Tiger appeals Meadowlands Pace result, calls Charlie May “David” vs. Goliath

The owner of homebred Charlie May believes judges that disqualified his horse for interference made a mistake not interviewing the drivers.

by Brett Sturman

On Monday (July 19), owner Don Tiger formally appealed the decision that resulted in a disqualification of his homebred 3-year-old gelding Charlie May in Saturday's (July 17) $700,000 Meadowlands Pace.

Quoting the letter that was both faxed and overnighted to Meadowlands Racetrack and New Jersey Racing Commission, Tiger believes that disqualification decision that resulted in Charlie May being placed ninth after finishing first was both “arbitrary and capricious.” In requesting the audio and video tape of the race as well as the judges’ telephone call log from that day to be held as evidence, Tiger noted separately to his fellow owners, trainers, and drivers that his intent isn’t to hold up purse winnings, but to simply be able to challenge the process with material facts in hopes that the judges will reconsider their initial decision.

Speaking to Tiger on Tuesday while he was en route to provide judge because no matter what you do somebody is going to be happy and somebody isn't, but the main points why I filed the appeal is because the judges didn't talk to any of the drivers after the race," Tiger said. "And I know that's the Meadowlands' policy, but in a race of this magnitude on a rainy night with limited visibility, you have to be able to get the people involved that were on the racetrack. You need to be able to talk to people. My point is that the judges should go above and beyond in a race of that magnitude to get as much data as possible when making a decision. So, that's one of the things we're looking towards as we start producing evidence. We want the chance to provide more facts and more information and then see where it goes."

Replay available here.

It may come as a surprise to some that driver interviews are not standard operating procedure at the Meadowlands. And I'm certain there are times when video evidence is conclusive and there isn't a need for judges to entertain participant input as part of a decision, but this instance seemed far from it.

The issue at hand is prior to a second-over Charlie May interfering with Rockyroad Hanover approaching the three-quarter pole and subsequently scattering the trailing horses, did he first incur interference from the first-over and bumpy gaited Southwind Gendry as the event that first kicked off the chain of interference? It's completely within the realm of possibility that he did, but it's incredibly difficult to know for sure.

Tiger has no doubt that Charlie May suffered interference from Southwind Gendry.

"I talked to a professional driver and he said that all you have to do is go watch Yannick Gingras (driver of Southwind Gendry) and see how he turns around in the sulky (immediately before the alleged interference). No one first up ever turns around in the sulky like that. Guys in the lead do so because you want to see where other horses are to open your horse, but he's moving and rolling. That's a sign that you're in trouble and looking to notify other drivers, safety first. That's all you need to know, and the rest is irrelevant."

Tiger said that those drivers involved would be deposed as part of the appeal process.

For Tiger, he insists that the appeal isn't about him and isn't about the money.

"It's about (trainer) Steve Carter, (driver) Brett Miller, Dustin Bothman and Ben Lindsey, second trainer and groom. I own Charlie May 100 per cent, but he's their horse. And the reason I'm fighting is for those guys because it was their moment. I'm just a fan, really. But those guys, this is their livelihood, and this is what they do, and I'll spend the money for them because they've done everything right by me and by Charlie May and hope that they get their day. And down the road I hope the horse continues to perform well for those guys because that's what it's all about.

"It's not about the money. Who cares? I'll make more money on these other races and I won't even keep the money (from the Meadowlands Pace) if they put my number up. I'll give $35,000 to the sixth through 10th place finishers because it was a crazy race, a bad environment with the weather, a lot of things happened and, in my opinion, everyone deserves at least 5 per cent of the purse."

In hopes that the fairy tale life and career of Charlie May which began when Tiger first rescued his dam from a kill-pen and then bred her, Tiger said, "I'm hoping that the judges can get all of the people involved and get more time where you have an hour to look at it and can get input and say, 'Alright, we made a bad decision.' And that's all you can do is hope for the little guy. I'm the little guy, man, I've got two horses, that's it. I've got Charlie May and his brother, Shane Falco. And Charlie May – he's not even a big horse – he's a mighty mite. He's David. And to go and do what he's done, he needs his name in the record books. I want to see people around him happy and see what he's accomplished."

Perhaps channeling his own inner Shane Falco from the film, The Replacements, Tiger said, "Because the cool thing is, regardless of whatever they do, every time they play that replay and show that race, they're always going to call Charlie May the winner. They can't take that away from us."

Perspective is important when evaluating the Ontario Sires Stakes program

by Dave Briggs

It always confounds me when people complain about the Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) program. The OSS long has been one of the leading breed development programs in the sport with the proof in the quality of standardbreds Ontario produces today compared to 30 years ago. As just one example, Ontario-sired horses have won the Meadowlands Pace in each of the last three years – Best In Show in 2019, Tall Dark Stranger in 2020 and Lawless Shadow in 2021 (though that result is under appeal).

There's no doubt the OSS is the single biggest factor in elevating the Ontario breed.

Add to that extremely low sustaining and starting fees, a plethora of opportunities to race for OSS purses at different levels and locations thanks to the province's 12 harness tracks and the big kicker, over $14.5 million CAD (about $11.5 million USD) in total purses in 2021. That makes the OSS near the top of the list when compared to U.S. jurisdictions, even when factoring in conversion rates. This year, the Ontario program also features an additional $2.6 million in total breeding reward incentives, making the total value of the province's Standardbred Improvement Program (SIP) more than $18 million (about $14.3 million USD).

Recently, there's been some grumbling on social media from OSS participants about 11-horse fields and purse distribution between the Gold and Grassroots Series – which is the eternal argument between those that feel excellence should be rewarded and those that have a more socialist, spread-the-wealth view.

Perhaps said grumbling is the product of a pandemic hangover and desperation to earn as much as possible in a lockdown-shortened year; which would be understandable.

While most don't complain about total purses, it's never a bad idea to evaluate the value of the programs for some perspective.

A number of U.S. jurisdictions also offer a huge amount in sires stakes purses and breed development funds, giving many regions considerable value for the horse owner.

My point is Ontario is certainly still among the best of them, despite the additional challenges for U.S. horsepeople due to being on the other side of an international border.

The comparison with leading jurisdictions is as follows (and please keep in mind that there have been recent fluctuations in most regions due to the COVID-19 shuttering either casinos, racing or both. Most breed development programs are funded by either casino revenue or pari-mutuel wagering impacted by pandemic closures):

By most measures, Pennsylvania is the leading jurisdiction. In 2020, over $18.4 million in purses were exclusively paid out to the connections of Pennsylvania-sired standardbreds that competed in state-restricted events. That includes over $1.9 million in purses to the Pennsylvania fairs. In 2020, Pennsylvania also had a breeders awards program worth about $2 million – which was about half of what it has been in previous years – pushing the total value of the commonwealth's standardbred breed development program for 2020 over $20 million.

Ohio has one of the hottest sires stakes program on the continent. In 2020, the total value of the state's breed development purses for Ohio-breds was over $18.1 million, with the largest pots coming in the Ohio Sires Stakes (nearly $7 million), the Ohio county fairs circuit (just shy of $5.5 million) and the Buckeye Stallion Series (over $3.3 million). Quite a few other stakes events restricted to Ohio-sired standardbreds, including The Next Generation and Ohio Breeders Championships, etc. also received funding from the program.

Total New York Sires Stakes (NYSS) purses for the year won't be finalized until the end of August because its Excelsior and County Fair races depend on the number of horses entered and divisions needed. However, it is estimated the NYSS will have total purses of some $10.2 million this year. That's down due to COVID-19. Normally, total purses in the NYSS average between $14-15 million annually. The total value of New York's program in 2021 – counting breeders rewards and a contribution to the purses of the Empire Breeders Class stakes – is estimated to be $11.65 million.

Indiana has significantly raised its sires stakes game in recent years. It features total Indiana Sires Stakes purses of some $7.9 million in 2021 and a total breed development program of $12.6 million.

Notable, as well, is the fact the Kentucky and Massachusetts programs have advanced rapidly in recent years due to establishing dual-eligibility programs. Also, the New Jersey program has rebounded nicely in recent years and just announced it will raise purses by 20 per cent for 2022.

By comparison, the total sires stakes purses in Ontario – even when converting to U.S. dollars – likely ranks it third at some $11.5 million, behind Pennsylvania ($18.4 million) and Ohio ($18.1 million).

Considering most of the OSS purses are funded by a three per cent cut from wagering in Ontario – not government handouts or casino revenue – that's pretty impressive, especially when you add in that in recent years the split of those wagering dollars is 55/45 in favor of the thoroughbreds. A few years ago, thoroughbred interests successfully lobbied for a higher cut of Ontario's total Horse Improvement Program (HIP) that comes from wagering because more is bet in the province on thoroughbred racing.

That total OSS purses in 2021 have remained nearly on par with recent years in the post-Slots at Racetracks Program (SARP) era that used to fund it is a minor miracle considering total horse racing wagering in Ontario was down some $200 million in 2020 due mostly to COVID-19 lockdowns that halted racing. That meant a total deficit of some $6 million for 2021 to HIP that is shared between standardbreds, thoroughbreds and quarter horses.

"HIP is primarily funded from wagering, so if wagering is off then it creates a challenge for the program... Fortunately, we had a bit in reserve and there's also other reserve funds that we could tap into, so we only reduced purses a little bit this year in the Sires Stakes," said Jamie Martin, the director of racing operations for Grand River Raceway. Martin serves on the Standardbred Horse Improvement Administration Committee at Ontario Racing that determines the structure of the OSS and Ontario's breed development programs. Also on the committee are chair Bill O'Donnell, along with Mark Horner, Jessica Buckley and Walter Parkinson.

Trainer John Bax has long been an advocate of the OSS program and served countless years on committees that helped determine its structure.

"I think we're very fortunate that they were able to keep the Sires Stakes whole this year," Bax said, adding there was talk of dropping Grassroots purses. Instead, divisions are regularly going for between $21,000 and $22,000, which is on par with 2020. "They were able to scrounge up the money and make it whole. I don't know what's going to happen for next year, but we hear this all the time."

While even longer lockdowns in 2021 are expected to mean lower total wagering this year, which in theory will decrease

OSS purses for 2022, Martin said he expects next year's sires stakes purses to remain on par with this year.

"I am fairly optimistic that we'll be able to maintain these purses next year," Martin said, adding that he believes that some money can be found other places and wagering will rebound somewhat this year despite racing being halted for the much of the first half of 2021.

As for the more frequent appearance of some 11-horse fields in OSS events, which has been rare in the past, Martin said he thinks that's more about bad luck than anything in terms of the number of entries than a conscious effort to save money by loading OSS races with more horses – i.e. 22 horses enter and Woodbine Mohawk Park finds it preferable to have two fields of 11 rather than three fields featuring two seven-horse fields and one with eight horses.

"The other thing you look at is how many overnight horses you have in the box because the more Sires Stakes they run, the fewer overnights they run. It's about getting other people raced, too," Martin said. "If you have a ton of Sires Stakes horses in the box and you've got a ton of overnights in the box, then you can't be running some short Sires Stakes fields."

"It's a balance, but I think it's just been a bad run and the numbers haven't worked out too great for the people entering. Specifically, it's a Grassroots issue. For the Golds, there's no real cost difference because it's so much per event and if it splits two or three or four ways then it just splits the purse. It's still $190,000 total (per Gold event).

"Grassroots is different, so the Grassroots it's per event so the more races that are run, the more money it costs us out of the Sires Stakes program so if there's sensitivity, there's probably more sensitivity on splitting Grassroots too small because it creates more race and, therefore, more cost."

As for funding the Gold and Grassroots, Martin said the committee was careful to make equal cuts to both sides of the program this year, partly because the issue of where the money should be allocated has been debated for many years.

"There are way more people racing in the Grassroots than the Gold, so if it's a vote then the Grassroots always wins. That's a challenge, but do we want to have a program of excellence? Breeders have a view and those racing horses obviously have a view and it depends what kind of horse you race, too," Martin said.

One thing most Ontario breeders and participants should agree on is that, despite imperfections, they are lucky to have such a strong sires stakes program and they should never forget the importance of being customer-conscious in providing a bettable product to help drive wagering to keep the OSS strong.

Dover In Motion makes instant impression

Swan In Motion's brother made his career debut a winning one in Indiana Sires Stakes competition for owners M & M Racing of Goshen, IN, and Norbert Maza of Burbank, IL, trainer Jamie Macomber and driver Ricky Macomber, Jr.

by James Platz

Dover In Motion did not turn in the fastest mile on the program held Friday (July 16) at Harrah's Hoosier Park. In fact, his winning time was not even the fastest of three Indiana Sires Stakes (ISS) events that evening for freshman trotting colts. Trotting almost 20 lengths off the lead at the halfway point, the gelding produced the most memorable back half on the card, rallying to reach the wire before all others and stopping the clock in 1:56.3. The son of Dover Dan—Keystone Sadie made an impressive statement in his pari-mutuel debut for owners M & M Racing of Goshen, IN, and Norbert Maza of Burbank, IL.

Indiana

"He trained super the other day. You never know this early in the game," said Jamie Macomber, who conditions Dover In Motion for the partnership. "The other day training he did the same thing; we drew off in the stretch, so you know he's got it, you know he wants it, you know he likes it. But nobody knows that your 2-year-old trotting colt has a back half in :54 until they do it."

Fans of Indiana racing may feel a sense of deja vu. After all, Macomber conditioned Dover In Motion's big brother, Swan In Motion, for two seasons for the same owners. The arrangement worked well for all parties. Over those two campaigns, Swan In Motion accumulated an 8-7-2 record in 22 starts, banking $396,845 for the connections. As a sophomore, the trotter captured the $270,000 Indiana Sires Stakes Super Final before selling for $65,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale last fall.

The partnership used the success of Swan In Motion, and his subsequent earnings and sale, to reload for 2021. They purchased his sibling, bred by Lyle Slabach, at last October's Hoosier Classic sale, hoping to have another stakes-caliber horse in the making. From the first crop of Dover Dan, the colt, named Kwik Kramer, was cataloged as Hip 185 as part of the Integrity Stables consignment. He brought $50,000, with Ora Miller signing the ticket. The price tied for the third highest shelled out for a Dover Dan yearling, and the second highest-priced colt from the sire over the two sessions.

"It was uncomfortable to me, but he was the only horse I really wanted," Miller said of the amount the yearling fetched. "I watched when they recorded his yearling video. That's when my mind was made up. This horse was a natural. He was much better gaited than Swan In Motion ever was."

Miller developed Dover In Motion over the winter and spring. The freshman would have arrived at Macomber's shedrow at Hoosier Park in March, but an abscess delayed the move and his debut. The trotter did not see his first action until qualifying on July 7 at Hoosier Park. That day he sat in the pocket for Ricky Macomber Jr. until turning for home. Dover In Motion sprinted home in :28.1 and finished more than three lengths in front, timed in 1:59.3. The result was not a surprise to Miller, who had attempted to train the freshman the Saturday before with a pair of pacers. It didn't work out as planned, as his charge marched away from the other two.

"I trained him here in 2:05 and I never asked him to do it," he said. "I've never had a 2-year-old trotter train like that here. I was hanging onto him. He trotted the last quarter by himself."

Macomber describes the gelding as a perfect gentleman. Since settling in at Hoosier Park, the young trotter likes to stand with his head over the gate in his stall, watching everything that takes place in the barn. When comparing Dover In Motion to his Swan For All brother, she explained they only have one thing in common.

"They're like two different horses. Their builds are different, their gait is different, their color is different. So far, what we're seeing is that they both like their job," she said.

Making his debut in sires stakes nine days after the qualifier, Dover In Motion drew post 10, a trailing position at Hoosier Park. Conditions were not optimal Friday evening, with rain in central Indiana downgrading the track to a "good" rating. When the gate folded, Ricky Macomber patiently took a seat in eighth as Racer Dan and James Yoder set the tempo with fractions of :27.4 and :57.2 before relinquishing to the first-up Golden Elixir at three quarters (1:27.1). Rounding the turn and heading home, the distance between Dover In Motion and the leaders seemed insurmountable. But the 2-year-old shifted into another gear and stormed down the center of the track, using a :27.1 last quarter to brush past most of the field on the way to a two and one-half length margin of victory. Racer Dan, another Dover Dan colt, held on for second, followed by Sweet Boy Ben.

"In the stretch you're thinking, 'Oh my gosh he's not going to get there,' but he's racing great," said Macomber. "All the credit goes to Ora for getting him ready."

Miller is accustomed to taking difficult trotters and pacers that nobody wanted and making racehorses of them. Dover In Motion is not like the other project horses that have passed through the barn. He required little extra attention, simply a regimen of jogging and training. With a win under his belt, Dover In Motion will be targeted as one of the top in the division when the next sires stakes leg goes postward. His connections hope there are more winning miles to come.

"First of all, you just hope that he comes out of it okay," said Macomber. "I'm just happy with the 56 mile; pleased and thrilled with him. It's going to be a good summer."

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Ryan Verhage on winning half of his drives on Michigan fair card

by Chris Lomon

It was a day that produced a somewhat irritating loss for Ryan Verhage, but also four big wins.

The afternoon of July 15 was a memorable one, at least on the racetrack, for the 30-year-old driver/trainer from Michigan.

At the end of the racing card at Big Rapids, a fair circuit track about a three-hour drive northwest of Detroit, Verhage had won half of his eight drives, along with a second, third, fourth and seventh.

The majority of those results offset an off-track loss, specifically, the misplacing of his cell phone.

"Life is pretty good," said Verhage, with a laugh. "I left my phone on the bed of my truck and drove off, so I had to end up getting a new one. Winning those four races was definitely the best part of the day."

Courtesy Ryan Verhage

Ryan Verhage in the winner's circle in Michigan with two of his three boys.

The best part of his standardbred career came in 2018, the year he started driving and training.

It was something he had long hoped for.

"My uncle, Joe Seekman, he had a big stable and I used to go out on the weekends and visit him and my cousins, Travis and Jared. I started jogging there and training, and I just fell in love with it. Joe has been a big part of my life and still is to this day. He always has a bunch of horses, so I go down and help him and visit. That's it right there, the love of the game for me."

As for his driving colors, Verhage drew inspiration from a reinsman who is closing in on 8,900 career wins, a veteran who produced a career high 721 wins in 2009.

"Jason Bartlett, I kind of went off his [colors]. When I was living in New York, I was always around Jason. He loved playing basketball and we played basketball a lot. He's a great guy. So, I went off his design. Some day, I'd like to be like him. He's one of the best half-mile drivers out there."

A solid rookie campaign by Verhage, one that yielded 25 training triumphs and 19 victories in the race bike, was followed by even more success in his sophomore season.

After enduring a tougher third year, he has responded with a strong 2021 campaign, posting solid numbers on both his driving and training stat sheets.

While he's endured his fair share of ups and downs, career wise, there is one particular aspect of his horse racing life that has remained a constant.

"I hoping things get better here in Michigan over the next few years. There have been some tough times in recent years, but I'm doing my best to be patient and to be optimistic about the future of racing in the state, mostly because I love Michigan and stay here. We don't go for much money – I could go out east or somewhere else – but I'd rather stay here. Hopefully, it gets better in the next few years.

"I see the money going up a little bit, but it feels like it's taking forever. All my horses are half-mile horses and they suit the tracks here. We also have great horsepeople in Michigan, who have decided to stay here. Hopefully, they stayed here to see it get better."

Verhage currently has four horses in his stable, owning shares in all of them.

Simply adding a horse, here and there, to his stable isn't his goal.

"I think it all comes down to finding the right horse for your program and I've been very lucky that way. I like to claim a lot of horses out of Northfield. Lately, I've been working hard to find the horses that are the best fit for me. When I claim, it's not just about adding numbers to my barn. It has to be about that right fit."

He's learned something from every pacer or trotter that's come through his barn over the years.

High Flying Sara, a bay daughter of Jeremes Jet (ON), may have provided Verhage with the biggest education – and challenge – he's received to date.

Bred by Andray Farm in Punxsutawney, PA, the pacing miss, originally a $16,000 purchase at the 2012 Standardbred Horse Sales Company's yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA, was a wild child on the racetrack, at least in any scenario outside of an actual race.

Verhage's connection with the 10-year-old mare, who went 35-34-33 in 256 starts, accompanied by $150,049 in lifetime earnings, isn't over.

"She's not the easiest horse to be around. She can't jog, really. She's out of control, but she's really helped me over the last few years of having her. Now, she's a broodmare. You'll never get a horse that's the same and for me, it's a big plus."

Verhage was a part of history with another horse, T Red.

Last August at Western Michigan Fair in Ludington, he drove the 14-year old gelding to his 100th career win, the milestone an open-length victory.

It remains one of Verhage's biggest highlights to date.

"Winning with T Red, I'm pretty proud of that. I was also really happy to win a Michigan Sires Stakes [3-Year-Old Filly Pace, last September at Northville Downs] with Meggie May I. She wasn't an easy horse to drive, so that was a special win too. It would be nice to have more wins like that. It's what you always push yourself for, to get those chances to drive and train nice horses."

When he's not in the sulky, Verhage is very much the prototypical family man, relishing any opportunity to spend time with his three sons, Lucas, Emmett and Hunter.

They've all taken a shine to the horses.

"It's great to see them spending time and enjoying the horses. It's nice to have that time together. And when I'm not busy in Michigan, I'll head to Indiana to hang out with Travis and Jared. Really, I just enjoy everything to do with family."

When it comes to his racing, Verhage is determined to stay put in Michigan, eager to see the industry's fortunes take a turn for the better.

He knows that won't happen overnight, but he's buoyed by the passion of horsepeople throughout the Wolverine State, a group that includes Verhage.

Verhage's three sons Lucas, Emmett and Hunter.

"Personally, I want to keep pushing forward and have a decent stable. My long-term goal is to keep everything, my life and my career, happy. I'm fighting for racing in Michigan and I want to see it succeed and get better from the way it is now."

HOW MUCH DID YOU BET TODAY?

NZ-based Ray Green finally has his champion at age 75 with Copy That

The former employee of Billy Haughton was delighted when his charge defeated chief rival King Of Swing in the Group 1 Sunshine Sprint at Albion Park.

by Adam Hamilton

(Editor's note: HRU is pleased to expand its coverage to Australia and New Zealand. We are proud to announce that every two weeks, beginning today, we will feature the work of veteran horse racing journalist Adam Hamilton, the TABCorp head of media communications and talent).

When Ray Green was working for Billy Haughton back in the 1980s, he let his mind wander to one day training a champion of his own.

In a rewarding story of persistence, the New Zealand-based Green has found that champion deep into the twilight of his career as a 75-year-old.

Copy That, a compact 4-year-old son of American Ideal, is the best horse Green has trained and his first true champion. He took his record to 21 wins (and 10 placings) from just 40 starts when he upstaged Australasia's best pacer, King Of Swing, in the Group 1 Sunshine Sprint at Albion Park in Brisbane last Saturday night (July 17).

He locks horns again with King Of Swing and a great support case in Queensland's biggest race, the $250,000 Group 1 Blacks A Fake, this Saturday night (July 24).

"He is the best horse I've had, the horse I've been looking for all my career. He was the best of his 3-year-old crop at home and he's stepped straight into open-class racing so successfully. It's so exciting," Green said.

His champion driver Anthony Butt added: "He's got the world at his feet now. His manners are perfect, he's the complete package, so versatile."

But it wasn't always that way.

"Oh no, he was very challenging early. He could gallop in a heartbeat and for no reason. He took a lot of time to get right, but he always had amazing raw speed," Green said.

Green's experience and learnings from stints all-around the world, including three different periods in North America, have no doubt helped him educate and shape Copy That.

"I've been lucky to have travelled a lot in my life and to have trained in some great places with some terrific people," he said. "My first stint was in North Wales of all places, where I trained back in 1972 for the last season of racing at the Prestatin track before it closed. After that I had some time at Torino in northern Italy."

And what about the U.S.?

"Three stints there at different times, at Florida a couple of times and three years in Maryland as well," Green said. "I worked for Billy Haughton, who was a terrific person and gave me a great opportunity. He was a real legend. It was a great learning time, but very different because it was a factory-type operation, huge and quite impersonal."

These days Green is the head trainer of the huge Lincoln Farms operation, at Pukekohe, just outside Auckland in New Zealand. Their business model is to buy yearlings, develop them and sell. Ironically, something Green did with King Of Swing, who was sold to Western Australia for huge money as an early three-year-old.

"I loved him. It's hard to let them go when they are that good, but money talks," he said. "Copy That was sold as well, but thankfully, Merv Butterworth (his Australian owner) elected to leave him with us to train and that's been a real bonus."

After this week's Blacks A Fake, Copy That returns home for a short spell before aiming at NZ's biggest race, the Group 1 NZ Cup, at Addington in Christchurch on Nov. 9. He was favourite for last year's Cup, but a shambolic standing start ruined his chances.

Easy win in Finland for Face Time Bourbon

by Thomas Hedlund

The $190,000 S:t Michel-ajo mile race was held in Mikkeli, Finland on Sunday (July 18) afternoon and French world champion Face Time Bourbon (Ready Cash) had no opponents that could stop him from capturing the big trophy.

However, a heavy rain, hours before the race was scheduled, ruined all plans for a new world record on a 5/8 mile track, so the objective of winning the race became the most important thing for driver Eric Raffin.

Finnish-bred Next Direction left quickly for the lead and with a half mile to go, Face Time Bourbon had worked his way against the leader and was in front. The pace wasn't especially high, but with 500 meters to go, Raffin let Face Time Bourbon take off and the duo left pocket-sitter and the rest of the gang several lengths behind.

Raffin, a top driver in France, charmed the fans by winning the Paralympiatravet at Åby in May paired with Delia du Pommereux (where Raffin got fined and suspended for using the whip, which he hardly did) and it was pretty clear that he enjoyed the trip behind champion trotter Face Time Bourbon in Finland. Raffin cheered with the great audience in Mikkeli at the top of the home stretch. He had a fun, enjoyable trip with the maybe best trotter in the world. Face Time Bourbon flew the last quarter and recorded a 1:52.1 mile. Next Direction was the runner up ahead of Face Time Bourbon's stablemate Billie de Montfort.

Rumors abound that Face Time Bourbon might make a journey across the Atlantic Ocean alter this year, but that scenario seems less likely since Sébastien Guarato's trotter has a very important title, the Prix d'Amérique, to defend in his home country in January next year.

Vernissage Grif in Årjäng

The $115,000 Årjängs Stora Sprinterlopp attracted many great milers when the Swedish V75-circuit landed in the western part of the country on Saturday (July 17) afternoon.

And it was Italian trotters that dominated the prestigious race in Årjäng. Alessandro Gocciadoro wasn't too pleased when he earlier in the week noticed that post 1 trotter Tae Kwon Deo was scratched as his own Vernissage Grif had post 2 in the entries list, moving Vernissage Grif to post 1. The Italian chestnut is not known for his quickness off the gate, so number one could have been a trap for him, especially as the two outside horses, Click Bait and Missle Hill, both are known as quick leavers.

It was the latter-named duo that made the fast moves when the car left the field. Click Bait managed to pass Missle Hill before the first turn, but the quick start opened up the field and Gocciadoro could easily lift his Vernissage Grif out in a position in second, third over.

Jerry Riordan trained Zarenne Fas was seen three wide throughout the first turn and he landed outside the leader Click Bait after 600 meters, while Missle Hill followed in second over with Vernissage Grif on his back.

Missle Hill tried to attack three wide at the back stretch, but the Muscle Hill son was out of power this day and behind him, Vernissage Grif got the order to attack four wide in the last turn and the yellow suited Gocciadoro seemed pretty satisfied as he passed Missle Hill and the others.

Zarenne Fas disarmed Click Bait just some meters ahead of the wire, but he was, at that point, already beaten by Vernissage Grif, who almost jogged to safe win in 1:52.1.

Zarenne Fas was extraordinary as the runner up and, without a doubt, the two best horses in the field were Italians.

Millar Farms fillies deliver Gold to delighted owner

Driver James MacDonald, trainer Nick Gallucci and owner/breeder George Millar teamed up to win two of three Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold Series divisions for the 2-year-old pacing fillies at Georgian Downs on Sunday (July 18).

Their first victory came with Silver Label in the first $69,733 division. Starting from Post 5, Silver Label left smartly and settled in behind fan favorite I Love Ongait as that filly led the field of eight to a :27 quarter and :55.2 half. Heading for the third marker MacDonald put Silver Label on the attack and she and I Love Ongait battled to a 1:25.2 three-quarters before Silver Label was able to pull away in the stretch and secure the 1:55.3 victory. I Love Ongait settled for second, three and three-quarter lengths behind the winner, and Darby Ogill completed the top three.

The win was Silver Label's second straight over the Georgian Downs oval. The Bettors Delight daughter toured the Innisfil oval in 1:56 in the Grassroots season opener on July 6.

"I thought that I Love Ongait was a pretty nice horse, and if she could just get a nice piece of it in there I'd be happy," said Millar. "It's a little surreal how well they're racing right now so I am just going to suck it all in and enjoy it while it's here, because I know how fleeting it can be sometimes."

Millar barely had time to enjoy Silver Label's victory before MacDonald and Prohibition Legal were parading for the second $68,933 division. From Post 1 Prohibition Legal sat briefly in third as Stonebridge Thalia stepped out to a :29 quarter. Heading for the :57.4 half, first Speaker Nancy, then favorite Prohibition Legal swept to the front, but Stonebridge Thalia was back out and challenging as Prohibition Legal led the way to the 1:26.1 three-quarters. Prohibition Legal had plenty in reserve however, and sprinted home to a 1:54.1 victory, the Big Jim daughter's second straight in Gold Series action. Love That Smile closed for second and Stonebridge Thalia was third.

"You dream all winter about racing in the big races, but then when you get down to July reality sets in and it doesn't always seem to work out that way. If you wind up with one decent horse, or maybe two out of 10, you consider yourself lucky, and we seem to have a bunch of them right now," said Millar. "You know what, it couldn't happen at a nicer time for me. To see them race so well, and be my homebreds, it's wonderful. I am getting a little bruised where I am pinching myself."

Silver Label and Prohibition Legal are not the only repeat OSS winners in the Millar Farms barn at present. Two-year-old pacing gelding Betterhavemymoney also has two Gold Series wins on his resume. It is also not the first time the Millar Farms team has celebrated two OSS wins in one night. Three-year-old pacing geldings Powertrain and Cantstoplying won their Grassroots divisions at Woodbine Mohawk Park on July 10.

The success has had special meaning for Millar, who underwent a double lung transplant in February and had to give up driving the young horses around his Stouffville, ON farm track during a prolonged recovery (<https://harnessracingupdate.com/2021/07/08/stable-success-helping-millar-heal-from-double-lung-transplant-horror-story/>).

"I don't know, ever since I stopped driving the horses so much and I went to the hospital and got my new lungs, they all seem to be racing better, so maybe somebody is trying to tell me something; I shouldn't be training them so much and leave it up to the guys that know what they're doing," quipped Millar. "Nick's (Gallucci) just doing a wonderful job. I think he's really enjoying the transition over to racing young horses."

"Every time we win a Sires Stakes race I buy him and his wife dinner and I said, 'This is starting to get expensive,'" added Millar with a chuckle.

In the third $68,933 division Fade Out and driver Doug McNair fired out of Post 7 and took control just past the :27.4 quarter, then carried on to a :57 half and 1:26 three-quarters before battling down the stretch to a one-half length win in 1:55.3. Speak Your Mind finished second and Dewitt for Josie was third. Favorite Better Double Flip finished fifth.

"She raced good; she went a big trip there tonight. She was out quite a long ways making front. I thought she went a pretty good trip, and she fought them off pretty good," said trainer Gregg McNair. "She never made a mistake all winter, but I wouldn't say that we were thinking we'd maybe win a Gold with her."

McNair shares ownership of Fade Out with Dean Lockhart of Collingwood and McKinlay & Fielding of Toronto, ON. The partners offered up $20,000 for the daughter of Sportswriter at last fall's Black Book Yearling Sale.

Fade Out started her career in the Grassroots, finishing second to Silver Label on July 6, and the pair could meet up again in the Battle Of The Belles eliminations at Grand River Raceway on Monday, July 26. Prohibition Legal will skip that event and prep for the third Gold Series Leg at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Aug. 17.

Complete results from Sunday's program are available here and replays can be viewed on the Georgian Downs website.

Next up on Georgian Downs' Ontario Sires Stakes schedule is the second Gold Series Leg for the exciting three-year-old pacing colts on Sunday, July 25, which could feature the return to Ontario of Meadowlands Pace winner Lawless Shadow.

I Did It Myway stays perfect with PASS score

Following wins in the Geers Stakes and his first Pennsylvania Sire Stakes preliminary, I Did It Myway ($3.00) ran his career record to a perfect three-for-three with a 1:52.2 score in his $54,020 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes division for 2-year-old pacing colts and geldings on Sunday (July 18) at Harrah's Philadelphia.

The son of Captaintreacherous and Flyme To The Moon yielded to Birthday on the first turn before accelerating to clear the lead at the conclusion of a :27.4 first quarter. From that point on, I Did It Myway lived up to his name — he traveled unchallenged through middle splits of :57.1 and 1:24.4. Still 1-1/2 lengths in front at the eighth pole, I Did It Myway dug in stoutly to repel a late challenge from pocket rival Birthday by a half-length. Threshold finished third, another 5-1/4 lengths behind.

Todd McCarthy drove I Did It Myway for trainer Tony Alagna and the partnership of Country Club Acres, Joe Sbrocco, Don Latore, and Alagna and Fodera Racing.

Night Hawk ($11.80) also kept a perfect record intact, lifting from the pocket to overpower 1-2 favorite JM's Finaltreasure in the $53,620 second division. In line to David Miller, the son of Betting Line and Night Music angled out of the pocket off the home turn and edged 1-1/4 lengths clear of the longtime pacesetter to win in 1:52. Brian Brown trains the two-time winner for William Donovan, Acadia Farms, Joe Sbrocco and In The Gym Partners.

The $54,020 first division saw All The Chips ($18.80) break a string of three second-place finishes in as many starts with a resounding 3-1/2-length win in 1:52.2. Tim Tetrack controlled the terms with the Betting Line-Mastery Blue Chip gelding, rating early splits of :28.1 and :56.4 before using identical :27.4 sectionals in the back half to edge clear of runner-up Atlas Hanover. Cory Mumford trains All The Chips for Frank Chick and James Fleming.

A quintet of $20,000 Stallion Series events for rookie pacing colts and geldings served as supporting events on the 15-race card, with Captain Cowboy's 1:52.3 mile the fastest winner on the lower circuit. Yannick Gingras drove the son of Captaintreacherous and Odds On Lassomyhr for trainer Åke Svanstedt. David Miller notched a Stallion Series double with Hammering Hank (1:53) and Boardwalk Bet (1:54.4), while Vicious (1:52.4, Dexter Dunn) and Bring The Bling (1:53.4, Tetrack) also won their divisions.

Imextraspecial and HP Mama B light up Georgian Downs

Imextraspecial and HP Mama B sprinted around Georgian Downs on Saturday (July 17) to claim the winner's share of $101,400 in their respective 3-year-old trotting filly Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold Series divisions.

Imextraspecial opened Saturday's program with a stalking trip behind pacesetter Dashing Muscle. Starting from Post 3, driver Trevor Henry tucked the fan favorite in behind Dashing Muscle as that filly led the field of eight through fractions of :27.1, :56.4 and 1:25.3, and then tipped out of the pocket and powered down the stretch to a 1:55 victory. Dashing Muscle settled for second, one length behind Imextraspecial, and You Will Be Queen was four and three-quarter lengths back in third.

Paul Walker trains Imextraspecial for owner Keith Coulter of Mono, ON and Walker said the Muscle Mass filly looks ready to battle in the Gold Series again this season.

"She had a good winter. She trained well all winter. She put one bad race in when we brought her back, but everything else has been pretty good with her," said Walker. "It's going to be a little tougher this year for sure. It depends how you draw and stuff, but if she stays like she is she'll be right there digging."

Last season, Imextraspecial won two Grassroots and three Gold Series starts for earnings of $223,128. Saturday's victory improved the filly's sophomore Ontario Sires Stakes record to one win and one second for earnings of $81,750.

"She's got a great stride on her when she races and she tries, even the last Gold there she couldn't beat that mare of Ben's (Baillargeon), but she kept trying. She won't give up," said Walker of Imextraspecial's runner-up finish to HP Mama B in the July 1 Gold Series season opener at Woodbine Mohawk Park. "We're just fortunate that she's come back pretty good. Hopefully we can keep her that way. As I say, she's not going to win them all, but she'll be digging for it anyway."

None of the fillies in Saturday's second $101,400 Gold divisions could catch HP Mama B either. Driver Sylvain Filion fired the favorite out of Post 3 and HP Mama B hit the quarter in :27.3 before dialing the tempo back on her way to a :57.3 half. Comfortably in front at the 1:26 three-quarters, Filion opened the filly up around the final turn and she was able to coast home a two length winner in 1:54.3, just one-fifth of a second shy of the three-year-old trotting filly track record. Meadowview Lilly and Up And Ready closed well to be second and third, but could not catch HP Mama B.

"The mare is very good right now. She's strong, she can leave pretty good, and she gets it her own way right now," said trainer Ben Baillargeon. "One of these days somebody will try her, like try to park her or something, but right now she's tough. She goes to the front and gets little breather, and the race is over. One of these days she won't get a breather and we'll see how really good she is, but right now we're very happy."

Baillargeon trains HP Mama B for his wife, Guylaine Picard of Guelph, ON, and their family friend Celine Paquin of Ayers Cliff, QC. The Royalty For Life filly is two-for-two in Gold Series action and also had a win in overnight action on June 18, giving her sophomore earnings of $114,200. As a two-year-old HP Mama B won two Grassroots Legs, her Semi-Final and the Grassroots Championships for earnings of $76,087.

"I am just hoping it keeps going. The more it keeps going, the better it is for me," said Baillargeon. "She's strong, she takes good care of herself and she likes what she's doing. She's a good eater, a big horse, and hopefully stays like that."

The 3-year-old trotting fillies will have their next opportunity to reel in HP Mama B in the third Gold Series Leg on Aug. 6 at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Complete results from Saturday's races are available here and replays can be viewed on the Georgian Downs website.

Elora fans get first look at freshman pacing colts in Grassroots action

Stews Watching got his second straight Ontario Sires Stake (OSS) Grassroots win on Monday, July 19 and Grand River Raceway fans may get a second look at the 2-year-old pacing colt next Monday in the Battle Of Waterloo eliminations.

"I'll talk to Mr. Ratchford and I would say there's probably a good possibility that we'll try him in the Battle of Waterloo," said Dr. Ian Moore, who trains the colt for Ratchford Stable NS of North Sydney, NS. "I've got three other colts I might take up this year and I would say he'd probably want to go with him too. Sylvain (Filion) said he was good, he had lots left."

In spite of a brief bobble leaving from Post 4, Stews Watching was in command by the halfway marker and never faced a challenge. The Hes Watching son and driver Sylvain Filion sailed home two and one-half lengths the best in 1:55.1. Hashtag Watch Me and Stone Carver followed the fan favorite under the wire in second and third. (replay here: Stews Watching)

"Two-for-two for Stew," said Moore, referring to the colt's 1:55 win in the July 9 Grassroots season opener. "He's a sweet little colt. He's turned into a real good little horse."

Driver James MacDonald of Guelph, ON captured the next two Grassroots divisions, the first with Century Invictus and the second with My Blueberry Buck, and said the colts share both a lack of size and an abundance of skill with Stews Watching.

Starting from Post 2, MacDonald sent Century Invictus straight to the front and the fan favorite rolled along in comfort to a 1:55.2 personal best. Nassau Hanover was one and three-quarter lengths back in second and ATS Hanover was five lengths back in third. (replay here: Century Invictus)

"He drew inside and he's a great-gaited horse, so I figured I'd try and take advantage of his strong suits and get him away close and see what happened," said MacDonald. "He landed on the front, he felt good the whole way and when I growled at him on the last turn he just took off like an aged horse. He's just getting a little bit better every time he races."

Johnathan McKinnon trains the son of Bettors Delight for fractional ownership group TheStable.ca Century Invictus of Guelph, ON. The gelding won an overnight event at Hanover Raceway on June 26 and then finished fourth, after leading for much of the mile, in the Grassroots season opener.

My Blueberry Buck started at the opposite end of the gate, at Post 8, but MacDonald opted for the same strategy. The Thinking Out Loud gelding led the field through fractions of :28; :58.1 and 1:27.1 before sailing down the stretch to a two and one-quarter length win over fan favorite Lyons Pride and Highborn in a personal best 1:56. (replay here: My Blueberry Buck)

"I raced that horse at Grand River a couple of weeks back so I knew he liked the track. The eight-hole sucks, but he'd already zipped out of there once at that track and he had some gate speed at Mohawk, so I knew it was there, and I knew I didn't really have to watch him because he's got a beautiful way of going," said MacDonald. "It was a good trip for him and got the job done."

Nick Gallucci trains My Blueberry Buck for owner/breeder Millar Farms. The gelding posted a 1:59.3 victory at Grand River Raceway on June 30 before finishing second in the July 9 Grassroots season opener. With one win and one second, he currently sits second in the freshman pacing colt standings, behind Stews Watching.

Sports Section started his OSS career in the Gold Series, but found the Grassroots much more to his liking on Monday. The Sportswriter son, in rein to Grand River Raceway's leading driver Colin Kelly, sat mid-pack through the early going but after taking command just past the three-quarter marker he accelerated away from the field to a five and one-quarter length victory in 1:56.2. West Is Best and Southwind Pharoah rounded out the top three.

"I trained him down a fair bit this winter and I really liked him. He was a really nice colt. Jared did a heck of a job, he's just like an old racehorse, you just do whatever with him," said Kelly, who engineered the win for trainer Jared Bako and owner Dale Kerr of London, ON. "He's a big strong colt and he's good gaited, he could be very handy in the future. He can hopefully rebound and build off this start in the Grassroots, and hopefully if he can put a couple good starts in a row together, get his confidence back and everything, he'll be good."

Sports Section qualified smartly on June 25 at Woodbine Mohawk Park, but in the July 3 Gold Series season opener he faded to seventh after duking it out through sharp early fractions.

The final Grassroots division went to fan favorites Still Thirsty and Travis Henry, who went gate-to-wire in 1:56.4, holding off Juju Hanover by three-quarters of a length. Fox Valley Carlin was four lengths behind the leaders in third. (replay here: Still Thirsty)

Henry guided the Thinking Out Loud gelding to his first win for trainer Bob McIntosh of Windsor, ON and his co-owner/breeder C S X Stables of Liberty Center, OH.

The 2-year-old pacing colts will return to Grassroots action on Aug. 16 at Woodbine Mohawk Park, two weeks after some of them hope to appear in Grand River Raceway's Aug. 2 Battle Of Waterloo Final.

Ontario Sires Stakes action continues at the Elora oval on Wednesday, July 28 with the second Gold Series Leg for the two-year-old trotting fillies.

Complete results from Monday's program are available here and replays can be viewed on the Grand River Raceway YouTube channel.

Trotters on fire in Ohio Sires Stakes

Eight trotting divisions of Ohio Sires Stakes (OHSS) were contested Saturday night, July 17 at Northfield Park. Seven $40,000 divisions were for 2-year-old trotters—four for fillies and three for colts—while one $60,000 was held for 3-year-old trotting distaffs.

First, the freshman trotting colts.

Caviar Gold notched the first division for trotting colts as the 3-1 choice for driver Aaron Merriman, who gave the son of Triumphant Caviar a perfect come-from-behind steer to pick up his second lifetime victory in as many tries for trainer Chris Beaver. This homebred, who is owned by Beaver, Manes, Fleming and Zeehandelaar is now a two-time winner in OHSS competition, having captured Leg 1 on July 9 at Scioto Downs in 1:58.3. Guido Di used a perfect two-hole trip to finish second for Brady Brown at 4-1 odds, while 7-5 No Edge Lines was third for driver Kayne Kauffman. Caviar Gold is the third foal out of the Holiday Road mare Gee O'Keeffe 3, 1:55.2h ($90,487) and is a half-brother to the Uncle Peter gelding My Pal Spark 3, 1:59f ($14,957).

Slim Jimmy got a perfect steer by driver Anthony MacDonald to capture the second OHSS test for freshman trotting colts, striding perfectly to the wire to score in a career best 1:56.1. Trained by Jason McGinnis for Thestable Slim Jimmy and Hutchison Harness, the son of Long Tom picked up his first lifetime win as the 3-2 favorite. Body Armor, a 25-1 long-shot, was second for Kayne Kauffman with 35-1 Count The Coin third for Danny Noble. Bred by Midland Acres, Slim Jimmy is the fourth foal out of the Broadway Hall mare Swinging Nadine 2, 1:57.1f ($36,273), with a half-sister in The Nun (by Father Patrick) 2, 1:58.1f ($9,777).

When Gabbys Bit Coin captured the third OHSS test for freshmen trotting colts with Ronnie Wrenn, Jr., at the lines, it gave trainer Chris Beaver his fourth win of the night in OHSS competition. The son of Uncle Peter is owned by Johanna and Chris Beaver, and grabbed his second straight lifetime win for these connections, as he captured Leg 1 of this series one week ago. Rose Run Xtra, the 10-1 choice, was second for Chris Page, with 35-1 Loadedwithcreatine third with Chris Lems at the controls. Gabby's Bit Coin is the first foal out of the Triumphant Caviar mare Gabbysloosechange 3, 1:54.4h ($186,585).

In the freshman trotting fillies' divisions... Blaze Of Justice took advantage of numerous breakers to grab her first career victory in the first OHSS contest for 2-year-old trotting fillies in 2:00.3. Reined by Tyler Smith, the daughter of Long Tom left the gate at 8-1, besting 7-1 Lovely Liv (Chris Lems) and 8-1 Moola Making Connie (Kurt Sugg). Herman Hagerman trains Blaze Of Justice, who was bred by Midland Acres, Larry Katz, and M. Rubin, for the Top Shelf Stable of Brewster, Ohio. This filly is the fifth foal out of the Justice Hall mare Truth And Justice and is a half-sister to the mare Jane Eyre (by Groton Hall) 3, 1:55.1 ($173,430) and to the gelding Hope For Justice (by Windsong Espoir) 2, 1:57.2s ($28,526).

Be My Baby Now picked up her first OHSS triumph by scoring in 1:58.2 for driver Chris Page in the second filly division. Trained by Ron Burke for Burke Racing, Weaver Brussemi, Knox Services and Hatfield Stables, this daughter by What The Hill upped her career earnings to $105,000 with her second lifetime triumph as the 6-5 favorite. Kirsie Dream was second at 9-2 for Mike Wilder, while 18-1 Oftom was third with Anthony MacDonald in the sulky. Be My Baby Now is the 11th foal out of the Raffaello Ambrosio mare Baby Bella, making her a half-sister to: Buen Camino (by Cash Hall) 5, 1:52f ($782,951); Victor's Future (by Valley Victor) 3, 1:54.4 ($448,347); and Trix And Stones (by Trixton) 5, 1:54.2 ($260,490), among others.

The third 2-year-old OHSS filly division literally became a match race as five of the seven distaffs broke, leaving 3-2 Moments Created (Kurt Sugg) and 1-1 Stephanie Hill (Aaron Merriman) to slug it out, with the latter prevailing over the former by a whisker at the wire in 1:58. Trained by Chris Beaver, the daughter of What The Hill is co-owned by Moger-Delia Racing, and grabbed her second lifetime victory in as many tries. Lady Camryn, a 35-1 longshot, was third for Danny Noble. Bred by the Double Spring Farm of Ohio, Stephanie Hill is the ninth of ten foals out of the Ilooklikemymom mare I Like Stephanie 3, 1:56f ($205,610). She is a half-sister to Cold Certified (by Kadabra) 5, 1:54.1s ($464,237).

Caviar Roxie Due, the 1-1 favorite, demolished her rivals with a 1:59.2 clocking in the fourth and final OHSS filly division. The daughter of Triumphant Caviar got a steady drive by Aaron Merriman for trainer Chris Beaver to notch her second lifetime triumph in as many starts. Bred by Dublin Valley Farm, Caviar Roxie Due is owned by Beaver, Zeelandar, Homan and Vip Internet Stable. Purple Aura finished a well-fought second for Anthony MacDonald, with 40-1 longshot Pinky Promise finishing third for Danny Noble. Caviar Roxie Due is the second foal out of the Kadabra mare Rose Run Roxann ($4,182).

Herculisa picked up her second straight victory in Ohio Sires Stakes competition, winning the lone $60,000 third-leg division in 1:54.1 with Danny Noble reining the daughter of My MVP. Owned by the Jesmeral Stable of Scarsdale, NY, Herculisa had won Leg 2 of this series at Scioto Downs in 1:52 after finishing fourth in Leg 1 at Miami Valley in early May. After leaving the gate at 7-5 odds, Herculisa zoomed by 1-1 Celebrate With Me (Chris Page) in late stretch, followed by Katie's Lucky Day (Trevor Smith). Bred by Joe McLead, Billy Walters and Up Front Racing, Herculisa is the third and most successful foal out of the Andover Hall mare Herculotte Hanover 3, 1:55.3 ($16,869) and is a full sister to MVP L 4, 1:58.2f ($41,983).

Dunn wins both Pocono All-Star races

The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono featured two $35,000 divisions of a Pennsylvania All-Stars events for 2-year-old trotting fillies on its Sunday (July 18) twilight card, and a most noteworthy career debut was made by Mon Cheval, who came home in :57 - :28 to stop the timer in 1:54.3.

At 1-9, Mon Cheval was expected to do well for several reasons: she had won two consecutive baby races before her debut, one in 1:54.2 at The Meadowlands, and she has among the most royal of pedigrees, Father Patrick-Shake It Cerry, a pairing which earned over $5 million, a Trotter of the Year award, and four seasonal divisional honors, not to mention their post-racetrack careers. Dexter Dunn drove her as if she were the best, and she certainly was for trainer Nancy Takter (the defending Driver and Trainer of the Year combining) and the noted Solveig's Racing Partners.

Dunn also won the other All-Stars division, but the victory with the 10-1 Cantab Hall - Dixieland Delite miss Dixiechick Hanover was not as predictable. This section had all three winners from the first leg of the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes in it, but all three fell victim to losing gait, one of them the favored Mimi Ocean Hanover while on the lead while on the far turn. Dunn had Dixiechick Hanover moving well uncovered, and they got around the trouble and to a lead she maintained to the wire while breaking her maiden in 1:56.2. Lucas Wallin trains the winner for Vestmarka AB and Triple Play Trotters LLC.

In 2021, amateur driver Tony Verruso has 11 victories (the most ever in any year of his 22-year career, and it's only July 18) and a .522 UDR, both of which figures he improved with a win in Sunday's Amateur Harness Drivers Club Series event. He guided Big Nudge, a son of Donato Hanover, to a 1:55.3 triumph, drawing away in winning for trainer Symon Spicer, also co-owner with George Beck and Michael Sherman Jr.

Lems Wins three Buckeye Stallion series races at MGM Northfield Park

Chris Lems had a big night in the second leg of the Buckeye Stallion Series (BSS) for 2-year-old colt trotters at MGM Northfield Park Monday night (July 19), winning three of the five divisions.

Muscle Count made it two in a row in the Buckeye Stallion Series as Lems took the son of Long Tom to the front and never looked back, winning in 1:59 for trainer Miles Wollam. Muscle Count is now two-for-two in his young career.

Lems picked up his second BSS win of the night in the second division as he guided Arabella's Glide to the winner's circle for Andy Miller in 2:00. The win was the first for the What The Hill gelding in two starts this year.

In the third division, Shamrock (Uncle Peter) covered the mile in 1:59 for Ryan Stahl and trainer Ryan Miller. Shamrock has a win and two second place finishes in three starts this year.

Hit Em Up Dude came home a winner for the first time in the fourth division for Ronnie Wrenn Jr. and Chris Beaver. The Credit Fashion gelding was a winner in 2:00.

Lems picked up this third BSS win of the night in the final division as he guided Outreach (Uncle Peter) to the win for Scott Cox in 2:00.1. It was Outreach's first win in three starts.

Plainridge Park readies for the Spirit of Massachusetts Trot

The Grand Circuit returns to Plainridge Park on Sunday (July 25) when the track will play host to the fourth edition of the $250,000 Spirit of Massachusetts Trot. The race that has produced the greatest trotting performances ever witnessed in the Commonwealth will once again be complemented by the $100,000 Clara Barton Distaff Pace. And for the first time in several years, the Bert Beckwith Memorial Pace will return and go postward with a purse of $50,000.

The Spirit of Massachusetts Trot became an instant classic in 2017 when 60-1 JL Cruze upset the heavily favored Hannelore Hanover by a length in 1:51.2. It was a new all-time track trotting record set in front of a full house of excited fans. Last year Manchego came to town and left everyone in her wake as she sped to victory in an eye-popping 1:49.3 mile. That time not only rewrote the track record book, it also set a new World Record for aged trotting mares over a 5/8th's mile track.

The 2021 field of eligibles is another strong group led by the 2019 Hambletonian winner Forbidden Trade, $2 million winner Crystal Fashion and millionaires Amigo Volo, When Dovescry, Lindy The Great and Guardian Angel AS, who won the 2019 Spirit.

Since its inception in 2019, the Clara Barton has been owned by the great Shartin N. In her first stake win at Plainridge in 1:49.1 she set a new all-time track pacing record. But she was far from done and for her encore in 2020, Shartin N blistered a 1:48.2 mile, cracking her own mark.

This year's Clara Barton has 21 eligibles that includes JK First Lady, who just set a world record of 1:47.4 for 4-year-old pacing mares in the $178,500 Dorothy Haughton Memorial at the Meadowlands on Saturday (July 18). Also eligible is Lyon's Sentinel, who held that record for two weeks after winning The Artiscap in 1:48 flat at the Meadowlands on Saturday (July 3). If both of these fleet mares declare, Shartin N's track records could be in jeopardy.

The Bert Beckwith Memorial originated at Foxboro Park in honor of the legendary New England horseman. When Foxboro closed, Plainridge held the race for several years and is proud to bring it back in 2021. In the past it was an Invitational pace and many great aged pacers have won it, including Hall of Famer Foiled Again. This year's edition will be presented as an open to any horse who has raced in Massachusetts at least six times this year and will feature the top pacers who compete regularly at The Ridge.

Other races on the card include a $25,000 mares open pace, a $25,000 pace for 3-year-olds colts and geldings who are Massachusetts Sire Stake eligible and a $25,000 open pace. The three marquee races combined with the rest of the card will see the day's participants competing for over $500,000 in total purses.

Other events of note on the program include a race to benefit the Standardbred Transition Alliance and competition from the New England Amateur Drivers Club. And many of the day's races will be named in honor of some great New England horsemen who were long-time participants in Massachusetts harness racing.

Plainridge horsemen who are racing during Spirit week (Thursday July 22 to Monday July 26) will see an increase in purses for races for those days.

There is a full day of activities that will surround the Spirit of Massachusetts and it will start with the National Anthem sung by Boston Bruins anthem singer Todd Angilly. Angilly will also be performing at the track throughout the day.

The Berkshire Valley Boys will be providing live music all day long as well at the recently opened party space at the track known as "The Patio". It is located on the north end of the grandstand, adjacent to the parking lot. It features an outdoor space to enjoy food, brews, fire pits, corn-hole and on Spirit Day, will be the location of Red's Food Truck.

A welcome luncheon is scheduled for owners, their guests and VIP's of the feature races of the day in the Boylston Room, which is located on the second floor of the grandstand.

Fans will be treated to two Spirit of Massachusetts branded giveaways during the afternoon. Each race-goer will have their choice of either a baseball cap or a six-pack cooler wrap. Limit one item per guest while supplies last starting at 1:30 p.m.

NYSS first-year filly trotters open Batavia meet today

When Batavia Downs opens its 2021 harness racing season today (July 21), the card will be highlighted by a visit from the New York Sire Stakes (NYSS) and the 2-year-old trotting filly division. Post time for the first race is 6 p.m.

Thirteen first-year trotters will go postward in two divisions for a total purse of $101,700. It's the second of five stops on their schedule this year leading up to the Night of Champions at Yonkers Raceway on Friday (Sept. 10).

The first $51,300 division is in race seven and seven starters are programmed to go. The morning line favorite is the undefeated Bomb Hugger (Chapter Seven—Stylemaker) who will start from post five at 2-1.

After breaking her maiden at the Meadows last month in her first lifetime start with a 1:58.4, 7-3/4 length romp, Bomb Hugger made her NYSS debut at Saratoga on July 6 a winning one with a wire to wire effort in a lifetime best 1:58.2. Despite a very brief body of work, she appears to have the best resume in this field at this time.

Anthony Macdonald will drive for trainer Ryan Swift and owner Thestable Bomb Hugger Group.

She's A Scorcher (Chapter Seven—Chilitodayhotamale) made her first ever start in the NYSS division at Saratoga and was faced with post seven and chasing a runaway winner in Joviality S, who went a torrid mile in 1:56.4. She's A Scorcher was out at the half and gave chase, but understandably tired late in the race. With that experience behind her, She's A Scorcher can improve here from post two and is listed at 7-2.

Hall of Fame trainer Linda Toscano has Scott Zeron in the bike for owner Ryan Smith.

Iluvmymiumiu's (Chapter Seven—Iluvmyjimmychoos) made her first lifetime start in an Excel A event at Saratoga and didn't disappoint at all. She came from off the pace with a strong stretch drive and won by 3/4 of a length in a timely 1:58.3. Although moving up the top NYSS division, Iluvmymiumiu's will definitely be formidable competition from post one at 4-1.

Brad Grant owns the Tony Alagna trained filly that will be driven by Andrew McCarthy.

In the second $50,400 division, Gertrude (Devious Man—Ophelia) has been labeled the 8-5 favorite on the strength of an impressive debut.

Gertrude won a strong 1:55.4 qualifier at the Meadowlands in mid-June and crossed the wire five lengths in front of her competition. Then she won her first lifetime and stake start at Saratoga in an equally impressive wire-to-wire, 1-1/4 length win in 1:57.4, with a :28.3 final panel. She does move out to post five here after two consecutive starts at the pylons, but that doesn't appear to be a hindrance to her chances in this race.

It's all Team Orange Crush connections here with Andy Miller driving and Julie Miller training for owner the Andy Miller Stable.

Former local favorite John Stark Jr. returns to Batavia with the 5-2 second choice Seven On The Rocks (Chapter Seven—Spicedbourbongirl) who sat the pocket the entire mile behind Gertrude in her win, and just wasn't able to catch her in the stretch. But that was then and this is now. It looks like a similar trip is in the future and Seven On The Rocks fortunes could certainly change from post one.

Stark both trains and drives for owners Mortgage Boys Stable, James De Armond, Peter Barbado and Sam Bova.

Cranberry Lake (Devious Man—Ann's Promise) won a maiden race at Saratoga her first lifetime start in 2:01 with a solid :28.4 last quarter. In her NYSS start the following week over the same track she went a fast mile, trotting in 1:59.2, but a slower final split of :29.4 to finish third. She looks to bring her best in here and is listed at 4-1 from post three.

Trainer George Ducharme has Scott Zeron up to drive for owner David Firmstone.

There are also three divisions of the Excel A series going for $15,000 each and two Excel B splits competing for $6,600 apiece.

Free full-card past performance forms are available for download every race day at Batavia Downs by visiting www.bataviadownsgaming.com > Live Racing > Free Full Card Past Performances.
