New owner Matt Morrison tops Summer Mixed Sale with $205,000 bid

Morrison purchased the French-bred sale topper Eurobond and three others at Sunday's sale at the Meadowlands. Gino Toscani was the leading buyer, spending $290,000, total, to buy four horses via the sale's online bidding portal.

by Dave Briggs

New owner Matt Morrison of Indiana, PA had a memorable day Sunday (July 18) at the Tattersalls Summer Mixed Sale in the paddock at the Meadowlands Racetrack in New Jersey.

Morrison, who bought his first horse in November of 2020, walked away with the sale-topper when he bid $205,000 for Hip #65 Eurobond, a 6-year-old son of French stallion Love You out of True Diva.

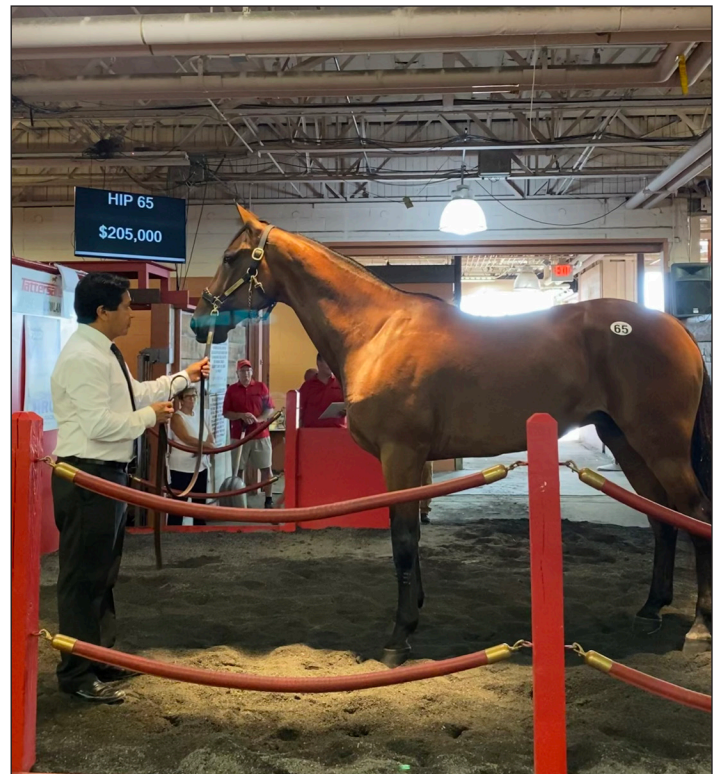

Eurobond, consigned by Preferred Equine Marketing, has earned more than $360,000 lifetime and sports a 1:50.1 mark set at 4 and a record of 17-5-5 in 57 career starts. This year, racing for his breeder Lindy Farms, along with Robert Rudolph, Eurobond has won five of six starts and $53,750 at Plainridge Park under the tutelage of Domenico Cecere.

Morrison bought 4-year-old Muscle Hill stallion King Alphonso for $145,000 at the Tattersalls Winter Mixed Sale. King Alphonso has posted a record of 6-6-3 in 21 starts in 2021 and earned $63,635 racing at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono.

"We've been very pleased with (King Alphonso). Eurobond has won the last four and the last seven out of eight. He's in a stakes race for $250,000 next weekend," Morrison said of the Spirit of Massachusetts at Plainridge Park where Eurobond has raced exclusively this year.

"We're looking for some solid open horses. He fit the bill."

Morrison was the sale's second leading buyer in gross sales with $283,500 spent, in all, on four horses. He also purchased hip

Hip #65 Eurobond topped Sunday's Tattersalls Summer Mixed Sale with a bid of $205,000 from Matt Morrison of Indiana, PA.

#11 Paul's Bandit for $5,500, hip #22 High Baller for $40,000 and hip #107 Me Too Baby for $33,000.

"I'm sure you don't often write about the person that bought the most expensive horse and probably the cheapest horse in the same sale," Morrison said, laughing, referring to Paul's Bandit an unraced 2-year-old son of Heston Blue Chip out of Steuben Ruthless. Morrison bought the colt for his 13-year-old daughter, Elizabeth, who was with him at The Meadowslands.

"Paul's Bandit was very feisty coming over from the barn and was pretty much dragging the kid all over the place. (Elizabeth) looked at me and said, 'I really like that horse.' That's how we ended up with that one. It's going to be her first horse and she'll probably change his name.

"Overall, it wasn't a bad day after deciding just three days ago that we were going (to the sale)."

The auction's leading buyer, Gino Toscani of Mount Hope, ON, spent $290,000, total, to purchase four horses via the sale's ProxiBid online portal, including the only other horse to fetch a six-figure sale price. Toscano spent $165,000 to land hip #39 The Greek Freak, a 4-year-old gelded son of Captaintreacherous out of Thirty X from the Preferred consignment. Toscani also bought hip #11 Rhodium for $23,000, hip #23 Jane Diamond for $52,000 and hip #25 Lou Ed Zeppelin for $50,000.

"Those horses will be racing in Canada and hopefully they can race well in Ontario," Toscani said.

Hip #39 The Greek Freak was purchased by the sale's leading buyer, Gino Toscani, for $165,000. Toscani bought four horses for a total of $290,000 via the sale's online portal.

As for The Greek Freak, Toscani said the pacer's lines looked good and, "Hopefully, he can race in the open at Mohawk."

The Greek Freak has earned $265,394 lifetime for trainer Ron Burke and his partners, but is winless in 10 starts this year.

The third highest-priced horse sold was Tango Dancer N, a 6-year-old A Rocknroll Dance–Tango Lady mare bought for $95,000 by Adriano Sorella of Guelph, ON from Preferred. Tango Dancer N has earned nearly $150,000 lifetime and was trained most recently by Kelvin Harrison.

Overall, 78 racehorses collectively sold for $2,704,500 to produce an average of $34,673 and a median of $28,500.

This is the first time since 2019 that Tattersalls has held a Summer Mixed Sale. Comparing this year to two years ago, the average was up 36 per cent and the median was up 50 per cent. In 2019, 82 horses were sold for a total gross of $2,084,000, an average of $25,415 and a median of $19,000. Celebrity Eventsy topped that sale with a bid of $95,000.

Sale manager David Reid said he thought this year's sale "was huge" for a variety of reasons.

"We kept the entries open later than we normally would, just because we always want to increase our numbers. So, we kept them open a little later at the request of some of our consignors. Then we were able to add 14 to the supplement," Reid said.

"You always want to have more horses to offer, but the marketplace is what it is. This time of year, when you have so many jurisdictions racing it really is the prime time to sell horses for a lot of different reasons."

Reid said the biggest factor driving strong numbers was there were quality racehorses in the catalogue.

"The majority of horses were racing, several of them are winning, they're racing on all-sized tracks, we had several aged pacers, several aged mares, trotting horses, trotting mares, trotting 2-year-olds that sold okay early on today, 3-year-olds that sold well. I think it was just a good-quality catalogue," he said.

"The crowd was great. We created a little seating shortage in the paddock because with the January sale we did have some (COVID-19) restrictions, so we just kept the social distancing, but we ran out of chairs and I felt bad about that because it was hot and humid in there.

"The sale had a great pace to it and once again, we had the online portal to take the online bids and that provided plenty of activity as well as the great crowd that we had that was very energetic. We ended up selling 13 horses online for $642,000, which is nearly a $49,000 average. Obviously, the online experience does allow people from wherever to bid. We had European presence today, a strong Canadian presence today with Gino Toscani and Brad Grant, who bought a couple, and a few other Canadians. We had in-person attendance from people from Delaware, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York. It was really just a rewarding day for everyone. I can't thank them enough for their participation, both the buyers and the sellers.

The third-highest priced horse sold was Hip #52 Tango Dancer N, a 6-year-old A Rocknroll Dance–Tango Lady mare bought for $95,000 by Adriano Sorella of Guelph, ON.

"I just now hope the horses go on and do good things for the new owners."

Reid's Preferred Equine sold 64 horses, grossing $2,254,000 for an average of $35,219.

Bob Boni's Northwood Bloodstock sold 10 horses, grossing $314,500 for an average of $31,450. Diamond Creek Farm, agent, sold one horse for $77,000 and Ricky Bucci sold three horses for a total gross of $59,000 and an average of $19,667.

Rain check, please

Storms put a bit of a damper on the euphoria expected for the first Meadowlands Pace since crowds have been allowed to return to The Meadowlands, but overall it was still a great night.

by Debbie Little

With few exceptions, harness racing takes place as scheduled. Coming off a year when the COVID-19 pandemic affected all major sports, everyone was hoping for a memorable – yet normal – Meadowlands Pace Night.

The State of New Jersey did its part by dropping attendance restrictions at the beginning of July.

Unfortunately, mother nature must not be a fan, since the violent storms that had been predicted for days crashed the party.

Heavy rain with lightning and thunder moved in about four hours to post causing power surges in neighboring communities, but by 4:30 p.m., the sun was out and everything seemed to be right as rain.

The threat of thunderstorms curtailed some of the outdoor activities, but people wearing or carrying the lime-green give-away t-shirts were still crowded on the track apron enjoying the first race at 6 p.m.

"It's nice to have fans out there," said driver Scott Zeron following the first race. "They might not be out there for the main race because it's going to be raining most likely, but it is certainly a different atmosphere. It's a good crowd."

"Last year, there was almost a sense of gratitude just to even be racing, so I think that's how we took it. Tonight, though, it feels like it's back to normal."

The paddock was buzzing with activity, which wasn't the case for Pace Night 2020.

Paddock Judge Jim Kopacz remembers how quiet it was last year due to COVID restrictions allowing for fewer horses and grooms and no drivers in the paddock.

"[The drivers] had to stay in their parked cars and they would pick the horses up outside, they weren't technically allowed in the paddock," said Kopacz, who's worked in the paddock for 25 years, the last four as paddock judge. "It's a very important night tonight, there's a lot going on, but I take my job as every race is important. I try not to have anything get by me."

The Big M's top owner, Tom Pollack, was checking out all of his horses prior to the races, something he chose not to do last year, even though he had a longshot in the 2020 Pace.

"We had been here two weeks prior and we drew well but knew he was an outsider and chose not to come back because of COVID and the issues with traveling," said Pollack, who lives outside of Pittsburgh, PA. "I think with everyone able to shed the masks and not having to do the paperwork and just moving freely, it's got a very different feel. It's kind of back to normal in my mind."

Hall of Famer Jimmy Takter was part of the 2020 Pace festivities as his daughter, Nancy, trained the winner, Tall Dark Stranger.

"Winning a big race like the Meadowlands Pace meant a lot for us," said Takter. "Nancy pulled it off, I was never able to do it and it was special. There were a few owners there but Marvin Katz was stuck in Canada. It would have been special if he was down here, too, but we're back to normal now, it's past. I'm not known to look at the past, I look for the future."

Takter drove in two races Saturday night and thought that no matter what the weather threw at them, the track would be ready.

"They try to get the best track they can for every single race," he said.

The first couple of races went off without a hitch but as the second race victor returned to the winner's circle, a drizzle followed him.

The party atmosphere on the roof wrapped up early as announcer Ken Warkentin advised fans prior to and following the third race to seek shelter in the building from the impending weather.

Meadowlands' president and chief executive officer, Jeff Gural, was happy with how things were going, comparing this year's Pace Night over last year's, except for the weather.

"I don't even remember last year to tell you the truth," said Gural with a chuckle. "It's like I erased it from my memory, because without customers, I wasn't here. I didn't take a chance. It's obviously better [this year], but it's just frustrating that the weather is not cooperating. We have a great facility on good weather days."

One thing that was not affected by the rain was the attendance at either of the track's restaurants, Trotters and Pink, which were at capacity.

"This is electrifying, because it's so great to see everybody enjoying themselves," said Big M executive chef Dennis Sammarone. "Pink is really rocking. Everybody's enjoying the food and having a great time. That's what we do here at The Meadowlands. It's all about service. We always try to give the best service we possibly can."

"I do have a great crew. I can't take all the credit. I give all the credit to them. My staff does a great job. I'd put my buffet up against anybody in the state. At the end of the day, I want to be sure that our guests leave happy."

The sit-down option was not the only one chosen by the fans

that night. The café was crowded and the hot dog cart even had to take a 15-minute break to cook more dogs because of how busy it was.

Track photographer Mike Lisa has been providing photos for owners throughout the pandemic. Unlike last year, for him, Pace Night 2021 felt the way it should and always has prior to the pandemic.

"You definitely feel that energy that you didn't feel last year," said Lisa. "Driving in, I saw people in the parking lot for the [monster] truck thing [at MetLife Stadium as well as the races] and it's like, wow, it's back to normal. Everybody was out, it was great. I'm sure if we had better weather here this place would be packed."

The skies really opened up for the sixth race, which was poor since it was the first of the four shown live on Fox Sports 2.

The rain did let up for the start of The Pace, and fans, including the Governor of New Jersey, Phil Murphy, who presented the trophy to the winner, chose to watch the race outside, but by the half the rain was pouring down again.

Perhaps the one saving grace for the night was that the lightning was never bad enough to cause any race delays.

There's no question that the weather affected the attendance of 6,421, second lowest in Pace history. However, bettors still supported the Pace and the entire card.

Total handle for the night was $4,503,213, marking the second time the Pace Night handle exceeded the $4.5-million mark in the last 13 years. While wagering on the Pace itself was $677,992, the highest handle for the race in the past decade.
