The growing legacy of Montrell Teague

Add a 1:46 world record-equalling mile to the growing resume of 28-year-old driver Montrell Teague who already has won a stack of stakes and has been victorious in two of the greatest miles in harness racing

by Dave Briggs

The Meadowlands teletimer is still smoldering; the social media views of the replay are still climbing and driver Montrell Teague is wise beyond his 28 years about what it means to chisel his place into harness racing history.

"Everything happens for a reason," said Teague about becoming only the second person, after David Miller, to ever turn a mile behind a standardbred in one minute and forty six seconds.

It is four days after Lather Up equalled Always B Miki's epic world record set in 2016 and Teague said he's now watched the replay (available here) from last Saturday (July 6), "a bunch of times now" because people keep tagging his name in replays posted on Facebook.

"Once I see my name right beside it and they tag me with congratulations, then I might as well just watch it again," Lather Up's 1:46 performance is the fastest mile ever recorded by a standardbred at the Meadowlands.

Teague said, laughing. "It's something that rarely happens, so you watch it as many times as you can. It doesn't get old."

Teague, who already has a Little Brown Jug, Meadowlands Pace, North America Cup, Canadian Pacing Derby and more on his shelf, said he's also blessed to be part of two of the greatest miles in harness racing history.

In September of 2015, Teague steered Wiggle It Jiggle It to an epic triumph in the 2015 Little Brown Jug that has been widely heralded as one of the greatest races of all time (available here) Nearly four years later, Teague said he was still trying to "take it all in" after Lather Up won the $250,000 Graduate final for 4-year-old pacers in jaw-dropping fashion. It is the fastest mile ever recorded at the Big M.

"I didn't expect to go in :46 that late in the night and on that kind of track, but everything happened for a reason and it worked out perfectly," he said.

Still, the Delaware native said his first thought when he saw the teletimer was disbelief.

"You usually expect a :46 mile from the perfect storm, a Red Mile, early in the day, no wind, hot out, absolutely perfect conditions. You don't expect that from the second-to-last race at the Meadowlands when it's 10:30 at night and 65 to 70 degrees out.

"It just puts into perspective how great of a mile that really was."

And how great a horse Lather Up is.

"Exactly," Teague said. "He definitely kicked in when he was supposed to. We always knew that was his kind of trip."

Anatomy of a world record

The night had already proven to be a fast one by the time the 10th race rolled around. Hayden Hanover posted a 1:47.3 mile in the first race in a slight rain shower. Then, in race six, 2018 Hambletonian winner Atlanta won her $250,000 Graduate final with a 1:49.1 mile that is the fastest by a trotting mare in history and the fastest trotting mile or any kind at the Meadowlands.

"I was talking to Always A Prince's trainer and we were about to warm up together and Atlanta just came off the track and I asked him, 'How fast do you think we're going to go?' He said, ':47'. I agreed :47, but we went in :46," Teague said.

Looking at the program before the race, Teague said he thought Always A Prince, driven by Brian Sears, would go to the front, but there would be at least three or four other horses that would also leave.

"Jimmy Freight usually never takes back, so I thought he was going to be in the hunt up close, but it worked out perfectly that everyone just floated and didn't stay out there and waited for everybody to settle," Teague said, adding that he wasn't expecting to get a two-hole trip, but is glad it worked out that way.

"The first quarter, Always A Prince (driven by Brian Sears) was going on a little bit and I just popped out to see if he wanted to follow me or not, trying to keep the fractions honest," Teague said. "Right when I popped out he went on and so I just sat there and made sure that I was on Brian Sears' right shoulder just so I didn't get locked in or any bad thing happen. The last thing that I remember was seeing :52 to the half. At the three-quarter pole I wasn't even looking at it, actually... just because I was making sure that nobody was coming to my side and I wasn't going to get locked in. I made sure that I was getting around Brian Sears' wheel all right with my legs... The three quarter pole, I was just in game mode."

Teague said the sensation of going a mile in 1:46 wasn't that much different than the :48 or :49 miles Later Up has put up before, but he knew they were flying just based on how game Always A Prince was in front.

"Just seeing Brian Sears letting (Always A Prince) roll and not taking a hold of him and letting him go his own fractions, trying to get away from the field that night, I did actually feel like we were going pretty fast when nobody could collar Always A Prince or get near him. They couldn't even get to the two-hole where I was, so I knew we were moving."

Teague said going in 1:46 is "just flying," but also much more than that.

"There's only two horses that can (put their) name to a world record like that, so it's very prestigious," he said.

He celebrated in the paddock with trainer Clyde Francis and then when he was getting into his car to drive home, Teague called his father, George Teague, Jr., the head of the stable in Harrington, DE where Lather Up is based.

"He was very proud, but I think I was a little bit more excited than he was," Montrell said. "He said, 'Oh, I figured he could do it.' He wasn't too surprised, as much as I was."

"Dad has said (Lather Up) could go in :46, but we've only seen it one time with Always B Miki... But usually when he's said something, he's on the money. He's got to where he can tell a horse is going to be good before they even show a mile that's actually relevant to being a good horse."

Lather Up, a homebred son of Im Gorgeous out of the In The Pocket mare Pocket Comb owned by Gary and Barbara Illes of Harrington, DE, has now earned nearly $1.2 million in his career with 20 victories in 33 starts, including the $1 million Pepsi North America Cup in 2018.

Montrell said it's a huge plus that the victory was a family one.

Dave Landry

Teague (after winning the 2018 Pepsi North America Cup with Lather Up) has already amassed a number of "bucket list" stakes victories at the age of 28.

"I get to celebrate with my dad, my mom, Gary Illes – he lives right down the street and comes to the barn every day – so it's not like I don't get to see the owners, trainers... I get to celebrate with them and we get to say congratulations to each other. It's a lot better like that, when you get to see these people every day.

"I'm just grateful that I got the opportunity to sit behind two of the greatest horses in history. Wiggle It Jiggleit, he put on monstrous miles on every single sized track and he's definitely the people's horse. Everybody talks about him still, and they can't believe how good he was. And now Lather Up, he's taken the reins of Wiggle It Jiggleit's role of being the greatest horse that I've been partnered up with. Going :46, now everybody is talking about that. It feels good to be in the news."

Eleven years into his career, Montrell has won more than 1,400 races and collected purse earnings of nearly $22 million. As for doing all that long before his 30th birthday, Montrell said he's simply blessed and grateful.

"I've got a Meadowlands Pace, North America Cup, Little Brown Jug... all the high points that every driver wants to win," he said. "I've completed that now and got it off my bucket list. I'm definitely grateful and I can only look into the future and hope that I get more."

Getting more could come as early as this Saturday. Lather Up is in to go in the $423,000 William Haughton (contested over 1 1/8 miles) right back at the Meadowlands a week after Montrell Teague and Lather Up made history there.

Meadowlands Pace card thoughts and predictions

by Brett Sturman

It's a good thing that Saturday is Meadowlands Pace night because otherwise it would have been impossible to top the two world record performances on display at the track last week. And in one of the better things about harness racing, there's little rest this time of year for the best horses as newly-minted speed champions Lather Up and Atlanta are right back in action highlighting a stellar undercard, if you could even call it that considering the high-level quality.

Greenshoe and Green Manalishi S are in separate divisions of the Stanley Dancer, and both make their first starts back since HRU's The Guru mused last week about how they could have been so far out of position when last seen in the Earl Beal at Pocono for $500,000. I wonder the same. Going back to that race for a moment, it really underscores, in general, the responsibility that drivers should have. In the case of Greenshoe, it goes without a shadow of a doubt that the best horse in the race didn't win the race. I get that it's horse racing and the best horse doesn't always win, but it can't be because a driver has a horse that's 10 lengths the best sitting sixth on a track that's won by the 1-2 horses 80 per cent of the time.

As fate would have it for Greenshoe, he lands the outside post 7 in his division of the Dancer going as race 5. So what will Sears do now? I'm certain he's capable of it, but Greenshoe doesn't typically leave. He's back to a mile track and would have every chance to close through the Meadowlands stretch, but if coming from last I'm not sold that he could catch the likes of #'s 1 and 3. Don't Let'em won in 1:51.4 last year as a 2-year-old and comes off fast 1:51.4 qualifier where he and Pilot Discretion fought right through the wire. These are fast colts and I think it forces Sears hand early from the outside, with Don't Let'em providing the slight upset.

In race 3's other Dancer division, Green Manalishi S seems poised to get back on track. He surged in his seasonal debut two back and then was forced to go wide around dull and then breaking cover last out at Pocono and that scenario isn't one likely to work out. David Miller picked up the drive last out on Swandre The Giant when Gingras opted to Osterc in the Beal final, and both drivers retain those same horses Saturday with Miller opting for Swandre The Giant over the Nifty Norman-trained Reign Of Honor. The most likely outcome is that Green Manalishi S will win at about 4-5, but it's hard to even play the race with the small field and anticipated feel of no race flow.

In the $450,000 Hambletonian Maturity, Atlanta and Six Pack go back at it after a race for the ages last week that produced the fastest ever trot in Meadowlands history and the fastest trotting mile ever by a female when Atlanta got up in 1:49.1. It's too bad for Six Pack that he couldn't hang on last week because that was the biggest mile of his career after being parked past a :26 quarter and :54 half before finally clearing to the lead, to then open up in the stretch only to be nailed by a wide Atlanta. For Atlanta, she continues her drifting tendencies and it didn't look like she was going to reach even with a couple hundred yards to go. Six Pack went off at 7-1 last week and I'd suspect will offer something closer to 4-1 this time around while Atlanta will drift up a bit from the 1-5 odds she had on her last week. Credit to Manchego who was much improved last week from all her prior starts this season; her and Atlanta have the tactical edge on Six Pack who must navigate the second tier at the added 1 and 1/8 mile distance.

Whereas the big trot race is realistically between two horses, the William R. Haughton Memorial for FFA pacers is far more wide-open. Yes, the race features Lather Up who comes off that spectacular 1:46 race and any repeat of that try will win this, but will he be as good this week? To his credit, he was keen throughout the mile last week in the pocket and then was pacing on his own through the entire stretch so it's not like he inherited the world record by not doing any work on his own. Always A Prince went off as the favorite last week in that record mile and did most of the dirty work paving through near record time fractions only to give way late. He lands the slight post edge on Lather Up and gets a new driver in David Miller; I'd think he's capable of turning the tables. This Is The Plan saved ground last week and then came on late to nail down second; post 10 in a 12-horse fields seems to make his presence being felt now much less likely.

McWicked gets the call as the 5-2 morning line favorite as he raced well in defeat in both Franklin races at Pocono, but this is a highly competitive field I wouldn't want too short a price that is just 1 for 4 on the year. Western Joe excelled here this time last year but doesn't look as strong at the moment.

Highalator bounced back with a vengeance last out to take a career 1:48 mark.

This year's version of the Golden Girls looks awfully similar to last year's edition in which Shartin N went into that race heavily favored and will do so again. Last year, Shartin N lost after setting unsustainable fractions on the front, and was picked off by Diva's Image who flew from out of the clouds. They rematch this year, but Shartin N is coming into this looking as solid as she ever has and it would take something unforeseen for her to lose again. The race also contains 4-year-olds Kiss In The Sand and Youaremycandygirl. Despite those two being at the top of the division the last two seasons, they are a combined 0 for 12 this year.

In the Mistletoe Shalee, Warrawee Ubeaut deserves to be favored but she won't go into this with the same aura of invincibility that she had a few starts ago. She and chief rival Treacherous Reign dueled themselves into defeat in the Lynch and two prior to that came up a nose short in the Fan Hanover to that same filly; this race will be hers to win or lose as Gingras will likely have her controlling things on the front. Stonebridge Soul got the dream trip in the Lynch and Tetrick will be leaving with her once again trying to secure a similar early position; will have the extra added distance to work with prior to hitting the first turn. Tall Drink Hanover had no shot from post 9 last out and this spot is more reasonable; waiting for her to return to that 2-year-old form. Trillions Hanover raced gamely in defeat last out in her Lynch consolation; a race that went a tick faster than the final.

In the big race, the Meadowlands Pace has historically been kind to favorites and short-priced horses, and this race shapes up accordingly. Aside from a freak break from Captain Crunch when he jumped a shadow, the reigning 2-year-old champion has easily been the best of the glamor division this year and will loom an odds-on price to finish off the North America Cup-Meadowlands Pace double. He jogged in his elimination last week after quarter moving and that exact scenario could play out again. Driver Scott Zeron won the track's signature trotting event last year with Atlanta is my (and many others) pick to win the premier pacing race this year with Captain Crunch. For horses underneath, Best In Show outraced his odds last week and gets Sears back; I'd expect him to take an early shot once again. Bettors Wish was dominant in winning his Pace elimination last week and now gets another crack at Captain Crunch; he was second to that foe in the North America Cup final. Workin Ona Mystery isn't done any favors by the post draw, but he does have newly minted hall-of-fame nominee Tim Tetrick going for him. Tetrick's already won this race 5 times and the Brian Brown colt is more than capable in his own right; just needs to find a way into it.

Mad betting bomber at Northfield makes for entertaining evening

by Garnet Barnsdale

Last Friday night, while I was sitting at a stag having just won the laptop I'm using to write this column, I checked my phone to see what was happening in the harness racing world and immediately noticed social media blowing up over some strange – and it seemed not very smart – wagering at Northfield Park.

It seemed that there was a “mad bomber” of sorts betting large sums of money on favorites across the board, and not all of them were winning or even finishing in the money. This led to some lucrative betting opportunities for regulars willing to take a shot against some of these favorites.

The fun started in race 7 where it appeared that a wager of $40,000 was bet to show on the morning line favorite Rockmatic, who left from the innermost post with Tony Hall driving. When Rockmatic finished second, he returned the minimum $2.10 to show to our mad bomber. No harm, no foul and a quick $2,000 made.

It looked like the bomber took two races off, but came back swinging in race 10 as the #2 horse, Brillo Camarillo, finished the wagering period with just over $23K bet on him in each of the win, place and show pools. Although he was 12-1 in the morning line, Brillo Camarillo certainly didn't look like a hopeless longshot, having finished third in his most recent start with wins in his two previous starts to that one. He also inherited the coveted rail post due to a scratch.

He finished third which meant that the mysterious plunger – who likely had bet $20K across the board on the horse – had lost about $38K on this race. That ignited harness racing Twitterverse. Phil tweeted from the Twitter handle @Phil01045843: “Did the computer guys screw up or are those real bets on the #2?”

Former HRU regular contributor Dean Towers

(@pullthepocket) replied that the bets were real and some of his followers got in on the act of betting against whichever horse the bomber was hammering at the windows. Buck Swope from the Twitter handle @shottakingtime tweeted out: “Thanks PTP, caught this just in time. Did not even have a chance to look at the PPS but gunned in a Ulysses on #5 to place and show solely based on ML”

Race 11 produced an even bigger loss for the bomber who chose the #7 horse, 3-1 morning line shot My Caroline to lay it in on. When that mare finished out of the money, a $25K win, place, show bet went down the drain and it resulted in some nice payoffs for those who once again took a stand against the plunger, and all you had to do was look to inside posts. The winner, #3 Miss B returned $61.80, $39.80 and $26.50 across the board. Two horses that were 7 to 2 in the morning line followed with #2 Myeyesadoreya paying $14.10 to place and $7.60 to show. The eerily aptly named #1 Bet Er All paid a handsome $12.70 to show.

So, this mad bomber was now in the hole more than $100K. Would that be it? It appeared so when no large bets were made on race 12, but the bridge jumper came back firing hard in race 13 with what looked like a $30K win place

Everything you need to know about the Meadowlands Pace

by Bob Heyden

Notes on this year's Meadowlands Pace:

1. Four drivers qualified two each – Andrew McCarthy, Brian Sears, Tim Tetrick and Dexter Dunn.
2. Linda Toscano, now a Hall of Famer, tries for her first ever Meadowlands Pace with Best In Show. Remember she was third with Share The Delight in the most exciting of all Pace finals in 2008 when Art Official defeated Somebeachsomewhere.
3. Captaintreacherous and Niatross, both Pace winners, are the last two Pacers of the Year at both 2 and 3.
4. First crop winning sires in the past in the Meadowlands Pace:
 - 1984 – On The Road Again a son of Happy Motoring
 - 1997 – Dream Away from the first crop of Artsplace
 - 1998 – Day In A Life from Life Sign's first offering.
 - 2005 – Rocknroll Hanover from the first crop of Western Ideal.
 - 2008 – Art Official was from the first crop of Art Major.
 - 2019 – Can Captaintreacherous or Sweet Lou win with their first offerings?
5. Chris Ryder and Brett Pelling are the Down Under representatives in this field. Ryder is looking for his first Pace victory, Pelling his record fifth. Ryder sent out the favorite 21 years ago in Sealed N Delivered, but he was not up to it and finished last. Pelling won four times in an 11-year span – 1995 Davids Pass, 1997 Dream Away, 1999 The Panderosa, and the last time he was in it with Rocknroll Hanover in 2005. He also finished second that year with Village Jolt. Three of the four Pace winners sent out by Pelling (all except Reigning Deo) also won the North America Cup – 1995-1999-2005
6. Dexter Dunn is 29 and looking for his first Pace trophy.

John Campbell was 27 when he won his first of seven Pace trophies with Hilarion. Tim Tetrick was 25 when he won his first of five Meadowlands Pace trophies with Southwind Lynx. Tetrick was 28 when he won his second of Pace trophy when he scored with One More Laugh for Ray Schnittker.

7. Captain Crunch's strong tradition in the Pace: His sire won it in 2013 (Captaintreacherous). His sire (Somebeachsomewhere) was second in it as the biggest favorite in the 21st century (1-9, finishing second). His sire, Mach Three, won the 2002 Meadowlands Pace. His sire, Matts Scooter, won the 1988 Meadowlands Pace and his sire, Direct Scooter, was not staked to the 1979 Meadowlands Pace.

8. A victory by Captain Crunch will mean 30-year-old Scott Zeron will be the youngest ever to win both the NA Cup and the Meadowlands Pace in the same year. Tim Tetrick was 31 in 2013 when he did it with Captaintreacherous. If Zeron wins the Pace this year, he will become the youngest to ever win the Big Five: Hambletonian-Meadowlands Pace-Breeders Crown-North America Cup and Little Brown Jug.

The Meadowlands Pace through the years

The 1991 Meadowlands Pace produced the first nighttime sub-1:50 mile when Precious Bunny scored by two lengths.

Ron Waples turns 75 next week. He once won two million-dollar races four days apart in 1983, including a Meadowlands Pace. He won the Sweetheart with Shannon Fancy and the Meadowlands Pace with Ralph Hanover.

Cat Manzi was 56 when he won his first and only Meadowlands Pace (2006 – Artistic Fella)

Buddy Gilmour won the Pace twice, two years apart (1984 On The Road Again and 1986 Laughs).

In 1984, the Pace had 40 entrants in the eliminations. Thus, the final, at $1,293,000 was the biggest pot ever.

The five-horse entry headed by Nihilator in 1985 – of which $881,000 was bet to show – finished 1-3-4-5-6-with Chairmanofthebord spoiling the party slipping in for second for Skip Lewis and Ben Webster.

Tim Tetrick for Ray Schnittker and John Campbell for Brett Pelling have twice combined to win the Meadowlands Pace. It happened in 2010 and 2017 for Tetrick and Schnittker with One More Laugh and Huntsville. Campbell and Pelling did it with Davids Pass and The Panderosa.

The first to win the Meadowlands Pace from post 10 was also the first million-dollar winner for Campbell – Hilarion in 1982.

Cam Fella was off the board for the last time in his career when he was seventh in the 1982 Pace elims. He never missed the board again and that included his entire 4YO season. But Cam made up for it, big time, by siring the winner of the Pace four straight years:

1991 – Precious Bunny

1992 – Carlsbad Cam

1993 – Presidential Ball

1994 – Cams Card Shark

All but Carlsbad Cam set a new single-season earnings record.

Trevor Ritchie has maybe the best stat from the Meadowlands concerning the Pace and the Hambletonian. He is the only driver to win both while debuting in each. His 1987 drive with Frugal Gourmet was his first in the Pace, as was his debut in the 2000 Hambletonian with Yankee Paco.

Captain Treacherous (2013) and Captain Crunch (2019) are on the verge of becoming the first father-son duo to each win the NA Cup and the Meadowlands Pace. Both races have been won by the same horse seven times before, but never has the sire also done it.

Art Major was inducted into the Hall of Fame this past weekend. He sired the 2018 Pace winner Courtly Choice. His 2002 total of $1.562 million not only led the sport that year, but he remains the only horse to bank that much in a season without ever appearing in a million-dollar race. (NOTE: He began his career with Bettors Wish's trainer Chris Ryder).

Trainer Chris Ryder said he has tremendous confidence in his colt Bettors Wish.

Ryder puts confidence in ‘Wish’ for Pace

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Chris Ryder knows what it is like to race in the Crawford Farms Meadowlands Pace — this year’s appearance with Bettor’s Wish will be the trainer’s seventh trip to the event’s final — but this time feels different.

Bettor’s Wish, who has won five of six starts this season, is the 3-1 second choice on the morning line in Saturday’s $682,650 race for 3-year-old pacers at The Meadowlands. The colt, with driver Dexter Dunn, heads to the final off a win in his elimination last weekend. The morning line favorite is Captain Crunch, who is 2-1 after also winning his elimination.

Captain Crunch, the 2018 Dan Patch Award winner for best 2-year-old male pacer, won the Pepsi North America Cup on June 15 at Woodbine Mohawk Park, with Bettor’s Wish finishing second. Bettor’s Wish has finished third or better in all but one of his 18 career races, winning 10.

“Quite often in the past, I’ve been in the North America Cup and the Meadowlands Pace, and you get a bit nervous,” the 63-year-old Ryder said. “You think hard about it, what has to be done. You always question yourself as a trainer. But with this horse, I’m absolutely not doing that because he gives you confidence. That’s what Dexter says, and he’s right.

“He’s so reliable when he races. Every time he races, he shows you some brilliance. I’m not nervous, I’m going to enjoy it, because you don’t get in these spots very often. I’m just going to enjoy it and make the most of it.”

Ryder is among the owners of Bettor’s Wish, along with Bella Racing, Fair Island Farm, and Ken Solomon. The colt, by Bettor’s Delight out of Lifetime Star, was purchased for $20,000 at the 2017 Lexington Selected Sale and has earned $664,556 so far in his career.

“It’s just a good story,” Ryder said. “He was a cheap yearling, but when you look at his pedigree, it’s tremendous. He’s from the family of Life Sign and American Ideal; Three Diamonds is his fourth dam. But he was small and he wasn't a (Captaintreacherous-sired yearling). That was the first year of the Captains and the money went to Captaintreacherous.

"He doesn't look small when he's racing. He's got a big, long stride. And he's always good down by the wire. We're just pleased to have him."

Bettor's Wish won five times last year, all in Canada, and was second in the Battle of Waterloo and Ontario Sire Stakes championship. This season, his triumphs include the Art Rooney Pace.

"Honestly, he's a little better than I thought he would be," said Ryder, whose best Meadowlands Pace finish came in 2002 with runner-up McArdle. "He impresses me every time he races. He trains quite well, but plenty of horses train pretty good. When you go and race, he's got that bit extra that you don't always see when you race them."

"I like his speed and his versatility. He's getting two-hole trips all the time and it's not just luck. It's because he can get himself where he needs to be."

Bettor's Wish will start Saturday from post four. Captain Crunch and driver Scott Zeron will leave from post one while Workin Ona Mystery, the 5-1 third choice on the morning line, and driver Tim Tetrack start from post nine. No other pacer in the 10-horse field is better than 10-1.

"This is going to be a tricky race," Ryder said, adding with a laugh, "I said that about the North America Cup, and here I am saying the same thing again. Who knows?"

Saturday's 13-race card at The Meadowlands features eight of the top-10 horses in this week's Hambletonian Society/Breeders Crown poll.

In addition to Captain Crunch (No. 3) and Bettor's Wish (No. 5) in the Meadowlands Pace, No. 1 Shartin N is in the Golden Girls, No. 2 Atlanta is in the Hambletonian Maturity, No. 4 Greenshoe is in a division of the Stanley Dancer Memorial, No. 6 Lather Up is in the William R. Haughton Memorial, No. 9 Warrawee Ubeaut is in the Mistletoe Shalee, and No. 10 Hannelore Hanover is in the Miss Versatility.

Racing begins at 7:15 p.m. (EDT).

Grant on Hambletonian Maturity contender Atlanta: "She actually continues to amaze"

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Atlanta secured her place in harness racing history last August when she became the first filly in 22 years to defeat the boys in the Hambletonian. Over the past month, though, the mare has served notice that she is not finished making history.

On June 15, Atlanta won the Armbro Flight in 1:50.2 at Woodbine Mohawk Park, setting the record for the fastest trotting mile in Canadian history. Last weekend, she added to her legend by winning the Graduate Series championship in 1:49.1 at The Meadowlands to become the fastest female trotter of all time. The time also was the fastest trotting mile in the 43-year history of the Big M.

"There is no doubt that every time she races, you think you've seen the best of her, and she shows you something else," said Brad Grant, one of Atlanta's owners. "She actually continues to amaze."

Atlanta's next opportunity to dazzle is Saturday in the $450,000 Hambletonian Maturity at The Meadowlands. The Hambletonian Maturity was created by the Hambletonian Society and The Meadowlands as a race solely for 4-year-olds previously eligible to the Hambletonian and Hambletonian Oaks.

This year's event attracted a field of 11. The distance of the race is 1-1/8 miles rather than the traditional mile.

Atlanta, who is undefeated in six starts this year, will attempt to become the second Hambletonian winner to capture the modern version of the Hambletonian Maturity. Marion Marauder first accomplished the feat in 2017. Atlanta also will try to become the third mare in the past four years to win the race, joining Ariana G in 2018 and Hannelore Hanover in 2016.

Eight of Atlanta's rivals in the Maturity also competed in the Graduate final, which Atlanta won by a neck over Six Pack by rallying from fifth place with a quarter-mile to go. The others from the Graduate are Custom Cantab, Manchego, Crystal Fashion, Muscle M Up, Mission Accepted, Phaetosive and Fiftydallarbill.

Atlanta will start the Maturity from post four with regular driver Yannick Gingras at the lines for trainer Ron Burke.

Michael Lisa

Last Saturday, Atlanta (Yannick Gingras) recorded the fastest trotting mile in the history of the Meadowlands with this 1:49.1 score in the $250,000 Graduate final.

"It's mostly the same field of horses," Grant said. "I take nothing away from any of the horses in there, the slowest horse in the Graduate went a mile in (1):50.4 and five of them were under 1:50, so it's a great bunch of horses and they're all there to win. Nothing is going to come easily for anybody."

Atlanta won eight of 14 races last year and earned $1.01 million on her way to being named Trotter of the Year at the Dan Patch Awards banquet. In all but one of her victories, she led at the half. This year, she has won three times when no better than fifth at the half.

"The last couple years, the safest spot to be was on the front," said Grant, who shares ownership of Atlanta with Crawford Farms Racing and Howard Taylor. "This year she is showing that she can come from off the pace, or in this case trot, and get up there and win. Ronnie and Yannick have done a great job racing her off a helmet and keeping her calm. She seems to be a very versatile mare. I like that."

So, what is Atlanta's full potential?

"I don't know that answer," Grant said. "I'm not even sure if you talk to Yannick or Ronnie whether they know that answer. Every night she surprises us. She just seems to find a way to win."

Saturday's 13-race card at The Meadowlands also includes the Meadowlands Pace for 3-year-old pacers, two divisions of the Stanley Dancer Memorial for 3-year-old male trotters, two divisions of the Delvin Miller Memorial for 3-year-old female trotters, Mistletoe Shalee for 3-year-old female pacers, William R. Haughton Memorial for older male pacers, Golden Girls for older female pacers, and a leg of the Miss Versatility Series for older female trotters.

Racing begins at 7:15 p.m. (EDT).

Millies Possession (Dexter Dunn) winning the Reynolds Memorial division last Saturday at The Meadowlands for trainer Jim Campbell.

Millies Possession looks to stay unbeaten in Miller Memorial

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Over the past 40 years, only three female trotters have earned at least $300,000 at age 3 after being unraced at age 2. Jim Campbell trained one of the horses in that group, Stage Show, in 2008. He hopes to add another to the list this season.

Millies Possession is 6-for-6 this year for Campbell and breeder/owner Fashion Farms after sitting out her 2-year-old campaign because of soundness issues. She won four times on the Pennsylvania stakes circuit before notching her first Grand Circuit victory last week in a division of the Reynolds Memorial at The Meadowlands, pushing her earnings to $107,267.

On Saturday, she competes in the second of two divisions of the Del Miller Memorial at The Meadowlands. The $126,500 race is expected to be her final prep for the Hambletonian Oaks eliminations July 27 at the Big M.

"I can't say enough about her; she kind of speaks for herself," Campbell said. "She made a great transition last week stepping up with tougher horses and her first time at The Meadowlands. She took to it like a true professional.

"It's a small percentage of the ones that don't race at 2 that come back and do what she's done. Am I surprised? Nothing surprises me in this game anymore. You think you know something and then it goes the opposite way. With her, the more she's raced, the more she's shown that she knows what she has to do. She's just a true professional. She gives you everything she's got."

Only one 3-year-old filly over the past 40 years has earned more than $564,000 after missing her 2-year-old season, pacer Yellow Diamond, with $1.31 million in 2009. In addition to Stage Show, who won the Matron Stakes and finished third in the Oaks and Breeders Crown on her way to $394,279, the trotters to surpass $300,000 were Ontario standouts China Pearls (with $511,856 in 2011) and Donven Promise (with $456,350 in 2001). Both were O'Brien Award winners.

Campbell considered Millies Possession, a daughter of Possess The Will out of Fashion Athena, one of his top 2-year-olds last season before shutting her down. This season, she is the sport's fastest 3-year-old filly trotter thanks to her 1:51.1 win in the Reynolds. Millies Possession, with regular driver Dexter Dunn, started from post nine and raced on the outside the entire mile.

"It's hard when you're training them to say this one is going to be our best one because you never know what they're going to do when they go behind the starting gate," Campbell said. "I'm really impressed with her gait and the way she gets over the ground, and her determination and attitude. She knows she's a racehorse and she loves doing it. There's nothing negative to say about her, that's for sure."

Among the fillies joining Millies Possession in the second Del Miller division are Starita, who also won a Reynolds division last week, as well as The Ice Dutchess, who won last year's Peaceful Way and Jim Doherty Memorial stakes, and multiple Pennsylvania stakes winner Asiago.

The $124,000 first division includes Reynolds division winner Cloud Nine Fashion, also from Campbell's stable, and New Jersey Sire Stakes champion Evident Beauty.

Also in action Saturday will be Hambletonian-eligible 3-year-old male trotters in two divisions of the Stanley Dancer Memorial.

Sportsline racing – and winning – in honor of Harry Parrott

Four days after Harry Parrott died, the horse he campaigned in partnership with trainer Jim Watt made a miraculous comeback to win his ninth straight race.

by Sandra Snyder | Sponsored by Ontario Racing

When 3-year-old pacing colt Sportsline won his ninth straight race on Saturday, July 6, he and driver Trevor Henry were met in the Woodbine Mohawk Park winner's circle by a jubilant crowd. The hugs and smiles shared by the group had less to do with Sportsline's win however, and more to do with the man they were there to celebrate, part-owner Harry Parrott, who died on July 2.

"All the grandkids were there, the family members and they had a celebration of life for Harry," said trainer Jim Watt. "And if you watch the replay (available here), Sporty was locked in with nowhere to go. Trevor tried to come up the rail, couldn't get him up the rail, tried to go to the outside, couldn't get him to the outside. The horse was locked in, he was beat. And then just 15 feet before the wire a horse on the outside kind of drifted out, couldn't keep up, and out comes Sporty and boom, he was just gone with that quick turn of foot he has.

"So all the grandkids came out and got their picture taken, there was a big celebration in the winner's circle, it was quite emotional that the horse won. The racing gods, they just seemed to say, 'Okay we'll give him this one.'"

The path to Saturday's winner's circle celebration started in 2012 when Parrott moved to Clinton with his bride Donna Wood and found himself in need of something to do during her weekly bridge games. New son-in-law Ian Fleming suggested Parrott get another horse and pointed him toward Clinton resident Watt.

"Harry came to me and said, 'Would I be interested in getting a horse with him?' And I said, 'Well, I usually don't take on outside owners, but if you want to own a horse with me Harry, then there's just one stipulation. You have to be actively involved in the relationship with the horse. I don't want to have an owner that just phones up once and month and says – the horse finished seventh, what happened?' Watt said. "I said, 'You need to know what happened, you need to follow the steps, you need to be there to make decisions with me so that it's not solely on me.' And that's what Harry was looking for too, he wanted to be actively involved, so that forged our relationship.

"We bought a couple yearlings and they got to the races, they were okay, and as racehorses tend to do, they come and they go. We had a couple cheaper claimers and they got claimed and whatever, and then we got Sportsline."

After visiting several breeding farms in the fall of 2017 the pair arrived at the London Selected Yearling Sale with a list of horses they felt they could afford. Sportsline – a son of Sportswriter out of the Camluck mare Angel In Disguise, who earned $302,749 in her career and had produced $460,862 winner Hard To Mach (Mach Three) and $188,363 winner Angel Of Desire (Real Desire) from eight foals – was not on

"We were always looking for a Camluck—Artsplace cross, so Harry had dog-eared this horse and I said, 'Oh geez Harry, we'll never be able to afford this horse,'" said Watt. "So then he came on earlier on in the sale and Harry and Donna were sitting in front of me and the bidding was low, it was like $7,000, $7,500, $8,000. Harry kind of looked at me in disbelief and then he turned back to the auctioneer, and I bid when Harry wasn't looking," said Watt with a laugh.

"So all of a sudden the horse gets knocked down and sold for $10,000 and Harry looks back at me in total disbelief, 'How could that horse have gone so cheaply?' And I just looked at him and said, 'Oh it must have a conformation problem or there must be something wrong with it, Harry.' Harry turned back and then all of a sudden the lady comes over from Standardbred Canada to take my information and he looks at me with these great big wide eyes and said, 'Did we just buy this horse?' And I laughed and said, 'Yeah, he's ours Harry. We better take a look at him.'"

When they went to look over their newest acquisition they found a correct horse, a bit on the small side and with one testicle that had yet to descend, two factors Watt surmises may have contributed to the colt's modest price tag. Whatever the cause, the partners were delighted with their purchase and excited to see how the colt would fare in training.

As the colt learned his early lessons and started training in earnest, Watt says Parrott would often ask him what they had, what Sportsline might be able to accomplish on the racetrack. The trainer would report that the colt was doing everything right, doing everything he was asked, but says he never imagined he was training a horse capable of what Sportsline has accomplished in his 20 starts. In fact, the colt was a bit late getting started as a 2-year-old because he was bearing in on the turns at Clinton Raceway and bearing out in the straightaways. Watt was reluctant to qualify a horse with steering issues, but a conversation with Leslie Joyce and driver Rob Doyle convinced him to make the leap in early July.

Doyle schooled the colt twice at Clinton for Watt and Parrott and then qualified him at Hanover Raceway on July 21, finishing third by 14 lengths in 2:01.1. Through all three outings, Sportsline had behaved, so Watt entered the colt in the non-winners of $2,500 class at Clinton on Aug. 5.

Starting from the trailing Post 8, Sportsline sat last through much of the race and then tipped out three-wide on the backstretch and circled the field, cruising home a two and one-quarter length winner in 2:02.1.

"Harry was in the grandstand watching with his nephew and Harry was having a little trouble following the race so he said to his nephew, 'Where is he, what's he doing?' And his nephew said, 'Well he's last Harry, they're heading up the backstretch.' And Harry was quite upset at that — the horse sitting last heading up the backstretch — because Harry always wants to get a check,” said Watt with a chuckle. “And then in a blink of an eye, without a word of a lie, he went from last to first, and just showed a tremendous turn of foot, and Harry said, ‘Where is he?’ ‘He’s on front.’ ‘No you must be watching the wrong horse, he was just last.’ ‘No, no, he’s on the front end!’ ‘No, what are you doing, tell me where he really is,’ and that kind of thing.”

Following his debut Sportsline would go on to six more wins in 10 freshman starts, earning $20,550 and taking a record of 1:55.2 at Flamboro Downs in the first leg of the Autumn Series on Oct. 3. The colt would get his tongue over the bit in the Autumn Series Final and make a break and when he did the same thing in his first sophomore start on April 1 at The Raceway at Western Fair District Watt, with apologies to the colt, added a tongue tie to Sportsline’s equipment bag.

Since requalifying on April 5 Sportsline has been flawless, winning three overnights at The Raceway at Western Fair District, four at Woodbine Mohawk Park and a pair of Grassroots divisions, the first a 1:51.4 mile at Flamboro Downs on May 19 and the second a 1:50.3 clocking at Woodbine Mohawk Park on June 27.

As expected, Sportsline’s sophomore success attracted a number of purchase offers, but Watt and Parrott were in agreement. They had no interest in selling their star pacer.

“I really didn’t want to sell my share in him, even though it was such a nice offer, because I’ve been in the business for 40 years and it’s been my motivation to get a good horse. I finally got what a lot of people in their lifetimes try to get,” said Watt. “And Harry said, ‘Well it would change my life significantly Jim, if we sold him.’ And I looked at him and I said, ‘What do you mean Harry? How is this going to change your life?’ And he said, ‘Other than my family it’s the thing that keeps me going.’ He said, ‘I spend my days at the computer looking at who we’re racing against, what kind of lines they have, trying to figure out what kind of a trip scenario the horse is going to get, what are our options in the future.’

“For Harry he was a horse of a lifetime too, even though he had accomplished so much in his life, tremendous things politically and things of that nature. It just shows you what kind of an impact horses can have on people’s lives.”

In addition to being a husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather and horse owner, Parrott served Woodstock, ON, first as a dentist and then as a member of the Board of Education and City Council. In 1971 he was elected to provincial parliament representing Oxford County and would go on to serve three consecutive terms including appointments to cabinet as the Minister of Colleges and Universities from 1975 to 1978 and the Minister of the Environment from 1978 to 1981. Parrott was also an active supporter of a variety of initiatives and charities in Oxford and Huron Counties.

“It’s funny because just here at the Clinton meet (May 19) we’d won with Mostly Dali and Harry was, he was 93 years of age, and he was organizing the picture taking ceremony and telling everybody where to go, and what to do, and where to stand, and that was only like a month ago,” said Watt. “(When he was in hospital) I was talking to Harry, I kept saying, ‘Harry you’ve got to be here for this journey, this is our trip together.’ And he said, ‘I’m not going to be around Jim, what I’ve got’s not correctable.’

“So when you’re putting the article together, make it about Harry, his life, his horse of a lifetime, how much he appreciated the horse at the end,” said Watt after a pause. “I wish Harry was here for the ride, but the nice thing is that the horse had won nine in a row. We were very fortunate, very lucky.”

Sportsline will make his 11th start of the season Saturday night (July 13) at Woodbine Mohawk Park and whether his streak extends to 10 or comes to an end, Watt and Parrott’s family will continue to value their remarkable equine athlete and the special memories he helped create.

Thoughts on Dexter Dunn, Brian Sears, the things I miss the most and whether fillies are more precocious than colts

by Ron Gurfein

Tidbits: Congratulations to my friend "Showbiz" (Bill Popfinger) and all the other Hall of Fame nominees for earning a spot on the ballot.

Could the racing at the Meadowlands get any better than last weekend. WOW and WOW. I know the conditions were perfect and that aided the speed but it takes great horses to go that fast anywhere.

I hate trotting hoppers and Atlanta's 4-year-old campaign justifies my thought that they slow a horse down, but I truly don't want to take anything away from Ronnie Burke who has done a fabulous job with her.

How about Ake Svanstedt, who almost had two world records in one weekend? I wish Greenshoe had raced that night, we might have seen the impossible dream.

How great will the Crawford Farms Meadowlands Pace be Saturday night? Captain Crunch will be a heavy favorite, but look out for Bettors Wish and Workin Ona Mystery, both capable of what would be a minor upset. I was disappointed in Captain Ahab, and De Los Cielos Deo but don't count them out either I have seen Alagna and Burke magic before.

Manchego has been totally off form of late. However, she seemed much better in that miracle mile Saturday after a :26.2 first panel from post 10.

Can't go without congratulating Team Teague on their new world record holder Lather Up 1:46. Truly amazing.

Kudos to Jim Campbell and Jules Seigel for showing off the brilliant homebred Millie's Possession who trotted in 1:51.1 parked every step of the mile from the 9 hole.

What's in store for us in the summer and fall will prove to be nothing short of amazing. There are top horses of every age and gait, I hope you own or train one.

Murray Brown asks: Have you ever seen a driver come newly arrived on the scene and make as much of an impact as Dexter Dunn has? He hasn't been here a year and is already in the top five.

To me, the answer is yes. I have seen a few but never on a grand stage like the North America Cup or the Meadowlands Pace. Three drivers I thought were awesome at first asking were Benny Webster at Yonkers when he arrived from upstate. Next there was Marvin Maker arriving for the first time in Liberty Bell. I recall a very famous local reinsman and very good journeyman driver throw his whip at the window in the drivers' lounge as Marvin won by five in 2:02 with a horse that had been trotting in 2:06 for him. But probably the best I have ever seen arrive with a bang was Walter Case arrival at Monticello. The kid was lightning in a bottle. He went from one horse a program to 10 in a few days. If he wasn't so loyal to his favorite trainers I feel he could have been the only driver to ever win every race on a card. Even today I can't think of many that could get a horse out of the gate faster and keep him going.

That said, Dexter is not only a top driver but a multi-faceted one. He can drive a trotter as well as a pacer and he is just as effective on the front or racing from behind where he has an excellent sense of pace.

I am rooting for him in "The Pace" tomorrow night as he is driving my best friend's colt Bettors Wish and in my heart I believe he has a great chance if he gets a trip.

That said no one can beat Captain Crunch without a trip unless he is off his game.

Jeff Cantine asks: Do you think trotting fillies generally come to their speed / potential sooner than colts or have you not seen any pattern? Also what about the pacing side?

There is no question that in my own personal experience fillies are more precocious than colts. I personally have won the Merrie Annabelle four times (Lady Starlet 1992, Vernon Bluechip 1996, Miss Wisconsin 2005 and Muscovite 2007).

However, I have never won the Peter Haughton. It's also true when I look at my Hambletonian winners. Neither Victory Dream nor Self Possessed were as good at two as they were at three, yet the filly Continental victory was a terror at two and three. All things taken into consideration I would say trotting fillies did come to their speed earlier.

As for the pacing question, I must be perfectly honest, I haven't trained enough pacers to have a valid opinion on the subject. On the other hand from my observations watching babies for HRU I would say that the pacing filly dominance is not as noticeable if in fact it exists at all.

Billy Bigler asks: As you are almost an octogenarian you have seen so much of the standardbred business. What are the things you miss the most?

I love the question, but in order to appreciate the answers you should be around mid-fifties or older. If you are not, you will either not understand or be bored so skip to the next question please.

To those of you that are still with me and remember Gam Wah, the Island Inn and Ham and Eggs come on down.

The things I miss:

7 a.m. breakfast with the Red Man (Carmine Abatiello) at Ham and Eggs, he seldom paid if ever but I still miss the stories.

Talks with Jimmy Cruise and my mentor Frank Popfinger.

The Cloud Casino.

The beauty of Monticello Raceway in the '60s and '70s.

Dennis Payne's blacksmith shop.

Watching Sunday racing from the hill.

Seeing "B" (George Berkner) sweep the field with Benita's Byrd.

Lunch at the Chateau with Tully and Brewer.

Dinner at the Homestead with Jerry Glantz, RW "Dick" DeSantis and his brother Warren both godfathers to my children.

Breakfast at the Round Robin with Rolla, Gigante, Donofrio and Del Gatto.

Card games in the tack room with "Doc Bloom" and "the Judge" a supporting cast of Louie the Rock and Davey the Pebble.

Monday Night at the Raleigh.

The Down Under and Johnnies.

The Clubhouse girls Susan, Carolyn, and Monica.

Any day or night at the Concord.

Any meal at Bernie's Holiday.

Sunday trips to Pocono with Gilles Lachance.

Herman Carbone singing at the Bottom of the Barrel.

Dinner served in the drivers room at the Meadowlands.

Fresh fruit with Rick Balmer (summer mornings).

Joe DeFrank, Ralph Swalsky and Bruce Munn.

Ralph, Angela and Jimmy at Il Villaggio, lunches with TC and Angelo.

Racing Hardesty and Franconia on the mile track.

My family at the Hambletonian.

George Segal's birthday parties at Milos, NYC.

Fifty thousand fans in attendance i.e.: the Roosevelt International.

Bob Hollywood Heyden's mothers' cookies and his classic comments ie: "They don't like you now but when you win your third Hambletonian with Self Possessed they will really hate you." Quote from June of 1999.

Dinner with Bob Waxman on Queen's Street.

Traveling the country with Mike Lachance.

Springfield and DuQuoin with "Doc" Narotsky.

Lunch in Sherman with Erv Miller.

Mary's in Herrin, Illinois with Lou Guida.

My barn at the Red Mile.

Any Art and Leah Zubrod dinner (the 50th birthday was a game changer).

Living on Paris Pike, Linda, Zack and Zeek.

A La Lucie circa 1994.

Formal dinners at Walnut Hall.

Lexington, Lexington, Lexington.

Sonny and a Frank Antonacci (Crown Stable) on my deck at Sunshine Meadows.

Ristorante Ribot in San Siro.

The Zubrods in Paris and dinner with JP DuBois at L'ami Louie

I could go on forever and will do it again one day but to the millennials out there I must be polite. To those of you that raced or trained with me in the time surrounding the '70s I hope I made you smile.

Delroy Brown asks: (Note: I can't print the question as it is as long as a novel. I did like the idea so without asking I will paraphrase it). His basic question with a lot of extraneous color is why aggressive drivers who are masters of pace and strategy are ignored for someone past their prime who misjudges pace all the time. He mentioned a myriad of drivers but his main comparison was Tim Tetrick over the "old timer" Brian Sears.

Brian Sears one of the greatest harness drivers in my lifetime certainly doesn't need me to have his back. But this question is so off the wall it needs explanation.

Both Brian and Tim are great drivers. Evidently Mr. Brown prefers the aggressive type, that he feels Tetrick represents. It becomes a matter of taste not good or bad.

Brian is a totally finesse driver who if you are lucky enough to have his talent on your horse for an entire season you are most likely to have a very fresh horse come October. I think the fact that the odd pace of the Beal at Pocono made him look a bit awkward at 1-9 and precipitated this query by Mr. Brown. Even while racing at Yonkers on the half-mile, Brian is a finesse driver rarely gunning his charge to the top. To be honest, I have seen him drive his entire career and in my opinion I think he is more comfortable with a target in front of him than cutting the mile.

The reason most drivers are aggressive today is that with the crazy speed we are witnessing sitting back in the pack makes winning a difficult task. However, Brian adjusts his style to the power of his mount. Watch him drive Greenshoe. Although he never guns him from the gate, he is always on the move early and for the most part easily attains the top.

My suggestion is that we put the Beal race behind us. I criticized the drive myself, but it in no way lessened the greatness of the man.

Remember you heard it here first, Brian Sears has won three of the last 10 Hambletonians and in less than a month's time will have number four.

Thanks to all for the kind words. Please keep the questions coming in. Another fabulous weekend of racing featuring the Crawford Farms Meadowlands Pace Final the William Haughton Memorial, the Delvin Miller and Stanley Dancer and the Hambletonian Maturity all at the Big M. Well over $2.5 million on the line as advertised. Have a great weekend.

BETTOR'S BANQUET

with FRANK COTOLO

Easy steps when writing odds lines for veterans and novices alike

by Frank CotoLO

In the most recent Bettors Banquet (BB) column (full story here), we used the North America Cup as an example of how a personal odds line (POL) is written for a stakes event (and we wound up with a very accurate set of numbers). We used the million-dollar event for its currency while emphasizing that my POL for the classy race was a process that does not change for any class of racing.

This is good news for anyone who feels writing a POL is a wasteful gimmick or a quirky system, because gimmicks and systems have specifically designed rules that are not governed by sound mathematics. Writing a POL is pragmatic arithmetic, applicable to any level of racing contest that can be used by veteran or novice.

In this BB, we look at three relevant shortcuts that will guide any horseplayer writing a POL. The shortcuts are listed below in the order of execution. We include explanations and reasoning directly related to the steps involved.

1. Find your contenders

Simply, contenders are the horses in any race you feel have chances to win that race. Do not put the horses you choose in any order. Choose as many horses as fit that definition. Forget the others entirely.

Note that any races with more than four contenders chosen per eight horses entered is going to be difficult to write a POL line that defies the odds the public will decide. Finding too many contenders is a strong indication that you should move on to another race. This is due to the fact that the margin of error when assigning odds to contenders will increase as the number of contenders increases.

2. Demand your winning prices using odds (percentages)

With an ideal eight-horse field yielding three contenders, choose the dollar amount you deem fair if each contender won. Here, you are the judge of "fair prices."

In the past, you probably put the three contenders into a selected order—one to win, another to place and the third to show. You do not need to stop the basic concept of what you have done; you need to become better at it by assigning a price (translated to odds) you would accept for each contender (which you chose).

You will never demand an incorrect price because firstly, the price is your opinion, and secondly, you have the brilliance of the math to back it up.

As an example, if you demand $8 to win on a contender, you are assigning it 3-1 odds. If, in the same race, you want $10 to win on another contender, you are assigning it 4-1 odds. Let's say your remaining contender would only be worth it to you if it paid $9. That means you give that contender odds of 7-2.

3. Add the percentages of your contenders

You do this using the math on your odds-to-percentage chart (OC). In this case you add 25 (3-1) to 20 (4-1) to 22 (7-2). The total is 67. In an eight-or-more horse field, only 33 per cent remains available to assign horses that are not your contenders. In essence, it does not matter how the remaining 33 percent is divided among them; after all, for you they are not contenders.

Can it be less complicated than that? Not really. Can it be any better than what you do now to come up with contenders that you marry to the finishes you predict of them? Not really. The POL that results from following the three shortcuts explained is your be-all and end-all commitment to the race for which it was designed. It is the "book" you offer yourself as a gambler, a set of chances you demand from each horse you measure in universal math.

Before we endeavor into the follow-through actions of wagering based upon the POL, here is more to read about the "demanding" factor.

When you demand a price, you are married to the definition of the word. The prices you demand cannot be changed. Their values dictate the required activity—or the required inactivity. You must have one of the demands met to become active. If you do not receive your demands you will not become active in that race. It's a pass.

This is one great factor to help with one of the main problems you probably have—wagering on too many races. Passing races is a good thing, as we have insisted from our first BB column. Abandoning the POL you have written because you won't get your price demand is the definitive sign there is no reason for you to wager.

The importance of meeting your own demands for prices is the portal to finding true "value" in wagers that intrinsically contribute to profits. The mathematics and necessary commitments to value are coming next in BB.

Charters, Gural, Popfinger and Tetrick on the Hall of Fame ballot for 2020

by United States Harness Writers Association

Tom Charters, Jeff Gural, Bill Popfinger, and Tim Tetrick have been selected by the Hall of Fame Screening Committee of the United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA) as ballot candidates for this summer's election vote toward harness racing's highest honor, membership in the sport's Hall of Fame.

The chapters of USHWA, the sport's leading media organization, nominate deserving candidates based on prepared biographical information and discussion within the chapters. This list of names is then considered by the USHWA Screening Committee, with consultation with several Hall of Fame members, on Hall of Fame Day, the first Sunday in July at Goshen, and they then select the candidates for that year's balloting, with the provision that anyone connected to a candidate is excluded from the discussion of and vote on that candidate's viability. A person must receive 75 per cent of the yes-no voted of the USHWAs eligible to vote and the current Hall of Fame members in order to join the Goshen pantheon.

Tom Charters worked his way through the ranks in harness racing, starting out as a caretaker (among his charges was Horse of the Year Delmonica Hanover) before becoming a racing secretary. In 1984, the Hambletonian Society hired Charters as executive director of the Breeders Crown, a newly-created series of season-end championship races, and his work in establishing the Crowns as signature events led to his being named executive director of the Society in 1994, then being promoted in 1998 to president and chief executive officer. Charters' tireless work in such diverse fields as increasing racing handle, simulcasting and television production, international racing, and brand name establishment, plus the temperament to juggle all of these jobs along with dealing the wide range of personalities at the highest levels of the sport, firmly established him as one of the captains of the industry.

Jeff Gural was a longtime racing fan, owner, and breeder, associated with Allera Farms, Little E LLC, and other equine partnerships, along with proprietorship of New York's Vernon Downs and Tioga Downs racetracks, when he undertook the monumental task of leading the privatization of the sport's flagship track in North America, The Meadowlands, away from a state-run operation of New Jersey. Enlisting the aid of many of the sport's top figures in addition to large investments of his own money, time, and expertise, Gural has been the directing force of the revitalization of the mile oval, with a new grandstand built on the old backstretch side of the track, a facility and the parallel racing program aimed squarely at maximizing revenue for all of racing's interlinked parties in today's changing, challenging gaming environment.

Bill Popfinger has been a horseman for over 50 years, going from success at smaller tracks to operating a powerful Grand Circuit stable, and he continues his winning tradition today – a trainee of his won at Pocono on Monday. Popfinger first hit the harness limelight 50 years when he guided Lady B Fast to an upset win over the great trotters Fresh Yankee and Nevele Pride at Yonkers, and he cemented his stardom with his famous daring early move to the lead with Happy Escort, “the lights on, the horn honking, and the pedal to the metal,” to defeat heavy favorites Falcon Almahurst and Flight Director in the 1978 Little Brown Jug raceoff. That quote also cemented Popfinger's nickname of “Showbiz,” and over the years he campaigned such marquee horses as Happy Motoring, Praised Dignity, Spellbound Hanover, Say Hello, and Spicy Charlie.

Tim Tetrick, at age 37, has already become one of only four drivers to have driven the winners of over $200 million in his career, and few doubt he will contend for the top spot, John Campbell's $299M+ career total, before all is done – after all, any possible mishaps may not slow a man who already has two “bionic hips” after replacement surgery. Also the single-season money recordholder for a driver with $19.7M in 2008, Tetrick also produces quantity with quality, driving his 11,000th winner earlier this year, putting him ninth all-time, fifth among active drivers, and second in the 2019 dash-winning standings. The list of top horses associated with Tetrick is too long to mention here, but it is fairly safe to say that when it comes to Breeders Crown time and the selection of year-end award winners, the name “Tetrick” will be associated with several of the champions.

Charters, Gural, Popfinger, and Tetrick will be joined on the ballot by Phil Pikelnny, former author and publicist, and Ken Weingartner, media relations manager for the USTA, the two ballot candidates for the Communicators Hall of Fame selected by USHWA directors at their annual meetings this past February.

Proven racehorses on offer at Sunday's Summer Mixed Sale

by Dave Briggs

Some 100 horses – including a 14-horse supplement – are scheduled to sell at the Tattersalls Summer Mixed Sale beginning at noon on Sunday (July 14) in the paddock at the Meadowlands Racetrack. Sale manager David Reid said the best part is about half of them have made starts in the last week, including 12 winners.

“A further 16 horses will race between Thursday and Saturday night,” Reid said, emphasizing the sale primarily features proven racehorses that will give buyers a strong opportunity to see a return on their investments.

Reid said potential buyers should look at updated past performance lines online here. Updated racelines, current through last Sunday, are also available on the Equineline app, at the end of the individual catalog pages.

“This sale has horses from all age groups which are racing and winning over all size tracks,” Reid said. “There is a diverse selection of horses.”

The sale will start with some interesting broodmares and a short yearling from the dispersal of Celebrity Farms, followed by the sale of eight 2-year-olds, more than 30 3-year-olds and about 30 older horses.

Kelle Wisker

The sales topper at the 2019 Summer Mixed Sale fetched $110,000.

Reid's Preferred Equine Marketing will sell more than 60 horses, while Northwood Bloodstock's Bob Boni will sell more than 20.

Stars defeated in France

by Thomas Hedlund

Bold Eagle or Aubrion du Gers? That was the big question before the $100,000 Prix de la Communauté de Communes de la Thiérache in La Capelle in France last Sunday.

La Capelle is a mile track and when the car left the field of seven trotters, the drivers behind Bold Eagle and Aubrion du Gers immediately started a war where the mission was to get the lead.

Bold Eagle started inside of Aubrion du Gers and Björn Goop succeeded to defend front position throughout the first turn, but Jean-Michel Bazire continued to put hard pressure on the outside and the two giants' struggle made it possible for Sébastien Guarato-trained Valko Jenilat (Kepler) to seriously challenge the duo in front.

Aubrion du Gers got control over the race in mid home stretch while Bold Eagle showed that he was marked by the tough run in the race's opening.

But from second over, Valko Jenilat used his strength and passed a brave Aubrion du Gers just before the wire and won in 1:53.4. Billie de Montfort finished quickly and was not far behind Aubrion du Gers in third.

Vitruvio – champion in Norway again

The $178,300 Ulf Thoresen Grand International was held at Jarlsberg racetrack in Norway on Sunday July 7 and the 1.3 miles long race became spectacular.

With several great horses in the field, positions in the race should have been a deciding factor, but with all facts on hand, the outcome was nothing that anyone could predict, even with just a quarter of a mile to go.

Racing Mange flew to the lead when the car accelerated and established quickstarter Ringostarr Treb was not close to defend front position when Racing Mange's driver Joakim Lövgren put the turbo gear in his horse.

But Racing Mange got a bit eager by the move from start and the pace was pretty high with Voltaire Gifont on the outside. Makethemark had to leave second over and attack three wide early at the back stretch and behind him, Handsome Brad and Queer Fish followed.

Behind them, three wide, from fifth over, Jorma Kontio did what he could to try to get Italian star and Oslo Grand Prix winner Vitruvio (Adrian Chip) into the game for real, but the duo had many lengths to pick up when the field turned for home stretch.

Makethemark seemed to cruise to quite a safe win mid home stretch, but from out of nowhere Vitruvio showed up and Alessandro Gocciadoro's 5-year-old sprinted "twice as fast" as his opponents the last 100 meters and the victory was safe at last. Vitruvio won by a length in a mile rate of 1:53.4. His performance in the stretch will long be considered classic.

"In the last turn I just thought about getting a piece of the prize money, but this horse is just fantastic," said Jorma Kontio, who was proud to honor Norwegian champion driver Ulf Thoresen – by many fans considered the best driver in the world.

Ulf Thoresen died at age 46 in 1992 and was well known for his ability to get trotters going the whole way by using almost imperceptible movements in the bike. In the U.S., Thoresen won Hambletonian with Per Henriksen's Nuclear Kosmos in 1986 and the same year, he won the International Trot with Roger Walmann's Habib.

The Fun Marshall, Merga Hanover, Galleria Gal and Cash Roll win NYSS tests

Yonkers Raceway Thursday evening (July 11th) played host to the soggy $153,900 New York Sire Stakes Clyde Hirt Pace for 2-year-old fillies.

Four races comprised the event.

The opening ($37,950) division saw a pole-pocketed The Fun Marshall (Scott Zeron, $11) pick off 3-10 favorite Fashion Hill (Tyler Buter) by a head in a maiden-breaking 1:55.4. That latter led at every interval (:28, 57.2, 1:27)... save for the last one. Hen Party (Yannick Gingras) was a best-of-the-rest third.

For second choice The Fun Marshall, a daughter of So Surreal co-owned by (trainer) Richie Silverman, Mary Kinsey Arnold, Edward McEnery and Michael Gluckman, it was that first win in three seasonal/career starts. The exacta paid $19, with triple and superfecta wagering cancelled due to a short (five-horse) field.

"She beat a nice horse," Zeron said. "She needed a trip to do it, but she's a handy filly."

The next/final divisions went consecutively, each at $38,650.

Merga Hanover (Gingras, $5.70) — from post position No. 2 — retook from Racine Bell (Jason Bartlett), then held that one at bay by a length (:29, :58.4, 1:27.4, 1:56.2).

So Rude (Brian Sears) was a first-up third as the 7-5 choice, while Roll with Angel (Zeron) was fourth.

For second choice Merga Hanover, an American Ideal miss trained by Ron Burke for co-owner Thomas and Scott Dillon, Joe Sbrocco and W J Donovan, it was her second win in as many season/life tries. The exacta paid $51, the triple returned $125.50 and the superfecta paid $889.

"She didn't do anything fancy, but she did get around the track very well," Gingras said. I think she could be a Grand Circuit filly."

The third sire stakes event was a tour de slop for Galleria

Gal (Buter, $8.80).

Vaulting past her six inside rivals at the outset, she was never a loser here (:29.1, :59, 1:27.2, 1:55.4). The final margin was 4½ lengths.

Rare Jimstone (Bartlett) was a loose pocket second, with 13-10 fave Coconut Beach (Marcus Miller) a non-threatening third.

For second choice Galleria Gal, a daughter of Art Major co-owned by Theresa Donnelly and Fernando Amesti and trained by John Berger, it was her first win in three season/life tries. The exacta paid $25.20, with the triple returning $81.50 (superfecta not offered-start of Pick 5).

The state-bred finale had Cash Roll (Zeron, $3.40) have to work for the lead, but few issues thereafter.

From post No. 7, she was too tough (:28.3, :58.4, 1:27.3, life-best 1:56), widening to whip first leader Jackie's Express (George Brennan) by 4¼ lengths. Third went to Turnthefrownaround (Dexter Dunn), with Hidden Cove (Miller) fourth.

For Cash Roll, a Roll with Joe ma'am trained by Richard Ringer for owner Louis Palumbo, she's started out 3-for-3. The exacta paid $36.20, the triple returned $133.50 and the superfecta paid $349.50.

New York Sire Stakes returns downstate Tuesday night (July 16), with the $156,600 Hugh Grant Trot for 2-year-old fillies.

John Desimone Jr. win his 2000th

On Monday July 8, longtime Monticello Raceway horseman John Desimone Jr. notched his 2,000th career win. The milestone victory came in the second race aboard Get The Look who scored in 1:59.3. Get The Look is an 11-year-old mare by Cams Card Shark, who is also trained by Desimone. In the process, she picked up her first win of the season for owner Dr. Joshua D Tanis of Tallahassee, FL.

Desimone has been a fixture in the Monticello barn area and driving colony for over 40 years and hails from a family with a long and rich tradition at Monticello Raceway. The blue collar journey man primarily drove close to home over the years, driving at Pocono Down and Yonkers in addition to Monticello.

The 60-year-old Desimone is currently in sixth place in the Monticello Drivers colony with 54 wins.

— Shawn Wiles / Monticello Raceway

Berkery J, Saylor, Barn Holden win NYSS events

Yonkers Raceway Monday evening (July 8) played host to the $150,300 New York Sire Stakes Michael Sorentino Trot for 2-year-old colts and geldings.

As pair of $50,400 wagering races and a non-bettor comprised the event.

The opening on-the-card division saw a maiden-breaking Berkery J (Jason Bartlett, $7.10) go right down the road. From post position No. 2, he had no issues (:29.2, :59.4, 1:29.2, 1:58.2). The final widening margin was 7¼ lengths over a way-too-late, even-money favorite Chaptiama (Trond Smedshammer).

R Herbie Blue Chip (Ake Svanstedt) and Miserable Mike (John Stark Jr.) finished off the bottom of the gimmicks.

For second choice Berkery J, a son of Chapter Seven owned by Ken Jacobs and trained by George Ducharme, it was that first win in seasonal/career starts. The exacta paid $13.20, the triple returned $78.50 and the superfecta paid $256.

"Very handy," Bartlett said. "George (Ducharme) had him ready. He's going to be a good half-mile (track) horse."

The evening's final state bred event saw a three-wide Saylor (trainer Doug R. Ackerman doing honors himself) set ambitious fractions (:28.1, :58.3, 1:28.3), then hold well.

However, he came under assault, first from pocket-pulling, 9-10 choice (Bourbon Express (Bartlett), then eventual winner Beerthirty K (Mike Simons, $12.20).

Away third from the pole, Beerthirty K was widest and fastest, drawing out to whip the people's preference by a length-and-a-half in 1:58. Saylor was third, despite being steppey through the lane, with Take the Credit (Svanstedt) fourth.

For third choice Beerthirty K, a Credit Winner colt trained by Bruce Borden for owner Don Atlas, it was his first win in pair of season/life tries. The exacta paid $26.80, the triple returned $196.50 and the superfecta paid $409.

"Bruce (Borden) has brought him along beautifully," Simons said. "He hasn't done anything wrong and the trip here worked out for him."

The $49,500 non-wagering sire stakes event was won by a down-the-road Barn Holden (Jeff Gregory) in 1:58. It was a first win for the homebred son of Conway Hall, co-owned by (trainer) Steve and Nancy Pratt, Purple Haze & Out of the Country Stables.

Invitational Pace added to Adios Weekend

The 53rd edition of the Adios Stake is scheduled for Saturday, July 27 at The Meadows with a first race post time of 11:25 a.m.

The entry box for eliminations closes Tuesday, July 16 at 9:00 AM.
