Why Greenshoe lost the Hambletonian and other answers to your biggest questions

Also, how fast would Lather Up have gone if he had raced a mile, can a small owner win the Holy Grail and how do we stop beards? The Guru knows.

Tidbits: My sincere apologies to Marc Guilfoil and the entire Kentucky Racing Commission for my lack of properly investigating a statement made by George Segal involving the methods in place for insuring the integrity of racing at the Red Mile.

One of the interviews that I conducted at the Hambletonian on Saturday was with George Segal famed owner, breeder of Brittany Farms. Unfortunately due to time constraints it never made the paper. However I did use a quote of his in an anonymous way. He basically said that the reason he wasn't sure if there would be out of competition testing was that it hadn't been approved by the commission. I have since been put on notice by Marc Guilfoil that the commission always conducts out of competition testing and has been doing so for the past 10 years. Mr. Guilfoil said, "The KHRC has an out of competition testing regulation in effect for all breeds since 2010. The KHRC routinely performs sampling for other racing commissions when Kentucky-based horses are entered in stakes elsewhere."

I would like to see harmony between the track and the commission in this highly important area. I personally had a run in with the Kentucky commission and found them to be tough but fair in the long run.

All factors involving drugs or other forms of cheating and all the parameters should be exactly the same from state jurisdiction to state jurisdiction. Until this happens there will constantly be new problems to deal with.

I would also like to apologize to all the people I interviewed that missed the column on Sunday. The races ran so late and I had an 8 pm deadline and to top it all off I can't type. Therefore trying to keep up with my voice recordings was a serious problem. I promise this will never happen again as I will not ever attempt it. Thank you all for your comments and stories, I wish less had ended up on the cutting room floor.

All of us have pet peeves. Ten years ago if I was sitting at a bar and the guy next to me would order a drink, he would say I would like a scotch and soda. Now they say I think I will do (pause) a scotch and soda. Would someone out there in Guru Land explain to me how on earth do you DO a scotch and soda?

Harley Kennedy asks: I am sure there are many reasons, but what is your theory as to why Greenshoe lost the Hambletonian? Going in I thought it was an impossibility for him to lose.

That's why they call it horse racing. I agree with you 100 per cent. I could not fathom the possibility of him losing, myself. However in my pre-Hambletonian column I did point out that I was afraid that the three week layoff that Melander gave him may have been too much time causing him to be a little too fresh going to post. Another thing that hurt him was the detention barn. Colts that high strung don't need new surroundings for any period of time and the lack of a paddock for all that time can be game changing.

Dave Landry

What almost was... Greenshoe and Brian Sears (above) nearly won the Hambletonian, only to lose by a neck to Forbidden Trade. Ron Gurfein opines as to why Greenshoe lost.

Being too sharp was not the entire problem, $1 million and being too sharp was. Going for that kind of money there are no holes, no kindness whatsoever. The fact that the colt is basically a handful the first quarter and no one was giving him a break Brian Sears found himself in an untenable position throughout the first turn.

The colt was fractious in the first heat, but there was little action in the first turn and although Brian almost lost him twice he had room to maneuver and overcame the troubled start.

In the final, there was too much going on which compromised his position going to the half and eventually cost him the victory. Sears almost lost him a few times before the half and going for all that money I am sure he was happy to put the almost $250,000 in the bank instead of risking a mistake and forfeiting the rewards.

Brian did a miraculous job in both heats. The colt, in this writer's opinion, is still the fastest trotter I have ever seen and Marcus Melander did a fabulous job bring him back this year after his problematic 2-year-old season.

To all you young trainers out there, there are lessons to be learned from the outcome of this year's Hambletonian. The only colt in the final with more than a two-week layoff going in was Greenshoe. Also, there is a great piece of equipment called a Norwegian tie down. It pulls a colt's head down from the top of his head instead of the normal under the chin type. When faced with a horse that throws his head (i.e.: Greenshoe), it is the perfect solution.

Peter McCarthy asks: I was fortunate to attend this year's Hambletonian and found it exhilarating. I have dabbled in ownership at a much lower level. Is it possible for a small investor to find the holy grail?

I think anything is possible, however this journey seems to become more expensive every year. I certainly do not want to dismay any buyer no matter what the amount of investment is because let's say you buy a colt for $30,000 and he isn't capable of winning the Hambletonian, there is a ton of money out there in other venues to recoup your investment and even make a profit.

As for the big dance itself, I will enlighten you with this year's figures. The big favorite, Greenshoe, was a $330,000 yearling purchase and as of this morning in this writer's opinion he is worth more than 20 times that amount even in defeat. If he had won I would say most likely 30 times his purchase price or at least $10 million.

The least expensive finalist was Soul Strong at $27,000 and although his performance was exceptional his value is severely modified as he has been gelded.

The average price of a finalist in 2019 was $159,000. Not a number for the meager at heart.

Roger Weatherby asks: What is your opinion of races like the Sam McKee Memorial at a distance of 1 1/8 miles instead of the normal one mile events?

It is my understanding that the added distance increases the wagering handle to a large degree. I assume this is true. To me as a fan I think on many occasions it deprives the sport of records that would have otherwise been exciting. The performance of Lather Up was unreal on Saturday. It may have, arguably, been the premier performance of the day in the opinion of many of the onlookers.

It certainly was of the 1:45.4 type, previously unheard of.

All of us that were privileged to witness this great race will never know what could have been at the mile distance, and our estimates will not be printed in any record book.

To the parties that make these type decisions if you want to increase the handle by using longer distance races to mix it up, try and use less important races to raise the financial gain and have the great ones race at the standard mile.

Ann Churchill asks: After your joking reference to the great rise of Gareth Dowse and the precipitated rage of Josh Marks accusing Ray Schnittker of telling you the story, thus ending the beard relationship, what next?

Unfortunately the series of events were "the perfect storm." Everything fell in place rather easily. The good news is the criminal activity is suspended. The bad news is as of this writing there have been no arrests, no commission punishments, not even a slap on the hand. Subsequently, I expect a new beard to be in place shortly.

This should not and cannot be permitted to happen.

Starting in 2020, any owner found writing checks to a trainer not listed on the program should be suspended. Any trainer that is observed treating a horse in an illegal manner should be exposed. You are not a rat for cleaning up the sport you are a rat for letting this treacherous activity to continue.

We shouldn't need a lucky set of circumstances or a tough guy like Ray Schnittker to solve this problem. If you see something say something.

There are still a bunch of trainers batting too high in my estimation. I am not saying they are all guilty, but I have seen some ridiculous results. When track management and or the commissions see this go on there should be 24 hour surveillance, and then maybe we will be headed in the right direction.

Thanks again to all of you for your kind words. You all were all overwhelming at the Hambletonian last Saturday. I appreciate it very much. Please keep your questions coming in. The Dan Patch at Hoosier (with Lather Up) and the Carl Millstein at Northfield (with Bettors Wish) are coming up this weekend as well as the continuing events in the Sires Stakes eliminations at the Red Mile. Have a wonderful week.

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

A pacing rarity, Shartin will set sights on the boys

by Brett Sturman

Since her arrival to the Northern hemisphere last year, New Zealand-bred mare Shartin N has reigned supreme in the older pacing mare ranks. That dominance earned her last year's Dan Patch award for older pacing mares while finishing runner-up to McWicked for overall Horse of the Year.

This year, the 6-year-old Shartin (Tintin In America–Bagdarin) has been even better. She was 11 for 12 on the year heading into last week's Lady Liberty, she had been routinely pacing in 1:49 this season as if it were nothing, while only winning by as much as regular driver Tim Tetrick would let her. In the Lady Liberty, under favorable race conditions on Hambletonian Day at the Meadowlands, she paced to a 1:46.4 mile, the fastest ever by a female in the history of harness racing.

Joann Looney-King co-owns Shartin and also trains alongside husband Jim King Jr., and she notes some key differences between their star mare between this year and last.

"She's just an average, good-looking sized mare, but she's stronger now," she said. "She's stronger, bounces back faster, and she's much smarter.

"She's handy now and this time last year she wasn't. When I look at her and Tim (Tetrick), they really have a good partnership. She's handier now, he can pull her out of holes, and he can do a lot more with her. It's a combination of all those things."

Dave Landry

Shartin N (Tim Tetrick) winning the Lady Liberty in 1:46.4, the fastest mile by a female standardbred in history.

Shartin repeated from last year in winning the Lady Liberty, and for King this year's win was especially sweet. "Last year for the Lady Liberty, she also had the 1-hole but there was a trailer and I was worried about it because she still wasn't that handy. She ended up racing okay and got the win, but this year she's just a different horse. And we've been wanting for her to set some kind of record because Tim just let's her win by whatever it takes. Why push and make it hard for her and make her go any faster than she needs to. But I was just really thrilled the other day. Hambletonian Day was the perfect showcase and it couldn't have gone any better."

With overmatched rivals and an all-time record behind her, what should be next for Shartin? Heading into the unofficial second half of the season, Shartin sits atop the Hambletonian/Breeders Crown top ten poll. With 32 out of 35 first-place votes (Lather Up has 3), she has a major edge at the moment for Horse of Year honors. According to King, Shartin's next race is scheduled to be the Allerge at Tioga. She could probably go on for the rest of the year beating the same group of mares en route to claiming year-end honors and it wouldn't diminish her in the slightest. But Shartin has an opportunity to do something even more special.

An older pacing mare taking on male counterparts is nearly unheard of today. While it's commonplace on the trotting side for females to take on and beat males at the highest of levels, it's rarely attempted on the pacing side. Off-hand the only recent instance that comes to mind is Drop The Ball unsuccessfully taking on colts in the 2011 Meadowlands Pace. There have been pacing female successes such as Fan Hanover in the Jug or Handle With Care or Countess Adios, but by that point we're going back 60 years.

Shartin has proven that she's good enough to take on the best male pacing horses around, and from the sound of it she's going to get that opportunity.

Asked if any thought's been given to Shartin taking on the boys, King said, "Oh, it's going to happen. We were invited to the Dan Patch this week. But she's raced two weeks straight in a row and six days apart, and coming off a long trip on the heat, it wasn't attractive to me right from the start just because of that. Would I love to go out there and do that with her? You bet I would."

"But yes, it's coming and we're going to end up racing with the boys for sure one of these days. We've been invited to a few of the male races and I'm pretty sure we can go in any of them that we want to. We're going to give them boys a go one of these times."

If Shartin does come together in a race with Lather Up or McWicked or any other top colts and geldings it would be a win-win situation for her. A win would be historical, and even a loss wouldn't be pinned against her in the eyes of voters for Horse of the Year. If anything, she should earn points regardless for willing to take such a rare shot.

In addition to driving Shartin, Tetrack also co-owns her and King gave the indication that he's all-in for taking on all comers. King speaks glowingly of Tetrack and credit's him as a huge part of Shartin's success. "He has been so good with her and he's a master," said King of Tetrack. "What he has, they just don't make anymore. I'm always very confident when he and her go out there. He's just amazing and she's amazing and I don't know how it can get any better."

Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame

The Moment of Enshrinement

What did the standardbred inductees to the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame say during their official induction ceremony Wednesday in Ontario? HRU was there to record and transcribe their speeches.

The class of 2019 was officially inducted Wednesday into the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame at a gala at the Mississauga Convention Centre in Ontario. Representing standardbreds in the dual-breed Hall was: builder Ian Fleming, trainer Jimmy Takter, driver Trevor Ritchie, male horse Angus Hall and female horse Tricky Tooshie.

Here is the speeches made by the standardbred inductees:

Trevor Ritchie (who spoke last after enduring an evening full of good-natured ribbing about his alleged frugality):

I'm not really happy with Linda (Rainey, the managing director of the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame). I didn't get the memo that this was a roast.

All kidding aside, this has been a fabulous evening. Linda,

I'm sure, worked her butt off and we should give her a huge round of applause.

Earlier in the evening, (MC) Jim (Bannon) mentioned something about me and Ian Fleming being honorees and both wanting to be the first up here. Obviously, Ian is much better on his knees than I am.

I'd also want to congratulate all of tonight's inductees and special congratulations to Angus Hall. I got to drive two of the greatest sons and daughters, the Dave Tingley-trained Peaceful Way and the Mark Steacy-trained Majestic Son. They both played a big role in me being here tonight, so way to go, Angus.

I'm very proud and very humbled at being inducted tonight. It's really surreal knowing that my name will be joining all the other greats. It's an exclusive club and it's just sheer luck that I'm even in the business.

I lived right beside the Western Fair Raceway property and when I was nine or 10 years old I got hanging around in the barn, cleaning harness and joggers to make a little money. I have no idea why I needed any money, by the sounds of it.

Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame

After enduring endless ribbing during the evening about his alleged frugality, driver Trevor Ritchie ended the ceremony with one of the best speeches of the night.

So by the time I'm 15, I'm spending a lot of time in the pool hall and skipping a lot of school. Apparently, I skipped a little too many school days because one day the principal let me know that I was no longer invited back to his school, so that was really music to my ears.

I went right to the track and I think I got a job that very day and, shortly after that, I packed up my belongings and moved into the tack room. Now, here I am, standing here being inducted.

It's been a hell of a ride. The chance to race all over North America. I've raced and represented Canada in races in Sweden, Denmark and Norway. I've had a chance to hold the trophies to some of the most coveted races in our sport.

First, I wanted to thank all of the hardworking and dedicated trainers and the owners that trusted me to drive their horses. I do need to mention a few special people, some that are here tonight and a few that aren't.

The first, at the very top of my list, is a gentleman named Bill Herbert. He was inducted into this Hall of Fame back in 1977, I believe. To this day, Bill Herbert is the greatest horseman that I have ever met. I consider Bill to be like my second father and I'm pretty sure Bill considered me to be like his second son. Bill taught me how to be a horseman and he taught me how to be a better person and I'm sure I would not be here tonight if Bill was not part of my life.

Harold Lunde, a dear friend of mine, passed this spring. Harold put me on many winners, including Banker Hall, and the Breeders Crown. Rotation won the Maple Leaf Trot and so many more. Rest in peace, Harold.

Blair Burgess, one of my roosteers and a fellow Hall of Fame member. I've been waiting all night to say that one. Blair Burgess put me on a long list of winners including Frugal Gourmet, as they mentioned before he won the Meadowlands Pace. Road Machine won the Metro, Blue Porsche won the Valley Victory. So, Blair, thank you very much for your support.

Doug McIntosh called me one day in the fall of 1999 and asked me to drive a 2-year-old trotting colt at Mohawk, I believe it was in a sire stake race. The next summer, that colt, named Yankee Paco, got us into the winner's circle to – in my opinion – the Holy Grail of harness racing, the Hambletonian. It's a day I will never forget and a dream come true. Until today, the proudest moment I've had in my professional career.

I just want to thank him for giving me the opportunity to drive such a wonderful animal.

To Cal Campbell, also here tonight, I'm glad he didn't get a chance to roast me. Cal and me had a hell of a run. Cal put me on, I think, more winners than any other trainer. We had a lot of laughs and a lot of fun. I'm proud to call Cal Campbell my friend.

Of course, my wife Gemma. She loves horses as I do and Gemma has been my biggest fan forever. There was no better feeling that when Gemma would arrive to the winner's circle with that great smile.

Gemma was also my nurse on more occasions than I'd like to remember, when I was busted up from a racing accident. Gemma would nurse me back to health and, believe me, I was no party as a patient. Thank you, Gemma, for putting up with me and Gemma is a big part of why I'm up here tonight. Love you, Gemma.

Thank you to both Gemma and my family for being here tonight and sharing this special night with me. Also, I'd like to thank Stephanie and Myron Bell over there. Murray Brown and Debbie and Donnie Hall. They all travelled a long way to share this special night with me and I really do appreciate it.

Thank everyone for their time tonight and thank you harness racing.

Linda Bedard (former caretaker for and then trainer of Tricky Tooshie):

I'm honored to be here tonight to accept on behalf of Tooshie and Hanover Shoe Farms and the owners. It was an honor to be part of her racing career.

Tooshie and I had a connection. She was my girl and I was hers. We both moved to Ontario from Quebec at the same time to face tough competition. We also retired from racing at the same time to go onto our second careers – her as a broodmare and me in the registration department at Standardbred Canada. So we both kind of went into the breeding business.

She went on to be a great broodmare, passing on determination to her offspring at Hanover Shoe Farms, where she still lives today at 29 years old in a field with retired mares

Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame

Owner John Fielding (left) hugs trainer Jimmy Takter after the former officially inducted the latter into the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame.

I went to visit Tooshie last month and I hadn't seen her in 20 years. When I got there, the gentleman that looks after the retired mares opened the paddock gate for me. When I saw her, I was about 30 feet away from her and I said, 'Hello, Mommy,' which is what I used to say to her every morning for five years. She turned her head towards me and walked up to me. I opened my arms and she put her head between them. I did not expect her to remember me, but she did. She was, and still is, a very smart mare. I spent some time with her, caressing her and feeding her carrots. I told her that she was getting into the Hall this year, in a place where she sure belongs.

Thank you.

Trainer Jimmy Takter:

First, I wanted to thank all the support we've had over the years. Thirty-seven years ago, my wife and me decided to cross the ocean over to the United States and we had our daughter (Nancy), who was a little baby.

People that know me, I've been extremely fortunate to have a great support from owners in the sport. John (Fielding) being my partner for many, many years. And it's not just partners, but a great, great friendship that we have over the years. I can name all these people that are here this evening... it means so much for us. Frank Antonacci, the owner of Moni Maker and I'm very happy that Frank could meet up with us here.

Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame

We have Marvin (Katz) and Al Libfeld and David Anderson. David, I want to thank you for putting my name into this basket. I'm extremely proud. Believe it or not, I'm the first non-born Canadian to come into the Hall of Fame in harness racing.

Dave Anderson, thank you for the nice push for me coming in here. Canada has been a part of my life. I've been racing up here, basically since I started training my own stable. I always feel very welcome to race here. I've always, from Sweden versus United States, Canada is a little bit in between. I love the passion they have over here for horses in Canada, maybe a little stronger than in the U.S., it's not just about racing for money, it's for the love of the horses.

When I came over here 37 years ago, my father said one thing 'Don't forget the love for the horse.' I believe that you're not going to be great in any kind of horse racing, if you don't have passion and love for the animal. If you don't, you should not be in this.

I am so honored to come here into the Canadian Hall of Fame. It means a lot for me. I came into Sweden Hall a month ago and I'm in the United States Hall of Fame, too, so I've covered all the bases.

I'm proud of all the success my wife and I accomplished over 37 years. I could not do it without you guys. Unfortunately, Glen Brown is not here tonight. I invited him, but everybody knows Glen and he's a big factor for me in this sport. He got me John Fielding. He got me the Andersons and he did a lot of good work for me and hopefully Glen is watching this... I love you, kid.

There are some American owners here and I could not have done it without them... Brittany Farm is a big factor for over 30 years. Fantastic people to train for. I'm just a lucky guy and I want to thank Perry Soderberg, who worked for me for many years. Conny Svensson, my blacksmith – two important people in my life.

Thank you for my family and everyone. Thank you.

Ian Fleming:

Ladies and gentlemen, fellow inductees, thanks for coming out this evening. I was talking to Trevor Ritchie in May when they announced we were inducted and we both agreed we'd be a little nervous about this speech.

No one should take the quality of this speech as an indication for how I feel about the award I'm getting tonight. I'm quite proud of the good things I've been able to accomplish in this business with all the help I've got from everyone in this room and this industry.

I don't crave recognition, but this is the ultimate thank you. A special thanks to the nominating and voting committee that helped make this happen.

I got my start in racing 50 years ago at Clinton. The Kinsmen met over at Clinton Raceway. My dad was a Kinsmen, my mother was a Kinette, so I was at races every Sunday. Over the last 50 years, I've missed a handful of races there, which is a combination of dedication and stupidity, but I'm very proud of these efforts.

Of the thousands of people I'd like to thank, they can all be put into three groups – to shorten this up a little bit. The first group is my family, obviously. My mom and dad. My wife Jenn, we've been married 30 years next month. She has a great love of the horse and if you're going to work in the horse business, you better love the horses or it's going to be a long night. My kids, son Will, daughter Claire, they both were around the animals from the time they were old enough to walk. Through a very strong 4-H program in Huron County, we had every kind of animal there was as pets on our farm.

The mainstay was standardbred horses and Jenn was able to raise a lot of homebreds in the last 20 years that we own in partnership with Gregg McNair. We had great success racing these horses and experienced the great highs and the can't-get-any-lower lows, as every horse owner knows. That's group #1.

Group two is all the people who worked for me or with me over the years. I have employees that have worked over 30 years with me. I've had some that have lasted three hours. They all brought something to the table, so I'm quite thankful for that. And the horsepeople I've worked with are second to none. They are always there to fill races. They fight like hell when they are racing, but when we need something for the industry they all can't chip in fast enough, so they are a special group of people.

And the third group, and certainly not the last group, are the people that worked against me over the years on several occasions. They don't realize how much they are helping me... no one likes someone in their face spitting at them, but there's two things to remember about that. First of all, they are usually right and, the second thing is, in that spit there are some good ideas that I've been able to use, so I'm very appreciative of that as well.

I'd also like to thank Linda Rainey for all the work she does for the Hall. She brings passion for the horse and it sure shows. The work she does with the Hall of Fame is noticed by me and many others, so I appreciate Linda's help on that.

The best part of my speech is closing, which is a very sincere thank you. Thanks.

Pat Woods (farm manager of Winbak Canada where Angus Hall stands stud):

It's my privilege to be here tonight to accept this award for Angus Hall. Although I am the one up here speaking tonight, I represent the many that Angus Hall has graced with his accomplishments.

If Angus was here tonight, he'd be the first one to thank the selection committee for this award and congratulate his fellow inductees. What a truly amazing honor and you should be very proud of yourselves. Congratulations to all.

Angus would secondly like to know if you are serving carrots with dinner and if there is any way he could get some extra?

Angus is a wonderful horse to have at Winbak Farm. He's a distinguished old gentleman now and has always been a pleasure to work around. He loves interaction with people and he definitely gets spoiled.

He has done everything he's ever been asked to do. He raced in the top of the game, broke records, sired champions and he will leave a legacy in our industry.

Although I've only had the pleasure of working with him for the last two years, I have had so many respected people in our industry tell me great Angus Hall stories.

Linda and Bob Stewart unfortunately couldn't be here tonight due to a family commitment, but they asked me to convey how proud they are of Angus Hall. They also wanted to express how appreciative they are of everyone that has cared for him and supported Angus for the past 20-plus years.

Angus Hall will now enter the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame to be enshrined with his offspring, Peaceful Way and Majestic Son. Thank you very much for this honor. We are truly humbled and very appreciative of this award.

Breaking his Mohawk driving maiden at age 53

After more than two decades breaking and training young horses, horseman Robbie Robinson drove his first couple of winners at Woodbine Mohawk Park at age 53, including his former charge Warrawee Vicky, an Ontario Sires Stakes Gold winner.

by Sandra Snyder | Sponsored by Ontario Racing

This spring, at the age of 53, Robbie Robinson logged his first win as a driver on the Woodbine Entertainment Group circuit. The Metcalfe, ON resident piloted 3-year-old trotting gelding The Magic Of Life (Royalty For Life–Magic Factory) to a maiden-breaking 1:57.4 score at Woodbine Mohawk Park on May 23.

“With the trotters, I kind of like to drive them myself for a little bit. After a while I turn the lines over to somebody else,” said Robinson. “I got my first two WEG wins this year driving, that’s been my last two WEG drives, The Magic Of Life won there and then Warrawee Vicky won there, so that was pretty good for me.”

Robinson piloted Warrawee Vicky (Royalty For Life–The Tall Poppy) to a 1:59.3 win in her first lifetime start on June 25, a trip that would prove to be his last behind the 2-year-old trotting filly. Trainer Scott McEneny watched Warrawee Vicky’s impressive three-length victory from his Puslinch, ON home and within hours had made an offer to purchase the filly on behalf of owner Brad Grant of Milton, ON.

“It was a good offer, a fair offer, and a friend of mine told me after I’d sold her, he said, ‘Robbie, if you can’t afford to buy her, then you can’t afford to keep her,’ and it kind of makes sense you know,” said Robinson, who has spent the better part of two decades focussed on breaking and training young horses. “It’s one of those things, you have to really think about what’s going to be best, and I’m happy for the horse and I’m happy for them, because now she doesn’t have to run up the road five hours to race every time.”

Since the sale, Warrawee Vicky has amassed three more wins, two of them in Ontario Sires Stakes Gold Series action, taking a mark of 1:55.4 in the July 11 Gold Series season opener at Woodbine Mohawk Park. The filly makes her fifth start of the season tonight (Aug. 9) in the third of three $73,000 Gold Series divisions at the Campbellville, ON oval.

Warrawee Vicky is just one of the pupils that have left Robinson’s care this season and gone on to compete for other trainers. He started with six yearlings and five are currently racing in jurisdictions on both sides of the border.

“Out of those six, one was sold, which was Warrawee Vicky, two other ones, after I qualified them they went to different trainers. One went to New Jersey – she’s back in Toronto now – Alyvia Deo, a Trixton filly, and an American Ideal colt (American Rebel) that I own part of with Rob Harmon, he’s racing in New York Sires Stakes,” said the trainer. “Another one we qualified, Alpina, I think she’s in the Grassroots, so the only two that I have left is a horse called Link In Bio and I have an Art Major colt that is going to qualify in two weeks. And then he’s going to go south.”

Costa Athanassoulis’ Synerco Ventures Inc. owns Alyvia Deo (Trixton–Blue Yonder) and Alpina (Archangel–Tymal Fireitup). Racing out of the Matthew Dupuis barn, Alyvia Deo has a runner-up finish in the Kindergarten Series at The Meadowlands under her belt through four starts. Alpina started her Ontario Sires Stakes career in the Gold Series for trainer Rob Boyd, finishing sixth placed fifth, then moved to the Grassroots level for her second outing and finished third. Link In Bio (Holiday Road–Workout Queen), who Robinson owns in partnership with Synerco Ventures, has struggled to find his groove in the Grassroots program, making breaks in all three of his starts. Robinson shares ownership of American Rebel with Middletown, NY trainer Rob Harmon and the colt is off to an impressive start in New York Sires Stakes action.

“He won an elimination for the (Lawrence B.) Sheppard and in the final he was locked in and got beat a length and a half, nowhere to go,” said Robinson of the talented young pacer. “Then he dead heated with Groovy Joe at Saratoga (July 20) and (July 28) he got beat at Batavia by Groovy Joe.”

American Rebel brought Groovy Joe’s five race win streak to a halt on August 6 at Yonkers Raceway with a two length score in 1:54. The son of American Ideal and Restive Hanover has earned $87,547 for his owners, a nice return on the $6,000 investment Robinson made to acquire the colt at last fall's Lexington Selected Yearling Sale.

"Last year I didn't have a whole lot to do, so I went down to Kentucky," said Robinson, noting that London and Harrisburg are more typically his destinations for yearling shopping. "I'd been looking at horses and looking at horses, and a friend of mine said, 'If you want to buy a horse, look at every horse that is selling tonight (Day 4).'"

"So I started in the morning and I looked at every horse that was selling and kind of graded them what I thought, and that's how I ended up buying that horse. I'd graded him fairly high, but he was a little bit small. Really, looking at the pedigree, I don't know how I bought the horse for $6,000. His mother was Restive Hanover, she was a two-year-old filly of the year, and American Ideal is probably the best sire in New York. They start all the horses off at $5,000 so there's not really a bid at $5,000. I was a couple rows from the bid spotter and I said $6,000, and I got the horse for $6,000, I couldn't believe it."

While looking at every horse selling on Day 4 at the Lexington sale sounds like a lot of work, Robinson said shopping for yearlings has never felt like a chore.

"The yearling sale time is probably my favorite time of the year. It's like Christmas for me," he said with a chuckle. "That time of year is the most fun for me; when they start coming out with the videos, and you've got the catalogues and you're looking at them, and then you go to the sale and try to match everything up."

The lifelong horseman, who learned the business alongside his father Carl while growing up in Odessa, ON and worked for both Bill Wellwood and Ted Huntbach before launching his own stable, counts horses such as Gerries Sport, Swingman and Golfman among the best horses he has trained. Gerries Sport (Mach Three-Perfect Sport) earned $401,808 in his career, while half-brothers Swingman (Northern Luck-J Ns Scooter) and Golfman (Cambest) banked $270,813 and $617,230, respectively.

Working Together for a strong Horse Racing Industry in Ontario
Three Breeds • One Vision

"They were all nice horses," said Robinson. "Probably the best horse I ever had was one that I bought in a mixed sale, Gutsy Volo (Yankee Glide-Gutsy Lobell, $268,819). His claim to fame was he was the first horse I had win at Mohawk as a trainer, and he beat San Pail in the Open. My first WEG win as a trainer was in the Open (June 28, 2009)."

Robinson's wife Jackie Dinelle retires this year and as a result the trainer is planning to reduce the number of horses he breaks and trains this winter.

"I might only have five or six horses this winter. I'll have to be selective I guess, I don't know," he said. "I'm probably only going to carry over one or two horses that I have right now, and then have three or four babies I hope."

Owners hoping to have their young stock winter in the nation's capital under Robinson's tutelage might want to make their appeal early. With the success the horseman's 2019 freshman pupils have had and his passion for researching and selecting future winners, those four spots may fill up in a hurry.

Always A Prince gunning to win Dan Patch on home turf

The reigning Indiana Pacer of the Year will take on such stars as Lather Up and McWicked tonight in the $330,000 Dan Patch Stakes at Harrah's Hoosier Park.

by James Platz

Tonight Harrah's Hoosier Park plays host to the Dan Patch Stakes, the signature event of the 2019 season. A stellar field of nine will assemble for the $330,000 event for free-for-all pacers, headlined by world record holder Lather Up and 2018 USHWA Horse of the Year McWicked. The Dan Patch was formerly a by-invitation-only contest, with the race secretary traditionally leaving a slot open for the top local horse. Now a paid-in stake, the event still will offer a local flavor with 2018 Indiana Pacer of the Year Always A Prince lining up behind the gate.

The Always A Virgin—Glorious Princess gelding has drawn the outside post position in tonight's 11th race. Driver Trace Tetrick, his regular pilot when competing in Indiana, said the post is not ideal, but he will be prepared to take the fight to a tough group of open pacers.

"I wish he would have drawn better. The nine hole is not a very good starting spot, but that's just what it is, a starting spot," Tetrick said. "We will just have to see how it unfolds. There's no way we can duck, I do know that. We have to be involved. The fact is if the horse is sitting ninth it is not going to do us any good."

Always A Prince enters the Dan Patch off a qualifier last Saturday (Aug. 3) where the 4-year-old turned in a 1:52.1 effort for trainer Tyler George. The gelding had been given a break after his foray to the East Coast, where he represented his connections well while battling the best in the division. Tetrick remained in Indiana, but kept track of Always A Prince's exploits. Owned by Carl and Melanie Atley, the speedster won a leg of the Graduate Series in a lifetime best

Indiana

1:47.3 before finishing fourth in the $250,000 final. In that contest, Always A Prince cut the mile with fractions of :25.3, :52 and 1:19.1 before Lather Up pulled the pocket and went on to become the co-fastest horse in harness racing history with his 1:46 clocking at the wire. George's charge recorded a 1:46.2 effort in defeat. In his last start at the Meadowlands, the Indiana star paced third in the $423,000 William R. Haughton Memorial.

"Before he went out there, he was racing really good. It's tough. He did a lot of things right, but went up against some bearcats," said Tetrick. "He never quit, he got beat, what, two or three lengths? He just got beat out of second late (in the Graduate). He's just a phenomenal horse."

Racing almost exclusively on his "home turf" of Hoosier Park last season, Always A Prince won 19 of 22 starts. He defeated favored Jimmy Freight to claim the Jenna's Beach Boy in September, and was placed first by judges in the Monument Circle after winner Lather Up was disqualified. His experience over the Hoosier Park surface, particularly the long stretch, could prove a factor tonight. Always A Prince is third choice on the morning line at 6-1, trailing both 6-5 Lather Up and McWicked, at odds of 5-2.

In the 25 previous editions of the Dan Patch Stakes, no local interest has ever reached the winner's circle. Perhaps tonight, Always A Prince can become the first. A victory in the Dan Patch would also be a first for Tetrick. Hoosier Park's perennial leading driver has managed no better than third in the race, guiding Clear Vision to that finish in 2015.

Winning in this field will be a tall order. To his credit, Lather Up has become the 800-pound gorilla in the free-for-all division. After winning the Graduate final and matching Always B Miki's 1:46 world record, the son of I'm Gorgeous—Pocket Comb scored a decisive victory in the Haughton before setting a world record on Hambletonian Day, dominating the field in the $230,200 Sam McKee Memorial, raced at a distance of one and one-eighth miles, in the jaw-dropping time of 1:59.2. Sweet Lou set Hoosier Park's current track record of 1:47.2 on his way to winning the 2014 Dan Patch. Will that standard remain intact when the dust settles tonight?

Tetrick feels that, despite the outside post, Always A Prince will be in the mix tonight. Hopefully, with a little luck, the pair can make history.

"I think he's going to be a top three or four horse in the race. Hopefully we can come out on top. With the nine hole it does put a little damper on our spirits, but if he has a little bit of luck he'll be right there knocking on the door at the wire," Tetrick added. "If you're not in it you can't win it, it's the old saying. We've got a shot to win and just hope everything works out for us."

Deep and talented field to compete in Milstein Memorial

by Jay Wolf

When the field for Saturday night's $400,000 Carl Milstein Memorial at MGM Northfield Park was announced, many were surprised of the depth and talent in this year's invitation-only event.

Another surprised person was Steve Carter, the veteran trainer and co-owner of the Ohio-bred Yankee Boots. Despite two straight wins and a solid career, Carter was pleased with the invite.

"I was very surprised to get an invite, but Dave Bianconi (Northfield Park's executive vice-president of racing/simulcast) was reaching out to get a full field of horses," said Carter.

Yankee Boots' invite to the rich event may not be that far of a 'reach.' The gelded son of Yankee Cruiser—Boots N Saddles has won 15 of 26 career starts and has earned $227,820 for Peggy Carter, Chuck Grubbs, Joseph Whitacre and trainer Carter.

Last year, Yankee Boots established a new world record for freshman geldings with his 1:51.3 gate-to-wire effort in the $40,000 Buckeye Stallions Series Championship at Northfield Park.

"He broke the world record as a 2-year-old. It's not like he hasn't been a good horse pretty much his whole life," said Carter.

With high hopes for a big 2019, Yankee Boots' 3-year-old season got off to a rocky start with a last place finish in the $40,000 James Hackett Memorial Final at Miami Valley Raceway on April 20.

"He afibed (atrial fibrillation) due to an electrolyte imbalance. We keep him hydrated more now," said the Londonderry, OH resident.

Yankee Boots' recovery was quick as he won his next start on May 4 in the $17,500 opening leg of the Buckeye Stallion Series, a secondary series for Ohio breds.

"We wanted to race him easy because of the afib and we wanted to make sure his was alright," said Carter, who has conditioned winners of 1,800 races during his 30+ year career.

Yankee Boots is coming into the sixth edition of the Milstein off a pair of wins in a division of the $72,800 Ohio State Fair (Aug. 3) and the third leg of the Ohio Sires Stakes (July 27). He has finished on the board in 9 of 11 starts this year.

"He's a very consistent horse... He definitely is getting better. We have been working on his feet and that has helped him. He has been kicking in and doing his work more and more and getting faster. He's turning into a pretty nice horse."

This year's field of eight Milstein contestants includes Bettor's Wish, the winner of the $300,000 Art Rooney Pace and runner-up in the $750,000 North America Cup, the $682,650 Meadowlands Pace and $285,362 Cane Pace. The Chris Ryder trainee has earned $624,544 for the ownership team of Ryder, Bella Racing, Fair Island Farm and the Bettors Wish Partners.

The second choice in the morning-line is Century Farroh. The Ontario-bred has won eight of nine seasonal starts and has earned $293,128 for his 75-year-old owner Dave Ratchford.

The deep field also includes the Adios champion Southwind Ozzi, the Ohio-based Workin Ona Mystery, and New York Sire Stakes points leader American Mercury.

With such a tough field, Carter is realistic about his chances with Yankee Boots, who will be driven by Dan Noble.

"Obviously, he is stepping way up in class and hopefully we can get a check."

"I started racing at the county fairs and I always said, 'When I get a good horse they are easier to race against those other good ones.' Our horse doesn't have a tremendous amount of gate speed, so I am sure he will be chasing them."

The Carl Milstein Memorial honors the patriarch who ran Northfield Park from 1984 to 1999. The Milstein family operated the Cleveland suburb oval until July 2018 when MGM Growth Properties purchased the track.

The Milstein undercard includes Ohio Sire Stake action and the $50,000 Myron Charna President's Pace, a race for 4-year-old and up Ohio-sired pacers, where Sectionline Bigry looks to dethrone the three-time defending Charna champion Dancin Yankee.

The final leg of the $120,000 (div.) OHSS for 3-year-old colt trotters and two $50,000 divisions of Ohio Sires Stakes for 3-year-old filly pacers will also have a prominent spot on the 16-race card. The first post will be 6:00 pm. (Eastern).

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

20th Group One win for Bold Eagle

by Thomas Hedlund

Sébastien Guarato's 8-year-old Ready Cash son Bold Eagle won the $161,300 Grand Prix de Wallonie in Mons, Belgium on Sunday afternoon. Tony Le Beller was new driver for the great French champion and from post eight behind the car, the duo exploded to the lead, a position that Le Beller gave up after 500 meters. Bold Eagle got out of his pocket trip before the last turn and held on to victory by a neck ahead of great finishers Valokaja Hindö and Billie de Montfort.

The mile rate was 1:54.1 over 1.4 miles and this was Bold Eagle's 20th victory in a European Group One-race.

An objective in the near future for the French champion will most probably be the $448,110 final of Masters du Trot at Vincennes in September.

World champion driver in German Derby

Rick Ebbinge from the Netherlands captured the title as the best driver in the world when World Drivers Championship was held in Sweden earlier this summer.

On Sunday afternoon, Ebbinge caught another big trophy since he took a wire-to-wire triumph in the $180,000 German Derby for 3-year-old trotters at Mariendorf in Berlin.

Ebbinges weapon in the Derby was Ganymede son Velten von Flevo, who was sent to the lead early in the race. Italian trainer Alessandro Gocciadoro had the first choice in the race. His Juan Bros joined the leader on the outside 650 meters into the race and when the stretch approached, four horses were basically all potential winners.

Velten von Flevo held on and kept Jean Bros behind him with a nose in mile rate 1:57.2 over 1.2 miles.

American bred trotters over three laps

The $417,000 Åby Stora Pris over 1.95 miles is scheduled at Åby racetrack on Saturday afternoon and American-bred stars Propulsion and Milligan's School are in the field of 12 trotters.

Gerard Forni

Bold Eagle (Tony Le Beller) won the $161,300 Grand Prix de Wallonie in Mons, Belgium on Sunday afternoon.

In 2018, Åby Stora Pris changed its shape and conditions altered from being a heat race, where eight totters met in two heats over a mile, to a 1.95 miles long race. A more unusual distance for the top trotters in Sweden and Europe.

Propulsion disarmed Ready Express in an unforgettable battle last year and the title defender shows up again, paired with Örjan Kihlström.

France will send merited Carat Williams to Åby and among the top contenders Makethemark, Handsome Brad and Pastore Bob are seen.

Horse – Driver

Usain Henna – Jörgen Westholm

Jairo – Joakim Lövgren

Pastore Bob – Johan Untersteiner

Milligan's School – Ulf Eriksson

Carat Williams – Gabriele Gelormioni

Reckless – Björn Goop

Mindyourvalue W.F. – Robert Bergh

Makethemark – Ulf Ohlsson

Propulsion – Örjan Kihlström

Explosive Merlot – Christoffer Eriksson

Winndevie gets NYSS win at Vernon

Winndevie captured the $118,000 New York Sire Stakes (NYSS) for 3-year-old trotting fillies at Vernon Downs on Thursday (Aug. 8).

Sensibility (Tyler Buter) led to the first quarter in :26.2. Quincy Blue Chip (Jim Morrill Jr.) was second best but went on a break right near the first quarter mark. Woodside Charm (Verlin Yoder), who was the 2018 2-year-old trotter of the year, took over the lead heading for the back stretch. She hit the half in :56.1 and was first to three-quarters in 1:25.3.

Winndevie ($15.40), who is owned by the Purple Haze Stables and trained by Trond Smedshammer, was fourth at the halfway mark. She then went first-over heading around the last turn. She then joined Woodside Charm as they hit three-quarters. When they reached the stretch it was all Winndevie as she powered home to win in a lifetime best of 1:54.0. Sensibility finished second with Sweet Chapter (Matt Kakaley) getting third money. Quincy Blue Chip recovered from her early break and finished fourth. Woodside Charm, who was seven for seven as a freshman, is winless in her two starts as a sophomore.

Winndevie is a 3-year-old filly by Credit Winner. It was her third win this season and her ninth career victory.

George Ducharme trained three winners on the evening. He got his wins with The Fixer ($2.30), Hannah Dreamgirl ($11.20), and Crysalline ($4.20).

There is no live racing at Vernon Downs today (Aug. 9) due to the Lee Greenwood and Crystal Gayle concert. Live racing returns on Saturday (Aug. 10) with an 11-race card starting at 6:10 p.m.

For more information go to www.vernondowns.com.

Commanding win gives Port Perry top OSS billing

Port Perry took sole control of top spot in the 2-year-old trotting colt standings with his second Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold Series victory at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Thursday evening.

The long-legged Port Perry moved sharply away from Post 6 and once he took control the outcome was never in doubt. Rolling through fractions of :29.1, :59.3 and 1:28.4 Port Perry and driver Bob McClure were never threatened and in the stretch the colt hit a whole different gear, pulling away to a seven and one-half length victory in 1:56.2. Blue Cupertino finished second, edging out fan favourite Horse Trader who settled for third.

“He’s improved amazingly in the last few weeks. He was bionic tonight,” said McClure of the Kadabra colt. “In the last 100 feet he pulls away, reminds me of Warrawee Roo.”

McClure steers Port Perry for trainer Luc Blais of Campbellville, ON and owner Determination of Montreal, QC, who also train and own top aged trotter Warrawee Roo, a winner of $781,640 in his racing career. In spite of his success however, Warrawee Roo is not the most celebrated horse in the Blais-Determination stable at present. That honour belongs to Kadabra son Forbidden Trade who captured the $1 million Hambletonian Final at The Meadowlands on Aug. 3.

“It was an exciting moment that’s for sure. It’s a big event, the Hambo,” said Blais. “Everything – you know Bob (McClure) drove him good, the horse was feeling good – I think that day you need to be perfect everywhere if you want to win.”

Forbidden Trade, last year’s Ontario Sires Stakes champion, was flawless in three starts leading up to the Hambletonian and will be looking to add to his win tally when he returns to Woodbine Mohawk Park for Ontario Sires Stakes Gold Series action on Monday, Aug. 12.

Port Perry’s commanding victory in Thursday night’s Gold Series test might have some dreaming of the 2020 Hambletonian, but Blais said he was not looking much further ahead than Friday morning with the strapping youngster.

“I’m going to see tomorrow, see how he comes back from that,” said the trainer.

“He looked good again today, looked like he was strong today. He’s a big strong horse, you know, he needs lots of room, and I think he feels comfortable on that track (Mohawk Park)."

Thursday's win was Port Perry's second in Gold Series action. He also captured a division of the July 4 season opener at Woodbine Mohawk Park, and then finished second by a head to Blue Cupertino in the July 23 leg at Georgian Downs. An $85,000 yearling purchase at last fall's Lexington Selected Yearling Sale, Port Perry has banked $133,200 in his first three lifetime starts and sits atop the freshman trotting colt Gold Series standings with 125 points.

The other $105,600 Gold division was captured by Moon Bridge in near identical fashion. Taking control from Post 6 the fan favourite and driver Sylvain Filion rang up fractions of :28.1, :57.1 and 1:27.3 before drawing away to a five length victory in 1:57. HP Royal Theo finished second and Scamp was another length back in third.

"He was a little green, he never raced on the front probably," Filion told Woodbine Mohawk Park's Chad Rozema in the winner's circle. "He was looking at stuff, birds and stuff, but he kept racing to the wire, and he was trotting through it, and he was real strong."

Thursday's appearance was Moon Bridge's first in Ontario Sires Stakes action, but the E L Titan colt logged a runner-up finish in a July 26 overnight event at The Meadowlands before making the trip north. Ake Svanstedt trains Moon Bridge for breeders Esa Lahtinen and Janne Korpi of Cambridge, ON and their partner Jussi Hietalahti of Turku, Finland.

The two-year-old trotting colts will make their fourth Gold Series start over the Grand River Raceway half-mile on Sept. 23.

Tonight (Aug. 9) Woodbine Mohawk Park welcomes the 2-year-old trotting fillies for their third Gold Series event. The fillies will battle in Races 3, 6, and 8 on tonight's program, which gets under way at 7:50 pm.

Harrah's Philadelphia Hi-5 jackpot $74k and growing

The growing Jackpot Hi-5 carryover at Harrah's Philadelphia now stands at $74,112.98 in advance of today's (Aug. 9) card.

Thursday afternoon's (Aug. 8) fifth race saw odds-on favorite Joey Bats provide Tim Tetrick one of seven wins on the 14-race card and also key a 4-2-1-5-3 Hi-5 combination that returned $56.24 to successful backers. With multiple players once again successful in selecting the first five finishers, the carryover has grown to more than double the highest dividend the wager has yielded to date.

The 20-cent wager carries a low 15 per cent takeout and occurs daily in the fifth race, with the carryover paid out in the event of one unique winner. In the event of no or multiple winners, the carryover progresses to the next card. The highest Jackpot Hi-5 dividend to date at Harrah's Philadelphia is $35,989.90, claimed on the May 23 program.

Post time today is 12:25 p.m. Eastern.
