Million reasons to love Mohawk Million champ Venerable

The 2-year-old trotting filly remained undefeated through eight career starts by holding off a late charge from Duly Resolved in the 2nd edition of the $1 million Mohawk Million.

by Dave Briggs

Dave Landry

Driver David Miller, trainer Nifty Norman and part-owner David McDuffee share a laugh in the winner's circle after Venerable won the $1 million Mohawk Million.

Trainer Nifty Norman said there are a million reasons to love undefeated 2-year-old trotting filly Venerable — not the least of which is the fact she gamely fought off a late attack from colt Duly Resolved on Saturday night (Sept. 25) at Woodbine Mohawk Park to win the 2nd edition of the $1 million Mohawk Million by a head in 1:54.2.

"It's unreal. You don't see that every day, a filly beating the colts like that," Norman said.

Especially from post nine.

"She had to do a lot of work and it's a tricky spot, but she survived it," the trainer said.

Venerable's driver, David Miller, said he was concerned Duly Resolved might get past in deep stretch, but Venerable dug in.

"Yes, she fought," Miller said. "(Just like) in the (Jim) Doherty (Memorial), though, in the last turn she felt like she was empty and somehow she finds it to get to the wire."

Though, the driver disputed Norman's contention that Venerable pinned her ears at the top of the stretch.

"She didn't pin her ears. Tell him to be quiet," Miller said, laughing. "There's no quit to her. I don't know what he's talking about."

A tarmac cheering section was rooting loudly for the local horse, Ontario-sired Duly Resolved (Resolve—Motown Muscle) to pull off the upset. When he finished a few feet short, his trainer and part-owner John Bax kept it all in perspective.

"You can't race any better than that," Bax said of Duly Resolved. "That's quite a filly and we're pretty pumped... Paul (MacDonell) gave (Duly Resolved) a great steer and he's as good as he can be... It's a big check."

Venerable, a daughter of Walner out of Jolene Jolene is now a perfect eight-for-eight and has already surpassed $1 million in career earnings (by Standardbred Canada accounting) — which must be some sort of record to seven figures.

Venerable, bred by Maumee River Stables, Black Creek Farm, Martin Schmucker and Steve Stewart, Venerable has now exceeded her $210,000 purchase price at the 2020 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale by nearly five-fold.

"She's an amazing horse. She's just got some super cardiovascular system or something," Norman said. "She's an absolute angel to be around. She's an absolute pet and she's smart, like she's very intelligent. She's simple. She's a real pleasure."

When asked whether Venerable deserves to be in the discussion for Horse of the Year, Miller was unequivocal.

"Heck, yeah," the driver said, indicating that would be his, admittedly biased, vote.

Venerable's lucrative season means Norman will now pass on racing her in Lexington to prepare her for her final event of the year – the Breeders Crown at the end of October at The Meadowlands.

"I think I'll just skip (Lexington) and race her in the Breeders Crown and call it a year. That'll be nine or 10 starts, which will be great," Norman said.

Duly Resolved's camp is pondering the same scheduling question now that the colt has earnings of $592,409 and a never-worse-than-second record of 5-4-0 in nine starts.

"Do we baby him or do we keep on going? That's the question," Bax said. After all, Duly Resolved is eligible for the Hambletonian.

As for a stellar battle in a stellar Mohawk Million field, none of it would have been possible without a group of ultra-game slot owners that ponied up $100,000 for each of nine slots (the 10th went to the winner of the William Wellwood Memorial, King Of The North).

The rules of the race allow slot owners to use them at their discretion. Slots are considered an entity that can be sold, traded or leased. Ontario-based owner/trainer Gino Toscani, Montreal's Determination Stable (Serge Godin) and EquineX each purchased two slots. Single slots were purchased by Crawford Farms of New York (Al and Michelle Crawford) and leading Ontario owners Brad Grant and Steve Heimbecker.

Venerable's camp made a deal with Grant to use his slot. Grant also dealt the winning slot to last year's Mohawk Million winner Venerate.

"Brad was great to work with," Norman said of this year's deal.

Owner David McDuffee, who shares Venerable with Mel Hartman, Paul Bordogna and Steven Arnold, said the fact there were a few slots available made making a deal fairly smooth.

"There were two or three slots available. When we decided to do it, I made some calls and we had some good negotiations. Actually, I could've gotten a couple of slots," McDuffee said.

Duly Resolved's connections worked out a deal with Heimbecker to use his slot.

Asked what it feels like to win a million-dollar race with a 2-year-old, McDuffee was completely cognizant it is an extremely rare event.

"It doesn't happen very often, does it? It's a great feeling. I'm so excited for everybody involved – the trainer, the driver and my partners," he said.

Monte Miki magical in Metro Pace

by Woodbine communications

Monte Miki made his first stakes appearance a memorable one, claiming top prize courtesy of a primetime performance in the $824,000 Metro Pace, Saturday night (Sept. 25) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

A bay son of Always B Miki—Montenegro, Monte Miki arrived at the Metro with an unblemished record after three starts. At the end of the prestigious event for 2-year-old pacers, he was still undefeated and very much at the top of his game.

Lining up in the second tier from post 11, Monte Miki, typically a close-to-the pace type, was settled into ninth spot by Scott Zeron, as Wearinmysixshooter, with Dexter Dunn holding the reins, grabbed early control of the race with Foureverb Boy keeping close tabs on the pacesetter through an opening quarter of :27.

Monte Miki (Scott Zeron) won the $824,000 Metro Pace final in 1:52.2.

Wearinmysixshooter was still firing on the front end as Zeron and Monte Miki sat tenth after a half-mile timed in :55.3.

"I probably moved my horse three times before the half just because there was so much action going on," said Zeron, who was driving the horse for the first time. "Yannick (Gingras) wasn't able to get in this second-tier path there when he was trying to. There was a lot in the middle portion of that race, then obviously when Sylvain (Filion, driving Bob Loblaw) made his break, it kind of opened the floodgates for me."

As the field entered the turn for home, Wearinmysixshooter began to pace away from his rivals, ahead of his closest pursuer by three lengths at Ken Middleton's stretch call. Monte Miki, meanwhile, had been methodically picking off his rivals one-by-one and was quickly gaining ground on the leader.

At the wire, Monte Miki, who carved out a final quarter of :28, won by 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ -lengths, stopping the teletimer in 1:52.2. Wearinmysixshooter was second and Fourevery Boy was third.

"I thought for sure I was going to be second, second at three deep, because he really responded well and he's very big horse and gets over the ground so well," offered Zeron. "I knew he'd carry speed all the way up to second, but Dexter had a cushion up front, and just probably with the last eighth of a mile to go, I thought I was going to catch him."

Sent off at 15-1, Monte Miki returned $33.70 for the milestone win.

After taking a qualifier in 1:58.1 at Hoosier Downs on June 23, the Velocity Standardbreds (Lebanon, OH) homebred debuted at Scioto Downs on July 8, posting a three-length triumph in a time of 1:55.

The Mark Evers trainee posted two more wins at Scioto, on July 22 and September 1, to net the natural hat trick before his date in the Metro, where he made it a grand slam to start his career.

Lyons Sentinel magnificent in Milton

by Woodbine communications

Lyons Sentinel made it six straight scores after scorching her rivals via a stellar 1:49.2 victory in the $240,000 Milton Stakes, Saturday night (Sept. 25) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

After starting her 2021 season just 2-for-8, Lyons Sentinel, a 4-year-old daughter of Captaintreacherous—Tutu Hanover, began to hit her best stride.

She hasn't missed a beat since.

With regular driver Tim Tetrick in the race bike, Lyons Sentinel, sent off as the 1-5 choice in the Milton, sat fourth into the second, while Gias Surreal was third.

"There're some great mares in there," said Tetrick. "I raced her differently than I normally do. I'd like her better in a tracking position, but I didn't want to be the first-up position from the three-eighths pole and have to go against a great mare in Rocknificent, so I took my shot. When she's on the lead she starts looking at butterflies and looks up in the air and stuff, but she knows she's a champion and she figures it out. She put her head down and got the job done."

A $2 win ticket on Lyons Sentinel returned $2.50.

"Everything is special when it says stakes race and the Milton is one of the top races in our sport," said Tetrick. "To win it is a big honor."

It was the first Milton crown for Tetrick and trainer James King Jr. The trophy presentation was made by Gord Krantz, Mayor of Milton, a post he has held since 1980.

Bred by Hanover Shoe Farms, Lyons Sentinel is owned by Threelyonsracing and now has 20 career wins, along with 13 seconds and three thirds, from 42 starts. She is 8-for-14 on the season and is closing in on $2 million in lifetime earnings.

Her last three victories have come at Mohawk, including a 1:49.1 win in the Roses Are Red final on Sept. 4.

Inaminate Hanover upsets in the Simcoe

by Woodbine communications

In a game of catch-me-if-you-can, Inaminate Hanover wired a field of seven to post a 13-1 upset in the $157,975 Simcoe Stakes, Saturday night (Sept. 25) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

It was a key tidbit of information provided to driver Louis-Phillipe Roy prior to the race that proved most valuable.

"Bob [McClure] told me before the race, if he's not involved it's hard to get his attention," said Roy in the Winbak Winner's Circle after his three-and-a-quarter length victory. "Being behind the car, on the gate, I think it's the best spot to get well positioned. After that, we just waited to see how the race would go. He just felt so strong that I was happy to let him do his job and have fun."

Inaminate Hanover (Louis-Philippe Roy) posted a 13-1 upset in 1:52.4 in the $157,975 Simcoe Stakes on Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The newly-paired combination was involved early and often, setting fractions of :27.1, :56, and 1:24.1, before trotting home in a lifetime mark 1:52.4 for owner Determination Stable.

Trained by Luc Blais, the 3-year-old gelded son of Bar Hopping—Im On Cloud Nine, bred by Hanover Shoe Farms, now boasts lifetime earnings of $142,313.

Inaminate Hanover was sold for $170,000 at the 2019 Standardbred Horse Sales Company's yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA.

Niki Hill is the Great Lady

by Woodbine communications

Two undefeated freshman pacing fillies came into Saturday's (Sept. 25) $500,500 Shes A Great Lady final at Woodbine Mohawk Park and only one, Niki Hill, kept her streak intact but the other, Prohibition Legal, made sure she earned it.

The lead changed hands twice before the :26.4 opening quarter but it was heavy favorite Niki Hill well ensconced on the front by the :54.4 half which is when Prohibition Legal began her challenge. The two unbeaten misses were almost neck and neck at the 1:22.3 three-quarters and battled together down the lane but Niki seemed to find another gear and hit the wire first 1:50.2.

A very game Prohibition Legal, who came into tonight's final with a perfect six-for-six record, was second for James MacDonald. Her sire, Big Jim, stands at Seelster Farms which who sponsored tonight's final. Joyride Hanover was third while Boudoir Hanover and Balance completed the top five.

Claus Andersen

Niki Hill (Dexter Dunn) winning the $500,500 final of the Shes A Great Lady in 1:50.2.

Niki Hill, a daughter of Always B Miki—Road Bet trained by Chris Ryder, now has a perfect five-for-five record with tonight's contest the richest she's competed for by more than $445,000. Bred by Stephen Dey III of New Jersey, she was a $155,000 yearling purchase by owner Tom Hill at the Lexington Select Sale. With tonight's win she has $315,000 banked to date.

Niki Hill is the third foal of the good race mare Road Bet, a winner of over $380,000 in her career. Her first foal was the $1.1 million winner Cattlewash.

Niki's pilot in all of her starts to date, Dexter Dunn, said of the race:

Claus Andersen

Niki Hill's owner, Tom Hill Sr., said the victory was more special given what happened with Party Girl: "After losing the ability to race Party Girl this year, God sent me two champions, he sent me this one and he sent me Grace (Hill), who are two super fillies and fill the void for Party Girl."

Dave Landry

Niki Hill is undefeated through five career starts.

"James and his filly really threw down there at the three-quarters into the stretch. I hadn't asked my filly too much yet, I thought she had more in the tank and she kicked away at the end of it."

Dunn was asked to compare this filly to her extremely talented former stablemate Party Girl Hill, who was 15-for-16 in an incredible 3-year-old season last year and was on tap to return this year but had to be retired due to injury.

"She's on her way to that stage. Obviously Party Girl didn't race at 2, she started her career at 3. She has that staying ability like Party Girl and can hold her speed for a long way in the mile."

As for his success so far this season the driver commented: "It's the horses I get to drive and the people I get to drive for. I've been lucky, I've driven some unbelievable horses, they do all the hard work."

The filly's owner, Tom Hill Sr. explained the victory was more special given what happened with Party Girl: "After losing the ability to race Party Girl this year, God sent me two champions, he sent me this one and he sent me Grace (Hill), who are two super fillies and fill the void for Party Girl."

Grace Hill, a 3-year-old pacing filly also by Always B Miki, is currently riding a five-race winning streak and has $638,000

ST's Croon takes troubling position after committee rules on Propulsion case

Propulsion's owners will have to pay back some $3 million (U.S.) the trotter earned while racing in Europe, but trainer Daniel Redén will not be punished despite being found guilty of competing with a horse not eligible to start. But there's concern about the stance Svensk Travsport CEO Mario Croon has taken on the case for all those racing horses in Sweden.

by Dave Briggs

Maria Croon, the CEO of Swedish racing authority Svensk Travsport (ST), appears to be taking a troubling new position on trainer responsibility in Sweden in the wake of a decision on the Propulsion case.

Swedish trotting publication Travronden reported Friday (Sept. 24) (full story here) that the Swedish Trotting Sports Responsibility and Disciplinary Committee (STAD) has ruled Stall Zet, the owner of trotting star Propulsion, will have to repay some SEK 26.3 million (just over $3 million U.S.) in money earned while racing in Sweden. Trainer Daniel Redén, while convicted of competing with a horse not eligible to start, will not face punishment.

Stall Zet's lawyer said he will appeal the decision to return the purse money to the courts.

Background:

- Swedish trotting association's mistakes could cost Redén his career
- In defence of Propulsion's original connections
- Lead investigator in Propulsion case fired by Swedish governing body

CHAPTER SEVEN
Blue Chip Farms,
Chapter Seven Syndicate

- Swedish authority's investigation into Propulsion turning into a spy novel
- Shameful mess: ST rules Propulsion DQed from all Swedish starts
- Propulsion approved as stallion in most countries except Sweden

STAD's ruling to not punish Redén seems fair considering there is no evidence the trainer knew Propulsion underwent a nerve procedure in the United States before the horse was purchased by Stall Zet and exported to race in Sweden. The procedure was not disclosed before the horse was purchased, but it was clearly indicated on the horse's export certificate (view certificate here) sent to ST. Redén has said he did not receive a copy of the export certificate – and there's no evidence he did. However, we do know ST received it.

It appears ST failed to examine the document properly and allowed the horse to race in Sweden for five years despite the fact horses that have been nerved have long been banned from racing in the country.

I understand the trainer responsibility rule is a crucial one to protect animal welfare. Someone has to be responsible for each horse's care and that's the agreement those that put themselves down as trainer must accept. But, clearly, ST's failure to properly examine important documents and uphold its own rules played a part in the disciplinary committee's decision to find Redén guilty, but impose no punishment.

It's also, likely, fair that purse money be returned – though the Swedish courts may decide differently. Propulsion earned money while being ineligible to do so based on Swedish rule. The connections of horses that finished behind him, likely, deserve that money. That money has already been paid out by ST and now ST is trying to collect from Stall Zet to cover it.

The good news in all this, if we believe Croon, is that ST has improved its procedures for examining documents. There's little doubt ST was at least culpable in the debacle.

"It is clear that this could have been noticed," she told Travronden in an article translated into English by Google. "We have reported this and we have taken responsibility for changing precisely those processes."

The more troubling part is Croon's position on ST's role in future cases.

"It is not forbidden to import a nerve-wracked horse, but (a trainer) is not allowed to compete with it. We do not usually assess whether horses are eligible for competition or not. The responsibility for ensuring that the approximately 20,000 competition horses that are registered in our pedigree books are eligible for competition lies with the respective trainer," she said.

So, ST has rules and does not enforce them? Funny, they seem to be all about enforcing rules when it comes to its strict doping and whipping rules.

Obviously, ST enforces numerous other rules that determine whether horses are eligible for competition. Now it is hands off on this one?

I might buy Croon's position that it's okay to bring nerved animals into Sweden IF she represented an overall agricultural body responsible for overseeing the importing of general livestock. As long as applicable importation rules (quarantine, testing for diseases, etc.) are followed, people can certainly bring horses into the country for pleasure or work purposes that aren't competing for prize money.

However, ST is strictly a racing-based regulator that determines what is allowed as it pertains to horses in competition. It has a duty to protect the betting public, the horses themselves and the participants.

All along Croon has taken a position that it was all Redén's fault, not that of her association, despite the evidence suggesting otherwise.

Now, while grudgingly admitting mistakes were made at ST, Croon appears to pre-emptively covering ST's behind and attempting to shift all responsibility away from ST enforcing its own rules in future cases.

That — and many other blunders in this case — should make everyone that races horses in Sweden nervous.

Forbidden Trade flourishes in Caesars Trotting Classic at Harrah's Hoosier Park

by Emily Ratcliff / Harrah's Hoosier Park

Forbidden Trade, with driver Bob McClure in the bike, made his first Harrah's Hoosier Park start a winning as he turned in a dominant performance to capture the featured event of the evening, the $220,000 Caesars Trotting Classic, at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino on Friday, (Sept. 25). Stopping the timer in 1:52.4, Forbidden Trade went gate to wire and repelled all challenges to get the victory. The Caesars Trotting Classic serves as the Hoosier state's richest trotting race and was one of seven Grand Circuit events on the evening's star-studded card.

Leaving from post seven, McClure left nothing to chance and sent the 2019 Hambletonian winner straight to the front through the opening quarter in :27. It's Academic and Yannick Gingras also stepped out of the gate to grab position and quickly opted for a pocket trip. The heavily favored Lindy The Great and Andy Miller settled for a spot along the rail in fourth.

Forbidden Trade clicked off middle fractions of :56.1 and 1:24.2 before being joined on the outside by Lindy The Great. Turning for home, as the rest of the field started to close in, Forbidden Trade found another gear. It's Academic tipped from the pocket and made a solid bid but Forbidden Trade was too strong. Using a :28.2 final panel, Forbidden Trade held off It's Academic by three parts of a length while Guardian Angel As and Brian Sears rallied well to finish third. Sent off at odds of 3-1, Forbidden Trade returned $8.60 to his backers at the betting windows.

"This is the best he has ever been," driver Bob McClure told Bob Heyden in the winner's circle. "He's just in unbelievable form right now.

"In a race like this you want to control your own fate. We were able to get a pretty good breather down the backside and with Lindy The Great having to come first-over, I felt good about our chances. It was all up to him after that and he did his job."

Trained by Luc Blais, the 5-year-old son of Kadabra—Pure Ivory recorded his fourth win from 10 seasonal starts. Owned by Determination, Forbidden Trade now sports a lifetime bankroll of $1,679,379. Forbidden Trade was bred by Steve Stewart.

Ocean Rock rolls in Hoosier Park Pacing Derby

Ocean Rock (Chris Page) illustrated he can take his show on the road with an authoritative 1:49 victory in his first appearance at Harrah's Hoosier Park in the $182,000 Hoosier Park Pacing Derby. Catch The Fire (Scott Zeron) was second and Indiana stand-out Little Rocket Man (John De Long) was third.

A 4-year-old altered son of Rockin Amadeus—Ocean Pearl, Ocean Rock is a world champion and was honored as Ohio's 2020 3-Year-Old Pacing Colt and Gelding of the Year.

Commencing his mile from post position four, Ocean Rock was placed on the lead with some early pressure from Workin Ona Mystery (Tim Tetrick). The favorite clicked off fractions of :26.2, :54.4, and 1:22.3 before pulling away in the stretch to stop the clock in 1:49. His rivals simply could not catch him after Ocean Rock put up a last quarter-mile in :26.2.

Owned by his breeder, Sandra Burnett, Ocean Rock improved his record to 33-17-8-1. He is trained by Christi Noble and has earned more than $800,000 in his career.

Fulfullnmydestiny makes dreams come in Elevation

Trainer/driver James Yoder steered heavy favorite Fulfullnmydestiny to the finish line first in the $120,000 Elevation Pace for 2-year-old colt and gelding pacers from post position six. Gentle Giant (Trace Tetrick) and Ponda Warrior (Brandon Bates) were second and third.

The son of Tellitlikeitis—Driven By Destiny was fourth after leaving the gate but glided by leader Ponda Warrior after a first quarter in :27.3. Once on top, Fulfullnmydestiny began to assert his authority. Using a :27.1 final quarter, Fulfullnmydestiny paced strong to the wire under a hand driver from Yoder to finish four lengths to the good.

Owned by his breeder Brett Boyd, Fulfullmydestiny collected his fifth consecutive victory. His record stands at 8-5-2 and he has amassed $192,190. The win marked the first Grand Circuit victory for his owners.

Chase H Hanover scores in Jenna's Beach Boy

Hall of Famer David Miller held the reins in Chase H Hanover's victory in the $130,000 Jenna's Beach Boy. The world champion defeated Emblaze Hanover (Yannick Gingras) and Virgo (Trace Tetrick) when hitting the wire first in 1:49.2.

A son of Captaintreacherous—Calgary Hanover, Chase H Hanover received a pocket trip right from the start and held the garden seat throughout the mile behind One Eight Hundred's hooves in :26.2, :55 and 1:22.

When One Eight Hundred faltered in the stretch, Chase H Hanover took advantage of the opportunity to pace home and did so with authority.

Trained and co-owned by Scott Cox, Chase H Hanover has banked $516,250 and won his third race this year from 15 trips to the gate. Jason Ash also owns Chase H Hanover.

Jujubee scores in inaugural edition of Phil Langley Memorial Jujubee (Andrew McCarthy) won his fifth consecutive race in the $100,00 Phil Langley Memorial. The favorite defeated In Range (Tim Tetrick) and Take All Comers (Brian Sears) in 1:52.1.

Fourth in the early stages of the race, the son of Creatine-La Cantera surged to the lead shortly before the half-mile marker. Jujubee then trotted away from the field with establishing fractions of :55.4 and 1:24 before hitting the wire in 1:52.1

The sophomore is owned by Jon Erdner and has banked $337,041 with 12 wins from 15 starts in 2021. Jujubee was 5-2-2-1 as a freshman and earned $13,066 in purse money.

Leaving from post position two as the 1-9 favorite, Joviality S, trained by Marcus Melander and owned by Courant Inc., was content to settle in fourth behind leader Raised By Lindy (Yannick Gingras) through the first panel in :28.4. The daughter of 2012 Horse of the Year Chapter Seven and the first foal from the outstanding mare Pasithea Face S received her cue shortly before the half-mile pole marker.

Joviality S, the newly crowned New York Sire Stakes champion, procured the lead from her rival while posting fractions of :58.3 and 1:27.4. She and Hall of Fame pilot faced a mild bid in the stretch to fend off a very game Raised By Lindy to hit the wire in 1:54.1.

Improving her record to 8-6-1, the filly equaled her lifetime mark and boosted her earnings to more than $300,000.

The valiant Raised By Lindy (Walner—Birthright) was second with Je Suis Si Belle (Andy Miller) third.

Demonstrating another dimension, Lyons Sentinel (Tim Tetrick) scooted up the inside to defeat Cape Cod Hanover (Chris Page) in 1:52.1 in the second $200,000 division of the Kentuckiana Stallion Management. Confidently handled by her driver, the daughter of Sweet Lou—Southwind Serenity left from post position four as the heavy favorite.

Tetrick patiently sat in the bike behind a strong :26.4 opening split, a :55.4 a half-mile and a 1:24.2 three-quarters behind Cape Cod Hanover prior to sliding up the pylons to hit the line in 1:52.

Lyons Serenity, a daughter of Walner—Southwind Serenity, is owned by Threelyonsracing and trained by Jim King Jr. The filly now sports a resume of 8-7-1-0 and has banked $181,842.

She paid $3.20 to win with Cape Cod Hanover providing $3.40 to place and Lorraine Smoke (James Yoder) offering $4.80 to show.

Swift Swanda wins Moni Maker

Indiana champion Swift Swanda (Trace Tetrick) returned to the winner's circle she clearly adores in the $115,000 Moni Maker. Leaving from post position three, the public's second choice was on the lead through the opening quarter-mile in :28.1. The daughter of Swan For All—Cheetah Hall, however, yielded her position to Aunt Irene (Dexter Dunn) for the rest of the journey.

Sitting in second after fractions of :57.3 and 1:27.3, Swift Swanda simply trotted home.

Aunt Irene and race favorite Darlene Hanover (Andrew McCarthy) were second and third.

Owned by Anthony Lombardi and The Kales Company, Swift Swanda paid $6 to win. The filly is trained by Erv Miller. She now has a record a career record of 23-14-1-2 and has earned $436,180.

Redén's American trips paid off in Kriteriet

by Thomas Hedlund

Once upon a time in America, Swedish trainer Daniel Redén found a horse that later would change his career dramatically. Shaq Is Back (Credit Winner—Vivica Hall) came from a good 3-year-old season in Ray Schnittker's training when he was purchased by Redén and Brixton Medical AB in Harrisburg 2010. Shaq Is Back would later be Redén's first participant in Elitloppet at Solvalla (2013) and the noble Credit Winner son learned

15 Great Bred Yearlings Selling In Lexington

#447 Girlfight Hall, b.f., by Trixton-Go Go Dancer

Walnut Hall Ltd. is selling 15 of the best bred yearlings in the catalog at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale. There are four trotters, including an International Moni half-brother to Free-For-Aller Oney Hall 1:51 ($220,815); two by Muscle Mass, one of them a half-brother to Dancer Hall 1:51.1 ($412,293), Manatlas 3, 1:54.4 ($175,202), etc., the other the best bred trotting filly in the sale out of Constance Hall 2, 1:58.3 ($250,990); and a Trixton half-sister to three $100,000 plus winners who trots like a trainer's dream.

The 11 pacers are all the products of one of the best band of pacing broodmares in the sport, Bruce Trogon's Emerald Highlands Farm. They include a Bettor's Delight half-brother to four who won or placed in stakes out of millionaire Champion Filly Fancy Filly 3, 1:49.4 ($1,080,806).

The other 10 are all by the great colt pacer Fear The Dragon, and this kid is here to tell you, next year will be his time to shine in Ohio. Every one of them is out of a mare who has produced horses that won or placed in stakes. These are uniformly great-looking yearlings, the kind that mature into stakes horses at two and beyond. They represent an unusual opportunity for smart buyers to acquire yearlings with unlimited potential in a session known for its bargain buys.

Lara Boko (Mika Forss) winning the $640,000 Oaks for 3-year-old fillies on Saturday at Solvalla.

Redén a lot about how to race a horse in the European elite.

“Shaq Is Back was like a dream to drive and I was also very fond of his blood, with Victory Dream as the sire of the dam Vivica Hall,” said Redén.

The success with Shaq Is Back on Swedish soil resulted in new purchases in America and when full sister Shaqline (Credit Winner—Vivica Hall) showed up in the catalogue for the sale in Lexington 2013, Redén got the highest bid and Shaqline eventually ended up in Jimmy Taker’s barn.

When it was time for the new career as a broodmare in Sweden, Father Patrick became her first partner and the result is named Francesco Zet, now a 3-year-old and winner of Saturday’s (Sep. 25) $920,000 Kriteriet at Solvalla.

Francesco Zet was more or less outstanding in the 1.6 miles long race after a second over trip where driver Örjan Kihlström had to leave for a three wide attack as early as with a kilometer to go. Francesco Zet fought three wide outside of leader duo Kavatosåfin and Mister Invictus and when Kihlström pulled the plugs from his horse’s ears, Francesco Zet exploded and flew to safe win in mile rate 1:57.

“Francesco Zet is definitely top three among all horses I’ve trained so far in my career and he still doesn’t understand what this is all about. The most thrilling thing about this victory is the story with his mother, Shaqline. I would never have bought her if it wasn’t for Shaq Is Back and his career here in Sweden. I’ve said it before, Victory Dream is the blood I’m searching for and in Francesco Zet we have from both parents (Father Patrick and Shaqline),” said Redén after the prestigious victory.

Redén has now claimed the two biggest races at Solvalla this season since he won Elitloppet in May with another homebred trotter: Don Fanucci Zet (Hard Livin).

Behind Francesco Zet, big upset Global Cashflow was runner up ahead of Mellby Jinx.

Lara Boko best in $640,000 Oaks

Timo Nurmos had four shots when $640,000 Oaks for 3-year-old fillies was on Solvalla’s Saturday (Sep. 25) race card and one of them showed great strength and moral.

Lara Boko (Djali Boko), paired with Mika Forss hit the first over position after a quarter of a mile and when stable mate Senorita Tokio steered in front, the race was locked for the opponents.

Senorita Tokio was beaten at the top of the stretch and Lara Boko got advantage at the same time as horses attacked three wide with just the home stretch to go. Mika Forss could sit quietly in the bike as Lara Boko cruised to safe win in mile rate 1:56 over 1.3 miles.

Björn Goop drove his own Bright Crystal to silver place and strong finisher Kashmir River claimed the bronze medal.

Timo Nurmos’ other three horses in the race didn’t finish among the top six, still, the dominant trainer could be happy for his second title in Swedish Oaks.

“I’m proud over this horse. It’s not easy to win Oaks from position first over. My four horses did all well in the eliminations and I had some expectations that one of them would be successful in the final,” said Nurmos after the race.

With Arlington's demise, Hawthorne will share dates evenly between standardbreds and thoroughbred in 2022

Horse racing in Chicago next year will feature a 75-date harness program and 76-date thoroughbred calendar split into four segments.

by Neil Milbert

Seeking to control the damage created by Arlington International Racecourse's departure from the Chicago racing scene, Hawthorne Racecourse, the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Association and the Illinois Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association have won the approval of the Illinois Racing Board for the 2022 schedule that they jointly agreed to.

When the Arlington thoroughbred meet that left the starting gate on April 30 reaches the finish line on Saturday (Sept. 25) it will mark the termination of racing at the tradition-rich 94-year-old Chicagoland sports showcase that Architectural Digest has described as "world's most beautiful racetrack."

Corporate owner, Churchill Downs, Inc. (CDI), is selling the 326-acre property for redevelopment, much to the dismay of racing fans in the Chicago metropolitan area and the owners, trainers, jockeys and backstretch workers who have come to consider Arlington their home track.

That decision has left Hawthorne as the only racetrack in the metropolitan area and the members of the harness and thoroughbred communities in a no-win situation, struggling to survive while they await the completion of construction of a casino at the track and the hoped for establishment of a new harness track in the south suburbs.

"Over the last three months we've been working with Hawthorne and the thoroughbred horsemen to come up with an amicable schedule," IHHA executive director Tony Somone told the board at Thursday's (Sept. 23) dates hearings that prefaced the announcement of the schedule. "It was work; it was contentious at times. But we eventually succeeded and we've got light at the end of the tunnel."

Passed by a 7-0 vote, the schedule is spread over the entire calendar year. It calls for 75 harness programs and 76 thoroughbred programs and it is split into four segments.

The racing year will begin with harness racing from Jan. 7 through March 20.

Then, the thoroughbreds will take over the track for a meeting that runs from April 2 through June 25.

The harness horses will return on July 1 and will remain through Sept. 11.

Concluding the racing year will be a Sept. 23-Dec. 31 thoroughbred meeting.

"To be frank it's not the most profitable schedule for Hawthorne but it is the best for an industry in transition," said Hawthorne president Tim Carey. "The schedule has been crafted to support the entire industry. We will be flipping the track (to change the racing surface) four times.

"Obviously, we are in an unprecedented situation. Never in the history of Chicago racing has only one track operated."

Hawthorne's history dates back to 1891, making it America's fourth oldest thoroughbred track.

Pari-mutuel harness racing in Illinois was inaugurated at now defunct Maywood Park in 1946 and Hawthorne added the sport in 1970, making it the Chicago market's sixth sulky venue at the time.

But, eventually the other tracks began to disappear and in 2016 Hawthorne became the only standardbred game in town after Balmoral Park and Maywood went out of business late the previous year.

Since then the harness meeting has been bookended by thoroughbred meetings in spring and fall.

This year's 63-night harness meeting began May 7 and ends Sunday night. The thoroughbreds, meanwhile, are racing a 53-day schedule consisting of a March 6-April 25 meeting and an Oct. 1-Dec. 31 meeting.

Carey said that during the course of his discussions with Somone and IHHA president Marty Engel and ITHA president Mike Campbell and executive director Dave McCaffrey they established three priorities: 1, maximizing opportunities for both breeds; 2, preserving the Illinois-bred stakes program for harness horses; 3, maximizing grass racing for thoroughbred horsemen.

"And while all of this is happening (racino) construction will continue," Carey said.

The target date for completion of the $4 million project is early next fall.

"This isn't a mere remodeling," emphasized Carey. "It's a total rebuilding. We are building a premier entertainment and gaming destination. We are remaking the entire experience of being at Hawthorne for both the fans and the horsemen."

A massive 2019 gambling expansion bill that passed the Illinois legislature and was signed by Gov. J.B. Pritzger made it possible for the state's three tracks – Hawthorne, Arlington and Fairmount Park (which conducts a thoroughbred meeting in downstate Collinsville) – to add casino gambling with a portion of the revenue earmarked for purses and track improvements.

For nearly 30 years the tracks and horsemen had been urging the legislature to let them have casino gambling, an innovation that has revitalized racing in other states, and Arlington was in the forefront of the push.

When, at long last, approval came, Hawthorne and Fairmount immediately began making plans to convert themselves into racinos (combination racetracks and casinos), but shockingly Bill Carstanjen, the chief executive of Arlington's parent company, CDI, in effect said, "No, thank you."

"The long-term solution is not Arlington Park," Carstanjen announced in the summer of 2020. "The land will have higher and better purposes for something at some point."

Although no one in the CDI hierarchy will admit it, the obvious reason is to eliminate competition for another of its holdings, the Rivers Casino, located about 20 minutes from Arlington by car. Soon after Rush Street Gaming opened Rivers in 2011 it became the state's most profitable casino and in 2019 CDI – which has recent years has made its racetrack interests subordinate to its casino gambling pursuits – bought a 62 per cent interest.

According to an anti-trust complaint filed with the Illinois attorney general's office by the ITHA, CDI has turned down a $200 million offer for Arlington and its right to acquire a casino license.

When bidding on Arlington closed in June, CDI announced "numerous parties have made offers." Two days later, the Chicago Bears of the National Football League confirmed reports that they were among the bidders and five days thereafter the Bears announced a deal with Rivers Casino to make its digital arm, BetRivers, the team's exclusive sportsbook and casino partner. Thus, it would appear that the Bears are the most likely of the bidders to be take over the property.

In addition to permitting tracks to reinvent themselves as racinos and Chicago's major sports teams and racetracks to operate sportsbooks, the 2019 legislation called for a new harness track/casino to be located in one of six townships in south suburban Chicago.

Later in 2019, real estate developer and video gaming magnate Rick Heidner disclosed that he was making arrangements to build a state-of-the-art racino in the village of Tinley Park and at that year's dates hearings the Racing Board tentatively approved his application for a Dec. 6-29 harness meeting.

But the deal fell through and the dates were revoked because of a disclosure that Heidner had business ties to a banking family with alleged organized crime connections.

Since then, there have been no reports of a prospective builder, much to the dismay of both the harness and thoroughbred horsemen.

"A second track in Chicago is so important for both breeds," stressed McCaffrey, who was the IHHA president and a successful harness driver before becoming the ITHA's executive director. "With Arlington's absence the importance of that track cannot be overstated."

McCaffrey also emphasized "the critical role" that off-track betting locations play and told the board "they need to stay open" (under the auspices of Hawthorne now that Arlington is leaving racing).

Racing Board member Alan Henry has been a persistent critic of CDI's decision to close Arlington and in the commissioner's comment segment of the meeting at which the schedule was announced he again denounced the parent company.

"I will tell you that it dismays me to have to vote in favor of the 2022 racing dates that were reluctantly put before us today," he said in part. "I am well aware that it was the least bad option. I also know that if this becomes the new normal in Illinois, we are on the road to the suffocation of an entire industry."

"The fault for this deformed calendar – most of it – belongs to Churchill Downs Inc. Their decision to permanently close Arlington Park and then not apply for 2022 racing dates as a placeholder, even while one of the groups still alive in the budding process wants to keep the track open, has been a masterwork of corporate single-mindedness."

"With uncanny tone-deafness, the track's brass are touting the end of nearly a century of racing at Arlington Park on Saturday as a 'celebration.' I'd say Daily-Herald columnist Jim O'Donnell more accurately pegs it as a 'hollow charade' and a 'vile final goodbye.'"

THE ART OF BREEDING

with ALAN LEAVITT

Some observations on picking yearlings

by Alan Leavitt

The yearling sales season is upon us, and over the course of a few days in Lexington and Harrisburg, the kind of success or failure you'll experience next year on the track will be determined. This kid doesn't pretend to have all the answers to picking yearlings, or even most of them, but I do have some observations.

The selection process starts with the written word, the sales catalog. Here, a personal complaint. Today's standardbred sales pedigrees ignore the most important single element, the sire. He rates no attention on the yearling's pedigree page, even though the sire is the most vital concern when appraising a yearling for possible purchase.

By contrast, thoroughbred sales catalogs devote a large paragraph to the sire on every pedigree page. Which is how it should be.

Evaluating a sire usually is a popularity contest. A stud with a headliner or two is automatically in demand, even though his percentage of stakes horses is low. The horse you want is one who consistently sires "good horses," i.e. fast, sound, level headed trotters or pacers.

By contrast, rather than paying a million dollars for a full-brother to Greenshoe, that money would have been better invested in lottery tickets. The reason being that Greenshoe was like a bolt of lightning, incredibly fast, close to being uncontrollable, and something we had never seen the likes of before and may well never see again.

Which doesn't mean that he can't be a great sire. Here it's a question of whether his genotype, his genetic makeup, matches up with his phenotype, which is the visible horse, i.e. a racehorse sans pareil. That, only time will tell.

Sire stakes do play an important role these days, unless you're rich enough to be swinging for the fences when you make the last bid. A good example of such a buyer is Serge Godin, who races under the nom de course of Determination. M. (for Monsieur) Godin, as he is properly known in French speaking Quebec, spends freely, but wisely. He has a top private trainer in Luc Blais, one of the best drivers in the business in Bob McClure, and every fall the yearlings he buys produce at least several stakes winning colts and fillies. The best product of their method so far is the Hambletonian winner, Forbidden Trade.

By contrast, there are a few others who flamboyantly spend a great deal of money and come up empty when the big stakes are raced. Money alone has never spelled success in the horse business, and it never will.

In any case, after you've decided that a certain yearling's sire gives you a reasonable shot at success, you consider the dam. Here, an important consideration, if it applies, is the genetic makeup of a yearling's pedigree. It doesn't occur frequently, but if a colt or filly does happen to have two close crosses to the same horse, mare or stallion, that's inbreeding, and something to jump on.

Back in the Ming Dynasty, Jim Harrison bred Romola Hanover to Dancer Hanover three times, because he was inbreeding to the great sire, Hal Dale. The result was three great, stakes winning pacers, the colts Romeo and Romulus Hanover, and the filly, Romalie Hanover.

Interestingly enough, none of the three looked anything like each other. Romeo was small, Romulus was big and Romalie, the filly, was a bay as opposed to her two chestnut brothers.

But you find that kind of inbreeding about as frequently as you see a blue moon, but it always pays to look. This kid's first maxim re dams is to largely discount any great things she might have done on the track. There is no connection between a mare's racing success and a mare's ability to reproduce the qualities that made her great on the track.

Again, here I go with the genotype and the phenotype, but you have to understand what they are as two entirely separate entities in every standardbred. Which I know everyone will blithely ignore, and those with big bank accounts will pay lots of money again this fall for the sons and daughters of great race mares. And after paying big training bills and thousands in stake payments you wind up with a ten claimer, don't say I didn't warn you.

Evaluating a mare's productivity is easy. If she has consistently produced good horses by more than one sire, she's what you're looking for. Of course, many mares are just starting out, and they have very few, or maybe no foals of racing age. So all you can go by is the quality of her pedigree, which means you want second, third, and fourth dams who have produced well.

You will seldom find a good producing mare from an otherwise cold family. If that's the case, however, accept it at face value. We had a mare that we leased at Lana Lobell who was fairly cold blooded, but she clicked every time with Speedy Crown. Then she went back to her owner, and he bred her to a local stud in Michigan. That foal was also a stakes winner, because the mare was prepotent.

In my example of a horse's genetic range as a deck of cards, this mare was blessed with only face cards and an ace, so she could be bred to any horse and come up with a high average of the two cards, hers and the stud's, so the result was a good horse.

Finally, there's the yearling him or herself, and that's the most important piece of the puzzle. Clearly, you want a yearling that stands right, i.e. not toeing in or out. Howard Beissinger, who was a truly great horseman, liked a fairly short cannon bone, in front, and a pastern that didn't have too much of a slope.

With trotters, they always should have a longer body than their height, as measured at the withers. The great Swedish horsemen, like Soren Nordin, carried a measuring stick and checked out every yearling they looked at. Any trotter who doesn't properly meet that equation is guaranteed to interfere.

Any yearling should have a nice, sharp head, and a large expressive eye. You like to see a sharp-eared horse, which bodes well for his disposition and quick learning ability. It is a fact, however, that we've somehow managed to breed long ears into our American trotter, but you still want him to use them in a curious, alert manner.

It should be axiomatic to have a vet take radiographs of all the 30 important bones and joints. No matter how low the potential price range is of any yearling, it's simply well worth the few hundred dollars to get a yearling x-rayed before you start spending good money.

Videos are important, in that they will show you how a yearling travels. Obviously, you want a horse that goes straight, neither coming in with a foot toward the opposite knee, or winging out, which is inefficient. If at all possible, try to see a yearling turn out in a paddock, where he can trot around naturally. Every good horse this kid ever raised could burn in the paddock.

So, that covers the basics of yearling buying, with the proviso that it is, at best, an inexact science. Although it may not be politically correct today, the most important single consideration was articulated to me a long time ago by Curly Smart, "Bub," he said, "That yearling you buy should just jump up and fill your eye. Just like a pretty girl does."

Words with The Wizard

A detailed look at the life of Pacey Mindlin.

by Murray Brown

The Wizard, also known as Pacey Mindlin, is what this author refers to as a "lifer" in this world of harness racing.

He has been a lover of sports — specifically horse racing and more specifically harness racing — for as long as he can remember.

He came by his affinity for sports and gambling through his father, Sandee, who took him to all the sporting events and gambling venues that he frequented.

He recalls being able to read a racing form, before he could read "Run Spot Run" in the first grade.

His first winning wager was on Citation at the age of six or seven — Wizard's age, not Citation's.

I have known The Wizard for at least 50 years.

If I were asked to describe him, the first thought to come into my mind would be "a nut," but a lovable and sometimes a semi-brilliant one.

We are of the same generation and are separated by only two months in age.

Our backgrounds are somewhat similar.

We began in the business in somewhat the same manner — as gamblers.

The major difference between us is that I consider myself to be semi-sane, while Wiz is only slightly removed from the nuthouse. But beneath that clown exterior, lives a real thinker.

Wizard's background in the sport is varied. He has enjoyed success in several phases of the business. Most, even those who know him, probably do not appreciate the various areas of the sport in which he has enjoyed success.

He began as a gambler and became by his own reckoning "a fairly successful one." He still maintains a presence in the wagering landscape as the track handicapper at Miami Valley and Yonkers Racetracks and on the Ohio Fair Circuit.

How did this great journey in sports, and specifically in horse racing, begin for you?

"I always loved sports, especially baseball. But there has never been a sport that I didn't enjoy watching and following. My father first took me to the flats at River Downs here in Ohio. I wasn't even 10 years old. He would dress me in a summer suit and a clip on tie and we'd go to the races. He'd get me a hamburger in the clubhouse. I'd munch on the burger and watch the races. I loved every minute of it."

How about harness racing specifically?

"We lived in the small Ohio town of Middletown. The scrap yard was in Franklin, just neighboring. I still live there. It was adjacent to where my father had established his scrapyard that I eventually inherited. I ran it for over half a century before selling it just a few years ago. There were several people in Franklin who owned racehorses which raced at nearby Lebanon Raceway. I became interested and started going. This area is a Mecca for sports. Cincinnati is close by. I've been a Reds and Bengals fan all of my life. Middletown is where one of the greatest basketball players ever, Jerry Lucas, was from and where he played in high school. His coach Paul Walker was a great harness racing fan and I knew him well.

"I saw Chuck Noll play linebacker at the University of Dayton.

"I was a huge fan of fair racing in Ohio. The first and greatest attended fair I ever went to was at Greenville. They were racing the H M Parshall Futurity. B F Coaltown was racing against Interloper. B F Coaltown won. It was wall to wall people in extreme heat. But everybody had a great time."

How did you get involved in the sport?

"I think it was 1964. Corwin Nixon who was the face of Lebanon and the Hamilton Racetrack called and offered me a job as a patrol judge at Hamilton I remember going there, but couldn't get on the stand that had been erected because a nest of wasps had taken up residence in it. Awhile later, Lyle Stuart who was a judge at Lebanon, called and told me to put on a suit and tie and come to the judge's stand. One of the associate judges could not be there and he wanted me to substitute. I remember him praising me after the race for getting all the finishing positions right. I told him, 'I went to college. I can count to eight.' I remember Lyle being so proud of having seen both Greyhound and Billy Direct race on the same card. Lyle also had his own small farm where he raised a few horses. He ended up selling that farm to a fella by the name of Neil Armstrong. Yes, that Neil Armstrong."

Most of your formative years were spent at or around Lebanon Raceway. What was that like?

"It was great! Most people think that Lebanon was owned by Corwin Nixon. It wasn't. It was owned by the county. He and the Carlo family each owned a meet that raced there. He was the face of and had a hand in running it. Lou Carlo, on behalf of the Carlo family ran the other meet. I believe that Lou was as great at running a racetrack as anybody that ever lived. He knew racing and he loved it. He was a visionary, at least in Ohio he was. I'm bragging, as I sometimes have been accused of doing. I believe that Lou, Mel Hagemeyer and myself played a big part in beginning racing for Ohio-breds in our state. It was due to our urging that races for Ohio-bred horses began at Lebanon, the first track in the state to card them.

"It was at the initiative of Lou Carlo that we did the first broadcast of the Kentucky Futurity from the Red Mile. At first I didn't want to go. It came up in conflict with the eve of the Jewish High Holidays. The race would be over early enough for me to get home in time to go to temple. I didn't count on getting lost, which I did. I ended up missing the services completely. My mother never forgave me. Lou Carlo was also the man who named me Wizard."

Lebanon was known as a great beginner's track for great drivers. Among the most famous alumni were David Miller, Mike Wilder and Eric Ledford.

"I like to joke with people by telling them that they would never have heard of any of those guys if not for me. They all were very talented and made a mark from the beginning. I think I might have been instrumental in getting David his first drive of consequence. Mickey McNichol had been driving Merrilywerollalong and got in an accident. I was speaking to his owner Jeff Langfelter when David walked by. I said to Jeff, 'There's your driver. That kid can drive with anybody.' David drove and won the race.

"I used to buy Mike Wilder his pizza. (*Author's note: The Wizard has never been known for buying anything for anybody. He is almost always the buyee, rather than the buyer) One day Mike booked off one of my horses. That was when I stopped buying him pizza.

"Eric Ledford has to be one of harness racing's greatest tragedies. He was as talented a driver as ever lived. I remember Gene Riegle saying something to the effect that he'd never seen anybody who could drive a horse better. I don't know what happened. Perhaps success came too fast and too early."

You've done a lot in the sport that many do not realize you have. For example, you were a judge for 20 years.

"Most of my judging took place on the Ohio Fair Circuit and at Lebanon Raceway. I was also an associate judge at Latonia (now Turfway Park) Raceway for a few meets. I was judging there when Abercrombie broke his maiden."

Tell us about some of the good horses you've owned.

"I first got interested in bloodlines through a fellow by the name of Bill Hufford who was a student of pedigrees. He stood a horse by the name of Adio Abe who I believe was the first son of Adios to enter the stud. I think that Adio Abe ended up standing stud in your part of the world – in Quebec. Bill would talk bloodlines with me for hours on end. I began following them as well. He was a good friend of Bill Brown who was then the farm manager at Castleton. He introduced me to Bill Brown and we became friends. Whenever I was shopping for yearlings I would speak with Bill and Carter Duer.

"The first horse I owned was named Leo The Byrd. I bought him for $750. He had a bowed tendon. I had no idea what a bowed tendon was and how badly that could compromise a racehorse. Needless to say he didn't stay sound. I owned him in partnership with Dave McLonahy, who sadly was one of the first Americans killed in Vietnam.

"Another horse I owned early on was a Worthy Boy pacer by the name of Plucky Boy. I owned him with a fellow by the name of Jackie Johns who worked at Fair Chance Farm where Adios Butler stood.

"A fellow by the name of Ron Stokely worked at Arnco Steel in Franklin. He had been a quarterback at the University of Florida. He also trained a horse or two on the side. I grew up with the Zollet twins. We were going to buy a yearling together and Ron would train it. We went to Lexington to find one. Of course the person I sought out for advice was Bill Brown.

"We were focused on a horse by the name of Hammering Hank, but we were outbid.

"We ended up by buying Lightning Wave For $12,000. Ron trained him in Franklin. He was by Shadow Wave and his dam was a full sister to Best of All and Coffee Break. As a 2-yr-old, he won the Standardbred Stakes at Delaware Ohio. At 3, he won a heat of the Little Brown Jug. At 4, he won the American National at Sportsman's Park. We three kids from Ohio were walking in high cotton!

"Through the years, I've been fortunate enough to have owned a decent number of good horses. I never owned many horses at a time. Among them were Goodbye Columbus, Norma Ruth Hanover, Pointer Hanover and Joyful Crown who was the granddam of the great Mr Muscleman. I've also won three sires stakes finals in Ohio and two in Indiana.

"The one that got away was Fan Hanover. I bid on her but stopped. I was never one to spend too much on yearlings.

"I've been extremely fortunate. I once had Joe O'Brien and Howard Beissinger drive for me on the same day at Indianapolis.

"Racing has changed, I was going to use the word progressed through the years, but changed my mind.

"I was going to say that Gene Riegle was the greatest horseman I've ever seen. Make no mistake about it, he still might be. But the two greatest trainers I believe I've ever known have been Brett Pelling and Nifty Norman. I'm sure I'll get negative feedback on that, but I'm a big boy and can take it.

"I've also had several great partners including Mike Kimelman and Kenny Cohen.

"I became great friends with Mike. I might have known well before the industry that Bill Brown was leaving Castleton and going to Blue Chip Farms. Kimelman wanted the man he believed to be the best farm manager around to run his new showplace farm. After Bill moved there I'd often visit and spend weekends at the farm staying there.

"Mike became my financial advisor. His firm still handles my investments.

"I had two of the greatest trainers that ever lived in Herb Coven and Jim Dailey. Sadly, both died young. Both Herb and Jim were content in Ohio and wouldn't leave the state often. I believe that if they ever had spread their wings, they would have been able to compete with anyone, anywhere."

For the majority of your life you embraced bachelorhood. You didn't get married until you turned 49.

"I suppose I was just waiting to meet the right one. It surely was worth the wait. My Debbie is just fantastic. She is the sweetest, best and most supportive woman I've ever known. Perhaps more importantly, she puts up with me."

You owned a scrap business for 55 years and then sold out. Do you miss it?

"Maybe a little, but just a little. I miss the people more than the business. I was privileged to have known and been a friend of the former Speaker of the House John Boehner and Mark Kennard, my banker and the father of Duke and now NBA star, Luke Kennard. I saw Luke grow up and become the wonderful young man he is now. I bred a yearling colt that I own that I named Buzzer Beater. I named him after Luke."

So, you are now 80. How is life treating you?

"Pretty darn good. I'm old, but I don't feel it. I have the best wife and friend in the world in Debbie. I still follow all sports, especially racing and the breeding of horses. I do the handicapping for Miami Valley, Yonkers and the Ohio Fairs. At the fairs, they call my picks Wizard's Winning Numbers. I hope we soon get over this COVID nonsense. I would love to take a road trip with Luke Kennard and the Clippers, hopefully this coming season."

Susie Kerwood – trainer/owner

by Victoria Howard

Susie Kerwood grew up on her family farm, which was located in Malmo, Sweden. Her father, Joy Persson, was a trainer and breeder, as well as a driver that competed in amateur races.

At 13, Kerwood bought her first pony – a trotter named Lady Ballerina that she trained and drove in the pony races in Sweden.

When she was 20, Kerwood came to America with five other young women and got a job working for Skip Lewis at Ben White training center in Orlando, FL.

“I always loved the business and horses, and my dream was to learn enough to one day go out on my own and become a trainer.

“I worked for Skip Lewis for about nine months until summer training was over. I wanted to go to Pompano Park to work so I got a job with trainer Bob Roberts there.

“A few of the girls that came from Sweden with me decided to go back home, but Karin Burgess (Blair’s wife) decided to stay in the States with me.

“After working for Bob Roberts, I got a job with Jerry Silverman at the Meadowlands.

“I learned a lot from each trainer I worked for, although they each had their own unique personal way of training.

“I have discovered that every trainer has a certain way of training a horse, and with the people I worked for, there was no right or wrong, for they all were successful trainers.”

This is so. Although the basic foundation in harnessing a horse is still the same (ex.: all horses wear a harness, bridle, etc.), each horse is different and may require something added that another horse might not need. (ex.: a shadow, roll, peek-a-boo-bridle, various mouthpieces or bits).

And shoeing a horse, well, that’s a science all in its own. As the saying goes, “No hoof – no horse.”

So a good trainer, along with his or her blacksmith, will decide what type of shoe is best for that horse. Some horses are narrow in front and may hit their knees, so the blacksmith will shoe them to widen them to keep from hitting their knees.

Courtesy Susie Kerwood

Susie Kerwood and Southwind Tesla.

In Sweden it is not uncommon to see horses race without shoes (or half-shoes). This has recently been observed in the States; such as trotters Father Patrick and Trixton who both went to the gate wearing cut-off American made Thoro-Bred Queen's Plates with Flapper pads.

Racing barefoot is not a standard practice in harness racing, but it's not unusual. Captain Corey won this year's Hambletonian while racing barefoot.

So you see, there is so much more than just hooking a horse up to a harness and bike and calling yourself a trainer, for every horse is different, and knowing what your horse needs is what separates a 'good' trainer from an amateur.

Kerwood certainly has had her share of good horses, for she's trained AMBRO TEMPLE (earned almost $500,000 and held the track record at Balmoral for almost 15 years), among many more.

"MERRY RULES won the Canadian Breeders at 2, as well as LAST FLIGHT OUT. And they both won on the same night!

"I also trained MAPLE SUGAR, who won the Casual Breeze and EMERALD WHISPER, who was a really nice filly that won a lot of the OSS (Ontario Sires Stakes).

"Then there was DUDESALADY, who also won a lot of OSS and was victorious in the Grassroots final; JULA SHE'S MAGIC who won the OSS Super Final; and WILDWOOD EXPRESS, who won the Champlain elimination in Campbellville.

"Last year I had BETALADY, who was a Gold winner; and SUSIES LADY – an OSS winner – and I'm sure I'm leaving out a few.

"The best horse I've trained is ARMBRO TEMPLE – who also happens to be my all-time favorite – but again, FLANAGAN MEMORY is right up there with him.

"When I was a caretaker the best horse I took care of would be SIMPLY RAVISHING."

Today, Kerwood is busy training horses with boyfriend and partner, Rene Dion.

"I met Rene in 2012 and we have been together ever since."

Dion is a horseman who recently drove a horse to victory for the first time since his last start in 1994. The horse was 2-year-old trotter PROMISE FOR LIFE, a Royalty For Life colt who won wire-to-wire in 2:01.4. Dion is no stranger to winning, for the Acton resident has won 140 races out of 1105, and was the trainer for SHOWER PLAY and FLANAGAN MEMORY, who won the 2016 Breeders Crown Open Trot.

"Rene and I train together at our own farm that is located just north of Acton – 30 minutes from Mohawk Raceway. Training in Canada in the winter can be quite challenging, but we try to put a lot of miles in the 2-year-olds to get a good foundation; and when the weather breaks and starts getting better, we start putting speed to them."

What does Kerwood look for when purchasing a horse?

"When I go to a sale I first look for a good page on an individual. There are a few things I like in a trotter – which are different than what I like in a pacer. But usually the ones I really like, I can't afford," she said, laughing.

From training her pony, Lady Ballerina, in Sweden to becoming an esteemed, respected, female in the sport, Kerwood has attained her goal of becoming a successful trainer.

Theories of relativity

by Trey Nosrac

I set my coffee mug on top of my yearling sales catalog and said to my pal, "The coolest thing about this sport is anyone, even a fiscally challenged clown like me, can play. If you want to own a racehorse, there is always a way to cover a percentage of an inexpensive yearling."

He nodded, "And you have tried in many ways. You are like Cinderella trying on a glass tennis shoe."

"I'm always looking for one of those racehorses that come from nowhere. Those outliers, those bargain-basement yearlings may not be great for breeding farms, but they are the music that keeps many of us peons dancing."

He chuckled. "I've seen you dance. It isn't pretty."

"When it comes to sports, I have a weird slant."

He pinched the bridge of his nose and said, "Shocking."

"My two favorite baseball teams are Cleveland and Tampa Bay, two low-budget teams. They compete against Boston, New York, Chicago, Los Angeles — teams that often feature payrolls that dwarf the bottom feeders. A single player on the big market teams can make more than the entire roster of a small market team. The truth is, I prefer being a fan of the bargain basement team."

He rolled his eyes, "Here we go, Captain Underdog speaks another nutty theory."

"Call this one my theory of relativity. Whenever I talk baseball with Tampa or Cleveland fans, they moan and groan how the owners are cheap. In horse racing, they bitch that the rich get richer and vacuum up the good stake's horses. This whining annoys me. I can't understand why people just don't embrace the situation."

He said, "I realize that Tampa and Cleveland have managed to field better teams over the past decade at a fraction of the cost, but believe me, in the long run, the money will catch up."

"That's fine. I don't care. To a mind like mine, supporting an inexpensive yearling or a low payroll team makes every win sweeter. I could never see myself a Yankees fan. What satisfaction is there in supporting a franchise that uses mega-money as a hammer?"

He spoke softly, "My friend, you don't understand business and revenue. If New York spends a billion on players and makes two billion, well, that's their business. The same thing in racing, if owners think spending $200,000 on a yearling is wise, they should have the freedom to do so."

"You... are... correct, capitalism rules. People can spend as much money as they want on a harness horse, a ball team, or a giraffe. Or as little as they want. My theory is that egos, emotions, and psychology skew the picture. Many of us would find the experience of winning stakes races with a $500,000 yearling trained by a top trainer far less emotionally satisfying than winning with our inexpensive yearling performing well."

"You know, Trey, thinking like that is why you live in a house with wheels. When Tampa is twenty games behind and not competitive, you will not feel the same way."

"Yes, I WILL. Competition is relative, and this is where a few of us go off the traditional sporting rails."

"Very few. People want to win, period. Winners are happy. Losers are disgruntled. That's human nature."

"Not mine. There is a cult of us who find the challenge of doing things the difficult way more satisfying - some by circumstances, some by finances, some just psychologically."

"A tiny cult in the sporting world."

I said, "Suppose the betting line in Las Vegas has the Tampa Bay baseball team winning 60 and losing 100 games in 2022. I'm fine gambling my money and going the whole year trying to win 61 games and prove them wrong."

He blew a little raspberry. "That's a poor analogy and an extreme minority opinion. People want to win the title. Horse racing people want to win a million dollars and the Hambletonian. In baseball, the fan base will reward the winners financially. Winning is a straightforward concept; people want to win for an emotional high and money."

I sighed, "And that is why most fans are disappointed and fickle. They don't use relativity. They revel in victories and jettison losers like a wool sweater on a sunny summer day."

"Of course."

"If your horse finishes fourth in the Sires Stakes Championship or your baseball team is the runner-up in the World Series, does that make everyone else losers?"

He shrugged. "Well, yes."

"That's because people are screwed up. It's a macho thing to cling to winners and not to be associated with losers. People take losing personally." I paused, "I coached high school sports, plenty of them. I had winning seasons and seasons that did not go so well. My favorite sporting season was with a tennis team I coached that did not win a single match. We lost the last tennis match on a let cord. We were thrilled we ALMOST won, joyful just to have been in the game. We sang and danced in the aisle on the bus ride home. That match, out of hundreds, is the one that stays in my heart."

He said, "That was a nice trip down memory lane. However, it has no relevance to people purchasing and racing harness horses, an arena where money is the measurement. A horse that never wins is an expensive, disheartening experience. A baseball team that rarely wins will never have great attendance. Those are facts, not silly theories."

"Well, my theory is you can have a lot of fun with an also-ran if you have the right mindset. In racing, you can have a lot of fun with a relatively small investment and the right mindset."

"Your mindset is a bit stupid."

"I realize that horse $1,000,000 payoffs and the $300,000 Sires Stakes Champions are the main carrots. The sales stars usually shine. However, if I ruled the harness world, I would take a percentage off the top of the purse money and reward any horse that makes the qualifying time with a stipend. I would write races for young horses where 2:07 gets a sniff. I would try to give the guy who has a slow trotter a few carrots at ages two and three and give the owners a few dollars and some memories, memories like my high school tennis team."

"You will go broke playing in the harness racing game like that."

I sighed. "Well, I prove that theory every year."

Kentucky Sires Stakes to grow to $17 million for 2022

The Kentucky Sire Stakes (KYSS) program has seen steady growth over the past several years but is set to explode for 2022. Beginning next year, the KYSS will have the richest sire stakes finals in all of North America.

Revenues have risen since Kentucky entered the HHR (Historical Horse Racing) era and with the addition of two more venues in the past three years, it became possible to add $11,000,000 to the program in just one year.

One example of the rise in purses is in the KYSS Championship Series at the Red Mile. In that series alone, there will now be four $80,000 eliminations for 2 and 3-year-olds of each sex and gait, with $400,000 finals.

Great care was taken to provide significant increases to all class of horses. For the first, time a 50 per cent bonus will be paid to all Kentucky-bred horses racing in the state except for the KYSS races themselves.

For example, the 2020 Futurity had a purse of $440,000 and with the bonus program, all Kentucky-breds in the race would be racing for a purse of $660,000. One hundred percent of the money will be paid into purses; there are no Breeders Awards to fund.

A "Maturity Program" was added for this year. This program will have races for all sexes and gaits of 4-year-olds. Corbin will race one elimination and a final for a total of $420,000 and Oak Grove will have four legs and a final for a total of $1,400,000. Entries must be Kentucky-bred, but that does not require a start in a Sire Stakes race.

The advisory committee put together what has become the premier Sire Stakes program in the country and horsemen and women are sure to appreciate the added benefits. Many ideas were floated and some of these will come to fruition in the near future. It is clear there is more growth to come, as clientele continues to grow and satellite facilities continue to emerge.

Kentucky has the simplest regulations of eligibility in the country. A breeder's mare only has to be in the state for 180 days total, with no requirements to be consecutive.

The committee invites breeders who are in town for the sales to find a farm that suits their needs and make arrangements to board mares in Kentucky for at least the eligibility period.

Parola Hanover equals track record in Liberty Bell stake

The Liberty Bell stakes series got off to a fine and fast start on Friday (Sept. 24) at Harrah's Philadelphia, as the Bar Hopping–Peace Dove colt Parola Hanover equaled the track record for 2-year-old colt trotters of 1:55 while winning strongly on the engine.

Corey Callahan left the early traffic sort itself out, then moved his colt to the lead nearing the :28.1 quarter, clearing to the top and then getting a breather to a :57.4 half. There were no breathers from that point, as the winner tacked on a pair of :28.3 back quarters to defeat first-over Andoverthetwinnings by 2½ lengths while matching the local standard first set by Rome Pays Off in 2019 and then equaled by Captain Corey last year.

Parola Hanover won for only the second time in the $61,000 single division event, but he has shown sharp improvement over the last month, including a neck loss to S I P in their Pennsylvania Sire Stakes Championship, and the Dave Wiest trainee now has a bankroll of $173,125 for David L Wiest Stables LLC and Edward Kimmel.

There were two $30,000 divisions of the Liberty Bell stake for freshman pacing fillies, and the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes Championship winner and Consolation winner accounted for the splits. The Championship winner, the Captaintreacherous–Rideintothesunset filly Captain Cowgirl, ran her record to six-for-eight, and her earnings to $245,071, with a 1:52.2 victory. The Cowgirl set the pace with fractionals of :27.3, :56.2, and 1:23.3, then holding off a very stubborn Southwind Java by a neck for driver Victor Kirby, trainer Jim King Jr. (there seems to be no end to nice distaffs coming from his barn), and the ownership of Joanne Looney-King, Kenneth Frieder, and Tim Tetrack LLC.

The Betting Line–Robin Cruiser miss Hood Party, like the other stakes winners the crowd choice, also chose front-stepping tactics en route to a 1:53 win. Ringing up splits of :27.2, :56.3, and 1:24.2, Hood Party then had enough in her tank to defeat a resurgent Sweet Omen by a neck for driver Todd McCarthy, trainer Nifty Norman, and Pinsky Stables while running her record to four-for-nine, including three of her last four.

Today's (Sept. 26) feature at Philly is a $16,200 fast-class pace which sees the rail horse, Seriously Hanover, designated as the 3-1 early choice in a very competitive grouping. Liberty Bell stakes return to Harrah's next Thursday (Sept. 30), with 3-year-old fillies of both gaits in the spotlight. Program pages are or will be available at <https://www.phha.org/harrahspgs.html>.

Dabarndawgswatchin heats up heading into post season

Dabarndawgswatchin picked up her second Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold Series victory in the sole $157,200 3-year-old pacing filly division at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Friday, Sept. 24 and heads into the post season on a two race win streak.

Lining up at Post 4, driver Jody Jamieson sent Dabarndawgswatchin straight down to the rail in fourth as Western Wish led the field of eight to a :27 quarter and a :55.2 half. Heading for the 1:23.1 three-quarters, Jamieson was able to angle Dabarndawgswatchin out behind favorite Voelz Delight and follow that filly deep into the stretch. Once the Guelph, ON resident showed Dabarndawgswatchin an open lane however, the filly kicked into gear and powered by the leaders to a three-quarter length win in 1:50.4. Voelz Delight settled for second and Western Wish stayed game for third. (replay here: Dabarndawgswatchin)

"Last week (Sept. 17) was the second time we raced her off the pace and she win both times, so we thought we'd better keep doing it," said trainer Dave Menary. "It all worked out, and we ended up in the right spot."

Menary trains Dabarndawgswatchin for owner/breeders Julie Ferguson of Greely and Lloyd Stone of Portland, ON. She occupies a special place in his barn, not just because of her success, but because of his long relationship with her sire Hes Watching, dam Addison Bay and owner/breeders.

"I was really excited to see her come to the barn because it's the first horse where I ever trained the sire and the dam. I raced Addison Bay for them and she made around half a million ($436,237) and we had a lot of fun racing her, so to get to train one out of her by Hes Watching, it's been pretty fun," said Menary.

"She's just a monster of a filly. She has a lot more size than him (Hes Watching) or her (Addison Bay)," the trainer continued. "I think she's going to be a good horse for them, they're the nicest people you could train for, and I think she's going to be a good filly for them for a long time."

Dabarndawgswatchin wraps up the Gold Series regular season with 125 points, good enough for third spot in the standings behind reigning champ Scarlett Hanover, who skipped Friday's Gold event after winning the historic Jugette at the Delaware County Fair on Wednesday, Sept. 22, and Voelz Delight. The top 10 fillies will return to Woodbine Mohawk Park on Saturday, Oct. 16 for their $225,000 Super Final.

Complete results from Friday's races are available here and replays can be viewed on Woodbine Mohawk Park's YouTube channel.

'Hank' hammers Kindergarten field at Big M

Brett Pelling has another possible superstar on his hands.

Hammering Hank, a gelded son of Captaintreacherous—History Repeats, remained unbeaten in six lifetime starts after toying with his foes Friday night (Sept. 24) at The Meadowlands in one of six $20,000 divisions of the fourth leg of the Kindergarten Series for 2-year-olds of each sex and gait.

"I was in awe of him five starts ago," said the trainer of his prized pupil, who won the lone division for colt and gelding pacers. "My son [Jack] qualified him at Magical Acres [on June 23] and he was airborne through his final quarter of :26.3. You could see immediately [how good he was]."

Driven by Todd McCarthy to a second consecutive Kindergarten score, Hammering Hank sat a four-hole trip until just after the half, rushed up first-over around the far turn to challenge leader Hunts Point before accelerating quickly past that foe to open up a 2-lead at the head of the stretch on the way to an easy-as-pie 3½-length win in a lifetime-best equaling 1:52. All of this after leaving from post 10 in a bulky 11-horse field.

JD was second, with Layton Hanover third. As the 3-5 favorite, Hammering Hank returned $3.40 to win.

"He's being managed perfectly," said Pelling. "He's never been tested and he's ready to rock and roll. We plan on going to the Kindergarten Final, Breeders Crown and Governor's Cup. I haven't seen any horse [in his division] with his speed. His speed is serious. This game is all about speed.

"What's beautiful about this horse is that he's push-button. He's waiting for the driver to tell him what to do. Three guys have driven this horse and my instructions to them: I do not want him on the front. You can trust this horse no matter where you are. I've been right every time. He's got so much speed, he's always part of the game."

Hammering Hank now has a bank account that reads $65,850, but there is likely much more to come for owners 3 Brothers Stables, Pelling Racing and the Rojan Stables.

Pelling and McCarthy also clicked with Treacherous Dragon, who worked out an ideal second-over trip on the way to a 3½-length romp in the lone division for pacing fillies. The time for the mile was 1:51.3, which lowered her previous lifetime-best by one-and-two-fifth seconds.

In winning her first Kindergarten leg in three tries, the Captaintreacherous—My Little Dragon miss lifted her lifetime numbers to three wins in five tries. As the 1-5 favorite, she returned $2.40 to win.

A LITTLE MORE: One sharp bettor playing into the Ontario wagering hub held the lone winning ticket in the 20-cent Survivor Pick-7 and collected $7,249.92. Other than a 26-1 shot in the third leg of the sequence, no other horse's odds were greater than 3-1... All-source handle totaled $1,732,230.

Prospect Series finalists put on a show in Elora

From photo finishes to commanding displays of talent to glimmers of future stardom, Friday's (Sept. 24) Prospect Series Finals at Grand River Raceway gave fans a full eight-race serving of excitement.

The Elora oval's leading driver, Colin Kelly, captured two of the $15,000 Finals, guiding 3-year-old pacing filly Always Watching to a commanding 1:54.1 victory and getting a picture perfect pocket trip with three-year-old trotting colt Insanity that allowed the colt to sneak up the inside lane and nab the favorite at the 2:00.1 finish.

"The mare (Always Watching), she's just been awesome. Right from the first time I drove her she's been really good. She's big and she's strong and she just loves her work. She does everything so easy and effortless you don't even realise you're going that much," said Kelly. "The trotter (Insanity), that's the first time I've ever sat behind him. He's nice, he does everything right, trots great, but he just got a sweet trip.

"Grand River does such a great job and there was a good crowd there tonight, even for it being a little cool. And everyone seemed to be enjoying themselves. It was great to see."

Kelly drove Hes Watching daughter Always Watching to the win for trainer Ben Wallace of Puslinch and his co-owner Noblock Racing Stable of Collingwood, ON. Lady Katie B and Im Chiara finished five and three-quarter lengths behind the heavy favorite in second and third. (replay here: Always Watching)

Michael Timpano trains Muscle Mass colt Insanity for Wendy Warren-Timpano of Phelpston, ON and Seaspray Stables Ltd. of Nanaimo, BC. The colt got a head in front of favorite Johnny Ping at the wire and Arch Hall rounded out the top three. (replay here: Insanity)

Driver Jason Ryan of Guelph also picked up a pair of wins, opening the Prospect Series Finals with 2-year-old trotting colt Sir Ballykeel and bringing them to a close with 2-year-old pacing colt Rivercruise.

Fan favorite Sir Ballykeel delivered an off-the-pace effort to claim the 2:01.4 victory over Promise For Life and local colt Arch Ruler, who is owned by John Holding of Kitchener and Morley Bosomworth of Elora, ON. Sir Ballykeel's win had a little extra meaning for Josh McKibbin, who trains the son of Il Sogno Dream and Ballykeel Majestic for owner/breeder Ballykeel Racing Inc. of Tillsonburg, ON. (replay here: Sir Ballykeel)

"I trained his mom with my father Terry (McKibbin) for her last couple races and I trained his older brother too, so it's kind of nice to see him coming along,” said McKibbin. “It was a nice finish to his year.”

Rivercruise battled to a head victory over Messiah in the two-year-old pacing colt Final, stopping the teletimer at 1:58.2. La Playa Deo was third and pacesetting favorite Im King Conn faded to fourth. Ryan drove the Betterthancheddar son to his first lifetime win for trainer Paul Reid and owner/breeder Norah Parks of New Lowell, ON. (replay here: Rivercruise)

Trainer Otis Hall of Ayr, ON sent out a pair of half-siblings in the 3-year-old pacing colt and 2-year-old pacing filly Finals. Last year’s division champion Sauble Attack could only manage a fourth-place result in his test, but little sister Sauble Amber emerged victorious in hers.

With Anthony Haughan in the race bike, Sauble Amber went straight to the front from Post 5 and never looked back, sailing home two and one-quarter lengths the best in 1:57.3. Favorite Mara Lou finished second and Shezis A Beauty was two more lengths back in third. (replay here: Sauble Amber)

“Amber is a sweetheart. She’s still got some growing to do obviously, a lot of them do, but she doesn’t really do anything wrong, she’s just a nice horse to have around,” said Hall, whose Nasussito Racing Inc. bred and owns the Betterthancheddar–Ambrosia Seelster daughter in partnership with his parents Sauble Hill Farms of Tara, ON. “I actually like her better than him (Sauble Attack), and he’s had a great year, but I think she’s got a brighter future than he does. I think she’s a touch better than him, but time will tell right, you just never know.”

Sauble Attack and Haughan revved up in the stretch of the 3-year-old pacing colt Final, but Dragon Teen had the bigger gear. With owner/trainer Donnie Rankin, Jr. of Amherstburg, ON in the race bike, Dragon Teen sprinted from fifth to first in the stretch to get a nose in front of pacesetting favorite P L Oliver and Snap Call at the 1:57.1 finish. (replay here: Dragon Teen)

Like Sauble Amber, Molise picked the perfect time to score her first lifetime win, going gate-to-wire in the 2-year-old trotting filly Final for trainer/driver Rick Zeron and owner/breeder John Donato of Oakville, ON. The Kadabra miss stopped the teletimer at 2:06.1, one and one-quarter lengths ahead of favorite Tioga Sunshine. Okeeheelee, owned by trainer/driver Wayne Henry of Arthur, ON, was third. (replay here: Molise)

“I am very happy with her tonight. She’s a big filly, very lanky, and I just had to take my time with her. She’s just starting to come around, unfortunately it’s the back part of the year, but John Donato who owns the filly said to me, ‘As long as she’s a 3-year-old, I really don’t care about her 2-year-old year, let’s just get her through,’” said Zeron. “I think she’s going to be a serious player at 3 years old. Hopefully, anyway, anything can happen.”

Favorite Stonebridge Nitro scored her fourth straight victory in the 3-year-old trotting filly final, hitting the wire in 2:01.4, three-quarters of a length in front of 2020 Prospect Series champion Radical J and Denise. Flamborough resident Robert Shepherd piloted the Muscle Mass filly to the win for trainer/lessee Melissa Lamoureux of Cambridge, ON. (replay here:

$2.24 million Massachusetts stakes start today at Plainridge Park

The $2.24 million (est.) Massachusetts Sire Stakes (MASS) kicks off at Plainridge Park this weekend today (Sept. 26) when 3-year-olds of both gaits and sexes will make their first starts in the state-bred series and continue on Monday (Sept. 27) when the 2-year-olds will hit the track. All eight divisions will go for $60,000 each making the first weekend’s purse total $480,000.

The stakes feature three preliminary legs for both age groups and culminate with eight $100,000 (est.) finals that will be held at Plainridge on Monday (Oct. 25).

Horses from the barns of stake regular trainers George Ducharme, Domenico Cecere, Kevin Switzer and Sheena Cohen will be joined by many other national conditioners this year including Hall of Famer Ron Burke, Ake Svanstedt and Jessica Okusko. Hall of Fame driver Yannick Gingras will also be at Plainridge both days with drives in most of the divisions.

This year the Massachusetts Sire Stakes holds the possibility of being the most productive on the track with some of its best performers ever bred slated to go postward. Since 2017, every Massachusetts stake record has been broken at least once. Seven records were broken last year alone (Five new, two of them broken twice) including all four pacing categories.

Here is a quick look at some of the horses that highlight the 2021 Massachusetts Sire Stakes who may rewrite the record books this year.

Horses competing today (Sept. 26):

3-year-old filly trotters

Moni For Lindy (Credit Winner—Live Moni) won three legs of the New York Sire Stakes this year and finished second by a nose to Iteration in the $200,000 final at Yonkers in 1:57.1. Her 1.53.4 win at Vernon Downs on June 4 was a lifetime mark, but also made her the fastest 3-year-old trotting filly ever bred in Massachusetts. (B-Moni Maker Stable O-Greathorse T-Domenico Cecere)

3-year-old colt trotters

Incommunicado (Chapter Seven—Gran Cavalla) was the 2-year-old male trotting champion in the MASS and is back to defend that title this year. He won the $115,583 Dexter Cup at Freehold in May and finished third in the $206,500 Empire Breeders Classic at Vernon Downs in June. He's been freshened up since mid-July and has just qualified back at the Meadowlands in 1:56, last quarter in :27.4 in preparation for this stake. Now with earnings of $331,390 lifetime, he ranks as the 12th richest Standardbred ever bred in Massachusetts.

(B-Moni Maker Stable O-Knuttson Trotting, Little E, Arthur Geiger and David Stolz T-Ake Svanstedt)

3-year-old filly pacers

Purameri (American Ideal—JK Pure Pearl) was the MASS 2-year-old champion and set a new stake record of 1:52.4 in the process. This year she has been racing competitively in the NYSS where she made the $200,000 final and also competed in the $214,000 Empire Breeders Classic at Tioga Downs in August against Test Of Faith.

(B-3 Brothers Stable/Camelot Stable O-Purple Haze Stable T-Jessica Okusko)

Rightfully Mine (American Ideal—Leah) raced well in the NYSS this year, winning one leg in June and making the final, but had a rough trip there and finished last. She took a new lifetime mark of 1:52.2 taken at Plainridge Park in June and looks to use that track to her advantage.

(B-Monique Cohen O-Arthur Scussel, Monique Cohen T-Sheena McElhiney)

So Amazing (So Surreal—Teddy Ballgirl) is having a great year hitting the board 10 out of 12 starts in 2021. She won three legs of the NYSS Excel A series and made the $50,000 final, finishing fifth. She also took a new lifetime mark of 1:52.3 at Plainridge Park in June.

(B/O-Nancy Longobardi, Domenic Longobardi T-George Ducharme)

3-year-old colt pacers

Mullinax (American Ideal—Up Front Kellie Jo) was the 2-year-old MASS champion and set a new stake record of 1:53.4 in the process. He didn't miss a check in any of his NYSS appearances including the $200,000 final where he finished fifth. He also finished third in the $104,000 Empire Breeders Classic in August and was race timed in 1:51.

(B-Ed Mullinax O-William Varney T-Mark Ford)

Call Me Maverick (Western Maverick—Briefly) has been the leading 3-year-old pacing colt in Maine stake competition for two years. He was a perfect eight for eight in 2020 and 2-year-old MSS champion. He has won nine out of 10 starts this year -- including his last eight straight -- with one second due to broken equipment. His lifetime mark is 1:54 at Plainridge taken in stake action last year but he paced his best mile of 2021 in 1:55.3 over the half at Skowhegan.

(B/O-Upland Farm T-Alison Hynes)

Horses competing on Monday (Sept. 27):

2-year-old filly trotters

Moni Heist (Walner—Nothing But Moni) started in the New Jersey Sire Stake this year and has recently won two straight starts in the Kentucky Commonwealth series, taking a new lifetime mark of 1:55.4.

(B-Moni Maker Stable O-Moni Maker Stable T-Domenico Cecere)

2-year-old colt trotters

Wallet (Walner—Touch Of Moni) has made breaks in his only two lifetime starts but has since won twice in qualifiers and looked very strong in preparation for this start.

(B-Moni Maker Stable O-Ducharme, Winske, Winske, Michaels T-George Ducharme)

2-year-old filly pacers

Dudes Sweet Bet (Dude's The Man—Sweet Bettor) has been racing in the NYSS and Excel A series, where she made the final. She also took a lifetime mark of 1:54.1 at Tioga Downs on August 22.

(B/O-Triple C Stables, Christopher Lems T-Jessica Okusko)

Shakeitoffscarlet (American Ideal—Lordy Miss Scarlet) has not seen any stake action this year but has been racing very well at Plainridge, where she has hit the board five out of six starts, winning twice and taking a lifetime mark of 1:55.1.

(B-Nelson Malin O-KDK Standardbreds T-Kevin Switzer)

Wolverina (Cheyenne Hollywood—Terri I Fra) has been stout in the Maine Sire Stakes all summer where she won three starts, has not missed the board and is coming off a lifetime best effort at Farmington in her last outing.

Pembroke Legacy (Baron Biltmore—Pembroke Oasis) has won five out of her seven lifetime starts -- all in Maine Sire Stake action -- with a best outing of 1:58.1 at Skowhegan and comes into this stake as the highest money earner of the division today.

(B/O-William Varney T-Valerie Grondin)

So Flo (So Surreal—Teddy Ballgirl) won a leg of the NYSS Excel A at Saratoga Raceway in 1:56.2 in August and made the final of that series as well. She has exceptional speed but can misbehave on occasion.

(B/O-Nancy Longobardi, Domenic Longobardi T-George Ducharme)

2-year-old colt pacers

Treacherous Tom (Captaintreacherous—Kate Is Well Said) has yet to win this year but has found his competition very tough so far. After finishing second in the Tompkins-Geers Stake at the Meadowlands in June, he moved to the Pennsylvania Sire Stake circuit where he has done very well with two thirds in four starts, making the $254,000 final. He has also been race timed in 1:52.1 at Pocono Downs this year.

(B-Fashion Farms O-Thomas Dillon, Scott Dillon T-Ron Burke)

Ugotaearyrstripes (Deuce Seelster—Armbro BMW) is the freshman colt pacing leader in the Maine Sire Stakes and has five wins in only six lifetime starts. He comes into the this race fresh off a lifetime mark of 1:58.1 in a stake race at Bangor.

(B/O-Edward Blash T-Stephen La Casse)

Second leg of DSBF headlines Harrington week

A total of 12 divisions, each with a purse of $20,000, headline the upcoming week (Sept. 27-29) of racing at Harrington Raceway as the 2nd leg of Delaware Standardbred Breeders Fund (DSBF) stakes will be contested.

Four divisions of male pacers highlight the Monday (Sept. 27) program with Kdk Standardbreds' Heinikin Bythebay (Jason Thompson) and Nanticoke Racing and Donna Messick's Ds Heartland (Art Stafford Jr.) perhaps emerging as the most impressive winners from the 1st leg of elimination events. Heinikin Bythebay, a son of Southwind Lynx, has won three straight races for trainer Kevin Switzer and is the favorite in the second division, the 4th race on the 15-race program. Les Givens-trained Ds Heartland was the fastest elimination winner last week (1:55.3) and heads the 4th division, 8th race as a son of Badlands Hanover.

Three divisions of pacing fillies will battle Tuesday (Sept. 28) with two clear standouts, thus far. Let It Ride Stables' Shabby Chic (Tim Tetrick) is unbeaten in 3 career starts for trainer Mike Hall. The Badlands Hanover filly is in the 2nd division and 4th race on the card. Meanwhile, Gty Stable's Gaitway Gal (Pat Berry) is 3-for-4 lifetime and was a 3-length winner last week for trainer Jeff Smith. The Delmarvalous-sired filly heads the 3rd division, race 6 on the card.

Meanwhile, trotters will take center stage Wednesday with three divisions for males and two for females. Owned by Stuart Chambers, Divine Horse Racing, Bcjm Inc., and Cinebrew Enterprises, Wolfpack Russ (Corey Callahan) and Nanticoke Racing's LG's Reed O Wen (Jim Morand) have emerged as early favorites from the colt and gelding side. Wolfpack Russ, a son of Glidemaster, was a 2:02.1 winner last week for Nick Callahan and leads the 1st division, 2nd race Wednesday for trainer Nick Callahan. Givens-trainee, LG's Reed O Wen has been on a roll with 3 straight wins, including a 2:02.3 victory in his elimination last week. The Anders Bluestone gelding has won 3-of-4 starts.

A small group of just nine fillies will complete their two divisions, with both elimination winners from last week squaring off in the same race, the 10th on the card. Andrew Glassmeyer's Franky Doyle (Pat Berry), a daughter of Glidemaster, and Art Stafford and Art Stafford Jr.'s Just Pump It (Stafford Jr.), a daughter of CR Commando, are in a 4-horse field in their split. Franky Doyle was a 2:05 winner last week while Just Pump It was victorious in 2:04.2.

Live racing will continue on a Monday through Wednesday schedule through Oct. 20. Post time nightly is 4:30 p.m.

P L Notsonice cracks Plainridge trot mark

In her first ever visit to Massachusetts, P L Notsonice set a new track record of 1:53.3 for 4-year-old trotting mares at Plainridge Park after she won the $22,500 winners-over feature on Friday afternoon (Sept. 24).

P L Notsonice (Renaldo Morales III) got away fifth while a torrid first quarter of :26.3 was set by Big Rich (Kevin Switzer Jr.). When the half got backed down to :56.3, Northern Skyway (Shawn Gray) came rolling up the outside with P L Notsonice on his back. Northern Skyway continued to gain ground on the leader and as the race proceeded through the last turn, he took the lead from Big Rich and P L Notsonice came up alongside him waiting for the lane. When they straightened out, P L Notsonice was under a full head of steam and barreled down the stretch to the wire on top by 1-3/4 lengths in 1:53.3.

The time was a new track, replacing the 1:54.2 clocking by Annie OK in 2017.

P L Notsonice ($2.60) bumped her 2021 earnings to $62,862 on the strength of her fourth win for owner Gratitude First and trainer Dale Gilmour.

Woodbine recognizes National Caretaker Appreciation Day

Woodbine Mohawk Park proudly participated in National Caretaker Appreciation Day on Thursday evening (Sept. 23).

Facilitated by Standardbred Canada, National Caretaker Appreciation Day is being celebrated across the country in recognition of the sport's unsung heroes that work countless hours providing care and support for the equine athletes, keeping them healthy and safe.

Woodbine would also like to recognize Joanne Colville and Emma Christoforou for their efforts in organizing Thursday's festivities at Mohawk Park to celebrate caretakers.

A long list of individuals and groups provided sponsorships, gifts and other contributions to this year's National Caretaker Appreciation Day. All winning caretakers on Thursday's card received a special gift donated by Adriano Sorella and Jimmy Freight.

A special thank you is extended to the follow individuals and groups:

Gural responds to Williams about HISA

I hate to beat a dead horse but the information that Russell Williams is putting out on the USTA website (full story here) is totally incorrect.

While it is true that members of The Jockey Club were anxious to get rid of the drugs, the only reason the legislation passed was that Bill Carstanjen, CEO of Churchill had a close relationship with Mitch McConnell and persuaded him that the drug problem in horse racing was widespread and that the states were incapable of regulating it. McConnell's office helped revise the legislation to insure that it was constitutional and eliminated the standardbreds because they knew the USTA was going to oppose it.

Bill Carstanjen is not an elitist. It then became my job to get it passed in the House because of my close relationship with Nancy Pelosi. I was able to get her to include it in a monstrous year-end bill that included just about everything. I do not consider myself an elitist.

If the USTA succeeds in getting legislation overturned, which I think is a longshot, we will be back to where we are now with each state promulgating their own regulations and making a minimal effort to catch the cheaters. Basically, the USTA is essentially advocating for the status quo because that is what you will get if they are successful. We know from signatures of support from almost all of the major owners and breeders in our sport that they are in favor of this legislation. The legislation the USTA is proposing will never pass because the Feds will simply throw up their hands and say, 'We have more important things to deal with. If these guys want to drug their horses so be it.' We have a big advantage because the thoroughbreds will be guinea pigs for us and we can see how it works before deciding if we want to opt in or not. I have no idea why the USTA is spending so much money to achieve a goal that almost all of us would be unhappy with other than those people who continue to use drug trainers. We all know who they are and most tracks make little or no effort to keep them out. Hopefully, when more people are arrested and some of the people who have already been arrested plead guilty and go to jail it will show how the USTA's opposition is mind boggling.
