Meadowlands temporarily shuts down as COVID-19 precaution

The Meadowlands Racetrack has closed, temporarily, to fans, but hopes to welcome them back on Saturday.

Due to an abundance of caution for their employees and customers, the Meadowlands closed on Tuesday evening (Sept. 29) at 6 p.m. after an employee tested positive for COVID-19.

Apparently, the employee attended a wedding and came to work not feeling well and subsequently tested positive for coronavirus.

"If people feel sick, they should stay home," said Jason Settlemoir, the chief operating officer and general manager at The Meadowlands.

Settlemoir and his staff have been working non-stop to make sure their facility is a safe environment for all who set foot in it.

The building will get a deep sanitization and they are ordering additional air filtration units going above and beyond what is legally mandated.

"In addition to that, during this brief shutdown, we are requiring all of our employees to be tested by Oct. 2," said Settlemoir.

All employees were tested prior to the start of the fall meeting on Sept. 5 as well as before the track's reopening on June 5 after the six-week pandemic shutdown.

Settlemoir said this will be his fifth test since March.

"I have a responsibility to my family and to my employees and customers to make sure I'm not carrying it," he said.

The plan is to race on Friday (Oct. 2) with just the essential staff that is required to have live racing without spectators, which does include the live in-house simulcast show, "Racing from The Meadowlands."

Their hope is to welcome fans back on Saturday morning, Oct. 3, but Settlemoir said that decision will not be made until they can guarantee everyone's safety.

According to a Big M press release, re-opening details will be posted at PlayMeadowlands.com. Horsepeople are reminded to have the COVID questionnaire completed when arriving at the stable gate for their temperature check and face coverings are required at all times while in the paddock.

Miller marvels at million-dollar moment

Trainer Julie Miller said Venerate's victory in Saturday's inaugural Mohawk Million at Woodbine Mohawk Park went far beyond a fantastic payday.

by Dave Briggs

It was a whirlwind and a rush and the perfect injection of cash just prior to the start of the major yearling-buying season, but trainer Julie Miller said the lasting impression of winning the inaugural Mohawk Million on Saturday (Sept. 26) at Woodbine Mohawk Park with her 2-year-old trotting colt Venerate goes far beyond dollar signs.

"It's not just the monetary factor, it's why we have this career, this passion for the horse," Miller said, adding that to win with their long-time friends and partners the Pinske family made it particularly sweet. "To share it with great people, you just can't put a price tag on that. It did help the bank account, but the emotional side is just as good.

"In good times or bad times, winning a million-dollar race is incredible. That was my wildest dream. I never even could put it on my vision board, to win a million-dollar race with a 2-year-old, let alone be in a great partnership with Pinskes... and I get to train the winner."

Just think, six days before the $1 million (USD) race, Venerate didn't have a spot on the gate in the "buy-in" race where nine slots were made available for the purchase of $110,000 (USD) each, with a final slot awarded to the winner of the William Wellwood Memorial. Slot owners that didn't have a horse in the race were able to craft deals with others to use it. That was the whirlwind part for Miller and her owners — her husband's Andy Miller Stable, Inc. and the Pinske Stables of Plato, MN. Venerate's connections consummated a deal with slot owner Brad Grant and his partners not long after the Love You—Peaceful Kemp colt won his $250,000 Kentucky Sires Stakes Championship at Red Mile in 1:51.4, which was just a fifth of a second off the world record.

“Brad Grant reached out to me, I’m going to say a couple of days before (the KYSS Championship), probably a week ago Thursday and said, ‘What do you think about your colt?’ I said, ‘You have to be patient with me, Brad. If he races well on Sunday, I’d definitely entertain a conversation about using your group’s spot and participating.’ God bless him, he was patient with me. We spoke after the race and negotiated, I think, a great deal between the both of us. It took a couple of minutes and we were on our way.

“Brad said, ‘This is what our group is willing to do.’ Carter (Pinske), Andy and I were on speaker with Brad and we fully agreed, so there wasn’t really any negotiations or ‘I have to call you back’ on it. I think it was very fair of everyone involved and it went through that easily.”

Miller was effusive in her praise for Woodbine Mohawk Park for staging the first-of-its-kind event for harness racing and delivering a terrific show despite the challenges of putting the inaugural race on during a pandemic.

progressive and trying something new and generating more buzz for the sport that I love," Miller said. "We're all fighting in a pandemic to keep people safe, so for Woodbine to still try hard to get this race going was unbelievable.

"With the pandemic and all the restrictions, it had to put a damper on it. I'm sure the people in charge are looking at the pros and cons and I hope they decide to continue it and it gets bigger and better next year."

While the pandemic didn't dampen her enthusiasm for winning the Mohawk Million, Miller said remaining in Lexington while the horse raced in Canada was tough on her nerves.

"It was hard. People that know me, know that Andy and I are very hands on in the stable. I'm a little bit of an OCD control freak, but there was nothing I could do," Miller said. "It's kind of like dropping your kid off on the first day of kindergarten. You drop them off at the building and hope everything goes well. It's the same principle here, I knew he was in good hands with Doyle Transport and those two kids up there taking care of him — Kayla Hendry and Keelan MacDonald — and having Andy McCarthy (drive), that was super."

Though Andy Miller normally drives Venerate, his unwillingness to attempt to cross a closed border gave McCarthy the drive.

"We knew that my Andy would not be able to go. He had made no preparation to try to travel over the border," Julie said. "Luckily, Andy McCarthy was here (in Lexington) and he and Andy talked. We were lucky to get him to commit and that made a big decision... getting a driver right away that could race in Canada eased our worries. That all happened Sunday night.

"It was nice that they could talk one-on-one about the horse, about his temperament and how he would be. Then, after the draw on Tuesday, they had another good discussion on, well, 'Let's just make sure nothing happens and we have a clear path. Don't get caught in a bad spot where you have to grab him.' With the 10-hole, that was a whole other dynamic for us, but they had a great conversation. They thought we could do well in the race, barring major mishaps with the 10-hole."

Venerate got away eight in the field of 10 after several horses left hard, causing a four-wide push into the first turn. Altar cut a :27 opening-quarter before handing the lead over to Wellwood winner On A Streak, who led to the half in :56.1 just as Insta Glam came with a powerful rush to claim the top spot going into the final turn. Race favorite Donna Soprano made her move just before the half, with Venerate following.

Insta Glam trotted a strong third-quarter to get the field to that station in 1:24 with a few lengths of separation.

In the stretch, Donna Soprano and Venerate trotted by Insta Glam to set up a battle of their own. Donna Soprano tried to hold on, but Venerate was too much to handle, powering by to a 1:53.2 victory with a winning margin of three-quarters of a length.

"I'm never overconfident, but I really felt that we had put everything in place to have a good race," Julie said.

French blood

Bred by Steve Stewart and Kemppi Stable, the fact Venerate is by French stallion Love You and out of Muscle Hill mare Peaceful Kemp made him even more attractive to the Millers as a yearling.

"He was eye-catching," Julie said. "When Andy and I went out to Hunterton, we liked him from the get-go. I had the opportunity to train Eurobond for Lindy Farms in his 3-year-old year and he was a Love You... and what a great mare, too.

"We just loved him and he was Kentucky sired and they race later on in the year, if he even made it at 2. It was one of those things where everything caught our eye and then the turnout was just unbelievable. Andy and I both looked at each other, like, 'We love him.'"

Turns out Karl and Carter Pinske loved Venerate, too.

"At the sale, we were bidding and the Pinskes were bidding. We realized it and stopped bidding and our partnership began. The breeders got about $10,000 more out of us until we realized it," said Miller of the colt that was hammered down for $90,000 at last year's Lexington Selected Yearling Sale. "Karl and Carter came over and said, 'We saw you were bidding' and we said, 'We did, too, so we stopped.' And he said, 'So we'll be partners then.' It was really great."

As for Venerate's mixture of French and American blood, Julie said the former makes for a strong horse and the latter adds the speed.

"It's a good combination. I look forward to the new horses, getting the new French bloodline in there is going to improve standardbreds worldwide and in the U.S."

As for Venerate as an individual, Julie said the colt, "knows he's strong and powerful, but he really respects what you want to do in the race and in training. He's just a good feeler.

"He's just so strong and powerful, but he doesn't have any wasted motions. He uses his ability to go."

As for sometimes being a handful to work with, Julie said that's just price of having a million-dollar race winner.

"The other day he came off the truck and I was there to see him and he could've bit my arm off – he just felt good. You're just so thankful to have that kind of a horse, that he felt so good after that trip from Thursday to racing Saturday in Ontario and then back to Kentucky. He was saying, 'Don't bother me, I'm trying to eat.'"

As for whether Venerate's profitable victory meant Julie and Andy Miller would treat themselves to something spectacular to eat – or some other trinket – Julie just laughed.

"We'll likely put it all back into the sport to buy new babies and try to do it again. That's the game. That race is over, turn the page, I've got to worry about the next one. We'll reinvest and keep doing what we love."

New Jersey legislature passes $15 million horse racing subsidy

The New Jersey legislature has passed a $15 million subsidy as part of its budget for the fiscal year 20201.

In 2019, the legislature passed legislation which annually appropriates $20 million in purse money for five years. After the COVID-19 pandemic hit, the initial plan for 2021 was to scrap the subsidy, but the horse racing industry was able to successfully lobby political leaders to supply $15 million for 2021.

“We are grateful for the commitment to horse racing demonstrated by elected leaders at the highest levels of state government to provide this vital appropriation in the fiscal year 2021 budget,” said Mark Ford, president of the Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association of New Jersey (SBOANJ) in a release. “We want to thank Governor Murphy, Senate President Sweeney, Speaker Coughlin and Budget Committee Chairs, Assemblywoman Pintor Marin and Senator Sarlo, for acknowledging the importance of the purse appropriation. SBOANJ is thankful for their leadership on this issue. Beyond making New Jersey a competitive state with surrounding states’ purse appropriations, the money this year will be especially impactful for the state’s economic recovery.”

The SBOANJ release also said, “the industry and horse farms not only aid and protect the preservation of open space in New Jersey, they support an entire agribusiness of hay producers, straw producers, grain producers, trainers, grooms, veterinarians, equine dentists, and blacksmiths. If the horse racing industry fails, these support businesses stop production and contribution to the New Jersey economy as well. This budget shows the state’s commitment to the thousands of workers employed throughout the industry. SBOANJ remains committed to working alongside the legislature and the Murphy administration to encourage the preservation and growth of the horse racing industry and its prestigious rank among American pastimes.”

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Every drive provides a teachable moment for Kiara Morgan

by Chris Lomon

A narrow loss in her Ladies Driving Series driving debut turned out to be Kiara Morgan's gain.

All that separated the young harness driver from making her first career start a winning one was a long neck.

It was last July when Morgan, daughter of legendary standardbred trainer Virgil Morgan Jr., finished a game second at Wilmington (Clinton County) Fair, a race that saw her and her horse parked the entire mile, with neither one giving up or giving in.

Yes, she would have preferred to go one better. But the result didn't make her hang her head in defeat.

Instead, Morgan sported a wide smile.

Just as she's done in her nearly 90 drives since then, with each race – win, top three, or off the board – in her words, providing a teachable moment.

"I started off and qualified a few at Scioto. At home at the farm where we train, it's a 5/8ths track, so I was able to be more comfortable leading up to my first drive. Having experience at the fairs, the farm and on the racetrack – everything you do helps you learn more about the horses and yourself. The more you drive, the more you gain that invaluable experience and confidence."

Eight days after the curtain raiser on her life in the sulky, Morgan did manage to go one better, this time at the Washington Court Horse Fair in Ohio, when she drove Action Metro Max to victory.

It was her third start after finishing second in both her previous outings. Her second win came later that day with Tail Gunner Hall.

What could she possibly learn about her career in just over a week? As it turns out, a lot more than she could have ever anticipated.

"A lot comes back to you, even early on in your career. You realize you have to take everything race-to-race. You never go into any race thinking you know what the outcome will be, which is how I treated things from my first race to the next one, and then beyond that. I think the one thing that I learned right from the start is to have patience when I'm driving. You can't be in a hurry out there.

Courtesy Kiara Morgan

Kiara Morgan comes by her love of horses honestly. She is the daughter of trainer Virgil Morgan, Jr., a man that has the second most career training wins in North America behind only Ron Burke.

"Another thing that I learned about driving is from when I train every day with my dad. I always have my watch in my hand. I had that from the get-go. I started off doing just basic 2:40 miles, and then 2:30, and down the ladder. I still remember I came in from the track one day and I hit a 2:35 mile right on the dot, and I showed my dad. I was excited. I really like the training aspect of racing. I'm glad I have my dad to show me that the training miles, most importantly, the slower miles, are what's most important."

Although she's in the early stages of her career, there have been highlights, impressive ones, during that short time on the track.

"There have been a couple of things that stick out," said Morgan. "This June, I won my first normal conditioned race at Scioto... it wasn't an amateur race. I think that was pretty cool, since Scioto is our home track. I've been going there since I was a little kid. The horse [Princess Giovanni], she did it pretty easily. That was probably the biggest accomplishment. It was a good feeling. I didn't go into it expecting to win, but I got a good trip. I also got to drive at Delaware last year. I've raced at Scioto, Northfield... Delaware has been one of the more exciting tracks."

Another memorable moment came last September at the Red Mile when Morgan won the Billings Trot with Inukchuk Chuck, a gelded son of Muscles Yankee.

Sent off as the 4-5 favorite, the bay, bred by White Light Farms and the Camel Club Stable, rallied to eke out a nose win.

"Winning the amateur trot at the Red Mile... I won the race in back-to-back weeks," said Morgan, who teamed with Inukchuk Chuck to win again on Oct. 4. "Even though that was a year ago – I had only had a couple of drives – that was a big deal for me. I had never been paired with him before. I got to the track, hopped in the bike and didn't really know what to expect. Obviously, the Red Mile is a lot different than driving on a 5/8ths track. It was a change, but it worked out well. It's a great memory."

And, as she's always done, Morgan's attention to every detail of her craft, big and small, has kept her grounded as she aspires for bigger successes.

Her toughest critic happens to be herself.

"The more you mess up – even from just the last year of driving – I kick myself. A little mistake can make a world of difference as to where you end up at the finish. It could be the difference between first or second. I just take everything as it comes. Every mistake, it's a learning experience. I just have to keep moving forward."

Morgan also keeps an open mind whenever her pacer or trotter takes to the track.

Studying each horse, both hers and the others she faces each race, is a given.

Being confident in calling an audible at any point in the race, she said, is just as important.

"I know have gone into races with a game plan, but in a split second, that game plan is completely messed up. You have to be prepared for anything. You have to have an open book when you line up behind the gate. I always remember what my dad tells me in that I should learn from my mistakes, move on, and focus on the next race."

Morgan also picked up something else from her father, but not in terms of words of wisdom.

Consider it somewhat of a family fashion statement.

"When I first decided I was going to get my driving colors, I thought, 'Maybe I'll go with pink or purple.' Then I thought, 'I'll just stick to my dad's colors.' Everything we have, like saddlepads, is that royal blue. So, I just figured I'd stick with that. I thought about pink or purple for a split second, but I decided on royal blue."

Kiara Morgan

The younger Morgan also decided to keep one of her favorite hobbies away from the standardbred racetracks.

So, when she's not in the sulky for pari-mutuel or training miles, she can be found spending time with a different breed of horse.

"I've always ridden and showed Quarter Horses growing up. That's what I love to do, ride and show. I have a yearling Paint colt right now that I'm going to break to ride here soon. I know it's still something to do with horses, but I just love working with the babies."

Beyond that pursuit, Morgan enjoys spending time with her 2-year-old son, Jaxon, who can often be seen around the barn.

"It's tough to do things independently, but I honestly I love doing things with him, and involving him around the horses whenever I can. It's great to be able to share my love for horses with him."

Missle Hill wins $165,000 STL Open final at Solvalla

by Thomas Hedlund

Five-year-old Muscle Hill son Missle Hill continues to progress in Sweden and Daniel Redén's trotter delivered a strong performance in the $165,000 STL Open final at Solvalla on Sunday afternoon (Sept. 27).

Per Lennartsson drove Missle Hill from post 4 and the duo opened quickly in the first quarter, but two horses were on the inside throughout the whole first turn and even when the trio reached the back stretch for the first time, Missle Hill was still three wide at a high pace. Leader Racing Mange, who was pushed to the front after 450 meters, and earlier leader Generaal Bianco, landed on a :27.1 mark for the first quarter in the 1.3-mile long race and Joakim Lövgren had few options other than letting Missle Hill lead the way after 600 meters.

The heavy first quarter made the race more calm during the second part of the first lap and Missle Hill's stablemate Double Exposure, driven by Johan Untersteiner, reached the front with three quarters remaining.

Two of the best horses on line in front positions left Dreamoko first over and when Dreamoko's power began to fade in the last turn, Missle Hill would soon get his spot from the pocket.

"I couldn't even imagine that (Missle Hill) should beat us in that moment. Double Exposure answered on my commands and I thought that we would win, for sure, but the other horse just flew the last 100 meters," said Untersteiner after the race.

Missle Hill exploded when Lennartsson left the back of Double Exposure with 150 meters to go and the Muscle Hill son flew to a tight, but quite safe win in a mile rate of 1:53.4

over 1.3 miles. Double Exposure made Redén's day complete as runner up. Racing Mange finished third in nice style.

"This was awesome and what a nice horse to drive. His legs just kept going faster and faster over the home stretch and in a way I'm surprised that he could win after the tough first quarter. The only way we could have won the race was to let Double Exposure take the lead in that moment. With her on the outside, I doubt that Missle Hill would have had power to defend himself," said a very satisfied Lennartsson after the race.

Gocciadoro won with Derby winner

Alessandro Gocciado had six out of nine contenders in $208,000 Gran Premio Continentale at the half-mile track in Bologna, Italy on Sunday afternoon (Sept. 27) and the trainer himself sat behind the winner.

Last year's Derby winner Alrajah One (Maharajah) made his first start in Gocciadoro's barn and when Alrajah One came to the lead at an early stage, the race was over.

Stablemate Amon You SM tried to challenge on the outside during the last quarter, but Alrajah One was never threatened and he came home in mile rate 1:58.2 over 1.3 miles.

As Seely Promised: racing her heart out for her 6-year-old owner

by Evan Pattak for The Meadows Standardbred Owners Association

When As Seely Promised and driver Chris Shaw won Tuesday in a claimer at The Meadows, it was about much more than the $5,400 purse. She was also carrying the hopes of her 6-year-old owner, Lucy Langley, who inherited the 12-year-old mare in the most tragic way.

Although not well known to the general public, Barry Langley was a popular figure within the harness racing community, which was shocked by his death in 2019 from a previously undiagnosed heart condition. Langley lived in Ohio, yet a race to honor his memory was held in California, which is a testament to his standing in the harness fraternity.

Langley was in his 30s and hadn't made provisions for As Seely Promised, his only horse. After a number of councils, the family determined that the horse would be transferred to Lucy. That meant Lucy's mom, Jessica Delval, a groom for trainer Doug Snyder, would take care of As Seely Promised.

The daughter of As Promised—Seeley Bert has been serviceable and durable, with earnings of $233,399 in 251 career starts and a mark of 1:52.4. But she also has significant physical issues, as Delval notes:

"If you look at her, you say, this is your horse? This is it? Her conformation's poor, her feet are terrible. Since I've had her, she's probably blown 10 abscesses. She has a knee that's bigger than my head. The thing is, her heart's bigger than that. She has a heart as big as a 50-gallon drum. Week after week, she shows up for us. She gave us a distraction while we were grieving Barry; we had that to look forward to."

Snyder, the mare's trainer, says it's never certain that 'Seely' will be sound enough to compete.

"It's week to week whether she can even make it back to the races," he says, "but Jessica works incredibly hard on her."

All that hard work has paid off, as 'Seely' this year has earned nearly $27,000, a boon to Delval, who is a single mom with a 14-year-old daughter, Annabelle Delval, in addition to young Lucy.

It's not only 'Seely's' physical woes that worry Delval. With each race comes the prospect that the mare will be claimed from the $8,000 ranks where she competes. Delval would like to protect her by moving her to conditioned races or higher level claimers, but 'Seely' has shown that she can't earn enough money there, and Delval can't afford a thousand-pound pet who isn't paying her way.

"I am nervous about that," Delval says. "I feel like enough people know the story — Barry was almost like a celebrity in the harness racing world — that they wouldn't claim her. But there's always somebody that's out of the mix and doesn't know, and there's the potential someone could claim her. If that happens, I'll be a train wreck. The kids would not totally get it, but I understand what that horse has done for Lucy and for us as a family, both monetarily and emotionally. So I would take it hardest of anyone."

For all that, Delval is certain that her family is getting the kind of help not available at your local tack shop.

"I believe that Barry, in spirit form, is providing some magic," she says. "No one in the world could convince me otherwise. Between the love that we put into her and Barry's helping on the other side, I think we'll be okay."

"I have the paperwork ready to file for my trainer's license. Before it's all said and done, I want to race her as her trainer at least one time. I feel compelled to finish Barry's work."

Hambletonian Society supports HISA

The Hambletonian Society supports the proposed Horse Racing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA), the latest version of which is S.R. 4547, introduced on Sept. 9, 2020.

The Society believes that the current system of oversight and regulation of horse racing needs and demands changes in structure and execution and that the proposed legislation has the potential to bring new found confidence and trust to horseplayers, owners and all other participants.

While some of the provisions of the original bill caused legitimate concerns for the standardbred industry, since, among other concerns, it provided for "one size fits all" rules for all breeds, the amended bill now recognizes the uniqueness of other breeds, including standardbreds.

To be represented effectively, the standardbred industry and its leaders must be united in their approach to the Horse Racing Integrity and Safety Authority to be established under HISA, so as to ensure that therapeutic medication protocols, funding mechanisms and representation, are appropriate and practical for the harness racing industry.

Universal thresholds and withdrawal times, as well as standardized testing procedures for permitted therapeutic medications, will allow honest and ethical breeders, trainers and veterinarians to care for race horses in a more consistent manner. This proposed legislation also greatly increases the chances of detecting and apprehending unscrupulous and unethical people who currently operate within industry-regulated boundaries.

The Society urges all participants and organizations in the standardbred industry to familiarize themselves with the contents of the amended bill, (Amended HISA Bill SR4547) and support this groundbreaking legislation.

There is an opening to be part of a solution that will allow harness racing to be treated fairly and be the best that it can be as we move forward.

Sincerely,

—John Campbell / president and chief executive officer

Perfect trip lands Pemberton a second Gold win

A rain-soaked surface did not prevent Pemberton from employing his trademark finishing kick to capture the sole $158,000 3-year-old trotting colt Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold Series division at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Monday (Sept. 28).

Starting from Post 10, Pemberton and regular reinsman Trevor Henry got away sixth, tucked in behind fan favorite HP Royal Theo, as Hot Wheelz led the way to a :27.4 quarter. Driver Louis-Philippe Roy tipped HP Royal Theo into the outer lane heading for the :57.2 half and Henry kept Pemberton on his heels through the 1:26 three-quarters as the pair advanced on the pacesetter. In the stretch, Henry asked Pemberton for a bigger gear and the gelding kicked home for a one and one-half length victory in 1:54.2, over a surface rated one second slower than normal. HP Royal Theo finished second and pocket-sitter Threefiftytwo was another length back in third.

"It went great. I got a really good trip, second over behind Louis' horse. It couldn't have worked out better actually," said Henry. "It's tough from the 10-hole. You don't want to get trapped on the rail so you've got to let somebody in, hopefully it's a good horse, and it was tonight. He's a nice colt too that HP Royal Theo, I was happy to follow him."

Henry drives Pemberton for trainer Paul Walker and owner/breeders Brenda Walker of Owen Sound and Christine Walker of Tara, ON. Monday's victory was the gelding's second in Gold Series action and his sixth in eight lifetime starts. Unraced at 2, the son of Wheeling N Dealin made his debut at Georgian Downs on June 6, finishing fourth, and then reeled off four straight wins, including his first Gold victory at Woodbine Mohawk Park on July 21. Pemberton finished third in the Aug. 19 Gold leg at Grand River Raceway and then kicked off what is now a two race win streak with a victory in overnight action at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Sept. 7.

"I don't know whether he's changed a whole lot," said Henry of the trotter's development over the past four months. "I don't know how fast he can go, but he's by far the nicest horse I've ever driven, such a professional, well-mannered, he beats them a lot of times just on his manners and his late kick for home. He's such a nice horse to drive, he does nothing wrong."

Monday's win boosted Pemberton's earnings to $186,284 and put him third in the three-year-old trotting colt standings with 112 points. The colts will wrap up their Gold Series regular season on Thursday, Oct. 8 at Woodbine Mohawk Park and then the top 10 point earners will compete over the Milton oval in the $250,000 Super Final on Oct. 17.

Dancing Lew breaks MASS stake record at Plainridge

A fourth Massachusetts Sire Stake (MASS) record was broken during only the second day of competition when the 2-year-olds of both gaits and genders hit the track at Plainridge Park on Monday afternoon (Sept. 28), getting the series off to its fastest start ever. And all five division winners on Monday also took new lifetime marks.

In the $28,500 division for freshman male pacers, Dancing

Lew (Rocknroll Dance—Love Rocks) hit the sticks fifth tracking the heavily favored Mullinax (Scott Zeron) who flashed to the front. Bruce Ranger pulled Dancing Lew in front of the stands and motored up towards the leader around the second turn. From there he got within a length of Mullinax but couldn't advance further as they hit the top of the stretch. But when they straightened out in the lane, Dancing Lew swelled up and paced right by Mullinax and won by 1/2 length in 1:54.

The time was a new lifetime mark and a new stake record for a 2-year-old gelding pacer.

It was the second straight win for Dancing Lew ($16.20) who is owned by Anthony Sivik Jr., Kathleen Mofield and KDK Standardbreds, who also bred the winner. Kevin Switzer is the trainer.

The trotting colts and geldings went for $29,000 and New York Sire Stake finalist Incommunicado (Chapter Seven—Gran Cavalla) grabbed the winner's share.

For the bulk of the race it was a two-horse competition. Beantown Madness (Shawn Gray) took the lead and Incommunicado (Scott Zeron) tucked in second. Positions remained unchanged until the 7/8th's pole when Incommunicado moved into the two-path and took direct aim at Beantown Madness. The two trotters battled all the way to the wire where Incommunicado got the advantage and won by 1/2 length in 1:56.4, which was a new lifetime mark.

Incommunicado ($3.40) grabbed his second win of the year for owners Knuttson Trotting, Little E, Arthur Geiger and David Stolz. Ake Svanstedt trains the winner who was bred by the Moni Maker Stable.

The freshmen filly pacers put on quite a show in their $29,000 division with another NYSS finalist, Rightfully Mine (American Ideal—Leah), getting the job done.

Suzie Blue Chip (Shawn Gray) grabbed the lead by the quarter and then controlled the pace with Rightfully Mine (Scott Zeron) and Purameri (Drew Monti) sitting second and third. After getting to the half in :57.2, Purameri hit the gas and motored up the outside to pace alongside Suzie Blue Chip around the last turn. At the top of the stretch Purameri lost her momentum and Suzie Blue Chip drifted off the pylons allowing Rightfully Mine room to shoot the gap and win by a neck in 1:54.1, which was a career best time for the winner.

Rightfully Mine ($4.00) scored her second win of the year for owners Anthony Scussel and Monique Cohen, who also bred the winner. Sheena McElhiney is the trainer.

The trotting fillies went in two $13,750 divisions of five horses each.

In the first split, Royal Envy (RC Royalty—Temper Of Will) sat second behind the heavy 1-9 favorite Moni For Lindy (Scott Zeron) until the top of the lane where driver Shawn Gray tipped and brushed her down the stretch and right past Moni For Lindy at the wire in 1:58.1. It was a new lifetime mark for the winner.

Royal Envy ($26.00) is owned and was bred by Alfred Ross and Ray Campbell Jr.

The second division saw Matty Athearn send Me Too Baby (Muscle Hill—Baby Shaq) off the gate to the front where he opened up a four-length lead at the quarter. They maintained a gapped advantage at every station before cruising home a winner in a career best tying 1:58.2.

Me Too Baby ($2.80) has now won two races in a row for owner/breeder Thomas Dillon and trainer Gretchen Athearn.

The Massachusetts Sire Stakes continue at Plainridge Park on Sunday (Oct. 4) with the second leg of the 3-year-olds and on Monday (Oct. 5) when the 2-year-olds reconvene. Post time for both days is 2 p.m.

Regular racing resumes at Plainridge Park on Thursday (Oct. 1) with post time also at 2 p.m.

Three stake records fall in MASS at Plainridge

The $1.4 million (est.) Massachusetts Sire Stakes (MASS) kicked off its 2020 season at Plainridge Park on Sunday afternoon (Sept. 27) when the 3-year-olds took center stage for their first of three legs. The track was lightning fast and the performances were as well as three stake records fell right out of the box.

In the $29,000 male pacing division, Wyatt J (American Ideal—Think Pink) drafted third on the rail while R Maddy Blue Chip (Kevin Switzer) and Spatterdash (Mike Stevenson) traded leads before the half. Passing the five-eighths, driver Scott Zeron tipped Wyatt J and marched up the outside towards the leading Spatterdash and paced alongside him around the last turn. At the head of the stretch Wyatt J pulled away to a 1-3/4 length lead and won in 1:52.1.

The time was a new lifetime mark for the winner and a new stake record for a 3-year-old pacing colt.

Wyatt J ($2.20) registered his fifth win in a row for owner Ken Jacobs and trainer Linda Toscano. Lindy Farms of Connecticut bred the winner.

Then in the $28,000 leg for pacing fillies, She's A Fireball (Western Maverick—Fire Can Fly) got away fourth behind the heavily favored Ry's Red Rocket (Matty Athearn) before pulling first-over past the half to engage the leader by the three-quarter pole. From there driver Ron Cushing urged She's A Fireball around the final turn and all the way down the stretch and his filly out-fought a very game Ry's Red Rocket to win by a neck in 1:54.1.

The time was another new lifetime mark and a new stake record for a 3-year-old pacing filly.

She's A Fireball ($7.40) scored her second win in her last three starts for owners Ron Cushing and Adams Racing. She's A Fireball is trained by Heidi Gibbs and was bred by Lucia Les and Kenneth Clairmont.

The trotting fillies went for $29,000 in their first grouping and Without A Warning (RC Royalty—Concentration) put on quite a show. After taking the lead at the quarter, Without A Warning was visited by stablemate Dramatra at the half and the two trotted stride for stride to the three quarters. At that point Without A Warning switched gears and left Dramatra in her dust. She spun off the far turn and opened up a six length gap at the wire to win in 1:54.2.

As in the previous two races, the time was a new lifetime mark for the winner and a new stake record for a 3-year-old trotting filly.

Without A Warning ($2.40) gave Zeron his second win of the day and now has three wins this year for owner/breeder Ray Campbell Jr. George Ducharme trains the winner.

Owner/breeder Campbell and trainer Ducharme also had the winner of the $28,000 male trotting division, Double Dealing, who left from post one led the entire race by 1-1/4 lengths before turning for home and stretching out to a four length advantage at the beam in 1:56.1.

Double Dealing ($6.20) now has five wins on the year for his connections. Shawn Gray drove the winner.

Warrawee Vicky and Massive Flirt romp to victory at Flamboro

Trainer Scott McEneny had Sunday's 3-year-old trotting filly Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold Leg at Flamboro Downs circled on his calendar as soon as the OSS schedule was published.

His filly, Warrawee Vicky, is a handy, good gaited filly who can tour a half-mile track as fast as she can a larger oval and the fourth Gold Leg looked like a good spot to pad her point total.

Starting from Post 5, and with the rail horse scratched, Warrawee Vicky fired off the starting gate to a :29 quarter. Through a :59.1 half and a 1:28.4 three-quarters the fan favorite and driver Doug McNair never saw a challenger. The pair cruised home one and three-quarter length winners in 1:57. Susies Lady finished second and She Rocks Kemp was six lengths back in third.

"She is very handy on a half. I was kind of glad they had one here, because she won two of them last year, Grand River and here. I wish they had the Super Finals on the half," said McEneny with a laugh. "She is very handy"

The win was the Royalty For Life daughter's third in Gold Series action this season, she was also victorious in the July

2 season opener and the July 26 event at Rideau Carleton Raceway. In addition to her Gold Series engagements, Warrawee Vicky has also battled North America's best in open stake action at Woodbine Mohawk Park in recent weeks, finishing fifth in her Aug. 28 Casual Breeze division, winning her Sept. 11 Simcoe Stakes division in a personal best 1:54 and finishing well out of the money in the Sept. 19 Elegance Stake.

"She won two weeks ago in the Simcoe and then last week she was in with Ramona Hill and that, it was way too tough and she got roughed up the first half, got a little tired," said McEneny. "So we just kind of worked on her all week, looking forward to this race, and she did it pretty handy."

Brad Grant of Milton, ON owns Warrawee Vicky, who boosted her lifetime earnings to $375,048 with Sunday's win and moved well out in front of her peers in the three-year-old trotting filly standings with 175 points. The top 10 point earners advance to the Oct. 17 Super Finals, which will actually take place at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

In the second $105,600 division, Massive Flirt and driver Jody Jamieson were sent off as the fan favorites from Post 2. The duo got away second behind Trina, watched GP Dreamin and Wine Rack Hanover go off-stride in the outer lane and then snuck up the inside to take the lead when Trina veered out wide coming out of the first turn. From there Massive Flirt put up a :28.4 quarter, :58.1 half, 1:27.3 three-quarters and powered home to a three and one-half length victory in a track record 1:55.4. Magic Cape finished second and Modern Mass completed the top three in the mile, which also equalled the Ontario Sires Stakes record for three-year-old trotting fillies on a half-mile track.

"Pretty cool to have a track record and the filly was simply the best tonight," said Jamieson. "She's been a hard hitter this year but, fingers crossed, she's got it down pat now."

Trainer Jeff Gillis of Hillsburgh and Mac Nichol of Burlington, ON bred and own Massive Flirt, who was also a winner in the July 26 Gold leg at Rideau Carleton Raceway. With two wins, one fourth and one fifth the Muscle Mass daughter currently sits second in the division standings with 113 points.

The three-year-old trotting fillies will wrap up their Gold Series regular season at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Gold Series point standings can be found on the Ontario Sires Stakes Leaderboard.

Prospect Series champions crowned in Elora

A perfect fall night greeted the top Prospect Series horses as they gathered at Grand River Raceway on Friday (Sept. 25) for eight $15,000 Finals.

Local reinsman Bruce Richardson piloted the first Prospect Series champion, guiding A La Mode Seelster to a front-end victory in the 2-year-old pacing filly Final for trainer Gregg McNair of Guelph and owner Murray Cox of Rockwood, ON.

"She made front kind of easy and got things her way, and when I asked her going into the last turn she responded and win kind of handily," said Richardson, who was making his first appearance in A La Mode Seelster's race bike. "He thought she'd be decent in there, thought she'd race good, so that's what we were hoping for."

The win was the first of the season for Sunshine Beach daughter A La Mode Seelster, who finished one length ahead of fan favorite Carnival Heart. Unfortunately Carnival Heart caused interference to three of her peers heading for the halfway marker so she was set back to sixth and Lets Roar and Century Havana were promoted to second and third.

Arthur, ON residents Wayne and George Henry teamed up to win the 2-year-old trotting colt Final with Arch We Lucky, who also went gate-to-wire, cruising home four and three-quarter lengths ahead of Kiss My Mass and Willywin. Wayne Henry drives and George Henry trains the Archangel son for Arthur resident William Checkley.

Sauble Attack and Anthony Haughan emerged victorious from the 2-year-old pacing colt Final, stalking fan favorite Kodiak Seelster through fractions of :28.4, :59 and 1:28.3 before sprinting down the stretch to a three-quarter length win in 1:57.2. Kodiak Seelster settled for second and Dubai Seelster was third.

"He has been growing a lot this summer and fall, and he has been progressing. His last few starts he's been getting stronger every week and I thought he looked pretty strong tonight," said trainer Otis Hall. "Everybody is happy, my parents are happy, and my family is happy and the driver was happy with him, just everybody is happy, and the horse himself is happy."

Like Sauble Attack, Radical J J scored her second straight win in the 2-year-old trotting filly Final. The Muscle Mass daughter and driver Scott Young led the field through fractions of :29.3, 1:00.2 and 1:30.4 and then opened up a five length gap in the stretch, stopping the clock at 2:01.1. One Smart Cookie finished second and Somewhat Sacy was third.

"She raced her best race tonight," said Young. "She's been racing well all year, but I was happy for the filly that she got the Final to end the year."

The Guelph resident piloted Radical J J to the win for trainer Shawn Steacy of Brantford and owners David Reid of Sydenham, A K Malik Stable of Ottawa, Carmen Chrysdale of Mississauga and Bruno Dipocce of Wasaga Beach, ON.

Driver Travis Henry piloted two Prospect Series Final winners, with the first coming in the 3-year-old pacing filly contest.

Starting from Post 3 with Land of Paradise, Henry was part of a six filly stampede into the first turn as the finalists vied for early position. Land of Paradise reached the front coming off the first turn, but was quickly overtaken by favorite Watch My Speed who led the way to a :26.4 opening quarter, :56.3 half and 1:26.3 three-quarters. Land Of Paradise stepped out in the stretch and battled to one-half length win over Hallsglensmavis in 1:57.3. Southwind Bayou completed the top three.

"She's been plugging away all year. She's really green, she just a slow learner I guess," said Henry. "She has races where you can see that it kind of clicks in her brain, and then she'll have races where she doesn't even seem like she knows what she's doing out there. Tonight obviously it clicked and she was good."

Putnam resident Scott McNiven trains the Badlands Hanover daughter for his co-owners Thomas Brodhurst of London, Bradley McNiven of Embro and Shirley Griffin of St. Thomas, ON.

Henry's second Prospect Series Final victory came in the 3-year-old trotting colt contest with Muscle Mass son Northern Flame, who got a head in front of pacesetter Hall Of Secrets at the 2:01 finish. Traveller finished third.

"Travis didn't make it from Mohawk, so he asked if I would drive him," said Henry, who was a last minute replacement for Travis Cullen. "He said, 'Don't look at the program, he should be good tonight.' And he said, 'He's honest and he's got a lot of go'. There was a ton of early speed and they were battling out to the half pretty good, so I got a second-over trip and it just kind of worked out good."

The Embro resident engineered the win for trainer Jodie Cullen and owner Gestion J Y Blais Inc. of Montreal, QC.

Driver Ryan DesRoche got his first Ontario-based stakes final victory in the 3-year-old trotting filly division, guiding Muscles Aplenty to a 2:00.1 personal best for trainer Bill Shaw and owners Patricia Gibb of London and Jay Kressler of Kitchener, ON. Favorite Wheely Twicky was two and one-quarter lengths back in second and Credit Celebrity was third.

"I knew if we could get away on the right foot that she was just as good as any of them in there," said DesRoche, who had the Angus Hall daughter on the front before the quarter. "I kind of opened up a few lengths on the backside with her just because I knew she can get a little feeble late, so if I could open up enough on them I knew that she'd finish trotting the mile strong enough that they couldn't get to her. And it worked out well."

In rein to Grand River Raceway's leading driver Scott Coulter, Yannick Seelster clocked the fastest mile of the night in the 3-year-old pacing colt Final, ringing up fractions of :27, :56.4 and 1:26.3 on his way to a 1:56 personal best. Favorite Dreaming Out Loud was one and one-half lengths back in second and Modern Writer was third.

"He's been racing well. Scott's (Coulter) done a really good job with him, so I thought off the rail he'd have a pretty good shot, but there was a couple other decent ones in there, so I didn't know," said trainer Ted MacDonnell. "But he raced really well. He's been kind of a slow learner and he still is just learning, but he's putting the pieces together now."

Allenford resident MacDonnell shares ownership of the Big Jim gelding with Leonard Gamble of Etobicoke, ON.
