Ranking the best yearling pickers I've seen

by Murray Brown

TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

with MURRAY BROWN

When it comes to yearling pickers, I'd like to believe that I have seen them all; at least all in the last 60 years or so. If I were rating them, I'd come down to four.

Here they are in reverse order as to how I'd rate them:

#4 DELVIN MILLER

All I can say is that he had an incredible feel, call it a sense for looking at a horse. In all my years at Hanover he would visit the Fairgrounds to look at the yearlings each year. At least ostensibly that was what he was doing. Most of his time would be spent kibitzing with his dear friend John Simpson.

Miller had the most unusual way of picking yearlings. He would walk through the stables looking over the stall doors at them.

Occasionally a yearling might grab his fancy, although you would never know which one it was. In all the years, when he came to Hanover, I cannot recollect him ever having a single yearling out on the floor. Many was the time I and others offered, "Can we get that one out for you Delvin?" The answer would always be, "I'm okay. I can see all I need to with it in the stall," or something similar.

I can recall the first time he saw Delmonica Hanover. I remember it so well, because it was a cold nasty Friday when the rain had turned to snow; in October, no less. He hesitated before her stall, maybe looking at her a little longer. Maybe because he had trained her grandam Lively Lady, who he knew was a top filly.

Once again, we asked if we could get her out. The answer was the same as it always was.

Here's a tidbit about the sale. Miller had been commissioned by Arnold Hanger, an extremely wealthy man who's company built the Lincoln Tunnel and the Brooklyn Battery Tunnel and who was also a prominent thoroughbred owner. His instructions to Miller were "Buy me a good one," with no price set. After the sale Miller called Hanger and told him that he had bought 'Delmonica' for him. He told him she brought $5,000. Hanger was aghast. "I told you to buy me a good one." Of course she would go on to become a thrice world champion and become one of the few American-bred and owned horses to win the Prix d'Amerique.

#3 BILLY HAUGHTON

The greatest all around horseman of my experience, was also one of the greatest yearling pickers ever. The biggest part of his ability in doing so was his innate talent as a horseman. He had a knack for picking diamonds in the rough from the time he bought the great filly champion Belle Acton for $1,500 in 1954. Classifying Belle Acton as a filly champion is perhaps unfair. She raced at a time when it was almost unheard of to have races that were restricted to females. Most of her success took place at a time when there was very little opportunity, if any, for fillies and mares to race against their own sex. Belle Acton's success was attained in racing against and often beating the best male free-for-allers of her era.

There was no great secret to Haughton's success. It was due to a remarkable combination of great horsemanship and hard work. He would look at all the yearlings on offer; colts and fillies, trotters and pacers. At the sale, when one was selling within his price range, or often below it, he would nod his head, more times than not, having no idea for who he was buying that particular yearling.

That was something that he and Apples Thomas would sort out after the sale. Haughton was less discriminating than most. He knew when a yearling had faults. There were some faults he could live with and those were often the yearlings he would buy. I have often thought that this was a good reason why very few of his great horses became great sires.

Great racehorses with physical faults didn't usually translate to becoming great sires.

#2 GENE RIEGLE

There are some who might say that Rieggle belongs at the top of this list. Maybe he does. But it is my list and I'm doing the choosing. The list from which Rieggle was picking was small, but elite. His primary owner George Segal, together with Segal's pedigree advisor Myron Bell would each year come up with a list of blue-blooded yearlings for Rieggle to evaluate. Segal did not want Rieggle to be influenced by his opinion on the yearling's pedigree, so when he'd look at a yearling, he would have no idea as to who the sire or dam of that particular yearling was. He was in effect looking at the horse partially blind. Segal and Rieggle had a code between them.

Rieggle would tell Segal a number which was presumably his rating of the yearling. Segal would write it down in his catalog and they would go on from there.

The most often heard question from Segal was "Too small?" Otherwise, the conversation between them was short. I'm guessing that after Rieggle insisted on Segal buying Western Hanover, that Segal's prejudice against smaller yearlings might have disappeared.

Rieggle didn't need much time to look at a horse. The norm was 30 seconds or so, maybe a minute if he liked it.

“ Legendary Hanover sold at Lexington. I looked at him and I immediately fell in love. I was a little concerned about his size though. Was he too big? Could he stay sound as big as he is? I thought yes but I thought I'd have to consider his size and not rush him. I train his half-brother Linedrive Hanover who for pure speed might be the fastest horse I've ever had in my stable. But he has had lameness issues all his life. I knew 'Legendary' would be expensive, but how expensive? ”

~ Casie Coleman

#1 CASIE COLEMAN

She credits her transition to a stable concentrating on buying yearlings for Grand Circuit competition from one of mostly overnight racehorses to the vagaries of fate. As she is fond of saying, “Everything happens for a reason.” Her stable at the time was one of the most successful in all of North America. For reasons known only to them, the higher ups at WEG decided that her horses racing there had to race from detention. Although they continued racing as well as they had previously, the requirement was very difficult to all concerned especially to the horses and those that took care of them. It also was highly expensive for the owners, of which Coleman herself was a participant in the majority of them. “Alright,” Coleman thought to herself, “They don't want me to race claimers and in overnights, so I'll just switch to buying yearlings and racing them at 2 and 3.” Thus began the change from running a huge stable of overnight horses, to a smallish, some might say boutique operation concentrating almost entirely on Grand Circuit 2- on 3-year-olds,

It was in the aftermath of the astonishing 1-2 finish by her still owned Legendary Hanover and Nijinsky, now trained by Anthony Beaton, in the Meadowlands Pace that she and I spoke.

It has been a long ride from racing a few claimers to what has taken place in the last few weeks. First, a win in the North America Cup by Nijinsky, then last Saturday, Legendary Hanover and Nijinsky finished 1-2 in The Meadowlands Pace. Going into the Pace, did you think that this was possible?

“You are probably going to think that I’m bragging. Maybe I am, a little. But I thought everything pointed in that direction. The two colts were physically in the best of shape. Tony Beaton has done a fantastic job with them. They were fit when I sent them to him. He has if anything improved on their condition. They were absolutely sound and in peak racehorse condition. They drew well. Nijinsky got the 3-hole and Legendary the 6. Their drivers James MacDonald and Louis Roy are arguably the two best in Canada and among the best in North America, if not the world. I thought that we had everything going for us including the good vibes sent from doggie heaven from Chubby. I didn’t even think that we had to have good luck, only no bad luck, and we had a good chance to finish 1-2 in the race.”

I rate you as the number one yearling picker that I’ve known in a lifetime in the sport. Would you agree with that?

“Firstly, thank you. I don’t know about No. 1, but I believe that I’m probably in the conversation, among the better ones. There is really no great secret to my success. I think that good horsemanship is certainly a factor. I’ve been around horses all my life, hundreds and hundreds of them, maybe a thousand or more. I think I know what a good horse needs to look like; I’ve seen a lot of them. I simply took what I had learned from racing overnight horses and translated it to buying yearlings. The next maybe most important factor is work, hard work. But work that I enjoy. I really love looking at horses. I like going to horse sales. I enjoy breaking and training yearlings and making racehorses from them. I now enjoy my life outside of racing where I can help develop the horses and then turn the day-to-day work over to Tony Beaton and his crew.”

Take us on your journey to making, or perhaps I should say acquiring, a yearling that you hope will someday become a major Grand Circuit winner.

“I get the sales catalogs from Lexington, Harrisburg and the Ontario Sale. I map out the order in which I’m going to look at the yearlings. I don’t pay all that much attention to their pedigrees. I’m much more concerned with conformation. I look at all the pacing-bred yearlings. The only exceptions are maybe from a couple of smaller consignors with who I have previously had a poor experience. Otherwise, I look at all of them. My first look is usually a cursory one.

“The vast majority of them are eliminated after that first look. I think I learned the lesson regarding where I look at all of them through my experience with Bulldog Hanover. I didn’t look at him because I was down on his sire Shadow Play. I’m certainly not saying that I would have bought ‘Bulldog’ or for that matter even have liked him. But I should have looked.

“After the ‘first look,’ I’m down to a much smaller number. Let’s say 30 or so for each of the two major sales. Then I’ll look at them again and then again and even again, each time eliminating a few. I find that I often like these yearlings less and less after each look. There might be a dozen or so that look the same or on a very rare occasion even better through all the cuts. I then go ‘to war’ at the sale with that small group. At that point, price is the determining factor. I try to buy into every yearling on which I’m the final bidder. I consider myself to be very careful on how I spend my money. I’m also usually a very disciplined bidder. The price or thereabouts I set for a horse is usually all that I am going to bid.”

Let’s speak specifically of Legendary Hanover and Nijinsky.

“They are two entirely different looking horses. ‘Legendary’ is a great big colt. At times I thought that he might be a bit too big. Nijinsky is the type of colt I generally like. Of the Bettors Delights I’ve had, he resembles the better ones. He is medium sized, maybe a hair on the smaller order. Yet in the ways that count to me, they are the same. There are some things I demand in a yearling, a big strong rump, a strong shoulder, a great head, a bright eye, an alertness. I don’t want a deadhead. Also, good length. I haven’t seen any top horses that wear a short hobble. Both Legendary and ‘Ninja’ check all the boxes in that area.”

How did you come to buy them?

“They passed all the preliminary steps. Going into Lexington and Harrisburg I loved them both. They were on the short list.

“Legendary Hanover sold at Lexington. I looked at him and I immediately fell in love. I was a little concerned about his size though. Was he too big? Could he stay sound as big as he is? I thought yes but I thought I’d have to consider his size and not rush him. I train his half-brother Linedrive Hanover who for pure speed might be the fastest horse I’ve ever had in my stable. But he has had lameness issues all his life. I knew Legendary would be expensive, but how expensive?

“I had spoken with Josh Green, Eric Good’s farm manager. He said that they were looking to buy a yearling that one day could become a home run horse. They were starting a farm in Kentucky, and were looking to one day stand a stallion at it. Did I like anything that might fit those qualifications? I told him about Legendary. I said I was going to try to buy him. We got “Nijinsky sold at Harrisburg. He brought $120,000. I actually thought he might have brought a little more. He also checked all the boxes. He was and still is a beautiful horse. together and decided that we would go to $200,000 on him. I overstepped my budget and went to $220,000. Then I was out. Josh got in and signed the ticket at $260,000. He told me after and said that I could come in for a piece if I wanted to, which of course I did.

You speak of perfect conformation being a requirement.

“When I say perfect, I mean just that or close to as perfect as I can find. I want a yearling that stands perfectly. No toeing in, no toeing out, no back on its knees or over on its knees, I want length, a great head and eye. I want a yearling that in effect speaks to me. He is saying I want you to teach me. I like to see them walk, sometimes too much to the person showing them. I like what I consider to be a ‘light walk.’ It’s hard to describe, but I know it when I see it. If I’m at a farm and I’ve liked the yearling on the floor. I want to see it turned out. When that happens, I want the yearling to appear cheerful and ambitious out there with its ears pricked and looking for real estate to get over.”

Are there any consignors that you favor?

"I like dealing with most of them especially the ones with which I've had the most success. Among them are Hanover, Hunteerton, Fair Winds and All American. I especially enjoyed going to Hanover when Dr. J was in charge. She had a good idea of what I would like and what wouldn't interest me. Most consignors are pretty up front about their horses, they are pretty honest in their appraisals but they wouldn't say anything detrimental about any of them. Dr. J was different. She would lay it on the line, good or bad. Listening to her saved us both a lot of time and effort. She also, in my opinion, knew her yearlings better than just about any other consignor."

Of all the good horses that you trained; did you have a favorite?

"I suppose that would be Sportswriter. He was the first horse that I trained that I would consider to have been a top horse. Close behind him would be Betting Line. They were both great in every respect. If they had any faults, I don't know what they might have been.

"There's an interesting story related to Sportswriter and subsequently to Betting Line. Steve Calhoun was a major client when I had my racehorse stable. He was very much opposed to my switching from racehorses to yearlings. 'Why would you do that?' he would say. 'With racehorses, you know what you have and can start earning money with them immediately. With yearlings, there is a lot more time and expense involved and you may end up with nothing.'

"Anyway, I was at Harrisburg and was speaking with Steve about racehorse prospects in the mixed sale. In the conversation, I mentioned that there was an Artsplace yearling coming up that I liked and was going to try to buy. That was the gist of it. Nothing else. The next day I was speaking with Steve. He said 'I see you bought that colt you were talking about. If there is a piece of him available, I'd like to buy it.' That was Sportswriter and it was the first yearling that Steve had bought. He later also had a piece of Betting Line."

What about drivers? You've used a lot of great ones. Do you tell them how to drive your horses?

"Never! That is why they are getting paid to do what they do. I might tell them what I feel are a horse's tendencies, but how to drive a horse, never. I've been fortunate to have used some of the best drivers who have ever sat behind a horse. In no particular order, they include the MacDonald brothers, Mark and James, David Miller, Steve Condren (who for several years also helped with the training in Florida); Brian Sears and Jonathan Drury."

You've had a lot of good to great horses. Are there any that you really liked and were unable to get?

"There is one especially. That would be Somebeachsomewhere. Tom Hill had horses with me. We saw Somebeachsomewhere in Senena Esty's consignment and we both really loved him. He was selling as the first horse in the third session at Lexington. We had decided that we were either going to buy him or make someone else pay a lot of money to get him. We were at dinner. It was getting late so we got into the car and went to the sale. We hit heavy traffic and got there after he had sold. Brent McGrath had bought him for $40,000. I don't know how much further Brent might have gone, but we were prepared to go a whole lot more than $40,000. Just think, if Tom had bought him nobody would have ever heard of Somebeachsomewhere. His name would have been (insert the name) Hill."

Note: Coleman has had numerous good to great horses. Here is a list of those that earned over $500,000 and how much she paid for them. This coming from a stable that never had more than 20 yearlings and more often in the area 10 or less.

What kind of Hambletonian year will this be?

by Bob Heyden

It's the 44th edition of the Hambletonian in New Jersey at The Meadowlands and the 99th overall. But the Dancer Memorial divisions have called into question just what is going on with the sophomore trotters. So, what can we anticipate Aug. 3 will actually look like?

Going into Dancer Night, the three clubhouse leaders by a mile, were Karl no question with T C I probably next over Highland Kismet. All three were not in the top pair in the Dancer.

Let's take a look at some Meadowlands Hambletonians from the past and see if we can clear up this current mess, even if it's just a little bit.

1981: Year 1 and we wound up with 24 entered and nine of those were 35-1 dreamers. A Michigan-bred gelding got things underway. No, no, no, no, 2024 is not that.

1982: It went as advertised with the two faves winning their elims and Speed Bowl and Jazz Cosmos were just a neck apart at the finish. Maybe some similarities with 2024.

1984: A $52,500 claimer seven weeks prior – Historic Freight – took care of business. Don't see anything like that in 2024.

1987 and 1988: The best driver, best horse led all the way as the faves, Mack Lobell and Armbro Goal with Campbell. This could indeed play out if those who stubbed their toes on 2024 Dancer night have amnesia.

1990: Nobody heard of Harmonious a month out because he was in a NW2. But he caught up fast, real fast. Has the rest of the crop caught up to Karl, T C I and Highland Kismet, or at the very least severely narrowed the gap?

1992: A total crap shoot with five between 2-1 and 9-2 at post time. It was the Alf Palema year. Don't really see that repeating in 2024, right?

1994: Victory Dream was soundly defeated finishing fourth in the Beacon Course/Dancer, but laughed it off and dominated as the fave come Hambletonian Day. His son Self Possessed did similar in 1999 blowing up once the month prior to the Hambletonian but then Romping in a world record time of 1:51.3 to close out the century.

1995: A female broke and in 1996 a filly won it. Are there any ladies out there see an opening they want to exploit in 2024?

1998: A four-ply Chuck Sylvester entry go 1-2 and 9-10 with Muscles Yankee showing his heels. Does Ake Svanstedt have enough firepower to do something similar in 2024?

2001: An overseas shipper came in and took the cheese. That was Scarlet Knight. Let's check incoming flights next week.

2002: Overwhelming favorite Andover Hall's early miscue opened the door for Chip Chip Hooray. A likely scenario to be repeated in 2024? We'll see.

2004: It was a Triple Crown year for Windsong's Legacy. A check of the periodicals from that year pre-Hambletonian do not even mention his name.

2006: Almost saw the first post 10 winner with a strong second from freshman king Chocolatier. Karl and T C I were way out in front of the rest in 2023.

2007 and 2008: Double dominance from Donato Hanover and Deweycheatumnhowe. Kinda like we thought a month ago this year was going to be.

2009: Muscle Hill dominated in record time, but he never even experienced an anxious moment heading in.

2010: There's a real chance for 2024 to mirror image 2010. That year, the Hambletonian was basically Muscle Massive's career by defeating 2010 Trotter of the Year Lucky Chucky. The 2024 Dancer results should embolden some trainers into dropping in and increasing the chance of a 2010 repeat.

2013: A homebred – Royalty For Life – picked the exact right time to get hot. Is the crop out there in 2024 ripe for the picking?

Finally, maybe 2014 will be the most likely repeat scenario: Three stars – Trixton, Nuncio and Father Patrick – match up well at this stage with Karl, T C I and Highland Kismet. They went 1-2-10 that year with the unfortunate break of Father Patrick completely changing that races complexion.

It's going to be fun. A head scratcher for sure. The Stanley Dancer has for the most part been a Hambletonian preview from 1977-2016, Green Speed to Marion Marauder. But this year there appears to be sand and a monkey wrench in the gears, which actually makes what happened three months ago a formality, setting up for Aug. 3 to possibly be the race of the year, and that counts the Olympics.

James MacDonald's Meadowlands' view from Modern Legend to Legendary Hanover

The top Mohawk reinsman recounts his time racing in the U.S., including a very memorable Meadowlands Pace Night last weekend.

by Melissa Keith

On May 16, 2015, James MacDonald ventured from Woodbine Mohawk Park to drive six horses at The Meadowlands. While he finished second in the TVG Free For All with Modern Legend

(p, 6, 1:47.2s; $958,132) and fourth in the Cutler Memorial driving Appomattox (3, 1:52.2m; $619,895), he went winless on the card.

Saturday (July 13, 2024) was a form reversal for the Guelph, ON driver, but a form reversal a long time in the making.

In the years between his first Meadowlands drives and his most recent, MacDonald captured the 2017 World Driving Championship title and three consecutive O'Brien Keith Waples Driver of the Year Awards (2021-23). He is the top driver of the 2024 meet so far at Mohawk and 12th in North America, with 228 wins from 1,084 starts. His 2024 purse winnings have reached $3,517,738, sixth among U.S. and Canadian drivers to date this season.

MacDonald said Meadowlands Pace night began on a hopeful note when he won race 1, a 3-year-old open pace, with 13-1 colt Huntingforchrome (p, 3, 1:48.1m; $195,452).

"I was just lucky to pick that one up in his second start for [trainer] Travis [Alexander]," the winning driver told HRU. "I think he said he shut his air off a little bit his first start, so he changed a few things, got him calmed down. A pleasant surprise to start the night."

MacDonald was listed to drive Huntingforchrome in Saturday's (July 20) Delvin Miller Adios eliminations at The Meadows, which went to post after this column was filed.

"With just one start for me and him together, all I have is positive thoughts of the horse, because he raced so well that night, so I think going into the Adios, he's a real player," MacDonald said. "He drew well [post 4 in the first of two eliminations]. I can't see why he wouldn't be a horse to like, especially going into the eliminations."

In race 2 on Meadowlands Pace night, MacDonald also drove Benny J (3,1:51.2m; $99,541) to a lifetime-best victory for trainer Tony Alagna.

"I drove him the week before and I loved him," MacDonald said. "Tony had told me just take it easy on him. He got locked in but was just kind of splitting through horses late, with lots of trot, so I was happy to get the call on him again. Even though he was stretched out pretty good [making front approaching the half], I was able to get reasonable fractions and then he sprinted home well. It was definitely a good way to kick off the night, with a double and the confidence I had after that one."

In the race 3 Miss Versatility leg, 2023 O'Brien Older Trotting Mare of the Year Adare Castle finished fifth for MacDonald.

Dave Landry
Canadian driver James MacDonald is making an impact in the United States.

"I was really happy with her," he said. "She had been struggling at the start of the year, but I thought she raced really well. She was trotting hard down to the wire. [Tactical Mounds] won in [1]:49.4, so it's tough to expect that much, but she went a big [1:51] mile. She's a great mare and I thought it was a great effort."

His next drive was in race 5, the Jerry Silverman Memorial, with Andrew Harris trainee Asweetbeachhere (p, 3, 1:50.3f; $221,775), who finished seventh behind winner Caviart Belle.

"I was loaded but didn't have anywhere to go," MacDonald said. "I left and kind of got stuck in that spot, and I couldn't get out until about 10 feet before the wire, so she's a horse to watch. I think she's going to the Adioo Volo [at The Meadows] next week, so I'm excited to hopefully get the drive back on her."

Although already familiar to other Grand Circuit drivers, Canada's 2024 National Driving Champion said he had built his broader reputation with strong showings in recent visits to The Meadowlands, leading to more catch drives and American success.

"I had been going there for a few weeks in a row before [Meadowlands Pace night], because of Hasty Bid, our own horse [co-owned and trained by his wife, Paige Austin]," MacDonald said. "I'd had some luck there with him and Coach Stefanos [p, 4, 1:47.3m; $857,656], and when you're hot, people just give you a shot. The night I didn't drive Hasty Bid and Yannick [Gingras] did, I think I was down to drive eight or nine there [at The Meadowlands] that night. I didn't make it, and I lost a few [drives], but came back and won the [Meadowlands Pace] elimination with Legendary [Hanover], and it just started snowballing."

Last Saturday night marked the culmination of MacDonald's renewed U.S. focus and racing luck.

"When you're having success, everybody wants to give you a shot," he said. "I wasn't even listed on all of them, it was just that [trainers] must have called the judges and put me down [to drive], so it was definitely a pleasant surprise when I saw I had so many drives."

He teamed up with trainer Lucas Wallin for the first time in race 6, the Stanley Dancer Memorial. Life On The Bluf (3, 1:52.4m; $83,703) finished sixth to Sig Sauer.

"Lucas had said it was a big ask for [Life On The Bluf] to try the Dancer, but I think he's a really nice horse," MacDonald said. "He's just starting to develop into what they hope will be a great racehorse. Lucas Wallin was a guy I'd never driven for before... He knew I was down there; he knew I was having a little bit of luck, and unfortunately, I didn't get to the winner's circle with [Life on the Bluf] but he was pleased. The horse trotted home strong."

The driver's family-owned trotter Hasty Bid (4, 1:50.2m; $485,175) ended up ninth in race 9, the mile-and-one-eighth E.T. Gerry Jr. Hambletonian Maturity.

"It was just a tough race, a distance race with 12 horses in it," he said. "He usually leaves good and finishes good, but those races just have so much action. I was first to the front, let Yannick

"I landed in a bad spot [with Legendary Hanover in the Pace] and made a decision to come hard and try [leader] Funtime Bayama, and it clearly wasn't his best night. My horse was able to clear and he was so strong. He swelled up on the last turn and when I called on him in the stretch, I don't know how, but he had lots more. He's a special animal and I'm just happy to be along for the ride."

[driving winner Chapercraz] go, and then I think I ended up ninth turning for home... [Scott Zeron's] horse [Bestfriend Volo] was getting tired and he tried to get him out of everyone's way, and the same time he came out, I almost hooked his wheel, and Andy McCarthy's horse [Call Me Goo] made a break in front of him and I had to take [Hasty Bid] sideways. It was just a real mess down the lane... The horse is really good. It just didn't work out at all."

MacDonald said Hasty Bid will return to The Meadowlands soon.

"He's got one more start there, Hambo Day in the Cashman, and then the tentative plan is to take him home and try him in the Maple Leaf Trot," he said. "He has a pretty light schedule after that, so we'll just see how it goes. We'll probably send him back for the Breeders Crown to Nancy [Takter]."

In Saturday night's race 10, the William R. Haughton Memorial, Christchurch and his latest catch driver finished sixth behind winner Abuckabett Hanover.

"I've raced against him a few times," MacDonald said. "I've never driven him before. I knew he could be a pretty hot horse, so I was going to try and race him easy, if I could. He did very well, paced through straight to the wire, but didn't get a lot of racing room in the stretch. I think it was a really good effort from him, and sometimes you can have a good sixth or seventh-place finish. They're so good, those horses."

His most memorable race of the July 13 card was in the race 11 Meadowlands Pace final, when Legendary Hanover (p, 3, 1:46.3m; $710,959) established a 1:46.3 stakes record for regular driver MacDonald and trainer Anthony Beaton.

“ I [raced in the U.S.] during COVID and stayed with my brother Mark, and raced in New Jersey and Pennsylvania a little bit... We're so spoiled here in Canada. We race at one of the best tracks in the world at Mohawk. The purses are great, the people are great, the driver colony's great, but the biggest factor for me is my son will be 8 in August, and I would never want to be that far away. I did it during COVID for a couple of months and I'll never do it again. [Moving to the U.S. will] never happen.”

~ James MacDonald

The 2023 O'Brien 2-Year-Old Male Pacer of the Year came through despite a challenging outlook early in the final.

“I landed in a bad spot and made a decision to come hard and try [leader] Funtime Bayama, and it clearly wasn't his best night,” MacDonald said. “My horse was able to clear and he was so strong. He swelled up on the last turn and when I called on him in the stretch, I don't know how, but he had lots more. He's a special animal and I'm just happy to be along for the ride.”

In race 12, Its a Love Thing (p, 3, 1:48.2s; $745,251) and her regular driver delivered a 1:49.1 victory in the Jerry Silverman Memorial, outdueling My Girl EJ in deep stretch.

“She's just been unbelievable since she started racing,” said MacDonald, aboard for all of the “one-eyed wonder” filly's 18 lifetime starts and 10 victories. “She won the Shes a Great Lady last year; she won the Fan Hanover already this year. I always have a lot of confidence when I jump in the bike behind her. I know what she's capable of, and her biggest asset is just her absolute raw will to win.”

In the race 13 Del Miller Memorial, MacDonald's second catch drive for Lucas Wallin, Dolce Amara (2, 1:54.1m; $101,610), finished seventh behind winner R Melina.

“He had liked her...” MacDonald said. “Unfortunately, she just got pretty wound up that night and probably shut her air off. She was really grabby the whole way, and she felt like she was going to give me a real good kick, and then halfway down the lane... It just didn't work out.”

His last drive of the spectacular night was the kind that keeps even the greatest drivers humble.

In race 14, MacDonald drove Cameron Capone trainee Bb Lucky Boy (p, 3, 1:49.1f; $182,409), who finished last at odds of 30-1.

“I didn't know anything about the horse,” MacDonald said. “I saw he had a lot of '1s' [in the program], but it was a tough class. I tried to trip him out. I was wrestling with him and he wouldn't submit, so I kind of had to sit on the outside with him and take my medicine. We ended up in a bad spot, and not too many can survive in that spot. Not the horse's fault.”

With brothers Mark and Anthony now primarily driving in the States, the question of whether the top Canadian reinsman might consider a similar move seems obvious.

“No, not really, because I went during COVID and stayed with my brother Mark, and raced in New Jersey and Pennsylvania a little bit,” James said. “You know, I've done it before, and we're so spoiled here in Canada. We race at one of the best tracks in the world at Mohawk. The purses are great, the people are great, the driver colony's great, but the biggest factor for me is my son will be 8 in August, and I would never want to be that far away. I did it during COVID for a couple of months and I'll never do it again. It'll never happen.”

The prospect of pursuing a Dan Patch Driver of the Year title is not enough to entice James to leave Mohawk for very long.

“I think it’s probably a little bit unrealistic at this point in my career,” he said. “Definitely, I’m going to try to keep winning big races, and if you win a lot of big races, yeah. Those main guys who drive the Grand Circuit in the States are phenomenal, with talent second to none. If you want to beat them, you’d better come with a really exceptional horse, and there’s only a few of those every year. I’m lucky that at this point in the year I’ve got two great horses and some really high-potential 2-year-olds coming up, so you never know. It would be a real honor if that were to happen for any Canadian.”

James looked back fondly on his earliest U.S. drives.

“That’s nine years ago,” he said with a laugh. “I remember [2014 O’Brien Older Male Pacer of the Year] Modern Legend. He was probably the horse who started me off with some real success. I drove him quite a bit for Dave Drew. He was a fun horse.”

His first American driving win was on June 3, 2015, capturing a New York Sires Stakes Excelsior “A” division at Buffalo Raceway with 3-year-old filly Hot Lemonade (p, 3, 1:53.2s; $106,781).

“For [trainer] Homer Hochstetler; I remember that one, yeah,” James said. “It was my first time going to Buffalo and I don’t think I was there for that horse but I ended up winning with her. I would’ve gone down for a Canadian. I just don’t remember who it was.”

James drove for trainer Tony O’Sullivan that day, finishing last with Bin N Heaven (p, 4, 1:55.0f; $121,975) in the first New York Sires Stake race of the card.

While still the King of Woodbine Mohawk Park, expect to see more of James stateside this season, as the 38-year-old horseman stays with top Canadian contenders across the border.

“Hopefully you’ll see a lot of me in the States this summer,” James said. “Legendary Hanover, as long as he stays healthy and sound, has a big stakes schedule in the States. He’s in the Cane [Pace] next, on Hambo Day. Hasty Bid’s supposed to race in the Cashman Hambo Day. Its a Love Thing, she’s got Kentucky Sires Stakes; I think she’s heading there in a couple weeks. I’m going to be travelling my butt off, not as much as those [Grand Circuit] guys, but it will be a whirlwind summer for me, that’s for sure.”

Historical horse racing machines changing industry

by Bob Duff

There's an old theory that goes something like if we don't learn from the past, we won't have much of a future.

In Kentucky, they are learning that the past can give the sport of harness racing a much brighter future.

"Certainly, it's a story worth telling," said Ken Jackson of the Kentucky Harness Association.

The phrase game changer is attached to differentiating factors far too easily. In this case, though, it is a more than appropriate descriptive.

The introduction of historical horse racing systems (HHR) in the Bluegrass State has taken an industry that was on life support and infused it with life-giving oxygen.

"I'd call it a life saver, or a life preserver for the industry, however you want to say it," said Gabe Prewitt, vice president of racing and sports wagering operations at The Red Mile, of the impact of historical horse racing machines in Kentucky. "We were in very hard times.

"Even at The Red Mile, we got down to 12-to-14 overnight dates at one point. It has been a great revitalization for the industry."

WHAT ARE HISTORICAL HORSE RACING MACHINES?

Though they look similar to slot machines, historical horse racing machines function much differently. Outcomes in slot machines are determined via a random number generator. With historical horse racing machines, the outcomes are determined from actual past horse races.

These machines contain a database of footage from as many as 60,000 previously-contested horse races going back to the

Dave Landry
Historical Horse Racing has helped The Red Mile grow exponentially.

“Over the course of the last two-to-three years, it seems like I can’t go a week without hearing about someone in the industry purchasing a major piece of property here in central Kentucky. It’s really great to see how it’s bringing the breeding side of the industry back, the farms, mares in the state.”

~ Gabe Prewitt

1990s. This historic data is randomized and anonymized. While bettors do get access to charts, stats and past performance data, they will not be able to view the names of the horses, trainers or drivers/jockeys involved in the race, or any other potential identifying factors, until after they have placed a bet on the race. They operate under the same pari-mutuel wagering system as a regular horse race.

Historical horse racing machines originated in Arkansas. Oaklawn Park was the first track to offer them in 2000. Kansas, in 2022, was the most recent state to legalize them.

Other states offering wagering through HHR machines include New Hampshire, Virginia and Wyoming.

HHR A BOON TO INDUSTRY IN KENTUCKY

However, when it comes to the standard-bearer for the type of impact that historical horse racing machines can make on a state’s horse racing industry, Kentucky is the blueprint everyone is studying.

For instance, at The Red Mile, there is a distinctive HHR parlor containing more than 900 of these machines. The track recently launched its 2024 harness racing season with 33 dates on the schedule.

“It’s a great tool,” Prewitt said. “The machines have come a long way, too. The level of the machines from four-to-five years ago, they’re vastly improved.”

After years of court battles, Kentucky went full bore with HHR machines in 2020. Since they operate via pari-mutuel wagering, the same as regular horse racing, it was determined that they are legal to operate in a state where slot machines remain outlawed.

In 2023, some $693 million was wagered in the Bluegrass State via HHR machines. Of that revenue, 91 per cent is returned to the bettors. A portion of the remaining pool of cash benefits Kentucky harness racing through allotments given to the Kentucky Breed Development Fund.

These proceeds benefit breeding operations, the Kentucky Sire Stakes, and fair racing, as well as the state’s three standardbred tracks: The Red Mile, Oak Grove and Cumberland Run. For instance, in 2024, a 4-year-old division was added to the KYSS.

Other standardbred jurisdictions, including major areas such as New Jersey and Ontario, are watching these developments with more than a passing interest. It’s also convincing players in the harness racing industry that Kentucky might be a good place to put down roots.

“Over the course of the last two-to-three years, it seems like I can’t go a week without hearing about someone in the industry purchasing a major piece of property here in central Kentucky,” Prewitt said. “It’s really great to see how it’s bringing the breeding side of the industry back, the farms, mares in the state.

“Some of the standardbred industry is making a home in Kentucky.”

Coupled with the 2023 legalization of sports betting – The Red Mile is home to a Caesars Sportsbook – Kentucky is truly feeling a revitalization of the state’s harness racing product.

“It really does and it sort of has a different demographic,” Prewitt said of the advent of sports betting. “The sportsbook is introducing our facility to a younger audience. Anything we can do to reinvent the facility. We’re a racetrack first and foremost, but an entertainment facility on top of that.”

Known primarily in horse racing as the state that is home to the Kentucky Derby, the standardbred industry in Kentucky suddenly couldn’t be healthier.

“Just the culture here in Lexington, you can feel it,” Prewitt said. “It’s always been a hub for thoroughbreds but we’re bouncing back.

SUPERSTAR FEMALES OF HARNESS RACING

with VICTORIA M. HOWARD

Devan Miller is a heck of a horsewoman and an outstanding outrider

by Victoria Howard

Thank God for outriders; these courageous, dedicated people who put their life on the line every time they bring their 4-legged sidekick to work with them to the races.

What exactly is an outrider? In simple words, an outrider is a guardian angel for both the horse and driver on the track. Although the outrider and their horse provide the valuable service of helping to maintain a safe environment during warm-ups and live racing, they are the most unadorned and undecorated people in our sport.

Devan Miller is one of those talented, hardworking outriders who risks her own wellbeing for the safety of others.

Born into the business in Ohio – the Buckeye State – Miller currently resides in New Holland, OH. Besides her father, Hall of Fame driver David, her mother Carol Winters, was also involved in the sport, as well as Devan's maternal grandparents. Carol drove in many races herself when she was younger, so it was no surprise that their daughter Devan would inherit her parent's passion. In fact, mother and daughter drove against each other in Devan's very first race when she was 12 years old. Who won? Of course, Devan did.

"I never wanted to do anything else in my life," Devan said, adding with a laugh, "I don't think I would know how to do anything else. A typical day in my life is getting up before the sun rises to care for my own horses. After I'm done, I get ready for round 2, either riding or catch paddocking at the races. This has been my routine for the last three or four years."

Devan said she wanted to be an outrider because she has always been fascinated with that person who parades the horses and retrieves one when a horse is loose.

Courtesy Devan Miller
Outrider Devan Miller.

"Someone I admire and look up to is horsewoman Cindi Johnson," Devan said. "She's a legend and one of the very best outriders who worked at Scioto Downs, Hollywood Gaming at Dayton, and Lebanon Raceway. She and her horse Beau are my all-time favorite for their teamwork amazed me."

Devan currently has two "partners in crime" that she works with. "Bullet is my main man. In fact, I guess you could say he's my 'beau,' and the other horse is named Uno.

Currently stabled at Virgil Morgan's training center in Ohio, Devan has worked as an outrider at several tracks.

"I've worked at Pompano Park, Shenandoah Downs, Buffalo, Northfield, Miami Valley, Hoosier, Scioto and The Meadowlands," she said.

“ I am very, very blessed [that David Miller is my father]. It is astounding the respect and adoration people have for my father. Dad is a great driver who has a great reputation, on and off the racetrack. I hope he is as proud of me as I am of him. ”

~ Devan Miller

Her most scary experience as an outrider, was her first high-speed catch.

“It was my horse’s first catch as well, and I couldn’t get either of them stopped,” she said.

In addition to her outriding horses, she does own another horse.

“I have one horse named Seeing Eye Single who really is just my pet,” she said. “He tries to race, but would rather be my pet.”

Since women have come a long way in the sport of harness racing as trainers, drivers, veterinarians, caretakers and outriders, does Devan have any in particular that she looks up to besides Cindi?

“That’s a tough one to answer for there are many women in the sport that I admire,” she said.

Naming an all-time favorite horse was difficult for Devan.

“That’s a tough one also for I’ve had a lot of horses in my life and each one has taught me something different,” she said. “I can’t pick a favorite, I loved them all.”

Many will remember that sweet hug between Devan and her dad when she won at The Meadowlands in an International Women’s Day event. It was hard to tell who was smiling more in the photo, Her or her dad. So, what is it like for her being the daughter of a Hall of Fame driver that some call “Purple Jesus?”

“I am very, very blessed,” she said. “It is astounding the respect and adoration people have for my father. Dad is a great driver who has a great reputation, on and off the racetrack. I hope he is as proud of me as I am of him.”

The Legacy

by Trey Nosrac

EXTERIOR: NIGHT

ESTABLISHING SHOT: The camera captures the redbrick exterior of a tidy bar. The camera pans to a blinking neon sign that reads "Bookies Tavern and Grill."

INTERIOR: WIDE SHOT: A large room with the usual array of round tables and chairs. In the back of the room is a portable accordion partition wall that divides the space into two rooms with three walls and an open front. Only a few patrons remain. Quiet jazz music plays in the yellow light.

PAN: In the partitioned room on the left, two men sit side by side at a large round table, facing forward, with six empty chairs, empty bottles, and plates littering the table. A pair of men remain from an earlier meeting.

ZOOM IN: Two men at one of the tables. One is in his sixties and bald, wearing a white shirt and a sweater vest. The other man is in his forties, with blonde hair pulled into a ponytail, wearing jeans and a faded red t-shirt. The ponytailed man speaks as he peels the paper label off a beer bottle.

TREY

So, there is no way you'll continue hosting the monthly Paperback Riders meeting using Zoom?

LAURENCE

(Scratches his bald head)

No, 14 years was a good run. My goal was for guys like us to socialize and discuss books, an alternative to the million ladies' book clubs. Tom can take it from here. I get it. Why travel and spend money when you can discuss books on your laptop or phone?

TREY

People get lazy. I used to buy the books. Then, I began downloading and listening to audio versions.

LAURENCE

(Pensive)

I'll miss our monthly sessions. A different book each month, quite a ride.

TREY

Laurence, you did a good thing. We all appreciate everything. Even Morris told me once that you were the only person in Baltimore who could keep us odd ducks in line.

LAURENCE

Now, that's a compliment I'll treasure.

(They pause to sip their beers pensively.)

We ARE odd birds, becoming extinct like the dodo. Not just book readers but me with my poetry, Tom with his goal of riding every railroad line in America, you with your harness racing passion, and Mike with his Shanty singing group.

TREY

You notice the pattern: we ain't afraid of mingling with other people, of looking like fools, or coloring outside the box - you don't see that as much as you used to, and I think you will see much less in the future.

LAURENCE

Do you ever think about leaving your estate to your daughter?

TREY

No.

LAURENCE

Why not?

TREY

I don't have a daughter, son, or offspring of any gender. So, this subject isn't heading for conversation gold.

LAURENCE

What would you do with your money if you had a daughter with children and an estate?

TREY

No idea.

LAURENCE

Very helpful. (sigh) Well, I have a daughter and two young grandsons. My daughter is a mess. The only time she takes her ears or her eyes off her phone is to marry a scumbag loser or give birth to a child from a scumbag loser who will divorce her before the baby burps three times.

TREY

It appears you are dealing with more than an estate distribution dilemma.

LAURENCE

Yeah, I worry about her and the kids. Right now, I'm the only person protecting her from food stamps and the real world.

TREY

I have no estate worries after 30 years of gambling on horse racing.

LAURENCE

It's not the money. My daughter is um, vulnerable.

TREY

You would have been better off squandering your money on slow horses like me. My estate is all arranged. All I gotta do is quit paying rent and slip a note under my neighbor's door to say she can have my Honda Accord in exchange for caring for my dog, a border collie named Trotter.

LAURENCE

(Deflated)

Giving my daughter a chunk of money will cause her more harm. She's a load, lost in the Internet, following blogs. She is a digital fish waiting to get continually hooked. She's a lousy mother and emotionally stunted.

TREY

Emotionally stunted! Yowza, whadda ya call me behind my back?

LAURENCE

At least you have friends. You go to the racetrack, and you have a real life. (Sighs) I'm glad I lived in the generation that I did.

TREY

Agreed, I'm glad the first few of my racetrack years were in the grandstands and not online.

LAURENCE

Remember books, music on CD's, and human friends?

TREY

Good times. (Pause) I got a suggestion on your estate distribution problem, and no, it doesn't have anything to do with forking over money to me.

LAURENCE

Do tell.

TREY

It's a little kooky.

LAURENCE

Trey, I've known you for six years. I'd expect nothing less. Somewhere on your tombstone will be the term 'Untethered by norms.'

TREY

Remember, this suggestion comes from a horseplayer after four Miller Lites.

LAURENCE

My friend, you are breathing and not an AI hologram.

TREY

Okay, follow my thinking. I can hook you up with a trainer friend at the racetrack. Every year, he buys about a dozen yearlings. I trust the guy with my life. He is a bachelor, would welcome company, and could be a good influence.

LAURENCE

My daughter doesn't seem interested in horse racing or anything else.

TREY

No problem. You set up one of those trust things for your daughter. When you kick the bucket, the trust kicks in.

LAURENCE

So far, that's ridiculous, but please continue.

TREY

After your funeral, your daughter discovers that you have arranged for her and three of her human girlfriends to share ownership of a baby horse the trainer has picked out. Your daughter must make a few promises to collect the estate.

LAURENCE

Like stipulations?

TREY

(Nods)

They must physically visit the training center once per month during training, which is about six to eight visits. They get to rename their harness horse. If the horse races, they need to go to the racetrack. Your daughter will take her kids and your grandkids on these visits. All participants in this lunacy must pinkie-swear on a Taylor Swift poster that the visits will be 100 per cent phone-free. Should they agree to the terms, this ownership adventure is free, and any winning money is theirs.

LAURENCE

What if they renege and can't get off the phone?

TREY

Any money the horse wins goes to charity.

LAURENCE

Do you think this is legal or possible?

TREY

Maybe, but I have another version of this plan.

LAURENCE

Just as wacky?

TREY

Try the plan while you're still alive. Don't give up on your daughter or your grandkids. Keep knocking on the barn door. Give the sport a try with them. You'll enjoy it, and there's magic in that straw and those horses.

PACE FOR THE ORCHIDS

Captain Albano, Wish You Well win Adios eliminations

by Evan Pattak for the Meadows
Standardbred Owners Association

Captain Albano did what was expected while Wish You Well pulled off the completely unexpected Saturday (July 20) at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows, as each won an elimination of the $400,000 Delvin Miller Adios Pace for the Orchids.

They'll be joined in the $350,000 Adios final on July 27 by Huntingforchrome, Sweet Beach Life, Clever Cody, Rush In, Noblesville and Nuclear as well as Outer Banks, who reached the final as the fifth-place finisher with higher career earnings. It was a successful Adios start for trainers Travis Alexander and Ron Burke; each had three starters, and each saw two of those starters make it through.

Connections of Captain Albano and Wish You Well will select their post positions, with a shake determining their choosing order. All other post positions will be determined by a random draw Wednesday (July 24).

Last year's Dan Patch Award-winning freshman male pacer, Captain Albano was sent off the 1-5 favorite and looked very much the part. He quarter-poled to the top for Todd McCarthy and widened his advantage from there, scoring by 3¼ lengths in 1:49.2. Timeisonmyside and Noblesville completed the ticket.

"I figured if I could get away and stay out of trouble, he'd be all right," McCarthy said. "You have to be careful with them. He's gotta come back next week, so you don't want to spend too much fuel. We'll draw close to the inside for the final; that definitely will be an advantage."

The son of Captaintreacheraus—Angelou boosted his lifetime bankroll to $577,915 for trainer Noel Daley and owners Patricia Stable, L A Express Stable, Sjoblom Racing and Michael Dolan.

It appeared that the ending would be vastly different for Wish You Well. The Bettor's Wish—Where's Alice gelding, dismissed at 25-1, trailed by 6 lengths at the top of the lane, with no immediate racing room. But when David Miller angled him off the cones, he exploded past the leader, Huntingforchrome, and defeated him by 1¾ lengths in 1:49.1, with Sweet Beach Life third.

"He had a big kick to him there, didn't he?" Miller said. "I was just trying to get him into the final. And, jeez, when I got him out and got his plugs out, he kicked into a gear I wasn't expecting. That was pretty cool."

On Adios Day, the final of the Pace for the Orchids anchors a blockbuster program that features six Grand Circuit stakes. In addition, the card will offer a total of $200,000 in pool guarantees spread over 11 wagers, thought to be the "Richest Day in PA" for bettors.

Captain Albano (Todd McCarthy) won the second Adios elimination in 1:49.2 as the 1-5 favorite on Saturday at The Meadows.

Wish You Well (David Miller) posted a 25-1 upset in the first Adios elimination with a 1:49.1 mile.

Railroad Station steams to PASS victory at The Meadows

by Evan Pattak for the Meadows Standardbred Owners Association

Railroad Station found the fast track late and rallied to a stakes-fastest 1:51.1 victory in Saturday's (July 20) $192,108 Pennsylvania Sires Stake as part of the Adios eliminations card at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows.

The event for freshman colt and gelding pacers, known as The Albatross, was contested over four divisions, with World Beater, TH Colby and Louprint capturing the other splits. Ron Burke enjoyed a PASS triple (Railroad Station, TH Colby, Louprint), with Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. aboard for a pair of them (TH Colby, Louprint).

Railroad Station was very nearly the caboose at the half, chugging along fifth by 6½ lengths. But when he picked up the live cover of Prince Hal Hanover, the son of Sweet Lou—Rodeo Rosie found a new gear and outkicked his rival in the lane, downing him by three-quarters-of-a-length. Papi's Rocket finished third.

"That horse there is a professional," said winning driver David Miller. "There are no tricks to him. I think he has a big upside. He couldn't have done anything any better so far."

Burke Racing Stable, Hatfield Stables, Weaver Brusceci LLC and J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby campaign Railroad Station.

World Beater was away second, but Todd McCarthy didn't think that the best place for the son of Captaintreacheraus—World Apart.

"I would have been happy to trip him out," McCarthy said. "But he's a classy little horse. He can do it either way, so it ended up being okay. To be honest, I think he will be better off a helmet."

McCarthy's decision was sound, as World Beater topped the rallying Papis Pistol by 2¼ lengths, while Da Lou Ron Ron rallied for show. Tony Alagna conditions World Beater for Willow Oak Ranch.

PA STALLION SERIES – 2-YEAR-OLD COLT AND GELDING PACERS

Damn The Torpedoes, Quick Pittstop, Stay Focused, Paxamillion, War No More and Flight In Motion took the splits. Mike Wilder fashioned a stake double (Quick Pittstop, Flight In Motion) as did Tim Tetrick (Damn The Torpedoes, Paxamillion).

Wrenn and Burke teamed for yet another win with Stay Focused, a 21-1 bomber. The son of Stay Hungry—Yoseline Seelster was impressive, using two moves to deliver the maiden-breaking victory in 1:53 to owner Brad Grant. Furneaux was 1½ lengths back in second while Mount Laurel Rd completed the ticket.

"I think if I'd been forced to go inside, I would have found room in the Lightning Lane," Wrenn said. "Luckily, I was able to get out in the last turn, and he had a lot of pace. I think he has a lot of potential to be a good horse."

Aaron Merriman collected four wins on the 15-race card.

Live racing at The Meadows resumes Wednesday (July 24), first post 12:45 p.m.

PA SIRE STAKES FOR HAMBLETONIAN HOPEFULS AT PHILLY

Pennsylvania-sired sophomore trotting colts came to Harrah's Philadelphia on Friday afternoon (July 19) for their third preliminary state-sired rounds, with two $71,167 Sire Stakes divisions captured by a pair of 5-1 shots, each stopping the timer in 1:53.

The Greenshoe colt Supernova Hanover dropped four seconds from his mark in winning for driver Todd McCarthy, trainer Per Engblom, and Engblom Stable, Douglas Sipple and the Mal & Janet Burroughs LLC of the new Hall of Famer. Supernova Hanover got the ride in the golden chair as favored Luke The Spook and Greenspan dueled during a :27 third quarter, then cleared and moved out in the stretch to catch the chalk by a half-length, gaining in the :55 back half.

It was again pacesetter and pocket-sitter in the second Sire Stakes division, but this time it was the pacesetter, the Bar Hopping gelding Usain Hanover, who prevailed, holding off the longest shot on the board, Ordained, by a neck while covering his last half in :55.4. David Miller drove the Nifty Norman pupil for Enzed Racing Stable Inc.

David Miller and Greenshoe picked up stakes doubles when they paired on the fastest of three winners in $20,000 Stallion Series divisions, the 1:54 mile of Going Green, with the gelding reducing his lifetime best by four-and-one-fifth seconds. Going Green did hard work uncovered to make the lead, then held off the rival at his back, Green Pastures, by a length for trainer Jenny Melander and the partnership of Melander Racing Inc., Clark Stables LLC, and Noonan Harness Racing LLC.

Splendid has now won three Stallion Series races among his seven-race winning streak, on Friday putting up a time of 1:56 for driver Chris Lems, trainer Todd Rooney, and owners Rooney Racing and Trotting For Bourbon. The Father Patrick colt was in the 2-hole when pacesetter Loxahatchee lost stride turning for home, and had the largest lead at the wire among today's stakes horses, 1¼ lengths over Bird And Grenade.

The International Moni gelding Sainthood has now won his last two starts, here overcoming the outside post 8 to take his StS cut in 1:55.4. Sainthood set the pace then withstood Takemetochurch Deo by a neck for driver George Napolitano, Jr., trainer Joe Pavia, Jr., and Bay Pond Racing Stable.

Twenty-one-year-old Carter Dalgety made his first driving day in the United States a memorable one by guiding 11-1 shot Handlelikeaporsche to a 1:51.1 win in the day's final race. The New Zealander, whose father Cran served as a mentor to the younger Dexter Dunn, is imitating Dexter's brief trip to North America a few years ago to sample the racing life, and Carter may come back permanently in a bit; if he does, he could have an "in" with the many Down Under trainers on the East Coast, such as Hall of Fame ballot candidate Chris Ryder, the trainer of Handlelikeaporsche.

Driver Simon Allard and trainer/owner Mark Akins continued in sizzling form by combining for four Friday winners.

The racing week closes out today with a 12:40 start; fast-class pacers who can threaten 1:50 comprise the day's feature, a $15,000 contest. Free Philly programs are or will be available at www.phha.org.

Go Boom, 'Reckless' take down favorites in NJSS at Big M

by Dave Little / Meadowlands media relations

Go Boom and Reckless Abandon both defeated short-priced favorites Friday night (July 19) at The Meadowlands as leg 2 of the New Jersey Sire Stakes for 2-year-olds of each sex and gait had seven divisions, with each sporting a purse of $25,000.

Go Boom won the first of two colt and gelding trots in 1:54.1 for driver Dexter Dunn and trainer Marcus Melander. A colt by Muscle Hill—Ilia, Go Boom was a strong second to Hidalgo a week ago, and that mile proved to be enough to get him ready to win.

After staying close to the action from the start, Go Boom moved to the lead at the top of the stretch and easily held sway to the wire, winning by 2 lengths over Yannick G Kemp. Hidalgo, the 1-5 favorite, was coming at the eventual winner in deep stretch, but went off-stride nearing the wire and finished ninth in the 10-horse field. But he wasn't catching the winner either way.

"He raced very well tonight again as he did last week," said Melander of Go Boom. "Last week, he got a little lonely on the front [when he finished second], so I couldn't be happier with how he's been racing in these first two career starts."

Go Boom returned $9.40 to win as the 7-2 second choice in the wagering.

Go Boom (Dexter Dunn) won the first of two New Jersey Sires Stakes divisions for freshman trotting colts on Friday at The Meadowlands in 1:54.1.

Reckless Abandon (Todd McCarthy) won the lone NJSS test for freshman pacing fillies on Friday at The Meadowlands in 1:52.1.

In the lone filly pace, trainer Brett Pelling's Reckless Abandon (Cattlewash—Reclamation), off a traffic-marred second as the 7-5 chalk behind Bequeath, scored some revenge against that foe this time around, scoring as the 3-2 second choice ($5 to win) as the 4-5 Bequeath was trapped along the inside turning for home and had to settle for fourth.

It didn't look all that great for Reckless Abandon in the early going sitting last in the eight-horse field past the quarter, but driver Todd McCarthy got into a live flow before exploding off cover from second-over in the stretch to go on to an easy 2¾-length win over Worklifebalance in 1:52.1.

"I wasn't happy about getting away eighth, but that :27 opening quarter [put up by Eightsevensix] gave me some hope," said Pelling. "She is very slick and showed real talent all along."

SLIP ME FIVE: The other five NJSS winners on the card were:

- Filly trot (Div. 1) — R Charm (Propulsion—Jewels In Hock), driver Scott Zeron, trainer Linda Toscano, 1:54.1 (paid $7.40 as the 5-2 second choice in the wagering)
- Filly trot (Div. 2) — Spicy Nice (Tactical Landing—Maven), Andy McCarthy, Nancy Takter, 1:54.3 ($8 as the 3-1 second choice)
- Colt and Gelding trot (Div. 2) — Tactical Dynasty (colt by Tactical Landing—Dynasty), Yannick Gingras, Ron Burke, 1:53.2 ($4.40 as the 6-5 favorite)
- Filly trot (Div. 3) — Walspea (Walner—Speak To Me), Dunn, Trond Smedshammer, 1:54.3 ($32.80 as the 15-1 fourth choice)
- Colt and Gelding pace (lone division) — Power Code (colt by Cattlewash—Code In), Dunn, Nifty Norman, 1:51.2 ($2.20 as the 1-9 favorite)

A LITTLE MORE: Dunn led the driver colony with four winners on the program. He now has 57 wins on the year, good for fourth on The Big M driver dash-victory list. All-source handle totaled $3,067,135 on the 14-race card. There have been 56 programs conducted at The Meadowlands this year, with 39 of them seeing wagering bust the $3-million barrier.

Tellmeitmatters, Sabonis keep streaks alive at Harrah's Hoosier Park

by Jacob Rheinheimer

Round five of Indiana Sire Stakes for the 3-year-old colt pacers highlighted the 14-race card on Friday (July 19) at Harrah's Hoosier Park. Two divisions were featured on the evening, seeing Tellmeitmatters and Sabonis deliver as heavy-favorites to keep their win streaks alive on the season.

Sent off as the 2-5 favorite in the $49,000 first division, Tellmeitmatters teamed up with regular pilot John De Long from post 4 in the field of five. The action was hot early as Premier Romeo (driven by Kyle Wilfong) crossed over from the far outside to take command before Packedwithluck (Trace Tetrick) surged to the front at the quarter in :26.2. Tellmeitmatters settled in third on the first turn before Packedwithluck went unchallenged on the lead to the half in :55. Entering the far turn, De Long gave Tellmeitmatters his marching orders, quickly moving first-over into second while Packedwithluck led to three-quarters in 1:23.

Turning for home, Tellmeitmatters made quick work of Packedwithluck, powering away to a 2½-length lead midway down the lane. Scooting home in :26.1, Tellmeitmatters charged home to a three-length victory to stop the timer in 1:49.2. Premier Romeo finished second, Bitofbitterbutter (Marvin Luna) rallied for third.

Trained by Roger Welch, Tellmeitmatters is now five-for-six on the year having banked $112,690 this season. The gelded son of Tellitlikeitis—Art Matters was bred by owners William C and William P De Long and has now earned $317,050 in his career.

Sabonis scored his sixth straight victory of the season as the 1-9 favorite in the $49,500 second division with Joey Putnam in the bike. Sabonis secured the pocket from post 2 in the scratched down field of five with Jay Cross sending M-M's Bud to the front in a quarter of :27. The quintet remained single-file to the half in :56.1 before Sabonis edged from the 2-hole to reach the leader's wheel at three-quarters in 1:24.2.

Sabonis put his nose in front turning for home but M-M's Bud was not going to go quietly, responding gamely under Cross urging. The duo battled for the length of the lane before Sabonis crossed the wire first a half-length in front of the stubborn M-M's Bud in 1:50.3. Stat That (LeWayne Miller) secured third to round out the trifecta.

The Aaron Stutzman trainee is now a winner in nine of 10 for his 3-year-old campaign with $143,500 in seasonal earning for owner Pat Miller. Karl Dean Miller bred the colt by Tellitlikeitis out of the Roll With Joe mare, Gypsy Bellevue.

Sir Pinocchio and Fly By don't disappoint in NY Sire Stakes at Yonkers

by Yonkers Raceway media

Heavy favorites Sir Pinocchio and Fly By were up to the task in the pair of New York Sire Stakes divisions for sophomore trotting colts and geldings on Thursday night (July 18) at MGM Yonkers Raceway, scoring in 1:55 and 1:56.3, respectively.

Sir Pinocchio, who won the final of the MGM Yonkers Trot when last seen at the oval, landed in third in the opening $82,500 split, but driver Jason Bartlett moved to the outside early and was able to get the top spot away from Nottingham (Marcus Miller) after the 28 second opening quarter. From there, Sir Pinocchio remained in control through middle-half panels of :57.1 and 1:26 before he used a 29 second final kicker to seal the deal. Keep Asking (Tyler Buter) found room between horses in the lane and was a gaining second, three-quarters-of-a-length behind Sir Pinocchio, and Nottingham, who swung out of the pocket late on the final bend, wound up third.

Ed Hart trains Sir Pinocchio, a gelding by Met's Hall, for owner/breeder Carolyn Atherton. Sir Pinocchio has seven wins, four seconds and two thirds from 16 appearances, has pocketed $383,103 and paid $2.50 to win. He was atop a $5.40 exacta and a $20.80 trifecta.

In the other $84,000 flight, 22-1 shot Voss Blue Chip (Yannick Gingras) blasted to the lead from post 4 and was unwilling to cede the front to 5-2 second choice Super Duper Cooper (Jordan Stratton) when that one came off the pylons prior to the :27.4 quarter, forcing him to back off into the pocket. With the front-end secured, Gingras then slammed on the brakes in the second quarter to get to the half in just :59.2 as Fly By (Scott Zeron) began to advance first-over from fourth.

Voss Blue Chip was plenty game off that well-rated tempo and managed to repel Fly By to the 1:28 three-quarters, around the last turn and into the stretch, but Fly By just kept persisting to the outside and managed to finally wear down Voss Blue Chip in the closing strides, defeating him by a half-length. Victor Laszlo (Mark MacDonald) finished well off Fly By's cover and was up for the third spot.

Fly By, a Chapter Seven colt, was bred by Al Libfeld, Marvin Katz and Sam Goldband and Libfeld and Katz share ownership of him with Pryde Stables Inc. The Tony Alagna trainee has a summary of 3-5-1 from 18 trips behind the gate, has earned $193,312 and returned $2.50 to win. He keyed a $20.00 exacta and a $72.00 trifecta.

There were also three $20,000 New York Excelsior "A" sections for the 3-year-old male trotters on the program, and they were won by:

- Woweress (by Crazy Wow, bred by owner Purple Haze Stables LLC., paid $3.20 to win) in 1:55.4 for driver Tyler Buter and trainer George Ducharme.
- Ramborain (by Crazy Wow, bred by co-owner Ann-Mari Daley with James Crawford IV, paid $12.60 to win) in 1:58.3 for trainer/driver Dan Daley and co-owners Jlrll LLC., Todd Van Alstyne and Margaret Waterbury.
- Sky Box (by E L Titan, bred by Steve Jones, paid $8.20 to win) in 1:56.4 for driver Brent Holland, co-owner/trainer Paul Kelley and co-owners Go For Glory Stable, Ellen Palillo and Matt Lamont LLC.

New York Sire Stakes action will occur at MGM Yonkers Raceway again next Thursday (July 25) as 2-year-old colt and gelding pacers will compete in their fourth preliminary round.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday/Tuesday and Thursday through Saturday live racing schedule with post time each night at 7 p.m. (EDT).

Hanners takes two Buckeye Stallion Series divisions of 3-year-old filly trotters at Scioto

by Eldorado Scioto Downs

Driver Austin Hanners took two of the three $20,000 divisions of the Buckeye Stallion Series for 3-year-old trotting fillies at Eldorado Scioto Downs on Thursday (July 18).

Hanners' first win came with Justasiam As in the first division. Createaqueen (Dan Noble) took the early lead from post 4 and set fractions of :28.2, :58.1 and 1:26.4. Justasiam As got away fourth from post 9 and pulled first up before the half. By the three-quarter pole the pair were up to Createaqueen's wheel and down the stretch got in front to win by three-quarters-of-a-length. Createaqueen finished second with Uncle Petes Dream (Chris Page) getting up for third.

Justasiam As is owned by ACL Stuteri AB and trained by Anette Lorentzen. The homebred by Lionhunter now has six wins in 18 lifetime starts and $124,510 in earnings.

Champa Bay Hall won the third division, trotting her mile in 1:56.3. Kaminari (Aaron Merriman) took the early lead from post 7 and led the field through fractions of :28.2, :58 and 1:27.2. Champa Bay Hall got away fifth from post 5 and came first up before the half. Parked for the rest of the mile, Champa Bay Hall came home in :28.4 to win by a length over Amazing Face (Page) and Kaminari who finished third.

Champa Bay Hall is trained by Steve Carter for Jeff Fought Racing, Adam Friedland and Brian Carsey. The $9,000 Buckeye Classic Yearling Sale purchase is by Creatine and now has three wins in 12 seasonal starts.

Page drove Westfiftyfive, the winner of the second division in 1:55.3. Possibility (Merriman) set the fractions of :27.2, :56.1 and 1:25.1. Westfiftyfive got away seventh from the 7-hole and pulled half-way down the backside. The pair steadily made up ground and went three-wide around the last turn to win by three-quarters-of-a-length. After a first over grind, Tammie Sue (Chris Lems) was second and Possibility was third.

Westfiftyfive is a Long Tom homebred for Gary Condit who also owns the filly with trainer Ron Steck. She has now hit the board in seven of nine starts on the year and earned $59,682 lifetime.

Hanners ended up winning six of the 15 races on Thursday's card, with Page taking four.

The 90-day 2024 Eldorado Scioto Downs race meet runs through Saturday (Sept. 14). Races are held Tuesday-Saturday with a first post of 5:45 p.m. each day, except for Friday (Sept. 13) which will have a 6:15 p.m. post to help accommodate horsemen attending the Ohio Selected Yearling Sale. ## Freshmen colt pacers spar at Bangor

by Chris Tully for the Maine Sire Stakes

Two $16,000-plus divisions of Maine Sire Stakes sparred for dollars as each of the freshmen male pacing victors played “catch me if you can.”

The first $16,162 division for 2-year-old pacing colts and geldings saw a repeat performance for Massive Speed as the son of Dude’s The Man picked up his second consecutive stakes victory for the Tardif Taskforce.

As the wings folded This Dudes Perfect (Heath Campbell) went right to the top with Ella V Dude (Kevin Switzer, Jr.) matching strides in the first turn. With the field moving down the backstretch toward the :29.4 opening panel, Switzer backed Ella V Dude into the pocket, which was the cue for 1-9 Massive Speed and Walter Case, Jr. to leave from third position and blast to the front.

The heavy favorite led the field through a 1:01.4 half, prompting Switzer and Ella V Dude to leave their position and put in a first over challenge for the top. The colts were all bunched up heading past the 1:32.1 third panel into the final turn with This Dudes Perfect in the 2-hole and Dawn Two Dark (Andy Harrington) second over.

While it may have appeared that Massive Speed had his hands full at the head of the stretch, Case simply shook the lines at the colt and he responded with a burst of speed to put away any would-be spoilers. Drawing clear by 3½ lengths to score in 2:02.1, he paid just $2.20 to win. Trained by Marc Tardif for owner Leighton Property, he was bred in Maine by Laurie Harding.

Stablemate Dawn To Dark finished second; This Dudes Perfect was third.

The second and final $16,161 division was captured by Ridgecrest Dan in wire-to-wire fashion. Leaving from post 6, trainer/driver John Nason sent the Dude’s The Man colt right to the top where he set reasonable fractions of :30.4, 1:03, 1:32.4 before cruising home in 2:03 flat.

It was the first pari-mutuel win, and a new record, for the Jason Vafiades-bred colt, who is now owned by Bill ‘Yarmouth Lumber’ Phipps. He paid $4.00 to win. Named for Dan the harness man, the colt has two wins and two seconds in four lifetime outings.

Cheatin Fate (Andy Harrington) finished second; Just Aftermidnight (Garrett Mosher) was third. Both were trained by Marc Tardif.

Undefeated filly takes opening round of series

by Steve Wolf for the Quebec Jockey Club

The Hippodrome 3R (H3R) hosted the opening round of the Future Stars Series for 2-year-old trotting fillies and colts on Friday (July 19) and undefeated Chic Choc Rose stole the show.

The overwhelming 1-9 race favorite in the sixth race $10,000 division for 2-year-old trotting fillies, Chic Choc Rose and trainer/driver Marie-Claude Auger would take no prisoners.

Making just her third career start, Chic Choc Rose went right out to the early lead and held the field at bay the entire mile. She cut fractions of :30.4, 1:02.2 and 1:33.4 before easily holding off the pocket-sitting Massive Emotion (Pascal Berube) to win by three open lengths in 2:03.3. Miche Charm (Denis St Pierre) was third.

Undefeated in three starts, it was a lifetime mark for Chic Choc Rose, who is trained and was bred by Auger, who co-owns the filly with Catheline Pelletier. She paid just $2.20 to win.

Due to just three horses entered, the $10,000 colt division of the Future Stars Series was held as a non-wagering event.

Im Just A Gigolo (Lookslikeeachpndale), owned, bred, trained and driven by Jerome Lombart of Bromont, QC was able to hold his two rivals at bay, leading the entire mile and winning by one length in 2:07.1. Muscle Du Haras (Marie-Claude Auger) was second with Mass Speed (Denis St Pierre) third.

Track Notes: Both Marie-Claude Auger and Robert Shepherd had driving doubles Friday. Live racing resumes today (July 21), with the opening round of the Future Stars Series for 2-year-old pacing fillies and colts. First race post time for today’s card is noon. For more information and free race programs, visit www.hippodrome3r.ca.

Woodmere Delta breaks maiden in Atlantic Sires

by Nicholas Oakes for Red Shores

It is not often a 3-year-old filly breaks her maiden against the best in the region while being three-fifths off the track record but that is exactly what Woodmere Delta did Friday evening (July 19) at Red Shores at the Summerside Raceway as part of Governor's Plate Week racing.

The Jeff Holmes trainee sat second in her $17,980 Atlantic Sires Stakes A-division for 3-year-old pacing fillies and surged forward in the stretch drive to win in 1:55.2. Woodmere Delta's first career victory from nine-starts was just three-fifths shy of the sophomore pacing filly track record of 1:54.4 co-held by Rosetown Mary and JJ Scarlett. Gilles Barrieau was at the lines of Woodmere Delta, the younger half-sister of top flight pacer Woodmere Stealdeal, for owners Robert Sumarah of Nova Scotia and Frank Brundle and Brad Sumarah of Ontario. Pacesetter Fern Hill Indigo (driven by Brodie MacPhee) was second while Galway Girl (Marc Campbell) grabbed third.

The other $17,980 A-division for 3-year-old fillies saw Dusty Lane Dixie win in 1:57 for trainer/driver Barrieau and owner David Lund of Moncton, NB. Race favorite Chip Of Evil (Corey MacPherson) was second ahead of Downtown Tonight (Adam Merner).

A trio of $6,000 B-divisions of the Atlantic Sires Stakes were won by First Filly Chip (MacPherson) in 1:58.2 and Miss Dutton (MacPherson) in 1:57.4 giving Kuri White a training stakes double while Western Lily (Myles Heffernan, Sr.) stopped the timer in 1:58.2.

The $7,500 Andrew Perry Memorial trot had Irish Ray land on top in 1:59.4 for trainer/driver Campbell and owner Fred MacDonald of Kingston.

Northern Belle provided a mild upset in the Bud Ramsay Memorial in race 7 in 1:57.3 in line to trainer Damian MacLellan.

The Race 13 Medastar Memorial saw Spicey P (Jason Hughes) prevail in 1:56 from the Ashley Gamester barn.

MacPherson had a driving triple on the card as he also won with Tobin's Future in 1:56.4 for Jason Biggar of Miscouche.

IM SIR SCARLET, ONE WICKED MAN TRIUMPHS IN SUMMERSIDE

Rewarding his backers, One Wicked Man won the fastest Gold division of the P.E.I. Colt Stakes for 2-year-old pacing colts on the Thursday evening program at Red Shores at the Summerside Raceway.

The Prince County oval played host to the P.E.I. Colt Stakes for rookie pacing colts as Governor's Plate Week racing continued Thursday evening (July 18). One Wicked Man won his $18,250 P.E.I. Colt Stakes Gold division with an off-the-pace score in 1:59.1 for trainer/driver Kenny Arseneault and owner James Perrot of Stratford. All My Lovin (driven by David Dowling) grabbed second with Dilicious (Darryl MacLean) was third.

Im Sir Scarlet pounced in his P.E.I. Colt Stakes Gold division for 2-year-old pacing colts as he started his career off in perfection with MacLean guiding the son of Malicious to a 2:00 flat victory in his $18,250 split. MacLean also co-owns and trains the colt for co-owners Gordon MacLean, Wade Peconi and Stephen Downey. Sergeant Crowley (Robert Laffin) cut the fractions and held on for second while Rosetown Eclipse (Corey MacPherson) was third.

The $9,125 Grassroots divisions for 2-year-old colt pacers were won by Here On Earth (Adam Merner) in 2:01, Malevolent (Paul Langille) in 1:58.2, DJ Mustang (Marc Campbell) with a 2:01 score, Evil Lou (Mike McGuigan) in 2:02.1 and Setdatone (Zach Mullins) in 2:02.

The race 6 Derek Enman Memorial had Doc Darryl circle his foes in the stretch drive to win in 1:59.2 for driver Colin Sheppard and owner/trainer Morgan Sheppard of Brackley.

Trainer Jennifer Doyle scored a double with Lady Devine (Jason Hughes) winning race 11 in 1:56.2 while Sharky (Damian MacLellan) ground out a 1:57.1 prevailing score in race 8. Both wins were for owner Danny Birt of Earnscliffe.

Breakfast With The Babies reveals a few late comers

Breakfast With The Babies went to post on Saturday (July 20) at 9 on a windless morning over a fast track with clear skies and temperatures in the high 70s.

Delaney Hanover (Scott Zeron) won at first asking to take the opener. Zeron placed the Muscle Hill filly along the rail third early on in a race with no moves made until the final quarter when Baffle (Trond Smedshammer) tipped from the pocket into the lead with Delaney Hanover following that rival then out gaming her in late stretch to get the 1:58.1 mark with Fateful (Jimmy Takter / Nancy Takter) along for a lively third. Lucas Wallin trains and owns a piece of the winner, a $160,000 (LEX) purchase along with Wiesman Farms, LLC and Shermay Stables. Hanover Shoe Farms is the breeder.

Wallin came right back in race 2, driving Titian to a 1:58 / :27.4 win in her debut. The pair got away third, fanned out as the field entered the stretch and went by under her own power over a very game Expedient (Andy Miller / Ron Coyne) and a flying late Kadena (Mattias Melander). This Muscle Hill lass was a big ticket $250,000 buy at Harrisburg for the trainer in partnership with Kjell Magne Andersen from breeder Order By Stables.

Members Only (Andy McCarthy) won in style, setting all the fractions and stepping home impressively in :27.3 to end the 1:58 mile over an overmatched Global Sensation (Melander) in what was essentially a match race when two of the four starters went off-stride before the quarter. Tony Alagna trains the winner, a $60,000 (LEX) Hanover bred Greenshoe colt owned by Rob LeBlanc and Pryde Stables.

McCarthy converted a perfect pocket ride into victory with Monserate, a $200,000 (LEX) Chapter Seven colt for trainer Andrew Harris. The pair followed closely behind Wellsze J (Anibal Borjas / Alagna) through the early fractions, took out after the leader at the five-eighths and wore that determined rival down gradually before getting clear in the final strides of the :28.2 end to the 1:57.1 mile. Steve Stewart, Black Creek Farm and Maumee River bred Monserate, who is now owned by the trainer in partnership with Bill Pollack and Bruce Areman.

Jimmy Marohn, Jr was in to drive Gimlet Hanover for D.R. Ackerman this morning and gave that Bar Hopping gelding a beautiful steer to a 1:56.1 / :27.4 win over Greenma (Smedshammer), closing to his outside and a very game Sinatra (Andy Miller / Julie Miller) who set the fractions and got home safe thanks to Andy's steadying hand late. Gimlet Hanover is owned by the trainer and was a $50,000 (HBG) Hanover bred yearling.

The 21-year-old junior driving champion from Down Under, Carter Dalgety won race 6 with the homebred Sweet Lou filly Beach Rules for trainer Linda Toscano in his Meadowlands debut. Content to ride along near the back through the early postings, Dalgety waited until the last straight to tip Beach Rules wide and she roared by the competition with a :27 end to the 1:53.4 mile to get up while in hand over Bythelighthofthemoon (Patrick Ryder / Chris Ryder). It was also the winner's debut for breeder / owners Conrad Zurich and Purple Haze Stables.

Wavemaker (Andy Miller / Alagna) had the game face on today, insisting on the lead early then setting all the fractions before scooting home in a flat :27 to get the 1:53.1 win by open lengths over Cookie Air (Josert Fonseca / Takter). This son of Tall Dark Stranger is a Brittany bred with the farm retaining a share along with partners Riverview Racing, Steve Head and Pryde Stables after selling for $300,000 (LEX) last fall.

Banderas took the last of the baby races, which scratched down to a match up of three sons of Tall Dark Stranger, with a gate-to-wire 1:54.4 win, home in :26.4 under minimal urging from driver Borjas over Lafitte (Andy Miler / Alagna) with Interstatedaydream (Fonseca / Takter) an interesting third after a break at the start. First foal of the top stakes-winning mare Reflect With Me, Banderas is another Brittany Farms prodigy and is owned by the same group who own Wavemaker, comprised of the breeder along with Riverview Racing, Steve Head and Pryde Stables.

Atlantic Women's Driver Challenge debuts Sunday at Truro

Truro Raceway is set to host the first edition of the Atlantic Women's Driver Challenge, taking place this today (July 21) as part of their Harness The Hope Day. Seven of Canada's best female drivers will square off in a five-race drivers challenge, with the winner earning a new painted racing helmet courtesy of Grattan Helmets.

Headlining the field of seven drivers in career wins and earnings are both Clare MacDonald and Natasha Day. MacDonald, a native of Antigonish, NS is Canada's all-time leader among female drivers in both purse earnings and career wins, with just under $5 million in driving earnings and 1,530 career wins and counting, all earned in Atlantic Canada. Day, who hails from the Gold Coast, in Australia and now lives in Beachville, ON has carved out a strong niche in South Western Ontario and has 425 career North American wins and just over $2.8 million in purse earnings.

Also in the impressive field of drivers are PEI's Ambyr Campbell, Truro's Tammy MacKay, Port Hood, NS's Monica Sutherland, Julie Walker of Carlisle, ON and Maggie Jones of Barrie, ON.

"We're extremely pleased to welcome many of Canada's top female drivers to Truro, to be part of our Harness The Hope event, which will raise funds for both the Colchester East Hants Hospice Society and the We Care About Cancer Fund," said Truro Raceway general manager Steve Fitzsimmons. "They both do incredible work helping breast cancer patients and are worthy recipients of the funds we'll raise."

There will be sponsored races, 50/50 donated by the THHOA, a live cake auction, commemorative Driver's Challenge T-Shirts for sale with art work from Michelle Hogan and custom designed hockey cards of each driver, sold in sets with all seven drivers.

For Walker, who has been part of the OLG Ontario Women's Driving Championship twice and in other female driver events, she is looking forward to being a part of such a worthy event and in a place she has never been before.

"I'm excited to drive with some of the best lady drivers in Canada," Walker said. "It's always a great time getting together and chatting with great horsewomen. Looking forward to a great day at Truro Raceway."

For MacKay, a Truro native who literally lives in a house just outside the race track property, racing at her home race track in an event like this has special meaning.

"I've been to a number of ladies driver challenges over the years," MacKay said. "But racing at home, on your home track is very exciting and we are racing in support of a great cause; for breast cancer. I have a few close friends who are breast cancer survivors and these ladies are coming to watch and will wear their breast cancer survivor pink Harness The Hope shirts. In the end we are all helping out a great cause."

The event is sponsored by Ozzie MacKay and Achieve Financial, with support from the Truro Harness Horse Owners Association, Grattan Helmets and the Central Ontario Standardbred Association (COSA).

The card kicks off with a carry-over of $966.49 to their Pick-5, which begins in race 1 and has Canada's lowest takeout rate of just 12 per cent. Post time is 1 p.m. Atlantic/noon Eastern time.

Responding to Pandolfo's letter

Bob Pandolfo talks about drivers pulling and lack of inquiries by the judges. In my mind, that is part of the game. If there's clearance to pull, pull. If there's no contact, there's no problem. If drivers are not fishing for cover, they should move up aggressively if they're intent to go forward. Obviously I'm no expert. For that, HRU should turn to the judges. But on a similar note there's the wicked first quarter and the back pedaling second. The field gets jammed up and everyone behind grabs leather. The pocket sitter usually gets the worst of it. As my time goes back to a 2:00 mile being remarkable, my memory may be clouded here. Thinking of The Red Mile and John Campbell, who was taken down for such a thing. Seemed to me the pace was fairly even, but the Kentucky judges saw things differently. Reportedly JC is one of the nicest guys around, but I think his temperament was challenged that day when he was taken down – John Campbell! These decisions are usually hit or miss, and exacerbated for some when a player's ticket is a winner or loser. (For the owners I can only imagine the pain.) Hey, if you're going to crawl up on the outside and a driver has a split second to pull: that's how the game should be played. The slow second half, well that's quite another problem.
