More on Schnittker, plus thoughts on the east coast driving colony, the DQ of Custom Cantab and 4-year-olds vs. older horses

All this and much more in the latest installment of harness racing's favorite advice column.

Tidbits: I listened to my buddies Trade Martin, Bob Marks and Fred Hudson's podcast last week with Ray Schnittker as the guest speaker. It was all about the disturbance in the winner's circle at Pocono Downs between Ray and Josh Marks (who for my money is getting way too much press). Ray stated that Marks accused him of letting me in on his dirty little not-so-secret, secret. He claimed that was the reason for my demeaning his protege Gareth Dowse in my column a few weeks ago.

For starters, Ray and I have been friends for many years and we have never had a telephone conversation. Second, we are both smart enough to know when a trainer has a UDR of 106 for 15 years and then bats 500 "something is rotten in Denmark."

That said, I still would have not published my story had I not learned that Dowse was not permitted to race in overnights at the Meadowlands Racetrack.

I have done some research into the situation as I was alarmed by Ray's statement that after reporting the story to the commission their reaction was we can't do anything to him because he is not licensed. Okay, no jurisdiction I understand, but why can't they refer it to the local police? The man was threatened at a public sporting event. Now comes the worst part of the scenario. When an individual uses PEDs on a horse, he is, in essence, tampering with the outcome of a sporting event with significant wagering across state lines. Why is this not a federal offense? Why does the Department of Justice not prosecute? I asked these questions of a major attorney who's intellect I truly respect and his answer was: Yes there are laws, but it is hard to get the DOJ to show any interest.

We must do something even if the governing bodies refuse to. There must be unanimity amongst racetracks. There is no reason for a trainer banned from one track to be welcomed with open arms by another. Locally, we should have the horseman's representatives from all the local tracks have a consortium and discuss this matter and develop a way to move forward. Hire a private detective to sort out the information so you can act on fact, not innuendo.

I fully realize no one wants to be singled out as a rat. But that is no longer an option. Drugs are killing the business and ruining the livelihood of honest trainers.

If you have irrefutable information on wrong doing and afraid of consequences send me an anonymous note via email or send it by snail mail at HRU to my attention. I promise I will do my best solve any bad situation.

Congratulations to Casie Coleman Herlihey for getting the great McWicked into the winner's circle in the Gerrity at Saratoga after a less-than-stellar start. Good job on the turn around.

If any of you withstood the long delay (almost 3 hours) at Monmouth Park to see another thoroughbred debacle in the Haskell, you will note that ours is not the only sport with controversial calls. Once again, Maximum Security (Louis Saez) crashed into another horse at the top of the stretch resulting in a 30-second inquiry, not the 20 minutes in Kentucky. Boom... OFFICIAL.

Johnny V (John Velasquez) was beside himself in an interview after the event. He was asked if he spoke with the judges and I couldn't understand his answer. So I searched Google and all I could find was a video that didn't help me a bit as I still couldn't understand him. Then I searched the media, DRF, Thoroughbred News, USA Today. Not a peep about the foul. USA Today had one line saying that Velasquez seemed upset.

To quote the TVG announcer, "I will tell you one thing for sure, if I were a jock in a race with Maximum Security I would make sure I was nowhere near him from the top of the stretch to the finish...The prosecution rests."

I received some anonymous emails about whether the tracks were negligent by not canceling some of the racing programs due to the intense heat. After discussing the subject with a few fellow horseman I really could not come up with a good answer. After researching the weekend and realizing that out of nearly 40 racing cards Friday and Saturday only Tioga cancelled qualifiers and Scarborough cancelled a pari-mutuel event. It is hard to condemn when the numbers were that tilted. If, however, let's say six or so tracks elected to suspend racing, then I would feel comfortable pointing fingers.

I do remember racing three heats in the World Trotting Derby when the temperature was near 100 in DuQuoin that afternoon. My horse Self Possessed, was stressed more after the second heat than he was in the third and final. Standardbreds are much tougher than we realize. Let's all be thankful there were no significant problems that occurred due to the fact that all those races were completed.

Steve Jones asks: I live in Indianapolis and find that the driving colony in the Midwest is getting better and better yearly. Do you find the same in the east?

Unfortunately, no. I judge the driving colony from a trainer's point of view. If $1 million is on the line and you are not Ron Burke, Tony Alagna or Linda Toscano, or any power house stable and you need a driver the ideal situation is that there are 10 in the paddock to choose from where you would be happy with the selection. This has not been the case of late. We recently lost Mike Lachance, John Campbell, and Catello Manzi to old age and Brett Miller wanting change. That group was replaced by Dexter Dunn. Lose four gain one, not great. I would say that beyond the top seven there is a drop in talent going for that kind of money and if for some reason you hit a bigger field like 12 there are some trainers faced with the painful effect of picking a decent driver but competing against the top dogs. Not a position anyone wants to be in. Overnights don't matter, but major events do. Please don't get me wrong. there are five or six young guys that can get the job done and they will be a lot better a few years from now but it takes time to develop that ice water in your veins going for the pot of gold.

Mark Robinson asks: As a follow up to Brett Sturman's piece on the disqualification of Custom Cantab in his HRU column, I would like to hear your opinion.

Just because we work for the same magazine doesn't mean that I would always agree with him. But in this case, although his interpretation is a bit overdone, he was right on the money. The call was truly wrong in this writer's opinion, but much closer than the fading two lengths that Brett eluded to.

To me there was just enough clearance and in defense of what was considered Brian Sears overreaction that obviously weighed heavily on the judges' decision, until you have driven a horse in that tough situation don't be calling it an over-reaction.

When you are traveling 35 miles per hour behind a 1,000lb animal and another appears to cut you off it's pretty alarming.

All in all to me it was an error in judgement on the part of the judges, very similar to the horrid decision of the stewards in the Kentucky Derby. In both cases, the decision came as a result of responding to the wrong action. At the Meadowlands, it was Sears' startled move and in Louisville it was the colt straying suddenly off the rail that was caused by the trailing horse running up on his heels.

Nobody is perfect, but these decisions are tough on owners with all that money and prestige at stake. If I had a better way I would tell you.

My only suggestion would be that the rule should be the order of finish remains the way they cross the line if there is interference then there should be a fine and the order of finish remain the same.

To me, it's sad when the best horse is denied the prize. The best example would be David Miller's Hambletonian DQ. He had the best horse. Did he interfere? For sure, but fine him and the owners and let the result stand.

Ramon P Gennaro asks: Why do people say 4-year-old trotters have a tough time against older horses? Tactical Landing and What the Hill both won against older horses.

First of all, both Tactical Landing and What the Hill won their last start of their 3-year-old year at the Meadowlands in the TVG Open Final. For the record, they were not yet four. What The Hill beat a suspect field of five other trotters and Tactical Landing actually had little to beat except another 3-year-old.

Remember these were not your average young horses. They finished the Hambletonian first before a DQ and third, respectively.

That said, there is good reason for the fact that 4-year-olds have difficulty beating aged horses. Although the time of the races appear the same, the short sprints are not. An older horse can throw in a eighth mile brush that a younger horse has yet to experience. Older horses are more physically and mentally developed. But something not always discussed is that an older horse has been through all the racing scenarios where a young colt may have to endure something for the first time and that puts him at a disadvantage.

If what I have stated wasn't factual there would have been no uproar from the racing community when the Gural Rule was put in effect. The rule was, that in order to be eligible to Meadowlands stakes races, a stallion must compete in his 4-year-old year. Two great stallions that were absolute flops as 4-year-olds come to mind. Captaintreacherous and Father Patrick had no success against older horses and were only competitive in the 4-year-old events. Those weren't your average equines. I would say as stakes colts they were in the upper one per cent. They have both proven themselves great sires, but how much money did the owners lose early on because they were forced to waste that year?

Thanks to all for the kind words. This is a very exciting time of year for our business and I hope you are all enjoying it. Great weekend of racing at the Big M including eliminations to the Hambletonian Oaks, the Peter Haughton and the Jim Doherty. If possible, you should try and make it to the Meadowlands for Hambletonian Day. It is a fabulous experience. It will also be the last time for the big dance to race heats on the same day, I think beginning in 2020 there will be eliminations the week before and the final the following Saturday. The Adios final is tomorrow at The Meadows, another event with plenty of excitement. No matter what you do, have a wonderful week.

by Jay Wolf

As the stakes action and temperatures in Ohio are starting to heat up, the Brian Brown trainee Rock Candy looks to stay just as hot having been a model of consistency winning all six starts this season and finishing first or second in all 15 lifetime starts.

"That is a good word for him, 'consistency.' He has never given us a bad race," said Brown. "When he does get beat it usually is a post position thing or being in the wrong spot at the wrong time and he gets in trouble."

The Pet Rock-Cotton Candy gelding pacer was purchased at the 2017 Ohio Select Sale by longtime Brown clients Country Club Acres, Joe Sbrocco and Richard Lombardo.

Rock Candy made nine starts as a freshman, winning three and finishing second in the remaining six events. With a 2-year-old bankroll of $204,576, his owners quickly recovered their $60,000 purchase price.

Rock Candy started to show his potential in the Ohio Sires Stake (OHSS) Final on Sept. 8 at Scioto Downs, overcoming a tough trip and a sloppy track to finish second by a length to stablemate High On Paydaze.

He followed up that OHSS performance with a 6 ½ length romp in the $66,953 Ohio Breeder's Championship on Jug Day at the Delaware County Fair and a pair of big miles in Lexington.

In a $73,800 division of the Bluegrass Stake, Rock Candy rallied in the Red Mile stretch but came up a neck short to Lyons Night Hawk in 1:50.3.

During the second week of the Grand Circuit meet in the $62,000 International Stallion Stake, Rock Candy was again second, this time it was by two lengths to Workin Ona Mystery, another Brown trainee, in a 1:49.3 mile.

"He had a shot to win the (Ohio Sires Stake) Final. He got trapped and shuffled back. My other horse won, so I was not disappointed," said Brown.

When Brown was reminded that not only did he train the first two finishers in that OHSS final, he trained the top five finishers, taking the entire $275,000 purse, the humble conditioner noted that "some days the sun shines bright, some days it doesn't."

"Things went right at Delaware. He got a good trip both weeks at Lexington and raced super, so we put him away."

his game. He won the $50,000 Scarlet and Gray Invitational (in a lifetime best 1:50.2), a pair of OHSS legs and a trio of conditioned events, all in the state of Ohio.

"We thought about it earlier in the year paying him up into the race at Yonkers (the Art Rooney Pace)," said Brown. "I have had trouble in the past taking nice Ohio 3-year-olds and we raced them out of state against the top horses early and it kind of cooked them. So we thought we would stay in Ohio."

With a light early season schedule and big purse events down the road, Brown is looking for a little more versatility from his pupil.

"This year he has wound up on the front almost every time," said Brown. "It was nice to see him race in the pocket in the qualifier (July 20 at Hoosier Park). Even Ronnie (Wrenn, Jr.) will admit his is better from behind than his is in front."

"He is eligible to the Jug, Lexington, the races at Hoosier and the Matron. He has more to race for later in the year."

The gelding will look to make it seven-in-a-row Saturday night at Scioto Downs in the third leg of the Ohio Sires Stake for sophomore pacers.

Rock Candy (post 2) was installed as the 6-5 morning line choice and will have services of his regular reinsman Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. Their toughest competition should come from Shamma Lamma (Peter Wrenn / 4-1 ML) and Yankee Boots (Dan Noble / 6-1 ML).

In the first $50,000 division, Brown will send out the 5-1 fourth choice Smackitwithahammer (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.), who is owned in part by Country Club Acres and Sbrocco.

Cross Country, who currently sits second in the OHSS points standings, is the 5-2 morning line favorite. Trainer/driver Luke Ebersole co-owns the Palone Ranger colt with his brother, Logan, and Cory Sipe.

Palone still seeking second Adios 20 years later

by Evan Pattak for The Meadows Standardbred Owners Association

It was in 1999 that Dave Palone brought Washington VC from well back to pass a tiring Blissfull Hall and win the final of the Delvin Miller Adios Pace for the Orchids. Twenty years later, Palone still is seeking his second blanket of orchids in the signature event of his home track.

He'll have perhaps his best chance in years in Saturday's $400,000 Adios final at The Meadows when he steers Prince Of Tides, one of three Adios elimination winners, from the rail.

The Adios anchors an action-packed card that includes six Grand Circuit stakes and the $50,000 Foiled Again Invitational Pace. Foiled Again, who retired as the richest standardbred ever with more than $7.6 million in earnings, will lead the post parades for the Adios and the Invitational. In addition, the card features three total-pool guarantees worth a combined $37,500.

The Adios goes as race 15 with an approximate post time of 4:30 p.m. The 16-race card kicks off at 11:25 a.m.

It isn't that Palone hasn't done well in the Adios; by many measures, he's been terrific. Counting finals, eliminations and consolations, he's won eight times and collected nearly $1.2 million in purses, behind only John Campbell and Ron Pierce in Adios earnings.

Dave Landry

Hall of Famer Dave Palone is hoping to add his second Adios trophy to his collection when he steers Prince Of Tides on Saturday in the $400,000 Adios final at The Meadows.

"I've been fortunate enough to take a lot of money out of the Adios," Palone said. "I think I have a good history in the race, and I'm always super comfortable on Adios Day."

Yet it's nearly inconceivable that Palone, the "winningest" driver on the planet with 18,880 career victories, should have only one Adios title. There is, however, a solid reason for it. The trainers of top 3-year-old colts often prefer to get season-long commitments from drivers to travel the Grand Circuit with their horses. That usually excludes Palone, who a number of years ago decided to limit his travel to spend more time with his family.

"That was the greatest decision in the world," he said. "I was so fortunate to be able to spend my whole career right here, get home at five o'clock every day and watch my girls' softball games or go to their horse shows. I may have missed opportunities out of town, but I don't second-guess anything that I've done."

Thus, while he's picked up plenty of Adios catch drives, they've usually been long shots. Things may be different this year. Not only does he have a hot horse — Prince Of Tides has won five straight and dominated his Adios elim — but the rules of the stake also favor Palone again.

In 1999, finalists were chosen by open draw; when Blissfull Hall drew post 8, he had to endure a demanding journey to the top over a track left sticky by rain. That enabled Palone to duck from post 3, rally late and defeat Blissfull Hall, who would go on to win pacing's Triple Crown.

"I figured I could take advantage of the one thing I knew — the racetrack," Palone said. "It was tiring, so I took my horse back and 'one-run' him. That's how we got it done."

Pennsylvania

This year, elimination winners earned the right to pick their posts in the final. Even though Ross Croghan, who conditions Prince Of Tides for Let It Ride Stables, Dana Parham and Howard Taylor, chose third among elimination winners, he indicated his first preference always was the rail.

"He has a big gait and can change gears real quick," Croghan said. "If anything leaves against him, they're in big trouble. He has the post advantage, and they'll have to beat him."

A son of Somebeachsomewhere out of the champion mare Tug River Princess, Prince Of Tides was a growthy youngster who suffered colt soreness and was turned out after only four starts last year. Not knowing how good he might be, his connections sustained him to very few stakes; the Adios will be his richest engagement of the year.

"He's a big, heavy horse, and we decided to shut him down early and let him finish growing," Croghan says. "He has a tough job on Saturday, but he will race good."

Palone hopes Prince Of Tides will bring him that elusive second Adios title, but he's not obsessed with the quest.

"With my family here, it would be special to me," he said. "But is it something I'm choked up about? Not at all. I love the situation I'm in."

Elimination winner Southwind Ozzi has been installed as the 2-1 morning line favorite and will leave from post 4.

The other elimination winners, Captain Victorious (3-1) and Prince Of Tides (4-1), will start from posts 3 and 1, respectively.

The Meadows and the Meadows Standardbred Owners Association (MSOA) have planned a number of appealing Adios Day fan activities. North of Mason-Dixon (NOMaD) will perform on the apron from 6 p.m. – 8 p.m. while the Miller Lite Brewhouse and the BBQ Tent will be open throughout the races. The MSOA will sponsor a T-shirt toss, and an Apple iPad will be raffled courtesy the Standardbred Breeders Association of PA.

Delvin Miller Adios reflections and picks, plus further thoughts on last week's column

by Brett Sturman

Before getting into Saturday's Delvin Miller Adios at the Meadows, I wanted to take a moment to comment from last week's column (full story here). For those not familiar with all the latest social media terminology, the term "Ratio'd" refers to something posted online that's so idiotic that the ratio of the number of comments it elicits far exceeds the number of "likes" or positive responses. With a couple dozen Facebook comments not to mention a 4:30 a.m. text from my father minutes after HRU came out, last week's column falls into that category. While some understood the context of what I was saying, most did not. So, to clarify, I was by no means suggesting that rules be thrown out the window and drivers could then run amok without fear of any consequence. The column stated that "If judges determine that a driver drove inconsistent with what the rules call for, then they can fine or suspend that driver based on the violation." This is no different than the rules drivers must abide by today and to take that point a step further, judges could ultimately suspend a driver's license if they determine that driver is intentionally driving in a manner that could harm others. Again, the same thing they can do today. The concept of letting results stand as a way to mitigate against controversial disqualifications may still not be an idea everyone agrees with, but the implication was never to do away with rules that keep all race participants safe.

Back to racing, the Adios has always been one of my favorite races. The 2012 race that featured the sport's best 3-year-olds in Bolt The Duer, A Rocknroll Dance and Sweet Lou when Bolt The Duer emerged victorious up the lighting lane in 1:47.4 is one of the best editions of the race in recent memory that I can recall. But for whatever the reason, there hasn't been an Adios since that time with the same star power from top to bottom.

This is a race that since its inception in 1967, has been won by some of the sport's all-time greatest horses. It's still rightfully considered a highly-coveted race for 3-year-olds, though in recent times the 3-year-olds with the most mid-season accolades haven't always shown up for the race.

As amazing as it sounds, there hasn't been a horse that's won both the Meadowlands Pace and the Adios in nearly a quarter of a century. David's Pass was the last horse to accomplish that feat back in 1995. In limited instances there have been Pace winners that raced in the Adios and lost (such as A Rocknroll Dance), but more often than not it's a case of them not showing up. It's almost an identical story with Woodbine's North America Cup. With the exception of Fear The Dragon two years ago who did win both the NA Cup and the Adios, you have to go back to David's Pass again to find the last horse to win both of those races. But even as recently as the early 1990s, it was commonplace to see NA Cup and Pace winners targeting the Adios. Horses such as Beach Towel, Cam's Card Shark and Precious Bunny all won the Adios plus the Cup and Pace in a 5-year time span.

Don't misunderstand; there have been exceptional winners of the Adios in recent years and the horses in the race this year are talented in their own right. But should there be more of an expectation like there used to be that Pace and Cup winners target the Adios, where possible?

To help, perhaps the purse of the race could be increased back to $500,000. After a high purse of $677k in 2009, the race held a purse of $500k between 2010-2013 before being downgraded to its current standing at $400,000. The Max Hempt at Pocono that takes place about a month before the Adios carries a purse of a $500,000 and arguably draws an ever so slightly better set of horses from top to bottom.

Next, Pace or Cup winners could be incentivized to race in the Adios. A program could be put in place that gives added money to a horse if he wins the Meadowlands Pace or North America Cup (more money if won both), if that horse races in the Adios. Two years ago, the North America Cup winner won the Adios and last year the Adios was won by the Pace runner-up. It's not that the Adios is being overlooked entirely, but it doesn't seem either like a couple decades should go by before the Adios is the next winner's circle stop for a horse that's coming off a Meadowlands Pace win.

In this year's Adios race, there's a competitive bunch of horses that fall just a step below the very top 3-year-olds.

With many of the horses in this year's Adios final just a step below the very top 3-year-olds, it's entirely possible that a horse that just notched his first major stakes win of the year last week could suddenly come away with the Pace for the Orchids. PRINCE OF TIDES romped in his elimination last week and it's fair to say exceeded all expectations even considering he was 90 cents on the dollar. The lone gelding in this race, he's out of an exceptional race mare from about 10 years ago in Tug River Princess and was paired with Dave Palone for the first time last week. In that race, he brushed to the lead by the three-eighths and continued to keep rolling through fast fractions en route to his six-length score. Prior to that he won a conditioned race at Pocono where he bested fellow Adios finalist BRANQUINHO in the process; my top pick.

SOUTHWIND OZZI is the 2-1 program favorite and it's hard to say if he'll be the favorite come post time. Brian Sears' is coming off a masterful drive with Best In Show from the Meadowlands Pace and he put an equally-good drive on Southwind Ozzie last week overcoming a difficult post time. It looked like he was gapping cover a bit down the backstretch as the two dueling leaders blazed away, but he eventually looked better as the top two came back to him and from there went onto a comfortable 1:49:3 win. His 1:48.4 mile prior to that at Philly was fast for the track and prior to that he was second to Captain Crunch. The only knock against him is having to start outside both his key rivals; I'm sure Sears will have a strategy in mind.

CAPTAIN VICTORIOUS is perhaps the biggest wildcard in here. He's capable of ultra-high speed, but he also seems to have a hit or miss streak in him. It's hard to envision any scenario that doesn't involve Gingras blasting with him and it'll be interesting to see if that forces the hand of Palone from the inside with PRINCE OF TIDES who I'm sure will also be looking for the front. Amazingly, trainer Ron Burke didn't win this home-base race until last year with Dorsoduro Hanover (though his father won it in 2007 with May June Character) and now looks for a quick double up. I'll reluctantly swing against, but wouldn't be a surprise.

STAG PARTY is now somehow 0-for-8 on the season and that's too bad considering the way his career first started out last year. He hasn't been bad though throughout that streak and he battled bravely last week in his Adios elimination. That race may have served as a learning experience for both him and driver Dexter Dunn who gets the return call and could represent as a sneaky longshot play for a trainer that shouldn't be overlooked.

Picks: Prince of Tides, Stag Party, Southwind Ozzi

STANDARD BRED TRANSITION ALLIANCE

Inspect - Accredit - Grant

The Standardbred Transition Alliance (STA) is a non-profit organization whose mission is to accredit, inspect and award grants to approved organizations that acquire, rehabilitate, train and re-home Standardbreds.

Funding is generated across the Standardbred industry, including regulatory agencies, horsemen's groups, tracks, sales companies, farms, and individuals who participate as trainers, drivers, owners, and breeders.

The STA provides partial funding to accredited groups serving Standardbreds, ensuring donor confidence by setting high standards for the equine care and business practices of accredited groups.

The accreditation process includes examination of:

- Program leadership and design
- Financial reporting and budgeting
- Adoption screening and protocol
- Horse health care and training
- Inspection of all facilities

Accreditation ensures that horses receive excellent care and donors have confidence in their support.

You can help support the STA and accredited programs with a donation.

Evident Beauty and driver David Miller.

Norman looks forward to Hambletonian Oaks with Evident Beauty

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Before trainer Jimmy Takter went on his record run of five consecutive Hambletonian Oaks wins, Richard “Nifty” Norman posted back-to-back victories in the sport’s premier race for 3-year-old female trotters. Norman could become only the fourth trainer in history to collect three trophies if all goes well for Evident Beauty the next two weekends.

“This is the race you circle on the calendar,” Norman said. “These next two weeks are the weeks you want to race your horses at The Meadowlands; it’s something to look forward to.

“We’re here, we’ll just let the chips fall where they may.”

Evident Beauty was among 19 horses entered in the Hambletonian Oaks at The Meadowlands. Two $50,000 eliminations will be contested Saturday (July 27) with the top-five finishers from each division returning on Aug. 3 for the $500,000 final. Elimination winners will draw for posts one through five for the final.

The first Oaks elimination features four of the five fastest 3-year-old filly trotters of the season: Millies Possession (1:51.1), Seaside Bliss (1:51.4), Golden Tricks (1:52.2) and Evident Beauty (1:52.3). The remaining horse in the quintet, The Ice Dutchess (1:52), is in the second elimination.

Evident Beauty has won four of five races this year and seven of 14 lifetime, missing the board only twice in her career. Her victories this season include the New Jersey Sire Stakes final and a division of the Delvin Miller Memorial, which came in her most recent start on July 13, also at The Meadowlands.

“Everything has gone to plan so far,” said Norman, who trains the filly for owners Mel Hartman, Jeff Gural’s Little E LLC, and Wayne Giles’ R A W Equine Inc. “Hopefully we get to race two weeks in a row here. She seems good, she’s been good all year, so we’ll hope she’s still good.”

Evident Beauty showed a new aspect to her game in the Miller, leading for much of the way in her neck triumph over Cloud Nine Fashion. It was only the second time in her career that she led a race prior to the stretch.

New Jersey

“Obviously, that’s not her forte; she’s better from off a helmet,” Norman said. “That’s her go really. She loves to chase a horse down. But then the fact she was able to leave the race before, she showed she could race either way, so I think that’s a big help.

“She’s a good honest horse, hardly ever makes a mistake. I wouldn’t swap her for anybody.”

Norman won his previous Oaks finals with Bee A Magician in 2013 and Personal Style in 2012. The only trainers with more than two Hambletonian Oaks wins are Takter (eight), Jan Johnson (six), and Glen Garnsey (three).

Millies Possession, who was unraced at 2, heads to the first elimination undefeated in seven lifetime races. She is trained by Jim Campbell, who won the 2009 Hambletonian Oaks with Broadway Schooner. Another Oaks winning trainer, recent Hall of Fame inductee Joe Holloway, sends out Starita, also in the first elim.

“I’m very impressed with Jim Campbell’s horse,” Norman said. “She’s come from zero to hero. She probably looks like the best filly in the country at the moment. I like mine because she can race first over, in the front, from the back, and (Millies Possession) is the same. She looks like she can do it any way.”

Rounding out the first elimination are Asiago, Sonnet Grace, Queen Of Trixs, and Grimmie Hanover.

“Someone good is probably going to miss out,” Norman said. “It’s a very strong division. It might be good for (Evident Beauty) in a way because they might race a little bit harder and that’s right up her alley. You can’t win from the outside (posts) if you get back. They’re good horses and I’m sure they’re going to be heading out of there. It could be a real tough race.”

The second elimination features The Ice Dutchess, who won two of last season’s most lucrative stakes for 2-year-old filly trotters, the Jim Doherty Memorial and Peaceful Way. She was trained by Takter, who retired at the end of last season, and is now in the stable of Nancy Johansson.

In addition, the group includes 2018 Matron Stakes winner When Dovescry and open stakes winners Cloud Nine Fashion and Princess Deo.

Stay Close (David Miller) has gone from prodigy to head-scratcher back to prodigy for Joe Holloway.

Stay Close goes from head-scratcher to Peter Haughton hopeful

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

After talking up 2-year-old male trotter Stay Close during the spring, trainer Joe Holloway had to endure some questioning from owners Ted Gewertz and Marty Granoff when the colt qualified in 2:03.3 and 2:02 in June at The Meadowlands.

"They both were, 'This is one you like?'" Holloway said. "They were right. I watched him and he wasn't close to what I thought he should be. He was horrific, not even the same horse I had talked about. He was an embarrassment. You just scratch your head."

Holloway gave the colt two weeks off, did some work, and returned for a third qualifier on July 13 at The Meadowlands. This time, Stay Close was close to what Holloway hoped, finishing second in 1:57.2. Six days later in his career debut in a division of the Kindergarten Classic Series at the Big M, Stay Close romped to a 1:54.3 triumph, besting the field by 10-1/4 lengths, to bring a smile to Holloway's face.

The winning time equaled the fourth-best mark of the young season for a 2-year-old trotter.

Tonight, Stay Close competes in the first of two eliminations of the Peter Haughton Memorial for 2-year-old male trotters at The Meadowlands. Stay Close, who retains the services of driver David Miller, is the 3-1 second choice on the morning line in the eight-horse field. Synergy, a $275,000 yearling purchase who won his debut by four lengths in 1:56 on July 12, is the 5-2 favorite. Synergy is trained by Per Engblom and will have Yannick Gingras in the sulky.

Real Cool Sam, who is 3-for-3 for trainer Jim Campbell and driver Miller, is the 2-1 favorite in the second elimination.

The top-five finishers from each elimination will advance to the final on Aug. 3 at The Meadowlands. Elimination winners will draw for posts one through six.

Stay Close, by Father Patrick out of Tori Ann, was purchased under the name My Brother Jack for $100,000 at the 2018 Lexington Selected Sale and is owned by Granoff's Val D'Or Farms, Gewertz and Steve Arnold. He is a half-brother to Milligan's School, who was a stakes-winner and earner of $539,726 in North America before going on to success in Europe.

"He's come a long way in the last couple weeks," Holloway said. "That race (in the Kindergarten) was more what I thought of him. He was one I was high on, and I told people. He was good gaited, always going good. Hopefully, he keeps

Holloway, who was inducted into the Harness Racing Hall of Fame on July 7, will have another stakes contender in action Saturday at The Meadowlands. Starita is 6-1 on the morning line in the first of two eliminations of the Hambletonian Oaks, which is the sport's premier event for 3-year-old female trotters.

Starita has won three of seven races this year, including a division of the Reynolds Memorial on July 6 at The Meadowlands, and has hit the board a total of six times. She heads to her Oaks elimination off a fourth-place finish in a division of the Delvin Miller Memorial on July 13.

“Two starts back she raced great, was as good as anybody,” said Holloway, who won the 2010 Hambletonian Oaks with Bar Slide. “She raced horrible her last start. She threw in a bad race. But it's very few and far between that she throws in a bad race. Hopefully we have that issue resolved and we'll go from there.

“So far I've been real happy. She's got gate speed, she can race any which way, she's versatile; I like her chances. I think she can be a contender.”

Tonight's card at The Meadowlands also includes three eliminations of the James Doherty Memorial for 2-year-old female trotters. The top-three finishes from each division plus a fourth-place finisher drawn by lot will advance to the final.

Grand River and Hanover raceways take center stage

Eliminations for Hanover's Dream of Glory and Grand River Raceway's Battle of Waterloo and Battle of the Belles are on tap over the next three days.

by Sandra Snyder | Sponsored by Ontario Racing

Over the next three days, Hanover Raceway and Grand River Raceway will hold eliminations for the biggest events on their 2019 calendar.

On Saturday, July 27 Hanover will see three eliminations of the Dream Of Glory for 3-year-old trotters go postward and on Monday, July 29 Grand River will be invaded by 2-year-old pacers competing in two Battle Of Waterloo eliminations and three splits for the Battle Of The Belles.

Carrying the hometown banner in the $7,500 Dream Of Glory eliminations is trotting filly Giving It All, who calls Hanover Raceway home. The daughter of Angus Hall and Marathons Jade will line up at Post 6 in the last division on Saturday, with Ryan Holliday in the driver's seat. Giving It All is one of six fillies taking on 11 geldings for a spot in the Aug. 3 final.

Racing in the Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Grassroots this season Giving It All boasts a record of one third, one fourth and one sixth. At two she was a regular on the top OSS circuit and won a division of the season opening Gold leg and an elimination of the Balanced Image, Hanover Raceway's feature event for two-year-old trotters.

"She gave us our first Gold win, which was kind of nice, because it takes a lifetime to win a Gold it seems," said Hanover resident Randy Rier, who shares ownership and training duties on Giving It All with his brother John "Jack" Rier of Kitchener, ON. "Charmbo Chrome paid for her. He had an over $60,000 3-year-old year so we decide to go to the sale and, my brother had picked out three or four that sold for more money, but I liked this mare so I bought her."

Working Together for a strong
Horse Racing Industry in Ontario

Three Breeds • One Vision

Giving It All will be the third starter the Rier brothers have sent out in the Dream Of Glory. Charmbo Chrome, now five, finished third in his elimination and fifth in the final and his dam, Hetties Charm, won her elimination and finished third in the 2004 final.

"Certainly any time we can do it at home or in Clinton it's kind of nice," said Rier. "We took Charmbo Brie to the Kin Pace in Clinton. She was third in the first leg, in tough as heck and drew a good hole, and in the final we drew the seven-hole and you know what that's like at Clinton — she's extremely tough when you're in extremely tough. We did manage to get a fifth, so we were happy."

The brothers have had a solid run of luck over the last three years with homebreds Charmbo Chrome and Charmbo Brie, and Giving It All. To date, the trio have amassed four Ontario Sires Stakes wins, one Gold and three Grassroots, after a decade-long drought for the owner/breeders in the provincial program. Charmbo Brie and Giving It All have also joined Charmbo Chrome with more than $60,000 in earnings.

In addition to working with the horses, Rier also serves as president of the Hanover, Bentinck and Brant Agricultural Society, which operates Hanover Raceway, and says Dream Of Glory Night is the premier event on the track's calendar. Post time for the Saturday, Aug. 3 program is 6:15 pm, an hour earlier than normal, to accommodate fireworks after the races.

McNair sending four to Battle

Trainer Gregg McNair will send out four starters in the Battle eliminations on Monday, July 29, one colt and three fillies. The Guelph, ON resident is a three-time winner of the Battle Of Waterloo — Trail Boss (2008), Three Of Clubs (2103) and Magnum J (2015) — and captured the Battle Of The Belles with Lady Shadow in 2013.

"I think we've always put something in one or the other," said McNair. "I remember one other time we didn't have anything for the colts at all, but I like to go up there if I can. It's kind of our home track."

All of McNair's winners came with son Doug McNair in the race bike and the 29-year-old reinsman says the Elora, ON oval has been a key part of his career.

"I can remember it just like yesterday, I can't believe 11 years has gone by already," said the younger McNair of his first Battle of Waterloo win with Trail Boss. "In the final I got away third and come first up early with him, and come hard with him, he was just meant to win that race that's all. Looking back now, nothing I did was the reason the horse won, it kind of maybe was meant to be because it kind of got me going. Right after that I started getting more and more drives on the smaller tracks and Grand River especially."

The McNair's entrants for the 2019 Battle eliminations are Hes Watching gelding Colima, who will start from Post 4 in the seventh race on Monday, Sportswriter daughter Beach Sports, who gets Post 4 in the first race, Mach Three filly Landry Seelster, who drew Post 2 in the fourth race, and Sportswriter miss Karma Seelster, who makes her bid for the final from Post 2 in the eighth race.

"Dad's got three fillies in there. I think the best chance he has in the fillies —well it's tough to say yet — but Karma Seelster I think is the best one he has right now," said the driver. "The other two, Landry Seelster, I think she'll do real good there because she feels like she's going to be able to carry her speed and she's great gaited, can leave the gate, so that's really going to help her on the small track. The other one, Beach Sports, I think she's slick gaited and if she gets the right trip he'll hopefully get all three of them into the Final."

Owned by Hall of Famer Keith Waples, Eileen Waples and Karen Hauver of Durham, ON, Karma Seelster has two Gold Series starts under her belt, recording one third and one second, while Beach Sports and Landry Seelster have been competing in the Grassroots. Both fillies won their division in the season opener with Landry Seelster adding a second and Beach Sports a third in the second leg. Ross Family Farms Ltd. of Wingham own Beach Sports and Gregg McNair, Ilderton Boys Stable of London, ON and Dany Fontaine of Ormston, QC share ownership of Landry Seelster.

Colima, bred and owned by Bloomingwood Farms Ltd. of Harriston, has been racing in the Grassroots and had a tough start to his season, suffering interference in the first leg and finishing at the back of the field. He rebounded with a third in the second leg and Doug McNair is hoping the colt's slick gait will help him qualify for the final.

"He's good gaited, that's going to help him. Hopefully he makes the final," said the driver. "I think we've won it (Battle Of Waterloo) three times since I started racing, but it's always nice to have a good shot in either one or the other, so hopefully a couple of them get in there."

The finals are part of Grand River Raceway's Industry Day card on Monday, Aug. 5, which gets underway at 12:30 pm. In addition to the Battle finals the track will play host to the third OSS Grassroots leg for the 3-year-old pacing colts and offer up non-stop entertainment for fans. Children's activities, draws, and the annual Bouncy Pony stakes are all on tap again this year for the popular event.

"It's fun," said Doug McNair. "A bunch of my friends were there, I'd just got out of high school the first time that I won it, and a bunch of them still come every year."

Trotting mare Annas Lucky Star (Kyle Wilfong, shown winning at the DuQuoin State Fair) set a 1:53.4 Hawthorne track record on July 14.

Making history at Hawthorne

Annas Lucky Star etched her name into the Hawthorne history books on July 14 when she set the track record for older trotting mares with a 1:53.4 victory versus the boys for 75-year-old trainer Nelson Willis.

by Neil Milbert

Hawthorne Race Course opened on May 20, 1891, making it the fifth oldest thoroughbred track in North America, but it wasn't until April 14, 1970 that the sulkies made their first appearance, making it the sixth harness track operating in the Chicago metropolitan area.

A few times over the years Hawthorne discontinued harness racing, but the sport returned in 2016 when it became the only standardbred venue in the metropolitan area following the closing of Maywood Park and Balmoral Park.

A 5-year-old mare named Annas Lucky Star trotted into the 128-year-old track's history books on July 14 when she took sole possession of the track record for an older trotting mare by making a powerful move in the stretch to catch Pine Dream at the wire and win the $12,000 open race by a nose in 1:53.4.

The old record of 1:54.1 was set by Spiralcrunzsarah in 2002 and equaled by Annas Lucky Star on May 25 when she bested the 7-year-old gelding Pine Dream by three quarters of a length.

Competing in open company races against male opponents has become the norm for the Illinois-bred Annas Lucky Star, who got the best of six of the boys when she broke the record.

The race in which she broke the track record was her fourth in eight starts victory this year and the 28th of a 50-race career in which she has finished worse than third only nine times.

"I started racing her against the boys when she was a 4-year-old and around here she's very competitive," trainer Nelson Willis said of the daughter of Cassis and Queen Jamie, who is owned by his nephew, Danny Graham. "She has won at Hawthorne (multiple times) and she has won at the State Fairs at Springfield and DuQuoin."

Last year, Annas Lucky Star won at Springfield in a career best 1:53.1, and the trainer who will turn 76 on Aug. 22 has high hopes she can better that mark by a couple ticks when she returns for the four-day State Fair meeting that will begin Aug. 9 and end Aug. 15.

"For breeding purposes, Danny would like to see her go better than 1:53," he said. "I think she can do that at Springfield if somebody will do a little bit of work for us on the front end."

Although Annas Lucky Star has been excelling in coming from off the pace the past two years, her driver, Kyle Wilfong, pointed out "as a 2-year-old and 3-year-old she raced on the front end pretty consistently" in winning all six of her races in her first year on the track and nine of 15 in her second.

"As a 2-year-old, she stood out," Willis said. "When you've got one that good you might as well be on the front end so the others are out of the way. As they get older and are no longer in with Illinois-breds and the horses are closer together you've got to change your strategy."

"As she has gotten older she has been relaxing more," said Wilfong, who has been in the bike behind Annas Lucky Star throughout her career. "She wants to pass horses. I think she can sprint (down the stretch) with hobble pacers. Her last quarters are in :26 and change pretty consistently."

"Since Day 1 we knew she was going to be special. Nelson has done an amazing job with her. She has never disappointed me."

Willis considers Annas Lucky Star to be the best of the 23 horses—"some Indiana-breds, some Illinois-breds"—that he has at Sawgrass Farms Training Center near the site of now-defunct Balmoral.

Going into the start of the racing week on Thursday he and Mike Brink were tied for second place in the Hawthorne trainer standings with 18 victories apiece, while defending champion Terry Leonard, had a wide lead with 36. However, Leonard had 132 starters and Brink had 127 whereas Willis had 98.

Willis won multiple training titles during the final 10 years of racing at Balmoral, including the championship at the 2015 meeting that brought down the curtain.

Success followed him to Hawthorne where he won the 2016 title when racing resumed there.

Although Nelson Willis isn't well-known nationally he has long been considered one of the foremost trainers in Illinois. In 2006 Nelson was inducted into the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Hall of Fame, joining his older brother, Connel Willis, a 1987 inductee.

Now retired at age 85, Connel was considered a virtuoso in the fine art of training trotters. The most noteworthy of Connel's horses were two Illinois Harness Horsemen's Hall of Fame inductees: Gumcorner Lad, a trotting sensation in the 1990s, and Taurus Bomber, a pacer who excelled in the 1970s.

"Connel had a lot of good trotters," Nelson said. "I haven't had that many. This one (Annas Lucky Star) is one of my best."

Like his older brother, Nelson got his start as a driver/trainer on the Illinois county fair circuit.

"I've been messing around horses since I was 15 and I started racing at the fairs when I was 18," he said. "I won my first pari-mutuel race at Sportsman's Park (when it was one of North America's foremost harness tracks)."

"Last horse I raced as a driver was in 2012."

Older brother Connel continued driving into his 70s and figured in a race that turned out to be one for the books in the summer of 2006 at the county fair in Albion, IL. The victorious Winsome Wyoming had 91-year-old Leon Burns in the sulky and 72-year-old Connel was at the reins of second place finisher Gumcorner Flo.

Although there was no betting on the race in Illinois racing lore it is hailed as "the 163-year-old exacta."

Activated is the new queen of Sweden

by Thomas Hedlund

In May, 4-year-old Jocose mare Activated upset Conrads Rödluva in the Drottningpokalen at Åby in Sweden. When the $505,000 Stochampionatet was held at Axevalla racetrack in Sweden on Sunday (July 21), history repeated itself.

Conrads Rödluva dominated the biggest races for 3-year-olds last year, while Activated was out of luck when the stakes races was scheduled. Before the $590,000 Oaks, Activated got sick and had to be scratched from the final. But great rewards have come this year instead for Fredrik Wallin's trotter.

Wallin has great ability to produce nice trotters that compete well in the stakes races and Activated was strong going already as a 2-year-old in Sweden. Different problems stopped her from developing as quickly as her sisters in the crop last year, but now she has proven that the crown belongs to her.

Activated finished second in her elimination the week before the final and Fredrik Wallin had no luck when the draw for the posts was held. His mare got number 12, in the second line behind the gate, but since the Stochampionatet is a race over 1.6 miles, anything can happen and when driver Carl Johan Jepson found position in sixth over and the right horses to trail during the race's last 5/8 of a mile, Activated sprinted rapidly in the home stretch and caught leader Conrads Rödluva and three-wide finisher Racing Brodda just before the wire.

The weather was a bit uncertain this day at Axevalla and the track was a little bit sloppy when the 12 mares fought for the prize money and mile rate 1:57.4 over 1.6 miles must be considered as great.

"It's really cool that Activated can pass all the horses in front of despite her post position. I just love this horse, she's so good. Her way of acting, her mentality... she was so eager to do this today", said trainer Fredrik Wallin after the big win.

Activated has now seven victories in 21 starts and she pushed her life earnings to a $491,936 mark.

Finally in Finland

Finnish-born trainer Petri Salmela shipped his star trotter Makethemark (Maharajah) overseas and went to his birth country for the $201,000 mile race St Michel-ajo in Mikkeli on Sunday July 21.

The Elitloppet runner up Makethemark won a qualification for the $317,000 Olympiatravet in April, but did not race the final and the 6-year-old son of Maharajah hadn't won any more races this season until last Sunday.

Makethemark finished second to Dijon in the Elitloppet at Solvalla in May and followed up with two more runner up performances in Norrbottens Stora Pris (Propulsion won) and Ulf Thoresen International (Vitruvio won). In the Mikkeli, he finally caught a heavy trophy.

Next Direction and Pastore Bob left quickly and the first took over the lead after 350 meters into the race. Makethemark was placed in second over and driver Ulf Ohlsson made his move three wide with 700 meters to go. The 6-year-old trotter had to do the heavy job outside throughout the last turn but was still the strongest horse when the wire approached.

Salmela's trotter came home in 1:53 and the Swedish-based trainer was cheering with the crowd of almost 12,000 people in Mikkeli after the victory.

"It's always fantastic atmosphere here in Mikkeli and I try to come back every year. My career started here with Plant The Seed and now I can say that I have an even better horse. Makethemark is the horse of my life," said Petri Salmela.

Next Direction finished second and Pastore Bob was third.

Grand Swan remains perfect in ISS at Hoosier

Grand Swan extended her streak of perfection at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino after she captured Wednesday's featured event, her split of the $47,000 Indiana Sires Stakes for 3-year-old trotting fillies. With a final time of 1:54.3, Grand Swan recorded her fifth straight stakes win and remains a perfect five for five this season for driver/trainer LeWayne Miller.

Sent off as the 1-5 favorite, Grand Swan coasted off the wings of the gate to settle along the rail in fourth. Infinity Stick and Sam Widger were the first to get a call through the opening quarter in :26.3. Kissesforall and Peter Wrenn were forwardly placed and pressed on to the lead, reaching the front just before the half in :56.4.

As the field approached the final turn, Infinity Stick was back on top but Grand Swan was just beginning her march to the front. Grand Swan was matching strides with the leader at third station in 1:26.2 before she began to put her talent on display and trot away from the rest of the field. Grand Swan coasted on to the wire to finish three lengths in front of Infinity Stick and a hard-charging Sophia Lia and John DeLong. Grand Swan returned $2.40 to her backers at the betting windows.

"I was content with where we were," Miller said of his trip. "I figured the outside horses would leave a little bit so I waited to move her. She's just so easy on herself so that helps."

With the win, the daughter of Swan For All—Queen Mum recorded her 13th lifetime victory from 17 trips behind the gate. Grand Swan pushed her lifetime earnings to $302,375 for owners, Grand Swan Racing, Go Fast Stable, and Never 2 Late Stable.

In the second division of the stakes action, it was Kota's Swan and Sam Widger who turned in a near gate-to-wire victory to score in 1:54.2. Widger sent Kota's Swan to the front and she dictated fractions of :28.1, :56.4 and 1:26.2

while the rest of the field followed in single file order. Using a :28 final panel, Kota's Swan trotted strong to the wire to finish two lengths in front of Morairtime and John DeLong. Haylie Ivy and Ricky Macomber Jr. rounded out the trifecta.

Trained by Jeff Cullipher, Kota's Swan recorded her third win from eight seasonal outings. Owned by Pollack Racing and Jeff Cullipher, the daughter of Swan For All—Casual Chick recorded her seventh win from 23 lifetime starts while pushing her lifetime bankroll to $168,630.

Love A Good Story remains unbeaten in NYSS

Two divisions of the New York Sire Stakes (NYSS) for 2-year-old trotting fillies visited Batavia Downs on opening night to vie for a total of $106,000 in total purses.

In the first division, Love A Good Story (Chapter Seven—Celebrity Lovin) stayed perfect lifetime after she scored her fourth consecutive win, all in NYSS action.

Driver Andy Miller floated Love A Good Story off the gate and got to the front before the quarter in at quick :28.4. From there she trotted along on her own terms, setting stops at the next two stations at :58.2 and 1:30.1. Moving around the last turn, Miss Jubilation (Ake Svanstedt) and Munster (Jordan Stratton) moved close to the leader and appeared to have a shot to catch her. But Love A Good Story found another gear and trotted away under a line drive from Miller and won easily by four lengths in 1:59.2.

Love A Good Story ($2.50) has now earned $79,100 for the season for owners Pinske Stable and the Kentuckiana Racing Stable. Julie Miller does the training. Celebrity Farms was the breeder.

The second split of the night saw Seventimesalady (Chapter Seven—Ava Marion) draw off to a convincing first lifetime win.

Really Blue Chip (Anthony McDonald) took the lead from the pylon starting Seventimesalady (Ake Svanstedt) and opened up a two-length gap on the field at the quarter in :29.3. Svanstedt followed that cover to the half but then pulled off the clubhouse turn and motored his way to the front up the backside, clearing past three-quarters. From there the filly left her competition behind, pulling away down the lane and winning by almost five lengths in 1:59.3, which was a new lifetime mark.

bred the winner.

There were also three divisions of the $15,000 Excelsior "A" series on the card that were won by:

August yearling supplement announced for Hambletonian Society serviced stakes

In 2019, the Hambletonian Society is accepting Supplemental Yearling Nominations for the stakes and events they service that required a May 15 yearling nominating payment for foals of 2018.

"It was brought to our attention by the staking services that there are always a handful of yearlings missed in the process in May," said John Campbell, president of the Hambletonian Society, which owns and administers 137 of the richest stakes in North America. "The board accepted the premise that the odd yearling may have been left out when it comes time to catalog yearlings for fall sales."

"Since yearling eligibility is the key to so many stakes, we thought it would be fair to try accepting a yearling supplement in August for the races we service. The key was trying to find a fair amount and the right time frame to allow this."

The Supplemental Yearling Nomination payment is for those nominators who have missed the regular May 15 payment deadline but are still interested in maintaining eligibility to those stakes that require yearling payments.

The new supplemental payment is due by Aug. 15 in an amount five times the standard May 15 payment for the race in question. For example, the May 15 yearling payment for the Adios is $10. The Supplemental Yearling Payment would be five times that amount, or $50. All payments must be postmarked by Aug. 15 and mailed to the Hambletonian Society office.

The direct link to the form for Supplemental Yearling Nominations can be found on our website here or by calling our office and having the form faxed or e-mailed to you.

For further information please feel free to call (609) 371-2211 or e-mail me at davidjanes@hambletonian.org.

Battle elims set for Monday at Grand River Raceway

A total of five elimination dashes contested on Monday, July 29 will determine the finalists for Grand River Raceway's two feature races during its 29th Industry Day event.

Thirteen rookie pacing colts and geldings will compete in two $15,000 elimination divisions to earn a berth in the 22nd annual Battle Of Waterloo. The top four finishers and one of the fifth-place finishers (as drawn by lot) will advance to the $238,940 final.

The first elimination division is carded as Race 2. Denali Seelster will start from the rail. He's a winner of $27,000 in two career starts in the Ontario Sires Stakes Gold Series. But the Sunshine Beach colt is still hunting for his maiden win. He won both of his qualifying starts over Woodbine Mohawk Park but broke stride in his first pari-mutuel start. On July 15 he finished second by a length in his own time of 1:52.2. Dr. Ian Moore trains Denali Seelster for Ratchford Stable who paid $34,000 for him as a yearling. Moore won the Battle Of Waterloo in 2009 with Wellthereyogo.

Trainer Scott McEneny won the 2017 Battle Of Waterloo with Simple Kinda Man and looks to earn a berth in this year's final with Better B Swift starting from post position four in the first division. He's the most recent winner in the field of six with a half-length maiden victory on July 23 at Woodbine-Mohawk Park in 1:53.4. The Bettors Delight colt was a $27,000 yearling buy for McEneny who co-owns with Teresa Davidson, Martwest Racing Stable and Cora Marshall. He's a winner of $13,962 in two starts.

The second division will be contested by seven pacers. Bettorbuckleup is the most expensive and the richest of the bunch. The Eric Adams trainee was an $85,000 yearling purchase for owner Millar Farms. He has banked $34,500 in three starts and was most recently second by four lengths in an Ontario Sires Stakes Gold event at Woodbine-Mohawk Park, pacing his mile in 1:53. He starts from post six on Monday night.

Elimination dashes for the 11th annual Battle Of The Belles spotlight 22 2-year-old pacing fillies in three $10,000 divisions. They must finish in the top three to earn a berth in the $157,257 final.

Alicorn is sure to attract much attention from post three in the first elimination division (Race 1) as last week's record-breaker at Woodbine Mohawk Park. The Bettors Delight daughter set a new Ontario Sires Stakes record and a North American season's record with a jaw-dropping one-and-three-quarter length maiden win in 1:51 with Louis Philippe Roy in the $106,400 Gold event. Chantal Mitchell trains Alicorn for owners Windermere Stable and Robert Muscara, who paid $30,000 for her last fall. She has banked $62,795 in three starts.

All Day Sunshine leaves from post three in division two (Race 4) and is already a rags-to-riches story in just four career starts. The Sunshine Beach miss has earned $60,551 but was a humble $6,000 yearling sale purchase. Richard Moreau trains the filly for owners Dan Lagace, Anthony Timmins, Billy Joe Timmins and Brad Gray. Her most recent of two wins was in an Ontario Sires Stakes Gold event on July 8 in 1:53 over Woodbine-Mohawk Park.

Local trainer Gregg McNair (of Guelph, ON) is seeking his second Battle Of The Belles victory and Karma Seelster is his most pronounced shot at earning a spot in the final. The Sportswriter daughter starts from post position two in the third and final division (Race 8). At $127,000, the regally bred filly was the second-highest priced horse in the 2018 London Selected Yearling Sale. She is a Sportswriter sister to Ontario Sires Stakes record holder Kendall Seelster, a (current) winner of $813,000.

Karma Seelster is owned by Hall Of Famer Keith Waples, his wife Eileen and daughter Karen Hauver. Gregg McNair trains the filly. She's a winner of $35,368.

Martinis Place is the richest of the field with $71,466 banked in just two starts and a mark of 1:53 taken at Woodbine Mohawk Park in an Ontario Sires Stakes Gold event on July 19. John Pentland trains the Betterthancheddar filly for co-owner Ellie Bale.

Post time for July 29 is 6:30 p.m. EST. Post positions for the finals of the Battle Of Waterloo and Battle Of The Belles will be drawn after Race 9.

Both finals will be contested on Monday, August 5. Post time for #industryday29 is 12:30 p.m. Festivities and the broadcast begin at 12:00 noon. Complete event details are available here.

Caretakers appreciated across Canada

"I really believe this event is a significant addition to the list of things we celebrate throughout the year as horsepeople. I believe it will make grooms feel appreciated and in turn encourage my generation to appreciate the craft of being a caretaker." – Jeff Baillargeon (Ben Baillargeon Stable - Woodbine Mohawk Park)

National Caretaker Appreciation Day (NCAD) events were held across Canada this past weekend (July 19-21) at racetracks, farms and training centres, for the second consecutive year. Standardbred Canada launched this initiative in 2018.

Fifteen racetracks, along with numerous farms and stables across Canada recognized and rewarded caretakers.

SC checked in with some of the caretakers to see what they had to say about their track's event.

"At Century Downs, the track announcer recognized all the caretakers by name as each trainer/driver was announced during post parade. It felt good to be recognized for all our hard work. Our barn didn't win any that day, but even the ones that didn't win got acknowledged. The recognition made us feel like our work is worth something." – Thalia Martin (Nathan Sobey Stable - Century Downs Racetrack & Casino)

"A very well-planned event. Everyone felt appreciated beyond measure." – Mitch Tierney (Richard Moreau Stable - Woodbine Mohawk Park)

"Caretakers were the highlight of the night at Truro Raceway. Having a video of Truro's own caretakers played during our live racing card was a great touch for all race fans to see- it really put the spotlight on the behind the scenes action and the role of the caretaker." – Nancy Laffin (Ernie Laffin Stable - Truro Raceway)

"Caretakers at H3R were all announced during post parade and again in the winner's circle. The track management also gave us a free meal. They made sure we were appreciated on our special day." – Isabelle Brière (Francis Richard Stable - Hippodrome 3R)

“Seeing the smiles on the caretaker’s faces that were recognized at Clinton on Sunday made my day. Having a weekend to recognize the hard work and endless hours caretakers put in is great. They are the backbone of the industry.” — Teesha Symes (Symes Stable – Clinton Raceway)

“Normally I race in PEI, but I was in Truro for NCAD because of stake races and the track was really open to appreciating all caretakers, not just the ones based in Truro. One thing that stuck out to me was seeing caretakers interviewed in the winner’s circle instead of the trainer or driver. It was awesome to hear a post-race interview from this perspective.” — Ryan Wilkie (Marc Campbell Stable - Red Shores Racetrack & Casino at CDP)

“The reception and enthusiasm from tracks, stables and associations this year was even greater than last year,” said Kathy Wade Vlaar, Standardbred Canada’s manager of member and stakeholder relations. “This is a great initiative that the entire harness racing community can support and rally around. For the industry to grow and thrive, we need to focus on the role, value and contributions of caretakers along with providing support and programs in specific areas. This is the entry level position to the industry and without caretakers, we don’t have an industry.”

Sarah Lauren Scott, who worked with Standardbred Canada to get this initiative off the ground in 2018, was the primary organizer of the Woodbine Mohawk Park event. “I was so thankful for the support of the horseman. It truly brought everyone together, the evening at Mohawk was filled with a great energy. That in itself is a win,” said Scott. SSG Gloves and Omega Alpha were major sponsors for the Mohawk event and it also received major contributions from Michelle Crawford and Nick Surick.

“Social media exploded with posts from trainers and owners wishing all caretakers a happy national caretaker day. We did it, we have created a day for the hardworking men and woman of the racing industry. Those who give up so much and take care of the horses daily.”

And Scott is looking past the NCAD events. “It’s just the beginning to a much bigger dream, the whole point of this incentive goes beyond recognition and reward. I would like to see the caretakers receive support, guidance and education in other ways. The seed is planted, and it will take a good amount of focus and work; is it achievable? You bet it is. Caretakers outnumber the rest of us, so give them the tools they need and we will all succeed. Just remember – it’s free to say you did a great job today, thank you.”

Participating tracks this past weekend included: Century Downs Racetrack & Casino, Clinton Raceway, Dresden

Raceway, Georgian Downs, Grand River Raceway, Hanover Raceway, Hiawatha Horse Park, Hippodrome 3R, Inverness Raceway, Kawartha Downs, Northside Downs, Red Shores – Charlottetown Driving Park & Summerside locations, Truro Raceway and Woodbine Mohawk Park. Several tracks that don’t operate in the summer are already in the planning stages for fall events.

TheStable.ca ran a Go Fund Me campaign for its owners that resulted in a $230 tip per person, pizza lunch and swag for the crew of 30 full-time caretakers and riders.

Landmark Stable had a complimentary lunch for its crew at their stables at First Line and Lansdowne and trainer Andrew McCabe gave his staff the day off.

In addition, horsepersons associations across the country were also involved in and supportive of the racetrack events, including Ontario Racing who donated VISA gift cards for prize draws to all Ontario tracks, the Central Ontario Standardbred Association (COSA) who contributed 10 Horseplayer Interactive (HPI) cards for each Ontario racetrack, the Alberta Standardbred Horse Association who provided gift bags to winning caretakers at Century Downs, and the Truro Horse Owners Association who produced a special video commemorating Nova Scotia caretakers.

Pantaleano wins 6 at The Meadows

Sansovina Hanover stalked Caviart Scarlett from the pocket, then edged by her in the Lightning Lane to capture Tuesday’s feature at The Meadows, an $11,500 Filly & Mare Conditioned Pace.

Caviart Scarlett won the early battle for the lead, accelerating through a 26.4 opening quarter that forced Sansovina Hanover and Jim Pantaleano to the pocket. But the 4-year-old daughter of Somebeachsomewhere—Shacked Up was the stronger mare late, downing Caviart Scarlett by a head in 1:52, matching her career fastest. Our GG rallied for show.

Doug Snyder trains Sansovina Hanover, who lifted her career bankroll to $264,469, for Frank Poerio, Jr.

It was one of six wins for Pantaleano on the 13-race card, including a pair for trainer Scott Betts and one each for Corey Kreiser, Christen Pantaleano Bill Popio and Snyder

Sugg wins five of nine at Painesville

Action kicked off at the Lake County Fair in Painesville, Ohio Tuesday with nine races, five of which were won by driver Kurt Sugg. His wins included the $3,500 Forest "Pappy" Cone Memorial, a Signature Series Trot, and the richest event of the day, the $10,100 3-year-old filly trot. Earlier this month, Sugg went over the 4,000 career win mark.

In the Cone Memorial, Sugg steered his trainee Star Chip, owned by Rebecca Sugg, to an easy 2:02 win, her eighth of the year. The 8-year-old gelded son of Chip Chip Hooray—Star Sneakers has now banked just under $340,000 in his career. It was his second Signature Series win of the year. Riverdancing Diva was second and Rockinthepines finished third.

In the sophomore filly trot, trainer Marty Wollam called on Sugg to drive Ladycallstheshots, a daughter of Uncle Peter from the SJ's Caviar mare Caviar For The Lady. She cruised to a 2:04.2 win, her first this year. She is owned and was bred by Acadia Farms of Canfield, Ohio. D J Miracle finished second, with And Up We Go taking home show money.

Sugg also easily took the opener for 2-year-old pacing fillies with Pat Holden's Miss Tressa, who was an impressive 2:01.3 winner for trainer Wollam. He also won the second division of the freshman filly pace, this time piloting Don Hoovler, Jeery Sommers and Mike Medors' Yankee Cruiser filly Medoland Carmen to a 2:04.3 win. To wrap things up, in the nightcap, Sugg won the maiden trot in 2:07 with 2-year-old trotting gelding K J Chuck. Scott Woogen owns the winner who is trained by Steve Cross.

Ohio Breeders launch new website

The Ohio Harness Horse Breeders Association is proud to announce the launch of their new website:

<https://ohioharnesshorsebreeders.com/>

The Internet platform will allow horsepeople to easily access information about the upcoming annual Ohio Selected Jug Sale, which is slated for Friday, Sept. 13 at the Brave Horse Equestrian Center in Johnstown, OH.

This year's sale will feature over 200 yearlings by Ohio sires Pet Rock, Cash Hall, Uncle Peter, Racing Hill, Triumphant Caviar, Rockin Amadeus, Western Vintage, My MVP, Big Bad

John, McArdle and many more.

Ohio Breeders president Randy Haines said, "We are excited to bring this new level of information access to the breeders, owners and trainers in Ohio. Since everyone these days has their phone in their hands... we want people to find our sale yearlings at the touch of a button."

For decades, the Ohio Select sale has been the first stop for owners and trainers to acquire top State-bred harness racing performers. This year will be no exception as the Ohio Select sale has sold hundreds of Ohio Sire Stakes winners and dozens of Super Night Champions. Current standouts include, but are not limited to: ROSEMARY ROSE p,1:50.3f—'19 ($496,867); QUEEN OF THE PRIDE p,2,1:52.4f, 3,1:51.1f—'19 ($460,479); ROSE RUN SYDNEY 4,1:54.1h ($554,643); FRASER RIDGE 4,1:52.1f ($522,479); World Champion ROCK CANDY p,3,1:50.2f—'19 ($305,626); PURE CHANCE p,3,1:54.2h—'19 ($148,896); BIG BOX HANOVER 2,1:57.4f—'19 and ELVER HANOVER p,2,1:53.3h—'19, etc.

The website includes directions and maps to the Brave Horse Center auction site and links to area hotels are posted along with an archive of sales results from previous years. In addition to the sales roster, yearling video links and a PDF digital catalog will be linked for on-line viewing, when they become available.

A social media, Facebook page is also up and running, which will feature current and former Ohio Sire Stakes winners and performers, as well as news, links and updates from farms and consignors.

The Ohio Harness Horse Breeders Association is a cooperative of Buckeye State equine nurseries dedicated to the promotion and growth of Ohio Standardbreds, and include: Abby Stables, LTD., Cool Winds Farm, Dublin Valley Farms, Hickory Lane Horse Farm, LMN Bred Stables, Inc., Midland Acres, Inc., Rose Run Farm, Spring Haven Farm, Steiner Stock Farm, Sugar Valley Farm and Winterwood Farm.

For additional information, contact Laura Nault at Ohio Harness Horse Breeders, 17605 Clarks Run Rd., Mount Sterling, OH 43143. Email: LJNault@gmail.com.
