On A Streak upsets in Wellwood to earn berth in Mohawk Million

The Scott Young-driven 15-1 upsetter gave trainer Luc Blais and owner Determination of Montreal a sweep of the Wellwood and Peaceful Way finals at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

by Mark McKelvie / Woodbine communications

Ontario

On A Streak punched his ticket to the Mohawk Million with a 1:54.3 upset in Saturday's $535,000 William Wellwood Memorial for driver Scott Young, trainer Luc Blais and owner Determination.

The Wellwood Memorial was hyped as the showdown between undefeated colts Macho Martini and Southwind Tyrion, but both saw their perfect records broken when Macho Martini's Blais stablemate On A Streak gamely dug in to hold off 'Tyrion' in a thrilling stretch drive (replay here).

"This is incredible, even a guy like me doesn't have a whole lot of words," said Young after the biggest win of his career. "I took a look over and saw (Southwind Tyrion) first up and (Macho Martini) following him obviously and I thought I could try and get a little distance in the last turn and my colt dug all the way down the lane and I still thought (Southwind Tyrion) was going to get me halfway down the lane, but he kept digging and we got it."

On A Streak and Young got away third in a :27.2 opening quarter set by Logan Park. Southwind Tyrion and Yannick Gingras got away fourth, while Macho Martini and driver Bob McClure were kept wide by their rival going into the turn. On A Streak got his cue to go in the second-quarter and made the front before hitting the half in :57.2.

The second-quarter also saw Macho Martini ready to go on, but waiting on Southwind Tyrion to move. That move to the outside by 'Tyrion' ultimately forced Macho Martini three-wide going into the final turn before finding room to slide in a lane onto his rival's back.

On A Streak and Young ramped up the tempo on the far turn to race by three-quarters in 1:25.4 with Southwind Tyrion approaching first-up.

In the stretch, Southwind Tyrion confronted On A Streak and the rookies went to war. Macho Martini dipped to the inside and stayed with the top pair, finishing third by just over a length.

The final strides saw On A Streak prevail by a head for a timely maiden-breaking score. The result was a flip of last week's elimination where 'Tyrion' prevailed by a nose over On A Streak.

"The day they finalized (the drivers) Bobby (McClure) texted me," said Young about finding out he'd be driving On A Streak and Dicentra in Saturday's rich finals. "Luc (Blais) had talked to me the day before and asked me if I was going to be here

"The nerves were good and I was even surprised by myself, but it's my job, I'm here to work and do the best I can. The two colts that were undefeated had all eyes on them, but I had complete confidence in my colt and he just missed Yannick's colt last week and with an inside post I figured he would be top-three for sure, anything better would be great and we got the big one.”

A son of Cantab Hall—Habit’s Best, On A Streak was bred by Fredericka Caldwell of Kentucky and sold for $155,000 at the 2019 Standardbred Horse Sales Company’s yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA to Serge Godin’s Determination. The Blais trainee entered the Wellwood Memorial with three runner-up finishes, a third and a fourth in five starts.

On A Streak paid $32 to win.

The winner of this year’s William Wellwood Memorial is guaranteed a free slot in the inaugural Mohawk Million on Sept. 26. On A Streak is the first confirmed horse in the field. Godin’s Determination already owned a slot and will now have an opportunity to race two horses in the field.

Godin’s second spot could be reserved for a special filly that dominated again on Saturday night.

Donna Soprano made a three-wide move up the backstretch moving to the lead and never looked back for a dominating 1:53.3 victory in the $335,000 Peaceful Way for the team of McClure, Blais and Determination (replay here).

New Image Media

Donna Soprano (Bob McClure) made a three-wide move up the backstretch moving to the lead and never looked back for a dominating 1:53.3 victory in the $335,000 Peaceful Way final.

“I’ve talked many times about her temperament and she’s a little flighty, but I’ve also said she’s getting better every week and she was perfect tonight,” said McClure. “I moved her three-wide, she landed on the front and she came right back to me and just coasted home.

“She’s a very special filly and I’m very lucky to drive her.”

The early-stages of the Peaceful Way saw many starters leaving for position with Dream Chapter stretching out Dicentra through a :27.1 opening-quarter. Donna Soprano had yet to see the rail in mid-pack when McClure opted to circle three-wide around Amazone Duhas. The heavy-favorite cleared stablemate Dicentra just after a :56.4 half.

Donna Soprano trotted by three-quarters in 1:25.2 with slight pressure from Amazone Duhas before leaving her rivals far behind with a wrapped up :28.1 final-quarter to win by 4 ¼ lengths. Lady Chaos rallied for second, while You Will Be Queen and Imextraspecial completed the Superfecta.

A $190,000 Harrisburg yearling purchase, Donna Soprano adds another Peaceful Way trophy to her family's connection, joining her dam, Windsong Soprano, who won the race in 2008.

Owner Godin's Determination sits loaded with top 2-year-old trotting talent. Donna Soprano is now five-for-five with $278,082 earned. The clocking of 1:53.3 is a new career-best and is the second fastest in event history behind Manchego's 1:52.4 mile in 2017.

Donna Soprano paid $2.70 to win.

Warrawee Vital leads Saturday Grand Circuit winners at Mohawk Park

by Mark McKelvie / Woodbine communications

Grand Circuit Month continued Saturday night (Sept. 12) at Woodbine Mohawk Park with the Somebeachsomewhere, Simcoe and Champlain Stakes part of the $1.6 million card.

The Somebeachsomewhere Stakes capped off four consecutive weeks of Grand Circuit events for 3-year-old pacing colts and geldings. A group of 12 were split into two $77,500 divisions.

Warrawee Vital set a new stakes record of 1:48.2 with a jaw-dropping performance in the second division (replay here).

Trevor Henry fired the Rob Fellows trained Warrawee Vital towards the front, clearing Captain Barbossa just after a :26.3 opener. From there, 'Vital' went the distance, posting fractions of :55 and 1:22.2 before kicking home in :26 flat to hold off 'Barbossa' by half a length in 1:48.2.

Moneyman Hill was third, while Beach Blanket Book was fourth.

A son of Captaintreacherous—Great Memories, Warrawee Vital has stamped himself as a major player in the 3-year-old pacing colt division with back to back Grand Circuit victories. He is now six-for-nine on the season and goes over $135,000 in earnings with the win for owners Blair Corbeil, Yolanda Fellows and M&S Racing Stable Inc.

Warrawee Vital, bred by Warrawee Farms of Rockwood, ON, paid $3.20 to win.

New Image Media

Warrawee Vital (Trevor Henry) set a 1:48.2 stakes record winning the second of two Somebeachsomewhere divisions Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Capt Midnight delivered a career-best 1:48.3 performance to win the first division (replay here).

Andrew McCarthy fired up the Tony Alagna trained Capt Midnight from third racing to the half and swept by a twice-used The Greek Freak after a :54.4 half. Capt Midnight proceeded to rip off a :26.4 third-quarter to hit that marker in 1:21.3, before opening up a few lengths on his rivals to win by three lengths.

Beaumont Hanover moved to the front in the second-quarter before releasing The Greek Freak to the front. 'Beaumont' came up the inside for second, while Rhythm In Motion was third and The Greek Freak fourth.

A son of Captaintreacherous—It Was Fascination, Capt Midnight picked up his second win in 10 starts this season. The Alagna trainee was fifth in the Pepsi North America Cup and fourth in last week's Simcoe. He now has over $180,000 earned this season and career numbers of eight wins and $571,845 earned.

Capt Midnight, bred by Hanover Shoe Farms, is owned by Marvin Katz, Kenneth Jacobs, Brad Grant and Capt Midnight Racing. He paid $4.20 to win.

A group of 14 sophomore pacing fillies were split into a pair $88,000-plus divisions for the Simcoe.

Driver McCarthy moved the Alagna trainee to the lead in the second-quarter and it was lights out from there. The son of Betting Line—All Tucked Up posted fractions of :55.4 and 1:24.2 before firing home in :26.1 for a victory of seven lengths.

Candy Trader finished second, while Twin B Fighter was third.

Abuckabett Hanover is now three-for-five to start his career and has earned $145,234 for owners Barbera Stable, Jablonsky Held Stable, Joe Deguara and Alagna And Inthegym. The rookie was purchased last November at Standardbred Horse Sales Company's yearling auction in Harrisburg, PA for $160,000.

A $2 win ticket on Abuckabett Hanover returned $2.80.

Scarlett Hanover picked up her second consecutive win and fourth on the season in the $86,664 first Champlain division for rookie pacing fillies (replay here).

Driven by Yannick Gingras, Scarlett Hanover rushed to the lead on the far turn from fifth, as half-mile leader Lady Arthur slowed down considerably on the lead. The Ashleigh Hensley trained 'Scarlett' rolled by three-quarters in 1:24.2 and fired home in :27.1 to stop the clock in a career-best 1:51.3.

Twin B Sunkissed finished 4 ½ lengths back in second. Voelz Delight and Spellcheck Hanover rounded out the top-four.

A daughter of Bettors Delight—Sammys Magic Girl, Scarlett Hanover has put together a strong rookie season, going over $205,000 earned with Saturday's victory for owners Burke Racing Stable LLC, Frank Baldachino, J and T Silva Purnel & Libby and Weaver Brussemi. She paid $3.10 to win.

Caviart Audrey, who was sent off at odds of 1-9, followed up her dazzling win the Eternal Camnation with a 1:53 score in the second $86,664 division (replay here).

The Nancy Takter-trained Caviart Audrey and driver Gingras got away fourth and didn't start a first-up bid until the final-turn, overtaking the lead from Adashious Hanover after three-quarters in 1:24.4. The daughter of Somebeachsomewhere—Darlins Delight didn't close out the mile nearly as strong as her last start, but secured the victory of a length and a half.

Alumni Seelster finished second, while City By The Bay was third and Paulas Bet Hanover fourth.

Owned by Caviart Farms, Caviart Audrey is a disqualification away from a perfect record, now sitting at three wins in four outings. She went over $100,000 in earnings with the win.

Hypnotic Am, Hen Party highlight the NYSS Finals

Other Night of Champions winners on the $1.8 million card at Yonkers were: Hobbs, Blank Stare, Test Of Faith, Iteration, Steel and King James Express.

by Tim Bojarski for the New York Sire Stakes

The $1.8 million New York Sire Stake (NYSS) finals convened at Yonkers Raceway on Saturday (Sept. 12) with 60 of the best state-bred standardbreds clashing to determine year-end honors in eight $225,000 divisions. Although there were a couple of upsets during the evening, several favorites performed as expected and some put on impressive efforts.

The Allerage Farm 3-year-old filly trot went to Hypnotic Am (Chapter Seven--Daydream Am S) in a runaway performance that produced a new stake record.

A short field of seven got even shorter when the gate released the field when Love A Good Story and

Chris Brokate

Hypnotic Am (Brian Sears) set a 1:55 stakes record winning the $225,000 New York Sires Stakes final for sophomore trotting fillies.

Seventimesalady both made breaks as Hypnotic Am (Brian Sears) opened up a five-length lead at the quarter in :27.2. From there the filly was on cruise control. With no one getting close enough to challenge, Sears went an easy :30 second quarter and :29 up the backside. Hypnotic Am rounded the last turn all by herself and hit the line the same way; on top by five in 1:55, which was a new stake record.

"She was looking around a little bit at the quarter because she hasn't been on a half in a while, but she kept her mind on her business and really performed,” said Sears. “She was really good tonight; she’s a real sweetheart. I wish they hadn’t canceled the Yonkers Trot because I think she would have been really good in there.”

Hypnotic Am ($2.50) is now a two-time NYSS Champion and this win has boosted her earnings to $916,260 for breeder/owner Courant Inc. Marcus Melander trains the filly.

Then in the Cameo Hills Farm 3-year-old filly pace, Hen Party (Roll With Joe—My Lady Day) won in a strong gate-to-wire performance to extend her winning streak.

Racine Bell (Jason Bartlett) was first for the front but Hen Party (Tim Tetrick) soon overtook and when she did, it was for good. Hen Party got to the half in a moderate :56 as So Rude (Joe Bongiorno) made her move at the five-eighths and pushed the third panel to a :27.4 clip. But that was as far as she got as Hen Party opened up heading down the lane and held off a late rush by Moaning Lisa (Jim Marohn Jr.) and won by 1-1/4 lengths in 1:53.1.

It was the fourth straight win and seventh out of the last nine starts for Hen Party ($2.80) who now boasts over a half-million in lifetime earnings with $541,621 in the bank. The Tony Alagna trained Hen Party was purchased by Crawford Farms Racing for $100,000 at the 2018 Standardbred Horse Sales Company yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA, bred by Frederick Hertrich III.

The NYSS 3-year-old colt and gelding trot was won by Hen Party (Tim Tetrick) won the 3-year-old filly pace NYSS final in 1:53.1.

Hobbs (Credit Winner—Cruella De Ville) after a dominating performance.

Hobbs (Jason Bartlett) left like a bullet and seated Chaptiama (Brian Sears) who had a notion to take the lead himself. Under a tight rein, Hobbs scooted through very even fractions of :28.3, :58.4 and 1:28.1, but still had Chaptiama right behind him. Coming off the turn, Sears pulled Chaptiama to take their best shot at the leader but that shot wasn’t nearly enough. Hobbs kicked away in deep stretch and won by 2-3/4 lengths in 1:56.3.

“Hobbs is a very handy trotter and you can drive him like a pacer,” said Bartlett. “He’s honest, he has gate speed and he’s always there for you no matter how the mile goes and that’s the best thing about him.”

One of the few owners who attended live was Scott Farber of Runthetable Stable, who also bred Hobbs. He was elated after the race when the horse named after one his father raced became a NYSS champion.

“This is a very difficult business and it’s hard to get one here and even harder to breed one that gets here,” said Farber. “I give a lot of credit to (trainer) Jim Campbell because last year he said this horse was going to come back great, and he couldn’t have been more right.”

Hobbs ($4.60) won his fifth race in his last six starts and pushed his earnings to $282,965 this year for Runthetable Stable and trainer Jim Campbell.

The Blue Chip Farm 3-year-old colt and gelding pace was won by Blank Stare (Bolt The Duer—Hypnotize) who upset Splash Brother at the wire.

After Major Betts (Dexter Dunn) made a break in the first turn trying for the lead, Splash Brother (Tyler Buter) took the front ahead of Genius Man (Marcus Miller) and Blank Stare (Corey Callahan). As they approached the half, Major Betts had settled himself and was once again moving up the rim towards the leader. But that threat only lasted past the five eighths and that’s when Blank Stare made his move on the outside. Blank Stare caught Splash Brother heading into the last turn and the two matched strides into the stretch. Both drivers rocked all the way to the wire but Blank Stare won the battle under the light by 3/4’s of a length in 1:52.2.

The third win of the year for Blank Stare ($22.40) made him a NYSS Champion and pushed his earnings to $199,699 in 2020. The John Butenschoen trainee is owned by the Harmony Oaks Racing Stable, James Crawford IV and In Over My Head Stable. Blank Stare was bred by Winbak Farm and was a $22,000 purchase at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale in 2018.

The Winbak Farm 2-year-old pacing fillies division was won by Test Of Faith (Art Major—Cannae Cammie) in a powerful front-end performance.

argued early for the lead but it was Test Of Faith (Jim Marohn Jr.) who ultimately took control. Pacing smartly on the lead, Test Of Faith controlled to front comfortably going to the half in :57 before Party Queen (Tim Tetrick) rolled along outside. That challenge picked up the pace but the leader was holding a strong 1-1/2 length margin. Marohn urged the filly through the last turn and she sped away in the stretch, opening up two at the beam in 1:54.1, tying the stake record.

Test Of Faith ($2.40), who was the top point-getter in her division, has now won five out of six lifetime starts and has bankrolled $257,750 this year, all in NYSS events. Owned by Melvin Segal, the Kentuckiana Racing Stable and Eddie Gran, Test Of Faith is trained by Brett Pelling. Test Of Faith was a $92,000 yearling purchase at the 2019 Standardbred Horse Sales Company yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA and was bred by Frederick Hertrich III.

The Crawford Farms 2-year-old filly trot went to Iteration (Chapter Seven—Steamy Windows) who miraculously recovered from a slow start.

Iteration (Brian Sears) had her nose on the gate in the turn and made a break as the car turned into the stretch. Sears got her back trotting but spotted the field eight lengths when the wings folded. That allowed Splash Blue Chip (Ake Svanstedt) to take the front and cut the fractions. With two more breaks by Ifnotmewho and Credit Income, the field was quite spread out and Iteration was trotting fifth, about 10 lengths behind.

Splash Blue Chip continued to lead by three past the half until Aela Jamieson (Andy Miller) drew alongside and had Iteration on her back. Aela Jamieson matched strides with Splash Blue Chip around the final bend and down the lane while Iteration tipped three deep and motored by everyone to win by a nose in 1:59.

"I had her on the gate because she's been getting a little aggressive lately and she got a little aggressive again," said Sears. "But she came back ok and got the job done."

Following in the footsteps of her full-brother Gimpanzee and stablemate Hypnotic Am, Iteration ($4.20) is now a NYSS Champion on the strength of her third win of the year. Courant Inc. owns and Marcus Melander is the trainer. Iteration was purchased for $250,000 at the 2019 Standardbred Horse Sales Company yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA and was bred by the Order By Stable.

The NYSS 2-year-old colt and gelding trot went to Steel (Chapter Seven—Pink Power) who upset the field at 19-1 in his first lifetime victory.

Incommunicado (Scott Zeron) was the master of fractions while Steel (Andy Miller) sat the garden spot the entire mile. With the field single file to the half in a slow 1:00.2, Ambassador Hanover (Ake Svanstedt) pulled first up from third and put some pressure on the leader by the time they got to the three-quarters. At the head of the lane Incommunicado had rebuffed the challenge from Ambassador Hanover but Steel popped the deuce and out-brushed the leader to the wire and won by a head in 1:59, which was a new lifetime mark.

Steel ($40.20) is owned by the Pinske Stable and Crawford Farms Racing, who also bred the winner. Julie Miller is the trainer. The $65,000 yearling purchase from the Lexington Selected Sale, Steel was bred by Crawford Farms Racing.

The NYSS 2-year-old colt and gelding pace was won by King James Express (Art Major—More Diamonds) who made a strong backside brush to take command of the race.

Undefeated American Courage (Matt Kakaley) grabbed the lead off the gate in front of Town Gossip (Joe Bongiorno) and Major Makeover (Mark MacDonald) and they paced that way to the half and around the clubhouse turn. There, King James Express (Jason Bartlett) pulled first over just as American Courage experienced some difficulty on the backside and slowed to a walk, locking Town Gossip in behind him.

The new order as they headed around the last turn was King James Express on the point followed by Carrythetorchman (Marcus Miller) and Town Gossip, who had extricated himself from his predicament. Heading to the wire, King James Express was just too strong and held off all challenges to win by 2-1/4 lengths in 1:56.

"I saw that American Courage didn't look right in the turn, he got a little bumpy. But I was waiting for Mark (MacDonald, Major Makeover) to pull first because my horse is better with cover. But I had to go first and when I cleared he was ok on the point and got game when he heard the horses coming behind him. He's been a nice horse all year, it didn't surprise me when he won the race."

King James Express ($11.80) is owned by Mark Harder, Deena Rachel Frost and Wayne Carleton and is trained by Mark Harder. Gregory Dey bred the winner who sold for $20,000 at the 2019 Standardbred Horse Sales Company yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA.

Social media pledge drives Manitoba fair track to 2020 handle record

by Garnet Barnsdale

Twitter was buzzing yesterday afternoon thanks to a wagering “pledge” drive for a Canadian fair track that was the brainchild of racing writer and handicapper/bettor Melissa Keith.

Keith, who wrote an article about the Miami Fair races in Manitoba in an earlier edition of HRU, thought it would be cool to help break the 2020 handle record at the 1/2-mile track on their closing day. Using social media to her full advantage, Keith encouraged bettors and friends from far and wide to wager, and bet they did.

Keith, a member (and past president) of the Canadian chapter of the United States Harness Writers Association issued a press release that was shared on the Standardbred Canada website and by several members of the chapter and racetrack employees on their social media accounts accompanied by the hashtag #MiamiMadness, and it seemed to work. The track handled a 2020 high of $12,849 and one need only look at the Pick 4 pool to see that the wagering pledge movement attracted plenty of new money. The handle last week was only $4,139, a number that was more than tripled yesterday.

Yesterday's Pick 4 handled $591 which might seem like peanuts, but consider that there was a $47 carryover from the week before and you see that the closing day Pick 4 handled more than 12 times that of the previous week.

Keith explained the genesis of her #MiamiMadness idea. “I guess I just found myself wondering what it means to ‘support harness racing’ or ‘support small tracks’ when serious horseplayers with real bankrolls avoid them like that plague, except to occasionally create minus pools, which are bad for these tracks,” she said. “Obviously, bettors want significant-sized pools, low takeout, certain exotics and not others, rebates, and the list goes on. #MiamiMadness wasn't about competing with Mohawk or The Meadowlands. I think people get that."

A wagering "pledge" seems like a bit of an unusual idea, though, doesn't it? "Pledging to play #MiamiMadness was a gesture of support, not charity or fundraising, for a great little half-mile track," Keith noted. "I wanted to put my money where my mouth was — $100, to start, on the 8-race card. I asked a few friends (like yourself) who are horseplayers if they would follow suit. Most did. Kyle Burton, track photographer at Truro Raceway, came on board with a $50 pledge, and Fraser Rawlinson, a pro handicapper who goes by "The Odds Professor" was in for $100. Others pledged to play, but didn't state a specific amount, which I can respect. So thank you Ryan Clements, Mike Carter, Brad McCallum, Nathan Bain, Lars Johnston, anonymous public handicappers #1 and #2, and anyone else who jumped in on HPI. I mean, it's a small miracle Miami broke its 2020 record handle going head-to-head with Woodbine on Queen's Plate afternoon. So if you played, even $2, thank you. The end goal was break the $12,715 season's record handle, and that was accomplished: $12,849."

Keith said that this type of organized group wagering in support of a racetrack shouldn't be limited to this one event. "Other grassroots tracks could try this too," she said. "The USHWA Canada chapter has quite a few Twitter followers, so we were able to help Miami announcer and promoter Trey Colbeck with that reach. He and the Miami Fair and Manitoba Harness Racing already did a really excellent job this season, consolidating all their fair dates at one rural track to avoid having to cancel during the summer of COVID-19."

There was also an emotional moment in race 7 when 14-year-old warhorse Bling Kaching came within a head of winning a retirement race named in his honor. The British Columbia-bred son of Lo Siento out of the Bomb Rickles mare G TS Dianna Dawn — a $1,000 yearling purchase in 2007 — climbed over the $40,000 mark in lifetime earnings. He retired with a record for 13-30-29 in 162 lifetime starts and Bling Kaching was the recipient of a warm round of applause when paraded in front of the Miami Fair stands following the race.

There was a bit of everything on this card as noted by 24-year-old track announcer Trey Colbeck who just completed his maiden voyage as a race caller at this Miami meet. "We had driver objections, inquiries, placings, long shot winners, a $680 trifecta payoff, stakes races, memorial races," the University of Winnipeg student said. "I don't think we could have asked for anything more. I think #MiamiMadness played a huge part into the day's success and the day sure lived up to the "madness" hype. The English major had made a vow on Twitter to get a horseshoe tattoo if the track could reach $15,000 in handle. "Officially, we didn't hit the mark," he said.

The placing that Colbeck spoke of came in the 6th race and it saved a bridge jumper when third place finisher Charlies Dragon was disqualified for interfering with fifth-place finisher Tito Santanna who had $846 or the $925 show pool bet on him.

Ramona Hill cruises in Simcoe Stakes

Hambletonian-winning filly won her $88,894 test Friday at Woodbine Mohawk Park in 1:53.2.

by Mark McKelvie / Woodbine communications

Hambletonian champion Ramona Hill made a successful return to Woodbine Mohawk Park on Friday night (Sept. 11).

Sophomore trotters took their turn in the Simcoe Stakes spotlight with three divisions – two for fillies and one for the boys.

Tony Alagna trainee Ramona Hill turned in an easy-looking victory in her $88,894 Simcoe division for driver Andrew McCarthy. The daughter of Muscle Hill–Lock Down Lindy got away third and calmly moved to the lead in the second-quarter, posting fractions of :57, 1:25.1 before a :28.1 final quarter.

Ramona Hill stopped the clock in 1:53.2, defeating her nearest rival by 5 ½ lengths. Susies Lady rallied for second, while Trina and Modern Mass completed the top four (video replay here).

“She felt very strong,” said McCarthy. “It worked out where I got to sit her in there for a second and then move to the front and she did that as easy as she likes and was very strong finishing.”

Ramona Hill’s last visit to Woodbine Mohawk Park saw her win the Breeders Crown from post 10. This season has been Ramona Hill, who is eligible to next Saturday’s (Sept. 16) Eleganimage, had $54,398 wagered on her to win from a pool of $62,884.

Owner Grant made it a sweep of Friday’s Simcoe Filly Trot, as Warrawee Vicky came through in the $88,895 first division (video replay here).

Driven by Doug McNair, Warrawee Vicky received a two-hole trip behind Whose Blues and just reached up in the final strides to win a four-across finish in 1:54. She Rocks Kemp finished second by a head, while Whose Blues was third by a neck and a rallying Princesspartypants crossed the line fourth by half a length.

A daughter of Royalty For Life—The Tall Poppy, Warrawee Vicky is now three for six on the campaign with nearly $150,000 earned for owner Grant. The OSS Gold winner is trained by Scott McEneny and now sports career numbers of eight wins and over $300,000 in earnings. She is eligible to the upcoming Eleganimage Stakes.

Warrawee Vicky paid $16.70 to win.

Jula Trix Treasure came first up to win the $167,511 Simcoe for three-year-old trotting colts and geldings. Yannick Gingras guided the Ake Svanstedt trainee to the 1:53.4 score (video replay here).

Capricornus made the front in the second-quarter, posting a :56 half. Jula Trix Treasure got underway from fifth nearing the half and would march up and around the leader to hit three-quarter in 1:25.2.

The stretch drive saw Jula Trix Treasure close out the victory with a :28.2 final-quarter to defeat Threefiftytwo by half a length. Horse Trader rallied for third, while Beyond Kronos was fourth.

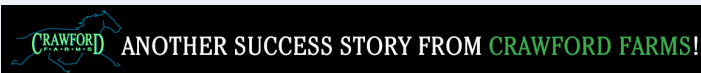

A son of Trixton—Victory Treasure, Jula Trix Treasure is now three for 10 on the season with $166,335 earned for owners Jula Racing Inc. The sophomore trotter increases his career numbers to five wins and over $180,000 banked.

Uhtred impresses in Excelsior Finals at Tioga

by Nick Salvi for Tioga Downs

The New York Sires Stakes (NYSS) Excelsior A finals were raced at Tioga Downs on Friday (Sept. 11), each for a purse of $50,000.

Uhtred won the glamor boy division in the day's fastest 1:51.1 with a gate-to-wire tour de force from post nine, driver Jason Bartlett's third stakes win on the day. A rallying Levine eked out second in a photo over My Pal Joe.

Unraced at two, Uhtred was making only his sixth career start and winning for the fourth time. The Art Major—Seaside Rory colt has displayed unusual talent over that short span for trainer Carmen Auciello and owners Earl Hill, Jr and Stephen Klunowski, clearly his best days are before him.

Just Joshing (Marcus Miller) kicked off the stakes in the 2-year-old filly trot with an upset of heavily favored Izzy Demsky for trainer Julie Miller in 1:58.2. The Chapter Seven—Jodi's Jayme lass sat a pocket behind the fave then out-sprinted that one through the lane to post the half-length win. Andy Miller Stable, breeder Windsong Stable and Dumaen Haven Farm share ownership of the winner who took a new speed mark in the process.

Dresden (Scott Zeron) avenged the loss of the favorite in the opener when the freshman Roll With Joe—Fine China pacing filly took race three in a personal best of 1:54.1 over Carrington in a largely front stepping effort. Dresden is a Henderson homebred trained to now three wins in four attempts by the venerable conditioner Chris Ryder.

Zeron came right back to take the baby colt trot with Linda Toscano's Royson's Punch affording that colt an ideal trip after a hard leave to the lead, releasing heavily favored Barn Hall then out-gaming that one in the shadow of the wire in 1:57. Linda trains the Chapter Seven—Leibovitz Hanover colt and owns as Camelot Stable in partnership with R and I Farms.

Mullinax (Bartlett) took the freshman colt pace as a slight favorite in a forwardly placed 1:53.2 effort. The wire arrived just in time for Mullinax as Hopnroll Heaven was gaining quickly and just missed. Mark Ford trains the winner, a son of American Ideal—Up Front Kellie Jo for long-time owner Bill Varney.

"It's been a really hard year on everybody, and this is one bright spot. I certainly wish the late Ed Mullinax who the colt is named for, was here to have raced him. Ed was a great guy to do business with, but an even greater guy to hang out with. He was a good friend," was the heartfelt response of trainer Mark Ford who bred the colt along with Mr. Mullinax. "All of the money Ed made in the business he reinvested and it's a huge loss to all of us that he's gone. The owner of this colt, Mr. Varney, is another really stand-up guy."

Tioga's leading driver Wally Hennessey caught the mount on C And T's Credit when trainer John Stark, Jr. sent out a powerful entry in the 3-year-old filly trot and Wally took full advantage of the opportunity. Hennessey had C And T's Credit on the lead through a comfortable 58.1 half and that was enough to seal the deal as the pair won as they pleased in 1:55.1 over Soprese who rallied late for the place. Frank Barbato and Sam Bova Racing are the proud owners of the winner, a daughter of Credit Winner out of Love To Flaunt.

Bolt Of Beauty became Marcus Miller's second stakes winner on the day. Away from the rail post position, Marcus had the Bolt The Duer—Natural Luck filly close up through the early stages then bum rushed Discoforadollar going into the last turn, opened up and held sway over Turnthefrownaround in 1:52.3. Erv Miller conditions the sophomore filly pacer for his own interest as Erv Miller Stable in partnership with Tanah Merah Farms and Sara Miller.

Conquest AS (Bartlett) dominated the 3-year-old colt trot field gate to wire with the greatest of ease in 1:55.1. Bartlett pointed him forward from the word go and the driver's work was largely done as the Conway Hall—Cordele AS gelding did the rest. Bronze Yankee rode the pocket to a place finish. Trainer Annette Lorentzen had her charge primed, the Lorentzen family owns and bred Conquest AS under the ACL Stuteri AB banner.

If you ask Jimmy Ladwig how he does it, the answer you will likely get is, "When you are doing something you love, it isn't work. Sure it takes up many hours, but just about every day is a learning experience."

Ladwig and his devoted team, led by his right hand man Jose Canteron, has been in charge of raising and prepping the yearling crop at Winbak Farms for the last 21 years.

When he started at Winbak he had no experience with standardbreds.

He grew up in Mystic, CT where almost all of his experience was with quarter horses.

His dad was a horseman and it was only natural that Jimmy would follow in his footsteps.

When asked about his prowess, his response was, "I was pretty good with horses for as long as I can remember. I guess my claim to fame back then was that in 1983 I was the Youth Champion Reiner in the State of Connecticut."

He lived in Jackson Hole, Wyoming in 1987 and 1988 where he was a wrangler at Trail Creek Ranch. His duties also included taking guests on trail rides and pack trips through the abundant trails there. He was also occasionally the breakfast cook.

After Jackson Hole, he moved to Lake Tahoe in 1988. There he was a lift operator, snow maker and a member of the ski patrol. In summer he'd work for pack outfits taking groups of people on horseback and mules through the beautiful area that surrounds Lake Tahoe and was also occasionally a roofer.

Regarding his experience with mules he says, "They come by their reputation for stubbornness quite honestly. It takes a trick or two to dissuade them from what they want to do, rather than what you want them to do. They are pretty smart, but they can also be quite cunning."

He returned to his native Connecticut in 1999, where he sold roofs for a living.

Ladwig's family were friends with a neighbor, Jane Ann Bell, who just happened to be Joe Thomson's sister.

Through Bell, Ladwig met Joe Thomson.

Knowing of Ladwig's excellent background with horses, Thomson offered him a job as yearling manager at Winbak Farms.

Ladwig was somewhat apprehensive, saying that he had never worked with standardbreds before. Thomson responded by echoing the famous TV talking horse, Mister Ed's famous words "A horse is a horse."

Ladwig packed up and moved to Maryland with his wife Deb and son Quinn, where he took up residence and became the farm's yearling manager. He credits both Thomson and then farm manager Bill Gerwick for having faith in him and giving him this great opportunity.

Ladwig says it was basically a sink or swim situation. He felt that he could do the job, but he also knew that if he didn't, there undoubtedly would be someone out there who could.

It's now 21 years later and he is still there, so one would surmise he has probably done a pretty good job.

What is it you like most about your job?

:I would say that it's twofold. Firstly, it's going to the various sales with our yearlings. It's the fruition of an entire year's work. Most yearling consignors preach the mantra that this is our best crop yet. I suppose that I am no different from them. We all truly believe it to be so. After all, if you want to remain in this business, you've got to keep up with the competition. Our, and everybody else's horses, go faster every year. By the nature of the sport and its equine athletes, if you just stand still, you will fall behind.

"Secondly and probably primarily, it's the great crew and the sense of camaraderie we have here at the farm.

"Joe Thomson is of course the boss. He wants everything done just right. He spares no expense whatever in raising the best possible yearling for the sales. He loves horse sales more than any person I've ever known. He helps out as much as anyone at every sale. Garrett Bell our farm manager is a great guy and a great administrator. Jeff Fout, my main man Jose Canteron, Jack Burke and our entire crew do a great job.”

What is it you like least?

“Most people who sell yearlings would probably say doing the videos of yearlings is the most difficult. It might not be as difficult as we make it out to be, but it sure can be frustrating. There are times when you might be doing 20 yearlings and all is going well and then you come upon one, usually a pacing filly who will take you almost as long to do as all the previous ones combined.

“Probably the very worst thing though is when you get what you think is a top yearling injured or sick right before the sale and you have to withdraw it.

“Of course, all breeders will have some disappointment with the way some particular yearlings sell. But you've got to get over that and look at the entire picture. Unfortunately, when one that you particularly like fails to bring anywhere near what you anticipated, you sometimes take it personally, at least I do and question what could I have done to make it more attractive.”

Of all the yearlings you've prepped which is the one that you thought the most of?

“Without any doubt Muscle Hill turned out to be the greatest horse that we or probably anybody else has ever had the honor of breeding and raising. But when he first came in for yearling prep, he looked like anything but a champion. His hair wasn't the best. He was lanky, toed out somewhat and was a little on the gaunt side. Worst of all, he had a real roach back. It was so bad that we brought in an equine chiropractor to work on it.

“By the time he got to the sale he looked pretty good, but not great. He brought $55,000. We thought that was a pretty fair price at the time.”

What is it that most people would not know about Jimmy Ladwig?

“I guess that I'm a Deadhead. I'm a great fan of the Grateful Dead. I'm guessing that I've probably been to around 35 of their concerts. That's nowhere near as much as Bill Walton who has travelled all over the world to see them and has been to their concerts hundreds of times.”

Let's talk about all the breeds of horses that you have been associated with.

“Standardbreds - Of course they are my favorites. They are smart and adaptable.

“Quarter Horses - I was raised with them. They are strong, sturdy, intelligent and extremely adaptable.

“Thoroughbreds - They are beautiful, but often are high strung and can have a degree of fragility.

“Clydesdales - I had never been around them until Joe bought his first pair. We now have six. They are big, strong and very willing. Thank goodness they have a wonderful temperament, because as big and strong as they are, they could do a lot of damage if they were not the gentle giants that they are. I'm especially proud when we bring our team of them to the Hambletonian each year.

“Mules - Although not officially an equine, I consider them such. They are strong and quite smart. They can be obstinate. If you find a good one, it is very good.

“Miniature Horses - I'm not involved with them, but we've got a bunch of them here at the farm. They are very cute and attract attention.”

What about the sales you go to?

“Lexington is my favorite, as it is with most people. The time of year, the ambience, the large number of people you meet and see. You are outdoors and the weather is usually very accommodating. Great people, great horses and a great atmosphere..

“Harrisburg is Harrisburg. It's a hallmark on the calendar. It's a year-end tradition. The best thing one can say is that its weatherproof. Regardless of how the weather is you are safe from it, being in an indoor facility. It will probably be strange not being there this year. But Timonium has an excellent complex. It's a proven place to sell horses. I'm sure we will be fine selling there.

“Canada — I love selling in Canada mostly because I have so many friends up there and the people are so nice.

“Goshen — It's the first sale of the year. Because it's first, I'm inclined to look upon it with some trepidation. It is here now. We will be selling there tomorrow (Sept. 14).

“We will also be selling 19 yearlings on Ongait this year. They are in my opinion as nice a group as those that we are selling elsewhere. There are some people who believe that online is the future of horse sales. It could very well be. As for me, I think I'll wait and see.”

What do you do when you aren't working with horses?

“My wife Debbie and I have a boat. We like to take it out on the water on Sundays and the occasional late afternoon. I find it both relaxing and fun.”

Who are your favorite people in harness racing?

“Our group here are a tremendous bunch. I owe so much to Joe and Joann Thomson and Bill Gerwick for having the faith in me that they did to give me the opportunity to work at this great farm. Our team of Garrett, Jeff, Jack, Jose, Pat Woods, Noel Dustpiva the now retired Larry Drysdale and the terrific group of caretakers we have are terrific.

“Maybe the one best known to our visitors is my dog, Bandit, my constant companion.

“Outside of the farm, I know yearling season is officially open when Perry Soderberg shows up. Others that we enjoy hosting include, among many, Erv Miller, John Butenschoen and just the other day, while Julie Miller was here at the farm looking at yearlings we watched her Winbak graduate Gotta Believe win its first race. Winning with one that you helped raise is to me what it's all about.”

An unbelievable performance by Face Time Bourbon at Vincennes

by Thomas Hedlund

Face Time Bourbon was impressive again in his latest start, this time setting a 1:51.3 (mile rate) world record while winning Saturday's (Sept. 12) $201,000 Prix de l'Etoile over 1.3 miles at Vincennes in Paris in a race featuring four 3-year-olds and four 5-year-olds, where the older gang started 50 meters behind the youngsters.

Face Time Bourbon (Ready Cash) is, undoubtedly, the best trotter in Europe at this moment and he may be the best trotter in the world.

His driver, Björn Goop, knew that he had at least two great 3-year-olds to beat 50 meters in front of him and the Swedish driver acted quickly aiming for a position in front of the field, just as the toughest opponent, Feliciano, found a spot behind the big favorite.

Midway through the race, Face Time Bourbon was pushed to the front and the pace was high. Sébastien Guarato's 5-year-old passed the first mile in 1:51.3 and then another quarter of a mile remained. Goop looked extremely confident over the stretch and Face Time Bourbon kept the same pace all the way towards the wire.

Face Time Bourbon (Björn Goop) set a 1:51.3 (mile rate) world record while winning Saturday's (Sept. 12) $201,000 Prix de l'Etoile over 1.3 miles at Vincennes in Paris.

France during the past 10-15 years and on Saturday's race card at Vincennes, his 5-year-old mare Flamme du Goutier (Ready Cash) won the $201,000 Prix de Normandie monté race.

This was Flamme de Goutier's first attempt under saddle and Antoine Wiels was entrusted on the mare, who accounted for a strong last 600 meters finish and mile rate 1:57 over 3,000 meters (approximately 1.9 miles) is nothing but strong.

Muscle Hill mare best in Norwegian Kriterium

The $187,500 Kriterium for 3-year-old mares was one of the most prestigious races on Bjerke racetrack's card on Saturday afternoon. Frode Hamre trained Jolene B.R. (Muscle Hill—Cantabs Gal) left quickly behind the gate and driver Vidar Hop opted a pocket trip behind leader Devious, a position that became successful, even if Jodie B.R. got really close at the end.

The mile rate over 1.3 miles was 1:58.3 and Carolina Volo finished third.

The 4-year-old Norwegian bred mares fought in $345,000 Stoderby and first choice Lucky Queen Soa (Make It Happen), paired with Lars Anvar Kolle, grabbed a safe wire to wire win in mile rate 1:59.3 over 1.3 miles. Jan Kristian Waaler trains the 4-year-old mare and Lars Anvar Kolle could just sit and relax over Bjerke's home stretch while Lifestyle claimed her silver medal ahead of Duchess Frecel.

Saturday's race card featured races for mares. The colts and geldings will join up at Bjerke racetrack today (Sep13).

An open letter to the USTA and its chairman Joe Faraldo

by Gordon Banks

The USTA should really be nothing more than a recording/licensing organization. It abdicates responsibilities it doesn't wish to exercise, but blocks industry progress by asserting its representative capacity in a host of areas.

It deliberately eliminates the creation of narrow, focused, truly functional industry bodies that could be effective industry think tanks through its zealous, defensive over-breadth, thereby undermining needed advances in marketing/governmental interface, research and public relations.

Doing nothing very well, the USTA lives for itself, and for the jobs of its officers and directors.

The USTA should merge with Standardbred Canada for efficiency and cost savings, it should have its chief officers and many of its ridiculously inappropriate 60-plus directors at designated, publicized booths at EVERY major horse sale, at EVERY major big event racing day, and available monthly for online town halls. It should be a responsive industry association that solicits face-to-face input at these sales and big race days. The board should be self-limited to 12. Outreaches to the industry to create specialized new foundations created to focus on marketing, government interfaces, structural changes, legal should be visibly pushed as a means of focusing the USTA on what it is needed to be at this time – a data recording association. All unnecessary expenses such as in person Vegas or Florida meetings should be ended. This is a virtual world, and the industry can't afford the expense or example of frivolity or unnecessary paid trips for directors and officers.

In the specific case of the federal regulatory bill, stop wasting time fighting for perfection at the outset. You will achieve only principled isolation, and principle alone comes at a steep price. Accept the need to be included, fight for necessary changes from the inside, recognize the need for racing's unification for federal regulatory purposes – which will have benefits – and accept that the current state-based system has been a dismal, divisive failure. Our industry needs cleaning up, and regulatory oversight from an interested and empowered federal apparatus will assist to that end.

And on a personal, but respectful note, please adopt a posture consistent with your new position. Stop the counterproductive bickering with Jeff Gural. It is unseemly and unnecessary, and distracts from the fact that you have both achieved so much for the industry. Keep your differences private and act professionally. And don't insult everyone's intelligence with self-righteous claims of extreme personal integrity or your supposed focus on clean trainers. You – and everyone – knew of the long held, albeit legally unproven drugging aura overhanging (Richard) Banca. You used him. That's okay. You had the right, and many good owners have strayed on occasion to the legal dark side in quest of victory. But now you represent the USTA. Just man up, admit it was a mistake in YOUR judgement, similar to mistakes so many prominent owners make, and turn the negative into a positive. Use it to push for stronger penalties, more, easier accessed publication of ALL positives, for the need for more undercover investigations and owner penalties for second time association with proven drug trainers. Urge new licensing requirements that address in advance drug trainer issues and legal consequences, suggest new owner notification procedures that would create legal jeopardy for owners staying with trainers having recent drug positives.

Be a force for positive change, not an old guard defender of the status quo. The industry, YOUR industry is in rapid decline, with a myriad of major problems (unfriendly casino ownership, aging customers/workforce/participants, diminished public awareness, conversion from an on-site to an online business, drug/beard trainers ruining the industry, a monotonous product in need of modification, a loss of sufficient race/purse opportunities for middle of the road 2- and 3-year-olds....), be the industry leader to shine a spotlight on each of these and other significant issues. Lead the discussion to create a new industry structure capable of successively addressing each issue, recognize that as structured and managed today, the USTA is part of the problem, that it must self-focus and assist in passing through to others major responsibilities in a host of areas.

Joe, you have done so much to help the industry and horsemen over the years, please review with an open mind the real needs of today's industry, the things the USTA can and should do well, the need to reorganize both the USTA and the industry, and help lead an industry needing change and leadership with extraordinary urgency.

Big Gulp highlights Indiana Governor's Cup championships with stellar 1:52.4 victory

The time by the freshman pacer was more than two seconds faster than the sophomore pacers.

by James Platz

The Hoosier State's fair circuit champions are traditionally crowned during the Indiana State Fair in mid-August. However, the COVID-19 pandemic altered or suspended many traditions this summer across many racing jurisdictions. Instead, this year's championships took place Thursday (Sept. 10) at the Indiana State Fairgrounds, absent the customary sights, sounds and grandstand crowd. The program capped an abbreviated 2020 Indiana fair program, where 36 days spanning early June to October were trimmed to a 20-date calendar, which began July 4.

Over the course of the pandemic-shortened season, 175 freshmen and 130 sophomores registered points in fair starts, with 92 2-year-olds and 77 3-year-olds logging the necessary six starts to qualify for the championships. New for this season, the finals were renamed the Governor's Cup Series, with trophies handed out for each division. During Thursday's championship octet, progeny of eight different sires reached the winner's circle.

Undefeated freshman pacer Big Gulp turned in the top performance of the day to capture his $20,000 Governor's Cup championship. In reign to trainer Jay Cross, the Always A Virgin gelding romped by six and one-half lengths, stopping the clock in a lifetime best 1:52.4. Big Gulp's winning time was seconds faster than sophomore Governor's Cup winning Straight Shooting gelding Vel Charlie (1:55), also steered by Cross, and Jereme's Jet filly Ivanna Ivy (1:55.2), driven by Logan Loney.

"They were at him. He didn't get much rest during the mile. It was a good mile," Cross said of the win. "They were testing him I thought. He didn't catch many breaks. But, that's to be expected when you do well like that, you have a target on your back."

It was the ninth seasonal win for the gelding, bred by Ben Yoder, who shares ownership of the pacer with his wife, Anna, daughter, McKenzie, and brother, Michael. Out of the Armbro

Dean Gillette

The Indiana Governor's Cup trophy.

Mackintosh mare Astra Destiny, Big Gulp is a half-brother to 2012 3-year-old fair champion Legal Transfer and 2013 Indiana Sires Stakes Gold final winner Mandy's Mattjesty.

"The mare has been just unbelievable for me. He's the last foal that I'll probably get out of her," the breeder said. "The last two years I haven't been able to get her back in foal. As far as this win, it's a race. You never know when a horse is going to have an off day. When you turn to go behind the gate anything can happen; anything is possible. It was a good feeling to win it."

In any other season, Big Gulp would not be racing on the fair circuit after mid-August. Following the championships, a second series is usually conducted with an earnings cap in place. The top horses are excluded from the remaining schedule to give others on the circuit a chance to compete for purses and points leading into a $10,000 championship held in October. The revamped calendar eliminated that second series and focused on offering the most racing opportunities possible.

"In prior years, there is a good possibility we would have been eliminated at the state fair because of the money cap. We benefitted this season because the good horses stayed," said Cross. "This colt could have raced at Hoosier and been competitive. When you race those sires stakes colts in today's world they are all out every step from the first leg. You see a lot of them that don't come back at 3. The owners are of the mindset of making a racehorse and they were more interested in having a 3-year-old."

Trainer Doug Rideout swept the freshman trotting divisions, capturing the $20,000 championships with filly Heres Devotion and gelding Jessies Outlawed. In the filly final, Rideout sent out two starters, with Robert Taylor guiding the Here Comes Herbie lass to a six-length triumph with a 2:00 clocking. Bred by W R L Stables, the trotter scored her fifth win in 10 starts for owners Bill Webb, Diamond D P Standardbreds and Rideout's wife, Julie.

In the Governor's Cup final for trotting colts, Rideout and Jessies Outlawed surged late to push a nose in front of J-S Hopscotch and Alex Udell in a time of 1:59.3. The son of Jailhouse Jesse, bred by Harvey Fry and Alvin Fry, collected his sixth win in 12 starts. The 2-year-old has finished no worse than third this season for the partnership of Julie Rideout and the Glider Stables.

"The colt, he's been kind of a nice colt all year. He just goes out and does his job. He trots all the time and just does his business. The filly has been racing tough lately. She raced at Hoosier Park and won. She was really good. She's just been sharp lately and feeling great," the trainer said of his pair of winners. "We're going to give them a shot in the sires stakes and see what happens. I don't know if they are good enough for them, but they deserve a chance to see if they can go with them."

Rideout is a fair circuit regular each summer, and admits this year's slate of events had a different feel than previous years.

"It was tough because it was jammed in within a short period of time. It was different, that's for sure. We didn't have a week between any of the stops, having to go twice a week sometimes," he offered. "We had to make the best of what we had. They tried to do as much as they could for the horsemen, and I think it turned out very good. I'm sure people would love to have the second series, but they got as many opportunities for people as they could, and I think we all appreciate that."

Rounding out the Governor's Cup winners were freshman Time To Roll filly Rollonbeauty (1:56), trained and owned by Curtis Rice, 3-year-old Guccio filly Just For Us (1:59.2), owned and conditioned by Bonnie Mattingly, and the Jack Myers Racing Stable-owned Big Stick Lindy gelding J-S Jasper (1:58.2).

Jimmy Takter, Philip Antonacci to team up on thoroughbred venture

by Bill Finley

Jimmy Takter is ready to make his comeback, but it won't be in harness racing.

The Hall of Fame trainer has joined forces with Philip Antonacci and the two will launch a thoroughbred stable later this year. Antonacci, 25, will be listed as the head trainer, but Takter's role will be a major one, so much so that Antonacci described the relationship as a partnership.

"Philip is a very bright young man, he has been all over and his background is in this sport," Takter said. "But he has never had a stable of his own before. That's where I can help him. I will be his wing man."

With Antonacci down as the head trainer, Takter won't have to deal with the paperwork and the operational and administrative parts of the job that he was eager to do away with when leaving harness racing.

Though Antonacci was raised in a harness racing family, his passion became thoroughbreds. He has worked for several top thoroughbred trainers and helped manage Lindy Farms' modest-sized thoroughbred division. It has long been his desire to go into training thoroughbreds. Meanwhile, Takter was looking for new challenges in his life. That's what brought the two together in what Antonacci calls a "perfect marriage."

"Simply put, Jimmy Takter is one of the great horsemen in the world," Antonacci said. "He has a completely unique connection with the horses and his stats speak for themselves. Four Hambletonians, six Hambletonian Oaks, 34 Breeders Crowns, those are unfathomable statistics. He is one of those guys who, even though he was so successful every year, was always looking to make changes or modify something that would give him an advantage moving forward. He is a fast learner and is someone who can adapt."

The plan is to start off with 15 horses based out of the Payson Park training center in Florida. Most will be owned by the Antonacci family, but Philip said his will be a public stable that will look to pick up new clients. He expects to make his first start at the championship meet at Gulfstream Park.

Wesley Ward currently trains most of the Antonaccis' thoroughbreds and will keep those horses. The Antonacci-Takter stable will be made up of 10 or so horses that are now yearlings, plus a handful of new, older horses they bring in.

Dave Landry

Multiple harness racing Hall of Famer Jimmy Takter is making the jump to thoroughbred racing.

They picked up their first horse Thursday when paying $42,000 at the Fasig-Tipton yearling sale for a colt by the stallion Hard Spun.

The thoroughbred operation will mark Takter's first direct contact with a stable since he announced his retirement at age 58 in 2018. He said what brought him back is his passion for the animal.

"You miss the horses," he said. "Horses have been my life. It's so important to me to be around horses I really began to miss them."

Takter could have returned to harness racing and would not have had any problems rebuilding his business, but he said he was looking for new challenges.

"Training thoroughbreds is something I always wanted to do and something I always wanted to explore," he said. "It will be a new game for me. It's a good time to do this now."

Two of thoroughbred racing's most successful trainers, Bob Baffert and Wayne Lukas, started out with a different breed, quarter horses. In modern times, perhaps the best known examples of standardbred trainers making the switch to the runners are Don Swick and Norm McKnight, a leading trainer at Woodbine Racetrack in Toronto.

Other than those two, there have been few trainers make the jump from standardbreds.

Takter acknowledged that there will be a learning curve, but also felt that there were areas where the job wouldn't be that different than when he trained standardbreds.

"I am a great conditioner of standardbreds," he said. "I know they are totally different horses but you have to condition these horses. The main thing is to build up a strong horse and you have to try to figure out a way to develop them without any injuries."

Another key to success, he said, is to develop a horse mentally.

"I'm a strong believer that the mind of a horse is very important," he said. "The thoroughbreds are more hyper and stronger animals. You have to work on their minds and build them as strong as possible in that area, as well."

When it comes to the sales, Takter knows that he still has a lot to learn when it comes to thoroughbred pedigrees and will let Antonacci focus on that area. His responsibilities will include sizing up the horse as an athlete, something he proved to be quite adept with while training standardbreds.

"Conformation is a big factor," he said. "These horses are way, way more beautiful horses than our horses. Their bodies are unbelievable. You don't see standardbreds like that. We don't have the wallet like some big stables have. We might have to buy horses that have some mistakes but you think you can live with them."

At the start, the Antonacci-Takter team won't have the type of firepower Takter had when training harness horses. They want to keep the stable small and say that their owners aren't the types to spend lavishly at the sales. But Takter is not doing this to be part of a stable that operates in obscurity. Always brimming with confidence, Takter is setting loft goals.

"To win a Triple Crown race or a Breeders' Cup would be a huge step forward," Takter said. "I understand you need the material for that. But I'm not going into this just to participate, I am going into it to try to compete. Of course, it is our goal to compete in those big races."

Godolphin Flying Start

Philip Antonacci will be listed as trainer and will work in tandem with Takter.

9 rare sightings

by Bob Heyden

Nine things you never – or almost never – see in harness racing:

1. The Jug celebrates its 75th edition this year. In the first quarter century – from 1946-1970 – only one driver won the Little Brown Jug and also drove another horse in the Jug that same day.

John Simpson, Sr. won it in 1957 with Torpid, the eventual Horse of the Year (HOY) and also raced Nyland Hanover, who finished sixth.

2. How does a 2-year-old trotting filly win her division by a vote of 210-4-yet lose 70 per cent of her races? Timing my friend. GREAT timing. Dream Of Joy did this in 1999. She wound up the year 10 3-2-2 $826,601 for Per Eriksson and Jim Meittinis. But, she picked a great time to turn on the jets. Her three wins were the Big Three – the $652,092 Breeders Crown, the $484,400 Merrie Annabelle (now the Jim Doherty Memorial) and the $392,400 Goldsmith Maid.

3. The 1995 Hambletonian featured three different odds-on sophomores in the same day. ODDS-ON 10 cents on the dollar C R Kay Suzie broke, finished sixth and did not qualify for the final.

40 cents on the dollar King Pine finished third in his elimination.

80 cents on the dollar Tagliabue won the Hambletonian final.

4. Can anyone duplicate Bill O'Donnell's first seven years driving in the Little Brown Jug? Take A look:

1982 – FIRST and then 4th with Temujin

1983 – SECOND twice with Skirt Lifter

1984 – FIRST and third with Troublemaker, SECOND with Present Laughter.

1985 – WON The Jug with Nihilator (first twice).

1986 – WON The Jug with Barberry Spur (first twice).

1987 – FIRST and fourth with Z Twenty Eight, fourth with Simcoe Hanover

1988 – FIRST and then fifth in the final with Camtastic

Summary: 19 drives (heats and final) 8-3-2 and NEVER missed a check!

5. Meadow Skipper entered the 1963 Jug with 50 career starts (finished second that day). Bret Hanover was 42-for-45 entering the 1965 Jug (which he won). Those days appear to be gone forever.

6. How can a trotting colt be August's Horse Of The Month without racing in the Hambletonian? Lord Stormont did it in August, 1997, defeating the Horse of the Year Malabar Man in the World Trotting Derby.

7. Three straight HOY titles and zero Horse of the Month titles. Malabar Man (1997) and Moni Maker (1998, 1999) won three straight HOY titles, yet not even once did either win a Horse of the Month designation. Jimmy Takter remains the only trainer to have three straight HOY titles with two different horses.

8. How could this be? A colt goes off at 192-1 in the Kentucky Futurity, makes a break and finishes last as the longest shot in the field. Nothing so unusual about that right? Well, that colt in 1989 was the division winner Esquire Spur. He finished out the year 19 8-1-1 and got 82.5 votes to 82 for Park Avenue Joe. Valley Victory had 61.5 despite not racing after mid-July.

9. Total dominance. In 2014, sophomore trotters trained by Jimmy Takter – fillies and colts combined – got all by one year-end vote:

Father Patrick 94

Nuncio 57

Trixtion 5

Datsyuk 1 (Charlie Norris trainee)

Fillies:

Shake It Cerry 156

Lifetime Pursuit 1

156 out of 157 votes with the colts and 157 out of 157 votes with the fillies – 313 out of a possible 314 combined.

The French twist

by Trey Nosrac

Monique, the mysterious Frenchwoman, arrived two days before the virus canceled international flights. David, the tech mogul who employs me as his driver, met her on an around the world cruise. During the voyage, he invited her for a visit to his mother's farm in rural Ohio. She said Oui.

During our ride to the airport to pick her up, David dropped a couple of informational bombs. Monique worked in the rare art game, and her uncle had a trotter in the field of the most prestigious harness racing event in Europe, the Prix d'Amérique at Vincennes Hippodrome near Paris.

David and Monique emerged from the sliding glass doors trailed by a porter pushing a cart with two large blue suitcases and a matching garment bag. Monique was easy to identify, not easy to describe. She was tall, as tall as David. She was fit, but not anorexic thin. Her hair was black, straight, short, and chopped in straight lines, like one of those women doing the Charleston in the flapper era. She wore black pants and an odd pink top under an oversized men's suitcoat. She set the whole ensemble off with an unfastened yellow scarf and black tennis shoes.

Her age was a puzzler. If I had to guess, I would imagine 40ish, but she was one of those people who, for a moment, looked like 30, and then looked 50ish. Her nose was a tad pointy, no makeup except around her dark eyes. She was not magazine beautiful, but she was striking. Watching her walk with her head held high, you sensed she was a woman who knew where she was going.

The porter tossed her luggage into the trunk. The couple slid into the backseat, which meant I could only catch glimpses of her face in my rearview mirror.

She did not waste time waiting for an introduction, "You must be the famous Trey, the wild man with the ponytail who amuses David. You are the man who loves trotters, never stops talking, and has many crazy plans."

I nodded, "That's pretty much the first draft of my headstone. Charmed to meet you..., Monique? Mona? Frenchie? Mademoiselle? What should I call you?"

She flickered a smile in the rearview as she said, "Monique will be just fine... although you do not CALL a person. You ask a person by what name would they prefer to be addressed."

I sat up a bit, "Appreciate the pointer. By the way, your American is perfectamonte."

"American is not a language."

I heard David stifle a snort of laughter.

I panicked and tossed her a nothing burger, "What's the French word for 'perfect?'"

"If using the word as a noun, the translation is parfait. If using the word as a verb, it is parfaire."

"Gracias, I'll keep that in mind... for about 15 seconds."

Another chuckle from David.

I plowed ahead, "So Monique, I heard through the grapevine that you're a big fish in the art world. I have some unsigned Velvet Elvis on Styrofoam in my double-wide. Maybe you can give me an appraisal."

In the rearview mirror, I watched her Mona Lisa smile. Then, as cool as ice, she said, "I'm always appraising."

Another lame sentence slipped out of my mouth, "The Art World must be fascinating?"

"Selling and buying art is a pigsty of cheating, lies, and money laundering. My profession grows dirtier with each passing hour."

I exhausted my French with, "Sacre bleu, are you sure you aren't confusing art with harness racing?"

"Trotting racing in France is merveilleux."

"Is that good?"

"Wonderful, magnificent. Has the infamous Trey ever visited my country?"

"No, the closest I ever got to France was a backroom poker game on the outskirts of Louisiana, in a town with a French name, Tulane-Gravier. Travel guides rate this town with negative five stars. I broke even but lived."

"What does Monsieur Trey know about trotting in France?"

"Not much, just rumors. However, while lover boy was inside tracking you down, I YouTube'd the big French race."

"And what were your impressions?"

"Ying and yang. Loved that they were big strong trotters, loved that they raced without much equipment, very nice camera work, and the announcer got so excited I thought he would have a stroke.”

“And zee yang?”

“Well, the field was huge, I mean buffalo stampede huge. An owner could have a trotter that beats 14 horses and not get a check. Plus, it seemed the race lasted like 10 minutes. How far did they trot in that race?”

“2,700 meters.”

“What’s that, nautical miles?”

“1.68 earth miles.”

“Tell me more, Madame Monique.”

“In France, we only race le Trotteur Français. The French never race pacers. We have a season with over 11,000 trotting races with large fields. A typical race card has 5-7 races attelé, with a sulky, and 2-3 races monte, with a jockey atop the horse’s back.”

I made a goofy clicking noise with my mouth before diving in for more, “Not loving the rider on the back thing.”

She smiled, “You would get used to this.”

“Maybe, but the huge fields are a turnoff. Do the math Mademoiselle, a race with 20 horses. Phew, I could go years without cashing a ticket. I’m figuring that if all the horses go to the rail after the first turn and the drivers lean back, the last horse would be in another state.”

“We do not have states in France, and our trotting drivers sit up, they cannot lean back.”

“Good to know.”

“And what else would Mister Trey want to know?”

“Hey Monique, Trey wants to know beaucoup about French racing, but right now, we are pulling into the Chateau De David. Maybe we can pick this up next ride. How do you say next ride.”

“La... prochaine... balade.”

“I’ll remember that,” I said.

She gave me another Mona Lisa grin and shot back, “For about 15 seconds.”

That was adieu. Monique stepped out into the world of quarantine in central Ohio. The next ride and battle of the harness racing worlds would have to wait.

Vernon Downs horsemen and management declare end date of successful 2020 meet

The Harness Horse Association of Central New York (HHACNY), the Gaming Commission-recognized representative horsemen's association at Vernon Downs

Racetrack, together with the management of Vernon Downs, announced Saturday (Sept. 12) that the last live race card for 2020 will be conducted on Saturday, Sept. 26.

HHACNY president Rick Papa said, "While the viral pandemic that afflicted the nation was raging, we were quite fortunate to have been able to commence the 2020 race season, albeit later than we desired. Still, from the very moment the governor announced the lifting of the moratorium on live racing, both the horsemen and management worked extremely hard to start the meet. Then, without the benefit of any revenue from the still shuttered video lottery terminal parlor (racino), we were able to offer competitive, full card harness racing without interruption.

"Though the 2020 meet was scheduled to continue through November 7, it is only in just the last few days that the racino was given permission to reopen. Rather than subject the horsemen to a debilitated purse structure through the fall portion of the meet, it was jointly decided to cease racing at the end of September. This timed closure will ensure that by the anticipated opening of the 2021 season, the horsemen's account will be fully replenished, such that owners, trainers and drivers will race for competitive purses. On behalf of the horsemen, I thank everyone involved including track management for its input into this important decision."

Vernon Downs president Jeff Gural said, "I want to thank the HHACNY for working with us this season as obviously the pandemic has been devastating to the industry. I think we succeeded in providing an opportunity for our horsemen to get their horses raced the last few months including the all-important New York Sires Stakes program. Despite the pandemic, horses need to be fed and cared for and with no income coming in it was a major hardship. Let's hope we can reopen on time in the spring and the pandemic will be a distant unpleasant memory."

Subject to New York State Gaming Commission approval, the 2021 race meet is scheduled to start in mid-April.

Somebodyslilly, Genie Rockwell victorious in ISS at Hoosier

Three-year-old pacing fillies took center stage in the fifth leg of Indiana Sires Stakes action on Friday (Sept. 11) at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino. Divisional winners Somebodyslilly and Genie Rockwell turned in impressive performances to capture their respective divisions.

The action kicked off with Somebodyslilly playing the role of post-time favorite and making good on her 1-9 favoritism to find the winner's circle in 1:50. Somebodyslilly equaled her established best and recorded her fifth consecutive victory with the win.

When the wings of the gate opened, Brandon Bates guided Rock It Out immediately to the front, while Somebodyslilly with Michael Oosting opted to wait in third through the first quarter in :26.4. Approaching the half-mile mark, Oosting moved Somebodyslilly to attack from first-over, passing the half in :55.

Remaining unchallenged through the third quarter in 1:23.3, Somebodyslilly remained ahead of the field by a little over a length. As the field turned for home, Grace Rocks with Joey Putnam moved from last and were charging hard the leader. Though Grace Rocks found an impressive final quarter of :25.3, Somebodyslilly held her at bay, crossing the wire in 1:50. Grace Rocks settled for second while Maggie Rhee with Ricky Macomber Jr. moved from mid-pack for third. Somebodyslilly paid $2.20 to win.

"I decided I didn't want to push her too hard so I waited until the quarter to move her down the backside," Oosting said. "Someone would've had to really challenge her to get by at that point. She seems to be really finding herself right now. I'm hoping that she continues to race this well."

Somebodyslilly is owned, trained and was bred by Eli Schwartz. The daughter of Time To Roll—Somebody's Artist has now won seven of 17 lifetime starts and sports a lifetime bankroll of $130,100.

The second division saw a 7-1 upset by Genie Rockwell, who turned in an impressive effort to lower her lifetime mark by over a second to 1:49. With trainer/driver James Yoder at the lines, Genie Rockwell paid $16.20 to win.

As the gate opened, even money favorite Priceless with Brandon Bates grabbed the lead with Mystical Carrie and Trace Tetrack opting for the pocket trip. Genie Rockwell with James Yoder settled in third, while the field remained in straight formation through fractions of :27.2, :54.2 and 1:22.

As the field turned for home, Priceless was still on top but Genie Rockwell was not going to hand over a victory. Surging forward, Genie Rockwell found racing room up the inside and was matching strides with a tiring Priceless. Saving her best for last, Genie Rockwell overcame Priceless by a length stopping the clock in 1:49. Mystical Carrie with Trace Tetrack rallied from the grandstand side, digging in gamely for second while Priceless held on for third.

"The trip worked out great for her but I did have to ask her to pace in the stretch," Yoder said. "She's a lot better with faster fractions in front of her. She can be a bit of a handful with a lot of sass, but she's an absolute sweetheart when she wins a race; she definitely knows when she wins a race."

The daughter of Always A Virgin—Norma Rockwell was bred by Glen Hershberger and Marlin Fry. With tonight's win, Genie Rockwell has won five of 18 lifetimes starts and surpassed the $100,000 with a new lifetime bankroll of $104,455 for owner Marlin Fry.

Sharp effort from Mikey Mass surprises trainer Gallucci

Mikey Mass found the Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Grassroots winner's circle for the second time this season on Thursday (Sept. 10) at Woodbine Mohawk Park and trainer Nick Gallucci is hoping the 3-year-old trotting gelding is shaping up for a big finish to the season.

"He's really coming around, he's really starting to mature now and come into his own," said Gallucci. "He's relaxing before the race and during the race. He's really starting to turn into a racehorse."

Starting from Post 2, Mikey Mass and driver Jonathan Drury got away third and watched Remember Titans lead the field to a :28 quarter, :58 half and 1:26.2 three-quarters. In the stretch Drury was able to squeeze the fan favorite up the inside and Mikey Mass pulled away to a one and one-half length victory in a personal best 1:54.3. Remember Titans settled for second and pocket-sitter Ongoing Royalty was third.

"I wasn't expecting that mile today at all, it really surprised me. I was really happy with that," said Gallucci. "Hopefully we can keep things rolling for the last three sires stakes races."

Gallucci shares ownership of Mikey Mass with Vince Gallucci of Brantford, Frank Cirillo of Kleinburg and Bruno Didiomede of Hamilton, ON. With two wins and one second in his three Grassroots appearances, the Muscle Mass son sits third in the division standings with 125 points heading into the last regular season event at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Sept. 22. The top 20 point earners at the end of the regular season advance to the Oct. 2 Semi-Finals and the top five finishers from each Semi-Final earn a berth in the Oct. 10 Grassroots Championship on Oct. 10.

Kenogami Coco got a much needed win in the second $22,800 Grassroots division. The Wheeling N Dealin son got away fifth from Post 3, followed Beyond The Lens up the outer lane and then powered down the stretch to a one length victory in a personal best 1:56.3. Pacesetter Oxford Hall finished second and fan favorite Charmbo Prince was third.

"He's a trotter that can be a little wild and he went a couple of tough trips at Hippodrome 3R in his last two starts, so I was happy that he could relax on a helmet today," said driver Louis-Philippe Roy. "And happy to see him trot home good."

Roy engineered the win for trainer Dany Fontaine and owner/breeders Jean-Francois and Marie-Claude Reid of Anjou, QC. The victory boosted Kenogami Coco from 21st to 10th in the standings with 70 points earned through one win, one third and one fourth in a trio of Grassroots starts.

True Brew made the biggest leap up the standings with his 1:57.1 victory in the third division, moving from 29th into a tie for 11th. The fan favorite and driver James MacDonald delivered a front-end effort to score the one length victory over Archies Star and Tuckers Out.

"He has been struggling with breaking issues," said trainer Blake MacIntosh, who shares ownership of the Kadabra gelding with Hutt Racing Stable of Malvern, PA. "He has always had the speed, he's just not the smartest sometimes, but he seems to have figured it out. Hopefully that gives him enough points to make the Semi-Final."

True Brew's victory boosted his point total to 62, 30 points higher than the current cut off for the Grassroots Semi-Finals.

Blue Cupertino made the shift from the Gold Series to the Grassroots in the fourth $23,150 division and the move landed the Kadabra colt in the winner's circle for the first time this season. In rein to Doug McNair, Blue Cupertino set the tempo from Post 5 and turned away a third-quarter challenge from fan favorite Lovedbythemasses to score a one and one-quarter length victory in a personal best 1:55.3. Life Is A Feast finished second and Lovedbythemasses held on for third, in spite of a late break in stride.

"He was one of the top colts last year," said McNair, who piloted Blue Cupertino to earnings of $205,450 as a 2-year-old. "He raced well a few times early this year, then he had some health trouble. He won the toughest division tonight."

The driver's father Gregg McNair trains Blue Cupertino for McKinlay & Fielding of Toronto, ON and Crawford Farms Racing of Syracuse, NY. The owners will now have to decide whether the colt will remain in the Grassroots for the last leg – horses need a minimum of two starts to compete in the Semi-Finals – or return to the Gold Series where he currently sits fifth in the standings.

The last Grassroots division went to No Time To Play, who posted a three-quarter length victory in a personal best 1:55.3. Perpetuate finished second and Lexus Markus was third.

Sylvain Filion guided No Time To Play to his second Grassroots win for trainer Ben Baillargeon and owners Ecuries Daniel Plouffe Inc. of Bromont, Jean Dessureault of Candiac and Claude Hamel of Ayer's Cliff, QC. With 130 points the Kadabra gelding sits second in the standings, seven points behind leader Remember Titans.

Emma Town Bud romps in ISS at Hoosier

Three-year-old trotting colts and geldings were the featured attraction at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casinoon Thursday (Sept. 10) as one $59,500 division of Indiana Sires Stakes was featured on the evening's 14-race card. Emma Town Bud turned in a decisive near gate-to-wire effort to win going away in 1:54 with driver Michael Oosting in the bike.

Leaving from post four, Oosting sent Emma Town Bud away from the gate for early position but yielded the lead to Swan In Motion and Ricky Macomber Jr. through the opening panel in :28.2. Emma Town Bud wanted his turn on the front and ranged up to take command just before the half in :58.2.

After mild first-half fractions, Emma Town Bud began to put his talent on display and was on top by four lengths through the third station in 1:27. Swan In Motion made a costly break turning for home and left Emma Town Bud in a race against the clock. Utilizing a :27 closing kick, Emma Town Bud finished five lengths to the good and stopped the timer in 1:54. Anchors Away and Sam Widger utilized a ground saving trip to get up for second while Dude Included and John DeLong trotted evenly for third. Sent off as the 3-5 betting favorite, Emma Town Bud returned $3.20 at the betting windows.

Trained by Byron Hooley and owned by Summit Pacing Acres LLC, Emma Town Bud now owns a 19 7-5-2 lifetime record. The son of Big Stick Lindy—Centerfold Lady has amassed $202,457 in lifetime purse earnings.

Charming Nancy remains perfect in Buckeye Stallion Series

Charming Nancy made it four-for-four as she rolled to victory in the fourth leg of Buckeye Stallion Series for 2-year-old filly trotters Thursday night (Sept. 10) at Eldorado Scioto Downs.

Aaron Merriman drove the Chris Beaver-trained filly to a wire-to-wire victory in 1:58.2. The Uncle Peter—Caviar Forthe Lady filly edged Bathsheba AS and Dan Noble by a half a length, while Rose Run Why Not was third for Anthony MacDonald. Charming Nancy is owned by Beaver, Joe Sbrocco, Mary McLoughlin and Michael Carter. She returned $9.80 to win.

Sandy Beatty guided Forceful Power to a 1:57.1 win to go two-for-two in BSS action. The Triumphant Caviar—Rose Power filly is owned by Stephen Sexton and paid $15.60. Forceful Power left from post one, but got away sixth, started the chase going to the half before moving three-wide at the three quarters to score by 4-1/4 lengths. Chip It In with Trevor Smith was second, while Kurt Sugg took third with Jogging Sweets.

Shenzi AS got the maiden victory with a win in 1:58.4 for Dan Noble and Annette Lorentzon. The filly is by Lionhunter out of Pandora AS and owned by ACL Stuteri AB. Shenzi AS left from post four and got away second, was shuffled to fourth before charging home a winner by ¾ lengths over Margaret River and Tyler Smith. Elegant Gigi with Chris Page finishing third. The winner returned $8.60 to win.

The final leg of the 2-year-old filly trot will be held at the Delaware County Fair on Tuesday, Sept. 22, with a 1 p.m. post time.

Pat O'Brien joins SOA of NY as executive director

Longtime standardbred owner and experienced businessman Pat O'Brien has joined the Standardbred Owners Association of New York (SOA) as executive director.

O'Brien's venture into the harness racing world began in 2008 when he started going to the track with friend and standardbred owner George Hartman. O'Brien was instantly intrigued and spent six months studying all aspects of the game, and in particular, horse ownership.

O'Brien became an owner in 2008. He started with just two horses and his stable grew. To date, he has owned or co-owned 137 standardbreds who have started in over 1,600 races. O'Brien prides himself on attending his horses' races in person as often as possible and introducing new fans to the sport.

"I always say, 'Who doesn't like a horse?' You may have people who don't like dogs, don't like cats. You never hear a person say they don't like horses. They are beautiful animals," O'Brien said. "Every time I bring neighbors, friends to the racetrack, bring them into the paddock before and after the race, they are just amazed by these animals. They can't believe how quiet and content they are before and after the race, how they're not high strung. I'm also one of the few owners who always bring carrots for the horses after the races."

O'Brien's most notable horse to date is Act Now, a $40,000 buy from the 2012 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale who won 11 of 38 starts and earned $534,539. The multiple stakes winner's resume includes a 5 1/2-length win in the Lady Maud at Yonkers in 2014.

"The best thing about that race, I was there with about 20 people. I had my cousin from Ireland, his wife and their three boys were out for the race. That was tremendous. I have that picture hanging up in the living room. She was clearly my top horse," O'Brien said.

O'Brien earned a degree in business from Nassau Community College in 1986 and a degree in Business Management from Long Island University in 1989. He worked at Ford Motor Credit Company until 2009, reaching the level of Branch Manager before the Great Recession hit. O'Brien then took his passion for harness racing full time, focusing on his Pat O'Brien's Irish Stable. In his free time, O'Brien, a son of Irish immigrants, enjoys spending time with his four siblings and 10 nephews and nieces.

"I worked over 20 years in the automobile financing business, not at a dealership, but in the corporate world," O'Brien said. "Unfortunately, when the financial crisis hit, Ford Motor Credit Company closed all their offices. I decided not to go back to work. During that time period, I went from owning two horses to 13. All the sudden, I was basically a full-time horse owner."

O'Brien said he was thrilled to be offered the position of executive director at the SOA of NY after a series of phone calls, Zoom interviews, and finally an in-person interview.

O'Brien's priorities in his new position include establishing a great working relationship with MGM Yonkers Raceway, protecting the interests of the horsepeople who compete at Yonkers Raceway, assisting in negotiating a contract renewal between the track and the horsepeople, and ensuring the SOA of NY operates efficiently and effectively.

"The SOA's personnel committee received hundreds of resumes from individuals regarding the executive director position and conducted numerous interviews in an effort to find the right person to help the SOA deal with the numerous important issues affecting our members," said Peter Venaglia, SOA of NY first vice-president and chairman of the personnel committee.

"Pat clearly stood out as the best of a number of well-qualified candidates due to his obvious passion for and commitment to harness racing that he has displayed as a very involved owner for many years. We welcome Pat aboard, and we know that our members will benefit greatly from Pat's efforts on their behalf."

Pandolfo: The Guru is dead wrong

In his column (full story here), The Guru said that my Facebook comments about trainer Bob Baffert were slanderous and that I didn't list details.

First of all, it's Facebook, an open forum, so I can freely say what I want. Furthermore, I'm very confident that what I said was true. I noted several articles including information from the NY Times and other media outlets. In 2013, the New York Times published an article, "Breeders Cup - Trainers Aren't Helping As Drugs Damage Sport." (full story here). On that list, only five trainers had more than 20 drug violations, including Baffert. He's had several more drug violations since that article was published. Baffert's frequency of drug violations was 1 in every 545 starts, which, quite frankly, is an alarming number. In the NY Times article, there were only two trainers that had more drug violations per start than Baffert.

There are successful trainers that have never had a single drug violation. For instance, like Baffert, trainer Graham Motion has also trained over 10,000 starters, but Motion, a truly great horseman, has never had a single drug positive. Not surprisingly, Motion has been one of the most vocal trainers advocating for the Horse Racing Integrity and Safety Act.

In that same NY Times article, it showed that trainer Shug McGaughey also raced over 10,000 starters with only two drug violations. Christopher Clement, another great thoroughbred trainer, had over 8,000 starters and only one drug violation. There are actually many trainers who have had successful careers without accruing a lot of drug violations.

I also posted links to articles about the seven horse deaths in Baffert's barn in a 16-month period — horses that did not die from injury, they dropped dead. These articles are easily found on the Internet. To be honest, I have a lot of information pertaining to Bob Baffert's drug violations and the actions, or inactions of the California Horse Racing Board (CHRB). I'll post a lot more on this topic on my Facebook page this morning. Those of you who are interested can make up your own mind.

As many of you know, the Senate has proposed a bill called The Horse Racing Integrity and Safety Act, which may be voted on in the next few months. So this is a good time to analyze the use of illegal substances in both sports.

—Bob Pandolfo / Northampton, PA

Race-day Lasix needs to go

Despite what Mr. Russell Williams has to say, race day Lasix needs to become history. It is a powerful diuretic that requires a medical prescription. It looks bad to the fans because it is bad. Take a hot summer day. How would you like to be forced to lose 30 or 40 pounds of fluid hours before a strenuous race? And you at least have a choice. The majestic horse has absolutely no say in the matter. Most, perhaps all, jurisdictions outside of the U.S. have banned Lasix use on race day. Time to get rid of it in the U.S. Only the HISA (Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act) can effectively do what needs to be done.
