The remarkable success of the ever-adaptable Åke Svanstedt

Just how talented is the two-time Hambletonian-winning trainer/driver? Consider he once made his career training older horses in Sweden and has successfully transformed into a winner of stakes races with young horses in America.

by Thomas Hedlund

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

There's nothing miraculous or strange or mysterious about Åke Svanstedt's successes in America since he moved there from Sweden in 2013. Svanstedt was a top name in the sport in his home country by the time he left; he had established himself among the most successful trainers and drivers many years prior.

Svanstedt's horsemanship is what people have long talked about. Some believe Svanstedt can make winners out of any horse, at any training site and by using whatever training method he wants to use.

Harness racing is in his blood, and his connection with horses from an early age has put him in an enviable position.

Though he dominated in Sweden, he was never really the trainer that collected the biggest trophies in the stakes races for 3- and 4-year-olds in his home country. Despite the high number of horses in his stable every year, Svanstedt rarely won the most prestigious races, at least not the big ones for younger horses, making his success with young horses in America that much more impressive.

Though his stable earned over $5.5 million in 2012 in Sweden — a career best to that point — Svanstedt's stable "only" won two of the big races for 2-, 3- or 4-year-olds that year — the $205,000

Kungapokalen (Fawkes) and the $205,000 Drottningpokalen (Love N Hate), both won on the same race card in May at Åby. The remaining 389 training wins that year came in races for essentially older horses in overnight and V75 races. Meaning he achieved tremendous results without having the best bred trotters in his barn.

Sarah Svanstedt, Ake Svanstedt and family after Captain Corey won the 2021 Hambletonian.

As an example, consider one of his first stars in the U.S. – Sebastian K. Svanstedt brought the horse to USA after some very successful years with several wins in big races in Europe. In America, Sebastian K showed the world how fast a trotter can be on a 5/8 mile track, setting a 1:49 world record at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono. Just a few weeks later, the Swedish trainer again showed he meant serious business when he moved across the Atlantic Ocean when he won the Peter Haughton Memorial for 2-year-olds with Centurion ATM at The Meadowlands in August. Racing 2-year-olds was definitely nothing Svanstedt had great success with prior to his move to USA.

It should be noted that the racing program is not at all comparable between the two countries and to be a really successful trainer in America, you need to produce trotters or pacers that race in the big stakes. Svanstedt, with two Hambletonian victories so far, has shown the harness racing world that he is one of the sport's best trainers and it's clear he will continue to be

by Bob Heyden

Walner did not make it to the 2017 Hambletonian. He was 2-for-2 as a sophomore and then retired. His two races at age 3 were a victory in 1:50.3 and then 1:50.2, dominating in both. But, he had a banner Hambletonian Day this year as a first crop stallion, winning the Peter Haughton and going 1-2 in the Jim Doherty. Despite the fact he only had 2-year-olds racing, he was the only trotting sire on the day to win twice.

Longshots on the board

Who are the only two drivers to hit the board in the Hambletonian final at the Meadowlands with a 50-1 shot or better?

John Campbell in 2009 who was third with Calchips Brute at 59-1 and Tim Tetrack this year, second with Spy Booth at 55.30-1.

As for Tetrack, he also hit the board in the Hambletonian Oaks with 97.20-1 shot Contested Hanover, who finished third.

This is the first time in the entire history of these two races (the Oaks started in 1971) that one driver has hit the board in both races with the longest shot in both races.

Insiders

In the last two Hambletonians and this year's Meadowlands Pace, 13 of the 15 checks have gone to the inside 5 posts. Only Amigo Volo (10 – 4th in 2020) and Ambassador Hanover this year (post 9 – 3rd) spoiled the party.

One of the other

All four 2021 elimination favorites for the Oaks and the Hambletonian lost. Yet on Hambletonian Day, all four favorites won the Doherty, Peter Haughton, The Oaks and the Hambletonian.

Passport please

In the last three Hambletonians, the only American to get a check is Tony Alagna with 2020 winner Ramona Hill.

These broodmares were Hall over it

Cantab Hall mares had Jujubee the new sophomore trotting colt track record setter (1:49.4), third place Hambletonian finisher Ambassador Hanover, Hambletonian runnerup Spy Booth and fifth place final check getter in the Hambletonian Take All Comers.

Andover Hall had Dancinginthedark who came in with the fastest mark of the day for sophomore trotting males and Angus Hall is the sire of the dam of the Hambletonian winner Captain Corey.

Four... finally

Post four just won the Hambletonian but it had been two decades since it last happened with Stefan Melander and Scarlet Knight in 2001. What is even stranger than that is the slump post 4 was in even hitting the board. In the last 19 Hambletonians, only Mission Brief in 2015 even finished in the top three.

Three-horse entry paydirt

For the fifth consecutive year, there was a three-horse Hambletonian entry (this year there was a pair of three-horse entries). This year, marks the first time all three part of an entry cashed in.

In 2017, trainer John Butenschoen finished 4-6-7.

In 2018, Jim Campbell finished 4-8-10.

Callahan enjoys 'Captain' Hambletonian win

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

As Captain Corey made his way down the stretch at The Meadowlands and headed to victory in Saturday's (Aug. 7) $1 million Hambletonian Stakes, Corey Callahan was among the television viewers cheering him on.

"I've never rooted that hard for a horse that I didn't have any vested interest in terms of owning or driving," Callahan said with a laugh. "It was really fun."

Callahan was the regular driver of Captain Corey's sire, Googoo Gaagaa, during the colt's record-setting 3-year-old season in 2012.

Several years after Googoo Gaagaa retired to stud duty, Callahan suggested to Carter Duer that he should breed a mare to the stallion, who was standing in Pennsylvania at the time.

Duer bred an Angus Hall mare named Luv U All to Googoo Gaagaa, resulting in the birth of a colt on April 16, 2018.

"When he was born, Carter and (his son) John came up with the idea to name him after me," said Callahan, whose nickname is The Captain. "It's special, for sure."

Callahan enjoyed a number of memorable moments with Googoo Gaagaa, who entered his 3-year-old campaign off a 6-for-6 rookie year on the Maryland Sire Stakes circuit that culminated with a world-record 1:56 effort at half-mile Ocean Downs.

Googoo Gaagaa, a son of pacer Cam's Rocket out of the trotting mare Kora's Trotter bred and owned by Richard Hans, won his first Grand Circuit start in May 2012, capturing the Simpson Memorial by five lengths in 1:54.1 at The Meadowlands. Callahan can still recite track announcer Ken Warkentin's call as the horse crossed the finish line.

"Say hello to Googoo Gaagaa," Warkentin said. "He is for real."

A month later, Googoo Gaagaa set a world record with a 1:51.3 win in his elimination of the Earl Beal Jr. Memorial at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono. In the final, Googoo Gaagaa trotted the fastest mile ever on a five-eighths oval, winning in 1:50.4.

"That was really cool," Callahan said.

Googoo Gaagaa was not eligible to the Hambletonian, but defeated Hambletonian winner Market Share two weeks after the Hambletonian in The Colonial at Harrah's Philadelphia. His time of 1:52.1 was a stakes and track record.

Dave Landry

Captain Corey's namesake Corey Callahan in action at Grand River Raceway.

"Goo and I were first up and we beat the Hambo champ that day," Callahan said. "That mark still stands at (Philly). There have been a lot of good 3-year-olds since then. For that mark to have stood that long, that's obviously a big feat."

During his racing days, Googoo Gaagaa was known for his stride. Callahan sees the same in Captain Corey, who was the only one of 14 registered foals sired by Googoo Gaagaa to sell at auction in 2019. He went for $150,000 and is now owned by S R F Stable, Knutsson Trotting Inc., Midnight Sun Partners Inc., and Ake Svanstedt Inc.

"I've bred a few to Goo and seen others, and I'd never seen one that had a similar gait until Captain Corey," Callahan said. "All of the other ones went more like trotters, a little high up front and didn't really have that same sweeping motion. Corey was the first one that I saw that really looked like him."

"I know Carter and John were really high on him when he was selling as a yearling. When he was out there in the field, John said, 'I really think this horse has the same kind of extension that Goo does.' He was right."

Following Captain Corey's win with trainer/driver Svanstedt in the Hambletonian, Callahan took to social media to express his delight.

"So happy for Goo to have a horse carry on his legacy," he said.

Barefoot In The Dark

by Bob Pandolfo

Some of you may remember the Neil Simon play Barefoot In The Park. Well, these days, some trotting races may be called "Barefoot and In The Dark," because some of the horses are racing without shoes and the bettors are kept in the dark.

The first time I remember hearing about a trotter racing shoeless was in 2014. The horse was the late, great, Sebastian K. Trained by Ake Svanstedt, Sebastian K made his U.S. debut at the Meadowlands and went a scorching 1:50.1 mile to equal the track record. Later in the year, Sebastian K lowered the world record to 1:49.1 when he won at Pocono Downs. I interviewed Ake Svanstedt back in June of 2014, shortly after he came here from Sweden. It was obvious that he would be a major force in U.S. racing because of the strong organization he had. That, and the fact that he's a master horseman.

Here we are seven years later and racing without shoes has become more commonplace. The reason for this is simple – some horses trot much faster without shoes. I really don't know why, and, frankly, I don't care.

Last Saturday (Aug. 7) I attended the races on Hambletonian Day at the Meadowlands. It was a great card and I thoroughly enjoyed the day. But, I'm still going to complain.

And here's Pandy on his soapbox again:

As some of you know, if a horse takes shoes off, it's supposed to be announced or presented in some form to the public as an "equipment change." On Saturday, all day long, the equipment changes were electronically displayed on the big screen in the infield.

In the Hambletonian Oaks, which was Race 14, the 7 and 10 horses were "minus shoes." The 7 horse, Hot As Hill, left and tucked and didn't show much thereafter. The 10 horse, Iberation, left from post 10, tucked, brushed to the lead and finished second behind the sharp odds-on winner, Bella Bellini. Iberation was 45-1 and was clearly second best in the race. Racing without shoes seemed to help the filly.

In the Hambletonian Final, which was the 15th race, I expected the favorite Captain Corey to be on the "minus shoes" list. But he wasn't. According to the equipment changes, there were no “minus shoes” in the race. I figured that Captain Corey would be shoeless because I know that Svanstedt likes to race his good ones without shoes in the big events. And why wouldn't he? He's had tremendous success with that equipment change.

As you likely know, in the Hambletonian final Svanstedt gunned Captain Corey to the lead in :26 flat, forced tucks, set a hot pace under heavy pressure and drew clear to a handy and impressive win never in doubt. After the race, Svanstedt congratulated the Meadowlands for having the track in good condition and said that he raced Captain Corey with all four shoes off.

That's great for Captain Corey and the connections. I congratulate them. But the other side of this story is that this “shoes on, shoes off” is getting more annoying than the idiotic “Clap On! Clap Off! TV commercials for “The Clapper” lightbulb device sold in the 1980's.

This reminds me of when the first “modified sulky” showed up at Roosevelt Raceway in 1976. In some races, only one driver, either Merritt Dokey or Tom Merriman, had the bike. The bike itself was around a second faster than the wood bikes so all of a sudden, Dokey and Merriman became better drivers than the legendary Herve Filion. I was working at Sports Eye and we tried to get the “modified sulky” changes in the track program or at least announced at the track. But it took many months for that to happen and meanwhile bettors at OTB were getting screwed while the professional bettors and people in the know were cleaning up betting Tom Merriman's horses. The whole thing was a joke and akin to insider trading.

Even if it's unintentional, a pari-mutuel sport should NEVER hide anything that affects the performance of a racehorse from the betting public. It's just not good business. This is even more important now than ever because most of the money is being bet online.

Over the past year or so, I've noticed that there are younger fans getting interested in horse racing. And, of course, they're betting on their phones. Let's not chase these new fans away!

So let's go over a few things about racing without shoes.

First of all, it appears that some horses go much faster without shoes. So, it's a performance-enhancing change. There have been studies in Sweden that concluded that horses racing without shoes did go faster, on average.

But there's more to the story. Studies in Sweden also showed that horses that raced without shoes break stride more often. Researchers at Sweden's University of Agricultural Sciences (SLU) compiled data from 75,000 races and over 5,000 horses. They concluded that horses go faster without shoes but break stride anywhere from 15 to 35 per cent more often, which results in more interference and disqualifications. I would imagine that it could also cause more accidents.

There's more info on the Internet if you search but I don't want to bore people with too much detail. The bottom line is: shoeless horses go faster and break stride more often.

Some years ago at the New York thoroughbred tracks, some trainers were using shoes called “Mud Caulks” or “Turn Downs” to help their horses handle off tracks. Many of these horses grabbed the wet track better and they performed better than they usually did. Well, a few cagey professional gamblers were betting all of these shoe changes and cleaning up. The average bettor was on the losing end, however. So the NYRA banned those types of shoes as a way of protecting the bettors.

Another shoe change that's perceived as something of a performance enhancer is steel to aluminum, since aluminum shoes are lighter. I honestly don't have any stats on that, however.

There are several things that don't sit well with me when it comes to these shoe changes. At least when a newer and faster sulky comes out, gamblers who follow racing closely can see the new bikes on the track. With the shoes, unless you're Sherlock Holmes, I have no idea how you would know what kind of shoes a horse is wearing, or not wearing.

Captain Corey raced without shoes in the Hambletonian final.

There are other problems. Here's a scenario: a trainer takes the shoes off a horse for a stakes race and the horse goes a monster mile and wins. Almost always, the horse's shoes are back on for the next race. And, this often results in a disappoint effort. I know you might ask, "Why don't they keep racing them without shoes?" Well, for two reasons. For one, if they raced a horse without shoes every start, the horse's feet would eventually get damaged. The other reason is that they want to use it to get that extra boost in certain spots.

To me, this is a bad look for racing. A horse is racing okay but not great, finishing second or third, then takes the shoes off and wins big. Then in its next start the horse is 3-5 odds, the shoes are back on, and the horse finishes third and lacks the zip that it had in its prior "shoeless" start. See the problem? The trainer is making an equipment change that he or she knows is going to make their horse go slower. That certainly doesn't look good.

As far as the equipment change board, obviously if the equipment changes shown to the public are 100 per cent accurate, that helps. But these changes often only appear at the track and internet bettors are kept in the dark. And, many times the changes are wrong, as they were in the Hambletonian.

Some tracks don't list the shoe changes at all. I was told that at the current Lexington meet (The Red Mile), they don't show any shoe changes at all.

I'm not a professional bettor, but sometimes I'll bet a couple of hundred dollars on a horse, usually as a key in exotics but occasionally to win. But if a track is not going to list these shoe changes, I should probably not make a bet at that track. Imagine betting $200 to win on a horse that's 10-1 odds and some 20-1 shot that couldn't keep up to your horse last race beats you by a nose and, then you find out afterwards that the horse was "minus shoes"?

It might be time for harness tracks to ban shoeless racing. Personally, I think that this is such a potent performance enhancing equipment change that it should be listed in the program, and that's not going to happen. What's more likely is that most bettors will be left in the dark and get screwed. We also don't need more breakers. Yeah, more horses breaking stride, scattering the field, that's always fun. How about when the horse you bet gets clobbered by a breaker and then everyone has to wait 10 minutes to find out which horse is going to get disqualified? Isn't that great? Let's have 35 per cent more of that.

As a public handicapper, I'm trying to give people a good view of each race so perhaps they can win some money and enjoy the racing. And anyone who knows me knows that I take the Meadowlands picks I put on the USTA website very seriously. But if you've read some of my comments or the comments of my colleagues Derick Giwner at DRF Harness or Dave Brower at the Meadowlands, you'll see that we're making comments like "check the shoe changes" or "I wonder if he'll take the shoes off tonight?" People must be wondering, "If these guys aren't sure, how am I supposed to know what's going on, I only bet once a week?"

We have to stop making harness racing about everything but the horse. Harness racing keeps sucking the purity out of the sport. We're going backwards, not forwards. We're starting to get a handle on the doping, thankfully, but there are still other issues, like faster and longer bikes that create a gap back to the hindered closers and an inside speed bias, and now the guessing game of shoeless horses.

Handicapping and betting should be about, which horse is the best horse? Not, which horse has the best bike, the best drugs, or doesn't have its shoes on? There has to be consistency. Every horse should actually have the same bike and be wearing shoes, and the drivers should be sitting up in the bike, not lying down with a clear view of the Milky Way. In the Meadowlands Pace, watch the replay, Dexter Dunn, the sport's top driver, was leaning way back in the bike driving Rockyroad Hanover. When the horse he was following broke stride, he ran right into the horse. Was his reaction time slowed because he was leaning back so far? Just asking, because there have been an alarming amount of accidents at different harness tracks already this year.

Do we have to keep making a mockery of the sport? Are we intentionally trying to kill it? Do the bettors matter at all? Should we keep them in the dark? Is that good business?

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Horse racing is deeply rooted in Brett Beckwith's DNA

by Chris Lomon

Brett Beckwith can still vividly recall the moment, the one when he knew he was going to join the ranks of standardbred racing.

Horse racing is deeply rooted in his DNA – his father Mark is a successful driver, and his mother Melissa is an accomplished trainer – but for the young man from Jersey City, NJ, the desire to carry on the family tradition wasn't always on his radar.

Far from it, in fact.

"My mom and dad have been in the business for almost their whole life and the association to horse racing goes back generations and generations. But, honestly, I wasn't ever really into it an awful lot when I was younger."

All that changed, however, after a visit to The Meadowlands.

Standings railside with his grandfather, Jerry Silverman (inducted into the Harness Hall of Fame in 2019), Beckwith found himself fascinated by what he was seeing on the racetrack, but also by a particular expression he noticed.

"I had watched races there before, but there was just something that day... it's hard to explain. I saw that my grandfather had a big smile on his face when he was watching the races and something just clicked for me. It was something I wanted to do.

"At first, I wanted to do it because I could have something in common to share with my dad, but then at some point, it turned into a career. I really fell in love with it."

Armed with his newfound affinity for the sport, Beckwith took to the race bike with zeal, striving to make a solid first impression on the racing world.

On May 16, 2019, he did precisely that.

Taking part in North American Amateur Drivers Association trotting event at Yonkers Raceway, the then 16-year-old driver sat behind Dark Pool, a veteran trotting son of Cantab Hall.

Brett Beckwith in action.

The $8,000 race, a non-wagering affair, saw Beckwith and Dark Pool get away third before the duo grabbed the lead. Ahead by five lengths at the stretch call, the gelding – a $135,000 purchase at the 2014 Standardbred Horse Sale Company's auction in Harrisburg, PA – sailed past the wire an eight-length winner in 1:56.

It was impressive on its own merits, even more so considering it was Beckwith's third drive after having had only 19 qualifiers of experience. He also bested a trio of former National Amateur Driver of the Year winners in the process.

Dark Pool was trained by family friend Paul Fusco, who called upon the young reinsman after he had piloted the bay to a second-place finish two weeks prior.

Beckwith was on his way.

Posting four wins, four seconds and a pair of thirds from 25 starts in 2019, his rookie season, his performance was impressive beyond just solid numbers.

A winning attitude, in and out of the sulky, immediately caught the attention of horsepeople.

Beckwith was, and still very much is, cognizant of maintaining an even keel when it comes to his career, one that is now in high gear.

"I'm very happy with the opportunities that have come my way, for sure. I wish I could have capitalized on a couple more of them. Overall, with the opportunities that I've had this year, it's pretty much beyond my expectations. This business, it's tough. You lose more than you win and you're only as good as your last drive. But that only pushes you to be better each time you race. One of my friends told me a while ago, 'Don't get too low on the lows and don't get too high on the highs. Turn the page right after, good or bad.' And that's what I do. You learn from your mistakes and you build on the successes."

Now 21, the Saratoga Springs High School alumnus has maintained his methodical and measured approach to driving, eager to set yearly goals, but not overly interested in looking too far down the lane.

It's a formula that has served him well in a career that hasn't reached the 500-drive plateau yet.

This year has yielded a slew of strong results, a season in which Beckwith has already surpassed a majority of the goals he set for himself ahead of 2021.

He was only too happy to make revisions to his list.

"The December before I started driving – I'm a very goal-oriented person, in general – I set out some things I wanted to accomplish. I like to set the bar and then chase after it. I always want to push myself to better than I was yesterday. I'm almost 100 per cent there with the 2021 goals I set. Now, I'll reset goals for the rest of the year. I think you should always have something to strive for."

It's what Beckwith does every time he lines up behind the starter car gate.

How would he best describe his driving style?

"I don't mind racing from the off the pace, but I don't mind racing on the front, depending on the horse. I would say I'm not a big believer in the whip. I think there are other things you can do to get the most out of a horse. I watch every single race, and for me, I always take something away from it, good or bad. If you think you know it all, you might as well be doing something else."

When he's not on the racetrack, Beckwith is in the gym, working out seven days a week.

He's also taken up golf, a sport he approaches in very much the same way he does with driving.

"I do like it. My game, it's not great. But, I'm trying to learn. I'm a competitive person and I don't want to play with other people until I know I'm good enough at it. I go out there by myself and try to get better each time."

It hasn't been that long since the day he stood at rail with his grandfather, when Beckwith realized he wanted to go from watching the action to being in the middle of it.

That recollection always gives the young driver a reason to smile.

"I'll always remember that time. I love this sport and I love the horses. I'm glad I made the decision to become a driver."

He's hopeful one day that his family can stand by the finish line and watch him cross the wire a winner at The Big M.

"I'd love the chance to compete at The Meadowlands one day. It won't be easy – there are so many talented drivers there – but I'll keep working hard and give everything I have to be the best I can be."

USTA president Russell Williams' three-part video series on HISA announced

The U.S. Trotting Association announced and released the first of three videos on Monday (Aug. 9) from USTA president Russell Williams that provide an in-depth analysis of the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA) law and why it is both unconstitutional and bad for harness racing.

In the first video, "USTA president Russell Williams explains the Horseracing Integrity & Safety Act and why it is unconstitutional," Williams discusses two laws, one (HISA) that "got sneaked through Congress without a vote" and became law, and another that has been prepared for introduction into Congress should one of the two lawsuits that have been filed in Texas and Kentucky successfully challenge the constitutionality of HISA.

He explains that the Racehorse Health and Safety Act (RHSA), which is draft legislation created with the input of practicing veterinarians, horsemen, regulators and the USTA, is ready for introduction into Congress if HISA is declared unconstitutional by the courts.

Williams details how "the elite upper crust of thoroughbred racing" chose a nominating committee who selected the members of the current HISA Authority that will regulate medication regulations, perform testing, conduct investigations, and enforce rules through state law enforcement and other methods. None of the HISA Authority appointments were subject to confirmation by any elected officials and the statute does not provide for any of these appointments to be removed from their position of power.

The Racehorse Health and Safety Act, which focuses upon the health and welfare of the horse, provides a constitutional alternate to HISA that allows state racing commissions to retain governmental authority with federal oversight pursuant to the compact laws of the U.S. Constitution, determines the use of Lasix dictated by scientific standards like all other therapeutic medications, provides for separate rules for each breed, and will be funded through existing state budgets.

The second part of the three-part video series, "USTA president Russell Williams asks about HISA 'Which one deserves the public trust: Veterinary science or optics?'" will be released in a week on Monday (Aug. 16).

The third video, "USTA president Russell Williams: A small group of rich men want racing to go back to being a rich man's hobby," is scheduled for a week later on Monday (Aug. 23).

Bulldog Hanover scores another impressive Gold win

The early fractions were sizzling and the trip a long one, but 3-year-old pacing colt Bulldog Hanover scored his second Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold Series win at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Saturday, (Aug. 7).

Starting from Post 8 in the 12-horse field, driver Jody Jamieson settled Bulldog Hanover in the outer lane in fifth, tucked in behind Meadowlands Pace champion Lawless Shadow. As P L Ozzy blazed out to a :25.4 quarter and a :53.4 half, Jamieson was content to bide his time from the second-over spot. By the 1:22.3 three-quarters the fan favorite was fourth, two lengths behind the pacesetter, and Jamieson was getting ready to hit the overdrive button. Once he squared up in the stretch Bulldog Hanover hit the big gear and pulled away to a three-quarter length victory in 1:50. Powertrain sprinted up the inside to be second and Bettor Sun, having stalked Bulldog Hanover from the start, was third. (replay here: Bulldog Hanover)

"I thought there would be a few of them that were just gunning out of there so I just thought that if we could let them fight it out a bit, if we could somehow get in contention at the three-quarter pole, we should be okay," said trainer Jack Darling. "But Jody made me feel better. We were just talking about the race before we went out on the track, about the 12-horse field, and Jody said, 'Yeah to be honest, the 12-horse field doesn't really worry me too much because I think this horse can overcome anything that happens to him.' I guess he was right."

The win was Bulldog Hanover's third of the sophomore campaign and his second in Gold Series action. He was also a winner in the July 3 season opener, delivering a personal best 1:49.1 from Post 10. In the second Gold Leg, on July 25 at Georgian Downs, the Shadow Play colt finished third after struggling around the turns on the five-eighths mile oval.

"The track up there is fairly loose and he was just having trouble on the turns. He was kind of spinning his wheels Jody said, so he just had to be careful with him, but when he got him straightened out in the straightaway he was flying at the wire," said

Darling. "I knew the horse was okay. It was just the track that affected him. He paced in 1:49.4 when he was having trouble on the track, so, you know, that's not too bad."

Darling shares ownership of Bulldog Hanover with Brad Grant of Milton, ON. The partners will watch the son of Shadow Play compete in one more Gold Series Leg, on Aug. 21 at Woodbine Mohawk Park, and then he has a series of open stake races on his schedule, starting with the Somebeachsomewhere on Aug. 28 and followed by eliminations for the Pepsi North America Cup on Sept. 4.

"He's got next week off and then he's got another Sires Stake and then I think we've got four in a row. But he's very lightly raced, so hopefully he'll be fresh enough for it," said Darling, adding that the winner of $432,786, through 11 lifetime starts, is very easy on himself both at home and at the racetrack.

"He's always nice and relaxed in the barn, and jogging he's just as relaxed as can be. He'll walk as long as you want him to walk, and when you ask him to go, he'll go, just a really nice horse that way," said the owner/trainer. "He comes to the track and he's quiet, he's relaxed for a stud, take him on the track he just warms up like a professional. He'll relax but then when you ask him, or if he sees another horse in front of him he likes to kind of get up and race them a bit. He's about as close to the perfect horse as you can get I think."

Bomb Hugger stays unbeaten with NYSS win at Tioga

Bomb Hugger (Anthony MacDonald) cruised to an easy win in the $106,200 New York Sire Stakes (NYSS) for 2-year-old trotting fillies at Tioga Downs on Sunday (Aug. 8).

Bomb Hugger ($7.30) and the big favorite, Gertrude (Andy Miller) both went out for the lead. Gertrude went on a break and Bomb Hugger took control and led to the first quarter in :29.0. Bomb Hugger used a :31.1 second quarter breather to hit the half first in 1:00.1. Gertrude made a tremendous comeback as she worked her way all the way to second going first-over down the backstretch. Bomb Hugger continued to be in control though as she led to three-quarters in 1:28.3.

As they made the turn for home Gertrude ran out of gas as Bomb Hugger found another gear and she just breezed down the stretch. Little Pink Eyes (Jim Meittinis) went all out on the chase but Bomb Hugger was too strong and won in a lifetime best of 1:57.2. Little Pink Eyes was second best and Gettinmystepsin (Tyler Buter) finished third.

Bomb Hugger is a filly by Chapter Seven—Stylemaker. She is owned by Thestable Bomb Hugger Group and trained by Jeff Byron. She has now won three legs of the NYSS and is a perfect four for four in her career.

Braxten Boyd had a driving double on the day. He got his wins with Anchors Away ($8.40) and Kazans Power ($8.40).

Tioga Downs returns to Live racing on Friday (Aug.13) starting at 6:15 p.m.

True Blue Lindy captures Dream Maker final

True Blue Lindy became the latest horse to get the Dream Maker bump following a strong 1:51.2 victory in Monday's series final at Woodbine Mohawk Park. (race replay)

A launching pad for many previous stars, the Dream Maker Series for 2-year-old pacers saw a compact field of six clash in this year's $86,500 final.

Trained by Carl Jamieson, True Blue Lindy and driver Jody Jamieson took full advantage of a two-hole ride to win in a career-best clocking of 1:51.2, holding off Tony Alagna trainees Nautical Hanover and Atlas Hanover.

"He's done everything he's been asked of, first and second every start now and a nice speed badge there to boot," Jody said. "He was great tonight, he just did what he had to do like he always does. He's lazy as hell, but he keeps doing it."

Race favorite Many Moons was used hard early to make the front, clearing True Blue Lindy at the opening-quarter in :26.4. The 1-5 favorite rolled the field to the half in :55.2 and down to three-quarters in 1:24.1.

Jamieson edged True Blue Lindy from the two-hole at the head of the lane and the 5-2 second-choice responded with a :27 kicker to secure the victory. Nautical Hanover finished strongly in :26.2 to come up three-quarters of a length short. Many Moons faded down the lane to finish fifth.

Splash Blue Chip extends NYSS win streak to three

Splash Blue Chip won for the third straight time in New York Sire Stakes (NYSS) competition by capturing Monday night's (Aug. 9) lone $153,900 division for 3-year-old trotting fillies at Yonkers Raceway in 1:56.

With Hambletonian-winning trainer/driver Ake Svanstedt in the bike, Splash Blue Chip quickly made her way to the lead from post three, but Moni For Lindy (Yannick Gingras), who floated away from post four, pressed on two-wide and took command passing the 28.2 opening quarter.

After landing on the point, Moni For Lindy backed down the pace to get to the half-mile marker to just 58.1, but business picked up coming off the third turn as Svanstedt vacated the cones with Splash Blue Chip to go after the tempo-setter. Splash Blue Chip moved on to level terms with Moni For Lindy at the 1:27 three-quarters, and their duel continued around the last turn and into the lane.

In mid-stretch Splash Blue Chip finally forged her way to an advantage over Moni For Lindy, and Splash Blue Chip would go on to get the victory by a length. Moni For Lindy held second over Titans Hope (Jason Bartlett), with Soukup Blue Chip (Scott Zeron), Tranquility K (Todd McCarthy), Illuminata (Mark MacDaond), and Aela Jamieson (Andy Miller) rounding out the order.

Svanstedt also co-owns Splash Blue Chip, a half-sister to his former New York Sire Stakes champion and world record holder Plunge Blue Chip, with partner Mellby Gard Inc. Splash Blue Chip, a daughter of E L Titan—Dunk The Donato bred by Blue Chip Bloodstock Inc., has a record of 4-5-3 from 17 career starts, has earned $354,018, and paid $4.20 to win as the even-money second choice. The exacta kicked back $6.00 and the trifecta was worth $21.40.

Daughters of E L Titan also swept the two $15,000 New York Excelsior "A" Series flights for sophomore trotting fillies. Cindy Michelle won the quicker of the pair, stopping the timer in 1:58.1 for trainer/driver John Stark Jr. and owners Peter Barbato and Sam Bova Racing LLC., while Izzy Demsky converted a pocket trip into a 1:58.3 victory for driver Mattias Melander, trainer Marcus Melander, and owner Courant Inc.

One New York Excelsior "B" Series race, worth $6,300, saw

Summer Storm (Jordan Stratton), by Prayer I Am, prevail from the two-hole in 2:02.3 for trainer Kimberly Gilman-Daios and owners Winners Circle Racing 2 LLC., Nena Winand, Joseph Dougherty, and Gilman Stable-Ny LLC.

There is more New York Sire Stakes action later this week at Yonkers Raceway, as 3-year-old pacing colts and geldings invade for a pair of $75,900 contests (races two and three) on Friday (Aug. 13)'s 12-race program. First race post is 7:15 p.m.

Logan Park remains perfect in Gold Series action

Logan Park secured his third Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold Series win in the sole $158,800 3-year-old trotting colt division at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Monday (Aug. 9), keeping a stubborn head in front of Fashion Frenzie at the wire.

Logan Park left smartly from Post 1 in the field of 11 and landed in fifth as Highland Mowgli zipped out to a :26.4 quarter. Lightly rated HP Running Mass took a brief turn on the front heading by the :56.1 half, but driver Jody Jamieson had Logan Park on the move and the colt was in command, fending off a challenge from Lexus Kody, at the 1:24.4 three-quarters. The fan favorite dug in down the stretch to hold off a charging Fashion Frenzie and record a 1:52.2 personal best. Lexus Kody stayed game for third. All three colts are by sire Archangel. (replay here: Logan Park)

"He raced really tough tonight," said Jamieson. "I think I used him three or four times and he still hung on. He's got a lot of guts and needed them tonight."

Jamieson steers Logan Park for trainer Rob Fellows of Rockwood and owners Outofthepark Stable of Rockwood, Reg Higgs of Strathroy and Arpad Szabo of Bradford, ON, who were impressed with the colt's effort.

"It was a tough race, there was lots of movement, lots of action and horses had to make moves. Jody did a heck of a job getting him out and getting him into the flow, and then there was no real rest. That's a good mile, 1:52.2," said Fellows. "That horse that shook loose late, Fashion Frenzie, if he drives straighter he beats us and you're talking to them instead of me, and I know that, that's kind of the way the horse business goes. It's tough racing right now and everybody is trying to find a pecking order."

With his third straight Gold Series win Logan Park has established himself at the head of the 3-year-old trotting colt pecking order with a perfect 150 points. Lexus Kody and Fashion Frenzie are second and third with 87 and 80 points, respectively. The group will face off for the fourth time this season on Aug. 23 at Woodbine Mohawk Park before beginning a month-long stretch of open stake action that starts with eliminations for the Goodtimes on Sept. 4.

"I think the rest of his races are here for the rest of the season so that will be nice. We're just a few minutes away so he can be home eating hay in his own stall real quick," said Fellows. "Hopefully he can behave and stay healthy and sound. These type of races take a lot out of them, they need a few days to recover, so it's all about trying to keep them healthy and sound."

Through seven sophomore starts Logan Park has recorded four wins and two seconds for earnings of $194,600, boosting his lifetime total to $317,900.

Complete results from Monday's program are available here and replays can be viewed on Woodbine Mohawk Park's YouTube channel.

Beltassima bounds to victory in Kentucky Championship opener

Driver Andrew McCarthy took authority with Beltassima through a swift tempo and survived a leg-weary final quarter to take the $40,000 opening round of the Kentucky Championship Series for 3-year-old trotting fillies on Sunday (Aug. 8) at The Red Mile.

Adirondack forged to the lead from post 9 with Ineffable yielding for the pocket to a :27.4 first quarter. McCarthy floated the 3-5 choice into fourth moving for the backstretch but was quick to pull off the pegs and blitz the leader towards a :55.2 half.

Beltassima successfully grabbed the lead heading for the final turn while Empressive Hill, parked from the start from post 10, pressed forward uncovered before tiring and breaking stride before three-quarters. Passing the third station in 1:22.4, Beltassima ground through the crawl for home chased by a fresh-legged Adirondack, who loomed closer coming to the final eighth. However Beltassima dug in to the line to win by a half-length in 1:52 over Adirondack, with Argyle closing for third and Ineffable holding fourth.

Owned by Crawford Farms Racing, Beltassima has won four races from eight starts this season and six from 15 overall, earning $235,647. Tony Alagna trains the daughter of Trixton who paid $3.40 to win.

Kildare King claimed the $40,000 four-horse dash for the opening preliminary of the Kentucky Championship 3-Year-Old Colt and Gelding Trot at the start of the card. Driver Corey Callahan landed the Trixton gelding in third while Tangled Love set a clip of :28.2, :56.3 and 1:25.2 on the lead. Coming off the final turn, Callahan fanned Kildare King towards the center of the track and lunged after the lead late, sliding a neck in front of Tangled Love at the finish of a 1:53.2 mile. Uncle AJ gave chase up the inside for third while Rattle My Cage, who broke passing the quarter, finished a distant fourth.

Trained by Chris Beaver for owner Tom Crouch, Kildare King collected his second win from 11 starts and pushed his bankroll to $40,750. Chris Beaver conditions the $7.60 winner.

Jula Muscle Pack ($6.00) led the pair of $20,000 Kentucky Commonwealth divisions of 3-year-old trotting colts and geldings with a 1:53.2 win for owner Jula Racing Inc., trainer Per Engblom and driver Andrew McCarthy. Speed Away ($28.20) upset narrowly in the final division to break his maiden in 1:54.3 for owner Consus Racing Stable Inc., trainer Jonas Czernyson and driver Callahan.

Altar ($2.80) topped the winners of the $20,000 Kentucky Commonwealth for 3-year-old trotting fillies with a 1:51.2 win for owner Diamond Creek Racing, trainer Nancy Takter and driver Dexter Dunn. Material Girl ($2.60) romped in the other division with a 12-1/4 length score in 1:52 for owner Oakwood Farms, trainer Lucas Wallin and driver Dexter Dunn.

Ohio-sired Charlie May headlines $300,000 Carl Milstein Memorial

Charlie May has been named the 5-2 morning line favorite in Saturday's (Aug. 14) $300,000 Carl Milstein Memorial at MGM Northfield Park. The Buckeye-bred monster headlines an accomplished group of nine 3-year-old pacers in Northfield Park's premier event.

The Milstein, an invitational event, is slated as race 10 on a 16-race program, with purses more than $918,000. First-race post time is 6 p.m.

Charlie May enters the Milstein as the top money earner in the field, despite being disqualified for interference after crossing the wire a winner in the $700,000 Meadowlands Pace last month. Since that disqualification, he has scored two straight wins against Ohio-breds, one being at Northfield. The Steve Carter trainee has banked $578,477 in purses throughout his young career but drew post seven in Saturday's main event for owner Don Tiger of Canonsburg, PA. Charlie May's regular pilot Brett Miller will drive.

Water Sports Teen drew post two and is the 3-1 second choice. He has won four of his last five races, getting passed in the stretch in the $375,000 Adios at The Meadows in his most recent race. This top sophomore has finished in the top three in 13 of 17 races this year, with eight victories. His 1:48.2 mark is the fastest in the race and has earned $133,696 this year for owner Joshua Graber of Quincy, MI. Joe Bongiorno will drive for his sister, trainer Jennifer Bongiorno.

Heart Of Chewbacca, 2019 Ohio Sires Stakes runner-up to Charlie May, drew post nine and is the 9-2 third choice. Heart Of Chewbacca has won 10 of 17 career efforts and has earned $329,023. Harness racing's all-time leading trainer Ron Burke conditions this colt for Ohio owners Dennis Owens and Norman Rae Racing LLC. Dan Noble will drive.

Canadian standout Bettor Sun (Douglas McNair, 8-1). Indiana heavy-hitter Rockin On Venus (Ronnie Wrenn Jr., 10-1), Minnesota phenom Alilthundadownunda (Ronnie Wrenn Jr., 20-1), and stakes veterans Bayfield Beach (Yannick Gingras, 6-1), Mysweetboymax (Aaron Merriman, 12-1) and Chase H Hanover (Brian Sears, 15-1) are also slated starters in the impressive field.

The complete field is as follows:

1. Bettor Sun (Douglas McNair, Gregg McNair) 8-1
2. Water Sports Teen (Joe Bongiorno, Jennifer Bongiorno) 3-1
3. Rockin On Venus (Ronnie Wrenn Jr., Kelly O'Donnell) 10-1
4. Alilthundadownunda (Ronnie Wrenn Jr., Jessica Johnson) 20-1
5. Bayfield Beach (Yannick Gingras, Ron Burke) 6-1
6. Mysweetboymax (Aaron Merriman, Sam De Pinto) 12-1
7. Charlie May (Brett Miller, Steve Carter) 5-2
8. Chase H Hanover (Brian Sears, Scott Cox) 15-1
9. Heart Of Chewbacca (Dan Noble, Ron Burke) 9-2

The race is named in honor of Carl Milstein, who owned Northfield Park from 1984 until his death in 1999. Brock Milstein and the Milstein family operated Northfield Park until July 2018, when MGM Growth Properties purchased the racetrack from Milstein Entertainment, LLC.

Exciting undercard

The 16-race program includes the $100,000 Myron Charna President's Pace, a race for older Ohio-sired pacers (by invitation only), the $100,000 Tom Aldrich President's Trot, a race for older Ohio-sired pacers (by invitation only), three $40,000 divisions of Ohio Sires Stakes for 2-year-old trotting colts and geldings, two $50,000 divisions of Ohio Sires Stakes for 3-year-old trotting colt and geldings, two $50,000 divisions of Ohio Sires Stakes for 2-year-old pacing colts and geldings, as well as three $20,000 open events.

Grassroots double for Baillargeon at Kawartha Downs

Mario Baillargeon scored a pair of wins in Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Grassroots action at Kawartha Downs on Saturday (Aug. 7) and the trainer/driver now has an enviable dilemma heading into the last two legs of the 2-year-old trotting colt season.

"Those two colts, in the first Gold one was second, the other one was third. And today in the Grassroots we found a great spot for them,” said Baillargeon of Royal Champagne and Renegade Gypsy. “My colt, Renegade Gypsy, he’s so big. I’m sure next year he’s going to be a Gold colt, but this year, that might have given him a lot of confidence today, so we’ll see. I don’t know what to do with him really. It’s a little tricky situation, but I’d rather have that situation than not be good enough for a Grassroots.”

Baillargeon captured the second $21,450 Grassroots division with Renegade Gypsy, steering the fan favorite to a 1:57.4 personal best off a front-end effort from Post 1. The Archangel gelding finished eight and one-quarter lengths ahead of CM Savewill GL and Sir Ballykeel over a rain-soaked surface rated one second slower than normal.

“I never really asked him, the last turn I just yelled at him a little bit, and he took off. He was very comfortable,” said the Acton, ON resident. “He’s just getting stronger and I’m pretty sure he’s going to be a Gold colt next year, pretty sure.”

Baillargeon trains Renegade Gypsy for fractional ownership group TheStable Renegade Gypsy, based in Guelph, ON. Saturday’s win was the gelding’s second in four starts, with two of those starts coming at the Gold Series level. In the July 8 Gold Series season opener he finished third and in the July 29 leg he was sixth over the Woodbine Mohawk Park surface.

The reinsman piloted Royal Champagne to his first lifetime win in the third $21,800 Grassroots division for his brother, trainer Ben Baillargeon of Guelph, and the gelding’s breeder, Glengate Farms of Erin, ON. Also starting from Post 1, favorite Royal Champagne sat behind pacesetter Mass Attack as that colt reeled off fractions of :29.2, :58.4 and 1:28.3 and then stepped out in the stretch to claim the 1:59.1 victory by one and one-quarter lengths. Evil Guy closed for second and Mass Attack settled for third.

“I qualified him maybe a month and a half ago (June 25) and I saw him for the second time today and I said, ‘Holy jeez, he grew a lot,’” said Baillargeon. “Sometimes they get growing and it takes a while to set them up, to get over the hump, like we say. I think they’re just getting over the hump. It was a good day.”

Like Renegade Gypsy, Royal Champagne made two starts in the Gold Series before arriving at Kawartha Downs for Saturday’s Grassroots event. In the July 8 Gold opener he was second and on July 29 the Royalty For Life son was seventh.

Former Peterborough resident Dagfin Henriksen made a winning return to Kawartha Downs in the first $21,800 Grassroots division. Now calling Guelph, ON home, Henriksen piloted Belvedere Bronx to a 1:58.4 score from Post 6, besting Feel The Force by a nose. Fan favorite Mask Of Zoro finished third.

“I got him Monday with no shoes on, so I kind of had to do everything from scratch, and it worked out good. The horse raced very, very, very well. I didn’t expect much from him today actually, to be honest with you,” said Henriksen of the new addition to his barn. “I saw he’d been making breaks off the gate in previous lines on the card, so I kind of just took it easy off the gate and felt him up a little bit the first half and he felt okay, so I started driving and he responded right away, so it worked

The trainer/driver engineered the win for owner-breeder Dr. Michael Venneri of St. Catharines, ON. The win was the Archangel son’s first in five lifetime starts. In his only other Grassroots start, the July 31 leg at Hiawatha Horse Park, Belvedere Bronx made an early break and finished eighth, placed seventh.

“He’s a nice horse, I enjoyed him today,” said Henriksen. “Nice to be on the old home turf too. I haven’t been here in three years I think. It was fun.”

Fan favorites Marauder Seelster and driver Aaron Byron went gate-to-wire from Post 5 in the last $21,800 division, cruising under the wire four and three-quarter lengths ahead of their peers in 1:58. Rose Run Xcaliber finished second and Unevergonnagethis was third.

“I think he’s actually starting to come around that horse,” said Amanda Fine, who trains the Muscle Mass son for Steve Heimbecker of Waterloo, ON. “It was weird, he was kind of my lower pecking order training down, and then when it came time to play he actually really stepped up.”

The win was Marauder Seelster’s first in five outings. He finished third in the July 15 Grassroots season opener at Woodbine Mohawk Park, but made a break in the July 31 leg at Hiawatha Horse Park and finished seventh, placed eighth. Saturday’s win bumped into the top 10 in the division point standings with two legs remaining.

The 2-year-old trotting colts will make their fourth Grassroots start at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Sept. 6.

Two-year-old trotters shine in Garden State Trot

Friday night (Aug. 6), the Meadowlands played host to the Garden State Trot for 2-year-old fillies and colts, sponsored by the SBOANJ. The card held four $40,000 races two divisions for the fillies and two divisions for the colts and geldings.

The first division took place in the second race, Gracelyn Hanover took the $40,000 purse for trainer John Butenschoen. The Walner filly started from post six and was sent straight to the top by driver Corey Callahan. As one of the favorites, she sailed to the wire uncontested in 1:53.3. This is the first win of the season for Gracelyn Hanover with earnings of $37,500. Missy Trix came in second with Magic Can Happen in third.

The second division for the fillies went to Misswalner Fashion for trainer Jim Campbell. Tim Tetrick steered the 2-year-old Walner filly to victory in 1:54.4. This is Misswalner Fashion’s second lifetime win in just two starts bringing her earnings to $30,000. I'm Happy Hanover was second with Primadonna Deo finishing third.

Later on the card, in the eighth race, the 2-year-old trotting colts and geldings had their chance at the $40,000 purse. Hi Balou and driver Todd McCarthy were able to nose out the favorite at the wire to take home the win for trainer Harry Landy. The Trixton colt sat patiently in the two-hole behind Pretender to bring home his first win of the season in 1:56.2. This was only his fourth start, making his earnings $22,000 to date for owners Share A Horse Inc. of Monroe Twp, NJ. Pretender was a close second with Abruzzo coming in third.

The last division of the night was in the 12 race where the Chuck Sylvester trainee Simon took home the win. Driver Dexter Dunn steered the Walner colt to victory upsetting the favorite Periculum in 1:55.1. This marks win number 2 for Simon with earnings of $28,775 for the young colt. Periculum was second with Jaqen H'ghar coming in third.

The 3-year-old divisions of the Garden State Trot will take place in September at Freehold. Visit www.sboanj.com for a list of eligibles.

"It's tough to find a better recipient than Katie for our awards," said Adam Bowden, HHYF president. "She attended her HHYF first camp when she was 12 with no racing background on a Girl Scout scholarship. Since then, she has participated at nearly every level of HHYF activities with an enthusiastic attitude and now she looks to put her college degree to work in the industry. She's a hard worker and an excellent example of our mission. She's definitely on the top of the 'HHYF makes a difference' list."

Katie will be entering her senior year at Rutgers University in the fall, pursuing a BS degree in Animal Science concentrating in Equine Science with a minor in Digital Communications. American Courage seeks rebound effort Friday at Yonkers American Courage looks to get back on the right track on Friday night (Aug. 13), as Yonkers Raceway hosts New York Sire Stakes action for 3-year-old colt and gelding pacers.

The winner of this year's MGM Grand Messenger Stakes final at Yonkers, American Courage sought to make it two-for-two in the Triple Crown for pacers in the Cane on Hambletonian Day at the Meadowlands, but he backed up from the pocket to finish seventh. Trainer Travis Alexander believes he has pinpointed the reason for his dull effort, however.

"He thumped badly," said Alexander about the cause for American Courage's poor Cane Pace effort. "I think we found the cause, and it's probably what happened last year [in the New York Sire Stakes final]. Unfortunately, you can't plan for the thumps until it happens."

The "thumps" is a condition a horse suffers due to an abnormal spasming of the diaphragm. More information on the thumps is available here.

Among the horses that American Courage will face in his $75,900 split (race two) will be King James Express (post six, Jason Bartlett/Mark Harder), the winner of last year's New York Sire Stakes final.

In the second $75,900 flight (race three), Town Gossip (post three, Joe Bongiorno/Jenn Bongiorno) enters with two straight sire stakes victories at Saratoga and Batavia and Natameri (post two, Tim Tetrick/Jessica Okusko) returns to the program after making the Adios final.

Yonkers Raceway's 12-race program on Friday starts at 7:15 p.m.
