contested with each event requiring two eliminations.

Adding to the stacked program, Lazarus N, 'The Wonder from Down Under', will compete for just the third-time in North American and first-time since finishing second in the Canadian Pacing Derby. The Jimmy Takter-trained 6-year-old is entered in the $34,000 preferred.

A total of 13-races will take place on tonight's $2 million card. Here is a look at the feature events.

$665,000 Canadian Trotting Classic – Race 7

A field of 11 sophomore trotters will clash in Canada's richest trotting event of 2018.

Crystal Fashion (PP10, Tim Tetrick) and Mets Hall (PP2, Andy Miller) lead the field in earners with each having banked over $800,000.

Trained by Jim Campbell, Crystal Fashion captured the $253,000 Pennsylvania Sires Stakes (PASS) Championship in his last outing on Sept. 2. The gelded son of Cantab Hall has won seven of his last eight starts with his only loss during the run begin a fourth-place finish in the $1 million Hambletonian final.

Mets Hall comes into the Trotting Classic on a two-race win streak with victories in the $169,183 Simcoe on Sept. 1 at Mohawk Park and $350,000 Zweig Memorial on Aug. 17 at Vernon. The Julie Miller trainee is three for seven on the season.

The overflow field for tonight's rich event also includes last season's O'Brien Award winner Alarm Detector (PP6, Trevor Henry) and Breeders Crown champion Fiftydallarbill (PP8, Brett Miller).

Trainers Ben Baillargeon and Jimmy Takter will each send out a pair of starters.

Alarm Detector joins Ontario Sires Stakes standout Run Director (PP7, Sylvain Filion) to make up the Baillargeon duo, while Takter's duo consists of last year's rookie sensation You Know You Do (PP3, Yannick Gingras) and Italian-bred Zephyr Kronos (PP11, Takter).

The Canadian Trotting Classic is carded as Race 7 and post time is approximately 9:31 p.m.

$340,000 Elegance – Race 10

Arguably the most-anticipated race of the evening, the Elegance for 3-year-old trotting fillies is round two in the Atlanta vs. Manchego rivalry.

The Hambletonian champion Atlanta (PP6, Scott Zeron) and Oaks champion Manchego (PP2, Gingras) met for the first-time this season on Aug. 24 at Mohawk Park in the Casual Breeze. Takter trainee Manchego came out on top in their first meeting, improving her 2018 record to six wins in nine starts. Rick Zeron trained Atlanta finished second in the Casual Breeze and currently sports a record of six wins and two runner-up finishes in eight starts this season.

Manchego and Atlanta finished more than 10 lengths ahead of the third-place finisher in the Casual Breeze, but that likely won't happen again tonight.

Trond Smedshammer trainee Phaetosive (PP1, Smedshammer) joins the mix for the Elegantomage and comes in off a victory in the PASS Championship. The daughter of Explosive Matter is five for seven this season and finished second to Manchego in the $500,000 Hambletonian Oaks.

No eliminations were required for the Elegantomage, as only the connections of four other trotting fillies were brave enough to tackle the star fillies.

The Elegantomage is carded as Race 10 with an approximate post time of 10:40 p.m.

$400,000 William Wellwood Memorial – Race 5

Marcus Melander trainee Green Manalishi S posted an impressive elimination victory last Saturday and will likely be the morning-line choice in Canada's richest race for 2-year-old trotters.

Dave Landry

Will Manchego (above) defeat Atlanta again in one of 2018's best rivalries? Tune in tonight.

A son of Muscle Hill, Green Manalishi (PP3, Tetrack) was a 1:54.4 gate-to-wire winner in his elimination. The Melander trainee improved to three-for-five with the career-best score. His richest payday to this point was a runner-up finish in the $422,350 Peter Haughton Memorial on Aug. 4 at The Meadowlands.

Domenico Cecere trainee Union Forces (PP4, Scott Zeron) pulled off a 33-1 upset victory in last Saturday's other elimination. The son of Cantab Hall converted off a two-hole trip to power by the previously undefeated Swandre The Giant in 1:55.3.

Union Forces is one of two Cecere trainees competing in the Wellwood final. Kings County (PP8, David Miller) finished second to Green Manalishi S in his elimination, which came on the heels of a Champlain Stakes score.

All the hype heading into the Wellwood eliminations was focused on Swandre The Giant (PP7, Gingras), who was debuting for new connections and trainer Takter following a private purchase, reported to be in the "seven-digits" range. The son of Swan For All surrendered the lead in the lane and finished second for the first-loss of his career.

The William Wellwood Memorial is carded as Race 5 and post time is approximately 8:46 p.m.

The Ice Dutchess (Johnny Takter, shown winning the Jim Doherty Memorial) will try to add a win in tonight's Peaceful Way to her resume.

$385,000 Peaceful Way – Race 3

Elimination winners The Ice Dutchess (PP3, Gingras) and Sisters Promise (PP4, Tetrick) lead the field of 10 rookie trotting fillies for the Peaceful Way.

Takter trainee The Ice Dutchess got back on track in her elimination after making back-to-back breaks. The daughter of Muscle Hill was competing for the first-time in a wagering event with trotting hobbles and made no mistakes for a 1:55.4 score.

The Ice Dutchess will be searching for another rich victory tonight to go with her win in the $357,450 Jim Doherty Memorial on Aug. 4.

Linda Toscano trainee Sisters Promise also won her elimination in 1:55.4. The daughter of Father Patrick came first-up and muscled by Takter trainee Susy (PP2, Takter) for her second win in four starts.

The Peaceful Way is carded as Race 3 and post time is approximately 8:05 p.m.

Metro Pace Eliminations – Races 1 and 2

This year's Metro Pace has attracted 17 rookie pacing colts and geldings.

The group of 17 have been split into a pair of $40,000 eliminations with the top-five finishers from each advancing to the final on Sept. 22. This year's Metro Pace final will go for a purse of $890,000, the highest purse for the event since 2012.

The first split is headlined by Casie Coleman trainee Stag Party (PP6, Miller), who suffered a surprising defeat in last Friday's Champlain Stakes.

A son of Bettors Delight, Stag Party is four for six on the season and has multiple Ontario Sires Stakes Gold victories, a Grand Circuit win and a Canadian record to his name. His loss in the Champlain was the first-time another horse beat him to the wire, as his only other loss came via disqualification.

Cruise Captain, who beat Stag Party in the Champlain, will also line up in the first-split. The Victor Puddy trained son of Captaintreachers had been battling in PASS most of the summer before coming back to Mohawk Park and breaking his maiden in the Champlain.

The second Metro elimination will feature a showdown

Chris Gooden

between Captaintreacherous colts Captain Ahab (PP5, Andrew McCarthy) and De Los Cielos Deo (PP8, Gingras).

Tony Alagna trainee Captain Ahab is a perfect six-for-six entering his elimination with his most recent victories coming in the Champlain and Nassagaweya Stakes. A $100,000 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale purchase, 'Ahab' has made four of his six starts at Mohawk Park.

Ron Burke trainee De Los Cielos Deo started his career five-for-five before finishing second in the PASS championship on Sept. 1. A $140,000 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale purchase, De Los Cielos Deo will be making his first start outside Pennsylvania.

The Metro Pace eliminations have been carded as Races 1 and 2. Post time for the eliminations is approximately 7:25 p.m. and 7:45 p.m.

Shes A Great Lady Eliminations - Races 6 and 8

A competitive group of 19 rookie pacing fillies will battle in a pair of $35,000 eliminations tonight to qualify for the $590,000 Shes A Great Lady final on Sept. 22.

The Alagna stable sends out the strong duo of Captaintreacherous fillies Treacherous Reign (PP2, McCarthy) and Key West (PP10, Brett Miller) in the first split.

Treacherous Reign will be making her Mohawk Park debut and enters off a fourth-place finish in the PASS Championship on Sept. 1. The $50,000 Lexington Selected purchase is four-for-six and holds an impressive mark of 1:51.1.

Key West will be making her fifth consecutive start at Mohawk Park. The $130,000 Lexington Selected buy is three-for-six and has Grand Circuit victories in a division of the Kindergarten and Eternal Camnation. Her most recent start was a fourth-place finish in last Friday's Champlain, which marked the first-time she didn't finish in the top-two.

The first elimination also features Queen Of The Pride (PP5, David Miller), who returns to Mohawk Park off a victory in last Saturday's Ohio Sires Stakes Championship at Scioto Downs for trainer Kevin Lare. Her last visit to Mohawk Park was a third-place finish in a division of the Eternal Camnation on Aug. 25.

Dave Menary trainee Quebec Blue Chip (PP2, Jody Jamieson) headlines the second elimination.

A daughter of Sportswriter, Quebec Blue Chip is six-for-eight and riding a five-race win streak. Her victories during the win streak include divisions of the Champlain, Eternal Camnation and the final of the $163,840 Battle of the Belles.

The Alagna barn continues their strong representation in the eliminations with Tall Drink Hanover (PP5, McCarthy) lining up in the second split. The daughter of Captaintreacherous is three-for-six with victories in a division of the Eternal Camnation and final of the Whenuwishuponastar Series.

Sportswriter filly Deb (PP8, Trevor Henry) is the other Grand Circuit winner in the second elimination. The Dr. Ian Moore trainee scored an upset victory in a division of the Champlain last Friday.

The Shes A Great Lady eliminations have been carded as Races 6 and 8. Post time for the eliminations is approximately 9:06 p.m. and 9:55 p.m.

Lazarus N to race again at Mohawk Park – Race 9

Lazarus N's visit to Canada has been extended by another start.

'The Wonder from Down Under' will compete in tonight's $34,000 preferred pace and has drawn post-seven in a field of nine.

Trained by Jimmy Takter, Lazarus N suffered his first-loss on North American soil when he surrendered the lead in the lane and finished second to McWicked in the $600,000 Canadian Pacing Derby on Sept. 1.

The Pacing Derby has been Lazarus N's only start since his North American debut on Aug. 10. Takter noted after the Pacing Derby that the 6-year-old needed some more North American racing experience.

"I trained him a fast mile last week at home but that is not the same as having a race, especially with an older horse like him," said Takter to the New Zealand Herald after the Pacing Derby. "So missing an elimination last week didn't help and I honestly think it will still take him another two or three races up here learning how we race to get used to it."

Regular driver Yannick Gingras will again sit behind Lazarus N.

Nirvana Seelster (PP5, Trevor Henry) is the only other Canadian Pacing Derby finalist in the field. American Wiggle (PP6, Louis Philippe Roy) captured last Saturday's Preferred.

The Preferred Pace has been carded as Race 9 and post time is approximately 10:15 p.m.

Details for tonight at Mohawk Park

A special post time of 7:25 p.m. has been set for tonight's $2 million card.

Doors open at 5:30 p.m. and the first 1,000 fans will receive a special commemorative postcard featuring Hambletonian champion Atlanta. Mohawk Park will also be serving a special drink named 'The Atlanta' in its various dining locations and $1 from each drink sold will be donated to the Milton District Hospital Foundation.

The second annual New Owners Seminar will be taking place prior to tonight's card. The seminar is open to the public and anyone interested in learning more about racehorse ownership is invited. The seminar will start at 6 p.m. in the North America Cup room.

Caviart Ally (Andrew McCarthy) was ultra-impressive in her Milton elimination, winning in 1:48.3 Friday at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Caviart Ally wows in Milton elimination, wins in 1:48.3

by Mark McKelvie / Woodbine communications

Caviart Ally stole the show Friday with a career-best 1:48.3 victory in one of two Milton Stakes eliminations at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

A group of 12 older pacing mares and a 3-year-old filly were split into a pair of $35,000 eliminations to determine the field for next Saturday's (Sept. 22) $255,000 final.

The term 'easy-looking' isn't used often to describe a 1:48.3 mile, but Caviart Ally did exactly that in the second Milton split.

Driven by Andrew McCarthy for trainer Noel Daley, Caviart Ally rushed out to the lead and posted a :27.2 opening-quarter. The 4-year-old rolled right along in the second-quarter to reach the half in :55 and then proceeded to post a :26.4 third-quarter to reach that marker in 1:21.4.

McCarthy sat motionless in the bike as Caviart Ally left her rivals behind and cruised home in :27.4 for the career-best 1:48.3 victory.

"Extremely easy, it was surprising," said McCarthy of Caviart Ally's performance. "I was watching the half come up in :55 and I was hoping it was going to be a tick or two slower."

"In the last turn she started to rev up and I couldn't really get her down there any slower than 1:21.4. Even finishing up, still had the bits up in her mouth. It was a huge mile, but she did it so easy."

Bettors Up finished 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ lengths behind the winner in second, while Ella Christina was third. L A Delight and three-year-old filly Kendall Seelster completed the top-five.

New Image Media

Tequila Monday (Louis Philippe Roy) won the first Milton elimination in 1:50.1.

A daughter of Bettors Delight—Allamerican Cool, Caviart Ally recorded her fifth win of the season and 14th overall. She now has $134,011 earned in 13 starts this season to bring her career earnings to $956,264 for owners Caviart Farms.

Friday's victory also earned Caviart Ally's connections the opportunity to select her post, which comes as a big help after drawing the nine-hole in her last two stakes finals.

Caviart Ally paid $3.80 to win and enters next week's final with two wins and two runner-up finishes in her last four starts.

Chris Oakes trainee Tequila Monday held off Pure Country to win the first-elimination by the slimmest of margins in 1:50.1.

Driver Louis Philippe Roy fired Tequila Monday out to the lead and got to call the shots, posting fractions of :27.1, :56.1 and 1:24. Pure Country and driver Yannick Gingras enjoyed a two-hole trip behind the leader and came to the outside turning for home.

In the stretch, Tequila Monday and Pure Country sprinted home with powerful strides with the finish line coming just in time for Tequila Monday to hold off Pure Country by a nose. Twinkle finished third, while Nike Franco N and Frost Damage Blues were fourth and fifth, respectively.

"Even after the wire I was a little disappointed because I thought Yannick (Gingras) beat me by a nose and even he thought he won too," said Roy following the victory. "She got easy fractions and we were both sprinting at the end. I think both mares will be good for next week because they didn't have to be used much in the first-half."

A 4-year-old daughter of American Ideal—Margarita Monday, Tequila Monday is now five for 15 this season with $158,720 earned this season. Her elimination victory improves her career numbers to 17 wins and $771,922 earned for owners Northfork Racing Stable and Chuck Pompey.

Tequila Monday

The post-positions for next week's $255,000 final were drawn immediately following the eliminations. The Milton Stakes final is part of the Sept. 22 Metro Pace card.

Crystal Fashion finds winning style

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Claus Andersen

Crystal Fashion will contest the Canadian Trotting Classic tonight at Mohawk Park.

trotted the final quarter-mile faster than Crystal Fashion. Over his past 10 starts, only three horses – total – have come home faster. Crystal Fashion, though, won all three of those races.

“I’m really happy with the way he finishes his mile,” trainer Jim Campbell said. “If he’s got somebody in front of him, he’ll track them down. He never gives up, just trots right to the end.

“He’s been really good that way. He takes really good care of himself, too. He’s been nothing but a pleasure to train this year.”

Crystal Fashion’s next opportunity to track down horses is tonight in the $665,000 Canadian Trotting Classic for 3-year-olds at Woodbine Mohawk Park. He will start from post 10 in an 11-horse field with regular driver Tim Tetrick at the lines for Campbell and owner Fashion Farms.

The race also includes Met’s Hall, who has won the Simcoe Stakes and Dr. Harry M. Zweig Memorial in his two starts since finishing second to Atlanta in the Hambletonian, as well as 2017 O’Brien Award-winner Alarm Detector and 2017 Breeders Crown champion Fiftydallarbillion.

Crystal Fashion, a son of Cantab Hall–Window Willow who has earned $652,182 this year, has won six of his past seven races and heads to the Canadian Trotting Classic off a win in the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship on Sept. 2 at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono.

Other victories include the Earl Beal Jr. Memorial and his elimination for the Hambletonian, where he trotted the last quarter in :27.1 – one-and-three-fifths seconds faster than Crystal Fashion has not led any of his races this year prior to the final quarter-mile, but it’s become crystal clear the gelding can find a way to win from there. Few 3-year-old trotters have kicked home better than Crystal Fashion, who has eight wins and three second-place finishes in 12 races this season.

Over his past five races, no horse has anyone else – to beat Atlanta by a neck in a 3-year-old gelding world-record 1:50.1. In the Hambletonian final, Crystal Fashion came home in :27.2, tied with Met’s Hall for the best last quarter, but was unable to chase down Atlanta. He finished fourth, beaten by 1-1/4 lengths.

“He didn’t race as good the second heat as he did the first heat,” Campbell said. “He didn’t have any particular reason for it, he just wasn’t as sharp. But he’s put in great races every race for us, other than his second start when he finished second but scoped sick after the race. From that point on he’s given us nothing but great efforts.”

Crystal Fashion has won 12 of 24 lifetime races, hit the board a total of 21 times, and earned $813,474. He came from off the lead in all but one of those career starts.

“Racing him that way, you take the risk of somebody getting easy fractions on the front end and you’re too far off, but you have to race the horse the way he likes to race too,” Campbell said. “That’s the way he likes to race. Timmy knows the horse really well and knows best how to race him. He’s done a terrific job with him.”

Eliminations were unnecessary for the Canadian Trotting Classic and Campbell was happy to keep Crystal Fashion home in New Jersey for an extra week.

“It was a good thing,” Campbell said. “He’s just been jogging (during his time off) and he’ll train (today). He’s been going pretty hard all year. He doesn’t need much training.”

Racing begins at 7:25 p.m. (EDT) with the Metro eliminations..

No matter the result in tonight's Elegantimage, Phaetosive a joy for Polisseni

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Wanda Polisseni does not know what will happen in tonight's $340,000 Elegantimage Stakes for 3-year-old female trotters at Ontario's Woodbine Mohawk Park, where her Purple Haze Stables' Phaetosive meets harness racing's top-ranked horses, No. 1 Atlanta and No. 2 Manchego. But she already knows how she will feel about her filly at the end of the day.

"It's a tough race, but she will do the best she can," Polisseni said. "And whatever she does, I'm all for it and I will be very appreciative. My horses never have to win for me to be happy. I love them and I want them to be healthy and have a good race and do the best they can."

"Those other two fillies are absolutely terrific. There are a lot of people that want to see them, myself included."

Hambletonian champion Atlanta and Hambletonian Oaks winner Manchego will be meeting for the second time this year. Manchego, the 2017 Dan Patch Award winner for best 2-year-old female trotter, won the first encounter by 1-3/4 lengths in the Casual Breeze Stakes on Aug. 24 at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Phaetosive, who finished second to Manchego in the Hambletonian Oaks, will join them for the first time this season. The trio met once last year, in the Breeders Crown final at Hoosier Park. Manchego won, capping a perfect 12-for-12 campaign, while Phaetosive finished third and Atlanta fourth.

In the Elegantimage, Manchego is the 6-5 morning-line favorite in the seven-horse field, followed by Atlanta at 7-5 and Phaetosive at 8-5.

"It's a hell of a race," said Trond Smedshammer, who trains and drives Phaetosive. "I'm sure (Atlanta) is going to be looking for a rebound. They're going to be racing, that's for sure. Hopefully I can sit close enough to be a part of it."

Phaetosive, a daughter of Explosive Matter out of Phaeton, has won five of seven races this year and heads to the Elegantimage off a win in the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship on Sept. 2. For her career, the filly has won nine of 14 races and never finished worse than third. She has earned $657,717.

"I love her; she's terrific," Polisseni said. "She is gutsy. I can't describe it, but she is gutsy. I love her form and I love to watch her race."

Claus Andersen

Phaetosive and trainer/driver Trond Smedshammer (shown warming up for the Hambletonian Oaks), will try to defeat Atlanta, Manchego and four other fillies in tonight's Elegantimage.

Phaetosive had breathing problems earlier this season, but the issue was corrected with a minor procedure rather than surgery, which would have prevented her from racing in the Hambletonian Oaks. She also tied up the day prior to her first race following the Oaks, Aug. 21, but recovered and won a division of the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes.

"It's something you've got to watch with her," Smedshammer said about the tying up. "She's done it before. She hasn't done it since, but we've been obviously very careful watching her schedule. It's not a big problem, but it's something you've got to watch."

Polisseni's Purple Haze Stables ranks sixth among all owners in purses this season, with trotters Perlucky and Classichap joining Phaetosive as six-figure earners. Polisseni's past stars included millionaire Dejambro and Blacktuxwhitesocks, who were both New York Sire Stakes champions. Blacktuxwhitesocks also won once in Norway.

"I love all my horses, each of them for a different reason or something special," Polisseni said. "Every horse in every race deserves to get a cheer at the end of the race."

$2 million worth of KYSS finals Sunday at Red Mile

by Kentucky Sires Stakes

The best of harness racing in the Bluegrass will be on display Sunday afternoon, Sept. 16, at Red Mile when the historic Lexington racetrack plays host to the $2 million Kentucky Sires Stakes (KYSS) finals. The 10-race card gets underway at 3 p.m. (EDT) and is the centerpiece of the new Fayette County Fair that will run from noon until 6 p.m.

Sunday afternoon's 10-race race card features the eight divisional KYSS championship races, worth $250,000 each, as well as a pair of $50,000 consolation events. The fields were set after three preliminary legs were contested over the past three weeks at the Lexington track.

The opening quartet of KYSS finals are for the 2-year-olds. The first-year male trotters kick off the championships (Race 3) and the field of 10 include four preliminary winners, including two-time victors Forecast (son of Cantab Hall, post 1) and Super Schissel (Uncle Peter, post 4). Also in the race are prelim winners Lindy's Crazy Hall (Cantab Hall, post 7) and Don't Let'em (Muscle Hill, post 3), who earlier this year won the Peter Haughton Memorial at the Meadowlands. Among the 2-year-old filly trotters (Race 5), Taylor Swiftly (Trixtion, post 5) has created nothing but bad blood between her and her rivals by being mean and sweeping all three preliminaries.

The 2-year-old filly pacer Beautyonthebeach swept her three opening rounds and the daughter of Somebeachsomewhere may be tough to beat in that divisional final (Race 4) as she landed post 1. The road to division honors among the freshman male pacers (Race 6) appears to go through Captain Trevor, a son of Captaintreacherous who has been most impressive while capturing all three of his prelims.

Only two 3-year-olds who won KYSS finals last year at two are back to defend their title. One of those is the filly trotter Top Expectations, who was two-for-two in this year's opening two legs. The daughter of Cantab Hall drew post 1 in this year's final (Race 7). The 3-year-old filly pacer Band Stand is the other returning champion, but this year the daughter of A Rocknroll Dance may have her work cut out for her as she finished eighth in the point standings after a second, sixth and fourth in the prelims. Band Stand starts from post 4 in this year's final (Race 8) with the role of favorite likely going to Dance Blue (Race 3), a daughter of Rock N Roll Heaven who won both her opening rounds in open-lengths fashion.

Race 9 is the $250,000 KYSS final for 3-year-old male trotters. Tactical Landing, a son of Muscle Hill who last month captured his Hambletonian elimination and finished third in the $1 million final, starts from post 1 after a third and first in the KYSS preliminaries. Wolfgang, a son of My

$2 million in purses will be on tap Sunday at Red Mile as part of eight $250,000 Kentucky Sires Stakes finals.

MVP and a leg-one winner who is Tactical Landing's stablemate in the barn of trainer Jimmy Takter, starts from post 4. Classichap, a son of Chapter Seven who raced and won his only KYSS appearance in leg 3 last Monday night, starts from post 3.

The sophomore male pacers close out the championship card in Race 10. American History (post 6), a son of American Ideal, is two-for-two in this year's KYSS and is one of three Tony Alagna trainees going postward along with Rush To Judgement (post 1) and Legal Power (post 4). Grand Teton (post 3), a son of A Rocknroll Dance who won the first KYSS leg, is one of three Takter trainees in the race, along with Thinkbig Dreambig (post 5) and Decoy (post 8).

The eight KYSS finals encompass an "all stakes" 20-cent Pick 8 wager with a guaranteed $10,000 pool in conjunction with the U.S. Trotting Association's Strategic Wagering Program. The Pick 8 has a low takeout rate of only 15 per cent. The wager will feature a mandatory payout, so the entire net pool will be paid for the most winners if nobody selects all eight winners.

Admission is free and the Fayette County fair will include food trucks, local craft breweries, bourbon tastings and an arts and crafts market.

Several music acts will play on two stages (one inside and one outside), with rising country star and Lexington native Walker Montgomery, Avery Crabtree and Conch Republic among the performers. Montgomery is slated to perform on the outdoor stage from 4-6 p.m. The racing program gets underway with a horse parade of various breeds and the Harness Horse Youth Foundation will offer hands-on equine experience.

Saturday night's (post time 7 p.m.) 10-race card features three $50,000 KYSS consolations, including races for 3-year-old filly trotters, 2-year-old colt trotters and 2-year-old filly pacers.

Interaction is the message

by Frank Coto

Regardless of the brilliant technology that rapidly improves, changing our means of communications faster than we can say “Microsoft,” a human element has assisted greatly in turning all things analog to digital. That element is interaction.

As precious as the zeroes and ones are to the workings of hyper-text, the fact that the users of digital applications and programs can “comment” on subjects, as well as host their own platforms, has been a major component of mass acceptance. One only need visit the Internet menagerie that is Reddit to comprehend the enormity of an interactive audience and its voracious hunger to express personal opinions in freestyle form.

“A voracious hunger to express personal opinions in freestyle form” sounds like a familiar trait, right? Of course it does because if you are a bettor you know it and you own your brand of it. On raceway aprons, grandstands and wherever pari-mutuel bettors look into the screens of tech devices, the hunger to express opinions is so strong that not having anyone with whom to share opinions incites bettors to approach strangers just to reveal their emotions. The opinions on the outcome of horse races beg for arguments, that is, they plead for interaction.

Think about how much sense this makes; more so than on most of the topics presented by Reddit. Pari-mutuel racing is interactive by its nature. People bet into pools, investing in their opinions versus different opinions. Those opinions (bets) give the live action (the races) meaning. The primary meaning is that no one betting is merely a spectator. Indeed, pari-mutuel wagering of any breed (K-9 and human included) is not a spectator sport.

Just as no digital platform survives without interaction, no pari-mutuel system can stay in business without interaction. The audience is an essential part of the business; so much so that at one time people paid admission to watch the sport’s action live – and participate (interact) with money. That made the managements of pari-mutuel facilities complacent, passive and downright patronizing, if you will. In the second decade of the new millennium, people running pari-mutuel raceways need to meditate daily with a mantra –interactive ... interactive ... interactive ...

Last month (full story here), I suggested that management could radically change the atmosphere of their product with little cost and great rewards by using the tools it already possesses to support all-out interaction. One idea is to use the hosts of its in-house/simulcast broadcasters as flesh-and-blood management representatives, turning their one-dimensional talking head TV screen personas into approachable and available hosts that ask for the opinions people are loath to hold back or edit.

Interacting with the TV folk in the flesh brings their personalities down to earth. It closes the “personality gap,” so to speak. When the guys and gals on the TV screen chum with their audience, the audience feels accepted, identified and appreciated—especially when the interaction taking place has to do with their betting opinions. The TV folk need to walk and talk among the people. It’s the kind of politics that politicians should employ more.

This doesn’t mean the personalities retire from their screen roles. It means they need a larger presence, an “actual” presence, if you will, as opposed to merely a “digital” presence. As it is now, the in-house personalities are presented as “experts” due to their association with management and their job chores, which usually include presenting their opinions and picks for winners. What, though, makes their opinions more worthy than those opinions coming from individual bettors? Why aren’t the TV personalities talking with the public on and off TV.

Yes, random members of the betting public appearing on the track broadcasts with the personalities – it is the other interactive element needed to bond management with its public. After all, just as gurus walk among us in common garb, the racetrack is lousy with handicapping experts pounding the apron pavement. Isn’t it time to address their expertise? Yes, many people in the audience are well versed on playing the pari-mutuel game. One or two or three or four or more, in face, may be as much as expert as he or she on the track TV.

Expert?

Expert shmexpert [sic]; no one takes a test to earn such a title in handicapping. The true and honest greats playing the ponies are in the crowd. I know, I have met the greatest of them all and they were never invited to perform their brilliance in the broadcast booth. Making them equals in the vital meaning of the game is measuring their equality with the track-anointed experts.

From these policies could come entire ad campaigns that are aimed at old and new patrons. Imagine advertising great slogans like “Come bet at Delaney Downs because we’re all in this together.”

In the next column I will suggest some commingling ideas that can be generated.

by Victoria M. Howard

If you're at the huge Hanover consignment in Harrisburg, it's hard to miss the diminutive, attractive blonde known as "Dr. J" inspecting the Hanover yearlings while conferring with leading trainers and owners seeking a learned insider's take on just which perfectly groomed yearlings might be "the one."

Dr. J. of course is Dr. Bridgette Jablonsky – Hanover's resident veterinarian, farm manager and one of the most sought after opinions in both breeding and rearing of yearlings.

Born in Manhasset, NY, Jablonsky grew up on a farm where racehorses were turned out for a bit of R&R. These athletes raced at Roosevelt Raceway and their trainers would give them time to freshen up on the farm in-between races.

"My love for standardbreds began then. I idolized the horses that spent a few days at the farm – especially (brothers) Melvin's Strike and San's Strike who were mean S.O.B.'s, and Mountain Haze N," said Jablonsky.

"The trainers would opt to have their horses refresh for a few days in between races at nearby Roosevelt and on Saturdays I would watch them race on the show with Stan Bergstein and Spencer Ross. Unlike my friends who idolized baseball and football stars, I loved my four-legged friends."

Originally planning to work as a racetrack vet, Dr. J. discovered she had a better affinity for equine reproduction and neonatology.

"Right before graduating, a resident position opened at Hanover Shoe Farms. The decision was a no-brainer and I've been blessed to be at Hanover since I graduated veterinary school in 1996."

As horsepeople know, breeding is a very exciting, yet risky business. It is the one thing that keeps many of us in the game hoping to hit that once-in-a-lifetime ball out of the park with bases full.

Jablonsky advises there are certain things that can help the small breeder in being successful.

"As far as breeding that regal cross, our mantra at Hanover is to breed the best to the best and hope for the best. Of course that is not feasible for many, so I'll ask the breeder if they are breeding to race or sell and what stud fee range they can handle. Then we can work together trying to match the mare and stallion physically and pedigree-wise. In my opinion, physical compatibility matters a bit more if you are breeding one to sell rather than raising one to race, although pedigree is significant and should not be discounted in either instance."

When it is time to foal Jablonsky says, "Make sure the mare has a clean, dry, and spacious stall or other confined area to foal, and make sure you have a plan to get experienced help ASAP. There isn't much time to avert foaling disasters, so trying to find someone to help correct a dystocia after it starts is not a good idea."

But there is so much more than just choosing the right stallion. The mare needs adequate pasture space, veterinary supervision, and it is beneficial for mares and foals to have compatible companions through the nurturing season.

"If you aren't in position to have an experienced vet come and check the mare every time she needs to be checked and inseminate when ready, it is often cheaper and more productive to send your mare to a professional farm until she is pronounced in foal.

"As far as special feeding, here at Hanover we feed a complete pellet, good quality hay, access to good quality pasture when applicable, and access to free choice minerals."

When is a mare too old to breed? Some breeders choose to stop at age 15, while others go longer.

"We have bred mares up to 21-22 years of age if they are healthy and still have commercial appeal. If a mare is chronically lame or showing other signs of not aging well, but is still commercially attractive, we may elect to do embryo transfers on her. We rarely breed past the age of 22 or 23. By the time they reach that age they have blessed us with 15 or so foals, are retired from breeding and live out their lives at the farm getting the same care as the producing mares. All retired mares, regardless of age or production, live out their days at the farm."

When completing our interview, Jablonsky wanted to honor, in loving memory, the late, great Somebeachsomewhere.

"He is a champion who will truly have a special place in my heart until the day I die. It is only now that I can start to think of him with a smile, rather than tears. We are so blessed to have his greatest son, Captaintreacherous, stand here. He reminds me of his dad in so many ways and is off to as great a start as a stallion could get."

Always A Prince (Trace Tetrick) setting a 1:48.3 Hoosier Park track record Friday in an Indiana Sires Stakes Eligible event.

Always A Prince Preps for Jenna's Beach Boy Pace with 1:48.3 track record at Hoosier

Indiana's top 3-year-old pacing colts were the featured attraction at Hoosier Park Racing & Casino as they squared off the final round of preliminary stakes action on Friday.

After sitting out of the eliminations last week, divisional leader Always A Prince returned to the track in a big kind of way in an $18,000 Indiana Sires Stakes Eligible event. With regular pilot Trace Tetrick in the bike, Always A Prince powered home a winner in 1:48.3 to score his third consecutive victory and lower his own track record in the process. Always A Prince established the previous mark of 1:48.4 in Indiana Sires Stakes action earlier this season.

The track record performance served as a prep race for his next start as Always A Prince is expected to be supplemented to take on Grand Circuit company in the $175,000 Jenna's Beach Boy Pace. The Jenna's Beach Boy Pace will be part of the star-studded card slated for Friday, Sept. 21 at Hoosier Park that will also feature the $200,000 Caesars Trotting Classic, the $175,000 est. Hoosier Park Pacing Derby, and the $125,000 Elevation Pace.

Tetrick took no chances and sent the overwhelming favorite to the front just after the first quarter in :26.1. Always A Prince strolled through fractions of :53.3 and 1:21.1 before he began to put his talent on display. With a six-length lead at the top of the stretch, Always A Prince was in a race against the clock and used a :27.2 final panel to coast on to the wire under a hand drive from Tetrick.

"We entered him in a race last week and it didn't fill so we missed the sires stakes eliminations," trainer Tyler George said after the victory. "The Jenna's Beach Boy fits well with his schedule and it ended up working out for us to get a race this week so we are looking at supplementing. He deserves a shot."

With the victory, Always A Prince has now won 14 of 17 lifetime outings and has only finished out of the money twice in his career. Unraced as a 2-year-old, the gelded son of Always A Virgin—Glorious Princess pushed his lifetime bankroll to $196,500 for owners Carl & Melanie Atley. The victory was also one of six victories on the program for Hoosier Park's leading driver Trace Tetrick.

Tetrick found the winner's circle just a few races later in the featured event of the evening, the $75,000 Indiana Sires Stakes Final for 3-year-old pacing colts and geldings, behind the 8-1 upset winner, On Duty. Uninvolved in the early stages of the race, On Duty utilized a :26.4 final panel to surge past his rivals late in the lane to secure the win in a new lifetime best of 1:49. Trained by William Crone, the gelded son of Rockin Image—Lady Luck Killeen recorded his second win of the season from 12 outings. With the win, On Duty pushed his lifetime purse earnings over the $100,000 mark for owner John Barnard.

Indiana Sires Stakes action continues at Hoosier Park Racing & Casino tonight with the $75,000 Indiana Sires Stakes Final for 2-year-old trotting colts and geldings.

Uncle Peter-Corazon Blue Chip yearling tops Ohio Selected Jug Sale for second straight year

It's extremely rare for lightning to strike twice, but it appears Spring Haven Farm may have discovered a solution to attain rarefied air as Corazon, a full brother to Tu Eres Mi Corazon, who equaled the highest-price ever paid for an Ohio-bred standardbred ($150,000) at the 2017 Ohio Selected Jug Sale, fetched $115,000 to become the highest priced purchase at this year's version of the same event on Friday (Sept. 14) at the Brave Horse Show Park in Johnstown, OH.

Although the brown son of Uncle Peter-Corazon Blue Chip bears a striking resemblance to his sister, he is also a half-brother to 2017 Dan Patch Award winner Fourth Dimension (Chapter Seven, $409,195). In fact, Courant Inc., the very same owner of that horse, signed the sales slip for this yearling.

Corazon went through the ring as Hip No. 94. Senena Esty, proprietor of Spring Haven Farm and co-breeder with Doug Millard Holdings USA Inc., was hopeful this colt would prove to attract just as much attention as his older family members. Her innermost feelings proved to be correct.

"We bought the dam in foal (with Fourth Dimension) at Harrisburg in 2014," Esty said in 2017. "She is just a gorgeous mare and has passed on her looks. We have a full brother to this filly (Tu Eres Mi Corazon) that we are very excited about." On the pacing side, McSchnell, Hip No. 150, was procured by Alan Keith as the highest priced yearling of the sale on that gait.

A son of the venerable McArdle, McSchnell was consigned to the sale by his breeder, LMN Bred Stables Inc., who were also responsible for the third highest priced horse in last year's sale in Majestic Lexi ($95,000).

Out of The Panderosa mare Pantathlon, this colt is a half brother to Pan From Nantucket (No Pan Intended, $570,801), Rosemary Rose (Foreclosure N, $329,532) and Rockathon (Pet Rock, $310,727). Only one of this mare's seven progeny has failed to reach the winner's circle in a pari-mutuel event.

Yankee Glide retired from stud duty

Kentuckiana Farms announces the retirement of Yankee Glide from active stud duty.

Yankee Glide (Valley Victory – Gratis Yankee, 3, 1:55.1M, $506,904), was, at 2, the winner of an elim. and final of the Peter Haughton Memorial, leg and final of the New Jersey Sire Stakes. At 3, he was the winner of the Zweig Memorial and Hambletonian elim.; second in a Kentucky Futurity heat.

It was in the breeding shed where Yankee Glide made his greatest impact as a regular at the top of all stallion categories throughout his stallion career. To date, his offspring have earned $93,463,131 and have averaged over $89,000 per starter. Yankee Glide has produced nine millionaires including Passionate Glide ($2,060,447), Glidemaster ($1,968,023), Mystical Sunshine ($1,793,755), Falls For You ($1,311,152) and Manofmanymissions ($1,215,000) to name a few.

Thunder, Gimpanzee win NYSS events at Yonkers

Yonkers Raceway on Friday night wrapped up its New York Sire Stakes (NYSS) legs – all 16 of 'em – with the $156,200 Lew Barasch Trot for 2-year-old colts and geldings.

Friday's event once again honored the memory of 'Tootie,' whose unmatched PR savvy in the golden age of the game helped make the nascent Roosevelt International Trot a happening.

The evening's first ($77,400) grouping saw odds-on Thunder (Jason Bartlett, $3.10) do it handily in 1:58. From post position No. 2, he made the lead around Brady Bunch (Andy Miler) after an early break of Kredit Karma (Brian Sears). After that, no issues for the fave through dawdling (:29.1, :59.2, 1:29) fractions.

Chip Chip Conway (Jim Taggart Jr.) tried it first-up from third, settling for second to the winner (as he did at Vernon), with the final margin three lengths. Brady Bunch and Quiksilver Bluchip (catch-driver Jordan Stratton) completed the gimmick finishers.

For Thunder, a son of Conway Hall—CR Oh Suzanna trained by John Butenschoen for co-owners Crawford Racing, VIP Internet Stables and Jeremy Day, it was his fourth win in eight seasonal starts (all in last five tries). The exacta paid $12.20, the triple returned $17.20 and the superfecta paid $98.50.

“He’s handy, he gets over any size tracks and he’s getting better,” Bartlett said. “We’re ready for next week (sire stakes finals here).”

The evening’s second ($78,800) statebred sojourn was a mismatch on paper and in practice for divisional leader Gimpanzee (Sears, $2.10), making it 6-for-6 ($166,358) during his froshfest.

All the wins have come in New York Sire Stakes competition, the latest after weigh stations of :29, :57.4, 1:28.1 and (identical to first event) 1:58. From post No. 6, he waited his turn to get by an eventually-breaking Captain Krupnik (Dan Dube) and Chapter Fashion (Bartlett).

The latter eventually did the dance of the damned coming to the half, which led to an extremely gapped-out gang. The lead was eight lengths at intermission. Our White Knight (Miller) did cut in that passing the three-quarters, but the outcome was even more death-and-taxes than death-and-taxes.

Gimpanzee won by 3¾ lengths, with Out White Knight safely second over Certify (Jeff Gregory). Fourth went to Captain Krupnik, as his break wasn’t as costly as the other three misbehavers... even though all four were ‘distanced’ in the chart.

Gimpanzee, a son of Chapter Seven—Steamy Windows is trained by Marcus Melander for Delray Beach co-owners Courant Inc. and S R F Stable, has won his half-dozen starts by a combined 23¼ lengths. The exacta paid $23.20, the triple returned $222 and the superfecta paid $920.

“He’s done nothing wrong and tonight was the same,” Sears said.

The Raceway plays host to the $1.8 million New York Night of Champions Saturday Sept. 21, with eight, $225,000 divisional finals.

New owners talk experiences ahead of tonight’s seminar at Woodbine Mohawk Park

Owning a racehorse has never been easier and Woodbine Entertainment will continue to hold the door open by offering a New Owners Seminar tonight at Mohawk Park.

The second annual New Owners Seminar starts at 6 p.m. in the North America Cup Room and is open to the public.

Those in attendance at the seminar will enjoy presentations from Landmark Racing Stable and TheStable.ca. Each group offers affordable and easy options for becoming involved in racehorse ownership.

Landmark Racing Stable and TheStable.ca operate differently, but both remove the potential intimidation factor for a person making the leap into the sport.

Mark McDonald of Kingston, ON joined the Landmark Racing Stable last fall after being out of harness racing for many years. He attended the yearling sale in London and has since taken advantage of the access provided to the group by visiting the horses and even jogging a few.

“It was a golden opportunity to get back in at a reasonable cost for the amount of enjoyment you could get out of it,” said McDonald, who trained horses more than 20 years ago at Kingston Park. “Anybody that’s been to the racetrack that wants to get into the game other than being a spectator or bettor, that’s the best way to do it.”

Pep Moretti of Illinois joined TheStable.ca after dreaming for many years of owning a racehorse.

“This has allowed me to achieve a lifetime dream I thought I would never be able to afford,” said Moretti. “Getting into ownership was confusing and intimidating. The Stable made things easy.”

Attendees at Saturday’s seminar will be able to ask any questions to the presenting groups. Representatives will also stick around following to answer questions one-on-one.

Anyone attending Saturday’s seminar will be eligible to enter a draw to win a share of a racehorse courtesy of Ontario Racing and in conjunction with Standardbred Canada. Ballots will be available upon arrival.

The New Owners Seminar begins at 6 p.m. and will lead into tonight’s $2 million card, which begins at 7:25 p.m.

The 73rd Little Brown Jug will remain in a five-day box and entries must be received by today – Saturday, Sept. 15 at 10 a.m.

Ima Real Ladys Man Rolls in stakes action at Hoosier Park

Ima Real Ladys Man, with Michael Oosting in the bike, turned in a gritty performance to find the winner's circle in the featured event of the evening, the $75,000 Indiana Sires Stakes final for 2-year-old pacing colts and geldings, at Hoosier Park Racing & Casino on Thursday (Sept. 13). Stopping the timer in 1:51.1, Ima Real Ladys Man was able to overcome a tough, first-over trip to pull the 8-1 upset and establish a new lifetime best in the process.

Leaving from post three in the talented field of 10, Ima Real Ladys Man was uninvolved in the early stages of the race. LeWayne Miller had last week's elimination winner, Frontier Telaphras, dialed in and he was pointed to the front through the opening panel in :26.3. His lead would be short lived as the heavy post-time favorite, Ollie's Ztam, wanted his turn on the front and made a quick move down the backside to reach command at the second station in :54.1.

The quick pace continued as Ollie's Ztam led the field through the three-quarters in 1:22.3 but Oosting was unable to wait any longer and had Ima Real Ladys Man on the attack first-over. As the field turned for home, Ima Real Ladys Man had the momentum and surged past the tiring leader, rolling on to the wire finishing three lengths to the good. Tellmeaboutit and Peter Wrenn used a well-timed attack to get up for second while Frontier Telaphras held on for third. Sent off at odds of 8-1, Ima Real Ladys Man returned $18.80 to his backers at the betting windows.

"He's been a nice colt all along," trainer, owner and breeder Perry Smith noted after the victory. "He's never done anything wrong and we took our time with him. The trips haven't worked out for him but he has a lot of guts just like his mother."

Smith also raced the dam of Ima Real Ladys Man, Im The Real Lady, who was an Indiana Sires Stakes Champion at two. Sired by Tellitlikeitis, the homebred gelding has now won three of seven lifetime outings while pushing his lifetime bankroll to $77,186 for his connections. Ima Real Ladys Man is expected to take on Grand Circuit company in his next outing at Hoosier Park on Friday, Sept. 21 in the $125,000 Elevation Stakes for two-year-old pacing colts and geldings.

Batavia Downs announces 10 per cent purse increase

Batavia Downs has announced that starting on Wednesday (Oct. 3) and continuing through the end of the meet, all purses will be raised by 10 per cent across the board.

The increase is due to a combination of two factors: there has been a significant rise in handle realized by the track so far this season plus there were 43 less races run than last year.

"Our on-track betting is up 4.9 per cent and our export handle is up 15.3 per cent after the first 26 cards of racing," said Todd Haight, director/general manager of live racing at Batavia Downs. "By raising purses starting next month it will put approximately $204,000 back into local horsemen's pockets and that in turn can help bring new and better racing stock to western New York. We're pleased the numbers are heading in the right direction."

The increase would take the current low to high purse structure from $2,750- $10,500 to $3,025-$11,550.

The racing has been very aggressive this year, providing a better product to wager on and one of the reasons for that was the removal of the passing lane that had been in place since 1988.

"There is no question that removing the passing lane has led to more competitive racing and both on and off track patrons have responded in a positive manner to that change. We've gotten feedback from our customers since the start of the meet and now they've also made a statement through the betting windows," Haight said.

The Batavia Downs live meet continues through Saturday (Dec. 15) with a Wednesday, Friday, Saturday schedule. Post time remains 5 p.m. mid-week and 6 p.m. on the weekends. There is a special Columbus Day matinee on Monday (Oct. 8) that starts at 1:15 p.m.
