Lindy The Great upsets Manchego and Atlanta in Maple Leaf Trot

Driver James MacDonald scores his first Maple Leaf Trot victory.

by Chris Lomon for Woodbine communications

Ontario

Lindy The Great pulled off a mild 7-1 upset in another star-stacked edition of the $546,000 Maple Leaf Trot in 1:51.3 on Saturday night (Sept. 4) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The 7-year-old was sharp off the gate, as James MacDonald guided the son of Crazy—Highscore Kemp over to the rail heading into the first turn. It was 2019 Hambletonian champ Forbidden Trade who took early control of the race, as Beads tracked in second. Trotting titans Atlanta and Manchego sat in fourth and seventh, respectively, after an opening quarter in :27-flat and a half timed in :55.2.

Beads broke stride just before the final turn for home and Manchego soon followed, opening up the door for Forbidden Trade, looking to draw away from to draw from his rivals, and the duo of Atlanta and Lindy The Great, each taking aim at the leader, to take their shots at netting top prize.

It was Lindy The Great who would prevail, besting a stubborn Forbidden Trade by 1 ¼-lengths. Perfetto, who drew in with the scratch of Play Trix On Me, finished third at 141-1, while Hypnotic, at 101-1, was fourth. (replay here)

MacDonald, in the midst of a career year, was thrilled to see the Julie Miller trainee back in the winner's circle after a pair of runner-up efforts and a trio of third-place performances in his past five starts ahead of the Maple Leaf Trot.

"I don't even know what to say. It's just been an incredible year. Tonight, I thought I had a good shot. I needed a perfect trip and I needed everything to go right, but he's just such a good horse and he's just missed so many times this year."

On a picture-perfect night at Woodbine Mohawk, Lindy The Great was finally able to strike gold.

"I know what I was telling myself, 'Just take your time. Don't step on the wheel.' He felt like he was just going to erupt when I moved him. I got a pretty clean trip. I was loaded with trot. No one was coming on the outside and I got to take my time. I knew Bob (driver, McClure, in rein to Forbidden Trade) had a good lead, but I was so full. Halfway down the lane I said, 'Well, maybe he isn't getting there,'

Allywag Hanover asserts authority in Canadian Pacing Derby score

by Ray Cotolo for Woodbine Communications

Driver Todd McCarthy showed he demanded respect with 6-5 favorite Allywag Hanover as he took the lead, retook the lead and left his competition in his dust to win his first race in Canada, the $590,000 Canadian Pacing Derby Final, on Saturday (Sept. 4) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

A $40,000 supplement to the Canadian Pacing Derby, Allywag Hanover, trained by Brett Pelling, was sent off as the even-money favorite in the field of 10.

Leaving from post 7, McCarthy made the lead with the 4-year-old Captaintreacherous—Anderosa Hanover gelding to a :26.3 first quarter before yielding control to Catch The Fire moving for the backstretch. Midway up the backside, McCarthy circled Allywag Hanover back to the lead to pocket Catch The Fire to a :54.3 half while the backfield waited for a covered flow to develop.

With a line of horses waiting for cover, Cattlewash had room to rush first over into the final turn and challenge Allywag Hanover to three-quarters in 1:22. His challenge promptly proved futile off the corner as Allywag Hanover hustled clear of the field, striding under wraps to a 2-3/4-length victory in 1:49 over Catch The Fire. This Is The Plan rode the pylons to finish third and Cattlewash faded to fourth. (replay here)

Allywag Hanover was bred by Hanover Shoe Farms. "He's just been terrific," McCarthy said. "I was lucky enough to pick him up at the right time, and Brett's got him razor sharp right now. It was a big thing to come here, and to supplement certainly wasn't cheap."

McCarthy's victory was his first on Canadian soil from just his second drive, which came earlier on the card with Peaky Sneaky in the Roses Are Red final. McCarthy moved to the United States from Australia after many years as one of the leading drivers of the nation.

"It's very surreal," McCarthy said. "I'm thankful for the opportunity to be here under the circumstances."

Owned by Allywag Stable, Allywag Hanover collected his seventh win from 14 starts this season and his 15th from 36 overall, earning $895,945.

Lyons Sentinel in full bloom in Roses Are Red

by Chris Lomon for Woodbine communications

Lyons Sentinel made it four straight scores after taking all the spoils in the $316,000 Roses Are Red final on Saturday evening (Sept. 4) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The 4-year-old Captaintreacherous mare, bred by Hanover Shoe Farms Inc., and owned by Three Lyons Racing, was once again at the top of her game.

Lyons Sentinel was placed mid-pack early on by Tim Tetrick, as Scott Zeron piloted Rocknificent to the front, taking the 12-horse field through opening fractions of :26.2 and :55.4.

Tetrick kept a patient hand after plenty of movement along the backstretch, guiding the 3-5 choice to the outside flow and taking aim at the pacesetting Rocknificent.

Lyons Sentinel was in full flight as the field straightened for home and began to pick off her rivals with ease, coasting home a comfortable length and a half winner in a time of 1:49.1. (replay here)

Tetrick, who claimed his sixth Roses Are Red Crown, heaped praise upon the Jim King, Jr. trainee.

"She's only 4 and competing at a very high level and she's a different kind of horse than those two (champions Androvette and Shartin N). But I'll tell you what, she's finding a better spot in my heart every day.

"I was a little worried at the half, :55 and a piece to the half. It was pretty slow for these, but luckily my mare was really good

Bulldog Hanover, Perfect Sting capture Pepsi North America Cup eliminations

by Mark McKelvie / Woodbine communications

The field for the 38th Pepsi North America Cup is set following a pair of eliminations on Saturday night (Sept. 4) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Bulldog Hanover and Perfect Sting captured Saturday's $50,000 eliminations, earning their connections the right to select their post position for next Saturday's $1 million final.

Bulldog Hanover overcame a wicked third-quarter duel with Rockyroad Hanover to power by his rival in the lane and score a 1:49 victory in the first elimination. Jody Jamieson guided the Jack Darling trainee to victory.

Rockyroad Hanover and Dexter Dunn got full control early, posting comfortable fractions of :27.3 and :56.3. Sitting fifth, Jamieson angled Bulldog Hanover out at three-eighths and the 1-5 favorite rushed up alongside Rockyroad Hanover. The pacers hooked up for a wild :26.1 third-quarter.

Bulldog Hanover flexed his muscles in the stretch by pushing on by his rival and powering home, impressively wrapped up, to take the victory. Desperate Man rallied to grab second, beat a length, while Rockyroad Hanover settled for third.

Southwind Gendry and Bettor Sun completed the top-five to advance to next week's final.

"I just think he's the best horse on the continent," said Jamieson

I didn't even ask him to pace going to the half he just took off and when I called on him at the head of the lane he kicked into another gear again, I don't even know what gear it was, he's just an amazing horse."

Perfect Sting battled back in a final-quarter sprint to defeat Whichwaytothebeach in the second elimination. David Miller took his usual position behind the Joe Holloway trainee.

Sitting third at the opening-quarter, Perfect Sting brushed to the lead in the second-quarter, taking the field by the half in :55.4. Whichwaytothebeach popped the two-hole approaching three-quarters, which Perfect Sting hit in 1:24.

In the stretch, Whichwaytothebeach took a short lead with an eighth of a mile remaining, but Perfect Sting displayed tremendous heart to battle back and win by three-quarters of a length in 1:49.4.

Abuckabett Hanover was third, while Simon Says Hanover and Jimmy Connor B completed the top-five.

Perfect Sting, who was undefeated in 10 starts as a rookie, the tables Saturday.

"Well that's what we had been hoping for," said trainer Holloway. "He had not done that since he raced the older horses and dug deep that night and then he's been there, nobody is going tougher trips, he's being consistent, I think we've got beat a total of about 12 feet, but he just lets them get by and tonight he dug back in.

"David (Miller) and I had talked about it and we made a bridle change and we had some earplugs in with holes in the bridle and pulled it out when (Whichwaytothebeach) was next to him, so I think that helped."

A son of Always B Miki, Perfect Sting now has four wins in nine starts this season and pushed his career numbers to 14 wins and over $1 million in earnings. He is owned by breeder Brittany Farms and Val D'Or Farms.

Miller is a two-time winner of the 'Cup', scoring victories in 2016 with Betting Line and 2017 with Fear The Dragon. Holloway won the 'Cup' in 1992 with Safely Kept.

Hot Mess Express, Fire Start Hanover star in Fan Hanover splits

by Chris Lomon for Woodbine communications

Sophomore pacing fillies shone in a pair of Fan Hanover eliminations on Saturday evening's (Sept. 4) stakes-filled showcase at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

A group of 13 3-year-old pacing fillies were split into a pair of $35,000 eliminations. The top-five finishers from each advanced to next week's $425,000 final.

Hot Mess Express lived up to her favoritism in the first elimination, pacing the mile in 1:50.3.

The Tony Alagna trainee and driver Andrew McCarthy had to put in some work to grab the early lead, but struck front just after the first turn and led the field through an opening quarter in :27.2. The pair was still comfortably in control through a half in :56-flat.

The daughter of Panther Hanover held a half-length advantage after three-quarters and widened her lead to 1 ½-lengths at the stretch call. Scarlett Hanover loomed a threat to the outside in the late going, but Hot Mess Express responded and went on to claim a 2 ½-length victory. (replay here)

Owned by Samuel Bowie, the filly had her seven-race win streak come to an end with a sixth-place finish in the James M. Lynch Memorial on Aug. 21.

On this night, Hot Mess Express was back at the top of her game. "She was good enough tonight, for sure," said McCarthy. "I know there's a little bit more improvement there. She's a great horse and I'm sure if she had to go :49 tonight, she would have went :49. I feel like there's got to be a little step up next week too.

"She's beautiful. She's really nice to drive. She prefers a bigger track and she got over this Mohawk surface great. She just does what she has to. When 'Scarlet' came, she picked the bit up and she got moving. I got the earplugs out and I just wanted to make sure she got enough work into her for next week. She busted home pretty good."

Hot Mess Express is now eight for nine this season. In all, she's won 12 of 18 starts.

Sent off at 1-5, she returned $2.40 for the victory.

In the second elimination, Fire Start Hanover, with Dexter Dunn in the sulky, rallied impressively to pick up her third win of 2021.

Sent on her way as the 2-5 choice, Fire Start Hanover got away last in the field of six, with Voelz Delight seizing command, leading the way through an opening quarter in :27.2, before Twin B Sunkissed took over and carved out a half in :56.2. As the field rounded the turn for home, Dunn had the daughter of Somebeachsomewhere ready to pounce, and the pair began to hit their best stride.

Second at the stretch call, Fire Start Hanover, trained by Richard "Nifty" Norman, tracked down leader Notorious Pink and then easily fended off runner-up Voelz Delight, to notch a 1 ½-length victory in a time of 1:51. (replay here)

Dunn didn't mind having to wrestle with his charge in the initial stages of the race.

"It was probably a good thing," Dunn said. "She's obviously a classy filly, but when she's like that, she's back to feeling really good. Her races lately have been great, but she hasn't been quite herself. But she was back tonight. There are a good bunch of fillies here and she's up near the top with them. She was obviously great last year and she put up some good miles this year. Really, tonight, the way she felt, I was really pleased."

One of racing's top drivers was also pleased to be back at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

"I love this place. I love coming here to race and I love seeing everybody. Great hosts... you put on a great show. It's a pleasure to be here. I'm looking forward to coming back the next few Saturdays."

Owned by Pinske Stables, David Hoese and Lawrence Means, Fire Start Hanover, bred by Hanover Shoe Farms, now has 11 wins from 20 career starts.

She paid $2.80 for the win.

Here is the field for the Fan Hanover final:

Fashion Frenzie, Locatelli take Goodtimes eliminations

by Ray Cotolo for Woodbine Communications

Woodbine Mohawk Park played host to a pair of $30,000 eliminations for the Goodtimes – an event for trotting sophomores – on a stakes-laden card Saturday (Sept. 4), with the elims going by way of Fashion Frenzie and Locatelli.

Fashion Frenzie floated to the lead from post 6 and had everything his own way on the front as the Archangel gelding strolled to a 1:53.2 victory in the first elimination of the Goodtimes. (replay here)

Driver Louis-Philippe Roy sent the Richard Moreau trainee for the point with Logan Park landing into second and On A Streak protecting position from the pylons into third. Dancinginthedark M, the 4-5 favorite, raced fourth moving past a :28.2 first quarter and stayed put until Colonial As It pulled off the pegs approaching a :58 half.

Flushed first over, Dancinginthedark M ranged closer to Fashion Frenzie rounding the final turn and loomed up to the tempo-setter's wheel passing three-quarters in 1:26.2. But the calm fractions turned the stretch drive to a final-quarter sprint, giving Fashion Frenzie the edge on the lead as he kept Dancinginthedark M at bay to the beam with Logan Park giving chase from third. Ritson rallied for fourth while On A Streak completes the finalists.

"[It was] a short field there – I was kind of looking for the two horse, Tim [Tetrick and Dancinginthedark M] to come back," Roy said after the race. "I don't know what happened in the first half, but after the first half in :58 they would have needed horse to sprint really fast to get by. He was kind of game up front then. My horse just responded pretty well. I'm very high on him. Like I said in the last interview with him [after winning the Gold on Aug. 23] – he used to be pretty tricky in the post parade and kind of a hot trotter, and now he's getting more and more nice."

A winner in four of eight starts this season and in nine of 15 overall, Fashion Frenzie has banked $409,765. Richard Moreau trains the $5.80 winner for owners Ecurie Francis Richard Inc., Mario Bourgea, Pierre Guillemette and Sylvain Richard.

Locatelli lunged for the lead late as 1-5 favorite Sonofamistery went on a gallop to take the second Goodtimes elimination in 1:53.2. (replay here)

Publicity Seeker powered to the lead with Warrawee Whisper settling into second and Sonofamistery into third moving to a :27.4 first quarter. Sonofamistery then swept off the pegs to the top into the backstretch and led the field by the half in :56.4, the point where driver Andrew McCarthy got underway with Locatelli.

Sonofamistery cruised around the final turn chased by Publicity Seeker while Locatelli made slight gains to three-quarters in 1:25.2. Publicity Seeker crept out of the pocket at the bottom of the turn to challenge Sonofamistery into the stretch and drew to equal terms as Locatelli came calling three wide into the eighth pole. Sonofamistery suddenly broke stride to the pylons coming to the final yards while Locatelli had the momentum and strolled by to beat Publicity Seeker at the line. Warrawee Whisper took third with Tokyo Seelster and Macho Martini completing the top five.

"We've had some hard luck. It's not really his fault – there's a couple of breaks on his program there, but really wasn't his fault," McCarthy said after the race. "I kind of run him up into a blindswitch in the Hambletonian and kind of got interfered with at Pocono. But he's definitely had enough trot and I thought he would be good tonight. I wanted to get myself into a spot where I could either move him to the front or be first over and just have a nice smooth trip. I finally just let him do his thing out there and once I got him straightened up, I got the earplugs out and he marched right on."

Winning his third race from 11 starts this season and his fourth from 20 overall, Locatelli has banked $163,848 for owners John Fielding, Steve Heimbecker and Black Horse Racing. Nancy Takter conditions the Muscle Hill gelding who paid $12.20 to win.

By winning their eliminations, Fashion Frenzie and Locatelli have earned the privilege of picking their post positions for the $240,000 Goodtimes final, one of many stakes events complementing the $1,000,000 Pepsi North America Cup next Saturday (Sept. 11).

Big efforts in Wellwood and Peaceful Way eliminations

by Mark McKelvie / Woodbine communications

Rookie trotters battled Thursday evening (Sept. 2) at Woodbine Mohawk Park to determine the participants for the rich William Wellwood Memorial and Peaceful Way finals.

A total of three eliminations for the Wellwood and two for the Peaceful Way were contested.

Duly Resolved nicely held off Letsdoit S to win the first Wellwood elimination for driver Paul MacDonell and trainer John Bax. The gelded son of Resolve went off as the 2-1 second choice and avenged his first career loss from a week ago.

Posting fractions of :27.4, :58 and 1:27.4, Duly Resolved showed the way and felt pressure from Letsdoit S, who pulled the two-hole approaching three-quarters. Duly Resolve would not give in during the final-quarter stretch duel, sprinting home in :27.2 for the victory of a neck in a career-best 1:55.1. (replay here)

Esplione, who made an early break, recovered to finish third, while Drinks At Home was fourth.

Duly Resolved improved to five for six with the elimination score. The Bax trainee has now earned $158,509 for owners Bax Stable, Dave Hudson, Don Allensen and Gaelic Stable.

A $2 win ticket on Duly Resolved returned $6.20.

Venerable (David Miller) improved her perfect record to six for six with an impressive 1:54.2 score in the first Peaceful Way elimination.

Periculum shot up the inside to defeat heavy-favorite King Of The North in the second elimination for driver Doug McNair and trainer Marcus Melander.

After leading early, Periculum was shuffled back to third, while King Of The North led to the half in :56.4 and 1:26.3. Drifting out in the lane, King Of The North surrendered the lead in the stretch to the inside rallying Periculum. The margin of victory for the career-best 1:54.3 mile was three-quarters of a length. (replay here)

Pretender finished third, while Twin B Archie was fourth.

A son of Muscle Hill, Periculum broke his maiden in style with Thursday's victory. The Melander trainee has now earned $30,000 for owners Holly Lane Stud East, Brixton Medical and Howard Taylor.

A $2 win ticket on Periculum returned $15.20.

Temporal Hanover edged by World At War Deo to take the final Wellwood elimination, giving McNair and Melander a double on the card.

World At War Deo did the work on the front, posting clips of :28, :57.3 and 1:26.3. Angling from the two-hole going to three-quarters, Temporal Hanover would win the stretch battle over World At War Deo by a neck in 1:55.1. (replay here)

Southwind Domino finished third, while Safe Conduct was fourth.

A son of Walner, Temporal Hanover is now four for seven following his elimination score. The Melander student has now earned $129,087 for owners Amg Stable, Kenneth Kjellgren, Rick Wahlstedt and Heights Stable.

A $2 win ticket on Temporal Hanover returned $4.20.

The top-three finishers from each Wellwood elimination qualified for the final. A single fourth-place finisher, drawn by lot, advanced to the final. Twin B Archie won the draw and will race in the $640,000 final.

The winner of the William Wellwood Memorial will receive a free slot in the 2021 Mohawk Million.

Venerable improved her perfect record to six for six with an impressive 1:54.2 score in the first Peaceful Way elimination. David Miller took his usual spot behind the Richard 'Nifty' Norman trainee.

Dabra Day did the road work, posting fractions of :27.3, :57 and 1:25.4, while on a loose lead. After getting away fourth, Venerable was moved to the outside onto cover heading towards three-quarters. In the stretch, Venerable stormed by her rivals with powerful strides to win by 5 ¾ lengths in 1:54.2.

Dabra was second, while Samosa, Pocahontas and Missy Trix completed the top-five to advance to the $392,000 final.

A daughter of Walner, Venerable's six for six record includes victories in the New Jersey Sires Stakes final, Jim Doherty Memorial and a leg of the Kentucky Sires Stakes. The Norman trainee has now earned $315,255 for owners David McDuffee, Melvin Hartman, Paul Bordogna and Steven Arnold.

A $2 win ticket on Venerable returned $2.10.

Even-money choice Adare Castle captured the second Peaceful Way elimination for driver James MacDonald and trainer Mark Etsell.

Looping to the top from second, Adare Castle took the lead racing to the half and posted clips of :58.4 and 1:27.3 before trotting home in :28.1 to secure the career-best victory in 1:55.1 over a rallying American Beauty. Peyton Hanover was third, while

Amazone Duharas, HP Mama B take Casual Breeze splits

by Mark McKelvie / Woodbine communications

Grand Circuit action continued Friday evening (Sept. 3) at Woodbine Mohawk Park with the Casual Breeze for 3-year-old trotting fillies.

A pair of $75,400 divisions were contested with seven-horse fields in each.

The opening division saw Amazone Duharas power by Hawaii in the final strides to win the first division for driver Louis Philippe Roy and trainer Denis Gueriel.

Sent off at 5-1, Amazone Duharas shot out to the early lead, posting a :27.4 opener, before Hawaii looped around to grab command. The new leader posted fractions of :57.2 and 1:25.4. In the stretch, Hawaii got a bit of separation on her two-hole challenger, but Amazone Duharas was in full flight late to muscle by for a victory of a length in 1:53.4. (replay here)

Dicentra was third, while You Will Be Queen was fourth.

A daughter of Muscle Hill, Amazone Duharas was making her first stakes appearance of the season after winning two of six starts early this year. The Casual Breeze score gives her three wins and $78,080 earned for Haras De L'Estrée Inc.

"I'm stabled at the same barn as Denis Gueriel and they've done a pretty good job with her," said Roy. "Earlier in the season she

A $2 win ticket on Amazone Duharas returned $13.60.

HP Mama B posted a coast-to-coast 1:53.4 victory in the second division for driver Sylvain Filion and trainer Ben Baillargeon. (replay here)

A first-turn break by top contender Donna Soprano left the favorite HP Mama B in full control. Filion posted a snappy opening-quarter of :26.3 before getting a second-quarter breather in :30.3. HP Mama B took the field to three-quarters in 1:26 and then trotted home in :27.4 to win comfortably by a length and quarter over Imextraspécial.

Up And Ready was third, while Dashing Muscle was fourth.

The Ontario Sires Stakes star HP Mama B has now won three starts in a row to improve her three-year-old record to five for eight. The daughter of Royalty For Life now sports career numbers of 10 wins and $333,987 earned for owners Guylaine Picard and Celine Paquin.

"Shes a pretty decent mare, she's a nice mare," said Baillargeon, who also bred the filly. "She's big and strong and she trained real good this week and I told Sylvain before the race 'she's strong, she's good' and he got the job done... had to leave :26.3 and then Sylvain did the rest and when he asked her to go she went, :27.4 at the end."

Dreamonhigh fastest freshman trotter ever at The Meadows after PASS championship win

by Evan Pattak for The Meadows
Standardbred Owners Association

Dreamonhigh became the fastest freshman trotter ever at The Meadows – regardless of gender – when she blazed a 1:54 mile to capture Friday's (Sept. 3) $253,000 Pennsylvania Sires Stake (PASS) championship for 2-year-old filly trotters.

The Meadows played host to all four PASS championships for 2-year-olds, with True Blue Lindy, S I P and Captain Cowgirl also winning finals. Tim Tetrick collected a pair of titles with True Blue Lindy and Captain Cowgirl.

Dreamonhigh was away third for Joe Bongiorno, who made an alert quarter-pole move to the top that kept several contenders, including 2-5 favorite Mon Cheval, parked. The strategy was flawless, as the daughter of Andover Hall—Rich Dream drew off late to triumph by 4-1/2 lengths. Although Mon Cheval never saw the pylons, she was good enough for second, with Tie One On third.

"Sometimes from the inside here it's hard to get them off on the right foot," Bongiorno said. "I wasn't about to rush her. I know she's fast enough, and I think she prefers being off a helmet. So I gave her that chance today, and she proved to be real tough.

"She's always had the tools; it's a matter of keeping her mind right. She wants to get a little aggressive, but she did her job today."

Jennifer Bongiorno trains Dreamonhigh, who kicked up her bankroll to $219,191, for KAT Stables. Her time eclipsed the 1:54.1 track record for colts held by Captain Corey and Sister

S I P (Yannick Gingras) won the PASS final for 2-year-old trotting colts in 1:55.2.

Sledge's 1:54.1 mark for fillies. (Real Cool Sam is the fastest gelding at 1:54.4). The time also lowered the 1:54.4 stake record established by Frau Blucher in 2012.

Highlights of the other PASS finals:

$254,000 PASS Championship – Pacing Colts & Geldings

Trainer Jeff Cullipher and Tom Pollack of Pollack Racing purchased the budding Canadian star True Blue Lindy less than three weeks ago. In his first two U.S. starts, he won the final PASS preliminary leg and Friday's final – but he was all out to claim the title.

When Tetrick sent him on a first-over move, the Always B Miki—Think Pink gelding easily cleared the weary, previously undefeated I Did It Myway, who suffered a demanding trip from post 9. But when True Blue Lindy moved, he tugged along Wearinmysixshooter, who peeled wide for a serious challenge in the stretch. True Blue Lindy dug deep and turned him back by a neck in 1:52.1, while Fourevery Boy earned show.

"After watching all the video before we purchased him we thought he was that kind of a fighter," Cullipher said. "That's what makes a good horse. We look like we know what we're doing."

Cullipher indicated he's unsure of the next race for True Blue Lindy, who now boasts a bankroll of $262,510.

$253,000 PASS Championship – Trotting Colts & Geldings

S I P hadn't started from inside post 7 in his last four starts, so he figured to be much better from post 4, right? He was, but not without adventures, as Yannick Gingras had to steer him through tight quarters both early in the mile and late before S I P could knife inside and prevail in 1:55.2, a neck better than Parola Hanover. Global Pandemic overcame post 9 to finish third.

"He finally drew better this week, and Yannick put him in a perfect spot that allowed him to get through late," said Ron Burke, who conditions the son of Bar Hopping-Barbara Brooks for Burke Racing Stable, Hatfield Stables, Brixton Medical Inc. and Weaver Brussemi LLC.

S I P, who's ticketed for Kentucky Sires Stake action at Lexington, not only extended his career earnings to $258,932, but he also matched the stake record held jointly by Dontyouforgetit and Alexander Hanover. Gingras was aboard for all three record-sharing performances. Asked if he "owns" this event, Gingras joked: "Talk to me after next year's race."

$253,000 PASS Championship – Pacing Fillies

This final had its share of drama. As Hit Me Up rallied through the Lightning Lane and gained on Captain Cowgirl, the pair hit the wire together and appeared all but inseparable. However, the judges' lengthy examination of the photo revealed that Captain Cowgirl was a nose ahead in 1:52.2. Somesweetsomewhere completed the ticket.

Tetrick, who owns the daughter of Captaintreachorous—Rideintothesunset with Jo Ann Looney King and Kenneth Frieder, said that ownership role makes the filly's success – she's won five of six career outings – particularly sweet.

"It's special when you get to own a few. Luckily, they let me buy in on her," Tetrick said. "It was tight today, but I did think I held on to the wire. A step after the wire, he got me."

Winning trainer Jim King, Jr. said Captain Cowgirl would race next in the Keystone Classic at The Meadows.

"This place has been pretty kind to us, so why not?" King said.

The $50,000 PASS consolations went to Caviart Scout (colt and gelding pace), Andoverthewinnings (colt and gelding trot), Hood Party (filly pace) and Danznqueen Hanover (filly trot).

Favorites prevail on PASS 3-year-old championship day at Pocono

by PHHA / Pocono

The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono was proud to play host to some of the sport's most talented sophomores on Saturday (Sept. 4) in the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes (PASS) Championships for 3-year-olds, along with their respective consolations. Each of the Championship races went for $253,000; the consolation fields contested $50,000; the total purses for the day were $1,294,100.

It proved to be a good day for the favorites, as each of the four most highly-regarded Championship horses got their picture taken in Victory Lane afterwards.

Here's a recap of each of the four divisions:

3-year-old colt trot

Jujubee, a 1:49.4 winner on Hambletonian Day, stormed to the easiest of victories despite not racing since that sub-1:50 mile, going solidly in the stretch to win by 4 1/4 lengths in 1:51.4, lowering the 1:52.3 Championship record established by Amigo Volo at Philly last year.

Andrew McCarthy picked up the drive behind the Creatine colt,

Curtis Salonick

Hambletonian Oaks winner Bella Bellini (Dexter Dunn), wore down leading You Ato Dream late to win her divisional Championship in 1:53.

Curtis Salonick

the 4-5 favorite, and he moved him out from third after a :26.2 quarter to get the top before the :55.1 half. The three-quarters came and went in 1:23.1, and nobody could present a serious threat in the latter stages to Jujubee, who now has earnings of $300,107 for owner Jon Erdner. The winner was the point-leader during his PASS preliminaries.

Trainer Greg Wright Jr. said, "I didn't have this horse last year, and he wasn't staked to anything. But training him I could tell that his #1 quality was desire – there just was no end to him. We had to supplement to these Sire Stakes, and he can be supplemented to the Breeders Crown I believe, but after that we'll be looking for races for him."

Consolation: Captain Corey won here on Sires Championship Day last year, and he won here on Sires Championship Day this year – but this year he won his Consolation, as he had only a win and a break in the prelims he did enter and did not earn enough points for the final. In this Consolation, trainer/driver Åke Svanstedt made a quarter-move past stablemate Fly Light and was in charge from there, with his huge strides propelling him through a :27.2 last quarter far clear of his foes. The ownership of S R F Stable, Knutsson Trotting, Midnight Sun Partners, and Svanstedt saw their star son of Googoo Gaagaa boost his earnings to a North America-leading $758,695 this year and $1,090,333 lifetime. Oh, his winning time? 1:51.4, equal to that of Jujubee; the Captain just might have a contender for his divisional throne.

3-year-old filly trot

Hambletonian Oaks winner Bella Bellini, benefiting from a heady drive from Dexter Dunn, wore down leading You Ato Dream late to win her divisional Championship in 1:53.

Starting from the outside post nine, the daughter of Bar Hopping went up to grab a 4-tuck for Dunn, with Flawless Country (the 2020 champion) and Lady Chaos arguing past a :27.1 quarter. Even though Lady Chaos could back the half off to :56.4, You Ato Dream was soon rushing at her and going past her at the 5/8, towing up Bella Bellini and then leaving her coverless and attacking before and past the 1:23.4 three-quarters.

In a stretch battle between the co-leading preliminary point-winners, You Ato Dream held her ground gamely, but Bella Bellini was not to be denied and slowly got by in the latter stages, winning by three-quarters of a length, with Lady Chaos staying on for third, another 1¼ lengths back.

"Post nine is never good, but it worked out," Dunn said after the race. "Actually, I followed You Ato Dream, and when she cleared I thought of trying to get my filly to the top, but when she didn't clear I hoped it hadn't taken too much out of her. She showed her class in the stretch."

The 6-5 favorite has now won eight of 13 times this year, with her lifetime earnings going to $514,448. Nifty Norman conditions the fabulous filly for owner David McDuffee, and she certainly is the one to beat in the fall classic stakes.

Consolation: The Cantab Hall filly May Karp won her division's PASS consolation for the second straight year, blitzing home in :56.1 - :28 to be a going-away winner in 1:54. Tim Tetrick drove the winner, sent off as the heaviest-possible kind of favorite, as she raised her bankroll to $221,396 for trainer Lucas Wallin and Shermay Stables.

3-year-old colt pace

Southwind Gendry and Perfect Sting chose to go elsewhere? No problem for the Burke Brigade, as its Sweet Lou colt Lou's Pearlman won the glamour division's PASS Championship in 1:49.4.

Lou's Pearlman, sent off at 3-5, was looped out of the gate by early rushers, with Yannick Gingras guiding his horse to the lead midway between the :26.2 quarter and the :54.3 half. Billy Clyde made a strong challenge to the 1:22.1 three-quarters, and he wouldn't go away in the stretch, but Lou's Pearlman had a bit more in reserve and held off his gritty foe by 1 3/4 lengths, with the same distance between Billy Clyde and third-place finisher (and 50-1 shot) Gamblin Mo.

"This colt has been in good form lately, and he seems to be doing well on Lasix (on which he has won two straight)," said Gingras. Indeed, before the medication addition, he had won twice at The Meadowlands in June, with last quarters of :25.4 and :26.1, so obviously he has the talent to be a major factor for Burke Racing Stable LLC, Weaver Brussemi LLC, Elizabeth Novak, and Howard Taylor. Lou's Pearlman took his mark of 1:47.4 at The Meadowlands earlier this year, and now sports a bankroll of $423,681.

Consolation: The Somebeachsomewhere colt Somewhereinverona, the 2020 Stallion Series champion in this group, added another trophy to his collection with a 1:50.4 victory. Pocono's top driver George Napolitano Jr. shot the sophomore out to the lead, was shuffled after lead changes and still came back first-over, then grinded down odds-on pacesetter Water Sports Teen by 1 1/4 lengths, coming his own back half in :54.2 for trainer Jessica Dowse and owners Petitpas Stables LTD, Ozzie MacKay, Blake MacIntosh, and Gilles Landry.

3-year-old filly pace

The Always B Miki filly Grace Hill continued in a sterling string of form in her Championship, recording her fourth straight triumph over top-level competition in 1:50.2 to give owner Tom Hill his second straight trophy in this division, after Party Girl Hill last year.

Grace Hill used track geometry to maximum advantage from the rail, keeping Blue Diamond Eyes parked past a slick :26.2 quarter, then moved back to the top for driver Todd McCarthy by a demanding :54.1 half. The 2-5 chalk absorbed backstretch pressure from points leader Mikala to the 1:22 three-quarters, and then her main opposition to the wire came from Blue Diamond Eyes in the Pocono Pike and 32-1 shot Milieu Hanover charging from third-over. But Grace Hill held her ground to win by a half-length over Blue Diamond Eyes, who in turn pictured out Milieu Hanover for the deuce.

"Fillies sometimes hit a patch of good form, and that's the case with Grace Hill right now," said trainer Nifty Norman after taking both of the filly Championships. "Also, notice that she has been drawing very well recently – that and her speed have combined to really help her work out top trips." The fine journeys have helped Grace Hill run her bankroll to $620,855, with no signs of growth stopping soon.

Consolation: Beach Crazy made the lead before the quarter and led every step of the way from there, but the daughter of Somebeachsomewhere had to dig down deep to ward off potential pocket rocket Capsaicin in the Pocono Pike by a nose, lowering her mark a tick to 1:51.3. Todd McCarthy kept the winner alive to the wire to put her over six figures in lifetime earnings for trainer Stacy Chiodo and the partnership of Jeffrey Shore, Robert Barr, and Chiodo Racing LLC.

The Carmine Fusco Memorial Pace was held during the card, in tribute to the horseman whose family was devastated by COVID at the very outbreak of the pandemic. Carmine won three training titles at The Downs, and his 177 victories here in 2007 is still the local seasonal standard. The $16,000 mid-card event was won by Regal Son, and after the race many family and friends of Carmine came to the winners circle in fond remembrance for a presentation.

Winning Ticket (Aaron Merriman, show winning an Ohio Sires Stakes test on May 3 at Miami Valley) is the expected favorite in tonight's Ohio Sires Stakes final for 3-year-old trotting colts.

Beaver looks for 'Super' Sunday night

Trainer/co-owner has three morning line favorites in the $2.4 million Ohio Sires Stakes finals.

by Jay Wolf

Chris Beaver has had big nights racing in the state of Ohio and tonight (Sept. 5), the conditioner/co-owner has the morning line favorite in three events during the $2.4 million Ohio Super Night at MGM Northfield Park.

The Radnor, OH- based trainer has 11 entries in the four Ohio Sire Stakes (OHSS) trot finals, headlined by a four-horse entry in the 3-year-old colt event – Panzano (9-1; Post #2), Perron (7-1; Post #4), Winning Ticket (8-5; Post #6) and Spyder The Striker (10-1; Post 8).

Winning Ticket is undefeated, a perfect nine-for-nine, and has earned $189,500 this season. The Triumphant Caviar-Lotto Winner colt has 13 wins in 17 career starts.

Beaver co-owns the former $4,000 yearling purchase with Steven Zeelandar, Tim Homan and Jim Burnett.

Despite the marginal post draw, Beaver remains confident in Winning Ticket and driver Aaron Merriman.

"Post #6 is fine. I just hope everything goes clean and nothing stupid happens. He should be good," Beaver said.

In the $300,000 freshman colt trot, Beaver will send out the top three morning line choices – Caviar Gold (5-2; Post 1), Gabby's Bit Coin (3-1; Post 7) and The Mighty Hill (4-1; Post #4).

Caviar Gold (Aaron Merriman) and Gabby's Bit Coin (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) each won the first two OHSS legs before the trainer gave them the third leg off.

"They were coming off a couple of hard miles (Ohio State Fair and OHSS second leg). They would have had to race another hard mile and I didn't think would be good for them at all," said Beaver.

"Everything is about the final. It goes for so much more than the legs. My goal is to have them as good as we can for the final."

Both colts returned for the fourth and final OHSS leg on Aug. 21 at Eldorado Scioto Downs, where they both suffered their first defeats of the season with a second-place finish.

They now sport identical records of 3-1-0 in four starts and $74,000 in earnings.

Caviar Gold is owned by Beaver, Zeehandelaar, Bill Manges and Leo Fleming. Gabby's Bit Coin is co-owned by Beaver and his mother, Johanna, who bred the Uncle Peter-Gabbysloosechange gelding.

The third Beaver entry is The Mighty Hill (Brett Miller), who started the season in the second level Buckeye Stallion Series, but after the What The Hill gelding established a new MGM Northfield Park track record 1:56.3 in his first seasonal start, found himself in OHSS action.

The Mighty Hill has secured four wins and $63,485 for co-owners Beaver, Donald Robinson and the VIP Internet Stable.

Beaver will send the top three seasonal points earners – Gabbys C Note (2-1; Post 1), Caviar Roxie Due (7-2; Post 5) and Stephanie Hill (25-1; Post 8) – in the 2-year-old filly trot.

Gabbys C Note (Aaron Merriman) is four-for-five on the season, with three OHSS leg wins. The Triumphant Caviar lass is co-owned by Beaver, Zeehandelaar and breeder Johanna Beaver.

Caviar Roxie Due (Brett Miller) won the first three OHSS legs, allowing Beaver the luxury to give the filly the final leg off.

"It was kind of the same strategy. She was securely in the final, so I elected to skip that final leg," said Beaver.

"Roxie is kind of a sore filly. I had to keep her together a little bit this year. I didn't want to get her hurt in the last leg, right before the rich final."

Caviar Roxie Due, whose only loss was in the Ohio State Fair Stakes on Aug. 5, was a $14,000 yearling purchase by Beaver, Zeehandelaar, Homan and the VIP Internet Stable.

Ozma (6-1; Post #2) is Beaver's only entry in the sophomore filly event.

The Triumphant Caviar-Evanora lass is co-owned by Beaver and breeder Sandra Burnett. She has been bouncing between racing in OHSS action and at the county fairs.

"It's been a tough division," said Beaver. "There are three or four that are hard to beat in there."

"Where she drew, she could pick up a good piece of it. Somebody is going to do out of there and get the trip they need, but she could pick up the pieces and get a decent check in there. She's kind of a (1):54 trotter on her best day, so she doesn't rank with the best ones in there."

Ozma has been on the board in 11 of 17 seasonal starts and earned $72,338.

"She has managed to make money in just about every start this year. She's had a good season."

Winning Ticket is not the only undefeated Ohio bred in Ohio Super Night action, the 2-year-old colt pacer Gulf Shores (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) looks for his fifth career win in the freshman colt pace.

The Downbytheseaside colt is trained by Brian Brown and has earned $101,500 for the Country Club Acres, Diamond Creek Racing and the Wingfield Brothers.

Charlie May (Brett Miller) and Heart Of Chewbacca (Chris Page) will renew their rivalry in the 3-year-old colt pace.

"Charlie' has gotten the best of 'Chewy' in their last three head-to-head matches and scored a big win on Wednesday when the post positions were drawn. Charlie May will leave from post 2 and Heart Of Chewbacca will be in the outside post #8.

Charlie May won the $300,000 Carl Milstein Memorial on August 14 in 1:48.4 over this same MGM Northfield Park oval.

The 16-race Ohio Super Night card will get underway at 6 p.m.

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Big performances at Vincennes

by Thomas Hedlund

Paris track Vincennes offered a nice race card on Saturday afternoon (Sept. 4), where two high-staked Criterium races were on the menu.

The $237,500 Criterium des 4 ans for 4-year-olds saw an upset winner in Yannick Henry-trained Hastronaute (Booster Winner), who came to the lead in the hands of Mathieu Abrivard and in front, Hastronaute defended himself strongly when attacks were made from the outside during the race's last half mile. From the pocket, Hanna des Molles got out and tried a serious challenge towards the leader, but Hastronaute couldn't be reached and the upset was confirmed. A strong mile rate of 1:55.2 over 1.7 miles was noted, which was equal mark as the previous stakes record, performed by Ennino du Pommereux in 2018.

In the $237,500 Criterium des 5 ans, Love You son Galius impressed from the lead among some of the best 5-year-olds in France. Yoann Lebourgeois sent Séverine Raimond's chestnut to the lead a kilometer into the 3,000 meter long race and in that position, Galius was too tough to beat, even if big upset (115-1) and runner up Gangster du Wallon got really close at the wire via a strong finish far outside.

Mile rate over 1.9 miles was 1:57.2.

Philippe Allaire dominated in two big races for 3-year-olds at Vincennes. In the $118,750 Prix Victor Regis, Allaire's Italiano Vero (Ready Cash) sprinted home in a mile rate of 1:56.1 over 1.3 miles from the lead. In the $118,750 Prix Uranie for 3-year-old fillies, Allaire noted a win for Ivensong (Ready Cash), who did the hard work three wide during the race's last 600 meters and just ahead of the wire Ivensong had the victory in her hands as first over trotter I Love You was disarmed. The mile rate over 1.3 miles was 1:55.4.

Martin Langels / ALN

Timo Nurmos-trained Calgary Games, paired with Jorma Kontio, has won six out of six so far in his career and is one of the favorites to win the Swedish Derby this afternoon.

Korpi dominated in Helsinki

The $305,000 Derby for 4-year-olds in Finland was on the schedule at Verno racetrack on Saturday afternoon (Sept. 4) and the prestigious race became a big success for Finnish champion trainer Pekka Korpi.

Korpi sent his Magical Princess (Maharajah) to the lead after 200 meters and held the opponents behind her without problems over the stretch.

An-Dorra finished strongly three wide during the last half mile but couldn't reach the leader who came home in 1:58.3 over 1.6 miles. Magical Princess has dominated big among the Finnish bred 4-year-olds and this was her 10th victory in 13 attempts in 2021. Korpi claimed his fifth sulky win in the Finnish Derby. His first win came in 1977, the last prior to Saturday's triumph came in 2020 with Mascate Match.

The $75,000 Finnish Championship was held at Verno racetrack in Helsinki, Finland on the same race card and Korpi sat behind the winner American Hero (Express Duo), who disarmed leader and stablemate Run For Royalty after a perfect pocket trip.

Five-year-old American Hero won in mile rate 1:56.3 over 1.3 miles and noted his 13th win in 32 starts.

Nurmos in perfect position

Timo Nurmos had no luck with first choice Sahara Jaeburn in the Finnish Derby on Saturday afternoon, but the Finnish born trainer is in favorite position as both the $930,000 Swedish Derby and $465,000 Derby for mares are on today's (Sept. 5) card at Jägersro.

Nurmos managed to claim three out of six elimination heats for the Swedish Derby and his probable best shot in the final is undefeated talent Calgary Games (Ready Express). Nurmos' other elimination winners are Henry Flyer Sisú and Chiru.

In the Derby for mares, Nurmos has Hoboken Am (Muscle Hill), who impressed a lot from the lead in her elimination and it wouldn't be a big surprise if Timo Nurmos returns to the office with two big trophies tonight.

Gordon Banks on his dual-hemisphere racing operation and what racing must do to stave off extinction

by Murray Brown

Gordon Banks, together with his cousin and partner Marc Hanover might be the people with the greatest involvement in racing in North America that also have a racing operation in Australia and New Zealand. In Banks' words "Racing in both areas is in trouble, in some places for the same reasons and in some for very different ones."

But to quote the former racing writer for the Philadelphia Daily News Jack Kiser, "but don't get me wrong, I love harness racing."

Banks was fairly late to get to the game.

He was born in New York City. His mom Janice is Austrian. His father Russell, American. He describes his upbringing as ideal under the best parents imaginable.

He attended Trinity prep school in the City and then graduated from Amherst College. While at Trinity, he was on the same tennis team as John McEnroe.

"I wasn't John McEnroe, but I was pretty good," Banks said.

All dreams of becoming a world class tennis player were put to rest after sustaining numerous shoulder injuries while in school.

"I never fully recovered from them," he said.

After school, he became an attorney and joined the law firm of Lord, Day & Lord, one of the oldest firms in New York.

While there, he was "head hunted" and then trained in numerous business operations. He became the president of Enviro Spray systems. He also was the president of GVC Venture Corporations and a partner in numerous private venture companies.

His specialty involved resurrecting distressed companies that were at death's door.

"We were able to do so with several and then sell them for substantial profit. It was very rewarding, but very hard work. I lived and worked in Antwerp Belgium for quite some time and also traveled the globe. Over a period of time, I'd periodically become worn out and returned to the homeland for some R and R. While back here, I met a former fraternity brother who had become a harness trainer. He convinced me to buy a horse for him to train and race.

"I was 29 years old. I was reasonably well set financially. I said to myself, 'Why not?' We claimed a pacer named Stonegate Cadence. He promptly won five in a row for us. As many others before and after me have said 'This is an easy game.' I was to discover differently.

"My cousin Marc and me have since owned hundreds of horses and have had them in several stables with mixed success and some joy, that is until we met and became owners in the Linda Toscano stable. Since then it has been mostly terrific."

Let's begin with Linda. Tell me about your time with her.

"Linda is a gem. In terms of gems, I'd describe her as being the Hope Diamond. If all trainers were like Linda Toscano and her husband Brad McNinch, I am certain that we would have more owners than we do today. If I were asked to describe Linda in one word, the word I would use would be 'family.' In addition to being a masterful horse person, she is perhaps more importantly a great people person. She runs a great operation, has an incredible work ethic and perhaps just as importantly has a great deal of common sense. Most of her owners have been with her forever. Once you land in the Toscano-McNinch Stable, there is a good chance that as long as you are in the business, this is where you are going to remain. She treats all of her owners with the greatest degree of honesty and respect. She is the same way with all of her employees, most of whom have been with her for a long time. I'll go so far as to say that if Linda left the business, that there is a good chance that Marc and I and probably many of her other owners would follow."

You and Marc have followed a different path than most other owners. It's a rarity to find owners racing and breeding horses in North America and in the Southern Hemisphere. How did the Down Under involvement come about?

"We had met John Curtin, who was looking to bring some Down Under horses to race here. John was interested in brokering a deal to import Presidential Ball to stand stud in New Zealand.

He encouraged us to become involved. Looking back, it was a very risky thing in which to become involved. We knew next to nothing about the breeding business. We knew, but didn't appreciate the degree that Presidential Ball had not met expectations while standing in the stud here. Nevertheless, we foolishly went along with the deal. Then we got lucky. From being considered as somewhat of a failure, PB rose from the dead. After the deal was consummated, he turned his lack of success around and was the second leading sire of 3-year-olds in North America. He was reborn. We had our own Lazarus. PB then went on to have a very successful stud career in the Southern Hemisphere. Of all the horses we have owned, Presidential Ball is the one from which we have earned the greatest financial benefit."

You mention at one time your horse holdings numbered in the neighborhood of 100.

"It was crazy. It had got out of control. The racing end was our main business. But we now found ourselves in the breeding business owning 35 broodmares. We had the same problem that many people who both breed and race have. We could not sell our yearlings well. People were of the opinion that we were offering only the ones that for one reason or another were considered our culls. This wasn't necessarily so, but perception certainly was reality. We had to make a choice. Our choice was to be involved in racing. We are no longer, if we ever were, commercial market breeders."

This year has been a very successful one for you, both in North America and especially, abroad.

"Actually the last several years have been quite successful. One great horse can make a big difference in any stable. This year, we have in our ownership the great 4-year-old pacing mare Amazing Dream, who is a multiple Grade One winner in Australia. She has won nine Grade One stakes. She has more than once taken on the boys and whipped them as she has done with older competition. She might be our once in a lifetime horse. As much as she has accomplished, I don't believe we have yet seen her best. Presently, we plan to bring her stateside this winter. The plan is to see whether she is capable of taking on the best here in North America as she has done in Australia. The cherry on the sundae is that we own her in partnership with friends and fellow owners in the Toscano-McNinch stable Richard Gutnick, Tom Pontone and Joe Lozito Jr, who are also our partners in the outstanding trotting filly Lady Chaos and this year's top New York filly Bare My Soul. Prior to Amazing Dream, we owned the Australian champion Major Don. This year we have the 3-year-olds Spock and American Dealer in Australia. We believe that they've shown enough for us to think they could become champions."

Some horses brought here do exceptionally well, others not near as well. How do you explain that?

"It's quite simple. Horses, as are people, are different. Some can adjust to new environments, others cannot. It has been the same way with horses exported for breeding purposes. Some adjust quite well. Others do not and in some instances have become sick and occasionally have died.”

How would you explain the differences between racing in Australia and New Zealand?

“Australian racing is quite similar to ours. Speed is the biggest factor. Horses are raced very aggressively, usually over a distance of a mile or thereabouts. Other than the big events, the overnights are similar to what we find over here.

“In New Zealand things are a whole lot more relaxed. The distances are varied. The way the horses are raced does not require near the emphasis on speed as in Australia and here. Horses generally last longer and are probably appreciated more.”

What can we learn from the folks Down Under?

“I don't know that we can learn it. But racing in general has more of a fun atmosphere than it does here. There is lots more emphasis on the gambling, the food and drink available at the racetrack and the fun to be had there. Whereas here it seems to be all about winning which is fine. But a happy medium would probably be better.”

What is wrong with their racing?

“Several things: 1. Horses are penalized for being successful. Once they reach a certain level, they hardly are lowered in class. We all know that horses change over time. However, down there, once a horse goes on a downswing, there is no way it can be lowered in class to the degree that it remains competitive. Thus, one of the main reasons why so many of their horses are brought over here. They have reached their “Peter Principle” status – a level where they can no longer be competitive.

“2. Similar to here, they have a shortage of horses.

“3. The breeding industry is somewhat out of control. There have been and are stallions who end up breeding as many as 500 mares in a single season. This has resulted in an over surplus of mares by stallions such as Bettors Delight and Art Major for example. There will come, if it has not already arrived, a time where there is no place to go with these mares.

“4. They have a horrible national rating system where horses are penalized for doing well.”

How active are you in managing your horses over there?

“Extremely. We are on the phone on a daily basis. We have great people there as we do here and the lines of communication are wide open. We love it down there. Before COVID, Marc and I would visit about two or three times a year. Since COVID, we haven't been. I miss those trips.”

Gordon, this interview would be quite incomplete if I didn't mention your presence on social media and your dissatisfaction with the leadership of the United States Trotting Association. One of your successful life experiences has been in rescuing ailing businesses and leading them on the road back to success. Can the same be done with the USTA and to a larger degree with harness racing?

“Perhaps, But it would be a monumental undertaking. In order to do it, all segments of the industry, trainers, drivers, owners, racetrack management, USTA and any others would have to come together and work for the greater good for everyone. It would involve a multitude of tasks by numerous individuals.

“My major problems with USTA management involves what I believe to be their failure to reach out and unify the disparate parts of the industry and to communicate with them. They need to act for the greater good with input from the membership, not their own or what they perceive to be best. They need to be receptive of and answerable to criticism and not lock their eyes and ears to it. Their news function needs to be enhanced and not be focused on their ends – sometimes even censored. Let me give you an example. We sent out a release on Amazing Dream's accomplishments. All other news media sites published it. USTA did not. I asked them why they didn't. Their answer was, 'It wasn't interesting.'

“That wasn't interesting, yet a race in Cannes Sur Mer with no American ownership or the fact that telephone service at a fair in Ohio was down, is interesting? C'mon give me a break. I dared to be critical of the USTA, so the USTA was going to get even with me by not printing a story about a great horse that I share ownership in. How petty can they be?

“The same applies to the recent controversies over HISA (Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act). I respect the right of USTA to publish their views on the subject. Yet, I believe that they are being grossly unfair, perhaps irresponsible by refusing to publish contrasting opinions coming from their members. That in itself is beyond reprehensible.”

Where do you see us in 10 years?

“We probably will still be around, but unless something miraculous transpires, on a much smaller basis than we are today. People just love to own horses and the thrills and camaraderie that go along with it.”

THE ART OF BREEDING

with ALAN LEAVITT

Dunkin Donuts and this kid

by Alan Leavitt

I met Bill Rosenberg in 1969. It was a year after Rosenberg had gone public with Dunkin Donuts, and he was getting into harness racing in a big way. We met because Rosenberg had called Jim Harrison, who was running Lana Lobell for me, and offered him a job. Harrison said he already had a job, but, if he wanted some good advice, he should call me.

Rosenberg called, and I wound up spending a long weekend with him in his palatial home on his New Hampshire farm. It was a nice piece of property that Rosenberg had fenced with a single strand of straight wire. My first major contribution was explaining that the single wire had to be replaced with a real fence, or his stock would soon be roaming the countryside.

From that first weekend came a relationship that lasted for many years, and at one time our partnership owned over 80 mares that included the Hambletonian winner, Speedy Somolli.

Rosenberg, himself, was often a contradiction in terms. But more about that later. From our first meeting, we agreed to buy four broodmares in partnership. Three of them were, at best, good not great, but the fourth one was Canny Imp. We bought her from Dick and Helen Ricketts, who were oil people who were brought into harness racing by Ken Owen, a fellow oil man.

By the time they bought Canny Imp as a yearling from Walnut Hall, they had gone out on their own with a private trainer, Lou Huber, Jr.

Canny Imp was sired by Florican, a useful Castleton stallion, but out of the reigning world champion 2-year-old trotting filly, Impish. Impish had broken all the 2-year-old speed records one afternoon at the Red Mile when she won in straight heats for Frank Ervin in 1:58.3-1:59.2.

Canny Imp only had a record of 2:04.2, but she came with a story. As a 3-year-old she was warming up for a stakes race at the Red Mile, and at the same time one of George Alexander's yearlings was being led to pony in front of the grandstand. The two horses met on the track, Canny Imp got spooked and fell over the turf rail. That fall did enough damage to end her racing career.

I knew the story, and it didn't take an equine Einstein to recognize that the filly had a pedigree to salivate over. But, beyond all that, this kid had also heard a story about Stanley Dancer warming her up for a race when her trainer, Lou Huber, somehow didn't get there in time.

After Dancer went his last trip with her, he climbed off the bike and said, to anyone within earshot, "That's the fastest thing I ever sat behind."

Through her daughters, Canny Imp became a modern day version of a foundation mare, and her blood runs through many of today's trotting champions. And she was the first of many horses Bill Rosenberg and I came to own together.

But Rosenberg's activities in our sport were far from confined to deals with me. In 1974, I happened to be in New Zealand for the finals of their Inter Dominion Festival. Rosenberg wasn't there, but Bob McArdle was, and he had Rosenberg's ear.

I was looking for useful racehorses, and I found a few that were money-makers on the New York circuit. But the star of that particular show was a beautiful, Australian bred pacing horse named Mount Eden. He was a gifted horse, but he spent every race there in Christ Church trying to make up impossible ground after making stand-still breaks at the start.

At the time, all the Inter Dominion races were from a standing start. They were de rigueur in New Zealand because it was the only way they could accommodate fields of up to 25 horses, many of them with various distance handicaps. So, they would all take their appointed places, behind the tapes stretched across the track at whatever their assigned handicap was, and stand there until all the tapes snapped at once, and they were off.

There were some really sharp New Zealand and Australian horse trainers, but the guy who had lucked into Mount Eden wasn't one of them. I watched him every morning he trained his prize horse, and he always trained him on the trot. So, naturally, when his tape sprang, the horse would try to trot out of there, get tangled up in the hobbles, and break. By the time he finally hit pacing, the rest of the field was long gone. But he'd then put on a dazzling display of speed in a doomed attempt to catch the field.

Tube

The finale of the Mount Eden caper, as we card carrying members of the Mystery Guild Writers of America would say, was a primitive time trial on the day of the Inter Dominion Final, at Addington Race Course. I note in passing that New Zealand consists of two islands, North and South, and they're upside down from our standpoint. Although from their standpoint, we're upside down, and not just geographically; which this kid frequently agrees with.

In any case, Mount Eden paced in 1:56 in his time trial, and Bill Rosenberg bought him, through McArdle, for $600,000. That, however, was not the only horse he bought that week. A few days before the final, on McArdle's advice, he bought a gelding named Junior's Image for $30,000. Junior's Image had been a contender, but not much of a threat during the preceding legs of the Festival.

But lo and behold, after a demolition derby in which the favorites wiped each other out, it was to Junior's Image that the crowd, me included, was shouting,

"Hip, hip, hooray!"

It's a nice touch, but somehow I can't see it catching on in New Jersey.

But back to Bill Rosenberg, who suddenly found himself the owner of the winner of the biggest race in the Southern Hemisphere, the Inter Dominion final. And bought for the bargain price of only $30,000. In gratitude to the man who made this possible, Rosenberg immediately wired another $5,000 to Bob McArdle.

Alas, that story didn't end well, when the post race drug tests for Junior's Image came back very positive for some high-powered stuff. Not only did they take the race away, Junior's Image was banned from ever racing again in the Southern Hemisphere.

Which brings me to a Bill Rosenberg story that is, in its way, illustrative.

Junior's Image had found his way to Rosenberg's racing stable, and on this particular night he was racing in a $25,000 feature race at Yonkers. I was there, with four friends, at an eight-seat table on the glass, when I noticed Rosenberg and another guy being led by the M'aître D to a table in the nose-bleed zone. Since we had three empty seats, Rosenberg and his friend were invited join us.

We all had drinks and dinner. Then came the big race of the night, and Junior's Image won it. We all congratulated Bill and then our party left.

The next time I saw Rosenberg, he accused me of deliberately stiffing him with the dinner bill.

"But Bill," I said. "You had just won $12,500 with your horse."

"What's that got to do with anything?" he shot back.

Things also didn't go well with Mount Eden. The horse went through a succession of trainers, but couldn't stay sound enough to ever start in a race in North America. His final stop was with Stanley Dancer, at his training place in New Egypt. At the time, Ronnie Dancer, Stanley's son, was helping his dad, both with the training and some P.R.

One day Ronnie Dancer called Rosenberg, saying he had some good news.

"Mount Eden just broke the track record here at New Egypt," Ronnie said, "He paced in :58.4!"

"How much money did he win?" Rosenberg asked.

Shortly thereafter, Mount Eden left New Egypt to be permanently retired.

Over the years, Rosenberg and this kid enjoyed a friendship that included standing together in the winner's circle at Du Quoin after Speedy Somolli won the Hambletonian, and watching Tarport Hap beat the best male free-for-allers time after time.

And we wept together after Hap's fatal heart attack while in the lead in the feature race that night at The Meadowlands.

But looking back, one story Rosenberg told me stands out.

"I was on a flight to New York from Boston last week," Rosenberg said. "I was up front, in first class, and a friend of mine was in the back, in tourist. Just before we took off, my friend yelled up to me, 'Have a safe trip, Bill.'"

So, in this time of so much turmoil and pain, I want to say to anyone who happens to read this, "Have a safe trip, everybody."

BREAKING STRIDE

with TREY NOSRAC

In Ohio, thanks to streaming of fair races, the eyes have it

by Trey Nosrac

The Eye is the window of the human body through which it feels its way and enjoys the beauty of the world. – Leonardo da Vinci
“We can see ‘em all!”

The expanded menu of live streaming of fair racing has dramatically enriched the past two harness racing seasons for my partner and me. If you can't see your horse race, becoming involved in ownership is a long shot and staying involved is less likely.

A state fair racing circuit is always a factor when we decide to raise our hand at a yearling auction. A robust series of fair racing is our backup plan, an insurance policy from equine destitution. A solid fair racing circuit found us racing in Pennsylvania for several summers.

However, we do not live in PA. The weekly drive to distant fairgrounds was a trek that occasionally involved six hours of driving to watch a 2-year-old trotter break at the starting gate. Sometimes we traveled to watch half a race because the infield had a panoply of rides, trucks, stages that blocked our view. Once, I thought our trotter disappeared into a hot dog truck.

In the past few years, this logistical problem has found a solution in some racing states, including ours.

The Buckeye state has been a rollercoaster ride from the depths to the heights. One of the advantages to racing in Ohio is that the state offers many levels, Sires stakes racing, the Buckeye Stallion series, commercial racetracks that offer racing for young horses, and an expansive fair racing menu.

Ohio is not the only state linking owners and fans to distant fair races each year. In the year 2021, owners and friends can watch your trotter as you sip tea in Timbuktu or your pacer while you sip Port wine in Patagonia. What a great addition to our game! Kudos to all responsible.

And additional kudos to announcers and video workers who are doing an outstanding job. The quality of the feed seems to improve daily. More and more video stream presentations have guests. Last night I saw a nice historical clip about the town and the fair inserted into a streamed race program. The races are archived and available for replay. Racetracks are also providing video feeds of qualifiers.

A few weeks ago, I logged in to watch a fair race in a town I never knew existed. The announcer explained that I could access a racing program with the tap of an icon. It is not inconceivable that soon we will be able to wager fairs online. For owners, bettors, and fans, presentations keep getting better and better.

As this trend continues, and as the number of viewers increase, the obstacles to purchasing an out-of-state horse and racing in another state should lessen. While purse amounts versus competition will always be essential factors for yearling customers, the ability to see your horse race and the quality of the presentation will be a factor that should take on added significance in the coming years.

Personally, and perhaps pathetically, Trey would buy a yearling and race anywhere if the money was okay. If my eyes could follow some of the training, races, and qualifiers, I'd play in Mississippi. Heck, if I got an excellent Mississippi racehorse, I would plan a road trip to one of the few states I have not invaded.

Speaking of invading, as these windows open that allow qualifying, fair racing, and even training sessions to eyes anywhere, why can't we open those windows to other countries, virgin territories, and distant lands?

Never in the history of humankind could Ahmed in Afghanistan purchase a share of a racehorse and virtually participate. Never before could Natasha in Russia follow us on her phone.

I have a friend named Patel who hails from India. He is a quiet young guy who works on my computer. He told me recently he is returning to India. One day he visited my home to get me back online, and when he did, I babbled a bit about our sport. I showed him a rare race replay from a fair where a trotter of mine remained on stride. He watched respectfully and asked a few questions.

Now imagine if I infected Patel with the harness racing virus. When he returns to his mother country, harness racing could spread to multitudes. I don't think Patel can afford a yearling, but I am willing to wager that every country has millionaires who are bored and billionaires looking to find a new outlet. Why can't we be that outlet?

For those looking for entertainment, now, as Roger Huston belows – “They can see them All!” Well, almost all of them.

And that is a beautiful thing.

Millar Farms fillies remain perfect through fourth OSS Gold leg

Stablemates Silver Label and Prohibition Legal swept their respective $100,600 2-year-old pacing filly Gold Series divisions at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Friday (Sept. 3), the third time this season the pair have shared the spotlight and given driver James MacDonald, trainer Nick Gallucci and owner/breeder George Millar an Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) double.

"Trust me, I'm really enjoying it. I hope you call me another million times," said Millar. "It's kind of tough going into these races when both of them are undefeated, because you know at any time any horse can get beat, but it's nice to see them keeping up the streak."

Silver Label kicked things off for the Millar Farms team, storming to the front from Post 7 and leading the field of seven through fractions of :27, :56.1 and 1:24.2. Balance and I Love Ongait tried to reel in the fan favorite in the stretch, but Silver Label swept under the wire one length ahead of the challengers in a personal best 1:51.4. (replay here: Silver Label)

"As a breeder, I see her cross the finish line and I'm happy to win the $50,000, but I'm also happy to see her take a mark of 1:51 and change knowing that in a few years she'll be in the broodmare band, popping out some babies for me," said Millar, who also bred and raced Silver Label's dam Hidden Gem. "Nick (Gallucci) talked me out of breeding back her mother Hidden Gem this year, because all she had previously was Scouts Report and Franschoek, which both took marks of 1:51 or better and made a couple hundred thousand, but didn't really do any good in the stake races, and then this filly comes along. So I left her barren this year, but thank god I didn't move her."

The win was Silver Label's fifth straight. The Bettors Delight daughter opened her season with a victory in the July 6 Grassroots event at Georgian Downs and followed that up with wins in the July 18 Gold Series Leg at Georgian Downs, an Aug. 2 overnight event and the Aug. 17 Gold event, both at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Stablemate Prohibition Legal had recorded wins in all three Gold events and her Aug. 28 Eternal Camnation division heading into Friday's test, and she cruised to her fifth straight victory with a 1:52.4 front-end effort from Post 4. Fade Out and Cheryl's

Shadow were two and one-half lengths behind the favorite in second and third. (replay here: Prohibition Legal)

Prohibition Legal had been side-lined mid-summer following a bout of colic and Millar is hoping the daughter of Big Jim and Catch A Wish continues to get stronger heading into the remaining events on her calendar, which include the Shes A Great Lady, with eliminations on Sept. 18 and the final on Sept. 25, the last Gold Series event on Oct. 2 and the Oct. 16 Super Final, all at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

"This is the first week I think he (Gallucci) actually got a decent mile into her," said Millar. "They're tough races coming up that's for sure, but I said to my wife tonight, this is unbelievable to have two nice fillies like this in one class and have the bigger races coming up in September, and thinking wow, there's going to be a lot better horses come up here to race against from the Grand Circuit, but you're still going to have a shot, have a chance, which is nice. That's all you can ask for."

Although eligible to the Sept. 11 Champlain Stake, Millar said Prohibition Legal will likely skip that event in favor of the Shes A Great Lady. Silver Label's only Grand Circuit engagement is the Champlain Stakes, so she will carry the Millar Farms banner in that event provided she remains happy and healthy through the next week.

The stablemates sit first and second in the 2-year-old pacing filly Gold Series standings, Prohibition Legal with 200 points and Silver Label 150, 50 points ahead of third ranked Fade Out.

Complete results from Friday's races are available here and replays can be viewed on Woodbine Mohawk Park's YouTube channel.

On Saturday night the two-year-old pacing colts will kick off an outstanding evening of Grand Circuit competition at Woodbine Mohawk Park with a pair of $100,000 Gold Series divisions. The Gold Series colts are featured in Races 1 and 2, and will be followed by eliminations for the Goodtimes, Fan Hanover and Pepsi North America Cup and the Roses Are Red, Maple Leaf Trot and Canadian Pacing Derby Finals. Free programs and a live stream are available on Woodbine Mohawk Park's website and fans can register to attend in person at <https://woodbine.com/mohawk/guest-registration/>.

When Dovescry wins again in Miss Versatility

It's tough to make a lot of noise in a division that includes Atlanta and Manchego, but When Dovescry continued to be heard loud and clear in the Miss Versatility, taking the sixth and final $40,000 leg of the series for open trotting mares at The Meadowlands Friday night (Sept. 3), her fourth Miss Versatility score of the season.

The 5-year-old daughter of Muscle Hill—Cedar Dove, the 2019 Hambletonian Oaks champion, was on the go early but was stacked up wide around the first turn from post seven in the seven-horse field before driver Dave Miller urged the Brett Pelling trainee alongside leader Sorella as that one hit the quarter in :27.1 before taking the top shortly thereafter.

When Dovescry kept rolling on the point down the backside, trotting a spirited :27.4 second fraction to maintain the top. As the field made its way onto the far turn, Sorella, the 9-2 third choice, vacated the pocket to take a shot at the leader and got to within three-quarters-of-a-length as three-quarters was timed in 1:24.1.

But through the stretch, Sorella was no match for When Dovescry, who went on to an easy 2¾-length win in 1:51.4. Felicityshagwell S was third.

"That's what we've seen before," said Pelling. "We just love her to death. She's matured into a rock-solid horse with no maintenance issues. She's very good and awesome to be around."

When Dovescry now has four wins from 10 starts this year (including a victory over Atlanta on July 31) and is 16-for-39 lifetime, with earnings of $1,278,550 for owner John Lengacher. As the 3-5 favorite, she paid $3.20 to win.

Up next on her dance card is the Armbr Flight at Mohawk before the estimated $100,000 Miss Versatility Final at the Delaware (OH) County Fairgrounds on Little Brown Jug Day (Sept. 23).

Pelling had high praise for the two giants in the mare trotting division, horses When Dovescry will likely face in the coming weeks. "Manchego and Atlanta? They're champions. They might be the best I've ever seen. Manchego is one of the finest gaited horses I've ever seen. She's incredible. But When Dovescry. She is a champion to us."

A LITTLE MORE: Dexter Dunn, fresh off winning the driving dash-win title at the Championship Meet, got his bid for a second consecutive Fall Meet crown off to a good start by winning three times on the card... Paul Fusco, Pelling and Nifty Norman each trained a pair to victory lane... All-source handle totaled $1,826,635.

Ontario Sires Stakes update about 2022 purses

A message from the executive director of Ontario Racing Management regarding the 2022 Ontario Sires Stakes program:

In my short time as executive director with Ontario Racing Management, one thing that stands out above all else is the passion each member has for the industry. I would like to thank all of those who have helped ensure the continued success of the province's harness racing industry through the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

Thanks to the full cooperation of racetracks, the Central Ontario Standardbred Association (COSA) and Standardbred Breeders of Ontario Association (SBOA), and by using prior year's Standardbred Horse Improvement Plan (SIP) reserves, Ontario Racing was able to ensure the Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) program continued to be well-funded in 2021 in spite of the government-imposed shutdowns that significantly reduced wagering handle.

Looking ahead to 2022, I am pleased to inform you that purse levels for the OSS program will be maintained provided there are no additional government-imposed shutdowns. OSS purses are funded in part through Home Market Area wagering – the amount wagered from within Ontario on Ontario horse racing – so future losses of wagering opportunities will impact OSS purses in 2022.

As one of the most robust programs in North America, the Ontario Sires Stakes will continue to offer Ontario Sired horses rewarding opportunities to compete and win against the best in the sport. Additional information about the OSS program is available at <https://oss.ontarioracing.com>.

I would like to sincerely thank our racetrack partners, COSA and the breeders for their commitment to the Ontario Sires Stakes in 2021. I look forward to seeing what we can accomplish in the coming year by working together for the benefit of all.

Please continue to be safe and reach out with any questions. Thank you.

Brookview Bolt, Illini Earl capture ISS divisions at Hoosier Park

Sophomore trotting colts and geldings were the featured attraction at Harrah's Hoosier Park on Thursday, (Sept. 2) as they squared off in round six of Indiana Sires Stakes action. Two $48,000 divisions were sent postward on the evening's 14-race card.

Brookview Bolt and driver Sam Widger returned to their winning ways in the opening division to score in 1:54.4. Brookview Bolt was unhurried from the gate while Swingforthe fences and Peter Wrenn were on a mission to the front. Widger gave Brookview Bolt the green light down the backside and he ranged up to take command just before the half. Brookview Bolt continued to call the shots turning for home and appeared to be up to the task.

Swingforthe fences made a strong rally from the pocket but was forced to settle for second after Brookview Bolt dug in gamely late in the lane. Breckenridge and Dan Shetler rounded out the trifecta. Sent off as the heavy betting favorite, Brookview Bolt returned $3.40 at the betting windows.

Trained by Ron Burke, the 3-year-old gelded son of Swan For All—Witty's Winner recorded his sixth win from ten seasonal starts. Brookview Bolt is owned in partnership by Burke Racing Stable, Knox Services Inc., J&T Silva—Purnel & Libby, Weaver Bruscelli LLC and with the victory, sent his lifetime earnings over the $300,000 mark.

In the second division, Illini Earl turned in a gritty performance to go gate to wire and score in 1:55.3. With Brandon Bates in the bike for trainer Walter Haynes Jr., Illini Earl left alertly from post six to grab the early lead and never looked back. Monarch and James Yoder staged a big rally late in the lane but were unable to reach the leader. Bluebird Yoshi and Peter Wrenn trotted evenly to finish third. Sent off as the betting public's second choice, Illini Earl paid $6.60 to win.

Owned in partnership by Jeff Fought Racing, Brian K. Carsey, and John McGill, the gelded son of Jailhouse Jesse—Maevey Gravy recorded his fifth win of the season from 18 starts. Illini Earl now sports a lifetime record of 25-7-4-4 and $134,710 in lifetime purse earnings.

State-bred action galore today at the Red Mile

With preliminary three of the Kentucky Championship Series for pacing sophomores washed out last Tuesday (Aug. 31), the 3-year-olds will join the trotting freshmen in Kentucky Championship Series competition this afternoon (Sept. 5) at The Red Mile.

The dashes for the pacing sophomores go as they were drawn for last Tuesday's program. Today's card opens with the single $40,000 division for pacing colts and geldings topped by morning-line favorite Goldie's Legacy, who will try to best second-preliminary winner Komodo Beach from post 1 with Yannick Gingras driving for trainer Jeff Cullipher. The $40,000 division for pacing fillies goes as Race 7 with So Irresistible topping the morning line following a runner-up finish to High Minded, who starts from the pylon post. Andrew McCarthy steers the early favorite from post 4 for trainer Noel Daley.

Kentucky Championship action for the trotting freshmen starts in Race 3 with the $40,000 fourth preliminary for colts and geldings. Double Deceiver will try for three wins in the series when he starts from post 7 in rein to David Miller off a 1:52.4 score with a :26.2 kicker to catch his competition to the line. The Carter Pinske trainee starts wide of Rebuff, runner-up in last week's prelim, and Peter Haughton Memorial runner-up Classic Hill.

Selfie Queen speeds into the $40,000 fourth preliminary for the trotting fillies as the even-money choice on the morning line following a 1:51.2 victory on Aug. 23. Yannick Gingras this time gets the call behind the Nancy Takter trainee from post 2 in the seven-horse contest that includes Eternal Lee, who ships south from Canada for trainer Julie Walker and driver Jean Bernard Renaud following a second-place finish in a $67,061 Champlain Stakes division on Aug. 26.

Because of the weather cancellation last Tuesday, today's card also includes three $20,000 Kentucky Commonwealth divisions for pacing sophomores – two for the colts and geldings and one for the fillies. These events coincide the regularly scheduled Kentucky Commonwealth divisions for trotting 2-year-olds, with that contest drawing a total four divisions – two for the colts and geldings and two for the fillies. First-race post time for the 15-race card is 1 p.m. (EDT).

Clarification about next stops on the PA Fair Circuit

There appears to be conflicting information "out there" about the next few stops on the Pennsylvania Fair Circuit, so this is issued in clarification.

This coming Friday, Sept. 10, there will be a draw for a two-day event at Gratz, with that racing on Sunday the 12th and Monday the 13th.

The following Tuesday, the 14th, there will be a draw for a two-day event at the Crawford County Fair in Meadville PA, for racing on Thursday the 16th and Friday the 17th.

Friday the 17th, there will be a draw for the Gratz Fair, which will be raced on Sunday, Sept. 19, and Monday, Sept. 20.

Further information about the final stop on the PA fair circuit, Bloomsburg, will be folded into the next few releases. We hope this gets everybody on the same page.

Pacing freshmen to fight in Kentucky Championship fourth round

The pacing 2-year-olds return to The Red Mile on Monday (Sept. 6) for their fourth round of the Kentucky Championship Series, with one dash scheduled each for the colts and geldings and the fillies.

Fillies compete prior to the pari-mutuel card in a three-horse contest for $40,000. The field includes Sloopy, a first-round winner starting from the pylon post with Yannick Gingras driving for trainer Ron Burke, and a pair of Tony Alagna pupils in Dont Fence Me In – a second-round winner – and Captains Princess. Dexter Dunn drives Dont Fence Me In from post 2 and Andrew McCarthy steers Captains Princess from post 3.

Betting on Monday starts with the $40,000 Kentucky Championship split for the colts and geldings, led by the pair of Caviart Camden and Pebble Beach. Pebble Beach rode a three-race win streak coming into the third round of the series on Aug. 24, but was outsprinted by Caviart Camden to the finish of the third round in a world-record mile of 1:48.3. The duo face off again with Caviart Camden starting from post 2, in rein to Yannick Gingras for trainer Tony Alagna, and Pebble Beach scoring from post 3 with Todd McCarthy in behind for conditioner Noel Daley.

Monday's card also features three $20,000 divisions of the Kentucky Commonwealth Series – two for the fillies and one for the colts and geldings. The non-betting race goes at 12:45 p.m. (EDT) while the pari-mutuel card starts at 1 p.m. (EDT).

RE: Garnet Barnsdale's column

Full story here.

As a very casual observer/bettor, but big fan, of harness racing since 1975 when I was 18 and made my first bet at Monticello, I always wondered why betting was allowed until the horses reached almost the first turn. I remember going to Goshen when they still had betting, and my friend would call out to me what number to bet, and we weren't the only ones (you couldn't see the track from the betting windows, but could from the nearby stands).

It always seemed to me to have a simple fix: Ring the bell (stop the betting) when the horses reach the recall pole. I missed when it happened, but it seems to me there isn't even a recall pole now. Horses can break behind the gate at the head of the stretch and the bettor is "out of luck" Also, with remote betting prevalent, the need to stop betting sooner and end bell betting seems even more important. So why don't tracks implement this?

Larry Diamond

Buzzworthy was very unsatisfying

Very unsatisfying story in today's Harness Racing Update about that suspicious exacta the other night at Northfield (full story here). If you're going to do a story, do it right. Why weren't the trainers and drivers of the pertinent horses interviewed? Why weren't Northfield Park officials interviewed? Besides that, we are told "at one wagering hub, they apparently pay for a faster video feed so there is little or no time lag on the video feed"—which allows some bettors to see who is leaving, not leaving or breaking stride just before the start. Really? Why not identify that "wagering hub" and tell us how much that faster feed costs? Is it really true, as the story suggests, that some video feeds are routinely 45 seconds behind reality? In journalism, when you do a lazy job it's often better if you don't address the subject at all. This is one of those cases.

Charles Leerhsen / Brooklyn, NY

Integrity and fairness have left the building

RE: Super short Exacta payout at Northfield leads to questions

Never have we been let down more by those charged with insuring the racing game's integrity than NOW! When you read the words of DRF Harness's Matt Rose you can begin to see the smoke-screen being put up in front of you and you can now see the meaning of the phrase "Don't Rock The Boat. While it has been some years since the David Hawk scandal or the similar race and results when Jim Pantaleano and his barn were removed from Northfield's grounds following a similar race, sometimes reality hits you right in the ass.

Matt Rose's comments are perhaps the most troubling due to the fact that he has NO investigatory authority or Gaming Commission powers. Apparently Matt thinks it's still 1970 and we, the uneducated public, will believe anything we are told. Sort of like the Russian Collusion promised but never delivered. The Tote system used today is capable of telling us where tickets were bought, the number of winning combinations on each ticket, whether numbers were left off the tickets and even SS numbers perhaps if the dollar totals were high enough. Couple the available Tote information with the matching video covering every sales point and we will have the who, what, when and why. Sorry Matt this is 2021, the majority of us have gone to college and we're not buying BS anymore, technology is now on our side. Keep in mind that we are talking about professional drivers and they are better at what they do than we are at detecting it.

Every major track has a Gaming Official at their location and judges for infractions and oversight, so what are they saying? Wouldn't the appropriate and prudent thing be to put a hold on the payouts until an initial investigation has been concluded. Let's compare this situation to NASCAR for the sake of discussion. The winning car goes off at say 7-1. At the post-race inspection the gas tank is found to be over the limit or another of the race's drivers puts in a complaint about dirty driving by the race winner. Do the bookies pay out the 7-1 on the winning car immediately or wait till the investigation is concluded? Why would the customer dollars held up by NASCAR be any different than the harness racing customer dollars? The answer being pitched to us is "Because it's always been done this way."

With technology today the race, video and tote information is available with a few keystrokes. Of course, this assumes the investigatory programming was done up front and the Gaming Commission's representative has been properly trained. Both the state and the track are taking dollars from the betting public out of the betting pools shouldn't we expect both quicker and better.

All in all this is another black eye for our sport. Let's compare other sports. In American football there is a laser line across the first down line and the end zone, in baseball there is a laser box shown around the plate strike zone. So how has our oversight helped us? My guess is NOT MUCH. All in all I believe it's time for a federal program and oversight. Enough is enough. Get the adults in the room.

David Perry / Dearborn, MI

Right of exclusion tested again?

I have indicated throughout my career the importance of racetrack owners implementing their court proven "Right of Exclusion." This policy supplants the historically non-existent effort by our regulators to implement the rules regarding fraud and misrepresentation thus allowing trainers and owners to circumvent major suspensions by simply naming a beard (fraudulent) trainer or owner on their entries.

With some exceptions this has been the norm for decades until Jeff Gural attempting to address our poor regulation and public perception cut the mile for all racetrack owners to apply their "Right of Exclusion."

The "Right of Exclusion" allows privately owned racetracks to deny a trainer, his agents and partners the right to participate if it is deemed not to be in the facilities best business interest.

Some believe utilizing this policy creates an adversarial relationship with our regulating agencies when it is simply a matter of the racetrack exercising a right that commissions do not have in their tack room.

One would expect legitimate trainers and owners to heartily support this policy as they regularly express their indignation when suspended individuals enter horses listing a false trainer and witness these horses ship in trailers with the suspended individuals name emblazoned on the side. Adding to this industry crisis are the owners that engage these unethical trainers. These corrupt issues are driving legitimate owners and trainers out of the business.

The "Right of Exclusion" is an overt display that assuredly informs our participants and patrons that integrity is a priority. I'm sure everyone reading this article has some knowledge of the suspicious medication issues surrounding 2018 and 2021 Kentucky Derbies.

The 2018 Triple Crown winner Justify tested positive in the Santa Anita Derby. Long after the unprecedented surreptitious California Horse Racing Board (CHRB) investigation the drug violation was declared an environmental poisoning, a determination applied to medication irregularities for this trainer in the past.

The scandal did not come to light for over a year until a New York Times investigation unearthed the failure of the CHRB to follow equine drug positive investigative regulations and protocols. The Washington Post via documents acquired through a freedom of information request have detailed the scope of corrupt CHRB actions enabling an ineligible horse to enter and win the Kentucky Derby.

In this year's Kentucky Derby, Medina Spirit's betamethasone positive is the second incident involving illicit medication issues in the Kentucky Derby since 2018, both under the care and supervision of the same trainer. These are not the only medication violations on Mr. Baffert's resume.

These incidents exponentially support the need for racetracks to equitably apply house rules to protect the reputation of their business and our sport. The "Right of Exclusion" is a prerequisite for horse racing to get back on track and thrive along with the Horse Racing Integrity and Safety Authority.

Churchill Downs, the New York Racing Association and Jeff Gural have the distinction of boldly applying the "Right of Exclusion" to protect and enhance their public perception. These actions fall in line with NYRA's mission statement "Meeting the highest standards in thoroughbred racing and equine safety."

This case has national as well global implications.

Mr. Baffert appealed so once again the "Right of Exclusion" is tested. The court favored the motion citing that a suspension without a hearing was unconstitutional. Participation at any privately owned racetrack is a "privilege" not a right. A state license provides a right to participate in a specific jurisdiction. The Right of Exclusion is not a suspension but a firm denial of the "privilege" to participate.

NYRA's position held that Mr. Baffert's denial to participate was necessary to protect their reputation and fill the void created by our regulator's ineffective and questionable performance. Individuals that are served with major suspensions in most instances appeal get right back on the track and drag out the process as long as possible damaging our public perception along the way.

Additionally, these offenders when serving their suspensions list beard/fraudulent trainers/owners in name only never missing a purse check.

A key factor influencing Mr. Baffert's favorable appeal decision... the New York Racing Association is a New York State non-profit. NYRA is not a privately held facility hence does not have the power to implement the "Right of Exclusion."

The Meadowlands as a privately owned facility is not encumbered by the same limitation hence the "Right of Exclusion" is alive and well in New Jersey.

Rene Allard was indicted along with other prominent thoroughbred trainers for serious illicit integrity violations. Jeff Gural citing The Meadowlands "Right of Exclusion" has denied Mr. Allard, his owners, and agents the right to participate. These stables filed a lawsuit citing a conspiracy to create a competitive advantage by denying their horses the right to participate at Tioga Downs, Vernon Downs, and The Meadowlands... an absurd accusation. The fact that these stables allegedly have horses under the care of Rene Allard validates Mr. Gural's administration of the Meadowlands "Right of Exclusion."
