Oh Well gives Hunterton a Mohawk Million hat trick

The $530,000 yearling was driven to victory by Tim Tetrick for trainer Marcus Melander and owner S R F Stable.

by Chris Lomon / Woodbine communications

Claus Andersen

Race favorite Oh Well (Tim Tetrick) won the third edition of the $1 million Mohawk Million for 2-year-old trotters on Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park in 1:53.4.

Ontario

Oh Well strolled to a sparkling score in Saturday's (Sept. 24) $1 million Mohawk Million, at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

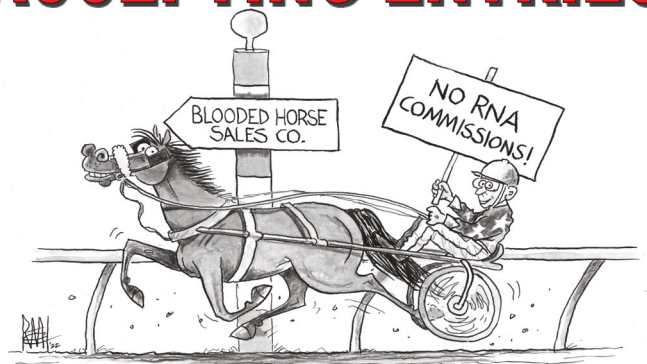

After breeding the first two Mohawk Million winners, Venerate in 2020, and Venerable in 2021, Hunterton Farm's Steve and Cindy Stewart decided to purchase one of nine $100,000 slots (the final slot goes to the winner of the William Wellwood Memorial) with a few partners for this year's edition of the unique two-year-old trotting event.

It proved to be a winning idea.

Dws Point Man was on-point early, blasting from post eight to take the early lead, as Oh Look Magic couldn't find a seat and sat second, while Hasty Bid and Oh Well were next in line through an opening panel of :27.3.

Oh Look Magic, still travelling on the outside, wrested the lead away from a stubborn Dws Point Man, as Oh Well, with Tim Tetrick in the race bike, popped out and set sail for the front after a half reached in :56.1.

Mohawk Million slot owner Cindy Stewart hugs winning trainer Marcus Melander in the winner's circle.

Sent on his way as the 3-5 choice, Oh Well, on top by a head after three-quarters in 1:24.4, braced for the bid of a hard-charging Winners Bet, who had begun to circle his way into connection before making a break and leaving his rival an open-length leader with the finish line drawing ever closer.

At the wire, Oh Well, trained by Marcus Melander, and owned by S R F Stable (Lennart Agren and Jan Johnson), was a 2 ½-length victor in a stakes record-equalling 1:53.4. Silly Me Hanover, at 42-1, was second. Proud To Be Lindy, 96-1, was third, and 60-1 Hasty Bid was fourth.

"I just had to be careful on the rail. You just don't want to get pinned, and then not get out," said Tetrick, of his rail post. "I don't think the size of the track even bothers him at all. He's a big strong colt, he's great gaited, and I mainly just keep him focused because he'll look at butterflies if you let him. He's got a big engine, he never gets tired, and he's a really nice colt."

Fashioning a record of 4-2-0 from six starts, Oh Well, a son of Muscle Hill—Fine Tuned Lady, was a $530,000 purchase at the 2021 Standardbred Horse Sales Company's yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA. The colt was bred by Concord Stud.

He was second in his first race, just a nose behind, in a New Jersey Sires Stakes race at The Meadowlands in June that went in 1:53.4.

A maiden-breaking score on July 8 was followed by a three-quarter length triumph in his $240,000 New Jersey Sires Stakes division final two weeks later.

Finishing second in the Peter Haughton on Aug. 6, Oh Well took the $275,000 New Jersey Classic for New Jersey-sired horses on Sept. 16.

"Right from the start, he was a beautiful colt," said Melander. "He cost a lot of money. If you buy a high-price yearling, it doesn't mean they're going to be good. He's covered a lot of ground and he's a great horse."

A horse that delivered Hunterton, the largest standardbred farm in the world that does not stand stallions, with another memorable Mohawk Million moment.

It's a good bet one of standardbred racing's most successful breeding operations, based in Paris, KY, will be back for a shot at a Mohawk Million grand slam in 2023.

"I think that it was more of an opportunity for us to give back to the race and we have benefited tremendously, the guys and us that had the mares and bred the horses," said Steve Stewart. "It's a great opportunity. I think it's a wonderful race. It's really important I think to have a race like this for the breeders to have."

Oh Well paid $3.40 for his Mohawk Million win.

Stockade Seelster back on winning track in Metro Pace

by Chris Lomon / Woodbine communications

After tasting defeat for the first time in his career one week ago, rookie Stockade Seelster started a new win streak courtesy of an impressive performance in the $900,000 Metro Pace, Saturday night (Sept. 24) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

A bay son of State Treasurer—Soiree Seelster, Stockade Seelster arrived at the Metro off a third-place finish in his elim race on Sept. 17, ending six straight trips to the winner's circle.

On this night, he went two better and found himself in a familiar spot.

Lining up from post two, Stockade Seelster, in rein to Jody Jamieson, got away fourth as Tickertape Hanover floated up to the front and led the early parade, reaching the quarter in :27.4.

Save America, the 3-5 choice, got away fourth, but Yannick Gingras had the Nancy Takter trainee quickly on the move after the quarter, and the duo struck front. Stockade Seelster and Jamieson were also in motion, powering into second, slipping through on the inside while Save America drifted off the rail momentarily.

Stockade Seelster (Jody Jamieson) won the Metro Pace on Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park in 1:50.1.

Completing three-quarters in 1:23, Save America, unbeaten in his previous four starts, soon had company, as Stockade Seelster came calling in early stretch, eventually getting the measure of his rival to notch a three-quarter length score in a time of 1:50.1. Save America stayed on for second, Aces of Aces was third and Tickertape Hanover finished fourth.

"Well, Yannick was looking to let me go and I knew that when I moved him," said Jamieson, who notched his third Metro triumph. "He's a tough horse to drive right now. He's green and he wants to go fast all the time. There was a gap there and I took it, it's as simple as that. At the head of the lane, I thought I did have him. I was kind of shocked a bit that I had him, but I thought I had him, and he just dug in and paced right to the wire."

Trained by Dr. Ian Moore, celebrating his first Metro crown, the bay colt is owned by Paul MacDonald and his aunt, Sally MacDonald.

"This is a pretty nice colt, and I should've made the change with the bridle long before this," said Moore, who also trained State Treasurer. "He was obviously a lot more manageable tonight, and we got a full performance from him tonight. And Jody did a heck of a job, no doubt about that."

A $45,000 purchase at the 2021 London Virtual Yearling Sale, Stockade Seelster wasted no time in making an impression, winning first time out and following it up with several head-turning efforts, including pacing the fastest mile in Ontario Sires Stakes history by a freshman, 1:49.3 on Sept. 3 at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Now, he can add a Metro Pace title to his growing list of accomplishments.

"I was very happy," said Moore. "I figured that our luck may have changed when he drew the two-hole. I was expecting the 10-hole, so that was a surprise. The week before in the elimination, I was not happy here on a Saturday night. The horse and I were having a battle all week long and he just wasn't in top shape for me. This week, I was very pleased. I warmed him up, he was two fingers tonight. I could've gone another lap, but I was pleased."

Stockade Seelster paid $10.30 for the win.

Slay recovers for dramatic Canadian Trotting Classic win

by Heather MacKay for Woodbine Communications

Despite making a break in the late going, Slay quickly reset and was able to rally and haul down leader Pretender to win the $615,000 Canadian Trotting Classic for 3-year-old trotting colts on Saturday (Sept. 24) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The Chapter Seven—Swinging Royalty colt was following in the hoof prints of his older brother who won this same event last year.

The race was marred by several of the sophomores making uncharacteristic breaks, including last year's O'Brien Award winner Duly Resolved who made a costly miscue (the first of his career) as the gate left. Not long afterwards another top Ontario Sires Stakes colt, Twin B Archie, went on a gallop.

Pretender took the overland route to grab the lead from post nine for Andrew McCarthy and hit the opening quarter in :27.1 and was by the half in :56. As they headed towards the third panel, race favorite Branded by Lindy looked to be grabbing a perfect second up trip but suddenly broke stride.

Pretender took the field by the three-quarters in 1:23.3 with Slay in second but that colt, driven by Joe Bongiorno, suddenly went off stride but quickly got back on gait and was able to get up the inside to win in 1:52.1. Pretender had to be content to take second with Fast As The Wind third and King Of The North fourth.

Replay here.

There were several anxious moments for the winner's connections as the judges studied the video of the final quarter to ensure Slay lost ground while on a break which they agreed he did and the results stood.

"We just got a little bit jammed up in there, he caught a boot. It was surprising to me as it probably was to everyone else, it was very uncharacteristic for him. Like a great horse does, he got back really quick. I figured going for this kind of money I just had to drive him through the wire and let the judges make their decision," said Bongiorno.

"I was worried, but after speaking with the judges I was pretty confident. Me and (trainer) Tony (Alagna) we've had a lot of success here, that's for sure. This is a great and I'm just really happy for the connections."

"He got out of there good, he's a real tactical horse. He's pretty handy. I was as shocked as anyone (when he broke), it made sense he caught a boot the way his head dropped. We just had to wait and see that hopefully he didn't interfere with anybody," said Alagna.

"He showed determination, this horse really likes to win. It's kind of fun because we brought his brother up here last year, Ahundreddollarbill, and he won the Canadian Trotting Classic so to have to full brothers win it back to back years, both owned by the Crawfords, it's special."

Alagna also grabbed a third-place check.

"Fast As The Wind raced phenomenal tonight, he came out of the 10 hole to be third," he said adding that the pair will leave today for Lexington and likely both be entered into the Kentucky Futurity.

For Slay, owned by Crawford Farms Racing and James Crawford, it was the fifth win in 12 attempts this season. The colt upped his 2022 bankroll to $594,000 this year and over $700,000 lifetime. Bred by Jonas Schlabach, Slay is the second foal of his dam, Swinging Royalty, and remarkably both have now won the coveted Canadian Trotting Classic.

Slay was purchased for $130,000 at the 2020 Standardbred Horse Sales Company yearling auction in Timonium, MD.

Sylvia Hanover captures Shes A Great Lady

by Heather MacKay for Woodbine Communications

Heading into Saturday night's (Sept. 24) $525,000 Shes A Great Lady final at Woodbine Mohawk Park, the talk of the event were the two elimination winners Sylvia Hanover and Charleston who both came into the race riding winning streaks. The former extended hers while the latter saw her streak snapped.

The final, for 2-year-old pacing fillies, kicked off Woodbine Mohawk Park's richest night of racing anchored by the Mohawk Million. The field was reduced to nine with the late sick scratch of Bellissima Hanover.

As the race got underway it was quickly evident that Dexter Dunn, aboard Charleston, and Bob McClure, behind the favorite Sylvia Hanover, both were after the front. Charleston was able to take over that position as they exited the first turn and hit the quarter in :27.2. Sylvia Hanover, on the outside of her since the start, was able to take control before the :56.3 half and headed the youngsters by the three-quarters in 1:25.2.

Charleston popped out from second and paced hard down the stretch but could not haul down the leader who hit the wire in 1:51.4. Charleston, owned by Diamond Creek Farm, who also own the great pacing mare the race is named for, had to be content with second this night, snapping her three-race winning streak. Next to cross the wire were Treacherous Penny, Caviart Davia and Proud Mary.

"She was stretching herself out. I think she could have cleared a little easier," said McClure of Sylvia Hanover's move to the top before the half. "In races like this you're not going to get anything handed to you no matter how much of a favorite you are. Once she got the front it was business as usual, she holds them at bay.

"We kept going really fast. We were pacing hard down the lane. They were pacing with her. There's a lot of really fast fillies. She wasn't letting them get too close. It's a fun race just to be a part of, to win it is even better," he said.

"Every start she shows more and more, her first start off a qualifier when she jumped up to a 1:51 mile, that was impressive," said trainer Shawn Steacy who noted some R&R is on the filly's agenda before preparing for the Breeders Crown which will be held late next month back at the Campbellville oval.

A daughter of Always B Micki, Sylvia Hanover is owned by Hudson Standardbred of Quebec. The Hanover Shoe Farms-bred lass now has six wins in seven lifetime starts (the other was a second). Her earnings now sit at just over $480,000. Her dam, Shyaway, competed in the 2010 version of this race, finishing seventh in the final after being second in her elimination.

Sylvia Hanover was sold for $135,000 at the 2021 Standardbred Horse Sales Company's yearling auction in Harrisburg, PA.

Elegantimage final to Raised By Lindy

by Heather MacKay for Woodbine Communications

Raised By Lindy was not to be denied in Saturday night's (Sept. 24) $350,000 Elegantimage final for 3-year-old trotting fillies at Woodbine Mohawk Park, giving her driver his third title in the event which was part of the track's richest night of racing.

As the race unfolded, James MacDonald and Adare Castle were on a mission from post nine to get to the lead and were successful by the opener in :27.1. But that didn't last long as favorite Raised By Lindy came calling and was well settled at the half reached in :56.2. First up came Mon Cheval and Todd McCarthy, and they were pressuring the leader as they trotted by the 1:24.3 three-quarters.

Down the stretch, Yannick Gingras, aboard Raised By Lindy, was looking for potential threat and second favorite Warrawee Xenia but that talented lass, who left from post 11, broke in the late going. No one else was able to get by and Raised by Lindy stopped the clock in 1:52.1. Adare Castle took second with Mon Cheval third and Peyton Hanover fourth. Baby Longstocking collected the last check.

It was the fourth win of the year, and ninth lifetime, for the daughter of Walner owned by breeders Lindy Farms of Conn and trained by Domenico Cecere. It was the third Elegantimage final for Gingras who also won with Mission Brief (2015) and Ariana G (2017).

"She was (well in hand), she was fighting them off. I wasn't sure where Bobby (McClure) was so I was trying to keep her going," said Gingras who noted that having only seven starts on Raised By Lindy's card this year could help her in the autumn stakes season. "There are a lot of big races at the end of the year, so we're looking forward to a nice fall."

The Elegantimage Stakes were introduced in 2000 in honor of the great trotting mare of the same name. Bred by Diane Ingham and the late Harry Rutherford, the Balanced Image daughter earned just shy of a million dollars in her career which saw her named the best of her division in Canada following both her 2- and 3-year-old seasons.

Saturday's trophy presentation was made by Doug Millard who owned the race's namesake throughout her long and successful racing and breeding career. He reported tonight that Elegantimage died last year at the age of 27. Her final foal was also her most successful, the $511,173 winner Elegant Serenity, a daughter of Kadabra who raced in the 2015 Elegantimage finishing second in both her elimination and final for trainer/driver Roger Mayotte.

Claus Andersen

Raised By Lindy (Yannick Gingras) won the Elegantimage on Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park in 1:52.1 for Lindy Farms.

Bulldog Hanover smashes all-time track record at Harrah's Hoosier Park

by Jacob Rheinheimer

The crowd gathered at Harrah's Hoosier Park on Friday (Sept. 23) to witness the historic return of the world's fastest standardbred, Bulldog Hanover, become the fastest in Hoosier Park history with a 1:46.3 victory. Headlining a field of all-star open pacers, Bulldog Hanover didn't disappoint, scoring in absolutely dominating fashion in the Harrah's Hoosier Park Pacing Derby. It was Bulldog Hanover's first performance since his 1:46.4 Canadian-record win in the Canadian Pacing Derby at Woodbine Mohawk Park three weeks ago.

With the victory, Bulldog Hanover recorded his seventh straight victory and stamped his name in the Harrah's Hoosier Park record books.

Leaving from post two in the talented field of 10, driver Dexter Dunn elected to take back into the fifth position waiting for the dust to settle up front as Allywag Hanover and Todd McCarthy led the hot opening quarter of :25.3. Allywag Hanover relinquished to lead to a parked and pressing Desperate Man and Trevor Henry, just before Catch The Fire launched his bid for the lead with a snarling Bulldog Hanover right on his back. Catch The Fire and Andrew McCarthy crossed over to the lead at the half in :53.2 with The Bulldog set to be unleashed first over heading into the final turn.

Bulldog Hanover blitzed to the lead entering the far turn and began to flex his muscle on the field, storming to three-quarters in 1:21. In the stretch, the Harrah's Hoosier Park crowd received what they came to see, as Bulldog Hanover thundered home with a :25.3 final quarter, pacing away from an elite field of competitors by six lengths on the line to score in 1:46.3, obliterating the overall track record of 1:47:2. Allywag Hanover navigated traffic to rally up the rail to be second, Workin Ona Mystery and David Miller rounded out the trifecta.

"I knew there would be some leavers so with the post I thought we could sit back and let things play out early," driver Dexter

Bulldog Hanover (Dexter Dunn) set a 1:46.3 track record on Friday while winning the Harrah's Hoosier Park Pacing Derby.

Dunn said, "We got a good tow in the opening half, then coming around the last turn I gave him a chirp and away he went."

The 1:46.3 effort surpasses the previous track record of 1:47.2, first established by Sweet Lou in 2014, and equaled in the years since by Castle Flight, Lather Up, Little Rocket Man and Cattlewash.

"He just amazes me every time he steps on the racetrack," trainer and co-owner Jack Darling said. "I didn't really expect him to go this fast tonight, it just seems like the harder he gets used the better he is."

It was the 11th victory in 12 seasonal starts and the 10th consecutive win for the son of Shadow Play—BJs Squall. Trained and co-owned by Darling along with Bradley Grant, the top-rated horse in the sport surpassed the $1 -million mark in 2022, pushing his bankroll to $1,024,331. For his career, Bulldog Hanover has won 25 times in 33 lifetime starts with career earnings of $1,793,425.

Bella Bellini bests the boys in Caesar's Trotting Classic

by Kimberly French for Harrah's Hoosier Park

On an evening where it would be a tough act to follow world champion Bulldog Hanover's scintillating 1:46.3 track record, Belli Bellini did exactly that as she trotted past her nine male rivals on Friday (Sept. 23) to convincingly capture the fifth edition of the $220,000 Caesars Trotting Classic at Harrah's Hoosier Park in a stakes equaling effort and track record 1:51.2 from post position 10.

Steered by Dexter Dunn, Bella Bellini was in fifth position for the first quarter-mile as champion Jujubee (Andrew McCarthy) assumed command right as the mile began. After an initial fraction of :27, Cuatro De Julio wrested the lead from Jujubee and established split times of :56 and 1:23.4.

Meanwhile Forbidden Trade (Bob McClure), the 2019 Hambletonian victor and last year's winner, was gearing up to challenge with Jujubee also trotting strongly turning for home.

Bella Bellini appeared quite comfortable, but was in fifth and despite placing herself in third in the final drive for the wire, it seemed she might have too much work to do. The daughter of Bar Hopping—Bella Dolce, however, was poised to not only catch the leaders but surpass them.

With a powerful turn of foot, last year's Hambletonian Oaks winner and Dan Patch Award winner kicked away from a surging Forbidden Trade and It's Academic (David Miller) to provide Dunn with his fourth triumph on the card.

"I just sat back and waited with her," said Dunn. "She is very intelligent, and nothing really bothers her.

"For some horses the transition from 3 to 4 can be little difficult but she's come back stronger than ever."

Trained by Richard "Nifty" Norman, the 4-year-old sports a resume of 40 18-10-5 and has banked $1.7 million.

Bella Bellini competes as a homebred for David McDuffee and beating males from tough posts has not proven to be a problem. The mare defeated males in the $432,000 Hambletonian Maturity on July 16 from post position 11.

She also finished third in the $170,450 Arthur J. Cutler Memorial on May 21.

Dean Gillette

Bella Bellini (Dexter Dunn) equalled the 1:51.2 track record while beating the boys in Friday's Caesars Trotting Classic at Harrah's Hoosier Park.

Bella Bellini's win gave Dunn a clean sweep of two feature events at the Anderson oval, but he gave all the credit to the mare.

"The great ones like her make you look good," he said.

Belli Bellini paid $6.40 to her supporters at the windows.

Stars deliver on a grand stage at Harrah's Hoosier Park

by Kimberly French for Harrah's Hoosier Park

On an evening that featured the world's fastest standardbred in Bulldog Hanover and a mare defeating males in on of Harrah's Hoosier Park's marquee events, the supporting card was far from disappointing as many of the sport's brightest stars sparkled on Friday (Sept. 23) at the Anderson, IN oval.

Hambletonian winner Cool Papa Bell and Hambletonian Oaks winner Fashion Schooner scored in their respective contests on a card that offered more than $1.5 million in purse money and some of the most talented horses in the sport.

TALENT SCOUT TAKES THE MADISON COUNTY

Dexter Dunn and Talent Scout slid along the rail to defeat Jailhouse Dance (Michael Oosting) in the $100,000 Madison County for freshman filly trotters in 1:54.1. Texsong Soprano (John De Long) was third.

Talent Scout is a daughter of Swan For All and Prettysydney Ridge. The filly is trained by Doug Rideout for owners Julie Rideout, Alan White and Dave Gamble.

Bred by Atlantic Trot Inc. and Steve Stewart, Talent Scout improved her record to 13 6-2-1 and has earned $151,708.

The filly paid $4.60 to win as the public's top choice in the field of nine.

HEART ON FIRE, EARTHWINDFIRE WIN KENTUCKIANA STALLION MANAGEMENT DIVISIONS

Heart On Fire and Dunn parlayed a pocket trip into a 1:55.2 head triumph in the $240,000 Kentuckiana Stallion Management division for 2-year-old trotting fillies. Kayleigh S (Brian Sears) was second and Helpoftheseason (Peter Wrenn) was third.

The daughter of Father Patrick—Corazon Blue Chip is trained by Tony Alagna and owned by Crawford Farms Racing. She was bred by Spring Haven Farm and Doug Millard Holdings.

Heart On Fire improved her record to 6-3-2 and boosted her bankroll to $152,312.

She paid $5.60 as the second choice.

Earthwindfire (Tim Tetrick) pulled away from her rivals in the stretch to capture the $200,000 division of the Kentucky Stallion Management for 2-year-old pacing fillies in 1:51.3. Sleazy Mama (Trace Tetrick) was second and Queen's Reign (Oosting) was third.

Trained by Brett Pelling, Earthwindfire sat in second behind Nevertellmethedds (Aaron Merriman) and then Vivian's Dream (Jordan Stratton) behind splits of :26.2, :54.3 and 1:23.2.

When her driver gave the daughter of American Ideal—Road Bet her cue she sailed by her competitors and strode to the finish line.

Owned by Melvin Segal, Kentuckiana Racing Stable and Tulip Racing, Earthwindfire was bred by Stephen Dey III.

The filly's record is 6 3-2-0 and she has earned $228,075. Her time was a new lifetime mark.

Earthwindfire paid $4 to win.

COOL PAPA BELL WINS PHIL LANGLEY MEMORIAL

Hambletonian victor Cool Papa Bell (Todd McCarthy) collected his second consecutive victory while handing the previously undefeated Ponda Adventure (Trace Tetrick) his first loss this season in the $90,000 Phil Langley Memorial in 1:53.1. Ponda Adventure was a game second and Delgado (Tim Tetrick) was third.

Ponda Adventure led the field for the first quarter in :27.1 but Cool Papa Bell was not content to remain in second for long. The son of Chapter Seven—Blk Thai Optional assumed command before the half-mile marker and clicked off fractions of :57.1 and 1:26.3. Ponda Adventure came down the lane with a full head of steam, but Cool Papa Bell would not be denied and used a :26.3 last panel to hit the line in front.

The loss was Ponda Adventure's first of the year and snapped his 10-race winning streak.

Trained by Jim Campbell, Cool Papa Bell is owned by Runthetable Stables. The colt was bred by Belmar Racing and Breeding.

Cool Papa Bell's record is 19-8-4-3 and he has banked $884,999.

He paid $3.20 to win as the favorite.

FASHION SCHOONER SCORES IN MONI MAKER

Hambletonian Oaks winner Fashion Schooner (Tim Tetrick) defeated her stablemate Misswalnerfashion (Trace Tetrick) to win the $115,000 Moni Maker in a stakes record equaling 1:52.3.

Cool Papa Bell (Todd McCarthy) won the $90,000 Phil Langley
Memorial on Friday at Harrah's
Hoosier Park.

Indiana standout M-M's Dream (Sam Widger) was third. It was her first loss of the season in nine pari-mutuel starts.

The win was Fashion Schooner's fourth in a row and provided Campbell with his second win on the evening.

The daughter of Walner—Broadway Schooner took control right after the wings on the gate folded and set fractions of :27.1, :57.2 and 1:25.4. Misswalnerfashion sat in second for the entire mile and applied pressure in deep stretch on the inside while M-M's Dream did the same on the outside.

Fashion Schooner proved too difficult for her rivals to overhaul. Competing as a homebred for Fashion Farms, the filly's record is now 14 8-2-2 and she has earned $674,337 in purse money. Fashion Schooner paid $2.20 to win as the favorite.

SOARING NOW FLIES IN JENNA'S BEACH BOY

Soaring Now and Joe Putnam led from gate to wire in the $140,000 Jenna's Beach Boy for sophomore pacing males in 1:49.2. Mad Max Hanover (Tim Tetrick) was second and Rip Wheeler (Brandon Bates) was third.

Trained by Aaron Stutzman, the son of Jk Endofanera—Sunflower set fractions of :26, :54.3 and 1:22.1. The colt never really encountered an anxious moment throughout his mile.

Owned by James Miller, Soaring Now was bred by Luckiana Farm. His record is 17 8-3-1 and he has earned $329,550.

He paid $3 to win.

ERVIN HANOVER TAKES HIS GAME TO THE NEXT LEVEL IN THE ELEVATION

Yannick Gingras and Ervin Hanover stopped the clock in 1:50.4 over nine rivals to capture the $110,000 Elevation for freshman male pacers. Cant Stop Lou (Dunn) was second and Coach Stefanos (Trace Tetrick) was third.

Ervin Hanover led the field through a first quarter of :26.3. He and his driver then yielded the lead to Coach Stefanos who paced in :55.3 and 1:23.3. Ervin Hanover made his bid just prior to turning for home and out-finished Cant Stop Lou with a :26.4 final split.

A son of Captaintreacherous—Eloquent Grace, Ervin Hanover is trained by Ron Burke and is owned by Burke Racing Stable, J&T Silva Stables, James Simpson and Weaver Brussemi.

The colt was bred by Hanover Shoe Farms and his record is 7 3-2-0. Ervin Hanover has banked $150,635.

He paid $20.60 and the final time was a new lifetime best.

Jackpot for Propulsion and trainer Daniel Redén in Kriterium

by Thomas Hedlund

Qualifying four horses for a classic race like the $800,000 Kriterium is close to impossible, but trainer Daniel Redén did exactly that Saturday (Sept. 24) at Solvalla in the biggest 3-year-old race in Sweden.

None of Redén's four contenders were in favorite position when the car accelerated from the field in the 2,640-meter race. The trainer's main driver, Örjan Kihlström, opted to drive Xanthis Harvey (Propulsion), the only one of Redén's four finalists that didn't win an elimination.

The Kriteriet started quite messy. First choice Bedazzled Sox went off stride from the start, second choice Following did the same thing some meters later and after 600 meters, the four Redén horses were all in front, with Ante la Roque as leader, Bengan in second hole, Greensboro Zet first over and Xanthis Harvey in second over.

Kihlström sent Xanthis Harvey to position first over 1,100 meters to go and it felt like the driver had a good feeling as Xanthis Harvey had to do the tough job outside stablemate Ante la Roque.

Greensboro Zet went off stride at the backstretch, meaning a full jackpot for Redén was no longer possible, but the three front horses seemed strong and even when Bedazzled Sox came back after his early break, he couldn't challenge the top trio.

Xanthis Harvey's strength became the weapon that sealed the Kriteriet victory. He disarmed Ante la Roque 150 meters before the wire and flew to safe win in mile rate 1:57.1 over 1.3 miles.

Bengan finished strongly behind his stablemate as runner up and leader, and stablemate, Ante la Roque finished third. A hat trick for Redén is an incredible achievement in the sport.

And the victory was, according to Redén himself, by far the biggest in his career as a trainer. We have to keep in mind that his homebred trainee Francesco Zet won the Derby less than a month ago.

What explained Redén's strong feelings after the Kriterium? Propulsion.

The story of Propulsion contains three big chapters. One American, one European where he dominated several races throughout five years and one about disqualification from all that he has done since he arrived in Europe in 2015. Propulsion is not allowed to be used as a stud in Sweden, due to the nerve procedure that apparently was made in USA in April 2015, but his first crops can race and the crop born in 2019 is his first. Xanthis Harvey is Propulsion's first classic race winner and what can be bigger than this for the trainer who experienced so many great moments with the biggest star he has trained? Nothing.

Kriteriet replay is here.

BIG SUCCESS FOR NURMOS IN OAKS

Timo Nurmos had three shots when the $560,000 Oaks for 3-year-old fillies was held at Solvalla on the same Saturday afternoon card. The prestigious classic race ended with big success for the Solvalla based trainer.

Erik Adielsson kept the front position from post 1 with Nurmos' Aurelia Express and when stablemate Bonneville W.I. (S.J.'s Caviar) connected on the outside with a lap to go, the race was locked. Ulf Ohlsson's smart move to leave third over for position first over before the last remaining kilometer was decisive for the outcome of the race, at least with all facts on hand. Because Bonneville W.I. was the strongest horse this day and with the sensitive, good hands of Ohlsson, she could fight down stablemate Aurelia Express shortly before the wire.

Nurmos' horses claimed the top two spots and the dominant trainer was the title defender in Oaks. His Lara Boko was the winner of the race 2021.

Third place was shared between Queen Belina and Kayla Westwood.

BROTHER BILL IN STL OPEN

Older top trotters battled for $150,000 in STL Open over 2,140 meters at Solvalla on Saturday and when first choice Hail Mary took over the lead from Click Bait after 500 meters, many fans thought that the race was over.

Hail Mary could control the race in front during the following half mile and the pace began to rise again at the back stretch, with a half mile to go. Magnus A Djuse left third over with his drive Brother Bill (From Above) at that point and Nurmos' trotter got cover as Alessandro Gocciadoro opted to leave second over soon thereafter. Brother Bill could wait with the definite attack until the top of the stretch and the From Above son flew on the far outside as he disarmed leader Hail Mary in good time before the wire.

Brother Bill came home in a mile rate of 1:54.2 over 1.3 miles and Hail Mary held on to second place while title defender Esprit Sisu claimed bronze medal.

Nurmos had his horses in perfect shape and this race day at Solvalla has historically been "his" day.

Unexpected glory with my 2-year-old trotting filly Saint Trixie

by Murray Brown

In this week's column, instead of following my normal routine of profiling of someone involved in the sport, I am instead answering some questions asked by Joel Kravet, a reader of this column. Mr. Kravet suggested that I do so in light of Saint Trixie, a filly of which I own a small part winning a $100,000 stakes race at The Meadowlands on Sept. 16. In effect, he asked that I follow the timeline from when I first expressed interest in the filly until her exciting (to me) win a week and two days ago.

I will start at the beginning. I have been friends with Fred Grant for nigh on 60 or so years, tracing back to his Silent Majority days, then onto his second trainer days when also bring a caretaker for the great filly Handle With Care in the Haughton Stable. In recent years, he has been kind enough to allow me to buy partial ownership in one or sometimes two of his yearling purchases.

I'll trace the game plan for our group. I was at the sale, but I had gone home by the time this filly was to enter the sales ring. We had several goals, almost none of which we followed. That isn't unusual. It often happens that way. I'm certain that there have been others who ended up buying a yearling in which they hadn't previously been interested but didn't buy the yearling that they were most interested in.

GOAL #1

Get a New York eligible, hopefully one by Chapter Seven. We had a few that interested us, but they ended up bringing a whole lot more than we had to spend. Fred actually bid $170,000 on one that we didn't get. I'm almost certain if he had bought that filly, I wouldn't have had enough money to even buy a small part of her.

GOAL #2

Our fall-back position was to get a Bar Hopping filly. The thought was that they wouldn't bring a whole lot of money as they had done with his first two crops. Bar Hopping had reached the level of the top trotting stallions in the sport. We obviously were not the only ones who recognized Bar Hopping's success. We came up empty in our Bar Hopping hunt.

DESPERATION TIME

Over 500 yearlings had been sold and we hadn't bought anything. Grant was anxious. He told me that there was a Trixton filly coming up that he kind of liked. Heading into the sale we decided that one thing was certain, we weren't going to buy a Trixton filly. Trixton was alright, but the feeling was that under no circumstances were we going to buy a New Jersey-sired yearling. The competition for trotters was just too tough. Muscle Hill and Walner represent one of the greatest one-two punches in the history of the sport. Waiting in the wings were about 100 more yearlings from the first crop by Tactical Landing. The dams of last year's yearlings by Muscle Hill, Tactical Landing and Walner were rich in Blue Hens or Blue Hens to be. Those three were a stallion threesome unmatched in the sport. Sure there were yearlings by Chapter Seven, Father Patrick and Bar Hopping. Usually, with those horses the fallback position might be the sires stakes program. In this case, the sires stakes might have presented tougher competition than the Grand Circuit races.

So, what did we buy? You guessed it — a Trixton filly with New Jersey eligibility.

There were some glimmers of light. Her sibling, Ambassador Hanover, was close to being one of the top 3-year-old trotters last year. He earned $434,189 in 2021.

Saint Trixie comes from a top trotting family. I watched her video. I thought it was quite good. She trotted with a light, reaching stroke. Her ears were up. Just watching the video I got the feeling that she was a pleasant sort. Best of all was her price. In a sale that had ostensibly little in the way of bargains, I thought that she was one. I didn't think based on her pedigree alone, she would ever be worth less than the $25,000 we paid for her. I asked Grant why she brought so little. He said he felt there were two main reasons for that:

1. The competition she would be facing in New Jersey.
2. She wasn't a perfect individual. She toed in. That usually means that the horse will paddle. I watched her video many times. To my eye, there was no paddling there.

She shipped to Sunshine Meadows where I would hopefully be able to see her regularly. It was not to be. Where in the past we had stayed in an apartment that was all we wanted, we weren't able to secure one. In its stead, we chose to spend several weeks in hotels. Neither Carol nor I liked it. Even worse, COVID-19 came along. We didn't like hotel life. We were staying quite a distance from the training center. I didn't get to see her much.

Grant said she was doing okay. She showed some speed. He didn't think she was his best filly, but she was okay. We were a little behind when we shipped North, but that didn't bother me. The filly, Anegada Hanover, had a new name. She was now named Saint Trixie. Grant really didn't show much enthusiasm, but I wasn't expecting a whole lot. She was just a nice filly. When she started racing, she showed some ability, much more than she had done previously. She won a couple of races and finished second as well.

A couple of weeks ago, Grant told me that a series for mid-class Jersey breds was being started at The Meadowlands. It consisted of a qualifying race for $15,000 and then if she made the final, she would go for $100,000. I had owned pieces of horses for 62 consecutive years. I had never come even close to racing for that kind of money. I guess I was just being skeptical, but I doubted that she was good enough. The public didn't think that. They made her the 3-5 favorite while leaving from the outside. She wasn't much good. Timmy Tetrack was driving. I thought he did a masterful job in keeping her on gait. She looked like she was trotting on eggs. She made the final.

We were going for $100,000 the next week. I spoke with Grant during the week. He said, "I've got good news and bad news."

The good news was that she had made the $100,000 final, the bad news was she drew the 10 hole. Tetrack left with her. He got covered up before the half. He then went with her at the top of the stretch and she trotted right by the leader. She won by about a length in a new lifetime record of 1.55.3. I was ecstatic. I didn't think she stood a chance leaving from the extreme outside. I was hoping that she would race well and pick up some money.

We were now going to Tioga to face Grand Circuit competition for the first time.

I'm still dreaming. Those are the type of situations that keeps owners in the game.

Lochinvar Art heading stateside to race for Shane and Lauren Tritton

by Adam Hamilton

This is a match made in Down Under heaven.

One of the best pacers Australia has seen in many years is moving to the U.S. to continue his career with former Aussie training pair Shane and Lauren Tritton.

In what has been a big shock for Down Under fans, Lochinvar Art will board a flight to the U.S. on Oct. 5.

"Our timing is perfect. It's a direct flight from Sydney to Chicago, the first of them in ages," owner Kevin Gordon said. "Because it's direct it means only three days in quarantine when he lands and then he's off to Shane and Lauren."

Gordon made the bold decision after Lochinvar Art suffered a minor bleed at his latest run in the Gammalite free-for-all at Lochinvar Art (David Moran) winning the Hunter Cup Group 1 in 2021 at Tabcorp Park.

Melton last Saturday night. The 5-year-old was stood down from racing for 28 days, which ended his quest to win a second Group 1 Victoria Cup at Melton on Oct. 8.

"It's just not viable to keep him racing here. We'd have to space his runs and he couldn't go for our biggest races like the Inter Dominion and Miracle Mile because you've got to race back-to-back," Gordon said.

"That would relegate the horse to basically running in normal free-for-alls (open-class races) at Melton every second week and that's belittling him. I wouldn't do that to him.

"It's about doing what's best for the horse now. He's been so good to us.

"It was either retire him or send him to the U.S. and I think he deserves the chance to show how good he can be again over there."

Gordon's passion for his home (the Newcastle area of NSW) was a key factor in choosing Shane and Lauren Tritton to train Lochinvar Art in the US.

"I'm a proud Novocastrian (from the Newcastle area) and Shane and Lauren as well," he said. "Lauren grew up not far from where I live. I'd had a long association with her. Lauren's first metropolitan (Saturday) Menangle winner was on a horse I owned called Our Crown Law.

"Whether they are the best trainers in the U.S., who knows? But I think they are right up there.

"I know them, I trust them and I'm sure they'll do a terrific job with 'Arty.'"

Gordon revealed he already had a horse with Team Tritton.

“Our timing is perfect. It’s a direct flight from Sydney to Chicago, the first of them in ages. Because it’s direct it means only three days in quarantine when he lands and then he’s off to Shane and Lauren.”

“I bought a Sweet Lou yearling for about $A150,000 and he’s now 2. He’s called Lochinvar Dundee and he’s showing plenty of promise,” he said.

Gordon also dismissed suggestions he would sell Lochinvar Art in the U.S.

“No, absolutely not. I don’t know where that came from,” he said. “There’s no way I’d sell him. In fact, no matter what he does in the U.S., I’ll bring him home once he’s finished racing. Whether that’s to stand at stud or just retire here, that’s what I’m doing.”

Shane Tritton gave the credit to Lauren for landing Lochinvar Art to train.

“I’ve known Kevin for a while, but he and Lauren go way back. As much as we train as a team, this is Lauren’s ‘get’ for us,” Shane said.

“What a privilege to be part of it. It’s all happened very quickly and we’re very excited to get the chance to try and help him.

“There are so many examples of nice horses from Down Under coming here, getting a bit of help with Lasix and doing fantastic things. Bit Of A Legend won about $2 million and look what Let it Ride did, too. Hopefully it’s the same with Lochinvar Art.

“We know how good Lochinvar Art is at his best. He’d be alongside Lazarus as the best horse from Down Under to come here.

“Lauren and I have been lucky to have our share of nice horses, but never one as good as him.”

Tritton said he hoped to have Lochinvar Art at his Pine Bush stables, 15 minutes from Goshen, soon after he arrived on Oct. 5.

“He’ll get a break. You couldn’t pick better timing for him to come across. He won’t need to be at his peak until late March (next year),” he said.

"We can do things our way, give him a break and bring him up slowly. There's no rush.

"He's a chance to show people (Down Under) that they don't need to sell their horses (to the U.S.), they can keep owning them, but just send them across."

It's no secret former trainer/driver David Moran didn't want Lochinvar Art to leave his stable.

Moran has endured a testing time with a seven-month suspension expiring the day after Lochinvar Art had his bleed last Saturday night.

"It's been a very emotional time for David, a really hard time," Gordon said. "I know he'd love to have kept the horse and thinks he should have. One of the best days of his life (returning from suspension) turned into one of the worst when 'Arty' bled and I made this tough decision.

"David and I have had some great times together with 'Arty.' Together they went from zero to hero.

"I've got the utmost respect for the job David has done. I've still got four horses with him and hope we can get through this and have a lot more success together."

Lochinvar Art was on a pedestal of his own as the best pacer in Australia or New Zealand in a glorious patch from September, 2020 to February, 2021 where he raced 11 times for 10 wins and a close second.

During that stretch he scored his two biggest wins in the Hunter and Victoria Cups, both at Melton.

Hail to Julie and Andy

by Alan Leavitt

Because I believe that 2-year-old brilliance is the best indicator of future success as a sire, it's interesting to look at the results of the $400,000 Kentucky Sire Stakes final for 2-year-old trotting colts, raced last Sunday at the Red Mile.

The winner was French Wine, now with a 2-year-old record of 1:53 and earnings of $358,332, and counting. He's by Bar Hopping, and out of the slightly salaciously named Creamy Mimi, by Conway Hall. French Wine is trained by the charming Julie Miller, and driven by her husband, Andy Miller, one of the best drivers in our business.

Before I look further into French Wine's background, it's worth noting that the greatest thoroughbred breeder of all time, Federico Tesio, also always sought out sires who had raced well at 2. Which, in his day, were not always easy to find, but he looked long and hard in some remote places, and inevitably came up with obscure horses that sired top runners for him.

In our sport, one needs look no harder than Walner to see how 2-year-old excellence translates into a great sire. Walner, who was trained by my old friend Linda Toscano, was only defeated once as a 2-year-old. He didn't come back at 3, but that was totally irrelevant in evaluating his future sire potential.

Today, Walner is well on his way to becoming the dominant trotting sire, although every year he'll be challenged by new horses like this year's first crop sire, Greenshoe. Eventually, in Jim Harrison's pithy phrase, he could be cannibalized by one or more of his own sons, but that lies well into the future.

But back to French Wine, who is an outstanding two-year-old trotting colt without a speck of Walner in his pedigree. He has no crosses closer than a 4 by 4 cross to American Winner, which, in technical terms makes him linebred to that horse.

As a quick review, if the sum of the two generations is which the same name appears twice is six, or less, that is Inbreeding.

If the sum of those two generations in which the same name appears twice is seven or eight, that is Line Breeding.

If no name appears twice in either of the terms above, the horse so bred is an Outcross.

The vast majority of both our trotters and pacers today are Outcrosses. Which, as I keep saying, into the wind, leaves a huge opportunity for some far-sighted breeder to create a great horse by judicious inbreeding. It also would be a great selling-point for a yearling, at least in this kid's mind.

There's another aspect here that smart guys like Adam Bowden have already picked up on. Traditionally, the farms that stand stallions would wait until a stud had finished racing before they went after him to stand at their farms.

I might have been the one to break that mold when I syndicated first Noble Victory, then Speedy Crown and then Speedy Somolli while they were still on the track. It was also the same story when I got my hooks into No Nukes when he was just a 2-year-old.

For my part, if you know what to look for, namely a brilliant 2-year-old racing season, then that's the time to make your play for the horse.

That was a unique idea that I had all to myself at one time. Now others share it, to their advantage.

Back now to French Wine, who has already told the world that he could well be a top sire. His dam, Creamy Mimi, a name which probably qualifies as a Freudian slip, was a great race filly who earned almost a million dollars on the track.

She's gone on to be a good producer. Contrary to the norm, French Wine is her ninth foal, where as a rule of thumb, a mare's stakes horse production is usually gone by her late foals.

Looking at the list of Creamy Mimi's foals, it's amusing to note that one of them actually changed nationalities. Swedish Envy morphed into French Laundry after he was sold as a yearling to John Fielding and Christine Takter, even though the horse was also retained by his breeders, Al Libfeld and Marvin Katz.

Creamy Mimi's fourth dam is Armbró Whirl, a daughter of Catherine Lobell, one of two daughters of Canny Imp that Glen Brown bought from me for Armstrong Brothers. He struck gold with both of them. I bought Canny Imp from R. D. Ricketts in partnership with Bill Rosenberg, the founder of Dunkin Donuts. At one point Rosenberg and I owned more than 70 mares in partnership. Canny Imp was a daughter of the world champion 2-year-old trotting filly, Impish, and today she qualifies as a foundation matron.

Rosenberg wasn't anybody's cup of weak tea. One night long ago I was with a party of four on the glass at Yonkers. I happened to notice Rosenberg and a companion being led to a table in the nose bleed zone. Since we had two empty seats, I invited Rosenberg to join us.

The feature race that night was a $25,000 pace, and a horse of Rosenberg's won it. Some months later, Rosenberg accosted me for "Sticking him with the check that night at Yonkers."

"But, Bill," I said, "You had just won $12,500."

"What's that got to do with anything?" he shot back.

My dear friend Mario Z has been coaching me in basic Italian, starting with the greeting "Buongiorno." In my most optimistic moments I want to be prepared to greet someone I've always wanted to meet with "Buongiorno, Federico."

Illinois

Harness and thoroughbred interests facing another unconventional Illinois race schedule in 2023

by Neil Milbert

For the second time in two years, Illinois will have a racing schedule in 2023 that is both unprecedented and unconventional.

The decision by Churchill Downs, Inc. (CDI) to permanently shut down the beautiful world-renowned thoroughbred track, Arlington International Racecourse, after its 2021 meeting and sell the property to the Chicago Bears to build a NFL stadium has left dual-purpose Hawthorne Race Course as the only track in the Chicago metropolitan area.

Working together, Hawthorne's management, the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Association (IHHA) and the Illinois Thoroughbred Horsemen Association (ITHA) agreed to abandon this year's schedule that split the dates into four segments and instead remain dark during January and February and then hold six straight months of thoroughbred racing followed by four consecutive months of standardbred racing.

By a 6-0 vote the Illinois Racing Board on Thursday (Sept. 22) approved the damage control plan that calls for the thoroughbreds to race 68 programs from March 4 through Sept. 4 and the harness horses to race 49 nights on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays from Sept. 9 through Dec. 31.

"The schedules we see are not perfect," Racing Board chairman Daniel Beiser said. "They're the best we can do in the near term."

Dave McCaffrey, executive director of the ITHA and former president of the IHHA, sees the situation the same way.

"There's only one racetrack in Chicago and there are two breeds. Each has its own issues. Trying to squeeze that in a tight box is difficult," he said.

An essential component to the schedule is prefacing the harness meeting with two days of non-betting racing per week from June 12 through Aug. 31 at the Springfield State Fairgrounds, 175 miles south of Hawthorne.

Hawthorne is footing the bill.

"The cost to Hawthorne to operate these races will be approximately $100,000 and we also will use about $780,000 from the horsemen's purse account," said Hawthorne President Tim Carey. "These races will provide critical development opportunities for 2-year-olds who then will be ready to race at Hawthorne from September through December."

This year's time-share schedule called for Hawthorne to conduct a Jan. 7 - March 20 harness meeting followed by an April 2 - June 25 thoroughbred meeting, a July 2 - Sept. 11 harness meeting and a Sept. 23 - Dec. 31 thoroughbred meeting.

To provide additional harness racing opportunities the IHHA, Hawthorne and the Illinois Department of Agriculture this spring agreed to bookend the two pari-mutuel harness meetings with non-betting racing funded by the Hawthorne purse account at Springfield on June 17, 18, 24 and 25 and then return to the State Fairgrounds for racing on Sept. 15, 16, 22, 23, 29 and 30.

The success of this venture prompted the IHHA and Hawthorne to extend the non-wagering dates to nearly three straight months next year.

According to Hawthorne's assistant general manager John Walsh, "the Department of Agriculture would prefer that there be racing on Friday and Saturday but it's not set in stone."

IHHA president Marty Engel and executive director Tony Somone told the board that the dates at Springfield are of paramount importance.

"Without racing at Springfield the yearling sales would have been horrendous this year," Engel said. "The breeders are dangling by a thread. They would either close up or race in another state."

"We're in dire straits – we're trading water," Somone said. "The entire schedule for harness horsemen falls apart without these races at Springfield. It works because of the added races at Springfield."

"We appreciate all of the effort that is being made by Hawthorne. We've got to hold on until a casino gets up and running at Hawthorne and the second racetrack gets up and running."

Illinois gambling legislation in 2019 allows the state's tracks to conduct casino gambling and sports betting under the supervision of the Illinois Gaming Board and permits a track limited to standardbred racing with a casino component to be built and licensed in one of six Cook County suburbs, all of which are located in Chicago's suburbs.

Hawthorne began sports betting in 2020 and started tearing down large portions of the racetrack building to accommodate the casino but the project has been in a holding pattern for more than two years.

Speaking to the Racing Board members Carey addressed "the status of our casino development."

"I try to remember that this hasn't been done before in Illinois," he said. "We are restructuring a fourth generation (family-owned) business to meet the demands of a new marketplace that will literally transform the entire Illinois horse racing industry. We are essentially a 130-year-old start-up business."

"Virtually every aspect of a casino development requires regulatory approval. We are in the process of making the necessary disclosures to the Illinois Gaming Board with regards to the financing for the project. Upon approval, we expect to be in a position to begin construction later this year. And all of this development will happen while we are racing."

"We have a 14-month schedule to completion, depending on when we start. A Hawthorne casino is coming and it's going to transform Illinois horse racing for decades."

The track will share the casino revenue with the harness and thoroughbred horsemen. According to Somone's projections, that would mean an infusion of as much as $12 million in the harness purse account that currently is in the neighborhood of $7 million.

In stark contrast to Hawthorne's management team, Churchill Downs, Inc. declined to pursue a casino at palatial Arlington (after lobbying for it for years). The obvious reason is because in 2018 CDI acquired a majority interest in Rivers Casino, which is by far the biggest money-maker of the 10 Illinois casinos and is located only about five miles from the track.

By selling the property to the Bears (the deal is expected to be finalized early in 2023) with the stipulation that the track be torn down, CDI not only is eliminating the possibility of a corporate family member becoming a casino gambling competitor for Rivers it also has destroyed nearby thoroughbred racing competition and put both Illinois thoroughbred and harness racing in a life-threatening situation.

While the Hawthorne casino project appears to be proceeding – albeit slowly because of Gaming Board regulations and construction industry and manufacturing issues that are an offshoot of the COVID-19 pandemic – the construction of a new harness track/casino in Chicago's south suburbs remains in limbo.

In 2019, with the staunch support of Carey and the horsemen, video game operator Rick Heidner announced plans to build the racino in Tinley Park and he was awarded 2020 dates by the Racing Board.

But then the Chicago Tribune reported that Heidner had longstanding business ties with a banking family that allegedly was involved with organized crime figures and Gov. J.B. Pritzger squelched the project that was contingent on the sale of property owned by the state.

In 2021, Heidner was cleared of wrong-doing by the Gaming Board and restored to good standing. However, he apparently has decided not to make another attempt to acquire property and construct a racino.

"It's of utmost concern to us," Engel told the Racing Board. "We're afraid nothing will happen regarding a second track until the Hawthorne casino opens."

"Our two biggest concerns are: No. 1, completion of the casino at Hawthorne; No. 2 construction of the second track."

"Once that happens our breeding program will skyrocket. There will be stallions coming from other states and stables coming from other states."

Kimberly French – Writer, promoter, reporter

by Victoria Howard

Kimberly French is perhaps the best “double-gaited” writer and promoter in horse racing since standardbred Steamin Demon won both free-for-all pacing and trotting events, virtually at the same time.

Talk about diversification. I can’t remember anybody that went from being the editor of Hoof Beats at one time to the assistant director and production manager at NYRA Today for the New York Racing Association.

French is a dual-breed reporter and writer who writes for both thoroughbred and harness tracks, among others. With a resume like French’s you can see why she has been so successful and why our sport is lucky to have her onboard.

“I’ve been published in more than 30 international and national publications. I am a Hervey Award winner an American Horse Publications Award winner and have worked in television for ESPN, CBS Sports Network, NBC, ABC and now Fox Sports through the contract they have with the New York Racing Association,” said French.

Many exciting perks come when collaborating with major sport networks like Fox Sports, such as French did the feature for the broadcast and helped air one of the biggest upsets in Hambletonian history when 52-1 longshot Cool Papa Bell won for trainer Jim Campbell. She also helped air Bulldog Hanover setting a sensational new world record.

“I have produced the national newsfeed for the Kentucky Derby and the Breeders’ Cup, and continue to do so. I also help out at Hoosier Park as much as I can for their big events.”

And the list doesn’t end there. At one time Kimberly was the special assistant to the president for Association of Racing Commissioners International and in charge of the Model Rules of Racing.

“I’ve been a production assistant, stage manager, field producer, associate producer and producer for nearly 16 years. My publications internship was at the American Quarter Horse Association and I was a Clyde Hirt workshop participant.

“I also worked for the USTA for roughly 10 years as a freelance writer and Hoof Beats contributor, prior to being hired as an Internet news manager there – and then was editor of Hoof Beats for three years.”

Besides the many hats Kimberly has worn, her resume lists: social media coordinator for Midwest Harness Report, ESPN horse racing broadcasts, production assistant/stage manager/field producer/associate producer, ESPN for college football, golf, bowling, Little League World Series and college basketball.

Born and raised in Syracuse, NY, French didn't hail from a horse family and has never even owned one, but she always loved horses.

It all began when French decided to not pursue a law degree and entered the equine business program at the University of Louisville. In order to pursue a career in horse racing, French relocated to Kentucky.

"After taking a job at a law firm and only three weeks out from going to law school, I knew I didn't want to be a lawyer and attended the equine business program.

"I had no intention of writing or doing television. I merely wanted a job doing the books at one of the Kentucky horse farms. One of my professors, Rich Wilcke, thought one of my papers was good enough to be published and encouraged me to start writing. I began writing and won a blogging contest for Horse Player magazine.

"I then applied for the internship at American Quarter Association and after receiving it I was accepted by Tom LaMarra who was the news director at Blood Horse to cover Texas horse racing as a freelancer.

"At that time, Amy Zimmerman was the head of HRTV and referred me to Peter Rotundo (at the NTRA) who was with the Breeders' Cup, and started me out as a production assistant.

"I also reached out to Dean Hoffman at the USTA who provided me with an opportunity to write for the newsroom and then Nicole Kraft asked me to write for the magazine. And as they say, the rest is history.

"At one time, I also worked for the American Quarter Horse Association and have a penchant for fast horses, which is why I love racing – but each breed possesses their own special qualities.

"I love both breeds and am thrilled to be part of covering amazing horses and the people in the industry. I personally have no preference because I love fast horses in general."

As far as why thoroughbred racing is more popular than harness racing, French said: "I really don't think that is the case. The thoroughbred industry is just larger. I'm just as passionate about harness racing as I am about thoroughbred racing and I think harness racing fans would say they are just as passionate about their sport as thoroughbred fans are."

Presently, French travels extensively between Kentucky and New York for her work with the NYRA, covering horses. She says it doesn't matter if they race or not. She's just blessed to be living her dream and doing what she loves the most.

Would auctions speak louder in small herds?

by Trey Nosrac

Idling in the parking lot at the Dairy Whip, I looked up from my vanilla milkshake and said to my pal David in the passenger seat, "Things were touch and go, but breeders and buyers made it through a couple of yearling sales during COVID."

He nodded. "A few years to remember."

"A few years to forget. If another virus pops up, or even if it doesn't, horse sales may look different in the future."

He nodded again. "It's a cliché, but a business that does not change is a business without a future."

"I'm thinking about ideas to make auctions different."

"Now, Trey, auctions are none of your...bidness."

Wincing, I said, "Please leave puns to the professionals."

"Agreed. So, what is your imaginary plan for ruining yearling sales? What madness is percolating?"

"Suppose I own a breeding farm. I decide next year to host a personal yearling sale, maybe a list of 50 or a 100 yearlings from my broodmares, and invite owners of mares that breed to the stallions I stand."

"You think an individual farm could pull this off?"

I answered with a shrug.

He seemed intrigued, "A farm would need to have enough yearlings."

"Of course."

He seemed to get fired up, "By making it local, you might limit the marketplace."

"Maybe. But getting the word out that you want to sell a herd of yearlings is not nuclear physics. The novelty aspect for this type of sale would draw attention."

"But would it draw bidders?"

"Smart buyers will find a good yearling at an auction behind a McDonald's parking lot in Podunk Falls. As a customer, if someone is selling the yearling you love, you will find it. What does it matter if the catalog has 20 or 2,000? True story, the best horse my partner and I ever bought was from a tiny, now extinct sale two states away where my partner made a surprise raid during an insurance business trip and was the last hand standing on a pacing filly. Anyway, livestream bidding would be available."

"What else? How would a farm sale be different from the other auctions?"

"Right off the bat, buyers and sellers won't need to ship far. Customers can make one-day trips."

"What about the big buyers, the bidding fever, the social aspect of an enormous sale?"

"What about them? Look, nobody forces anyone to show up, nobody is required to do anything, and nobody needs to buy a yearling. Everything in this game is voluntary." I was getting a little wound up, "Yearling sales are great. The folks that run them do a terrific job, but not every sale needs to be the same year after year."

"Easy to say when auctions are not your business."

"No doubt, talk is cheap. Change is difficult. There are pluses and minuses, market forces, and plenty of things to consider."

As I see the concept, a smaller sale could have a show day in the morning and a sale in the afternoon. The one-day event would be less grueling for the bidders and auctioneers.”

“A sale along those lines would require organization and advertising.”

“They are not reinventing a virus vaccine. Any farm considering this would need to do an analysis, perhaps outsource some parts to the professionals, but maybe they could offer lower commissions and personally highlight their yearlings.”

David thought for a few seconds, then said, “Not a bad idea.”

I gave myself a slight head slap and said, “This is the second time you have agreed with me this month.”

“You might be wearing me down.”

“Here’s something else intriguing. I was at a horse auction a few years ago, sitting in the audience, reading the catalog, and I noticed that the auction company had earmarked a slice of each sale for local charities. I found that cool, and it gave me a good vibe.”

David held up a hand to slow down my train of thoughts and said, “Breeders have been selling yearlings at large sales for a long time. Trying your concept would get resistance. Do you think it could work? Do you believe customers would accept smaller sales like this? Has this type of auction been attempted in the past?

“Probably, but this is a new world. You know the saying, ‘You never step into the same pond twice.’ If another horse elder grumbles, “we tried that in 1972, and it was a big flop,” I may slap him silly with his paper sales catalog. The world will be different in 2023.”

He asked, “Would you, as a customer, attend and purchase?”

I shrugged and said, “Put me down a yes. I like new stuff in small venues.”

He gave me a thumbs up and rendered his decision, “If done correctly, this is like a home-grown fruit stand rather than a supermarket. The local angle could be a good recruitment tool for new racing folks, fresh air, and charity. A small yearling auction in a small town could be a social event, a novelty for locals to check out, but it would be risky.”

“Sure, but as your pal, Steve Jobs, once said, ‘It’s more fun to be a pirate than to row a boat.’”

2023 Ontario Sires Stakes finals purses increasing by $720,000

Ontario Racing's Standardbred Improvement Program Committee is announcing a $720,000 increase to the purses for the 2023 Ontario Sires Stakes Gold Super Finals and Grassroots Championships and raising the purse for Prospect Series legs to $8,000.

All eight Gold Super Finals will have a purse of $300,000 in 2023, a boost of $75,000 and a 33 per cent increase from the $225,000 offered in 2022.

The purses of the eight Grassroots Championships are increasing by $15,000 to $75,000, a 25 per cent total increase of $120,000.

The Prospect Series legs are also receiving a significant boost, rising 25 per cent from $6,500 to $8,000.

Walter Parkinson, Standardbred Improvement Program Committee member and president of the Standardbred Breeders of Ontario Association said he is excited about the announcement of these increases with yearling sales beginning this weekend.

Harness Racing Update on Twitter

@HARNESUPDATE

"The announcement of a purse increase for the 2023 Ontario Sires Stakes season is welcomed by the entire industry and continues to build upon an already great program," said Parkinson. "Breeders, owners, and trainers can feel confident that the Ontario Sires Stakes program will remain a North American leader, and with the continued success of Ontario Sired performers during the 2022 stakes season, Ontario Sired yearlings should be in high demand this fall, making for an exciting 2023 and beyond."

Mark Etsell's charges have earned $341,657 from 20 Ontario Sires Stakes starts this season, and his star filly Adare Castle is looking to repeat as Gold Super Final champion in just under a month's time.

"An increase in purses for the Finals is always appreciated," said Etsell. "The purses for the Grassroots and the Prospect Series are a lot of money compared to some other jurisdictions, so to go for a good final on top of it is always good."

A robust purse for the Finals of the Ontario Sires Stakes allows trainers and owners to build their schedule around reaching that pinnacle.

"When you're checking your schedule out for the year, you take that into consideration with how you stake them," said Etsell. "It's a big benefit to have a big purse close to home."

The 2022 Ontario Sires Stakes Grassroots Championships and Gold Super Finals go on Oct. 1 and 15 at Woodbine Mohawk Park. All entrants in the Grassroots and Gold finales will receive a check.

The Prospect Finals are on Sept. 30 at The Raceway at the Western Fair District.

Brown Jug Society meets, adds Burke to board

The Little Brown Jug Society held their annual meeting on Wednesday morning (Sept. 21) at the Delaware County Fairgrounds' Ag Center.

The society accepted the resignation of George Teague, Jr. and named him as an Honorary Member.

The society then voted to add trainer/owner Ron Burke to its 25-member board.

"We appreciate the consultation and support George gave us," said Tom Wright, president of the Little Brown Jug Society. "We are also excited to have Ronnie join us. His record speaks for itself."

"I love the Jug, its history and format," said Burke. "I am honored to have been asked to join the society."

Burke has trained four Jug champions and a record four Jugette winners. He was elected into the Harness Racing Hall of Fame earlier this summer.

Cohen: USTA spending $500,000 more of members' money on losing HISA fight

Like virtually everyone else in harness racing, like I suspect almost every other member of the USTA, I learned only on Thursday morning that the Executive Committee of the USTA has just voted 12-2 to spend another $500,000 of the USTA's money (our money, you might say) on lawyers fighting a loser's fight against the new federal horse racing integrity law, what everyone calls HISA.

I do not know how many USTA directors knew that this vote would be taken. I do not know how many of those directors still support the organization's opposition to HISA (Horseracing Integrity and Safety Authority), especially now that two conservative federal trial judges in Kentucky and Texas have endorsed the federal law and rejected the arguments the USTA's expensive lawyers have been making against it.

Here's what I do know. My USTA director never notified me that the USTA was contemplating another major financial commitment to litigation that hundreds of prominent members of the harness racing community do not support. In fact, my director has never once asked me, one of his constituents, what I think about the new federal law or the USTA's role in opposing it. What a farce.

Has your USTA director ever asked you what you think of HISA or whether you want to spend USTA money on lawyers fighting a law designed to make the sport more honest and fair for everyone? I didn't think so. Can you think of better ways for the USTA to spend its money, our money, than on corporate lawyers with a bad case? I thought so. What a farce.

This Executive Committee action, done secretly without prior notice to USTA members, tells us a few things. It tells us the USTA's leadership didn't want a robust, open debate within the harness racing community over its continuing opposition to HISA. It tells us that the organization's rules and bylaws must be broken to allow such a momentous action with no input from the membership. The USTA's descent into these kind of arrogant tactics is really sad to see.

Andrew Cohen / Englewood, CO

Banks: Where is the USTA leadership?

(Editor's note: The author originally posted this letter on his Facebook page. He contacted HRU and asked us to publish it)

Short fields...

A complete lack of regulatory uniformity...

Obvious beads and horse dopers at every track...

Stagnant foal numbers...

A divided, frustrated industry...

Not one profitable racetrack from stand-alone racing...

Florida decoupling and new state efforts to decouple in numerous other states...

An increasingly boring, repetitive product...

Negative public perceptions of racing and racing's integrity...

A lack of concern for equine health...

Failure to ensure after-racing homes for all our racehorses... An invisible USTA CEO, COO, president at all major industry events...

No open, public debates or question/answer sessions regarding our industry's problems...

No industry think-tanks or USTA leadership in addressing ANY of the above industry problems.

The sole focus of USTA leadership is on destroying HISA (Horseracing Integrity and Safety Authority), which is not yet in effect respecting harness, and in no way is responsible for ANY of the above problems!

Does anybody wonder why our sport is in a death spiral?

Fixing what is broken today might be a lot wiser than focusing on what might cause harm in the future!

Leadership ...where is it?
