BULLDOG HANOVER

fetches Canadian Pacing Derby crown

by Chris Lomon / Woodbine Communications

Ontario

Claus Andersen

Bulldog Hanover (Dexter Dunn) tied the Canadian record by winning the Canadian Pacing Derby in 1:46.4 on Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

World-record holder Bulldog Hanover lived up to his reputation and 1-9 odds in yet another head-turning triumph, this one coming in Saturday's $650,000 Canadian Pacing Derby at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

On a night when the first 1,000 fans in attendance received a free t-shirt bearing his likeness, Bulldog Hanover fashioned a statement of his own on the racetrack, adding one more high-profile triumph to an already outstanding career.

With Dexter Dunn at the controls, the 4-year-old son of Shadow Play-BJs Squall arrived at tonight's race on an eight-race win streak and standing as the fastest pacer of all time, courtesy of his 1:45.4 mile in the William R. Haughton this July.

While he was a second off that mark in the Canadian Pacing Derby, he was every bit as outstanding, tying the track and Canadian record in the process.

Tattoo Artist set his sights on the lead as the field was sent on its way, but Dunn had plans of his own, guiding Bulldog Hanover to the front off the first turn and taking his rivals through an opening panel carved out in :26.3. Tattoo Artist sat second, followed by Poseidon Seelster, Jimmy Freight and Desperate Man.

It was status quo through a half in :54.3, with Bulldog Hanover locked-in and looking as though there was plenty left in the tank. Jimmy Freight and Desperate Man were soon on the move, looking to engage the leader ahead of the three-quarter pole, while James MacDonald, in the race bike of Tattoo Artist, waited for an opportunity to take his shot.

In front by one-and-three-quarter lengths after three-quarters in 1:21.1, Dunn and Bulldog Hanover turned for home large and in charge, as a game Tattoo Artist looked to pull off the 23-1 upset.

At the wire, Bulldog Hanover was a comfortable one-length winner over Tattoo Artist. Poseidon Seelster, at 85-1, was third, while Jimmy Freight finished fourth.

"Well, when you've sat behind so many horses and you sit behind a horse like 'Bulldog,' it really is a pleasure and it's a joy being out there," lauded Dunn. "You know, I'm just along for the ride. You know, what he's doing is just amazing to see, the way he does it as well. There's no easy trips for him, he does all the hard work in those big races and he's running away from good horses."

The bay, who arrived at the final off a sparkling 1:48.0 performance in his Debry elimination one week ago, is now 24-3-1 from 32 career starts, for trainer Jack Darling, who co-owns with Brad Grant.

"It's great to have a horse like this and be a part of a horse like this," said Grant. "I don't think I've got words to say how good it is."

Darling had similar praise for the standout pacer.

"It's great to have the family here and the fans here. This horse has really got a fan base out there. There's so many people cheering for him, it's just an honour to be involved."

The veteran conditioner enjoyed the sea of 'Bulldog' shirts seen throughout the Mohawk grandstand.

"It's tremendous. I've got calls from all over the United States, people who want Bulldog Hanover t-shirts. It's just a real thrill to be here."

Bred by Hanover Shoe Farms, Bulldog Hanover, 10-0-0 from 11 dashes this year, was a $28,000 purchase (Hip No. 795) at the 2019 Harrisburg Sale.

He paid $2.20 for the Canadian Pacing Derby win.

Back Of The Neck (Tim Tetrick) recorded a 9-1 upset in the Maple Leaf Trot on Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Atlanta soon found herself under siege as the field straightened for home. Ecurie D DK, the 6-5 choice, came calling, as did Forbidden Trade and a hard-charging Back Of The Neck, fifth at the stretch call, and rolling, picking off rivals with each stride.

Ecurie D DK emerged with the lead late, but the world-traveling trot titan, driven by Svanstedt, couldn't fend off his stablemate.

At the line, Back Of The Neck was a one-and-a-half length winner, coming home in :26.4. Forbidden Trade was third and Fashion Frenzie fourth. Alrajah One IT, the morning line choice and also under the tutelage of Svanstedt, was scratched after sustaining a suspensory injury leading up to the race.

Replay here

"Well, this one was unexpected," said Tetrick, who won his third (Market Share in 2013 and Guardian Angel AS in 2019 were the other) Maple Leaf Trot. "I got the phone call before the draw was announced. We got him worked out, we got a good post, and everything worked out. I followed Ake up and Ake led us right up there and the fractions were fair, and I came off Ake's back and he did the rest. It was pretty easy."

Back Of The Neck ahead of the pack in Maple Leaf Trot

by Chris Lomon / Woodbine Communications

Back Of The Neck pulled off the 9-1 upset in another top-shelf edition of the $610,000 Maple Leaf Trot, stopping the clock in 1:51.0 on Saturday night at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Winless in three starts in 2022, Back Of The Neck came into the Maple Leaf Trot with far less fanfare than stablemate and fellow Ake Svanstedt trainee Ecurie D DK. By the time the mile was over, the 5-year-old son of Ready Cash-Big Barb was the one grabbing all the headlines.

It was an early scrap for the lead in an all-star field with Fashion Frenzie eventually striking front, with Logan Park and Atlanta settling into third and fourth, respectively, around the first turn, and through a first quarter in :26.4. Back Of The Neck, with Tim Tetrick in the sulky, watched the proceedings from seventh.

Yannick Gingras, in rein to Atlanta, then hustled the multiple stakes-winning mare to the front, one-and-a-half lengths ahead of Fashion Frenzie, with Logan Park third and Back Of The Neck, still seventh, through a half timed in :55.1.

Warrawee Xenia and Monkey Queen earn Simcoe wins

by Heather MacKay / Woodbine Communications

"I was in a bad spot, her speed bailed me out big time," said a relieved Bob McClure of Warrawee Xenia, who overcame an overland trip with her impressive speed to haul down favorite Adare Castle in the second of two $80,368 Simcoe Stakes divisions for 3-year-old trotting fillies, part of the star studded program Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

It was Baby Longstocking and Doug McNair taking early command in that split and they headed the fillies by the tepid first quarter of :28.4. Adare Castle, who came into tonight's contest riding a four race winning streak, came out from second and took control well before the leisurely half of :58.3 for James MacDonald.

Adare Castle hit the third marker in 1:27 and down the stretch she had a pair of challengers in Warrawee Xenia and Baby Longstocking. She managed to hold off the latter but not the former who got by late to hit the wire first in 1:54.1. Adare Castle held for second with Baby Longstocking getting a well earned third.

Replay here

A daughter of Walner—Endless Flirt, Warrawee Xenia now has eight wins and a second in 11 starts this year for Mark Steacy, who shares the training duties with son Shawn. Mark co-owns with David McDonald, Dale Larson and Diane Bertrand. They all were a bit apprehensive coming into this evening's contest as the filly had broken stride in her last two races including the coveted Hambletonian Oaks final. That was especially hard to take after she had very impressively won her elimination with a final quarter of :26.4.

"You have to be a little careful to get her back on the right track and it worked out good tonight. She is extremely fast for a piece. She gets over the ground so easy. She just seems to have a gear a lot of them don't," McClure said.

"We can breathe for a week," laughed Mark Steacy. "She's a lot of pressure this horse when you race her. She's probably as fast as any trotting filly out there when she behaves. Over the winter she got sound, she grew up, she filled out. We took our time and Bob's done a fantastic job, he knows when he can use her and when he can't.

"She's got such a great gait that you don't realize that she's going that fast but she is. That kind of horse is pretty special. We'll probably take her to Kentucky (the filly Futurity), she's got a couple weeks down there and then back here for the Breeders Crown."

Bred by Dr. Mike Wilson's Warrawee Farm, Xenia now has over $135,000 in earnings.

In the first division it was royally bred Monkey Queen, another filly who suffered a miscue in a recent start, who got the job done. In that division Sandra left from post six and was quick to the top for Sylvain Filion and they hit the opening quarter in :28.2.

Monkey Queen was pulled from second by Yannick Gingras and that pair were comfortably on top at the :57.1 half. Samosa was charging hard on the outside and was at the leader's wheel at the 1:25.3 three-quarters but tired in the stretch.

Monkey Queen held off two other challengers to win in 1:53.1. Sandra took second with Mischievous Rose third. Ilbeneoninstitches was fourth with Angelonia taking the final cheque.

Replay here

Unraced last year at two, Monkey Queen was recording just her sixth lifetime start tonight and her first north of the border. She now has three wins and two seconds on her card with just over $60,000 in earnings for owners Lindy Farms, Black Horse Racing and David Anderson. She is trained by Domenico Cecere.

"She's so game, she goes out there and she knows what her job is about. She's not the soundest filly there is but in the race she was perfect. It was a pretty good mile tonight, I'm really proud of her," Gingras explained after the race.

The Quebec native was asked if the fact that the filly only has a half dozen starts will make her fresher for the late season action.

"The more racing (she has) is going to be better for her because during the week they can't do a whole lot with her. The more she races the better shape she's going to get in. I don't know if she can go with the best, best ones but she has never disappointed yet," he praised.

In her most recent start, Monkey Queen won by 24 lengths in an overnight at The Red Mile in 1:53.2. Gingras noted that the last time he won by such an open margin was with another trotting mare, the great Mission Brief, who won at the same racetrack by 16 lengths as a rookie.

Bred by Order By Stable of Sweden, Monkey Queen (Chapter Seven—Steamy Windows) is a full sister to $2.7 million winner Gimpanzee and Iteration ($780,818). She sold for $450,000 at the 2020 Lexington Select Sale. Last year her full sister, Mandrill, was knocked down for $750,000.

Twin B Archie takes Simcoe

by Heather MacKay / Woodbine Communications

Twin B Archie managed to hold off a fast closing Duly Resolved to take the $165,725 Simcoe Stake for 3-year-old trotting colts on Saturday night at Woodbine Mohawk Park. The race, contested by just five talented sophomores, kicked off a stakes laden card anchored by the legendary Canadian Pacing Derby and Maple Leaf Trot.

Last year's O'Brien Award winner Duly Resolved and Paul MacDonell got away well from fifth to quickly reach the front as the race got underway but he was covered up by Safe Conduct and Chris Christoforou well before the opening quarter reached in :27.3. Favorite Twin B Archie was sent to the top from third and was well settled on the lead by the half reached in :56.4.

With James MacDonald in the bike as usual, Archie trotted by the three-quarters in 1:25.1 looking strong but he had some competition late in the mile as Duly Resolved was closing hard as was Safe Conduct. Twin B Archie managed to hold on and hit the wire first in 1:53.2, a half length in front of Duly Resolved in second and Safe Conduct in third. Archery Seelster grabbed fourth while Chulo collected fifth despite making a break down the lane.

A son of Archangel—Affair Hall, Twin B Archie put his 2022 summary at 6-3-0 in 10 starts and upped his earnings to $456,415. Career wise he's earned over $740,000 for trainer

First foal from a sister to FOOLS GOLD p,4, 1:48.4 ($412,469) and FOOLS DESIRE p, 1:49.4 ($401,543). Family of CONTROL THE MOMENT

Scott McEneny who co-owns with Domenic Chiaravalle, Floyd Marshall and the Martwest Racing Stable, all of Ontario.

MacDonald noted after the race he was happy to see the draw with just five entered. "The horse has been racing great, all career he's been terrific, so when you see a short field going for that much money you definitely get a little excited. He got it all again tonight, he knows where the wire is and he knows how to get it done."

The trip went the way the driver envisioned. "I thought (Chris on Safe Conduct) would take a shot, I was a little worried about him on my back the last turn, but Archie finds a way every time."

Four of the colts in tonight's contest were Ontario-sired, including Twin B Archie. MacDonald feels he can certainly hold his own with the Grand Circuit calibre colts later this year.

"Early in the year he was so good, I would have put him up against anyone. After Ottawa (an OSS win at Rideau Carleton on July 10) he's been a little stale but still the results have been there so it's hard to knock him. I hope when the big ones come at the end of the year he can still figure it out."

Bred by Twinbrook Farms of Embro, Ontario, Archie sold at the Harrisburg sale for $52,000. His third dam is Amour Angus whose progeny, including former Canadian Horse of the Year Emilie Cas El as well as the talented trio of Andover Hall, Angus Hall and Conway Hall, had her inducted into the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame two years ago.

Pennsylvania

Captain Cowgirl repeats as Pennsylvania Sires Stakes champ; Tetrick wins three titles

by Evan Pattak for The Meadows
Standardbred Owners Association

The Pennsylvania Sires Stake championships for 3-year-olds may have been contested in daylight Saturday (Sept. 3) at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows, but several stars definitely shined brightly.

One was Captain Cowgirl, who captured her second straight PASS crown. Another was her driver, Tim Tetrick, who won three of the four PASS titles. A third was trainer Lucas Wallin, who enjoyed a PASS double.

The championships went for $253,000 apiece, and each division featured a $50,000 consolation. In all, the card offered more than $1.2 million in purses, making for an exciting, competitive day of racing.

For most of the season, Captain Cowgirl appeared well on her way to a repeat title — until she threw in a clunker in the Aug. 20 Lynch Memorial at Pocono. But she landed in a great spot for the PASS final when she drew post 4, and the filly most likely to challenge her, Treacherous Dragon, got stuck with post 9.

That advantage was a decisive factor. Captain Cowgirl and Tetrick rolled to an easy lead while Treacherous Dragon was used for early position, then again first over, a trip that proved too much for her.

Captain Cowgirl drew off to triumph by 5-1/4 lengths in 1:50.1, with Sweet Treasure edging Smuggle Tina for place.

Fourever Boy (Dexter Dunn) triumphed in the PASS championship for sophomore pacing colts.

Jim King, Jr., who trains the daughter of Captaintreacherous—Rideintothesunset, said she has several Pennsylvania stakes remaining this year but none of the rich late-season events.

“I didn’t pay her into much else,” King said. “I’m a little cheap. I like to have a one-way pocket. I’m not very good at it, but that’s what I like. We have no reason not to bring her back next year. I don’t know if she’ll go to all the big dances, but she’ll be plenty useful.”

Highlights of the other championships:

$253,000 COLT & GELDING PACE – FOUREVER BOY

Fourever Boy, a son of Sweet Lou—Macharoundtheclock, has made a healthy living chasing home the stars of his division, but until Saturday, he lacked a signature win. He got that when he followed the live cover of the first-over Layton Hanover, brushed through the lane for Dexter Dunn and triumphed in 1:49.1. Greatest Ending rallied for second, with Night Hawk third.

Bred, Raised and Sold to Take On the World!

"He'd been racing so good and had to do a lot of dirty work," said winning trainer Tim Twaddle, who owns Fourever Boy with Micki Rae Stables. "He hasn't been able to get that trip. Today it worked out.

He indicated the colt, who lifted his lifetime bankroll to $575,416, would be pointed to the Simcoe and the Little Brown Jug.

The time matched the 2019 clocking of Aflame Hanover for the fastest ever in this divisional PASS at The Meadows. However, the term "stake record" probably doesn't apply, as the championships rotate among The Meadows, Pocono and Harrah's Philadelphia, with each venue maintaining its own records.

Tetrick's bid for a PASS sweep ended when his horse, Mad Max Hanover, got away poorly and couldn't keep up with cover, finishing seventh.

$253,000 COLT & GELDING TROT – POUR MEA DOUBLE

Pour Mea Double had followed first-up cover nicely, but entering the final turn, he still trailed leader Keg Stand by 3 lengths. That's when he found a new gear for Tetrick and soared home to down Keg Stand by a head in a career-best 1:53, lowering by a tick Desert Runner's 2016 mile for the fastest local edition of the PASS final. That first-over horse was Dandy, who earned show.

It was his first win in 10 starts this year, but Tetrick considers that statistic misleading.

"I knew the leader was getting away from me, but my horse has been closing good every week, and he really closed good to earn that win," Tetrick said. "He's just unlucky. He's a little 'trippy,' and he's raced against some of the top ones. You have to ride the rail quite a bit with him."

Wallin trains the son of Bar Hopping—Ms Kristin, who now has banked $269,900, for J&T Silva Stables, Peter Kleinhans, Daniel Kraus and Dreamlover Ab.

$253,000 FILLY TROT – MANON

Manon was parked with cover for most of the opening quarter, a phenomenon that didn't concern Tetrick.

"The outside was showing speed, and so long as the early leader was happy to follow me, that's all I was worried about. I thought he would with my being the favorite," he said. "She got there and relaxed and raced a good race. She'll go with the top ones for sure."

Manon had just enough to hold off Luisella by a neck in 1:53.1, with the first-over Dreamonhigh third. The time equaled the 2004 effort of Hidden Viggorish for the fastest local performance in the final.

A daughter of Bar Hopping—Are You Ready, Manon now boasts earnings of $320,790 for Wallin and owner Harbor Racing Stable LLC.

PASS NOTES: The consolations went to Miss Helen Hanover (filly pace), Design Fashion (filly trot), Ducasse (colt and gelding trot), JM's Final Treasure (colt and gelding pace)... In that win by JM's Final Treasure, trainer Ron Burke took four of the top five starts; Nautical Hanover finished third to prevent a clean sweep... Burke and Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. teamed for four victories on the day's 12 pari-mutuel events.

TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

with MURRAY BROWN

The knowledge and passion of owner, bettor and fan Dr. Howard Perlmutter

by Murray Brown

Dr Howard Perlmutter is a dentist by profession. By avocation, he is a horse owner and one the most fervent and knowledgeable fans of harness racing. He began getting interested in harness racing in his mid-to-late teens. At the time, he had no knowledge of horse racing, let alone harness racing. He was interested in just about all sports with the exception of horse racing.

Q: How did this all come about? You told me that you had never even seen a harness race until you were 15 or 16.

"I spent some of my youth in Brooklyn. My family migrated to Marlboro, New Jersey. I would go by this place called Freehold Raceway almost every day. I really wasn't at all interested in finding out what was taking place there. My best friend then and now is a fellow by the name of Joe Giaquinto. Joe was a fan of the sport, primarily, because in terms of betting it was then mostly the only game in town. He fancied himself as an astute handicapper. Indeed he was. Now decades later he still is at it and is in my opinion one of the most knowledgeable guys you will find at a racetrack. Joe is one of the few horse gamblers who have been able to stay afloat over a period of many years. He is still doing it. After some urging, he took me to Freehold. It was equivalent to a guy finding his first love. Within a relatively short period of time I became almost consumed by the game. I quickly discovered The Meadowlands and I became a follower of The Meadowlands in particular and harness racing in general. I read everything on the sport that I could possibly find. I made some friends who were in the same boat as I was. Some have fallen by the wayside. A few are still around and still punching. I tried to learn from most of the people with whom I was in contact. I've now reached the point where in gambler's lingo 'I have an opinion.' Most of the guys I hung with back then have been beaten up or have switched to the thoroughbreds. Trying to wager on horses can be a most humbling experience."

Q: You not only were a fan, you were also a horse player and you are now a horse owner.

"I started as an owner quite a few years ago. Jerry Silverman was my first trainer. I owned a Sonsam filly named Snappy Dream with him. She was alright, not a world beater, but alright. The one thing I remember most about her is going up to Vernon Downs with Seth Rosenfeld. He had a Nero filly named Sweet Dahrlin that was in with her. Little did I, or I presume did Seth know, that she was going to become a great foundation mare for him. Her lineage produced horses like Sweet Lou ($3,478,894), Captain Crunch ($1,561,940), Bettor Sweet ($2,782,353), Moonliteonthebeach ($519,102) and Nutcracker Sweet ($511,765).

"Right now I own pieces of 15 horses. Doug Dilloian has six racehorses that race mostly at Yonkers. He has trained my horses for seven years now. He is honest, hard-working and really does everything he can to achieve the best results. We have a few 2-year-olds with Tony Alagna and Casie Coleman. We get most of our older horses from Down Under. Mark Lewis, was over here for several years before returning to Oz is our scout down there. He is very helpful when it comes to picking horses which he believes will be suitable and adaptable to race at Yonkers. He has an excellent feel for the job to which he has been entrusted. That combined with a good knowledge of North American racing gives us an edge, I believe.

“In order to get folks to enjoy harness racing we first have to let them know that we exist. There are some people who believe that we are beyond the point of no return. I am not one of them. Look at the numbers from Saratoga on Travers day – 49,672 people there and they bet a staggering $55,559,315. I’m not saying that we can challenge those numbers but there have to be ways in which we can improve our dismal numbers.”

When it comes to picking yearlings, my wife Sarah and I put a lot of work into it. Sarah has a wealth of experience and knowledge. We read the catalogs from cover to cover. Although all of my holdings right now are pacers, I also scout the trotters. We watch the videos and look for things about them that we hope will be useful. I also rely on our trainers to steer me on to prospects that they like and think will be to my liking. Right now we think our best horse is a 2-year-old Hungry Angel Boy that we hope will be special. He has been sidelined with some sickness. From what we've seen thus far, we think he could become very good.

Q: You go to The Meadowlands fairly regularly, how do we get others to do the same?

"I do it because I truly enjoy watching live racing. I love the racetrack, both in front in the grandstand and also behind the scenes. The trick is how do we expose others to the joys of harness racing? That is something that requires better brains than I possess. In order to get folks to enjoy harness racing we first have to let them know that we exist. There are some people who believe that we are beyond the point of no return. I am not one of them. Look at the numbers from Saratoga on Travers day — 49,672 people there and they bet a staggering $55,559,315. I'm not saying that we can challenge those numbers but there have to be ways in which we can improve our dismal numbers. One thing that shocks me that we don't have is our sport being part of sports wagering. If that isn't a natural, then what is? We are a sport and people wager on it. Our very essence as a sport is dependent on wagering. It also could be a means to getting the casinos to work with us. Most of them have sports wagering on just about everything EXCEPT horse racing. It staggers my mind that we are not part of it."

Q: Although harness racing tops your sports likes, you are very much a fan of just about all the major sports and a few that might even be considered a little below them.

"I love pretty much all sports and have from the time I was exposed to them. Unfortunately, the teams I root for have been mired in mediocrity for what seems like forever. I'm a huge New York Rangers fan and often go to their games. I've been a New York Mets fan since the team came into being. They used to be horrible. In recent years, they've improved to be considered somewhat middle of the road. I think that under present ownership they are reaching the point when we can dream of the World Series, although I fear that lack of depth in their bullpen might trip them up. I'm a Knicks fan and you know what they've accomplished recently. My football team is the Raiders. It's been a long time since their glory years."

~ Dr. Howard Perlmutter

Q: Are you planning to do some yearling shopping this year?

“I will be going to both Lexington and Harrisburg as I’ve done in recent years. I got a short look at the Lexington catalog. Man, is it ever loaded. I’ve pretty much discounted day one for two reasons. The first is in the areas where I do my shopping, the horses being offered are not to my pocketbook’s liking. The second is that the offerings are pretty much trotter oriented. I was told that 74 per cent of the yearlings selling on Day One are trotters. At this point, I’m pretty much exclusively a pacer guy. I’ve looked at some of the Day Two offerings. There isn’t a whole lot of difference between some of them and a lot of what is being sold the first evening. When shopping, I tend to focus on what I think the big spenders are not looking to buy. For example, last year there was plenty of value to be found among the yearlings by Stay Hungry, International Moni, Father Patrick and Cantab Hall. Stay Hungry and International Moni had their first crop out. In the case of Father Patrick, he had two years where his performance on the racetrack wasn’t quite comparable to previous ones.

“With both he and Cantab Hall, they had proved beyond a doubt that they are capable of siring greatness. I realize that that Father Patrick and Cantab Hall are trotters, but the same mindset exists with trotters as well as with pacers. All four of those horses have had excellent years. I would expect that they will likely be a little more difficult to buy this year. As Bill Wellwood was fond of saying when everybody else is zigging, I try to zag.”

Q: Let's talk about horses. Which were the best ones that you've seen?

"Overall, I would say that the best was Niatross. He raced everywhere — half mile tracks, five eighths and mile. He started early and finished late. He came to play whenever and wherever he raced. Some might say Somebeachsomewhere. I'm not really prepared to disagree. It's certainly not the horse's fault that he didn't race in the Jug. Nevertheless, he wasn't there and Niatross was. SBSW was managed as well as a great horse might be. But some of we purists might be inclined to take a couple of brownie points off his resume. A horse who might have been as great at a given point in time and doesn't get the credit for being so was Sonsam. His Meadowlands Pace performance just might have been the greatest single race that I've ever seen. There are so many different criteria in play here. There are horses who were great at 2, but not at 3. There were others that really didn't come into their own until 3. Then there are those who absolutely dominated as an older horse as Bulldog Hanover is doing this year. His four-race winning streak in three weeks at The Meadowlands was beyond belief."

Q: Name me in order the five best drivers that you've seen.

"That's tough. There are so many of them. Nevertheless here they are: 1. John Campbell. 2. Buddy Gilmour. 3. Tim Tetrick. 4. Herve Filion. 5. Mike Lachance. Ronnie Pierce absolutely belongs on that list, but I just couldn't find a place for him. I'll have to settle for him being also eligible number one."

Q: How about trainers?

"Rather than give you the dominant ones like the Burkes, the Alagnas and the Taktors. I'll name some who have fantastic credentials but somehow get lost in most conversations — Jimmy Campbell, George Teague, Dr Ian Moore, John Bax and Joe Holloway. They neither buy nor train that many, but they have had more success than most trainers who have had more with which to begin."

Q: Let's talk about who are the best handicappers that you have been around.

"Just the fact that these four have survived for decades and are still doing it seemingly well means a lot. Trying to bet horses to make a living just might be one of the most humbling experiences that can be found. There are a few others who have migrated to the runners that are still in action is also meaningful. In alphabetical order the ones that I've thought were the best — Andy Berg, my still best friend Joe Giaquinto, Glenn Goller and Les Stark."

Q: What is it you like the most about harness racing?

"I guess just the fact that is often unpredictable is part of its appeal. You can always dream about that future champion."

THE ART OF BREEDING

with ALAN LEAVITT

Help is on the way

by Alan Leavitt

For the first time in at least 10 years, Helpisontheway has displaced Swan For All as the leading money winning trotting sire of 2-year-olds in the Indiana Sire Stakes. Not that the new boy in town doesn't still have a ways to go before he matches Swan For All's sireing feats that gave us Hannelore Hanover 1:49.2 and over $3 million in earnings and millionaire and Breeders Crown winner Fiftydallarbill. Helpisontheway still just has his first crop of 2-year-olds at the track, so we can only guess at how high is up.

Contrary to my expressed belief that a colt's 2-year-old season is the best indicator of his future sire potential, Helpisontheway was at best mediocre at 2. He eked out $36,388 in eight undistinguished starts with one win and one third. I can't find whatever record he took in his one win, but I doubt that he broke any speed limits doing it.

At 3, it was a different story. In 16 starts at 3 he scored nine wins and five seconds, and won $574,058 for his trainer, Linda Toscano. He mopped up the New York Sire Stakes, from the boonies to the Yonkers final, plus finishing second in open competition in the Yonkers Trot and the Carl Erskine.

He went into the stud at Maple Lane Farms, in Grabill, IN where he met with a warm reception. In his first year standing there he bred 118 mares and got 74 registered foals. While one swallow doesn't make a summer, from what we've seen so far his future looks bright.

Looking at Help's 5 generation pedigree is personally painful, as I'm forced to admit in a minute. For the basics, Help is sired by the ill-named Chapter Seven, and out of Porque, a fast mare who earned over a quarter of a million dollars, by Plesac.

Chapter Seven is by Windsong's Legacy, a Hambletonian winner who sired only three crops before his untimely death at Perretti Farm. From those three crops he gave us the leading trotting sire of the present day, and also the millionaire trotting star Lucky Chucky. Had he lived, one can only imagine what his contributions might have been.

Help's great grandsire on the top line, or Tail Male, was Conway Hall, bred by Meg and me, on up to Garland Lobell, whom I bred at Lana Lobell, although it wasn't totally by design.

Garland's dam, Gamin Lobell, was the result of some clever yearling shopping by Jim Harrison, who was running Lana Lobell for me. He picked up on the fact that just before the 1972 yearling sale at Harrisburg, Hanover had bailed on their sire Ayres, selling him off to darkest Italy. But three years before, Jim Simpson, who was running the Shoe Farms, still had faith in Ayers, who had been a great Triple Crown winner for him when he was still training and driving.

As a result, Ayres had been bred to some of the good Hanover trotting mares, and the result was some delicious trotting fillies in the '74 sale. Jim and I bought five of them, and the highest priced one, at $9,300, was Genya Hanover, the dam of Gamin Lobell.

Gamin Lobell was by Speedy Crown, and what she sold for as a yearling is lost in time. But by the time she was 4, she had taken a record of 2:05 and earned $43,338. And she was then owned by a guy from Illinois who convinced me that I couldn't live without her, so I wound up calling Harrison to tell him we now owned Gamin Lobell again, and oh yes, please send this guy a check for $20,000.

Never a believer that cogent thoughts and a mild tone were the best means of human communication, Harrison almost succeeded in breaking his telephone again when he slammed it down after screaming at me for buying a mare by Speedy Crown when we were standing both Speedy and his great son, Speedy Somolli.

In Harrison's defense, two years as a tail gunner on a Marauder bomber during the Second World War could do a lot to rub out some of the accepted finer points of human relationships.

So when we sat down to book our mares that fall and we came to Gamin Lobell, Harrison, as usual, had the answer in ABC Freight, who served as a kind of mascot to our big guns, Speedy Crown and Speedy Somolli.

But ABC Freight had great sire credentials, although at the time we didn't realize how great. At 2 he won the only big money 2-year-old trotting stakes, at Roosevelt, then went to the brand new Meadowlands and whipped an aged field of fast class trotters in 2:00.4, then flew to Hollywood Park where Joe O'Brien time trialed him in 1:56.4, setting new world record by over two seconds.

ABC Freight didn't come back at 3, which we thought then was the defining year for a future stallion, and he wound up at Lana Lobell on a lease. In retrospect, we should have promoted him much harder and bred more of our mares to him. Hindsight is always 20-20.

So that's how Garland Lobell came to be. He fetched up on a farm in Quebec, where he caught my eye because he always was one of the leading percentage sires, despite standing, as it seemed to me, slightly south of the eternally snow-capped steppes of Russia.

So that's Help's Tail-Male line. On the bottom, the dam's side of the pedigree, Help's second dam is Hornby Michelle, whom I remember and weep. I bought her as a young broodmare in foal to a horse I can't even remember now, but I liked him and it was because of the foal she was carrying that I wanted her.

The ink was barely dry on the check I wrote for her when she aborted. There went all the reason I wanted her. We did keep her around for one breeding season, when I shunted her off to a horse who stood here only briefly, Incredible Abe, and then I sent her through the Delaware sale, and Joe Thomson was smart enough to buy her. She's been a good producer for Winbak, which includes Porque, who won over a quarter of a million dollars and then gave the world in general, and Indiana in particular, Helpisontheway.

It's great work if you can get it, and if you get it, won't you tell me how?

The Meadowlands' origin story is compelling

by Bob Heyden

Happy 46th Birthday (on Sept. 1) to The Meadowlands, the track that changed everything.

The decade from 1976-1985 was without any argument the greatest in the sports history.

But, what about the decade prior to The Big M's opening? Here's a closer look at that adventurous 10 years.

From Hoof Beats: "Night harness racing has now been approved for New Jersey and reports are even stronger that a new domed $50 million harness palace will be the result. Sire of the proposed "Trotterdome" would be on an 800-acre piece of meadowlands that straddles both North Bergen and Secaucus."

Remember that as of this year 1966 only Freehold had a New Jersey harness racing license and the maximum allowed was four (both standardbred and thoroughbreds).

From Hoof Beats: "New Jersey paved the way, on October 3, 1967, for their entry into the big time night harness field as the State Racing Commission approved the application of Jersey Downs to build a $20 million track on the Secaucus meadows, about 10 minutes from Times Square. A 100 night summer meeting will be held at the Secaucus track, hopefully by 1969. The track will be built and run by Jersey Downs Inc., a combine headed by Thomas. F. Lynch, executive vice president of Yonkers Raceway. Lynch has stated he will resign that post. The new Secaucus track will be 5/8ths and will accommodate 30,000 fans and 9,200 cars. There will be stalls for 1,000 horses. Lynch has predicted the New Jersey plant will be "the finest in the nation."

You can see things were indeed brewing early on.

It wasn't until 1972 that Governor Cahill of New Jersey had real plans for a complex — one with a 76,000 football stadium to house the NY Giants, too. Quite important is the fact that the 1972 proposal, unlike those prior, did not require voter approval of a referendum. Special legislation was proposed and passed to circumvent the constitutional requirement.

One of the last obstacles before construction began was when the State Supreme Court ruled that the project would not "adversely affect the environment."

Happy 46th Birthday (on Sept. 1) to The Meadowlands, the track that changed everything. The decade from 1976-1985 was without any argument the greatest in the sports history. But, what about the decade prior to The Big M's opening? Here's a closer look at that adventurous 10 years.

WHERE CHAMPIONS ARE MADE

Anthony Abbatiello, the president of the SBOANJ, was entirely influential right from the get-go. He worked with Jack Krumpe, executive director of the New Jersey Sports And Exposition Authority. "I have seen the future and it is close." This was early 1975 – vintage Tony.

"The concrete pilings from the bottomless marshlands of Hackensack began blossoming with steel, LOTS of steel. Already able-bodied men are lining up for the chance to ram the rivets. It's spooky how even the Recession has come to the aid of the New Jersey Sports Authority and its super-duper-ultra modern plush Complex." So said Charlie Leerhsen in his March 1975 column in Hoof Beats, "Jersey Arrives"

It was a $294 million project funded by bonds. The New York banks initially all got together and later figured it wasn't in their best interests at all. They were the original grandfathers (sponsors) to the project, supposedly. The sports complex was on-again-off-again for sure.

Several factors evolved to more or less kill – or try to – any advancement or progress in New Jersey. Traffic was a major concern in the very concentrated area. New York racing interests were involved. Phil Iselin, president of Monmouth Park, filed suit questioning the constitutionality of the act authorizing the New Jersey Sports Authority. Eugene Mori, president of Garden State Park, reminded everyone that the Lincoln Tunnel would be jammed and that bond financing risky. Robert Levy, president of Atlantic City, decried unfair competition and suggested that if the state was going to run a new track it should buy up all existing tracks in the state. John Lindsay, Mayor of New York City, said he would fix up Yankee Stadium and find a new football team, but David Sonny Werblin, the father of the Meadowlands, if ever there was one, said that the plant was to be an architectural wonder in the Meadowlands – with escalators.

But Brendan Byrne was then the New Jersey Governor and he was all for it. The Meadowlands and the New Jersey Sports & Exposition Authority was about to happen.

John Higgins, the executive secretary of the New Jersey Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association, and Anthony Abbatiello were all on hand to sign the historic bill which legislated purses for the very first time for the state's harness tracks at a substantial increase. The new bill allowed for the highest purse structure in the country when the track opened in October, ahead of schedule

There was even a film from pre-opening called "New Jersey: A Growing Garden For The Harness Horse" (Remember the thoroughbreds did not race at The Big M in year one. They kicked off in 1977).

The management bought lots and lots of advertising. The George Washington Bridge was CLOSED so that Tony Abbatiello could drive a horse across, symbolizing big time racing coming to The Garden State.

Bill Kolm, the Meadowlands' director of advertising, "We wanted to locate the track in people's minds. Once we felt we had done that, we set out to sell the place as an exciting evening out of entertainment. We wanted to appeal to the young suburban couples who were not regular racegoers but who were looking for some place to have a good time."

Phil Dunn, former manager of marketing services for Fasig-Tipton Company, was brought on board. He was the first director of administration and an assistant to Bob Quigley, who was on board two years prior to the opening. Take your pick between Quigley and racing secretary Joe DeFrank as to who was the biggest influence early on and you'd be right either way. Clyde Miles was hired as the director of the racing properties. He had been track superintendent at Laurel for two decades. Property you say? That is saying something. The Meadowlands was 588 acres.

Sam Anzalone was a 13-year Yonkers Raceway publicity maven. At 41, he was appointed public relations director at Bridgeport Hai-Lai, but eventually made his way to East Rutherford along with Allen Gutterman. A PR duo second to none. Pete Wagar was the starter and in year one, combined, he started an incredible 4,322 races

But back to Gutterman. Look at what Leerhsen had to say about Gutterman in those formative days, "Allen is one of those rare birds. He scours the plant looking for good stories and then getting them on paper in a way that has consistently satisfied the editors of the nation's largest newspapers. Gutterman hates being rejected or even rewritten – and avoids those indignities by choosing his subjects wisely and describing them well."

Not much looks like it did in 1976. But the Meadowlands is still the mecca. The base, the foundation, the trunk if you will, is unequaled – before or since.

Many thanks go to a powerful-interested, totally-dedicated team that made today possible.

Bluebird Dove flying high in Indiana for Peter and Melanie Wrenn

by James Platz

Last season, Peter and Melanie Wrenn campaigned then-sophomore trotter Swingforthefences to an Indiana Sires Stakes Super Final win and divisional honors for the partnership of David McDuffee and L&L Devisser LLC. This year, the same connections return with a contender in 3-year-old Bluebird Dove, a five-time winner in 2022. The filly leads a trio from the Wrenn Stable battling in a very competitive division at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino.

"She's been very good. She's just a classy type filly," said Peter, who also steers the sophomore. "Everything about her. She's fun to drive and she's got a lot going for her. She's pretty fancy."

A $60,000 yearling purchase out of the Hoosier Classic sale, Bluebird Dove was unknown to Indiana racing fans when she debuted at Hoosier Park this spring. As a freshman, the daughter of Swan For All—Goosebump Hanover nearly qualified before the Wrenns opted to turn her out after consulting with her owners.

"She went through some issues. We thought she was a very talented filly. She came up with some colt soreness and what not. I went with her probably until almost June. I was real close to stepping forward with her and I made the decision," Peter said. "It was a group effort between the owners. We were real patient on her and they trust our judgment that she showed us enough ability. Sometimes it works and sometimes it doesn't. In this situation it seemed to work."

The veteran horseman witnessed Bluebird Dove's potential when he qualified the trotter at Pompano Park. Her first time behind the gate she made two breaks but managed to trot the mile in 2:03.2. She returned to win a week later in a gate-to-wire effort, finishing seven lengths in front and stopping the clock in 1:58.1.

"When I qualified her at Pompano, that showed me what I thought she was," he said.

The filly made her pari-mutuel debut in mid-April at Hoosier Park. Racing over a surface rated sloppy due to rain, Bluebird Dove made a break in the stretch while second. Although she was the second filly to cross under the wire, judges placed her fifth after an inquiry. The sophomore rebounded from her miscue to break her maiden the next week, capturing the $18,000 final of the Mya Tri Series, held April 20, in 1:56.2.

Peter dropped the filly in the Msnaughtbynature Series next and she suffered two narrow defeats, the first by a neck in 1:53.3

Dean Gillette

and the second by a nose in a time of 1:54.2. In the second defeat, Bluebird Dove trotted home in :26.2 to nearly collar Luv Lorelei at the wire.

"We skipped the final because I thought the 3-year-old fillies were too far ahead for the time of year," Peter said.

The decision provided Peter with 19 days of preparation leading into the first leg of Indiana Sires Stakes action. Sent off as the second choice to favored Luv Lorelei in a $47,000 division, Bluebird Dove sat in the pocket before overtaking the leader in the stretch to win by half a length. She stopped the clock in 1:53.2. The trotter has since added victories in legs two and five – establishing a 1:52.3 lifetime mark in the process – as well as scoring a Grand Circuit win at the Indiana State Fair. From 10 starts, the Daryl Miller-bred filly has posted a 5-2-1 record with $105,256 in earnings, all while still relatively green.

“She’s pretty mature in the race,” Peter said. “She’s awful fun to race. She’s done everything so far.”

Bluebird Dove will attempt to collect a third consecutive win Monday (Sept. 5) at Harrah’s Hoosier Park in the sixth leg of Indiana Sires Stakes. She lines up in post two for the 11th race on the program, a $92,500 contest. The event has attracted a field of nine, including the undefeated M-M’s Dream and the Robert Taylor-trained tandem of Luv Lorelei and Jusmakinyalook.

“It’s very good group of horses. Any one of them could step forward,” he said. “There’s not one filly in there you wouldn’t like to have. They are all good fillies.”

The field also includes two more from the Wrenn barn. Fleurie, one of the top fillies in the division last season as a freshman, has hit the board in seven of eight starts in 2022 with two wins to her credit. She has drawn post five and will be driven by Mike Oosting, who sat behind the Muscle Massive filly several times last year when Peter was sidelined with an injury. She earned just shy of $205,000 for breeder and owner M T Pockets Stables in 2021.

“We were able to get Mike, so we stuck with him again this year. He’s done a great job with her, as always,” Peter said of the pairing. “She was a hell of a 2-year-old and she’s coming back really good now. Just in these last few starts she has come around. She could surprise everybody in another couple weeks because she almost did last start. She’s really stepping up.”

Rounding out the Wrenn trifecta is Swan Trixie, a Swan For All 3-year-old that moved to the barn last fall. In 11 seasonal starts, the trotter has registered three wins and hit the board in all but three attempts, banking $57,070 for S&R Racing Stables and Louis Willinger.

“They sent her to me in November of last year when I went to Florida. She had a good winter and she’s a beautiful filly. She has also stepped forward,” Peter said.

He has guided Swan Trixie in each of her previous starts this year, but with three fillies in the race, he will hand the lines to Atlee Bender. Peter will steer Bluebird Dove in what looks to be an ultra-competitive affair.

“When I first broke her she was probably my favorite filly, so I kind of stuck with her. There’s not much separation between all of them,” he said.

Six Indiana Sires Stakes divisions for sophomore trotters and pacers highlight Hoosier Park’s special Labor Day card. The 14-race program kicks off at 6:15 p.m. on Monday.

A tale of two catalog pages

by Trey Nosrac

Information is the oil of the 21st century, and analytics is the combustion engine.

Each page in a yearling sales catalog tells a story, a true story, a story of interest, and, unfortunately, a somewhat short story. We love these stories and appreciate they are set down and shared through the ages.

Paper catalogs are great. However, space and time limitations on a paper page impede sharing of fuller stories. In a digital world, we no longer need to abridge, edit, or condense the stories to fit on a single page. Many of us still harbor unease with the development of alternate information-sharing methods. But time marches on, and paper will soon be passe.

Stories of yearlings and their families are necessary for customers and are fun to read. The sales season with the release of the catalogs is the most enjoyable part of the year for many. The open question is how we will tell the stories in a digital world where space is not an obstacle.

I prefer to read any story in chronological order, especially a family saga. I enjoy learning about the family members (yearlings) NOT listed on the traditional sales page. I also enjoy discovering minutia. With these thoughts in mind, I redesigned two paragraphs of a page from a recently released catalog. The editing took time. Tracking down the additional data was laborious and required a few phone calls. Accessing the data costs money, as it should because the information has value.

The revised two paragraphs of this story are substantially different than the one a customer will find in their catalog. They are now chronological, more extended, and would push other data from a single printed page. The revised entries include horses that did not race or did not race well. They are simple facts, not fiction or impressions. They use data such as horses that did not qualify for racing, birth order, sales results, veterinarian reports, and exported horses. This little prototype is merely a model. There could be other criteria for longer stories when the end of a page does not exist.

Imagine a world where a sales catalog page does not need to be limited by space. You will not need much imagination because we live in such a world. You are the reader. One-page stories on paper, or longer stories in pixels without boundaries? That is the question.

Connections hope to toast PASS title with Designer Drink

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

After shaking off a spate of bad luck and getting his first win a week ago, Designer Drink can be the toast of the town this weekend by making it a double in Sunday's (Sept. 4) $252,000 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship for 2-year-old male trotters at Harrah's Philadelphia.

Designer Drink last week recorded the second-fastest winning mile of the season for a 2-year-old trotter on a five-eighths-mile track when he captured a division of the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows in 1:55 with Tim Tetrick in the sulky. The triumph helped lift Designer Drink into the upper echelon of the series standings and qualify for the championship.

The gelding, trained by Symon Spicer, debuted with a second-place finish behind Once In A Lifetime — who is Sunday's 2-1 morning-line PASS favorite — in a conditioned race on June 29, then went into the sire stakes and finished fifth, fifth, and fourth as he was hampered by two outside posts and a thrown shoe.

"Everyone that's driven him has said he's a nice horse, he's just had no luck," Spicer said. "Finally, he got in a good spot and Timmy let him rip and he showed what he's got. He won easily. He went up the inside (from third) and was gone."

Designer Drink is a son of Bar Hopping-Designable owned by Eli Beiler's Keystone Stable. He was purchased privately and has earned $54,233.

"He's nice to drive, and he's got some speed," Spicer said. "I love the Bar Hoppings. I think they're really nice horses. He's a very nice horse and I think he's still on the way up."

"And Mr. Eli Beiler is the nicest guy in the world. He loves racing."

Spicer, who spent his formative years working for trainers Linda Toscano and Ron Burke, is in his second full season with his own stable. Although his 22-horse barn is populated primarily by overnight stock, this is the second time Spicer will have a 2-year-old male trotter in the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship. Last year, Kosher Mahoney finished fourth, beaten by less than a length.

In addition, Spicer will send out Drake Hanover for Beiler in Monday's $40,000 Pennsylvania Stallion Series final at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono.

"I think he's just as good (as Designer Drink)," Spicer said. "We're just taking it easy with him."

Designer Drink will start Sunday's PASS championship from post six and is the 9-2 third choice behind Once In A Lifetime and Crantini, trained by Megan Scran, at 5-2. Dexter Dunn will be in the bike for Designer Drink, with Tetrick committed to the Jim Campbell-conditioned Once In A Lifetime.

"Timmy told me after we won last week, and I understand," Spicer said. "We were lucky enough to get Dexter, so I think we're in a pretty good spot."

Harrah's Philadelphia on Sunday plays host to three additional $252,000 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championships for 2-year-olds plus four $50,000 consolations and a $40,000 #SendItIn Invitational Pace.

In the PASS final for male pacers, Annapolis Hanover, who has won seven of nine starts for trainer Mitchell York, is the 9-5 favorite. Beach Cowgirl, 3-for-3 this season for trainer Jennifer Bongiorno, is the 9-5 choice among female pacers while Ake Svanstedt-trained Bond, with three wins and two seconds in five races, gets the 9-5 nod among female trotters.

Allywag Hanover is the 8-5 favorite in the #SendItIn Invitational.

Racing begins at 12:40 p.m. (EDT) Sunday at Harrah's Philadelphia. For free TrackMaster programs for all Philly cards, visit the Pennsylvania Harness Horsemen's Association website here.

SIRES STAKES REPORT

Rollin Rosie, Queen's Reign score in Indiana Sires Stakes

by Emily Gaskin / Harrah's Hoosier Park

Indiana Sires Stakes action continued at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino on Thursday (Sept. 1) with two $68,000 divisions of Indiana Sires Stakes for the 2-year-old pacing fillies featured on the evening's 14-race card. The fillies were squaring off in the fourth round of their six-round series.

After posting an impressive debut in Indiana Sires Stakes action last week, Rollin Rosie was back in the spotlight after posting another impressive victory. With driver Jordan Ross in the bike, Rollin Rosie stopped the timer in 1:51 to establish a new lifetime best and remain undefeated in four starts this season.

Leaving from post six, Rollin Rosie wasted no time and went straight to the front to dictate early fractions of :27 and :55.

Reaching the three-quarters in 1:24, Rollin Rosie was joined on the outside by Jks Lucky Lou and Trace Tetrick and the top pair paced away from the rest of the field. Using a :27 final quarter, Rollin Rosie was able to fend off Jks Lucky Lou and Plan To Tell and Jimmy Whittemore to get the win by nearly five lengths. Sent off as the 3-5 favorite, Rollin Rosie returned $3.20 to her backers at the betting windows.

Trained by Tyler George, Rollin Rosie remains undefeated in four starts this season. The daughter of JK Endofanera—Rock N Roll Baby is owned in partnership by Scp Stables, Tyler George and Gregory Samples. With the victory, Rollin Rosie pushed her lifetime bankroll to $111,000.

In the first division, Queen's Reign and Michael Oosting pulled the 9-1 upset to score in 1:53. After leaving alertly to get position, Oosting found late racing room up the inside and Queen's Reign used a :27 final quarter and dug in gamely to track down the post-time favorite Beauty N Grace and Atlee Bender to get the win by a head. Fortunada and John DeLong rounded out the trifecta. Queen's Reign returned $21.00 at the betting windows for the win. It was a maiden breaking victory for the Ernie Gaskin trainee.

With the victory, the homebred daughter of JK Endofanera—Queen's Gold pushed her lifetime earnings to $62,250. Queen's Reign is owned by Watermark Farms LLC.

SIRES STAKES

REPORT

Savethelastdance earns new dad Gallucci OSS Gold win at Woodbine Mohawk Park

by Austin Stanton / OSS publicity

It's been a busy week for trainer Nick Gallucci. He swept the Ontario Sires Stakes Gold divisions on Sunday (Aug. 28) at Rideau Carleton Raceway, and Friday (Sept. 2) at Woodbine Mohawk Park won one of two OSS Gold divisions for freshman pacing fillies.

In between those wins, he became a dad for the first time.

"It's a lot to take in obviously," said Gallucci. "It was really special, and something we have been looking forward to for a really long time. It really opens your eyes to the big scheme of things, and I am lucky to have a really good crew at home, and they look after the day to day, and I am very grateful for them."

His partner Karoline is manning the ship at home, while Gallucci adjusts to his new routine.

"Karoline has been my backbone for the last five years in the stable, so we're missing having her," said Gallucci. "But luckily other people have stepped up to the plate and we are still getting everything we need to done, so just very lucky."

While Gallucci settles into life as a new father off the racetrack, he came into Friday hoping Savethelastdance would settle down on the racetrack.

The Bettors Delight filly struggled last week in the Eternal Camnation, fighting driver James MacDonald in a troubled trip, and spent the entire mile outside. A week prior she went off-stride in a Gold division at Grand River Raceway, but still managed to win after leaving the gate with blazing speed.

Friday, she was better behaved. MacDonald positioned her on the pylons entering the first turn, well back from the early first quarter pace of :26.1 set by Freshen Up.

"Nick did a great job with her, and he's getting her more calm every time she races," said MacDonald. "And that's making my job easier. She's got all the tools; we just want to make sure

New Image Media

Savethelastdance (James MacDonald) winning her OSS Gold for 2-year-old pacing fillies on Friday at Woodbine Mohawk Park in 1:51.4.

she's doing it the right way. You don't want to learn any bad habits early."

The pace continued to be brisk with the field pacing the half in :54.4. Savethelastdance made her move off cover from fourth position as the field passed three-quarters in 1:24.4.

Popping out four wide entering the lane she kicked home in :27.1 to win in 1:51.4 by two lengths over Illusion Seelster, who edged out Big Big Plans in a photo for second.

"It's more rage than burst. She's just so quick footed," said MacDonald. "Unfortunately, last week I was out the whole way, and I was really wrestling with her, so she didn't have that big kick. But tonight, she really finished well, and I think it's going to get better and better the more calm she gets."

Savethelastdance is a Millar Farms homebred and full sister to star sophomore Silver Label.

Silver Label was victorious at the Grand Circuit level in her freshman season, winning the Champlain Stakes. Savethelastdance will forego next week's Champlain but will have a chance to earn Grand Circuit glory when she targets the $500,000 Shes A Great Lady eliminations on Sept. 17.

"She has all the tools," said Gallucci. "It's just a matter of getting her in the right spot and getting her head on straight. I think she can give any filly in North America a run if she's on her game."

Savethelastdance paid $2.40 for the win.

Illusion Seelster earned her biggest score to date, with the second-place result for trainer Gabriella Sasso. The State Treasurer filly is owned by Martwest Racing Stable, and Jeffrey Courchesne.

Rounding out the podium was Robert McIntosh homebred Big Big Plans (All Bets Off), who now sports a record of 4-0-2 for McIntosh's co-owners Mardon Stables and Dave Boyle.

In race seven, the second OSS Gold division, another heavy favourite was victorious. Sent off at 1-5 Cheesy Smile showed strong closing speed and came home in :26.3 for the win.

Bob McClure was in the race bike, and he felt the soft early fractions of :27.3 and :57.3 set up well for his John Pentland-trained filly. With her late speed she was able to clear leader Lyons Bettorday piloted by MacDonald in the deep stretch.

"She kind of hangs at the bridle at times, so I didn't want to clear James real quick," said McClure. "Because he knows that too. If you get by one real quick, she'll come back a little bit. But John changed the bridle last week and there was none of that today."

Pentland co-owns the filly with Cindy Molyneux, Peter Charlton, and Archie Leach. The group was all smiles in the winner's circle after the race.

"This is the group you dream of owning horses with," said Pentland. "I have had wonderful owners over the years, and a lot of fun. These guys are friends. We all went to Harrisburg together last year to pick these fillies out and you can't get a better scenario."

Momentary Control passed Lyons Bettorday late to finish second with a smoking final panel of :26. Tyler Jones was in the race bike for his father Dustin. Andrea Lea Racingstables, and Colin McKenna bred and own the Control The Moment filly.

After setting a favourable first half speed Lyons Bettorday (Bettors Delight) closed in :27.1. It's the third on the board finish for the Anthony Beaton trainee at the Gold level this season. Threelyonsracing owns the filly.

Instagram Model wins again at Big M

It was three weeks ago on Hambletonian Day that Instagram Model came from off the pace to take the $355,000 Jim Doherty Memorial in a lifetime-best 1:53, so it came as no surprise when the daughter of Chapter Seven—Check Out Trixie won a $20,000 division of the Kindergarten Series for 2-year-old trotting fillies at The Meadowlands Thursday night (Sept. 1) as the mile oval kicked off an eight-card September “mini meet”.

The Annie Stoebe trainee, whose last start resulted in a dominant four-length score in New York Sire Stakes action on Aug. 19 at Vernon Downs, scored for the fourth time from just five lifetime starts after sitting a pocket trip behind Grand Fashion.

After grabbing the lead at the head of the stretch, Instagram Model went on to a 1¾-length win in 1:56 to up her win streak to three. She returned $2.40 to her backers with Andy McCarthy driving as the 1-5 public choice, and in the process, upped her lifetime bankroll to $206,575. Grand Fashion held second with Defacement third.

After the Doherty, Stoebe told DRF/Harness: “When it comes to staking any horse, I like to pick two major races that I want to win. I went with the Doherty and the [Oct. 28] Breeders Crown [at Woodbine Mohawk Park]. Her entire schedule revolves around those two races. I amazingly accomplished my first goal and the next goal is to have her ready for the Breeders Crown.”

IT TAKES TWO: Trainer Chris Ryder had a pair of winners on the night, scoring with Lisa Lane (Lazarus N—Special Kay Deo) in a Kindergarten division for 2-year-old filly pacers, and with Goldin Greatness (Huntsville—Bet On Hill) in a split for 2-year-old male pacers. Chris’ son Patrick drove Lisa Lane, giving him his first-ever win at The Meadowlands. Three-time defending Dan Patch Driver of the Year Dexter Dunn was in the bike behind Goldin Greatness.

TIM TERRIFIC: Reflecting on winning his 13,000th career race at Harrah’s Philadelphia with Sir Isaac Newton on Wednesday, Tim Tetrick told the Big M’s Jessica Otten: “It’s pretty special for a kid who thought he’d be a groom.” Tetrick, who was inducted into the Hall of Fame two years ago, won his first race with Travelin Legacy for a purse of $1,168. Since then, he’s won five Meadowlands Paces, four Driver of the Year Awards and has amassed lifetime earnings of almost $250 million.

A LITTLE MORE: Driver Todd McCarthy, last seen taking the Hambletonian with 52-1 longshot Cool Papa Bell, kept on rolling, guiding three winners on the card...All-source wagering on the nine-race program totaled $1,206,420.

Responding to Leavitt with a breeder's view on Rebuff

I own the mare Meucci Madness, dam of Rebuff, I bought the mare at the Harrisburg Sale in 2006. I was trying to buy a few good mares and, of course, a good racehorse. Trond Smedshammer and I loved the mare's confirmation. I had her down on my list of preferred pedigrees.

It is certainly exciting to have a link to Rebuff. He is exceptional and perhaps will prove to be the best son of Muscle Hill. Muscle Hill is arguably the best sire of the past decade and the best of the Valley Victory line, which helped to reshape American trotters.

I read with interest Alan Leavitt's analysis of Rebuff's breeding in the July 24th issue of HRU. I would like to offer a slightly different perspective. Alan uses the analogy of a deck of cards in which Muscle Hill seems to always give a high card for a speed gene. Meucci Madness, who he describes as an ordinary mare, somehow gave out her top speed gene. I don't believe there is a single speed gene. I expect what we call speed is the result of several genes; it is a quantitative trait. The horse has some 21,000 genes, which are located on 32 pairs of chromosomes. These 32 pairs separate independently at meiosis, the formation of egg and sperm. Mathematically that's about 4 billion possible combinations! Muscle Hill is blessed with a stacked deck of speed genes so many of his sperm have a 'winning hand.'

Meucci Madness's dam, Margarita Miss, produced Rum Boogie ($900,908) when bred to Valley Victory. That shows that the dam had a good selection of 'high cards' in her genotype and perhaps an affinity for Valley Victory. In fact Rum Boogie was the sixth highest money winning offspring of Valley Victory. Meucci Madness was sired by Yankee Glide, a very good Valley Victory son. She was also inbred 3x3 to Speedy Crown — in the middle of the pedigree. Valley Victory had a strong affinity for Speedy Crown mares as is very evident in looking at his progeny. That doesn't mean you can breed to just anything with Speedy Crown — he had plenty of duds too. The Speedy Crown sires have to be strong individuals. Meucci's Speedy Crown blood is as a grandfather of Yankee Glide and Margarita Miss.

I bred the mare badly the first three years: SJ's Caviar, Malabar Man, and Kadabra — nothing wrong with these three sires and two of the fillies have done well in Europe, but I intended to breed to the best Valley Victory line sire. Instead I was cutting financial corners and bred to horses where I had a share or an inexpensive breeding. This is usually a mistake.

In 2012 I sent Meucci Madness to Hunterton Farms to foal share with Steve Stewart. Steve and I decided to try Lucky Chucky. Nobody knew then that he wasn't going to be a great sire, but it did line up a 3x4 cross to Valley Victory in the middle of the pedigree, so I thought there was some potential. We got Non Stick ($587,890) the 2nd best money winner from Lucky Chucky. For two years we tried Explosive Matter. Again, not the best decision, but I had a share! I think the two fillies from these breedings are going to show up as good producers.

We finally bred to Muscle Hill in 2017 and 2018. The 2017 colt, Junto, had lots of potential but encountered a few problems. Next was Rebuff. The formula we followed was the best of the Valley Victory line, Muscle Hill on a very good mare, inbred to Speedy Crown.

I think that formula greatly increases your chances for an outstanding horse. The rest is luck.
