look of a killer in her first two races this year in Ohio. She finished solidly last week coming first-up from fifth and I think is best. Key rival TREACHEROUS DRAGON will be favored as she looks to keep her 2022 unbeaten streak intact. A 1:49.1 winner three back, she looked comfortable throughout in her elimination. PROHIBITION LEGAL looks like she'll be MacDonald's pick over elimination winner in #5, and this one was gaining late to the inside of Treacherous Dragon in her elimination after multiple moves and altering course through the stretch. SILVER LABEL got away neatly in her elimination, was buried but then burst through in the stretch to win; Gingras now listed to pick up the drive. WICKEDLY INNOCENT set it up second over in her elimination, didn't exactly accelerate until late and then was caught as the even money favorite; will offer a much bigger price this time around. LYONS SERENITY went a tough first-over trip in her elimination, her second start of the year. QUEEN OF SUCCESS had room to rally up the inside but not the late punch last week.

Picks: Sea Silk, Treacherous Dragon, Silver Label

RACE 9, $211,000 ARMBRO FLIGHT FINAL

If you watched her most recent from the Meadowlands two weeks ago, it would be difficult to go against BELLA BELLINI. In that open, it looked like she had no business winning at the head of the lane while last, and then Miller simply pointed her for clearance in the straightaway and she flew home with seemingly minimal urging with a :25.4 final guarter to rally by and win by a head. Two back, she was beaten just a couple lengths in that 1:49.1 mile from Ecurie D. ATLANTA was closing right alongside Bella Bellini in that aforementioned race and much of the same could be said for her. She was odds-on in that race and I wonder now if favoritism between her and Bellini will be reversed; tremendous matchup coming. WHEN DOVESCRY finally finds a more reasonable spot after having little chance from bad posts in her prior two; qualified back well. It may have been an oddity but HERCULISA did beat Atlanta a month ago on a sloppy track at the Meadowlands when she tracked down that rival fair and square; the post now presents an obvious problem. NEXT LEVEL STUFF may be as good as ever right now. She beat Bella Bellini two back and did well last out to rally belatedly against a 1-5 winner. WESLYNN QUEST was better positioned last year to compete with these.

Picks: Bella Bellini, Atlanta, Next Level Stuff

RACE 10, $315,000 ROSES ARE RED FINAL

Speaking of tremendous matchups, this race pits last year's Horse of the Year TEST OF FAITH against last year's older pacing mare champion LYONS SENTINEL for the first time. TEST OF FAITH won her elimination last week all wrapped up and has the slight post edge on her primary threat; it will be interesting to see how much of a head start she's able to get. That was a monster brush last week through the stretch from LYONS SENTINEL; she was out of position, and it still didn't seem to matter. I thought FIRE START HANOVER was a little short in her elimination last week but still wasn't far off; top-level connections as always. SO MUCH MORE wasn't bad last out to hang in there for second but was never a match for the winner. KOBES GIGI was game at 20-1 to be passed by a pocket puller only to then come back late to regain second; loses Miller though. GIA'S SURREAL should have been able to at least save second in her elimination and I fear is a longshot now. AMAZING DREAM N was favored against similar just two back in the Betsy Ross and now looms a big longshot; was even through the stretch in her elimination.

Picks: Test of Faith, Fire Start Hanover, Lyons Sentinel

RACE 11, $1 MILLION PEPSI NORTH AMERICA CUP

Background for these horses was documented in last week's column seen here. So, what did we learn since then from last week's eliminations? For starters, all systems looked just fine on PEBBLE BEACH. There were some concerns from his drifting across the stretch in his Somebeachsomewhere win two back, but he was as straight as an arrow in winning his North America Cup elimination. He did so in impressive first-over fashion with a final quarter in :26.2 and the road to the North America Cup XXXIX winner's circle still goes through him; my pick. BEACH GLASS delivered in his elimination was the 4-5 favorite, though Gingras did have to chase after him to hang on by a diminishing margin in the end. Trainer MacGrath indicated in the post-race interview that type of race was something he needed, making only his seventh lifetime start, and that he'd benefit from it. He's one of a few that could potentially win, but I'm not as enthusiastic as I was heading into last week; we'll see. NIGHT HAWK battled to brush to the lead and then immediately faced pressure from PEBBLE BEACH and tried to fight that rival through the lane while slowly raced into defeat. It's not surprising that Dave Miller did end up on NIGHT HAWK over fellow Brian Brown-trainee ARIO HANOVER, but I wonder how much of a decision that was. ARIO HANOVER figures to be somewhat of a trendy pick coming off his elimination that saw him fly home in :26.1; a full second faster than the top two in that race. He had solid late pace at Pocono two back as well and picks up Dexter Dunn; would be aided by some type of pace in the race. MAD MAX HANOVER closed okay late in his elimination but couldn't threaten the winner despite riding his cover. I did love his race two back at Pocono and I am surprised that Tetrick opted here in post 10 over I DID IT MYWAY in post 2; telling? KOLBY TWO STEP closed strongly two back to be second against Pebble Beach and did well last week to make the final; he is not without a chance at a huge price if the race sets up for him.

Picks: Pebble Beach, Kolby Two Step, Night Hawk

A deeper dive into Mohawk's attempt to fill fields

by Melissa Keith

Classifying horses when there are fewer to classify is the ongoing challenge for Woodbine Mohawk Park's race secretary. Entries are affected by a range of factors, few more important than the currency exchange. Wednesday, the Canadian dollar was worth .78 American, making even Canada's highest purses a harder sell.

"Yeah, there's no doubt. It's a business, right?" said Tony O'Sullivan. "I first came here in 2000 with Ross Croghan, and Canada was 'the boom.' Our dollar was stronger at some points in the mid-2000s, it was even stronger or at par. So I think that is a factor, and also there's money in most jurisdictions in the U.S. Yonkers obviously is very big. Ohio is really growing. Kentucky has an influx of money."

Writing conditions that suit Mohawk regulars addresses that escalating demand for racing stock.

"It's a juggling act. I mean, we have kind of our staple people who come and race here. We try to be creative with the condition sheet and add these new series and just tweak the conditions a little bit," he said. "Some weeks, it's really good. Some weeks, it's light, but you've just got to keep trying. You obviously can't put anything on that's completely off the wall."

"I talk to trainers. Most of them, you know, they'll call once in a while or shoot a text, and obviously [racetrack] management talk about things. We talk with COSA, the horsemen's association, and just try to get a feel for what people are thinking, and try to accommodate as many trainers and horses of every caliber as we possibly can."

While some owners have expressed dissatisfaction about Mohawk classes online, the feeling isn't unanimous.

Doug Polley Jr. of Amherst, NS co-owns recent winner Wind Blown (p, 5, 1:49.4s; $172,391) with his father Doug Sr., and Gordon and Joann McComb of Paris, ON. The free-legged Mach Three-Wind Warning gelding took a new lifetime mark at the Campbellville track last Friday (June 10).

"At Mohawk, they go by your last five money earnings, and so his last five, he gets to the non-winners of $29,500 class, because he's got over $16,000 made his last five," said Polley Jr., who doesn't hesitate to bring his stock back to the Maritimes if he thinks they fit better.

Harness Racing Update

Wind Blown is a Saturday-night horse, however, on Canada's biggest stage. He's moving up in class on the June 18 North America Cup undercard, following his milestone victory over "non-winners of $8,600 last 5 starts or non-winners of $19,000 last 10 starts; also eligible non-winners $90,000 lifetime."

Polley Jr. observed that his horse stepped up to win at a classification above that which he ideally fit.

"He could have been down to even another class beyond that, but they didn't have a class to give him, so he did win that [higher] class. He was under $8,000 [in earnings for previous 5 starts]. Usually they have a different class for that, but he won, so we can't complain."

The Ben Hollingsworth trainee will now take on "non-winners of $16,000 last 5 starts or non-winners of $29,500 last 10 starts; also eligible $60,000 claimers; non-winners $120,000 lifetime." Polley Jr. said Wind Blown's latest win puts him, "just over that, for the money earnings. He's got like $17,000 made." The experienced owner takes the class jump in stride: "I guess we win every four or five races, probably. There's not much we can say bad about that."

Finding spots for his younger horses is harder, he said.

"Most of them are just not good enough for Mohawk," said Polley Jr., assessing not just his own stable but the horse population in general. "It's very, very tough at Mohawk," which makes winning extra special, according to the horseman who enjoyed considerable success there with recently-retired Rockin In Heaven (p, 6, 1:49.2s; $854,552). "He was an upper-class horse all his life, so again [classification is based on] money earnings. His were always quite high."

For lower-earning horses, the best place to race isn't necessarily a smaller track.

"Grand River drew [last Tuesday] and they were short as well" as Mohawk, O'Sullivan told HRU, adding that all tracks are facing the same issue.

"I think in a nutshell, it's a supply and demand problem: We don't have enough horses to service the amount of race days we have. I think in the short term, with the 2-year-olds coming in and through the season, it should pick up for sure and give us some leeway in what we can do."

He pointed out that horses competing at The Raceway at Western Fair had mainly migrated to smaller tracks, not Mohawk, after the meet at Canada's #2 track by handle concluded last month.

"Now we have Clinton, Hanover, Dresden and Grand River, so that doesn't really help, because there are other spots for those horses to race," said the former trainer. "We don't get a lot from that area. They seem to stick to themselves a little bit, but we certainly get a few of them coming down, and obviously we welcome them."

Grand Circuit horses are also fewer in number than when O'Sullivan himself was training.

In terms of guys from the U.S. coming, I think the staffing issues that every industry is facing are a huge issue. It used to be that a trainer could send a string of horses somewhere and know that they had enough people to take care of them. It seems now that that's not the case. They're sending one person up, and they're hiring help for race nights.

~ Tony O'Sullivan

"In terms of guys from the U.S. coming, I think the staffing issues that every industry is facing are a huge issue," he said. "It used to be that a trainer could send a string of horses somewhere and know that they had enough people to take care of them. It seems now that that's not the case. They're sending one person up, and they're hiring help for race nights."

Horses from jurisdictions with lower purses often improve on the 7/8-mile track, which benefits both their connections and field size.

"We send out texts and tweets and things on the website, but from Mohawk's perspective, I'm writing conditions accommodating pretty much every horse possible," said O'Sullivan. "It would be good if people bring them and see what they can do on the big track, as opposed to thinking that they just purely can't do any good."

Polley Jr. doesn't know O'Sullivan personally, but agreed that it's worth it to roll the dice to see if, and where, a horse belongs in Campbellville.

"You can always find a class, whether it's the right class or not. It snowballs from there, right? Once they get a little confidence, a lot of times they'll get better every race. Mohawk is very fair, really."

Athletes and media participating in tonight's Sportscasters' Charity Derby are good sports

by Debbie Little

They're trading mics for bikes tonight (June 17) at The Meadowlands in the third edition of the Sportscasters' Charity Derby.

Two fields of four pundits will compete in double-seated jog carts accompanied by a professional trainer or driver.

But what made them step off the sidelines and get into the game? The overwhelming answers were for fun and charity.

The Meadowlands will donate $5,000 to the selected charities of the two winning sportscasters. In addition, they will make a $1,000 donation to the charities of the rest of the competitors.

Marc Malusis, sports anchor for PIX11, is competing in the event for the third time, having won the inaugural competition in 2012.

"It is for a great cause, raising money for so many great charities," said Malusis. "Jeff Gural and Rachel Ryan at the Meadowlands are fantastic and they have been great to me and any time that I can be part of something that they are doing, I am all in.

"I am a huge harness and thoroughbred racing fan. It is an amazing experience as you feel the power and the speed and at a world-class track like The Meadowlands, adds to it as well. It is so much fun."

Malusis takes on returning competitor Rebecca Haarlow of MSG Network, and a pair of former pro athletes, Quincy Enunwa (NFL) and Wally Szczerbiak (NBA).

A talented college athlete in her own right, Haarlow has her eyes on the prize.

"I raced in it pre-COVID and had a blast," said Haarlow. "I'm back to win it this year. When I raced in the Sportscaster Derby a couple of years ago, I was blown away at the strength of the horses. When you ride behind them, it is amazing to feel how fast they can run."

It's been a while since Enunwa was a rookie with the New York Jets, but he was game for a new challenge.

"The opportunity to give back while doing something I've never done before influenced my decision to participate," said Enunwa. "I've ridden a couple of horses but I've never sat behind one, so this will be a new experience."

Defending champ from 2019, WFAN's Brandon Tierney, is facing off again with ESPN's Don La Greca as well as a couple of rookies, Pat Leonard of the New York Daily News and SNY's Maria Marino.

"Firstly, it's fun," said Tierney. "It's unique. And it's an avenue to connect with some industry peers and raise money for an incredible cause. My kids love cheering on Daddy and I love seeing their faces light up as we hit the stretch. It's just a terrific event all around.

"A few years ago, I participated in the [Sportscasters] Derby and it was amazing. Such a unique perspective of the track and the power of the animal. It felt like controlled chaos. It was awesome. Uniquely exhilarating."

Leonard is no stranger to the track, but normally for him, there's a betting window involved.

"Talking to Marc Malusis, he said he loves the event," said Leonard. "The kids get into it. I think he won it one year and then the last time they did it prior to COVID, I think his horse finished last and his kids were all laughing at him.

"I view it as an exciting night to come out with my whole family and spend time at the track and, obviously, it's for a good cause, which is the reason that I said yes without even thinking about it."

When asked to compete, Marino did a little research.

"I had to look up what harness racing was and it definitely seemed different than anything I've experienced, so I was a little unsure about trying," said Marino. "But when I saw my other colleagues in sports that had signed up, I thought, if they can do it, I can. Especially for a great cause. That's really what sealed it."

While all the participants would like bragging rights, their real motivation comes from their charities.

Four of the competitors are playing for children-related charities: Make-A-Wish, Ronald McDonald House Charities, Charities...I am a huge harness and thoroughbred racing fan. It is an amazing experience as you feel the power and the speed and at a world-class track like The Meadowlands, adds to it as well. It is so much fun.

~ Marc Malusis

"There's a family in my town whose son has an ongoing battle with cancer," said Leonard. "He's in the same class as my son, who is healthy and six years old, about to graduate kindergarten.

"When I started covering the [NY Football] Giants and I got to know Eli Manning, one of the things I admired most about him was not only that he gave back his time but that he gave it back to kids and pediatric cancer patients. I don't have the funds to build a wing of a hospital as he's done down in Mississippi, but I view this as a small thing that I can do. Obviously, I'm very grateful to The Meadowlands and everybody organizing the event for providing funds to all these charities, but The Golden Lights Foundation specifically, as well."

The remainder of the competitors are playing for: Croatian American Charitable Foundation, Muscular Dystrophy Association, Making Strides Against Breast Cancer and Rescue Dogs Rock NYC.

"Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) is the #1 voluntary health organization in the United States for people living with muscular dystrophy, ALS, and related neuromuscular diseases," said Enunwa. "For over 70 years, MDA has led the way in accelerating research, advancing care, and advocating for the support of our families. MDA's mission is to empower the people we serve to live longer, more independent lives."

Marino's charity holds a special meaning for her twice over.

"My sister Antoinette became involved with fundraising for American Cancer Society after her breast cancer diagnosis in 2016," said Marino. "She passed in 2020, but always maintained hope for improving the lives of others through the work of ACS and other such organizations. She was also a fighter, and I try to remember and embody her spirit when I have the chance to make even a small difference.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital and The Golden Lights Foundation.

"Make-A-Wish is awesome," said Malusis. "My wife Donna and I love what they do. They make children's wishes and dreams come true as they are dealing with critical illnesses. They have been around for 42 years and making wishes come true for children and their families. It helps in the mental and emotional wellbeing. Eighty-seven per cent of Wish alumni say their wish was a turning point in their treatment and gave them the strength to fight their illness. Just an amazing charity doing great work."

La Greca's charity also includes a family focus.

"Ronald McDonald House helps families with a sick child," said La Greca. "[It gives parents] a place to stay near or at the hospital while their child is getting treatment."

Tierney has practically had a life-long relationship with St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

"I have always had a special connection with St. Jude, stemming back from seventh grade when I chose Jude as my Confirmation name," said Tierney. "It's an amazing, tireless charity. Anything for the kids. As a father of two, I am blessed to have healthy children. That is not lost on me."

Leonard also has a personal connection to The Golden Lights Foundation that benefits children with cancer.

"Adding another layer to this, is that Antoinette introduced me to my fiancé Stephen Cavanaugh, an employee of ACS, who now manages Making Strides of Central Park in NYC. I know Antoinette would continue to be proud of and appreciate his daily impact."

Haarlow's charity has a place in her heart and her home.

"Rescue Dogs Rock NYC is a charity that I hold near to my heart because they take in the dogs that are suffering the most from abuse and neglect and give them a second chance at life," said Haarlow. "My pug, Dillon, is a rescue and it is the most incredible bond. I am racing to bring awareness to a beautiful cause and can't wait to see many more dogs placed in loving homes after being given the best emergency care from Rescue Dogs Rock NYC."

When asked if they thought there would be any trash talking connected to this competition the responses were mixed.

"I'm not expecting any, but I never shy away from the fun if somebody decides to start," said Enunwa.

"Of course, we all work in sports... let the trash talking begin," said Harlow.

"No, just trying to survive," said La Greca.

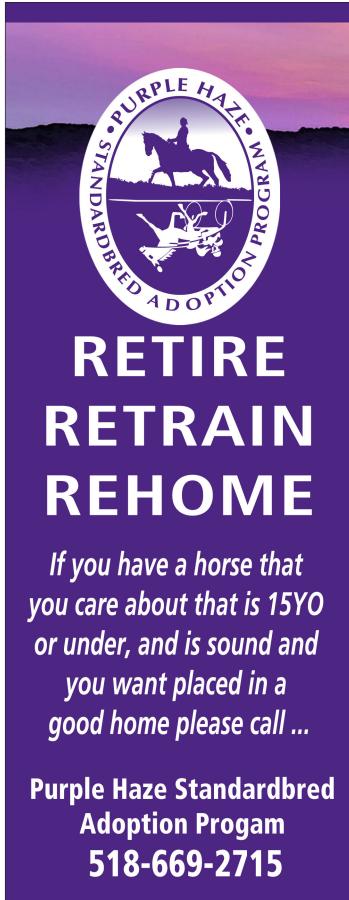

"[Maria and I] have spoken about the fact that Malusis and Tierney both have won before," said Leonard. "So, we are well aware of the pedigree of those in front of us and also how sweet it will be when, obviously, I finish in first."

"Of course there is going to be trash talking," said Malusis. "I have worked with BT, Maria and Pat in the past. We are friends and I am sure we will mix it up a bit. But, the reality is, I got taunted by my own kids after the last Sportscasters' Derby when I finished in last place. I need to make amends on June 17th or else I will hear about it until next year."

"I think I saw online that Brandon Tierney was a winner [in 2019] and he's racing against me so maybe he is the "team to beat," said Marino. "I'm super competitive but in this instance, I don't think I have much control during the race itself, so I'll probably resist the urge to trash talk, though I will enjoy bragging if I do win."

"I'm sure we'll sling around some barbs in the locker room before we hit the track, but it's all in good fun," said Tierney. "I've known some of the competitors for years. It's a terrific group of talented, civic-minded people looking to change things for the good. To bring smiles and necessary funds to great, great causes. But hell yeah, I want to win. And expect to win."

Illinois racing resuming at the State Fairgrounds

Harness racing will be featured at the Illinois State Fairgrounds for 10 days of non-betting weekend action funded by the Hawthorne purse account.

by Neil Milbert

The decision by corporate owner Churchill Downs Inc. to terminate racing at historic and palatial Arlington International Racecourse not only has had a devastating impact on Illinois thoroughbred racing it also has crippled harness racing in the state.

Trying to make the worst of a bad situation, with the support of the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Association (IHHA) and the Illinois Department of Agriculture, Hawthorne Racecourse is bookending its upcoming pari-mutuel harness meeting with 10 days of non-betting weekend racing at the Illinois State Fairgrounds in Springfield, about 175 miles to the south.

Hawthorne will dip into its purse account to provide the primary source of funding for the Friday and Saturday afternoon races at Springfield on June 17, 18, 24 and 25, Sept. 16, 17, 23, 24 and 30 and Oct. 1.

The second and last of this year's two harness meetings under the lights at Hawthorne will be held from June 30-Sept. 11.

The top drivers and trainers at the first meeting from Feb. 3-March 20 are coming for the four days at Springfield that will preface the return of the pacers and trotters to Hawthorne, the only pari-mutuel harness track in Illinois with an extended meeting and the lone thoroughbred track in the Chicago metropolitan area.

Under a time-sharing arrangement mutually approved by the IHHA and the Illinois Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association (ITHA), the thoroughbreds began their first Hawthorne meeting on April 2 and it will run through June 25. Their second meeting is scheduled from Sept. 23-Dec. 31.

Harness horsemen also will have late summer pari-mutuel opportunities conducted under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture at the State Fairs — Aug. 11, 12, 13, 17 and 18 at Springfield and Aug. 26 and 27 at DuQuoin.

Harness Racing Update

"We've added a Thursday (Aug. 11) this year," said Tim Norman, the department's Bureau Chief of County Fairs and Horse Racing.

That will be one of four dates at Springfield and DuQuoin when there is no racing at Hawthorne.

When the sister harness tracks, Maywood Park and Balmoral Park, were forced out of business after their 2015 meetings (as a consequence of the Illinois Racing Board approving a 2016 schedule jointly submitted by unlikely allies Arlington and Hawthorne) Hawthorne synchronized its standardbred schedule with the thoroughbred meetings at Arlington, conducting racing from May through September.

But in 2019 — the same year the Illinois legislature legalized casino gambling at racetracks — Churchill Downs Inc. (CDI) bought a 62 per cent interest in Rivers Casino. It is the biggest money-maker of the state's 10 casinos and is located less than 10 miles from Arlington, described by Architectural Digest as "the world's most beautiful racetrack."

The acquisition made Arlington expendable. CDI obviously didn't want its own racino competing with its cash cow in Illinois so the parent corporation put the property up for sale with the stipulation that the new owner refrain from conducting racing.

A deal with the Chicago Bears is pending and the NFL team is expected to tear down the track and replace it with a state-of-the-art football stadium.

Hawthorne, meanwhile, is in the process of renovating its clubhouse and grandstand in order to become a racino that would help fund purses but the project is going painfully slow and — instead of being completed this year as originally planned — it won't open until next year or conceivably later.

In view of the circumstances, horsemen regard the additional racing opportunities at the Springfield Fairgrounds this month and in September and October as a godsend.

"When we were negotiating the season because of Hawthorne being the only facility and us sharing it with the thoroughbreds this was an idea that came up," said IHHA executive director Tony Somone. "It gives us an extra 10 days of racing.

"Logistically, it's not easy to pull off. Hawthorne has to rent the place and basically run the meetings."

Heading the VIP list of drivers are Casey Leonard and Kyle Wilfong.

Leonard's six-year reign as the Hawthorne champion came to an end at the winter/spring meeting when he finished second to the perennial runnerup Wilfong. This time Wilfong won 54 of the 234 races in which he drove and Leonard had 49 winners in 243 outings.

Casey's father, Terry Leonard, won his fourth trainer title in five years, and Kyle's fiancé, Nicole Agosti, tied for fourth.

In the forefront of the Leonard contingent is Fox Valley Gemini, a winner of a championship race on Hawthorne's Night of Champions — the main event in Illinois racing — for five straight years. The 7-year-old gelding owned by Jim Ballinger will be competing in the fifth race on opening day at Springfield, a one-mile open pace for Illinois conceived and foaled open pacers that has a purse of $8,500.

The Leonard stable is based at Terry's farm in northern Illinois, while Kyle's father, Brett Wilfong has moved his racing headquarters from Illinois to a farm near Harrah's Hoosier Park.

"We're sending a trailer-load of horses to race at Springfield," Brett said. "If we can have three, four, five of them race in one day it makes it reasonable with gas prices being what they are. We're taking horses that we think can be first, second or third.

"All three of us — myself, Nicole and Kyle — are going to work together to make it happen there and at Hawthorne. Kyle has had a very successful meeting at Hoosier so far and we have a few racing there. We've done a little racing in Kentucky — we haven't done that well there but we haven't taken our better horses there."

Like Kyle Wilfong, Casey Leonard has been competing at Hoosier and he welcomes the slightly shorter trip to Springfield (about 190 miles versus 225) and the significantly shorter trip to Hawthorne (about 75 miles).

"It has been a grind driving up and down the road to Hoosier," Leonard said. "It's tough on my help and tough on the horses.

"What happened with Arlington combined with inflation has been a perfect storm that has hurt people and negatively affected their pocketbooks. I think (Hawthorne's Assistant General Manager) John Walsh has done as good a job as could be done in accommodating both breeds."

The possibility of rainstorms at Springfield and DuQuoin during the mini-meetings is a major worry for horsemen because the tracks can't cope as well as Hawthorne.

"At Springfield our biggest fear is the weather and on top of that you have the two State Fairs," Leonard said. "If we get rained out more than two times it would really screw up our schedules. It's already a tight schedule for the 2-year-olds and the 3-year-olds aren't getting as many opportunities as they did before. This is so much different than anything we've had to deal with."

BLACK DRIVERS KEY TO RACING'S SUCCESS

Racing at the 27 Illinois county fairs that began June 3 and will continue through Sept. 7 has taken on added importance.

For many years a contingent of black drivers and trainers, most of whom are from Mississippi, has played an integral role on the fair circuit.

"Quite frankly those Mississippi guys kept us on the map when there was no state money available in 2015, 2016 and 2017 and things were going badly," Norman said.

Last June 19, Hawthorne paid tribute to the contributions made by black drivers by holding a Juneteenth Celebration race in which 10 of them competed. The race was won by Todd's Party, a 4-year-old gelding driven by his trainer, Jamaica Patton. Mayor Virgin, with Terry Skinner at the reins, came in second and Coach Loman, driven by Archie Buford was third. The other drivers were Freddie Patton Jr., Jordan Patton, Cornelius Cavett, Cordarius Stewart, Jamaal Denson, Marcus Stewart, Terry Skinner and Hosea Williams (a member of the IHHA board of directors).

(Juneteenth commemorates the date in 1865 when federal troops arrived to take control of Texas — the last U.S. state in which slavery was practiced — and free the Black men and women still held in bondage two years after the Emancipation Proclamation and two months after the surrender of General Robert E. Lee that ended the Civil War).

Now, the torch has been passed to Springfield and a Juneteenth race featuring all Black drivers will be held Saturday.

"We have close to 40 trainers (based a Springfield)," Norman said. "That's more trainers than we've had in a long time. There are more horses, too. Herman Wheeler (a Black trainer from Louisiana) has come for the first time in a long time.

"Jamaica Patton is the trainer with the most horses. He has about 30 head."

Jamaica is a 40-year-old native of Clinton, MS, who began driving at fairs in his home state as a teenager. He came to Illinois to drive and train when he was in his early 20s and never left.

During the summer time he is a man in motion.

"I go to most of the county fairs and I do some racing at Hawthorne," he said. "At least 15 of my horses are Illinois-breds.

I also try to do The Red Mile, Oak Grove and Hoosier Park and I have one horse I plan to go to a few Ohio fairs with.

"I have some horses I take to the fairs to get experience but some others I have just for the fairs. Some of my owners like to go to the fairs and see their horses race.

"Being here in Springfield (for races this month) is great. I wish there was more racing here so I wouldn't have to do so much driving. I'm living in Illinois and my main thing is to support the program. The best year I ever had was 2020. Last year I held my own but it wasn't a great season."

Jamaica's 58-year-old uncle, Freddie Patton, Jr., has thrived on the fair circuit and, like Jamaica, he has had success in major Illinois-bred pari-mutuel races, most notably in 2016 with Princess Sage, a horse he co-owned (with breeder Keli Jo Bell), trained and drove. With Freddie at the reins, Princess Sage won the Incredible Tillie for 2-year-old filly pacers on Hawthorne's Night of Champions and went on to be crowned 2016 Illinois Harness Horse of the Year.

Freddie has about 65 horses in his stable and uses DuQuoin (approximately 155 miles south of Springfield and 325 miles south of Hawthorne) as his Illinois training base. His trainer/driver sons, Cornelius Cavett and Jordan Patton, also are there.

After the Illinois season winds up in the fall, Freddie, goes back to his Mississippi farm to train and race his horses in non-betting outings.

Roshun Trigg is another decorated member of the Mississippi brigade who has been returning home to the region around Jackson for the winter for many years before heading north to race at the Illinois fairs and Hawthorne and earlier at Balmoral and Maywood. The 45-year-old has taken training titles at the county fairs and at DuQuoin and in 2017 his colt Louscipher reigned as Illinois male Trotter of the Year.

While Black trainers and drivers are few and far between in most harness racing jurisdictions in the U.S. and Canada, they are flourishing in Illinois. Not only have they won innumerable races they have won great respect across a wide spectrum in the state's standardbred community.

"These are good, good people," said Leon Walker, a white trainer expressing the consensus. "They're quality guys. I'm always rooting for them.

"They love their work and they work day and night. They're up in the morning training their horses at the (Springfield) Fairgrounds and they come up to Hawthorne and race at night.

"In this business we need people like them."

photos, it just makes me smile. When I look at the pictures, I think the one thing that comes to mind is how proud I am of them. I do it for the horses. That saying, 'Do what you love, and you never work a day in your life,' it really resonates with me. That's exactly how I feel."

It was during her early days when she was employed by Hanover that the thought of working with pacers and trotters first came to mind.

"I worked at Hanover Raceway starting in 2018 and I fell in love with racing," said McTeer, who took Equine Care and Management

Justine McTeer stunned to be honored as Groom of the Week at Hanover Raceway

by Chris Lomon

It was only fitting that Justine McTeer had to take the good news in stride... literally.

The paddock at Hanover Raceway was bustling and the young horsewoman, the one who had to ready three horses for their respective races that day, was in the zone, focused on each task at hand.

When she was approached with the news that she had been selected as 'Groom of the Week' at Hanover Raceway, the half-mile track celebrating its 58th Anniversary of pari-mutuel wagering in 2022, McTeer had only a few seconds to process the words she had just heard.

"We had three horses in on the Saturday in Hanover when the track opened for the season. I was literally running around between all three of them, trying to get them ready, making sure everything was done right for their races. I believe it was the paddock judge who came up to me and asked, 'Are you Justine? We've just awarded you Groom of the Week.' I was stunned. I remember I said, 'Okay, that's amazing... but I'll be right back because I have to go get another horse harnessed.' It was great news, but I had to go take care of the horse. When I finally had a moment to let it sink in, I it was a great feeling to be recognized in that way."

It's by no means a stretch or a pun to say that the start of her standardbred career has been picture-perfect.

Working in the barn of Shawn Hyatt, the 22-year-old McTeer, who has been riding horses since she was 12, has played an integral role in the outfit's success.

"I've only been working with Shawn for a month, but I've been lucky to have eight win photos on my wall. That's such a great feeling. Every time I look at those

I see people like Lindsey Kerr and Cassidy Schneider, and I would love to follow in their footsteps. This is a male-dominated industry, so I would like to be a trainer, and I want to get the word out that women can do this too, that we can aspire to be trainers.

at the University of Guelph. "Watching them race – my job was track maintenance – and seeing them walk down the paddock, and people getting the horses ready, seeing how calm the horses were, all of it just really fascinated me. With horses, you can tell when they love their job, and so many horses I saw loved what they were doing. I just wanted to be part of that."

McTeer, who hails from Walkerton, a picturesque Ontario town situated on the banks of the Saugeen River, is certainly glad she made that decision.

She's developed strong bonds with the horses in the Hyatt barn, grateful for the opportunity to work with them one-on-one and the chance to learn more about their personalities.

"You're with them every day and you feel that connection with them. I've been racing almost every night, but I am in no way complaining. I truly love it. We race all over southwestern Ontario. We go to Georgian, Grand River, Clinton, Western Fair, Flamboro.

McTeer is looking to build upon her current groom role and eventually become a licensed trainer.

For now, she'll continue to do an abundance of homework on the industry.

"I've only been in racing two years, so I'm still trying to get a handle on things, like the different classes and races, where each horse belongs where. Some do well on a half-mile track, others do better on a five-eighths track. I'm trying to learn everything about that. My goal is to become a trainer. I'd like to get my license and have my own stable."

McTeer has several role models who act as an inspiration for achieving that goal.

She would like to see more female trainers in the sport.

"I see people like Lindsey Kerr and Cassidy Schneider, and I would love to follow in their footsteps. This is a male-dominated industry, so I would like to be a trainer, and I want to get the word out that women can do this too, that we can aspire to be trainers."

When she isn't appearing in win photos or travelling to various tracks throughout the province, McTeer makes time for one particular hobby outside of her hectic schedule.

Not surprisingly, it is an equine-related pursuit.

"I have a riding horse, so I go out on different trails. My life literally consists of horses, and that is just fine with me. Every day I'm on my horse or working at the barn, I'm truly happy."

It's easy to see why she would feel that way, especially with Hyatt having already set career-best seasonal marks in wins and earnings.

McTeer is hoping for the good fortune to continue, and with it, the chance to place some new win photos on her wall.

"It really is hard to put into words what it means to see yourself standing with those horses. That's the best part, that you get to be in the picture. Your name isn't on the photo, but you get to have your picture taken with them and that's so great. It is the best feeling you can have. Like I said, everything I do, I do it for them. They are just amazing in every single way."

Stoletheshow incorruptible in Oslo

by Thomas Hedlund

Frode Hamre drove his Stoletheshow in the $250,000 Oslo Grand Prix at Bjerke racetrack on Sunday (June 12) afternoon and the 7-year-old Dream Vacation son was outstanding when Hamre hit the lead shortly after the start.

Stoletheshow was not far from entering the Elitloppet in late May, but one can guess that the victory in Sunday's race at home at Bjerke made up for the lost ticket to Elitloppet. And Stoletheshow looked unstoppable in front for Hamre.

The spectators might have considered him out of the game when Stoletheshow hit the first kilometer in a mile rate of 1:53.3, but Hamre had plenty of gas to use in the last turn and he made a decision trying to leave the chasers some lengths behind him at the top of the home stretch. Stoletheshow sprinted to a safe win in a mile rate of 1:53.2 and the driver and trainer was very satisfied after the big triumph.

"Winning the Oslo Grand Prix is by far the biggest experience I've had in this game. My horse was very strong in the last turn and I really wanted to get some lengths advantage to my opponents. I felt pretty safe and sure that we would win," Hamre said after the win.

Hamre claimed the title in Oslo Grand Prix for the third year in a row. His Ble du Gers won the race in 2020 and 2021.

First choice San Moteur went off stride when the car left the field, but repaired strongly as runner up while Cicero T.G. finished third.

SET FOR BIG RACES SATURDAY

The $165,000 Kymi Grand Prix in Finland and $190,000 Norrbottens Stora Pris in Sweden, both races for the older elite, are scheduled this Saturday (June 18) and there are some high level trotters that enter the tracks in northern Europe.

Kymi Grand Prix in Finnish Kouvola over 2,100 meters gathers 10 horses, among them French-bred and trained title defender Ce Bello Romain.

In Boden, Don Fanucci Zet will be the probable favorite over 2,140 meters, even if he struggles with a bad post (7) behind the gate.

Instagram Model clicks in qualifying debut Wednesday at Magical Acres

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Instagram Model, a 2-year-old female trotter purchased for $350,000 at last fall's Lexington Selected Sale, made her qualifying debut Wednesday at Magical Acres, and got around the training center's five-eighths-mile oval in 2:03.1 to win for trainer Annie Stoebe and owner Lynn Curry.

Instagram Model, bred by Steve Jones and Ray Schnittker, is a daughter of Chapter Seven out of Check Out Trixie. Instagram Model's second dam is Schnittker's former star Check Me Out, a two-time Dan Patch Award winner, and her dam is a half-sister to Schnittker's 2021 Dan Patch Award-winning male trotter King Of The North.

"We got what we wanted today," Curry said. "Scott did a really nice job with her. It's her first qualifying race, and that always makes me the most nervous. When you get a baby this far, it answers a lot of questions. Today she did fine. We'll see where the next one is."

Instagram Model was the 12th most expensive trotting yearling sold at the Lexington Selected Sale in 2021. Curry worried he might not get the filly after watching five trotters sell for at least $400,000 — including auction-topper Exile at $800,000 — in the group prior to Instagram Model, who was Hip No. 72.

"Early on, I really didn't think I would have a shot at her," Curry said. "I wanted her badly from the beginning, but I thought she would be up in that area. Believe me, when the hammer came down, we were a thrilled trainer and owner."

Instagram Model is one of four horses owned by Curry, who bought his first in 2020.

"The minute we put (Instagram Model) on the track, she goes to work," Curry said. "She loves the track. She doesn't play around like babies do, and she's been that way since we've had her. Today was a positive day, but there are a ton of great trotting fillies out there. This is just day one."

Linda Toscano led all trainers in wins with the 2-year-olds on Wednesday, posting triumphs with male pacers Fulton and Everybodyloveslou plus female pacer Cultured.

Fulton won his second time out in 1:57.1, the fastest mile of the morning among the freshmen. Last week, the homebred colt was timed in 2:00.2. Fulton (Heston Blue Chip—Bettor Be Steamin) is owned by Let It Ride Stables and Bottom Line Racing.

Everybodyloveslou, another homebred colt, won in 1:57.2 for owners Purple Haze Stables and Conrad Zurich. He is a son of Sweet Lou out of Beach Body and a full brother to Grand Circuit winner Somesweetsomewhere.

Cultured (Captaintreacherous—Fine Art) won in 1:57.2 for owners The Bay's Stable, Two Horseman Stable, Fred Wallace, and Jaf Racing. She was bred by Diamond Creek Farm and purchased for $120,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale. Her dam is a three-quarter sister to Heart Of Mine, a Grand Circuit winner and multiple winner in the New York Sire Stakes.

Scott Zeron drove all three of Toscano's winners.

"All three of them were good," Toscano said. "I don't know what they are, but they've done their work and they've done everything right from the beginning. That's all we can hope for at this point.

"Fulton, last week we raced him up the inside and he had sneaky pace finishing. He was good. He had good pace finishing, so that's all I really cared about. Cultured is a lovely filly and is out of a really good family. I love my Captaintreacherous fillies. You have to keep your fingers crossed when it comes to them because they can be anything.

"Everybodyloveslou has been about the nicest horse you could have training down. I'd have been disappointed if he didn't go good because he's been such a nice horse training down. Now, they just have to be able to elevate it and go against the big ones. I know they can go with mine, now they have to go against other people's."

Fulton is expected to make his next appearance in an overnight at Harrah's Philadelphia while Everybodyloveslou and Cultured will qualify at The Meadowlands.

Rounding out the winners among 2-year-olds were female pacers Devilish Dreams, trained by Noel Daley, and Summer Flame, trained by Nik Drennan; male pacers Train Station, trained by Chris Ryder, and Vici, trained by Brett Pelling; and female trotter Angelpedia, trained by Chuck Sylvester.

Devilish Dreams, who was fourth in a qualifier last week when she came home in :27 to be timed in 1:58.2, won Wednesday in 1:57.2, final quarter in :27.3, for owner Morrison Racing Stables and driver Andy McCarthy. The daughter of Lazarus N—Dreamingofwichita was bred by Kentuckiana Farms and sold for $35,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale. Her dam is a half-sister to A Rocknroll Dance, who earned $2.42 million lifetime.

Summer Flame, also making her second appearance, won in 1:57.4 for owners Joseph Davino, Brad Shackman, Drennan Stable, and Anthony Perretti Farm. Last week, the homebred daughter of Always B Miki—Lover's Dream finished third in 2:02. James O'Donnell was in the sulky for both starts. Summer Flame's dam is a three-quarter sister to last year's Cane Pace winner Rockyroad Hanover.

Train Station (Roll With Joe—Also Encouraging) won in 1:58.2 in his debut for owner Robert Mondillo. He was bred by Stephen Dey III and purchased for $25,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale. His dam was a Grand Circuit winner. He was driven by Patrick Ryder.

Vici (Lazarus N—Triple V Hanover) won in 1:58.2 for owners Buckstone Land Livestock and Mondillo and driver Todd McCarthy. A week ago, he was third, timed in 2:01. Vici was bred by Donald Robinson, Michael Robinson, Steve Stewart, and James Daut. Purchased for $210,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale, he is a half-brother to Fulsome, a two-time winner on the Pennsylvania stakes circuit.

Angelpedia (Cantab Hall—Baker Black Jet) won in 2:01.1 in her debut for owners Gilbert Short and Ross Stables. She was bred by Ross Stables and sold for $35,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale. Andy McCarthy was in the sulky Wednesday.

Bluebird Bishop, Ponda Adventure capture ISS divisions at Harrah's Hoosier Park

by Emily Gaskin / Harrah's Hoosier Park

It was the 3-year-old trotting colts and geldings turn in the Indiana Sires Stakes spotlight at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino as they squared off on Wednesday (June 15) in the second round of stakes action.

Two $48,500 divisions were featured on the evening's 13-race card.

In the first division, Bluebird Bishop and Sam Widger came out on top after an uncharacteristic break by the heavily favored Dover In Motion just steps before the wire. With a final time of 1:54.1, Bluebird Bishop is now undefeated in four starts this season.

Leaving from post seven, Widger sent Bluebird Bishop away from the gate but he wouldn't get to the lead until just before the half in :56.3. Just as Bluebird Bishop settled in on the front, Ricky Macomber Jr. had Dover In Motion pointed to the front and he would lead the field through the three-quarters in 1:25.2. Dover In Motion was on top with a two length lead but went off stride just steps before the wire and Bluebird Bishop inherited the victory. Adamsville Road and Trace Tetrick trotted evenly to finish second while Dover In Motion was placed third. Bluebird Bishop returned $16.40 to his backers at the betting windows.

Trained by Jeff Edwards, the son of Swan For All—Little Revenue has now amassed $61,350 in lifetime purse earnings. Bluebird Bishop is owned in partnership by Denise Dennis and John Johannsen.

Ponda Adventure continued his own winning ways in the second division of the stakes action as he captured his second straight victory of the season in two seasonal starts. With regular pilot Trace Tetrick in the bike, Ponda Adventure dictated fractions of :28.1, :57, and 1:25.3 before employing a :27.4 closing kick to get the win. Ponda Adventure stopped the timer in 1:53.2 to establish a new lifetime best and finish nearly two lengths in front of the pocket-sitting Sweet Boy Ben and Peter Wrenn. Late Nite Hawk and Kyle Wilfong rounded out the trifecta. As the heavy 1-9 favorite, Ponda Adventure returned $2.20 at the betting windows.

Trained by Erv Miller, the gelded son of Swan For All—Wildflower is now two for two this season and has won 10 of 12 lifetime outings. Owned by Engel Stb of Ill LLC, L.A. Willinger, and J.D. Graham, Ponda Adventure pushed his lifetime bankroll to $320,718.

SOPHOMORE TROTTING FILLIES IN THE ISS SPOTLIGHT AT HOOSIER PARK

Indiana-sired 3-year-old trotting fillies were the featured attraction at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino on Tuesday (June 14) as the evening's 13-race card was highlighted by two $47,500 Indiana Sires Stakes divisions for the sophomore trotters.

M-M's Dream and Sam Widger were the first the find the winner's circle in the opening division of the stakes action. Stopping the timer in 1:53.4, M-M's Dream trotted strong to the wire to fend off the pocket-sitting Luv Lorelei and get the win by a length. Luv Lorelei and Robert Taylor finished second while Swan Trixie and Peter Wrenn also rallied well for third. Sent off as the heavy betting favorite, M-M's Dream returned $3.00 to her backers at the betting windows. With the win, M-M's Dream established a new lifetime best and is now two for two this season.

Trained by Henry Graber, the daughter of Swan For All—Trading Places has now earned $315,462 in lifetime purse earnings while winning eight of 10 lifetime starts. M-M's Dream is owned in partnership by Eleven Star Stable, Hillside Stables and Frank Baldachino and was bred by Mervin J. Miller.

In the second division, Bluebird Dove also continued her winning ways and delivered as the heavy 1-5 favorite. With Peter Wrenn in the bike, Bluebird Dove kicked home with a :26.4 closing quarter to track down the pace-setting Call Me Dani and Sam Widger to get the win by nearly two lengths. Bluebird Dove stopped the timer in 1:52.3 and established a new lifetime best in the process. Jusmakinyalook and Jordan Ross rallied well for second while Call Me Dani held on for third. As the heavy betting favorite, Bluebird Dove returned $2.60 at the betting windows.

Trained by Melanie Wrenn, Bluebird Dove has now won three of six lifetime starts. The daughter of Swan For All—Goosebump Hanover pushed her lifetime bankroll to $62,200 for owners L&L Devisser LLC and David McDuffee. Bluebird Dove was bred by Daryl Miller.

Indiana Sires Stakes action will continue at Harrah's Hoosier Park on Wednesday, June 15 with two divisions of stakes action for the three-year-old trotting colts and geldings. For more information on live racing at Harrah's Hoosier Park, guests are encouraged to visit www.harrahshoosierpark.com.

Double Deceiver, Dandy deliver in PASS at Pocono

by PHHA / Pocono

Dandy became a double Pennsylvania Sire Stakes winner in his 3-year-old trotting colt division, while Double Deceiver showed equal gameness and a faster time as these two won their $66,554 sections of the PASS second prelim for the group Sunday (June 12) at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono.

In Double Deceiver's 1:53 victory, Kosher Mahoney went to the lead ahead of That Ole Bar Stool (a Sires winner in the first leg) and Ducasse, then saw those two briefly ponder moving early and then going back in after the :28 quarter. This gave Kosher Mahoney a chance to get a breather to a :57.2 half, but then it was time to accelerate as the Cantab Hall gelding Double Deceiver came out raw before the 5/8 and trotted his own third panel in :27 to be up to challenge the leader just past the 1:25 three-quarters.

Double Deceiver appeared to get a head ahead mid-far turn, but Kosher Mahoney fought back to equal terms in early stretch. However, David Miller was able to get more out of Double Deceiver late, and the pair crossed the wire three-quarters of a length ahead of Kosher Mahoney. It was only the second start of the season for the winner of $281,498, who is trained by Carter Pinske for Pinske Stables and Makenna Lynn Pinske.

A rain shower passed over the track during the warmups of the second division, but the wetness did not dampen the determination of Dandy, who gave sire Cantab Hall a Sires double as he won by a neck in 1:54.1, a new mark.

Driver/owner Jackie Ingrassia held Dandy mid-pack early as Donzel Hanover set fractions of :27.2 and :57.1, nearing the latter fraction moving her colt to the outside. She picked up cover in the middle of the backstretch from S I P, last year's Pennsylvania two-year-old champion who upped the tempo to 1:24.4 at the three-quarters with his challenge, with Dandy hustling to stay with his cover (his own third quarter was :27.1) and then tipping wide into the lane.

Dandy and S I P had a big battle through the stretch, and the one-mindedness of Dandy, who digs in all the way to the wire in every race, served him well here as he beat the defending champ by a neck; Pour Mea Double, weaving through stretch traffic in tight quarters, just missed in the picture for second.

Dandy had a 5-1-0-2 scorecard for $9,027 and a 1:59.4 mark at 2, but the development and pluckiness of the Frank Ingrassia trainee is reflected his seasonal log: 7-4-2-0, with earnings approaching six figures before the halfway point of the season.

STALLION SERIES

There were three keys to winning the two $20,000 Stallion Series divisions: 1) drop from the Sire Stakes; 2) make a quartermove; 3) have a big lead mid-stretch, then just hold off a late charger.

The faster StS winner was the Explosive Matter gelding Andoverthewinnings, who lowered his mark to 1:55.2 while being guided by Corey Callahan. Andoverthewinnings moved at the :27.3 quarter and took over in front of the stands before reaching the half in :57. First-over Capricious One made a bold surge near the 1:25.4 three-quarters and was alongside the leader when the challenger broke in the stretch – but the winner and Callahan, now clear, still had to be alert as Mrmayor Hanover found his best strides late in the Pocono Pike, only to come up a head shy on the money (and have the lead two steps past the finish). John Butenschoen trains the winner for Claude Gendreau Stable Inc.

The Cantab Hall gelding Bigly was outside from the pocket at the :27.2 quarter in the other division, then went on to command and got a rest to a :58.1 half for driver/trainer Aaron Johnson. Bigly opened a big lead past the 1:27.2 three-quarters, but Crazy Supersport kept narrowing in during the last quarter, coming up just a half-length shy at the end of the 1:56.4 mile. The winner is now 4-for-7 this season for owners Jennifer Johnston and Brian Taylor.

Braxten Boyd, now seventh in the Pocono drivers' standings, continues to impress, with the 22-year-old turning in a four-bagger Sunday.

Empire Breeders Classic Trots at Vernon today

New York's finest 3-year-old trotters will converge on Vernon Downs this afternoon (June 17) to contest the Empire Breeders Classic (EBC), sponsored by the Agriculture & New York State Horse Breeding Development Fund, NY Stallion Owners, Tioga Downs & Vernon Downs.

Seven daughters of the state's leading sire of trotters, Chapter Seven, will face the starting gate in race 5 for a purse of $187,500.

Joviality S has been superb throughout her career with victories in the New York Sires Stakes (NYSS) final, Breeders Crown final and Goldsmith Maid last year at two resulting in earnings just shy of $900,000 for the interests of Anders Strom via his nom de course of Courant, Incorporated.

She has come back powerfully at age 3, with a pair of NYSS wins including a shockingly easy career best of 1:51.2 in her last over the Vernon oval on May 30. Brian Sears returns to the scene of his early lessons to drive Joviality S from post position five for trainer Marcus Melander.

The competition is led by Crawford Farms' accomplished Valentina Blu, who consistently brings her "A" game and has earned over a third of a million dollars in her young career for trainer Tony Alagna. Andy McCarthy plots her course from post seven.

The EBC colts number eight and will come along in race 7 for an identical amount of $187,500.

Branded By Lindy (Yannick Gingras) currently sits atop the "Road to the Hambletonian" poll and has had one over the course with a 1:54.1 win last week in what was his first start of the season. He is the fastest of the field with a record of 1:52 taken at The Red Mile last fall for trainer Domenico Cecere. Lindy Farms bred and owns the precocious Chapter Seven colt who carries the Antonacci family's hopes for another Hambletonian win.

Slay (Alagna/Tim Tetrick), Justice (Ake Svanstedt) and Cool Papa Bell (Sears/Jim Campbell) will present legitimate competition for the EBC hardware.

New York Sires Stakes 3-year-old filly pacers are on the undercard.

Racing gets underway with the matinee post time of 12:15 p.m.

Anders Bluestone offspring dominate DSBF

Four $20,000 Delaware Standardbred Breeders Fund (DSBF) divisions for 3-year-old trotters headlined the Wednesday (June 15) program at Harrington Raceway with Anders Bluestone-sired horses winning all but one split.

In the first DSBF event on the card, six fillies lined up behind the gate with heavily favored Pam Wagner's She's All Woman ($2.10,Victor Kirby) triumphing in wire-to-wire fashion in 2:02.2 over True Blue Mist and Antares Star. The Anders Bluestone filly picked up her seventh career win for trainer John Wagner.

Andrew Glassmeyer's Franky Doyle ($5.40, Pat Berry) won the second split for fillies in 2:02.1 over Just Pump It and Miss Timber Wolf. The Glidemaster filly earned her 3rd career win for owner/trainer Glassmeyer via a front end effort where she held off Just Pump It By a neck.

Art Stafford Jr. and Wyatt Starkey's Navy Blue ($2.80) won the first colt and gelding division in 1:59.4 over Jas Bluestone and Snow Burst. The Anders Bluestone gelding made the front early from post 5 and never relented in his 4th career win for co-owner/trainer/driver Stafford Jr.

The only non-favorite to prevail in DSBF action came in the final division as Nanticoke Racing's LG's Reed O Wen ($7.60, Jim Morand) emerged a winner in 1:58 as three horses charged to the finish in a pack with Big Daddy D getting second and Canoe Trip third. Trained by Les Givens, "LG" picked up his 7th lifetime win. The Anders Bluestone gelding set a track record as a freshman at Harrington (1:59.4).

In DSBF action on Tuesday at Harrington for sophomore pacing fillies, there were no surprises in the initial split as Odds On Racing's Odds On Surfer Gal ($2.60, Corey Callahan) cruised to an easy win over Bank The Win and Bluffs Crush for trainer Tony Alagna in 1:55. The Badlands Hanover filly improved to 3-for-6 lifetime.

The second split featured two of the top Delaware fillies from last season, Shabby Chic and Gaitway Gal, with the latter prevailing at 6-to-1 in 1:54.2. Gaitway Gal ($14, Pat Berry) challenged first-over boldly after heavily favored Shabby Chic set a pedestrian like pace of 29, 58.2 and 1:27.2. Gaitway Gal began to edge clear near the top of the stretch and drew away for her 7th career win. Shabby Chic held second with Tahoe third. Trained by Jeff Smith for the Gty Stable, the Delmarvalous-sired filly notched her second win of the season.
