Dave McDuffee believes it took a village to get him to the Hall of Fame

The long-time owner will be inducted tonight into the Harness Racing Living Hall of Fame.

by Debbie Little

Dave McDuffee's enthusiasm for harness racing is so electric it could light up a room, and even though tonight's (July 7) Hall of Fame banquet (watch it live here) will be held outside under the stars, it's a good bet none will shine brighter than him.

Growing up in Pepperell, MA, a young McDuffee could never have imagined he would one day see his name added to those of his heroes in the hallowed Hall.

As a current Harness Racing Museum trustee, each year McDuffee makes the nearly five-hour drive to Goshen, NY from his home in Rye, NH. McDuffee also has a home in Delray Beach, FL, where he spends winters and watches his babies at nearby Sunshine Meadows Equestrian Village.

Last year, prior to finding out he had been nominated to the Hall, totally coincidentally, McDuffee took a walk through the Museum's Hall of Fame room and gazed upon the statues of the greats.

USTA
Hall of Famer Dave McDuffee.

"As I walked down through there, those guys, the Billy Haughtons, the Stanley Dancers and even [owner] Octave Blake going way back, they were like Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig to me as a kid growing up, all of those great horse people, like Del Miller," McDuffee said. "As I looked, I said, 'Oh my God, this is like being in the Baseball Hall of Fame to me.'"

To understand the reverence of the comparison, in his younger years, McDuffee was offered a minor league baseball contract, which he never pursued.

From an early age, McDuffee wanted to be around horses. His dad had a couple of standardbreds at their farm and built a half-mile track in the middle of their backyard.

When McDuffee was a boy, maybe 6, 7, or 8 years old, he always wanted to go to the races with his dad.

“You know, in those days we didn’t have Route 95, it was like a four-hour ride to go to Gorham, ME to race in a $2,000 claimer,” he said. “But I wanted to go and I would go with him, but we wouldn’t get back until about three in the morning.”

McDuffee’s mom quickly put the kybosh on these late nights/early mornings for her young son.

“The next day I’d say I want to go and my mother wouldn’t hear it,” McDuffee said. “She said, ‘No, no, you’re staying home. You have to go to school.’”

“I loved it right from the day I was old enough to be around them. I loved the horses. I still do love the horses. I think it’s an amazing animal and I got hooked on it, and, as I’ve told many people before, I actually bought a horse of my own before I bought an automobile.”

Which ended up being better, the car or the horse?

“I didn’t have many good horses for a long time,” he said. “So, the car was probably a much better investment. Well, it was probably more useful, but I didn’t start out buying a Mercedes, I’ll tell you that, they were used cars.”

Going back to last year’s stroll through the museum, McDuffee said, “Well, I hadn’t been nominated, didn’t expect to get nominated, but when I got the call [later in the year] that I had been voted in, the first thought that I had was, ‘Oh my God. What am I doing there with these people? My God, these are people that have contributed hard work.’

“Ownership is different than training and driving and that’s a hell of a lot different. But I’m so flattered, so honored for it. It’s the highlight of my life, it really is, I mean, I’m just so humbled by it.”

Unlike many who have gone before him, McDuffee does not plan to write a speech.

“I generally find that I’m better winging it,” McDuffee said. “The atmosphere sometimes is different and you kind of respond to the crowd you’re in front of, I think. I’ve never had any trouble speaking, so I suspect that I’ll have a few ideas in the back of my head.”

Although his speech may not be written down, McDuffee does have a title for it, which he shared when he was honored back in February at the Dan Patch Awards banquet.

“When I was invited to make a brief statement in Orlando this year, I didn’t say very much but I did say that I know what the title of my speech is going to be, and it’s going to be ‘It Takes a Village,’” McDuffee said.

The book It Takes a Village, written by Hillary Clinton, is about what it takes to raise a child and the contributions made by those outside the immediate family.

“I’ll probably use that term at some point because it took a village to get me in this Hall of Fame,” McDuffee said. “It wasn’t me doing it, it was all of these other people around me.”

Going with that theme, McDuffee has many he could thank, both human and equine.

The owner/breeder of multiple Dan Patch/O’Brien award winners was keeping his cards close to the vest regarding who he plans to thank, but he did mention his first significant partner, the late Tom Walsh, as well as partners Melvin Hartman and Herb Liverman, trainers Chuck Sylvester, Brett Pelling and Nifty Norman, and most importantly, his family, especially his wife of 58 years, Mary Ellen.

McDuffee will be introduced tonight by his good friend Steve Jones, who is his partner on the incomparable Bella Bellini.

McDuffee believes that Jones’ introduction will be on the brief side, remembering a conversation the two men had at the 2021 Hall of Fame banquet prior to McDuffee making an acceptance speech for one of his horses.

“So, that was when Bee A Magician went in the Hall of Fame,” said Jones, adding with a laugh, “I said [to Dave], ‘Look, nobody wants to hear these long speeches; keep it short and the shorter, the better. And he said, ‘Okay, how about thank you very much?’ And I said, ‘Too long.’ So, he just said ‘Thank you.’”

McDuffee always has a great and typically funny story to tell – the ones about his first date with his wife and his first conversation with Pelling immediately come to mind – but he didn’t want to say too much in advance of tonight’s ceremony. He said with a laugh if too much came out in print, he’d have nothing left to say at the podium.

“I’ve got five hours to drive down on Saturday because we have a board meeting first thing Sunday morning, so I will probably do a lot of thinking about what I want to say at that time,” McDuffee said, adding with a laugh, “I kind of think I ought to just take your article and just pass it around and then say, ‘Why don’t you all take that article, come out to the bar, I’ll buy you a drink, read the article and thanks very much.’”

Jim Campbell, the epitome of class, thanks others for Hall of Fame honor

by Dave Briggs

It's not the least bit surprising that the first thing Jim Campbell does is thank and credit others for his berth in the Harness Racing Living Hall of Fame. Class and integrity have been integral parts of the trainer's career from the beginning, along with equal doses of talent and work ethic.

"I'm so thankful for all the grooms and second trainers and owners and drivers and everybody that along the way helped me to get to this special moment," Campbell said Saturday morning (July 6) a few hours before leaving New Jersey for Goshen, NY where tonight (July 7) he will be officially enshrined in the Hall of Fame along with fellow trainer Eddie Lohmeyer and owner David McDuffee.

"It's certainly not anything that I did on my own. I had lots of help along the way, especially my dad [Jack] and my brother [John]. I'm very blessed to have had two people like dad and John in my life to direct me not just with horses but life in general. My wife and I are going to be married 30 years this year and I thank her for all her support and our son James. Just my whole family's been behind me my whole career through the ups and downs. My family's always been there."

A huge number of them will be on hand tonight, many flying in from Jim's native Ontario. When reached, Jim said more than 25 of them were scheduled to gather in Goshen on Saturday evening for a celebratory meal organized by John.

Jim, 62, truly hails from a Hall of Fame family, both literally and figuratively.

~ Jim Campbell

His grandfather, Dunc Campbell, was inducted into the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame in 1983. John, one of the world’s greatest drivers, was inducted into the Canadian Hall in 1987 and the Living Hall of Fame in Goshen in 1991.

Now comes Jim’s turn.

Sadly, Jack is no longer here to witness Jim’s induction. He died in 2012.

Jim was especially close with his father.

“He would be very proud to say that his two boys got into the Hall of Fame,” Jim said of Jack. “But, you know, he was always proud of us no matter what we did. He was so supportive [of me], especially being younger and getting going [in the industry]. I always said dad was the best teacher a kid could ask for to learn about training horses because his idea was to get you out there and get you to do it so that when you made a mistake you learned from it. Overall, he just would be so proud to say his two boys are in the Hall of Fame.”

John previously told HRU that Jim developed his work ethic from their grandfather.

“I spent a lot of time with my grandfather, but the work ethic part didn’t wear off because I was just looking to do it easier and get out of work,” John said. “Jim, even as a kid, he never ran out of a time where he wouldn’t work.”

Jim said his, “grandpa was a hard worker his whole life. He would just be proud that I worked hard over the years. A lot of times, if I had a really long day, I would think of my grandfather because work was all he knew. He was the hardest working man I think I’ve ever met.”

Lifetime, Jim ranks 13th among trainer earnings with over $54 million. The trainer has seen his stable eclipse $1 million in earnings every year dating back to 2008 and 24 times in his career. Of those, in 13 years he passed $2 million.

Perhaps the most impressive statistic related to Jim is that he has accomplished such lofty numbers while still maintaining a reasonably-sized barn. Also noteworthy is the breadth of his work. He has succeeded with pacers and trotters as well as with young horses and old. His wins have come on small tracks and large, and his talent to bring along a horse to its peak is uncanny.

He has conditioned two Hambletonian champions – Tagliabue (1995) and Cool Papa Bell (2022). The same day Cool Papa Bell won the Hambletonian, Jim also won the Hambletonian Oaks with Fashion Schooner, making him only the third trainer in history to win the Hambletonian and Oaks the same day. He posted a UTRS of .428 that year and won was voted the U.S. Harness Writers Association’s Trainer of the Year. It helped cement Jim as a Hall of Famer.

Long a veteran of the New Jersey racing scene, one of Jim's first big horses came in 1987 with Run The Table for the Farber family that also owned Cool Papa Bell. Run The Table would eventually go on to stallion duty in Canada and was inducted into the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame.

Jim has won six Breeders Crowns lifetime, many as the long-time trainer for Hall of Fame owner Jules Siegel and his late wife, Arlene, the operators of Fashion Farms.

Beyond Tagliabue and Cool Papa Bell, award-winners trained by Jim include Galleria, Broadway Hall, Broadway Schooner (his other Oaks champion), Broadway Donna and Real Cool Sam.

"Just to sum it up, I feel very, very blessed and thankful for all the great people that have come into my life throughout my career in our industry," Jim said.

Hall of Famer Eddie Lohmeyer.

The charmed life of Eddie Lohmeyer... led to the Hall of Fame

by Murray Brown

(Editor's note: When we began considering how best to honor Eddie Lohmeyer on tonight's (July 7) induction into the Harness Racing Living Hall of Fame, we soon discovered we likely couldn't come up with a better tribute than republishing this conversation Lohmeyer had with our Murray Brown that was originally featured in our Jan. 16, 2022 issue. So, here it is again.)

How many trainers have you heard of who have kept the same owner for over 30 years? I would guess not too many. Think of this: Eddie Lohmeyer has had two such owners.

Bob Tucker had horses in Lohmeyer's stable for 43 years and John Stoddard had them with him for 33.

If nothing else, that speaks volumes for the incredible performance, outstanding horsemanship, honorable nature and perhaps, most of all, incredible loyalty that this life-long horseman has inspired.

The tale of Ed Lohmeyer traces to Monticello, NY where he was born and raised into a family of life-long horsemen. He credits his uncles, the three Manzi brothers, most specifically Al, the father of the renowned Catello Manzi and his dad Ed, Sr. for inspiring his start in harness racing.

In 1960, then a senior in high school and shepherded by Uncle Al, Lohmeyer attended the Harrisburg sale. While there he made his first horse purchase. He bought a yearling colt named Sam Mac, a son of the stallion Meade Mac for the price of $300.

That winter Lohmeyer rationed his time between going to school and getting up early to prepare his protege for that summers racing on the New York fair circuit. The training was done on the back roads where he lived.

“Sam Mac and me traveled the circuit from fair to fair,” Lohmeyer said. “I had my truck and trailer. I would sleep in the trailer. It wasn’t near as difficult as it might sound. It was actually a great deal of fun. The memories of that summer will last with me forever.”

He graduated from high school in 1961 and started racing at Monticello Raceway in 1962.

He began training and racing at Monticello. Shortly thereafter he moved his training activities to Honedale, PA, a 30 minute drive from Monticello. He raced with decent success, mostly at Monticello, for the next three years.

The Vietnam War was at its height. They were drafting 65,000 men a month at the time. Lohmeyer was drafted in 1965, but received a one-year deferment because he was training five head of horses and needed to find new homes for them.

Upon entering the service, he was told that the Marines were short of their allotment. He figured that if he was destined to be a soldier, he might as well be one of the best – the Few, the Proud. Thus, Lohmeyer became a member of the United State Marine Corps.

Shortly thereafter he was shipped to Vietnam where he served for 13 months. On reflection, he said “It was a terrible war and we had no business being there. As with most wars of recent American vintage, it was one manufactured by the politicians for their own benefit. We would probably be best if we tended to our own challenges at home and let other countries take care of theirs.”

He returned to America landing at the marine base in Quantico Virginia.

No sooner had he been mustered out of the Marine Corps, than he was asked to drive at the then functioning Georgetown Raceway in Delaware. He didn’t even have his colors and had to borrow a set.

He started training and driving at Green Mountain Park, where Joe DeFrank was racing secretary. Back then, Lohmeyer was mostly noted as a catch driver, but is quick to point out that he always had a stable that he trained. He felt then and still feels that DeFrank was the best and fairest of all race secretaries. He soon hitched himself to Joe DeFrank's bandwagon. Wherever Joe became the race secretary, Lohmeyer followed. From Green Mountain, Lohmeyer raced at The Meadows, Freehold, Suffolk Downs and of course The Meadowlands where he was among the invited guests at the track's ground breaking.

He has now entered a new phase of his life, where together with his wife, the noted equine surgeon, Dr. Patty Hogan, they have established Pheasant Hill Farms, one of the foremost equine surgery clinics in all of horsedom at the former Perretti Farms.

It was there, after Lohmeyer spent a year away from training horses, that this scribe caught up with him.

You've undergone a big change in your lifestyle, from training and driving horses to managing a 305-acre farm and surgical clinic, considered to be one of the best of its kind anywhere. How has this affected you?

"If I said, 'It has been easy,' I'd be lying. Prior to spending last winter at the clinic, I'd spent 50 consecutive years training horses in Florida every off season. Most of all, I miss the people and the camaraderie of the racetrack. The warm weather was also nice.

"If you've experienced it, you would know what I was saying. If you haven't, then it would be next to impossible to describe. Not having my horsemen friends around, combined with not being able to sit behind one in a cart has constituted a big change in my life.

"But, this new life has lots of plusses as well. I live together with the love of my life in a gorgeous home on one of the most beautiful horse farms anywhere. I'm still around horses on a daily basis. At any given time there are anywhere from 60-70 horses, mostly equally divided between thoroughbreds and standardbreds turned out at the farm, most of them are patients of Patty's at the clinic. Patty and I still own nine trotting broodmares, together with their foals. As Mr. Churchill is often quoted as having said, 'There's something about the outside of a horse that's good for the inside of a man.'"

Let's talk about your racing career. I started this story by mentioning the amazing fact that you've had relatively few owners, but those you've had have stayed with you virtually forever. To what do you attribute this?

"Firstly, probably the good luck to have as great a gentleman as Bob Tucker enter my life. Bob was a great man – strong willed, but brilliant and extremely loyal and understanding. To my knowledge, from the first time I had a horse with him, he never had one trained by anybody else. From Bob, I got to know and train horses for John Stoddard. Through Mr. Stoddard, I got to know and train horses for and in partnership with the former Secretary of the Treasury, William E. Simon. I did my best for all of them and they repaid me by sticking with me. They also increased my owner base with a few stock market people who came in on some of our high-priced yearling acquisitions.”

You mention high-priced yearling acquisitions. Two that stand out were Landslide at $290,000 and Vanston Hanover at $325,000. We both know that most high-priced yearlings do not usually work out to the best advantage. These were two that did.

“It’s interesting that we bought each of them by making only one bid – the final one. With Landslide we were at Stoner Creek Stud, Bob Tucker, Mr. Stoddard and a few of their Wall Street associates who I jokingly refer to as the Irish Mafia. They brought him out. He was gorgeous. When asked if I liked him I replied in the affirmative. I said that he was the best colt being sold anywhere that year. One of them said, ‘Then, let’s buy him.’ So we did. He tried to bow a tendon at 2. I told them that if we didn’t stop with him, we would cause him irreparable damage. They were alright with that. At 3, he was a monster. He won 10 in a row including the Adios. He was then syndicated for $3.6 million.

“Vanston Hanover was an absolutely beautiful colt. He sold at The Meadowlands for $325,000 one of the years when Hanover sold a bunch of their yearlings there. He had talent and raced well, but didn’t turn out quite as good as we thought he might become. Nevertheless, between what he earned here and what we sold him for to stand stud Down Under, he earned himself out.

“Landslide was just a moderately successful stallion here. I’ve been told that Vanston Hanover was very successful Down Under.”

You’ve been around through several generations of horsefolk, who were the best?

“I would have to say through my formative times in the business and to some degree beyond, two names would stand out. It would not be a surprise to know that those names are Stanley Dancer and Billy Haughton.

“I like to reserve the word great to describe people or horses who were actually that. I find the word to sometimes be overused, especially today. But those two men fit that description to a tee.

“Strangely enough, though, they were generally quite different in both their training and driving methods. Billy was as great an all-around horseman as ever lived. His speciality was in never giving up on horses. If you had a problem young horse, there was nobody better at making a good horse out of it than was WRH. As a driver, I would describe him as more of a finesse type.

“Stanley’s speciality was in either developing young horses from their yearling stage or getting a good horse and then developing it into a great one. He especially excelled at managing a top horse. The number of horses he had as Horse of the Year leads the list. He was also an extremely astute businessman.

“As a driver, he totally revolutionized the sport. In retrospect, it wasn’t all that hard a thing to discover, but he figured out that the quickest and shortest way around a racetrack was from the top, sitting at the rail.

“In recent years, for some reason those from Europe and Down Under seem to lead the list. Names like Jimmy and Nancy Takter, Brett Pelling, Ake Svanstedt, Nifty Norman, Marcus Melander, Noel Daley are always found at or near the top. That’s not to say that we don’t have our share of top homegrown horseman such as Ronnie Burke and Tony Alagna.

“I’d also be remiss if I didn’t mention my mentor Al Manzi and some names such as Delvin Miller, Ronnie Waples and Erv Miller.”

You were particularly close to not only Stanley Dancer and Billy Haughton, but also to members of both their families.

“Yes indeed. The Dancers lived just down the road from us. When I was starting out, I bought a bunch of used equipment from Vernon to help outfit my horses. I need to add they were priced so reasonably, that I might have thought I was stealing. I remember one of the halters had the nameplate of Lyss Hanover, a top Adios colt that Vernon trained and raced.

“Ronnie Dancer, Stanley’s son, was and remains not only a good friend of mine, but also the best friend that harness racing in New Jersey has in that state’s legislature. I’ve always thought that if harness racing ever got a much needed commissioner, that Ronnie would make a perfect candidate for that job.

“Billy and his wife Dottie were wonderful friends and teachers, but the one Haughton closest to my heart was their son Peter. Peter was a great friend and a wonderful horseman. When The Meadowlands opened, I bought a home in nearby Harmon Cove. Peter stayed with me when he raced at The Meadowlands in the winter. He was living in my guest bedroom at the time of that fateful crash that took his life. That was probably the worst day of my life. The evening of Peter’s funeral, I drove his horse Cold Comfort to a win in the free-for-all trot at The Meadowlands. I was so distraught, that I couldn’t even stay for the winner’s circle picture presentation.”

Let's talk about drivers. Who were the best?

“John Campbell – He undoubtedly would be the best. He dominated for so long. He was great for the sport both on and off the racetrack. He is now taking it to another level as the president of the Hambletonian Society.

“Herve Filion – He has to be my all-time favorite. I learned so much from watching and listening to him. He was part, maybe even mostly horse. He had so much innate wisdom about horses and was such a pleasure to be around. I've never known anybody quite like him.

“Cat Manzi – Not because he is my cousin. He is my uncle Al's son, seven years younger than me. But because he was a genuinely great driver. He had soft hands and was very kind to horses. Even though his numbers are astounding, I feel he sometimes gets lost in discussing the all-time greats.

“Bill O'Donnell – Another of the very greatest. As similar to Herve as anybody that I've seen or known – complete to the wisecracks and great personality both on and off the track. For a period of time, maybe the best there ever was to sit behind a horse.

“Ronnie Waples – He's another who sometimes gets overlooked. Not only a great driver, but a great all around horseman, a hard worker and a great friend.

“Ronnie Pierce – A great driver and a great friend. You could never discount him, especially when the big money was up.

“Then, of course, there are the modern wonders and they are just that – wonderful drivers. Guys like Tim Tetrick, David Miller, Yannick Gingras, Brian Sears, George Brennan, Dexter Dunn, the McCarthy brothers, George Napolitano, Jr, Aaron Merriman and Dave Palone would have been great any time and in any era.

“Two things I firmly believe: 1. Great drivers are born, not made. The same applies to horses. 2. Weight plays a big part in determining greatness in the bike. It is especially a factor in present times when speed is such a factor. Even back then, guys like the first great catch driver Hughie Bell and Tic Wilcutts had an edge because of their tiny size. Today's great drivers are more conscious of their size and conditioning than ever before. They watch their weight. It might not get them a huge edge. But every little edge counts.”

Probably the least known fact about you and the one that perhaps you might take the most pride in is that you have been a moderately successful breeder from having only raised a relatively small number of foals.

“I still own a home and a small 38-acre farm on it in Cream Ridge, NJ that we have just put on the market. From that little place and owning just a handful of mares, we bred and raised such horses as Pacific Rocket, Pacific Fella, NYSS champion and the highest money winning 2-year-old of 1972, Eddie Jeff. At the 2020 Harrisburg sale, held at Timonium, we sold the trotting filly Adair Castle for $12,000. She was the highest money winning 2-year-old trotting filly in Ontario winning over $396,000.

“Patty and I presently own nine broodmares, all of them trotters. We breed them mostly in Pennsylvania at Hanover and also breed a few in Ohio where the stud fees are fairly reasonable. We play at the middle to lower end of the marketplace and try to watch our dollars as best we can.”

How about the future for Eddie Lohmeyer?

“I consider myself to have been one of the luckiest guys on the face of this earth. I have the best wife in the world. I live in a beautiful home and manage one of the nicest farms anywhere, surrounded by horses. What else could a guy wish for?

“PS – We are also privileged to share our lives with two of the world's greatest dogs, our Golden Retriever Eli and our black Labrador retriever Jack.”

Bojarski began his contact with harness racing communications in 1986 at Batavia Downs, near his western New York home of Akron, authoring a tip sheet and writing profiles of horsemen. He is in his 23rd year of writing for Hoof Beats, the award-winning magazine of the U.S. Trotting Association, for which he has been a columnist for 11 years. The busy Bojarski is employed by Plainridge Park near Boston, the Standardbred Owners of Massachusetts and that state's stakes program, the New York Sire Stakes, and Batavia Downs.

Dave Brower, who died unexpectedly in October 2022 at the age of 53, was a mainstay of The Meadowlands for many years, achieving his biggest recognition as a broadcaster on the nightly racing show from the New Jersey oval, in addition to being that track's morning-line oddsmaker and handicapper. The author of the book "Harnessing Winners" was also a highly visible contributor to the Hambletonian Day television coverage on many occasions and worked in broadcasting during the Grand Circuit meets at the Delaware County Fair in Ohio and at Lexington's Red Mile.

On Saturday (July 6), the U.S. Harness Writers Association celebrated the opening of the new, interactive Communicators Hall of Fame kiosk inside the Harness Racing Museum and Hall of Fame in Goshen.

"The most collaborative and expansive exhibit update this year has been the Communicators Hall of Fame," said Museum director Janet Terhune. "In association with a committed group of members from the United States Harness Writers Association, the Museum has designed and implemented a new look and digital framework to celebrate the accomplishments of those elected to the Communicators Hall of Fame. This effort is likely to lead the way in other digital installations and updates that will renew and refresh the Museum's overall presentation."

"We are so thrilled and thankful to the Museum for housing the members of the Communicators Hall of Fame as we move into the future via this new display," Michael Carter, USHWA president, said. "Our recognized Hall of Fame members – which includes writers, publicists, and other top communicators within the harness racing industry – deserve to have first-rate recognition, and this modern kiosk does just that."

With space limited within the Harness Racing Museum and Hall of Fame, the decision was made to showcase the CHOF members in an upgraded, modern format. The CHOF kiosk will allow visitors to search for a member alphabetically and will present the CHOF member's biography and pertinent information in a digital format, along with accompanying photographs.

TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

with MURRAY BROWN

Some think Todd Schadel could have the next Niatross

by Murray Brown

Roger Hammer is generally acknowledged as being the “King of the Fairs” when it comes to Pennsylvania racing. As long as he continues to race, Hammer still remains as the monarch. But there is a king in waiting. He is Todd Schadel.

“Roger is cutting down” said Schadel. “He only has two 3-year-olds in our first 3-year-old races at Butler. I’m racing five 3-year-olds on Wednesday, those in addition to the nine 2-year-olds I have in on Tuesday.

“Butler is the beginning of our fair season in Pennsylvania. I generally race the 2-year-olds that show promise a couple of times in the Pennsylvania Sires Stakes or Stallion Series Stakes. If they do well there, I’ll continue for the season. If they don’t finish first or second, I will generally take them to the fairs. It’s a formula that has worked well for me. For example, last year, Showboat Hanover earned $43,058 racing mostly at the fairs. I’m a big believer in racing horses where they are competitive and where they can earn money and pay their way.”

It is still very early for 2- and 3-year-old stakes racing in general and Pennsylvania in particular. To this observer, Schadel has begun the year like the proverbial house afire.

Schadel’s 2-year-old PA fair season began at Butler where he raced seven freshmen at both gaits and sexes. He emerged with three wins with Wheelhouse Hanover, Sweet Ride Hanover, and Catwoman Hanover; two seconds and a third. His 3-year-olds racing the next day were not to be outdone by the freshmen. From five starters, he finished with four winners and a second. He continued racing his talented 2-year-old class on Sunday at Pocono Downs where he won the first Pennsylvania All-Stars event of the season for 2-year-old trotters with Set The Bar.

In addition to this plethora of 2-year-old talent, the freshman most consider to be his best, and maybe among the best in the country, has yet to make his stakes debut. His name is Dreamboat Hanover. More about him later.

When people speak of you, the name Roger Hammer often comes up, probably mostly because you are two of the most well-known figures in Pennsylvania harness racing. I mentioned that Hammer is undoubtedly the all-time king, but if there is a person waiting to reach that throne it is undoubtedly you.

“That’s a huge compliment. When someone is compared to Roger, the best they can hope to become is next best. Roger and I have been best friends and later partners from the time I first started in the sport. Roger is first of all, a great horseman, maybe as good a horseman as ever sat behind a horse. He is also the hardest worker I have ever known. He does it all, buys, owns, breaks, trains, ships, takes care of and races them all. I’ve tried to pattern my stable and career after him. To some degree, I think I’ve been successful in reaching that goal.”

Your biggest success as a twosome with Roger was in the purchase of Vivid Photo as a yearling. He went on to become a Hambletonian winner and a great world champion. How did that partnership come about?

“It was actually quite simple. Roger and I went into the 2003 sale season intending to purchase several yearlings for our partnership. Each of us would train and race a few. Roger had purchased this S J’s Photo colt for $30,000. He asked me if I wanted in on him. I said ‘Sure, but you need to train him. I’ve trained a few SJ Photos and I just haven’t had any luck with them.’

“Sometime into the season, I suppose it was probably around the March 15 stakes payments. Roger said that he thought that this colt could be the real deal. He thought that we should make some important stakes payments on him, saying especially that we needed to keep him eligible for the ‘Classic’ races at 3. I told him he was the trainer and in charge. I was game for anything that he wanted to do. The rest is history.

“Roger did a masterful job of training, prepping and driving him, especially in the Hambletonian. His drive in the Hambo will probably go down as being one of the greatest in the history of the race. Roger drove him exactly as he told me he was going to do when I spoke with him a week before the race. He said, ‘I’m going to follow Ronnie Pierce. Wherever he goes, I’ll be right behind him. Then, if our horse is good enough, which I think he is, I’ll go by him in the stretch.’ That is exactly what happened.

“It was undoubtedly the greatest thrill of my career. It was and remains indescribable. What a wonderful horse he was.

In addition to winning the Hambletonian, he also earned $3.3 million for our partnership. I was fortunate to have been able to drive him a few times including his winning last start. He is in his forever home at Roger's place living a deserved good life."

There are some who say that you have a 2-year-old named Dreamboat Hanover, who may with time become one of our greats. Greg Wasiluk posted on Facebook something to the effect of 'I think I just saw the next Niatross' after his last win at Pocono Downs.

"That's a huge statement. To quote Yogi Berra 'They haven't done it, until they've done it.' All he has done to this point is win a non-winner of a parimutuel race. But I think he could become a very special horse. He is without doubt the best horse that I've ever trained. He is in to race in the Pennsylvania All-Stars on July 8. We've already turned down some very serious money from people who want to buy him. I can't say that he isn't for sale, but if I and my partners, Tim Hayes and Dr. Megan Moschgat would even think of selling him, it would take some very significant money to get our attention."

How did you come to acquire this budding phenom?

"He was selling on the first day at Harrisburg, when a lot of the highest-priced yearlings are generally offered. I had looked at him when I had visited Hanover to evaluate their yearlings. I thought he was a pretty nice colt, but he toed in somewhat. I wasn't in love with him as an individual, but I thought he would certainly be worthwhile at a reasonable price.

"I had done alright previously with horses that toed in. I never in my wildest dreams thought that I'd get him for only $10,000. No sooner had I signed the ticket than Tim Hayes was at my side. 'Megan and I want to buy a piece of him,' he said. Tim and Dr. Megan had worked at Hanover and had a part in raising 'Dreamboat.' They knew him and his family better than I did. I looked upon them buying in as being a good omen.

"I think that his placement in the sale likely hurt his price.

"On Day 1, people are generally looking for perfection. He had a perceived flaw, but I thought it was a flaw I could live with. I think if he had sold on Day 2 or even on Day 3 where buyers are more tolerant of imperfection, he likely would have brought at least double or maybe triple what he brought.

"When I go to the sales my yearling budget is generally focused on horses that bring between $10,000 and $30,000. I of course prefer the $10,000 price to the $30,000. Through the years, I've made some of my best purchases this way. I just sit at Harrisburg in my regular spot. I'm there when all the yearlings sell. I've looked at most of them beforehand. When a yearling that I've looked at and liked brings less than I thought it would bring, I throw in a bid or more. I'm guessing that I've probably had more luck in buying horses with this kind than with the ones I've gone aggressively after.

“Almost without exception, we, the Schadels – myself, my wife Christine and our son Cody – own all or the majority of just about every horse in our stable. We pay the bills. We are not extremely wealthy people. We have to be careful as to how we spend and manage our money.

“From the first day I got Dreamboat Hanover home, he performed perfectly. I think I have a few decent 2-year-olds this year, but he is the best of the lot, by far. I've never had one that does it so well and so easily. In that mile at Pocono that excited so many people, I was just cruising. I never even turned the whip in my hand, let alone got after him.

“I have him staked to more than what I generally stake our horses to. This year his eligibility is mostly restricted to the Pennsylvania tracks where he is eligible to everything. Next year, the sky is the limit. He is eligible to just about all the top events. If one were using a template, one could say that it mirrors the way Roger staked Vivid Photo from 2 to 3. I only hope that he goes on to do what we think he might be able to. We should know more on July 8 and thereafter.”

American-bred 4-year-old best in Sprintermästaren

by Thomas Hedlund

The $232,000 Sprintermästaren, a mile race for 4-year-olds, was held on Halmstad racetrack's Thursday (July 4) evening card and after three elimination races, the two American-bred trotters that tried to reach the final succeeded with their missions.

In the first heat, D'Apper (Walner), bred by Steve Stewart, proved that he likes Swedish racing conditions. Driver Magnus A Djuse got D'Apper to leave quickly from post 1, but opted for a pocket trip behind stablemate Holcombe Zet, driven by Örjan Kihlström. And Kihlström seemed to have the race in his hands as the field turned for home, but after D'Apper got space late, he exploded and disarmed Daniel Redén's Holcombe Zet at the wire.

D'Apper, who still is co-owned by Lucas Wallin, claimed his second win in his third attempt on European soil.

In heat 2, favorite Crown, bred by Order by Stable, had to race on leader King Of Twilight's outside and Örjan Kihlström was never really tested for the lead, but the runner up performance meant that Crown, earlier in Marcus Melander's management, was ready for the final. King Of Twilight (Bold Eagle) had no problem winning the heat for Björn Goop.

Courant Stable's Kuiper (Face Time Bourbon) opened quickly from the inside post in the last elimination and Daniel Wäjersten's trotter looked relaxed and hard to beat all the way to the victory. And Wäjersten got lucky in the draw and chose the same number, post 1, in the final. King Of Twilight got post 2 and D'Apper post 3.

The final became a speed story when King Of Twilight was pushed to the lead in a quick first quarter, which meant that Wäjersten had to make a decision whether he should stay behind the leader or take the spot first over. He decided for the latter and Kuiper, who was the final's first choice, couldn't resist when Crown (Chapter Seven) attacked from second over.

Crown hit the wire in 1:53.1 and since Redén managed to qualify four horses for the final, Erik Adielsson got the opportunity to sit behind the winner of the 2024 Sprintermästaren.

D'Apper made a break in the first turn and disappeared from the race.

Earlier on the card, the 4-year-old mares battled in the final of the $175,000 Stosprintern over the mile. Courant Stable owned Kitty Hawk (Fourth Dimension) kept the lead from post 1 behind the gate and driver Mats E Djuse was determined to let his horse try for the front position while the race's favorite Ester Degli Dei had to fight on Kitty Hawk's outside.

The two front horses battled side-by-side in the stretch and the inside leader held on by a neck when the wire was hit. Stefan P Pettersson trained Kitty Hawk won in 1:54.1 and she, just like Crown, debuted in the U.S. in Marcus Melander's barn. Dexter Dunn drove Kitty Hawk in a runner up performance at Solvalla last year, so there are without a doubt connection to American harness racing even with the winner of the ladies' event.

The meeting in Halmstad continued on Saturday (July 6) afternoon, with V75-races and the main event, Gold division for elite trotters included some well merited ones. Joviality, Hustle Rain, Get A Wish and Missle Hill were some of them and the race developed as a great show for the spectators. Get A Wish and Hustle Rain fought for the lead during the race's initial 350 meters and the fight ended with Get A Wish in front with Hustle Rain on his back. That left Joviality for the position first over, from where she couldn't challenge for the win. Phoenix Photo attacked three wide on the backstretch and landed outside of leading duo Get A Wish and Joviality before the turn, but his power ran out and instead, Get A Wish got the safe advantage once again. Hustle Rain got room for his attack with 75 meters to go, but it was too late and last year's winner of the Sprintermästaren had to settle for being runner-up, ahead of a strong finishing Missle Hill.

Danish bred Get A Wish won in 1:53.2 for his trainer Johan Untersteiner.

TOP HORSES IN NORWAY TODAY

Sunday's (July 7) $150,000 Ulf Thoresen Grand International at Jarlsberg racetrack has gathered a fresh gang of top trotters, pretty much like Norway's previous top race, the Oslo Grand Prix in June.

In Jarlsberg, the race is spiced with Elitloppet contender Önas Prince, who will be the probable favorite from post 5. His driver Per Nordström will be eager in his hunt for the front position.

On Friday night (July 5), Jarlsberg played host to the $65,000 Jarlsberg Grand Prix for 4-year-old trotters and Geir Vegard Gundersen stable had the big favorite in crop dominant Just Like Heaven, but he went off-stride at the same moment as the car accelerated away from the horses. But Gundersen would be happy anyway after the race. The trainer himself sat behind Charron (Code Bon) who was outstanding in 1:55 from third over.

THIS WEEK'S FINES AND SUSPENSIONS

HRU is providing links to publicly-available fines and suspension lists for convenience.

Readers are reminded that because a person's name appears on the list does not necessarily mean they are guilty of an offense. Many times, cases are not finalized and many of the accused are still entitled to due process.

Also, please note, for context, the first link is to the Association of Racing Commissioners International's classification system of drug penalties to give readers a sense of the difference between a Class 1 and a Class 4 positive.

Driver Scott Wray is hitting it out of the park

by Matthew Lomon

Trading in a life on the diamond for one on the oval wasn't initially part of his 10-year plan, but that hasn't stopped driver Scott Wray from hitting it out of the park.

"Growing up, I wanted to play for the [Toronto] Blue Jays," Wray said, adding with a laugh, "I played until I was about 23 years old, and it wasn't until then that I thought, 'Uh oh, I won't be doing that.'"

While he will be ready should he one day receive the call from the big club, Wray has since used his time outside the chalked white lines to build a successful career on the Ontario standardbred circuit.

In what is now his 14th professional campaign, the London, ON-based reinsman shared some insights into the process that's drawn him within 80 scores of 1,000 for his career.

"Horse racing is like any other sport," he said. "You build a scouting report of all the horses from either doing homework on the side or racing against the horses and drivers. As soon as you see who's entered in the race, it'll just click in your mind, 'This horse can do this, this driver will do this.'"

"The really good guys that you drive against have an idea of what will happen for just about every horse or situation, and that's something you pick up through experience."

With nearly 8,500 lifetime starts to his name, Wray is well past rookie status. That veteran savvy has done wonders for the winner of 924 races and counting, as he continues to explore new strategic avenues.

"I watch a lot of the replays and read a lot of the programs," Wray said. "I always think about the baseball players, especially the successful guys who say, 'I watched this video, I tried this approach.' I like to think there's value in doing the little things that can help me get over the top."

"Even the races you aren't competing in, you still watch closely and see what the horses in that race did because you might not be racing against them that night, but you might be the next time out."

“Last weekend, for example, was a very big lesson for me. I went to a lot of different tracks and didn’t win a race. I was kind of down after that, but like I said earlier, that’s a perfect example of what I’m trying to work on. You have to turn the page and visualize next week going better.”

~ Scott Wray

Wray’s commitment to the film room has certainly paid dividends over the last decade-and-a-half, but perhaps none more than on Aug. 16, 2018, when he received the best birthday present he could have asked for in an Ontario Sires Stakes event.

“I won an OSS Gold event on my birthday with a horse called Sorceress Seelster,” he said. “There were some big-name drivers out there, but we were able to pull through for a big win.

“I watched the replay when I got home and thought ‘That’s really me out there.’ That one meant a lot for sure.”

Also competing in the trot for 3-year-old fillies at Woodbine Mohawk Park were Hall of Famers Ron Waples, Paul MacDonell, and Chris Christoforou.

Sorceress Seelster finished her career with a 4-4-2 line and $255,130 in earnings across 20 starts.

Days like Aug. 16 will always be memorable for Wray, not only because they represent the height of competitive glory, but because they serve as a beacon during the low points of an arduous racing season.

Even for Hall of Fame drivers, dry spells are inevitable in a sport that involves racing 1,000-plus times each year.

What matters, as Wray noted, is finding a way to get back on the bike each time out with a clear mind.

“Sometimes, I get too high or too low and try too hard,” he said. “That’s one thing that I’m trying to work on right now. Obviously, the longer you do it, the more you get used to some failures and dealing with ebbs and flows of the game.”

The driver who has amassed nearly $6 million in total earnings found himself starting down that exact situation not too long ago.

“Last weekend, for example, was a very big lesson for me,” he said. “I went to a lot of different tracks and didn’t win a race. I was kind of down after that, but like I said earlier, that’s a perfect example of what I’m trying to work on. You have to turn the page and visualize next week going better.

“If you try to force the issue, the worse you’re going to do. It’s no different than when you’re on the baseball field.”

For Wray, who still gets a few at-bats in each week as a member of two slow-pitch teams, keeping a level head between races has him on the verge of an impressive achievement.

When the dedicated driver clinches win number 1,000, it will be a full-circle moment for the Wray family.

Scott’s father, Jack Wray, is a lifelong horseman whose passion for the game helped inspire his son’s career choice in 2010.

Although numbers and accolades aren’t among the younger Wray’s top priorities, he will be sure to savor reaching quadruple digits.

“My dad ended up winning over 900 races during his driving days,” Scott said. “That milestone [1,000 driving wins] shouldn’t mean that much to me, but it does and I’m hoping it comes to fruition.”

The elder Wray has secured more than 1,500 victories (916 as a driver, 594 and counting as a trainer) across his still active 46-year career.

Winning 1,000 races takes talent, dedication to your craft, and a deep respect for the game; a tried-and-true recipe Scott knows by heart.

“I’ve rarely missed races that I’ve been booked to race,” he said. “I don’t put fear into the equation. I’ll try anything for the horse, for the person trusting me with their horse, and for myself. Obviously, there’s some discretion there, but I take every race very seriously and try to give the horse and the person that hired me a chance.

“[Driver] Tyler Borth, who’s a good friend of mine, we talk a lot and I always say that you have to be tough. If you go down, you get back up on the bike and give it your best effort.”

All of which leads to a sporting chance every time Scott sits in the sulky.

Playing the ponies

by Trey Nosrac

BLACK SCREEN TO IRIS FADE IN.

INTERIOR:

EVENING:

A low-rent tavern. Yellowish lighting. Sparsely populated. Two 60-ish males sit on adjoining bar stools facing the mirror behind the colorful liquor bottles on the shelves. The camera is on the backs of two unnamed men and will remain the primary shot for the entire scene. Although we do not directly see their faces, we see them over their shoulders, reflected in the mirror behind the rows of liquor bottles, and we toggle back and forth to their faces as they speak.

One man is short and stocky with a fringe of greying hair around a shiny dome. He is wearing a bright blue Hawaiian shirt with green palm leaves. The other man is wearing a tan khaki sportscoat, glasses with heavy black frames, and speaks in a high-pitched voice. The two men barely move during this scene. The background for their conversation consists of traditional bar sounds, voices murmuring, and clinking glasses.

TAN JACKET MAN

How long have you been playing the ponies?

BLUE SHIRT MAN

I never played a single pony. I gamble on racehorses, harness racehorses, to be specific, trotting horses, to be more exact.

TAN MAN

How long, 25 years?

BLUE MAN

Thirty, maybe 40.

TAN MAN

Only harness horses?

BLUE MAN

I'm a purist.

TAN MAN

How many of those years did you turn a profit?

BLUE MAN

Approximately?

TAN MAN

Yeah.

BLUE MAN

Zero.

TAN MAN

Do you keep statistics, you know, data, on your losing?

BLUE MAN

I do. The math is easy: I wager exactly a hundred a week and keep it separate from stupid stuff like gas, food, alimony, and living expenses. I take a week off for Christmas and my annual Vegas trip.

TAN MAN

So, five grand a year. Are you improving? By that, I mean, are you losing less?

BLUE MAN

Nope. I get worse each year.

TAN MAN

So, you are getting stupider.

BLUE MAN

(Pause)

No, but my competition is getting smarter.

TAN MAN

Computers? Algorithms? Artificial Intelligence, Rebates?

BLUE MAN

Yeah, rebates don't help us traditional reprobates. Regular mooks like me are skiing uphill.

TAN MAN

So why keep betting?

BLUE MAN

My luck might change. If it does, I don't want to miss it. You know the old saying, you can't win if you don't play.

TAN MAN

Don't you think you have a gambling problem?

BLUE MAN

No, I have a winning problem.

TAN MAN

Or a losing problem.

BLUE MAN

PoTAtoes, PoTAHtoes.

TAN MAN

(Chuckles)

Remember the time I went to the track with you? You bet several ways on every race and didn't win anything, which I found strangely impressive.

BLUE MAN

Thanks, I put a lot of work into my handicapping, and nobody notices.

TAN MAN

You should place a bet on every horse racing in the first race to win, to get the feel of winning.

BLUE MAN

I'll put that in my book of handicapping tips. The working title is, Life in the Eight Hole.

TAN MAN

Do you ever think you might be a 60-year-old dinosaur?

BLUE MAN

Maybe you should refer to me as a handicappasourus.

TAN MAN

Perhaps you shouldn't make light of your expensive affliction.

BLUE MAN

Ease up, pal. I got everything under control. I'm not some Damon Runyan character.

TAN MAN

Who the hell is Damon Runyon?

BLUE MAN

A depression-era New York newspaperman, he was a horse racing guy, very sarcastic.

TAN MAN

(Pulls out his cell phone and thumbs)

His first name is D A M O N. What kind of name is that? He wrote this sentence, 'Life is tough, and it's really tough when you're stupid.'

BLUE MAN

Are you mocking my hobby?

TAN MAN

No, I'm just gathering information.

(Still reading phone)

Here are some words to live by: The race is not always to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, but that's the way to bet.

BLUE MAN

I'll keep that in mind.

TAN MAN

(Still reading phone)

Here's another one: I came to the conclusion a long time ago that all life is six to five against.

BLUE MAN

Put your freaking phone down (drops his voice and growls theatrically), one more wisecrack outta you, and you'll find I'm packing heat.

TAN MAN

(Smiles, shakes his head and sips his beer)

What if I give you a plan for thwarting artificial intelligence and leveling the gambling field in horse racing?

BLUE MAN

Thwarting! Now that's a word you don't hear much in conversation.

TAN MAN

I could have used the word foiling.

BLUE MAN

Thwarting, foiling, I'm all ears; is it legal?

TAN MAN

Yep, I have a foolproof plan to improve your handicapping radically.

BLUE MAN

(Using his fingers, he gives an excited drum roll on the wooden bar top)

No kidding. Well, I'm your fool.

They clink beer glasses.

First-timer Papi Grad crushes field by 10¼ in Meadows PASS

by Evan Pattak for the Meadows Standardbred Owners Association

First-timer Papi Grad ignited the fireworks on the Independence Day program at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows, crushing her Pennsylvania Sires Stake field of freshman filly pacers by 10¼ lengths in a sparkling 1:51.1. Also scoring in the stake known as the Sand Tart were Sweet Ballad and Rose, both driven by Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. and trained by Ron Burke.

The card also featured a $100,000 PA Stallion Series event for freshman filly pacers. A total of 50 youngsters tested the stakes waters for the first time, and they showed precocious professionalism.

Such was the case with Papi Grad – who had only two qualifiers on her resume – when Brett Miller asked her to go first up from fourth.

“When I qualified her last week in 1:55.3, I couldn’t get her pulled up after the mile,” Miller said. “Same thing today. She has a big set of lungs, and she is fast. She feels like a 3-year-old. The way she felt in the qualifier, I was ultra-confident.”

The daughter of Papi Rob Hanover—Betterthangraduate kept right on rolling to complete her spectacular debut, missing the stakes record by a tick. Steve Carter trains Papi Grad for Brent Hopper, Jay Mossbarger, TKO Racing Stable LLC and SCP Stable Inc.

Also making her career bow after a pair of qualifiers, Sweet Ballad quarter-poled to the top for Wrenn and had little trouble from there, prevailing in 1:53.1. Gingertree Brenasu was 2¾ lengths back in second while early leader Ballast completed the ticket.

“She was really good, well within herself,” Wrenn said. “She did everything professionally. I don’t think she had to be on the front, but I wanted to move back to the lead. I thought I had the best horse.”

Burke Racing Stable, Weaver Brusceci LLC and Phillip Collura campaign the daughter of Sweet Lou—Write Me A Song.

PA Stallion Series – 2-Year-Old Filly Pace

In Thursday’s Pennsylvania Stallion Series, Wrenn and Burke fashioned another stake double (Always Ana Hanover, Blessed Hanover), and they were joined by Tim Tetrick, who scored with Pilar Hanover and Westwinds.

Angel Heart captured the other division and, much as Papi Grad, she found herself dealing with a first-over dilemma.

“I was hoping to pick up cover,” said winning driver Andrew McCarthy, “but you can kind of tell by a horse’s attitude if she doesn’t mind being first over. She felt terrific, and I was happy enough to keep marching by myself. It seems like she has a lot of talent.”

Angel Heart had enough heart to down early leader Country Dancing by a length in 1:54.3, with Sunburst third.

Dan Murray owns and trains the daughter of Sweet Lou—All Heart Gal.

Overall, Wrenn and Burke teamed for five wins on the 13-race card.

Ten divisions of Buckeye Stallion Series at Scioto Downs

by Eldorado Scioto Downs

Ten divisions of $20,000 Buckeye Stallion Series for 3-year-old colts raced on Thursday (July 4) at Eldorado Scioto Downs. There seemed to be no track bias, as winners of the six divisions of the pacers came from behind, led gate-to-wire, came first over or got the 2-hole trip to come up the pacing lane.

Seasideescape and Austin Hanners took the fastest split of the 3-year-old colt pacers, winning by 8¼ lengths in 1:50. The Steve Carter trainee left from post 7 and after briefly relinquishing the lead to Nocrynthuber (Kayne Kauffman) led at every call, with quarters of :26.1, :54.2 and 1:21.3. The colt by Downbytheseaside was a $75,000 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale purchase and is owned by Country Club Aces, Joe Sbrocco & JAF Racing, Don Latore and Aws Stables. Seasideescape now has two wins in 18 lifetime starts and $69,425 in earnings.

The other winners of the Buckeye Stallion Series for pacers were:

Horse (sire; winning time) – Trainer/Driver – Owner(s)

Leaving A Legend (Bit Of A Legend N; 1:51.3) – Kayne Kauffman – Legends Racing

King Of The Rings (Fear The Dragon; 1:52.2) – Scott Mogan/Tyler Smith – Linda Van Camp

Twenty Five (Downbytheseaside; 1:52.1) – Ron Burke/Chris Page – Burke/Hatfield/Knox Srvs/J&T Silva – Purnel & Libby

What An Ocean View (Downbytheseaside; 1:52.4) Burke/Page – Burke/Knox/RAS Racing/J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby

Driver Anthony MacDonald took nearly identical trips to the winner's circle with two colt trotters. Leaving from post 7, Irresistible Son took the field to quarters of :27.4, :57.4 and 1:26 to win by two lengths in 1:54.3 in the first division of BSS action. Four races later, MacDonald came back with Gypsy Hill. The duo left from post 8 and was parked to the opening quarter of :27.3 but settled on the front end to cut fractions of :57.3 and 1:26 to win by 2½ lengths in 1:55.4. Both horses are trained by Jason McGinnis. Both Irresistible Son (by Triumphant Caviar) and Gypsy Hill (by What The Hill) are owned by Hutchison Harness and the named fractional ownership group named after that stable horse.

Other divisional winners of the Buckeye Stallion Series for trotters were:

Horse (sire; winning time) – Trainer/Driver – Owner(s)

Tom Swifty (Long Tom; 1:55) – Christi Noble/Dan Noble – Sandra Burnett/Norman Rae Racing

When I'm Gone AS (Lionhunter; 1:56.2) – Anette Lorentzon/Ty. Smith – ACL Stuteri/Anette Lorentzon

Sir Maverick (Mister Anson; 1:56.1) – Brian Miller/Kauffman – Anthony Miller

The 90-day 2024 Eldorado Scioto Downs race meet runs through Saturday (Sept. 14). Races are held Tuesday-Saturday with a first post of 5:45 p.m. each day, except for Friday (Sept. 13) which will have a 6:15 p.m. post to help accommodate horsemen attending the Ohio Selected Yearling Sale. ## Streaks extended in ISS for sophomore pacing colts at Harrah's Hoosier Park

by Jacob Rheinheimer / Harrah's Hoosier Park

Round four of Indiana Sire Stakes for the sophomore pacing colts and geldings highlighted the 14-race card on Friday (July 5) at Harrah's Hoosier Park. With active win-streaks on the line entering the night, Tellmeitmatters and Sabonis each delivered as the bettor's choice in their respective divisions.

In search of his fourth consecutive victory on the season, Tellmeitmatters was sent off as the 1-5 favorite in the $50,500 first division. Leaving from post 4 in the field of eight, driver John De Long settled in third off of the wings of the gate as Devon Tharps put Noblesville on the engine to the first quarter in :27.2. De Long moved Tellmeitmatters from third up the backstretch to assume command before reaching the halfway point in :55.3. On the final turn, Tellmeitmatters brought the field to three-quarters in 1:24 with Noblesville in hot pursuit.

At the top of the stretch, Tellmeitmatters spun for home with a 1½ length jump on the pocket-popping Noblesville. The two continued to trade blows in a deep-stretch duel, with Tellmeitmatters emerging atop the skirmish a quarter-length clear on the line in 1:50.2 over Noblesville. Shooting In Place and Jordan Ross rallied for the third spot.

A winner in four of five at 3, the 2-year-old Super Final champion is trained by Roger Welch. The homebred gelded son of Tellitlikeitis—Art Matters is owned by William C and William P De Long, and has now banked $292,550 for his career.

Sabonis survived a tussle of his own to secure victory in the $50,000 second division to extend his win-streak on the season to five with regular pilot Joey Putnam aboard. Starting from the rail, Sabonis floated into the fourth spot in the early stages while Rolling Image (Trace Tetrick) worked around Premier Romeo (Kyle Wilfong) to reach the quarter first in :26.3. Rolling Image thundered up the backstretch to the half in :54.2 before Putnam angled the 1-5 favorite off of the pylons to begin his first-over journey. Sabonis moved into third on the outside, two-lengths back of the leader Rolling Image at three-quarters in 1:22.4.

Sabonis surged to the lead at the top of the lane, though finding himself the widest of a three-horse battle at the top of the stretch with Wilfong threading the needle between the two leaders with Premier Romeo. Premier Romeo battled gamely in search of the 43-1 upset before Sabonis edged clear with a :26.2 final quarter late in the lane to cross the wire a length clear in 1:49.3. Rolling Image held for third to round out the trifecta.

Trained by Aaron Stutzman, Sabonis is now a winner in eight of nine seasonal outings for owner Pat Miller. Bred by Karl Dean Miller, the son of Tellitlikeitis—Gypsy Bellevue now sports a career bankroll of $127,950.

Walter Case, Jr. puts on driving clinic at Cumberland including sire stakes

by Chris Tully for First Tracks Cumberland

Walter Case, Jr., who ranks ninth on the all-time dash wins list among active drivers, added six victories to bring his lifetime total to 11,395 on Friday (July 5) at Cumberland Raceway.

'Casey' started his six pack by taking both $15,986 divisions of the Maine Sire Stakes for 2-year-old pacing colts and geldings.

The first division he captured was with Massive Speed, using a 2-hole trip to grab the lead in midstretch and get the son of Dude's The Man a new 2:01.4 race record. Trained by Marc Tardif and owned by Leighton Property, he was bred by Laurie Harding and paid $2.40 to win.

Pacesetter Ridgecrest Dan (John Nason) finished second; Dude's Wanted Man (Heath Campbell-Valerie Grondin) was third.

Case came right back in the second division to score with the Tardif-trained Jax Attack in 2:05. Again, utilizing a pocket trip to score with the heavy favorite, the son of Deuce Seelster paid $2.40 for owner Leighton Property. He was bred by Gary and Kristina Hall.

Gracies Tough Guy (Dave Ingraham-Fred Ward, Jr.) finished second; Ella V Dude (Kevin Switzer, Jr.-Marc Tardif) was third.

Case won his third race of the afternoon with another Tardif-trained pupil Pickmepickme in 1:57, paying $3.00 to win. Then he continued his reign of terror in race 8 with Royalty Again (1:58.1, $6.60); race 11 with To My Credit (1:59.4, $2.60); and race 12 with Virtual Success (1:58.1, $14.00).

GLORILLA OVERPOWERS MAINE'S FROSH FILLIES AT BANGOR

A lone $16,171 division of the Maine Sire Stakes for 2-year-old pacing fillies opened the card on Wednesday (July 3) at Bangor, with Ron Cushing's Glorilla dominating her fellow troop members.

Sent off as the 3-5 favorite off a 2:00.3 qualifying mile at Tioga Downs, the slick-gaited distaff wasted little time blasting out to the front and setting a :30.4 opening panel while leaving the rest of the field stretched out behind her.

On top by 5½ at the 1:02.1 well-rated half, the daughter of Dude's The Man had Chasing Dudes (Nick Graffam-Mike Graffam) giving chase with Thinkin Bout Life (Walter Case, Jr.-Marc Tardif) back 11 lengths in third.

On top by four, Glorilla and Cushing remained well in command at the 1:32.2 third panel. With the backfield tightening up a bit and with no change in the pecking order, Leanne Marie (Mike Cushing-Charlene Cushing) made a move first over down the backstretch to improve her position.

On cruise control at the wire, Glorilla showed that she is indeed the band leader as she dominated by a comfortable 3¾-length margin in 2:02.3. Owned, trained and driven by Ron Cushing, she paid $3.20 to win, and was bred by Kevin Sywyk.

Chasing Dudes finished second; Leanne Marie got up to be third.

Beaton sweeps Meadowlands Pace elims with Nijinsky, Legendary Hanover

by James Witherite / Meadowlands media relations

Pepsi North America Cup winner Nijinsky stamped himself as the likely favorite in the $650,000 Meadowlands Pace final with a determined 1:47.3 score over rival Funtime Bayama in the second of two $50,000 eliminations of the summer classic for 3-year-old male pacers on Saturday (July 6) at the Meadowlands. Legendary Hanover captured the first elimination, giving trainer Anthony Beaton a sweep of both heats.

Driver Louis-Philippe Roy settled Nijinsky, a son of Bettors Delight–Pirouette Hanover, in fifth off a stampede to the first turn that saw Captain Luke (driven by Scott Zeron) vault clear of McCrunch (Yannick Gingras) from his outside post 8 through a taxing :25.4 first quarter, only to yield control to McCrunch upon reaching the backstretch. Meanwhile, Nijinsky latched onto live cover behind Captain Albano (Todd McCarthy), lost that cover when Captain Albano cleared with nine-sixteenths to go, and pushed clear himself just beyond a :53.1 half.

There was no respite for Nijinsky after he made the lead as Funtime Bayama (Dexter Dunn) – who was third-over on the backstretch – aggressively took aim midway on the far turn, and the two dueled past three-quarters in 1:21.1 and off the corner for home. Nijinsky stood his ground in the stretch, though, and repelled his outside challenger by three-quarters-of-a-length in a career-best showing. Captain Albano became rough-gaited in upper stretch and finished a detached third, 3½ lengths farther behind, followed by Captain Luke and Its Saturday Night (Andy McCarthy).

Despite the early exertion and late pressure, Roy was high on his colt's fitness level exiting the race.

"I didn't even pull the earplugs; I know every time I pull the plugs he goes to another gear," Roy said. "Every time we've tested him, he always answers nicely. Tonight, I feel like he had more left than in the NA Cup final."

Nijinsky is a perfect six-for-six this season, and now has won seven of his 16 career races for the partnership of West Wins Stable, John Fielding and Mark Dumain. He paid $4.80 to win as the narrow 7-5 favorite.

Pepsi North America Cup champion Nijinsky (Louis-Philippe Roy) won the second of two Meadowlands Pace eliminations on Saturday in 1:47.3.

Lisa Photo

Legendary Hanover (James MacDonald) won the first Meadowlands Pace elimination in 1:48.

The first elimination saw Mirage Hanover (Tim Tetrick) protect inside position to establish the early lead over Breeders Crown champion Gem Quality (Dunn) through a :26.3 first quarter while Canada's 2024 National Driving Champion James MacDonald settled Legendary Hanover in third. Mirage Hanover maintained control of the pace through a rated :55.1 half, and the top trio remained unchallenged on the far turn after the first-over Ivy Park (Gingras) failed to get any closer than four lengths from the lead on the far turn before fading.

After hitting three-quarters in 1:22.4, Mirage Hanover found himself under pressure from Gem Quality, who edged out of the pocket turning for home. With Ivy Park weakening off the corner, MacDonald had room to hook Legendary Hanover three-wide in upper stretch, and the Huntsville–Lillian Hanover colt surged to the fore with a sixteenth to go, capping his 1:48 lifetime-best performance with an astonishing :24.4 sprint home. Mirage Hanover narrowly held off Gem Quality for second, 1¼ lengths back; Captain's Quarters (Jody Jamieson) and Number Cruncher (Zeron) completed the top five finishers.

"Today I was looking for a nice trip and to have him pacing at the end; it couldn't have worked out any better," said MacDonald. "I didn't think fitness would be a problem. I was confident he'd be fit enough; it was my job to find a nice trip for him."

It was the ninth career win in 15 starts for Legendary Hanover, who races for the partnership of Eric Good, West Wins Stable and Mark Dumain. As the 5-2 second choice, he paid $7 to win.

The top five finishers from each elimination earned berths to next Saturday's (July 13) Meadowlands Pace final. Meadowlands rules for races with eliminations dictate that Nijinsky and Legendary Hanover will draw for posts 1 through 6 by virtue of their elimination wins; the draw will take place Tuesday (July 9).

Voukefalas victorious in Graduate Pace final

by Ray Cotolo for Meadowlands media relations

A crafty speed steer from Jordan Stratton perched Voukefalas in a pocket spot, from which he pounced to the lead and then lasted to the end of a 1:47.3 mile to win the $230,000 Graduate Pace at The Meadowlands on Saturday night (July 6).

Starting from post 6, Stratton floated off the wings with Voukefalas while a three-pronged charge barreled for the first turn. Ken Hanover, the 2-1 favorite, grabbed the point out of post 9 in the :26.3 sprint to the first quarter with No Control on his back. But Stratton had Voukefalas rolling on the rim through the turn and promptly planted himself on a brief lead entering the backstretch.

Once pocketed, Ken Hanover pulled off the pylons and retook control moving for a :54 half. All the while the backfield awaited someone to pull first over, and eventually Huntinthelastdolar made the move out of fourth and began a moderate advance through three-quarters in 1:21.2. Huntinthelastdolar's bid was brief and he stalled on the turn for home, which gave Stratton clearance to angle outside with Voukefalas and send him into top gear. Voukefalas vaulted past Ken Hanover in the stretch and stayed strong as his competition closed in late stretch. Voukefalas won by three-quarters-of-a-length over No Control, who tipped to the center of the track and rallied for second. Act Fast came from near last for third and Sea Fire rallied off cover for fourth.

"He's been really good these last couple of weeks going forward and charging at the wire," winning driver Stratton said after the race. "He's really come back good as a 4-year-old and it helps racing [other] 4-year-olds. The horse is a dream come true. He shows up every week. It's been a lifelong dream to win a Grand Circuit race at The Meadowlands and tonight feels great. All the credit goes to the connections and the ownership."

Voukefalas' trainer Michael Russo said, "I was super confident in this whole series with him. In his last two starts here, I thought he was the best each time. He didn't get a clean trip either time. Going in I thought I could win, I thought I should win, but obviously I thought Ken Hanover was the best when the series started."

Voukefalas, a 4-year-old stallion by Lazarus N out of the Cams Fortune mare Inittowinafortune, notched his fourth win on the season and his 11th victory from 28 starts. He's now banked $733,010 for owner/breeder Michael Pagonas and paid $18.40 to win in his mild upset.

Winner's Bet best in Graduate Trot final

by Frank Cotolo for Meadowlands media relations

Winner's Bet flew uncovered into a sizzling three-quarters to seize the lead and win the $230,000 Graduate Trot final at The Meadowlands on Saturday night (July 6).

Dexter Dunn steered the Walner 4-year-old to a winning mile in 1:50.4. It was Winner's Bet's third-straight win of the 2024 season and it was Dunn's second-straight winning drive in the Graduate Trot final, winning last year with the mare Jiggy Jog S against the boys.

The gate opened with 17-1 shot Oh Well's ambitious move from post 8. He rolled three wide on the first turn trying to get the lead while Winner's Bet took back to race fifth. The first quarter was clocked in :27.3 with Oh Well slugging to the lead. Hasty Bid secured the spot behind the leader and Chapercraz was shuffled to third as Oh Well trotted to the half in :55.3 with no foes yet looming.

Staying steady from fifth, Dunn soon fired with Winner's Bet to challenge Oh Well into the final turn and was within striking distance by three-quarters in 1:23.3. Winner's Bet took over the lead from Oh Well in the stretch and then fended off late haste from second-over Special Way in deep stretch to win by a nose at the beam. Chapercraz closed late to take third and Oh Well held fourth.

Nancy Takter trains Winner's Bet, out of the Donato Hanover mare Side Bet Hanover. He is now a nine-time winner and lifetime earner of $737,217 in 23 starts. Lindy Farms of Connecticut owns Winner's Bet with Robert A. Rudolph.

The win mutuel for the overwhelming favorite, Winner's Bet, was $2.40.

Next Generation winners crowned at Scioto Downs

by Eldorado Scioto Downs

The Word Is Out and Aunt Lilly took the first of four divisions, the filly divisions, of the $150,000 Next Generation on Saturday (July 6) at Eldorado Scioto Downs.

With the eventual race winner in the filly pace division sitting off the pace, Queen Of Fear (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) took the early lead from post 5. Prolific Fire (Brett Miller) was sitting second but took over just at the :26.2 quarter. She quickly took the field :55.2 half and 1:23.3 three quarters. The Word Is Out came third over from sixth, and was four-wide in the last turn, to get up to win by a half-length with a :28 last quarter. Queen Of Fear came back to be second while Maddie's Delite (Dan Noble) also came from behind to finish third.

"Thankfully the pace was hot, and they came back to me," said Page. "I like her, she's very good gaited... I really want them sharp for when the money is on the line, like tonight. She finished with late pace both qualifiers and that is why she was able to go in [1]:52.2 tonight."

The Word Is Out is by Well Said out of the Captaintreacherous mare Treacherous Secret and was a $24,000 Ohio Selected Yearling Sale purchase from breeder Shaffer & Sons. Trained by Ron Burke for Burke Racing Stable, Knox Services, Beasty and R A S Racing, the filly prepped for the Next Generation with two qualifiers at The Meadows.

The prohibitive favorite in the 2-year-old trotting filly division, Aunt Lilly, went gate-to-wire to win by three lengths in 1:57.2. R Maggie (Chris Lems) stalked the leader as they tripped the beam in :29, 1:00 and 1:28.4. After that filly ran at the three-quarter pole, Mega Money (Merriman) came up for second with Rose Run Allison (Page) coming from seventh at the three-quarter pole to be third.

Brad Conrad

The Word Is Out (Chris Page) won the 2-year-old pacing filly Next Generation event on Saturday at Eldorado Scioto Downs in 1:52.2.

Whats Shakin (Ronnie Gillespie) won the Next Generation for rookie trotting colts in 1:55.4.

Brad Conrad
Swingtown (Chris Page) took the Next Generation for 2-year-old pacing colts in 1:53.

By Uncle Peter out of the Lucky Chucky mare Chuckys Luckycharm, Aunt Lilly came into the Next Generation off a win in a pop-up series at The Meadows for trainer Jason McGinnis and owners Thestable Aunt Lilly Group and Hutchison Harness. Aunt Lilly was bred by Samuel Stoltzfus, Jr.

COLT DIVISIONS TO WHATS SHAKIN, SWINGTOWN

The colts were on fire in their $150,000 Next Generation divisions. Whats Shakin, with trainer Ronnie Gillespie up, set a new stakes record for 2-year-old colt trotters when they won in 1:55.4.

CS Tom K (Dan Noble) and Pink Panther (Kayne Kauffman) battled through a wicked opening quarter of :27.1. CS Tom K kept the lead through the :57 half when Pink Panther popped the pocket. Rose Run Ari (Brett Miller) followed suit with Whats Shakin second over, but was gapping cover by the 1:26.1 third quarter. Around the last turn, Whats Shakin was in hot pursuit and the two colts battled to the wire. The 3-2 favorite Whats Shakin won by a length over Rose Run Ari; Memory Vault (Chris Page) came from the back to finish third.

“I knew the two and three horse had a lot of gate speed, so I wasn’t looking to leave,” said Gillespie. “I just wanted to get in good position. It’s very special because last year I raced in this race with Sugar Instead and finished second, so I had to redeem myself. Then I was in the eighth race and my filly made a break... so it’s real special.”

Whats Shakin is by What The Hill out of the Broadway Hall mare Broadway Sister. He was bred by Steiner Stock Farm and is owned by William Donovan. Gillespie prepped Whats Shakin for the Next Generation with a lone qualifier at Scioto, finishing second and timed in 1:57.1.

“When I broke the colt, I didn’t even like the colt,” Gillespie said. “The minute I got down to about 2:20, he showed that he had a lot of heart and I told [Mr. Donovan] that I wanted to put him in the Next Generation.”

The 2-year-old colt pace was won by Swingtown (Chris Page) in 1:53. The duo was parked from post 8 to just before the :28.2 opening quarter by De Dragon (Luke Hanners). De Dragon, at 3-5, retook and the eventual race winner settled in the pocket through fractions of :57.4 and 1:25.3. Mr McDragon (Miller) made a first over bid going down the backside but was not able to keep pace, which allowed Swingtown to get off the cones before the top of the stretch. Under a hand drive, Swingtown coasted home in :27.1 to win by 2½ lengths. Downbytheparade who sat third along the rail for most of the mile finished second with De Dragon holding on for third.

Swingtown, by Downbytheseaside out of the Art Major mare Swinging Beauty, was bred by Steiner Stock Farm and is owned by Burke Racing, Hatfield Stables, Knox Services and R A S Racing. A $160,000 purchase from the Ohio Selected Yearling Sale, Swingtown prepped for the Next Generation with two qualifiers at The Meadows, including a victory in 1:54.2 on June 18.

Fifth Circuit rules HISA unconstitutional - again

On Friday (July 5), the United States Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals again ruled that the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA) is unconstitutional, dealing yet another blow to the controversial piece of legislation. This new ruling follows a Fifth Circuit decision in November 2022 that also found HISA unconstitutional.

The U.S. Trotting Association has been working closely with others in the industry and with Rep. Clay Higgins (LA-03) to introduce the Racehorse Health and Safety Act (RHSA). RHSA will establish an interstate compact to develop scientific medication control rules and racetrack safety rules, allowing only participating states to export simulcast signals for interstate, offsite betting.

Congressman Higgins said, "This is a victory for horses, horsemen and for state sovereignty. Constitutional rights are worth fighting for. My RHSA legislation is far superior in every way to the current law. With the help of American horsemen who are actually devoted to the industry and the beautiful horses we love, I will lead the Congressional mission to repeal the unconstitutional law that is currently crippling the horse industry. HISA is going down, and RHSA is standing up."

"HISA is broken, and all who care about the health and safety of our racing equines should pivot to the RHSA," said Russell Williams, president of the USTA. "After today's ruling, it is beyond dispute that Congress should pass the Racehorse Health and Safety Act to replace HISA. The RHSA will be based on sound veterinary science rather than optics.

"The RHSA will focus on what's best for the health of the racehorse. It was developed in cooperation with racehorse veterinarians and requires that all rules be based on generally accepted scientific principles. It's time to adopt sensible government regulation that does not trample the constitutional rights of horsemen or create any crippling financial burden on the horseracing industry."

The USTA is a 19,000-member non-profit association of standardbred horse owners, breeders, drivers, trainers, and officials headquartered in Columbus, OH. It was founded in 1939 and promulgates the rules of harness racing, licenses persons involved in harness racing, and insists upon the humane treatment and wellbeing of standardbred horses. Before state racing commissions began to regulate harness racing in the 1960s, the USTA was the sole regulatory body for harness racing. Standardbred horses, drivers, and trainers must be registered with the USTA to be eligible to race in North America.

James MacDonald wins 2024 National Driving Championship; will represent Canada at 2025 World Driving Championship in New Zealand

James MacDonald of Guelph, ON will represent Canada in the 2025 World Driving Championship after emerging victorious in the 2024 National Driving Championship (NDC) on Friday (July 5) at Hippodrome 3R in Trois-Rivières, QC.

thephotodesk.ca

Canada's National Driving Champion James MacDonald (center) with Sophie Mongeon and Standardbred Canada CEO Darryl Kaplan.

The 2017 World Driving Champion and three-time O'Brien Award winner as Canada's Driver of the Year, MacDonald finished the eight-race tournament with 66 points to top the leaderboard, ahead of Tyler Borth of Ingersoll, ON with 53 points and third-place finisher Robert Shepherd of Mirabel, QC, also with 53 points but fewer first-place finishes than Borth.

The bulk of MacDonald's points were earned through his first five drives of the competition, as he notched three wins and one second-place finish to account for 55 of his 66 points. MacDonald's victories came aboard Rec Time (1:57.4; $2.10) in the second NDC race, Bonfire Bash (2:00; $3.30) in the fourth NDC leg and American Zestar (1:56.1; $2.70) in the fifth race of the challenge.

"It's the best," said a triumphant MacDonald on his emotions after the NDC victory. "Paige [MacDonald, James' wife] and I talked about it a few times. I said, 'You know, I'll probably never get a chance to wear the red and white again.' And it's kind of a tough topic because it's such a great experience. I wish everyone could experience it.

"I'm just so thrilled I get to go to New Zealand and wear the red and white. I love my blue and yellow [MacDonald's traditional colors in his driving suit], but there's nothing better than a whole country cheering for you."

The 38-year-old MacDonald praised his fellow drivers and expressed his sincere gratitude to the host track in Trois-Rivières for conducting a top-notch event. Hippodrome 3R played host to the National Driving Championship for the first time in 2024.

"There's no experience like a national driving championship," MacDonald said. "And I can't say enough about the job they did at the track today. The track was amazing. The crew was amazing. The whole Standardbred Canada staff, they did a great job, and it's just a terrific event."

Presented by Standardbred Canada, the National Driving Championship is the culmination of four Regional Driving Championships to help determine our country's representative in the World Driving Championship. Drivers must earn their way into the National Driving Championship by finishing first or second in their respective Regional Driving Championship.

The leaderboard from the 2024 National Driving Championship is as follows:

1. James MacDonald – 66 points
2. Tyler Borth – 53
3. Robert Shepherd – 53
4. Stephane Brosseau – 50
5. Phil Giesbrecht – 44
6. Mike Hennessy – 43
7. Redmond Doucet – 36
8. David Dowling – 31

Ascendance supreme again in Big M's Kindergarten

The term 'ascendance' is synonymous with dominance. It just so happens that trainer Linda Toscano has a horse by the same name who lived up to that synonym Friday night (July 5) at The Meadowlands in leg 2 of the Kindergarten Series.

An event for 2-year-olds of each sex and gait, there were seven $20,000 Kindergarten dashes on the 15-race card.

Ascendance, a daughter of Captaintreacherous—Higher And Higher, made the top in the lone filly pace while parked in :27.4 and then was able to relax some as she hit the half in :56.1 and three-quarters in 1:24.4. A sharp final quarter of :26.3 found her 3¾ lengths in front of second-place finisher Ronstadt at the finish.

"She's a big, strong horse," said winning driver Scott Zeron. "Now, she gets a few weeks off before going to Kentucky all summer. She didn't have a lot of challengers [tonight], that's why she raced on the lead. Coming from off the pace, that's what The Red Mile is for. She'll get raced a little differently in Kentucky."

While making it two wins in two Kindergarten – and seasonal – starts, Ascendance stopped the clock in a lifetime-best 1:51.2. As the 1-9 favorite, she returned $2.20 to win.

THREE FOR TAKTER: Trainer Nancy Takter continued her winning ways, taking three of the Kindergarten splits, all with horses who were making their respective career debuts.

Captain Optimistic ($2.80 to win as the 2-5 public choice) won the second of three divisions for colt and gelding pacers in 1:51.3 with Yannick Gingras driving. The son of Captaintreacherous—Cinamony drew clear of his foes at the head of the stretch on the way to a 3½-length victory.

Champagne Problems and Torrisi gave Takter, who started the night with 21 winners from just 51 Big M starts this year, a sweep of the two divisions for filly trotters.

A daughter of Tactical Landing—Miss Caviar, Champagne Problems ($6.20 as the 2-1 second choice) went wire-to-wire in 1:54.2 with Dexter Dunn in the bike, while Torrisi ($4.80 as the 7-5 second choice), a daughter of Walner—Barn Girl, was moved to the front by Gingras at three-quarters before holding sway to the finish in 1:54.1.

THREE MORE: The other three Kindergarten winners were:

- In the first of three colt and gelding paces, first-timer Fallout (a son of Captaintreacherous—Aria Hanover) scored in 1:52.1 for driver Tim Tetrick and trainer Tony Alagna. He returned $3 to his backers as the 1-2 favorite.

- In the only colt and gelding trot, the Noel Daley-trained Jeffery J scored in his career debut in 1:55.4 with Todd McCarthy in the bike. The son of Bar Hopping—Drinking Money returned $9 as the 7-2 third choice.

- In the third colt and gelding pace, TH Colby emerged from a three-hole trip to gun down his foes while wide in the stretch, stopping the clock in 1:51.2 for Gingras and Ron Burke. The son of Papi Rob Hanover—Fade, sent to the gate as the 6-5 second choice, returned $4.40 to win.

A LITTLE MORE: Gingras led the driver colony with four winners on the night. For Early 50-cent Pick-4 players sharp enough to include 47-1 shot Good Deal in the ninth race, a big reward awaited. The sequence started with winner's odds of 2-5, 9-5 and 2-1, but after Anibal Borjas, who had a driving double, guided Good Deal to the winner's circle, those with winning tickets cashed in for $1,131.60. All-source handle totaled $2,805,824.

Breakfast With The Babies continues at The Big M

Breakfast With The Babies finally caught a less than perfect morning after a late night into early morning deluge, but the track came great, I'll call it wet fast. The skies were clearing but the humidity high and temperatures started out around 80 and rising. There was no wind.

Castel Lindy, a homebred Walner gelding owned by KR Breeding and trained by Domenico Cecere, took the opener. Dexter Dunn settled Castel Lindy in third early as Michanek (Mattias/Marcus Melander) set solid fractions or :29, :59, 1:28.2 to the stretch when Dunn tipped his charge around the breaking Sinatra and tracked down Michanek late to get the 1:56.3 win.

Andy and Julie Miller turned out Kevlar CCL for owner/co-breeder Laura Young (with Emma Young) to take a 1:59 record in his very first try. Andy settled the son of Tactical Landing in fourth throughout the first three quarters as Double A Dallar (Tony Alagna) set even fractions, then fanned off cover and was a determined winner over The Drinker (Scott Zeron / Melander) and General Kronos (Andy McCarthy / Noel Daley) getting his head in front near the end of the :27.4 final stanza.

The Gimpanzee colt out of Cover Girl, Blank (Dunn / Melander) impressed with a front stepping 1:57.3 win, sprinting home in :27.4 on his own to easily hold off the close of Flightline (Andy/Julie Miller). He's likely off to The Red Mile for KYSS duty for SRF Stable and Holly Lane Stud East who gave $150,000 in Lexington last fall from breeder Diamond Creek Farms.

The same connections came right back with another from the first crop of Gimpanzee when the filly Luna Lovegood paraded around the oval in 1:57.2, home in :27.3 under her own power over the game Sonmar Pond (Zeron / Cecere) who held his crown well for second. Holly Lane Stud East owns the winner, a partially homebred $100,000 (LEX) yearling, bred by Blue Chip Farms and Stefan Melander.

Cecere sent out his second winner of the morning with Moni Multiplier (Zeron), who rallied well between horses late through a 28 second end to the 1:59.2 mile. An International Moni homebred for Lindy Farms, the winning filly came through in tandem with Belmont (Dunn / Melander) who was a good second.

Conversano was ultra-impressive this morning, leading all the way for Todd McCarthy to win in 1:55.2 and sprinting home in :27.4 to hold off Mimosatomartini S (Mattias Melander / Marcus Melander) and the crisp close of Global Heritage (Dunn / Cecere). Conversano, trained by Juan Cano, is a Hot Lead Farms homebred daughter of the great Muscle Hill from stakes winning Celebrity Ruth.

Best Story Ever's first chapter was a success for Andy and Julie Miller this morning, converting a nice 2-hole ride into a 1:58.4 win, trotting strongly through the stretch in :27.1 to go by the tiring leader and win in hand over Kadena (Dunn / Melander) who closed up the inside and Going To Vegas' (Johnathan Ahle / Paul Kelley) wide rally. Kentuckiana Farms and Eddie Gran bred the Chapter Seven filly who sold to Wiesman Farms, LLC, Andy Miller Stable and Carmen Iannacone for $185,000 in Lexington last fall.

Steamboat Springs was a forwardly place 1:56, home in :27.2 for trainer Joe Bongiorno, taking over just past the quarter to rate an easy middle and kicking home despite drifting late to hold sway over Big Sur Beach (Yannick Gingras / Per Engblom). The winner is a Sweet Lou gelding, sold in Lexington to Jennifer Bongiorno Stable & Barbera Urciuoli & Frank, Sbrocco, JAF and Scott Rau for $135,000 from breeder Vieux Carre.

Welcometotheshow went a good mile for Josert Fonseca when he held off the late rush of Go Go Grasshopper (Bongiorno) in 1:53.2, home in :27.1. The winner sat third through the early fractions, moved up a space when leader Squeaky Blue (Gingras) went wide erratically on the last turn then surged past the stubborn Caviart Cash (Anibal Borjas / Alagna) on the inside with Go Go Grasshopper ranging up on the outside to win. Welcometotheshow, from the first crop of Tall Dark Stranger, bred by Steve Jones and Maumee River Stables and sold to trainer Nancy Takter, JAF Racing, 3 Brothers Stable, Sbrocco and Martha Frank for $75,000 (LEX).

White Lotus (Gingras / Engblom) was super impressive this morning in his second appearance, coming in off a sparkling 1:53.4 effort a fortnight ago with another win, this time in 1:53 flat. Gingras moved White Lotus to the top just past the quarter, reeled off a :57.1 middle half then tacked on a :26.3 kicker under a hold. Its Gonna Feelgood (A. McCarthy / Daley) closed from well back to get up for second. Morrison Racing Stables gave $110,000 (LEX) for the winner, bred by Lindy Farms.

Gingras and Takter struck again with the eponymously named JK Fancy Nancy, a winner out of the pocket in 1:54.2, closing in a flat :27. Odds On Aces Full (A. McCarthy / Alagna) set the pace until late stretch before succumbing to the winner. Reckless Abandon (T. McCarthy / Brett Pelling) rallied well very late for third. JK Fancy Nancy is a 3 Brothers homebred son of Captain Crunch from their 2014 Horse of the Year pacing mare, JK She'salady, also trained by Takter.

The Tall Dark Stranger filly Exceptionalism (Tim Tetrick / Alagna) impressed in her second outing, after a cover trip two weeks ago, Tetrick put her on the front today and she sprinted home in :26.4 on the end of a 1:54 mile to hold off Gigglingonthebeach (A. McCarthy / Cano) to the inside and a sharp rally from Papi's Opinion (Dunn / Pelling) for the win. Katz and Goldband bred the winner and sold her in Lexington for $70,000 to Alagna Racing LLC, CTI2.0 LLC, Frederick W Hertrich III, and Pryde Stables, Inc.

My Sweet Lily scored again for the Gingras / Takter combo, this time emerging from the pocket to go by mile cutter Perfidious Crown (Dunn / Alagna) in the :26 flat end to the 1:53.2 mile, her second win in as many tries. Marvin & Lynn Katz share ownership with Caviart Farms who gave $130,000 at Harrisburg for the Sweet Lou filly from breeders Burke Racing, Weaver Brusceci and Marc Reynolds.

New text line launched for Batavia Downs race office

All connections of horses pointed towards racing at Batavia Downs this year should note that a new text line has been established to relay vital information regarding draws and racing action for the upcoming meet that will start on Saturday (July 27).

Horsemen and women can sign up for this service by texting bataviadowns to 732-363-7700. Subscribing to this service will be advantageous to all when it comes to filling races or having immediate knowledge of any changes in schedule, so all are encouraged to do so as soon as possible.
