Bongiorno's upstart Water Sports Teen posts fastest Adios elimination win

The colt dominated his division to improve to three-for-three since moving to his new barn.

by Brett Sturman

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

In a 3-year-old division that's already seen its fair share of ups and downs amongst the presumed best horses of the crop, it was Water Sports Teen (Somebeachsomewhere–Posey Tina) who made his presence felt at The Meadows on Saturday afternoon (July 24).

Water Sports Teen won the third of three Adios eliminations in an eye-catching time of 1:48.2. That time was easily the fastest of the eliminations, besting the time of 1:49.1 in the second elimination by almost a full second and crushing the time of the first elimination by over two full seconds.

The way Water Sports Teen disposed of evidently higher regarded foes is just as impressive as the race time itself. Making his third start for the new barn and sent off at odds of 4-1, the strategy was clear from the onset as driver Joe Bongiorno took Water Sports Teen immediately to the front. Dexter Dunn attempted to retake from the pocket approaching the quarter pole with even money favorite Rockyroad Hanover, but he was quickly rebuffed and had to settle to sit second. Showing no signs of slowing while coasting through fractions of :26.3, :54.2 and 1:21.2, Water Sports Teen finished it off with a :27 flat final quarter.

In that victory, he made second finisher Rockyroad Hanover and third finisher Lou's Pearlman look ordinary. Three races back at this very track Rockyroad Hanover beat Perfect Sting for all intents and purposes. Lou's Pearlman was coming off consecutive 1:47.4 and 1:48.3 wins at the Meadowlands. The latter was well-beaten almost five lengths in third and the former, Rockyroad Hanover, was never going to catch the winner though he did make some late inroads. It was the first career stakes win for Water Sports Teen.

Powered by trainer Jennifer Bongiorno, Water Sports Teen ran his record to three-for-three and has dropped his career best mile by nearly three full seconds since moving to that barn for his first start earlier this month. And to assess this horse's chances in next week's Adios final as well as his place in the division, it's worth noting his rapid ascension.

To be clear, Water Sports Teen is a nice 3-year-old. After four starts to begin the year with Andrew Harris, Water Sports Teen went to Todd Luther and promptly won four in a row in non-winners of 2 and 4 conditions, climbing the ladder at Miami Valley. His best time in those wins came in 1:51.3. From there, though, Water Sports Teen seemed a couple steps behind the better sophomores in Pennsylvania. For example, in a PA All Stars race on May 8 he worked out a pocket trip to One Eight Hundred but couldn't do anything with that rival from the two hole and ran second. Next out he took a good first-over run in a Pennsylvania Sires Stakes (PASS) race against Southwind Gendry before tiring to finish fifth. Then, as a 66-1 longshot in another PASS race, he finished a never threatening last. In his final start prior to the barn change, Luther took him to Scioto where he dead heated for win in 1:51.1 in a NW6500L4 conditioned race.

From there, Water Sports Teen raced two weeks later in the new barn. At Yonkers and over a sloppy rated track with a chart showing a 2-second allowance because of the conditions, Water Sports Teen blasted from post 7 through an opening quarter of :27 flat and rolled all the way to an open length win in 1:51 flat. He was sent off at nearly 4-1 that night, but the cat was out of the bag and in his next start the following week in the same condition, Water Sports Teen jogged in the exact same way, this time at rock bottom odds of 1-9.

Raging in career form and combined with how the other two eliminations played out, I don't think it's an overreaction to think that Water Sports Teen will carry Adios favoritism with him in next week's finals.

Both odds-on favorites went down in defeat in the other the two eliminations. Beginning with the first elimination, Southwind Gendry – coming off a bumpy gaited ride last weekend in the Meadowlands Pace – was inexplicably bet down to 30 cents on the dollar and faded late to be third despite being kindly rated through soft fractions relative to the other eliminations. Seemingly out of nowhere the Okusko-trained Natameri took a bold run down the backstretch at odds of 74-1 and took it to Southwind Gendry around the final turn. To his credit, Natameri eventually wore down and got the best of Southwind Gendry but lost to Abuckabett Hanover who capitalized on the two-hole trip to get the lightning lane win. The final time of 1:50.3 wasn't flashy, but it could give Abuckabett Hanover confidence heading into next week's final. Prior to his Adios elimination win, he came off a couple of races with no-shot trips and in between there was a softly run Meadowlands Pace elimination. He was all the rage earlier in the season.

In the second elimination, the big surprise was 4-5 favorite One Eight Hundred fading to last. After an innocently stated reason for Tetrack having to take him to the inside last week in the Meadowlands Pace, it was shades of last year when One Eight Hundred set hot fractions on the front and tired. The race was won by Hellabalou in identical fashion to Abucketabett Hanover from the prior race. I don't know if that win by Hellabalou dispelled totally his 80-1 Meadowlands Pace elimination as a fluke, but there's no question he gets along amazingly well with McCarthy. He did capitalize off the trip, but he did have to leave into an opening panel of :25.4 to get that spot and deserves respect for next week's final. It was another bomb in for second as Mysweetboymax was no factor in the Messenger but prepped for the Adios with a confidence-inspiring win at Philly last six days ago. Chase H Hanover came first over but flattened late; probably should have been a touch better.

The complexion of the Adios changed dramatically with the results of the eliminations, but those results will only add to the intrigue for next week's final.

Indiana adds $2 million to its breed development program for 2021

by James Platz

When the Indiana Standardbred Breed Development Advisory Committee worked to craft a plan for the 2021 racing season, the members did so with a conservative approach in mind. How COVID-19 would impact business levels at the casino operating at Harrah's Hoosier Park was unclear, making it hard to estimate just how much revenue would be allocated to the program. Now, armed with actual numbers, the committee recently amended the 2021 program, adding $2 million in new money and raising the total value of the program to $14.3 million. The plan was approved by the Indiana Horse Racing Commission (IHRC) on Thursday (July 15).

In the request submitted to the IHRC, the committee wrote: "In planning the program, all involved utilized very conservative projections for gaming adjusted gross receipts (AGR) for 2021. At this time, casino operations for the past three months have been much higher than anticipated. Deposits made through June 15, 2021 have resulted in the Standardbred Breed Development Fund receiving over $1.8 million dollars in excess of our projections."

The program that was approved on March 2 operated on projections of $877,099 in monthly revenue generated by slots. While the actual revenue paid in January (from December business) lagged behind projections, every month since then has exceeded the mark. The deposits in April, May and June have ranged from $1.375 to $1.465 million, signaling an increase, on average, of just over $550,000 in each of the last three months.

The slots performance over the first half of 2021 prompted the committee to meet June 25 and amend the program. The group drafted a revised program that allocates an additional $2 million in money, raising it from the $12,336,000 previously approved. Of the new money, $1.7 million is earmarked for Indiana sired overnight supplements and mini series. Breeders awards will be boosted from $700,000 to $1 million with the addition of $300,000.

According to Jessica Barnes, director of racing and breed development at the IHRC, the committee worked to place the new funds where they would have the most impact. The Indiana Sires Stakes program is valued at just under $8 million this season. She pointed out there is a large segment of horses that do not fit the fair program and are not stakes caliber horses. The added money nearly doubles the amount of $2 million previously allocated that Hoosier Park can use when writing races.

"We felt like the area that needed the most support was that middle group of horses that are not stakes horses," said Barnes. "This is how we can push the most money to that group and benefit them."

The money directed to Indiana sired overnight supplements allows Hoosier Park's director of racing, Scott Peine, to write races that are partially or fully paid with breed development dollars, lessening the drain on the track's purse account. For instance, on Friday's (July 23) program, a $10,000 event was carded for Indiana-sired freshman trotters that had yet to win in a pari-mutuel race in 2021. A $17,500 conditioned event was also included for Indiana sired 2-year-old colt trotters that excluded horses finishing first or second in the opening round of Indiana Sires Stakes competition. The $27,500 in purses for the two races were paid with breed development funds.

Barnes said that the new funding will not have an immediate impact on purses due to the nature of the fund and how it operates. She noted that typically Hoosier Park spends all the money allocated to supplements and mini series by mid-August or early September. Now, Peine will have the ability to utilize the supplements later into the meet, which traditionally concludes in November, but this year is extended into early December.

Another item of note from the July IHRC meeting is the addition of winter training at Hoosier Park once the 2021 race meeting concludes. As part of the sale agreement and final order transferring the racing permits of Hoosier Park and thoroughbred track Indiana Grand to Eldorado Resorts Inc., a provision was included that cleared the way for winter training at both facilities. However, in December 2020, ERI, with the support of the Indiana Standardbred Association (ISA), requested the requirement be waived for the 2020-2021 offseason at the Anderson track.

Prior to the July meeting, the ISA submitted a letter stating that the board of directors had voted May 3 to pursue the option of winter training. Joe Morris, Senior Vice President, Caesars Racing, submitted proposed costs of $65,000 to winterize five barns at the track. Since opening in 1994, Hoosier Park has never remained open for winter training. This season, the barn area opened Saturday, March 6 in advance of opening night on March 26.

Give us a reason (any reason) to bet

by Dean Towers

I was preparing to play the races (primarily Mohawk) this past Thursday evening (July 22) and noticed a track had a Pick 4 that I thought might be worth looking at. Unfortunately, I did not have a program. The $2 or $3 to buy one should not have been a big barrier, but it was.

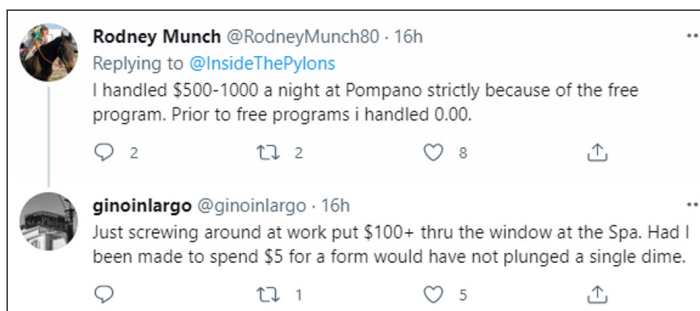

Maybe it seems weird to you, but it is not uncommon.

With dozens upon dozens of racetracks competing for the betting dollar, even a seemingly tiny barrier like paying for a program can cost eyeballs and wagering dollars.

Tracks, in my view, need to know one simple rule – you have to give us a reason to bet. And that can mean myriad things; some of them, like a free past performance page, relatively small.

On-air analysts can play a role in attracting dollars, by highlighting (either in print or on the pre-game show), bad trips or slam dunk pick “n” keys. These horses can generate interest and can give someone an idea to open the book.

I remember one instance, at a local simulcast center, a thoroughbred player stormed in completely excited to bet a Pick 3. He’d heard there was a can’t lose horse in the 8th and he wanted to play his Pick 3 around her. It was Ramona Hill at 1-9. Now, it was probably a bad Pick 3 with spread-key-spread, but he was slinging money into the harness pools, which he never does.

On Thursday evening I saw a horse who I thought was live the week before; she was boxed and looked like a use for the last Pick 5. Lo and behold I was watching the Mohawk simulcast show and Chad Rozema highlighted the horse, too (much to my chagrin Chad!) The filly again raced well and came second at 25-1. If someone watched Chad and used the filly, they had a reason to bet and feel good about it.

Signature bets – a bet, especially a small track, focuses on – can pay big dividends for handle and interest. People are attracted to a wager with pool size, along with handicapping materials or ideas attached as a part of the marketing. Gabe Prewitt at Pompano has proven this a sound strategy, as have some others. The Hoosier Park Super High Five (thankfully a non-jackpot wager) meets the $10,000 guarantee most weeks; the Pick 4 at Cal-Expo, expertly handled by Gary Seibel and team, is another success story.

Others are not so fortunate, but as Gabe and Gary know, it’s not easy. If you’re offering a Pick 5 with a $4,000 pool, get to work giving us a reason to bet and maybe good things will happen.

I was chatting on the Harness Racing Alumni show this week (listen here), and Bob Marks mentioned the past when he’d visit Aqueduct in the afternoon where bettors pushed $4 million through the pools. Then he’d head to Yonkers, where they’d bet another $2.5 millions (probably $16 million and $10 million, respectively in today’s dollars). Without casinos and scratch-offs and slots and sports betting, this is the way it was at a track like Yonkers – they merely had to fling the doors open to compete.

It’s clearly not like that anymore. Today tracks have to fight, not only for slots players and sports bettors, but amongst breeds. It’s more important than ever for harness tracks to give us a reason to bet. If they do it well enough, we will.

The positive - and polarizing - influence of Jeff Gural

The owner of The Meadowlands, Vernon Downs and Tioga Downs has both his supporters and detractors. Some, even, who are both, depending on the subject. But no one has had a greater influence on the sport in recent years.

by Murray Brown

The argument could be made that nobody since George Morton Levy with his establishment of Roosevelt Raceway has had a greater positive influence on harness racing than Jeff Gural. It's also probable that nobody has had a greater love of the sport in that time period. It's certain that without Gural, the most important harness racetrack in North America, The Meadowlands, would be gone. Even more certain, Vernon Downs in Vernon, NY would have been the victim of bankruptcy, and Tioga Downs would still be a non-existent junk pile in Nichols, NY.

Thus, the number one track in North America, arguably the world and a significant percentage of the tracks that contribute to the New York Sires Stakes and that state's harness racing program would be gone.

Could our sport have survived those losses? This scribe would prefer to believe that it would have, but to a much far lesser success than it does now.

Where and under whose sponsorship would our greatest event The Hambletonian and its affiliated events take place? How big a hole would the absence of Tioga and Vernon leave in the New York Sires Stakes (NYSS) events held at those venues, plus the other stakes and perhaps most importantly the lifeblood of those horsemen who earn their living racing in overnights racing at those venues? What would its effect have been on the breeding industry? It would have created a most dire situation, that I for one would not have liked to have been witness to.

Jeff Gural has both his supporters and detractors. Some, even, who are both, depending on the specific subject.

Shortly following Gural's much deserved installation in our sport's Living Hall of Fame, we had a long overdue conversation.

Jeff, how did this all begin?

"I was just a kid who started going to the harness races with my friends. I loved the sport from the very beginning. That love just grew and grew. Many people love to go to or participate in other sports. My passion from the very beginning was harness racing. I am from Long Island, so Roosevelt Raceway was a natural. My buddies and me would go there and also to Yonkers every chance we got. Back then Monticello Raceway was a summer haven for the sport. So many people spent parts of their summers in the Catskill Mountains. Monticello Raceway was a natural gathering place. Those who were unfortunate enough to not experience those days have no idea how much fun they missed. It was glorious.

My family would rent a summer bungalow close by. Kids would spend their days playing all sorts of sports or vacation at the many resorts. Those who were lucky enough to be able to go to Monticello at night had a great new world open to them.

You would eat at The Chateau, a restaurant just above the backstretch at the track, either before or after the races — or both. It was a well-known gathering spot for horseman and owners. We kids would try to pick up tips on "ready" horses. Sometimes we even did."

How did you get involved as a participant?

"I couldn't afford to buy a horse myself, so some friends and I decided to claim a horse between us. The horse's name was Shadydale Yankios. We were going to claim him from Billy Myer. I'm guessing he got wind of the impending claim, so the horse was scratched. That didn't deter us. We saw that he had been entered in a claiming race at Liberty Bell. We gathered the necessary cash and drove to Philadelphia and bingo, I owned my first horse. He did very well for us. I was hooked."

Until Bob Bencal's recent retirement, you had only one trainer – him – for well over 30 years. How did the association come about?

"It was kind of a coincidence. I was working for a company called Diesel Construction. I was at Roosevelt one night and met Don Pizer who also worked there. I didn't know him well. I asked him what he was doing there. He was interested in getting a horse. He knew this trainer who was working for Billy Haughton. His name was Bob Bencal. He suggested we buy a horse or two to give to Bencal. I said 'Sure' and I never had another full-time trainer until Bob retired. We are still the best of friends and we talk frequently."

To some degree your game plan changed. You went from racing overnights at the New York tracks to buying yearlings and trying to race stakes horses.

"That is pretty much where I've been since. I love the challenge of getting young horses, trying to develop them and reaching for the brass ring. We had some luck and a few nice horses. I especially loved the western trek of Springfield, DuQuoin, Delaware, Ohio and Lexington. We never made much money racing until the last few years where we had a few 'big horses.'"

Since Bob Bencal retired, you've now diversified somewhat. Instead of owning your horses solely with one trainer, you now own parts of many horses with several trainers.

"It's worked out pretty well this way. It has spread the risk factor and also allows for more fun and participation. There can be a whole lot more fun and action owning a chunk of 40 some horses than all of 10. In recent years, I've had most of my horses with Ake Svanstadt, Linda Toscano, Julie and Andy Miller, Nifty Norman and Ray Schnittker. They and the partners I've had with them have lent themselves to even a greater love of the sport and the so many good people in it."

How did you get involved in the breeding business and more specifically breeding just trotters?

Courtesy The Meadowlands

Gural said there is "no way" he ever envisioned owning three racetracks.

"I was involved in a large real estate deal. Those who know me know that I am much more a buyer or 'holder' than I am a seller. I hate to sell, specifically real estate. In this particular situation, because of the intricacies of a partnership, I had no choice but to sell. I did and came out of it well financially. But I wasn't happy. What would make me happy? I asked myself. I had always wanted to take the extra step of breeding my own horses, so I bought my own farm. As far as trotters were concerned, I looked upon them as being easier to breed than pacers. I figured, all you had to do was breed your mares to Speedy Crown, Super Bowl or Speedy Somolli. It was easier than picking pacers, which I felt was more involved. I also thought that if the market collapsed, it would be easier to sell a whole lot of trotters overseas given that there was at the time a very strong overseas market for them in Europe than there was one for pacers."

Let's talk about racetracks. Did you ever foresee a time when you would control three racetracks?

"No way. I did think that with the exception of perhaps The Meadowlands that I could improve upon running any race-track then in business. I made a run at Saratoga when it came up for sale. I was deeply disappointed that I didn't get it. Then Vernon came up. It was bankrupt and perhaps more importantly, at the time, looked to be the only track that might become available. I took a stab at it and bought it out of bankruptcy. I immediately ran into trouble with the horse-men's association then being advised by Joe Faraldo. Thus began the serious problems between Joe and me. Joe advised the horsemen to not EVEN MEET with me until I had signed a contract with them. I assured them that I would sign it by the following Monday. It was a Friday and I only had bought the track a day ago. I was already on my way to meet with them. As it turned out some met with me and many did not. I still find it difficult to reconcile their stance. Assuming that Joe was right in telling them not to meet with me, can you imagine how they would come to the conclusion to not MEET when their only other option was to have no racetrack and thus no means of making a living?

"Then came The Meadowlands which was on the verge of being closed. It was probably a bad gamble given that a casino was an underdog to come about. Some may not believe this. But I did it for two reasons: 1. I love the sport, its people and its horses. I thought, and still do, that the sport without The Meadowlands would become a dead issue. 2. I really believed that with a new smaller grandstand which catered to its audience, we would be able to draw substantial numbers of people to the racetrack again. I was obviously wrong on that. The bottom line has been that with all sorts of off track wagering and other forms of gambling, we have made it far too easy for people to NOT come to the racetrack."

You mention your long lingering feud with Joe Faraldo. Don't you believe that it's terrible for everybody – you, Joe and everybody else in the sport? Don't you think that everybody would be aided, not only by some sort of reconciliation, but more importantly by two extremely capable and talented people putting their means and talents together for the betterment of the sport?

"Of course. A few years ago I encountered Joe at an event. I approached him and told him that our animosity was doing nothing but causing harm to the game. Wasn't it time to just put our hate behind us and work together of the betterment of the sport? My answer was him just walking away."

It appears, thanks mostly to sports betting, The Meadowlands is now on solid financial footing.

"We have actually been making money for the last two years. I still believe that we will eventually also have a racino here."

Working Together for a strong Horse Racing Industry in Ontario
Three Breeds • One Vision

What about the future of harness racing, Jeff?

"It might be too late, but our major problem is that we have refused to invest in ourselves. We have a great sport, but very few people even know that we exist. Even those that do, know very little about it. We are much more interesting than the thoroughbreds, but they probably have 10 times or more the recognition and audience than us. I've been preaching this same tune for decades. I still think if it were taken to those involved in the sport, they would feel as I do. Unfortunately a few think otherwise and they believe the opposite. I've offered to pay to have USTA poll its membership, but I've been met only with deaf ears."

Beyond that, where do your three tracks go after Jeff Gural?

"I think that both The Meadowlands and Tioga will continue. I don't see Vernon surviving under present New York law given the advantages that the Turning Stone Casino has over it. I hope that my son Eric and Jason Settlemyer will continue to lead all the tracks in the right direction."

I'll end with the question I've asked most people during this terrible scourge called COVID-19. How did it affect you, both personally and business wise?

"My wife Paula and myself were not personally affected nearly as much as most people. We moved to our New York Farm and it became a rather pleasant, yet perhaps unexciting, existence. There's something nice about waking up surrounded by beautiful countryside in the midst of a group of gorgeous horses. Like Mr. Churchill was known to have said, 'There's something about the outside of a horse that is good for the inside of a man.' We'd swim each day and watch movies on Netflix. Perhaps a little boring, but life could have been a whole lot worse for two older folks wanting to stay healthy. As far as business was concerned, for a 79-year-old guy who has worked all of his life, I've never worked harder or gone through more stress in all my life. The racetracks did as well as they could have considering the restrictions that we followed to a tee."

"My other and major business, real estate, was chaotic, to say the least. It isn't even close yet to shaking out. It probably won't be until we are entirely rid of this terrible plague and its after effects."

A million Frenchmen can't be wrong

by Alan Leavitt

Love You, the French trotting stallion, is playing an increasingly important role here in the United States. He came dangerously close to having a Hambletonian winner in International Moni, who won his elimination but then was interfered with in the final. Last year, Julie and Andy Miller's Venerate won the Mohawk Million, among other stakes races, and is one of the favorites for this year's Hambletonian. Taken all together, it cried out for an in-depth look at Love You's pedigree.

For starters, Love You is by Cocktail Jet, who was an outstanding racehorse with earnings of $2,376,219, almost all of it in Europe, although he did race a few times here in the United States. Wherein lies another story, but that comes later.

His dam is Guilty Of Love, by And Arifant, and unfortunately there are no racing records available for her or any of the other mares in her Tail-Mare line. For the record, I just invented that term.

But you don't have to look far to see that Love You has almost as much American blood as he does European. His sire, Cocktail Jet, is entirely American-bred on his dam's side, being out of Ambro Glamour, who is by Super Bowl, and out of Speedy Sug, by Speedy Count, out of Sug, by Hickory Smoke.

Here a word about the genesis of the names Speedy Sug, and Sug, whose dam is Cassin Hanover. Lawrence Sheppard, the founder of the Hanover Shoe Farms, had three daughters, Alma, Sug and Patricia. They were all horse-women. As a little boy, my father took me to the Shoe Farms to watch Alma Sheppard drive Dean Hanover in an exhibition mile. Earlier, she had set a world's record with the horse in a time trial. If memory serves, Alma was 11 at the time.

Sug, who was married to a Hanover doctor, Todd DeVan, is the mother of Larry DeVan. Larry has been an activist in our business, with numerous important contributions.

And finally, Patricia is the mother of the leading figure in American harness racing today, Russell Williams. Russell is both the sole proprietor of the Hanover Shoe Farms and the president of our registry, the United States Trotting Association (USTA).

If you're still with me, and I probably should have provided a map, Cassin Hanover was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sheppard, and they were honoring their daughter Sug Devan, when they named those two fillies after her.

Which, after a long detour over old roads, brings us back to Guilty Of Love, the dam of Love You. In the third generation of his Tail-Male, or top sire line, is Quick Song, a strictly American-bred horse by Victory Song. And the horse he sired, who is Guilty Of Love's grandsire, Sharif Di Ilesolo, was one of the greatest Italian racehorses of all time, and then one of their greatest sires.

Meanwhile, the plot thickens even more when you see that Amour D'aunou, the dam of Guilty Of Love, is by Speedy Somolli. Here, this kid takes a little credit, because I syndicated Speedy Somolli before he won the Hambletonian, and was proud to stand him throughout his career as a sire. Didn't do too bad, either, in that department, with three Hambletonian winners.

Many years ago, Jim Harrison predicted that the results of melding American and French trotting blood would be synergistic. As usual, Jim was right, and Love You is the living proof.

It happens that this kid has a personal connection to Love You. The horse was bred and is still owned by Jean Pierre Du Bois, J. P. to his friends. Jean Pierre and I have been good friends ever since we met when he brought Cocktail Jet to race at The Meadowlands in the mid-'80s. J. P. is the leading figure in French harness racing, and I mean every phase of it, by at least an hour and a half.

A few years ago, my wife, Meg Jewett, and I spent a week in Paris, where we had gone to experience the Prix D'Amerique in person. I should add that Meg is fluent in French, and I am not. This despite having taken two years in French at Andover, where it is taught by the direct method, meaning only French is spoken from the time you say, "Bonjour, M. Forbush," to the moment you say, "Adieu, Monsieur."

While we were in France, we spent a delightful day with Jean Pierre. It started with croissants at a little café where a talking parrot, who was not caged, kept urging us to eat with, "Mangey, Monsieur. Mangey, Madame."

J.P. spent the day showing us all his many properties and telling great stories that went with them. As the day was coming to an end, we drove into still another farm, and by then it was raining fairly hard.

We came to a large paddock in which there was one horse. He was standing in the rain, nibbling at a round bale of hay that was just barely covered by a little open sided shed. I asked J. P. who the horse was, and he answered proudly, "Coktail Jet!"

And then, as we continued to watch one of the greatest French horses who ever lived chomping away in the rain at the round bale, Jean Pierre said, with a big grin, "Self-serve!"

Today's 1.6-mile Stochampionatet for mares is wide open

by Thomas Hedlund

Today (July 25) the $550,000 Stochampionatet for 4-year-old mares over 2,640 meters (approximately 1.6 miles) closes a three-day meeting at Axevalla racetrack in Sweden and 12 well-merited mares will battle over some 2 1/2 laps.

Six eliminations were held on Friday (July 16) and the contenders must be in great shape to perform at their best just nine days later over the pretty long distance.

This year's edition contains some of the best mares in the Swedish 4-year-old crop, which is proved by the high average purses among the 12 trotters.

Last year's dominant Eagle Eye Cherry ($636,000) is the most merited horse in the field, but many SEK millionaires are in the race. Nine out of 12 trotters have earned more than one million Swedish crowns.

The eliminations told us that today's final should be an exciting story with several horses that are ready to fight for the victory. Muscle Hill mare Hall Of Am started her career in Marcus Melander's barn in New Jersey and claimed a victory in a Kindergarten Classic elimination before she followed up as fourth in the final and third in Goldsmith Maid in her last start as a 2-year-old.

Hall Of Am has really become one of the hottest horses ahead of Stochampionatet and she (and Jerry Riordan trained Globalizer) came home in the fastest mile rate of the elimination winners: 1:58.

Hall Of Am, owned by the Courant Stable, is one of the favorites to win today's $550,000 Stochampionatet.

Tuesday night rumble in Malmö

The $365,000 Hugo Åbergs Memorial mile race highlights the Tuesday night (July 27) race card at Jägersro racetrack where 10 horses are invited.

Swedish-bred trotters dominate the race and most probably one of them will be the race's first choice. Svante Båth's Very Kronos (Ready Cash) drew post 2 behind the gate and it looks like the 7-year-old colt has a great shot claiming his first win for the year. Very Kronos is, by many fans, considered as one of the best horses in Sweden and Europe, but 2021 has not been as successful as last season, when he dominated several big races in Sweden.

Tuesday night might be the night when Very Kronos shows the great capacity he holds.

The $161,000 second final of Breeders Course for 3-year-olds is held the same night in Malmö and Italian trainer Alessandro Gocciadoro has two great chances in the race. Gocciadoro drives Ready Express son Colibri Jet while Örjan Kihlström sits behind Cash Maker. Love You Too (Love You), who claimed the first final in Breeders Course (1.3 miles) at Solvalla on Elitloppet day, starts from post 9. The distance on Tuesday night is 1,640 meters.

Prime time players – Stanley Dancer and Cam Fella

by Bob Heyden

Let's talk about a couple of prime time player: Stanley Dancer and Cam Fella.

On July 25, 1927 Dancer was born. The same year, Babe Ruth hit 60 home runs and that record stood 34 years. He wound up with 714 career homeruns retiring in 1935 with a record that stood 39 years.

Dancer's record of three Triple Crown wins – that he trained and drove – still stands 49 years later. Only twice since has a trainer/driver won just one Triple Crown – 1980 Clint Galbraith with Niatross and 2004 Trond Smedshammer with Windsongs Legacy.

Not only did Dancer win the Triple Crown with Nevele Pride in 1968, Most Happy Fella in 1970 and Super Bowl in 1972, he very nearly had five in that nine year span from 1968-1976. Albatross was second to Nansemond as the huge favorite to complete the 1971 Triple Crown in the Jug and Keystone Ore missed a neck of overcoming the second tier to Windshield Wiper in the 1976 Messenger.

July 25, 1983 was the date of The Match Race everyone wanted (actually it was a field of 10). It was contested on a Monday as Pat Crowe had a previous obligation on the Saturday two days before. It was the first ever matchup between Its Fritz and Cam Fella. Cam won this matchup and would take the next two, also. For those who are time crazy, consider this. Cam Fella was the easy choice in 1983 for his second straight Horse of the Year and wound up surpassing Niatross at year's end on the all-time earnings list with $2.041 million – or 11 times what Ist Fritz earned in his entire career. Yet, Its Fritz was the fastest performer in 1983 at The Red Mile and The Meadows. He won in 1:52.1 at The Meadows on Aug. 27 and in 1:51.4 in Lexington.

Two decades later, Cam Fella simply outdid himself. He sired four straight Meadowlands Pace winners from 1991-1994 (Precious Bunny, Carlsbad Cam, Presidential Ball and Cams Card Shark).

Take a look at the world race record holders among the 4- and 5-year-old and older set entering the 2007 season:

4YO Horse – 1:47.3 Lis Mara; grandson of Cam Fella by Cambest

4YO Mare – 1:48.4 Carolina Sunshine; granddaughter of Cam Fella by Cambest

4YOG – 1:48 flat Color Me Best; grandson of Cam Fella by Cambest

4 YO or Older Horse – 1:47.4 Four Starzzz Shark; grandson of Cam Fella by Cams Card Shark

4 YO or Older Mare – 1:48.4 Frightening P; granddaughter of Cam Fella by Camtastic

4 YO or Older Gelding – 1:46.4 world race record from 2006 Holborn Hanover a grandson of Cam Fella by Cams Card Shark

Take (post) five

The 2020 and 2021 Meadowlands Pace winners had post 5. The 2020 Hambletonian winner had post 5. The last five Hambletonian winners have come from 5-6-7. This year, for the first time ever, the inside five posts got all five Meadowlands Pace checks.

Can you top this?

I doubt it. Mark MacDonald has just won the Meadowlands Pace, his first, at age 42. If you look back to 2005, when MacDonald set the world 3YOCP world record of 1:47.4 on Oct. 1 at The Red Mile, you will see a startling stat. His first three wins in the USA were all-sub 1:50:

Rare Jewel – Meadowlands, 1:48.4

American Ideal – Tattersalls, 1:49.2

American Ideal – Red Mile, 1:47.4 to lower Jennas Beach Boy's mark from five years earlier (9/30/00) of 1:48.

Summer of 1991

Thirty summers ago, Miss Easy was dominating the ladies. She never lost a Meadowlands race against the girls only (18-for-18). She wound up-in a six week period that summer of paying the minimum $2.10 five times in six tries. She would go on to set the pacing mare money mark of $1.777 million that would be topped several years later by rival Shady Daisy who, unlike Miss Easy, retired after 3 and continued on to be a super mare.

Back-to-backers

With Manchego at Plainridge today (July 25) for the $250,000 Spirit Of Massachusetts, she will try to duplicate her 2020 effort at the same track where she posted her season's best 1:49.3. If you remember, that was the all-age track record – and Shartin N did the very same thing on the pacing side – in back-to-back races; all-time marks both lowered with 30 minutes.

This takes me back to Aug. 6, 1994, when the very same thing – almost – happened at the Meadowlands. Beat The Wheel — who four weeks earlier, had become history's fastest trotter at 1:51.4 beating Pine Chip no less — and Staying Together were in consecutive races. He of the 1:48.2 world record from 1993 his HOY season. Oh, they both finished off the board.

Quiz

Q. Which father and son were the first to each score 1,000 driving wins?

A. Garland and Glen Garnsey. Glen completed that daily double in 1968.

Five hour window like no other

On July 17, 2021, the winner of the Haskell was disqualified. The winner of the Meadowlands Pace was disqualified and the leading active driver by earnings was disqualified (in Stanley Dancer first elim).

Melander on course again?

Could trainer Marcus Melander have three favorites in the Hambletonian again this year?

He did it at age 27 in 2019 with Green Shoe (second), Gimpanzee (third) and Green Manalashi (fifth) as the 1-2-3 betting choices.

Jimmy Takter did it in 2014 with 2-5 favorite Father Patrick last, Trixton the winner at $10.60 and Nuncio third choice and second best at 4.60-1.

Chuck Sylvester did them one better in 1998 with the four top choices. Muscles Yankee was the winner at $2.60, Silver Pine and Armbro Rotary were last and next to last at 4.70-1 and David Raymond was second as the fourth choice at 6.10-1.

Keep them in mind

Keep these two drivers in mind when betting the last two weeks of the Championship Meadowlands Meet and the Grand Circuit — Mark MacDonald and George Brennan.

MACDONALD:

Two-time Canadian Driver of the Year, in 2006 was second in wins in North America with 745 and fourth in earnings at $10.2 million. He picked up the drive late in the 2011 Breeders Crown series on Betterthancheddar and posted one of the greatest performances from a near impossible spot to win the 3YOCP BC. He won his first Crown in 2008 (Tim Tetrack and he both scored their first Crowns in consecutive races) from last to first with Moving Pictures. He won the Metro and NA Cup with Sportswriter in 2009-2010. That Artsplace colt is one of the only handful of pacers in history to average $100,000 per career start. He had the sport's fastest winning drive 15 years apart in 2005 and again in 2020. The last time he drove on Hambletonian Day he won the Lady Liberty with three-time division winner Pure Country. He set the Adios record of 1:47.4 — also the world mark — in 2012 with Bolt The Duer.

BRENNAN:

Got his start in the Metro-New York area in 1994 with veteran Indianapolis. He drove both 2YO division winners in 1995 with Chippies Ruler and A Stud Named Sue for Liz Quesnel. He won both the Woodrow Wilson (A Stud Named Sue-1995) and the Meadowlands Pace (Hot Lead-1996) debuting in both. He just missed with Fit For Life by a nose in the 1998 Meadowlands Pace. He was second in the 1998 Jug. He won the 2004 and 2011 Hambletonian Oaks at $37 and $57 with Silver Springs and Bold N Fresh. He set the Meadowlands track record for 3YOCP on Hambletonian Day 2005 with American Ideal roaring past HOY Rocknroll Hanover in 1:48.1. The next year he set the all-age world record with Holborn Hanover of 1:46.4 also on Hambletonian Day. He did great work with free-for-all Shark Gesture. He took the 2006 Yonkers Trot with Glidemaster to complete the Triple Crown and HOY. He won the 2011 Hambletonian with Broad Bahn the same year he captured the Oaks.

JK First Lady favored in Clara Barton at Plainridge

by Tim Bojarski for Plainridge Park

Fresh off her eye-popping 1:47.4 mile that set a new world record for 4-year-old pacing mares at the Meadowlands last week in the $178,500 Dorothy Haughton Memorial, JK First Lady will be shipping to Plainridge Park today (July 25) to compete in the $100,000 Clara Barton Distaff Pace where she has been made the morning line favorite.

Leading up to her record-breaking start, JK First Lady was racing very well this year. But she had encountered some very difficult trips that left her winless going into last week. Despite those tough outings her mare had been dealing with, trainer Nancy Takter knew JK First Lady's fortunes would soon change.

"I was really expecting her to perform well in the Haughton and knew she was sitting on a big race. She was loaded with pace in her last start in the Artiscape but had to move late and a little wide down the stretch. So I knew she was coming in with real good form. She's a good mare, she just needed a trip to work out for her," said Takter.

JK First Lady's 2- and 3-year-old years almost mirrored each other for performance and earnings and she was very good in both. But now as an older mare she looks like she could have really moved to the next level based on her performance in that Meadowlands win.

"Honestly we were hoping this could be a career year for her, otherwise we wouldn't have brought her back at 4 because she's very valuable as a broodmare, too. The thing was at 2 and a little bit at 3, she was a little hard to manage, a little bratty. We tried to keep her covered up a lot and teach her to race because she was a little aggressive early in her career. But now she's more manageable and can leave and let a horse go. If you would have tried to do that with her at 3 she would have been off. She's matured with age," said Takter.

With JK First Lady coming in off such an impressive victory, it could be easy to overlook other mares in this race. And one of those is her Breeders Crown champion stablemate, Peaky Sneaky.

Peaky Sneaky was a bit of a slow starter at two and really never came on strong at three until the last half of her season. In fact she made 80 per cent of her total 2020 earnings in the last six

Michael Lisa

In her last three of those starts she upset the heavily-favored Party Girl Hill in the Breeders Crown at Hoosier Park, finished second to JK First Lady in the USS Indianapolis at Hoosier and finished second in the TVG final at the Meadowlands to stablemate Kissin In The Sand, who was later named the Dan Patch older female pacer of the year.

"Physical maturity had a lot to do with it, she had a lot of growing pains at two. And she wasn't always the soundest thing at two either. If you would have told me she would still be around at four and a Breeders Crown champion I would have said you were crazy," said Takter.

"Looking back I would have bet my house that she was going to win the Breeders Crown. I told Yannick earlier that week she trained so well and was that sharp. She was racing good horses in that race but also a really good group of older mares in the TVG final the next week. She beat Shartin N and Warrawee Ubeaut and that's tough for a 3-year-old to do."

However, this year didn't start out like last year ended. Peaky Sneaky finished third behind JK First Lady in that record last week and that was the best mile she paced since last November and may have been a turning point of her year.

"She came back from her vacation very fat this year. She had a good foundation under her but she needed to tuck up and lose a little bit of weight and with the racing so far I think she's done that," said Takter.

"JK and Peaky are very comparable mares and whichever one has the better day, will outperform the other because in ability, I think they are very close."

JK First Lady leaves from post two for driver Dexter Dunn at 2-1 and Peaky Sneaky starts from post six with Todd McCarthy aboard at 7-1.

Lyons Sentinel gunning for King's third straight

Meanwhile, Lyons Sentinel hopes to pick up where her former stablemate Shartin N left off. Shartin N won the first two Clara Bartons, and in consecutive track record times.

Shartin N, who has since retired, spent her entire North American racing career in the stable of Jim King Jr. And although the pacing queen is not in Massachusetts this year, Jim King is and he's loaded for bear once again.

King's top pacing mare this year is Lyons Sentinel, who set a world record for 4-year-old female pacers with a 1:48 clocking at the Meadowlands in May. That record has since been broken by JK First Lady with her 1:47.4 effort at the Meadowlands last Saturday (July 17), where Lyon's Sentinel finished a very close fourth after an absolutely brutal trip.

This rematch could be one for the ages.

Lyons Sentinel has been coming on strong since early in the year. In her third start in May she won in lifetime best 1:48.2 at the Meadowlands which was her fastest mile since October of 2020. Three weeks later at the Meadowlands she finished third by a length behind Racine Belle, who tied the world record with a 1:48.1 clocking.

"It's hard to get horses ready for those kinds of miles. She wasn't over-raced in her first two starts but those races got her ready for that third start and she came out strong and went 1:48.2," said King.

Then two weeks later she returned to the Meadowlands and went another link getting mark and broke the world record with a 1:48 mile in a race she dictated from the quarter pole on.

"That night she was fully in race shape and it was time for her to do that and she went a pretty good trip up there. If she ever got a two hole trip I don't know where she would go. But I'm satisfied with what she's doing for sure," said King.

Last week in the Dorothy Haughton Memorial at the Meadowlands, Lyons Sentinel finished fourth behind JK First Lady, who won and lowered Lyons Sentinel's world record to 1:47.4. But JK First Lady was able to get a close early position and a good trip. Lyon's Sentinel had post 10, was parked out two and three wide the entire mile and still only got beat 2-3/4 lengths. She paced in 1:48.2 with a :26.1 final quarter in a driving rainstorm.

Was that possibly the best race of her career?

#BET ON HARNESS
HOW MUCH DID YOU BET TODAY?

"In my opinion it was the mile of her life. It was kind of hard to fault her for that, wasn't it? In those kinds of races you can't just float them out there and get a spot, it's not an overnight. Those races are raced differently and that's the way it is. They're raced hard because that's where the money is and those are the races we all want to win," said King.

"This week there is a lot of speed in the race but Lyon's Sentinel is versatile, so with post three she has options. I expect she has a better chance than most in there. I know they have JK ahead of her morning line but I can't imagine her going off shorter odds than Sentinel. Those two are going to take the brunt of the money and they're not going to be too far apart. I think Sentinel went a better trip than the horse that got the money last week, but the fact is...the other one got the money."

King's also has Soho Burning Love A in the Barton, but she comes in winless in her last four starts after having a stellar spring

Earlier in the year, Soho Burning Love A was on fire, winning three straight races and taking three straight seasonal marks. She won the Blue Chip Matchmaker consolation in a runaway 1:51.4, 7-1/2 length romp that went faster than the final. Then she won back to back starts at Harrah's Philly and the Meadowlands in 1:50.1 and 1:48.2. At that point she looked like one of the best mares of the season. But subsequent starts didn't go as well.

"She has some trouble with breathing and when she goes a trip that goes too fast to the half like the :53.4 clip at Harrah's a few weeks ago, she surrenders. And most horses don't get over that quickly. She's kind of fragile anyway and although she's very fast, she's not very forgiving when you have to race her very hard," said King.

"She's so much better when she gets a break in the mile. When she went that trip at Yonkers she was at the top of her game. That's why she won her next couple of starts easily because of the way they went. When she gets away poorly or from an outside post, she can come from behind and beat lesser horses. But she can't in those kinds of fields."

Today, Soho Burning Love A starts from post one and should benefit from a lot of speed in front of her and King thinks she's in the perfect spot.

"I fully expect to get paid; I think she'll be good. And if she prevailed, it certainly wouldn't come as a surprise to me. I don't expect her to, but if everything falls into place for her, she's good enough to finish the job."

"Both mares trained up good and we're a long way from home, but that's the way it is and we've managed to make that trip before and make it work."

King also reflected on his champion Shartin N had and said she was incomparable.

"So far we're undefeated in this race, with Shartin winning the first two. I've got two girls here this year that are nice girls, but they're not Shartin. Shartin was few and far between. She was really, really special."

The $250,000 Spirit of Massachusetts Trot is also on today's card with post time for the first race set at 2 p.m. The card is also highlighted with the $50,900 Bert Beckwith Memorial Pace and with total purses totaling in excess of $500,000, it's the biggest day of harness racing in Massachusetts this year.

Grant my wishes

by Trey Nosrac

Are you a trainer looking for a wealthy owner? Are you a gambler tired of getting pummeled by the whales and high takeout? Are you a small-time breeder who wants to promote your yearling? Do you have a new racing product? Can you think of a new harness racing initiative or a new way to introduce our old product to new people? Do you have an idea to piggyback off our sport in beneficial ways? Young or old, trying new roads can be rewarding.

One of my pet projects requires a philanthropist. How does one start? Grant applications can be a complicated, time-consuming world to navigate. Most grants are detailed, targeted efforts. However, there is a sub-category of grants where when you get the word out in the public domain and philanthropic organizations find you. Seeking this sort of grant is like tossing a message in a bottle into the ocean. You send the idea out into the big wide and see what happens.

Of course, this is a longshot, but I'm tossing because a longshot is better than no shot.

According to the New York Times, little is known about how Ms. Scott selects her grantees, and there is not a formal method to apply for funds. Grant recipients first learn of the windfall by being approached by representatives of Ms. Scott, often from the nonprofit consulting firm, the Bridgestone Group, and told they are under consideration for funding. They are sworn to secrecy.

Address?

Dear Mac (or Bridgestone Group),

Congratulations on donating $8.5 billion dollars to 786 organizations and initiatives since July 2020. This is WAY more than me.

I figure the odds of you reading this proposal are about one in a thousand. However, the odds of me filling out a complete Grant Proposal and following proper channels are WAY longer than the odds of your reading my letter.

Let me be brief.

Addiction is a bitch.

We all know this. We all have watched friends and family members struggle and die in the clutches of addiction. Programs leading to recovery are welcome, but their success rate is disheartening. Weekly, I look into the frightened eyes of patients who reside at an in-house addiction recovery facility. The urge to help these struggling souls is overwhelming. Help is elusive. Money is not the answer. At best, money is merely a tool that can lead to some results when applied appropriately.

IMHO, when these addicts leave the facility (if they complete the 90-day program) is a turning point. The loss of structure and supervision is a deadly combination, the transition to sobriety difficult. I have an idea that would save many.

I come from a strange world, harness horse racing, a sport steeped in family ownership and participation. My proposal is a mentor/worker program for the transition period after completing a resident program. My concept is not merely a job mucking stalls, although that is where many would begin. It will be an immersive program involving insemination of mares, the birth of foals, raising of youngsters, early training, business training, and retirement homes for these horses.

The benefits of working with horses are difficult to explain. Winston Churchill said, "There is something about the outside of a horse that is good for the inside of a man." I believe this to my bones. Working and being in the presence of a horse is a strange magic that soothes chaotic minds. The fresh air and physical work with horses can be therapeutic. My grand plan is for a complete facility where horses, mentors, and recovering addicts coexist as a nonprofit entity.

Should the impossible happen and this letter sparks a flicker of interest and a reply, I will suck it up, fill out every page of the official application, and flesh out my concept. But let us not put the cart before the horse, let us put the horse side by side with some people who could benefit.

Thanks for reading.

Keep giving.

Peace,

Trey

This Is The Plan wins Joe Gerrity Memorial

Backstreet Shadow cut the mile, but it was This Is The Plan that cashed in off a perfect pocket trip in Saturday's (July 24) $150,000 Joe Gerrity Jr. Memorial at Saratoga Harness.

This Is The Plan (Yannick Gingras), trained by Ron Burke, nosed out a late-closing Rockapelo (Matt Kakaley) in 1:50.2. Backstreet Shadow (Tim Tetrick) held on for third in the 12th annual event.

The fractions were: :26.2, :55.2 and 1:22.3.

The victory by the 6-year-old gelded son of Somebeachsomewhere—That's The Plan pushed his earnings over $2.3 million lifetime for owners Burke Racing Stable LLC, Weaver-Bruscemi LLC, J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby and Lawrence Karr. It was the 19th win of This Is The Plan's career. He improved to 5-3-1 in 18 starts in 2021 with seasonal earnings of $410,922.

This Is The Plan was bred by Moni Market Breeders. The pacer finished second to McWicked in the 2019 Gerrity.

Blue Diamond Eyes equals fastest distaff mile ever at The Meadows

Blue Diamond Eyes may have been part of the Adios Eliminations undercard Saturday (July 24) at The Meadows, but the 3-year-old filly pacer made sure she was more than an obscure footnote.

The daughter of Captaintreacherous—Aria Hanover captured a $148,332 Pennsylvania Sires Stake known as the Romola Hanover in 1:49 for Yannick Gingras, matching the fastest distaff mile ever at The Meadows. The record was established by Allstar Rating — also a sophomore and also for Gingras — in 2014.

Blue Diamond Eyes blistered the three-quarters in 1:21.3

before coming home in 27.2. Long shot Milieu Hanover rallied for second, 4 lengths back, while the pocket-sitting Chase Lounge finished third.

The winner lifted her lifetime bankroll to $688,292 but, oddly enough, collected her initial win in seven starts this year. Ron Burke trains her for Thomas Dillon and Scott Dillon.

$80,000 PA Stallion Series — 3-Year-Old Filly Pacers: Mackie Hanover made a little history of her own, setting a stake record 1:50 for Tim Tetrick, trainer Tom Fanning and owners Howard Taylor and Falcon Racing LLC. AP Blaze Of Glory had established a new stake mark of 1:50.4 only three races earlier.

Tetrick had a chance for an early tuck with the daughter of Captaintreacherous—Miss Kitty Hanover but opted to speed on to the point — even though his filly hadn't been on the front at any point in her five most recent starts..

"She was on the lead a couple times last year, but she's had terrible draws and terrible spots," Tetrick said. "The owners and trainer wanted to race her, so I put her on the gate. We were aggressive, and it worked out. I get her busy late, nothing extravagant."

Podium Girl raced well first over for second, 2-1/2 lengths back, with Blonde On The Beach third.

Other divisions went to Classicist and Odds On Whitney, who gave Tetrick a stake double.

Live racing at The Meadows resumes Wednesday (July 28) at 12:45 p.m.. Also on Wednesday, The Meadows will draw post positions for the July 31 $375,000 Adios final.

Getting it Dunn! Dexter wins seven at Big M

Dexter Dunn is now turning the amazing into the mundane. The 31-year-old New Zealand native was at the top of his game Friday night (July 23) at The Meadowlands, winning seven races on the 13-race program. Dunn won all but four of the 11 $20,000 divisions of the Kindergarten Series for 2-year-olds of both gaits and sex.

It marked the second time in the last six weeks that Dunn won seven on a card, achieving the feat for the first time in 2021 on June 18. He also won seven races on Jan. 11 of 2020, so the last three times the feat has been accomplished, each time it was the driver known as "Double D" turning the trick. The Big M record of eight winners on a card is shared by Mike Lachance (1995) and Brett Miller (2016).

"I knew I had some chances [heading into the night]," said Dunn. "Some nice babies that have been racing well. They just worked out and got nice trips. I just think I had the right stock on the right night."

Dunn's magnificent seven, with the driver's commentary, were:

- Gotthegreenlight (American Ideal—Bet On Luck), a filly pacer, trained by Nifty Norman, who stopped the clock in 1:52.2, paying $2.20 to win. "She's three-for-three so she's doing everything we've asked so far. She relaxed well after she made the lead."
- Lilbitalexis (Walner—Jolie De Vie), filly trotter, Norman, 1:53.3, $2.80. "Her run tonight was good. She has a future for sure."
- American Beauty (Walner—All The Time), filly trotter, Nancy Takter, 1:55.4, $4.60. "She was really hot two starts back. Tonight, we came out of the gate and just kept going forward."
- Don't Fence Me In (Captaintreacherous—Mystery Game), filly pacer, Tony Alagna, 1:52.3, $4.40. "It was a generous pace." Don't Fence Me In went wire to wire after a rated opening half of :58.1.
- Selfie Queen (Muscle Hill—Lady Lakewood), filly trotter, Takter, 1:54.2, $4.00. "She'd gone off stride in her previous two outings. They changed some gear on her. Finishing, I still had a good grip on her."
- Niki Hill (Always B Miki—Road Bet), filly pacer, Chris Ryder, 1:53.1, $4.00. "I like her. She felt great. I was pretty confident tonight."
- Fast As The Wind (Cantab Hall—Wind Stroll), colt trotter, Alagna, 1:55, $3.00. "He's good, but I think he'll be better as a 3-year-old. He has a lot of filling out to do."

Does it ever get old having this high level of success? Dunn was his usual humble self.

"It's awesome for sure," he said. "I'm driving for the top trainers, driving good horses. It makes my job easy."

A LITTLE MORE: Dunn drove eight favorites on the card, his only loss coming with 9-5 shot JK Standingovation in the eighth. He now has 113 wins on the year at The Big M, 31 more than his closest pursuer, Yannick Gingras... Alagna and Takter both had training triples... All-source wagering totaled $2,399,223.

Dabarndawgswatchin and Western Wish step up in Gold action

Ontario's top 3-year-old pacing fillies mixed it up at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Friday, July 23 and Dabarndawgswatchin and Western Wish sent the favorites home empty-handed in Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold Series action.

In the first $101,400 Gold division, driver Jody Jamieson had Dabarndawgswatchin on the move from Post 2 as soon as the wings folded and the filly led the field of eight to a :27.2 opening quarter. When Scarlett Hanover swept to the front, Jamieson was content to follow last year's division champion through a :56 half and a 1:24.1 three-quarters. Turning for home Jamieson gave Dabarndawgswatchin a clear look at the wire and the filly reeled in Scarlett Hanover, with half a length to spare, for a 1:51.3 victory. Aint She Perfect finished third, in spite of hooking wheels late with Scarlett Hanover. Favorite Best Head West was fourth. (replay here: Dabarndawgswatchin)

"She just been a different filly these last two starts," said Jamieson. "She was pretty good before, but Dave (Menary) found she had a lot of mucous after a couple earlier starts and he's got her healthy lately and she's been awesome."

Fifth in the July 5 Gold Series opener, the Hes Watching daughter scored a 1:50.4 win in overnight action at Woodbine Mohawk Park on July 16. Through five sophomore starts Dabarndawgswatchin has a record of three wins, one second and one fifth for trainer Dave Menary of Cambridge and owner-breeders Julie Ferguson of Greely and Lloyd Stone of Portland, ON.

The second $101,400 division saw Western Wish make a successful leap from the Grassroots program to the Gold. Starting from Post 5, Western Wish landed in fifth as Always Watching paced to a :27.1 quarter. Favorite Voelz Delight took command before the :55.3 half and driver Doug McNair soon had Western Wish taking aim on the leader. Battling around the final turn, Voelz Delight and Western Wish hit the 1:23 three-quarters in lock-step, but in the stretch Western Wish sprinted away to a two and three-quarter length win in a personal best 1:50.4. Game Of Shadows closed well to be second and Voelz Delight settled for third. (replay here: Western Wish) Carmen Auciello of Stouffville trains Western Wish for Aaron Waxman of Carlisle, Frank Cirillo of Kleinburg and Santo Vena of Brampton, ON. The Betterthancheddar daughter's victory erased the last shadow of doubt her connections had about the diminutive filly's big game ability.

"Aaron (Waxman) watches pretty well every race from every province and every state in North America and he saw her race out in PEI. He knew she was an Ontario Sired filly, and thought she might be worth buying," said Auciello, who took delivery of the partners' new acquisition in early June. "To be honest, I had no idea she was so small. She's literally the smallest horse I have, out of 80 horses. She's the size of Doberman or something. She's really small, but she has the heart like a lion, she's such a nice filly."

Upon her arrival in Ontario, Auciello entered Western Wish in a June 17 overnight where she sprinted to a 1:52 personal best, finishing two lengths ahead of Dabarndawgswatchin. Her connections were impressed, but their plans to race her in the July 5 Gold event were derailed when a virus ran through Auciello's barn. Instead Western Wish made her debut in the July 12 Grassroots season opener, where she finished fourth.

"Anything I already had in Ontario for the last six months did not get sick, but because she came from PEI, and I had five or six come from Down Under and a couple come from the States, they got hit hard. She was really sick for about 10 days and we had to miss the Gold because she was still sick, but the Grassroots was a week later," said Auciello. "It just worked out perfect. She raced great that night, finished fourth, she had a tough trip, but it just kind of set us up for tonight. And we schooled her this past Tuesday and she was amazing so yeah, I was pretty confident going into tonight but you never know, they're living breathing animals, anything can happen. She was awesome. She's such a nice little mare."

Western Wish and Dabarndawgswatchin will be looking to add to their Gold Series win tally when the three-year-old pacing fillies meet up for the third leg at Grand River Raceway on Aug 2., part of the Elora oval's annual Industry Day program.

Complete results from Friday's races are available here and replays can be viewed on Woodbine Mohawk Park's YouTube channel.

Winning Ticket sets Scioto track record in Ohio Sires Stakes

Winning Ticket established a new Scioto Downs track record of 1:53.1 for 3-year-old trotting geldings as he cruised to victory in the first of two $50,000 Ohio Sires Stakes (OHSS) on Friday night (July 23).

The son of Triumphant Caviar, out of the Credit Winner mare Lotto Winner, is trained by Chris Beaver for partners Steve Zeelandar, Tim Homan and Jim Burnett. This was Winning Ticket's third consecutive victory in OHSS competition and was a career best mark for the gelding, who is now undefeated in seven starts this season. The 1-9 favorite finished well ahead of the hard-trying 7-1 Lockbox (Chris Page), with 30-1 McStoned Again (Tyler Smith) grabbing third-place honors.

Winning Ticket now has $75,000 in OSS earnings this year; $135,000 in seasonal earnings; and $231,047 earned lifetime.

Peter's Royalty, the 9-2 choice, captured the second OHSS division in 1:56.2 with driver Josh Sutton at the controls. The son of Uncle Peter—Dream Of Royalty-Yankee Glide won a dramatic photo finish that saw him finish a whisker in front of 6-5 favorite Dontforgetlittlman (Dan Noble) and 17-1 Ilikedecupcakes (Sandy Beatty).

Owned by McLoughlin, Short and Garland, Peter's Royalty is trained by Debra Garland and was second to Winning Ticket in leg one of this series. Bred by Marsh Valley Standardbreds, Peter's Royalty now has $55,080 in seasonal earnings and $76,280 in career earnings. This was his third win this year and fourth lifetime.

Spirit Day benefits Standardbred Transition Alliance

Today (July 25), Plainridge Park will play host to the $250,000 Spirit of Massachusetts Trot as part of Spirit Day's race card that offers over $500,000 in total purses. The 10th race of the day has been named for the Standardbred Transition Alliance (STA) in an effort to draw attention to the mission and important work this organization does towards training new skills and re-homing retired standardbreds.

And to show how much spirit the racing community in Massachusetts has about making sure every retired standardbred finds a career after racing, Plainridge Park, the Standardbred Owners of Massachusetts, the Harness Horseman's Association of New England and the New England Amateur Harness Drivers Club have partnered to make a direct donation of $3,500 to the STA.

Donations will also be accepted from any attending horseperson or fans who wish to contribute during the day of racing at Plainridge and those will be forwarded along with the check from the track.

The Standardbred Transition Alliance is a non-profit organization with federal 501(c)(3) status whose mission is to accredit, inspect and award grants to approved organizations that acquire, rehabilitate, train and re-home standardbreds.

Funding is generated across the spectrum of the standardbred industry, including regulatory agencies, horsemen's

MacDonald and McNair split the Grassroots loot in Milton

Drivers James MacDonald and Doug McNair of Guelph, ON split the 3-year-old pacing filly Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Grassroots divisions down the middle at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Thursday (July 22).

MacDonald, who currently sits atop the OSS driver standings, won the first two divisions with Good Night Moon and Sweet Pink and McNair, currently sixth in the point race, won the last two with Voluptuous and Andra Day.

Starting from Post 6 with fan favorite Good Night Moon, MacDonald hustled the filly away from the starting gate and settled into second as McNair and Alumni Seelster led the field of eight to a :26.4 opening quarter. Saulsbrook Olympia took command heading for the :55 half and around the final turn MacDonald tipped Good Night Moon into the outer lane and she was matching strides with the leader by the 1:23.3 three-quarters. In the stretch Good Night Moon pulled away to a one and three-quarter length victory in a personal best 1:52.2. Shiatzu Seelster and Shes Got It All closed well to finish second and third. (replay here: Good Night Moon).

"She raced great," said MacDonald. "She's usually got one really good kick finishing. I had to use her a little bit early just to kind of get her into position, but she still gave me a good kick finishing, so it all worked out. She likes to go by horses."

Jason Ryan trains Good Night Moon for numbered company 1187422 Ontario Inc. of Ottawa, ON. The win was the Big Jim daughter's second in Grassroots action and her third straight.

In six sophomore starts she boasts a record of three wins and three seconds for earnings of $41,075.

Three races later MacDonald was back in the Grassroots winner's circle with Sweet Pink, employing a similar strategy from Post 7. Slipping out of third around the final turn Sweet Pink and MacDonald took aim on favorites Docs Delight and McNair and the rivals battled all the way to the wire, with Sweet Pink gaining the advantage in the final strides of the 1:53.2 mile. Countercurrency closed hard for third. (replay here: Sweet Pink).

"She was good. She got kind of a tough trip, but she nosed it out at the wire, she knew when to stick her head out, so that was the important thing," said MacDonald. "She had to earn it today, but she did her job."

Nick Gallucci trains Sweet Pink for Millar Farms of Stouffville, ON who also bred the Bettors Delight daughter. The win was the first of the sophomore campaign for Sweet Pink, who was a Grassroots winner at two.

McNair took over the starring role in the third $22,150 division, guiding Voluptuous to a 1:53 victory. Floating away from Post 6, the reinsman settled Voluptuous in fourth as Jackieofalltrades paced to a :27 opening quarter. Heading by the :57.2 half McNair sent Voluptuous to the front and the favorites sailed by the three-quarters in 1:25 and then cruised home to a three-quarter length victory. La Petite Grise and Sports Duchess finished second and third. (replay here: Voluptuous).

"She got away decent and was able to go to the lead off easy fractions," said McNair. "She obviously laid over them again tonight."

The win was the filly's second in Grassroots competition and her third straight. In four sophomore starts the Sunshine Beach daughter has been no worse than second for trainer Tony Alagna and owner-breeders M T Pockets Stables of Pompano Beach and Victoria Howard of Boca Raton, FL.

McNair and Andra Day captured the last $22,150 Grassroots division with a gritty effort that saw the fan favorites repel a challenge from Amini and driver Sylvain Filion to keep a neck in front at the wire. Beach Moment closed sharply to finish one and one-quarter lengths behind the battling leaders. The 1:53 clocking was a personal best for Andra Day and marked her first visit to the winner's circle this season. (replay here: Andra Day).

"She showed some toughness in the stretch," said McNair. "I used her pretty good going to the half and Sylvain (Filion) was by her halfway down the lane, but she battled back. Her confidence should get higher off that win."

Dr. Ian Moore of Cambridge trains Andra Day for Let It Ride Stables Inc. and Bottom Line Racing LLC of Boca Raton, FL. The Shadow Play daughter was a two-time Gold Series winner at two.

The sophomore pacing fillies will make their third Grassroots start on Aug. 2 as part of Grand River Raceway's annual Industry Day celebrations.

Thoughts on Meadowlands Pace Night

I was planning on going from Long Island but with the threat of heavy thunderstorms I decided to stay home and watch on the TVG app on TV.

Obviously, the talk of the night was the DQ in the Pace. It was a night of inquiries. Most time you can go days without an inquiry. Pace night there were three or more.

Most were easy to resolve. The Pace wasn't. After looking at the replays it looked to me that at the top of the stretch the 4 got rough gaited and caused the 6 to do the same causing interference behind him. The 6 didn't do anything worse than the 4 but the 6 caused more trouble behind. The 4 caused the trouble. I feel it was a bad DQ.

it was a night of weird happenings. On the betting side of the equation I was annoyed that in the 1st race Donna Soprano and Beltassima were 8-5 and 4-5 with the horses on gate. As they started the last flash had Beltassima go 1-5 and Donna Soprano 3-1. At 3-1 I'd be interested. Not at 8-5 vs 4-5. Somehow someone sandbagged that bet to go at the last second?

The smallest betting pools are WPS, more money in exactas and triples and Pick 3, 4 or 5. That's the reason I can't play Yonkers with 4-1 dropping to 9-5 with seconds to post.

I also wanted to mention that I went up to Goshen on July 3. What a nice afternoon as the rain held off. My dad grew up in Goshen in the 1920s and 1930s so I knew all about the history of Goshen.

It was nice to see many young families there and see the interest the kids had in watching the horses. They had questions and it was fun answering their questions about equipment and what's a trotter and a pacer.

Sad though that none of the older folks knew anything about Greyhound. Not many knew about the old mile track, Good Times Park. To them it was now a picnic area and a lot of it overgrown with weeds.

Goshen has a lot of construction going on. Young families moving in. It's no longer the old country town, but it still nice with plenty of space.

We drove down to the Meadowlands to make it a doubleheader. Nice day, good friends and thinking of my dad, gone 24 years.

Bill Hartenstine / Farmingdale, NY

RE: Meadowlands' drivers' meeting

It's almost painful to read this crap (full story here). Jeff Gural tries, but his efforts won't mean anything. He believes the racing product was better the night after the meeting. What he is acknowledging is that the racing hasn't been up to snuff before that night. Mr. Gingras made me laugh. He doesn't agree 100 per cent with Mr. Gural, but he DOES agree that "holes shouldn't be opened just because the outside driver is a friend of yours." Who does he think he is kidding? He is a leading driver and gets holes opened for him ALL the time. In return, he opens holes for others ALL the time. He sounds like a bank robber who says people shouldn't rob banks.

Agree with Don Tiger

I agree wholeheartedly with Mr. Tiger (full story here) Charlie May was first interfered with by Southwind Gendry which caused interference with Charlie May thus causing all the chain reaction.

More on Meadowlands Pace DQ

There's still a buzz about the Meadowlands Pace and we have so much to look forward to coming up. But after further review of the video provided to the public, I'd like to comment. Southwind Gendry was two wide the whole race. On the backstretch, the announcer says "Southwind Gendry's now three wide, tough trip for him." Going into the turn Gingras starts inching up on the leader, then begins to fall back. Gingras shakes the right line, and gets no response. Simultaneously, Gingras looks back, possibly making some degree of courteous communication to any driver, maybe saying, 'I'm out of gas!' Oh yes, and SG puts in fatigue-on-wet-track-conditions steps on the turn. Notably SG fought on gallantly, but also put in a few fatigue steps in deep stretch. Taking into consideration the dynamics of this race, and what is undeniably visible, the judges may not have taken in consideration what has been pointed out above. It would be speculative to point out Brett Miller should of sensed Gingras was in trouble and should of moved sooner. But a judge has years of expertise, experience and WISDOM to recognize a gallantly-fatigued horse. So I do not give them a pass because of time constraints, or a having to make a crucial decision on the fly.

In my humble opinion Gingras and his fatigued horse "UNWITTINGLY" caused the unfortunate result, of what we saw.
