When the first elimination hits the track for the 77th edition of the Little Brown Jug on Thursday (Sept. 22), history will again be made by the MacDonald brothers.

Anthony and Mark MacDonald will become just the third set of brothers to drive against each other in the pacing classic, joining Dana and Del Cameron (five times) and Vernon and Stanley Dancer (twice).

The older brother has out finished his sibling four of the seven previous meetings.

Anthony, 45, will be sitting behind Atlas Hanover, who will be making his first start for the award-winning fractional ownership group, TheStable.ca, and Hutchison Harness.

The group paid $88,000 for the son of Captaintreacherous on the Preferred Equine Online auction site earlier this month.

Atlas Hanover has three wins on the season and earned more than $164,000 lifetime. His most recent effort was a third-place finish in the $40,000 Stallion Series Final at Pocono Downs.

Gail MacDonald
In August, Anthony MacDonald (with his wife Amy) won the Gold Cup and Saucer in his native Prince Edward Island with Sintra.

The oldest MacDonald has recorded more than 3,300 career wins, including two this week at Delaware.

Mark, 43, was tapped by trainer Dr. Ian Moore to pilot Greatest Ending from post #4. He drove Greatest Ending in two of his last three starts, including a win in the $200,000 Max Hempt Memorial consolation and a second-place finish in the $253,000 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes final.

Of the younger MacDonald's 6,500+ wins were a pair with Mr Feelgood to capture the 2006 Little Brown Jug.

"Wow, that is pretty neat (being the third set of brothers)," Mark said. "I love the Jug because anything can happen."

The MacDonald brothers have raced against each other at tracks all across their native Prince Edward Island, Quebec and Ontario. They even lived together for a period of time at Windsor, ON.

"Pretty great company for a couple kids that came up broke from PEI, lived together and worked as grooms," said Mark. "Actually, our whole first year in Windsor we shared a queen size bed at the Ambassador (Hotel). It just goes to show if you work hard, have some vision, some luck and good timing, anything can happen."

"Mark and I have spent our lives in a game we love," said Anthony. "I couldn't think of a better way to race each other than at the Jug."

The Little Brown Jug is held in the same reverence as the Gold Cup and Saucer from the MacDonald's PEI province.

Mark is a three-time Gold Cup winner (2003, 2004 and 2011) and his big brother picked up his first title this August.

"We carry Prince Edward Island's 140,000 residents with us to Delaware on Thursday," said Anthony.

Regardless of Thursday's outcome, both MacDonald's appreciate the history and the opportunity.

Eleven sophomore pacers enter 77th Little Brown Jug

Two eliminations needed for $641,550 classic.

by Jay Wolf / Little Brown Jug publicity

The quartet of Bythemissal, Greatest Ending, Fouever Boy and Pleaseletmeknow lead a balanced field of 11 for the $641,550 Little Brown Jug, presented by the Ohio Harness Horsemen's Association, to be held Thursday (Sept. 22) at the Delaware County Fair.

The first $50,000 elimination will feature one of the two $45,000 supplemental entrants, Bythemissal (driver Chris Page – Post #2).

Bythemissal is owned by the Burke Racing Stable, Eric Good, Rich Lombardo Racing and Weaver Bruscelli and conditioned by Ron Burke.

He is the gelded son of Downbytheseaside and is looking to be the first Ohio bred Jug champ since BJ Scoot (1988).

Bythemissal had only one start as a 2-year-old but had made up for lost time this season. He has amassed over $537,000 in earnings thanks to wins in the $350,000 Adios Pace final and the $300,000 Carl Milstein Memorial.

Greatest Ending (Mark MacDonald – Post #4) is owned by Reginald Petitpas and trained by Dr. Ian Moore, who won the 2008 Jug title with Shadow Play.

The son of Somebeachsomewhere won the $200,000 Max Hempt Memorial Consolation and was second in the $253,000 Pennsylvania Sire Stake Final.

The second elimination is headlined by Fouever Boy and Pleaseletmeknow, the second supplemental entry.

Fouever Boy is coming into the Jug on a two-race win streak – the $65,537 Simcoe Stakes and the $253,000 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes Final.

The bay son of Sweet Lou is co-owned by the Micki Rae Stables and trainer Tim Twaddle.

Pleaseletmeknow (Andy McCarthy – Post #6) was recently crowned as the New York Sire Stakes champion. He is trained by Travis Alexander for the Fiddler's Creek Stable.

He is the homebred son of American Ideal. Pleaseletmeknow has eight seasonal wins in 12 starts and has earned $522,194 in his lifetime.

Atlanta, retiring at season's end, to meet fans at Delaware

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Multiple-award-winning female trotter Atlanta will see her career come to a grand finale at the conclusion of this season, but not before harness racing fans get the opportunity to meet the world champion mare as she travels the Grand Circuit for the final time.

The first chance for fans will be this week at the Delaware County Fairgrounds in central Ohio. The Ron Burke-trained Atlanta will compete at Delaware for the first time in her career on Thursday (Sept. 22) in the Miss Versatility Series final, and a day earlier will participate in a meet-and-greet at the fairground's Juliette Barn. The event Wednesday will be from 10 a.m. to noon.

Seven-year-old Atlanta is history's co-fastest female trotter, with a time of 1:49. She is the fourth-richest female trotter of all time with earnings of $3.29 million. In 2018, she became the first filly in 22 years to beat the boys in the Hambletonian and was named the Dan Patch Award Trotter of the Year. She added a Dan Patch Award plus an O'Brien Award the following year as the top trotting mare in the U.S. and Canada.

"It's bittersweet, but we're going to retire her," said co-owner Michelle Crawford of Crawford Farms, which will be Atlanta's home as a full-time mom following retirement. "This mare is so near and dear to me, and Al feels the same way. I've never seen a more game horse or bigger heart in my life. I just admire that tenacity so much. She goes out and performs every time. She just knows it's time to go."

Atlanta already has one foal, a filly by Muscle Hill born in April through embryo transfer.

"I can't imagine watching races next year and not seeing Atlanta," Michelle said. "But she is going to be the foundation of our farm, our broodmare band, and what we have built."

Atlanta has won 35 of 73 career races and hit the board a total of 60 times. She now is owned by Crawford Farms but will continue to race for the partnership of Crawford Farms Racing, Brad Grant, and Howard Taylor through the TVG Series final in late November.

In addition to the Hambletonian, her nearly two-dozen Grand Circuit victories include the 2018 Kentucky Filly Futurity as well as victories over male rivals in the 2020 Maple Leaf Trot, Allerage Open Trot, Dayton Derby, and Cutler Memorial plus the 2019 Graduate Series final and Charlie Hill Memorial. She also won two editions of the Armbro Flight (2019 and 2022) and the Allerage Mare Trot in 2021.

Atlanta (Yannick Gingras, winning the Armbro Flight in June at Woodbine Mohawk Park) will be retired from racing at the end of her 2022 campaign, but not before racing in Delaware, OH this week and greeting fans there.

In last year's Allerage, Atlanta's 1:49 triumph with driver Yannick Gingras equaled the fastest-ever mile by a female trotter established by rival Manchego in 2019. Manchego, who retired in October 2021, ranks fifth on the career money list for female trotters, right behind Atlanta.

"I was sad when Manchego left because that was such a good rivalry," Michelle said. "It was something you looked forward to, you knew that was going to be something to watch. That was just a rivalry to remember for racing fans and bettors."

Of course, every day with Atlanta, who also has a 1:49.1 win to her credit from the 2019 Graduate Series final, has been something to remember.

"When you have a horse like her who can come out and deliver miles like (1:49), it's really something to look forward to," Michelle said. "If she has a bad start, there is a really good reason for it. But even when she's off, she's not off. She never throws in the towel. She really enjoys racing."

"I think everyone that's come in contact with her appreciates her. She's a queen."

Remembering the late, great Hall of Famer Ted Wing

by Bob Heyden

I knew Ted Wing for 40 years, give or take, and was particularly fond of the man – or maybe it was more his work ethic.

Eighteen-hour days were not only the norm for Wing, he looked forward to each and every one of them. Training, driving, owning.

Wing was a star prior to the Meadowlands opening in 1976. New England's best. It was Wing and Jim Doherty, with a fledgling named Bill O'Donnell soon to hatch.

Wing was the youngest to 1,000 wins then. When the Meadowlands opened, he had no problem taking his place at or near the top of the Meadowlands' standings. He was 28 when the doors opened and for a decade or so Wing was shuffling between New York and New Jersey. He was the only driver to lead in wins at all three Metro tracks. He was a single win in 1977 from being the first ever back-to-backer at the Big M. Benny Webster prevented that. And now the realization that for the first time the first three Meadowlands leading drivers are all gone – Buddy Gilmour, Webster and now Wing.

Many today may not even know Wing's name, or may have just a vague recollection or two. Here's a little refresher course:

Wing loved claimers – Moe Collins Fathers Image and many others. They needed the work, Wing was happy to provide it. Calvert became something of a Monday night fixture in the open trot. Wing teamed with the Richard Lewis trainee and got along swimmingly. Wing drove the incomparable Tarport Hap once. He trained Courageous Lady for a bit. Stanley Dancer was unafraid to utilize his services. Then Lawrence Kadish came calling and all of a sudden in the early 1980s Wing was training waaay too many. But one of those was Prince Royce who was second in the 1987 Woodrow Wilson to Even Odds for a $1.4 million plus pot. Wing owned him. He drove Wilcos Data to victory in the 1986 Battle Of Brandywine and then intern Paul Macchia – soon to be headed to the Meadowlands – remembers his initial dealing with Wing.

“Ted won the first race I ever covered as a professional for Harness Horse, the 1986 Battle Of The Brandywine. Wilcos Data. I remember his joy in the winner’s circle and gratitude to all of those around him for believing in him he was extremely nice to me – answered all questions as if he knew me forever. A few years later I was in the publicity department at the Meadowlands and can recall a number of times we asked him to promote the sport in one way or another. Always obliging. He was genuine. No pretenses. I always loved to see him, Jim Doherty and Bill O’Donnell laughing together in the back paddock between races. Those New Englanders had a deep appreciation of each other.”

Wing also drove Gallo Blue Chip and was a huge help to Mark Ford in the development of this Horse of the Year that became the richest ever pacer. Wing was in the first ever World Cup (1982 Beatcha and Genghis Khan starred) with Skip By Night, finishing third. Skip was the Yonkers track record holder at the time. Wing appeared in his lone Jug and Meadowlands Pace in 1977 with Jazzy Spark. He made it to the Hambletonian in 1984 with Desert Ruler, who completely out-trotted his odds finishing third at 77-1 and then fifth in the final at 37-1.

Kerry Gold was a one-time co-track record holder at the Meadowlands at 1:53.4 – another astute Wing purchase.

Wing idolized the great Maine/New England veteran Donny Richards, calling him the best horseman he ever knew. A brotherhood, a kinship, even more. He often turned to Richards for advice in any facet of the biz. Wing and Doherty had their own personal race to see who could win a race 50 straight years. They both came close – very close.

Like Dancer, Wing had no hobbies – unless you count yelling at the TV during Yankee telecasts. He didn't want any hobbies. His hobby and his job were one and the same.

In 2001 on Hambletonian Day, Wing claimed a horse named Art Attack for $50,000. The son of Artsplace had an unusual career to that point – racing both here and Down Under. With some one-on-one TLC, Wing thought he could move him up. He did. Over six years the horse earned some $650,000. In many ways, this horse was his ticket back to New England.

Just in case someone there thought that a near 60-year-old Ted Wing was irrelevant – or drifting that way – they were forced to think again.

It was in 2008 when, in my opinion, Wing pulled off the moment of his career – without winning. Quietly on Hambletonian Day, a week after his 60th birthday, Wing was in a race which turned out to be the fastest of 2008 – 1:47.2 With Anticipation won it for Dan Dube. But, flying on the outside was Ted Wing and Francam to finish second best, individually timed in 1:48. Imagine, the fastest mile of his life in his very first drive at age 60.

It is now an adjustment period for a lot of us without Wing, even though we knew his last decade hadn't been kind to him. I remember as a kid watching the 1968 Grenoble Winter Olympics starring Jean Claude Killy from France. Only years later did I find out that Wing was not too far from making the USA ski team at age 19. Of course, I had to read about this. Wing had a way of not making a big deal of anything that concerned himself. He was the least pretentious person in any room.

In the last four decades I am proud to say I was great friends with Ted Wing. I can honestly say he never once mentioned he had one eye. Never. Not a single time. Somebody did some really good work early on with a young Ted Wing. It carried over for life.

Earlier, I mentioned Calvert. I recently came across an article on him from yesteryear. I saved it for Wing. Little did I know how alike Wing and Calvert were. You see Calvert was, for a while, a trotting sensation at the Meadowlands. Get this, he was a commuter. That's right, the 6-year-old son of Carlisle, was owned by Eastern Shore horseman Elmer E Brown and Jay Royce Brinsfield. He would go from Richard Lewis' farm (In Laurel, DE) by van the day of his race or qualifier. After the race, he along with the harness, tack box and sulky were reloaded for the 4-and-a-half hour trip back to the farm's paddocks. Lewis believed he stayed fresher that way and who could argue as he once rolled off seven straight wins in the Monday night Meadowlands featured open trot. And I'm talking Mickey Rodney and Keystone Pioneer days. Workmanlike, no complaining, let's do this — just like Wing. (Remember too that in those days the Meadowlands housed 1,700 horses on the grounds).

Paul Kelley has an interesting take on Wing: "He was a real critical thinker of the game. If you worked with him, he challenged you to make you better. He was always driven to success. Great horseman." Peter Blood and JoAnn Looney stressed REAL horseman.

Being a harness historian/wanna-be, I found gold the day I met Wing. You see he too loved history. If ever a conversation lagged, all I had to do was mention any horse he trained especially from the first Meadowlands decade and he was off and running. Much like Stanley Dancer, Wing's recall was immense, complete, with details you'd have thought he was reciting from the morning newspaper. Through it all, he was a gentleman, one who did not have time for phonies. Real mattered. Family mattered big time. His wife Jackie is an absolute delight. He kept his friends close.

Most of us transition from 20 to 30 to 40 to 50 and so forth. Wing too. Never once did I hear a complaint uttered. He was a horseman through and through.

And a friend for life — and forever.

Tony Herlihy primed to win Inter Dominion again

Twenty-eight years after he first won Down Under's biggest trotting event with Diamond Field – and 16 years since his most recent – the driver has a shot to win his fifth title with Bolt For Brilliance.

by Adam Hamilton

More than 28 years after champion driver Tony Herlihy won his first Inter Dominion, he thinks he has the horse to win Down Under's biggest event again.

Herlihy, New Zealand's greatest and most successful driver with over 3,600 career wins, is buzzing with excitement about his new trotting star Bolt For Brilliance.

It was Diamond Field at Sydney's Harold Park way in 1994 who gave Herlihy victory in the Inter Dominion for the first time. Other wins followed soon after on Pride Of Petite in 1997 and Buster Hanover in 1998, then Delft gave him a fourth win in 2006.

But it's been slim pickings since.

Remarkably, the 64-year-old Herlihy – fondly known as “Skinny” or “Tony H” to his friends and fans – has only driven in one Inter Dominion trotting final since 2011. That was a fifth placing on Temporale in the 2019 Auckland final.

What makes Bolt For Brilliance's looming Inter Dominion quest even more important to Herlihy is the fact the 5-year-old will be just the fourth horse (pacer or trotter) he has trained to make the final (on Dec. 10 at Melton) if he can do so.

Herlihy's greatness has been built on driving, pushing his success as a trainer (largely in NZ) into the background, but Bolt For Brilliance could be about to change all that.

Rival trainer Chris Lang, long regarded as the “King” of trotters in Australia, is in awe of Herlihy work with Bolt For Brilliance.

“It's got a great, old-fashioned Kiwi trainer written all over it,”

“(Bolt For Brilliance is) the best ‘going’ trotter I’ve been part of, better gaited than even Pride Of Petite, but he’s got the sort of will to win that reminds me of her.”

he said. “He’s gradually asked more of the horse, built him up and got him ready for the big league. You could see it unfolding last year.”

Herlihy giggled when I put Lang’s comments to him.

“That’s very kind of Chris... he’s not wrong,” Herlihy said, laughing.

So, let’s go back to the start with Bolt For Brilliance, who Herlihy bought for just $NZ30,000 from the NZ Yearling Sales.

“I had a couple of young trotters by Muscle Hill in our stables for Ken Breckon (a big NZ owner/breeder) and liked them. One was a mare called Tickle Me Pink, who was really good before injuries,” Herlihy said.

“I went to the sales with that in mind and looking for a nice Muscle Hill. Bolt For Brilliance was the one I liked and bought. His mum (Toomuch To Do) won an Inter Dominion heat.

“He was a nice, big, strong colt and I left him with Kerry O’Reilly to break in. I was excited when he told me he ‘felt like a natural with a pretty big motor’.

“As a 2-year-old he took a wee while to get organized, but it all came together towards the end of the season when he won the Harness Jewels.”

After a deliberately light 3-year-old season where Bolt For Brilliance raced just four times for two wins, Herlihy took the “gloves off” and unleashed his latest star at 4.

“He was ready and had a terrific 4-year-old season,” Herlihy said.

Bolt For Brilliance’s 17 runs that season netted nine wins, five seconds and two thirds.

Although he had arrived as one of New Zealand’s best and most exciting trotters, there was an intimidating force standing in his way... called Sundees Son.

“It’s actually been good having Sundees Son over here as a benchmark,” Herlihy said. “He was too big, good and strong for us for a while. He beat us up a few times, but what I like so much about my guy is that he bounces back.

"He's a bit of a warrior. He comes out of a scrap already looking for the next one."

"Despite those early beatings, he always kept his will to win, in fact it's probably grown stronger."

"Those defeats were the making of him. By the end of last campaign, he showed he'd really arrived when he turned the tables on Sundees Son and well and truly beat him on his merits."

It was at the end of a tough two miles in quick time, so the win had it all."

Bolt For Brilliance's emergence, traits and that career-shaping last-start win back in May in the Group 1 Rowe Cup – one of NZ's elite trotting races – has convinced Herlihy the 5-year-old deserves to be in the same conversation as the trotting greats he's driven through his illustrious career.

"He's right up there and judging by how well he seems to have come back this time in work, he should only do more to prove that," he said.

"He's the best 'going' trotter I've been part of, better gaited than even Pride Of Petite, but he's got the sort of will to win that reminds me of her.

"He's the best trotter I've trained, and I did have One Over Kenny for a little while and she was fantastic. He's right up with Sly Flyin and Ohoka Punter (pacers) as the best horse I've trained, full stop."

Even talking of Bolt For Brilliance in the same breath as Pride Of Petite is quite something else.

Pride Of Petite is one of the all-time great Down Under trotters. She was by U.S. stallion Royal Prestige out of the former Kiwi trotter mare Petite Evander, who like Pride Of Petite, tackled Sweden's Elitloppet. Petite Evander ran in the heats twice for a seventh and sixth, while Pride Of Petite ran fourth in heat and sixth in the 1996 Elitloppet.

Pride Petite won 35 races, was placed 42 times and banked $NZ811,816 back in the early to mid-1990s. She's best known for winning successive Inter Dominion finals in 1996 and '97.

That 1997 win when Herlihy drove her for trainer Mark Purdon was one of the most remarkable and enormous feature race wins Australia has seen.

"I just watched the replay the other day with a few people and they say surely there is still another lap to go when they saw how far off the lead she was with 300m to run. She was just something else," Herlihy said.

It's a feeling Herlihy wants to create at Melton on Dec. 10.

"The Inter Dominion, especially with trotters, has been such a big part of my life and my career, I can't wait to be part of it again," he said.

"I really think I've got the right horse this year and he should be right at the peak of his career when this one comes around."

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Angie Coleman on the joys of figuring out standardbred puzzles

by Chris Lomon

Angie Coleman has a penchant for piecing together highly detailed horse racing puzzles.

A meticulous mind, an unyielding curiosity and an ability to assemble a winning strategy have combined to deliver the horsewoman from Illinois a gold standard standardbred blueprint for success.

"I'm just fascinated by the details, the puzzles of what makes a horse tick, what you can do to bring out the best in them. That's what makes me come back, that I can make sure I have all my bases covered, every horse is happy, and all the soundness issues are taken care of. I'm a little meticulous, OCD, perhaps, but figuring out that puzzle of how to bring out their talent is what keep me coming back."

Coleman's first introduction to horses came long before she earned her trainer's license or drove in her first race.

If she were to ever consider a life in standardbred racing back then, there was one caveat.

"I'm a fourth-generation horseperson. My father, grandfather, I have an aunt who was very successful in racing... I have midwestern roots. I've always helped with the horses. My sister had a stable and it's always been in my family, so I've helped out over time, but I started training my own in 2015. I always told my dad when I was a little girl that I wouldn't get involved with the horses unless I could wear my white dress in the winner's circle. Eventually, I went off to college, got a degree, worked several jobs, and somehow found my back into the racing world."

Coleman didn't hit the board in only nine starts in her rookie campaign, but after a five-win season in 2016 she posted impressive numbers across the board in 2017, going 24-11-15 from just 89 starts.

One of her biggest supporters certainly took notice of her talents.

"I got my very first win at Northville Downs (Michigan) in the very bottom class with the very first yearling I ever bought. Her name was Perfectly Clear. I bought her with my partner at the time. I was doing all the work, so I decided I was going to go out and get my trainer's license and make her my own. That's how it all started. My dad used to talk about me and tell everyone how great I was, even though I wasn't. He was always talking me up. I formed some relationships in Minnesota with people who wanted to race horses in Chicago and things really took off from there.”

Coleman’s most successful year to date came in 2018 when she recorded 31 wins and $197,482 in purse earnings.

Highlights haven’t been in short supply.

“I do a lot of social media where I’m bragging about my horses. It kind of turned it out where my partner and I had anywhere from 10, to 15, to 20 horses over the past eight years or so. I was fortunate enough to train some really nice horses. We have a track-record holder at Hawthorne named OK Heavenly. That’s one of my highlights. Another highlight was driving, which I’m not that good at, but I just love to do. A yearling I had picked out named Thunder Dome, when I picked him out, I said I’m going to win a race driving him. Everyone laughed at me, but I actually won two races with him in amateur events, one at the Illinois fair and the other at Hawthorne. That’s another big moment.”

The most treasured one, however, has come this year.

While it’s meant a change in title, Coleman’s new role has been every bit as enjoyable and rewarding.

“The biggest highlight is right now. I’m second training in Minnesota for Dan Roland and his wife Jeri. We have a colt named Iron Sharpens Iron. That’s how I ended up in Minnesota because I trained the sire, Banker Volo, on and off over the years, and I also trained his dam, Lindys On Fire. It’s like a homebred for me because of my connection to the sire and dam. He’s had an incredible season. He’s won nine in a row (and 11 of 12), including the freshman male trot final on September 17, and broken his own track record several times. It’s been a pretty cool summer.”

Coleman has been asked, on several occasions, about the decision to become a second trainer.

She has no regrets about having made that choice.

“The change to being a second trainer, my goal for this summer was to make it the best summer Dan and Jeri have ever had, which we were able to do. As for my long-term goals, I’m not really good with that. This business is race by race. I’d just like to keep learning and make myself and the horses better. The success will come from me continuing to learn.”

~ Angie Coleman

Education through studies and homework that she will pass along to her horses.

Coleman, like always, will continue to derive a great measure of enjoyment and satisfaction from arranging a successful outcome for the horses under her tutelage.

After all, for the Illinois horsewoman, testing her horse racing ingenuity and knowledge is the name of the game.

“When the horses put it all together, it’s the most rewarding part. Every day is something new. What keeps them happy one day is not what keeps them happy the next. Every day is puzzle and I like that. I couldn’t imagine going to an office and doing the same thing over and over again every day. That’s what I love about this job. Every day is different, but the love for it is always the same.”

As for that white dress, the one she asked her father for years ago, Coleman doesn’t care about earning style points in winner’s circle photos.

“I gave that white dress dream up a long time ago. The white dress in the winner’s circle is never going to happen. White pants in the winner’s circle is as close as I’ll get. But that’s fine with me. Just seeing the horses in the winner’s circle is good enough for me.”

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Big dominance by Allaire at Vincennes

by Thomas Hedlund

Philippe Allaire was close to jackpot when Vincennes' Sunday (Sept. 18) race card contained three $300,000 Criteriums, for 3-, 4- and 5-year-olds.

Criterium des 5 ans was the first big race on the card and Philippe Allaire had the first choice Hohnneck among the participants. Hohnneck was served a cover trip in fourth, fifth over, and followed Hokkaido Jiel three wide throughout the last turn, before driver Francois Lagadeuc attacked far outside as the stretch approached.

Between horses, big upset Hussard du Landret (Bird Parker) had been served a perfect trip by his trainer and driver Benoit Robin. Robin was eager to put his horse in a front position shortly after the start and Hussard du Landret had to travel first over for a while, until the uphill part of Vincennes' track began at the back stretch. At that point, Robin let Horsy Dream make cover for him and Hussard du Landret never had to leave his position in second over until the home stretch, when the road to victory opened itself for him.

Hohnneck sprinted quickly on the far outside, but Hussard du Landret had power to use and by a head he disarmed the favorite. The two front horses marked a mile rate of 1:56.2 over 1.6 miles and this was Hussard du Landret's biggest win in his career so far.

Criterium des 5 ans replay here.

Allaire opened the day with a runner up performance by Hohnneck, but wins were waiting later on and in Criterium des 3 ans, his charismatic trotter Just A Gigolo (Boccador de Simm) proved to be more or less outstanding in the French 3-year-old crop, which he has been several times before this season. Franck Nivard aimed for the lead a half mile into the race and after

Italiano Vero (Eric Raffin)

on Sunday at Vincennes.

some changes in the front, Just A Gigolo was the final leader of the race as the field turned into the back stretch. In front, Just A Gigolo was too hard to beat and in safe style, Philippe Allaire's horse held on to win in a mile rate of 1:57.3 over 1.6 miles.

Criterium des 3 ans replay here.

The three big Criterium races were collected on the same race card for the first time this year and the racing day at Vincennes was a big hit when the fans could follow future star trotters in a sunny September weather.

The Criterium des 4 ans closed the stakes races for the day and Allaire had his shots even in this race. The two most merited trotters in the race, Izoard Vedaquais and Italiano Vero, both belong in his barn and Eric Raffin, the driver behind Italiano Vero (Ready Cash) was determined to drive his horse in the lead after he reached that position after 600 meters. Stablemate Izoard Vedaquais connected on the outside after a half mile and the race was locked by that move. First choice Idao de Tillard, who has dominated many of the big races for 4-year-old trotters in France this year, seemed to struggle with the pace in his position in seventh over. When the attack was set in, three wide behind horses, Idao de Tillard lost his gait in the last turn and when Raffin stepped on the gas pedal in front, Italiano Vero left his opponents and won easily in a mile rate of 1:58.1 over 1.7 miles. Immarosa finished quickly far outside as runner up while Izoard Vedaquais held strongly as third.

Criterium des 4 ans replay here.

Allaire claimed two big stakes races and it's proven that the French trainer is a master when it comes to conditioning horses in these type of categories, at least when it's about 3- and 4-year-olds.

Criterium des 3 ans has been won by Allaire with horses such as Larabello (1980), Kesaco Phedo (2001), Ready Cash (2008) and Charly du Noyer (2015) before while he has won Criterium des 4 ans with Charly du Noyer (2016) and Bird Parker (2016). Hohnneck was close to win Criterium des 5 ans and that would have been the first victory for Philippe Allaire in that race.

SIRES STAKES

REPORT

Marvelous Marshia, Best Place To Be repeat in ISS at Hoosier Park

by Jacob Rheinheimer / Harrah's Hoosier Park

A week's worth of Indiana Sire Stakes action at Harrah's Hoosier Park wrapped up with the 3-year-old pacing fillies stepping into the spotlight on Saturday night (Sept. 17). Two divisions of seven fillies would highlight the 14-race card, with leg seven of Indiana Sire Stakes picking up right where leg six left off for the sophomore fillies, with Marvelous Marshia and Best Place To Be back in the winner's circle.

Marvelous Marshia and John De Long kicked off the stakes action for the evening in the seventh race, picking up their third victory in her last four outings. Leaving from post two, De Long opted to take Marvelous Marshia to the rear of the field, settling in sixth in the field of seven as Heidis Image and Joey Putnam led the field to the opening quarter in a hot :26.3. Trace Tetrack guided Need To Breathe out of the pocket for a backstretch brush to the front end at the half way point in :55.2. Need To Breathe received little time for a breather in the middle half as JJ Endofanera challenged first over on the far turn through three-quarters in 1:23.3 as Marvelous Marshia and De Long were marred in heavy traffic fifth on the rail.

As the battle unfolded at the top of the lane, De Long and Marvelous Marshia surgically began making their way through traffic, eventually splitting rivals late towards the center of the track and surging through the gap with a :27 to score the victory in 1:51.1. JK's Rollin Baby and Michael Oosting finished a half-length back in second, with Need To Breathe and Trace Tetrack rounding out the trifecta. Marvelous Marshia returned $7.00 to her backers at the betting windows.

Owned by William, Patrick and Mia De Long along with Marsha Lewis-Veitia, the Roger Welch trainee has picked up five victories in 11 seasonal starts, and is yet to miss the board in 2022. Bred by Marc and Maynard Bontager, the daughter of Always A Virgin out of the Sportsmaster mare, Honey's Luck has now banked $122,040 on the season and $167,899 for her career.

The $49,000 second division went as the 12th race on the card where Best Place To Be would extend her win streak to three in Indiana Sire Stakes. Driver Sam Widger would steer Best Place To

Dean Gillette
Marvelous Marshia (John De Long) winning her Indiana Sires Stakes test for sophomore pacing fillies on Saturday at Harrah's Hoosier Park in 1:51.1.

Best Place To Be (Sam Widger) won the second ISS division in 1:51.3.

Be into the four hole in the opening quarter as Jewel'sbewithus and Trace Tetrack set the pace to the tune of :27. The Pace would remain fast on the front as Ricky Macomber Jr. tugged the right line on the upset minded Cats Image up the backstretch from third, surging to the front at the half in :54.3. Cats Image would maintained her advantage on the far turn through three quarters in 1:23 while Best Place To Be and Widger motored into third, first up on the outside.

As the field turned for home, Best Place To Be powered to the lead, however faced heavy pressure to her inside as Jewel'sbewithus surged up the rail, as well as a hard-charging Gonna Be Good and John De Long from the backfield flying up the passing lane in the final eighth. However, behind the strength of a :28 final quarter, Best Place To Be responded gamely to prevail by a head over Gonna Be Good in 1:51.3. Jewel'sbewithus and Tetrack would hold for the show spot.

The Mike Roth-trained Best Place To Be is heating up at the right time, picking up her third straight victory and fourth of the season in eleven starts in 2022 for owners Dm Stables and William Refenacht. The homebred daughter of Always A Virgin out of the Artsplace mare, Best Place has built a bankroll of $88,800 over the course of her sophomore campaign.

Mass-bred Seafood Beauty wins Nauset Light at Plainridge

The third $15,000 Nauset Light preview race for 2-year-old pacers was held at Plainridge Park on Monday afternoon (Sept. 19) and the Massachusetts-bred Seafood Beauty (American Ideal—Seafood Annie) was a runaway winner as she prepares for the upcoming $2.5 million Massachusetts Sire Stakes.

Jay Randall left with Seafood Beauty and wrangled the lead away from fellow Mass-bred Wicked Scorchah (Jim Hardy) before the :28.1 half. Once on the point, Seafood Beauty got to the half in :57.4 with Hey Junior (Ron Cushing) on the outside, who continued to push the pace to 1:25.4 at three-quarters. Around the far turn, Seafood Beauty began to pull away from the pack and cruised home to victory by 5-1/4 lengths in a new lifetime mark of 1:55.2.

After returning from a midsummer respite following success in the New York Sire Stakes program, Seafood Beauty ($3.20) has now won two consecutive races for owner Seafood Delight Stable and trainer Nick Vamvilis.

Seafood Beauty will be competing in the 2-year-old pacing filly division of the Massachusetts Sire Stakes which begin at Plainridge Park on Sunday (Sept. 24).

Philly features Liberty Bell stakes

The Liberty Bell stakes series, for fast Pennsylvania-sired 2- and 3-year-olds, began a run of two stakes a day for the eight divisions on Sunday afternoon (Sept. 18) at Harrah's Philadelphia, with 2-year-old fillies on both gaits contesting three $30,000 events.

Driver Simon Allard, who was in the right place at the right time all day (usually on or near the lead) in winning six races, combined with trainer Jessica Fallon to win two of the trio of contests for trotters. The faster winner was the Father Patrick-Gin And Lindy miss Lindys Irishcream, who went right to the lead and trotted strongly to victory in 1:55.4, a new mark. Since coming to Pennsylvania from Ontario four starts ago, Lindys Irishcream has three victories, all in stakes, for owners Tim Klemencic and Blake MacIntosh.

Team Allard/Fallon/Klemencic/MacIntosh opened the card by winning with the International Moni—Miss Anthem distaff Foolish Moni, who also used pacesetting tactics in a 1:57.3

triumph. Like her stablemate a recent traveler from Ontario to Pennsylvania, Foolish Moni has now posted two triumphs in three tries in the Keystone State. Foolish Moni went off as the second choice; Lindys Irishcream was the favorite in her event.

The third trotting section did not hold up to form, as 13-1 shot Planter's Punch saved much ground during a duel among several horses, then was moved clear by driver Tyler Miller and took a new mark of 1:57.3. Team Orange Crush, who won two of the big-money finals in the Kentucky program during the afternoon, also posted a victory on "the home front," as Tyler's mom Julie Miller trains the daughter of Bar Hopping – Cloud Dancer for Willow Oak Ranch.

The pacing sections were, like the trotting races, won by a favorite, a second choice, and a longshot. Both gaits had victories by a half-length and three-quarters of a length; the third trotting division produced a 1¾ lengths margin, while the other pacing cut was won by "only" 1½ lengths.

But the 1½ length winner, the Captaintreacherous—My Little Delight filly My Little Captain, looked like she could have won by a bigger distance, as driver Art Stafford Jr. only gave her one tap with the whip in the stretch to ensure her front-end 1:53.4 victory. My Little Captain, who was a heavy favorite, now has five wins and two seconds in seven starts, three of them Pennsylvania Sire Stakes triumphs, for trainer Andrew Stafford and EVM Racing LLC.

Belterra was a 1-1 second choice in her Liberty Bell event, but she proved the crowd wrong by going to the lead early and staying strong while taking a mark of 1:53.1. This was the third win in six races for the Stay Hungry – Studio One filly, who was driven by George Napolitano Jr. for trainer Robert Cleary and Royal Wire Products Inc.

The third pacing section produced the mutuel upset – although the long-remembered knew that driver Victor Kirby and trainer Nifty Norman have on several occasions combined to produce longshot winners, going back to Bee Forever winning the 2020 Valley Victory and as recently as Aug. 25 at Philly with $109.60 upsetter Romantic Evening. And indeed here was the Heston Blue Chip—Moonlight Spin miss Romantic Evening again, having raced only once since her bombshell triumph, again lighting up the board at $49.40 in her patented come-from-behind style. The filly took a new mark of 1:52.3 in winning for Let It Ride Stables Inc. and Bottom Line Racing LLC.

The rest of the Liberty Bell stakes schedule will be the features for next week as Harrah's goes to its three-day-a-week fall schedule: 2-year-old trotters on Thursday, freshman colt pacers and sophomore filly trotters on Friday, and then 3-year-old pacers next Sunday. There also will be an $1811.83 carryover into Thursday's first race Pick-4 bet. Program pages are or will be available at www.phha.org/harrahspss.html.
