Cecchin Cup chills

Desperate Man and Trevor Henry were brilliant in winning the 38th Pepsi North America Cup and providing a thrill of a lifetime for the Cecchin family.

by Chris Lomon / Woodbine communications

Desperate Man, under a perfect drive from Trevor Henry, stormed home to take the $1 million Pepsi North America Cup Saturday night (Sept. 11) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Trained by Kathy Cecchin, who co-owns with her husband, John, their daughter Nikki, and son-in-law Paul Davies (as chronicled in our preview issue's lead story here), the son of Shadow

Play—Dreamlands Latte finished a hard-charging second in last week's Cup elimination.

On this night, he went one better and did it in style.

It was 3-5 favorite Bulldog Hanover who took early control of the race, as Jody Jamieson piloted the Somebeachsomewhere stakes champ and NA Cup elim winner to the front around the first turn, leading his nine rivals through a sensible opening quarter-mile in :27.3. Rockyroad Hanover sat second followed by Whichwaytothebeach and Perfect Sting, while Henry had Desperate Man positioned in fifth.

There was little change as Bulldog Hanover continued to call the shots after a half in :55.1, with Henry making sure he kept his sophomore in touch with the leader, tipping to the outside and following the cover of Perfect Sting, the other Cup elimination winner.

Desperate Man continued to pick up steam and pick off his rivals one by one, as the field began the turn for home.

Mid-way down the lane, Desperate Man, second to Bulldog Hanover in their Cup elim, exploded on the scene, striking front and going on to post a three-quarter length triumph in a time of 1:49.3, carving out a final quarter in :27.1. Perfect Sting finished second, Whichwaytothebeach was third, and Bulldog Hanover was fourth.

"I was never so confident that I'd win a race, let alone the NA cup, at the quarter pole," said Jamieson. "(Bulldog Hanover) just didn't fire home like I expected and I'm sure everyone else expected. It is very disappointing, but (trainer) Jack (Darling) will get to the bottom of it and he'll be better in the future."

Meanwhile, Henry's pre-race plan worked to perfection.

"I had to get away better than what I did last week. I had to have him forwardly placed. He's a little tricky behind the car. He's funny: Last week, he kind of run behind the gate; I got him back pacing and I didn't want to rush him off his feet. I was just interested in making the final. Tonight, I said we've got to have him closer, so you know, if he makes a mistake, he makes a mistake. But we've got to have him closer."

It was an emotional scene in the winner's circle.

A $20,000 purchase at the 2019 Lexington Select Sale, Desperate Man had delivered his owners and driver with their biggest win along with a $500,000 payday, while returning $17.20 for the win.

"He's a special horse, but you know, we've had a lot of nice horses over the years, but nothing that makes money like this one," said John Cecchin.

Henry, longtime friends with the Cecchins, was thrilled to see the longtime horsepeople hoist the Cup trophy.

"It feels great. These people deserve it. They've been in the business a long time, had some hard times, and got lucky to get this horse. You know, I started at the bottom and now I won the biggest one, so it's been great."

The Winbak Farm-bred bay arrived at Cup with just a lone score in eight starts on the year. On the big stage at Woodbine Mohawk Park, he departed with a win for the ages.

There could still be more memorable moments to come.

"Hopefully, like the game plan is, he's a Saturday night horse for two or three years, and after that we'll buy him a saddle and ride him," said John Cecchin.

For now, they'll ride the wave of Pepsi North America Cup glory.

King Of The North takes Wellwood final

by Woodbine communications

King Of The North got up in the final strides to take down Duly Resolved in Saturday's (Sept. 11) $640,000 William Wellwood Memorial and earned a ticket to the Mohawk Million. The stake is for 2-year-old trotting colts and geldings and was the second richest race on the Pepsi North America Cup card at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The winner of the Wellwood final earns an automatic berth into the Mohawk Million which will take place on Sept. 25. The other nine starting spots were purchased for $100,000.

There was lots of speed from the outside early as Letsdoit S and Dexter Dunn overcame post nine to grab the lead well before the :28.3 opening quarter. Tim Tetrick gave Temporal Hanover a lane and they cleared the top before the :57.2 half. Periculum attempted a challenge but broke stride.

Paul MacDonell pulled elimination winner Duly Resolved out to mount their challenge and they were in control past the 1:25.3 three-quarters. As they trotted for home Mark MacDonald and King Of The North, who had been second up behind Duly Resolved, were in the middle of the track and making up ground. Duly Resolved dug in but was caught just before the wire reached in 1:54.2. Duly Resolved, one of three Ontario-sired colts in the field had to be content with the bridesmaid spot this night while Letsdoit S, Temporal Hanover and Esplosione completed the top five.

King Of The North, a son of Walner, had been undefeated coming into the Wellwood elimination last week but in his first start north was caught late and had to settle for second to Periculum. He now has a summary of 6-1-0 in seven tries to date for $601,000 earned. Nolamaura Racing and Steve Arnold. King Of The North was purchased for $190,000 at the 2020 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale.

MacDonald, whose brother James won the Champlain stake in the previous race, noted he was happy to be back at Mohawk where he spent many years before moving south of the border. As for the trip Mark said: "He got bearing out on me a little again. We had taken the head pole off and he was still bearing out a little bit, we'll have to address that. But go-wise, he had tons of go and I was really happy with the way he trotted.

"Last week, he raced well and like I said, we tweaked him a little bit and changed his shoes tonight and I thought he trotted a little cleaner. He was just kind of on that line again, so we just have to tweak him a little bit more and try and get him really good for the Mohawk Million, we're pretty excited to be into that."

The William Wellwood Memorial is named in honor of one of the most respected and talented horsemen who made his career on the WEG circuit and beyond. Inducted into the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame in 2001, William Wellwood passed away two years later. His widow, Jean, approached WEG about naming a race in his honor and thus the former Campbellville Stakes became the William Wellwood Memorial in 2005.

ADARE CASTLE

by Woodbine Communications

Venerable was dominant in Saturday's $392,000 Peaceful Way final, earning redemption for her dam in the event for 2-year-old trotting fillies, the first major stake on the stakes laden Pepsi North America Cup undercard at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Two of the rookie fillies came into the contest undefeated. Venerable was six-for-six while Adare Castle, one of two Ontario-sired fillies in the final, was five-for-five. The latter filly certainly held her own though as that pair trotted away from the field down the stretch.

As the race got underway it was American Beauty and Yannick Gingras on top by the opening panel in :28.1. Just past that point Dave Miller pulled the right line on Venerable, sitting in fourth, and she responded with an easy take over to settle on top by the half in :57.3.

Adare Castle, who got away mid field, grabbed cover from Delilah Hanover and came calling second over as they trotted by the three-quarters in 1:26. Down the lane it was a two horse contest with the undefeated duo pulling away from their rivals. Adare Castle gave a valiant effort but Venerable was not to be denied this night, crossing the wire in 1:54.3 with the ear plugs still in.

Adare Castle, a daughter of Muscle Mass driven by James MacDonald, was second with Peyton Hanover (Muscle Hill) seven lengths back in third for Doug McNair. American Beauty and Missy Trix picked up the final two cheques. A $2 win ticket on Venerable, who upped her earnings to over half-a-million dollars with the win, paid $2.40

Understandably Miller, who has driven Venerable in all of her starts, had nothing but praise for his charge.

"She's a professional, she's really easy to get along with. She does her job and she's been doing it very well. I got her away from the gate and when I moved her she got to the lead and relaxed. I spoke to her halfway around the last turn and as soon as I did, she just picked it right up. Into the stretch, I just kept talking to her.

"She was a bit excited (in the post parade) she knows what she's here to do. I got her to the outside and got her settled down tonight, but she sees the starting gate, she's ready to go, and she's all business."

Richard 'Nifty' Norman trains the winner, a daughter of Walner, for owners Mel Hartman of Ontario, David McDuffee, Paul Bordogna and Steve Arnold of New Hampshire, New Jersey and New York, respectively. Norman, McDuffee and Hartman had posed in the Peaceful Way winner's circle previously in 2012 with their great trotting mare Bee A Magician.

A $210,000 yearling purchase at the Lexington Select Sale, Venerable's dam is Jolene Jolene who was an outstanding rookie in the 2014 season. She came into the Peaceful Way final that year riding a three-race winning streak but unfortunately broke stride. Venerable is her third foal, the first being $525,000 winner Crucial.

The Peaceful Way is named for one of the most talented trotting fillies ever bred in Ontario who earned more than $3.2 million during her stellar career and was inducted into the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame in 2008. One year earlier, shortly after Peaceful Way's retirement, Woodbine Entertainment announced they had renamed the Oakville Stakes (an event she won handily in her 2-year-old career) in her honor.

Fashion Frenzie fantastic in Goodtimes final

by Woodbine communications

Fashion Frenzie extended his winning streak to three with an impressive open length victory in the $240,000 Goodtimes final for 3-year-old trotting colts on Saturday (Sept. 11) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

It was Publicity Seeker and Doug McNair with the early lead as they marched the field past the opening quarter in :27.2. Louis-Philippe Roy aboard Fashion Frenzie wasn't content with his view from fourth at that point and grabbed the front well before the :56.3 half.

Just as Fashion Frenzie settled on top, Tim Tetrick pulled the race favorite Dancinginthedark M out from sixth to mount their challenge and they steadily advanced on the leader as they headed to the 1:24.3 third panel, but midway through the final turn Dancingwiththedark M broke stride and took himself out of contention.

From there it was Fashion Frenzie on his own as he pulled away to win by five lengths in 1:53.2. Ritson, one of the longest shots on the board, closed an absolute ton to take second for James MacDonald and Publicity Seeker held for third. On A Streak and his stablemate from the Luc Blais barn Macho Martini collected the last two pay spots. A $2 win ticket on Fashion Frenzie returned $7.

"I mean, I'm pretty confident in my horse, but that horse (Dancinginthedark M) looked pretty good too, last time in the States. So when I saw him coming, it was game on right there. We hit the three-quarters in 1:24 and Timmy (Tetrick) made a break. From there, I was pretty confident that my horse was going to get us home," said Roy.

"(Fashion Frenzie) is one of my good friends in Quebec's horses, Francis Richard. He co-owns with a bunch of his owners. I actually booked off him last year before the (OSS) Super Finals when he came here. I was listed on him and Logan Park. This year, I ended up picking up this drive. I really fell in love with the horse, especially this year. Earlier in the season, he felt like he was a little bit crazy in the post parade and going to the gate, but he's just been getting smarter and smarter.

"The trip he did today, I could have let him in a hole; I could have done whatever I wanted with him, so it's a big asset to have on a trotter."

Richard Moreau trains the winner, a son of Archangel—Striking Fashion owned by Ecurie Francis Richard Inc., Mario Bourgea, Pierre Guillemette and Sylvain Richard of Quebec. Fashion Frenzie was one of five Ontario-sired colts in the field and cost less than all nine of his rivals having sold for $7,000 at the London Select Yearling Sale in 2019.

Bred by John Petrik of Moorefield, ON, Fashion Frenzie now has over $529,000 on his card with five wins and two seconds from nine trips behind the gate this year. He came into Saturday's contest off wins in his Goodtimes elim and an Ontario Sires Stakes Gold event.

The Goodtimes is named in honor of one of the best trotters ever bred in Ontario and a member of the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame who won more than $2 million during his career, which was then a record for a Canadian-bred trotter. Goodtimes recently celebrated his 30th birthday at the farm of his only trainer during his career, John Bax, who was on hand to present the Goodtimes trophy as he has been every year.

Fire Start Hanover brings the heat in Fan Hanover final

by Chris Lomon for Woodbine communications

Fire Start Hanover collared Hot Mess Express in the final strides to take top prize in a thrilling edition of the $425,000 Fan Hanover final, Saturday night (Sept. 11) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The duel between two of the continent's top 3-year-old pacing fillies definitely didn't disappoint.

Notorious Pink, with Trevor McCarthy in the sulky, took early control of the proceedings, guiding her rivals through an opening quarter-mile timed in :27. Soon after, Hot Mess Express, who won her Fan Hanover elim in impressive fashion last week, struck front and reeled off a half in :54.4.

Fire Start Hanover, equally strong in taking her Fan Hanover elim last Saturday, soon began to make headway, but had plenty of work to do as the 10-horse field hit three-quarters in 1:22.2.

As the field straightened for home, Dexter Dunn had Fire Start Hanover in full flight and the pair took dead-aim at Hot Mess Express. The fillies then put on a show, going head-to-head down the stretch with Fire Start Hanover finally putting her foe away late to win by a neck in a time of 1:50.1.

"Oh, she went a big mile," said Dunn. "You know, she raced so good last week off the pace, and there was hot speed early, so we got out of that and we ended up being way back. But she had to come a long way first over and chased down a real good filly, so you know, it was a really great effort by her."

Bred by Hanover Shoe Farms, Fire Start Hanover gained a measure of revenge on Hot Mess Express, after finishing second to the Trained by Richard "Nifty" Norman, the daughter of Somebeachsomewhere—Fit To Frame, sold for $105,000 at the 2019 Standardbred Horse Sale Company's yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA, is owned by Pinske Stables, David Hoese and Lawrence Means. Fire Start Hanover now has 12 career wins from 21 starts. In eight 2021 engagements, she has a mark of 4-4-0.

"I was very excited about this filly," said Norman. "I love this filly, but like I said, the race early there, I was glad Dexter bailed on the lead, because I know she likes having a target and loves to chase a horse down. So, they raced pretty good to the half and I knew she'd be coming home good, but Hot Mess Express is a tough horse and I wasn't sure if she was going to go by her or not, but she raced fantastic to get the job done."

Norman was happy to make the trip to Mohawk.

"I've been coming here for many years and I love it. We've had good luck up here. It's a great atmosphere, great track. Love coming here."

Fire Start Hanover broke her maiden in her third start last July at Pocono, winning by 1 ½-lengths at 17-1.

She paid $5.50 for the Fan Hanover victory.

Stonebridge Helios (Bob McClure) won the Champlain 2-year-old pace in 1:52.1.

Stonebridge Helios, Silver Label dominate Champlains

by Ray Cotolo for Woodbine communications

Odds-on favorites Stonebridge Helios and Silver Label served notice to their competition, each going powerful miles to win their respective divisions of the Champlain Stakes on Saturday (Sept. 11) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Stonebridge Helios strolled to the top from post 8 and led at every pole to take the $213,170 Champlain 2-year-old pace in 1:52.1. (replay here)

Driver Bob McClure motored the Sunshine Beach—Ken Doll J colt for the lead and landed at the pylons past a :27.3 first quarter with Market Based settling for the pocket. Bob Loblaw raced third to the backstretch as the field lined single file to a :56.3 half. To the far turn, Bob Loblaw tipped first over and made slight gains, prompting Market Based to vacate the pocket to three-quarters in 1:25.

The top pair scooted clear of the competition to the bottom of the turn as Bob Loblaw broke stride, scattering the field around him. With Market Based the closest pursuer, Stonebridge Helios put away his rivals with ease and strode to a 3-1/4-length victory with Century Inspector sliding up the inside for third and Atlas Hanover taking fourth.

"He did it real easy, so he ended up getting away and he was going to be in a position to either move to the front or be first up," McClure said after the race. "But he felt so good, I just decided to just give him his head and let him go cut it. He got to the front and really relaxed. About halfway through the last turn I just spoke to him and he swelled right up and did he ever kick home. I shut him down pretty early, just kept his attention. He's progressing into an extremely nice colt."

Silver Label (James MacDonald) won the Champlain for 2-year-old pacing fillies in 1:52.2.

Conditioned by John Pentland, who co-owns with John Fleischman and breeder Angie Stiller, Stonebridge Helios won his fourth race from six starts, earning $268,710. He paid $3.90 to win.

Silver Label ground uncovered into the final turn and reeled in loose pacesetter Boudoir Hanover to win the $180,520 Champlain 2-year-old filly pace in 1:52.2. (replay here)

Big Bettor Hanover grabbed the lead to a :27.4 first quarter with Treacherous Kiss racing second. Boudoir Hanover secured a spot in fourth rounding the first turn and soon vacated that position to snatch the lead by a :56.3 half.

Once in command, Boudoir Hanover opened a sizeable margin on the field as driver James MacDonald got underway out of fifth with Silver Label. The far-turn sprint clicked three-quarters in 1:23.1 and proved taxing on Boudoir Hanover, who started to shorten stride in the stretch. Silver Label recouped her deficit on the breakaway leader late in the lane and slid by Boudoir Hanover to win by 1-3/4 lengths. Big Bettor Hanover gave chase from third with Treacherous Kiss taking fourth.

"I didn't want to get in a big rush with her and blast her to the front," MacDonald said after the race. "She really loves coming off a helmet. I was hoping I could find one. I probably could've brushed her to the lead, but I just had so much confidence in her. I said, 'If I got to come first up, I got to come first up.' When she sees a horse, she just really wants to track them down. I was really confident – it looked like Todd [McCarthy and Boudoir Hanover] was going to get away, and then she just finds more every time you need her to. Just a beautiful horse and a pleasure to drive."

A daughter of Bettors Delight—Hidden Gem owned and bred by Millar Farms, Silver Label remains unbeaten from six starts and has banked $246,176. Nick Gallucci trains the $2.70 winner.

Court filing in doping case includes new revelations regarding Surick and Oakes

by Bill Finley

In a recent court filing, the government has portrayed banned harness trainer Nick Surick as a central figure in the early days of its investigation that led to a stunning run of indictments that charged several individuals with using performance-enhancing drugs on racehorses. In particular, Surick is, allegedly, closely linked to high-profile thoroughbred trainer Jorge Navarro, who, it has been revealed, came on the FBI's radar because it was looking first into the now banned harness trainer.

Navarro has pled guilty to one count of misbranding and drug alteration conspiracy and is awaiting sentencing.

Surick was originally charged with drug adulteration and misbranding conspiracy and obstruction, but his name was not included in a superseding indictment filed in November, 2020. It is not known whether or not he has cut a deal with prosecutors.

The filing also goes into new detail about the alleged role of harness trainer Chris Oakes, who was also said to have worked closely with Navarro in his efforts to dope his horses.

The revelations about Surick and Oakes were part of a motion filed by United States Attorneys after lawyers representing thoroughbred trainer Jason Servis and others filed a motion of their own to have evidence acquired through wiretaps dismissed. The government's response included additional information relating to the many people who are either under indictment or have pled guilty for their alleged role in a network that sold, promoted and used performance-enhancing drugs on both standardbreds and thoroughbreds.

The filing shed light on the beginnings of the investigation, which included an initial look at Surick's operation. The FBI first became aware of Navarro after intercepting phone calls made by Surick in January of 2019.

"The immediate backdrop for the investigation of Jorge Navarro, and in particular the interception of his communications beginning in January 2019, was the Government's months' long investigation of Navarro's co-conspirator Nick Surick and others in the horse racing industry," government lawyers wrote.

The filing continues: "...the Government's investigation had revealed ample evidence of Surick and Navarro's efforts to obtain, share, distribute, discuss, use, and conceal various performance enhancing drugs that they each intended to be, and believed to be, untestable by racing authorities."

The government goes on to contend that Navarro and Surick became so intertwined that Navarro became a 'kind of doping mentor' to the harness trainer and that Navarro became "a facilitator of Surick's doping activities."

The taps on Surick's phone also revealed a conversation with harness trainer Chris Marino in which the government alleges the two discussed the administration of baking soda to a horse. The filing contends that the substance reduces muscle fatigue and also has the effect of masking other prohibited substances.

With the evidence gathered through the taps of Surick's phone, the government obtained a permit allowing it to tap into Navarro's phone. The investigation into Navarro led authorities to a number of other individuals, including Oakes and veterinarian Seth Fishman.

The evidence includes an intercepted conversation between Navarro and Oakes in which they discussed a concoction prepared by Oakes that contained "branch chain amino acids" and could not be detected by drug tests.

"This drench I got, dude, they can test you all day, night, before, after... zero chance you get caught," Oakes allegedly said.

During the same intercepted phone call between Oakes and Navarro, Navarro calls Fishman "this crazy (expletive)" and bragged about the potency of a drug Fishman had provided him with. "He sent me something with amino acid right last year," Navarro said. "And I (expletive) gave it to this horse. This (expletive) galloped. Galloped."

Navarro then asked Oakes for help in obtaining that drug, or another that Navarro could use.

Rick Dane Jr., a harness trainer also among those indicted in March, is also mentioned in the filing. The government alleges that Dane, through Fishman associate Lisa Giannelli, acquired what was being referred to as the "Fishman Paint Shot," which is described as a powerful painkiller intended to be more powerful than morphine. It went on to allege that Dane was "tasked with delivering both legal and illicit veterinary substances to horse farms."

Along with Servis, Navarro is the biggest name to be embroiled in the scandal. A native of Panama, he began his career in 2008 and his stable soon established itself as a powerful force in New Jersey and Florida. In 2019, he won his seventh straight trainer title at Monmouth Park and his top horses include X Y Jet, a top sprinter who earned more than $3 million in purses. In January of 2020, Navarro reported that X Y Jet had died of a heart attack.

Swan For All colt Duracell tops new Northern Indiana Yearling Speed Sale

by James Platz

The sale season in Indiana kicked off this weekend with a new entry in the yearling marketplace. The Northern Indiana Yearling Speed Sale conducted its inaugural event Saturday, (Sept. 11) at the Topeka Livestock Auction, offering a catalog of 63 babies from a variety of Hoosier sires. Saturday's sale produced gross sales of just over $539,000 and average of $8,558. Swan For All colt Duracell topped the sale with a $23,000 bid, purchased by an individual representing the Erv Miller Stable.

"I thought it was spectacular. A lot of lookers and a lot of potential buyers. A lot of buyers; a lot of people. I was pleased with that," said Richard Fry, who served as sale consultant. "I'm excited because it's two miles from my house versus five hours or three hours, wherever you're going to go. I thought it would be a great place to start."

Fry spearheaded the creation of the Northern Indiana Yearling Speed Sale. He felt selling horses now that did not make the cut for October's Hoosier Classic Select sale would be a better option for some consignors. The Michiana Classic is held in November which some felt is too late in the year.

Of the 63 horses sold Saturday, 22 were siblings to yearlings consigned to either the Hoosier Classic or Michiana Classic in 2020. Both the Hoosier Classic and Michiana Classic sales are operated by Hoosier Classic Sale Company LLC.

"There are a lot of people that came back after the sale (last November) and said, 'Let's make this thing a go.' I don't know if that's possible or not, but we definitely had a good day with the first sale," Fry said. "The November sale is too late. I just didn't justify that with what I've got going on at home. I can't sell in November."

Trotters led Saturday's session, with seven diagonal-gaited yearlings fetching the highest bids. Duracell, consigned by Fry's Double R Farm, was one of two young horses that finished near the top of the sale sheet for the consignor. A trio of Swan For All offspring averaged $18,333 to lead all sires.

"I must say I was disappointed that he didn't make the (Hoosier) Classic because he was probably the nicest colt I had this year. I just thought I had a special colt, and I was very happy with what he brought," Fry said of Duracell.

The next three slots in the results were occupied by babies from the second crop of Dover Dan, whose freshman crop has quickly made an impact in Indiana. Inquisitive Dan, cataloged as Hip 22 and consigned by Nelson Slabach, brought a final bid of $22,000. The colt, a full-brother to freshman winner Summit City Sonny, was purchased by Kim Roth. Silver Craft, the second foal from Muscle Massive mare Sparkle Plenty, fetched $21,000. The filly, part of the Double R Farm consignment, was purchased by Devon Ray Miller of New Paris, Ind. A group of nine Dover Dan yearlings brought an average of $12,389.

Princess Elane, a Tellitlikeitis filly, yielded the highest price from all pacers consigned. Offered by Maple Lane Farm, trainer James Yoder went to $15,000 to add the yearling to his barn. Friday night, Yoder steered Tellitlikeitis freshman Fulfullnmydestiny to a record 1:49.2 score at Harrah's Hoosier Park in Indiana Sires Stakes action. Three progeny from Tellitlikeitis brought an average of $11,733.

Only JK Endofanera produced a higher average among pacing sires. JD's Lucky Layla, the first foal from Panspacificflight mare Jds Battery Bank, a sister to four six-figure earners, sold for $13,000. Three JK Endofanera offspring averaged $11,833.

First crop sires were also represented at the Northern Indiana Yearling Speed Sale. A quartet of babies from Chapter Seven stallion Helpisontheway were consigned, each a first foal from their respective mares. Helptisone led the group with a final bid of $11,500, purchased by Eleven Star Stables. With two colts and two fillies in the sale, the sire averaged $8,075.

A group of four yearlings from Somebeachsomewhere stallion Check Six were sold with Shana's Check D leading the way. The filly, first foal from Apple Pie Hanover, brought $14,500, purchased by Benita Simmons.

Fry said he would like to build on the momentum of the inaugural sale. While he had hoped to catalog between 80 and 125 yearlings, he was not disappointed with Saturday's numbers.

"I guess the sky's the limit. We just need more horses, and I think it will work," he said.

New York Night of Champions is in the books

The eight $200,000 New York Sires Stakes finals were won by Joviality S, Molotov Cocktail, JD, Gotthegreenlight, Iteration, Test Of Faith, Sevenshadesofgrey and I'll Drink To That.

by Yonkers Raceway media

New York Night of Champions on Friday (Sept. 10) at Yonkers Raceway featured with eight $200,000 New York Sire Stakes (NYSS) finals for the 2- and 3-year-olds of both sexes and gaits.

In the Agriculture & NYS Horse Breeding Development Fund 2-year-old filly trot, Joviality S (Brian Sears) left quickly from post eight and was able to work her way by Little Pink Lies (Ake Svanstedt) after a :27.3 opening quarter.

Joviality S was able to maintain command through middle-half panels of :56.4 and 1:26.2 and turned away a first-over try by Valentina Blu (Andrew McCarthy) past three-quarters and on the last turn. Through the stretch Joviality S dug in when called on by Sears, and she held off a re-rallying Valentina Blu to win by a diminishing three-quarters of a length in a stakes record 1:55.4. Little Pink Lies, Cash Infusion (Mark MacDonald), and Seven On The Rocks (John Stark Jr.) completed the top five finishers.

"She's a very talented filly, and I thought she might be able to overcome the tough spot with her gate speed," said Sears. "I haven't really left with her much this year, but she's got really good manners and gets around the turns great. I felt pretty good about it.

"Andy's filly was struggling in the turns a little bit, so I was just trying to get away from her as much as I could around the last turn. His filly raced really good, but mine held on."

A Chapter Seven filly, Joviality S is trained by Marcus Melander for owner Courant Inc. Bred by Courant's breeding operation, AM Bloodstock Inc., Joviality S is the first foal out of the Muscle Hill mare Pasitheia Face S ($579,565, 1:50.4). Joviality S has a record of 5-1-0 from seven starts and pushed her earnings to $224,623. She paid $3.50 to win and led a $7.70 exacta and a $36.60 trifecta.

Molotov Cocktail, driven by Scott Zeron, led all the way in taking the Winbak Farm 2-year-old colt and gelding trot. Starting from post two, Molotov Cocktail made his way to the lead before the :28.3 opening quarter, with Quincy Market (Corey Callahan), Justice (Svanstedt), and Cool Papa Bell following him). Molotov Cocktail would go on to click off a half of :58.2, and it was at that point that Svanstedt went first-over with Justice, and Cool Papa Bell latched on to the cover.

Quincy Market began to back-pedal before the 1:27.1 three-quarters, which allowed Justice to drop into the pocket, but he was also empty, leaving Cool Papa Bell to take up the chase against Molotov Cocktail. Cool Papa Bell's bid was futile, though, as Molotov Cocktail went on to win by a length and three-quarters in a stakes record 1:56.2. Cool Papa Bell, Secret Rule (Joe Bongiorno), Grand Spa (Sears), and Justice followed him under the wire.

"When I have a horse like him, I just kind of want to position up close. For me, it was always going to be the first two steps he took out of the gate, so I had him timed into it pretty well," said Zeron. "Once I out-footed Quincy Market right there, I had my eye on where Ake was going to be. Once I hit the turn, I took advantage of it and pushed forward.

"Honestly, I don't think we've ever seen the bottom of him this year, so I was pretty comfortable knowing that he's going to finish strong, as long as I keep him going a good tempo and nobody could surprise me by having me out-footed. I kept the pace up front good. It was actually good for my horse to hear a few footsteps coming behind him. Obviously, when he got right up close to my helmet, you always have to worry, but once we straightened up in the lane, I was pretty comfortable where I was."

Linda Toscano trains Molotov Cocktail, a Chapter Seven. Richard Gutnick and Tom Pontone bred him and now share ownership of him with partner Gary Cocco. He's the first foal out of the Kadabra mare Moonlight Cocktail ($137,233, 1:53.2) and is now a four-time winner from six trips behind the gate. He has pocketed $174,168 and returned $10.20 to win after being sent off at 4-1. The exacta kicked back $38.60 and the trifecta went for $611.00.

"He was a remarkable racehorse, and he's a remarkable sire," said Toscano, who also trained Chapter Seven during his career. "He's a game-changer for the business, and I'm so proud of him. (Molotov Cocktail's) mom was a cool horse, also. I trained his mother also, and I was looking forward to training this colt. He's everything I hoped he would be.

"He's eligible to everything in Lexington, and he's also eligible to the Kindergarten Series. I think the owners and I will have a pow-wow, we'll see how the colt comes out of it, and we'll decide what's best for him."

Forrest Blu (Tyler Buter) was the pace-setter in the Agriculture & NYS Horse Breeding Development Fund colt and gelding pace, showing the way through stations of :27.4, :57.2, and 1:25.2.

After a first-over Pleaseletmeknow (Matt Kakaley) couldn't put any pressure on Forrest Blu and he turned for home on a clear lead, it looked like it might be over, but JD (MacDonald) angled out after sitting in the pocket and was able to get up late to win by a neck in 1:55.1. Forrest Blu had to settle for second, and Pickup Man Hanover (Billy Dobson), who wound up third-over and then was forced wide on the last turn by a breaking Stretch The Line (Jordan Stratton) closed well for third. Hurricane Chuck (Dan Dube) and Pleaseletmeknow were fourth and fifth, respectively.

"We were going really hot into the first turn. I just wanted to position him forwardly there, and I was happy I could loop the inside ones," MacDonald said. "Last time, that Forrest Blu followed me, and he beat me late. I was real happy to get that trip.

"I just wanted to stay on the rail until I came out of the last turn — make sure he didn't hit a knee or anything. He seemed to be traveling good, and he dug in late and won. He's a really nice colt. I think that last race (a third in the sire stakes at Yonkers on Aug. 24) helped him kind of break him loose a little bit."

Trainer Ray Schnittker also co-owns the winning So Surreal colt with JD's breeder, George Zitone, and Melissa Beckwith. JD, who is the second foal out of the Art Major mare Park N Orchard (1:51, $202,261), made his third appearance in the winner's circle from seven tries and has now banked $137,729. He paid $32.40 after being sent off at 15-1 and was atop a $166.50 exacta and a $452.50 trifecta.

Rounding out the 2-year-old finals was the Agriculture & NYS Horse Breeding Development Fund filly pace. Gotthegreenlight (Dexter Dunn) rocketed to the front from post three, but she would yield to Just Divine (Yannick Gingras) after a :27.2 opening quarter. Dunn then looked like he might try and re-move to the top on the second turn, but Gingras picked up the tempo some and put him back in the pocket.

Joyride Hanover (Tim Tetrick) took up the chase first-over before the :57.3 half, giving cover to A Girl That Twirls (Dube), and Joyride Hanover came with a determined bid that got her on even terms with Just Divine at the 1:26 three-quarters. On the far turn Just Divine accelerated and Joyride Hanover began to drop back, giving Gotthegreenlight and Dunn the path they needed to the outside. Once she had clear sailing, Gotthegreenlight surged by Just Divine and went on to win by about a length in a stakes record 1:54.1. Just Divine was next, followed by Hamptons Babe (Jason Bartlett), A Girl That Twirls, and Joyride Hanover.

"I thought there would have probably been a little bit more speed early. We got out of the gate pretty good, and got a two-hole after that. Pretty lucky to get out there," said Dunn. "I had a crack (at taking the lead), but Yannick went on again, so we got back in there and needed luck after that. If she didn't get out, it would have been a bit of a tragedy for the connections because she couldn't have probably done it any easier.

"She was plugs in at the finish. She's a lovely filly. She really eats up the track, she wants to win, and she's a great competitor."

Bred by Dr. Stephen Dey and acquired for $40,000 at last year's Standardbred Horse Sale, Gotthegreenlight is a daughter of American Ideal trained by Richard "Nifty" Norman for owners Patricia Stable and Kovach Stables LLC. Gotthegreenlight, who is the fifth foal out of the Bettor's Delight mare Bet On Luck (1:52.3, $531,617), has six victories and a second from seven efforts, and she has now stashed away $208,433. She was the even-money second choice and paid $4.10 to win. The exacta was good for $8.60 and the trifecta returned $28.60.

In the four sophomore finals, Iteration and Test Of Faith successfully defended their titles from a year ago in the filly trot and filly pace, respectively, and Sevenshadesofgrey and I'll Drink To That defeated the favorites in the colt and gelding trot and colt and gelding pace.

Iteration was the first filly to keep control of her New York Sire Stakes crown in the filly trot. She was well-rated on the lead by driver Brian Sears through fractions of :29, :59.2, and 1:28.1, then dug in gamely in the stretch to fend off a rally by pocket-sitter Moni For Lindy (Yannick Gingras), defeating that foe by a nostril in 1:57.1. Splash Blue Chip (Ake Svanstedt) was third, and she was followed by Illuminata (Mark MacDonald) and Titans Hope (Jason Bartlett).

"The last time I was on the front with her up at Vernon, she didn't race real well," said Sears. "I think she was in heat during that time. She probably isn't as sharp on the front-end, but on a half-mile track, it's usually the best place to be.

"I would have liked to see her pull away a little more than that, but it's been a long year. I think that just puts her over $400,000, so we have nothing to complain about."

A daughter of Chapter Seven—Steamy Windows and this year's Hambletonian Oaks runner-up, Iteration was the second New York Sire Stakes champion on the card for the team of Sears, trainer Marcus Melander, and owner Courant Inc., joining 2-year-old filly trot winner Joviality S. Iteration, a full sister to Trotter of the Year Gimpanzee, was bred by Order By Stable and brought $250,000 at the 2019 Standardbred Horse Sale. She has compiled a record of 10-3-2 from 20 starts, has now earned $744,492, and paid $5.40 to win as the 8-5 second choice. The exacta paid $15.40 and the trifecta kicked back $39.40.

Test Of Faith (David Miller) then became a two-time sire stakes champion in the Cameo Hills Farm filly pace. She moved out of the pocket going to the :27.1 opening quarter and took the top spot away from Summer Rae (Bartlett) passing that station. Test Of Faith kept the tempo pretty high from there, hitting the half in :56 and three-quarters in 1:24.

It seemed like Test Of Faith was on her way to a very easy win after she opened up a gap on Summer Rae going to three-quarters, but Test Of Faith didn't get around the last turn the best, which allowed Summer Rae to close the gap and then take a shot to the outside. Test Of Faith put the hammer back down in the lane, though, and widened to win by 5 1/4 lengths in 1:52.3. Summer Rae was second and Delightful Z Tam (Pat Lachance) got up for third. Tava (Matt Kakaley) checked in fourth and Heart Of Mine (Scott Zeron) finished fifth.

An Art Major—Cammie filly bred by Fred Hertrich, Test Of Faith is trained by Brett Pelling for owners Mel Segal, Kentuckiana Racing Stable, and Eddie Gran. A $92,000 acquisition at the 2019

Standardbred Horse Sale, she has 16 wins and two seconds from 18 lifetime tries, and she has now pocketed $914,050. She returned $2.40 to win as the 1-5 favorite and was atop a $23.60 exacta and a $60.00 trifecta.

The complexion of the colt and gelding trot, sponsored by Crawford Farms, changed before the start when morning line favorite and track record holder Ahundreddollarbill was scratched sick.

"He wasn't comfortable after warming up and acted like he tied up," tweeted Ahundreddollarbill's trainer Tony Alagna. "We wanted his health and the betting public to be protected."

With Ahundreddollarbill out of the picture, Dewey Arnold (Bartlett) was sent off as the choice, and he would post panels of :28.2, :58, and 1:26.3. Entering the last turn, Gingras moved to the outside from fourth with 44-1 shot Sevenshadesofgrey, and he would pick up cover on the bend from pocket-sitter Ambassador Hanover (Svanstedt). Dewey Arnold dug in through the stretch and tried to hold on, but Sevenshadesofgrey had the momentum on the outside and got up for the surprise win by about a length in 1:56.2. Dewey Arnold had to settle for second, and there was a dead-heat for third between Balenciaga (Tim Tetrick) and Dee's Red Delicious (Matt Kakaley). Ambassador Hanover faded to fifth.

"I was hoping for a check, but the horse raced really good. I was kind of happy for the slow fractions. I figured it took the backfield out of the race. I wasn't thinking about winning the race. I was hoping to be third or fourth, maybe, at that point," Gingras said. "When we headed up the backstretch I had good trot, and it looked like the horses in front of me, they were chasing already. I had a handful of trot, so I pulled him, and I got lucky Ake pulled. I got second-over around the turn, and even before the top of the stretch, I really thought he was going to win."

"I love it. I started here at Yonkers when I first came, so it's always nice to be back. Usually sire stakes finals are always on Saturdays in New York, so I haven't been able to come for years. When I saw this year that it was on a Friday, when the stakes schedule came out, I told a couple of my clients that I'd be able to follow it a little bit as long as it was possible. It worked out good that we had a decent night."

Ron Burke trains Sevenshadesofgrey, a Chapter Seven—Ms Naughty colt bred by Concord Stud Farm, for owners Burke Racing Stable LLC., J&T Silva- Purnel & Libby, Larry Karr, and Weaver Brussemi LLC. A $100,000 buy at the 2019 Standardbred Horse Sale, he now has two career triumphs from 26 appearances, and he has now banked $207,649. He paid $90.50 to win, and the exacta kicked back $246.00. The trifecta with Dee's Red Delicious in the third spot was worth $666.00 and the trifecta that included Balenciaga returned $590.00.

Completing the sire stakes finals were the colt and gelding pacers, sponsored by Blue Chip Farms, and I'll Drink To That gave David Miller his second victory, winning in 1:51.3 to tie the stakes record. After pole-sitter Southwind Petyr (Dexter Dunn) and post three starter Stop Staring (Mark MacDonald) made early breaks on each side of him, I'll Drink To That elected to dash to the top, and he would carve out stations of :27.1., :56.2, and 1:23.3. Town Gossip (Joe Bongiorno) tried to chase down I'll Drink To That from the pocket, but he couldn't get there, as I'll Drink To That held sway to tally by two lengths. Town Gossip, King James Express (Bartlett), Southwind Petyr, and Mullinax (Gingras) were the remainder of the top five finishers.

"He was very good. My plans changed right when the gate folded there. I was thinking I was probably going to get away third, but when the two horses broke on either side of me, I went ahead and tried to put him on the front," Miller remarked. "If Joe would have kept going, I probably would have turned him loose. Then I got reasonable fractions, and he was pretty strong."

"He's a very game horse, and I like the horse. He felt strong up the backstretch and around the last turn. I was hoping he would hang on."

I'll Drink To That is an American Ideal colt bred by Winbak Farm, and he is trained by Chris Ryder for owners Craig Henderson, Lawrence Minowitz, Robert Mondillo, and Oompa's Farm Inc. A $75,000 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale graduate, he made his sixth appearance in the winner's circle, and he has now stashed away $329,489. He returned $8.40 to win as a 3-1 shot and keyed an $8.40 exacta and a $22.20 trifecta.

When racing resumes on Monday night (Sept. 13) with a 12-race program at Yonkers, there will be a $7,549.19 carryover and a $20,000 guaranteed pool in the Pick 5 sequence.

The guarantee in the Pick 5 is being offered as part of the United States Trotting Association's Strategic Wagering Program. Free past performances for the Pick 5, courtesy of TrackMaster, will be available here. The Pick 5, which begins in race five, has a takeout rate of 20 per cent.

The long and mostly great journey of Ray Schnittker

by Murray Brown

On Memorial Day of 1986, Ray Schnittker and his father Warren arrived at Roosevelt Raceway with five horses and very little money to keep them and their horses going. They did all the work themselves, so they didn't have any payroll to worry about.

"It was a sink or swim situation for us. We had been racing on the Buffalo, Batavia Circuit and just getting by," said Ray. The "star" of their small stable back in Buffalo had been a Tar Heel pacer by the name of Dave Hanover.

"In Western New York we were just spinning our wheels. We got by, alright, but just that. I told dad that I'd like to take a shot at the big time and he was all for it. When we first got to New York, I remember going to the paddock and I was one of, if not the youngest guy there. Today I'm one of the old farts."

It's been a long and mostly great journey.

Through the transition, they progressed from having a stable of overnights, mostly claimers, then to open class horses, then to regional New York Sires Stakes horses and for the last couple of decades to horses that are capable of taking on and sometimes beating the best in the world, all the while maintaining his stable's strong presence in New York with New York Sires Stakes horses.

Throughout the progression, Ray has also managed to dip his toe into several other areas of the great sport of harness racing.

He became involved in the politics of the sport as a director of the Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association of New York as well as being a long-time director of the United States Trotting Association.

He is a noted breeder. He and his wife Janet own 12 broodmares and significant parts of the stallions Huntsville and So Surreal.

With regard to Huntsville, who is making huge waves with his first crop of 2-year-olds this year, Ray not only still owns a significant interest in him, but is also his breeder, and the man who raced him throughout his racing career.

So Surreal at a young age, is well established as one of the premier pacing stallions in the Empire State. In the 2019 New York Sires Stakes Finals, held at Batavia Downs, his colts and fillies swept all four finals for 2- and 3-year-old colts and fillies.

His greatest horse prior to this year was the Hambletonian winner Deweycheatumnhowe. This season, Ray trains, and together with three of his long-time and loyal owners, owns the top trotting colt King Of The North.

Let's start with King Of The North. You certainly played a big part in his being. You trained his dam Check Me Out, sold three quarters of her to your good friend and sometime partner Steve Jones and have been the purchaser of two of her foals as yearlings. As you like to say about Jones, you are there to provide guidance to him and help him out.

"I loved Check Me Out. She was a great filly, especially as a 2-year-old. I guess I am now in the breeding business, although I wasn't when I owned and raced her. When she was done racing, I was going to give Steve Jones first crack at buying her. Steve suggested that instead of him buying her solely that I keep a quarter and that he would buy the remaining three quarters. That's what we did. He makes all decisions based on breeding her, raising her foals and marketing them as yearlings. All of her yearlings go to sale. They are there to be bought. Of course, if I like any of them I am free to buy them at the price that the market dictates. That's not to say, that I'm not a seller if the price is right."

Let's run through the progression from the time you arrived on the New York Circuit until now.

"Initially, we were trying to just make a living racing horses. We raced our ordinary horses with some degree of success. As we did better, so did the amount we were willing to spend on racehorses. Over time, we did better. I made it a practice to study and try to emulate those that I considered to be top horsemen. The first really good horse we had was my all-time favorite Covert Action.

As far as our involvement in New York bred and buying yearlings was concerned, it was mostly due to the state of racing at Yonkers at that point in time. This was well before the slot money had kicked in at Yonkers. The purses had become threadbare. It had become extremely difficult to make money racing in overnights. The Sires Stakes were still racing for decent money. I felt that that was where I needed to be. I started buying yearlings. We did well and are still doing well racing in New York. Over time, my ambition grew, money was important, sure, but I wanted to both earn good money and be able to compete against the very best. I started diversifying into what I thought could be Grand Circuit types. I went to the major sales and visited the various breeding farms. The first truly great horse that I had was Dewey. But before him I had others such as One More Laugh, Grain of Truth, Jezzy, Make it Happen, Armbro Plato and Armbro Trick.

"I think that So Surreal was meant to be a truly great horse. If not for a serious foot injury there is no doubt that he would have proved it on the racetrack. I went to Steve Jones and asked him to stand him at his Cameo Acres Farm. Steve knows the market, especially the market for stallions, like nobody else. He felt that it was important that we price him low enough in order to give people reason to breed to him. In addition, he said, he had confidence in the horse and would breed several of his own mares to him. He said that the quality of the mares he would be getting was secondary to his getting mares — period. If he was going to be a sire, he'd become so. If not, even if he received the best mares, he wouldn't.

Huntsville of course was another situation. I was his breeder. I trained and drove him. He was a great colt. He is a great individual, with good size and impeccable conformation. Unlike So Surreal, he was able to prove it on the racetrack. We were able to syndicate him, with many of the sports leading breeders coming in for a piece of the action. His yearlings looked the part. They sold well and his first crop has performed beyond extra well."

The way you train your young horses is likely different than that of just about everybody else in the entire business. Would you care to expound on that?

"Teddy Wing once told me when describing what I do with my young horses: 'You do everything wrong, yet it works.' What I do when I get them home from the sale, I break them and go with them for about six weeks. For example, the ones I get in Harrisburg, I'll usually get them down to 2:35 by the first of the year. Then I'll just kick them out for close to two months. I'll then bring them back in and train them down until they are ready to race in early June. Today's horses are so natural, that a mile in 2:35 is almost like walking for them. People have accused me of turning them out for January and February because it's better for me, to avoid the cold weather and not necessarily for the horses. There might even be a very slight amount of truth to that. Another benefit relates to the absence of good help. If the horses are out, you don't need as much help. Horses are creatures of habit and the standardbred is amazingly adaptable. More often than not, they will adapt to everything and anything you throw at them."

You appear to have done really well with Huntsville and So Surreal. On the other hand, Dewey has proven to be somewhat of a disappointment.

"I suppose that goes with the territory when dealing with stallions. A small number will make it on a high level. Most will not. I thought Dewey couldn't miss. Not only did I think he couldn't miss, but I put my money where my mouth is. I haven't done the numbers and I don't really want to. But I'd guess that I lost a good deal of the money I made with him in buying his yearlings. I do think though that he would have made a better showing if we had stood him in New York where he likely would have been bred to mares by Conway Hall and Credit Winner. This might have helped more in streamlining his individuals and maybe endowing them with more quick speed. We will never know."

It appears that you've cut down significantly on the number of horses that you train and especially on your number of drives.

"Like I said above, I'm an old fart. I'm 63. I don't really want to do the amount of work, nor can I do it as well as I used to be able. I'm thankful that I'm wise enough to realize and acknowledge it. I think I can still train a horse as well as anybody. I just don't want to train as many. As far as my driving is concerned. I still drive some, but not near as much as I used to. I have a great relationship with Mark MacDonald who drives most of my stakes horses. He also helps me train somewhat, which I believe might give me a bit of an edge. He knows the horses he sits behind. It's also a benefit as far as loyalties are concerned. I don't have to go hunting for drivers, and I know I am number one on his list."

Another thing that's different in the Schnittker operation is that your veterinarian is also your wife.

"Yes indeed. She is also a darn good one — both veterinarian and wife. I think that also gives me a bit of an edge. She is around. She knows the horses as well as anybody. She is also endowed by a trait that not all vets possess — common sense. I've found that, generally speaking, good horses don't need a whole lot of vet work done with them."

Dave Landry

Ray Schnittker.

One of your pet peeves is the need to qualify horses within a set time period.

"I wouldn't want to ban qualifiers, but, generally speaking, they are a waste of time and money. I certainly see the need for baby races as a teaching tool. The same goes with most qualifiers for young horses. But I believe that the need to qualify should be the choice of the horse's connections, not on some arbitrary time date."

What other problems do you see in the business?

"One of our main problems lie with the commissions and the dodos employed by them. There are beards all over the place. Yet, these people are so blind that they make Mr. Magoo look like he has an eagle eye in comparison. I think it's much more prevalent with the overnights. That's another reason why I'm more involved with younger horses."

I would say that more than most trainers you have a knack of keeping owners. Some of your owners have been with you forever.

"I think that there are two main factors. Firstly, I own a piece of every horse in the stable. There has to be a degree of trust just by me having the same goals as them. I'm going to act in what I believe to be in their best interest, because I'm treating myself in the same manner. Secondly, I always tell the truth — good or bad. The worst thing that can happen as far as I am concerned is having to make a phone call telling an owner that something bad has happened to a horse that we thought highly of. There is no easy way to do it."

Let's talk about some of your better horses.

Deweycheatumnhowe — "He was a natural right from the start. Most of my better horses have been. We won 17 races in a row with him. I generally don't get nervous before a race, but an exception was his Hambletonian. I kept thinking to myself, wouldn't it be a bitch if the streak was broken in that race."

Winning the Hambletonian was and will probably always be my number one thrill."

One More Laugh — "An excellent horse. He won the Governor's Cup at 2 and The Meadowlands Pace at 3. Not too many have done that."

Check Me Out — "She was 2-year-old trotting filly of her year. We won 11 in a row with her. With King Of The North looking as good as he is, she might be becoming the broodmare we hoped she would become."

Huntsville — "A dream horse. It so gratifying to breed, train and race a great champion. Huntsville was and is one of those. It's still early, but it looks like he might be on his way to becoming a great sire, as well."

So Surreal — "One of the very fastest horses I ever sat behind. Destined to become better than the record book says he is. One of my greatest kicks as a breeder was when all four NYSS finals were won by his sons and daughters."

Covert Action — "The first really excellent horse that I trained. He was the one that turned the page for me. My all-time favorite."

Grain Of Truth — "He won 80 races and $1.6 million. Just think of those numbers — all in overnights."

Armbro Plato — "He was a bit of a lunatic, but so is his trainer. Finished third in the Hambletonian."

Armbro Trick — "A good trotter. He finished third in the Hambletonian."

Make It Happen — "Somewhat of an over achiever. He earned $900K and we sold him for $900K."

Jezzy — "The best filly ever by her sire Credit Winner. She earned over $800,000."

Rayson Hanover — "Another one of the first group of good horses that I had. He was just a little fella. But what a warrior he was."

What does the future hold for Ray Schnittker?

"It's pretty good being Ray Schnittker. My work is mostly my fun, as well. I'm my own boss. I have a good stable of horses. I have a great group of owners and partners, who at the same time are also a great group of friends. In recent years I've found that I really enjoy being a referee for kids wrestling matches. Today and tomorrow are two of the greatest words in the English language."

All's well that ends well

by Alan Leavitt

In what has become almost a nervous tic, every time I see an interesting horse's name, I go to Pathway and print out his or her five generation pedigree. That's what happened when a press release about a stallion named Enterprise caught my eye.

For the record, Enterprise was a quality racehorse. Regarding his all-important, at least to me, 2-year-old season, he didn't get his act together until the year was almost over. But in his only start for money, he won an overnight off by himself, so the right stuff was there. Then he went on to race with the best at three, where he more than held his own.

For pedigree, Enterprise is 3 by 4 to Garland Lobell, meaning Garland appears as the sire of his second dam on the tail-mare, or bottom line, and as the fourth name on the tail-male, or top line. In technical terms, that makes Enterprise line-bred to Garland Lobell, which is the correct term to describe a pedigree in which the sum of the generations the same name occurs is seven or eight.

But what especially caught my eye in Enterprise's extended pedigree was a sire's name on the very bottom, Super Juan. The first year the Hambletonian was held at The Meadowlands was 1981. At the time, I was very close to Howard Beissinger, and also, just for fun and experience, training a little racing stable of my own. It consisted of three horses, and the star of that little show was a Bret Hanover pacing mare named Lucky Break.

In those early days, there was a big trotting race at The Meadowlands, the Beacon Course, a week ahead of the Hambletonian. It was raced in eliminations and a final, all in the same night.

As it happened, Beissinger had two colts in the Beacon Course that night, and I had my prize mare, Lucky Break, in the second race, an overnight. The point of mentioning that is because I still had my colors on when I encountered Beissinger in the back paddock. He was visibly upset.

It seemed that he had put Shelly Goudreau down to drive his second colt in the Beacon Course. It was time to go their last warm-up trip, and no Shelly. Beissinger could be naïve about some things, and one of them was his belief that Goudreau actually went warm-up trips. Goudreau would probably have just as much likelihood to elect to get a root canal he didn't need as to go back to the back paddock and go warm-up trips.

So, with time running out, Beissinger press-ganged me to jump up behind the non Super Juan half of his entry for their last trip.

We wound up with both colts trotting as fast as they could go the wrong way of the track, before we turned them the right way to go their last trip. This, for those students of our sport who like details, was the third warm-up mile of the night for both colts.

Super Juan finished fourth in his elimination, so he just sneaked into the final. Where he proceeded to go a great race and found himself in the winner's circle. By now, Super Juan had done three warm-up miles, and two high-speed race miles. Which would have been enough for any trainer who wasn't the master horseman Howard Beissinger was.

Beissinger kept Super Juan well covered up for another hour in the back paddock. Then he took him back on the track and worked him a mile in 2:07. I stayed with him the whole night to continue my education. After he came off the track and hung up his lines from the final, 2:07 trip, he said, "You can't do this too often, or they'll get stale. But this is the Hambletonian we're talking about."

Exactly a week later, Super Juan went the three races of his life to finish 1-2-2 in the biggest race in our world. He was never that good again, but he was good enough when it counted most to rate a spot in Enterprise's pedigree.

In my idle reading this week, there also was a story about a thoroughbred track soon to be offering fixed-odds betting. That's a concept that's been around as long as there's been horse racing, because long before there were pari-mutuel machines, bookies have been offering fixed odds betting.

As an aside, in my little hometown of Hanover, PA., when I was growing up, a magazine store on the main drag was happy to take your bets. It also happened to be the one place in town where you could buy magazines like Commentary, The Paris Review, and The Atlantic Monthly. Apparently, the police chief at the time was also somewhat of an intellectual, so he would walk past the store every morning on his way to the office, with never a sideways glance.

But the story about fixed-odds betting recalled a story about a certain harness race from many years ago, in 1974 to be exact. That was the year Nero was a 2-year-old, and clearly the best pacing colt of his generation. And there's a little story before the main story about Nero.

In 1970, a couple decided to get into harness racing. They hooked up with a California trainer, Jim Crane, and gave him a dollar amount to spend buying yearlings.

Jim went to the fall yearling sale at Tattersalls, and gave $21,000 for a gorgeous Meadow Skipper colt named Nero. He gave the sales ticket to his new owner right after the hammer fell, and told them he was leaving early the next morning for California.

"But you still have money left to spend," his owners told him. "You should stay and buy another yearling so we have two shots to get a good one."

"I don't need another yearling," Crane told them. "I've already bought the best colt in the sale."

As it turned out, that was exactly right. Nero was not only the best colt as a yearling; he was the best 2-year-old pacer in North America. He was undefeated when he shipped into the Indianapolis fairgrounds for the Fox Stake, in those days, the premier race for 2-year-old pacing colts.

Nero's closest competitor was a colt named Alert Bret, owned by Castleton Farm, who had bred him. He was a good colt, but Nero was the better horse by open lengths.

There was no legal betting in Indiana at the time, but the bookies there took a lot of action, all of it on harness racing, the only game in town, or the whole state, in those days. The Fox Stake was a big betting race at the time, and as every good, red-blooded American male knew then, the bookies offered only fixed-odds betting.

The line on the Fox Stake had Nero odds at 2-1 and Alert Bret at 7-1. There was a surprising amount on Alert Bret, but the bookies all figured this had to be longshot players who also believed in second marriages.

All the Fox Stake colts were stabled in a shedrow at the fairgrounds, and Nero's stall had a back window that opened onto an alley behind the grounds themselves. As became clear retrospectively, that window was easy to open from the outside; Nero was easy to lure over to it with a bucket of sweet feed, making it equally easy to stick a needle in his neck and inject a syringe full of Ace Promazine, a strong tranquilizer.

Crane knew something was wrong the second he started to warm his colt up for the big race. For starters, his willy had dropped down, the first visual effect of a tranquilizer. Beyond that, his colt was dead in his shell, practically nodding off in his harness. There was nothing to do but scratch the colt and put him away to sleep it off. Which left the rest of the field at the mercy of Alert Bret and Glen Garnsey, who jogged in both heats at 7-1.

It was only a goodly number of years later before any bookie in Indiana would take any action on a 2-year-old pacer. But that fiasco made Rene Dervaes sufficiently amenable to letting this kid syndicate Nero two years later. So Shakespeare got it right, at least as far as I was concerned, when he said, "All's well that ends well."

Lella Montgomery carrying on the long legacy of the McIlmurray family

by Victoria Howard

Anyone involved in harness racing most likely has heard the name McIlmurray, for it proudly represents decades of successful horsepeople.

Lella Montgomery's grandfather, Arthur E. McIlmurray, trained and drove in Michigan in the late 1930s.

Her uncle Elwood was a starter; uncle Don, a trainer and driver who was killed in a training accident on the track at Hazel Park;

Equi-Photos

Lella Montgomery driving Charisma Seelster to a 1:55.3 victory at the Meadowlands in 1995 that was the fastest trotting mile by a female driver.

and uncles Jerry, Bobby and Kit all trained. Montgomery's cousin, Warren McIlmurray, trained and drove. James was a practicing veterinarian, and several other cousins were involved in various aspects, such as Judy McIlmurray, who was a teller at several tracks. It was definitely a family affair.

Montgomery's father is Wally McIlmurray Sr. – a trainer, driver and owner who also served our country while in the Army.

It was a momentous day for Wally Sr. while attending a fair in Plymouth, MI. That day he was introduced to his future wife, Patricia Johnson, by her aunt and uncle who owned a horse they raced at the fairs.

Although Patricia didn't own a racehorse at the time, she had a riding horse, and loved the sport.

That union would be the beginning of decades of great horses setting records and years of hard work in the sport by the McIlmurray family.

After they married, Wally and Patricia worked together racing horses in Michigan and Windsor, but stabled in California in 1956 – racing there for several years. They also raced in Kentucky, New York, and Ohio in stake races.

They had four children: Art, Wally Jr., Adam and Lella.

Lella also has a half-sister Mandy, who for years groomed for her dad. Mandy's brother, Dr. John McIlmurray, is a practicing veterinarian.

"Every one of us was involved in some way in harness racing," Montgomery said. "My brother Adam had been a starter for over 50 years; and is currently starting at Saratoga and Vernon, but spends most of his time as the starter of Pompano Park.

"My brother Wally Jr. was a well-known trainer and driver, who succumbed to cancer in November, 2020. Being the determined man he was, he raced horses up until that September, but had to stop in October when the pain was too much for him to bear.

"Wally raced mainly in Michigan, but also in Ohio, California and Florida. Several of his horses were SKIP WITH JOY, ALL ABOUT SAM, MJ And HAY SONG.

"My brother Art still trains and drives mainly in Michigan, but also in Ohio. He does a lot of catch driving, besides driving the ones he trains, such as CRYSTAL RAI, TRAVELING SWAN and BOUND TO SCORE. In the past, Art trained and raced in New York, New Jersey, Florida and California. He's doing very well, and earned the leading trainer and driver award this year at Northville.

"Some of his favorite horses were NIGHT COURT DAN, ART'S FANNY and HOT SELECTION.

"Dad was the trainer/driver of HAPPY SHARON, the New York sire Champion at 2 and 3, as well as Michigan champion.

"My father had many great horses besides HAPPY SHARON, such as THE BIG BEAR (by Gene Abbe) who was a free-legged invitational pacer, and YELLOWBIRD, who was Bear's full brother and also a good horse.

"Then there was MIGHTY PHANTOM, who was a 2 and 3-year-old Michigan champion; FROZEN ASSETS, a New York Stake trotting filly, and also top racehorse, CHAIN LIGHTNING.

"When dad was in his late 70's there were two horses he loved – WESTWARD VISION and SUNSHINE DUDE – both open and invitational pacers at Hazel Park.

"Up until my dad passed away of cancer in 2005 he never stopped going to the barn – watching his horses while hooked to his oxygen tank.

"Like his son, Wally Jr., he never gave up, saying, 'Never quit working. Keep doing what you love!'

"My mother passed away in 2009 and is deeply missed for she was our biggest supporter and the backbone of the family."

So, it's no wonder their daughter, Montgomery, would make her mark in the sport. Being their only daughter didn't stop the young woman.

Born in Detroit, but raised in Livonia, Montgomery began working with her father and brothers in the barn as a young girl.

"As soon as I could pick up a pitch fork, I started working in the barn. I absolutely loved horses and knew immediately I wanted to do this the rest of my life.

"I helped dad on weekends and once school was out for the summer, I worked as a groom. I used to love watching the outrider at the track and when I graduated from school in 1972, I went to work for dad full-time at the barn.

"The next year I was offered the outriders job, by Dick Wilson, the general manager of Wolverine Raceway. I was ecstatic!

"I borrowed a friend of my dad's horse – a beautiful Morgan named Wal Thor (aka/ Wally). At the time Wally was in retirement, hanging out in the field. We pulled him out, cleaned him up and he worked out great at his new job.

"I bought another horse, Blue, the next year, and another named Buck. Both were good at their job.

"I loved my job and my horses made it easy for me. The next year I went to Hazel Park to work and a few years later, Joe DeFrank, who was race secretary there, asked me to come there to outride.

"Several years later, The Meadowlands opened and Joe went there to be race secretary. I applied for the outrider job, but it had been filled, so in 1982 I worked for Joe in the race office.

Montgomery has also driven in a race.

"My first drive was at the Meadowlands in 1992 with a horse called SEA BATTLE in 2:00.4. He was a big, beautiful trotter trained by Linda Toscano.

"Peter Gerry asked me if I wanted to drive in the Billings. I was so excited because I always wanted to participate in the race, but never had the chance. It turned out to be the most exciting thing I had ever done.

"I set a world record for 'Fastest Trotting Mile for a Women Driver Amateur or Professional' in 1995 with CHRISMA SEELSTER in 1:55.3 – a new lifetime mark.

"In 1997 I won the semi-final at Garden State Park with BOWL QUARTER BACK, and the final at Freehold Raceway with BOWL QUARTER BACK for the driving championship.

"In 2000 I was victorious in the Women's International Trot with ASHLEY HALL – again, a new lifetime mark of 1:56.4.

"From October 1997 through 1999 my driving record was 16 (12-3-0), and a Billings UDRS rating of .850.

"My last race was in 2003 and my stats ended as: 104 starts – 35 wins, 17 seconds, 9 thirds. This is something I will always be proud of and glad my mom and dad got to see my accomplishments.

"After winning the Billings, they presented me with a trophy the night of Hall of Fame (inductions) but also, John Campbell and Peter Gerry presented me with my 'A' license. A night I will never forget!

"My best friend, Jacquie Ingrassia, and her husband, Frank, trained a lot of horses I drove on the circuit, such as U TOE THE MARK, EFFECT UNKNOWN, and MATT'S MEMORY. It was so special, for they are my closest friends and we had so much fun together—and that's what it's all about, isn't it?"

Today, Montgomery enjoys her life with her husband, Bryan, who she met at a sale in Lexington 34 years ago.

"Bryan has been in the insurance business for 40 years and owns Regency Livestock LLC, where he insures all types of livestock; but mostly horses and farms.

"Bryan and I work together and we love the same things: food, wine, racing, golf, hockey and sports.

"For the past 20 plus years, my husband and I look for yearlings for John Fielding, and have been successful in picking out several champions, such as HOLBORN HANOVER, winner of $2,070,648; ALSACE HANOVER, winner of $1,138,401, and IN FOCUS, winner of $1,003,417."

When not working with Bryan, Lella loves to ride and show her horse, Blake, (aka/DOUBLE THE DRAGON).

"He's always a challenge, but he's a good boy, He's come a long way and does everything I ask of him. Blake was a standardbred I got when he was 4. He is now 11.

"I loved each and every one of my horses, but if I had to pick that special horse, I'd have to say it was BILLY BULLETPROOF. (But don't tell Blake, lol)

"We bought Billy as a yearling and raced him at 2 and 3 before he became my riding/show horse, and remained so for 24 wonderful, fun years until I had to put him down at the age of 29.

"I have always loved standardbreds and knew they were a special breed. Paula Campbell, Judy Bokman and I originally started the Standardbred Retirement Fund raising money by having a bake sale.

"SRF is still going strong and doing a wonderful job in helping the breed. I will always support and help anyone I can to find a home for a horse and hope owners and trainers do their best they can to find the horses' good homes after racing.

"I love our sport, although it has changed so much from my days growing up, but the one thing I know is that the horse is the same fabulous breed it always was. It makes me happy to see life after racing for these wonderful animals.

"Standardbreds can do it all and I hope we can keep the standardbred business, known as 'The family business' going on, and as dad said, 'People will continue to do what they love doing.'"

Ladies stable

by guest columnist Terese Tedrahn

The following is true.

Jimmy the Slovak received the troubling diagnosis with a mixture of fear and resignation. As he walked toward the hospital parking garage, his tennis shoes squeaked against the shiny floor tile in the hallway as percentages and procedures swirled in his mind.

On the sixth floor of the parking garage, he set the manilla envelope filled with prescriptions, appointments, and instructions on the passenger seat of his Subaru. With a sigh, Jimmy rested his forehead against the leather steering wheel.

A few days later, he dodged a bullet. His diagnosis was revised, the illness was a problem to monitor, but not a death sentence. I do not know if this health scare inspired a brilliant plan or was the tipping point of putting the plan into action. I do know it is a beautiful thing.

Jimmy's friends seem to stick like bubble gum to the bottom of a tennis shoe. High School chums, racing friends, girlfriends, we all seem to last. All of us love Jimmy. When he told me that he bought a baby horse at an auction and sent it to a top trainer, I wasn't surprised. Although I was an infant in the racing world, the vocabulary became more familiar, along with the day-to-day events/decisions in a horse owner's life. I also knew that most years, Jimmy raced a harness horse or two.

Still, I was confused. My thinking was that Jimmy wanted me to invest in a percentage of one of the baby horses he buys each year, something I may well have done, given my growing fascination with horses and harness racing. I misunderstood. He reported that he was putting together a "Ladies Stable," and I would be a member. I would receive a percentage of each check the new filly trotter won on the racetrack, but I would not pay a penny.

I did not think Jimmy was serious. When I asked why he was offering the gracious gift, he said, "Because I have been lucky, because I can, and because I want to."

There was nothing official, no written contract. We, The Ladies Stable members, did not need to apply for licenses or join organizations. To the rest of the world, Jimmy was the sole owner and paid all the bills. He would cover the staking, training and have his name on the paperwork. Those of us in the Ladies Stable would be not so silent partners.

Early in the year, there is not a great deal to report on a yearling in training. Our Ladies Stable, there are five of us, received reports of the horse's new name and how she was progressing. Some of us took trips with Jimmy to meet the filly and watch her jog. And in the mail soon after Christmas, we each received a package with matching blue hoodies that read, "Shhh... I'm only talking to my horses today."

At first, Jimmy's little project did not seem real. Honestly, I rarely thought about it. The filly might not even race, and the episode would be a fun footnote, a nice gesture. Early on, the adventure was primarily words and wishes.

The calendar turned. Reports on the filly were promising. The first qualifying attempt did not go well as the filly made a mis-step and broke stride. The second qualifying race was a different story. The filly qualified, and the adventure became more real as we watched on Jimmy's colossal flatscreen. The Ladies Stable filly made it to the races.

Our hearts began to beat faster, and our interest grew. The filly was going to the races, and the first effort for purse money would be in the Buckeye Stallion Series for $17,500. The days ticked down to the big day. Three ladies watched in person as the others watched glued to their iPads. The Lady's Stable filly finished fourth, but from our reactions, she may as well have won the Hambletonian.

We were giddy with excitement. But in racing, things happen, not always good things.

The Ladies Stable filly did not train well the week following her first race. After examination, the diagnosis was EPM. The young filly received a few weeks of treatment, then returned to the racetrack, where she struggled. Still not herself, she needed a few more weeks of time and medicine. She improved and went back to a race at Croton Fairgrounds. We all watched as the filly sat patiently in third place for most of the mile. Then coming down the lane, she ran down the leaders and WON!

The Stable was back in business.

Our Ladies Stable filly managed a third in the next race, but she still was not herself. It is beginning to look like she will need a year of growing and recovery, or she may be sold and wind up in other hands. This filly's future is uncertain. There are no guarantees in the racing game, except one thing, this newbie will continue to share Jimmy's passion and excitement for harness racing, and five lucky ladies will never forget this season.

Fulfullnmydestiny becomes fastest 2-year-old in Harrah's Hoosier Park history

After re-establishing the track record for 2-year-old pacing geldings in his last start, Fulfullnmydestiny was back in action at Harrah's Hoosier Park on Friday (Sept. 10) to reset the record books yet again. With trainer/driver James Yoder in the bike, Fulfullnmydestiny turned in a 1:49.2 effort to capture his $47,500 division of Indiana Sires Stakes for 2-year-old pacing colts and geldings and record the first sub-1:50 mile by a 2-year-old in Harrah's Hoosier Park history.

Leaving from post five, Fulfullnmydestiny left alertly but didn't reach the lead until just before the half. Trey's Charlie and Brandon Bates benefitted from a pocket trip while the rest of the field followed along intently in single file order.

When Fulfullnmydestiny hit the three-quarters in 1:22.4, he was on top by three and the rest of the field was struggling to stay within striking distance. Using a :26.3 final quarter, Fulfullnmydestiny sprinted to the wire under a hand drive from Yoder and finished six and a half lengths in front of Big Law and Sam Widger. Trey's Charlie held on for third. As the overwhelming favorite, Fulfullnmydestiny returned $2.80 at the betting windows.

Fulfullnmydestiny is a homebred son of Tellitlikeitis—Driven By Destiny. Owned by Brett Boyd Racing, it was the third win in six seasonal starts for Fulfullnmydestiny who has now banked $97,690 on the season for his connections.

Fulfullnmydestiny was one of three Indiana Sires Stakes divisional winners on the evening. Driver John DeLong and Thunder Country pulled the biggest upset of the evening in the opening division of the stakes action after they stormed home a winner at odds of 48-1. Sent off as the longest shot on the board, Thunder Country was uninvolved through the early stages of the race before employing a :26.1 closing kick to get the win in 1:51.1.

Trained by Michelle Finn, Thunder Country recorded his second win from 11 seasonal starts and lowered his lifetime best with the victory. Owned by Ervin Wickes, the gelded son of Rockin Inage—Happy Feet Too has now banked $44,600.

Topville Somrocket and driver Brandon Bates were able to spring an upset of their own in the second division of the stakes action. Scoring at odds of 15-1, Topville Somrocket utilized a ground-saving trip before pacing home with authority to get the victory in 1:51.2 over Yourwishisgranted and Jay Cross.

Niki Hill stays unbeaten in Big M's Kindergarten

On a night that saw six divisions of the Kindergarten Series for 2-year-olds of each sex and gait, Niki Hill was the most impressive winner Friday night (Sept. 10) at The Meadowlands, scoring in 1:51.1 in the second leg for 2-year-old fillies on the pace.

The Chris Ryder trainee remained unbeaten in three lifetime starts while lifting her career earnings to $47,291 for owner Tom Hill after leaving alertly from post eight in the 10-horse field with Dexter Dunn driving and reaching the quarter while parked in :28.

The 1-9 favorite sailed past the half in :56 and three-quarters in 1:23.3 before pacing her final quarter in :27.3 to report home a 3¼-length winner over Find Happiness. Hood Party was third.

A $155,000 Lexington Select Sales purchase, Niki Hill returned $2.10 to her backers. The time for the mile was three-fifths of a second slower than her lifetime best, which she set in Pennsylvania Sire Stakes action on Aug. 9 at Pocono Downs.

It was a big night for Ryder, as, in addition to Niki Hill, his I'll Drink To That was over at Yonkers winning the $200,000 New York Sire Stakes Final for 3-year-old pacing colts. But the trainer didn't miss his filly's win.

"I was at The Meadowlands early and then zipped over to Yonkers," said Ryder. "Niki Hill is terrific. We haven't raced her much yet this year so we can concentrate on the bigger races later on. She's in the eliminations for the She's A Great Lady next week. Then, she'll go to the Breeders Crown, Three Diamonds and Kindergarten Final."

The daughter of Always B Miki—Road Bet is doing her best to fill the void for Hill and Ryder left by Party Girl Hill, whose career was cut short by an injury after winning 15 of 16 races a year ago.

"Tom Hill was held up in England," said Ryder, "so he asked me to find a top filly for him. I liked everything about Niki Hill. She's a half-sister to Cattlewash, who won in 1:46.4 a couple of days before the sale. It feels good to make up for that loss."

A LITTLE MORE: Dave Miller, Dunn, Todd McCarthy and Tyler Buter all recorded driving doubles on the card... Izzy Estrada trained two to victory lane... All-source handle totaled $1,962,356.

Upsets abound in ISS Thursday at Hoosier Park

It was a night ruled by upsets at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino as they played host to two divisions of Indiana Sires Stakes action for the 2-year-old pacing fillies on the evening's 14-race card on Thursday (Sept. 9). The fillies have now completed round four of their six round series.

Lorraine Smoke, with driver James Yoder, scored her maiden breaking win in fashion as they pulled the biggest upset of the evening, to the tune of 85-1, in the first division. Uninvolved throughout much of the mile, Yoder, who also trains and co-owns the filly with Cheyenne Yoder, moved the filly to the outside late in the lane and she found a :26.1 closing quarter to scorch past her rivals. Stopping the timer in 1:53.2, Lorraine Smoke was able to stick a nose in front of the heavily favored JJ Endofanera and John DeLong steps before the wire. The daughter of JK Endofanera—Rebid recorded her first lifetime victory from nine starts. Lorraine Smoke paid $173.80 to win.

The second division stayed with the upset trend as Ms Quick Sand and Brandon Bates converted a pocket trip into a 26-1 upset score. Stopping the timer in 1:53, Ms Quick Sand sat the pocket and then was able to track down the heavily favored and pace-setting Trick Of The Light and Michael Oosting. Goo Won and LeWayne Miller rounded out the trifecta. Ms Quick Sand returned $54.20 at the betting windows, Trained by Ken Rucker, who co-owns the filly with the Panhellenic Stable Corp, Ms Quick Sand recorded her second win from seven lifetime starts. The 1:53 victory was also a new lifetime best for the daughter of Always A Virgin—Sand Pleasure. The victory was also one of four winners on the evening's 14-race card for driver Brandon Bates.

Kentucky Championship enters final round today

The month-long sprawl of Kentucky Championship preliminaries comes to a close this afternoon (Sept. 12) at The Red Mile when the pacing sophomores contest in their final $40,000 rounds of the series.

Colts and geldings kick off today's card with a match-up between Komodo Beach and Goldie's Legacy, who have each won in all the series prelims thus far; Goldie's Legacy with two wins and Komodo Beach with one. Komodo Beach gets a post advantage on his rival in the five-horse contest, starting from post 1 with Todd McCarthy driving for trainer Brett Pelling. Yannick Gingras retains the call on Goldie's Legacy, a Jeff Cullipher trainee, from post 4. First-preliminary winner Blue Diamond Eyes returns to Lexington in the single dash for the sophomore pacing fillies. The Ron Burke pupil enters from a fourth-place finish in the $250,000 James Lynch Memorial, which she followed with a runner-up effort to Lynch champ Grace Hill in the $253,000 Pennsylvania Sires Stakes championship. Yannick Gingras steers the speedy filly from post 3 in a six-horse affair that includes So Irresistible, who will have Andrew McCarthy in the bike following a 1:55.3 victory in the third preliminary on Sept. 5.

Today's card also features two $20,000 divisions of the Kentucky Commonwealth Series – one for the colts and geldings and one for the fillies. The Finals of the Kentucky Championship are slated for Sunday (Sept. 19) with the Kentucky Commonwealth finals on Monday (Sept. 20). First-race post time each race day is 1 p.m. (EDT).

$450,000 Super Sunday card today at Hippodrome 3R

Today (Sept. 12) is the finals of both the Breeders Trophy Series (3yos) and Future Stars Series (2yos) at the Hippodrome 3R. With total purses more than $450,000, it is the richest day of racing in all of Quebec.

Post time for the Quebec Championship Finals is 12:10 p.m. There are also two $10,000 invitations – race 1 for the trotters and race 10 for the pacers

Here is a synopsis of the eight finals listed in race order:

3rd race $50,000 2YO Filly Trot Final

HP Felicity (post 7) has just two starts in the series, winning both of them. The Muscle Mass daughter has earned nearly $50,000 this year for trainer Jean Tourigny and owner-breeders Claude Hamel & Michel Bamphousse. She will be driven by Sylvain Filion.

Her main rivals will be three-time winner Stella Alpha (post 3) for driver Pascal Berube and Cleveland Moneyka (post 1) for driver Stephane Brosseau.

4th race $50,000 2YO Filly Pace Final

Sunjet Ray (post 5) is the early favorite for driver Louis-Philippe Roy. The Sunshine Beach filly was placed first in the series final leg with a record of 2:00.3 with Roy in the sulky for trainer Francis Richard. She is co-owned by Richard with Guillaume Desrochers, Dr. John Bradbury and Charles Marquis.

Their main competition will come from HP Mary Sunshine (post 1) for driver Pascal Berube and D Gs Shadow (post 2) with driver Jonathan Lachance.

5th race $60,000 3YO Colt Trot Final

The strong entry of Emotions Riches (post 2) and Ciel Bleu (post 1) will be tested once again. Emotions Riches (Stephane Gendron) is coming off a lifetime best 1:59.2 triumph in the series for trainer Maxime Velaye and the gelded son of Wheeling N Dealin is seeking his third straight win for the Provoquante Stable that bred and owns both colts.

Hall Win (post 5) was the early season sensation for the Kevin Maguire Stable, sporting five wins in nine starts already this year and will have Louis-Philippe Roy in the sulky for the first time. Other contenders include Aoki (post 6) for driver Jocelyn Gendron and Deal With Lucus (post 3) with driver Stephane Brosseau.

6th race $50,000 2YO Colt Trot Final

Royalty Beer (post 5) and Cleveland Massino (post 2) are the overwhelming entry favorites. Royalty Beer, a gelded son of Royalty For Life, is a perfect three for three in the series and seeks to make a clean sweep for the Jean Francois Maquire Stable. He will be driven by Louis-Philippe Roy as Cleveland Massino will be driven by Samuel Filion.

Also in the race is Kenogami Rebel (post 4) for driver Stephane Brosseau) and Sammy Justice (post 1) for driver Pascal Berube.

7th race $50,000 2YO Colt Pace Final

This is a classic matchup between Kaporal (post 8) for driver Stephane Gendron against HP Momentum (post 6) for driver Sylvain Fillion. Kaporal, gelded son of Sunshine Beach, has won his last two starts, both in the series, the fastest a 1:58.3 lifetime mark where he just beat HP Momentum. He is trained by Francis Richard for the Richard Stable, Ferme Auclairs and Jean-Christophe Auclair.

Other contenders include the entry of Y S Mathis Bro (post 4) for driver Jonathan Lachance and Y S Bettors Legacy (post 7) with driver Guy Gagnon. Also, a factor will be Persistant Boy (post 1) with Samuel Fillion.

8th race $60,000 3YO Filly Trot Final

X O X O (post 5) has been a perfect three for three in the series for owner, breeder and driver Jerome Lombart. This daughter of Angus Hall sports seven wins this year, tying her with Platine Alpha as the two winningest horses at H3R this season. She took her record in the series with a 2:00 triumph two starts back.

Mag N Lady (post 3) was last year's champion and holds the track record for two-year-old trotting fillies. She is winless in four starts this year and will be driven by Samuel Fillion. Elegance Duhasas (post 1) is another contender, coming off a lifetime best 2:00.3 qualifying win at Mohawk and will be driven by Louis-Philippe Roy.

9th race $60,000 3YO Filly Pace Final

This will be a tough race as the morning line favorite, Celia Bayama starts from the far outside post 8 for driver Sylvain Filion. The Bettor's Delight filly has the speed to overcome the outside position, winning last start in 1:57.2. Celia Bayama was the Quebec-Bred champion at age 2 last year.

Got Sexy Scars goes from post four for driver Louis-Philippe Roy and ships back to H3R off back-to-back wins in 1:53.2. Other contenders include CL Sportsextreme (post 5) for Jonathan Lachance and Platine Alpha (post 3) with Pascal Berube in the bike.

11th race $60,000 3YO Colt Pace Final

This race belongs to Cadillac Bayama (post 5) who is seeking to make the series a clean sweep after winning all three preliminary rounds with ease and gets Sylvain Filion in the sulky. The colt by Sunshine Beach is part of an entry with Colonel Bayama (post 4), who has been second best to Cadillac Bayama.

The Light Speed (post 6) ships back to H3R for trainer-driver Guy Gagnon and sports an impressive eight wins this year, the fastest 1:52.1 score. YS Do It Right (post 1) was the 2020 2YO Quebec Champion and Chantee (post 3) are also contenders.

Of the 12 races on Sunday there are eight former Quebec-bred champions returning. The first race Invitational Trot has four-time winner Capteur De Reve along with two-time winner Precieuse CC and Babidibou. The 8th race has Mag N Lady, the 9th race has Celia Bayama, the 10th race Invitational Pace has DG's De Vito and Eclat De Rire and the 11th race has YS Do It Right.
