Best In Show's Meadowlands Pace upset caps dream week for Toscano

by Mike Farrell / Meadowlands media

Best In Show (Brian Sears) rallied up the inside to edge Bettor's Wish in the Crawford Farms Meadowlands Pace.

What a week for Linda Toscano.

On Sunday evening, the trainer gave a gracious acceptance speech at her induction to the Harness Racing Hall of Fame in Goshen, NY, and on Saturday night (July 13), she stood in the winner's circle after Best In Show pulled a 27-1 upset in the $682,650 Crawford Farms Meadowlands Pace.

It was the perfect bookend to a seven-day span she'll never forget.

"This another one I never dreamed of," Toscano said after becoming the first female trainer to win the Pace. "This is home for me. This is awesome."

In a thrilling finish, Best In Show slipped through an opening on the rail to defeat his more heralded rivals. He got up by a head over Bettor's Wish, the brave first-over challenger who couldn't have raced much better.

Right in the mix was Workin Ona Mystery in third, with the pace-setting Captain Crunch, the North America Cup winner and the 1-2 favorite in the Pace, a close-up fourth in the blanket finish.

The time was 1:48 on the warm evening for the track's signature race.

Brian Sears, also a Hall of Famer, gave Best In Show a perfect ground-saving drive. Best In Show left alertly before readily yielding to let the favorites duke it out while settling into fourth.

"I knew they were racing pretty good," Sears said. "It was all the horses to beat and they were going at it. I was pretty content. I wanted to sneak him around there a little bit. I got a little opening, and he fired for me."

And he fired up the tote board.

Best In Show paid $56.20, $14.40 and $6.80. Bettor's Wish returned $4.00 and $2.80. Workin Ona Mystery paid $3.80 to show.

The time was 1:48 after clipping through aggressive fractions of :26.2, :52.4 and a blazing 1:19.3 to the three-quarter pole.

It was fourth win in 12 starts for Best In Show, who competed in a non-winners of two races condition as recently as May.

"We knew he was a nice colt last year and he got a little colt sore on us," Toscano said. "We shut him down, brought him back and he's done everything right."

Michael Lisa

It was a blanket finish between Best In Show (7), Captain Crunch (1), Bettor's Wish (4) and Workin Ona Mystery (9).

Best In Show has been rapidly making up for that lost time.

The homebred son of Bettor's Delight out of Put On A Show earned $341,325 for Richard P. Young & Joanne Young. He turned in a pair of second-place finishes in his previous two starts, an Ontario Sires Stakes event and his Pace elimination behind Bettor's Wish.

Crystal Fashion (Tim Tetrick) rode the pocket and upended 2018 Hambletonian winner Atlanta in the Hambletonian Maturity.

Crystal Fashion upends Atlanta in Hambletonian Maturity

by Jay Bergman / Meadowlands media

An extra eighth of a mile can make the difference, and that seemed to be the case when 23-1 shot Crystal Fashion drove by heavy favorite Atlanta nearing the wire to capture the $450,000 Hambletonian Maturity for 4-year-olds at The Meadowlands on Saturday night (July 13) for driver Tim Tetrick.

The outcome of the race appeared to go through the 1-5 favorite Atlanta, as Yannick Gingras got her away in third in the early stages while Crystal Fashion wrestled the lead from Custom Cantab through a :26.1 opening quarter. Gingras hit the accelerator, and Atlanta hustled to the front after the opening fraction. Atlanta appeared in complete command through a half in :55 and three-quarters of a mile in 1:23.1, with Manchego on the offensive but Gingras appearing relaxed and ready to sprint home.

The fourth quarter had Atlanta leading through a 1:50.2 mile, but the mare started to bear out, enabling Tetrick and Crystal Fashion to find room along the pylons to go by the favorite. Custom Cantab and David Miller flew to the finish and came up just a nose off the winner, with Atlanta third past the finish line. However, a judges' inquiry into the race revealed that Custom Cantab had in fact interfered with three horses — Phaetosive, Fiftydallarbill and Six Pack — and was placed behind them as a result. The revised order of finish elevated Atlanta to second, with Six Pack placed third and Manchego fourth.

Crystal Fashion is a 4-year-old gelding by Cantab Hall trained by Jim Campbell for Fashion Farms LLC of New Hope, PA. Sent off at 23-1, Crystal Fashion returned $48.20 in his third win of the season in seven starts.

"I wanted to be forwardly placed," said Tetrick following the victory. "I followed Atlanta last week and it didn't work out. I thought the extra distance would help my horse."

Crystal Fashion completed the mile and one-eighth distance in 2:04.3.

Greenshoe (Brian Sears) just missed the Stanley Dancer Memorial stakes record with a commanding 1:50.1 victory in his division.

Greenshoe rebounds, Swandre The Giant upsets in Dancer

by Ken Weingartner / Meadowlands Media

Greenshoe rebounded from his first loss of the season with a commanding 1:50.1 win in the second of Saturday's (July 13) two $153,000 Stanley Dancer Memorial divisions for 3-year-old male trotters at The Meadowlands, defeating Pilot Discretion by 3-3/4 lengths to stamp himself as the favorite for the Aug. 3 Hambletonian. Super Schissel was third, another eight lengths back.

The time was one-fifth of a second off the stakes and track record for a 3-year-old male trotter set by Six Pack in a division of last year's Dancer Memorial.

In the first Dancer division, Swandre The Giant overtook favorite Green Manalishi S in the stretch to win by one length in a career-best 1:51.3. Reign Of Honor finished third.

Greenshoe, beaten a head in the Earl Beal Jr. Memorial on June 29, started from post seven in the Dancer and settled in third behind Pilot Discretion and Don't Let'em for the first half of the race. Driver Brian Sears put Greenshoe in motion from there and was alongside Pilot Discretion as they came out of the final turn before cruising to victory.

"All along he's been a really talented colt, has a really high turn of speed, and he showed it tonight," Sears said. "He's done everything we've asked all year long and he's done it pretty easily, pretty in hand, so we're real happy with where we're at right now."

Greenshoe, who was the 1-5 favorite, is trained by Marcus Melander for owners Courant Inc., Hans Backe, Lars Granqvist and Morten Langli. He has won six of nine career races and earned $403,223.

Last year, the highly regarded colt went off stride behind the starting gate or at the beginning of each of his four

The colt, a son of Swan For All out of Adagio, is trained by Ron Burke for owners Diamond Creek Racing, J&T Silva Stables and Howard Taylor.

Swandre The Giant, sent off at odds of 5-1, raced without shoes and added Lasix for his Meadowlands debut. He has won 11 of 18 career starts and $417,568. He has won two of six races this season.

"It was definitely the Lasix, and they pulled his shoes off too," driver David Miller said after Swandre The Giant snapped a four-race skid. "He felt really strong. Through the stretch I was getting by (Green Manalishi S) without even asking him yet. He trotted right on by. He went a huge mile."

Last year, Swandre The Giant won his first seven starts, all in Indiana, for trainer/driver Brandon Bates before being sold to his current owners.

"He dominated Indiana and Brandon did a great job developing him," Diamond Creek's Adam Bowden said. "This is the kind of horse that we saw. Finally, he realized that."

Lather Up strikes again in Haughton Memorial

by Lou Monaco / Meadowlands media

Lather Up, the fastest horse in the 43-year history of The Meadowlands, captured the $423,000 William R. Haughton Memorial by one length on Saturday (June 13) at The Meadowlands.

The 4-year-old stallion, trained by Clyde Francis of the George Teague Jr. stable and driven by Montrell Teague, never missed a beat after taking the lead prior to the half mile in :53.1, and stormed home to complete a mile and an eighth in 2:01.1 over 10-1 This Is The Plan, driven by Yannick Gingras.

Last Saturday, Lather Up won the $250,000 Graduate Series final by equaling the all-time mile record of 1:46 set by then 5-year-old Always B Miki at Red Mile three years ago. He also broke the previous 4-year-old pacing mark of 1:46.4, previously shared by Warrawee Needy and Dr J Hanover.

"I just wanted to make sure I was up close and wanted to be close to the pace," said Montrell Teague. "I was happy with the fractions. It's a bit different at a mile and an eighth, because you're not sure how fast you are going, but I was trying not to back down and he got the job done."

Lather Up, who paid $5.80 to his backers to win, improved his record to 6-0-1 in nine starts.

"Montrell does a great job with him and he (Lather Up) can do whatever he wants. That's how good he has been racing," said Francis.

This Is The Plan, who finished second in four of his last five starts, took the runner-up spot again, while Always a Prince and David Miller finished third.

Evident Beauty (David Miller) equaled her lifetime mark of 1:52.3 in the first division of the Del Miller Memorial.

Evident Beauty, Millies Possession strong in Del Miller

by Jay Bergman / Meadowlands media

Heavy public choice Evident Beauty marched to the front for driver David Miller and never looked back, scoring in the $124,000 first division of the Del Miller Memorial for 3-year-old trotting fillies at The Meadowlands on Saturday night (July 13).

The New Jersey-bred daughter of Trixton stopped the timer in 1:52.3, equaling her lifetime best.

Evident Beauty, trained by Richard "Nifty" Norman for owners Melvin Hartman, Little E LLC and RAW Equine, displaced Beautiful Sin from the lead at the :28.3 opening quarter. From there a soft :57.3 half gave the 1-5 favorite the confidence she would need. Cloud Nine Fashion and Tim Tetrick made a strong coverless challenge at the half and looked on the verge of going by the favorite through three-quarters timed in 1:25.3.

But once into the homestretch, Evident Beauty was driven by Miller and found her best stride to turn back Cloud Nine Fashion with a :27 final quarter.

Miss Trixton finished third behind the winner, who returned $2.40 as the prohibitive favorite.

"I felt pretty confident," Miller said after the second-half duel. "My mare held strong."

The $126,500 Del Miller division saw Millies Possession remain undefeated, capturing her seventh straight career outing in impressive fashion. The Fashion Farms LLC homebred by Possess The Will scored in 1:53.2.

Dexter Dunn rated Millies Possession in the early stages, allowing Starita to cut fractions of :28.1 and :57.3 before taking any interest. Dunn moved up methodically as Sears and Starita hit three-quarters in 1:26 and were in control. But in the homestretch, Millies Possession just kept eating up ground and devoured the leader, eventually drawing clear with a :27.2 final quarter. Queen Of Trixs was airborne in closing late for second, with The Ice Dutchess finishing third.

Also sent off as the public choice, Millies Possession returned $3.00 to win.

"I knew we were going slow, but at the moment she seems to overcome these kind of trips," said Dunn of Millies Possession, who last week was parked the mile winning the Reynolds and followed it up with another overland journey.

The victory capped a huge night for trainer Jim Campbell and Fashion Farms, who captured the $450,000 Hambletonian Maturity earlier in the night with Crystal Fashion.

Hannelore Hanover, Shartin N hold off charges to take Miss Versatility and Golden Girls

by Lou Monaco / Meadowlands media

Hannelore Hanover, the 2017 Horse of the Year, proved to be too much in the second leg of the $40,000 Miss Versatility on Saturday (June 13) at The Meadowlands.

A surprising 9-5 second choice, Hannelore Hanover held off a late charge by even-money favorite Darling Mearas S to capture her second straight victory by three-quarters of a length in 1:50.2.

Both mares went head-to-head at the top of the stretch, but Hannelore Hanover, driven by Yannick Gingras, dug in and had an extra gear. It was her third win of the year and it raised her total to 45 victories in 76 lifetime starts.

"She was very good tonight and hopefully she can build from here," said Gingras. "When she got alongside me, I wasn't sure what was going to happen, but when he did get there, my horse was digging and the last 10 to 15 strides I knew I was home free."

Hannelore Hanover paid $5.80 to win for her efforts in the eight-horse field.

Satin Dancer finished third at 99-1, and Ice Attraction finished fourth at 44-1.

Shartin N wins ninth straight in Golden Girls

Shartin N, the 1-5 favorite driven by Tim Tetrick, took command early and held off a charging Caviart Ally and Andy McCarthy by three-quarters of a length to win the $179,550 Golden Girls TVG for pacing mares, covering a mile and an eighth in 2:02.1.

"My trainer (Jim King, Jr.) told me that we were good to go off the layoff and that's who I believe," said owner JoAnn Looney-King. "She is so easy and is such a happy horse. I'm so blessed to have this mare."

Apple Bottom Jeans took third at 19-1, and 15-1 Seaswift Joy N finished fourth.

Columbo wins $120,250 Sheppard Pace final

by Frank Drucker / Yonkers publicity

Columbo (Eric Goodell, $6.70), sans the rumpled raincoat, was the fastest frosh Saturday night (July 13), winning Yonkers Raceway's $120,250 final of the Lawrence B. Sheppard Pace for 2-year-old colts and geldings. The race again honored the Hall of Fame founder of Hanover Shoe Farms.

From post position No. 4, Columbo had designs on leaving, but was caught wide early as the inside threesome all had the same idea. Hunter Hill (Tyler Buter), as the 9-5 favorite, eventually worked around American Rebel (Pat Lachance), making the lead before a non-stressed, 29-second opening quarter-mile. They weren't going much (:57.4) to the half, either, when Columbo took out of fourth. He began to engage Hunter Hill after a 1:26.2 three-quarters, with Save Me a Dance (Jason Bartlett) working from second-over. Hunter Hill was grudgingly giving up the ghost in and out of the final turn as Columbo put him away. The latter then held off Save Me a Dance to win by a half-length in 1:55.4. A from-last, eight-hole Manticore (Jim Marohn Jr.) closed crisply for third at 36-1, with a tiring Hunter Hill and American Rebel settling for the smaller envelopes.

Level Up (Mark MacDonald), Han Solo (George Brennan) and a misbehaving-early lone gelding Freedom Warrior (Jordan Stratton) completed the order.

For third choice Columbo, a son of Sweet Lou owned by Ken Jacobs and trained by Gareth Dowse, it was his second win in as many season/career tries. He did take down the fastest of last week's three eliminations in 1:54. The exacta here paid $15.60, the triple paid $163.50 and the superfecta paid $468.50.

"You never know how these races with 2-year-olds are going to unfold," Goodell said. "Before anything, you want to get around the first turn.

"I thought about moving when Tyler (Buter, driving Hunter Hill) did, and I thought I made a mistake when I didn't. When I did go with him, he was acting sort of goofy, sort of wanting to make friends with the other horses. He didn't really seem to get it until late.

"I think he can move forward from here."

Bridging the Breeds

Former Illinois Harness Horsemen's Association president and standardbred trainer Dave McCaffrey is now in a similar role representing the state's thoroughbred interests, but he remains a standardbred owner and committed to unifying the breeds to the betterment of all in Illinois.

by Neil Milbert

The old adage "don't switch horses in midstream" doesn't apply to Dave McCaffrey, whose standardbred training career was so successful that he is enshrined in the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Hall of Fame.

McCaffrey trained standardbreds for 26 years. During that time his horses started 12,516 times, won 1,859 races and earned $13,887,933. He took seven training titles at Maywood Park. Three of his horses set world records.

Not only was McCaffrey prominent at the track he distinguished himself off the track, serving as a member of the board of directors of the Illinois Harness Horsemen Association (IHHA) starting in 1997 and then as IHHA president for nine years.

Early in 2016, at age 48, McCaffrey ended his training career and resigned the presidency to segue to his present role as executive director of the Illinois Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association (ITHA).

"It was tough to leave, but it was made easier because Illinois harness racing had descended to such a low level, both in terms of purse money and particularly in number of race days," McCaffrey said. "Back in 2014, we raced 202 days in Chicago and this year they'll race 71. The race schedule has been chopped by more than two-thirds."

The shrinkage came about because Maywood and its sister track, Balmoral Park, were forced into bankruptcy and the Illinois Racing Board shut them down after their 2015 meetings.

Hawthorne Race Course moved into the void to become the only harness game in town but, because it also conducts a thoroughbred meeting, of necessity the standardbred schedule had to be drastically curtailed.

For McCaffrey, there were two options: 1. He could relocate to another state "and basically kind of start from scratch and build up a stable." 2. He could embark on another career.

An opportunity to stay in Chicago racing immediately presented itself. The ITHA's executive director, Glen Berman, had decided to accept an offer to become the Florida Horsemen and Benevolent Association's executive director and ITHA president Mike Campbell, with whom McCaffrey had established a close working relationship, asked if he'd be interested in taking the vacated job.

"Staying here and doing something I was accustomed to doing won out," McCaffrey said.

As IHHA president he had been collaborating with that organization's executive director, Tony Somone, to conduct contract negotiations with the racetracks and represent the horsemen at Illinois Racing Board meetings and when the state legislature convened in Springfield. He was no stranger to addressing issues and confronting controversy.

"I can't express enough how much of a full-time job being president of a horsemen's organization is," McCaffrey said. "I had two full-time jobs — the (Harness) Horsemen's Association and the barn.

"Becoming the executive director of the ITHA was a transition that was as smooth as it possibly could be."

However, a few months after taking the job, McCaffrey was confronted with a new challenge and the stakes were sky-high.

The thoroughbred horsemen's contract with Arlington International Racecourse had expired and track management, with the collaboration of a political ally, Racing Board Chairman Jeff Brincat, was attempting to oust the ITHA as the collective bargaining agent of owners and trainers and replace it with a puppet organization, the Illinois Thoroughbred Breeders and Owners Foundation (ITBOF).

When the ITHA filed a lawsuit in federal court, the ITBOF, Arlington and Brincat had a quick change of heart.

"They backed off and after that we made a deal pretty quickly," McCaffrey said. "It kept the ball rolling. Since then, our relationship with the folks at Arlington has improved. In retrospect, dealing with the Johnston family (that owned Maywood and Balmoral) and Phil Langley (their director of racing) was terrific. That acclimated me (for tough negotiating); I had seen it all before.”

Until McCaffrey and Campbell made the missions of the IHHA and ITHA a common cause, these organizations also had an adversarial relationship.

“I was aware of David (but) I did not know him,” said Campbell, who was elected ITHA president in November, 2008, two months after McCaffrey became IHHA president. “He came to me and said, ‘Let’s work together’ and I said: ‘Let’s do it. Harness horsemen’s kids have to eat just like thoroughbred horsemen’s kids do.’ From that day forward we’ve had a close relationship.

“When Glen left for Florida and I recommended David, my board voted for him unanimously. I think that’s a big statement. I don’t know of any leader of a harness horsemen’s organization who has risen to a level where he was so appreciated by thoroughbred horsemen that he was a unanimous choice to represent them.”

In McCaffrey’s educated opinion: “Maybe one per cent of the time what’s good for the harness horsemen might not be good for the thoroughbred horsemen but the other 99 per cent of the time what’s going to be good for the harness will be good for the thoroughbreds. Mike bought into that and since then it has proven to be the case.

“So much of the economic health of horse racing is dependent on statutes and what happens in the state legislature. That’s lost on a lot of horsemen, not because they don’t care but because they’re training horses, and it’s not on their radar. Training is a 365-day profession and it is a difficult job. When horsemen have a voice statutes tend to be more horseman friendly.

“When racetracks speak for the horsemen, look out! You don’t have to look any farther than (Isle Casino Racing) Pompano Park to know exactly what I’m talking about. Here’s a track in southern Florida that should be one of the jewels of harness racing. Instead, it’s kind of like a little ‘B’ track.

“I think they’ve got something like 2,000 slot machines, and essentially purses get one-half of one per cent (of the revenue from the slots). The reason is that Isle of Capri (the gaming conglomerate that owns and operates the track) went to Tallahassee and spoke for the horsemen (before the legislature). All you need to know about what happens when racetracks speak for the horsemen is right there.”

In Illinois, McCaffrey cited two instances in which he believes horsemen were short-changed because the tracks were the ones who crafted the legislation – the legalization for off-track betting in 1986 and the legalization of full-card simulcasting from out of state in 1995.

“Think of how different the game would be if we were getting a 50/50 split at the OTBs instead of basically 25/75,” he said. “Think of how different the game would be if recapture hadn’t come in with full-card simulcasting and $300 million hadn’t been ripped out of the purse accounts at the thoroughbred and harness tracks. That was money earned for purses. I’m not accusing the tracks of doing anything illegal; they rip the money out and legally they can because it’s in the statute.”

The “recapture” provision in the law stipulates that if betting on live racing is less than 75 per cent of the 1994 total, tracks can “recapture” 2 per cent of the amount from the purse account. Every year since the statute’s inception the amount has been under 75 per cent, enabling the tracks to extract in excess of $284 million from the purse accounts.

Now, there’s light at the end of the tunnel for the horsemen thanks to the massive multi-faceted gambling expansion bill that was passed by the Illinois legislature at the conclusion of its spring session and signed by new Governor J.B. Pritzger on June 28.

Among other things, the bill will allow the state’s three tracks (Hawthorne, Arlington and downstate Fairmount Park, which has only thoroughbred racing) to offer gaming with a minimum of 12.7 per cent of the gross revenue guaranteed for purses. And when the gaming begins “recapture” will end.

In addition, each of the tracks and three of their OTB satellites will be allowed to conduct sports betting, but in this case the horsemen’s cut will be determined by contractual agreements between them and the tracks.

Hawthorne already has announced a partnership with the Australian bookmaker PointsBet to introduce sports betting as soon as possible and “work in tandem to build a world-class, multi-faceted sports entertainment venue” at the track.

Of even more importance to harness horsemen, the statute allows a new racino exclusively for harness racing to be built in one of seven suburbs south of Chicago.

“The beautiful thing is the bill allows for a replacement track for Maywood and Balmoral,” McCaffrey said. “Chicago racing used to be a 12-month gig for both breeds for all those years. You could buy a house and stay here all year. That ceased on the harness side because of the Maywood and Balmoral situations. This new track will bring harness racing back to a 10 or 12-month situation.

“This bill provides hope and optimism to horse racing in Illinois. Those two things – hope and optimism – happen to be the two cornerstones of horse racing, whether you’re a better, whether you're an owner or whether you're a trainer."

While McCaffrey no longer trains harness horses, he remains a standardbred owner.

"I have three horses, all Illinois-bred pacers bought as yearlings, that I owned in partnership with Tony Somone and their trainer, Clark Fairley," he said. "Al's Briefs is a 4-year-old who has made more than $85,000. The other two are fillies, a 3-year-old Brienne the Beauty and a 2-year-old Amazon Princess.

"In 2015, I had about 40 horses (racing at the Chicago tracks and in Delaware) that I owned a big part of and I also trained for a number of people. There wasn't one particular day that I dissolved my stable (before becoming ITHA executive director); it was more like a six-month process. I sold some. Some were leased. Some owners bought me out and some owners I trained for took their horses back to New York. It was quite an undertaking.

"The last night at Maywood, I won the second last race. It was a good run in harness racing and I look back on it fondly. I have great respect for the people in harness racing and want them to do well."

A by-product of McCaffrey's immersion in thoroughbred racing is his realization that it is that it is very different than harness racing.

"I knew the politics and the horse side of the harness business, and I thought the horse side of the thoroughbreds was more similar than it actually is," he explained.

"It's startling how much different the two sports are. That came as a shock. The whole regimens in a barn on a given day are different — the feeding procedures and exercise procedures are tremendously different. The amount of equipment the horses wear is tremendously different. On the thoroughbred side they have four aluminum shoes all around. On the harness side there's more of a focus on equipment and shoeing. Conversely, on the thoroughbred side there all these nuances and subtleties in distances and surfaces.

"In harness racing you go to a track and race one mile on essentially the same surface; in thoroughbred racing you have dirt and turf and Polytrack and you have varying distances — 6 furlongs, 7 furlongs, a mile, mile and an eighth, mile and a quarter and so on. On the thoroughbred side there's more emphasis on exercise physiology and finding the right spot in terms of distance and surface and conditions."

McCaffrey has come to appreciate the pronounced physical and mental differences between the two breeds.

"Thoroughbreds are more fragile so their starts are much more limited," he said. "And they are much more high-strung. Thoroughbred racing is much more dangerous (because) it's much easier to get thrown from the back of a horse than the back of a cart."

In addition, McCaffrey pointed out that thoroughbreds require a bigger labor force because trainers hire exercise riders for morning workouts and jockeys employ agents to secure mounts and valets to take care of their equipment.

Although socio-economic differences among the participants also abound in both thoroughbred and harness racing, McCaffrey is convinced that the horsepeople and the people who own and operate the tracks have much more in common than they are aware.

"I wish in both sports the backstretch and management people would realize we all need each other," he said. "Both sides of horse racing are in precarious positions right now for lots of reasons. We'd be better off speaking with one voice instead of fighting amongst ourselves.

"When you find common ground it's important to exploit it. The problem is finding common ground and that's hard, a lot easier said than done. I fight like crazy for the horsemen."

Emily Gaskin Ratcliff – racetrack marketing manager, publicist and broadcaster

by Victoria M. Howard

Harness racing is nothing new to Emily Gaskin Ratcliff. At one time, her father, Ernie, trained for the late, great Billy Haughton. In fact, that is where he met his future wife and Emily's mother.

Growing up like many other young girls, Emily was horse crazy, but preferred riding and showing horses, instead of helping out in the stable.

After graduating from high school, Emily attended the University of Kentucky where she rode on the equestrian team.

"I always knew I wanted to be involved with horses in some facet; I just wasn't sure where. During my studies at the University of Kentucky I was fortunate enough to land an internship at The Horsemen and Fair World and the rest, as they say, is history.

"During my internship I was given the opportunity to work under some of the best horsemen in the industry. It was then that I discovered I enjoyed writing about the sport and marketing end. Upon graduation I had a variety of jobs, such as being a groom for my dad, while simultaneously working as a reporter for Harness Racing Update under the direction of Bill Finley."

Emily has worked at Hoosier Park in Indiana since 2012. She started as the racing publicist and assistant to the general manager of racing.

"When I started working there, Hoosier still hosted thoroughbred racing, so I had to learn a few things very quickly. In 2013, Hoosier Park began hosting harness racing full-time. The on-air talent left to follow thoroughbred racing at Indiana Grand and I was offered the position to do the on-air work.

"I wear a few different hats in my role(s) at Harrah's Hoosier Park. Presently, I am the race marketing manager, publicist, and broadcaster. I love my job for it's never boring. As the race marketing manager I am responsible for all the marketing, promotion and community events for racing. I work closely with our horsemen and organizations to ensure we are doing everything we can to highlight our racing product. I handle all of the press releases, publicity, and on-air segments for live racing."

Hoosier Park has a reputation of being one of the more generous tracks willing to go that extra step to help the horsemen in any way possible.

"I don't know if we are better than other tracks for I don't know what the other tracks do, but here at Hoosier we do everything we can to make Hoosier Park a great place to race horses for everyone.

From the grooms, to the owners, to the bettors, to the horses — they all have an equal part in putting on the show for the fans.

I feel fortunate to work for a company like Harrah's Hoosier Park who continually places an importance on improving our wonderful sport of harness racing — and it shows.

"Horse racing, as a majority, is a male dominated sport. I think more women gravitate to thoroughbred racing because it is more popular, and depending on who you ask it seems more glamorous. I also believe there are not as many opportunities for women in harness racing as there are in thoroughbred racing, but I am working hard to change that. Every year I employ two or three interns and try to introduce them to all the various roles in harness racing; whether it be through marketing, photography, grooming and anything else I can.”

Currently, Emily owns seven horses that race on the Indiana circuit.

“Horses have provided me with some of the biggest thrills in my life – including the winner of the $200,000 Indiana Sires Stakes Super Final with the first horse my dad ever bought for me after graduation. His name was Jammin Joshua. My father trains for me and my mother manages his 20-horse stable. My sister is also involved in the business, working alongside me as the racing promoter and events specialist here at Hoosier. It is truly a family affair and we all also help out in the barn when we can. I love all my horses and enjoy spending my mornings with them. They keep me sane.

“My job is very demanding and requires me to be present at all times. I’ve had to learn to find a good balance and balance is important. I try to juggle everything the best I can. Working in the barn, my job as race marketing manager, publicist, broadcaster, and handicapping the racing programs keeps my cup full. I truly enjoy handicapping for it’s like working a different puzzle 12 times each night. I enjoy following pedigrees, analyzing racing styles, and always trying to find a good angle – the things you can’t see by just looking at a program. I’ve had to teach myself to be more analytical and less emotional, but I take great pride in providing my selections. I also love connecting with people that have played my picks.”

Last September, Emily added another exciting thing to her busy life: she got married.

“You know the saying, ‘for better or worse?’ I joke with my husband that if this is true I hit the lottery because he understands he married a crazy horse lady and it’s more like ‘for better or for worse,’ for he is as patient as they come. He’s a dentist and quite literally we have opposite schedules; so spending quality time together can be very tricky. Luckily for me he also enjoys horse racing – he even owns a few horses. He also understands I am very passionate about my career. My philosophy is you should do things with passion or not at all, so he lets me do my thing.”

Hayter family stepping up, thinking big about Vic Hayter Memorial

The fourth annual $15,000 Vic Hayter Memorial Trot at Clinton Raceway on Sunday, July 21 will honor the late horse owner and hotelier by supporting the people that care for the animals he loved. The family has paid to increase all the purses on the card by 10 per cent and will pay to feed all the horsepeople in the backstretch as part of National Caretakers Appreciation celebration.

by Dave Briggs

Greg Hayter laughed when asked how his late father would feel about the family's decision to greatly increase its commitment to the Vic Hayter Memorial at Clinton Raceway in Ontario as part of an effort to, one day, make it an event that rivals some of the biggest events in harness racing.

"I think he'd want to make a contribution to the track in an anonymous name. He was a very humble man. He didn't long for recognition or go looking for recognition," Hayter said. "But aside from his humbleness, I think he'd be super proud of the fact that his family is honoring his name and his legacy in this way."

Vic, who owned many hotels, but is perhaps best known for operating The Arden Park Hotel and Festival Inn in Stratford, ON, died of cancer in February of 2016. He was 77. Managing his hotel business took up most waking hours, but Vic always made time for Clinton Raceway. He owned standardbred for 38 years.

"He worked seven days a week, but every Sunday at 12:30 he'd be home to pick up my mother and they'd go to Clinton Raceway," Greg said when the race debuted in 2016. "Dad was involved with horses since 1978 and even as kids, when we lived in Lucan, we used to always go to Clinton Raceway on Sunday afternoons. The last 15 years or so, mom and him used to go every Sunday and they'd sit right by the finish line."

This year marks the fourth anniversary of the Vic Hayter Memorial in support of both the Ontario Standardbred Adoption Society and the Stratford-Perth Humane Society and Greg said his family has not only raised the purse to $15,000 (from $12,500 last year), but also boosted the purses for all the other races on the card by 10 per cent.

"The long and the short of it, if you're racing every week for $4,000, you're going to race for $4,400 that day," Greg said. "It's not going to make anybody rich, but it just gives a bit of a boost to people."

Since the weekend also falls on National Caretakers Appreciation celebrations, Greg said his family is also paying for lunch for all the horsepeople in the backstretch.

"We want to have that as a small part of Vic Hayter Day, but more as the Hayter family's contribution to the industry," Greg said. "The caretakers are the unsung heroes. They are the people that live in the backstretch and basically live with the horses. Sometimes it isn't a glamorous job, but these people do it for the love of the animal. Somebody has got to appreciate it."

The dream, Greg said, is to one day make the Vic Hayter Memorial on a scale with some of his favorite events – the famed Little Brown Jug in Delaware, OH or the Vincent Delaney Memorial in Ireland.

"I'm a big fan of the Little Brown Jug and a big fan of the party atmosphere, the circus-like atmosphere of the Little Brown Jug with the fair in the background and the races going on and there's 50,000 people and everyone is eating Beavertails and poutine," Greg said, adding the Vincent Delaney Memorial has, "a bit of a Kentucky Derby spin to it, where all the girls get dressed up in hats. It's the same idea, just a party atmosphere and they are celebrating the one brother who died."

"I might be dreaming big things, but I really want to gain some momentum and get to that level one day. I know it's not going to happen this year or probably next year, but I guess my personal goal is to build this thing bigger and bigger and better every year, year after year after year."

"The day has evolved, from our original thoughts of a one-race Vic Hayter Memorial, and then everybody goes home. It's not just a race anymore, it's more like a Vic Hayter Day."

The July 21 card, which has a 1:30 p.m. post time, also will feature a raffle, silent auction, 50/50 draw and a Pineridge beef dinner.

ALTERNATIVE ACTIONS

with FRANK COTOLO

How tracks can benefit from the binary emotion factor in horseplayers' behavior

by Frank CotoLO

Racetrack operators need to understand their customers more deeply, because no matter how sophisticated horseplayers have become over the years, they (we) are still enormously stubborn, suspiciously superstitious and destructively disorganized. Although those are generally basic human qualities anyway, most other businesses do not have to explore their target audiences with the kind of scrutiny it takes to keep a horseplayer – dare I say it – satisfied.

Let me save track officials and marketer's time by simply explaining one major psychological impurity present in a typical horseplayer, that is, your customer. I call it "the binary emotion factor, (BEF)," though I am sure it has an academic psychological name and roots. Then, I will offer some alternative actions that you should feel free to institute or find as inspirational to keep a sound relationship with your customers.

To understand BEF, you must understand its main element: The state of satisfaction is inactive in horseplayers.

A horseplayer will always find excuses for the two results of wagering on a pari-mutuels race. Yes, I said an excuse for either a bet won or a bet lost. Read closely, since no other commercial establishment has to deal with the emotional composition moving this kind of customer.

When a bet is lost, a horseplayer reaches into a mental sack of excuses (with them at all times when betting) and pulls out a few hundred reasons for failure. Rarely, if ever, is the negative result of a loss the fault of the bettor. The blame narrative flows: "That drive was terrible," "The pace-setter sure ruined it with those fractions," "Why do I ever play a horse from that trainer's barn?" "I always lose with horses that have the best posts," and on and on because it is tough to take responsibility for a loss and sometimes impossible to let go of any loss.

Still, winning is usually not totally enjoyable, either.

When a horseplayer makes a winning wager, a binary set of emotions kick in that are best explained by a simple law of horseplayer behavior: When a horseplayer wins a bet, whatever joy is attached to the incident is in direct proportion to an amount of disappointment experienced from the incident's result. Read that again, take a breath and then continue.

It is true; a horseplayer winning a bet will smile and physically experience a pleasurable sensation. However, once that occurs, the bettor instinctively finds reasons to reduce the positive affect of the experience.

The winner, even after cashing the ticket, may say, "That was a great race. I nailed that one good. I should have crushed it, though. Why didn't I bet more on it? I was so sure I had the winner and still I didn't use it in an exacta or a triple and it could have been a single in a Pick 4. Damn, I screwed up that bet. I could've won so much more."

BEF produces an imbalanced representation of a purely positive experience.

Seriously, if you eat at a restaurant you will judge liking or disliking the food you eat by eating it. It was good or it was bad, right? Who eats a complete meal that is usually the very food the person who orders it desires and then says something like, "That meal truly hit the spot; it was terrific. However, there should have been a larger portion and a better side dish. I am still a bit hungry. And come to think of it that meal was expensive, I mean for that kind of meal. It's not like it was a fancy joint. That meal should've been half the price and then with a dessert included."

Understanding such eccentric customer traits is imperative for pari-mutuels tracks. Management has to be empathetic with customers. Positive re-enforcement is necessary. One possibility is to launch a Betting Rebound Rewards Program (BRRP) for on-track attendance.

When a customer joins a BRRP, he or she qualifies to receive some form of rebate on a loss and/or some kind of valuable addition on a win. It could be wagering credit in deals that go like this:

For every $2 bet you bet and lose, (the track) will give you a betting voucher in that amount. The voucher is only valid when wagering on site at (this track).

For every $2 bet you bet and win, (the track) will give you a voucher in that amount, redeemable for food, beverage, programs (et al) available on site at (the track).

In future installments we will dig deeper into unique characteristics of horseplayers and suggest how to sensationalize on them for the benefit of bettors and tracks.

Remembering Dottie Haughton, the First Lady of Harness Racing

by Bob Heyden

She sat on Nat King Cole's bench, on Greyhound's back and the Hall of Fame's board.

Dottie Haughton was a unifier, a mother, grandmother, an encourager, a nurturer, and in many ways the navigator of Billy's ascending career. Her stoic presence and ever-present strength was very much needed as the entire Haughton family dealt with the many landmines in life.

Dottie's was a magnified, yet distinguished, presence; one we simply never could quite get enough of.

She was there for her children, Billy Jr., Holley, Cammie, Peter and Tommy.

When Peter won his first ever race on the Pennsylvania Sires Stakes circuit at age 16, Dottie was his caretaker for a horse called Dr Dewars. He threw a shoe at the 3/8ths, but still won in 2:12. She was there when Peter became the youngest — and still is — to win a Triple Crown race with Quick Pay in the 1976 Kentucky Futurity at age 22. She was present for Tommy when he was the youngest to win the Hambletonian at age 25 in 1982 with Speed Bowl. That record remains, too.

But she was patient too. It wasn't until after Billy's 50th birthday party that he won his first Hambletonian — and then won a total of five in nine years (1974-1982). And, it was 57 years from Billy taking the first ever Messenger in 1956 with the standout filly Belle Acton to 2013 when Tommy's Ronny Bugatti also captured this leg of the pacing Triple Crown.

In the 1986 Hambletonian program insert, three weeks after Billy's death, Stan Bergstein wrote, "Billy was a spokesperson for the industry, an inspiration, a tireless worker, an advisor and a counselor." That is a lot of hats for one person to wear, but guess what? They all fit Dottie, too. Very well. Dottie's the main reason Billy's star shines as brightly as it does, even today. For in those 33 years since Billy's death in 1986, Dottie and family never let the lights dim. There's a majesty to the name "Haughton" that exists even today.

From Quick Chief (First Triple Crown win for Billy Haughton in the 1955 Jug; when a horse named Dotties Pick was second), to Rum Customer (1968 Triple Crown, the second pacer to reach $1 million behind only Cardigan Bay for his good friend Stanley Dancer) to Keystone Pioneer (her personal favorite) to Burgomeister (the 1980 Hambletonian winner just seven months after Peter's passing) to Nihilator (Billy's final star and maybe the brightest of them all), Dottie's presence encapsulated the near entirety of Billy Haughton's reign in the sport of harness racing.

It was once said of famed actor David Niven, "He had the gift of friendship." Surely somewhere along the way he must have crossed paths with Dottie.

Dottie wore her fame well. The constant "Green And White" spotlight never blinded her. Really, and quite admirably, she was one of us.

By simply entering a room, Dottie had a way of bridging the past with today, one which made you want to pull up the nearest chair and find out much more about both yesterday and today, from her unique point of view.

Hers was a welcoming way; a presence that seemed to make any event she attended better. No matter the occasion, you wanted Dottie there, even if you hadn't yet met her. She brought instant credibility and her remembrances and knowledge were freely shared.

I am, and always will be, a Dottie Fan. Tommy Haughton told me "everybody was."

For someone who was often referred to as the First Lady Of Harness Racing, she was an international treasure as well. Always a lady, it's incredible to think of how easily she blended in as one of us. Amazing really, when you think for the better part of seven decades, her name was as much a part of the sport as any Triple Crown winner or world record setter.

For the first time since the Hall Of Fame opened its doors in 1951, the sport is without either Dottie or Billy.

Yes, the track and the stands seem a bit emptier, but don't the history books, and our hearts, seem a whole lot fuller.

Dottie Haughton, 1931-2019. What a lady.

Uza hit the jackpot in Arjäng

by Thomas Hedlund

One of the most pleasant V75 days in Sweden during the summer meeting is the one that's held in the small town of Årjäng. As is tradition, the $128,000 Årjängs Stora Sprinterlopp over 1.640 meters, was scheduled on the race card, but, this year, the track was drowned in rain, just before the main act of the day. The conditions went from very fast to something more slippery and many of the nine trotters had obvious problems in finding the perfect gait when the car left the field. But still, the pace was high when 8-year-old Love You mare Uza Josselyn was in front with driver Erik Adielsson. Uza Josselyn and Lionel defended their positions throughout the race when both Milliondollarrhyme and Day Or Night In looked for position outside the leader. Göran Antonsen and his Lionel did not want to see a horse in front of him and Lionel did the heavy job outside Uza Josselyn.

First choice Nadal Broline was served a perfect trip in second over, but Björn Goop's trotter was, according to trainer and driver Goop, disadvantaged by the conditions and Nadal Broline could never challenge the leader seriously in the stretch.

Uza Josselyn sprinted to safe win in splendid mile rate 1:51.3, ahead of Nadal Broline and Lionel.

"I'm really happy for the trainer's sake. The people around this horse have tried in Sweden a couple of times and missed the final of Elitloppet with just a nose last year and they've just kept working with their horse and this is very nice. Uza Josselyn was in perfect shape today and I had expectations after the warm up. She is definitely one of the best mares I've driven in my career", said Adielsson.

Set for Stochampionatet

The $256,000 Stochampionatet for 4-year-old mares, bred in Sweden, will take place at Axevalla racetrack on Sunday, July 21 over the distance 1.6 miles and six eliminations were held on Friday night.

The dominant mare in the crop, Conrads Rödluva (S.J.'s Caviar) initiated the eliminations by winning easily from the lead and Daniel Redén's mare will most probably be heavy favorite when the final takes place next week.

Others that won their eliminations were: Flaming Ace Sisu (Googoo Gaagaa), Fantasia Sisu (One Too Many), Lyx Håleryd (Scarlet Knight), Zeta Kronos (Donato Hanover) and Hankypanky Rubyred (Love You).

All the contenders in the race aim for double prize money since they skipped the "premier race" as a 2-year-old, so the purse is actually $512,000. This is an opportunity that is given to all the horses in the biggest staked races for 2-, 3- and 4-year-olds in Sweden.

Stochampionatet 2019 – 1.6 miles

Horse – Trainer

Zeta Kronos (Donato Hanover) – Björn Goop
Lyx Håleryd (Scarlet Knight) – Joakim Elfving

Fantasia Sisu (One Too Many) – Robert Bergh
Miss Sober (Joke Face) – Robert Bergh
Real Caviar (S.J.'s Caviar) – Hans-Owe Sundberg
Head For Home (Conny Nobel) – Fredrik Wallin
Flaming Ace Sisu (Googoo Gaagaa) – Peter G Norman
Global Vintage (Love You) – Timo Nurmos
Racing Brodda (Prodigious) – Mattias Djuse
Activated (Jocose) – Fredrik Wallin

Tough fight in Paris

In 2017, Drole de Jet (Coktail Jet) won the $450,000 Grand Prix de l'U.E.T. for European bred 4-year-olds, but since then the 6-year-old has had difficult to hit the wire as a winner. In $90,000 Prix De Bruxelles at Enghien racetrack in Paris, the Pierre Vercruysse trained trotter battled hard with first choice Ble du Gers in the home stretch after a trip behind the leader.

Drole de Jet left his position and Vercruysse opted first over before the last turn approached and the fight between Ble du Gers and Drole de Jet was spectacular, where not any of the horses wanted to be defeated. Drole de Jet put his nose first at the wire and came home in mile rate 1:54.3 over 1.3 miles.

$330,000 Lexington Selected $403,223 3,1:50.1

Courant Inc, Hans R Backe, Lars Granqvist, and Martin Langli

Marvin Katz and Al Libfeld

Marcus Melander / Brian Sears

In what may have been his most impressive race yet, he was beaten by Marseille after a cagey drive by Ake Svanstedt in the final of the Beal. Was loaded with trot coming from an impossible spot. Remains the choice of this writer by a large margin. Had the week off in preparation for next week's Stanley Dancer eliminations. Had last week off. If there were any non-believer out there I doubt there are any today. Greenshoe absolutely crushed the competition in a 1:50.1 romp in his Dancer elimination last night. Truly amazing colt.

Tony Alagna / Andrew McCarthy

Moved up off a stunning win in the Goodtimes final at Woodbine Mohawk. Qualified at the Meadowlands in what I expect was a prep for next week's Stanley Dancer eliminations, and what should be a showdown with the top pick and his stablemates. The qualifier could not have been better (1:51.3). He is ready for the Green Team. Raced well in defeat to Greenshoe but was NO MATCH.

Lost no points in my book after a fine third-place finish in the Beal, also coming from an impossible place. I would think the week off before the Dancer was a smart decision.

He crushed a field of open 3-year-olds Friday at Mohawk in a pedestrian 1:54. Colt was a very creditable second to Pilot Discretion in the Goodtimes Final at Mohawk. Won a Ontario Sires Stake for $80k Monday in 1:53 last quarter in a quick :26.3.

6. SWANDRE THE GIANT

Swan For All – Adagio

$17,000 Indy resold privately $417,568, 1:51.3

J & T Silva, Howard Taylor, Diamond Creek Racing, DM Stables

Ron Burke / David Miller

Wins his first race outside the state of Indiana with a very impressive win over Green Manalishi coming first up in the Stanley Dancer first division. That's the good news. Unfortunately, it was a case of first-time Lasix, which was a brilliant addition to a colt that had difficulty finishing his miles all season. The use of Lasix is not permitted in the rules for the Hambletonian so I would question first if he would even be an entry and then would he be competitive without the drug? One thing is for certain, it's good Ronnie solved the puzzle as this colt was a very expensive purchase.

7. DON'T LET'EM

Nancy Johansson / Marcus Johansson

Raced in a NW7 at the Meadowlands and looked fabulous destroying the overnight field in 1:51.3. It looks to this writer that Nancy has found the keys and this guy is well on the comeback trail. The colt put in a wonderful qualifier finishing a very fast closing second to Pilot Discretion at the Meadowlands in 1:51.3 last week. Sat a perfect trip last night in his elimination of the Dancer and made a break trying to keep up. It's been a bumpy road for this talented colt.

9. EVIDENT BEAUTY (f)

Trixtan — Struck By Lindy

$80,000 Lexington Selected $373,192 3, 1:52.3

Mel Hartman, Little E LLC, RAW Equine

White Birch Farm

R. Nifty Norman / David Miller

Undefeated very talented lass has won all three starts this year. The final of the New Jersey Sires Stakes was a whopper. Raced last week off a 36-day lay-off at the Meadowlands in a division of the Reynolds. She won a division of the Delvin Miller last night handily in 1:52.3. The chart makes it look closer than it was as Tim Tetrack and Cloud Nine Fashion made a furious charge to go head and head and appeared to take the lead, but off pedestrian fractions. The end result was never in doubt.

Ake Svanstedt / Ake Svanstedt

Upset winner of the Beal last weekend. Ake likes to win big races with horses no one can figure. This colt has won the most money of any 3-year-old this year. Do I think he is as fast as the top picks? Certainly not, but as I said I have seen Ake miracles before and right now the colt deserves a spot on the list. He is not eligible to the Dancer which means he will need another start somewhere before the big dance.

Villiam, Fortune Starlet score in NJSS at Big M

It was a case of long and short at the Meadowlands in a pair of New Jersey Sire Stakes finals Friday night, as Villiam scored at 85-1 in the 2-year-old colt and gelding pace while 3-5 shot Fortune Starlet dominated in the 2-year-old filly trot.

Villiam, a gelded son of Rock N Roll Heaven—Village Mirage, had plenty of action unfold in front of him as the top three horses in the wagering – 3-1 Follow Your Heart, even-money Rockin The Gates and 8-5 Rockin The Aces – all battled for supremacy from the quarter to the three-quarters, and that suited driver Tim Tetrick just fine, who had Villiam in a third-over flow around the far turn.

Rockin The Aces was dead game to the wire after racing uncovered for the final half-mile but got nailed by the smallest of noses at the finish. Follow Your Heart was third. The win payout of $172.60 was the highest of the meeting at the Big M. It was Villiam's first victory in three lifetime starts for trainer Eric Foster. The time for the mile was 1:53.1.

"I didn't think about winning at three-quarters, I just wanted to get a good check," said Tetrick. "But those other colts beat themselves up and I picked up the pieces."

Fortune Starlet ($3.20 to win), a daughter of Trixton—Fortune Dream, had no anxious moments in her dash, grabbing the lead while parked at the half before powering clear of her foes by five lengths in 1:54.3 in winning for the second time in three starts. Caviart Eva finished second but was off stride at the wire and placed fourth behind official second-place finisher Jula Champagne and Spoiled Princess, who was placed third.

"She's got a beautiful gait and a great attitude," said winning driver Dexter Dunn of the George Ducharme trainee. "She showed last week (when she won in 1:55.4) what she can do. She's still learning a little, but she's got a bright future."

Before the betting card, two other NJSS finals were conducted.

Play Trix On Me, a son of Trixton—Lima Playmate, took the 2-year-old colt and gelding trot in 1:55.3 for driver Tetrick and trainer Gareth Dowse to stay perfect in four lifetime tries.

Ready Set Rock, a daughter of Rock N Roll Heaven—Popcorn N Peanuts, took the 2-year-old filly pace. Driver Andy McCarthy guided the winner to a 1:56.3 score for trainer Michael Hall.

A LITTLE MORE: Leading driver Yannick Gingras had the hot hand once again, scoring five times on the program, twice with Per Engblom trainees... Chalk players cashed plenty of tickets on the card, as eight favorites visited the winner's circle... All-source handle on the 14 races totaled $2,682,541.

Burke Brigade wins three of four PA All-Stars at Pocono

Trainer Ron Burke sent out winners in three of the four $30,000 divisions of Pennsylvania All-Stars competition at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono Saturday night. Simon Allard drove two of the successful freshman fillies for Burke, including the fastest winner, Shouldabeenatd, whose 1:52.3 winning time was a North American season's record.

Allard left with the Sweet Lou—Breakheart Pass filly then let Lyons Sentinel go to the top before the :27.2 quarter; that one in turn gave way to favored Firefly in front of the stands, and she went on to the half in :56, with Shouldabeenatd coming back for more first-over and battling the leader to the 1:24.1 three-quarters.

Neither of the front-enders gave an inch around the turn and into the stretch, where Lyons Sentinel joined them in the Pocono Pike. Shouldabeenatd showed tenacity late in putting up a head decision over Lyons Sentinel, with Firefly fading slightly late to be another length back. The winner, who had a 1:54.1 qualifying win at The Meadowlands and was second in her purse bow, is owned by Burke Racing Stable LLC and Weaver Brussemi LLC.

The former season's record of 1:53.2 had been equaled by another Burke/Allard combination earlier, when the A Rocknroll Dance – Liscamore miss Dance Club notched her first purse win after a 1:57 Gaitway offtrack qualifier. Dance Club, who had a 1:57 sloppy track win in a Gaitway qualifier, made two early moves then sat in the two-hole while All In Fun and favored Wayside dueled on the front end, then cleared in the lane and paced off to a 1 3/4 length victory over All In Fun for Burke Racing Stable LLC and Weaver Brusceci LLC, Knox Services Inc., and David Wills.

Mike Simons was in the sulky for Burke when the Somebeachsomewhere – Palazzo Princess distaff Sailaja Deo took her All-Stars event in 1:56 in her purse debut, coming after a 1:55 qualifying win at Gaitway. Simons had Sailaja Deo in the pocket behind pacesetting favorite Silver Tail, shifted outside when first-over Blood Red got by the pacesetter late on the turn, then ducked back inside and caught Blood Red by a head for owners Burke Racing Stable LLC, Phil Collura, Lawrence Karr, and J&T Silva- Purnel & Libby.

None of the Burke winners was favored by the Pocono faithful, but the fourth divisional winner, the Captaintreacherous–Cashaway filly Lyons Monatize, did reward the crowd's backing her as she won by the largest margin, 2½ lengths, in 1:55.1 for driver Jim Morrill Jr. The Gareth Dowse trainee stepped home in :27.4 with no pressure to take her initial purse start (she had won a Pocono qualifier in the same time as this victory) for owner Geoffrey Lyons Mound.

Morrill and Burke both recorded five victories on the night, combining with Always At My Place and Mystery Island after the All-Stars races had been completed. Burke Racing Stable LLC owns a share of all of the Burke quintet.

TJ's Top Pick sets national season's mark at Harrah's Hoosier Park

Indiana-sired 2-year-old trotters were the featured attraction at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino on Saturday, July 13 as the evening's 14-race card was highlighted by a pair of $65,000 Indiana Sires Stakes finals for the freshmen trotting colts. TJ's Top Pick and Trace Tetrick stole the show after they recorded a national season's record for 2-year-old trotting colts with a 1:54.2 clocking in the first division. With the win, the Jeff Cullipher trainee recorded his second win of the season and established a new lifetime best.

Leaving from post seven, Tetrick sent TJ's Top Pick away from the gate just enough to grab the pocket seat behind the pace-setting Emma Town Bud and Mike Oosting. Emma Town Bud led the field through splits of :27.3, :57.3, and 1:26.3 before ever feeling a threat from the rest of the field.

As the field turned for home, Emma Town Bud appeared to be up to the task but TJ's Top Pick was winding up. Utilizing a :27.3 final panel, TJ's Top Pick coasted on to the wire to finish four lengths to the good under a hand-drive from Tetrick. Dude Included and Verlin Yoder rallied late in the lane to get up for second while Swan In Motion and Ricky Macomber Jr. finished third. As the heavy betting favorite, TJ's Top Pick returned $4.20 to his backers at the betting windows.

Owned in partnership by Jeff Cullipher and Pollack Racing LLC, TJ's Top Pick is now two for two this season. The son of Swan For All—J A's Ayd has now earned $37,500 in lifetime purse earnings.

In the second division of the stakes action, Osprey Hanover and Deshawn Minor turned in a gate-to-wire effort to deliver as the betting favorite. Scoring in 1:59.1, Osprey Hanover recorded his maiden breaking win in just his second lifetime start.

Leaving from post six, Minor sent Osprey Hanover to the front and he dictated fractions of :28, :59.3 and 1:30.2. Turning for home, Osprey Hanover was still calling the shots but a host of trotters were closing in. Jekyl N Hyde and Trace Tetrick found late racing room up the inside and came storming home but were forced to settle for second. Osprey Hanover held off all challengers to the get the win by a quarter of a length. Classy Prince and Verlin Yoder finished third. Osprey Hanover returned $4.80 at the betting windows.

Trained by Dewayne Minor, the gelded son of Swan For All—Oaklea Opal is owned by Brookside Stables. Osprey Hanover now sports a lifetime bankroll of $35,000.

TheStable.ca introduces Summer School program

TheStable.ca has introduced a new Summer School program to provide supervised hands-on learning about standardbred horses and harness racing.

TheStable.ca Summer School program offers two course levels delivered in four pilot classes on Sundays from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. starting July 28. All classes are conducted at TheStable.ca's base of operations, Tomiko Training Centre in Puslinch, ON.

Each class is restricted to 10 students with two instructors. Attendees must be at least 10, and children under 16 must be accompanied by a paying adult.

TheStable.ca Summer School 101: In-Barn Basics is a beginner session suited for people who want a basic understanding of racehorses and horse racing. All activities will be conducted in the barn. This course is offered July 28 and Aug. 4.

TheStable.ca Summer School 201: Barn & Track is an intermediate session for people with a basic understanding of racehorses and horse racing and a desire to learn and do more, including jogging one of the horses (in a double-seated jog cart, accompanied by a trainer). This course is available Aug. 11 and Aug. 18.

All courses are $50 plus HST and an online booking fee.

Great Friday issue

(RE: Friday's July 12 issue is) a great read! Super good issue today.

The story about Montrell is well deserved. In addition Gurfein's "nostalgia" response brought back so many wonderful memories.

Many Thanks.

— Jimmy Bernstein / Boynton Beach, FL

Kudos to HRU on its website

Your website is one of the most neat and visually optimized I've seen in a long time. Easy to navigate, not burdened with idiotic and slapdash ads and the content is visually elegant, well-written and in perfect layout and colors. I am a casual harness bettor and I follow NAHU, Mike Bozich and Garnet Barnsdale for guidance, after making my own handicapping decisions. I enjoy your site very much. Must appeal to my sense of design, as I was once a tech writer.

— Kevin Smith / Northern Vermont

Why is Webster not in the HOF?

I only have one question: How come Benny (The Whip) Webster isn't in and don't tell me it's about integrity.

Thank you.
