TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

with MURRAY BROWN

The charmed life of owner HERB LIVERMAN

by Murray Brown

There may be some, but not too many owners in this business who have been associated with as many good-to-great horses as Herb Liverman. The horses in which he has owned parts of include the Horses of the Year Muscles Yankee and Bee A Magician; two Hambletonian winners: Muscle Yankee and Pinkman; four Hambletonian Oaks winners, including Manchego, Bee A Magician and Wild Honey; the Meadowlands Pace winner Laughs; eight Breeders Crown winners and the winners of most stakes of consequence in North America through a 55-year career which began with the purchase of a pacing filly of little consequence named Keystone Wish.

Herb and his father, Irving, almost immediately transcended to the outstanding pacer and consequential sire Silent Majority, then to the great pacing filly Handle With Care and on to numerous other horses of great significance including Kadabra, Windshield Wiper, Maven and quite a few others. From 1969 through today, there has not been a day when there wasn't a standardbred where the name Liverman wasn't part of its ownership.

Herbie, as he is called by most of those who know him, was born and raised in Montreal, where after graduation from college he went to work with his Hall of Fame father. The pair worked together at Irving's successful electronics business Super Electric.

Herb Liverman.

From Montreal, Herb moved to Toronto where he supervised the expansion of the business from a regional one to one of the more significant industries of its type in Canada.

"Originally, we moved to Toronto with a view to selling Super Electric. Toronto had become the business hub of Canada. If you did not have a presence there you weren't playing in the big leagues. We eventually did sell the business, but not before it had grown significantly. My dad never really got out of it completely. That business was his baby. He had started in electrical supplies shortly after he returned from World War II. He began Super Electric in 1948 and still had his offices in Super Electric's facilities when he passed in 2017."

Twenty years after the founding of Super Electric, Irving met Roger White.

"Dad liked horse racing as he did most sports. He mentioned to Roger that he might be interested in getting a horse or two. The first horse Roger bought for us was a filly named Keystone Wish. She wasn't very good. The next year Roger was going to Lexington. Dad said that if Roger was going to buy something and was looking for a partner, he would gladly become that. That 'something' was to be Silent Majority. It's been a great and mostly successful ride since then."

Q: Even though you were, in theory, not an owner of Silent Majority – your father's name was on the papers – you were, in effect, involved.

"That is correct. I always had a deep involvement in following and managing the horses. It became a family enterprise. My dad loved the racing. He craved action. Truthfully, when it came to the breeding end of the sport, he had very little interest in the nitty gritty of breeding and raising horses. On the other hand, I loved everything about it. Dad would go to the races and follow the racehorses. I would do that as well. I made pretty much all the decisions. Don't get me wrong. When there was something important to be decided, father was consulted and he had the final word. Truthfully though, he left everything up to me.”

Q: Let's talk about some of your horses.

SILENT MAJORITY. “He was the small acorn from which all the tall oaks grew. We never even dared to dream that he would become the horse that he did. He was a bargain yearling who cost $9,000. Dad was looking for a nice racehorse that he could race in Montreal – maybe if it was good enough, perhaps become a horse to compete in the Canadian Juvenile Circuit a series of races for 2-year-olds meant to encourage owners to buy yearlings which would raise the quality of racing in Canada. It was somewhat surprising that he and Strike Out, arguably the two best 2- and 3-year-olds in North America from the year of their birth came from rather modest beginnings. Silent Majority was a $9,000 yearling at Tattersalls, while Strike Out brought $15,000 at the sale that Alan Leavitt had started at Liberty Bell Park. There were many monumental races between those two. It blossomed into a fierce rivalry.

"However tragedy was to strike. Roger was killed in a plane crash that occurred while going to Philadelphia to attend the yearling sale there. Roger's widow Aline was left his share in Silent Majority. She was to continue being our partner throughout the horse's life extending through his stud career. By that time, the colt had shown that he was better than average – much better! At the time, the two top horsemen in North America were generally considered to be Stanley Dancer and Billy Haughton. Little did we know that Silent Majority would be trained by both of them. We went with Dancer first. Stanley had Albatross in his stable at the time. He had races just about every week. They conflicted with Silent Majority's. We decided to move to Haughton. We enjoyed a great year of racing. We were looking forward to racing him as a 4-year-old. Unfortunately, he broke a coffin bone and had to be retired. We reached a stud deal with Walnut Hall Farm. He was syndicated and went on to a moderately successful stud career at Walnut Hall. There are very few pedigrees today that do not include him. He sired Abercrombie, who himself sired Artsplace. The name Artsplace is rarely absent from most pacers' pedigrees today."

HANDLE WITH CARE – "Our luck continued with this great filly. Billy bought her for $12,000 at Tattersalls. He asked dad if he wanted to own her. Dad said yes and she became part of our stable. What a great filly she became. At 2, she won all 17 of her starts. At 3, she continued her winning ways winning all but two of her starts and became a world champion with her 1.54.2 time trial in Lexington. Her earnings and records were monumental for that era. She earned over $800,000 for us in four years of racing. I would be remiss if I didn't mention that she had a quasi-trainer in Fred Grant who had been the groom of Silent Majority with Stanley Dancer. When Silent Majority went to the Haughton stable, so did Freddie. Fred had graduated from being a groom with Haughton to becoming one of his second trainers. We asked Billy if he would consider sending Fred on the road with her. He did and would train her often, of course, reporting to Billy when Haughton was not available. Fred even drove her once in a stakes race as a 3-year-old. I think it might have been at the now defunct Quebec City track. It was one of only two losses she sustained that year. I don't remember ever missing being at any of her races either at two or three. She was somewhat disappointing as a broodmare, never even coming close to reproducing her talent."

KADABRA – "I received a phone call from Peter Heffering. He wanted to buy what he felt was a great trotter. He was looking for some partners. The price was steep – $800,000. The colt appeared to be exceptional. The problem was that his pedigree

"I always had a deep involvement in following and managing the horses. It became a family enterprise. My dad loved the racing. He craved action. was lacking. He was sired by a well-bred horse named Primrose Lane who very few people had ever heard of. Peter felt that the horse was good enough to earn himself out on the racetrack. Any benefits from a stud career would be gravy. He put together a syndicate that was to own him. It consisted of Peter, Lee Devisser, Dave McDuffee, Irving Storfer and myself. Peter was right on the money in his assessment. A great benefit for me was that one of my partners was Dave McDuffee, a person who became and still is one of my dearest friends. As Peter had predicted he became an exceptional racehorse and perhaps jointly with Balanced Image became the greatest trotting stallion to ever stand in Canada. He had earned almost $350,000 at 2 for his previous owners, the Hostetler family. He ended up making almost $1,500,000 for us with lifetime earnings of over $1,800,000 under the tutelage of renowned trainer Jimmy Takter. He also contributed several million dollars to his owners from standing in stud."

MUSCLES YANKEE — "He was the highest priced yearling that I ever bought. Four of us bought him for $200,000 — actually there were two of us to begin with — Jimmy Wheeler and myself. Bill Perretti came in and so did David French an owner who was a friend of his trainer to be Chuck Sylvester. His purchase was promoted by a bit of a renegade named Jimmy Wheeler. Wheeler was to buy him with myself as his partner. Bill Perretti and David French came in after Wheeler had signed for him. A problem was that Wheeler, as he was prone to do, ran into financial difficulties. He put his interest up for sale. Perretti was supposed to buy Wheeler's piece for he and myself. After Wild Bill bought the share from Wheeler, Bill told me that I was out. He said he was keeping it all for himself. That was Bill Perretti. That was likely the best deal Bill Perretti ever made in the horse business. Muscles more than justified his high price. He started to bloom at the end of his 2-year-old season. As a 3-year-old he was virtually unstoppable. He was Horse of the Year in 1998.

"(Bill Perretti) was actually a great partner. He was also one of the greatest characters that the sport has ever known. Anybody that ever met him was very likely to never forget doing so."

~ Herb Liverman

His wins included the Hambletonian. Not only was he a great trotter, but he became one of the greatest trotting stallions in the history of the sport. His blood lives on through the success of his greatest son Muscle Hill."

Q: You mentioned Bill Perretti, tell us about him.

"He was actually a great partner. He was also one of the greatest characters that the sport has ever known. Anybody that ever met him was very likely to never forget doing so. Here's a story about Bill. We were having dinner in New York. Bill was quite mercurial, often subject to great optimism about the sport only to quickly get down on it. He was in one of his down phases. He said he wanted to get out. I asked him for a price on his entire broodmare band. He came up with a number. I said 'sold.' We shook hands, but no sooner had he made the deal that he said, 'I've changed my mind. They aren't for sale.' I knew he was subject to changing his mind. That was Bill and I accepted him as such."

Q: Tell us about some of your trainers.

"I've been very lucky with trainers. I've probably had more than my share of great ones. I started with Roger White who was not only a great trainer, but was also a great gentleman. From Roger, we went to Hall of Famers Stanley Dancer and Bill Haughton. Freddie Grant took care of and also trained a few for us. We had Jimmy Rankin, whose life was tragically cut short by an automobile accident. That, just when he was getting into the big time. Normand Dauplaise, a good friend, had several overnight horses for us through the years. Of course, I've had great success with Hall of Famers Chuck Sylvester and Jimmy Takter. Nifty Norman was responsible for picking Bee A Magician as a yearling and training her throughout her great career."

Q: What's life like for Herbie Liverman these days?

"I had been living in Toronto until the time we sold Super Electric. While living there I became friends with John Fielding — still one of my best friends. We would get together and peruse the yearling catalogs together. We would put together a list of yearlings who's pedigrees interested us the most. We would then give the list to Jimmy Takter. Jimmy would look the list over and evaluate those yearlings on their conformation. Most of our yearling purchases came from those lists.

After we sold Super Electric I decided that I had enough of those cold Canadian winters. We bought a home here in Miami and have been here since. I still have some horses. I retained my interest in Bee A Magician, her dam Beehive and another mare Presto. We will be selling a Father Patrick half-sister to Bee A Magician and two yearlings by Greenshoe this fall. I am also still involved with racing I have three in training, including Pretender, a Muscle Hill son of Maven who unfortunately didn't draw too well in yesterday's Hambletonian eliminations. I don't foresee a time when I won't be at least slightly involved in the sport.

THE ART OF BREEDING

with ALAN LEAVITT

About those long, tall boys

by Alan Leavitt

There were two fillies entered in this year's Hambletonian eliminations, which brings up the question of why this is such an infrequent occurrence.

There I think the principle expressed in Occam's Razor gives the best answer. Which is: Trotting colts are bigger and stouter than trotting fillies, and therefore they are faster.

(RE: Occam's Razor, a principle attributed to William of Occam, simply says that in most cases the simplest explanation is the best.)

This is not to say that there haven't been fillies in a given year who could hold their own and then some against the colts. There just haven't been very many of them. In the case of Joviality S, her trainer, Marcus Melander, was good enough to give me a first-hand description of his filly. In her case, bigger and stouter don't apply. Melander told me she is on the small side, and quite feminine.

I've already remarked on the great success both Marcus Melander and Lucas Wallin have achieved in the relatively short time they've been here from Sweden. As it happens, I met Melander's charming sister, Mikela, when she was here at The Red Mile taking care of the mercurial Greenshoe. Now I've just learned that the transplanted Swedish Circle is complete, as Mikela Melander and Lucas Wallin were married in April. I wish them both a hundred years of happiness.

The Hambletonian was first raced in 1926, and in its second year, 1927, the winner was a filly, Losola's Worthy, driven by Marvin Childs. Many years later, as I was just getting started, Childs was employed by Hanover Shoe Farms to prep their sale yearlings. I attached myself to him, and he gave me my early education in our business.

He also told stories about the old days on the racetrack, where he and his contemporaries had all become legends by my early days. I mean names such as Nat Ray, Walter Cox, Tom Berry, Doc

In April, Lucas Wallin married Mikela Melander.

Parshall, Ben White, and on and on in the same vein with the list of giants who created our sport.

Among the many stories Childs told me, he described how things worked in the early, pre-pari-mutuel days. All races were in heats then, and the race winner was the first horse to win two heats.

This was before the starting gate was invented in 1939 making modern day harness racing possible. Before the gate was introduced, the field would come to the start in a line, and if everybody was lined up properly, the starter, standing on the side of the track, would drop his flag and the race was on. However, it frequently would take a whole afternoon to get a race off.

The mobile starting gate cured all those ills, and George Morton Levy immediately put it to good use at this new track, Roosevelt Raceway. Et voilà! Harness racing suddenly became a viable betting proposition.

This kid has colorful memories of George Morton Levy. He could never understand how I would always take the side of the owners and trainers in the never-ending battles over what percentage of the betting handle should go to purses.

Levy would start at something like 18 per cent, and then grudgingly work his way up to the low 30's. And he never stopped asking why wasn't I on his side, since we were the only two people in these discussions with a higher education, plus a shared religion, Judaism.

Now both Mr. Levy and Roosevelt are gone, and I'm probably the last person who knew both the man and the place first hand. When the time comes, fingers crossed, he'll be waiting to berate me some more for my misplaced loyalty.

The starting gate was the key to commercial harness racing, but there was another small but essential piece that appeared first in the late '50s.

That was the plastic wheel disc. Before it was created, every day or night there were serious accidents when one horse would put his foot through another horse's wheel. If you've ever actually driven in a race, in every turn you hear the loud bangs as horses whack each other's wheel discs. In my early days those same feet would be going right through the spokes of someone else's wheel.

On a personal note, I just had a phone call from Brad Maxwell, one of the best trainers in the business. He was giving me a report on a horse he's training for us, and, and as usual, he's doing a top job.

But being 5'6" on my tip toes, I'm quite conscious of other people's height, especially when they're tall, as Brad is. It brings back a memory of my early days in the show horse world. Two of the top men in the business then were Tom Moore, who was well over six feet, and Garland Bradshaw, who was my size.

They were showing yearlings, in hand, at the Kentucky State Fair one night, and the judge had them lined up side by side, so he could do his comparison.

As the judge stepped over to look closer at Garland's yearling, out of the side of his mouth, sotto voce, Bradshaw whispered, "This long, tall boy don't need the money, judge, but I sure do."

There have been many times in my life since when I've told an imaginary judge that those long, tall boys don't need the money, judge but I sure do.

But I'm never sure if my message actually gets through.

M-M's Dream continues her dominance of Indiana competition

by James Platz

Last spring, trainer Henry Graber Jr. was ready to pull the plug on a 2-year-old trotting filly he could not coax into staying flat. The freshman repeatedly made breaks while training over Graber's half-mile farm track. Just as he was preparing to turn her out, M-M's Dream made a dramatic turnaround. Now a sophomore, the Swan For All—Trading Places filly dominated Indiana Sires Stakes competition last season, and is off to a perfect four-for-four start in 2022.

"As a 2-year-old we were about to the point of giving up on her. She was making breaks training," said Graber. "She made so many breaks training. About three weeks before qualifying, she flipped a switch and she was a different horse."

It wasn't a complete transformation. As Graber noted, even after she began racing at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino, she managed to make breaks training at home. However, in competition, she virtually eliminated all miscues.

In late June, Graber sent the filly, owned by his father's Eleven Star Stables, to Hoosier Park to qualify. With Trace Tetrick at the controls for two outings, M-M's Dream trotted second in 2:01.1

followed by a 1:59.1 romp on July 3, where she won by eight lengths and closed out the mile with a :27.4 last quarter.

"After qualifying Trace said, 'You need to take care of her. She's a nice filly,'" said Graber. "She always had a really nice way of going."

Before M-M's Dream made her pari-mutuel debut, Frank Baldachino bought an interest in the filly, as did Ernest Graber of Hillside Stables. They were quickly rewarded when she captured a $45,500 division in the opening round of Indiana Sires Stakes July 14. In rein to Sam Widger, the freshman won by more than two lengths.

In 12 career starts, M-M's Dream has missed the board only once, the result of a break early in her second career start. That day she finished seventh for the connections, and since then she has proven to be nearly flawless.

"She ran and popped a quarter crack and still trotted home in :26.4 that start. From there on, she's only lost one race," said Graber.

After a Grand Circuit victory at the Indiana State Fair, the filly returned to Hoosier Park. M-M's Dream managed second that day in the third round of sires stakes despite suffering the effects of a punctured foot. Graber and his team worked tirelessly to get her ready for the start, shipping her at the last possible moment from their base of Portland, Ind.

"We jogged her about seven miles that morning. We shod her three different times three different ways trying to get her comfortable. We actually sent the first load of horses to the track because she was at the end. We found another guy to ship her last minute," the trainer said.

M-M's Dream was nosed out at the wire in 1:55.3. It was the last time she missed the winner's circle in 2021. The filly reeled off four straight victories, capped by a 1:55 triumph in the $270,000 Super Final at Hoosier Park. In that race, Widger and his charge kicked home in :27 to edge slight favorite Fleurie at the wire by a length and a half. Bred by Mervin J. Miller, M-M's Dream finished the year with six wins in eight starts, $268,462 in earnings, and took home the hardware as divisional champion in Indiana.

"Last year, if you watch all of her races, she never got the same trip. It was always something different. On the backstretch sometimes it would look like she was giving up, but when she got to three quarters she would flip a switch," Graber stated.

At season's end, M-M's Dream was turned out at Kentuckiana Farm, where she wintered for the partnership. When the filly returned in early 2022, Graber said she had matured considerably. Gone was the habit of making breaks while training, as well as lingering issues.

"She had foot problems last year and her one knee was kind of iffy. We had to work on it all year. This year, there's nothing special we're doing. She's just a nice horse," he said. "She wears less equipment than last year. Her biggest thing is that she matured over the winter. Anybody could have taken her and did what we did. She didn't make any breaks, didn't make any mistakes. She was easier to drive and would do anything you wanted to do."

After two qualifying efforts, M-M's Dream returned to action May 30, winning her sophomore debut in a time of 1:54.4 despite broken equipment. She followed that with a 1:53.4 score on June 14, winning by a length.

Although she was winning, Graber noticed that his filly had a tendency to wait on other horses once on the lead. Fearing that she could get caught at the wire, he chose to open up the bridle on M-M's Dream in her third start. The trotter turned in her fastest mile to date, a 1:53.1 effort in the $92,000 third leg of sires stakes competition.

"We trained her with it and she seemed alright," Graber said. "It seems to be working."

M-M's Dream kept her winning streak intact with a victory on July 20. Squaring off again in Indiana Sires Stakes, the sophomore led gate to wire, winning by nearly three lengths after kicking home in :26.3, tripping the timer again in 1:53.1.

"She's the best one we have. We have Brookview Bullet. He paced in 48 and change this year, but he's a four year old. As a two and three year old, we don't have anything like her," said the trainer.

An $18,000 yearling purchase out of the Hoosier Classic sale, M-M's Dream pushed her earnings to $384,962 with the latest win. Graber said that some have asked if the filly will venture outside Indiana this year. He is focused on the task at hand in a tough sires stakes division, followed by multiple open stakes this fall at Hoosier Park. Next year is a different story. Graber once questioned whether M-M's Dream would make it to the races. She answered the question, and if she continues to excel, bigger opportunities could lie ahead.

SUPERSTAR FEMALES OF HARNESS RACING

with VICTORIA M. HOWARD

Melody Moore – Paddock judge

by Victoria Howard

Growing up in Michigan young Melody Moore never in her wildest dreams thought one day she would be a judge. But today Moore is exactly that. She is the paddock judge at Running Aces Raceway in Columbus, MN.

"I did not grow up in the racehorse industry. My family was not involved in harness racing, but my granddad raised and trained Appaloosas so I learned a lot about horses working with him. If I wanted to ride, I had to do the barn work first.

"I grew up in Fowlerville, Michigan – home of the Fowlerville Fair – where I got to watch the Michigan fair stakes. Being competitive by nature, a horse lover, and intrigued by horses going very high speeds in a cart I wanted to learn more.

"When I was a young adult a friend who worked with standardbreds asked if I wanted a job. I said, 'Heck yeah!' and I was hooked. My first job was cleaning stalls for trainer Keith Crawford in 1987. After Keith I worked for the (late) Jay Sears for about three years at Pompano Park in Florida and Vernon Downs in New York. I owe Jay so much for he really taught me the ins and outs and let me train and warm up my first horse."

Moore also worked for trainers Mark Capone in the '90s, taking care of some very nice horses, including Kentucky Image, Styles Hanover, Orchard Street and Getting Personal, who was a two-heat world record holder at Vernon Downs and the winner of six New York Sires Stakes track records. Melody also worked for trainer Linda Toscano for a short time.

"At one time, I worked for Michigan trainer Mark Jordan. This was my favorite time for I took care of the great Supergrit. He won $1.5 million in purses and won the Maple Leaf Trot and Breeders Crown, to name a few, and he had seven wins in a row in the free-for-all trot at the Meadowlands. He got beat a nose going for his eighth, which would have tied Garland Lobell's record. After Supergrit's retirement I went to work for Richie Johnson where I cared for, shipped and warmed up Quality Western, also a world record holder."

Running Aces paddock judge Melody Moore.

Moore also worked for Hanover Shoe Farms one breeding season, handling the foals.

"I taught the babies how to lead and pick up their feet. It was a fun job. During this time frame I began putting together a small stable of my own. I moved to Saratoga and had a pretty successful few years for my owners.

"I owned and trained the trotting mare, Fox Valley Shannon, who made her way up to the open class. To keep her competitive I put her in a claiming race, and she was claimed, putting me pretty much out of the business."

For the next eight years, Moore took a sabbatical from the sport to raise her daughter and clean up a divorce, but her heart was always with the horses and harness racing.

"In 2019, I answered an ad on Facebook. Trainer Homer Hochstetler was looking for help and I jumped back in. I worked at Vernon and Pinehurst for a season, but after COVID hit, I moved back to Michigan where I made a new contact with Robert Baurys and Crazy Parrot Farms.

"Robert sent me a few nice mares to race at Northville Downs. We did okay so we discussed going to Running Aces and I took a shot."

Which brings us to the present day where Moore is now the paddock judge at Running Aces.

"Throughout my training career, I always had aspirations of becoming a judge. I knew that there were very, very few women judges in the sport, and being the competitive and risky person I am, I thought it would be a challenge.

"Mickey Peterson, an associative judge in harness racing, was a good friend of mine. He always supported my dream and gave me pointers and suggestions.

"In 2022, I saw an ad on the USTA website looking for a paddock judge. Although I had zero experience, I reached out to Steve Carpenito, the director of racing at Running Aces. Not long after, Steve contacted me with the job details and offered me a job as paddock judge with the stipulation that I pass the judges' test under the tutelage of Robert Corey – the presiding judge at Running Aces.

"After speaking with Carpenito and Corey on a conference call, they both agreed I was a good fit for the job and confident that with my experience in the business I could fulfill the job.

"At that time, I had a small stable and had two months to make a life-changing decision to either keep training or take a chance on fulfilling my dream of becoming a judge.

"I talked to my owner, Mr. Baurys, and asked his opinion. He told me I shouldn't turn the opportunity down for it was a chance of a lifetime and if I didn't like it I could always go back to training.

"I accepted the position and arrived in Minnesota at the end of April.

"I studied very hard and passed the test. April 26, 2022 was the first day I was the paddock judge at Running Aces.

"It has been quite a change for me, and a bit trying at times, but I have a super support system in Mr. Corey, Peter Hanley, Casey Larson and Mickey Peterson, and of course thanks to Steve Carpenito for the opportunity. They have all taught me such much already and I am forever grateful. I hope I make them proud and letting all the women in the business know to follow their dreams and hard work does pay off."

BREAKING STRIDE

with TREY NOSRAC

Best in class

by Trey Nosrac

Rain tapped on my windshield in the parking lot of The Grill is Gone Drive Thru Hot Dog Emporium. Wyatt Fetterman, a retired mechanic and volunteer fireman, sat in the passenger's seat. His friends, even his wife, call the genial giant Double T. He took a break from his chili dog, wiped his fleshy chin with a paper napkin, and asked me, "How come you didn't buy a yearling last year?"

I gave him a shrug, "Fiscal cliffs, deficit spending, and the virus still had me edgy about getting stuck holding a horse. Let's say that I took a therapeutic hiatus."

Double T was familiar with the harness racehorse ownership game. In 2013, he took a tiny piece of my annual yearling purchase, followed by my traditional less-than-productive 2-year-old racing adventure. He said, "Not having a baby in training is unusual territory for you."

I nodded and frowned, "This is my first harness dance missed in 12 years. The odds, the realities, the obstacles, things pile up. Heck, maybe I just had a spasm of sanity?"

"Those things never stopped you before."

"Ownership was always a stretch for me. The bridge got too far."

"Bummer, what could send you back?"

I pondered, took a slurp of my large orange soda, then blurted out something I often think about, "The most important thing that could pull me back into buying yearlings would be if my chances of having fun went up. Want to hear an idea?"

He smiled, "I'm sitting in a car eating a hot dog with a maniac in what we hope is a post-pandemic era. My schedule is free. Go ahead, take me on one of your trips."

"Okay. This idea is for people like me, who have an interest in the sport, are mathematically and fiscally challenged, are susceptible to new ideas, and possibly insane."

He flashed a thumbs up and said, "Quite the resume you got there."

"Thanks. Everyone has the fantasy of a champion buried in their brain, but people like me begin a yearling ownership adventure with two goals — have a good time, and don't get killed on the money front."

He said, "I don't see a plan yet."

"Okay. Let me simplify my madness. My idea is for smaller pools of competitors. I figure the easiest way to be one of the 'Best in Class' is to be part of a small class."

"Not following you, Trey."

"Most people I know participate in sports and games but never expect to play in national events. They never consider playing in state events. We enjoy being in smaller, local competitions. I believe there are ways to create quirky pools for eventual competition in harness racing."

"Ain't they already got different levels of racing?"

"Yes, but more subsets of competition is what I'm driving at."

"Still not following you. Give me an example."

"Okay, imagine there's a marginal stallion in your state. Let's call this stallion Border Line. He will probably get 50-60 breedings in his first crop. Before breeding season, the connections of this stallion put out an advertisement stating that the top 10 2yo money winners of the Border Line yearling class will each receive $5,000 in bonus money that will be unofficial earnings."

"Where does the money come from?"

"The owners of Border Line. This group is separate from normal stakes programs."

Double T asked, "How does this help his stallion?"

"It might, and it might not. Fast forward to 2024, think of the market where Trey, a potential customer, is strolling the aisles of a yearling sale. The Border Line crop will get my full attention. The sons and daughters of this sire are on my list, and I will stretch my budget because I would be susceptible to this simple cash award marketing plan on this subset of yearlings."

Double T said, "They could name this a reward or honorarium."

I shrugged, "You can call the money whatever you want. For the customer, it represents another competition area and possible income for some less than stellar 2-year-olds."

"So, whoever ends up with a 2-year-old from this stallion competes among other offspring?"

"Yes, my thought pattern goes like this. I estimate how many Border Line foals will make it to the races and figure that forty of them will qualify for racing. Ten of us with Border Lines will get $5,000, bonus, bounty, or honorarium money."

Double T pointed out, "I remember them horse bills. $5,000 ain't gonna go far."

"To people like me, psychologically, that bonus money is a game-changer because, in the horse racing world, a 25 per cent chance translates into a sure thing. My enthusiasm will make me overbid when the Border Line yearlings are in the sales ring since the delusional and illusionary bonus is in the bank."

"And you might be more forgiving of pedigree and conformation flaws to purchase a yearling from this stallion."

"Yes, if my bonus baby wants to be great, fantastic. The important thing to me, what I consider the value, is the fun and enjoyment from being in this small pool of Border Line horses. I can sort of wrap my head around competing with forty horses in the same boat."

"I don't know about this."

Rudely interrupting, I raced home my point, "The top 10 bonus money gets my attention. But, just as crucial to a mind like mine, this concept would make following the races 100 per cent more enjoyable. I would be back in the racing pool with more Kiddy Pools."

Bythemissal roughs it first over, springs 8-1 upset in $350,000 Adios final at The Meadows

by Evan Pattak for the Meadows
Standardbred Owners Association

On paper, North America Cup winner Pebble Beach Glass and Meadowlands Pace champion Beach Glass looked many lengths better than the rest of the field in Saturday's (July 30) $350,000 final of the Delvin Miller Adios Pace for the Orchids at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows. But Bythemissal reminded us forcefully that an elite test for 3-year-old colt and gelding pacers is not contested on paper.

The Downbytheseaside-Dismissal gelding moved powerfully first over to defeat Beach Glass by 1-1/4 lengths and spring the 8-1 upset for Chris Page, trainer Ron Burke and owners Burke Racing Stable, Eric Good, Rich Lombardo Racing and Weaver Brussemi LLC. It was the second straight Adios triumph for Good, who also owned last year's winner, Hellabalou. Bythemissal had lost only once in his six-race career, but it was that 5-3/4-length pasting by Pebble Beach in last week's Adios eliminations that sent bettors looking elsewhere. Page indicated that race served as a sort of an introduction to top-level competition for Bythemissal.

"Last week was the prep race," said Page, in only his second Adios. "I was really confident in how he came out of the race and how he finished. Ronnie said he had a great week this week, so I just needed to make sure I kept him out of trouble. I got him in play a little bit but away from the :53.4 half."

River Ness, the winner's stablemate, was determined to make for a demanding quarter but broke stride before he could fully accomplish his goal. Nevertheless, Beach Glass was forced to a blistering :25.4 panel. Yet his half time of :53.4 was only a tick faster than last week's :54 in the slop, so it would be unfair to suggest that Bythemissal's win was fractions-aided. Rather, Burke said he saw signs of Saturday's outcome in last week's strong finish.

"We wanted to race him a little more aggressively, but it didn't work out," Burke said. "But you don't make the move he made last week to finish second and not be good. You can't be three deep and make up ground against real good horses. Chris had him double wrapped up at the wire. Chris is never confident, and he was supremely confident with this horse."

"At the half today, I thought, if Chris can get wheeled up by the three-quarters, it'll be on. My horse has the will to win. You get him close, he's gonna get ya."

It's the second blanket of orchids for Burke, whose massive stable is based at The Meadows. He also prevailed with Dorsoduro Hanover - still active and a double millionaire. He also was assistant trainer for his father Mickey when the elder Burke won the Adios with May June Character - the final win of that horse's career. Each win, Burke said, has felt differently. "The one with my dad is still special," he said. "That was the one that knocked the door down for us. It's a hard race to win. But in the others, we were favorites. People we're calling this a two-horse race."

Burke said Bythemissal probably would aim for the Carl Milstein at MGM Northfield and likely will be supplemented to the Little Brown Jug.

Jiggy Jog S jolts in Hambletonian elimination, Rebuff relentless in victory

by Ray Cotolo for the Meadowlands

Jiggy Jog S (Dexter Dunn) won the first Hambletonian elimination in 1:52.2.

A pair of fillies dropped into the box of the Hambletonian eliminations to try and become the third to beat the boys in the last five years and the 16th in the history of the event. Focus centered on Marcus Melander pupil Joviality S in the second $100,000 elimination on Saturday (July 30) at The Meadowlands until Jiggy Jog S stole the spotlight in the final yards.

Driver Dexter Dunn hustled Jiggy Jog S towards the lead and yielded for a pocket ride to King Of The North to a :27.4 first quarter. Joviality S, pushing from post 10 as the 4-5 favorite, then swooped to the lead before a :55.2 half. Her stablemate Temporal Hanover took first over to the final turn and pressured the leader to three-quarters in 1:25.2 and appeared as the main threat to Joviality S swinging for home.

Temporal Hanover dug into Joviality S through the lane as the filly held her ground and attempted to counter the challenge. Though suddenly, with second-over Testing Testing faltering, a lane opened for Dunn to fire Jiggy Jog S off the pegs and around the Melander-trained duo to jet home and land a head in front at the end of a 1:52.2 mile. Temporal Hanover took second from Joviality S while King Of The North and Keg Stand completed the top five.

“We did get lucky [to get out],” Dunn said after the race. “She’s such a handy filly. She was great off the gate and sat in a hole beautifully. The pace really was slow coming off the last turn and she was loaded in trot, but we had a lot of horses around us. We got a gap and she really exploded with a fast sprint there to the finish. I knew she’s got speed [but] this definitely was the best she’s felt tonight. There were a ton of really good horses she was [going] past at the end, but she’s a lovely filly.”

Jiggy Jog S recorded her sixth win from 17 starts while pushing her bankroll to $460,556 for owner Jorgen Sparredal Inc. The Ake Svanstedt-trained daughter of Walner secured a protected draw from posts 1 through 5 for the $1 million Hambletonian and will have a chance, along with finalist Joviality S, to join the recent ranks of Atlanta in 2018 and Ramona Hill in 2020 on the plaque of America’s trotting classic.

Off at odds of 6-1, Jiggy Jog S paid $14.80 to win.

Driver Tim Tetrick patiently rolled the Lucas Wallin pupil Rebuff to the front and coasted to a 1:52.2 victory as the decisive favorite to win the first $100,000 Hambletonian elimination.

A four-wide prong pushed first the front into the first turn, with Looks Like Moni landing on top to a :27.4 first quarter before pocket-sitting Fast As The Wind circled to the lead into the backside. Rebuff floated onto the rim and advanced steadily to overtake Fast As The Wind after a :56.2 half.

Periculum, part of the first-turn skirmish, pulled first over heading to the far turn and kept in contact with Rebuff to three-quarters in 1:24.2. But Rebuff stayed on the muscle straightening for home, cruising to a 1-1/4 length win over Fast As The Wind as he gave flattening pursuit from second.

“We raced plenty of times as a 2-year-old and he’s a nice sized horse and good gaited, so we figured he probably didn’t need so many starts to get him in shape,” trainer Lucas Wallin said of Rebuff’s light sophomore schedule. “And so far the plan has been working pretty perfect.”

The remainder of the field finished tightly bunched, with Cool Papa Bell, Periculum and Looks Like Moni securing the remaining five spots, respectively, to advance to the final.

Rebuff, also earning a protected post draw with the win, remains unbeaten from three starts this season while adding a seventh win to his 14-race resume. He has banked $573,670 for owners Kjell Magne Andersen, Lucas Wallin and Pieter Delis, and returned $2.40 to win.

Venerable and Warrawee Xenia win Hambletonian Oaks eliminations

by Frank Coto for The Meadowlands

Favorite Venerable and outsider Warrawee Xenia each won in the $40,000 Hambletonian Oaks eliminations for 3-year-old trotting fillies at The Meadowlands on Saturday night (July 30).

Venerable won with ease as the 4-5 favorite in the first eliminations. The daughter of Walner sprinted off the gate as Bare My Soul took the lead from the outside, but not for long. Driver David Miller guided Venerable around the early leader to click the first quarter in :28. Miller kept Venerable comfortable on top with all foes following to hit the half in :56.2.

From the back, Misswalner Fashion took to the outside but wound up second over when Manon shifted to an overland journey. Venerable meanwhile recorded three-quarters in 1:24.3. Misswalner Fashion broke rounding to the bottom of the turn while Bare My Soul raced revved in a tight pocket to the inside of Selfie Queen and late-charging longshot Yanaba. Yet Venerable was not threatened at the finish, winning by three-quarter lengths in 1:52.4 over Yanaba and Bare My Soul. Also making the final were Selfie Queen and Manon.

Trained by Richard "Nifty" Norman for owners David McDuffee, Melvin Hartman, Paul Bordogna and Steve Arnold, Venerable paid $3.80 to win and hoisted her lifetime earnings to $1,116,548. It was the 12th win of her career.

Trainer "Nifty" Norman said Venerable has been going well through her sophomore season. "Each start since she broke [in the New Jersey Sires Stakes Final] has been a little better and you can see in her form she has been getting stronger all the time, and I think we're in good shape." He did have some concern, he said, "because she seemed a little sleepy there, but I saw her prick her ears about a hundred yards off the wire and I thought that's okay, she knows what she's doing."

In the second Hambletonian Oaks elim, Canadian shipper Warrawee Xenia – with Bob McClure in the bike – stormed furiously from near last to first in the stretch to beat overwhelming favorite Fashion Schooner in 1:52.2.

Mon Cheval was quickest leaving the gate with Baptism and Raised By Lindy the immediate chasers. Just after the :27.1 first quarter, Fashion Schooner took to the outside and brushed to take the lead. Sitting mid-pack at the :56 half, Pink Coco Chanel shifted to the outside and trotted swiftly into a threatening position going after the leader and was hunting him by three-quarters in 1:24.2.

Though the complexion changed as Warrawee Xenia launched a freewheeling charge in the stretch and easily surprised Fashion Schooner at the beam to win her eighth race of the season and record a lifetime best of 1:52.2 by a half-length. Pink Coco Chanel finished third, with Mon Cheval and Baptism completing the finalists.

"This horse, even last year, showed lots of talent," trainer Mark Steacy said. "She just ran into a few problems. Coming back this year, the problems seemed to be gone [and] the speed was there. We raced this horse right -- she started in non-winners of two, she got really confident. She was trotting home in :27 every week up there and doing it with earplugs in all the time.

"That actually wasn't this filly at her best," McClure said after the race. "She struggled a little bit in the turns tonight – she usually does that when she has a little bit of a muscle issue. But Mark's pretty good at fixing her up and usually the next week she's dynamite. So I think you'll see an even better version [of her] next week."

Mark Steacy, David McDonald, Dale Larson and Diane Bertrand own Warrawee Xenia. The Walner sophomore raised her lifetime earnings to $74,515. She paid $16.60 to win.

Tetrick wins four on Harrington Governor's Day card

by Matt Sparacino / Harrington Raceway

Driver Tim Tetrick won four races, including two $100,000 Delaware Standardbred Breeders Fund (DSBF) races Thursday (July 28) at Harrington Raceway on the annual Governor's Day program during the Delaware State Fair.

The rich Governor's Day program is always a focal point for Delaware horsepeople as it brings the highest purses and largest attendance of the season, while also commemorating the memory of many former legislators, dignitaries and racing participants.

Tetrick started the card with a win in the DSBF sophomore filly pacing final aboard Shabby Chic ($12.80) over Gaitway Gal and Smokey's Passion. The Badlands Hanover filly surged from the pocket to score her 10th career win for trainer Mike Hall and owner Let It Ride Stables.

Tetrick completed a sweep of the 3-year-old pacing finals with a win with Kdk Standardbreds' Heinikin Bythebay ($5) who emerged from the pocket with a fierce charge and was a one-length winner over Ds Heartland and Johnny Badlands in the colt and gelding final. The Kevin Switzer-trainee recorded his 12th win in 16 lifetime starts and earned an invite to the $300,000 Carl Millstein Memorial on August 13 at Northfield Park (Ohio).

Pam Wagner's She's All Woman ($2.10, Victor Kirby) won the DSBF sophomore filly trotting final in 1:59.4 over Antares Star and Franky Doyle. Trained by John Wagner, the Anders Bluestone filly has dominated DSBF competition and won 9 of 14 career starts.

Art Stafford Jr. and Wyatt Starkey's Navy Blue ($2.40, Stafford Jr.) didn't disappoint as the heavy favorite in the male trotting final with a 1:58 triumph over Canoe Trip and LG's Reed O Wen. Trained by his co-owner and driver, Navy Blue, a son of Anders Bluestone, has won 7-of-11 career starts.

The $50,000 Governor's Cup featured many of the state's top aged horses with Delaware Governor John Carney on hand to present trophy to the winning connections. This year it was Ed Gannon Jr.'s Sprocket ($2.80, Pat Berry) taking the prize with a 1:51 win by 2 lengths over Never Say Never N and Sun Of A Show. Sprocket was strong on the lead and notched his 20th career win for trainer Traci Berry.

In the $35,000 Charles Murphy Memorial Trot, Nick Callahan, Yorwollahan Racing Team and Greg Godbout's Star Razor ($6.60, Corey Callahan) set a track record for 4-year-old trotting geldings with a 1:54.3 win. The Nick Callahan-trainee notched his 7th win of the year and broke the mark formerly held by Faithfulandtrue (1:54.4).

Other races and winners on the undercard, included George and Tina Dennis' Feeling Sweet ($3.80, Mike Cole) in the $35,000 Legislator's Cup, in 1:53.2 and Major Pocket A ($5.40, Berry) in 1:53.4 in the $25,000 President's Cup.

After the 2nd race, Governor Carney presented George Teague Jr. with a tribute for his recent induction into the harness racing Hall of Fame. Teague, who is stabled in Harrington, has had two national horses of the year in Wiggle It Jiggleit and Rainbow Blue, in addition to many other top divisional horses throughout his career and is the only two-time winner of the William Haughton Memorial Good Guy award.

Live racing on the Delaware circuit will resume on Aug. 15.

SIRES STAKES

REPORT

Tetrick, Miller complete ISS sweep for freshman pacing colts at Harrah's Hoosier Park

by Jacob Rheinheimer / Harrah's Hoosier Park

After sweeping Indiana Sire Stakes action the night before with the freshman pacing fillies, trainer Erv Miller would once again prove unstoppable with the rookie pacing colts. Two $68,000 divisions Indiana Sire Stakes for 2-year-old pacing colts and geldings highlighted the 14-race card on Thursday (July 28) at Harrah's Hoosier Park as the Tetrick-Miller combo completed a clean sweep of the stakes action.

J B Gram kicked things off with an eye-catching performance in the first division in the evening's tenth race. Leaving from the outside post seven, driver Trace Tetrick hustled J B Gram off the wings of the gate, striking the lead through a fast-opening panel of :26.3 outside of Art It Is and Brandon Bates. J B Gram and Tetrick cleared to the front up the backstretch and to the halfway point in 54.3 before reaching three quarters in 1:23.3.

Utilizing a :26.3 final quarter, J B Gram would fend off the two-pronged attack of Art It Is and Buzzsaw Russ and John De Long, crossing the line nearly two lengths in front in 1:50.3. Art It Is finished third and was placed second following a bobble made by Buzzsaw Russ at the line who would be placed third.

It was the second win in as many starts in the young career for J B Gram. The gelded son of Tellitlikeitis out of the Incredible Finale mare, Faith Leigh has now banked $39,000 for owners Jerry, Thomas and J D Graham. Bred by Frontier Farms, the 1:50:1 mark was just one-fifth of a second off the national season's record for 2-year-olds held by Voukefalas.

The second division would prove to be a similar story with Miller and Tetrick teaming up once more, this time with the heavily favored Coach Stefanos who looked to rebound off a miscue in leg one. Starting from the four-hole, Tetrick steered Coach Stefanos to mid pack in fifth as Why Not Now and Peter Wrenn cut out the opening quarter in :28. Tetrick put Coach Stefanos into play up the backstretch, steadily working his way into fourth at the half in :57.4 before taking command at the three-quarter station in 1:27. In the lane, Coach Stefanos fought off his stablemate, Frankie Frankie and Atlee Bender with a :25.3 final fraction to score the victory by a length and a half in 1:52.3. Flirtin JK and Ricky Macomber Jr. rounded out the trifecta.

It was the third win in four career starts for Coach Stefanos who has now earned $49,250 for owners Kenneth Duffy, D & M Trading II LLC., and John Chris Stefanos. A gelded son of Tellitlikeitis out of the Rocknroll Hanover mare, Watch N Be Watched was bred by Indiana's leading breeder, Victory Hill Farms.

Woolco, Kayleigh S tally in NYSS races at Yonkers

by Yonkers Raceway

Woolco won for the first time in her career, while Kayleigh S improved to three-for-three in hers, in a pair of New York Sire Stakes divisions for 2-year-old trotting fillies on Thursday night (July 28) at Yonkers Raceway.

The first group went for a purse of $77,200, and it would be Defiant Lady (Jason Bartlett) who went to the front and carved out fractions of 29.2, 1:00.4, and 1:30.2 with Woolco (Tyler Buter) in the pocket and Gigi Hanover (Ake Svanstedt) sitting third. Svanstedt sent Gigi Hanover on a first-over attack heading to three-quarters, but she was rebuffed by Defiant Lady, who continued to show the way around the final bend and into the stretch.

In the lane Defiant Lady dug in gamely when called on by Bartlett, but Woolco squeezed through a gap on her inside and was able to get by Defiant Lady nearing the wire to tally by a head in 1:59.3. Gigi Hanover wound up third and favored Ruth Honig (Brian Sears) finished fourth.

A daughter of Chapter Seven—Upside Hanover, Woolco is a homebred for trainer Bob Krivelin and his Hero Stables. Woolco, who was third in the sire stakes leg at Batavia Downs last time out, pushed her earnings to $42,824, and she paid $26.80 to win as a 12-1 offering. The exacta kicked back $158.50 and the trifecta returned $398.

Kayleigh S is a full sister to MGM Yonkers Trot champion Joviality S, and just like her elder sibling did in winning the first leg of the Trotting Triple Crown, Kayleigh S overcame an outside draw to take her $78,700 sire stakes test in 2:01.1.

Driver Brian Sears sent Kayleigh S out from post eight, and after early leader Mari (George Brennan) miscued on the first turn, that left Kayleigh S in command. She would back down the tempo, clicking off panels of 31, 1:02, and 1:32, but couldn't shake pocket-sitter All The Rage (Svanstedt), who angled out late on the final bend.

All The Rage loomed boldly at Kayleigh S, who was under urging, in the lane, but she raced greenly and drifted out while trying to rally, and that allowed Kayleigh S to hold sway by half a length. Midwind Success (Jordan Stratton) was up for third.

Marcus Melander trains Kayleigh S, who is out of the Muscle Hill mare Pasithea Face S, for owner Courant Inc. The AM Bloodstock-bred Kayleigh S has put away $95,600 to go with her unblemished record so far. She returned 4.90 to win as the 7-5 second choice and was atop a $23.20 exacta and a $177 trifecta.

Rookie trotting fillies also competed in three $15,000 splits of the New York Excelsior "A" Series on the program, with victories going to:

- Usosweet Blue Chip (by Devious Man and bred by Blue Chip Bloodstock) in 2:00.3 for driver Marcus Miller, co-owner/trainer Erv Miller, and co-owner Bowie Racing LLC;
- Jigger Of Gin (by Conway Hall and bred by owner Michael Woodward) in 2:04 for trainer-driver Phil Fluet;
- Rhea Titan (by E L Titan and bred by Michael Polansky) in 2:01.2 for driver Jeff Gregory, owner/trainer Margaret Spagnola, and co-owner Our Blue Streaks Stable.

Additionally, one $6,400 New York Excelsior "B" Series dash for 2-year-old trotting fillies went behind the gate as a non-wagering race, and it was won by Eee Z Wow (by Crazy Wow and bred by Robert Key) in 2:04.1 for driver Tyler Buter, trainer Rob Harmon, and owners Harmon Racing Stable LLC., Lightning 5 Racing Stable, and B Kleinberg Racing LLC.

Stakes action returns to Yonkers on Tuesday, Aug. 2 with a pair of $75,900 New York Sire Stakes clashes for 2-year-old filly pacers. Yonkers is currently racing on a Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday live racing schedule with post time at 6:55 p.m.

First-time victors score in Ohio Sires Stakes at Scioto

by Frank Fraas / OHHA

Three freshman trotting colts scored their first career wins in the second leg of the Ohio Sire Stakes on Friday (July 29) at Eldorado Scioto Downs.

In the first of the three $40,000 divisions, Kurt Sugg raced Jet Hill off the gate, grabbing the lead and never looking back. Jet Hill, the second choice at 2-1, set the pace with fractions of :28.2, :58.2, and 1:27.4 before opening up in the final turn to pull away and win by two-lengths in 1:56.3.

The win was the first of the year for the What The Hill gelding. Edward Miller trains Jet Hill for the Serenity Racing Stables.

John Dutton, the 1-2 favorite, finished second with Asian Zing third.

In the second division, The Buckeye Hill won for the first time this year. Ronnie Wrenn Jr. took the pocket trip with the son of What The Hill sitting behind the favorite No More Sweets. As the field turned for home The Buckeye Hill shot down the passing lane hitting the wire first in 1:59.4.

The Buckeye Hill is trained by Chris Beaver and is owned by Beaver, Leo Fleming, Tim Homan, and Moger-Delia Racing.

Rose Run Yowza was second with Remi's Rolls Royce finishing third.

In the final division, Black Magic, the even money favorite who was looking to stay perfect on the year, raced to the lead covering the half mile in :59.4. Just past the half mile pole A Real Legend and Don Irvine Jr. kicked it in gear and took aim at the leader.

A Real Legend reeled in Black Magic halfway up the backstretch. The two went stride-for-stride into the final turn before A Real Legend pulled into the lead and held on to win by a length in 1:57.2.

Rosie Weaver trains and co-owns the Uncle Peter gelding with Heartland Acres.

Black Magic finished second with Sunrise Hill third.

Haughton, Doherty finals set at The Meadowlands

A single $20,000 elimination was necessary for both the Peter Haughton Memorial for 2-year-old trotting colts and geldings and the Jim Doherty Memorial for freshman trotting fillies at The Meadowlands on Friday night (July 29), with one result predictable and the other not so much.

Both stakes events will have $400,000 (est.) finals that will be contested as part of the huge Hambletonian Day card at The Big M on Saturday, Aug. 6.

The popular finish came in the Haughton, as the Marcus Melander-trained, Brian Sears-driven Kilmister stayed perfect in three betting starts. After taking New York Sire Stakes events at Saratoga (a half-mile track) and Vernon Downs (a seven-eighths), the son of Chapter Seven—Treviso swerved out of the three-hole at three-quarters and rallied well, going on to an easy 2½-length score in a lifetime-best 1:54.1, his third straight win racing over a different-sized track.

The conditions of the Haughton called for the top nine in the official order of finish moving on to the final. Finishing second through ninth, respectively, were Upstaged, Herodotus, Carter Michael Deo, Wallandar, Paramount Legend N, Dahlquist Hanover, Celebrity Bambino and Raisealittlehill. Oh Well, the top money-earner of those who entered, earned a bye into the final but will be subject to the open draw after Kilmister draws from posts one through six as the elimination winner.

Kilmister paid $5.60 as the 9-5 favorite.

The Doherty provided a 15-1 surprise as Una Madonna stormed up the inside in deep stretch to score by a half-length in a lifetime-best-equaling 1:55.1 for driver Joe Bongiorno and trainer Tony Alagna.

The daughter of Tactical Landing—Unica Donna It was sitting gapped in the three-hole as they turned for home, but the field came back to Una Madonna, who won for third time in four lifetime outings after rallying well along the pylons.

She paid $32.00 to win.

Like the Haughton, the top nine will advance to the final. Finishing second through ninth, respectively, were Royal Filly, Secret Volo, My Anna's Dream, Graceful Patty, Instagram Model, Brunella, In Italian and Gotta Get Crackin.

Una Madonna will draw for posts one through six as the winner, with the balance of the field going into an open draw, including Mambacita, whose connections opted to take the bye to guarantee a spot behind the gate in the final.

A LITTLE MORE: The Alagna barn was on fire, winning four times on the card, while Ron Burke trainees made three trips to the winner's circle... Yannick Gingras padded his lead atop the driver standings by guiding four to victory lane. For the year, the recent Hall of Fame inductee upped his dash-win total to 101. His closest pursuer, Dexter Dunn, has 71... There were no winning tickets sold in the 20-cent Pick-6, creating a carryover of $7,106.77, which will be offered on the second Pick-6 on the Saturday card. It will span races nine through 14... All-source handle totaled $2,403,929.

Austral Hanover, whose connections feared that he would never make it as a racehorse, took another step forward in his development Friday (July 29) when he captured a division of a $40,000 Arden Downs Grand Circuit stake at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows. Open Bar took the other split in the event, known as the Robert J. Key, for 2-year-old colt and gelding trotters.

Austral Hanover is campaigned by one of the fractional ownership groups of Anthony MacDonald, who also pilots the International Moni-Aspidistra Hanover gelding. MacDonald minces no words in his review of the horse's training performance.

"Our expectations when we got this guy to race were very, very low," MacDonald said. "It seemed like he couldn't do anything right. It was the weirdest thing; when he got behind the gate for the first time, he looked like a racehorse. From that very moment he first saw the starting gate, he just decided he would do a good job. He's the epitome of a hard worker."

In the Robert J. Key, Austral Hanover zipped to the lead from post 6, scoring in 1:57.2 to match his career best for trainer Tim Twaddle. Big Baller Beane was second, 3/4 lengths back, with Southwind Distilld third.

In his four career starts, Open Bar has sampled a variety of race types — a PA Fairs stake, a PA Sire Stake, A PA Stallion Series event and now a Grand Circuit stake. Where does winning driver Brady Brown think he'll eventually land.

"He's a little green still, but he's learning," Brown said. "But I think he's a sires stakes colt. When he puts 2 and 2 together, he'll be a nice horse."

Brown found the pocket with the Bar Hopping-Lady Sierra Gold gelding, then blew by the leader, Spitfire Oversees, to down him by 1-1/2 lengths in 1:57.4 for his maiden-breaking score. Tailgate Buzz completed the ticket.

Steve Schoeffel trains the winner for Virginia Schoeffel, Kathy Schoeffel, Marian Schilling and Dan Goehle. The late Robert J. Key, for home the stake is named, bred Open Bar.

Uno Mas Blue Chip and Sweet On Her took the divisions of the Arden Downs Stake for 2-year-old trotting fillies known as the Edward M. Ryan, the co-feature on Adios Eve.

A three-race maiden entering the stake, Uno Mas Blue Chip was confident and professional when Mike Wilder sent her first up from fourth.

"The trainer told me to be careful from the gate, get her out of there on the right foot, and she'll do the rest," Wilder said. "I thought that if she stayed on her feet at the three-quarters, she wouldn't lose. She just felt that good."

The daughter of International Moni—Make It Blue Chip cruised past the leader, Go For Broke, and defeated Fortune Forecast by 2-1/2 lengths in 1:57.3 for her maiden-breaking voyage. Go For Broke saved show. Clifton Green trains the winner for Ashley Burslem and Steven Mullen.

Sweet On Her had a pair of seconds on her card but no victories. She took care of that when she moved second over for trainer/driver Wilbur Yoder and drew off to prevail by 4 lengths in 1:58.1. I'm Amused and Cando Volo finished second and third, respectively.

"All winter long I thought she was one of my better ones, then she had growing pains," Yoder said. "Now she's putting it all together. Hopefully we have her on the right track."

Bob Troyer owns Sweet On Her.

Dave Palone collected five wins on the 12-race card.

Maine stakes purses to increase 66 per cent

At Friday's (July 29) meeting of the Maine Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association (MSBOA) and members of the Maine State Harness Racing Commission, it was decided that a 66 per cent raise in stakes purses would be implemented immediately.

"We are pleased to announce that the stakeholders within Maine harness racing have agreed to increase the Maine Breeders Stakes base purse from $10,250 to $17,000," said Scott Pooler, president of the MSBOA.

In addition, the board of the MSBOA is considering several potential benefits to owning, breeding and racing Standardbred harness horses in the Pine Tree State:

1. MSBOA to purchase a mare for an individual or group willing to breed in the state of Maine. The MSBOA may also pay for stallion service fee.

2. MSBOA is looking into ways to introduce a breeder's incentive program where the breeder would receive a percentage of the earnings the Maine-bred horse earns, over a specific period of time.

3. The MSBOA is considering their ability to, and/or methods of, assisting Maine-based breeding farms.

4. The MSBOA is also looking into a possible "rent a mare" program.

5. The MSBOA will be paying the stud fees for five (5) new mares to be bred to Maine stallions, up to $2,500 each."

Pooler added, "To be clear, these ideas are on the table for discussion and have not been implemented."

Interested parties are encouraged to send constructive thoughts or ideas to the MSBOA Facebook page via messenger.

Responding to Jeff Gural's recent letter

I am responding to (Jeff Gural's) HRU message because I believe I am one of the owners harness racing needs to attract to continue in business. I have been a New Jersey licensed farm owner, thoroughbred owner/trainer for 40 years, and more recently a harness owner and breeder. Although I do not consider myself wealthy, I can certainly afford a number of broodmares, babies, and racing age harness horses at my farm in Millstone Township, NJ.

But I won't invest anything further beyond the single harness broodmare and her four-month-old filly who make this farm their home. I have lots of empty paddocks, complete with run in sheds, fresh water, and pastures, and a large barn. But until I see some evidence that the sport is attempting to bring to task the outrageous behavior of the harness drivers who think the sport revolves solely around them, and consistently display "driver intentions" that demonstrate they are in control of the races and that the owners (certainly the owners of smaller stables) count for nothing, I am out. I have brought this to the attention of the judges, New Jersey Commission, and racing office management on more than one occasion. Everyone involved, except for the Gural team at the Meadowlands, stick their heads in the sand and hope that somehow the dishonesty goes away on its own. New Flash: It won't and the sport is doomed over the long term.

PS: My foal is by American History out of my good mare, Persuasive Hanover ($283,000.00 earnings, by Cam's Card Shark). When the time comes, I hope to be able to match her against anything out there. I don't believe a couple of consolation races for mares bred to cheap stallions will impress me or any other honest owner to participate in harness racing.

Gary A. Kay / Clarksburg, NJ
