Will financial concerns impact the horse racing economy?

Six industry experts opine about global financial conditions and the state of the horse business as the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale is set to begin on Monday night.

by Dave Briggs

FASIG-TIPTON

Dave Landry

Last year, the COVID-19 pandemic had no impact on the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale, which set 18 records, including gross ($56,692,500), average ($65,692), median ($44,000), number of yearlings sold for $100,000 or more (159). The gross surpassed the previous record not by a little, but by some $10 million, up 22 per cent from the previous best.

Surpassing all that even in strong economic times would be a challenge.

But this year, the sale must contend with major challenges in the global economy, including soaring inflation, rising interest rates, major currency fluctuations and great uncertainty around Russia's invasion of Ukraine. So, how will that impact this year's sale? Six industry experts weighed in.

"No one is less rich than they were 15 months ago," said Blue Chip Farms owner Tom Grossman. "Despite everything you read, most people with disposable income have never been richer in this country, which is a whole weird concept.

"I think the horse economy has quietly diversified itself. Our reliance on our top 10 buyers is much lower, in my mind, than it ever has been. The next group of 40, 50, 60, 70 people that can and will sign $100,000 for standardbred and $250,000 for thoroughbred is much deeper than it ever has been.

“No one is less rich than they were 15 months ago. Despite everything you read, most people with disposable income have never been richer in this country, which is a whole weird concept... I think the horse economy has quietly diversified itself. Our reliance on our top 10 buyers is much lower, in my mind, than it ever has been. The next group of 40, 50, 60, 70 people that can and will sign $100,000 for standardbred and $250,000 for thoroughbred is much deeper than it ever has been.”

~ Tom Grossman

“The one part that is a little concerning to me, particularly on the trotting side, is the value of the (U.S.) dollar, which is extremely strong. In the past, that has certainly hurt thoroughbred and, to a lesser extent, standardbred sales. However, I think a lot of those foreign buyers already have a lot of assets in dollars and have been successful with their racehorses earning dollar purses such that they are not just going to the bank and withdrawing Euros and now buying a horse that's 20 per cent more expensive than it was a few weeks ago... Also, I feel like a lot of Canadians have been earning a lot of (U.S.) dollars, so it works both ways.

All American's Rob Tribbett said the economy of the horse racing business is different than that of the overall economy.

“I think the horse racing business is different than the general economic trends we're seeing,” Tribbett said, “because it's a very good time to be racing horses, really at all levels from the yearling sales to the racehorse market because the only way we have racehorses is for people to purchase yearlings. You can make a lot of money racing in all these jurisdictions and then when a horse turns 3 or is about to turn 4, you have the opportunity to sell those horses. There's a lot of opportunity and the demand is very strong in the racehorse market.”

With 50-plus years of knowledge and experience, Northwood Bloodstock's Bob Boni feels good about the current horse racing economy.

"I have said this for a very, very, very long time," Boni told Debbie Little. "I think the horse business, with rare exception of tragic things that have happened – 9/11 was one, the stock market crash in '87 was another – other than that the horse racing business, I find, is insulated from what goes on in the rest of the world. People want to buy horses. This is their opportunity to buy horses. I don't see the economy affecting a lot of the people that buy horses."

Diamond Creek's Shaun Laungani said, "It's definitely a sellers' market, but the buyers are bound to be very selective. Everybody is racing for more money, so our micro economy is very good. The cost of goods and services have gone up for everybody. I'm not predicting record-smashing over last year, which was crazy and good, but I'm expecting – because our micro economy is so good – for it to be very healthy... There's a lot to be excited about."

David Reid, owner of Preferred Equine and the co-manager of the Lexington sale said he simply can't predict how strong the sale will be.

"I'm not smart enough to understand... how the currency valuations will impact somebody somewhere," Reid said. "Inflation numbers are going to impact somebody somewhere, but I can't quantify that. So, those are two concerns coming into any marketplace – the global economy, the global currencies, and, naturally, the inflation."

"But we're bullish on our catalogue. We're bullish on the industry, so I'm more positive than negative, that's for sure."

"I'm not an economist. But the horse economy has been resilient. If you're a horse owner it will depend on what industry your main business is in and how that's been affected... that has a trickle-down effect. I don't know how affected the restaurant industry is, for example, or the auto business, the construction business... other industries people have for real livings. I don't know how that's going to impact their horse business."

But as Steve Jones of Cameo Hills told Jerry Connors, record purses in almost all jurisdictions means owning horses has rarely been more attractive and, subsequently, the sale should be strong.

"Obviously you have to be concerned (about the economy)," Jones said. "But there is so much money out there in the various programs – Pennsylvania, New Jersey. In New York, you can have a filly go to Batavia, and it's possible she could race for $110,000. Ontario's program is obviously good. And the addition of Kentucky has really helped increase the value of certain horses. We have horsemen in New York that normally wouldn't leave the state much, but they look at the program in Kentucky because there are so many rich opportunities in the current (dual-eligible program).

“I think what we’re seeing is that the people in the racing industry are a little bit insulated from some of the general economic terms. The biggest thing is the purse structure, like what’s happening in Kentucky is very promising and it’s stabilized in some other jurisdictions.”

Tribbett agreed.

“I think what we’re seeing is that the people in the racing industry are a little bit insulated from some of the general economic terms. The biggest thing is the purse structure, like what’s happening in Kentucky is very promising and it’s stabilized in some other jurisdictions,” Tribbett said.

Often, the standardbred industry looks at its thoroughbred cousins to gauge the strength of the horse racing economy.

“We just finished the Keeneland sale in September, which was the highest grossing sale in the history of Keeneland and that was without really... very limited international, particularly Arab, participation. It was a wide group of buyers with over $400 million spent,” Tribbett said.

“The (Keeneland) thoroughbred sale was even stronger than the headline,” Grossman said. “The clearance rate, the amount of money that was left for day 6, 7 and 8 at the sale. I’ve been in Lexington a few days and talked to a lot of people and there was genuine bewilderment almost at how good, solid and strong it was. It wasn’t four or five people going crazy, it was what you want out of a horse sale, so that’s encouraging.”

Though, Reid cautions that the thoroughbred industry is more of, “a global business and there were participants there that were weaker than they were in the past. Some of them were stronger, too. It goes back to what is the source of their core wealth.”

Boni said the strength of thoroughbred sales can be a poor barometer.

“You’ll hear people want to compare what happens with the thoroughbreds to our market,” Boni said. “I think they’re stand-alone markets. I don’t think one has a tremendous bearing on the other. Some years it will be a little stronger than others. Last year was probably as strong as you’ll ever imagine it to be. And will it be the same (this year)? Maybe, maybe not, but I wouldn’t say no.”

In the end, selling yearlings at one of the sport’s two most prestigious auctions is about selling dreams to people with a lot of disposable income, regardless of the current economic conditions.

“With our yearlings, we offer people a chance to campaign a star, to win some of the biggest races in the sport, to be in the spotlight,” Jones said. “Basically, when we are selling yearlings, we are selling a dream... a dream that our customers can relate to, can aspire to, can have a chance to reach with a star horse, hopefully one of ours. We are all selling the dream of having a champion racehorse.”

The year after smashing 18 records, a deeper Lexington catalogue aims for an encore

by Dave Briggs

Last year's Lexington Selected Yearling Sale smashed 18 records, including new standards for gross ($56,692,500), average ($65,692), median ($44,000) and number of yearlings sold for $100,000 or more (159). The gross exceeded the previous record ($46,480,000 in 2019) by some $10 million or 22 per cent. Each of the five sessions set a new record for gross sales.

This year's sale, which starts Monday (Oct. 3) and runs through Friday night (Oct. 7) at the Fasig-Tipton Sale Pavilion, has as strong a catalogue – if not better – than last year's.

So, will records again be broken?

"I never like to predict any records," said sale co-manager David Reid. "I've been wrong the last 10 years where we just continuously set records."

That said, Reid and his co-manager Randy Manges believe this is the deepest catalogue the Lexington sale has ever had.

"It could be arguably the best catalogue, but it's definitely the deepest," Reid said. "My early comments from the customers are that they think the sale is really deep with a lot of nice horses."

"It's deep from a sire point of view, with first crops of Greenshoe and Six Pack. You've got first crops of Bettors Wish and Captain Crunch. On the trotting side, we have a very healthy number of Chapter Sevens, Walners, Muscle Hills on top of established sires, such as Father Patrick and others."

“It could be arguably the best catalogue, but it’s definitely the deepest.”

~ David Reid

Last year, sale attendance by Europeans and Canadians was limited due to COVID-19 travel restrictions. This year, Hunterton Farm’s Steve Stewart said he expects strong attendance by people from those regions.

“We’re very confident going into the sale. We’re going to be overrun with Swedes and Europeans, who haven’t been here for two years,” Stewart said.

Reid agreed.

“We have a big group of Europeans coming from the Scandinavian countries, as well as some visitors from France. We expect Canada will be well-represented as well,” Reid said.

Those that can’t attend can still bid online.

“One of the carry overs from the COVID years – the online bidding will be offered again for anybody that cannot make it, or anyone who is here for a couple of days then has to return home. They will have the opportunity to bid remotely using www.proxibid.com, which has been our online provider since 2020,” Reid said.

Some 900 yearlings are catalogued this year and Reid said nearly 350 of them are dual-eligible yearlings that can race in more than one sires stakes program. With the growth of the Kentucky program, in particular, that makes yearlings more attractive.

“I think that’s going to add to our strength as well,” Reid said. “Then, you have Ohio and Indiana, New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Ontario, New Jersey – they are all healthy right now. That leads to a healthy marketplace and it goes back to that there’s something for everyone at this sale. The quality is deep and we’re really excited about our efforts.”

Reid said the sale breaks down about 55/45 in favor of trotters.

“I think there’s a great variety, even on the pacing side. Obviously, you have the sport’s leading sires Captaintreacherous, Always B Miki, Sweet Lou. Stay Hungry, we have a handful, and he’s off to a good start. There’s first crop of Bettors Wish and Captain Crunch. There’s other first-crop sires that we don’t have huge numbers of from jurisdictions such as Ontario – we’ve got some Stag Partys, some Jimmy Freights, some McWicked.”

This year’s sale continues the trend of having some afternoon sessions.

BETH & DOUG YONTZ

168 Grays Run Pike, Cynthiana, KY 41031

(859) 509-7322

“We’re very confident going into the sale. We’re going to be overrun with Swedes and Europeans, who haven’t been here for two years.”

~ Steve Stewart

Monday’s opening session will begin at 7 p.m., but the sessions on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will begin at 2 p.m. Friday’s session, featuring mostly midwestern yearlings, begins at 7 p.m. Then, there is a mixed sale on Saturday that starts at 7 p.m.

Last year, the sale had two afternoon sessions that Reid said went over well with sellers and buyers. This year, they added a third and are starting those sessions an hour earlier.

“We’ll try that, just to try to wrap up a little earlier so people can still get out and have a dinner and enjoy Lexington,” Reid said.

His best guess is those afternoon sessions should conclude around 7:30 p.m.

“On Friday night, we’ll conclude the yearling portion. Then, we’ll have the Mixed Sale on Saturday. We’re excited to bring the Mixed Sale back. It’s a great combination of having a live sale, while providing online bidding opportunities. So, it’s kind of the best of both worlds. From a sales company point of view, Randy and myself want to give the consumer all the tools to maximize their ability to participate in the sale.

On Monday, there will be a cocktail session from 5-7 p.m. at the Fasig-Tipton sales pavilion. On Tuesday from 1-2 p.m. there will be a social event called Cocktails for a Cause to kick off the 2022 Breeders Crown Charity Challenge.

New this year to Fasig-Tipton is an enhanced patio area.

“There’s a covered area outside of the pavilion, which our buyers will enjoy. The facility is great, the horses are great and hopefully the consignors have a great week,” Reid said.

TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

with MURRAY BROWN

Monday's opening session of the Lexington sale is the greatest single collection of yearlings ever offered

by Murray Brown

The yearlings in the first session of the 2021 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale represented the finest single day's offering in the sport ever. The numbers realized from the session more than supported that statement.

So what have my friends Randy Manges and David Reid, the co-managers of the sale cooked up for this year?

In this guy's far from humble opinion, they will have exceeded last year's quality, not only by a little bit, but by a whole lot.

The 127 yearlings entering the sales ring Monday (Oct 3) will represent the greatest collection of yearlings to have ever been on offer in a standardbred yearling sale. Whatever yearling sales records in last year's first session will be topped by those which will be sold Monday evening. I make that statement with no doubt or reservations.

Let's look at the numbers. The yearlings in the session consist of 92 trotters and 35 pacers. The trotters are broken down to an equal number of 46 by sex. The pacers consist of 21 colts and 12 fillies. If one were nitpicking, it could be argued that the depth of the pacers is not quite commensurate with those of the trotters. The reason is certainly not because the quality of the pacers is lacking in any manner but rather because the quality of the trotting yearlings is overwhelming. Over half of the group of trotters (53) is made up of yearlings by the three sires that most people would consider to be the best in North America, if not the world, Chapter Seven with Muscle Hill (18 each) and Walner with 17. First-year sire Greenshoe ranks with the three leaders with 18 selling on Day One. Thus, 72 of the 92 trotting yearlings come from four sires. I suppose that the argument could be made that those numbers might show a lack of diversity at the top. I would say that the three proven also complement each other pretty well. It is true that Chapter Seven and Walner are a father-son duo. However the day is coming, if it is not already here, when some golden crosses such as Muscle Hill and his sons on Chapter Seven line mares as well as the reverse, the Chapter Seven and Walner line stallions on Muscle Hill line mares, becomes the vogue. The fifth ranking Day One trotting stallion with 10 is Father Patrick who is enjoying a wonderful year, his best since his first crop which produced the remarkable Greenshoe. This adds the Cantab Hall line to the mix. I think that it would be a safe bet to guess that all of these mentioned stallions will to a large extent become the stallions who will most influence the American trotting breed in the years to come.

The number of pacers selling on Day One, 33 head and 27 per cent of the total is significantly lower than the trotters. One stallion, Captaintreacherous leads the pack with 14 yearlings, nevertheless the stallion who I expect to dominate pacing for some years will be his sire the remarkable Somebeachsomewhere. Not only is SBSW the sire of Captaintreacherous, he is also the sire of two already successful young stallions Downbytheseaside and Huntsville. SBSW's book is nowhere near fully written yet. Although SBSW is no longer with us, he has two of his greatest sons Papi Rob Hanover and Beach Glass waiting in the wings..

Are you ready for the fireworks? I have been since I received my catalog a couple of weeks ago.

While speaking of Lexington Day One I will enter the fantasy world and take my yearly foray into the depths of my imagination. Each year I go through the catalog and pick a small number of yearlings in each of the four categories – trotters and pacers and colts and fillies for each. These will consist of my imaginary stable for the coming year. Here they are:

TROTTING COLTS

Hip 70 Vic Zelenskyy – Greenshoe–Mission Brief–Muscle Hill

First colt from a mare who I consider to be in the top five that I've ever seen. She will have that great one. He could be the one.

Hip 47 Holy Grail Hanover – Greenshoe–Hannelore Hanover–Swan For All

THE ART OF BREEDING

with ALAN LEAVITT

Knock on wood

by Alan Leavitt

In the belief that the good trotting sires of the future will come from the 2-year-old stakes winners of today, Gates Hanover caught my eye when he won a division of the Captain Corey Stakes this week at the Red Mile.

Gates Hanover is by Walner and out of Good Common Cents, a fast mare with winnings of $285,178, by Kadabra. He's trained by the Swedish Fox, Ake Svanstedt, and was driven by Dexter Dunn. About Dunn, I have no nickname; he's a marvelous driver who probably would win just as many races if he left his whip in the driver's room.

As for Walner, Gates Hanover's sire, his dominance as a sire reinforces the belief that 2-year-old brilliance foreshadows success in the stud. He lost only once in a well-managed 2-year-old campaign by Linda Toscano.

As a quick aside, Toscano and I go back to the long ago days when she took care of our great mare, Tarport Hap, for trainer Buddy Regan. Hap died from a heart attack in a race at The Meadowlands, and she's buried on the infield there. Sleep well, my girl, sleep well.

It's instructive to look at Walner's 2-year-old racelines. He liked the front end, which is a racing trademark of most of the horses who went on to be top sires. In his last two starts at 2, he won the Breeders Crown Final by 4-and-a-half lengths and the Kindergarten Final by seven lengths.

He only made two starts for money at 3, and then Toscano stopped with him because of a filled ankle. I suspect that there might be other trainers who would have tried to bring him back, but Toscano respected him too much to take a chance of sulling his reputation.

Good Common Cents, the dam of Gates Hanover, is by Kadabra, who was an outstanding racehorse with a record at 4 of 1:51.3 and earnings of $1,808,775.

At first glance you won't find many, or maybe any, familiar names in his pedigree except for Speedy Somolli in the third generation. But Kadabra's dam, Quillo, is an interesting mare when you look closer.

Quillo is by Trottin Happy, by Speedy Somolli, by Speedy Crown, and her dam, Arsenal's Dynasty, by Arsenal, also by Speedy Crown.

So Quillo is inbred, 3 by 3, to Speedy Crown. As a reminder, when the sum of the two generations in which the same name appears twice is six or less, the horse so bred is properly defined as Inbred.

When the sum of those generations in which the same name appears twice is seven or eight, you have Linebreeding.

When no name appears twice in the first four generations, that pedigree is defined as an Outcross. Virtually all the pacers and trotters of the present day are outcrossed. Which, as I keep repeating until my throat gets sore, opens up a huge opportunity for some smart breeder to do some judicious inbreeding, where gold is to be struck. Or think of it as synergy, a word Serge Godin knows well, where $2 + 2 = 7$.

Back to Quillo, whose first three foals not only included the great racehorse and sire Kadabra, but also Money Minded 3, 1:57 2/5 ($167,067), and Lifes a Holiday, 1:54 ($721,659). She had eight more foals, but none of them won as much as $50,000.

Once again, this reinforces the fact that a mare's best production comes from her first foals. I hasten to say, that's far from an absolute as someone who will be selling several yearlings in the next few days from mares who have continued to produce stakes winners of equal quality throughout their careers.

There are no absolutes in our business. The best one can do is hope to raise the law of possibility to that of probability. And to do that, the best guide is to recognize the vast difference between a horse's Phenotype, or physical horse which includes its racing career, and its Genotype, which is its genetic profile. Which explains why a top race mare has less of a chance to produce a top racehorse than an undistinguished race mare from a great maternal family of stakes producers.

Translating a stallion's Genotype into layman's terms, think of his genetic range as a deck of playing cards, from a high of Ace to a low card of Two. Walner probably has a speed gene that starts at Ten or even Jack, and goes all the way up to Ace from there.

Because each parent contributes 50 per cent genetically at the time of conception, the speed gene inheritance of the foal is an average of the two speed genes each parent contributes.

So a Walner even from a mare with a low speed gene range will still average out to be a moderately successful racehorse.

This is all familiar territory to anyone who happens to read my pieces from time to time, but because these are basic themes, they bear repeating. I hope.

OLD HOME WEEK IN LEXINGTON

The sale season is now at its height, and the best part of it, from this kid's perspective, is the chance it offers to see old and new friends in person after many months of long distance communicating.

Just this week I got to shake hands and talk with Bill Donovan, Joe Sbrocco, and John Fedora, which made my day. I also had a quick visit from Julie Miller, who is as charming as she is gifted as a trainer.

And then, as the icing on my cake, my good friend from Sweden, Robert Lindstrom, paid a visit to look our stock over. There is no one sharper on the international scene, and a lot of the success the Swedes are having here is courtesy of Lindstrom. He is close to Ake Svanstedt, and together they make the right moves on a regular basis.

So that's the best part of the sales season, and I'm happily looking forward to more of the same as soon as we move into Barn 3. Which, come to think of it, has always been my lucky number, and it can't quit on me this close to the end. And I'll also knock on wood, just to cover all my bases. No use taking any unnecessary chances.

Growth of the Kentucky program proves good for the Lexington sale

by Dave Briggs

Steve Stewart said there's a lot to love about the Kentucky's dual-eligibility sires stakes program that keeps growing and growing. But the best part is that the money is here to stay.

"The beautiful thing about Kentucky is that we never have to worry," said Stewart, who owns Kentucky's Hunterton Farm with his wife, Cindy. "We're tied with the thoroughbreds and that's (Kentucky's) biggest industry. They'll never take money away from the thoroughbreds. That ain't happening. The other beautiful thing is that we don't have casinos in Kentucky. All the racetracks own all the machines – the Red Mile owns the machines, Churchill Downs owns the machines, Keeneland owns the machines. They don't have Harrah's and MGM Grand that the horsemen always have to worry about them trying to figure out how to put them out of business. Kentucky is a very safe bet for us going forward, that's a beautiful thing for us."

The Kentucky Sires Stakes program is worth more than $17 million and growing.

"It's only going to get better. They are just now starting to pour money in from the new track. It isn't finished yet, but they've already started the slot parlor," Stewart said.

Foals of mares that reside in Kentucky at least 180 days in the year of those foal's birth are eligible to the program, even if the sire of the foal stands in another state or province. That gives dual-eligible foals a premium at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale.

"If you look at two Captaintreacherous and one is dual-eligible for $17 million in Kentucky and the other one is only eligible in Pennsylvania, which isn't terrible, and they are both exactly the same, which one are you going to buy? You buy the one that's dual-eligible," Stewart said.

Veteran breeder Carter Duer told James Platz, "with the advent of this Kentucky racing and those that have dual eligibilities, it makes for a good sale, no matter what the economy is like. It's a definite advantage. I've got a few that would be much better if they had that dual eligibility. But they don't, and we've got to live with it."

Brittany Farm's Art Zubrod said the sire stakes program, "is doing what we hoped it would do and we're all very, very pleased with it. It needs a few tweaks here and there over the next few years, but in general it's very successful.

"Several horses, not the top 6 or 8 horses, but the top 15 or 20 horses, are going to make $300,000 very easily. There's just money out there now and you can race here or you can race there. You don't have to have your horse pointed to one place and have to race against all the big dogs."

Anvil and Lace's Beth Yontz told Platz: "The good thing about Kentucky is that we made another tier. There are places to race no matter if you have the best or a lower class. We've added money to the fair races. Fair finals for $50,000. One of the legs, depending on how many you have on the gate and how many are in there, one even raced for $12,000 this year," she said.

All of which has produced a dramatic revival for the standardbred industry in Kentucky.

"We've lived long enough to when Kentucky is now the hotbed, because it used to be the whipping boy and everybody said, 'What do you even have a farm in Kentucky for?' That was the comment 30 years ago," Stewart said.

Hanover brings another stellar group of yearlings to Lexington

The sport's leading breeding farm is selling all 23 of its yearlings on the first two days of the sale.

by Dave Briggs

There's a practical reason Hanover Shoe Farms has brought some of its very best yearlings back to the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale again this year.

"We need to sell them all in the first two days of the sale so we can get back and video the Harrisburg yearlings," said Hanover's executive vice president Dr. Bridgette Jablonsky. "We can't stay all week, so we keep that in the back of our minds. We select yearlings that we know that the sales company won't have a problem selling on Monday and Tuesday this year and that deserve to sell on Monday and Tuesday.

"I don't know if they are our 23 very best yearlings, because there are very, very good yearlings left for Harrisburg, but these would all be Monday Harrisburg horses or the vast majority."

This year marks the second year in a row Hanover has sold a small-yet-stellar group of yearlings at the Lexington sale. Prior to 2021, it had been six years since Hanover had sold in Lexington. There was a very good reason for their absence from the Kentucky sale. The Pennsylvania farm that produced world champion Bulldog Hanover, operates the Standardbred Horse Sales Company that this year will hold its sale Nov. 7-11 in Harrisburg, PA.

Last year, the move to sell a small group in Lexington paid off for Hanover. The sport's perennial leading breeder sold 20 yearlings in Lexington in 2021 for a gross of $3,102,000. The average of $155,100 was second highest among all consignors behind only Concord Stud, which sold seven select yearlings.

This year's Hanover consignment in Lexington, represents "the best ones that we have from that sire," Jablonsky said. "Just as an example, the Stay Hungry colts. You might come to the (Hanover) fairgrounds and find a Stay Hungry colt that you like as much, but you're not going to find one that you like better than those two (Hip 205 Fasnacht Hanover and Hip 26 Stay Cool Hanover). It's kind of that situation.

"It's the same with Greenshoe. There's two outstanding Greenshoe fillies and, of course, there's the colt out of Hannelore (Hanover – Hip 47 Holy Grail Hanover). You might come around and find one you like just as much, but you won't find any that you like better."

Hanover Shoe Farms stands both Greenshoe and Stay Hungry and Jablonsky is high on both. This year is Stay Hungry's second crop of yearlings. It is the first crop for Greenshoe. Hanover is selling eight Greenshoe yearlings in Lexington.

"They are very, very athletic horses with good personalities," she said of the Greenshoe offspring. "I've said this before, he's kind of a 'people horse.' He likes being around people and he has a distinct personality and I think he's given that to his yearlings. They like to interact. They're not wallflowers, they don't hang back. They are attention seekers.

"Everyone knows that I was one of Greenshoe's biggest fans and very instrumental to secure the deal to stand him here and he has not disappointed so far. I'm very happy with what we got."

DR. J'S CHOICE PICKS

Keeping in mind that Jablonsky believes all 23 of Hanover's Lexington yearlings are outstanding, she did pick out a few more yearlings worthy of more praise.

Hip 7 Bree Hanover – "is the filly out of Bedroomconfessions. She's a full sister to Boudoir and Bellissima. So, of course, the mare is two-for-two with very good fillies... She's a very nice filly, good in the paddock. There's no reason to believe she can't be a good as the first two sisters. I'm excited about her... She's the second one that we sell. Actually, the first one that we sell is a very nice Greenshoe filly (Hip 1 Above Par Hanover), so I think we're going to start off well."

Hip 26 Stay Cool Hanover – "He's a colt that is kind of a favorite of mine because he's a brother to Stone Hanover, which I owe a little piece of. Stone is a very good, underrated horse. He's a Stay Hungry colt and he looks like a stallion already. He's muscular with a great head and neck. He's beautiful. Stay Hungry was a beautiful horse and he couldn't be having a better first year."

Hip 36 Emoji Hanover – "is a half-sister to Emoticon Hanover. She's a Greenshoe and she is just, to me, beautiful. Whenever I see her, the word 'ballerina' comes into my mind. She looks like a ballerina – she's graceful, she's got these long legs, beautiful head. She's just the vision of a trotting filly to me. She's been one of my favorite fillies since weaning and she's done nothing to change that. I will note that Emoticon was always very high strung, like at the fairgrounds when we were prepping her she was a handful. In the winner's circle, there were two people holding her... but this filly is very quiet. She is nothing like Emoticon. She's on her toes, but she's not high strung."

Hip 47 Holy Grail Hanover – "is the colt from Hannelore (Hanover). What can you say about him? He's a beautiful, beautiful colt... He's got her body style, more than Greenshoe's body style, but he's got long legs from Greenshoe... Hannelore was a big, massive yearling and he is much more athletic looking than Hannelore with longer legs, narrower chest and Greenshoe gave him that."

"You can't tire the horse out. In the exercise machine, you know, when you take him out he still has his nose right on the gate. In the paddock, he'll go forever in the paddock. He's a bit of a clown in his personality. He wants everyone to always be staring at him."

Hip 80 Youbet Hanover – "A Bettors Delight filly (that is the) first foal out of Youaremycandygirl, who made $1.5 million. This is the family of Sweet Lou, Bettor Sweet, Captain Crunch. It's just an amazing family. To me, I can't imagine that there's a better bred Canadian-sired pacing filly. I've looked at the book and I don't see one."

Rare chance to get a yearling from Diamond Creek's foundation mare Western Montana

by Dave Briggs

Shaun Laungani said the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale will mark a rare opportunity to get a horse from one of Diamond Creek's most prolific foundation families.

The farm's vice-president and director of bloodstock services said Hip 218 Arson, a Captaintreacherous colt, is the first foal out of Western Montana that Diamond Creek has offered for sale.

"We've kept everything to this point, so it's exciting for everybody to see him," Laungani said. "Western Montana has been our foundation mare, ever since (Diamond Creek owner) Adam (Bowden) got in the business. They bought her as a yearling early on. She's produced Pure Country, among others including Grand Teton and Territory. Now, we're got the situation where she has a filly Charleston, that Brett Pelling trains. So, here we come with a Captaintreacherous colt out of her."

Another yearling from one of Diamond Creek's foundation families is Hip 108 Angel, "a Muscle Hill filly out of Swan Hot Mama. This is the Muscle Hill half-sister to Exile, who topped the sale last year for $800,000. So, here we come with another filly."

Diamond Creek will sell 43 yearlings in Lexington — 18 of their own and 25 as an agent. Laungani said he was also excited to sell some from Captain Crunch's first crop. Captain Crunch stands at Diamond Creek's Pennsylvania farm.

DIAMOND
CREEK

"We're selling some very nice individuals. The top individual that we're so excited to highlight of his first crop is Hip 227 (Blood Bond), out of 100 per cent producing Blood Diamond. Superstar mare. Pedigree. Physical. Video – it's all there. So, super excited about him."

Laungani said he is also excited to see progeny of Diamond Creek stallion Father Patrick have a strong year at the races.

"We are excited about the rebound with Father Patrick being the top sire of 2-year-olds this year. This is his best-bred crop of yearlings in the sale. We expect that they are going to do very, very well. We have a fabulous filly, Hip 30 (Antarctic). This is a foal out of a mare named Piranha Fury that's an A-plus physical."

As an agent, Diamond Creek is selling three colts by its stallion Downbytheseaside, who stands at Sugar Valley Farm in Ohio.

"Downbytheseaside is just doing amazing things, despite the Gural Rule, winning the Jug and The Adios and the North America Cup," Laungani said.

During the Friday night Oct. 7 session featuring mostly midwestern horses, Diamond Creek is selling the following sons of Downbytheseaside:

Hip 903 Nocryintheuber

Hip 817 Seaside Delight

Hip 869 Twenty Five

Diamond Creek is also selling three fillies born and raised in Italy at Scuderia Sant'Andrea:

Hip 456 Fobia IT (Father Patrick—Gasoline)

Hip 535 Fenicia IT (Face Time Bourbon—Mania)

Hip 601 Freedonia IT (Greenshoe—Grand Idea)

Diamond Creek is also inviting visitors to the brand new stallion barn at its Georgetown, KY farm every day from Oct. 3-6 from 10 a.m. – 1 p.m. for its Champions and Champagne event showcasing its champion trotting stallions Gimpanzee, Father Patrick, Creatine, Southwind Frank and Marseille. Visitors are welcome to come and view these champions up close while enjoying a glass of champagne. RSVPs are not required, but are appreciated. Email caroline@diamondcreekfarm.com or text/whatsapp 717-668-5151.

Also, on Oct. 7 from 5-7 p.m., Diamond Creek will be playing host to another "Seaside" Party in Barn 7 at Fasig-Tipton. Enjoy cold drinks, tacos, and some beachy vibes before the sale.

Ladwig finds lots to love in Winbak's consignment

by Dave Briggs

When your plan is to sell nearly 200 yearlings between the sport's two biggest auctions — Lexington and Harrisburg — how do figure out which ones go where?

"A lot of it has to do with size, birthdate, physical attributions — if you think they are going to grow a little more then you give them a little more time to grow," said Winbak Farm's yearling manager Jimmy Ladwig. "Certain pedigrees sort of dictate where they go, if they sold well in the past. So, you take all of that into consideration."

Winbak is selling over 90 yearlings at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale and about the same number at the Standardbred Horse Sales Company auction.

Highlights from the farm's Lexington consignment include:

"The obvious first-night horses, Walner out of Mets Life (Hip 59 Amazing Catch) and Walner out of Mets Inn (Hip 102 Well Met) should sell well. They are good-looking individuals," Ladwig said. "The Bettors Wish out of Kattimon colt (Hip 60 Like The King). He's a great-looking individual and he should sell well, too. He's got the pedigree behind him to prove it."

It is the only Bettors Wish Winbak is selling from the stallion's first "commercial crop. He has a small test crop out there. This is the first I've seen of him and I like what I see. Lots of good mares, good individuals... they look great standing there. They look great in the paddocks."

Ladwig said he's excited about the first crop of Winbak's own Little Brown Jug-winning stallion Courtly Choice, especially Hip 65 Hoops Star, who is out of Sports Chic.

"The Courtly Choices look great on the floor and they look great in the paddock and in the videos. I think he has every right to be considered for being a great sire. You never know until they hit the track, right, but he's got all the makings of it so far."

Ladwig said he also has been impressed with the first crop from Winbak stallion McWicked.

"I'm really liking the way (the McWicked) look, too."

LADWIG'S LADDIE

Ladwig's favorite from Winbak's consignment is also from a first-crop sire. He has taken a shine to Hip 838 Zip My Lip, a Stag Party colt out of Double Flip.

"I just like him. Do I think he's going to sell particularly well? No, probably not, but he is my favorite. Back from when I was feeding him in the winter, he was kind of a goof ball and he caught my eye and I always kind of liked him the best of all of them."

As for a couple of value picks, Ladwig highlighted Hip 346 Ready For Fun (f, McWicked—Regally Ready) and Hip 829 Dreams Of Boston (Boston Red Rocks—Dreams Are Great), "who is a really good-looking colt. He fits in that category. He might get overlooked, but you'd be remiss if you overlooked him."

CASANOVA HALL

A Greenshoe Colt That Is Doubly Blessed!

He is in the first crop by Greenshoe and the first foal of the great-bred stakes filly Caterina Hall

History has shown that a stallion's first crop and a mare's first foal have the best chance to be top stakes winners. Take a look at Casanova Hall's video and you'll see a future stakes winner in action!

He sells tomorrow night as hip number 18 in the first session at Lexington. Come look him over in the Walnut Hall Limited consignment in Barn 3, aisles G-H at the Fasig-Tipton Sales Pavilion.

Reid says Preferred's track record is great indicator of how its 2022 Lexington yearlings will fare

by Dave Briggs

At last year's record-smashing Lexington Selected Yearling Sale, Preferred Equine led all consignors with gross sales of $8,128,000 for 134 years sold. In 2020, Preferred also topped all consignors with $8,153,000 in total sales. In 2019, Preferred set a personal record for gross sales with $9,731,000 for 137 yearlings sold.

So, what's in store for 2022? David Reid said stay tuned. Due to the fact his sale agency represents some 20 small-to-medium sized breeders he's reluctant to single out any of the 146 horses he's selling.

Though, he said he is very proud of the Preferred sale graduates — including this year's Hambletonian winner Cool Papa Bell and Jug winner Bythemissal.

"We sold a Hambletonian winner of 2022, of 2020 and 2016. So, three of the Hambletonian winners in the last six years," Reid said. "It's a great feather in our cap for our breeders. The breeder of Cool Papa Bell is a small breeder, so it just shows the diversity that Preferred Equine has always offered. From small breeders to mid-range breeders, the performance is always the same.

"We have the same offering this year in that we have a lot of horses from a lot of different jurisdictions. We have a lot of different breeders represented here that we are proud to represent. We have a very strong offering of horses, right from the first session to the fifth session.”

Reid said this year’s Preferred consignment is a little heavier on trotters. He said the split was about 55/45 between trotters and pacers.

“We have a lot of Walners to offer, so I think that’s a strength of our consignment from a trotting point of view,” Reid said. “We have a sister to Meadowlands Pace winner Beach Glass to offer (Hip 53 Sea Glass). We’re looking forward to selling her. That’s a great representation of a small breeder that comes in with one or two yearlings to sell. We are happy that they chose Lexington to sell them.”

He said he’s also excited about the offspring of first-crop sires. “When the customers come and they look at these first-crop sires, they are going to be pleased with what they see.

“We’re very happy with our Greenshoes. He bred to a great book of mares and we’re happy to offer them. I’ve also been very happy with the Six Pack yearlings and I’m excited to offer those as well.”

Brittany Farms' Art Zubrod: "I don't have a bad horse"

by Dave Briggs

Art Zubrod said each and every one of the 26 yearlings Brittany Farms is selling at Lexington Selected Yearling Sale have the potential for greatness.

"I don't have a single horse that, to me, isn't a stakes winner or a good possibility to be a stakes winner. I don't have a bad horse. The first time in my life, I don't have a bad horse," said Zubrod, Brittany's veteran farm manager. "They are very, very nice and I'm very pleased with them. They are in good shape.

"Our top end is no better than our top end has ever been, but we just don't have the bottom end that we had for so many years."

Zubrod highlighted a number of horses from the Brittany consignment.

"One of the horses that I've been most pleased with is Hip 442 (Veracruz). Valdonna is the dam. He just really blossomed when he came up. He was a horse that was kind of non-descript – not bad, but not good – but he has really taken to the process of sale prep. In the paddock, on video day, he was a superstar. It came from nowhere. I had no idea. I really didn't see that out of him.

"Another horse, just a few hip numbers later, Hip 450 (Secret Agent Man). Feel The Magic is the dam, Chapter Seven is the sire. He's another horse that was kind of immature, but he came in and has filled out. He just muscled up, not so gangly. He's not a real big horse, but he's broadened out and he's got a nice butt on him. He has a real good attitude and he likes going out to the paddock to show off for people. Usually by this time, most of your colts don't want anything to do with going out to show off, but a few of them always enjoy it and he's one of them.

Zubrod also pointed out:

Hip 72 Special Talent (Walner—Special Hill) — "She's what she's supposed to be. She looks like a sale topper and acts like a sale topper and she's got the pedigree for a sale topper."

Hip 324 San Jose — "The brother to Pebble Beach. He's a very, very nice colt. We sold a brother to this one last year, Cabot Beach. He's an okay horse, but he didn't have the frame that this horse has. San Jose looks like a very fast horse. Good attitude and good to be around.

Bob Boni's Northwood Bloodstock has something for everyone in Lexington

by Debbie Little

If variety is the spice of life, it should be hot in Lexington for Bob Boni.

Boni's Northwood Bloodstock consignment at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale has something to show all five nights from a wide array of stallions.

"There's enough variety there that it will be a good horse sale," said Boni. "Because not everybody can raise their hand for $200-, or $300- or $400,000. Different people have different tastes in what stallions they like and what mares they like. It's all very subjective.

"When it comes to any horse sale, one of the biggest things to me is the ability to pay attention, do your homework and look at a lot of horses. It doesn't cost anything to look at horses and the more you look, the better off you're going to be."

Dave Landry
Bob Boni.

Boni has 33 yearlings from 16 different stallions at Lexington and he's excited to see how those making their debut will do.

"I'm always interested to see how the first crop horses sell," said Boni. "I've got a Greenshoe, Six Pack, Captain Crunch. A lot of them are brothers and sisters to good horses."

In total, he has five by Captain Crunch, four by Six Pack and two by Greenshoe.

"Number 158 Oh My Gosh Shoes is a Greenshoe sister to Sister Sledge," said Boni, who also has Hip 536 Summer Shoes by Greenshoe. "Because he was such a brilliant, brilliant horse, I'm anxious to see how they sell."

Northwood's Lexington consignment has eight pacing fillies, which Boni said he hopes will once again have a good showing.

"Number 156 Sweet Gal has a strong pedigree as does the Captaintreacherous filly, number 67 Stonecoldtreachery," said Boni. "Pacing fillies were more in demand last year than I've seen in recent history. Significantly stronger than people anticipated and right across the board. And I'll be curious to see if that holds up again this year."

Boni has been representing horses at public auctions either by himself or for someone else since the early 1970s. He was also a pioneer when it came to horse videos. According to Boni, he and Hanover Shoe Farms each debuted videos the same year in either '73 or '74.

Although Northwood's Lexington yearling count is less than half of the 77 they will be showing at the Standardbred Horse Sales Company's Harrisburg sale, according to Boni, there are a lot of factors that play into where to sell a particular horse.

"Very often that's the owner's decision or request," said Boni. "If they sell in both sales we might come up with a split. For example, Sergeant Stables, they have a very nice consignment here but we also have a good consignment at Harrisburg. I've been selling horses for them for 20-plus years, so we kind of pick and choose which ones we think would have more appeal one place versus the other. Which ones will be a little more ready earlier."

Concord Stud's consignment a work of art

by Debbie Little

Concord Stud's Julie Meirs is excited about the fine art she's displaying at this year's Lexington Selected Yearling Sale.

Concord, the leading consignor by average at last year's sale ($186,429) has a baker's dozen of trotters on behalf of Swedish breeder Stefan Balazsi, who names all of his horses after artists or pieces of art.

"He split all of his yearlings this year, so he's got 13 at Lexington and 13 at [the Standardbred Horse Sales Company's] Harrisburg [Sale]," said Meirs. "The ultimate decision [of which horse to show at which sale] is left up to the owners. But it does come with a lot of discussion and trying to predict the future to see who's going to be ready where."

One standout in the group is Hip 104 Thinker Monkey, named for a piece by street-artist Banksy.

"I would say that's probably the one I'm most excited about because of the potential that he has," said Meirs. "How can you not be excited about a full brother to Gimpanzee?"

Another named for Banksy art is Hip 5 Tap Phoned, one of only two in the sale by European champion Face Time Bourbon, and, the only colt.

"Yes, he is an exciting prospect," said Meirs. "With there only being the two, there's a lot of potential there. And bringing a new stallion in where a lot of people haven't experienced their foals, we have had a lot of people come to see him that just wanted to see what he looked like because they haven't seen that many of them."

Continuing the Banksy theme is Hip 217 Bubble Slide, who is out of Pay For Soup.

"She's a nice big, strong filly that I think is going to be a bit of a sleeper," said Meirs.

Pay For Soup's first foal died as a yearling so Meirs views Bubble Slide as her first foal.

"So, it's a blank slate for this girl and she's a nice, big, powerful filly, so I think we've got some potential for this one."

Concord's Hip 122 La Hara is out of the mare Basquiat, named for the neo-expressionist artist Jean-Michel Basquiat. The colt is named for one of Basquiat's paintings that sold for $35 million.

"It's the first foal out of that family," said Meirs. "There's a lot of potential there."

Of the five Chapter Seven's in their consignment, Meirs pointed out Hip 58 Skippy Rope.

"Her family is so hot right now," said Meirs. "Future broodmare potential is there and she's a typical Chapter Seven."

In addition to the Balazsi trotters, Concord has one pacing filly, Hip 338 Juicy Crunch, for owner/breeders Rob Giles' Beechwood Acres and Mark Horner.

"I'm excited to just take one down there and have it be a Captain Crunch filly out of a great mare, The Joy Luck Club," said Meirs. "She comes out of her stall and people are like wow, she's impressive. For taking one down to Lexington, she's a good one to take."

"We did well last year with taking one pacer down there. She brought $150,000, so hopefully we'll have the same luck with this little pacer."

Concord's yearlings will be part of the sale's first two sessions, with six scheduled for night one.

"We've got something for everybody," said Meirs. "Which is what we've always said with our Harrisburg consignment. We're not necessarily just going to have the six-figure horses."

"The horse-industry economy is booming right now and we're really excited to see what is going to happen at Lexington. We are sort of a stand-alone industry. What's going on around us is not necessarily what's going to be happening in our industry."

Midland Acres' Lexington consignment is up in numbers and quality

by James Platz

Midland Acres first sold horses in Lexington in 2007, bringing a consignment of four yearlings that year. This week, the Bloomingburg, OH-based breeders arrive at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale with a group of 13 babies to sell. Dr. John Mossbarger says this year's offering is stronger than their 2021 group of nine.

"We're excited to be there and I think we have a nice consignment," he said. "It is not a big consignment, but I think we have a consignment that will attract lookers, bidders, and hopefully buyers."

The first of Midland's consignment will enter the sale ring on Tuesday (Oct. 4), with two well-pedigreed yearlings set to sell on the second day. Hip 264 Marge In Charge, is a Tactical Landing filly that is sibling to 2015 Hambletonian winner Pinkman. Hip 311 It's Miller Time is a Sweet Lou first foal from millionaire mare Safe From Terror, sister to the great Foiled Again.

"We have a stronger consignment this year than we did last year. We still have the headliner, Margie Seelster's Tactical Landing, a half-sister to Pinkman. Another highlight is a Sweet Lou out of Safe From Terror. She is a million-dollar winner, first foal," said Mossbarger. "Another nice filly is a Sweet Lou filly out of Dancin Carroll. This is the third foal. First two foals were good performers, one made $300,000 and another made $129,000. Dancin Carroll is a half-sister to Dancin Yankee."

Hip 430 Sweet Carrollou leads a group of six yearlings Midland will sell on Wednesday (Oct. 5). The filly is a sister to stakes winners Artful Dancer p,2,1:52.2f; 3,1:52h; BT1:51.1f ($319,643) and Dragon Lady p,2,1:54f; BT1:52.1h ($136,305). Also selling Wednesday are a pair from the first crop of Six Pack and a Father Patrick filly.

"On the trotting side, we have a couple of nice Six Pack foals and a Father Patrick filly out of a mare called Celebrity Obsession. She produced an Archangel in (1:)51 and made $500,000. Those are probably our headliners," Mossbarger said.

Hip 530 Norma Pearl is the Father Patrick filly that is sister to Celebrity Ruth 3,1:53.4f; 4,1:51.4; BT1:50.3 ($505,817). Hip 554 Queen Cabal is a Six Pack filly out of the Royal Intrigue, sister to stakes winners Soulful Delight and Like A Dream. Special Six Pack is a colt out of Special Invitation, sister to millionaire Costa Rica.

"We have a few options for buyers. We've got Six Packs and a Conway Hall. We've got a Captain Crunch," said Mossbarger. "Something for everybody's pocketbook."

Like Six Pack, Captain Crunch's first crop is selling this fall. Hip 713 Assertive Style, a Captain Crunch colt, will sell for Midland on Thursday (Oct. 6). The yearling is out of Western Ideal mare Naughtytilltheend, a $700,000 winner that has produced four winners from five foals and one in 1:50.

"With the first crop, the sale ring usually follows the breeding shed as far as excitement. People like new; they'll be looking at them," Mossbarger said.

Since Midland began consigning in Lexington 15 years ago, the breeder has sold a Hambletonian champion as well as two-time Breeders Crown winner Shelliscape. Mossbarger loves the atmosphere and what the Lexington area offers.

"When you pull in there (Fasig-Tipton), you feel like you're in a different world. The grounds are beautiful, the barns are excellent, they do a great job of running it," he said. "It's a good atmosphere; they're racing, they're selling. It's an opportunity for people to get together."

After they race, we find them a place!

Dave Landry
Hunterton's Steve and Cindy Stewart.

More than half of Hunterton's yearlings selling in the first two sessions

by Dave Briggs

One indication that Hunterton Farm is again loaded with quality yearlings is the fact 50 of the 97 the farm is selling at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale will go into the ring on either opening night (22 yearlings) or during the second session (28).

"In that past, that hasn't been the case," said Hunterton's Steve Stewart. "It makes us feel good. We've always had it headed in the right direction and that continues."

A year ago, Hunterton was the second leading consignor by gross ($7,863,000) behind only Preferred Equine ($8,128,000). Hunterton was seventh in consignor average with $81,062 for 97 sold.

This year should produce similar, if not better, numbers.

"We're loaded, as they say. We've been blessed... we can kind of see it a year ahead of time. As an example, the Gimpanzees look unbelievable and they are babies, right? So, next year we'll breed probably more mares than most people will to Gimpanzee because a lot of people want to see it in print and how much they sell for and what not, but we have the advantage of being on the farm to see them a year ahead of time. So, that bodes well for us because, back in the day, we saw how good the Somebeachsomewheres looked, as an example. We saw how good the Walners looked and that's why we have so many to sell this year because we always believed in Walner."

Stewart said highlights from his consignment include:

Hip 70 Vic Zelenskyy (c, Greenshoe—Mission Brief): "It's the Greenshoe first colt out of Mission Brief, so I really don't have to say, 'Don't miss this one,' but I'm going to take the tack of saying to anyone that breeds horses 'do yourself a favor and come look at a few of them' because there's a few in here that are just unbelievable looking and one of them is the Greenshoe out of Mission Brief."

Hip 109 Fala — "It's a Tactical Landing—Swing It Cathy filly that will just knock your eye out. Like, oh my God, it looks like a thoroughbred. She's so outstanding and she's kind of my pick of all the horses."

Hip 123 Vehement (c, Tactical Landing—Woodside Charm) "is really outstanding."

Hip 84, Total Stranger (c, Bettors Delight—Precocious Beauty) — "We didn't raised him, but it's a Bettors Delight full brother to Tall Dark Stranger. If he's not a clone, he's very close...This colt, picture in your mind his brother."

Hip 254 Ardor — "From Love Session. He is just a really nice colt from Walner. He's not out of Mission Brief, but he's the first foal out of a mare that has a good pedigree, but not a world champion mare."

Hip 275 Regina Virtus — "It's Mother Of Art's second foal and this is a Stay Hungry filly."

Hip 314 Mcstrut — "For our Canadian fans, he's a McWicked that's just outstanding. He's dynamite."

Hip 57 Epoch — "Jolene Jolene's filly. God knows what she's going to go for. This is a three-quarter sister to Venerable. So, she'll go through the roof. She'll probably be the highest-priced one, just because... and the reason why you see our fillies sell for so much is because some of our competition doesn't sell their fillies."

Spring Haven's Esty filled with optimism coming into Lexington

by Chris Lomon

There is an unmistakable tone of optimism in Senena Esty's voice ahead of the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale.

Esty is excited about her Spring Haven Farm consignment heading into the start of this year's sale, starting Monday (Oct. 3). The Utica, OH-based operation is selling a group of 62 yearlings, nine of their own and 53 agent horses, up notably from the year before. The consignment features babies from Muscle Hill, Captaintreacherous and several by Downbytheseaside.

"I think that regardless of world circumstances, the economy, etc., we are getting a good vibe [about the sale]," said Esty. "People that are in the horse business love it, and they want to invest in it. Some people think that's a safer bet than other areas."

Spring Haven has risen up the ranks in both scope and size in recent years, earning a reputation as one of the key players in yearling sales.

How they've evolved to this point is based on a simple formula.

"We've just worked hard," said Esty. "We're very hands-on. We own and manage the farm ourselves. We definitely have skin in the game. We've made some really good connections over the years and got started with some very good partners. We've been able to connect with people we've come to know from the sales. We're really proud to come together with a lot of wonderful people. We sell a lot for Ohio folks. It's a fun, cool situation, where a lot of these farms are with us under our banner. It's a real team effort."

Esty said she sees plenty of opportunity for all buyers, those looking for big names and big credentials, and others who have their sights set on finding solid deals on possible standouts, locally and beyond.

"There are lot of really good Ohio-breds. I'm really grateful to the people here in Ohio trusting us and letting us sell their good stock. There are always things you want to improve on and strive for, so that keeps us working hard. Going into the season, we feel we have some of our best yearlings ever. We just hope that other people see what we see now."

This year's Spring Haven starting lineup showcases a strong mix of local talent, Grand Circuit possibilities, and a few intriguing value types.

"This is always really hard because there tend to be several that you like," offered Esty.

She has no shortage of superlatives for Hip 95 Lou Vuitton.

"I don't know what it is, but Lou Vuitton, he has captured my heart," said Esty. "He's just phenomenal. The conformation on the colt, the way he carries himself, he looks like such an athlete – everything about him is wonderful. He covers the ground and is just a great, great looking specimen. He's also a smart individual. He's just got it going on. Plus, he's a Sweet Lou colt, which means the pedigree matches. He's got a really good family and I'm really excited about this colt in particular."

A filly with a catchy name also caught Esty's eye.

Spring Haven is selling the trotter for Doug Millard, one that could come up aces based on her family tree.

"We have a Muscle Hill filly, and she is actually a sister to Swinging Seniorita (Spring Haven co-bred the daughter of What the Hill with Millard), who is an Ohio standout this year, a really, really impressive filly. The name of this one is Fancy Nancy Lopez. She is Hip No. 248. She was great on video, and she's a good-sized Muscle Hill filly. She has a lot of power behind. She has a good wither and a good amount of length. She's a very smart individual and I'm very proud of her. It's also nice that her sister is one of the best in Ohio too."

Esty is also high on a bay colt who bred and owned by Eli Miller and Peter Barbato.

"Captain Nashville, Hip No. 276, is a big, solid Captaintreacherous colt. He's exactly how I like the Captaintreacherous ones to look. He's got that muscle on muscle, just a great shoulder, hind end, and a very correct individual, who comes from a very good family."

VALUE PICKS

"I have a couple in that regard. I think people will be impressed with these two."

The first of Esty's offerings proved to be a head-turning sort on a particular day.

"I have a standout trotting colt I really need to mention. He's Hip No. 229. His name is Dog Waggin and he's a Chapter Seven. On video day, this colt really captured my attention. He was incredible. Just a really nice colt."

The other, bred by 3rd Floor Stables, LLC, Sea Me Rule has ties to a Buckeye State champion.

"I think people should come to the second portion, what we call the Regional Day. We have a lot of Downbytheseaside yearlings. One in particular is a standout in my opinion, Hip No. 785. He's the first foal, a big, solid colt, out of the Ohio 2-year-old of the year in that year, Bad Girls Rule. His name is Sea Me Rule. He would definitely be one I'd keep an eye on."

Cameo Hills' opening night yearlings primed to dazzle

by Jerry Connors

Last year in this space, Steve Jones of Cameo Farms said that he was proud of all of his opening night yearlings. This year he has the same kind of optimism for those going under the hammer on the first night.

"There's a Greenshoe filly (Hip 24 All Green) who's out of Check Out Trixie, whose dam is Check Me Out. Check Out Trixie's first foal is Instagram Model, a Chapter Seven who won the Doherty final this year and who already has over $200,000 on her card. So that's certainly a flying start for Check Out Trixie, and she's represented this year by a daughter of Greenshoe," Jones said.

"We also have an extremely good-looking colt selling right before All Green (Hip 23 Victor Laszlo). He's a Chapter Seven out of a Donato Hanover mare, and what I really like about him is that he is a very attractive horse, just super looking."

When asked if that is why the yearling was named after the character played in the classic film Casablanca, the noble husband of Ilsa (Ingrid Bergman), Jones laughed and said, "That's exactly why. I'm a big fan of that picture."

"We stand Huntsville here at Cameo Farms in New York, and we are excited about his baby (Hip 33 I'm In Heaven) out of Divine Caroline, a Rock And Roll Heaven mare. Divine Caroline won over $880,000 on the track and was champion of her division at age three, and her first foal is Just Divine, who was second in her New York Sire Stakes final last year and then came back to win the NYSS final this season. She's on the verge of being a $400,000 winner, and she has a mark of 1:49.3.

"We are based in New York, and we certainly support the state's program and our sire, but we also try to have outstanding prospects in other jurisdictions – we've mentioned the Greenshoe filly, and we bred our mare Check Me Out, whose credentials speak for themselves, to Tactical Landing in New Jersey (Hip 110 Punch The Clock). All of these programs go for so much money these days – and now you add in Kentucky, which is an opportunity for everybody to add to the worth of their horses.

"Outside the first night, we have high hopes for the Huntsville colt out of Yellow Diamond (Hip 221 Ready To Shine). Yellow Diamond was champion filly in her division at 3, and won over $1.3 million, and has produced Fine Diamond, a winner of over $775,000. And the yearling looks like a special individual."

Dave Landry
Cameo Hills' Steve Jones.

VALUE PICK

"My value pick will be a Huntsville filly out of Happy Hannah (Hip 306 Pop The Cork), who traces back to the world champion Galleria, who earned $1.8 million and is a proven producer. This is Happy Hannah's third foal, all by Huntsville: the first two were colts who haven't really done too much yet, but this family has had a lot of success with its fillies, and we may see something out of the dam's first filly."

All American selling all of its Lexington yearlings in the first two sessions

by Dave Briggs

All American Harnessbreds is offering a power-packed consignment of 11 yearlings at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale, all selling in the first two days.

The Maryland farm has three selling on Monday's (Oct. 3) opening night and eight more selling on Tuesday (Oct. 4)

"I think the highlight, and probably one of the highlights in the sale, is Hip 15 (Show Of Faith), which is a Captaintreacherous sister to reigning Horse of the Year Test Of Faith. She's also the sister to another good filly named Alexis Faith, who has made over half a million," said All American's Rob Tribbett. "She's very nice. Captain fillies are very desirable on their own and certainly from that pedigree she's a pretty special opportunity for somebody to buy a filly like that.

"We have a really nice Captain colt at Hip 351 (Captain Hansen) and he's a half-brother to Act Fast, one of the better 2-year-olds in Ohio this year. This is the second colt from the mare by Captain and he's really nice.

"One horse that I really like a lot is Hip 287 (Make It Rhyme). It's an Always B Miki colt. I just think physically he's maybe as nice as any horse we're selling this year."

All American is selling 34 more yearlings at the Standardbred Horse Sales Company's auction in November in Harrisburg, PA.

"We want to be supporting both sales. We should be participating at all places in the market," Tribbett said. "Sometimes, the later foals, having that extra five weeks to Harrisburg that helps. We're really trying to separate... because we're going to have a lot of yearlings by stallions Captaintreacherous and Walner and those horses, so we take the opportunity to kind of split those so we're not competing against ourselves by having all Captaintreacherous in one sale."

First babies from Crawford Farms' top-level broodmare acquisitions to sell in Lexington

by James Platz

Crawford Farms has invested heavily in acquiring top-level broodmares, and some of the first fruits from their more recent additions will sell this week. All told, 51 babies are consigned to the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale, with 11 selling on opening night. Michelle Crawford said she is excited to see how the farm's newest crop is received at auction.

"I think we have our strongest contingent ever going into the sale with 11 selling opening night, so we're pretty excited about that. Quite a few are first foals," she said of the consignment. "I'm very excited about our opening night."

Crawford Farms will offer five Chapter Seven babies opening night and eight offspring overall. The five selling Monday night are all first foals.

"I think the Chapter Sevens are as hot as they come, and we have quite a few that are selling," Crawford said. "Cedarbluff Hanover is out of Cedar Dove. These first foals and these Chapters are like nothing I've ever seen. Bill's Lady has a Chapter Seven colt. Mambacita, she's racing again on Saturday. She's a stakes winner, Tactical Landing, she was dual-eligible so that helped."

Hip 20 Really Don't Care is a first foal Chapter Seven filly out of Cedarbluff Hanover, sister to Dan Patch Award winner When Dovescry 2,1:52.3; 3,1:50.1; 4,1:50; BT1:49.4 ($1,796,078). Hip 37 Blantons Blue is a colt that is a half-brother to Jim Doherty Memorial runner-up Mambacita 2,1:53.2-22 ($276,312). Also selling is filly Hip 40 Champagnenchanel, first foal from Sexy Wow, half-sister to Crazy Wow, and colt Hip 46 It Wasn't Me, first foal from multiple stakes winner Sonnet Grace 2,Q1:54.2f; BT1:51.4 ($460,736).

Also on the docket for day one is Hip 39 Pink Luxe a Tactical Landing filly that is the first foal from Chapter Seven mare Hanna Dreamgirl 2,1:56; 3,1:55.3; BT1:53.2 ($213,622). She is one of four Tactical Landing offspring in the Crawford Farms consignment.

"The Tacticals are all dually-eligible. I think we have six or seven dual eligible, but next year everything will be dual eligible."

Claus Andersen
Michelle Crawford.

Everything that we bring to sale will be dual eligible, so that's exciting too."

Buyers will not have to wait long to see the first of the consignment enter the sale ring. Hip 2 Huntingfaith is a Huntsville colt out of the Roll With Joe mare Faithnflowers.

"We have number two for a hip number, but he's a stunning colt. There's nothing not to like about him," Crawford said. "They've all been so well received with the visits we've had to the farm. I think it's going to be a strong showing."

Another pacer part of the opening night roster is Hip 94 Beautiful Magnolia. The Always B Miki filly is the first foal from Pleasant Beauty, full-sister to Precocious Beauty, dam of 2020 Horse of the Year Tall Dark Stranger.

"Pleasant Beauty, the Always B Miki out of her is drop-dead gorgeous. I've watched her since she was a baby. That foal is stunning, and that's out of Tall Dark Stranger's family," said Crawford.

The consignment has much to offer in the way of variety, with offspring from American Ideal, Captaintreacherous, Crazy Wow, Downbytheseaside, E L Titan, Greenshoe and Walner.

"We have a Walner, finally, that's a nice individual. We have two of the Greenshoes and they are absolutely drop-dead beautiful. I'm very excited about the Greenshoes," she said. "Stella Jane, the first foal out of her, that's a Greenshoe colt. People bring him out again and again and again. They just love him. Define Royalty, she is a sister to Royalty For Life. She has a Greenshoe and that is a filly."

Stella Jane's Greenshoe colt, Hip 244 Sir Fred Jones, sells on Tuesday and Hip 524 Royal Emeralds will sell Wednesday. Hip 236 Mighty Wally, a Walner filly that is the second foal from Explosive Matter mare Mighty Macko, sells on Tuesday. She is New Jersey and Kentucky eligible.

Crawford Farms will offer a slate of eight Crazy Wow yearlings, selling on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The stallion, campaigned by the farm before standing stallion, will be back in the Empire State for next season.

"They really came out and did their thing with the small book that he had originally. I think they've shown enough to say we're going back. We're bringing Crazy Wow back to New York for 2023 to stand at Blue Chip. I have all sorts of inquiries," Crawford said. "Our Crazy Wow individuals are stunning. He just throws beautiful individuals."

Superstar trotting mare Atlanta is in the home stretch of her "Last Dance" before retirement, and fans will get a chance to meet her at Fasig-Tipton. Crawford said the Dan Patch and O'Brien Award winner will be at the barn Tuesday from 10 a.m. to noon. Crawford Farms will serve bloody marys and barbeque as part of the celebration.

Crawford also noted the farm is selling nine broodmares in the mixed sale Saturday (Oct. 8). One of the entries of note is Blue Beach, a sister to Dan Patch Award winner Somewhereoverarainbow, that is in foal to Tall Dark Stranger.

"Unfortunately, it's the most painful process for me. I have my favorites and my keepers, but also have this opportunity to take some of the younger mares that may not have made it through a few foals. If they are good individuals, I'll use them in our ET program. Otherwise, I'll retire them," she said. "For the most part, we're putting some mares in there that have real value to somebody. Sometimes you have to strategically move things. You still have to run a business and you still have to make money. You can't keep all of them. I'd love to keep them all."

Anvil and Lace planning to build off last year's Lexington sale momentum

by James Platz

Anvil and Lace Farm sold 30 yearlings at Lexington last fall, grossing just over $1.9 million. Beth Yontz and her dedicated team plan to build on that momentum with a 2022 consignment that is nearly double in size with much to offer at every tier. The Cynthiana, KY farm will offer 56 yearlings featuring pedigrees with both Grand Circuit focus and regional appeal.

"I have yearlings that can compete with the big boys all the way down to ones that can compete more regionally," she said.

Anvil and Lace will not have a yearling selling on opening night, and Yontz is fine with that due to the "tricky" nature of the first night.

"Personally, I think you just have to have that perfect horse. Last year we sold one, Workin Ona Mystery's sister, who sold very well the first day. That's where she belonged. She was a big, strapping filly, everything matched up, stars aligned, she sold very well," Yontz said. "I think in other cases, you put a horse on the first day that isn't absolutely perfect, you really get hurt. I think that first day is really tricky, personally. I feel like a couple of those, we were in discussion. We were on the fence on first or second day. If there is a question, if we have to talk about it, I go back a day."

A roster of 10 Anvil and Lace babies will pass through the ring on Tuesday offering a good cross section of the sport's top sires crossed with quality broodmares. Individuals from Captaintreacherous, Chapter Seven, Greenshoe, Huntsville, Lazarus N, Muscle Hill and Sweet Lou lead the consignment.

"First foal out of a Bettor's Wish sister by Captain, he had a lot of lookers. He is a very nice colt, moves great in the paddock. That's one that could have gone either way," said Yontz. "I have Dancin Lou's full brother. He's probably one of the best individuals the mare has had in a while. Those two colts are very nice. Obviously, Muscle Hills can be sold first or second day, but I thought I would go in second day with a very, very nice group. How can you not be high on Captaintreacherous and Muscle Hill? And the way Sweet Lou has performed, I think he keeps getting better and better every year."

Hip 186 Dancin Champion will be the first to sell for Anvil and Lace. The Sweet Lou colt is a brother to the Breeders Crown champion and half-brother to double millionaire Dancin Yankee. Hip 249 Principle Interest is a Captaintreacherous colt from the sister to Dan Patch Award winner Bettor's Wish.

Hip 257 Magic Hill, a Muscle Hill colt from Andover Hall mare Magic Marker, also sells on Tuesday. The dam has produced three winners from three foals. The colt was raised at Millstream Farm. Hip 355 Bronzer is a Muscle Hill colt from the stakes-winning mare Win Missy B. The colt is a brother to two in 1:55 and a trio of six-figure earners.

Yontz also has a pair from Chapter Seven; a colt selling on Tuesday and a filly slotted on Thursday. Hip 296 Press Seven is the first foal out of OSS Gold leg winner Presto Change O 2,1:57.1; 3,1:54.3 ($150,636). Hip 764 Oaks In Kountry is the first foal from Father Patrick mare Whispering Oaks 2,1:54; BT1:52.4 ($306,744).

"The filly out of Whispering Oaks is a very, very nice race mare. The colt is a very strapping individual. He's one that, when you pull him out, people are going to say, 'Oh, what's that?' If he's not on your card, he will be," said Yontz.

Last year dual-eligible horses, particularly those eligible to the Kentucky program, were in high demand. Yontz believes the same will be true this year, particularly with the strength of the program at all levels in the Bluegrass State.

The Anvil and Lace consignment includes 21 yearlings slated to sell on Friday (Oct. 7), set aside by sale management as the day highlighting regional programs.

"I have regional horses, several are dual eligible, which obviously helps. On the last day I have some phenomenal regional horses, Swan For All, Downbytheseaside, some Lather Up. There's Always A Virgin, who competes year-in and year-out with the big boys in Indiana, and everything in between. I have some first crop Six Packs that I'm pretty excited about," Yontz said. "I have a Helpisontheway colt that has matured right at the right time and Helpisontheway in Indiana is doing all the right things. That's what is so exciting to me. I have something for everyone."

Some of the highlights in Friday's group include a pair of Downbytheseaside fillies raised at Hinkston Creek Farm that are Ohio and Kentucky eligible. Hip 873 Flyin Bullets is the first foal from Pistol Packin Mama, a winner in excess of $400,000 with a mark of 1:49.1. Hip 878 Can't Beat Me is a sister to Pure Rock p,2,1:51.3; 3,1:51.2f; BT1:49s ($130,843).

Kentuckiana proud to offer the best conformed yearlings it has ever sent to auction

by Dave Briggs

Bob Brady said Kentuckiana will offer “the best group of conformed yearlings that we’ve ever had” at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale. “It’s a very correct bunch and we’re very happy with that.

“We’re buying and raising better quality and better conformed mares and stallions. That’s what we hope for – a correct, high-quality yearling.”

Brady a co-owner of Kentuckiana is bullish on his entire consignment of just over 100 yearlings – 30 of its own and 73 Kentuckiana is selling as an agent.

“We’re very happy with our consignment and the quality certainly moved up every year, so it’s moving in the right direction,” he said.

“We have 19 selling on the first day. Obviously, we have a great mix of Chapter Sevens, Walners, Muscle Hills and we’re very excited about first-year stallion Greenshoe... We’re very heavy with the trotters. We’ve got 70 trotters and 33 pacers.”

Brady pointed out a number of Kentuckiana yearlings.

Hip 86 Skydiver – “The second foal, first colt, out of Arianna G. He is a beautiful Greenshoe colt, a phenomenal colt.”

Hip 111 Diplomacy – “A Muscle Hill out of That’s All Moni. He’s an extremely nice colt.

“We have four Chapter Seven colts. They are all very nice. It hard for me because I have so many consignors, that I don’t want to leave out somebody.”

Hip 74 Stardust Volo – “A Muscle Hill filly out of Sterling Volo. This is a sister to Lily Stride and she’s an exceptional yearling. We’re very proud of her.”

Hip 6 Force Of Nature – “Is a beautiful Chapter Seven filly. First foal out of a Credit Winner mare named Bedit On Credit.”

“We’re very, very proud of our group of yearlings. We have the right stallions out of the right mares this year and it’s one of those years where the individual matches the page. The top-quality individuals match the pedigree page. I think that’s really important,” Brady said.

Carter Duer gives honest appraisal of Peninsula's consignment

by James Platz

Carter Duer has shown himself to be a stalwart in the industry, dedicating his life to breeding and raising top-notch racehorses. At the age of 83, he doesn't mince words, and his assessment of Peninsula Farm's 2022 Lexington offering is, frankly, pretty matter of fact. With 48 yearlings cataloged, the numbers are not what Peninsula once sold in its heyday. And while the consignment's quality may not be what he would like, Duer feels his roster includes some strong individuals.

"Overall, a lot of my horses are maybe a touch below what I would have liked to have on some days. But that's what I've got, so I've got to do the best with what I've got," he said. "I do think that there are some good horses in there. I don't think I have any bell ringers, but I think there are some horses in there that, some way or another, you'll hear about next year."

While Duer would prefer not to sell on opening night, a trio of trotters in the Monday session represent Peninsula Farm. Hip 8 Nighttime Dreamer is a Muscle Hill first foal from O'Brien Award winning mare Illusioneesta 2,Q2:02.2; 3,1:55.4; BT1:54.3s ($269,885). Hip 52 Magic Bee is a Father Patrick filly that is sister to the great Bee A Magician. Hip 112 Mr Frodo is a Muscle Hill first foal out of Cantab Hall mare The Erm 2,1:56; 3,1:54.4f; 4,1:50.3 ($209,178).

"It's a very strong first night. The Muscle Hill filly is very, very nice. And the colt is nice," Duer said. "The Father Patrick is a very nice filly and would have a lot of residual value I would think."

One of the largest segments of the Peninsula roster is a group of seven from the first crop of Greenshoe. Four individuals sell on Tuesday, with the last three slated for Wednesday.

"I've been very impressed with the Greenshoes. I wasn't a fan of his going in. I've got seven of them that we've had here and we've raised most of them. They're pretty nice horses," Duer said. "He's got a little baggage that goes along with him, but I think people ought to give him a chance. I've been kind of impressed with the ones I have here. They've been good since they were born, really."

Filly Boom Chicka Boom (Hip 201) is the first foal from a full-sister to Plunge Blue Chip and sells on Tuesday. Filly Green Mercedes (Hip 187) is the second foal from stakes winner Danielle Hall, who has produced Mr Zuanetti. Colt Not A Bad Drink (Hip 179) is the first foal from Breeders Crown elimination winner Champagne Jane. Colt This Oneisonme (Hip 472) is the second foal from Im All Pink, a full-sister to Hambletonian champ Pinkman.

Duer is also partial to Hip 245 Beyondgone, an International Moni filly that is a half-sister to Trotter of the Year Jujubee. Raised at Wickey Stables, the filly sells on Tuesday.

"She's an International Moni and she's out of the dam of Jujubee, and she is top notch, I can tell you that. There will be a lot of them bringing more money than she will, but she is really a nice filly," he said. "I think that horse (International Moni) has had a very good start. He's done very well for the caliber of mares that he had."

Last year, Walner led all sires in gross and average, and Peninsula Farm will offer four, all selling on Tuesday. The lot includes three colts and a filly, Tomah, Hip 262, is a colt out of Malvictorian 2,Q2:03.3; 3,2:00f; BT1:56.4 ($111,123), dam of six winners from eight foals, with two in 1:55.

The resurgence of the Kentucky program has led to better racing opportunities, but it is also raising the level of competition on the track and in the marketplace. Horses that are dual-eligible have more value at auction and have helped to boost the sale.

Duer feels that the strength of Kentucky, paired with Ohio and Indiana, is elevating the profile of breeding and racing in the Midwest.

"Things are very bright in Kentucky, I think. If you consider that you can sell here in Kentucky and then the programs in Ohio in Indiana, I think it's going to bring a lot of people out of the East to this part of the country. I really do. We're going for more money than they're going for. We needed that. I wish it was a situation where we could have sires again. The way this is, you don't need it. It's very good for breeders."

Grossman goes deep on two of Blue Chip's Lexington yearlings

by Dave Briggs

Rather than speak the obvious about the 13 horses Blue Chip Farms is selling at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale, farm owner Tom Grossman opted to go in-depth on two horses.

"There's two that stick out to me," Grossman said. "The one is the Chapter Seven filly that we're selling, Hip 121 (Vulpine Blue Chip). Her video is good, but doesn't do her justice. The page is the page and she's obviously a very interesting cross, but nothing I can tell you that anyone that's going to bid on the horse wouldn't know. I think the video is good, but that's one where I lose a little sleep because I've seen her in the paddock real quiet several times and I've seen her do things out in the field, even before she was brought in, that, to be honest, the video doesn't do her justice. It's not bad and it wouldn't turn anyone off, but I don't think it jumps through the screen, yet I know that she's had those moments.

"Maybe this is too inside baseball, but I try to view them as if I was a buyer. The pacing filly I have, which is out of Obvious Blue Chip, which we love (Hip 284, Varsity Blue Chip). I really have had to try to trick my enthusiasm... I'll be honest, she's just the kind of pacer that I try to buy. Obviously, I like the pedigree. I might be guilty of probably liking your own cooking too much, but she doesn't stand absolutely perfectly. You could knock her conformation, but in the paddock and even in the video, I know she handles it much differently than it looks standing on the floor.

"There will be some people that look at her on the floor and say, 'The front end isn't perfect' and that's true, but, for me, when I'm buying, I like to buy when there's a small flaw but it seems as though the horse handles it very well and it's not going to be a point of breakdown or it's going to put too much stress on that spot."

Lexington is just the beginning for Blue Chip this auction season. The New York farm will sell almost 60 yearlings in November at the Standardbred Horse Sales Company's auction in Harrisburg, PA.

Cane Run has 13 yearlings to sell in Lexington; 11 of them trotters

by James Platz

Cane Run Farm enters the 2022 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale with a larger consignment than in years past. The Georgetown, KY-based nursery offers a roster consisting of 11 trotters and two pacers. The 13 yearlings are spread out over each of the five sessions, with a pair of trotters selling opening night.

"We have a few extra yearlings this year. We have a couple of new clients," said farm owner Elizabeth Caldwell. "I'm pleased with them. It's a good group overall. We have a variety of sires this year. With something on every night, it's like we have something for everybody. I'm looking forward to seeing how it goes."

Hip 41 Flashes Of Light will be the first yearling from Cane Run to enter the sale ring Monday (Oct. 3). The Father Patrick filly is the first foal from Muscle Massive mare Fate Smiled, a PASS leg winner with $158,119 on her card and a beaten time of 1:54.1. Hip 48 Pirate's Loot is a Muscle Hill colt that is the second foal from Hidden Temple, sister to Temple Of Doom and Jimmy Shin.

"We have a nice Muscle Hill colt, second foal out of Hidden Temple, from the family of Temple Of Doom. He looks good and we're pleased with him," Caldwell said. "The other is a Father Patrick filly, first foal out of Fate Smiles. Father Patrick has been hot this year, so that's been exciting."

The Cane Run consignment consists of two Muscle Hill babies, a pair from Father Patrick and Cantab Hall, and yearlings sired by Always B Miki, Chapter Seven, Class Included, Love You, Southwind Frank, Trixton and Yankee Cruiser. Caldwell said it is hard to single out any one individual from the group.

"Obviously the two Muscle Hills are both nice. The one on the second day is out of a French mare. We also have a Love You, so hopefully that will generate some interest as well," she said. "I really like both of our Cantabs. They're both nice individuals. They both had really good videos and the families have been doing well."

Hip 223 Sir Hiss, is a Muscle Hill colt out of Love You starter Goldavila F. Cantab Hall filly Hip 171 In Your Eyes is out of 100 per cent producer Bright Baby Blues, a stakes winner that has a pair of six-figure earners to her credit from three foals. Hip 654 You Found Out is a Cantab Hall colt out of Muscle Hill mare Fortunes Of Fables, also a 100 per cent producer, led by Fade Into You 2,Q1:56.4; 3,1:54.4; BT1:51.1 ($215,628). Love You colt Hip 541 Boyd's Cove sells on the third day. His dam, Pole Dancer, has three winners from four previous living foals.

"You're seeing more European pedigrees over here. It's really interesting to mix it up and helps with the inbreeding," she said.

Last year, Cane Run grossed $717,000 selling nine yearlings. Despite a weakened economy, Caldwell said she is optimistic for this year's sale based on what she has observed in the preceding Thoroughbred sales.

"The economy is not as great as it has been in the past, but the horse sales have not reflected that so far. Usually, our sale follows the trends of Keeneland and Fasig-Tipton up at Saratoga," she said. "Hopefully that will continue on and trickle down. Hopefully people will be ready to spend some money."

Kentucky

I Did It Myway wins Bluegrass his way

by Ray Cotolo for Red Mile

Beach Glass's speed job fell through off the final turn while driver Andrew McCarthy poised Kentucky Championship winner I Did It Myway on his preferred second-over perch and pounced to a 1:48.2 victory in the second of two divisions for the $178,000 Captaintreacherous Bluegrass Stakes for sophomore pacing colts on Saturday afternoon (Oct. 1) at Red Mile.

River Ness strung Beach Glass out after a :26.4 first quarter and yielded for the pocket while the legacy son of Somebeachsomewhere freewheeled into a :53.3 half. He tried to keep his engine rolling through three-quarters in 1:21.2 but came under stress as Mad Max Hanover powered first over into the lane with I Did It Myway on his back. Once McCarthy showed daylight to I Did It Myway, the son of Captaintreacherous lunged to the lead late and downed Mad Max Hanover by 3-1/2 lengths. Fourever Boy closed for third and Beach Glass settled for fourth

"He loves a target," trainer Tony Alagna said after the race. "He can do it the other way as well, but he's so much better with a target and that's why Lexington is so kind to him. Andy [McCarthy] is the best. I love our relationship, the fact that he drives so many horses for us and the fact that he teaches these horses for the long haul. He and I are on the same page on what we're looking for – he knows when it's time to go and when it's time to educate one. That makes us a good team."

Scoring his fifth in a row and his 12th victory from 22 starts, I Did It Myway has now earned $622,908 for owners Country Club Acres, Joe Sbrocco, Don Latore, Alagna and Fodera Racing. He paid $5.90 to win.

All About The Hunt upset Pebble Beach in the other Captaintreacherous division, holding onto command until the end of a 1:49 mile.

Driver Yannick Gingras brushed All About The Hunt to the front after a :28.2 first quarter while odds-on choice Pebble Beach remained third up the backside. Cruising by a :55.2 half, All About The Hunt plugged along the final turn to click three-quarters in 1:23 and open a two-length padding on his competition angling for home. Pebble Beach took aim at All About The Hunt in the stretch and inched closer with each stride, but the Ron Burke-trained Huntsville colt denied the North America Cup winner by a neck at the beam. Birthday rallied down the center to finish third and Energetic Hanover closed for fourth.

"We thought he could step up," said Michelle Crawford, the breeder who co-owns All About The Hunt through Crawford Farms Racing. "Ronnie's always said he's a really good horse and he struggles on the half. I think we just try to do everything right by him and we knew that he was going to come down here and we were hoping he would throw a big mile like this."

Amanda Stephens

I Did It Myway (Andrew McCarthy) won his Bluegrass division in 1:48.2 on Saturday at Red Mile.

All About The Hunt won his fifth race from nine starts and has now earned $145,483 for owners Crawford Farms Racing and Heather Marshall. He paid $29.52 to win.

Each division of the Captaintreacherous Bluegrass Stakes was sponsored by the Captaintreacherous Syndicate and Hanover Shoe Farm.

Live racing returns to The Red Mile on Friday (Oct. 7) for the second week of the Grand Circuit fortnight. Freshman trotting colts and geldings and freshman pacing fillies will take center stage in their divisions of the International Stallion Stakes. A reminder for horsepeople: entries for the Friday card are due by 9 a.m. (EDT) on Sunday (Oct. 2).

'JIGGY' JOGS IN BLUEGRASS

Jiggy Jog S ground into the race and jetted away to a 1:50.1 victory in the second of three divisions for the $242,300 Bar Hopping Bluegrass Stakes for sophomore trotting fillies on Saturday afternoon (Oct. 1) at Red Mile.

Manon motored to the lead after a :27.3 first quarter and rolled toward a :55.2 half as driver Dexter Dunn tipped Jiggy Jog S out of fourth and ranged uncovered to the final turn. Within a neck of the lead by three-quarters in 1:23.4, Jiggy Jog S downed Manon off the turn and strode clear from there to a 3-1/2-length victory at the finish. Date Night pulled off a pocket trip to take second narrowly from Lilbitalexis slipping through the inside to settle for third.

A daughter of Walner, Jiggy Jog S won her seventh race from 21 starts and has now earned $639,793 for owner Jorgen Sparredal Inc. Ake Svanstedt trains the $2.78 winner.

Joviality S went for an afternoon stroll to cash the winning check in her division of the Bar Hopping.

Off the 1-9 favorite, driver Brian Sears secured a pocket trip for Joviality S when Selfie Queen pushed forward to lead after a :28.3 first quarter. No one ventured to challenge Selfie Queen up the backside or towards the far turn and instead readied themselves for the stretch drive off a :56 half and 1:23.3 three-quarters. Joviality S laid her attack onto Selfie Queen spinning for home and effortlessly seized the lead as she widened to the finish of a 1:50.4 mile. Delilah Hanover gave chase to take second, beaten 3-3/4 lengths, with Selfie Queen settling for third and Valentina Blu finishing fourth.

"[Brian Sears] has already told everyone she's the best [filly] he's ever drove," owner Anders Strom said after the race. "And today... 1:50.4, ears flipping... it's a good conditioner for next week. Let's say we have this track today, as firm as fast as it is – and sunny, not too warm, no wind... next Sunday (Oct. 9) will be interesting."

Marcus Melander conditions Joviality S for owner Courant Inc. The daughter of Chapter Seven, returning $2.12 to win, won her 19th race from 24 starts and deposited to her account now worth $1,817,818.

Another Marcus Melander trainee won in the first Bar Hopping division with Peyton Hanover powering first over to a 1:51.2 victory.

Unleashed Kemp cleared control from post 9 to a :28.1 first quarter with Je Suis Si Belle sitting second and Pure Countess third. Driver Tim Tetrick landed fifth with Peyton Hanover but got flushed off the pegs as Adore Me tipped her hand in behind. Peyton Hanover marched along the rim to overtake Unleashed

Amanda Stephens

Joviality S (Brian Sears) won her Bluegrass test in 1:50.4 on Saturday at Red Mile.

Kemp through a :56.3 half and stayed on the pedal as Adore Me stalled to the outside around the final turn. Past three-quarters in 1:24.1, Peyton Hanover kicked for home on a diminishing margin as Pure Countess pulled off the cones and dug into the leader late. But Peyton Hanover fought to the finish to hold a half-length on Pure Countess with Warrawee Xenia finishing third another four lengths behind and Unleashed Kemp taking fourth.

"I kind of planned on racing off a helmet, get a trip because that's what she likes," Tim Tetrick said after the race. "But the way it shook out, I had to go forward, otherwise I was going to be way too far back. It worked out. She raced a really good race today."

Jeff Snyder and Four Friends Racing Stable LLC own Peyton Hanover, a daughter of Muscle Hill. She won her fifth race from 22 starts, has now earned $244,574 and paid $5.22 to win.

Each division of the Bar Hopping Bluegrass Stakes was sponsored by the Bar Hopping Syndicate and Hanover Shoe Farm.

NIKI HILL BACK TO FORM IN BLUEGRASS

Last season's Dan Patch champ in her division Niki Hill returned to her stakes-winning form off a late-spring racing injury to best her sophomore pacing filly peers in the $150,000 Papi Rob Hanover Bluegrass Stakes on Saturday afternoon (Oct. 1) at Red Mile.

Boudoir Hanover bounded for the lead with Niki Hill floating off the wings from post 7 with nowhere at the pylons to sit by a :28 first quarter. Driver Dexter Dunn ventured forward with the Chris Ryder trainee and forged to the lead approaching a :54.2 half with no one gaining ground on her to the turn. She maintained her speed to three-quarters in 1:22 and braced for the two-pronged challenge from Boudoir Hanover and Max Contract in the stretch. Dunn kept Niki Hill to task through the lane and the daughter of Always B Miki held firm on the lead to the finish of a 1:49 mile. Boudoir Hanover settled for second, beaten a length, with Max Contract third and Just Divine ascending to fourth via disqualification.

"It's been a shame she's missed the whole season so far, but it's also great to have her back and get a few races at the end of the year," Dexter Dunn said after the race. "We were real happy with her [race] at The Meadowlands last start. She's a great horse; she's got a great will to win. I was confident in her."

A winner in 10 of 13 starts, Niki Hill has accrued $984,057 in earnings for owner Tom Hill. She returned $5.58 to win in her third start of the season and collected her first stakes victory since cutting her ankle in a race at Harrah's Philadelphia on May 29.

The Papi Rob Hanover Bluegrass Stakes was sponsored by the Papi Rob Hanover Syndicate and Hanover Shoe Farm.

JUSTICE JOLTS IN TIME TO BLUEGRASS WIN

A heated tempo on the front poised Justice for a late-stretch burst, and the Chapter Seven colt prevailed narrowly to win in the second of two divisions for the $237,000 Greenshoe Bluegrass Stakes on Saturday afternoon (Oct. 1) at Red Mile.

Amanda Stephens

Niki Hill (Dexter Dunn) returned to stakes-winning form by winning her Bluegrass test in 1:49 on Saturday at Red Mile.

Temporal Hanover took the top from early leader King Of The North after a :27.3 first quarter and carried his momentum into a :54.2 half. S I P pulled first over around the final turn from third and progressed towards Temporal Hanover as he snagged a breather by three-quarters in 1:23. All the while, trainer-driver Ake Svanstedt sat at the pegs with Justice, and when King Of The North angled outward for the drive Svanstedt shot through the inside. Justice burst through a seam to catch Temporal Hanover by a nose at the finish of a 1:50.2 mile. King Of The North settled for third and El Toro Loco took fourth.

"It was a fast first quarter and a fast first half, so I thought the horses to the outside would be tired before the horses at the inside," Ake Svanstedt said after the race. "It's hard to hold the horses inside in the stretch. It's a long stretch, so almost all the horses drift out. I had luck also. He came home very good and fought [hard]. He wanted to win."

Justice, paying $9.90 to win, collected his ninth win from 14 starts and added to his bankroll now worth $360,130. He competes for Ake Svanstedt, Little E LLC, Torbjorn Swahn and Myfab Inc.

Periculum put away his competition early to land a front-stepping score in the first division of the Greenshoe.

Brian Sears sent Periculum for the point to a :28.2 first quarter with Ken's Walner settling for second. Rebuff, the 4-5 favorite, sat fourth through a :56.2 half and made a slow move off the pegs into the final turn. Golden Wall As flushed first over from third moving to three-quarters in 1:23.4, but the tepid early tempo turned the final quarter into a sprint to catch Periculum on the lead. The Marcus Melander trainee coasted home 2-1/4 lengths better than Golden Wall As with Rebuff third and World At War Deo fourth.

"He's been having a lot of bad luck with bad posts and bad trips. He's always finished good and just been a good horse all year," said Mattias Melander, brother to trainer Marcus Melander and Periculum's regular pilot most of this season, after the race. "I know he raced real good last year [at The Red Mile]. I was just excited to get him down."

Winning his fourth race from 23 starts, Periculum has now earned $360,739 for owners Holly Lane Stud East, Brixton Medical and Howard Taylor. The son of Muscle Hill paid $4.52 to win.

Each division of the Greenshoe Bluegrass Stakes was sponsored by the Greenshoe Syndicate and Hanover Shoe Farm.

SPECIAL WAY ALL THE WAY IN BLUEGRASS

Ake Svanstedt pupil Special Way defended her Kentucky Championship crown on the high stage to decimate her competition in the third of three divisions for the $354,000 Norman Woolworth Memorial Bluegrass Stakes, for freshman trotting fillies, on Friday afternoon (Sept. 30) at Red Mile.

Sent the 1-2 favorite, Svanstedt secured the point with Special Way from the pylon post to a :28.3 first quarter with Una Madonna tracking closely in second. Past a :57 half, Special Way continued unphased and unchallenged as Warrawee Yes sprung a three-wide bid to land first over on the rim around the final turn but stalled going to three-quarters in 1:25. Walner Payton circumvented that cover coming off the corner and gave pursuit to Special Way into the stretch as she strode to a 2-1/4-length victory in 1:52. Secret Volo closed for third and Royal Filly finished fourth.

"It's thrilling for us to have fillies like this, but particularly to share it with George [Segal] and Al [Libfeld] – the three of us love the sport and are heavily involved in it, but to be here in Lexington and enjoy the experience... it's hard to describe," said Marvin Katz, co-owner and breeder of Special Way. "It's great to develop a line like that, which we have over a period of years, and it's very rewarding."

George Segal, of Brittany Farms, then said, "This is another [great memory]. Maybe the best trotting filly I've ever owned."

Special Way, a Walner filly, is a homebred for Brittany Farms, Katz and Libfeld. She won her fifth race in a row and of her career from seven starts and has now earned $384,975. She paid $3 to win.

Railee Something scored a 16-1 upset in the opening division of the Norman Woolworth Memorial.

Driver David Miller floated Railee Something to the front toward a :29.1 first quarter but soon sat the pocket behind odds-on choice Fashion Annie up the backstretch. That pair coasted to a :57.3 half as the tempo continued to quicken into the turn. Heart On Fire attempted to gain first over into the final turn but floundered through three-quarters in 1:26 before making a hasty retreat in the stretch. Meanwhile, Fashion Annie had one main threat on her back and soon at her side when the fresh legs of Railee Something drew to equal terms in the sixteenth pole. The tempo-setter gave into the pressure and Railee Something strode home a length winner in 1:53.2. Emira Mil It finished third and Kayleigh S closed for fourth.

"We thought she deserved the shot," owner/breeder Ron Mersky said after the race of trying Railee Something, runner-up in the Kentucky Commonwealth final, on the Grand Circuit. "[Trainer] Chris [Ryder] has done a wonderful job with her. We actually have her eligible for the Breeders Crown and next week's race, but one at a time. We'll assess it after this one."

A daughter of International Moni, Railee Something has won six times in 11 starts and earned $196,306. She returned $34.60 to win.

Mambacita rebounded in her Norman Woolworth Memorial division off a fourth-place finish in the Kentucky Championship final with a 1:53.2 win.

Life Itself led to the quarter in :28.4 but yielded command to Mambacita as driver Dave Miller circled from the pocket to the point up the backside. She continued to roll through a :57.2 half and to three-quarters in 1:26 with Life Itself in tow and waiting to pounce. Though once Life Itself took her shot at the leader, Mambacita responded to urging and scooted away to a three-length victory. Pure Hope S gave chase off a pylon trip in third and Pride N Joy closed for fourth.

"She really has been a model of consistency throughout the year," trainer Tony Alagna said after the race. "She started early [in the] New Jersey Sires [Stakes], and our plan was always to bring her down here. She went good through the Sires Stakes, got a little bit of a break, qualified her back, went to the [Kentucky Championship] final and then today she was probably as good as she's been all year. I told Dave it looked like she's back to her old self."

Winning her third race from eight starts, Mambacita has now pocketed $276,312 for owners Alagna Racing LLC, Crawford Farms Racing and Pryde Stables Inc. She paid $5.04 to win.

Each division of the Norman Woolworth Memorial Bluegrass Stakes was sponsored in partnership by Arden Homestead Stable, E.T. Gerry and Peter Gerry, Margareta Wallenius-Kleberg, Stoner Manor Inc., Menhammer Stuteri Ab, Jorgen Jahre Jr., LST Stables, Lawrence DeVan and William DeVan.

PAIR OF BOYS BAG BLUEGRASS BLOWOUTS

Of the three divisions for the $327,000 Stay Hungry Bluegrass Stakes – for freshman pacing colts and geldings – at Red Mile on Friday afternoon (Sept. 30), two were won in decisive fashion.

First with a knockout blow was Lyons Surfing, who slipped out of the pocket when the outer tier jumped and sailed to the finish a 5-1/4-length winner.

American Fling fired for the front to a :28 first quarter with Lyons Surfing protecting position from the pylons to sit second and Cannibal racing third. Bamboozler, the 2-1 favorite, flushed cover from Blue Lou into a :56 half but started to sputter around the final turn as Blue Lou pressed American Fling.

The leading pair clicked three-quarters in 1:23.3 while Bamboozler jumped and broke Ervin Hanover's stride coming for home. But that incident opened a wide-enough seam for Lyons Surfing to peel out and power home to a 1:50.1 victory with Cannibal giving chase in second. Ervin Hanover recovered stride to finish third, beaten another three lengths, with American Fling fourth.

"He's been very likeable all along," trainer Jim King Jr. said after the race. "[He] hasn't always done quite as much as I thought he should, but he's been getting better and better. We like him. [Tim] said 'This is what we've been looking for. He's okay.'"

Lyons Surfing competes for owner Threelyonsracing. The colt by Stay Hungry grabbed his fourth win from eight starts and added to his account now worth $163,587. He paid $7.66 to win.

Handlelikeaporsche visited the winner's circle next with an in-hand 8-1/4-length victory in the second Stay Hungry division.

Floating off the wings from post 8, driver Dexter Dunn failed to secure a position at the pylons into the first turn, so he pushed forward with Handlelikeaporsche into a :28.1 first quarter and grabbed the lead in the backstretch. The Lazarus N colt cruised by a :56.2 half and separated from his rivals as Dunn shifted gear with his charge to click three-quarters in 1:23.3. With the engines revved for home, Handlelikeaporsche rolled to the finish widening his lead to the end of a 1:50.2 mile as Gung Ho closed for second with It's My Show third and Mac's Delight fourth.

Chris Ryder trains and co-owns Handlelikeaporsche with William Ezzo, Robert Mondillo and Barry Spak. The colt collected his second win from five starts and padded his bankroll to $179,000. He paid $4.46 to win.

Ryder returned to the winner's circle in the final Stay Hungry split when Admiral Hill survived on the lead to post a 1:50.4 victory.

Driver Dexter Dunn sent Admiral Hill to the lead but let Christchurch clear to a :27.4 first quarter before moving back to the lead. Snapping a half in :55.3, Admiral Hill attempted to snag a breather around the far turn while Mamba led the overland charge to three-quarters in 1:23.4. The field towered behind Admiral Hill straightening for the finish, but he staved off all challengers to score a 1-1/4-length win over Mamba. Lousain Bolt closed for third and Stay Grounded settled for fourth.

"I guess we [classified him] pretty right with this fellow," Chris Ryder said after the race on starting Admiral Hill in the Kentucky Golden Rod Series, in which he won the $50,000 final by seven lengths in 1:50. "We started at the bottom because he was a slow developer. I knew he had some talent, but he wasn't showing us much and the experience did him a world of good. He just keeps getting better."

A homebred for Tom Hill, Admiral Hill won his third race from six starts and has now earned $98,250. The son of Sweet Lou returned $4.10 to win.

Each division of the Stay Hungry Bluegrass Stakes was sponsored by the Stay Hungry Syndicate and Hanover Shore Farms.

EFFORTLESS BLUEGRASS WIN BY TWIN B JOE FRESH

A negative show plunge proved a positive return on Twin B Joe Fresh, who strolled into the stretch without a doubt the winner in the first of two divisions of the $283,000 McWicked Bluegrass Stakes, for freshman pacing fillies, on Thursday afternoon (Sept. 29) at The Red Mile.

Hungry For Love set the tempo past a :28.3 first quarter after pocketing early leader Zanatta to the backstretch. Twin B Joe Fresh patiently plied over the ground in fourth to a :57.2 half until driver Dexter Dunn gave the Roll With Joe filly her cue. Angled off the pegs around the final turn, Twin B Joe Fresh rushed to the front to three-quarters in 1:25.3 and uncorked a :25.2 final quarter in hand to open 6-1/4 lengths at the end of a 1:51.1 mile. Zanatta edged Hungry For Love for second with Absolute Power checking in fourth.

"She's been beaten twice – it's kind of a funny thing – but she just does almost anything we've ever asked of her, and today was nothing different," winning trainer Chris Ryder said after the race. "She's just got a big engine and is a beautiful filly."

Twin B Joe Fresh has now won seven races from nine starts and amassed $534,912 in earnings for owners Chris Ryder, Dexter Dunn, Peter Trebotica and Barry Spak. She paid $2.10 to win.

Kentucky Championship runner-up Strong Poison powered home strongly enough to down late leader Vivians Dream in the final strides of the other McWicked Bluegrass division.

Driver Yannick Gingras took back with Strong Poison to race sixth while Diamondspearls raced freely on the lead to a :28 first quarter. Vivians Dreams drafted from the pocket to a :56.3 half and made her attack on the pacesetter pulling pocket towards three-quarters in 1:24. Diamondspearls retreated off the turn as Vivians Dream forged to a narrow lead with Light And Tight giving chase and Strong Poison sent widest on the track. The Ron Burke trainee gathered her momentum in the final eighth and lunged late at Vivians Dream to seize a neck victory in 1:51.3. Light And Tight settled for third with Bankers Luck another four lengths back in fourth.

A daughter of Always B Miki, Strong Poison now has five wins from nine starts and $315,000 earned for owners Burke Racing Stable, J&T Silva Stables, Knox Services Inc. and Beasty LLC. She paid $3.38 to win.

The McWicked Syndicate and Winbak Farm presented each division of the Bluegrass for freshman pacing fillies.

GATES HANOVER GRABS BLUEGRASS GOLD

Driver Dexter Dunn sprung the latch with Gates Hanover in the straightaway to score in the first of three divisions of the $328,000 Captain Corey Bluegrass Stakes, for freshman trotting colts and geldings, on Thursday afternoon (Sept. 29) at The Red Mile.

Off the 5-2 favorite, Dunn slid Gates Hanover to the front before yielding for the pocket as French Wine crossed to the lead past a :28.2 first quarter. Strolling up the backside to a :56.3 half, French Wine attempted to quicken on the turn as Luke's Bar progressed uncovered on the rim to soon match strides with the pacesetter by three-quarters in 1:24.4. Luke's Bar forged to a narrow lead off the corner as French Wine folded while Dunn fanned to the center of the course with the Ake Svanstedt pupil and hustled in the final eighth to the lead to stop the clock in 1:52.3, three-quarter lengths better than Luke's Bar. International Man sat a pylon trip for third and French Wine settled for fourth.

"He's just really handy," Dexter Dunn said of Gates Hanover after the race. "His manners are great, he gets off the gate really well and, once he gets onto a helmet, he relaxes – a lot like Svanstedt's [other] horses. They're good to drive and it's always a pleasure to drive for them."

Gates Hanover collected his second win from seven starts to push his bankroll to $121,757 for owner S R F Stable. The son of Walner returned $7.44 to win.

A first-half snooze became a wake-up call for the competition as 22-1 shot Espresso scooted to an easy lead with a soft pace and sealed the job to take the second Captain Corey division.

Espresso snagged the top from post 8 to a :28.3 first quarter with Designer Drink sitting second and Brodeur in third. The field stretched up the backside despite Espresso slowing proceedings to a :58 half while also widening to an open-length advantage. Driver Andy Miller then released the pads and sped to three-quarters in 1:25.3 with the backfield spinning their wheels to close. The Julie Miller-trained gelding by Chapter Seven slowed to the finish but built enough cushion to withstand a late-charging Crown by 1-1/4 lengths with Excaliber Bi rallying for third and Kierkegaard K taking fourth.

"Nobody was really leaving, I don't think anybody wanted the front and neither did I, really," Andy Miller said after the race. "He got away [with] cheap enough [fractions] and it worked out. He impressed me pretty good today... off a slow half like that and then he took off and kept digging right to the wire."

Winning his fourth race from eight starts, Espresso has now banked $162,500 for owners Andy Miller Stable, Andy Willinger, Mortgage Boys Stable and L Berg Inc. He paid $46.16 to win.

Dexter Dunn bookended the Captain Corey splits when delivering 4-5 favorite Ari Ferrari J to a maiden-breaking victory in 1:54.2.

Ari Ferrari J floated off the wings to race fifth to a :28.4 first quarter set by Kimmeridgian, who then obliged for the pocket when Purple Lord circled to the front in the backstretch. By a :57 half, and with just five of the seven maintaining stride throughout, Cecil Hanover moved first over with Ari Ferrari J in tow to tackle Purple Lord to three-quarters in 1:25.3. Purple Lord repelled that challenge angling for home but gave even pursuit when Ari Ferrari J motored to the lead. Upstaged rallied down the center to secure second, beaten a half-length, with Purple Lord settling for third and Kimmeridgian taking fourth.

"He just had one thing go wrong after another, no fault of his," winning trainer Tony Alagna said after the race. "The good thing about it is Ken Jacobs, who owns him, couldn't have been more patient with the horse. And Dexter never wavered; Dexter always knew the horse had ability. He rode him out the whole time and that's been a huge benefit to get this horse where he's at today."

Despite now having one victory from nine outings, Ari Ferrari J has $202,600 in his coffers for Ken Jacobs. The colt by Walner paid $3.76 to win.

Each division of the Captain Corey Bluegrass Stakes was sponsored by the Captain Corey Syndicate and Hanover Shoe Farm.

Telling tales in foreign tongues

by Trey Nosrac

"Data analytics is the future, and the future is now. Every mouse click, keyboard button pressed, and each swipe or tap is used to shape business decisions. Everything is about data these days."

A new breed of customer is emerging in the sporting world.

I recently met a young man who is a rabid baseball fan, but not a traditional fan, not the type of fan from the old neighborhood. His bailiwick is data. He belongs to the growing group of people who find great satisfaction in data collection and analytics to predict future sporting results and evaluate talent. He and his tribe are deep into data and technology. Adapting, incorporating, and profiting from these data heads in an expanding gambling world is challenging.

Most of us know that every MLB baseball team and baseball fans follow trends, such as WAR projections and numerical measurements for analysis. WAR in baseball is Wins Above Replacement. This metric measures how each player compares against a typical average player. Understanding WAR can help Major League Baseball Teams put the best statistically driven players on the field to increase their number of wins. WAR ratings and projections are also crucial in trades and drafting players.

Baseball found it profitable to share troves of raw data. People obtain the data or hire others to analyze the constantly updated data. This niche of interest opens a new world for a particular breed of baseball fans. Their conversations lean away from words and lean into numbers.

PLEASE NOTE: At this point, skip over the following italicized paragraphs unless you want your head to explode.

....my point was to predict specific baseball stats for 2021, which meant this had to be a regression approach rather than a classification approach (or so I thought...more to come on that). Regression problems restrict options substantially more than classification problems: this is an oversimplification, but I was mainly choosing from among linear regression, random forest, and XGBoost. Linear regression would not have been a great choice here, as it assumes independence among its input variables, and that was very much not the case here. It is also limited to finding linear relationships.

Random forest regression would have been a perfectly reasonable choice, but I selected XGBoost to build the models, as it is an improvement on random forest. XGBoost is a popular ensemble decision tree algorithm that combines many successive decision trees – each tree learns from its predecessors and improves upon the residual errors of previous trees. It also tends to perform very well in these types of problems.

My planned steps were:

- Clean and prep data.
- Identify target variables.
- Fit models to the 2017 and 2018 data, trying to predict the subsequent year's statistics.
- Tune the models' hyperparameters to their optimal settings.
- Combine 2017 and 2018 data, retrain models, re-tune hyperparameters, and assess for differences.
- Use the resulting models to predict 2021 statistics using a blended input data set from 2019 and 2020.
- Let's unpack this last piece. 2020 posed a problem in that, you may recall, we had a bit of a pandemic issue, so we only had 60 games. My initial plan for this was to make a blended data set from 2019 and 2020. I did this by preparing weighted averages of stats for the two years and then scaling them to 1.

THIS CONVERSATION WENT ON AND ON

When this baseball fan communicates with others of his ilk, they talk and listen (and wager) in the language of numbers. Everything has a weighted value. This data obsession is a strange world with a fierce grip on some sports fans.

Data in horseracing is plentiful. Much of the existing harness racing data is waiting for importing into different formulas. For example, data people or AI programs could answer a long-standing question in the harness racing community – what is the best foaling date for a yearling?

Almost everyone has an opinion on this subject. Data fiends would take every trotting race on record, cross reference with the month each horse was foaled, and find the optimum month. They would conclude the exact day and hour of optimum foaling and value the worst day for foaling and every day in between. Everything converted to sets of numbers.

Data people talk in foreign tongues. People in our world, the people we know, would say, "I sort of prefer April foals."

Data people would say that horse X's optimum foal date is +2.35 z (X) = March 28.

The databerg is endless, and the participants place numerical values and weight on EVERYTHING.

The Stallion is +4.61. The mare is at -1.23, the genetic cross is 2.307, the relative competition of the state program is 0.62, the conformation number is (after measurement data) 0.62, the size is -1.1, and the cosigned farm is +1.3.

You may believe that evaluating a one-year-old trotter heading for a sales ring using numbers and formulas is ridiculous. You probably think that animals growing in a distant field have too many unknowns, and this whole exercise is nuts.

But in the offices of MLB teams are sets of data points for a 16-year-old boy in a small Puerto Rican village. Analytics project his body growth, analyze his ancestry, evaluate his mental capacities, and have numbers for his current spin rates and exit velocities. This kid has a currently predicted slot in his 2024 international draft value of 743, and his cost for signing a contract at $375,000.

If people who love this uber numbers game became interested in racing, they would talk using the language of numbers. Even in the yearling selection game, they would want every yearling going to sale to have a value number and projected value and wagering will be more mathematical than ever.

Who knows how much data crunching and data takes place in our sport? But looking ahead, we would be wise to learn how to open the door to potential customers who speak in the strange tongue of analytics. Like it or not, the future is coming.

Jordan Stratton scores 5,000th career victory

Driver Jordan Stratton won four races on Thursday night (Sept. 29) at Yonkers Raceway, with the third of them representing the 5,000th victory of his career.

Last year's leading driver at Yonkers, Stratton captured race three with Poppy Drayton N, a 9-year-old Bettor's Delight mare, for his brother and trainer Cory in 1:55.1 and then teamed up with Dennis Laterza's E R Hilary, an 8-year-old daughter of Always A Virgin, to take the fourth dash in 1:56.1.

That put Stratton on the verge of his milestone, and he wouldn't have to wait long, as Reachthruthesky AS, a 4-year-old McArdle mare, took the sixth race in 1:53.3 to give him #5,000. Stratton would then get started on the next thousand by taking the nightcap with Darran Cassar's Starlit Rambo, a 3-year-old Jailhouse Jesse gelding, in 1:56.1.

Stratton is second in the standings this year at Yonkers and during his driving career his charges have earned over $87.2 million.

Starting this week, Yonkers will switch to a six nights per week schedule, with racing on Monday through Saturday. That format will continue until the week of Oct. 17 when Saturday becomes a dark day and the oval returns to racing on a Monday-Friday basis. Post time is 6:55 p.m.

Fulton steams to 1:49.4 track record at The Meadows

Pennsylvania champion Fulton became the fastest 2-year-old ever at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows when he steamed to a 1:49.4 victory in Friday's (Sept. 30) $82,500 Keystone Classic. Lyons Stealth sprang a 7-1 upset in the other division of the stake for freshman colt and gelding pacers.

It figured to be a soft spot for Fulton; his bankroll was nearly 10 times that of his closest rival. But Linda Toscano, who trains the son of Heston Blue Chip—Bettor Be Steamin, advised winning driver Aaron Merriman not to adopt that mindset.

"I've driven horses for Linda over the years, and she usually has no advice about them," he said. "But she phoned me and told me last week he went slower fractions and about got himself beat. She told me to let him go where he was comfortable and not go cheap fractions. He's way better not doing that. And she was correct."

So even as Fulton widened his lead late, Merriman tapped the sulky once to keep him on task. The result: Fulton knocked a tick from the mark Huntsville established in 2016. He also erased the stake record of 1:51.1 held jointly by Dragon Eddy and Southwind Gendry. Let It Ride Stables Inc. and Bottom Line Racing LLC campaign Fulton, who now has banked $248,545. Lou On The Beach was 7-1/4 lengths back in second, with Lite N Sweet third.

Bettors installed Annapolis Hanover, runner-up in the PASS championship, as the prohibitive 2-5 favorite in his division, and Hunter Myers, aboard Lyons Stealth, indicated he wouldn't have disagreed with them.

"I was hoping to stay as close as I could and hope for a decent check," Myers said. "I didn't think he would be blowing by like that."

Cold Creek Queso punches ticket to OSS Super Final with first Gold win

The Glamour Boys wrapped up their Ontario Sires Stakes Gold season Friday (Sept. 30) at Woodbine Mohawk Park with Cold Creek Queso punching his return ticket to the Milton oval for the Super Final on Oct. 15 with an impressive three-length win in a $100,400 Gold division.

Sitting 11th in the season long standings heading into the night, the Betterthancheddar gelding need a strong performance to qualify for the Super Final. He responded by setting a new lifetime mark of 1:48.3, just two tenths off the OSS record, to jump inside the top-10.

With Sylvain Filion driving, Cold Creek Queso tried to make his way to the lead from post five as the field of six left the gate in race six. However, Jody Jamieson and Southside Eddy were more intent on assuming the front, so the Milton, ON resident settled into the pocket position.

"When I saw Jody's horse revved up, I knew he was going to go a good clip, so I just tucked in and followed him until the top of the stretch," said Filion.

Filion's instinct was correct. Southside Eddy led the field through panels of :25.2, :53.3, and 1:21.2 before Filion angled out entering the stretch and his Murray Brethour trainee flew home for the win.

"I know both horses and I knew he was going to take me a long ways because he's a very fast horse," said Filion. "I was just hoping he'd get a little bit tired which he did."

Last season Cold Creek Queso won the $75,000 Grassroots Final. This year he'll get a shot at the $225,000 Super Final for owners Cold Creek Standardbred of Grafton, ON.

He paid $4.40 for the first Gold win of his career.

The other $101,300 OSS Gold division went in race three, and St Lads Sterling finished his Gold season the way he started, with a win.

Leaving from post six Louis-Philippe Roy sent the Control The Moment colt to the front and led the field through a blistering first panel of :25.4. Shortly after entering the backstretch James MacDonald was forced to send pocket sitter Kolby Two Step past him.

"James was trying at some point just to relax his horse and stay on my back," said Roy. "I felt like he was going to run over me, and he had no choice there. The horse was dictating more what he wanted to do than James was. For sure for me it worked good that way."

MacDonald and Kolby Two Step marched the field through middle panels of :54.2 and 1:22.2, but were unable to hold on, as St Lads Sterling and Roy found racing room up the inside in the stretch, and drove home to win by a length in 1:49.3.

The Mississauga, ON resident has driven St Lads Sterling for 15 of his 16 starts this season, and felt it was time for the grey colt's luck to change.

"Since the start of the season I feel like he was good, but like I was saying in the trip we would get second over then they were flying home or things like this," said Roy. "You look at the lines he never really raced bad, coming home fast quarters, and just beat two lengths or stuff like this. I feel like tonight the luck was just on his side, and hopefully it's going to be the same in the Super Final."

Jean Tournigy trains St Lads Sterling for Les Ecuries Morel Inc. of Mirabel, Que. He paid $6.10 for the win.

Sauble Amber repeats in Prospect Series finals at The Raceway

Sauble Amber went off as a 1-9 favorite in her quest to repeat as Prospect Series Champion, and the 3-year-old pacing filly did not disappoint her backers, cruising to victory in 1:58 to win one of eight $15,000 Prospect Series Finals at The Raceway at the Western Fair District.

The daughter of Betterthancheddar won the 2021 Prospect Series Final in just her third start but came to the 2022 Final with a body of work worthy of the bettors' heavy support.

She won three Prospect Series legs this year to go along with pair of conditioned victories.

When the gate rolled in race eight, driver Jason Ryan let her do what she does best. She went to the front and never looked back, beating Lolas Sunshine her closest challenger in the field of eight by five lengths.

"Once you stir her up, you can't get her back," said Ryan. "That's why I kind of just slowly moved to the front today. I didn't really care who left. I was just going to keep slowly moving there and hopefully get there."

Ryan said the Sauble Hill Farms (Tara, ON), and Nasussito Racing Inc (Ayr, ON) homebred benefitted from an equipment change made by trainer Otis Hall, who added a pull ear hood. Ryan didn't have to pull the hood, but it did its job otherwise.

"With the ear hood on she was a little more manageable," said Ryan. "So, we're just kind of building on that because once you stir her up, she's gone. She's a very fast filly."

With three months left in her sophomore campaign, Sauble Amber will look to improve on her now over $40,000 in earnings this season.

"We've raced her off the pace a few times and she's starting to learn, and she's getting better," said Hall. "So, we might try her at (Woodbine Mohawk Park) just in overnight racing. Get her right, where she's racing off the pace, and fire home."

Ryan's victory with Sauble Amber in race eight completed a driving double that began in the first Prospect Series Final of the night, the 2-year-old pacing fillies in race three.

Gimmie A Corona was the even money second choice in the seven horse affair, despite drawing the outside post position, speaking to the quality of the Guelph, ON resident's charge.

"I was a little bit disappointed with the seven hole, but the trip worked out anyway," said Ryan.

Ryan managed the outside post position nicely, settling off the early pace before moving up just before three-quarters of a mile on cover behind a first up Shes Truckin Now and tipping out in the lane to drive home for the win one-length win in 1:58.2.

Meg Crone, of Cambridge, ON trains the Control The Moment filly who now sports a career record of 5-0-1 from eight starts for owner 83 Racing (Toronto, ON).

Other highlights of the evening included He Will, a homebred for 88-year-old Bill Megens, winning the 2-year-old trotting colts and geldings final in 2:00.4 with Travis Henry (Embryo, ON) in the race bike.

The son of Muscle Mass now has four wins in his rookie campaign and boosted his career earnings to $18,150 for the Guelph, ON resident. He paid $2.30 for the win.

"I'll be 89 next month, and 90 in another year," said Megens. "I better start making my money because I intend to retire when I'm 100."

Local driver Tyler Borth from Ingersoll, ON picked up a win in his return to The Raceway. My Holy Moley won the penultimate race of the 10-race card, the Prospect Series Final for three-year-old trotting colts and geldings in a new lifetime mark of 2:00.

The son of Royalty For Life is a Connie and David Chisholm homebred, trained by Connie. A May foal, and a big foal at two, he has overcome a clumsy nature to win three times this year from 13 starts as a sophomore.

"His name is My Holy Moley, but we said you didn't have to live up to that," said Chisholm. "So we finally started to get some speed under him, and he just started trotting great, and it was just like I get it now. He is going to be a nice horse, he's just late."

My Holy Moley paid $2.90 for the win.

Lune Duhas, a Haras De L Estrie In (Dunham, QC) homebred, was the longest shot winner of the eight Prospect Series Finals.

The three-year-old trotting filly paid $23.60 to win the fifth race in come from behind fashion, trotting home in 29.4 to win by a head in 2:00.3 for trainer Denis Guriel (Dunham, QC) with Loic Guriel (Guelph, ON) in the bike.

"She's a very nice mare," said Loic. "She progressed every time, and now will be in the Harvest Series at Mohawk."

Daniel Obrian of Cambridge, ON trains, owns, and drove the winner of the 2-year-old trotting fillies final.

Sant Ambroggio was heavily favoured in race six, going off a 2-5. After a sitting off a first quarter of :30.2, Obrian moved his Wheeling N Dealin filly to the front in third panel and she trotted home in :29.2 to cruise to victory in 2:03.4.

In race four, Marshall Zhukov won his sixth start in a row but his first win for new owner Michel Lagace from Terrebonne, QC.

Freelton, ON resident Brett MacDonald picked up the drive for new trainer Richard Moreau and he waited patiently for room before blasting the 2-year-old pacing colt to the front through the stretch for the first time, and take a lead he wouldn't relinquish.

"He's a nice colt, so he can overcome a lot," said MacDonald. "It seemed like Mario wanted me to get in the two hole on the first turn, so I backed up to the three hole, and I went first up and he raced real good."

The son of Shadow Play paid $2.10 for the win, pacing a mile in 1:58.3 in the process.

The final race of the evening was the 3-year-old pacing colts and geldings Prospect Series final, and Wilcat Rocky emerged victorious from the eight horse field.

The heavy favourite paid $2.20 for the victory and was worthy of the betting public's support, leading gate to wire in a time of 1:56.4.

Thorton, ON resident Stephen Byron was in the bike for trainer Dale Heard of Beaton, ON. Wildcat Stables Inc (Carrying Place, ON) and Antonio Tangreda (Kettleby, ON) own the Hes Watching gelding.
