Joe Bongiorno says he's being punished by Gural for appealing NJRC ruling

The driver said his 20-day ban from racing at the Meadowlands, Tioga Downs and Vernon Downs was handed down after he appealed the New Jersey Commission's 20-day suspension and $5,000 fine for his drive in a race that ended in an accident that led to Incredible Shark being euthanized.

New Jersey

Despite receiving a stay of a 20-day suspension and $5,000 fine by the New Jersey Racing Commission (NJRC) while he waits for his appeal to be heard, driver Joe Bongiorno has been handed a 20-day ban from racing at the three tracks owned by Jeff Gural – The Meadowlands, Tioga and Vernon Downs.

The suspension began Friday (June 27).

"It's been appealed at the Commission level and I was granted a stay," Bongiorno said Saturday evening. "In the hearing the (NJRC) judges' finding was that I did not cause the accident. To me, this action was taken (by the Gural tracks) because I placed an appeal. That's a constitutional right to be able to appeal a decision.

"I raced (at the Meadowlands) the three weekends prior to this racetrack rule and if the case was that they believed I was dangerous then I wouldn't have been able to race those three weekends prior. That would be my thinking."

The NJRC initially ruled that while driving Pat Stanley N in the 7th race on May 29, 2021, Bongiorno failed to keep the lines reasonably taut during the race.

"Mr. Bongiorno displayed exaggerated movement with the whip, using more than wrist action and raising his whipping arm to a level above shoulder height; Mr. Bongiorno continued to use the whip to urge his horse after the horse was no longer responding," the ruling said. "The culmination of these actions, each of which is a violation of N.J.A.C. 13:71-20.15, placed Mr. Bongiorno in a position of being unable to respond when the horse Pat Stanley N stumbled and fell, unseating Mr. Bongiorno as well as two other drivers."

In a press release, the Meadowlands, Tioga and Vernon said its suspension of Bongiorno was "due to track management's observation of Mr. Bongiorno's driving over a lengthy period of time. Most recently, in the 7th race on Saturday, May 29, 2021, Mr. Bongiorno was driving the horse Pat Stanley N when that horse fell while in contention in the very late stages of the race, resulting in a three horse accident where one of the horses (Incredible Shark) suffered a catastrophic injury (and was subsequently euthanized). Fortunately, the other two horses and all three drivers were able to walk away with minor injuries.

"Careful study of the accident from a number of angles supports the opinion that Mr. Bongiorno has the style of driving the horse with very loose lines, and the belief that he was not in a position to react quickly enough to support the horse when he began to fall."

Bongiorno repeatedly emphasized that judges said he did not cause the accident.

"Obviously, it's a horrible situation that the horse fell, but that's the risk that comes with going on the racetrack. It's not the first time a horse fell," he said.

"I've driven this way all my life. Nothing has changed... and I was never called dangerous prior to this ever... Since the new whipping rule (in New Jersey), which has probably been in place for six, eight months, I have not been fined with that whipping rule and they haven't said a word about my style since the new whipping rule has been intact."

In the press release, Gural was quoted as saying, "Our concern for the safety of our drivers, including Joe, and the horses is paramount. It is our hope that Joe will learn from this near tragedy as he is a terrific up and coming young driver who should have a good future."

The exclusion from the Gural tracks will end on Wednesday, July 14, 2021, and Bongiorno can be listed as the driver for the draw for races scheduled for July 16 and 17.

Many of you no doubt make wagers on how a horse looks; how he or she moves scoring down, or even walks in the infield, because you know horses. It's a learned skill, mastered with a mind's eye, something a computer doesn't have. It's one way of getting a leg up on the computer teams.

by Dean Towers

In today's betting world, it's important for everyday customers to see what they're wagering on

I was chatting with bettor Masaru Kanemoto on social media recently. He's embarking on a very interesting project – tracking how thoroughbred racehorses look in the paddock and post parade. Masaru is observing pre-race behavior like "head up", "swishing tale" and "fighting bit", logging the results in a database, and searching for trends.

This type of qualitative handicapping is not new. But in today's betting landscape it might be more important than ever. With computer teams, professional database bettors and other sharp entities blasting the pools (using mainly computer-based speed figures, power ratings and the like), there's room for the 'feel' bettors. It's pretty difficult to add these factors to an algorithm in real time, so it is likely an edge.

Over in harness racing, many of you no doubt make wagers on how a horse looks; how he or she moves scoring down, or even walks in the infield, because you know horses. It's a learned skill, mastered with a mind's eye, something a computer doesn't have. It's one way of getting a leg up on the computer teams.

How does the sport facilitate this? I believe by broadcasting the horses in as many ways as possible.

The post parade is important, but so is everything that happens directly after the post parade. Following each and every horse before the word go should be a staple of every harness simulcast. Particularly with the favorites.

A hot horse (one that the computer algos may be on) could be a total pitch, keying a big score. A trotter breaking is similar. Meanwhile, the straight and true square gaiter with a confident driver scoring down is the Holy Grail.

Similar to this is the broadcast of qualifiers. It's been a pleasant surprise to see more and more qualifiers uploaded to a tracks' YouTube page, or in some cases (Woodbine and the Big M) shown live. I can't tell you how much this is appreciated by customers who are willing to do the work, especially as the 2-year-olds start up. We do not expect perfection – even Hoosier, for example, uploading the entire day, not race by race is just fine.

What else might be done to help the at-home, everyday player?

Why not (on big race days perhaps), broadcast the second warm-up trip. Warm-up miles generally happen in times of dead air, or when the simulcast hosts are chatting about an upcoming race. Wouldn't it be nice at this year's Meadowlands Pace to see Perfect Sting or Abuckabett Hanover go their second trips to gauge how they look before multi-race wagers are sent?

You'll notice that the above not only addresses the wagering public, but horse owners and trainers who can't make it to the track, too.

The harness racing betting environment has changed much over the last quarter century. People are betting from home, (or offsite) in vast amounts. Computer wagering is a staple of the betting pools. In my view, it's never more important to ensure the track is brought directly into living rooms in the most innovative ways possible. The more reasons we give the public to watch and wager, the better chance they become regular customers.

Goldie's Legacy has shown flashes of brilliance heading into tonight's Hoosier Cup eliminations

The son of former Indiana Sires Stakes champion mare Ag-N-Au Bluegrass is coming off a 1:49.2 victory in ISS competition.

by James Platz

Tonight, Harrah's Hoosier Park will play host to eliminations for the $75,000 Hoosier Cup, an event for Indiana-sired sophomore colt pacers. Trainer Jeff Cullipher will send out his hopeful, Goldie's Legacy, in the first elimination on the program, carded as race 10. A son of former Indiana Sires Stakes (ISS) champion Ag-N-Au Bluegrass, the 3-year-old has shown flashes of brilliance lately. He is coming off a 1:49.2 victory in the second round of ISS competition, but his conditioner and co-owner still describes the charge as inexperienced.

"He's just green and learning," said Cullipher, who has partnered with Tom Pollack on the gelding. "Last year we didn't try to make him flashy. We were hoping he would get it together before his 3-year-old year, but he didn't. Obviously, we didn't give up on him."

In 10 freshman starts, Goldie's Legacy hit the board three times, picking up a pair of victories. He competed in a trio of sires stakes legs, but did not manage to garner the points necessary to make the Super Final. Instead, he took his freshman mark winning the $25,000 consolation, pacing in 1:53.1. Cullipher and Pollack purchased the pacer, bred by Dave M Yoder of Paris, Kentucky, for $35,000 at the Hoosier Classic sale. They did so due to their familiarity with Ag-N-Au Bluegrass and her offspring.

As a racehorse, Ag-N-Au Bluegrass finished first or second in 23 of 27 starts over her 2- and 3-year-old campaigns. As a sophomore, she produced a 9-7-0 record in 19 starts, capturing a $150,000 Indiana Sires Stakes final and racing second in another before being named divisional champion in the Hoosier State for 2009. Banking just over $232,000 that season, she was recognized as Indiana Pacer of the Year for trainer John Merkel and owner Luel Overstreet.

Prior to the arrival of Goldie's Legacy, Ag-N-Au Bluegrass had shown she could pass her speedy genes on to the next generation. Au D Lox Bluegrass, a Panspacificflight filly that Merkel also raced for Overstreet, impressed enough that Pollack and Cullipher purchased her in May of her four-year-old season. Au D Lox Bluegrass won seven times for the new owners, including a decisive four and three-quarter-length victory in the $70,000 Indiana Sires Stakes final for older pacing mares, stopping the clock in 1:50. The mare would also set a Hoosier Park track record with a 1:49.2 performance that July. She was victorious in 10 of 22 starts and collected $146,850 in purses in 2017, a majority of the money earned for Pollack and Cullipher.

"His sister turned into a really nice mare," the trainer said. "She was somewhat the same way. I didn't have her at two or three, but she got better with age."

Returning at 5, Au D Lox Bluegrass made 10 starts, registering two victories and close to $40,000 in earnings. In her last start, June 9, 2018, the mare was nosed out at the wire in 1:49.4 in a $20,000 fillies and mares preferred event at Harrah's Hoosier Park. She never made it back to her stall.

"She finished second and died pulling up on the backside. She had an aneurysm," he recalled.

In making their purchase at the Hoosier Classic, Cullipher and Pollack hoped the son of Always A Virgin could repeat the efforts of his accomplished sibling. This season, his potential is beginning to translate into victories. Goldie's Legacy reached the winner's circle in his third seasonal start in early April, but did not return until the opening round of ISS, held June 21. Sent off at odds of 9-1 and guided by regular pilot Sam Widger, the gelding won by two lengths in 1:50.2 after taking command racing to the half. In his next start, Widger ducked the sophomore and Goldie's Legacy experienced road trouble to finish fifth. He bounced back June 13 to score a two-and-a-half length victory in the second round of sires stakes, earning a new lifetime mark.

"He still has no clue how fast he is. He doesn't even know how to go fast yet," said Cullipher, who currently ranks second in the nation in wins (114) and purse earnings ($1.4 million). "I know he went in 49.2. Sam shut him down and said, 'It's unreal. I'm just scared to turn him loose. He doesn't know what to do.' He had always shown something."

Tonight, he'll get another chance to gain valuable experience in the Hoosier Cup, once Indiana's richest harness race with an impressive list of former champions including Real Desire, Total Truth, Art Major, and his son, Art Official. Of the 22 sophomore colts entered in the trifecta of $15,000 Hoosier Cup eliminations, 15 have winning times of 1:52 or faster. In the division Goldie's Legacy has drawn into, three other entrants have recorded miles in under 1:51. Cullipher's charge has drawn the outside post in the field of seven. A top three finish will guarantee a spot in the final, slated for July 4.

"We're just trying to race him and teach him, and he has been known to make a break. It goes back to the fact that he just doesn't know how to race," added Cullipher. "But I think he's figuring it out. I still think he's going to be an even better 4-year-old."

Gangle relishes challenge in move from Western Fair to Wagga Wagga

The former Raceway Manager at The Raceway at The Western Fair District spoke at length about the grand opportunity to become the CEO of Wagga Wagga Harness Racing Club in Australia.

by Dave Briggs

Greg Gangle said moving from Canada to the other side of the world to become CEO of Wagga Wagga Harness Racing Club in Australia is both a personal and professional challenge.

The 34-year-old Ontario native has already landed in Australia, but before he left Canada he spoke at length about leaving behind his position as raceway manager of The Raceway at The Western Fair District.

Ontario

“The growth at Western Fair is only going to take you so far and I felt like this was a big stepping stone to my career, because I’m going to be the CEO there,” he said. “It’s really going to elevate me and I hope I can have an impact down there. I’m really looking forward to the challenge – the culture of how they race, the distance racing, their style of racing, how they conduct their business with the industry, the economy... a lot of it is different.

“They’ve got the fixed odds wagering. They seem to be ahead, I would say, of North America.

“I could give you a zillion examples and a great one is that if the first race is 3:05, scheduled on Sky Racing 1, if you’re delayed you’re going to get bumped to Sky Racing 2, so you have your allocated time and there’s no post time drag or anything like that. That’s a great way to make sure everybody gets maximum exposure.”

Claus Andersen

Wagga Wagga, Australia is an inland town with a population of some 70,000 right in the middle of The Riverina agricultural region in New South Wales.

Gangle said the track plays host to a single card of racing a week, year round.

"There's about six other tracks within close proximity as well. It's a major breeding hub. Yirribee Stud is down there and they've got Lazarus and Warrawee Needy, so it's a big breeding destination, which attracts me as well because I enjoy that."

Gangle's wife, Anna, is an Aussie native whose brother and sister work at the country's biggest harness track, Menangle Park near Sydney, about four hours east of Wagga Wagga.

"Anna's family, her brother and sister, are at Menangle Park and Anna's mom is in Victoria (about 500 kilometres west of Wagga Wagga), so we're right in the middle, four hours either way."

Greg and Anna have two young daughters, Taylor and Shanelle – ages 6 and 3 – that the couple think can benefit from the experience living in another country.

But, mostly, Greg said the move is about personal and career development.

Greg started working at The Raceway in 2016 as the assistant manager after several years working at the Woodbine Entertainment Group (WEG) for both the broadcast and communications divisions. Prior to that, worked for Harold Howe at the Harness Edge magazine.

"I want to keep growing. I'm 34 and I'm young enough to do it. My kids are young enough where I can move them to the other side of the world. Anna and I have talked about it the last couple of years about making a change. I just didn't want to look back in five years and say, 'Coulda, woulda, shoulda.'"

Greg said he and Anna will keep and rent out their house in Port Stanley, ON in case they don't like their Australian adventure and want to move back to Canada.

He is also planning to keep his three broodmares and partial ownership of Ontario-based stallion Sunfire Blue Chip that he shares with Eric Cherry's Let It Ride Stables. Sunfire Blue Chip stands at Mac Lilley Farms.

"So, I'm still invested (in Ontario)," Greg said, "but it's very difficult to make a living racing at the smaller tracks and that needs to be increased."

Greg said he's visited Australia a few times, but has never been to Wagga Wagga specifically.

"I'm not going in blind," he said. "I know what I'm getting myself into and what the housing is like. I know what the economy is like and I know what taxes are like. It will be an adjustment. I'm fortunate enough to have my immigration in order and my partner visa with Anna, so it's pretty much full steam ahead. It was a difficult decision. It really was because it's not like you're just leaving one track for the next in North America or Canada,

Claus Andersen

this is the other side of the world. So, we had to factor in many different things.

"I just didn't want to look back and say, 'Why didn't we do this or that?' Just take the plunge. If it was 10 years later, it probably wouldn't have happened. My oldest daughter would've been 16 at that time, but she's six now.

"Also, they don't know what a snow shovel is or snow tires," Greg said. "Imagine that?"

Fields set for MGM Yonkers Trot and New York, New York

*Ahundreddollarbill, Johan Palema take Yonkers Trot elims; Mazzarati wins lone New

by Yonkers Raceway

Ahundreddollarbill captured the first of two $40,000 eliminations of the MGM Yonkers Trot for 3-year-old colts and geldings on Friday night (July 25) at Yonkers Raceway in a sparkling 1:54.2 mile and likely stamped himself as the favorite for the $500,000 July 2 final, the first jewel in trotting's Triple Crown.

Driven by Andrew McCarthy, Ahundreddollarbill floated away from the gate at the outset and allowed the Ake Svanstedt-trained Mon Amour and Incommunicado to exchange the early lead, with the latter moving to the fore off the opening bend. Once the dust settled up top, McCarthy used the long backstretch to send Ahundreddollarbill full tilt to control midway on the second turn. After an opening quarter in 28.2, the 1-5 choice hit the half in 57 seconds, with his five rivals willing to follow along the pylons.

Ahundreddollarbill rated the pace kindly as Mon Amour pulled from third on the backstretch, allowing On A Streak to catch his cover. With three-quarters clocked in 1:25.4, McCarthy let the Tony Alagna-trained son of Chapter Seven sprint off from the field, and he trotted a :28.3 final quarter well in-hand. Mon Amour and Yannick Gingras made up decent ground to finish a sharp second, with Ethan T Hanover (Jason Bartlett) winning the photo for third over On A Streak (Bob McClure). The top four finishers return for the final.

Ahundreddollarbill is owned by Crawford Farms Racing and James Crawford IV. He won for the fourth time in 2021 without defeat and returned $2.50, $2.10, and $2.10 as the prohibitive favorite. Mon Amour returned $3.40 and $2.60, with Ethan T Hanover paying $4.20 to show. The exacta returned $8 and triple paid $4.60.

Georgia Panagi

Ahundreddollarbill (Andrew McCarthy) won the first of two $40,000 eliminations of the MGM Yonkers Trot on Friday night (July 25) at Yonkers Raceway in 1:54.2.

The second $40,000 elimination turned into a match race between Ake Svanstedt entymates Johan Palema and Ambassador Hanover, with Johan Palema and driver Yannick Gingras getting up for the win in the final strides of a 1:54. mile.

Ambassador Hanover and Svanstedt left sharply from post two, and Johan Palema quickly settled in behind him into the opening bend. Steel, with driver Andy Miller, attempted to sweep by those pair at the outset but made a miscue midway through the opening bend and lost all chance.

Once in control, Ambassador Hanover had the pace to his liking, setting reasonable fractions of :28.1, :57.3, and 1:26.3, with Arnold N Dicky pulling off the third turn, followed by In Range. Johan Palema moved out of the pocket for Gingras into the final turn, and he and Ambassador Hanover drew off from their five rivals. A son of Bar Hopping, Johan Palema trotted home powerfully with a final quarter under :27.3 to gain the decision over Ambassador Hanover. In Range came on late for third, with Arnold N Dicky completing the finalists.

Sent off as the 4-5 favored entry, Johan Palema and Ambassador Hanover both returned $3.70, $2.70, and $2.10 across the board. The exacta with third place finisher In Range was worth $9.20, while the triple adding Arnold N Dicky paid $13.80.

Owned by Bender Sweden Inc., Johan Palema was a winner for the second time in three starts in 2021 after going winless in six tries as a freshman.

In the $25,000 sole elimination for the $150,000 New York New York Mile, Mazzarati and driver Tim Tetrick took control before the quarter pole and wired the field of eight 3-year-old trotting fillies, with the top six joining Iteration and Sweeping Rainbow, who were offered and accepted byes.

Imhatra AM S and driver Brian Sears jetted to the front entering the opening bend and parked Mazzarati to mid-backstretch before yielding control. Mazzarati, a daughter of Cantab Hall sent postward as the second choice, hit the quarter in :28 and half in :57 before an outer tier flow began.

Contested Hanover, part of the 4-5 favored entry in the field, moved for Scott Zeron off the third turn with a measured outside advance, followed by Rebel Girl with Dexter Dunn. Mazzarati never saw those rivals, though, as Tetrick allowed her to pass three-quarters in 1:26.1 and comfortably head into the homestretch.

Only Imhatra AM S would have a chance at the winner once Contested Hanover weakened, and Sears let his regally-bred filly trot, but she would inevitably run out of real estate, falling a head short in the 1:55.2 mile. Contested Hanover finished third. Also advancing to the July 2 final will be Rebel Girl, Presto, and Lindys Dollywood.

Owned by Mazza Racing Stables LLC. and Stormi And Bruiser Stable, Mazzarati returned $5.10, $3.10, and $2.10 across the board. Imhatra AM S paid $11.20 and $3.50 for place and show, with Contested Hanover's show backers getting $2.10. The exacta was worth $39.40, and the triple returned $79.50.

Lucas Wallin trains Mazzarati, who won for the first time in 2021 in four tries.

The draws for the finals of these two races, in addition to the MGM Grand Messenger and Park MGM Pace, will take place on Monday evening (June 28).

American Courage (Matt Kakaley) just missed the track record by a fifth of a second with a 1:50.4 mile in his elimination Friday (June 27) for the MGM Grand Messenger Stakes.

Favorites score in MGM Grand Messenger and Park MGM Pace elims

American Courage, Abuckabett Hanover score in Messenger elims; Heart Of Mine, Test Of Faith win Park MGM Pace tests.

by Yonkers Raceway

American Courage just missed the track record by a fifth of a second and Abuckabett Hanover overcame troubles on the turns to win the two $40,000 MGM Grand Messenger Stakes eliminations for 3-year-old colt and gelding pacers on Friday night (June 27) at Yonkers Raceway.

Driver Matt Kakaley had American Courage on the engine at the :27.4 opening quarter in the first elimination, and after taking command, he went on to the half in 56 seconds. It was at that point that Heart Of Chewbacca (Dan Noble) made a first-over move out of last, and that bid would carry him into second before the 1:23.4 three-quarters. However, his bid stalled on the final turn as American Courage kicked on and came home in 27 seconds to win by a length and a quarter in 1:50.4. Charlie May (Brett Miller) tucked into third from post seven, rode the rail, and rallied to finish a good second, with Chase H Hanover (Brian Sears) third and Simon Says Hanover (Scott Zeron) getting the last spot in the final.

Sired by American Ideal, American Courage is trained by Travis Alexander for owner/breeder Fiddler's Creek Stables LLC. American Courage made his 10th stop in the winner's circle from 11 trips behind the gate, and he has pocketed $218,633. The even-money favorite, American Courage paid $4.00 to win and keyed a $13.50 exacta and an $87.75 trifecta.

Abuckabett Hanover (Andrew McCarthy) was the headliner of a 1-9 entry in the second elimination, but his chances didn't look very good on the first turn as he veered to the right and lugged out several paths. Fortunately, there was nobody alongside him and McCarthy was able to bring him down to the rail in fourth as I'll Drink To That (Dexter Dunn) led the group to the :28.1 opening quarter.

I'll Drink To That stayed in charge to the :56.2 half and the 1:24.1 three-quarters, but Abuckabett Hanover was making steady first-over gains. Abuckabett Hanover did try to get out on the final bend again, but McCarthy managed to keep his charge fairly straight, and then in the lane the others were no match, as Abuckabett Hanover sailed by I'll Drink To That while in-hand, tallying by a length and a quarter in 1:51.3. I'll Drink To That held second over Highlandbeachbest (Zeron), with Mysweetboyamax (Jason Bartlett) fourth.

Tony Alagna trains Abuckabett Hanover, a Hanover Shoe Farms-bred Betting Line colt, for the partnership of Crawford Farms Racing, Alagna Racing LLC., Jablonsky Held Stable, and Barbara N. Wienick Stable. Now four-for-four as a sophomore, Abuckabett Hanover is an eight-time winner overall, and he has put away $255,021. He returned $2.20 to win and led a $2.10 exacta and an $8.10 trifecta.

There were no surprises in the companion $25,000 Park MGM Pace eliminations for fillies either as Heart Of Mine and Test Of Faith came in undefeated in 2021 and left with that status intact.

Heart Of Mine, piloted by Scott Zeron, looped Darby Hanover (Andy Miller) to take the lead past the :28.2 opening quarter in the first elimination, then backed down the middle-half fractions to :58.2 and 1:27.1 with no outside pressure. Zeron let Heart Of Mine sprint in the final quarter, and she responded with a :27.1 kicker to prevail by a length over Darby Hanover in 1:54.2. Shania Blue Chip (Andrew McCarthy) and Lyons Softasssilk (Tim Tetrick) stuck to the cones and got the other spots in next Friday's final.

Trained by Linda Toscano, Heart Of Mine is a Roll With Joe filly owned by The Bay's Stable LLC., Radio Racing Stable, Fred Wallace, and Camelot Stable Inc. Heart Of Mine, who was bred by Brittany Farms and is six-for-six in the win column this year, has a record of 7-5-1 from 17 career starts, and she has banked $217,131. Heart Of Mine paid $2.90 to win as the heavy favorite and was atop a $3.10 exacta and an $8.10 trifecta.

As for Test Of Faith, she bided her time in the fourth position while first Marsala Hanover (Zeron) and then Classicist (Todd McCarthy) showed the way through a :27.3 opening quarter and a 56 second half in the other elimination. David Miller brought Test Of Faith to the outside on the way to the 1:24 three-quarters, moved up into second to the outside of Classicist on the far turn, and then went by in the lane while in-hand, prevailing by a measured three-parts of a length in 1:52.1. Classicist was a good second at 21-1, with Marsala Hanover third and So Irresistible (Andrew McCarthy) fourth.

A daughter of Art Major, Test Of Faith is trained by Brett Pelling for owners Mel Segal, Kentuckiana Racing Stable, and Eddie Gran. Test Of Faith has 11 wins and a second from 12 lifetime tries, and she has now earned $562,700. She was the 1-9 choice and returned $2.10 across the board. The exacta was worth $9.20 and the trifecta kicked back $29.50.

The draws for the finals of these two events, along with the MGM Yonkers Trot and New York New York Mile, will take place on Monday (June 28).

Face Time Bourbon ready for summer races

by Thomas Hedlund

Double Prix d'Amérique winner Face Time Bourbon (Ready Cash) hasn't been seen in the race programs since March 6, when he won $235,000 Prix de Selection at Vincennes, but today (June 27), the 6-year-old superstar makes his comeback in $203,000 Prix Rene Balliere over 1.3 miles at Vincennes.

And it seems like European harness racing fans will get opportunities to see Sébastien Guarato's top trotter in several races during this summer. The horse's owner Antonio Somma announced on Friday afternoon (June 27) that Face Time Bourbon will travel to Finland and $160,000 St-Michel-ajo in Mikkeli on July 18.

Vincennes' race card today is sharp with several high staked races where Prix Rene Balliere is the highlight from the sport's eyes point of view.

Beside Prix Rene Balliere, the 3-year-old monté trotters will fight in $203,000 Prix d'Essai, the 4-year-old monté horses meet in $235,000 Prix President Republique and the 3-year-olds will face a battle in $203,000 Prix Albert Viel.

Milligan's School's time is now

Midsummer in Sweden means traditionally Breeders Crown races in small town of Rättvik and in connection to four divisions of Breeders Crown, an open trot for older horses is offered at the track. Even with a relatively small purse in the $23,500 Midsommarloppet, the race became spectacular with an outstanding performance from American-bred Milligan's School, trained by Stefan Melander.

Driven by Ulf Eriksson, Milligan's School got parked outside of leader Nadal Broline and the pace was set high throughout the race. When the field reached the first kilometer (5/8ths of a mile), the clock showed a mile rate time of 1:53.2. One lap, one kilometer remained at that point and outside trotter Milligan's School just danced away and cruised to the lead in the last turn. With several lengths advantage at the top of the stretch, Eriksson noted that he and his horse had everything under control and when the duo hit the wire in a mile rate of 1:53.3, it was clear that Milligan's School had, probably, made the best performance of his life (replay here). The purse was pretty low, but races can still be something extra to watch, which definitely was the case on Saturday afternoon in Rättvik. Milligan's School claimed his third consecutive win in Midsommarloppet and it's obvious that the 8-year-old Yankee Glide son loves Midsummer holiday and Rättvik.

Winners in the four $26,000 Breeders Crown divisions were:

Winner (Pedigree) - mile rate over 1.3 miles

3-year-old colts and geldings:

Highway To Hill (Muscle Hill-Beatgoeson Hanover) - 1:59.2

3-year-old fillies:

Breeze (Broad Bahn-East Zenda) - 1:59

4-year-old colts and geldings:

Chiru (Muscle Hill-Pantholops) - 1:55.4

4-year-old mares:

Global Brilliance (S.J.'s Caviar - Pledge Allegiance) - 1:57.4

Labor of love: Michelle Crawford on her massive commitment and investment

by Murray Brown

You are a breeder and with your partners, next year you are expecting a Muscle Hill foal out of Atlanta ($2,659,653), and a Tall Dark Stranger out of Stonebridge Soul ($729,939); also a solely Crawford Farms owned Captaintreacherous out of Hen Party ($592,733); those in addition to almost a hundred other foals, mostly standardbreds, but also a dozen or so thoroughbreds.

How can that be, one might ask? All three of those mares are still racing. Michelle Crawford, the CEO and guiding force, together with her husband Al of Crawford Farms answers.

"I suppose we wanted to have our cake and eat it as well. All three of them, in addition to Warrawee Ubeaut ($1,794,933), were sound and racing quite well. We decided to try embryo transfers on all of them. The only one with which we weren't successful was Warrawee Ubeaut."

The old saying is "tall oaks grow from little acorns." Such was the case with Crawford Farms.

Al's dad, Jim, was one of the leading forces in the creation and growth of the New York Sires Stakes (NYSS) program. Jim Crawford and his wife Pat's horse holdings were never as large as his effect on the NYSS program. Chances are they never raised as many as 10 yearlings in a given season.

That was not to be the case with Al and Michelle. Their horse holdings now number in the area of 400, which includes a hundred or so retirees.

Michelle, let's start with the retirees. You have about a hundred or so of them.

"As anybody who knows me knows, I am a great animal lover. When we allow them to enter our lives, I believe that we also assume an obligation to care and provide for them in a humane way. There may be some, emphasis on the word 'may' who care for their horses as well as we do, but there are none who care for them better than us. It's with this belief that we feel that once their racing or breeding careers are over, we become obligated to care for them almost indefinitely. That does not only relate to our stars, but also to the ones which may not have achieved that status.

"I believe our horses talk to us. We need to listen. All of them do not adapt easily to the life of retirement. Some of them will tell me that they miss the competition of the racetrack. In some of those instances, provided they are physically up to the task and competitive, we will abide by their wishes and bring them back to training. One thing we will never do is race one of ours in claimers. Others may believe in claiming races. I am not one of them. We tried that when we were racing some thoroughbreds, but it just didn't sit well with me.

"We do re-home and re-purpose some of them, but we are very careful about whose hands we place them in.

"Last year, we purchased or gave homes to 25 young mares who had no or very little commercial value. We are using them as recipient mares. It was a win-win situation for us and the mares. We were able to undoubtedly save the lives of these mares and in effect give them a reason to live."

Crawford Farms has both a breeding and racing operation. Let's talk about each.

Breeding

"We presently have 111 standardbred broodmares and 11 thoroughbred ones. Almost all of the thoroughbred mares will be bred to our stallion Shancelot This past foaling season we had 67 babies. We have 57 standardbred yearlings which will be offered at Lexington this fall. The breeding operation is under the direction of Heather Marshall who has been with us for 12 years. They say no one is irreplaceable, but Heather is the exception to that rule. She works eight days a week, foals every baby and has a relationship with every horse on the farm. Her husband, Chad, is also an integral part of the staff. He does a great job in maintaining the property. We also have between 18 and 20 employees here. We are in the midst of consolidating the entire operation. We have 1,000 acres in Casanovia which will serve as our base of operations. We also have a farm in Kentucky which was previously William Shatner's place for his show horses. We originally intended it to be the base of a thoroughbred operation. However, since the growth of the Kentucky homegrown and residency program, we now utilize it to take advantage of the residency requirements which will result in most of our yearlings having dual eligibility insofar as sires stakes programs.

"We have our thoroughbred stallion Shancelot standing at Buck Pond Farm in Kentucky. We presently have 11 thoroughbred mares, all of which had foals this year."

Training and racing

"We presently have 67 horses which we own fully or in partnership in training. We have them with several different trainers, the majority of them are in Tony Alagna's stable. In addition we have others with Gates Brunet, Jenn Bongiorno, Ronnie Burke, Chris Ryder and Nancy Takter. I've probably forgotten one or two. Please forgive me if I have."

How did you become involved in the business?

"It's all Al. Horses were in his genes and throughout his upbringing. It's through him that I became involved. I was raised on Panebianco potato farm in the small village of Chittenago, New York. I met Al and through him and his family I became addicted to these glorious creatures. Al is a natural horseman and a brilliant businessman. He developed and grew Bankers Health Group into a giant in its industry. That takes up most of his time, but he is still quite involved in most of our equine ventures. He has great knowledge of horses and is also an excellent handicapper. We love to attend the races, especially when our horses are racing. We do that as often as we can. When we do, we also help the handle somewhat."

Tell us about the makeup of your broodmare band.

"I probably sound as though I am bragging, but I believe that on a mare for mare basis we might have the very best broodmare band for a large operation as exists in all of harness racing. We are especially strong on the trotting end. There is no doubt in my mind that we have as many, if not more 'Blue Ribbon' type trotting broodmares as exists in the sport."

As far as the stallions to which you breed your mares to, how do you go about doing that?

"It is mostly based on Al's knowledge of horses and in his being a great student of pedigrees. I am glad to share the responsibility with him. We are highly invested in New York and to stallions standing in the Empire State to which we breed most of our mares. Then we almost end up 'double dipping' by shipping them to our Kentucky farm to take advantage of the Kentucky as well as the New York programs. Presently, we are entitled to breed 16 mares annually to Huntsville, 12 to Chapter Seven, several to American Ideal as well as our own stallion Crazy Wow. If Crazy's foals race the way they look, he will become a terrific stallion. We also regularly breed to horses like Muscle Hill, Captaintreacherous and Walner. We own a significant piece of Tall Dark Stranger who in my and the opinion of many others is a 'can't miss' stallion. We will know very quickly about him. The book of mares he received in his first season at stud is likely the finest group ever assembled being bred to one pacing stallion in a given season."

Who is your favorite horse with which you've been associated?

"When you've had two Hambletonian winners that would have to be a pretty difficult choice. I love both Atlanta and Ramona Hill. However the difference would have to be in that we raised Ramona Hill and have been invested in her all her life and we bought into Atlanta. They are both great and it has been a privilege being involved with each of them."

As a market breeder do you have any problem choosing between that and racing your own horses?

"Not really. Our philosophy is to offer all of our yearlings at public auction with the possible exception of a few fillies we might keep to further the makeup of our broodmare band. People know that we would generally not be adverse to becoming partners on some that we might be offering. Of course, we have to be careful about who we join up with, both from the standpoint of wanting them to get into good hands and insofar as dealing with people of good reputation."

You mentioned philosophy. In our conversation I found yours with regard to your customers to be somewhat unique.

"In short, we believe that the customer is always right. Even if he is wrong, he is still right. The words 'buyer beware' do not exist in our vocabulary. We try to be totally above board with all of our yearlings. X-rays are always available. Anything that we might be aware of that could be judged as detrimental is always disclosed. Even with those safeguards, if a customer becomes aware of something that displeases him, if he makes us aware of any pre-existing condition with any of our horses, we will discuss it and our goal will be to have a conclusion that is satisfactory to all parties."

You told us how you sell your yearlings. How do you go about determining how and what you buy?

"Unless I am able to sneak away at the Kentucky Sale without Al knowing about it, almost all of our yearling buying takes place at Harrisburg. It's certainly not because one or the other has the better horses. It's rather because a big factor in determining how much money we might have to spend is dependent on how our yearlings have sold.

"We believe in and love the business. Everything we earn in it and more will be reinvested in it."

What remains for Michelle and Al Crawford and Crawford Farms?

"Hopefully, a whole lot. We love owning and buying horses. I'm sure there's a whole lot yet to do, some of it probably unthought of at this point. As far as races go, if I had to pick one to win, I'd want to win the Little Brown Jug and also have the Crawford Farms imprint on all of the major events in the sport. But there are and will be others.

"We have been a major race sponsor of events in the sport for almost as long as we have been involved in harness racing. We sponsored The Meadowlands Pace for five years and Grand Circuit events at Lexington just about every year. This year we will also be sponsoring every leg of the Kindergarten Series for 2-year-olds.

"We also have been and will continue to be active in various fund raising events in the sport."

Some questions, some answers

by Alan Leavitt

Several interesting questions to be answered this week. Robert Lindstrom, one of the smartest men in the horse biz both in Sweden and everywhere else, as well, was concerned about the loss of the natural selection process of the sperm cell in ICSI's. As he said, in the natural reproductive process, of all the millions of sperm cells ejaculated by the covering stallion, only one cell is strong enough to make the long journey to the egg, or oocyte, and affect conception.

So, I referred the question to Dr. Rob Foss, who operates the Equine Medical Services Clinic, in Columbia, MO, where all the Walnut Hall Ltd. ICSI's are done. His answer was that he closely examines all the sperm cells that are delivered for each individual procedure, and he selects the one that shows the most speed and activity.

Perhaps because I've been watching the track and swimming trials for the Olympics, in my mind I see Dr. Foss with a starter's pistol in his hand, about to send on their way a huge field of sperm cells, each one vying to be the winner who gets to fertilize the oocyte. On your mark! Get set!! Go!!!

I should also mention that this same smart question was also raised by Ivar Hyngstrom in a letter to HRU on June 13 (2021-06-13 Feedback). Obviously Mr. Hyngstrom really knows his stuff when it comes to equine reproduction. I hope he'll continue to comment on my writing.

Joel Kravet, who is my most frequent correspondent, had some questions about horses that were mean and dangerous. Obviously, any horse can be ruined by bad, rough handling, but this kid likes to think that rarely happens in today's world. That said, regardless of how carefully and kindly a horse has been raised and handled, a certain percentage of intact males will become dangerous as they start to mature, beginning at the age of 2.

We have a mare from whom we retained two foals, both colts, to train and race. They were by two different stallions. They each went to a top trainer, Randy Jerrell, in the fall of their yearling years. By January of their 2-year-old year, each one of them had become dangerous, striking, kicking, and savaging with their mouths. The only solution was castration, which immediately solved all their manner problems, and both of them are successfully racing today.

Joel also asked about breeding stallions, and any good horseman knows never to trust one. In my own experience, there have been horses like Speedy Crown and Garland Lobell, who were always perfectly gentle and never a threat in any way. At the other end of the scale was Speedy Somolli, who was best led to his paddock and back to his stall by a man on either side, each with a lead shank hooked to his halter. Speedy Somolli was not only vicious, he was smart about it, and just when he had lulled you into thinking everything was okay, he would strike; which didn't stop him from being a truly great sire, with three Hambletonian winners among his many sire credits.

Regarding fillies and mares, there have been a tiny handful down through the years who were truly vicious, and they were born that way. We had a couple at Lana Lobell, and thinking I was smarter than everybody, I bought one here at Walnut Hall. The one I bought had actually been trained and raced by Neil Shapiro, which contributed to my thinking that she really couldn't be all that bad. I was wrong. She was that bad. Neil, who was a long-time friend, did his own shoeing while he was training. He told me that, on one occasion, this filly had lost one hind shoe. After almost getting killed trying to replace it, he took the only option available, and she raced with one hind foot barefoot until, after seven weeks, the other shoe fell off. After that she raced barefoot behind.

The only saving grace, if there is one, is that these killer mares are reasonably safe and manageable when they're in season. But if you happen to breed one and let her carry the foal, you better give the foal his enema and all his shots before his mother decides to stand up.

There was also an interesting message from a smart horseman in New Zealand. Apropos of my piece on OCDs, he said that he had a mare who had five foals by Bettor's Delight, and every one of them scanned perfectly clean in all four legs and stifles. Then he switched to two other high-profile sires, got a foal by each of them, and both had OCDs. (You'll remember, an OCD is a bone lesion, fixable, but the bane of market breeders.)

This touches directly on the study of epigenetics, which involves heritable changes to the phenotype, or physical horse. It may well be that if different stallion crosses with the same mare will produce OCDs, while another cross doesn't, that may rightfully be a genetic issue.

Certainly there has been no research linking the occurrence of OCDs to the genetics of the two horses involved. It would be a subject well worth knowing about, and I'd be happy to hear any anecdotal information anyone might have. OCDs have been a plague for as long as this kid has been breeding horses, and no one has yet come up with a way to eliminate them, although there have been plenty of attempts through research on feeding, exercise, climate, and various other things.

Finally, the 2-year-old racing season is now hitting its full stride, and there's one curious thing to note when looking at the sire statistics. Every stallion standing in the United States is limited to a book of 140 mares by the USTA. Standardbred Canada, however, has a book limited to 250, and the registration of every foal with Standardbred Canada is recognized by the USTA.

That clearly gives a popular Canadian sire an edge over his competition in the states, for the obvious reason the more foals, the more winners.

I have no pat answer to this conundrum. From personal experience, there's still a loss of heterozygosity or the variability factor, in the American trotter. That is manifested by a decline in the fertility of American trotting stallions, and without naming names, we have that problem with some of our best trotting sires today.

Every geneticist knows that lowered fertility in stallions is inheritable, so the problem is self sustaining. As it happens, there are now at least three 3-year-old trotting contenders with "outcross pedigrees". An outcross, as you'll recall, is a pedigree in which no name occurs more than once in the first four generations.

Jim Harrison, the smartest man who ever worked with standard-breds, taught me that nature will never breed itself into a corner. Which means that there's a trotter on the way who will open up a whole new trotting line, and solve our fertility problems. I have an idea who it will be, but I'm not telling.

Summer of 39

by Bob Heyden

Tim Tetrick is about to officially enter into the Hall Of Fame next Sunday at age 39. Here's a look at many others and what they did the year they were 39.

In 1956, Joe O'Brien was campaigning the magnificent Scott Frost to his second straight HOY season. Coming off the very first ever Triple Crown season the very year the Yonkers Trot was introduced. Joe-then 39, lived until Sept. 29, 1984.

In 1987, Hall of Famer Ted Wing got his biggest ever purse check at 39 – finishing second. In the 1987 Woodrow Wilson Even Odds got half of the $1,422,000 purse, but Wing's Prince Royce was second in this the last ever Wilson to go for better than $1.1 million.

Mike Lachance turned 39 in 1989, the same year he dominated the Jug with Goalie Jeff and also raced the fabulous Matts Scooter to a Horse of the Year season – the last time a HOY had 30 starts in a single, award-winning season.

Ron Waples was 39 when he won the Triple Crown in 1983 with Ralph Hanover. Four days before winning the Meadowlands Pace ($1,251,000) with Ralph, he won the Sweetheart ($1,062,000) with upsetter Shannon Fancy, making him the only driver to win his first two million-dollar drives, these two just four days apart.

Ray Schnittker was 39 when he first tested the Hambletonian waters in 1997 with Armbr Plato (third). He was third again in 2000 with Armbr Trick – also a longshot – before winning it all in 2008 with Deweycheatumhowe. That is just over $1 million in purse earnings in his first three Hambletonian drives – making him the only driver with this accomplishment.

Jimmy Takter was 39 in 1999 when his prized Moni Maker was named HOY for the second straight season – the last time any horse has repeated HOY honors.

John Campbell was 39 in 1994 when Cams Card Shark dominated, setting a new earnings record along the way ($2.2 million plus). That record lasted six years until Gallo Blue Chip surpassed $2.4 million in 2000.

David Miller turned 39 in 2003, the year No Pan Intended won the pacing Triple Crown. Eighteen years later, no pacer has won the Triple Crown making it the longest drought in the history of the pacing Crown.

Stanley Dancer was 39 the first time he won with Nevele Pride, aged 2. That colt would record the single most magnificent freshman trotting season of all time going 26-for-29-and was aptly named HOY. He repeated in 1968 and 1969.

Brian Sears was 39 in 2007 when he won 2/3rds of the Triple Crown for pacers with Always A Virgin –the Cane and the Messenger. That colt went on to sire HOY Always B Miki.

Thank you, Anne Doolin

The sport of horse racing – and the world – lost one of its treasures recently with the passing of Anne Doolin. She worked with standardbreds, thoroughbreds, rescue outfits, with the less fortunate. Anne was front and center. Anne's breezy and welcoming presence were always on display. You might not have seen her come into the room, but you absolutely felt better knowing she was there.

I knew Anne well over 30 years. I am 99 per cent sure that she was simply incapable of raising her voice. Her quiet demeanor WAS her insistence – one of getting things done – very often for those in need of a helping hand.

Anne worked at the Meadowlands from 1989-1996 doing stories, interviews, backstretch meet and greets. She left for Kentucky, Scioto, thoroughbreds, all the time being one of us. Geography was of no concern to her mission.

Teaching and giving were a natural extension of who she was. She never thought she stood out. When she won the LeAnne Pooler Award in 2017 for outstanding service, she was somewhat confused. She was only doing what she was meant – and sent – to do.

It was the rare moment when you introduced Anne to someone that she didn't already know. Well traveled, well known and very well liked. You didn't forget Anne.

It was simply never about Anne. Yeah, she wrote that flyer you were looking at on the telephone pole, but it was always about lifting someone else up.

Anne supplied a lifetime of steady flowing good natured unassuming decency. Did she want you to adopt that dog? For sure. Could you help her with some background on this horseman? Oh yes.

If the person behind the spotlight ever shined it Anne's way, it was quickly adjusted to the real stars of the show. Many, many animals are alive today thanks to her efforts. Many of those in need of a break or a boost benefitted from her forever extended hand.

It was not unusual in the past 20 years for me to not see Anne for 18-24 months at a time, but when you bumped into her at a horse sale or awards dinner – maybe a big race night – you just picked right up.

She made everyone's life a little bit better. No need for a curtain call either. Anne, you're still very much with us.

Spectators welcomed 'back on track' at Woodbine Mohawk Park

*Racetrack to open its doors for live racing on

by Jamie Dykstra / Woodbine communications

Woodbine Entertainment has announced that it is excited to welcome back a limited number of spectators, including owners, to Woodbine Mohawk Park for live standardbred racing as of Thursday, July 1. This marks the first time in 2021 that spectators are permitted to attend live racing at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Capacity will be limited to 25 per cent of grandstand seating and the track side apron.

"We are thrilled to be able to open our doors on Canada Day and welcome back our owners and some spectators to the track who have been dearly missed," said Jim Lawson, CEO, Woodbine Entertainment. "We have been operating live racing for a couple of weeks now, but it's just not the same with empty stands. We are thankful to the government for entrusting us to safely welcome back a limited number of spectators."

Starting next week, a limited number of spectators will be permitted to reserve their spot at Woodbine Mohawk Park's Trackside Apron or Barbeque Patio. As per government guidelines, spectators must make a reservation for access to any of the above areas. Woodbine is developing its reservation system and will offer guidance how to use and access the system next week.

Here are the details:

Free parking is available in the main parking lot.

Spectators must enter via the main grandstand entrance.

Wagering terminals will be available.

Spectators will be required to wear a face mask while on property (unless eating or drinking).

New Image Media

Some spectators will be allowed to return to Woodbine Mohawk Park beginning July 1.

Live racing takes place every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park. Post time each evening is 7 p.m. Woodbine Mohawk Park will open to spectators one hour before post-time and will only be open on live race days.

Additionally, Woodbine Mohawk Park is open for Quick Cash Stop services. Quick Cash Stop service allows horseplayers to drop-in to place advance wagers, purchase programs, deposit funds into their HPIbet accounts and any other wagering related transactions.

Woodbine Mohawk Park Quick Cash Stop hours:

Monday: 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Tuesday: 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Thursday: 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Friday: 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Saturday: 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Quick Cash Stop customers who would like to extend their stay to view live racing or enjoy patio dining are encouraged to check online for current reservation availability. Details on booking reservations will be available next week.

Frequently Asked Questions

Will the casino be open?

As per the Government of Ontario, casinos are slated to open as part of Stage 3. The best place to find information relating to Elements Casino Mohawk is their website: <https://www.elements casinomohawk.com/>

Do we need to make reservations?

Reservations are required for all guests to help create a safer experience for everyone. More information on reservations will be available next week.

Is there an admission charge for the racetrack?

There is no admission charge to attend the races at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Is patio dining available?

Yes! Limited, safe dining experiences are available with reservations at Woodbine Mohawk Park's spacious outdoor patio.

How many spectators are permitted to experience live, world-class racing at Woodbine Mohawk Park?

Woodbine Entertainment is proud to operate an expansive, premier, outdoor horse racing venues that allow spectators to safely view live, world-class racing at Woodbine Mohawk Park. At Woodbine Mohawk Park, we can safely offer in-person live racing experiences to more than 500 people on our large open-air apron. Additional guests can enjoy excellent dining experiences during live racing.

Will all seating be outside?

Yes. All seating is within our large open-air, outdoor apron.

Can I go inside the Woodbine Mohawk Park grandstand?

Currently, as per government restrictions and in the interest of everyone's safety, indoor experiences are limited. Guests who have made a reservation to attend live racing may enter the grandstand to access outdoor areas, use the washrooms, place a bet (outdoor wagering to be available in some locations) or for emergency purposes.

What is Woodbine Entertainment doing to ensure the venues are safe?

As part of Step Two requirements, Woodbine Entertainment will ensure all guests have made reservations with the necessary contact information, follow a robust safety plan and post occupancy limits. Additionally, Woodbine Entertainment will follow an advanced cleaning and disinfecting schedule in all common areas and screen all guests and staff for COVID-19 symptoms or exposure.

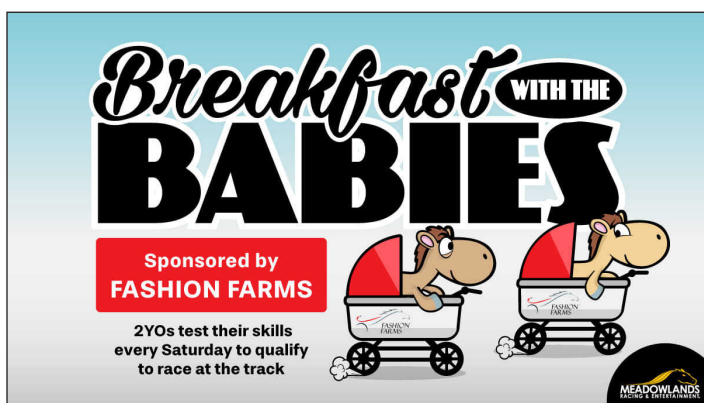

Will I be required to wear a mask while at Woodbine Mohawk Park?

Yes. Everyone onsite is required to always wear a mask while at Woodbine Mohawk Park except for when eating or drinking.

Walners steal the show again at Breakfast With The Babies

by Nick Salvi / Meadowlands media relations

The latest edition of Breakfast With The Babies, sponsored by Fashion Farms, was held Saturday (June 26) at the Meadowlands under partly cloudy skies with a slight breeze at their backs down the stretch and the temperature at 75 degrees.

The Walners again stole the show with five total winners on the day, a few of those real eye-catchers.

In a departure from tradition, the races began with pacing colts and JK Victory (Tim Tetrack) took the opener in 1:53.3. Tim sat in with him through the early stages then tipped from behind leader Gone Before Dawn (Jason Bartlett) in the stretch through a :26.2 final quarter for the win. Hunted House (Mark MacDonald) was third. The winner is trained by Nancy Takter for the 3 Brothers Stable and Caviart Farms who bought the JK Endofanera colt at the Hoosier yearling sale from breeder Victory Hill Farm for $115,000.

Ken Jacobs paid $200,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale (LSYS) for a son of his champion of a few years ago, Walner, and christened the colt Ken's Walner. If this set of circumstances led you to believe the colt might be special, today's effort would have done nothing to dissuade you from that opinion. Scott Zeron drove Ken's Walner to a 2:00.1 win, holding the colt just behind Big Miles (Ake Svanstedt) coincidentally owned by Mr. Jacobs as well, then letting him trot through the lane in a flat :27 under his own power for the win. A One A (Yannick Gingras) was third. Linda Toscano trains and Lindy Farms and Adam Victor & Son bred the winner.

Toscano and Zeron came right back to win the third with a sharp looking Huntsville filly named Reenactment in 1:56, final quarter in :27.3. Four Leaf Lindy (Gingras) was gaining late from the pocket to be beaten a half-length with Miki Rose (Dave Miller) third. Fred Hertrich bred the winner, sold to Let It Ride, Chodash and Cohen for $35,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sales (SHS).

The Walner-sired filly Gracelyn Hanover (Corey Callahan) was a handy, front-stepping winner in 1:56.4 using a :28.1 final quarter to hold Dixiechick Hanover (Tetrack) at bay through the stretch with Mighty Angel (Svanstedt) well back in third. The winner is a Hanover bred, purchased by trainer John Butenschoen for Harmony Oaks Racing Stable for $35,000 at (SHS).

Twin B Deluxe (Jason Bartlett) was a homebred winner in 1:56.3 / :27.1, for trainer Andrew Harris with stablemate Xmarxthespot (Tetrack) closing in late for the place and New Normal (Dexter Dunn) was third. The winning son of American Ideal is a Twinbrook Limited homebred.

Walner progeny made it three-for-three when Wily Wally (Gingras) converted a nice pocket trip into a stretch rally for a 1:58.1 / :28 win for trainer Domenico Cecere. Wishful Order (Dunn) rallied late to be second while mile cutter Southwind Drover (Brian Sears) was off stride while crossing the wire third as On The Deck (Andy McCarthy) was gaining well late under a hold. Lindy Farms and Robert Rudolph own the winner, purchased for $50,000 in Lexington last fall from breeder Glengate Farm.

More Than Ever (Tetrack) impressed with a front-end tour de force for owner/breeder Brittany Farms and Riverview Racing. The filly held sway with a :28 end to a 1:58.2 mile on her own over Brickhouse Babe (Mark MacDonald) with Gettinmystepsin (Andy Miller) third. Tony Alagna trains the winner, a daughter of Father Patrick.

Letsdoit S, from the first crop of Elitlopp winner Nuncio, was an impressive winner for Brian Sears leading throughout and drawing away convincingly under wraps in 1:57.4. Fast As The Wind (A. McCarthy) closed nicely up the pegs for second while TNT Blue Chip (D. Dunn) held third. The winner is a Stall TZ homebred trained in the Marcus Melander barn.

Misswalner Fashion (Tetrack), by...you guessed it...was ultra-impressive this morning coming from just back of the speed to roar by the field with a :26.4 final quarter on a 1:55.3 mile under no urging. Jim Campbell trains the homebred for Jules Siegel of Fashion Farm fame (thanks Jules) who had included Judith Peres as a partner. Raised By Lindy (Domenico Cecere) was a resolute second and Valentina Blu (A. McCarthy) flashed good late foot to be third.

Blue Skies Shining (D. Miller) led from pillar to post for a 1:58.3 / :28.2 win over a closing Ladybugs N Bourbon (Jimmy Takter) with Behindblueeyes (A. Svanstedt). The Muscle Hill colt was a $230,000 yearling sold by breeders Pozefsky and Wilson to The Delaware Group, Equinex Racing Corp. and Joe Sbrocco. Chris Beaver is the trainer.

The royally-bred Venerable, a daughter of Walner from the fast Jolene Jolene, flashed some fancy late foot for Dave Miller to get up the inside and eek out a narrow win over Ramona Hill's kid sister La Vie En Blanc and Malizosa Lindy in 1:58 / :28.1. The backstretch rabble has been good on this one all winter from generally understated trainer Nifty Norman, who know it when he sees it. Venerable was a $210,000 Lexington purchase by David McDuffee, Mel Hartman, Paul Bordogna and Steve Arnold from breeder Maumee River Stables, Black Creek Farm, Martin Schmucker and Steve Stewart.

Elevator pitching

by Trey Nosrac

Are you a trainer looking for a wealthy owner? Are you a harness hand-icapper tired of getting pummeled by the whales and high takeout? Are you a small-time breeder who wants to promote your yearling? Do you have a new racing product?

Sitting on the pier as you watch the harness racing ship sink or sail will not change your situation. Young or old, you need to try new things. As John Quincy said, "Try and fail but do not fail to try." Do not fear looking like a fool, be bold. If it does not work, be more foolish, be more daring.

"Driving businesspeople back and forth from the airport in my LYFT was enlightening. Passengers would hop into the backseat and begin speaking English in foreign tongues as they prattled into their cell phones using terms like bootstrapping, verticals, synergy, elevators, TOFU, and VC entities?"

David smiled, "I was one of those passengers."

"What the heck is TOFU?"

He explained, "TOFU is an acronym for the top of the funnel, the beginning stage of a deal."

Rolling my eyes, I said, "Whatever happened to English using simple words like I got my foot in the door, they didn't say IGMFITD?"

"Whatever you call it, Willy Loman faced the same problem in Death of a Salesman in 1949 that an entrepreneur faces in 2021 — the beginning of the deal. Anyone in your sport who is looking to try something innovative needs to look for funding. They need to start somewhere. Today, the beginning of a business proposal is called an elevator pitch."

I scratched my chin stubble and asked, "Suppose my sport had an entrepreneur who hoped to use harness horseracing. Or a young trainer without many connections needs to find some owners to invest in a few standardbred yearlings? Where would they start?"

He shrugged. "No matter what you call it, the goal is to get an audience in front of money or investors. Massive projects require venture capitalists, the funders of new ideas. However, any wealthy individual can be a target. People with a new idea or product must find an entry point. The first step is always the most difficult."

"How can any mortal do that? How do trainers find owners?" I asked.

"In the modern business world, just like the old world, you need to grab the ear of a party with resources and hit them with an elevator pitch — a brief, persuasive dialogue to spark interest in your concept. A good elevator pitch lasts about the same amount of time as an elevator ride, hence the name."

I simplified, "You look for people with juice and get their attention."

"Exactly, if you have an idea, you need to push it out to someone who can help. The process is as old as the sun, and so are the methods for approaches. Humor, intensity, confidence, uniqueness, and unpredictability are some methods to make ideas stand out. You must be brief and engage the target."

"Give me a sample using horseracing."

He thought for a few seconds and then said, "The first part of every elevator pitch is to state an obvious problem or need that your product or service addresses."

He cleared his throat, changed his manner of speech, and said, "Horse racing has huge possibilities, but right now, the sport is running in circles. Wagering, which is everything, is not expanding. Demographics are fading like a Trump suntan in hard rain. The transition to social media markets is weak, and the prospects are bleak."

I said, "Whoa, that seems a little dark. And the political wisecrack seems risky."

He continued, "Pitches can be light or dark, are often risky, and there is no end to creativity. But, whatever your approach, the second part of an elevator pitch is a statement that contains the words, What I do or What we do."

"Never fear, I am here, like a knight on a white horse. What my people do is create new gambling opportunities that allow sports like harness horse racing to leverage their products to gamblers on social media platforms."

"Are you making this up on the fly?" I asked.

"Yes and no. I've heard hundreds of elevator pitches. I'm merely filling in the basic template. The third part of the formula is where you offer benefits, and it contains The Purpose."

"People are always looking for ways to satisfy their gambling itch. Gambling laws are changing, not just in America but worldwide. Our purpose is that whenever a person with a cell phone has the itch to play, we can scratch it. Scratching the gambling itch is a revenue stream that does not run dry."

I whistled, "That was impressive. If I had a billion dollars, you would have my attention."

He smiled, "I'm not quite finished. Elevator pitchers try to stick the landing with a concise recap."

"We can find revenues in digital media. Potential markets are unbelievable if the sport presents differently. Horse race gambling today is like taking a cab or riding in a horse and buggy. We can bring money and new markets to you, monster money, huge markets. Here is my card. Call me if you want to piggyback off racing, and we can set up a deck pitch."

"Deck pitch?"

"That's the next step if you get a nibble from the elevator. I'll give you more elevator pitches for horse racing in the next few weeks."

I shook my head, "I'm beginning to understand why you retired early."

He smiled again, "Asking for funding or support is awkward. Convincing other people to believe in your dream is challenging and frustrating. However, if you want to get a hit, you need to swing the bat. Remember, 'Do or do not. There is no try.' Yoda says."

I scratched my chin, "Give me a wild pitch for finding a new owner."

Perfect Sting gets DQ win in $148,332 PASS at The Meadows

Perfect Sting, the reigning Dan Patch awardee and 2-5 favorite, got his win in Saturday's (June 26) $148,332 Pennsylvania Sires Stake (PASS) for 3-year-old male pacers at The Meadows, but it was unlike anything his backers or connections envisioned.

The pocket-sitting Rockyroad Hanover outkicked Perfect Sting in the Lightning Lane and crossed the wire first, 1/2 length ahead of the champ.

But Rockyroad Hanover was briefly rough gaited through the final turn and, following a lengthy inquiry, the judges ruled that the apparent winner interfered with Southwind Gendry, Lou's Pearlman and Literl Lad Hanover, all trying to rally outside. Rockyroad Hanover was disqualified and placed back to fifth while Perfect Sting was awarded the victory and a time of 1:49.4. Southwind Gendry and Lou's Pearlman were promoted to second and third, respectively.

Chris Gooden

Perfect Sting (David Miller) on the lead the first time into the stretch in Saturday's PASS at The Meadows. The colt ended up winning the race when first-to-the-wire Rockyroad Hanover was disqualified and placed back to fifth.

Perfect Sting, a son of Always B Miki—Shebestingin, now has won 12 of 13 career starts and $629,997 for trainer Joe Holloway and owners Brittany Farms and Val D'Or Farms.

The outcome was especially disappointing for Rockyroad Hanover, a son of Captaintreacherous—Romantic Moment whom trainer Tony Alagna had dropped to the PA Stallion Series this year for a jolt of confidence. The colt's driver, Dexter Dunn, said the strategy worked.

"He's been racing really super, and his gate speed got him in a good position," Dunn said. "You never know if you'll get by a great horse like Perfect Sting."

Dunn reacted stoically to the DQ.

"It is what it is," he said. "The judges made the call, that's what it is."

Prior to the judges' decision, Holloway indicated that Perfect Sting had "no excuses" for not holding on, particularly after winning driver David Miller gave him a 29 second-quarter breather.

"We should have won, but we came up a little bit flat," Holloway said. "I don't know whether it was his hard race last week or the ship out here. He should've been better. He just got outkicked."

With two wins and as many seconds in PASS preliminary legs, Southwind Gendry has wrapped up a berth in the $250,000 championship. Perfect Sting has a win and a second in the only two legs he contested; he seems likely to qualify for the final but will have to sweat out the official point count.

PA Stallion Series

In Saturday's sub-feature, the Pennsylvania Stallion Series, Todd McCarthy and trainer Brett Pelling teamed for a double with South Beach Star and Dean B Hanover while Crunch Hanover captured the third split.

Leaving from post 8, South Beach Star was forced to a demanding :26.2 opening panel to reach the point, action that was of some concern to McCarthy.

"I was a bit worried," he said, "but on a windy day, he paced on really well through the stretch. He's a versatile type who can do it either way."

The Somebeachsomewhere—Higher And Higher gelding was strong through the wire, downing the pocket-sitting Emblaze Hanover by 1-1/4 lengths in 1:50.3, with Sweet Angel Boy third.

South Beach Star has won three stallion series splits for owner All Star Racing and has clinched a berth in the $40,000 championship.

Mike Wilder collected three wins on the 13-race card.

Live racing at The Meadows resumes Wednesday when the program features a $1,402.93 carryover in the final-race Super Hi-5. First post is 12:45 p.m.

Hanners breaks through, wins two at Big M

At just 20 years of age, Luke Hanners had already driven 125 winners in his harness racing career, but never tasted victory at The Meadowlands.

Until Friday night (June 25), that is.

The son of long-time horseman Brad Hanners scored in the ninth race for his first-ever victory at The Big M, and apparently liked it so much, he came back and won again in the 11th.

"I grew up in Ohio," said Hanners, who had recorded 60 wins on the year coming into the night but was 0-for-26 at the mile oval. "Ever since I was young all I wanted to do was drive. My father helped me out a lot. I just wanted to try the East Coast and take on a new opportunity. It's where everyone wants to be."

Well-known on the Freehold and Rosecroft circuits, where Hanners has tallied 23 and 30 winners, respectively, this year, the young pilot came first-over from the half to score with 9-5 favorite Davids Coming Home in a TrackMaster 78.5 or less event in 1:51, drawing clear to a 2¼-length win for trainer Mark Capone.

Then, two races later, he put another Capone student, 6-1 fourth choice Stirling Ensign, on the lead and the duo were never headed, scoring by a neck in 1:54 in a TrackMaster 73.5 or less over even-money favorite Mr McDreamy, whose driver, 21-year-old Braxten Boyd, was seeking his first Meadowlands score.

But this night belonged to Hanners, who was thrilled at his accomplishment.

"Definitely this is the top," said Hanners of what is now his career highlight. "This is where everyone wants to be. I sure hope to drive more here in the future."

A LITTLE MORE: Fans of driver Marcus Miller had a good night, cashing three times on the night at odds of 2-5, 7-1 and 20-1... Tony Ciuffetelli guided both winners of the GSY Amateur Club races... Corey Callahan also guided a pair to victory lane... Capone, Edwin Quevedo and Carmen Auciello all trained a pair of winner's circle visitors... All-source handle totaled $2,373,319.

Grand River Raceway welcomes fans back to the track

In light of the recent Ontario government announcement, Grand River Raceway will welcome back 500 spectators beginning June 30.

Moving into Step 2 of the Roadmap to Reopen Ontario provides Grand River Raceway with the opportunity to bring back its much missed spectators. Although indoor spaces will remain closed until Step 3, there will be access to betting, and food and beverage from The New GrandWay Lounge.

"We are thrilled to welcome back guests in advance of the anticipated move to Step 2," said Jamie Martin, director of operations at Grand River Raceway. "We will continue to deliver high quality racing, and a true experience for guest, while also operating in a safe manner in accordance with WDPH best practices."

Spectators will be required to register online to provide ease of contact tracing, a current requirement of the provincial plan. Spectators will also be asked to engage in passive Covid screening, and are welcomed to the track if they:

- Have no symptoms (fever, cough, runny nose, sore throat, or shortness of breath)
- Have not travelled outside of Canada in the past 14 days
- Have not been in close contact with a confirmed or probable case of COVID-19

Guests will be reminded to practice social distancing and keep a 2-meter (6 feet) space between themselves and others.

Free season passes, or nightly tickets to attend Grand River Raceway, will be available soon at www.grandriverraceway.com

So, what can you expect at Grand River Raceway?

Step 2 will be a transition "back to business as usual" with 11 races every Monday, Wednesday, Friday race night. Post time is 6.30 p.m., and guests will be welcomed from 5.30 p.m. onwards.

The tarmac, tarmac tent, GrandWay lounge patio, grandstand and bleachers will all be available, but with no assigned seating.

All guest looking to watch racing will enter from the east side of the main building (left) and will have open access between the tarmac and new GrandWay patio.

All food and beverage will be served from The GrandWay lounge, with a range of pub food and beverages. Until Step 3 all items will be served takeout style, and guests are invited to enjoy their meal trackside in the heart of the action.

Mutuel tellers will be onsite to take bets on the Patio, in the GrandWay Lounge, and on the second floor of the Casino building (accessible only from the Tarmac). There will be self-serve stations available in all of these locations and also in the Tarmac Tent. A reminder if you are coming to the track for the first time all betting takes place in cash and there is an ATM onsite.

Programs can be purchased from any of the Mutuel teller locations or downloaded free of charge at <https://grandriverraceway.com/programs/>.

Washroom access will be on the second floor of the main building, and in The GrandWay.

The Neighbourhood activities and trackside entertainment won't resume until Step 3 of reopening.

Elements Casino is scheduled to reopen in Step 3 of the Roadmap to Reopen, and is not accessible at this time.

"We are incredibly excited to open to guests, and certainly appreciate everyone's patience and understanding as we navigate this new way of operating," said Katie Giddy, Director of Hospitality, Sales and Marketing, "we are certainly doing everything we can to be prepared and invite guest to Expect an Experience."

For those not able to join us in person you can still follow along, with live racing broadcast every race night at <https://grandriverraceway.com/livestreams-replays/>

For regular updates and the most current information please visit www.GrandRiverraceway.com.

Kudos to Heyden

Just another note of appreciation for Hollywood Heyden. I don't know who else could have written such an accurate and personal memoriam for Ben Webster (full story here). The initial decades of the Meadowlands revolutionized harness racing and all those who created that history are so important to harness racing's narrative. Although he hasn't been active for many years, Benny was a vital part of that history. He was a special person, and an exceptional driver but mostly a unique racetrack character. Because of Holly's close involvement in the Meadowlands he captured Benny perfectly and I don't know that anyone else could have done such a complete remembrance.
