Anderson over the moon about Jug victory with Captain Barbossa

The stirring triumph caps an outstanding 10-day period for the standardbred owner and thoroughbred breeder who sold a yearling for $1.6 million at the Keeneland September Sale and then saw another one he bred qualify for the Breeders' Cup with a win in a Grade 1 race at Woodbine.

Captain Barbossa (Joe Bongiorno) won the Jug final in 1:49.1, which was one-fifth of a second off the stakes and world record for a 3-year-old pacer on a half-mile track.

Minutes after winning the 75th Little Brown Jug on Thursday evening at the Delaware County Fairgrounds in Ohio, Captain Barbossa's part-owner David Anderson was so pumped he skipped "hello" and went right to "Pinch me. Pinch me" when answering his phone. The excitement was palpable in his voice.

"I can unequivocally tell you that, in all of my years growing up in this business, standardbred or thoroughbred, I have never been more excited in a horse race in my life," Anderson said from his home near Toronto after Joe Bongiorno guided the gelded son of Captaintreacherous—Swinging Beauty to a 1:49.1 victory in the $335,400 Jug final.

His winning time was one-fifth of a second off the stakes and world record for a 3-year-old pacer on a half-mile track. The margin of victory was 1-1/2 lengths over Cattlewash.

"I was here with my family and we were yelling and screaming, even my dog was barking," Anderson said. "He didn't know what was going on, but he was excited. It was just absolutely surreal."

As has been the last 10 days for Anderson, a noted thoroughbred breeder whose farm is in St. Thomas, ON.

On Sept. 14, Anderson topped the opening session of the Keeneland September Sale when he sold a Medaglia D'oro yearling filly out of Orchard Beach for $1.6 million. Heading into today's final session, that yearling is the third highest sold at the sale.

"That's the personal topper for me," he said of the $1.6 million price tag, though a previous Orchard Beach yearling sold for $1.1 million at auction.

thoroughbred Anderson bred, won the Grade 1 Summer Stakes at Woodbine to qualify for the Breeders' Cup.

"I've got another filly running this Saturday at Santa Anita in a 'win-and-you're in' for the Breeders' Cup," Anderson said.

And on Saturday night he is partners with John Fielding and the other owners of promising trotting colt Spy Booth – including fellow Captain Barbossa partner Robert LeBlanc – in a slot in the inaugural $1 million (USD) Mohawk Million at Woodbine Mohawk Park. Unfortunately, Spy Booth made a break in the William Wellwood Memorial final and the decision was made to skip the Mohawk Million with him. Anderson, Fielding and Co. have made a deal with the connections of filly Insta Glam to use the slot.

None of which, on this day, tops winning the Little Brown Jug with Captain Barbossa.

"It's the whole history of the Little Brown Jug... even my thoroughbred friends, it's the first race that they always mention, 'Have you ever won the Little Brown Jug?' and I have said, 'No,'" Anderson said. "Everyone in the world knows the Little Brown Jug."

Captain Barbossa broke his 2020 maiden with the Jug victory, which came in his 13th start. All along, trainer Tony Alagna kept telling the other owners the gelding was due.

"Tony has done an amazing job with him and he kept us in the game," Anderson said. "He kept saying, 'We've got to keep going with this horse.' He's got that high-speed ability coming home and he must have massive heart and lungs on him, because he wants to go all day."

Anderson also gave praise to Bongiorno for crafting the winning trip.

"Joe Bongiorno won the race. You couldn't have scripted it any better," Anderson said. "He put him in an absolute perfect position. When Scotty (Zeron) went first up (with Sandbetweenmytoes), he filled the gap there and kind of tucked in and Scotty had to drive on. From that point, he knew he had the horse that was going to get first up and go and he did. It was awesome."

Though Anderson has owned a number of trotters, Captain Barbossa is his very first pacer.

Bred by Lima, OH's Steiner Stock Farm, Captain Barbossa was purchased by Anderson, LeBlanc, Alagna, Martha Frank, John Fodera and Wienick for $70,000 at the 2018 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale.

"The credit, from the very beginning, goes out to Trevor Ritchie," Anderson said of the Canadian Hall of Fame driver. "Trevor picked (Captain Barbossa) out. He was his pick of the sale and he really deserves the credit. This trophy really should be dedicated to Trevor."

Anderson said he has only one wish now that Captain Barbossa has won the Jug: "I wish he still had two nuts," the owner said, laughing.

That Captain Barbossa was gelded is one of the few blips in an outstanding year for the multi-breed horseman.

As for LeBlanc, Fodera and Wienick, they're also having a hell of a year. In August, they won the Hambletonian with filly Ramona Hill, also trained by Alagna and co-owned by Brad Grant and her breeder, Crawford Farms.

"I'm screaming as much as Hambo Day," said Fodera, a three-time Jug winner who was watching this year's event from his Staten Island home. "I was as hyper as ever during the race."

Both the Jug and Hambletonian victories are firsts for Alagna. He is also the first trainer to win the Hambletonian and Little Brown Jug in the same year since Billy Haughton in 1974. Alagna entered three horses in this year's Little Brown Jug, an event he said he loves to support.

"I bring at least two or three horses every year," he said. "We love the hospitality, the way we're treated, the fans. We hate that the fans aren't here this year, but the backbone of racing is here, and we want to be here to represent it."

The trainer said he was thrilled Captain Barbossa finally broke through.

"He's been a really hard-luck horse this year," Alagna said. "He's drawn a lot of bad posts, like the nine-hole in the (North America Cup), and he finally gets his due."

Captain Barbossa headed to Delaware off back-to-back second-place finishes in stakes races at Woodbine Mohawk Park. He finished second in his Jug elimination, which was won by Sandbetweenmytoes in 1:49.3, and drew post four for the final.

Catch The Fire won the first $111,800 Jug elimination, overtaking pacesetter Seeyou At Thebeach on the last turn on his way to a 1:49.3 triumph.

Seeyou At Thebeach was second, followed by Later Dudes and Genius Man. Those four horses advanced to the $335,400 Little Brown Jug final.

Catch The Fire was the 4-5 favorite in the field of seven. He was driven by Mike Wilder for trainer John Ackley and owner CT Stables.

Sandbetweenmytoes (Scott Zeron) scored a 7-1 upset in the second Jug elimination won in 1:49.3.

opening quarter. Sandbetweenmytoes held the top spot heading to the half, reached in :53.3, as Captain Barbossa began a first-over march from third.

Captain Barbossa continued to work his way toward the leader on the backstretch, getting to the front just prior to reaching three-quarters in 1:21.2. From there, he held off Cattlewash to win.

"I definitely did (think I had a shot in the final) because my horse had the most pace finishing in the second elimination," Bongiorno said. "Being able to sneak around (Seeyou At Thebeach in post three) when the gate sprung, I saw he was fumbly gaited, I think that was basically the winning move.

"I closed the hole coming out of the first turn, made (Sandbetweenmytoes) keep going, push the tempo. I knew being first over was going to be the spot to be at that point, with the fast half in 53 and a piece."

Bongiorno, who in August got his 2,000th career win, enjoyed a memorable visit to Delaware. On Wednesday, he picked up the drive with New Year in the Jugette final for 3-year-old filly pacers and finished second behind unbeaten Party Girl Hill.

"There's really no words to describe it," Bongiorno said about winning the Jug. "The last couple of days have been a dream come true.

"Today, I couldn't thank Tony and his owners enough for entrusting me with this horse."

Captain Barbossa has earned $286,800 this season and $414,288 in his career. He has won four of 27 races lifetime, with 10 second-place finishes and three thirds.

"We felt like he was this kind of horse," Alagna said. "The way he started out his 3-year-old year, he went some really good miles early against the best colts.

"I felt very good about him after the first heat, the way he finished up his mile and the way he cooled out. He got a great drive by Joey in the final and he got it done. I was watching it outside and when he came around the third turn heading up the backside Joey was just sitting there riding. I thought, this horse has still got go. When he cleared to the front, he just opened up on them.

"Standing there watching it, I couldn't believe how it was unfolding before my eyes."

One country away, Anderson couldn't believe what he was watching, either.

"I'm about to put (my phone) on silent. It's absolutely blowing up," he said.

attend, it was the Delaware County Fairgrounds on Jug Day.

Unlike any other harness racetrack, Jug Day thrives on live attendance. In a regular year attendance for this year's Jug would have been between 40-50,000 people, and the atmosphere that's produced by it goes a long way in making the Jug the event that it is. Whereas other tracks have been racing for months and the omission of spectators has been largely unnoticed, it shows in Delaware. Watching the Little Brown Jug final conducted to the background of an eerie silence; it creates a far different dynamic when juxtaposed against any other Little Brown Jug.

One thought I had throughout the day was if pumping fake crowd noise similar to what other professional sports are currently doing into the race broadcasts would have helped to capture a normal Jug environment. The Jug races on the day were all interesting in their own right, but would have the crowd noise from the Life Sign or Wiggle It Jiggle It Jug's heightened the level of excitement? Even for venerable announcer Roger Huston, I wondered at times if some of his calls were impacted by not being able to feed off the typically frenzied crowd. It may sound silly, but perhaps filling in races with crowd noise is something that could be used at any harness track to help give the appearance of crowd excitement throughout races.

With that being said, the racing action on the day didn't disappoint. Even lacking drivers such as Gingras, Sears and McCarthy that would have been at the Jug under normal circumstances, it gave other drivers opportunities to shine that they may not have had otherwise. The biggest name of course in that regard is driver Joe Bongiorno.

Bongiorno picked up the drive on Tony Alagna's Captain Barbossa who had most recently been driven by Andrew McCarthy, and certainly made the most of the situation. Bongiorno partnered beautifully with Captain Barbossa in winning the 75th Little Brown Jug. Captain Barbossa came into his elimination as a 20-1 longshot, though he'd been somewhat of a tough-luck horse this year. In the elimination, Captain Barbossa closed with solid late pace to be second behind elimination winner Sandbetweenmytoes, and Bongiorno was able to make sure that the Captaintreacherous gelding had enough left in reserve for the final.

Many races are won or lost into the first turn, and Bongiorno arguably won the race there by having the sense to leave and get around Seeyou At Thebeach who Bongiorno sensed was steppey. With that move, Captain Barbossa was able to sit third and watch the elimination winners Sandbetweenmytoes and Catch The Fire duel through a :26 opening quarter.

Sandbetweenmytoes won the early battle but after getting to the half in :53.3 he had the sting taken out of him and Bongiorno was able to make the winning move and roll first-over with Captain Barbossa to go right on by the race leaders. Cattlewash who was hard used and wide early from the outside post was able to track the move of Captain Barbossa but couldn't make any impression in the stretch. Catch The Fire was caught behind the tiring leader and managed to get up for third. Winning the Jug a day after his 27th birthday, Bongiorno should retain the drive going forward on Captain Barbossa – he earned it.

Captain Barbossa came into the day off a second-place finish in the Somebeachsomewhere at Woodbine Mohawk nearly two weeks ago. The winner of that race was Warrawee Vital, who disappointed in his Jug elimination. Warrawee Vital was made the 6-5 favorite coming into the race in career form off a 1:48.2 win. However, he had little to offer when Tetrick pulled him to the outside and called him, never getting close and eventually finishing last. For a track known for races dominated on the front end – and there was plenty of that as usual on Thursday – both Jug eliminations and the Jug final were won by horses not first or second at the quarter or half-mile calls.

It probably goes without saying that handle was in some way directly impacted by not having live attendance. The handle for the 7-horse Jug final was just $34,146. By comparison, the handle in the 2018 Jug final was close to $50,000. Live handle for the entire Jug day is usually around $1 million and missing that is a large amount to make up for.

On the undercard, there were a couple Ohio-bred 2-year-olds that are liable to make some noise next year against open caliber company. Rivals Heart Of Chewbacca and Charlie May both shined in their respective divisions of the Ohio Breeders Championships for 2-year-old colts and geldings. Both winners in identical 1:52:2 times on the day, their talent may go beyond the borders of Ohio. After Charlie May won, owner Don Tiger said that his McArdle gelding would be staked to all the top 3-year-old races next year and from the sound of it we may be able to expect similar with Heart of Chewbacca.

The fastest 2-year-old of the day came much later in the card, and that was in the Standardbred when the impeccably-bred Chase H Hanover (Captaintreacherous—Calgary Hanover) tied the world record for 2-year-old geldings on a half-mile track when he won in 1:51.1. Coming home in :26.3, the race was essentially over when he made the lead after just a few strides despite starting from post 5. Comfortably fending off the well-regarded Lou's Pearlman, Chase H Hanover is another that the Standardbred stake on Jug day could launch into future stardom.

Immediately prior that race, Plunge Blue Chip became a three-time world champion. In winning the Ms. Versatility in 1:51:3, she trotted the fastest mile in history on a half-mile track. The showdown between her and Manchego never came to be as that foe jumped off stride into the second turn, but Plunge Blue Chip was on her game regardless. It's amazing to think that the despite being a 3-time world champion that she'll go down in history as "only" the third best filly trotter from her division, being constantly overshadowed by Atlanta and Manchego. What an unbelievable crop that was.

The Jug Day broadcast went on for 7-plus hours, but the entire team did an excellent job. Between Dave Brower, Dave Bianconi, Wendy Ross and Jason Settlemyer, there was quality insights and discussions provided throughout all the races. There was no dead-air and quite a decent amount of "inside baseball" that could have been seen throughout the various driver and trainer interviews throughout the day – it gave a really good perspective into the sport.

And all in all, with fans or no fans, it was a solid day of racing. Congratulations to Captain Barbossa and all his connections for a well-earned Little Brown Jug victory.

Shortly after becoming the first sub-1:50 female pacer on a half-mile track in harness racing history with her 1:49.3 victory in her Jugette elimination, Party Girl Hill (Dexter Dunn) won the Jugette final handily in 1:50.3 (shown).

Jugette victory, world record, unbeaten streak marks Party Girl Hill as potential HOY

Owner/breeder Tom Hill believes the Chris Ryder trainee should be in the conversation for the top year-end award.

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Minutes after watching Party Girl Hill win Wednesday's (Sept. 23) Jugette for 3-year-old female pacers at the Delaware County Fairgrounds with a performance that included a world record in her elimination and a 3-1/2 length score in the final, breeder/owner Tom Hill summed up his thoughts about the filly in simple terms.

"She just proved what I've been telling everybody, that she's the best horse I've ever owned," Hill said from his home in Lancashire in the United Kingdom. "As we would say in England, she's a Rolls Royce with hair."

Party Girl Hill, driven by Dexter Dunn and trained by Chris Ryder, won the $142,635 Jugette final in 1:50.3, with stablemate New Year finishing second and Peaky Sneaky third. Earlier in the day, she won her elimination in 1:49.3, the first sub-1:50 mile by a female pacer on a half-mile track in harness racing history.

her career with her two victories in the Jugette and pushed her lifetime bankroll to $577,270.

"I don't know how good she is," Hill said. "I don't know where the bottom is, I really don't."

"She can leave, she can come from behind, she can sit parked; it doesn't make any difference. That's when you've got a great one, when they can win from anywhere. She's just a very special filly. She's a gift from God, that's what she is. I've had a lot of good horses, but I've had nothing like her. I've been blessed."

Party Girl Hill's win gave owner Hill his second Jugette trophy. He won his first in 2010 with Western Silk. It also came four days after Hill celebrated his 70th birthday.

Party Girl Hill opened her march to the Jugette crown by beating Lyons Sentinel, last year's Dan Patch Award divisional champ, by three-quarters of a length in 1:49.3 in the second of the event's two eliminations.

The time eclipsed the previous world record for a 3-year-old pacing filly on a half-mile track, 1:50.1, shared by Warrawee Ubeaut and Call Me Queen Be. It also lowered the all-time mark for any female pacer, 1:50, shared by Godiva Seelster and Tequila Monday.

"She's just an amazing animal," Dunn said. "There seems to be no bottom to her, she does her work so easily. It's truly a real pleasure to be lucky enough to sit behind her. I have to thank Tom Hill for that, for trusting me with the drive."

"She's exciting. She's gone both heats today without the plugs being pulled or really being asked. She just does an amazing job."

Ryder after a standout career Down Under, added the Jugette to his growing list of Grand Circuit victories. He won a total of six races Wednesday at Delaware.

"I had a lucky day," said Dunn, who was the U.S. Harness Writers Association's 2019 Driver of the Year. "I got to drive really nice horses and they were all on top of their game today. This girl really topped the day off well."

"This is a special moment for my lifetime because the Ryders have been family friends with the Dunns for 50-odd years. Chris and (his wife) Nicola have done so much to get me over here and support me. It's a day I'll never forget."

Dunn's only concern following the eliminations was Party Girl Hill racing in the final off a world-record performance.

"As soon as we stepped on the track, those worries went away because she had her ears pricked and she was happy as anything being out there," Dunn said.

In the final, Dunn let New Year (who won the first of the event's two eliminations, also with Dunn in the sulky) and Lyons Sentinel battle in the first turn before launching Party Girl Hill to the lead. Party Girl Hill, the 1-9 favorite, was on top at the quarter and never looked back.

"Many thanks to Tom Hill for giving me such an amazing horse," Ryder said. "Many thanks to Dexter, he's done a tremendous job driving her."

When reminded in the winner's circle by track announcer Roger Huston about Hill's birthday, Ryder quipped, "That's great. Happy birthday. Anything else I can do for you Tom?"

Back in Lancashire, Hill said winning was enough. While some speculated about how Party Girl Hill might have fared if she took on the boys in Thursday's Little Brown Jug, both Ryder and Hill downplayed the idea.

"I don't want to hurt the filly," Hill said. "I don't want to do something and regret it. If she raced the colts and got beat, I know it's no disgrace, but I don't want to do that. She's only had 11 races. She's only a novice."

A novice assembling one heck of a resume; one that Hill thinks should get noticed at the end of the season if her current form holds.

"She should have a shot at being Horse of the Year," Hill said about the daughter of Captaintreacherous—Look Cheap. "She's never been beat and she's raced on every size track. She's never been beat and never looked like getting beat. What more could she do? She is the only one out there that's undefeated. I think she should have a good push to be Horse of the Year. Not for me, but for her. She deserves it."

interesting to say the least. His memory is utterly fantastic. However, I like the format with Monique Vag better. The set is also much more appealing.

All things considered, the Ohio Sale was fabulous. At the top of the venue was a Fear The Dragon colt for $120,000 and three Downbytheseaside colts at $100,000 each.

The wonderful weekend continued Sunday at the Red Mile with beautiful weather and the crowd limited by COVID-19. They featured eight division finals of the Kentucky Sires Stakes each going for $250,000.

The Buckeye (David Miller) ran off with four of the eight events warming up for his home court stint this week at Delaware, OH, where he was listed on 26 horses Tuesday through Thursday.

Speaking of Ramona Hill, there are two major female equine stars that I always question their soundness — Manchego and Ramona Hill have never ever looked 100 per cent to this writer during a race. Maybe that's the new gait or the new norm but it makes me crazy. Just at the point when I am certain they are going to run, they dash off and win by three looking to me as awful in the lane as is possible.

What is your take? Would love to hear some other opinions.

A job well done by the New York Racing Commission. They made the decision Monday to suspend trainer Michael Temming for 20 years after having had two positives at Yonkers Raceway for IOX-2, a factor in a blood doping agent that has a similar effect as EPO. Kudos to Dr. George Maylin for the development of the test that can find the presence of the drug in equines and in humans.

Personally, I agree 20 years sends a message, but in a case like this with two positives the offender truly committed a premeditated act of blood doping, twice, and should be banned for life. That would send a better message.

Let's discuss the Jug for a moment. The Little Brown Jug is without question a marquee event on the harness calendar. I have been going to Delaware, OH my entire life. Not only do I love the Jug and the meeting of yearly friends, I love The Branding Iron and Buns. If you are not familiar with the area, they are two mainstay restaurants for 50 years. Without question there may be no more entertaining harness venue in existence in the United States. Patron wise it is today our closest answer to the Elitloppet and the Prix D'Amerique.

However, we must realize that, for the most part the great stallions have missed the party. Have wonderful, talented horses won the event? For sure they have, but because of the half-mile many of the greats have simply avoided it. Let's face it, no matter how great your horse is, drawing outside in the Jug is akin to surrendering at the Blackjack table.

That said, let's look at the numbers. In 36 years, the Jug winner has given us one top stallion. In the early 2000's Bettors Delight was victorious. I remember top horses that passed on the Jug like Captaintreacherous and this year the best of the best Tall Dark Stranger. So let's not include the Jug in discussions involving the North America Cup or the Meadowlands Pace. It is in a different category.

Seth Poppell asks: I went to the Red Mile website to obtain at the very least the results of today's stakes and there are no results past Sept, 15 and then I went to the replays and they had a replay from 2019? What gives? They shouldn't have a website if they can't afford to keep it current and relevant. A real disgrace. Check it out.

To begin with, anyone in harness racing that I know that wants results goes to the USTA site or the Canadian site and gets results with about an hour delay or less.

In the case of the Red Mile they change the results after every weekend of racing.

Stop crying and be thankful they are racing, period. Staff is at a minimum all over because of the virus so it is more than excusable when the privilege of viewing the product is there.

As for the replays, you just haven't figured out the website.

The replay is of the 2019 Kentucky Futurity and is just an example. If you look below the window you will see a link to the YouTube replays that are posted regularly and available for every race.

Thanks again to the simply wonderful Shannon Cobb for her timely assistance.

Carl Coppola asks: In a recent column you mentioned that Bet On Becky was lame in the post parade and probably should not have raced in the Eternal Camnation. I have been watching horse racing for 40 years and cannot tell when a horse is lame. What are some of the telltale signs when a horse is sore or lame?

This is far from an easy question to answer as the degrees of lameness can be very subtle even to the experienced eye. But when lameness is evident, a horse carries himself in an odd fashion. In order to learn how to spot soreness in a horse you first have to understand what a sound horse would look like.

When a sound horse post parades and scores down his head is straight and doesn't bob or drop as he trots or paces, his hind end looks so solid like if he had a glass of water on his back he would not spill a drop with each and every step.

That said, the lame horse will exhibit many different symptoms most of which will radically change his gait or appearance. He may carry his head awkwardly to the right or left. He will nod (drop his head) with every step he takes or bounce behind where it appears that his hind end looks like it is running out of sync with his front end.

All in all, the lame horse should appear so uncomfortable on the track that it is obvious even to the untrained eye.

If you want to see what I am speaking of, watch the replay of the Bet On Becky race (available here) because it is a perfect example. The filly is steppy behind the gate and the further in the mile she goes she's gets worse until she finally makes a break.

These descriptions are not without many exceptions, so by no means think you are an associate veterinarian since reading this column. There are many bad-gaited horses going to the gate that in essence are relatively sound. Many trotters pace to the gate, and many pacers cantor warming up. Please use what you have learned for your own entertainment and do not use it to criticize horsepeople.

Laura Young (Southwind Farm) asks: What are your thoughts/suggestions on how to video standing and walking inspection videos?

Nothing you do is going to completely replace in person appraisal because you don't get a feel for the size and balance of the horse. However, after seeing your presentation, I think you did a fabulous job. The flowered path was a great innovation.

I am not as fussy as the average horse buyer when it comes to bumps and bruises. Rarely are they much of a long term problem when buying a yearling. Racehorses are a different story altogether.

If I could fault your videos at all I would say I was unable to determine if a horse was back in a knee from the videos. I love the fact they were not ridiculously long.

On the subject of videos, I find it strange that in 2020 some of the video quality from a few venues leaves much to be desired. I cannot fathom the fact that the people responsible are not aware that their product is barely visible.

In a year that many buyers will be bidding from home and have nothing more than the videos to aid in the selection process, one would think the owner would be more fussy about the video production.

Penelope De La Roche asks: Is it true there is going to be another new harness track in Kentucky this year?

Penelope I am very happy to tell you the answer is yes. The Winchels and their partners in Kentucky Downs, a thoroughbred racetrack, and Keeneland Association have joined together to build a new harness track in Corbin a town in south eastern Kentucky, as well as a casino 10 miles south in Williamsburg that would be tied to the new license. From what I understand about the situation, it is a done deal and will add many more millions of dollars to the already rich Kentucky harness racing programs.

Time can truly create miracles. The sport was at death's door a short while ago in the state of Kentucky and now it is one of the most lucrative state in the country for harness racing opportunities.

Thanks to all once again for the kind words. There are many great races on the horizon. To all of you that wonder about coming to Kentucky for the sale I will say I have been in Lexington for almost 10 days and the farms, the hotels and the restaurants are well aware of the virus problem and are more than comfortably protective of you. Have a wonderful week.

The art of a million-dollar (race) deal

When plans to race their own horses in Saturday's $1 million Mohawk Million didn't pan out, slot owners Jim Bullock, John Fielding, Jeffrey Snyder, Brad Grant and Dreamland Farms crafted deals for others to earn a berth in inaugural event for 2-year-old trotters.

Showcasing a field of 10 rookie trotters vying for top prize, the Mohawk Million is the first million-dollar “buy-in” race in standardbred history. A total of nine slots in the race were available for purchase at a cost of $110,000 (USD). The 10th and final slot was awarded to On A Streak, winner of the William Wellwood Memorial.

Some of the participating owners were required to change course from their original plans and engage in private negotiating to secure their Mohawk Million starter.

Warrawee Whisper from the Shawn Steacy barn will race in the slot of Jim Bullock’s Glengate Farms. The son of Trixton is winless in six engagements with three runner-up finishes, including seconds in the Wellwood Memorial elimination and Champlain.

“If you go back to February when I made the initial payment, I have a fair number of 2-year-old trotters this year,” said Bullock. “I was hoping that one of them would be competitive. I principally buy fillies, and I was always of the view that often the fillies are better than the colts as 2-year-olds. I guess the proof of that is the [Mohawk Million] favorite is Donna Soprano. The flaw in my theory is that she doesn’t belong to me. Right theory, wrong horse.”

But, as Bullock has displayed in the past and present, adapting to a change in plans or circumstance is something he always takes in stride.

It was over 10 years ago when Bullock shuttered the doors on Glengate Farms as a commercial breeding operation. One of the largest of its kind in Ontario, Glengate was home to all-star stallions Angus Hall, Apaches Farm and Balanced Image. While he remained in the sport after the closure of Glengate, Bullock’s passion for standardbreds and standardbred racing led him to renovate a thoroughbred farm close to the town of Erin, ON, a spot he purchased a few years back. He used it to build up a strong trotting broodmare band (there is room on the farm for nearly 40 broodmares). Friend and racing partner John Bax purchased the original Glengate Farm to be closer to Woodbine Mohawk Park.

On Saturday night at Woodbine Mohawk Park, another example of his adaptability will be on display, namely, Warrawee Whisper.

“Mark Steacy, I’ve had horses with him in the past, and we chatted about three or four weeks ago,” said Bullock. “He was asking what I was doing with my slot, and I didn’t know at that point. I didn’t have a horse that I felt was competitive, unfortunately, so in the end, we sat down and worked out this deal.”

While Bullock won’t get into the specifics, he did offer some insight into the agreement.

“I’m not going to share the terms of the deal – everybody sold theirs a little differently – but mine is a participation...

Dave Landry

Even though his own horse won’t race in the Mohawk Million, John Fielding said, “I think the Million is a great race and I think it’s a great idea.”

if the horse wins I get more money than if the horse finishes sixth. That’s where it is. I think this horse of theirs is competitive. He’s not the favorite and we’re a longshot, but I think the horse will be competitive in there.”

He doesn’t need be reminded it’s a horse race, one that happens to be a 2-year-old trotting race.

“You can’t win in the barn,” said Bullock. “Anything can happen. I recall a few years ago that John Bax and I – between him and his owners, and myself – we had three horses in the Peaceful Way. Mission Brief was in there and was something like 1-5. When they came by the grandstand, Mission Brief was running rather than trotting, and a guy sitting next to me said, ‘Now we can finish 1,2,3.’ I laughed and said, ‘Sure.’ But that’s exactly what happened. We were hoping that amongst the three of them, one would get a check, but it turned out much better than that.”

This time, Bullock, president and CEO of Cadillac Fairview Corporation between 1987 and 1993, who held the same title at Laidlaw Inc. from 1993 to 1999, only needs to worry about one spot.

He's happy to be in that position.

"We'll be there and will be watching. It's an interesting format."

One of the highest profile and successful names in harness racing, John Fielding, is a two-time owner of the year, whose star pupils include Pinkman, Father Patrick, Shake It Cerry, Maven, and 2018 Hambletonian Oaks winner, Manchego.

Fielding will be represented in the Million by Insta Glam.

Trained by Nancy Takter for Goran Falk and Christina Takter, the daughter of Father Patrick is four-for-seven and earlier this season set a new track record of 1:54 at Harrah's Philadelphia.

"It wasn't an ideal situation," said Fielding, who has won over 20 Breeders Crown races, and also enjoyed great success with thoroughbreds. "I'm partners on my spot with the people [David Anderson, Robert Leblanc, Marvin Katz and Fielding] who own Spy Booth. Unfortunately, he made a break in the [William] Wellwood elimination, so he didn't make the final. We decided to send him back home. That group, we were kind of stuck for who we were going to use. I thought I was going to use Locatelli [a bay son of Muscle Hill], but he made a break in the final of the Wellwood, and Nancy Takter just didn't think he was quite mentally capable."

The third time – in the form of Insta Glam – proved to be the charm.

Teaming up with top-tier talents Gingras and Takter for the race has Fielding feeling optimistic.

"The key for us in picking Insta Glam was the fact that we get Nancy Takter and we get Yannick Gingras. Unfortunately, that comes with the nine-hole, but we can't pick that. It was thrown at us and we'll have to deal with that. I think we have a top team in Nancy and Yannick. I look at that as an edge, and then we have a filly that probably needed that last start. She had a track record under her belt already, so I think she's got a legitimate chance.

"I think the Million is a great race and I think it's a great idea," said Fielding, founder of Array Marketing, a leading global provider of retail merchandising solutions. "For 2-year-olds, it's quite a challenge. Anything can happen. The filly, Donna Soprano, is a top, top horse, and the horse [Venerate] of Julie and Andy Miller's, who has post 10... that's a good horse. My history with the Taktors – we had other options – I've had horses with them for years. I've known Nancy since she was around 10 – that's how long I've had horses with Jimmy. We wanted to keep it in the family and that's what we've done."

Owners Jeffrey Snyder and Gina Ghent (Dreamland Farm) both negotiated to secure starters for the Million.

by Snyder, who made a deal with Michael Sergi, Sam Sergi and Braveheart Racing to allow them to race Tokyo Seelster in the Mohawk Million.

"I knew we were looking for a slot to have a horse in the race because we had purchased a spot in the race earlier in the year," said Snyder. "I was scouring the races, studying them, and in particular, I watched the William Wellwood. I thought Tokyo Seelster closed very strongly to finish third. He closed in :28.3. I saw the owners were Mike Sergi and Sam Sergi, and I had sold them a horse many years ago – about 15 years ago – and I also sold them a breeding to Red River Hanover as well. So, I said, 'Look at that. I'm going to call Mike.' We reached an agreement to race the horse in the Mohawk Million."

Bred by Seelster Farms, Tokyo Seelster won his debut by a neck on June 30 at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

"The horse seems to be in good shape and hopefully, we can get a little piece of it," said Snyder. "That would be great. I just hope the horse gets a decent position, somewhere in the middle of the pack, and then he can close. You never know what can happen in a 2-year-old trotting race."

Brad Maxwell trainee Full Of Muscles has been secured to race in the slot of Dreamland Farm. The son of Muscle Mass, owned by Farhi Standardbreds Corp, just missed a victory in last Saturday's OSS Gold at Woodbine Mohawk Park and has notched four runner-up efforts in six starts.

Woodbine's leading owner Brad Grant has negotiated with the connections of Kentucky Sires Stakes champion Venerate to race in his slot.

Conditioned by Julie Miller, the son of French stallion Love You won the state final at The Red Mile last Sunday in a snappy 1:51.4. He now has three wins from six starts, along with $186,766 in purse earnings for Pinske Stables and Andy Miller Stable. Andrew McCarthy, who recently won both the Canadian Trotting Classic and Elegantimage, will be in the race bike.

The $1,320,000 (CAD) Mohawk Million is Race 10 on Saturday's $2.8 million card. Post time is approximately 10:45 p.m.

Blais pair ready for inaugural Mohawk Million

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Luc Blais will have two horses in Saturday's (Sept. 26) inaugural Mohawk Million for 2-year-old trotters at Woodbine Mohawk Park, so he is understandably excited about the event. But the trainer knows he is not alone in being pumped up about Canada's richest race since 2012.

The Mohawk Million is the first million-dollar buy-in race in harness racing history. Nine spots in the 10-horse field were available for purchase for $110,000 (U.S.), with the final slot in the race given to the winner of the William Wellwood Memorial.

Blais-trained On A Streak won the Wellwood to earn his place in the Mohawk Million. The colt is owned by Serge Godin's Determination stable, which also had purchased a spot in the race. Donna Soprano, the Blais-Determination tandem's undefeated filly, was selected by her connections to fill that spot.

"It's very exciting," Blais said. "At the beginning, you've got a slot, but you don't know what horse will be there. Now, we're in. We are lucky, our horses have been racing well. You need luck in this game, and I think everything is going well right now. I hope it keeps going in that direction.

"But we all feel the same this week. We all feel excited. This is something new and I think people are interested to see it. That is good for the game."

The Mohawk Million carries a Canadian purse of $1.32 million, which converts to $1 million U.S. dollars. The winner of the race will receive the traditional 50 per cent purse payout and all starters will receive at least one per cent of the purse.

Donna Soprano, undefeated in five races this year, will start the Mohawk Million from post three with regular driver Bob McClure. Her victories include the Peaceful Way Stakes, a division of the Champlain Stakes, and the Pure Ivory Series final. She has won every race by a minimum of one length and average of nearly three lengths.

"I think she has a lot of character," Blais said. "She was not easy to bring here, but we figured her out, the way she wanted things. Every start is better and better, and she is more handy on the racetrack. Her last couple starts, she looks like a real professional. She acts like a special horse."

Donna Soprano is a daughter of Donato Hanover out of the O'Brien Award winning mare Windsong Soprano. She was purchased for $190,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale. She has earned $210,820 this season.

Blais and Determination selected Donna Soprano for the Mohawk Million over stablemate Macho Martini, a colt who won his first seven races before finishing third in the Wellwood Memorial and then suffering interference and going off stride in the stretch of an Ontario Sire Stakes Gold division.

"It was a good problem," Blais said about having to make a choice. "Macho Martini already has nine starts this year and he raced very big in the Wellwood. He had a rough mile. Donna has only five starts and she looks very hot right now."

On A Streak, a son of Cantab Hall out of Habit's Best, is a half-brother to O'Brien Award winner Habitat and was purchased for $155,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale. He got his first win in the Wellwood, where he bested previously undefeated Southwind Tyrion by a head. A week earlier in their Wellwood elimination, On A Streak suffered a nose defeat to Southwind Tyrion.

"He was second that day, but he raced big," Blais said. "I was not really surprised (when he won the Wellwood). He is getting better and better every start. It seems he is more mature and he knows what to do now, more than in the beginning. He is a nice horse, a very strong horse. He just needed a little maturity and now I think he's there."

On A Streak will start the Mohawk Million from post seven with driver Scott Young.

It is with great excitement and pride that Hanover Shoe Farms announces the addition of 3-year-old pacing colt phenom Tall Dark Stranger to its stallion roster for the 2021 breeding season. With a record of 1:49.1 at 2 and a current record of 1:47.1 at 3 and $1,741,645 earned thus far, Tall Dark Stranger has a remarkable slate of 16 wins and 1 second from 18 career starts.

Owned by Crawford Farms Racing, Marvin and Lynn Katz, Caviart Farms and Howard and Marlene Taylor, trained by Nancy Takter and driven by Yannick Gingras, Tall Dark Stranger is the only horse in history to win the Metro Pace and Breeders Crown as a 2-year-old and return to racing as a 3-year-old and win both the Meadowlands Pace and North America Cup. Tall Dark Stranger also won the International Stallion Stakes at 2 in route to being voted 2-Year-Old Colt Pacer of the Year in both the United States and Canada. This year at three, in addition to the Meadowlands Pace and North America Cup he has also captured the Cane Pace and the Kentucky Sire Stakes Final. Tall Dark Stranger is scheduled to start next at The Red Mile and then go on to the Breeders Crown at Hoosier Park.

Seemingly destined for greatness from his birth, Tall Dark Stranger was a $330,000 purchase from the 2018 Lexington Selected Sale. Bred by James Avritt, Sr., Tall Dark Stranger was considered by many to be the premier pacing colt offered at that venue that year. A stunning individual by the legendary stallion Bettors Delight, Tall Dark Stranger hails from one of harness racing's most prolific families. He is out of world champion and Dan Patch and O'Brien Award Winning 2-Year-Old Pacing Filly of the Year Precocious Beauty p,2,1:50.1 ($838,004), she a sister to successful pacing stallion Sportswriter and out of a sister to Swinging Beauty P,1:49.4 ($893,268) and the grandam of Downbytheseaside P,2,1:49, 3.1:48.3f ($2,179,558) whose eagerly awaited first crop of yearlings sell this fall.

"Russell and I are thrilled and honored to have been given the chance to add such an illustrious pacing stallion to our roster," said

Dave Landry

Tall Dark Stranger (Yannick Gingras, winning at Red Mile in 2019) will stand at Hanover Shoe Farms beginning in 2021.

Hanover executive vice-president Dr. Bridgette Jablonsky. "We believe he is the most accomplished pacer to enter the stallion ranks since Captaintreacherous. This will be our first partnership with Crawford Farms, Caviart Farms and Howard Taylor, which is exciting and the third stallion we stand that Marvin Katz owns part of — Captaintreacherous and Bar Hopping being the two others. It is a pleasure to work with Marvin. He has vast knowledge of the breeding business and a terrific band of broodmares to support his stallions."

Trainer Nancy Takter said Tall Dark Stranger, "one of the best pacers we have seen. A champion at 2 and 3, he's done things that no horse has ever done. He's a pleasure to train and knows that his job is to win."

Driver Yannick Gingras said that Tall Dark Stranger is the best pacing colt he has ever driven.

"He has all the tools needed for greatness — speed, gait, and looks — but above all his desire to win races is truly unbelievable to me. He's a champion in every sense of the word," Gingras said.

Tall Dark Stranger will stand in Pennsylvania His service fee and details concerning the syndication will be forthcoming.

Don Lindsey hoping to cash in tonight in Prospect Series finals at Grand River

by Sandra Snyder

Tonight (Sept. 25), Grand River Raceway will play host to the inaugural edition of the Prospect Series Finals.

Open to horses nominated to the Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) program, the Prospect Series was held at smaller racetracks across the province with five legs per division. In each leg, or by entering a leg that did not draw five contestants, horses accumulated points toward the $15,000 Finals.

Trainer Don Lindsey will harness Hall Of Secrets in the 3-year-old trotting colt final, the last of the eight finals on tap tonight, and the Fergus, ON resident is hoping the gelding can match the winning effort he put together in the Sept. 13 leg at Flamboro Downs (video here).

"He was very good his last start. He's been inconsistent this summer," said Lindsey, whose farm is just 11 kilometres from Grand River. "He's showed some really good miles and he's showed some not spectacular performances. I thought when we shut him down last year that he would fill out and be a big strong horse and be a little better than he turned out to be. He seems to be getting a little better lately, but he started off the year just a little behind where we thought he might be."

Lindsey trains the Angus Hall gelding for his father, Paul Lindsey, who purchased the gelding out of the 2018 London Selected Yearling Sale for $15,000. Up until 2002, the elder Lindsey trained his own horses and it was the experience of growing up around racehorses that led his son to choose a career in harness racing over a full-time career in farming.

"My dad always had standardbreds. We usually had a couple that we were jogging and training at the farm. We had dairy cows growing up, and then when I was 19 my dad got out of the dairy cows," said Lindsey, adding that his father also dabbled in the breeding side of the business. "I was flip-flopping between farming and training horses. I enjoy both. I still enjoy both very much. I went to college for a bit and then I took a year off from college and worked for Budd Thorne, and then I went back and finished college and when I came back out I immediately went back working with the standardbreds. I worked for Dave Menary and then I worked for Scott Donaldson and then decided to go on my own."

When Lindsey launched his own stable in 2004 his dad was an early supporter, along with Paul Kleinpaste and William Alempijevic. The partners started with 'B' track horses and then advanced to claimers, purchased a few yearlings along the way, and have found their niche buying three-year-olds to race in the conditioned ranks.

"Our main bread and butter for the last so many years has been buying overnight horses to race. We kind of follow the OSS program all year and we have had luck finding ones we like in that program that turn out to be good overnight horses," said Lindsey. "I have a barn of very nice horses right now. There's a few of them that are conditioned horses that race weekly at Mohawk, and then I have some younger horses that are racing and a few that are B track horses, but the majority currently right now are older conditioned horses."

In addition to Hall Of Secrets, Lindsey has sent 2-year-old trotting gelding Warrawee Windsor (Royalty For Life) and 3-year-old pacing gelding Poseidon Seelster (Sunshine Beach) behind the gate in OSS action this summer.

Poseidon Seelster is a recent addition to the barn, purchased with an eye to the gelding's prospects as an aged horse. In his first start for Lindsey, Kleinpaste, Alempijevic and Garth Bechtel, Poseidon Seelster finished third in a Grassroots leg, securing a spot in the Oct. 2 Semi-Finals.

"That's the plan, next week race him in the Grassroots Semi-Final and hopefully the Grassroots Final and from there we'll play it by ear," said the trainer. "Hopefully he'll make the leap to a Saturday night horse."

Among the horses that have made that leap for Lindsey and his partners are five-year-old Shadow Play son Yacht Seelster and 9-year-old Stonebridge Regal gelding Regal Son. Both horses will be part of Saturday's Mohawk Million undercard on Sept. 26 with Yacht Seelster competing in the non-winners of $22,000 conditioned level and Regal Son in the non-winners of $8,000 class. Both horses were purchased at the end of their OSS career and Yacht Seelster now boasts lifetime earnings of $258,584, while Regal Son has accumulated $555,614.

One of the early successes in the horseman's strategy of acquiring 3-year-olds at the end of their provincial stakes careers was Alexie Mattosie. Lindsey, Kleinpaste, Alempijevic and Dennis Mavrin purchased the No Pan Intended son in 2009 and the gelding went on to earn over $1.1 million in his career. Along the way Alexie Mattosie battled the best open pacers on both sides of the border and bested Foiled Again in the 2011 William Haughton Memorial.

"We bought him after the Grassroots Final and he raced at the top level. Him winning the William Haughton Memorial was a highlight," said Lindsey, who retired Alexie Mattosie to the Fergus farm in 2017. "Then I had a trotter by the name of Keystone Orion (Angus Hall) that I bought as a yearling in Harrisburg (in 2010) and he won a Gold at 2 and a Gold at 3."

Lindsey's operation typically houses 10 to 14 horses, a number that works well for the trainer, who manages the stable with the support of family and fellow trainer Steve Davis.

"I'm stabled on the farm where I grew up, I live here now. My dad's out every day, jogs and trains his own horses. My brother (Glen) helps part-time with his horse, and then Steve Davis, he stables a couple horses here and he helps me jog and train," said Lindsey. "There's currently 12 horses in training. Depends on the season – in the winter months 12 to 14 and in the summer I prefer the 10 to 12. We still, as a family, do have a small cash crop operation. It's more my brother and my dad, but I try to help there."

With a formula that is working for Lindsey, his partners and his family, wife Andrea and sons Brennan, 6, and Jack, 3, the horseman has no intentions of making any changes in the near future. He will be keeping an eye out for potential 3-year-olds and possibly acquiring a few yearlings in the fall, keeping in mind advice imparted by the late Mark Austin.

"Mark Austin really pressed into me to have two-thirds racehorses and a third young horses, I think that's a pretty good rule," said Lindsey, who has put Austin's advice to work alongside the knowledge gained from his father and the other horse people who have shared their wisdom over the years. "I've learned from a lot of people. There's a lot of really good people in this game that you can learn a lot from."

Lexington Mixed catalog now available

The sale catalog and past performances booklet for the Lexington Selected Mixed Sale are now available on the sales company's website, lexingtonselected.com, and on the Equineline sales catalog app.

The sale will be held Saturday, Oct. 10, the evening after the annual Selected Yearling sale concludes. Post time is 7 p.m. at the Fasig-Tipton Newtown Paddocks in Lexington, KY.

The mixed sale includes the full spectrum of horses, plus stallion shares.

"Market breeders will want to make note of the mares selling," said co-manager David Reid. "We have mares in foal to leading trotting sires Muscle Hill and Father Patrick, along with many in foal to young stallions like Walner, Tactical Landing, International Moni and Greenshoe."

Among the top young mares on offer is Strong Legacy, in foal to International Moni and carrying a half-sibling to recent Kentucky Sire Stakes 2-Year-Old Filly Trot Champion Lady Chaos 2,1:53.1 ($248,303).

Reid said there are several race fillies and mares that fit the "race or breed" category, with those perhaps led by the 3-year-old Trixton filly Violet Stride 2,1:52, International Stallion Stakes winner at 2 and half-sister to a Breeders Crown champion.

A number of the racehorses cataloged have been racing in sire stakes in Lexington, or are planning to enter stakes or overnights during the Grand Circuit meet.

Some of the top horses shipping in to sell are the 3-year-old colt It's Academic, who comes to the sale fresh off a World Record 1:53.1 win in the Ohio Breeders Championship at Delaware; and the Muscle Hill 4-year-old Marseille, a stakes winner of more than a half-million dollars who defeated Greenshoe in the Beal.

Supplements to the sale are now being accepted. Those interested in joining the sale add-on should contact their agent or call (914) 773-7777 or (859) 255-8431.

September now super at Big M windows

Historically, wagering at The Meadowlands has been less than spectacular in September. In fact, the last time there was harness racing at the mile oval in the ninth month of the year, the average handle was a mere $1.6 million on the four cards conducted in 2017.

But since then, a cavalry has appeared to save the day.

Garden State Gov. Phil Murphy – along with the members of the New Jersey Legislature – approved an appropriation earmarked for the horse racing industry in the winter of 2019, which increased purses at the track, which created the positive cycle of bigger fields, better horses and bigger handle.

Over the last four race cards of September 2020, the average handle stands at $2.5 million.

"The appropriation has made quite a difference," said Big M chief operating officer and general manager Jason Settlemyer. "We are very appreciative of the work Gov. Murphy and members of the Legislature did. New Jersey has experienced a resurgence as the leader in the harness industry, with a revitalized breeding industry. It's also allowed The Meadowlands to offer lower takeouts to bring bettors everywhere in the world back to New Jersey."

THE MAGNIFICENT SEVEN: The Big M's betting menu offers seven wagers nightly that offer low 15 per cent takeouts. There have been several adjustments to the lineup, as "jackpot" wagers have been eliminated to further lower takeout to horseplayers.

The bets:

- Race 1: 20-cent Pick-5
- Race 3: 20-cent Pick-6
- Race 5: 10-cent Pentafecta
- Race 6: 50-cent Pick-4
- Race 9: 20-cent Pick-5
- Race 10: 50-cent Pick-4
- Race 13: 10-cent Pentafecta

FREE STUFF: For free past performances, go to playmeadowlands.com, where one can access races nine through 13 for both the Friday and Saturday programs. Those races include the 20-cent Late Pick-5, 50-cent Late Pick-4 and 10-cent Late Pentafecta, not to mention the Late Daily Double.

HOT TO TROT: Last weekend (Sept. 18-19), three drivers – Dexter Dunn, Tim Tetrick and Todd McCarthy – registered five winners.

McCarthy, 27, a newcomer to the Big M driver colony, has nine victories over the last three programs at the track, the first nine wins of his career at the mile oval since his arrival from Australia.

On the training side, Marcus Melander, Nancy Takter and Tony Alagna had three trips to the winner's circle apiece.

COME OUT, TUNE IN: Seven races with a purse of at least $100,000 are on tonight's (Sept. 25) card at Indiana's Hoosier Park while Woodbine Mohawk Park offers another in what has been a string of super Saturday (Sept. 26) programs of late, with the $455,000 She's A Great Lady, $215,000 Milton, $720,000 Metro and $1.3 million Mohawk Million the featured events on a night when over $2.8 million in purses will be doled out.

TWEET THE TEAM: Stay in touch on Twitter with the Big M's Dave Brower (@eedoogie), Dave Little (@DaveLittleBigM), Ken Warkentin (@kenvoiceover) and Jessica Otten (@JessicaOtten1). Check in everyday for Meadowlands news and updates at those handles, as well as @TheMeadowlands and #playbigm.

Trotting colts wrap up 2020 Grassroots regular season

The 2020 Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Grassroots regular season came to a close on Tuesday (Sept. 22) at Woodbine Mohawk Park with a quartet of $22,800 divisions for the 3-year-old trotting colts.

Lovedbythemasses kicked off the finale in impressive fashion, taking command at the half and sailing home to a three-length victory in a personal best 1:53.4. Crossfit Mouse finished second and Charmbo Prince was third.

"He doesn't leave real good, we don't get away great with him, but we had a good post today and I thought if I could just get away close I would try to re-move him to the front, so it kind of worked like that," said Mike Saftic, who piloted the fan favorite from Post 4. "Scott Young (with Crossfit Mouse) went first and then I just kind of followed to the front, and when he made front he felt good. He swelled up and made a good effort.

"A nice clean trip and he trotted real good, finished up strong. It was a good mile, a lifetime mark, so hopefully we're going into the Semis in good shape."

Saftic steers Lovedbythemasses for trainer Ed Peconi of Peterborough and his co-owners Nicholas Peconi of Lakefield, ON and Wade Peconi of Stanchel, PEI, who also bred the son of Muscle Mass. The reigning Grassroots champion, Lovedbythemasses was a two-time winner in 2020 while also squaring off on several occasions against Gold Series and open stake colts, and he heads into the postseason ranked eighth with 112 points.

Leading the 3-year-old trotting colts into the Oct. 2 Semi-Finals is Mikey Mass, who picked up his third Grassroots win in the second $22,800 division on Tuesday. Starting from Post 1, the fan favorite got away fifth and then stalked Ripped And Ready up the outer lane as Remember Titans put up fractions of :28.2, :57.4 and 1:25.4. Slipping out in the stretch, Mikey Mass sprinted home to a two length victory in a personal best 1:54.2. Ripped And Ready was second and Remember Titans third.

"He seems like he's going into the Semis very well right now. I was happy to see him race off a helmet the way he did today. It was nice to see him follow cover. He did everything right today and Jonathan really drove him well," said trainer Nick Gallucci of the second-over trip carved out by driver Jonathan Drury. "I like how he finishes his miles, he seems like he's as strong at the end as he is at the start."

Gallucci shares ownership of the Muscle Mass son with Vince Gallucci of Brantford, Frank Cirillo of Kleinburg and Bruno Didiomede of Hamilton, ON. The Stouffville resident said his girlfriend Karoline Nielsen handles the majority of the gelding's care and has him in an excellent state of mind heading into the postseason.

"Right now he's really sharp, he's enjoying life, he seems like he's thriving on whatever she's doing with him," said Gallucci. "She does a lot of the track work with him, looks after him, the odd time I'll train him, but mostly everything that happens with him is her doing. She's doing a good job with him."

Joining Mikey Mass and Lovedbythemasses in the Semi-Final will be Life Is A Feast, who needed a win on Tuesday to extend his Ontario Sires Stakes season. The Royalty For Life gelding and driver James MacDonald left well from Post 2 and shadowed pacesetting favorite Blue

Cupertino through fractions of :28.4, :58.1 and 1:28 before shifting into a big gear in the stretch and snaring a one-half length victory in 1:55.4. Blue Cupertino settled for second and Your Still Up was six lengths back in third.

“He pretty much had to do something tonight to get in the Semi-Final,” said Puslinch, ON resident Ben Wallace, who trains the gelding for Paul Fontaine of North Smithfield, RI. “We dropped him out of the other bunch, the Gold level, maybe we should have done it right off the bat, but he had a real good two-year-old year down in the Massachusetts Sires Stakes. Mind you it’s a different world up here and it worked out that he’s better suited in this group, so hopefully he keeps putting it together and behaves himself and goes forward.”

Tuesday’s win and a Sept. 10 runner-up finish to Blue Cupertino give Life Is A Feast 75 Grassroots points and put him in a tie for twelfth, with none other than Blue Cupertino.

The final $23,150 division saw Kenogami Coco post his second straight Grassroots win with a 1:56.2 personal best that saw him leave well from Post 5, sit third and then power home one and one-quarter lengths ahead of Tymal Riggs and Lexus Markus.

“He was way better tonight than he was in the last Grassroots he won,” said driver Louis-Philippe Roy of Guelph. “He was quiet in the post parade, he cleared easily early in the stretch and then was just waiting for them. I know it wasn’t the fastest division of the night, but the way he raced tonight I like his chances for the Semi-Finals.”

Roy drives the Wheeling N Dealin son for trainer Dany Fontaine and breeders Jean-Francois and Marie-Claude Reid of Anjou, QC.

The Grassroots Semi-Finals go postward next Thursday and Friday at Woodbine Mohawk Park, with the two-year-olds battling on Oct. 1 and the three-year-olds on Oct. 2. The top 20 point earners from each division will compete in their respective Semi-Finals with the top five finishers then advancing to the Oct. 10 Grassroots Championships.

Liberty Bell stakes at Harrah’s Philadelphia

The Liberty Bell stakes series commenced its annual fall run at Harrah’s Philadelphia on Wednesday afternoon (Sept. 23), with over $160,000 in purses offered to 2-year-old fillies on both gaits.

There were three divisions for pacers, and the chalk won all three – though the heaviest favorite of all gave the crowd some tension before they could get their nickel profit for every win dollar bet. Grace Hill, second in her Pennsylvania Sire Stakes Championship behind Blue Diamond Eyes (who won the Kentucky program’s final this past Sunday) looked to be sailing along for driver Todd McCarthy after setting fractions of :28.2, :56.1, and 1:24.2.

However, pocket-sitter Natchez Belle kept chopping into the margin – four lengths at the half, two at the three-quarters, 1¼ lengths at the stretch call and narrowing with every step towards the wire. But Grace Hill, a daughter of Somebeachsomewhere out of the $1.6M+-winning Western Silk, dug down and won by a head in 1:53.1, running her scorecard to 6 4-2-0, $202,772 for trainer Nifty Norman and owner Tom Hill.

Another filly with a distinguished pedigree as a half-sister to Huntsville, the Betting Line–Wild West Show miss Let ‘Er Buck, made two moves to control the throttle through splits of :28, :57.3, and 1:25.3, then turned back first-over Southwind Mina by 1¼ lengths in 1:53.4, a career best, for driver Mark MacDonald and owner/trainer Ray Schnittker.

The fastest winner was the Captaintreacherous–Miss Kitty Hanover filly Mackie Hanover, who sped right to the top from the outside post six and hung up numbers of :28, :57.1, and 1:24.3 en route to a three-length triumph in a lifetime best 1:52.4. George Brennan, a four-time winner during the card, was in the sulky for trainer Tom Fanning and owners Howard Taylor and Falcon Racing LLC.

On the trotting side, it was finally the day for “the world’s richest maiden,” the Donato Hanover–Dream Child filly You Ato Dream, who had been second in all four of her PA Sire Stakes preliminaries and the Championship while earning $157,556. Here You Ato Dream worked her way to the lead for trainer/driver Jeff Gregory near the :28 quarter, put up mid-splits of :57 and 1:25, then was kept to business to withstand potential pocket rocket May Karp in 1:54.2, a maiden mark. Jeff Gregory Inc. owns the talented miss with William Richardson, George Romanoff, and Martin Garey.

in the other section. With a filly who had shown both speed and shaky manners, driver George Brennan was in no hurry to rush the baby, letting her follow the early cover of favored Myreanna, who claimed the lead midway between the :28.1 quarter and the :57.2 half, and then claimed the top going to the midrace mark. From there Wixx Hanover had total command, reaching the three-quarters in 1:26 and going off to a three length victory over the chalk for trainer Roland Mallar, co-owner with Patrick Leavitt and William Hartt.

Quebec Championship Finals at H3R Sunday

This Sunday (Sept. 27) the Quebec Jockey Club plays host to the Quebec Championship Finals with eight events for 2- and 3-year-old harness racing trotters and pacers at the Hippodrome 3R.

It is the richest day of racing in all of Quebec with purses on the 12-race program totaling more than $500,000. The Future Stars Series Finals for 2-year-olds each race for a purse of $55,000 while the Breeders Trophy Series Finals for 3-year-olds race for $65,000 each.

Adding to the race program is the return of world class drivers Sylvain Filion and Louis-Philippe Roy to their home province. Sylvain Filion will compete in nine of the 12 races presented, including five finals, Louis-Philippe Roy in 10 of the 12 races and six of the finals. No doubt they come to spice up and enhance the quality of the show offered with their presence.

Here is a brief synopsis of the eight championship finals Sunday.

2YO Filly Trot Final - With only four entered, this race will be non-wagering, held after the 1st race. Also, the race is non-wagering because of Mag N Lady (Royalty For Life). She starts from post one, has swept all three legs of the series, and last week became the first two-year-old filly to trot under two minutes in the history of H3R with a track record 1:59.2 mile for trainer-driver Jean Francios Maquire.

2YO Colt Trot Final - 3rd race - Kinnder Dangerzone (Northern Escort) is the colt to beat. Has swept all three legs of the series with ease for driver Pierre-Luc Roy and owner, trainer, breeder Denitza Petrova. Hall Win (Angus Hall) in post two has a win in the series when not going against Kinnder Dangerzone. He will be driven by Pierre-Luc's younger brother, Louis-Philippe Roy.

2YO Filly Pace Final - 7th race – Sylvain Filion has come back home to H3R to drive dad's horses (Yves) and he is aboard Celia Bayama (Bettor's Delight), who ships back to H3R after taking lifetime mark at Mohawk Park with 1:54 score in Grassroots action. She has won three of her last four starts. CL Sportsextreme (Sportswriter) has been very sharp with Jonathan Lachance in the sulky.

2YO Colt Pace Final - 9th race - Yves Filion's coupled entry of Cadillac Bayama (Sylvain drives) and Colonel Bayama (Yves drives) looms way over this field. Cadillac Bayama won two legs of the series and has been super competitive in the Grassroots, race timed last week in 1:52. Colonel Bayama just won in series and they will take on contenders YS Do It Right (Louis-Philippe Roy) and The Light Speed (Pascal Berube).

3YO Filly Trot Final - 2nd race - Another Denitza Petrova standout is Kinnder High Class (post 3). Filly by Royalty For Life won two legs of the series and last week scored lifetime best 2:00 win against older trotters. Rivals include HP Starlette (post 6) and Lindas Pride (post 7).

3YO Colt Trot Final - 6th race - Kenogami Coco (Wheeling N Dealin) ships back to H3R after scoring two impressive wins in the Grassroots at Mohawk Park, the fastest in 1:56.2. Last year's 2yo winner, Babidibou, who was last year's champion has also been very sharp and Frido PV is also a decent contender.

3YO Filly Pace Final - 10th race - Tough call here as last year's champion, Acaena De Chakrika (Sunshine Beach) takes on Streakazana (Western Paradise). Streakazana is on an impressive three-race winning streak, beating Acaena De Chakrika last week. Two top fillies plus Zar E IP (Up The Credit) will make this a tough race.

3YO Colt Pace Final - 11th race - Saving the best for last. Eclat De Rire (Leader Bayama) is the defending 2019 champion and just made it to the final. Stablemate/entry Retour Au Jeu (He's Watching) is the sharper of the two, having won three of his last four starts, the fastest a lifetime mark of 1:54.2. Mickeymaksomespeed (Mickey Hanover) just popped at H3R in 1:54.2 and has won three of his last four starts. Whitecookie (Windfall Blue Chip) and HP I Got To Play (Shadow Play) are also contenders in this tough field.

First race post time on Sunday is 1 p.m.

Kentucky Harness Association launches website

The Kentucky Harness Association (KHA) is pleased to announce the launch of its website (kyharness.com) dedicated to its members and growth of the harness industry in Kentucky. The KHA was established to promote, support and facilitate growth in the harness industry in Kentucky and to promote and encourage cooperative efforts among racetracks, owners, breeders, trainers and drivers, fans, and other industry participants for the overall benefit of the industry.

The KHA is seeking new members with a common desire to grow the KHA and support it in its efforts increase visibility on issues that impact the industry on local, state, and national levels, while continuing to promote the Kentucky harness racing and breeding industry. Membership is presently free for owners, breeders, trainers and drivers and associate members that are involved in the industry in Kentucky as service providers, fans or others that love harness racing.

Acting as a united voice to promote the industry, members will receive regular legislative updates, horse health and welfare notices, racetrack developments and news, including medication issues, and tax and economic news. More importantly, the KHA will develop and secure group benefits (insurance programs, purchasing discounts, etc.) for members.

“The future of harness racing in Kentucky is bright. I have never been more excited about the industry in Kentucky with the new $225M+ Oak Grove Racing and Gaming Complex, the growth and expansion of The Red Mile and the rejuvenated Kentucky Sire Stakes and Fair programs. With my 40+ years of experience in the business and through the friendships we have built, our goal with the KHA is to be the unifying force in harness racing in Kentucky, nationally and internationally to grow the sport and business we love,” said Bob Brady, president of the KHA. “We encourage everyone to join and become an active member as Kentucky regains its stature as the harness capital of the world.”
