Bullish on BULLDOG

What horsepeople are saying about Bulldog Hanover, the first horse in 42 years to be the fastest in the world and on both U.S. and Canadian soil.

by Bob Heyden

with BOB HEYDEN

Last Saturday, 4-year-old Bulldog Hanover won the Canadian Pacing Derby in 1:46.4, tying Dr J Hanover's all-age Canadian record. That means that for the first time in 42 years — since Niatross in August, 1980 — that a single horse is the fastest in both Canada and the United States. Niatross did it in both a race and in a time trial in the USA. His 1:49.1 in an Oct. 1,1980 time trial stood for eight years until Matts Scooter lowered it to 1:48.2 in 1988. Niatross won the August 1980 Prix D'Ete in 1:53.4, then the fastest mile ever recorded on Canadian soil.

We caught up with a long list of horsepeople to get their take on Bulldog Hanover.

Tyler Smith: "A freak".

Mark MacDonald: "I was in the 1:45.4 race. He's tireless. The most shocking thing about the record 1:45.4 was not that he did that, but the fact that Dex (Dunn) had a hard time pulling him up after the mile. Amazing."

Howard Perlmutter: "So much has been said about this great horse. His speed and power simply speak for itself when everyone else in the race has already resigned to getting second or minor spoils. He's like a superior combination of Boomer Drummond-Tuff Choice and Forrest Skipper. Remember, he's the 14th foal out of BJs Squall."

JoAnn Looney-King: "It's great for the business."

Todd McCarthy: "The best horse I ever raced against."

Jacqueline Ingrassia: "Awesome! Goes to show even a yearling that was very late in the sale (HIP# 595 Harrisburg 2019) can be a world champ."

Steve Katz: "It's not over yet, But Bulldog Hanover in 2022 has the most impressive campaign for an older pacer that I can remember. That's not meant to detract from his colt form, which was good enough to launch a stallion career. But now he merits comparisons to the all-time greats."

Mark Weaver: "Most dominant horse I've seen since Sweet Lou's streak of 10 in a row in 2014. I'm very happy for the connections. Jack does such a good job especially when you consider that he starts with just a few horses each year."

David Smith: "To me Bulldog is the second best horse I've seen race and I've been watching horses for over 50 years. He has it all — great gait, heart-and speed. I'm still a Niatross guy though."

Travis Alexander: "His maturity from 3-4 is amazing. His ability to carry that speed so effortlessly is what to me sets him apart from the other top free-for-allers before him."

Peter Blood: "He looks like one of those once-in-a-generation horses — extremely fast and very intelligent."

Billy Haughton, Jr.: "Absolutely amazing! Great for the sport. He's a monster. I mean all the superlatives people have used — amazing, tremendous power, superstar, all apply. Hopefully he continues. It's good for the sport for sure."

Bill O'Donnell: "Bulldog has moved the sport up another notch."

Jimmy Bernstein: "Bulldog is an impressive pacer on his own. But I don't look at times. They relate to the improvement of equipment and sulkies."

Dave Palone: "He's just the perfect horse. Incredible gait. Dex has him wrapped up every time."

Scott DiDomenico: "What can you say other that he is sensational — a great big gait, big lungs and an unbelievable will to win."

John Kopas: "I've been around and have seen many greats in my time but none like him. Best older pacer ever."

Carter Pinske: "Every once in a while a horse comes along that is just a freak of nature. That's what he is - a freak of nature. Not the best bred or the most expensive, but proves consistently that he is clearly the one to beat when he's in to go."

Bruce Riegle: "Bulldog Hanover is the Cinderella story of this year's horses. It should show people that you can get quite a good horse for a little bit of money."

Bob McClure (who was third in the Pacing Derby with Poseidon Seelster): "I know I had Poseidon glued to Tattoo (Artist's) helmet just hoping they would tow me as far as I could. Bulldog is driving away from some very fast horses."

Mike Lachance: "He's built like a thoroughbred in his front half and a standardbred the back half. When he was in Jersey with Noel Daley I'd see him pretty much every day. So impressive."

Personally I have heard Niatross' name come up more than anyone else's. Let's go back and get a Stanley Dancer take on Niatross, from mid-1980, to see if any of this rings true with Bulldoq today.

"You don't need to tell me that Niatross is the top 3-year-old around," Dancer said. "He does everything so easy. Everything right. He's a good-using horse like Albatross and he paces real clean. Niatross is a lot bigger than his sire — bigger boned — heavier and stronger. I don't think a horse's size goes into making them great or not. You had a small one like Good Time and a big horse like Bret Hanover. Niatross' best qualities are his gait, his perfect smooth gait — a long strider — perfect manners and his heart, much like Albatross. Remember that Albatross' easiest wins at age 3 came at the end of the year. Niatross has all the qualities you associate with a great horse."

Sally MacDonald: Treasuring the Gold with Stockade Seelster

The PEI native is enjoying every second of the early success of the son of her champion State Treasurer.

by Melissa Keith

Last Saturday night (Sept. 3) at Woodbine Mohawk Park, Stockade Seelster paced the fastest mile by a 2-year-old in Ontario Sires Stakes history, winning in 1:49.3s.

"We were extremely excited," owner Sally MacDonald told HRU. The Souris, PEI resident's best previous horse won just a single start at age 2, a non-stakes race at Mohawk in August 2011. Of course, future world champion State Treasurer (p, 6, 1:47.0m; $1,908,424) went on to redeem himself many times over in a career that spanned six years. In 2015, he earned both the O'Brien Award as Canada's Horse of the Year and the Dan Patch Award as the Older Male Pacer of the Year.

Sired by State Treasurer, a former $6,500 yearling, Stockade Seelster's first season on the track is closer to his dam's. Soiree Seelster (p, 2, 1:52.2s; $179,645) won three races at Mohawk, two of them OSS Gold events, in four starts as a 2-year-old.

MacDonald said her family was already following Stockade Seelster well before he entered the virtual sales ring as Hip #18 in the 2021 London Select Yearling Sale.

"We liked him, and my [business partner and nephew] Paul [MacDonald] lives in Toronto. He watched [Stockade Seelster] develop from the time he was born until the time he went to the sale. We just liked everything about him. Then we had [trainer lan] 'Doc' Moore check him out before the sale, and we were pretty convinced, when [Stockade Seelster] went to the sale, that we were going to do everything in our power to get him."

The colt was theirs for $45,000.

"The sale wasn't live – it was online," said MacDonald, speaking from her PEI cottage. "So we just bid online for him. We thought we might have to go a bit higher, which we were willing to do, so we were quite pleased when we were able to get him for that price."

Stockade Seelster was a good student in early lessons for Ian Moore at Southern Oaks Training Center in Sorrento, FL. "'Doc' was quite pleased and thought he was promising right from the beginning... He thought he had a lot of potential," said MacDonald. "We actually spent the winter in Florida for a couple of months, once the border opened. My husband and I went down for the months of March and April, so we saw quite a bit of Stockade before we came back to Canada. Actually, my husband, Allan, got to jog him a few times while we were in Florida. He was a very sensible colt."

Undefeated in six races at home track Woodbine Mohawk Park, Stockade Seelster is based at Shamrock Training Center in Cambridge, ON.

"Shamrock is where Ian Moore is at," said MacDonald, adding that the ready proximity to Mohawk is an asset for her colt.

While Stockade Seelster doesn't have far to travel, the same cannot be said for his Maritime owners. "Well, he's raced six times," said Sally. "My husband's been up [to Mohawk] four times; I've been up three times. Paul, our nephew, lives in Toronto, so it's very convenient. We all get to go to the races to see him together."

She attributed some of Stockade Seelster's success (winning four OSS Gold legs, plus a Dream Maker leg and final) to having a consistent team.

"We've been very fortunate. We have an excellent trainer with 'Doc' Moore, and Jody [Jamieson] has just been phenomenal driving him. Once Jody was on him for the first time, it was kind of agreed with 'Doc', my husband, and Paul that he would continue on [driving] him, because he seems to have a relationship with him."

MacDonald doesn't consider any particular race to be her colt's best, so far. Major tests lay ahead for Stockade Seelster, who is taking a week off after his OSS record mile.

"He will be in the elims for the Metro [Pace], and then hopefully in the Metro [final], and then we'll sit down and go over everything and make decisions."

With Metro eliminations coming up Sept. 17 at Mohawk and the $850,000 final on Sept. 24, Stockade Seelster's schedule is intensifying, and so is attention to his career.

"We just discovered in the last day or two that Stockade has made the Hambletonian Society number 10," said a pleasantlysurprised MacDonald, remarking on her colt's first appearance in the weekly expert poll. "We couldn't be happier."

Her freedom to travel and watch her colt race is an added pleasure, because Sally battled metastatic breast cancer during State Treasurer's racing career.

"There was a period there when I wasn't able to travel a whole lot, but I can now," she told HRU. "I still receive treatment and I've been fortunate that I continue to be stable."

Following State Treasurer's races helped raise her spirits during illness; visiting Stockade Seelster and seeing him compete at Mohawk is an ongoing delight.

"It is therapy, by itself," she said. "We're making a lot of trips up there. We're enjoying it, though."

Spending time with her colt is a considerable part of that enjoyment. "He's very much like his father - his favorite treat is black licorice," she said. "We make sure he gets it after every race. We usually go to the training center the morning after the races, to visit with him."

Even with the 2022 Breeders Crown coming to Mohawk next month, she's hesitant to plan too far ahead.

"The rest of the year, we'll just take it one race at a time."

Racing analyst/Canadian Hall of Fame driver Randy Waples was quick to praise Stockade Seelster's 1:49.3 win last Saturday.

"That's a fantastic mile and he did it all on his own, you know, whacked it all out and did all the hard work," he said after the race. "He's just simply is the best 2-year-old that we have up here right now, without a doubt. It's going to take a really nice 2-year-old to track him down in the Metro."

A flattered MacDonald said that Waples should know. He was in the sulky for two of sire State Treasurer's most treasured victories.

"The first Molson Pace that State Treasurer won [2013], Randy was on him, and Randy was on him for the [2015] Canadian Pacing Derby. It was unbelievable."

The stallion retired from racing in 2016 and now stands at Seelster Farms of Lucan, ON. He is currently #7 among OSS pacing sires, in his third and best year with participating offspring.

"State Treasurer was just a phenomenal horse, and we always said if he could even get one of his offspring that was half as good, it would be exciting," said MacDonald. "Well, I think we've done that."

Pretender, Fashion Schooner score in New Jersey Classic at Big M

by Dave Little / Meadowlands media relations

Pretender and Fashion Schooner were the winners in the inaugural $275,000 finals of the New Jersey Classic for "A" level New Jersey-sired trotters Friday night (Sept. 9) at The Meadowlands.

In the split for 3-year-old colts and geldings, Pretender pulled off a surprise, taking down 1-9 favorite – and Beal winner – Temporal Hanover in a lifetime-best 1:51.3 for driver Andy McCarthy and trainer Nancy Takter.

"He's not a very big horse," said Takter. "But he has a very big heart."

Only four got behind the gate, but there was plenty of action early nonetheless, as 2021 Peter Haughton Memorial winner King Of The North moved quickly to the top while Pretender settled into the two-hole as Temporal Hanover sat third and Periculum fourth.

KOTN hit the quarter in :26.3 before backing the half down to :56.1. Just before the three-quarter mark, McCarthy moved Pretender off the rail to challenge the leader as Temporal Hanover followed that live tow.

Pretender, a colt by Muscle Hill—Maven, then sprinted his final quarter in :26.3 to easily hold off Temporal Hanover by three-quarters-of-a-length. King Of The North was third.

"I thought it was going to work out that way," said Takter. "I thought Mark (MacDonald, driving King Of The North) would be aggressive. It was just a matter of Pretender out sprinting the horse who made the front. Andy (McCarthy) drove him perfectly. Pretender will head to Canada for the (Sept. 24) Canadian Trotting Classic, and, assuming he stays well, then the (Oct. 9) Kentucky Futurity and the (Oct. 29) Breeders Crown. He's been racing super all year and hopefully he can add to that and get some more accolades."

As the 9-2 second choice in the betting, Pretender returned $11.40 to win while raising his lifetime earnings past the $500,000 plateau.

Fashion Schooner continued her divisional dominance, taking the NJC division for sophomore trotting fillies in 1:50.2, just a fifth of a second off her Hambletonian Oaks-winning lifetime best.

Fashion Schooner (Tim Tetrick) winning the New Jersey Classic final for sophomore trotting fillies.

After choosing to sit fourth to the quarter, driver Tim Tetrick, who Tuesday pushed his lifetime earnings past the $250-million mark, moved Fashion Schooner to the top with a quick burst of speed and reached the half in :56.

"With her I try to have a clear path," said Tetrick. "Once I get her started, she kind of has a mind of her own and wants to get to where she wants to be."

Fashion Schooner turned into the stretch two lengths to the good and appeared on the way to an easy score, but despite closing in :26.4, had to withstand a blistering final sixteenth by second-place finisher – and Hambletonian elimination winner – Jiggy Jog S, who came up a neck short. Raised By Lindy was third.

"That horse of Ake's is a really good mare," said Tetrick of Jiggy Jog S. "But we got the jump on them a little bit. My mare raced great and we got to the wire first. She kept digging, it's just that the other horse raced really well. My horse has been pretty impressive all year long. It's just a matter of whether she can keep her mind straight. Jim and the connections have done a great job with her."

Fashion Schooner paid $2.40 as the 1-5 public choice.

IT'S CAMPBELL'S WORLD: Winning the NJC wasn't enough for Campbell. His Next Level Stuff went wire-to-wire in the fifth and final $40,000 leg of the Miss Versatility for open mare trotters, hitting the wire in a lifetime-best 1:50.4 to give the trainer two winners on the card.

Finishing second, 1½ lengths back, was 1-5 favorite Bella Bellini, who never threatened after going a three-hole trip.

The $100,000 (est.) Miss Versatility final takes place at the Delaware (OH) Fairgrounds on Little Brown Jug Day (Sept. 22).

Midwest Mixed Sale grosses over $950,000

by James Platz

The Michiana Classic Yearling Sale has traditionally offered buyers one last chance to purchase Indiana-sired yearlings annually, as it held a November date on the sale calendar. This season, the sale, held in Shipshewana, IN underwent some format changes and was moved up to Wednesday, Sept. 7 to become the first yearling marketplace of the season in the Hoosier State. With fewer entries for both the Michiana Classic and Midwest Mixed Sale, the two were combined into a one-day sale under the banner of the Midwest Mixed Sale, offering a catalog of 83 yearlings and a mixed portion that included 31 entries consisting of weanlings, broodmares and racing stock.

A total of 105 horses were hammered down Wednesday afternoon for a gross of $958,400, producing an average of $9,128. Focusing on yearlings only, 78 babies passed through the ring grossing $718,200 and averaging $9,208. Compared with the 2021 Michiana Classic, where 98 yearlings generated total sales of $891,200, this year's average increased minimally over the $9,094 of 10 months ago.

Sale manager Steve Cross said the move to September was without precedent. Not only were yearlings offered at auction prior to October's Hoosier Classic select sale, the company's flagship event, but also before the conclusion of the Indiana Sires Stakes program. At the time of the sale, two legs and the $250,000 Super Finals had yet to be contested.

The Erv Miller Stable is experiencing a banner year in Indiana, racking up just under $1.6 million in purse earnings this season. Wednesday, two of Miller's owners, Doug Overhiser and Rocco Ruffolo, were on hand to begin reinvesting in the program. Ruffolo signed the ticket on sale topper Digital Solder, a $56,000 purchase, while Overhiser was the most active buyer, signing six slips for a total of $105,500.

Cataloged as Hip 77, Digital Solder is a son of Tellitlikeitis that is eligible to the Indiana and Michigan programs. Consigned by Brett Boyd Racing Inc., the colt is the third foal out of Manhardt mare Getoutthediamonds, who has already produced Megatron sophomore RB, a 10-time winner with just shy of $80,000 in earnings racing in Michigan.

Boyd said he had hoped to keep the colt, but there were several factors to consider, including the fact he has made significant investments in the Michigan program, with 40 head of horses at his Jonesville farm.

"I wasn't really planning on selling. We've had a situation where it's just been a tough year. Fulfullnmydestiny, unfortunately, got injured. My 2-year-olds just didn't pan out this year like we anticipated or hoped. When Steve announced the sale was going to be first, I thought it was a chance to be the first to market with the very first Freaky Feet Pete and a really nice Tellitlikeitis colt. I thought it would be a good opportunity to sell them," Boyd said. "We've invested heavily in the Michigan program. It seemed like the best business move at the time."

Warrior For Truth, offered as Hip 16, was the other Boyd entry. From the first crop of Breeders Crown champion Freaky Feet Pete, the colt was the first of four yearling purchases for Overhiser. The second foal from Art Major mare Odds On Cygnus, Warrior For Truth is a half-brother to Lovely Lady May, a four-time winner with $53,382 in earnings. Overhiser paid $20,000 for the colt, then spent $18,500 on Big Dover (Hip 42), $18,000 for JK's Knockinrocks (Hip 46) and shelled out $23,000 for Raylan Drew (Hip 56), a colt from the second crop of impressive young trotting sire Helpisontheway. The Illinois-based owner said he will take a piece of the sale topper, and other owners will be added to the yearlings he signed for as well.

"Rocco came to the sale saying he wasn't going to buy anything. He wasn't going to put his name on anything. I knew that would change during the sale," Overhiser said, laughing. "I'm in on that horse as well. I think that's the only one he came in on. The rest of them, we'll slice it up a little with a lot of the group of folks that Erv has."

The owner then picked up weanling Crazylikeitis, a half-brother to Rockin Image mare Letme Fly Low p,2, 1:55.2s, 3, 1:51.3s, 4, 1:50.2s ($259,302) and Certifiable, a Grand Circuit winner conditioned by Miller with earnings of just over $83,000. Consigned as agent by Victory Hill Farm, the filly brought $20,000. Rounding out his purchases, Overhiser signed the ticket for the weanling's mother, Art Major mare Psychotic, for $6,000.

"Erv has a history with that broodmare. I, myself, am looking to pick up a few more broodmares. I like her history, and she would be good for Indiana. If the price was right we were going to bid, and it was much better than I expected," he said.

A pair of broodmares topped the mixed portion, selling back-to-back for $30,000 apiece. Fawn De Savage, Hip 88 in the sale, was purchased by Cathy Webb of Ivy Lane Farm. The nine-year-old Keystone Savage—Ms Mastercraft mare sold as part of the Fawn De Mon Farms broodmare dispersal. The Indiana Sires Stakes final winner has produced freshman Chapter Seven colt Fulla Vex, an $80,000 yearling that has qualified in 2:03.1. She is in foal to perennial leading Indiana trotting sire Swan For All.

Rocknroll Hanover mare Rock N Roll Baby, consigned by Newfound Stables, also brought $30,000. In foal to Captain Midnight, the mare is a 100-per cent producer from five foals of racing age, with three in 1:52. Her freshman, JK Endofanera filly Rollin Rosie, is a perfect four-for-four at Harrah's Hoosier Park, with a pair of Indiana Sires Stakes leg wins, a mark of 1:51 and earnings of $111,000. Illinois breeder Jeff Jones purchased the 13-year-old broodmare.

HRU is providing links to publicly-available fines and suspension lists for convenience.

Readers are reminded that because a person's name appears on the list does not necessarily mean they are guilty of an offense. Many times, cases are not finalized and many of the accused are still entitled to due process.

TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

A trip down harness racing's golden memory lane with Dean Hoffman

by Murray Brown

When speaking of Dean Hoffman, one could cite numerous accomplishments, almost all of them garnered from a life in harness racing. Which was the most gratifying? Was it being the editor of Hoof Beats for almost 25 years, the most by far in the history of USTA's multiple award-winning harness racing publication? Was it being the foremost author of the sport, certainly in its modern day history — his authorship including a history of the sport and its breeding industry? Was it his installation in the Communicators Corner at the Hall of Fame at Goshen?

The books he has written include "Yankeeland, the Farm the Kellers built"; "Castleton Farm, a tradition of Standardbred excellence"; "Quest for Excellence - Hanover Shoe Farms - The First 75 years"; "Harness racing in New York State"; and "The Hambletonian, America's Trotting Classic".

One could speak of the numerous writing awards he has amassed, the latest of which is the Tom White Media Award which will be presented at the Little Brown Jug less than two weeks hence. From this scribe's perspective, it might be the life of teaching both as a teacher at the University of Arizona's Race Industry Program and at harness racing speakers programs in three continents and at numerous venues where harness racing is celebrated and appreciated.

This scribe first met Hoffman at The Meadows racetrack in August of 1969, the third year that Delvin Miller's Classic event The Adios took place.

This past week I decided that it was time for he and me to discuss his life in the sport with which both our careers have been well spent.

Q: Let's start at the beginning. Where did your illustrious career begin?

"I don't know about illustrious. My dad Robert was someone who I might describe as harness racing's greatest fan. Although I never once knew him to make a wager, he followed the game as fervently as anybody I've ever known. He was good friends with Samuel Huttenbauer who was one of the leading Grand Circuit owners from the 1950s, the '60s and into the '70s. Dad followed the sport religiously through those periods and quite possibly before. He went to just about every racetrack that was available to him. He loved them all, from the smallest Ohio Fair track to his favorite, the Grand Circuit meeting in Lexington. It was only natural that he took his only son with him. I was smitten from the very beginning. Like my father, I wasn't much of a gambler. But, did I ever love the horses — not only the horses that were racing, but every step that led up to them becoming racehorses. I don't recall exactly when and where it was, but I do know that it was it was love at first sight."

Q: Other than being a fan, where did your involvement in the sport begin?

"My first job was working for Jim Hackett who was Mr. Huttenbauer's contract trainer/driver. If there was ever an odd couple, those two personified it. Mr. Huttenbauer was an old school gentleman, who comported himself in the manner of how one might think of the term gentleman. He was always well mannered and exceedingly well dressed. Jim was, to put it quite kindly, rough-hewn. If you would see him you might think that he had slept with his clothes still on. He was a rough and tough guy who wasn't adverse to bending his elbow on occasion. But make no mistake about it, he was a masterful horseman. He was especially well known for finding diamonds in the rough. He could find greatness without spending a whole lot of money in getting it. Among the duo's greatest horses were Best Of All, a truly great horse for which he paid $22,500 and the outstanding trotter Flower Child, which they secured for $1,500. I'd be unfair to Jim's memory if I didn't mention in addition to being an astute horseman that he was a marine and a decorated World War II hero."

Q: When did you start working in the sport for real?

"I worked at Walnut Hall Farm when it was arguably the world's greatest harness nursery. When people speak of great breeding farms of the modern era, they might generally think of Hanover, when it was arguably the world's greatest harness nursery. When people speak of great breeding farms of the modern era, they might generally think of Hanover, Castleton and perhaps Armstrong Brothers. The greatness of Walnut Hall does not get the recognition that it perhaps deserves.

Hanover will be celebrating its 100th anniversary in four years, but Walnut Hall has been in business for longer, much longer. It was founded in 1892. That's 130 years ago. When there, I rubbed a string of four yearling fillies which I was helping to get ready for the yearling sales at Tattersalls. I had developed a relationship by mail with Norman Woolworth, the co-owner of Stoner Creek Stud along with David Johnston. He offered me a position to work there under Charlie Kenny, one of the all-time great farm managers. I continued to do some freelance work while there and beyond. From Stoner Creek I worked at a few PR firms in Cincinnati and Columbus for the next seven or eight years. In 1981, I was offered a job by the United States Trotting Association where for almost 25 years I was the editor of Hoof Beats magazine. While at USTA I continued doing some freelance work including ghost writing for quite a few of the sport's personages. In 1981, I was invited to be a guest speaker at the University of Arizona's Race Track Program. They must have liked what they saw because thenceforth they kept asking me to come back each year. After I retired from USTA in 2014, they offered me an adjunct faculty position. That's when we moved to Tucson. Since then I have done a little freelance work. For enjoyment I mostly write, travel and follow our sport."

Q: You are now retired but you still maintain two residences one still in Columbus and the other in Arizona.

"I became spoiled by spending my winters in balmy Arizona. My wife Linda and I decided that two state living was a pretty nice way to spend the year. We escaped the cold Ohio winters and like many snowbirds enjoyed the warm Arizona winters."

Q: Through your years in harness racing you've known and sometimes worked for some noteworthy individuals. Let's speak of some of them.

In no particular order:

NORMAN WOOLWORTH.

"We became friends through the mail. I was a great fan of Meadow Skipper. I wrote Norman that, like Skipper, I had shin splints (in my misbegotten youth), I had little speed and lots and lots of endurance. The thought back then was that MS didn't possess the speed that his rival Overtrick had, but made up for it with endurance. Norman was quick to return the letter using his well-known great wit. I still have all his written correspondence. I met him at Tattersalls that Fall. We became life-long friends, so much so that I was honored by being asked to deliver the eulogy at his celebration of life ceremony in Goshen. Nobody enjoyed harness racing as much as Norman. He was a great sports fan in general, but he loved harness racing in particular. I like to think that Norman was the forerunner of the exceptional trade in both horses and people that exists today between Sweden and America. He was the first to do it. From that little acorn, great oaks grew."

STANLEY DANCER

"I had spoken with Billy Haughton about doing a feature interview with him in 1986. Tragically, fate got in the way. Billy was killed as the result of a racetrack accident at Yonkers that summer. I made a promise to myself that I wasn't going to allow anything from stopping myself from doing a promised interview with Stanley Dancer that coming winter. Stanley and Billy were very different personalities both on and of the racetrack but they were very good friends. Comparisons between them were often made. If I were asked to describe Stanley with one word, that word would be 'intense'. His recall and record keeping were without peer. Mention a horse or race which he was involved including the horse's shoeing and all its other equipment. He would have it. He was as serious and focused as a person might be."

little or perhaps no polish. What you saw is what he was. He might, sometimes perhaps accurately, be described as a bully. One of the things I remember about him was that he was at George Sholty's funeral at which I delivered the eulogy — I've done that at too many of those. He spoke to me later saying 'When the time comes I want you to give the talk at my funeral.' He wouldn't or didn't know the word eulogy. It was always 'the talk."

DELVIN MILLER

"The most generous and kindest person I've known in a lifetime in the sport. All the plaudits you may have heard about him, and probably more, were well earned. Delvin possessed a great deal of talent when sitting behind a horse. Yet, the number of great drives, behind great horses in classic races are or should be legendary. What other person do you know of who has given up competitive drives with good horses in the Hambletonian. Little Brown Jug and other major stakes? The only one I know of is DGM. He never lost the common touch. Sure, he knew many of the greats in many areas, but he also cared about the 'small guys'. Here's a small example of which there were hundreds. Delvin heard that one of his old grooms was living in a nursing home. He was alone and missed the camaraderie of the racetrack. Delvin saw me and gave me a slip of paper. On it was written a name and address. 'That's an old groom who worked for me, he said. 'Send him a subscription to Hoof Beats and send the bill to me."

BILLY HAUGHTON

"The busiest and hardest working person I've ever known. Yet as busy and pressed for time as he usually was, he could always find time to speak with you. It didn't matter if you were the lowliest person around a racetrack or a major owner in his stable. He would always make the time. Nobody ever worked as hard or played as hard as WRH."

BILL SHEHAN

"When I think of Bill I think of a lunch I shared with him at Pigalle, a sometimes great French restaurant in Cincinnati. I don't know how long our lunch lasted, but I do know they were prepping for the dinner crowd when we finally left. If one were looking for a person fitting the description of a Bon Vivant, that person might be Bill Shehan. He was brilliant in law, his chosen profession, and even more brilliant when it came to breeding horses. He was a true student of the bloodlines, habits and physicality of the harness breed. He was also an astute businessman. Two things I think of when Bill Shehan comes to mind. 'I've been wealthy and poor. It's much better to have money.' Also Kenny Rogers' immortal line, 'You've got to know when to hold them and know when to fold them.'"

Q: Who are both the greatest and your favorite horse through the years?

"With pacers, the best I've seen was Nihilator. He did it all, he even took on older horses as a 3-year-old and beat them all convincingly. My favorite is Best Of All. He was owned, trained and driven by people I knew who were good friends. He is my prototype of a hometown hero.

"The best trotter in my estimation was Nevele Pride. Much like Niatross, he took them all on, all types of tracks from one side of the country to the other. Furthermore from my perspective he always had the pedal to the metal. There was always a track or world record in his view. He almost never had a break. I suppose that a great case could be made for Muscle Hill. I think the very fact that he did it so seemingly easy might play either for or against him. I had an affinity to (Nevele Pride) because of our time together at Stoner Creek. More importantly, he was a truly great trotter. He was Horse of the Year and set world records each of the three years that he raced."

Q: How do you view the great sport at which we've been fortunate enough to make our living?

"I'm sure you feel the same way as I do. We were very fortunate to live it when we did. I love how much the breed has improved. On the other hand, there is so much competition for the gambling dollar today. We once owned near all of it. First there were lotteries, then OTB, then simulcasting now sports betting. At each junction we did near nothing to try to maintain a niche. I don't know what the answers are, if there were in fact any. I do know that doing next to nothing is not a recipe for success. There were times when although we didn't outhandle the thoroughbreds, we came darned close. Now there's a world amount of difference between us. That's not to say that all is wine and roses with them. They have their problems as well. I go to a few major events — the Hambletonian, the Jug and the Kentucky Futurity. Before COVID I had gone to 57 consecutive Kentucky Futurities. I now find it difficult to go to a 'normal' day or night of racing. I just find the empty stands too depressing."

Some anecdotal observations

by Alan Leavitt

Because the trainer of our one horse Ontario racing stable is going to Florida for the winter, I turned, as usual, to my wise friend Bob Stewart for advice.

As a consequence I found myself doing a little research on a Canadian trainer with the lovely first name of Chantal. And the most prominent racehorse to her credit is the mare Alicorn, who happens to now be a resident here at Walnut Hall.

Alicorn took her record at 2 of 1:50.2 and earned a majority of her career earnings of $561,140 at 2, when Chantal Mitchell was her trainer. She's by Bettor's Delight, and out of Mythical, a fast mare who earned over $100,000, by Artsplace.

Her extended pedigree shows a 3 by 4 cross to Abercrombie, making her technically line-bred to him.

For those with short memories, when the sum of the generations in which the same name appears twice is 6 or less, the horse so bred is considered "Inbred."

When the sum of the two generations in which the same name appears twice is 6 or 7, that is defined as "Line Breeding."

When no name appears twice in the first 4 generations, the horse so bred is defined as an "Outcross."

The great majority of trotters and pacers bred in America today are outcrosses. Which brings up this kid's support for judicious inbreeding, which can be synergistic. RE: synergy. Think of it as 2 plus 2 equals 7.

I can't emphasize too much that inbreeding can only be done with two individuals that are as near perfect both conformationwise and racing-wise. If one parent has a knee turned out, you can wind up with a foal that requires a compass to figure out how he or she stands in front.

If one parent is a sulker on the track, you can wind up with a horse that needs to be pulled out of the race paddock by a tractor.

I'm a firm believer that, just as every generation of man, at least in America, is taller than the previous one, every generation of standardbreds is faster than the previous one. That won't always be true. Every pure-bred breed of horse will eventually plateau, which is what the American thoroughbred has done.

The list of heightened physical and racing problems goes on and on if the wrong two horses are crossed with each other. But, on the other hand, and Harry Truman said he always wanted a Secretary of State with three hands, if inbreeding is done right the results can be electric.

Carl Allen, a truly great horseman who, among other things, invented and popularized the trotting hobble, produced the great filly CR Kay Susie, whose paternal and maternal grandsires were full brother and sister. Carl was smart enough to do it with a sire and dam who were near perfect individuals, with great racing creds and beautiful pedigrees.

We won't see the likes of Carl Allen again, which is a loss to both our sport in general, and me in particular, because he was a good friend for many years.

Here, an observation I've made after looking at the production records of thousands of broodmares. It is technically anecdotal, and perhaps someone, someday, will do a proper study on the subject.

What I've seen is that a mare's first foal is frequently her best, and in almost all cases the quality of her production declines as she keeps having foals.

This is not to say that a mare's next-to-last foal can't be a champion, but its chances are much less than the mare's first or second foal. Of course, the quality of the sire is 50 per cent of the equation, and as a mare ages she will likely be bred to less successful sires. Or perhaps the same sires she crossed well with in the past, who have now cannibalized themselves by siring champions who are now the top sires.

I'm a firm believer that, just as every generation of man, at least in America, is taller than the previous one, every generation of standardbreds is faster than the previous one. That won't always be true. Every pure-bred breed of horse will eventually plateau, which is what the American thoroughbred has done.

The American thoroughbred now is no faster than it was 50 years ago. That's because it's a 100 years older than our breed. Every pure-bred breed of horse will eventually plateau, or reach a place where it has progressed as far as it can.

Our horses, at every age, are still setting new speed records, and that will continue for several more generations. I know that our equipment and racing bikes have been improved also, but in the overall view that is irrelevant. The simple fact is: Our horses keep getting faster and faster, and we aren't close to seeing the end of that process.

Somehow, all this talk of aging brings up the story of a 92-yearold man complaining to his doctor his virility was too high.

"I'm not quite sure how that can be," the doctor said, "Especially at your advanced age."

"I'm telling you it's too high," the patient replied. "It's all in my head."

Lisa Cherry – Chef and Chief Organizer

by Victoria Howard

This month's superstar may not have grown up with horses or was born into a harness racing family, but that all changed when Lisa met and married Eric Cherry — one of the sport's major owners.

Presently, the Cherrys own over 350 standardbreds.

"I met my husband when we looked to collaborate on a possible business venture. It wasn't until 2014 that we started a relationship, and have been great partners — business and personally — ever since," said Lisa.

Q: How did Eric get involved in harness racing?

"In 1969, Eric started going to the races when he was 16 years old. He loved the sport and betting on the horses. In 1972, Eric bought several horses and really enjoyed it — that was until his trainer at that time cheated him. Thus, Eric got out for a few years.

"On April 4, 1978, he missed the business so much, he got back in by claiming Super Game from Henri Filion and has been in the game ever since."

But horse racing isn't Eric's first successful venture. Several of Cherry's lucrative enterprises were his "pay per call" phone industry and the early days of the Internet for his billing company.

Eric's latest innovative venture is his hugely successful on-line horse sale company, On Gait.

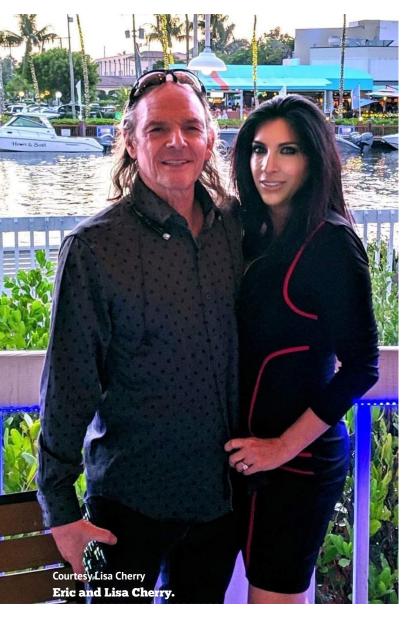

"In 2001 – one month before 9/11 – Eric and his partner Maurice Chodash launched On Gait, which sells about 600 horses every month and has sold over $35 million so far, this year alone.

"For many years people told Eric 'You can't successfully sell horses online,' but my husband's response was, 'People say things can't happen, until they do," said Lisa.

In the past few years I've become friends with the Cherrys and have spent many nights at their house, where Lisa is by far the "hostess with the mostest."

As we watch our horse race from their professionally decorated theater room, Lisa serves many unbelievable dishes, all made from scratch. She's Italian and credits learning the recipes from her grandmother, but I am also Italian, and I can hardly boil water.

Believe me - I know good food - and Lisa Cherry can put her food against that of Wolfgang Puck, Gordon Ramsey and Emeril Lagasse, and she will hold her own.

The Cherrys have a trophy room in their home, displaying pictures and awards from major races they have won. The first horse Eric bred was Shadow Dance, who is one of his all-time-favorites. Another is Tug River Princess and her offspring.

This year Tug River Princess has a freshman filly, Proud Mary, who has turned out to be a very good one, and like her name, is making the Cherrys proud.

Another personal favorite of Eric's is the millionaire mare, Drop The Ball — the dam of New Year (Somebeachsomewhere), and Butterfingers (Sweet Lou).

Harness Racing Update

If I were to describe Eric Cherry I would have to say he is a genius. He has the mind of a brilliant mathematician and everything he touches seems to turn to gold.

He is by far one of the sport's best owners and we are lucky to have him, for he pours a huge amount of money every year into breeding, purchasing, and racing standardbreds.

"Currently, we have over 135 broodmares and also support a few stallions we have a big interest in. The first is Heston Bluechip, who my husband strongly believes will be one of the better sires in the industry.

"Eric has made it almost a crusade in his belief in Heston and I think this year we are starting to see it come to fruition through his offspring Fulton and Square Deal, among others.

"We also have a large interest in the stallion Bettors Wish, as well as Hes Watching, Sunfire Blue Chip and Stag Party.

"And we have shares in the top stallions, Papi Rob Hanover and Captain Crunch. Oh, and I can't forget Badlands Hanover, who is now 26 years old and has been very good to us."

ERIC AND LISA CHERRY'S TRAINERS

"I love that we have so many passionate, hard-working trainers. They are Brett Pelling, Nifty Norman, Linda Toscano, Noel Daley, Chris Ryder, Virgil Morgan, Ian Moore, Jeff Webster, Megan Scran, Mike Hall, Ron Burke and Tony Alagna. I hope I haven't left anyone out."

LISA'S FAVORITE HORSES

"I have a few. My first big win was when I just got started handicapping. Although I was never really one to bet, I learned from the best — Eric. After teaching me, he encouraged me to make a bet.

"One night I bet Evening Of Pleasure at 35 to 1 and he won. I am now addicted to gambling — if it's possible," Lisa said, laughing.

"My favorite first standardbred to own was Skinny Dipper. After I watched a video on YouTube about the great Somebeachsomewhere, I knew I had to have one of his babies.

"At that time Eric owned a Beach yearling filly, and knowing how badly I wanted one, he gifted her to me. She ended up winning over $200,000 for us — along with her many antics.

"Her barnmate was Call Me Queen Be and both fillies made it to the Breeders Crown as 3-year-olds. The Queen took the Crown and the purse.

"Our fastest horse is Allywag Hanover -1:46.4, with Tattoo Artist a close second -1:47.1. Jimmy Freight has joined our stable recently, too.

"But my favorite racehorse story is about the horse Springsteen. Although we were the under bidders, I picked him out based on my early analysis of his pedigree. He was beautiful and I still follow his career."

Q: After all these years and owning many great horses, does Eric get nervous or excited when his horses race?

"Yes, Eric gets very excited. You have been over our house and watched him pace around our theater room faster than the horse sometimes," Lisa said, laughing.

"Sometimes he's more nervous than other times — it all depends on how much that race means to him. For the 'bigger' races, and especially when our homebreds race, he gets really nervous.

"Of course you can't win all the time, for anything can and does go wrong in a race, but his frustration and disappointment doesn't last long. He tells me, 'If you do not feel the pain of losing, you will not enjoy the pleasure of winning."

Watching the races on their five enormous televisions is a daily ritual at the Cherry household. Constantly playing are streamed races from numerous racetracks across the country. Even if they don't have one of their own horses in, they watch the races for potential purchases or to make bets.

Although Eric seems to be great in everything he does, there is one thing he lacks and that is where his wife, Lisa, comes in.

Q: Lisa, what is your personal contribution to the success of the Cherry Racing Legacy?

"Although Eric has many great qualities, organization is not one of his strong suits. Since we have 60 horses currently racing and over 135 broodmares, I keep all the records — from where they're racing to who the drivers are, and if there are any conflicts. I also keep records on all the broodmares, who they are in foal to and the foal that is by their side now.

"Every day I write schedules and future stake entries. This helps us both with all the changes. Also, I recently started posting our highlights on our Let It Ride Stable on Facebook.

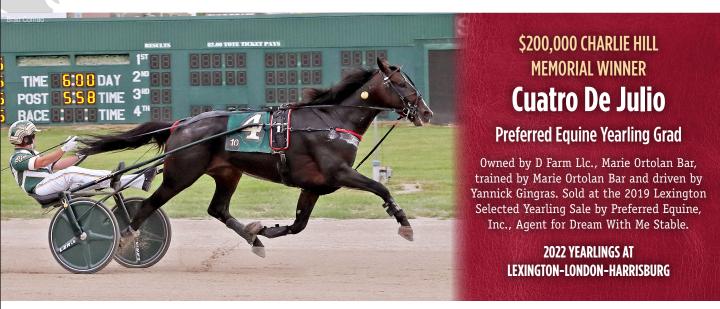

"Eric and I are totally consumed in the sport. Since we have been together, many of his horses have won major awards, but sadly as of today, Eric has not. He has, however, won awards in prior industries for his innovations.

"Our goal is to continue what we're doing and to innovate the industry. I believe one of the problems in our sport is the reluctance to change and try new things, but I hope that changes.

"Harness racing isn't something we just do - it is our life. It totally consumes us and we wouldn't have it any other way."

Secrets exposed

by Trey Nosrac

The names of the yearlings in this column are changed to protect my "secrets."

Yearling shopping in the fall is my favorite time of the harness racing dance. For those who partake in this unique ritual, the fun of yearling sales season is difficult to explain to ordinary people. To civilians, we look like addicts reading strange books, looking for secret codes, and speaking in strange dialects.

For many of us, finding a yearling of interest in a sales catalog is the beginning of our search. We whittle down the original catalog options to a manageable number. Then, like detectives trying to solve cold cases, we nose around using our computers and I-pads to dive deeply into the family of our favored prospects.

This morning, I tracked down a few scraps of information from various sites and began scribbling down information that did not appear in the standard catalog. Cyber searchers bidding on yearlings can visit many new cyber alleys and backstreets before the hammer falls. The path I was prowling around this morning was a search for updates to add to my list of potential yearlings that caught my eye. I am proud of finding a few nuggets of data that occurred after the catalog's printing.

Updates are tricky territory. Some of the "Breaking News" is of minor importance. Sales companies post major updates on websites and provide supplemental booklets at the sale. Auctioneers note significant updates. Still, clues to the puzzle of a future performance slip past. My research concerning updates in this particular family was not in vain.

This current catalog contains a simple line in the 1st Dam section of a yearling on my list – Secret Sauce (M) (Long Tom). Now two. Apparently, "Now two" suggests that Secret Sauce is still alive, which is good news but not very informative. Since cataloging, I found that Secret Sauce was alive and had entered a fair race but scratched before post.

Another line in the 2nd dam states, BREAKING NEWS, 3, 1:58.2 f ($24, 786) (Glidemaster) 2 wins at three. Is this horse still racing? The answer is yes. How has this horse been fairing since cataloging? BREAKING NEWS now has BT of 1:57.4 f and has added $2,068 to his lifetime earnings.

And another horse in this family, Missing Link, did not even make the original yearling catalog page. Missing Link is not missing entirely. This filly was entered in a qualifier, showed a decent first half in approximately 1:01, and broke at the ¾ pole.

Is this information of any value? Maybe not, but it was intriguing to search for the data. Each time I stumbled across a tidbit was an aha moment only addicted harness racing enthusiasts would appreciate. These discoveries of mine are merely minor updates to a yearling sales catalog.

Alas, at this point, I will propose killing my little diversion like a bug on the windshield. Due to those damn nemesis, technology and Internet updates like the ones I did to my catalog this morning should link to our official performance database.

The USTA database is a fantastic, almost magical resource showing every step of every horse, and this is where I found my little trio of secrets. In the case of a horse like BREAKING NEWS, I can tap a few buttons, maybe pay a few bucks, and watch the races of this horse that is of tangential interest in my yearling shopping.

The simple suggestion it pains me to suggest is that relevant records of horses in our sales can, and should, be updated daily on the online catalogs. Sports people these days are data maniacs, and data maniacs appreciate having data refreshed.

Suppose you watch a professional baseball game. Within minutes of the final out, every batting average, team standing, odds of making the playoffs, and thousands of other data points will be entered, recalculated, and available.

In a way, this stinks. The mind-numbing data takes the charm out of sports for many of us. However, the new generation seems to enjoy knowing that last night Andres Gimenez made a play on a ground ball that had a 92.4% chance of getting through the infield for a base hit. This play moved his fielding average up to .007, which placed him as the third-ranked second baseman in the national database of fielding evaluation. The new gambling generation of horseplayers and owners will demand up-to-theminute data.

At this point in history, those of us contemplating spending a lot of money on a yearling should know when the lifetime earnings of a yearling's older brother go up a thousand dollars or when his half-sister lowers her lifetime mark by one-tenth of a second.

This nonstop flow of information is the new, sort of a sad world for those who enjoy the chase. Automatic refreshing of data would make my morning's search unnecessary, and my secrets will no longer remain secret.

Sigh.

Hambletonian 1-2 finishers take their respective New York Sires Stakes championships at Tioga

Hambletonian winner Cool Papa Bell added a New York Sires Stakes championship to his resume on Saturday at Tioga Downs as all eight $200,000 finals were contested during an afternoon card. One race later, Joviality S, the runner-up to Cool Papa Bell in the Hambletonian, won her NYSS championship for sophomore trotting fillies. Both trotters set track records in the process.

The day started with The Gruffalo winning the title for 2-year-old trotting colts by a length over Kierkegaard K in a 1:55.3, which equalled the track record. The Gruffalo (Chapter Seven—Clementine Dream) overtook late leader Kierkegaard K in the stretch to win by a length for trainer and co-owner Mark Harder. He owns the colt—purchased for $75,000 at last year's Standardbred Horse Sales Company yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA—with Racing Team Of America, Deena Frost, and Emma Pettersson.

The Gruffalo now sports earnings just shy of $200,000 and a record of 7 4-1-0.

In the sophomore male pace, homebred gelding Pleaseletmeknow (American Ideal—I Said Please) defeated Seven Hundred by three lengths in 1:51.3. Matt Kakaley did the driving for trainer Travis Alexander and owner/breeder Fiddler's Creek Stables LLC.

The win improved Pleaseletmeknow to 18 11-3-2 lifetime and upped his earnings over $520,000.

The final championship of the day went to Just Divine (Huntsville—Divine Caroline) in the sophomore pacing fillies' division. Stratton drove the filly to a 1:49.3 victory for trainer Ron Burke and owners W.J. Donovan, Craig Henderson, Joe Sbrocco, and Purnel & Libby LLC.

Black Magic sets Scioto track record in Ohio Sires Stakes victory

by Frank Fraas / OHHA

Black Magic sat patiently through the first three quarters before making a charge down the stretch to win the $75,000 Ohio Sires Stakes fourth leg for 2-year-old colt trotters at Eldorado Scioto Downs on Friday (Sept. 9).

Nine freshman trotting colts went to the gate with A Real Legend the 4-5 favorite.

Off the gate, Jet Hill shot to the lead, but Rumble Strips roared past to take the lead at the quarter in :27.4.

A Real Legend with Don Irvine Jr. did not wait and immediately took over the lead covering the half in :55.2 and three-quarters in 1:24.1.

Black Magic and Chris Lems sat fourth six lengths back as the field moved up the back stretch.

Around the final turn, Lems looked for racing room but had to wait for the top of the stretch before it opened up. He guided Black Magic to the middle of the racetrack where the son of Full Count dug in and set his sights on the leaders.

Black Magic blew past A Real Legend and caught Jet Hill and Rumble Strips at the wire to win by a head in a track record 1:55.1.

Jet Hill finished second with Rumble Strips third.

Trained by Steve Cross, it was Black Magic's second win in the Sires Stakes and sixth in eight starts. He has now earned $179,850 for the ownership group of Richard Gutnick, Thomas Pontone, and Joseph Lozito Jr.

Brad Conrad

Black Magic (Chris Lems) set a Scioto Downs track record of 1:55.1 on Friday while winning a $75,000 Ohio Sires Stakes event.

James MacDonald surpasses $50 million

Canada's leading driver James MacDonald reached the major career milestone of $50 million in career earnings on Thursday evening (Sept. 8) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Entering Thursday's card just over $4,000 away from the milestone, MacDonald guided 2-year-old pacing filly Dewitt This Moment to a 20-1 upset victory in the fourth race to surpass $50 million mark. Dewitt This Moment is owned by Paul Ritchie and trained by Jim Ritchie.

A resident of Guelph, ON, MacDonald is currently on pace to lead the nation in wins and earnings for a second consecutive year.

MacDonald drove the winners of $7.5 million in 2021 on his way to earning a first O'Brien Award as Canada's Driver of the Year. He is currently trending towards eclipsing that number, sitting at $6.4 million for 2022 with over a quarter of the season remaining.

Along with his nation-leading numbers, MacDonald is also on pace to capture his second consecutive Woodbine driving title. He currently holds a near 60-win lead with 259 victories.

The next milestone on MacDonald's radar is 3,000 wins, as Thursday's milestone victory was win number 2,933 for the Prince Edward Island native.

$500,000 Super Sunday at Hippodrome 3R

There is more than $500,000 in purses up for grabs as the Hippodrome 3R plays host to its Super Sunday today (Sept. 11) Quebec-Bred Championship finals for 2 and 3-year-old trotters and pacers.

The big race day has drawn world-class drivers Daniel Dube and Louis-Philippe Roy back home to compete in the 12-race program that gets underway at noon. Dube has nine drives while Roy has 11 races that he is driving in.

Here is a brief synopsis of the eight finals.

2ND RACE $55,000 TWO-YEAR-OLD TROTTING FILLIES

HP Run For Dan (Alarm Detector) is the favorite from post one for driver Robert Shepherd. She has only one win in the series and can wire the field provided she stays on stride. Kenogami Courage (Lookslikeachpndale) and driver Stephane Brosseau always stays on stride and has a mark of 2:02.1 but must overcome starting from post 8.

4TH RACE $65,000 THREE-YEAR-OLD TROTTING COLTS

It may be a short field of only five starters, but four of them all have a shot at winning. The entry of Royalty Beer (Royalty For Life) and Cleveland Massimo (Muscle Mass) will be tough to beat. Royalty Beer (Post 1) is last year's returning champion and has LPR in the sulky. He has a record in the series of 1:58.4. Cleveland Massimo (Post 4) will be driven by Robert Shepherd and has four wins this year, the fastest a lifetime mark of 1:59.3. Also a contender is Kenogami Rebel (Post 2) for Stephane Brosseau with a record this year of 1:57.1.

6TH RACE $65,000 THREE-YEAR-OLD TROTTING FILLIES

Returning champion last year and the "Princess of Trot" at H3R this year, Stella Alpha (Royalty For Life) has been superb this year. Her eight wins, seven at H3R, is the most by any horse this season. She has a record of 1:58 for driver Pascal Berube and goes from post 2 Sunday. Her main rival will be HP Felicity (Muscle Mass) from post five for driver Robert Shepherd. She has three seconds in a row and one of those seconds was a loss to Stella Alpha in the series.

7TH RACE $55,000 TWO-YEAR-OLD PACING COLTS

Until last week's loss to older horses, Little Diamond (Sportswriter) reeled off four straight wins and looks to make a clean sweep of the series. He starts from post 3 for driver

William Roy and has a record of 1:58.4. Despite being winless in six starts, Albert Alpha (He's Watching) has five seconds in six lifetime starts for driver Pascal Berube. They go from post four.

8TH RACE $65,000 THREE-YEAR-OLD PACING FILLIES

This is one of the toughest divisions. Majo Sport Bella (Sportswriter) is the race favorite from post 2 for driver Jonathan Lachance. She has only three lifetime starts and has won two of them, the fastest in 1:59.3. Then there is Shes Rockandfame (He's Watching) for LPR from the rail. She is coming off a 1:59.1 score, and can win from on or off the pace. Other contenders include Got Charlie (Post 8) and Kinder Dirty Diana (Post 4).

9TH RACE $55,000 TWO-YEAR-OLD TROTTING COLTS

Auguste (Bar Hopping) and Kinnder Thinktwice (Wheeling N Dealin) have been battling it out in the series and both have beaten each other twice this season. Sunday is where it really counts. Auguste (post 3) has been razor sharp for driver Pascal Berube with two wins in the series and three second place finishes in her last five starts, the fastest a 2:02 clocking.

Kinnder Thinktwice (post 1) has never finished off the board in her five starts with two wins (not in the series) for driver Stephane Brosseau and she has a record also of 2:02.

10TH RACE $55,000 TWO-YEAR-OLD PACING FILLIES

Here is where Dube and Roy get to duke it out. Dube drives YS Poisson Davril (Sportswriter) from post 2. She has won two of her last three starts and last week uncorked a 1:58.4 lifetime mark.

Pocahontas Du Lac (Betterthancheddar) goes from post 6 with Roy in the bike. Roy bred the filly and co-owns it with his brother, Pierre-Luc Roy, who got the filly to the final driving her to two wins in the series. She has a record of 1:58.2.

The spoiler in the race could be Godiva Shadow Girl (Shadow Play) from post 3 for driver Robert Shepherd. She has won five of her six starts with a record of 1:58.2. Other contenders include YS Sensationalcity (Post 8), who is coming off a 2:01.1 triumph and All She Can (Post 1) for driver Samuel Fillion, who has been a game second in her last two starts.

11TH RACE $65,000 THREE-YEAR-OLD PACING COLTS

Great finale of Super Sunday as Aladdin (Shadow Play) with LPR driving, draws post 8 and comes into the final on a three-race winning streak, the fastest a 1:54 mile last week at Rideau Carlton. Then there is Jack Panic (Sportswriter) from post 6 for driver Robert Shepherd. They have won two of his last three starts, the fastest a 1:56.4 romp by 11 and a quarter length at H3R

In addition to the eight stakes races, the Quebec Jockey Club has also programmed three $10,000 invitationals. The third race for the trotters, the fifth race pace for the horses and the 12th race pace for the mares.

Ohio Select Sale overflowing with current and potential talent

The Ohio Selected Jug Yearling Sale is just one week away on Friday (Sept. 16) at the Pickaway Ag Center, Circleville, OH, which means that the majority of the Buckeye state's standardbred owners and trainers are watching videos and looking for that next champion harness horse.

There are 277 yearlings cataloged, and the auction will get underway at 10 a.m. with a special Show Day on Thursday (Sept. 15). As always, the sales company and breeders will provide complimentary food and refreshments from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Thursday, while prospective purchasers peruse the expansive offerings.

A change in the racing schedule has moved the $2.4 million Ohio Super Night to Saturday, Oct. 1 at Dayton Raceway, with some divisional stars still vying for their place in the rich finals this weekend at Scioto and Northfield.

World champion A Real Legend, an Ohio Selected Jug Sale 2021 graduate, already has his ticket punched as he overpowered the 2-year-old male trotters division in his last outing at Northfield, setting a new 1:55 half-mile track benchmark. A $32,000 yearling purchase for trainer/co-owner Rosy Weaver with Heartland Acres, he was sold under the Hickory Lane Horse Farm banner, which also happens to stand his sire Uncle Peter.

Another 2021 Ohio Selected Jug Sale graduate, Rose Run Yolanda, just picked up her fourth consecutive stakes victory by six open lengths while capturing her $40,000 div. of the Ohio Sires Stakes for 2-year-old trotting fillies at Scioto on Thursday (Sept. 8) in 1:58.1. A $50,000 yearling purchase, she was bred and sold by Rose Run Farm and is now campaigned by Black Magic Racing and trainer Todd Luther and has earned at total of $111,000 thus far this season.

Rose Run Farm will offer a Long Tom half-brother to Rose Run Yolanda (Hip# 124, Rose Run Zickem) in next week's auction.

Several top established and first-crop Ohio-based sires (5 or more) are represented at the sale, including: Bit Of A Legend N (5), Creatine (11), Dancin Yankee (13), Downbytheseaside (42), Enterprise (19), Fear The Dragon (34), Full Count (5), Lather Up (21), Long Tom (33), Racing Hill (11), Uncle Peter (16), Volstead (7), What The Hill (33), and Yankee Cruiser (7).

Janet Terhune to be honored with Lady Pace

Janet Terhune, director of the Harness Racing Museum & Hall of Fame in Goshen, NY, will be saluted as the 2022 Lady Pace honoree by the Delaware County Fair.

Born in Connecticut and raised in New Hampshire, Terhune earned her undergraduate and graduate degrees in Agriculture from the Ohio State University.

Terhune served as an administrative assistant for the Ohio Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association and as an administrative assistant at Otterbein College in Westerville, OH.

In 1986, she joined the United States Trotting Association (USTA) as an information and research associate. In 2008 she was appointed registrar, and in 2011 the director of registry and member services.

Terhune was appointed to the top role at the Harness Racing Museum and Hall of Fame in the spring of 2012.

Terhune will be honored in a winner's circle ceremony on Jug Day (Sept. 22).

Keith Waples to be honored with 2022 Neville Award

Keith Waples, driver of the 1972 Little Brown Jug champ Strike Out, will be honored as the 2022 Joseph Neville Memorial Award winner by the Little Brown Jug and the Delaware County Fair.

Waples, generally regarded as one of the greatest horsemen in the history of harness racing, was inducted into Canada's Sports Hall of Fame (1973), and the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame (1978) and the United States Harness Racing Hall of Fame (1987).

He started his driving career at the age of 12 and 'retired' from driving at the age of 81. His records show more than 3,200 driving wins, that number is surely a fraction of the true total given that statistics for a good part of his career weren't recorded.

In 1972, Waples teamed up with fellow Canadian, trainer John Hayes, Sr., to capture the 27th edition of the Jug with Strike Out. The chestnut colt erased the track record of his illustrious sire, Bret Hanover, and foiled Hilarious Ways attempt for pacings triple crown.

Waples also guided Albert's Star to an elimination victory in 1975.

He helped develop and operate a trio of Canadian tracks — Orangeville Raceway, Cloverdale Raceway (now Fraser Downs) and Sandown Park.

Keith Waples died in May 2021 at the age of 97.

Gural: Bulldog Hanover is a great example that stallions can breed and race successfully

I have taken a lot of criticism for the Gural rule requiring our best 3-year-olds to race at 4. Now that we have seen what Bulldog Hanover has accomplished I think it shows how important it is to have a great horse to market. I know that last weekend WEG gave away Bulldog Hanover t-shirts to the first thousand customers and I bet they were scooped up in a few minutes. I bet their attendance Saturday was also higher than normal because he was racing.

The funny thing is, he also bred 80 mares so I don't know why other owners cannot follow suit and breed and race at 4. If anything, it seems to have made him faster. It is sad that the Hambletonian Society and WEG refuse to go along (with the Gural Rule) as with their help it would have been almost impossible not to race our best horses at 4.

Someone sent me of the grandstand of The Red Mile on Tuesday and they didn't have a single customer to watch the stakes races that day.

In three weeks Keenland will be packed on a weekday for their races because the thoroughbreds have done a good job of marketing the sport and the truth is no one knows harness racing even exists. In any case, I think that Bulldog Hanover proves that if you want to market the sport, having a great horse who races at 4 is a big help.

Jeff Gural / owner The Meadowlands, Tioga Downs, Vernon Downs

Never left the grandstand

Whereas, I toiled as a pedigree writer and horse merchandiser and might be better known for managing the extensive Perretti Farms broodmare band, there's that piece of me that never left my racing origins better known as The Grandstand.

Whereas the breeder in me totally applauds and endorses the excellent purse structures our horses race for in addition to the exceptional prices they both sell for and bring, there's that piece of me that wonders how long we can maintain being a spectator and wagering sport with minimal spectators and betting handles at the racetracks.

Yes, there have been gains, but without the casino and state subsidiaries there wouldn't be a harness racetrack capable of sustaining its purse structure.

Yes, Gabe "Senditin" Prewitt did a good job at Pompano and the handle did increase a tad, but hardly commensurate with Gulfstream Park in nearby Hallandale which apparently is able to sustain itself via the handle.

I hate to say this, but I have noticed a Pompano bettor or two utilizing his "offshore" account from Faradays rather than walk to the window and place his bets on the house window where the track would keep a higher percentage of his action via live betting as opposed to the 3 per cent simulcast take.

At the recently completed Saratoga meeting in New York, handle and attendance were at an all-time high suggesting that people will indeed attend the races given a reason to do so.

As for the piece of me that never left the grandstand, many of the grievances voiced by my fellow grandstanders in the "good ole days" remain unaddressed as the hordes that used to inhabit Roosevelt, Yonkers, The Meadowlands, Liberty Bell and other tracks no longer do so and haven't for decades.

In that it's been this way for some time now, I'd imagine anyone in the business under the age of 40 believes this is how it's always been and probably does not question the future.

Unfortunately, as anyone in the multi product store business acutely knows, products that don't sell are soon relegated to the back wall adjacent to the exit.

Racinos of which harness racing are a part of are multi product gambling institutions in which the racing part is by far the least lucrative and a financial drain on the overall complex.

Understandably, they want us to disappear even though we (the tracks) were their entree into the area to begin with, as we're simply not holding up our end of "the gambling business".

Horse of the Year

Yes, I saw that race at Chester in which the 2021 Horse of the Year failed to win an "overnight" despite going off at odds on.

Yes, she closed well and finished second in what was just an obvious "prep" for an upcoming stakes event.

Yes, a non-betting qualifier would have served the same purpose.

Yes, sophisticated players sensing that a less than all-out effort was most likely in the cards probably "passed" the race choosing not to wager.

Yes, the judges were probably in a 'dammed if they did and damned if they didn't' situation as obviously the horse did make a belated though unsuccessful attempt to actually finish first.

Yes, sitting last in that specific field could be construed as lack of effort although a belated effort was made. Unfortunately, after a pedestrian pace, there was a bit too much ground to make up and she wasn't close at the wire.

Yes, race offices will often write a condition allowing a superstar to enter an overnight under the assumption that it's mere appearance on the racing card will attract interest.

While the sophisticated players could undoubtedly conclude that this might not be an ideal betting situation, it is not them we need to protect.

It is the unsophisticated players who sent her off at .05 on the dollar that while ripping up tickets in disgust probably concluding the all-knowing and infamous "they" fixed the race and were betting something else.

Even though that did not happen, in terms of perception versus reality, it might as well have happened as the losing bettors will remain unconvinced.

Yes, THE LOSING BETTORS we used to have in abundance but left to their own devices after witnessing innumerable similar situations over the decades, simply concluded it's a "fixed game" and not worthy supporting in the betting windows.

Customers

Okay "what's her name" Lisa Gianelli has been convicted and sentenced for the distribution of non-testable performance enhancing drugs via her association with the already convicted Dr. Seth Fishman.

Well, whenever there are "sellers" there must be "sellees" meaning those who purchased these substances.

It seems high time for the "client list" to be identified as well.

That said, what about any records that may have been set by horses utilizing those substances?

Seems Major League baseball has handled a similar scenario as everyone knows just who set what during the steroid era enabling fans and writers alike to formulate their own conclusions as just what the "home run" record actually is.

The closer Aaron Judge gets to the Roger Maris 61 number, the more commentary occurs.

Whereas steroid era guys like Bonds, McGuire, Sosa etc. still had to hit the ball, the fact that they were steroid enhanced allowed it to travel further upon connection.

Consequently, while whatever those "substances" actually were, their mere administration would likely not make the administered horse go "faster" than it ordinarily could.

However, it likely would allow some to maintain "top speed" for longer intervals which often is the difference between winning and losing a photo finish and/or setting a record.

In the interest of accuracy, it would appear that racing, like baseball, should identify which "customers" were using whatever, which would allow for the identification of any "records" set under what really are false pretenses.
