A stakes year straight out of Bizarro World

We all knew last year would be nuts, but so far, the 2021 COVID-19 stakes seasons has been filled with the weird and unpredictable.

by Dean Towers

BRUSH AND CRUSH

by DEAN TOWERS

In the 1970s, a Japanese professor named Masohira Mori coined the term “uncanny valley.” It referred to robots that began to look more and more lifelike. Mori postulated that there comes a point (a valley) where these robots are so real looking, we get a strange sense of visceral uneasiness; something just doesn’t feel right about the whole experience.

I’m not sure about you, but for me this whole darn COVID-19 stakes race season has done just about the same thing. It feels real, the races are similar, but wow, there is something not quite right.

In the spring, training horses down and making appropriate stakes payments was a minefield with lockdowns and capricious jurisdictional rules. And it probably showed, as scheduling and planning were thrown for a loop; so much so, last year’s superstar pacer Perfect Sting had to race in an overnight against older to keep sharp for the Meadowlands Pace.

Speaking of the Pace, a downpour developed, an $800,000 pacer stepped out of his rigging, and a feel-good Ohio-based colt won

For the older pacers, things feel pretty uncanny. The hottest free-for-all in the sport – Allywag Hanover – is not only a 4-year-old, but a horse that was in the July Meadowlands sale, only to be pulled out late. Who'd have guessed that?

As vaccination rates rose, and travel was less restricted, the Grand Circuit races at Mohawk were sure to return things to normal. At least we thought. But there too this tumultuous season seemed to rear its head. U.S. drivers – and this is fairly new I think – jet-setted in and out of Mohawk to race some nights and afternoons elsewhere, and the plethora of U.S.-based horses didn't fill the box.

The Metro – the 21st century answer to the '80s Woodrow Wilson – did not even have eliminations and the race itself was a curious one. Atlanta versus Manchego (twice!) were non-events at the Campbellville oval as both mares were not themselves. That's happened, well, never.

I haven't even mentioned the North America Cup, where if it racing in September wasn't enough of the uncanny, the local favorite threw in a rare clunker and Meadowlands Pace champ Lawless Shadow was a late scratch. At least we had the awesome story of Desperate Man.

Just this past week over the usual sunny skies of Ohio, the Juliette card was under a deluge, and the next day the colts and fillies were racing on a track about five seconds off. Thankfully, the Jug final did deliver, but not seeing Charley May race in the big event in front of local fans was another wrench into the 2021 stakes season we'd like to have avoided.

Stakes season is not over. The Red Mile is upon us and the Breeders Crown is a super event. Harness racing is never predictable and it always lends itself to great stories. Plus, a harness racing fan's concerns is a pimple prick on a grain of sand when it comes to a serious issue like COVID-19. But I can't get this uncanny year out of my head. Here's hoping 2022 brings us some normal again.

Art Zubrod has raised more great standardbreds than anyone

by Murray Brown

It's a certainty that Art Zubrod has raised more great horses on a percentage basis than anyone ever. It's even quite possible that he has done so as well on a non-percentage basis. He has raised over 40 horses who have each earned over a million dollars.

Zubrod has been the farm manager for George Segal's Brittany Farms for the last 38 years. He went to work for Segal on May 1, 1983 and neither one has looked back.

Zubrod has always loved and been involved with horses. It all began in Louisville, KY.

His dad loved horse racing and was the first to introduce Zubrod to the joys and travails of the racetrack.

Zubrod's mom, Bonnie, was a noted equestrian and is a member of the Equitation Hall of Fame.

Other than a stint as a men's clothing salesman at the department store, Bonds, Zubrod's livelihood and lifestyle has always involved horses.

He started by working with his mom with American Saddlebred horses. He thought it was the coolest thing in the world for him a little guy of 14 to be leading one of these massive steeds.

He was in college with the intent to become a veterinarian. After it was clear that wasn't going to work out, Zubrod said he switched his major to draft avoidance.

In Louisville he became a habitué of Churchill Downs and Louisville Downs where he began betting on horses.

For some time he became a horse trader buying horses at what he felt were value prices and then hopefully reselling them for a profit. As that business grew, Zubrod expanded into show horses with which he became an active dealer. Things went well for a while and then a recession struck. All of a sudden business dried up.

A friend of his had gone to work for Hilda Heydt at Ben White Raceway as second trainer and suggested that Zubrod join him. Florida sounded just great to him, so down south he went. This scribe asked him if he learned any swear words working for Hilda.

"Yes, but not as many as I learned in my next job working for Clint Hodgins.

"Going to Florida was great not only because I got to work for two of the more legendary people in the history of the sport, but far more importantly, because I got to meet my wife and life partner Leah Cheverie while down there. Leah was working for Jim Miller then at the height of his success with the horses owned by Mel Barr. From the onset of our relationship, Leah has been involved as at least an equal partner in any success that I've attained. She is as good with horses, especially those perceived as bad or unmanageable, as anybody that I've ever known.

"We then worked for Howard Beissinger for the summer of 1978. I gained a pretty good background and learned a lot working for those legendary horse people. Eventually though, we decided we needed some stability in our lives. Emotionally, I also longed for the Kentucky I had known and with which I had grown up."

Art got a position as barn foreman at the Spendthrift Training Center. At that time, Tom Crouch was starting Kentuckiana Farms. Leah was hired in January of 1978 and Tom Crouch offered Zubrod a job. It wasn't an easy decision but he did accept the offer. Zubrod was with him for four and a half years.

"I was approached by Ken Seeber who was then running Lana Lobell Farms. Although the headquarters of Lana Lobell was then in Bedminster, New Jersey, where they stood their stallions and conducted their sales, they raised their yearlings in Hanover, Pennsylvania where they still owned and leased a significant amount of acreage. Ken asked me to come to work for them and to be in charge of raising the annual yearling crop. It was not a good fit for me. Hanover was not Lexington and we missed the horse atmosphere of Lexington. It was nobody's fault. We just were not happy there.

"I remember exactly how the opportunity to come work for George transpired. It was a Friday evening in Hanover. I was standing in line waiting to buy a lottery ticket. I came upon Ray Magee. Those who knew Ray, knew that he was an inveterate gossip. If anything was happening in harness racing, Ray was among the first to become aware of it. He mentioned to me that he had heard that George Segal was looking for a farm manager for his farm that he leased from Hamburg Place.

"I had met George and knew him, but not all that well. I went home and immediately called him. Here was a chance to become involved with a top level individual for whom the sky was the limit as far as harness racing was concerned. I made the call and for whatever reasons, we hit it off. The date was May 1, 1983."

Tell me about George Segal and your relationship with him.

"George is one of the brightest and nicest individuals to not only have been involved in harness racing, but also to have inhabited this planet. I have learned a lot about business from George and have to laugh when I remind him of one of those principles if he is about to stray. Like me, he doesn't like change, so it's important that we get it done right the first time. He likes to be involved with bright and capable people. I hope I fit the description. Once involved, he is incredibly loyal and trusting. When it came to horses, I always wanted to be involved with only the top ones. George shares that feeling. He really doesn't want to become involved with the day-to-day minutiae of the farm. That is up to those working there. That is the reason you were hired. He does care deeply about the horses and people who work for and with him. More than a boss, although he is that, he is a friend who cares about people as well as the work they do on his behalf."

What about your staff?

"We have been blessed with a great staff but we look at it more like family. Patty Logan was hired in 1986 and I told Leah after her second day that I had found my yearling foreman. Her then boyfriend Dale Logan came on board shortly after and they soon married. We would not be the farm we are without them. Several of the employees have been with us for 20 years or more. Donna Schulte and Stephanie Ball keep the office running smoothly. Our crew is the best in the business in my mind. All are top horsemen and horsewomen."

Claus Andersen

Zubrod and his wife Leah Cheverie.

You've raised innumerable great horses. Do you have a favorite among them?

"That would have to be Artsplace. I absolutely loved him. He was something special all the time. He was somewhat of an odd duck, much like his mother Miss Elvira. He was a loner and not the most social of horses. He never started any trouble with his fieldmates, but he could end trouble quickly. His mom was a disciplinarian. She wouldn't let her foals near her or her food while she was eating. When Artsplace returned to the farm after his 3-year-old season, his feet were in terrible shape. He was dead lame on them. We had to strip them and eventually grow new feet. We then sent him to Bob McIntosh who guided him to his undefeated season in 1992. When I sent him to Bob I asked him to keep them on as long as possible. Bob felt he was doing fine, so he raced him all season with bar shoes — pretty darn unusual. That was one of the greatest feats that I've seen in all my years in the sport — the undefeated season, not the shoes. Of special significance was the great joy the horse brought to Brian Monieson who co-bred and owned him with George. Brian was one of the finest people I've had the pleasure of knowing. He left us far too soon."

Any others?

"Oh, yes. There have been many of them. Perhaps the best looking horse we ever had on the farm was neither bred nor owned by George. That was Ramblin Storm who we boarded for Arlene and Murray Traub. He also had bad feet that needed care. But what a majestic creature he was! It was a whole lot easier taking care of their horses than it sometimes was tending to the Traubs. Arlene was tough, but you could reason with her. Murray was an A one pain in the ass. We'd get into all sorts of unnecessary arguments. I told him more than once that if he was unhappy here, then he was free to move his horses. He never did, though. I guess he must have been satisfied with the way they were cared for."

How about horsemen?

"There have been many great ones. My all-time favorite would have to be Gene Riegle. He had the best eye of any person I've ever known. He could tell at just a glance whether he liked one or not. He'd often get the grooms upset when after working to make a horse presentable, Gene would look at it for a second or two and have it put away. He was rarely wrong in his judgments.

"Billy Haughton was one of a kind. We've never had one like him. We will never have one like him again. I firmly believe that his loss was the single most devastating thing that has happened to our sport in all the time I've been in it. He created and upheld all parts of the marketplace. Other than the horses that he didn't like under any circumstances; there were darn few of those for this man who's glass was always half full, he would establish a value to any horse of any consequence that entered the sales ring.

"Stanley Dancer was a great horseman of course. He was different than WRH in that he knew exactly what he was interested in and wasn't going to waste anybody's time with those with which he had no interest. Like with Billy, it was a pleasure to show horses to him. I would also include Ron Gurfein but I know we will speak about him later."

How about those of the present generation?

"Tony Alagna is the closest to WRH that I've seen. He has so much on his plate and thus far has been able to balance it as well as possible. He is an incredibly hard worker as well as a great person. He is a great communicator with owners, as was Billy. He is the consummate optimist who's glass is always at least half full. I don't know that he can party as well as Billy did, but he is pretty darn good at it. I've seen him go directly to work after a hard day's night.

"Chris Ryder is definitely one of the best that I've personally dealt with. After he bought Bettors Wish from us as a yearling I asked him if I could buy in for a quarter of the colt. Thankfully, he complied. It was a great ride with the horse. Hopefully the same sort of success will continue through his stud career.

"Jimmy Takter could be considered the greatest ever. Certainly his record places him in that category.

"Chris Ryder's fellow Down Under trainers Brett Pelling and Nifty

Norman have compiled incredible success while here.

"Bob McIntosh is, of course, an all-time great. His inclusion in two Halls of Fame bears credence to that.

"Joe Holloway and Linda Toscano are also on my list of present-day greats."

Let's talk about your best friend Ronnie Gurfein.

"I first met Ron at Sunshine Meadows and was floored with Victory Dream. He looked like he was going a mile in 2:20 except he went in 2:00. We decided to make an offer to buy half or whatever part could be bought. I told George the following week after reading the vet report that it said two things: One, you can't buy him and two you have to give this guy some horses. We immediately hit it off and became very close.

"Ronnie was one of a kind. Anybody who knew him would give testament to that. He was a great horseman, but I've known lots of great horsemen. He was a man of the world, proficient in many areas. When we got together we might talk about horses for 10 per cent of the time. Then we might stray to a multitude of topics — anywhere from government, food, wine, travel or people. You might not agree with him but each and every conversation left you knowing more.

"I was one of the few horsepeople, maybe the only one, with whom Ronnie was in touch once he received his diagnosis of brain cancer. Even with me, my contact with him was far too short and infrequent. If you knew Ronnie, you knew he was exceedingly vain. He just didn't want anybody to see him in a diminished state. He told me about the diagnosis shortly after he received it. He asked me to keep it private. I did so. In retrospect, I wish that I had talked him out of it. He had so many friends who cared about him and wanted to send their personal goodbyes. They were hurt and felt shut out. We are holding a memorial event for him at The Red Mile on October 9. I expect that there will be some great stories told then."

I'll ask you the question I ask most farm managers at this time of year. How has your yearling traffic been?

"I would say pretty comparable to previous years. We've had our normal number of lookers, but the same ones. No new faces that I recollect. That is as it usually is. It's mostly the larger and most successful trainers that come to visit the farm. The smaller more geographically spread out trainers will come to look at the yearlings once they are shipped to the sales site."

Here's a free plug for you. Where is the strength in your consignment this year?

"I believe that overall the consignment has great balance. I would say that we are probably deeper in quality pacing fillies than we've ever been. We have ten or so, any one of which could become a champion. If I had to pick just one I'd go for the sister to Blue Diamond Eyes. She is a knockout and checks all of the boxes. If I were looking for a possible bargain, I'd look at Hip No 364 Morning Edition. He is a magnificent colt who comes from a great family. But he has only one eye. He gets along just fine that way. I doubt that he is aware of his impediment."

Yours and Leah's two daughters, Deveau and Renee, have carried on the family tradition of equine involvement.

"Both my daughters work with my sister Cindy at Zubrod Stable, which my mom and I started in 1967. My daughter Deveau is also the coach of the University of Louisville equestrian team. Both daughters have won World Championships and International competitions. The love for horses has also carried forward to the next generation. My grandchildren are avid riders. They ride and participate in horse shows. I would be surprised if it was otherwise."

How has COVID-19 affected you?

"If I had to use one word I'd say immensely. We shut ourselves off for more than a year. We haven't travelled, and did not eat out during that time and have pretty much stayed on the farm. Recently, things have opened up somewhat. We do go out to eat, but always try to go early, before restaurants get crowded. I love to cook, so being at home wasn't much of a trial. We have recently begun going to the grandkids' horse shows. But we are careful about the hotels we stay at. I think things are gradually getting somewhat better. I hope that I am wrong. But I think that this scourge in one form or another will be with us for some time. It will be two years since Leah and I have been able to visit her family in PEI."

THE ART OF BREEDING

Thoughts on the interesting pedigree of Mohawk Million runner-up Duly Resolved

by Alan Leavitt

The Mohawk Million million-dollar 2-year-old trot at Woodbine Mohawk Park is an interesting concept. Since the premise of racing for our own money is built into the warp and woof of harness racing, why not race for a million dollars of it?

This year's edition was a good one. The winner was a truly outstanding filly, Venerable, who was undefeated going into the big race, and stayed that way when they hit the wire. For the record, Venerable is by Walner, and at the risk of being immodest, this kid predicted Walner would be a top sire before any of his progeny had ever raced.

But the horse who caught my eye as far as pedigree is concerned is the colt who finished second by a short head, Duly Resolved. He's trained by John Bax, a soft-spoken horseman from Ontario who always seems to come up with top trotters. A model of consistency, Duly Resolved has, to date, never finished back of second. His driver is Paul MacDonell, who did a marvelous job of driving Somebeachsomewhere, and can still drive with the best of them. MacDonell is the living proof that one-handed whipping should be universally banned, because no mount of his ever came back with any welts or stripes, and yet they consistently win.

(My remit doesn't include discussions of drivers, but the three recent arrivals from Down Under, Dexter Dunn, and the McCarthy brothers, are also notable for their good hands and very sparing use of the whip.)

Anyway, back to Duly Resolved and his interesting pedigree. He's by Resolve, who certainly was a good racehorse himself, with the records and money to prove it, i.e. $2,621,086 and a record of 1:50.4. His first crop is now racing at 2, and Duly Resolved is definitely the star of his show. Resolve is by Muscle Hill, who is by Muscles Yankee, and Duly Resolved is out of Motown Muscle, who's by Muscle Mass, also a son of Muscles Yankee.

Which makes Duly Resolved 3 x 3 to Muscles Yankee, which makes him inbred to Muscles Yankee. As you'll remember, whenever the same name appears twice in a pedigree, and the sum of the generations in which it appears is six, or less, that is inbreeding. And inbreeding, as this kid keeps saying, is the best way to produce outstanding racehorses.

But that's not the whole pedigree story for Duly Resolved. He has Valley Victory twice in his fourth generation, and Wall Street Banker in his third generation. Wall Street Banker is the poor brother of Valley Victory, but he is a full brother, which makes Duly Resolved 3 x 4 x 4 to the two full brothers. Again, being a confirmed pedant, I feel compelled to mention that when the sum of the two generations in which the same name appears is seven or eight, you have line breeding. Obviously, that rule also applies to full brothers.

There's even a little closer breeding in Duly Resolved's pedigree, since American Winner appears twice in his fourth generation. Which adds up to eight, which means Duly Resolved is also line bred to American Winner.

From his first crop, the only outstanding trotter Resolve has come up with so far is Duly Resolved. The message here is clear as a bell. He needs to be given back the best blood of his dam, i.e. being inbred to Muscles Yankee. That can only happen on a deliberate basis starting with the next breeding season, but in the meantime a smart buyer will grab any Resolve yearling who happens to have a close cross to Muscles Yankee on his or her dam's side.

Every breeder wants to know how to hit the jackpot. The answer is simple: breed close.

A final note about Duly Resolved, whose ears must be burning by now with all the attention he's gotten here. Unfortunately, or perhaps not, he's a gelding. I have no idea who owns his dam, let alone whom he's been breeding to. But if he ever comes up with a full sister to Duly Resolved, he should hang onto her with both hands, because she is not only a top racing prospect, she also has great potential as a broodmare.

Parenthetically, I find myself obsessively reading and rereading the collected sayings of Dr. Samuel Johnson. His biography, Boswell's Life of Johnson, was the first great biography, and it was required reading in our upper year at Andover. So much of what he said is still pertinent today.

As two quick examples; he said that "Marriages would in general be as happy, and often more so, if they were all made by the Lord Chancellor, upon a due consideration of characters and circumstances, without the parties having any choice in the matter."

Considering the high divorce rate of our present society, I couldn't agree more.

Again on the subject of marriage, he wisely said: "Marriage has many pains, but celibacy has no pleasures."

So, in closing, I recommend that when you are choosing reading material, choose Boswell's Life of Johnson, and when you're doing the matings for your mare, breed them as close as you can.

Indiana

Hedda Hopper a pleasant surprise for Joel Smith

The Tellitlikeitis filly failed to meet the reserve at the Illini Classic Sale last fall, but now sits ninth in her Indiana Sires Stakes division.

by James Platz

When Joel Smith agreed to break and train Hedda Hopper last fall, he had no expectations. But the veteran conditioner now finds himself with a competitive filly owned by a man he has yet to meet and sitting ninth in points heading into the last round of Indiana Sires Stakes competition. The 2-year-old pacer will attempt to secure her place among Super Final starters Wednesday (Oct. 6) at Harrah's Hoosier Park, competing in one of two $67,500 divisions.

"She's a very nice filly, not one of the top ones I'm sorry to say, but she's a very nice filly," said Smith of his charge. "I think she just keeps getting better. That's the best part of her. She's learning."

Hedda Hopper passed through the Illini Classic sale ring last fall cataloged as Hip 115 and with the name Light Show. Consigned by breeder Freedom Hill Farms, the Tellitlikeitis—Abriella filly failed to meet the reserve and did not sell. Freedom Hill's Jim Reynolds reached out to Smith to work with the filly, and the veteran horseman agreed to do just that.

"Jim sent the filly to me to break and train, and in the meantime, he had her online to sell. He called me after I had her about a week and said, 'I sold that filly,'" he explained. "I ended up keeping her for about a month or month and a half, just getting her broke, and then she went to Pinehurst for the winter."

New Hampshire resident Elliot Misshula purchased Hedda Hopper online, and when it was time to ship her to Pinehurst, he had a request for Smith. Dabbling for the first time with an Indiana-sired horse and with no local trainer, Misshula asked Smith if he would be willing to race her during the 2021 campaign. He agreed.

"I have talked to the guy several times on the phone, but I've never met him," Smith said. "He seems like a nice person. He's never had an Indiana bred, and he wanted to try one."

On the racetrack, Abriella showed a sophomore mark of 1:53.2 with less than $20,000 on her card. As a broodmare, the Bettors Delight mare has shown only one previous starter. So it comes as no surprise that buyers passed on her Tellitlikeitis foal. When she arrived back in Smith's barn in the spring, the reports from Pinehurst were not glowing.

"Training, they didn't think she was anything special down in Pinehurst. They said she'd go with everybody, but she never wanted to do anything on the front end," Smith said. "She was just okay when we got her. The more she went, the better she got."

In her first two pari-mutuel attempts, Hedda Hopper finished out of the money for driver Mike Oosting. However, in the opening round of sires stakes, the filly registered a fourth-place finish, pacing the mile in 1:54. Oosting has also steered her to a third-place effort in another sires stakes leg. Trace Tetrack, Hoosier Park's leading driver, has also sat behind the filly. Under his direction, Hedda Hopper has recorded two runner-up performances in ISS action and three victories in overnight competition. The latest triumph came Thursday (Sept. 30) in the $20,000 Nostromo final, with the freshman establishing a new seasonal mark of 1:52.3. She also has a beaten time of 1:51.4 to her credit.

"We keep changing her rigging a little bit and she's learning how to do it. She's getting more speed all the time. The biggest trouble I've been having is keeping a driver on her," said the trainer. "Trace has been getting along with her real well, but he's committed to Erv Miller and Brian Brown, and they have bigger stables than I do. Mike did real well with her when he drove her, so I've got no complaints with that either."

Oosting is listed to drive in Wednesday's 12th race. Hedda Hopper has drawn post six in a field of eight fillies. The contest is the second of two divisions that will decide the top point earners leading into the $270,000 Super Final, slated for October 15. Currently, the pacer has accumulated 75 points, one more than Ms Quick Sand and 20 more than 11th place Dancin Image. Indiana Sires Stakes victories are good for 51 points in the standings, with 26 points awarded for second and 13 for third. A strong showing and a little luck Wednesday would go a long way in guaranteeing a shot at the lucrative final.

"She's been competing with these fillies, just hasn't had real good luck in them. She got stuck on the front end once, been locked in a couple of times. Things haven't gone perfect for her, but I think she can go right with them," Smith said.

One of the biggest equipment changes Smith has made with the filly is moving to an open bridle. He said that Hedda Hopper loves to race horses and she has a good attitude, both key factors in a successful season that has yielded $68,295 to date.

"I think that has helped her quite a bit as far as being more aggressive that way. She likes to race horses. If she can see them coming, she'll race them, usually," said Smith. "She's got a good attitude about racing. I just like her attitude. She's a filly; she'll pin her ears and bite you and all sorts of good stuff like that. But she really likes to race, she likes to go out there and do it."

Lyons Sentinel shatters track record, wins Dayton Distaff Derby in 1:48.2

by Gregg Keidel / Hollywood Dayton Raceway

To virtually no one's surprise, Lyons Sentinel dominated her foes in the $175,000 Dayton Distaff Derby on Saturday (Oct. 2), lowering the Hollywood Dayton Raceway track record for mares to 1:48.2.

Driver Tim Tetrick got the winner away fourth, but rushed her to the lead just past the quarter mile mark. Rocknificent (Scott Zeron) had left alertly in the early going but yielded to Lyons Sentinel to secure a pocket ride behind the current No. 1 ranked horse in the Hambletonian Society/Breeders Crown poll. The result, however was the same as Rocknificent finished second for the sixth time in her last seven starts — five of those runner-up finishes to Lyons Sentinel. Miss You N (Dexter Dunn) raced creditably to finish third.

Threelyonsracing of Brantford, ON own the winning 4-year-old daughter of Captaintreacherous—Tutu Hanover, bred by Hanover Shoe Farms. She is trained by Jim King Jr., who also conditioned the last dominant distaff pacer in the sport — Shartin N.

Brad Conrad

For the first time in its eight-year history, the $175,000 Dayton Pacing Derby produced a local winner. Ocean Rock (Dan Noble) crushed a full field of North America's best pacers in 1:48.

Back Of The Neck wins Dayton Trotting Derby

Back Of The Neck (Ake Svanstedt) pulled a mild upset and broke the local track record for 4-year-old male trotters while winning the $175,000 Dayton Trotting Derby, nailing runner-up When Dovescry (David Miller) in the final stride of the 1:51.4 mile.

The lightly-raced son of Ready Cash triumphed for the second straight week after winning a top conditioned trot at The Meadowlands last week.

"This is a very good horse," said Svanstedt in the winner's circle. "When he's in his top form he can go with these top trotters."

It took every inch of the mile for Back Of The Neck to earn the victory by a nose over the pacesetter When Dovescry. Former Hambletonian winner Forbidden Trade (Bob McClure) nabbed the show dough in the stellar field that included four millionaires and combined earnings over $11 million.

It was the 11th career win for Back Of The Neck from just 28 lifetime starts. He is owned by Howard Taylor, the Order By Stable, J. Taylor, B. Cynwyd and Svanstedt. He was bred by the Order By Stable.

Pacing Derby produces first local winner – Ocean Rock

For the first time in its eight-year history, the $175,000 Dayton Pacing Derby produced a local winner. Driver Dan Noble and Ocean Rock crushed a full field of North America's best pacers in 1:48, over three lengths better than Nicholas Beach (Joe Bongiorno) and This Is The Plan (Yannick Gingras). The 4-year-old son of Rockin Amadeus, who now owns an impressive four-race win streak, has now banked $385,385 this season and over $900,000 lifetime for owner Sandra Burnett.

"This horse has taken us on such a great ride," said trainer Christi Noble, Dan's wife, while holding their infant son Nash in the winner's circle. "We made a bridle change this week and it seemed to help," Dan said.

When informed the 1:48 clocking was just one-fifth of a second

Brad Conrad

Lyons Sentinel (Tim Tetrick) lowered the Hollywood Dayton Raceway track record for mares to 1:48.2 while winning the $175,000 Dayton Distaff Derby.

off the all-time, all-age Hollywood Dayton track standard, Dan said, "He had quite a bit left in the tank at the finish!"

Dan was content to get away third in the early going, but confidently rushed Ocean Rock to the front as the field flashed by the stands the first time on the five-eighths mile oval. Despite the noteworthy credentials of the field, Ocean Rock never experienced an anxious moment and cruised under the wire to the delight of an enthusiastic local crowd.

The handle on the 14-race Dayton Derby program was $697,053, second largest in the track's brief existence.

Stallions' progeny shine in Ohio Sires Stakes consolations

by Kimberly Rinker / OSDF Administrator

Eight $75,000 Ohio Sires Stakes (OHSS) consolations for 2- and 3-year-old state-bred youngsters were contested on Saturday's card at Hollywood Dayton Raceway. A total of 15 Ohio-registered, diagonally gaited stallions were represented in four OHSS trotting events, while 14 stallions of side-wheeling genetics had progeny who competed in four pacing events.

The ill-fated trotting stallion Cash Hall, who passed away in 2019 and had been standing at Cool Winds Farm in Lima, Ohio, at the time of his death, was represented by two foals, both of whom won their respective divisions – Street Gossip in the 3-year-old colt trot, and Cash N Chips in the 3-year-old filly trot. Street Gossip is out of the Yankee Glide mare The Young Princess and is conditioned by Virgil Morgan, Jr. for Carl Howard and the Jesmeral Stable. This winner of $280,638 was bred by Morrisville College and was driving to his OSS triumph in wire-to-wire fashion with Brett Miller at the lines in 1:54.2 as the race favorite. Cash N Chips was clocked in 1:55.1 for driver Hunter Myers as the 6-5 public's choice for trainer Steven Bush who co-owns her with Alvira Fassett. This filly is out of the Chip Chip Hooray mare Sugar N Chips and was bred by Walnut Hall Limited and Birnam Woods Farm. She now has $132,981 in career earnings.

Creatine, a trotting stallion standing at Sugar Valley Farm in Delaware, OH, saw his 2-year-old daughter Purple Aura from his first crop of youngsters capture the OHSS consolation for freshman trotting fillies in 1:56.2, a new track record. Driven by Anthony Macdonald for trainer Jason McGinnis and owners Thestable Purple Aura and Hutchison Harness, Purple Aura upped her earnings to $84,879 with this triumph, the sixth of her career in 11 starts. Bred by Steiner Stock Farm, Purple Aura is out of the Dejarbro mare Purple Sona.

The trotting stallion What The Hill, who stands at Hickory Lane Farm in Findlay, OH and saw his first crop compete this season, had his son What The Blaze score a resounding 1:57.2 triumph in the OHSS consolation for 2-year-old trotting colts. Driven by Danny Noble for trainer Christi Noble and owner-breeder Sandra Burnett, this flashy bay colt is out of the Pilgrim's Taj mare Evanora. This victory was the first of his career in seven starts and pushed his lifetime earnings to $66,400.

First crop pacing sire Downbytheseaside, who was represented by more foals than any other stallion in these OHSS consolations (seven) and who stands at Sugar Valley Farm in Delaware, OH, had a winner in Fantasy Life, the 9-5 choice in the 2-year-old filly pace. She was driven by Danny Noble for trainer Ron Burke, was timed in a career best 1:52.3 as she notched her fifth lifetime win in nine starts, pushing her bankroll to $77,700. Bred by Billy Walters and Joe McLead, Fantasy Life is out of the Camluck mare Tea Time, and is owned by Burke Racing, Weaver Brussemi, J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby, and Beastly LLC.

Well Said, another Sugar Valley Farm pacing stallion, whose oldest foals are three this season, had a winner in Velocity Chaps, a 3-year-old son out of the Art's Chip mare Velocity Chiplet. Owned and bred by Velocity Standardbreds and trained by Mark Evers, Velocity Chaps was clocked in 1:52.2—a new track record—with Josh Sutton driving. Unraced at 2, this bay colt now has $76,757 in lifetime earnings.

Well Said had another winner with his daughter, the 3-year-old pacing filly Wall Said, who was driven to victory in 1:53 by Tim Tetrick for trainer Mike Sweeney in the sophomore pacing filly consolation. Wall Said, who is out of the Blissful Hall mare Ashland Blue, and was bred by Spring Haven Farm, upped her career earnings to $94,800 for owners and breeders Wall Brothers Stables, P. Sweeney, R. Miller and J. Miller.

Charley Barley, the 2006 Breeders Crown freshmen pacing colt champion, stands at Ohio State's ATI facility in Wooster, and bred his first crop of mares in Ohio in 2012. His son Sir Charles Of Sky, a 3-year-old gelding, captured the consolation for sophomore colts in a wicked 1:51.4 for driver Chris Page and trainer Ron Burke. Owned by Burke Racing and Weaver Brussemi, Sir Charles Of Sky is out of the Western Ideal mare Skyway Hanover. He was bred by Tommy Householder and now has $103,251 in career earnings.

Brad Conrad

Back Of The Neck (Ake Svanstedt) pulled a mild upset and broke the local track record for 4-year-old male trotters while winning the $175,000 Dayton Trotting Derby, nailing runner-up When Dovescry (David Miller) in the final stride of the 1:51.4 mile.

Bluegrass underway at Red Mile

A plethora of divisions were contested Friday and Saturday.

by Ray Cotolo for the Red Mile

A wicked tempo set by Missy Trix laid the groundwork for 1-2 favorite Date Night to lunge into the collapsing pace and power through to finish a 1:50.4 mile in the second of five divisions for the $390,000 Norman Woolworth Bluegrass 2-Year-Old Filly Trot on Saturday (Oct. 2) at the Red Mile.

Missy Trix motored from the pylon post to an open lead with Pauline Hanover settling into second and Delilah Hanover into third approaching a :27 first quarter. Date Night raced fifth as the field strung out up the backstretch to a :54 half, where driver Andy Miller made his move with Bar Hopping filly.

Date Night procured cover from Delilah Hanover into the final turn as that pair aligned second and first, respectively, to three-quarters in 1:22.4. Delilah Hanover turned for home veering from the pylons before going into a gallop and leaving Date Night alone on the lead. Through the stretch, the Julie Miller trainee showed no signs of tiring as she slid past the beam to miss the world record for a freshman trotting filly, set in 2014 over the red clay by Mission Brief, by a fifth of a second. Ebbies Lady gave chase in second, beaten 8-3/4 lengths, while Delilah Hanover settled for third and A Perfect Helen took fourth.

Amanda Stephens

Date Night (Andy Miller) remain undefeated in six starts after winning her Bluegrass test for 2-year-old trotting fillies on Saturday at the Red Mile in 1:50.4.

With the win, Date Night remains undefeated from six starts while collecting $104,200 for owner/breeders Marvin Katz and Sam Goldband. She paid $3 to win.

Jiggy Jog S strolled to victory in the first division of the Norman Woolworth, stopping the clock going away in 1:52.2.

Second choice Mon Cheval bucked and reared behind the gate when breaking stride, leaving Je Suis Si Belle to grab the lead from Jiggy Jog S to the first turn. Past the quarter in :29, Je Suis Si Belle hustled up the backstretch with the field single file behind her to a :56.4 half, where Mon Cheval caught the field and ventured overland to recoup ground to the final turn.

Mon Cheval marched closer towards the top, but began to stall as Jiggy Jog S readied to pop pocket past three-quarters in 1:25.1. With racetrack ahead off the corner, Jiggy Jog S jetted by Je Suis Si Belle and passed the line under wraps 3-1/4 lengths in front. Wallabee gave chase from third while Mrs Taylor took fourth and Mon Cheval faltered to last of the six.

Off the 3-5 favorite, Jiggy Jog S returned $3.20 to win when collecting her second victory in her seventh start. The daughter of Walner, driven by Yannick Gingras for trainer Ake Svanstedt, has accrued $106,068 in earnings for owner Jorgen Sparredal Inc.

Raised By Lindy rolled to the top off the final turn and strode under wraps to a 1:52.1 victory in the third division of the Norman Woolworth.

Driver Yannick Gingras floated Raised By Lindy to race fifth off the car while Baptism took the lead to a :27.3 first quarter with Danznqueen Hanover ranging uncovered for the front. Danznqueen Hanover assumed the lead into the backstretch before Baptism circled back to the front from the pocket to a :55.4 half as Raised By Lindy flushed cover from Adore Me to the far turn.

Adore Me advanced slightly uncovered to three-quarters in 1:24.4 but raced one-pace into the stretch as Gingras gave Raised By Lindy her cue. The Domenico Cecere-trained Walner filly stormed by Baptism in the straightaway and expanded her lead with each stride as Danznqueen Hanover overtook second from Baptism, beaten 6-3/4 lengths. Adore Me held fourth.

"I didn't know the filly. I let Brian [Sears and Joviality S] go pretty easy there at Hoosier just hoping to be second at that point," Gingras said after the race of his first drive behind Raised By Lindy, which came in the $200,000 Kentuckiana Stakes. "The filly didn't have a good week last week – I knew that going in. But she was super. I really liked her and I put a scare to [Joviality S] and I knew today she'd be really good. She could've been on the front I think and won as well, but anytime you can get a nice second-over trip we'll take it."

A homebred for the Lindy Farms Of Connecticut, Raised By Lindy won her third race from seven starts, earning $103,618. She paid $4.20 to win.

Palermo Hanover pulled a 39-1 shock capitalizing off the break of 1-9 favorite Misswalner Fashion to take the fourth Norman Woolworth split in 1:55.

Misswalner Fashion secured an uncontested lead to a first quarter of :30.1, which proved tepid enough to lure Eternal Lee off the pegs from third and blitz for the lead. Her acceleration up the backside proved too strong for Misswalner Fashion, who lost stride before a :57.3.

Eternal Lee steadied the tempo to the final turn as Ryder In The Sky got underway overland out of fourth. By three-quarters in 1:27.1, Ryder In The Sky rushed close to the leader but gave way as the pair from the backfield began to lift over the top. Palermo Hanover came closing quickest of all and held off Pioneer As, the longest shot on the board at 64-1, to win by 1-1/4 lengths. Eternal Lee settled for third with Cash Machine Girl taking fourth.

Returning $81.40 to win, Palermo Hanover nabbed her first victory from eight starts, earning $68,008 for trainer Noel Daley and co-owners Lenny Zelin and The Gandolfo Stables. Dexter Dunn sat behind the daughter of Father Patrick.

Lilbitalexis bolted through traffic to win the final division of the Norman Woolworth drawing away in a 1:52.4 mile.

Taking the lead through a :29.1 first quarter, Lilbitalexis found herself shuffled past a :56 half as Behindblueyes grabbed the lead before Brickhouse Babe brushed to the top into the final turn. American Beauty was left uncovered in pursuit of Brickhouse Babe to three-quarters in 1:24.4 and faltered into the stretch with the backfield fanning across the track. Room opened with Brickhouse Babe drifting and Behindblueyes to the pylons for Lilbitalexis to charge through and to the lead in midstretch. From there, the Walner filly coasted to a 5-3/4-length victory over Brickhouse Babe. Peyton Hanover closed for third along with Bold And Beautiful for fourth.

Trained by Richard "Nifty" Norman for owners Pinske Stables and David Hoese, Lilbitalexis won her sixth race from seven starts, earning $114,300. Dexter Dunn piloted the $2.40 winner.

Each division of the Norman Woolworth Bluegrass 2-Year-Old Filly Trot was sponsored by Arden Homestead Stable, Elbridge & Peter Gerry, Stoner Manor & Menhammar Stuteri AB, Jorgen Jahre Jr., William DeVan, Lawrence DeVan and LST Stables.

On the same Saturday card, Early Action took the lead early, yielded control to Pebble Beach and tracked every move of that 3-5 choice before upending him in the final strides to win the second of three splits for the $330,000 Stay Hungry Bluegrass 2-Year-Old Colt & Gelding Pace.

Leading to a :28.1 first quarter, Early Action let Pebble Beach brush by to the point into the backstretch and stayed put as River Ness advanced first over into a :55.3 half. Pebble Beach continued on the lead under minimal pressure to three-quarters in 1:23.2 before Early Action began to threaten off the turn. With each stride, Early Action cut into Pebble Beach's advantage until the Hunstville gelding eventually edged by just before the line to win by a head in 1:49.4. River Ness held third with Lous Sassin finishing fourth.

"[Brian Sears] does a great job," winning trainer Joe Holloway said after the race. "He also has the ability to – once he left with him – to get him to relax in the two hole. He doesn't need my advice. [Early Action] has improved. Unfortunately, we had to geld him, but after that the horse came around. He wasn't paying attention to business. I'm not a big fan of gelding, never really had it work out too well. I've had two in my career and this is the second one. He's a high speed horse and he's coming along."

A winner in six races from eight starts, Early Action has earned $124,408 for owners Val D'Or Farms and Ted Gewertz. Brian Sears piloted the $10.40 winner.

Longshot Nautical Hanover blew up the tote board and cracked the unbeaten streak of 1-5 favorite Gulf Shores when landing a 46-1 upset in the opening division of the Stay Hungry.

Danger Zone zipped off the wings from the pylon post to lead Loukes Perry into the first turn while Gulf Shores, who bobbed slightly behind the gate, floated to race sixth. By the first quarter in :27.1, Danger Zone kept the clip hot to a :55.1 half as Gulf Shores attempted to flush cover from the back, securing a third-over position when Nautical Hanover committed to race uncovered to the turn.

Nautical Hanover made steady gains on his pacesetting stablemate to three-quarters in 1:23.3 and promptly took over the lead straightening for the finish. Gulf Shores shot off cover and charged after Nautical Hanover coming to the final eighth, but could not overpower the late leader who hit the beam a half-length better in a 1:51 mile. Seaside Way rallied for third and Last Beach finished fourth.

"He raced great up in Canada in the Metro; he just got interfered with," co-owner Brad Grant said after the race. "We might've been third or fourth, so I was kind of surprised. Unfortunately I didn't get here in time [to bet him] – they were just going behind the gate when we walked in. So I'll take the purse."

In his maiden-breaking score, Nautical Hanover produced a $95.80 mutuel when making his 10th start while pushing his bankroll to $101,764 for owners Brad Grant, VJ Stable, Jablonsky Held Stable and In The Gym Partners. Tony Alagna conditions the Captaintreacherous colt and Todd McCarthy sat in the sulky.

Amanda Stephens

Branded By Lindy (Yannick Gingras, wearing Lindy colors) won his Bluegrass test for freshmen trotting colts on Friday at the Red Mile in 1:52.

The final Stay Hungry division went the way of JM's Finaltreasure, who launched from the pocket to win in 1:50.4.

Securing the lead to a :27.1 first quarter, JM's Finaltreasure settled for the pocket up the backside as Wearinmysixshooter came rolling first over for the front. Wearinmysixshooter then led the field to a :55.1 half as an antsy Rose Run Xplosion blew off the pegs and rushed to the pacesetter around the final turn. However Rose Run Xplosion's uncovered bid was brief and he began to back through the field to three-quarters in 1:23.1.

As the backfield circumvented the tiring horse, JM's Finaltreasure had enough room to swing from the pocket and dash by a tiring Wearinmysixshooter through the lane to win by a widening two lengths. Captain Cowboy scooted up the inside for second, but a pylon violation in his rally disqualified him to fifth. PJ Lou assumed second, Atlas Hanover took third and Wearinmysixshooter finished fourth.

JM's Finaltreasure won his fourth race from 10 starts, earning $205,063 for owners Burke Racing Stable & Weaver Brusceci, J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby and Phil Collura. The gelded Sweet Lou half-brother to Captaintreacherous had Yannick Gingras in the sulky for trainer Ron Burke and paid $5.20 to win.

Each division of the Stay Hungry Bluegrass 2-Year-Old Colt & Gelding Pace was sponsored by the Stay Hungry Syndicate and Hanover Shoe Farms.

Friday's Bluegrass action

Ohio champion Sea Silk brought her talents out of her native state to the Red Mile on Friday (Oct. 1), where the Ron Burke pupil punched her unbeaten card with a ninth victory when taking the second of two divisions of the $289,000 McWicked Bluegrass 2-Year-Old Filly Pace.

Leaving from post 6, driver Chris Page pointed Sea Silk to the top, putting Dont Fence Me In into the pocket heading to a :27.2 first quarter. She faced no challenge up the backside while Mermaid By The Sea, after breaking at the start, ground first over through a :55.3 half to apply pressure to the pacesetter around the final turn. Her uncovered bid promptly folded off three-quarters in 1:24.1, leaving Sea Silk with a pair of late challengers to deter.

Yes And Yes kicked off a second-over trip into the stretch and came surging for the front as Sea Silk began to drift off the pegs, creating an opening for Dont Fence Me In. Sea Silk battled from between the stubborn challengers to the finish and kept the pair at bay to win in 1:50.3 by a length. Dont Fence Me In settled for second with Yes And Yes finishing third and Treacherous Kiss checked in fourth another three lengths behind.

"The only quirk she has is she'll get a little lopey gaited and looks like she's got a problem, but as soon as you turn her and send her in the right direction and get her pacing, she just takes off," said Mickey Burke Jr., assistant and brother of trainer Ron Burke, after the race. "She's been just pacing from the start and going forward. [She] couldn't be a nicer horse to deal with."

The daughter of Downbytheseaside has now accrued $451,092 from her nine starts for owners Burke Racing Stable & Weaver Brusceci, Knox Services and Hatfield Stables. She paid $2.40 to win.

Boudoir Hanover shut the door on 1-2 favorite Lyons Serenity when speeding clear to a 1:49.4 score in the first division of the McWicked.

Driver Dexter Dunn dashed the daughter of Captaintreacherous to the point from post 6 moving to a :28 first quarter. Lyons Serenity sat fourth in the stroll up the backside towards a :55.2 half before getting underway uncovered to the final turn. But Lyons Serenity's first-over crawl faced no match to Boudoir Hanover around the final turn as the Tony Alagna trainee widened her advantage to three-quarters in 1:23.2 and expanded her lead through the straightaway sprint to finish 3-1/2 lengths in front at the beam. Galleria Hanover rode the pylons to snag third with A Girl That Twirls rallying from second over to take fourth.

Owned by Riverview Racing, Alagna Racing, Caviart Farms, Daniel Plouffe and Steven Head, Boudoir Hanover won her second race from nine starts, earning $178,634. She paid $5 to win.

Each division of the McWicked Bluegrass 2-Year-Old Filly Pace was sponsored by The McWicked Syndicate and Winbak Farm.

On the same Friday card, Kentucky Commonwealth champ Branded By Lindy made a graceful move into open stakes company on Friday (Oct. 1) at The Red Mile when taking the top early and cruising to a 1:52 win in the second of five divisions for the $356,000 Bluegrass 2-Year-Old Colt and Gelding Trot.

Sent the 4-5 favorite, the son of Chapter Seven secured the lead past a :29 first quarter and cruised uncontested through middle fractions of :57.1 and 1:25. Temporal Hanover made minor first-over gains around the final turn but stalled off the corner as Branded By Lindy bolted to the finish with a :27 final quarter to win by 2-1/2 lengths over pocket-sitter Rose Run Xtra. Rebuff rallied from traffic troubles down the center of the track for third while Temporal Hanover held fourth.

"He always showed he had a lot of speed, and as we started going on we were going through some gait issues and clearing them up," winning trainer Domenico Cecere said after the race of the colt's progression. "We took our time, and we knew when we came to The Red Mile he would change a lot. We started to clean him up, clean him up and are very impressed in how gentlemanly he is now. And now he finally, he looks almost to me 100 percent."

A homebred for Lindy Farms of Connecticut, Branded By Lindy collected his sixth victory from eight starts, earning $115,850. Yannick Gingras piloted the $3.60 winner.

Driver Mattias Melander kept Periculum flat around the track to nail 4-5 favorite World At War Deo in the opening division.

World At War Deo pressed for the lead past a :27.3 first quarter to pocket B A Superhero into the backstretch. Majestic J sat third while Periculum, wide around the first turn, settled to the pylons in fourth as the field marched single file to a :56.1 half.

Majestic J crept out of third rounding the final turn as World At War Deo attempted to quicken the tempo to three-quarters in 1:25. Off the turn, Majestic J ducked back to the inside while B A Superhero ranged out of the pocket and Periculum gathered momentum to the center of the course. The Marcus Melander trainee came charging into the final eighth after a leg-weary World At War Deo to get up in time to win by a half-length in 1:53.1. B A Superhero finished between the top two in third with Majestic J checking in fourth.

Winning his second race from eight starts, Periculum has banked $67,406 for owners Holly Lane Stud East, Brixton Medical Ab and Howard Taylor. The Muscle Hill colt returned $8 to win.

Gigondas towered three wide off a stalking trip in the third division to win in 1:53.4.

With 8-5 favorite Testing Testing losing stride before the start, Global Pandemic overcame a couple bad steps at the start to land on the lead to a :28.1 first quarter. Keg Stand sat second into the backstretch with Gigondas sitting third and Chulo racing parked as the leader trotted to the half in :57.

Global Pandemic maintained command around the final turn while Keg Stand slowly emerged out of the pocket with Gigondas sitting on his helmet to three-quarters in 1:25.4. The three rolled into the stretch spread across the track, with Global Pandemic folding to Keg Stand before Gigondas strolled alongside the late leader in the final strides and landed a head in front at the beam to win. Ken's Walner finished fourth.

Trained by Tony Alagna, Gigondas won his second race from seven starts, earning $79,000 for owner Brad Grant. Andrew McCarthy piloted the Trixton colt who paid $11 to win.

McCarthy and Alagna then teamed to slay even-money favorite Double Deceiver when the aptly named Slay stormed to the lead late to win the fourth division in 1:52.4.

Letsdoit S led the field after a :28.4 first quarter with pylon-starter Golden Wall As sitting the pocket. Double Deceiver raced fifth in a tepid tempo, prompting driver David Miller to blitz Letsdoit S for the lead to a :57.4 half and clear control before the final turn.

Double Deceiver opened enough ground on a lagging Letsdoit S to allow Slay, who tracked his backstretch move, to tuck into the pocket rounding the final turn as the favorite strode to three-quarters in 1:25. In the stretch, Double Deceiver raced extended to the inside while Slay surged from the pocket with fresh legs to edge to the lead in the final sixteenth and win by 1-1/2 lengths. Letsdoit S re-rallied between horses to take third with Golden Wall As taking fourth.

Making his third start, Slay scored his second victory and pushed his bankroll to $39,506 for owners Crawford Farms Racing and James Crawford IV. The Chapter Seven colt paid $8 to win.

The final division also went to the hands of Andrew McCarthy, who this time teamed with trainer Jim Campbell to collect a 1:53.1 victory.

Classic Hill cleared command past a :28.4 first quarter as McCarthy pulled Stride The Hill off the pegs. He brushed to the top through the backstretch tracked by 8-5 favorite Looks Like Moni, who then assumed command by a :56.2 half. Looks Like Moni held the lead to three-quarters in 1:25 before breaking stride at the bottom of the turn. That left Stride The Hill on the point through the lane, and the Muscle Hill colt maintained the helm with ease to win over Classic Hill. El Toro Loco gave chase in third while Fast As The Wind took fourth.

"He was a colt training down that was smarter than I was," Campbell said after the race. "He knew it didn't count training, so we were forced to kind of take our time with him. First time he went behind the gate, he was a totally different horse and he's been nothing but an improvement every start. Andy [McCarthy] asked me before the race 'How is he?' and I said you can race him any way you want. He's always giving us a good kick finishing. I wasn't surprised when Andy moved him [before the half]."

Stride The Hill broke his maiden with the win, his seventh start overall. Fashion Farms LLC owns the winner of $58,850 who paid $6.40 to win.

The first, third and fifth divisions of the Bluegrass 2-Year-Old

Colt & Gelding Trot on Friday were contested as "The Muscle Hill", sponsored by Southwind Farms. The second and fourth divisions were named "The Walner" and sponsored by the Walner Syndicate.

Racing resumes at The Red Mile today (Oct. 3) with a total of nine stakes events spread through the $253,000 Captaintreacherous Bluegrass 3-Year-Old Colt & Gelding Pace, $208,000 Greenshoe Bluegrass 3-Year-Old Colt & Gelding Trot, $223,600 Bar Hopping Bluegrass 3-Year-Old Filly Trot and $150,000 Papi Rob Hanover Bluegrass 3-Year-Old Filly Pace. On the betting front, today's card will feature a $40,000 guaranteed pool for the Pick 5, spurred by an $8,282.07 carryover on the Saturday card. The Pick 5 encompasses Races 2-6 and carries a 50-cent minimum.

First-race post time at the Red Mile is 1 p.m. (EDT).

OSS Grassroots Semi-Finals in the books

by Sandra Snyder / OSS publicity

The curtain went up on the Ontario Sires Stakes post season Thursday evening (Sept. 30), as the top 2-year-old trotters and pacers from the Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Grassroots program gathered at Woodbine Mohawk Park for eight $20,000 Semi-Finals.

Two-year-old filly trot

Favorite Lovin Julie made an impressive recovery from an error behind the starting gate to take the first 2-year-old trotting filly Semi-Final. Louis-Philippe Roy of Guelph, ON guided the Muscle Mass daughter to a neck victory over Da Royal Miracle, who recovered from her own miscue, and Global News in a 1:59.4 clocking. Angelonia and Muscle Up The Gold also advanced to the Oct. 9 Grassroots Championship. (replay here: Lovin Julie)

"I think I had about six heart attacks. If that doesn't get you going, nothing does," said trainer Tony O'Sullivan. "That's pretty impressive to do that and reset quickly and then keep her head on straight. I think it was a fluke; she really is a beautiful filly that trots flawlessly and drives flawlessly."

"I know she made a break at Flamboro (Sept. 13) and Grand River (July 28), but that's because she can't get around the turns properly. Tonight, it's not like her to do that. She was a little keyed up warming up and I think when the gate picked up speed she just kind of got off on the wrong foot."

The Cambridge, ON resident trains Lovin Julie for Andy Miller Stable Inc. of Millstone Township, NJ, Caroll Huffman of Sigourney, IA and Louis Willinger of Louisville, KY.

Fan favorites Portofino and Paul MacDonell of Guelph delivered in the second trotting filly Semi-Final, cruising along on the front end to a two-and-a-half length victory in a personal best 1:56.2. Division point leader Moneyworth finished second and Clockwork Orange, Classic Magic and Allisonann Hanover also secured a spot in next Saturday's championship. (replay here: Portofino)

"That's a big mile for her tonight. Any time you drop three seconds in a race from your previous, whether it be at Flamboro or not, it's quite an accomplishment in your fourth lifetime start," said Ken Sucee, who trains the Wheeling N Dealin daughter for 2790884 Ontario Inc. of Oshawa, ON. "So we're looking forward to a week Saturday. We're having a lot of fun, whatever she does is a bonus."

Two-year-old colt trot

Armstead Cole left smartly from Post 6 and led the first field of 2-year-old trotting colt semi-finalists to a :28.3 quarter before yielding to Lexus Ranger. Content to follow the favorite through a :59 half and 1:30 three-quarters, driver Randy Waples of Milton, ON waited until the stretch to tip out from behind Lexus Ranger and send Armstead Cole after the win. The Johnny William gelding hit the wire in a personal best 1:57.4, one-half length ahead of a charging HP Maestro and Lexus Ranger. Sea Can and CM Savewill GL also advanced to the $60,000 Grassroots Championship. (replay here: Armstead Cole)

"Randy (Waples) helps us with track work in the morning, so it only seemed fitting for Randy to accompany 'Cole' to the races," said trainer Chantal Mitchell, noting that she and her team spent months getting the quirky gelding used to being on the racetrack with other horses after he spent the winter training solo at co-owner James "Donnie" Armitage's Dunrobin, ON farm. "He's really done a great job keeping him calm and bringing him to this point."

The Waterdown resident trains Armstead Cole for James "Donnie" Armitage and his father, Dr. Roland Armitage, of Dunrobin, Grant Watson of Ottawa and Sheryl McDiarmid of Greely, ON.

In the second trotting colt Semi-Final favorite Archery Seelster, in rein to Louis-Philippe Roy, romped to a five and one-quarter length victory in a personal best 1:56.1. Royal Champagne closed hard for second and Stonebridge Zeus, Marvin Hagler and Renegade Gypsy rounded out the Championship field. (replay here: Archery Seelster)

"He raced some good. That's what I thought he could do too, but he hadn't done it," said trainer Marcel Barrieau of the division point leader. "It's a good sign."

Cambridge, ON resident Barrieau trains and co-owns the Wheeling N Dealin son with Gestion Mastel Inc. of Longueil, QC.

Two-year-old pacing filly

Winx led the charge up the outer lane and held off the favorites in the stretch to capture the first 2-year-old pacing filly Semi-Final in a personal best 1:52.4. Division point leader Dewitt For Josie squeaked through for second and favorite Delight Bayama was third. Less than a length separated the top trio. Speaker Nancy and pacesetter Better Catch Girl also earned a berth in the Grassroots Championship. (replay here: Winx)

"We really liked her in the spring, but she had a few minor health issues in the summer. We've worked on them and she continues to get stronger," said trainer Michiel Vanderkemp of the Sportswriter daughter. "She's slick gaited and seems to be able to race from anywhere."

Trevor Henry of Arthur engineered the win for Vanderkemp and owner Dianna Secord of Fergus, ON.

Favorite In The Mood, with James MacDonald of Guelph in the race bike, got a neck in front in the final strides of the second pacing filly Semi-Final, besting Ribbon Ridge and Day To Party with a personal best 1:53.4. Girl Scout Cookie and Crème Delight rounded out the qualifiers for next Saturday's Grassroots Championship. (replay here: In The Mood)

"She's a real intelligent filly that is able to do great things because of her versatility," said trainer Shawn Steacy. "She is so smart out there, it allows James (MacDonald) to use her when needed."

The Brantford resident trains the Sunshine Beach filly for his mother, Katherine Steacy of Lansdowne, ON, and breeder Hudson Standardbred Stable Inc. of Hudson, QC.

Two-year-old pacing colt

Dynomites Peak and driver Bob McClure of Rockwood, ON extended their Grassroots win streak to four in the first 2-year-old pacing colt Semi-Final, circling pacesetter Twin B Jammer in the stretch to record the 1:52.4 victory. Twin B Jammer stayed game for second, one and three-quarter lengths behind the favorite, and Century Iglesias rounded out the top three. Sports Advisor and Nassau Hanover also secured a spot in the Grassroots Championship. (replay here: Dynomites Peak)

"That was the most beautiful drive. He left a little bit on his own accord tonight, he got away fourth, and then he (McClure) just kind of took his time because he knew he was going to have to come first up. We got a little bit lucky that horse (Juju Hanover) run, and he just ducked him in and he waited until the last eighth. Hopefully he saved as much as you could for the Final,” said trainer Robbie Robinson of Metcalfe, ON. “We’ve got one more week left and hopefully we have good luck again.”

Robinson trains the Artspeak son for his wife Jacqueline Dinelle of Metcalfe and her co-owners Paul Smyth of Metcalfe and Earl Casselman of Winchester, ON.

Doug McNair and Sports Fan wiggled up the rail in the last Semi-Final of the night, snatching a 1:53.1 victory away from favorite Macho Phil. Icey Shadow, Fox Valley Carlin and Cold Creek Queso also advanced to the Oct. 9 two-year-old pacing colt Championship. (replay here: Sports Fan)

“He’s been a nice little horse that has really picked it up the last part of the season,” said trainer Blake MacIntosh, who reached his 1,000th career victory with Sports Fan’s win. “It’s pretty special to get win number 1,000 on him, because he’s a homebred and we raced his mom.”

MacIntosh’s wife Leanne Murphy of St. George bred and co-owns the son of Sportswriter and My Ideal with Stuart McIntosh of Essex, ON.

Favorites were on form in sophomore Grassroots Semi-Finals

Woodbine Mohawk Park turned the spotlight onto the top 3-year-olds in the Grassroots program on Friday (Oct. 1), with the trotters and pacers battling for a top five finish in eight $20,000 Semi-Finals.

Three-year-old filly trot Midnight Miracle kicked things off in the first 3-year-old trotting filly Semi-Final, doing most of the work up front and then battling down the stretch to hold off Tealicious by a neck in 1:56.2. Division point leader Topsy In Dixie was one and one-quarter lengths back in third, and Hope So and A Blue Blood also moved on to next Saturday’s Grassroots Championship. (replay here: Midnight Miracle)

“She’s been racing okay. She had a good go in a couple Grand Circuit races there, we were happy,” said trainer Mark Etsell. “She just seems to get stalled at 1:55. She doesn’t seem to go 1:54.4, whether it’s a half-mile or a five-eighths or a big track. Hopefully that will change, but she’s been feeling good and racing good.”

The Rockwood resident trains the Muscle Mass filly for his co-owner/breeders Robert Newton of Walkerton and Chuan Tan of Cambridge, ON. Rockwood resident Bob McClure piloted fan favorite Midnight Miracle to her third win of the season.

Favorite P L Opportunity and driver Trevor Henry of Arthur, ON used come-from-behind tactics to claim the lion’s share of the $20,000 prize in the second trotting filly Semi-Final. The Kadabra daughter stopped the teletimer at 1:54.4, reeling in pacesetter I Da Princess in the final strides. Stonebridge Strong closed for third and P L Olivia and Rubys Are Nice completed the field for the $60,000 Grassroots Championship. (replay here: P L Opportunity)

Matt Dupuis owns and trains the Kadabra daughter and had high praise for Henry, who kept the filly steady when she threatened to go offstride in the stretch.

“The mare is 50 per cent credit and he gets 50 per cent credit. I get zero. If it wasn’t for Trevor (Henry), I wouldn’t even be talking to you, because she almost run a couple of times there,” said the Rockwood, ON resident. “He does an amazing job, he doesn’t get excited or nothing, whether it’s a one dollar race or one million dollar race, it doesn’t matter to him.”

Three-year-old filly pace

Saulsbrook Olympia and driver Brett MacDonald of Freelon, ON got their favorite following trip in the first 3-year-old pacing filly Semi-Final and converted it into a one-half length victory in 1:52.3. Shes Got It All provided the windbreak for Saulsbrook Olympia and battled into second spot, with favorite Voluptuous also closing hard for third. Reigning division champion Cyclone Sister finished fourth and Carsons Gouda rounded out the Championship qualifiers. (replay here: Saulsbrook Olympia)

“It was great. It worked out perfect again,” said trainer Brian Lee of Orangeville, ON, noting that the Ontario Sires Stakes post season win was a milestone for MacDonald. “I was pretty happy for Brett too. He drove her great all year, and if it wasn’t for the drive he gave her in the final of the Kin Pace (July 4) she probably wouldn’t have won that day. He gets along with her real well.

“We’ve just got to keep her healthy for one more week and see what happens. Hopefully we draw good, and she stays healthy and races well next week.”

Lee trains the Big Jim daughter for Saulsbrook Stables Inc. of Windsor, NS and Edward Gorc of Sudbury, ON.

Favorite Game Of Shadows also got a second-over trip in the other pacing filly contest and sprinted away from the field to a three and three-quarter length victory in 1:52.2. Village Jade finished second and Andra Day was two more lengths back in third. Alumni Seelster and Beach Moment were the final qualifiers for the $60,000 Grassroots Championship. Driver Louis-Philippe Roy of Guelph shares ownership of Game Of Shadows with 1876472 Ontario Inc. of Guelph, ON, Michel Letarte of Boucherville and Jean Allaire of Montreal, QC. Puslinch, ON resident Richard Moreau trains the Shadow Play daughter.

Three-year-old colt trot Division point leaders Sweet Soul David and Louis-Philippe Roy made winning look easy in the first 3-year-old trotting colt Semi-Final. The fan favorites took command before the half and cruised home two lengths the best in 1:55.3. Aworldly Goodtimes and Arlanda closed hard to be second and third, while Urntrouble Hanover made a quick recovery from a break at the top of the stretch to be fourth. Stonebridge Armour also advanced to the championship round. (replay here: Sweet Soul David)

Roy steers the Kadabra gelding for trainer Patrick Lang of Ancaster, Simon Swindells of Little Britain, Garth Bechtel of Meaford and Paul Kleinpaste of Orangeville, ON.

The Prince and driver Paul MacDonell of Guelph extended their Grassroots record to three wins in three starts with a 1:54.3 victory in the second trotting colt Semi-Final. Pacesetter Mystic settled for second behind the favorite, and reigning champ Four Wheelin was third. Tokyo Seelster and Walkonthemoon will also line up behind the gate in the Oct. 9 Grassroots Championship. (replay here: The Prince)

"He's just a fun horse to have in the barn and even more fun to take to the track. You just know that every time he goes out there, he's going to give you 100 per cent," said trainer Chantal Mitchell of Waterdown, ON. "Win, lose or draw next week, I can't be any more proud of what he's accomplished on the track this season, and I'm especially thankful for everyone involved in getting him there."

Mitchell shares ownership of the Archangel son with her partners in Party Don't Stop Racing of Waterdown and Imagine Stable of L'ange-Gardien, QC.

Three-year-old colt pace

Driver Doug McNair of Guelph, ON put fan favorite Jimmy Connor B on the front before the half and never had to look over his shoulder, sailing home a two and three-quarter length winner in 1:50.4. Division point leader No Plan Intended travelled first-up into second and Lord Anthony closed for third. Century Hannibal and Saltwater Savage also paced into the Grassroots Championship. (replay here: Jimmy Connor B)

"He went a good trip tonight. It was a good mile he went since he's been off a couple weeks," said Doug McNair, adding that the Big Jim gelding was under the weather in the Sept. 11 Pepsi North America Cup Final. "I think he's got a good shot next week, if everything works out."

"He raced good. That horse of Carl's (Jamieson, No Plan Intended), he's a pretty nice horse too, but we had the better trip and that really helped us at the end," added trainer Gregg McNair of Guelph, who shares ownership of Jimmy Connor B with Grand Slam Stable of Walkerton, ON. "There was some nice horses raced last night, and again tonight. There's no slouches, the top horses in any of the Grassroots could get some kind of money in the Gold level, I think."

Armor Seelster wrapped up the evening with a 1:50.3 personal best in the last pacing colt showdown. Proline and favorite Stonebridge Rex closed well for second and third, and Cantstoplying and Bettors Donttell rounded out the Grassroots Championship field in fourth and fifth. (replay here)

"He finally put it all together tonight," said driver Jody Jamieson of Guelph. "He's been a slow learner, but he's definitely smartened up as of late."

Jamieson engineered the Bettors Delight son's victory for trainer Gabriella Sasso and owners Jeffrey Courchesne of Cambridge and Martwest Racing Stable of Mississauga, ON.

The top five finishers from each Semi-Final will now begin preparations for their respective $60,000 Grassroots Championship at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Saturday, Oct. 9.

BREAKING STRIDE

with TREY NOSRAC

Magnificent obsessions

by Trey Nosrac

June through October, the first Tuesday of each month is vintage car night at the Rusty Nail Tavern. The rear parking lot gets roped off for rows of gleaming retro metal monsters. Visitors stroll around before or after dinner, smiling at the memories the restored cars bring. Nearing nine o'clock, the patio crowd was thinning out. I was waiting under a red umbrella table for my pal, Shoes, to lock up his Black 1950 Oldsmobile '88.

We both knew that locking up his car was a ruse. Shoes needed a few minutes to jump inside his pride and joy to smoke a Marlboro cigarette. Shoes is a walking contradiction. He looks like a motorcycle club goon prototype, beefy, big belly, head-ban-dana, and bushy beard. He is the operator of a family-run nursery, the kind with plants, not kids. He is a soft-spoken guy who is exceptionally liberal in politics.

His real name is Seth Hughes. Seth, his cousin Peter Hughes, and I have been friends since we met in the seventh grade. Mister Phillips, our homeroom teacher, always wore a vest. Unfortunately, he had either a drinking problem or a speech impediment. Every morning as Mister Phillips took attendance, he slurred the names of the cousins. P. Hughes became phewws, a name we quickly switched to Stinky. S. Hughes remained Shoes.

When Shoes returned, I sighed. "Gotta be a hassle being a smoker these days."

"A nightmare, I've cut down to half a pack, plus I get plenty of daily exercise in while I look for places where I won't get smoke shamed." He sighed, "Smoking is like restoring cars, an expensive habit that's hard to shake. So how are your horses doing this year?"

"If Mister Phillips were grading my harness racing adventures this year, he would give me get a D minus. In racing, this is the time of year folks in my game reload with new dreams at yearling horse sales. I'm in the market right now."

Shoes smiled. "Maybe we need new habits, new hobbies."

"Nah, we enjoy our hobbies. I gravitate to people with unique ones."

"Like my vintage cars?"

"That, and weirder stuff. I took a sip of my beer and leaned forward. "This no joke. I know a guy, who for some reason, got obsessed with some odd operetta from way back in cowboy times. The name of it is The Ballad of Baby Doe or something like that. There are very few people in the world who know about this operetta, but he is one of them. He knows everything about it, and I mean everything. He arranges trips to be there any time it hits a stage or a coffee shop. He gives presentations and keeps in touch with other Doe-heads across the country. They are like a mini-cult.”

“What the hell is an operetta?” Shoes asked.

I shrugged, took another swallow of my Coors, and said, “Another guy I know is obsessed with finding fossils, studying fossils, displaying fossils. He has been at it for years and years. I just spent a few hours with him last week, and he got rolling on his rock hunting. He is all excited about his annual trip in search of trilobites. He drives across the country, solo, to Wyoming to ‘Break Rocks.’ Then, he will load up his van until the axles bend, drive them home and chip away at them all winter.”

Shoes stroked his beard and asked, “Are your harness people nutty like that?”

“Some of them. It’s fascinating to watch and talk to obsessed people. I know a few who are like savants in horse pedigrees. We get these enormous catalogs for yearlings going to auction, I mean huge books with hundreds of horses for sale. Every horse has a family lineage, and some folks know those equine families much better than they know their own families. The amount of knowledge these pedigree people retain in their brains is awe-inspiring.”

“When does a person cross the line between hobby and obsession?”

I shrugged again. “Probably when you get so deep into the weeds that you breathe it. You go to sleep thinking about it, then you wake up thinking about it, and then you think about it all day. Like I said, I know several people who have obsessions with harness racing.”

He asked, “Do you think that’s a good thing or a bad thing?”

I paused. “A good thing. Take your Oldsmobile out there. How many years did you work on it, scrounging parts, painting, and all the stuff you did since you had the rusted carcass dumped in your driveway?”

“Umm, maybe six years. Of course, I always got a few more cars in progress and always one waiting in the wings.”

“And how much money you got invested in the Olds?”

Shoes took a pull in his Miller Lite as he calculated, “When he set the glass down and cleared foam off his beard, he said, “Thirty, forty thousand.”

“And if you sold it tomorrow, what would it bring?”

“Thirty, forty thousand.”

“So, you worked and fussed over this project for six years for nothing. Do you regret it?”

“Hell, no.”

“Me and harness racing is the same thing. Maybe live animals are a little riskier and less hands-on for an owner, but the thing is, we aren’t sitting around watching Wheel of Fortune and Naked and Afraid. We are active. Dude, we are dreaming and scheming and doing.”

Shoes held up his glass, “Hell yeah, my good man. Who cares what others think.”

I clinked my glass against his and said, “I’ll admit it. I lay in bed thinking about the races, the sales, and the thousand other things that go into the harness racing.”

Shoes was getting into this, “And I wake up and start searching for an original right fender for a 40 Packard before I have my oatmeal. After I turn on the sprinklers and begin to weed petunias, I’m thinking about buying a piece of junk ‘48 Ford Truck off a farmer and making it mint.”

We clinked again. I almost shouted, “Semper fie, Shoes.”

My raised voice caused a few heads to turn.

I lowered my voice to a whisper and said, “We may have crossed the line.”

World champion Cattlewash to stand at Tara Hills Stud in 2022

Tara Hill Stud in Port Perry, ON is excited to announce the addition of world champion and millionaire CATTLEWASH (p,2, 1:50.2, 3, 1:46.4 ($1,177,787) to its stallion roster. Cattlewash took his world record 3-year-old mark of 1:46.4 winning a division of the Bluegrass Stakes at The Red Mile, making him the co-fastest 3-year-old. He shares this outstanding record with his game changing sire, SOMEBEACHSOMEWHERE.

At age 2, Cattlewash won a $80,950 Bluegrass division in a freshman best of p,2, 1:50.3 and was a multiple Pennsylvania Sires Stakes (PASS) winner. He finished second in the Matron Final and third in the Breeders Crown and Governor's Cup finals while competing against the best of the year.

In addition to his world record win at 3, Cattlewash won the $179,600 Matron in 1:48.3, the $160,000 Mon Circle in 1:48.3s and captured his Breeders Crown elimination in 1:47.2. In the $500,000 Breeders Crown Final he finished third off only one-quarter of a length. Cattlewash also finished second in the Little Brown Jug – timed in 1:49.2h, from the 7 hole.

This year at age 4, while servicing a limited book of mares, Cattlewash captured the $250,000 Graduate Series Final in a season's best of 1:47.1. He also captured the $265,400 William Haughton Memorial Final in 1:47.3. Cattlewash finished his racing career with an impressive standing of 13-9-8 in 39 starts.

Cattlewash is a handsome and smart son of super-sire Somebeachsomewhere from Road Bet p,4, 1:52f ($380,315) by Bettor's Delight, making him the half-brother to 2021 $500,500 She's A Great Lady Final winner, NIKI HILL p,2, 1:50.2s-'21 ($315,041). His dam is a sister to the winners of over $3.6 million including $1.5 million winning Mypanmar p, 1:48.3s.

Cattlewash is the richest and fastest son of Somebeachsomewhere standing in Canada.

The 2022 stud fee will be announced soon. Cattlewash is being syndicated.

Oakwoodanabella equals Dayton track record

Irish import Oakwoodanabella crushed the highest conditioned mares event on Friday (Oct. 1) at Hollywood Dayton in 1:49.3 for driver Cam McCown and his father-in-law trainer Brian Brown. The mile by the 3-year-old daughter of Foreclosure N equaled the quickest mile by a female in Hollywood Dayton's eight-year history. The mark was first established by Jerseylicious in 2017.

Oakwoodanabella was undefeated in six 2-year-old starts in the UK and Ireland before owner Denis Copse of Co. Limerick, Ireland shipped her across the pond to Brown. She finished a creditable third in the recent Juliette final heat in Delaware, OH.

Whichwaytothebeach among Liberty Bell winners at Philly

The Somebeachsomewhere gelding Whichwaytothebeach, so gallant in his 2-3 finishes in the Little Brown Jug, was the feature attraction on Friday afternoon (Oct. 1) at Harrah's Philadelphia, and he did not disappoint. He won his $30,000 division of the Liberty Bell stakes for 3-year-old pacing colts in 1:50.2; there were three sections for the pacers and 2 at a like purse for the trotters.

Todd McCarthy, top winner on the day at Philly with four victories, did not rush the star sophomore out of the gate, going up to grab the lead after a :26.4 quarter, then getting to the half in :55 and the three-quarters in 1:22.4. His Beats Hanover, from third-inside, made a good stretch showing but was still 1½ lengths off the winner of $515,729, who is trained by Brett Pelling for Alan Johnston and John Craig.

McCarthy and Pelling teamed again to win another pacing section with a Somebeachsomewhere gelding, South Beach Star, who ran his 2021 tally to 9-for-16 with a 1:50.3 win. The winner grabbed command just past a :27.2 quarter from Mad Man Hill, who then stalked him through mid splits of :56 and 1:23.3, then came with a big stretch effort that landed him three-quarters of a length behind the winner. All Star Racing Inc. owns South Beach Star.

The other section of the pace was the fastest, as the Sweet Lou gelding Hellabalou, who hadn't won since his Adios triumph at the end of July, looked as good in the eastern part of Pennsylvania as he did that day in western PA. He made the lead from the outside post eight before the :26.2 quarter, yielded to Komodo Beach and sat behind him as that one hung numbers of :54 and 1:22 on the board, and then gobbled him up in the lane, leaving him 3½ lengths behind in 1:49.4 for driver Simon Allard, trainer Josh Green, and owner Eric Good. Hellabalou was the only non-favorite to win in stakes action Friday, being sent off at 11-10 behind Komodo Beach at even money.

The Southwind Frank colt Capstone had earned $107,664 without winning in 2021 before capturing the faster of the two trotting Liberty Bell cuts in a lifetime best of 1:54. George Napolitano Jr. sent the Åke Svanstedt trainee, owned by Åke Svanstedt Inc. and Stable Why Not, to command past a :28 quarter, got a rest to a :57.4 half, then was clear of his opposition through the 1:25.3 three-quarters and right to the finish, winning by 5¾ lengths.

The Father Patrick colt Sunny Crockett, a winner of 13 of 24 lifetime starts including a "Pennsylvania EGOT" (Stallion Series Championship, PA All-Stars, Liberty Bell, and Simpson stake) in addition to the Old Oaken Bucket, set fractions of :28.1, :57.4, and 1:26.4 in the other division, but he then had to be at his best to have a nose advantage over potential pocket rocket Arnold N Dicky at the end of a 1:55 mile. Marcus Miller handled the sulky duty for trainer/aunt Julie Miller and the partnership of Willow Oak Ranch and Andy Miller Stable Inc.

PHHA / Harrah's Philadelphia

Sunjet Ray looking for big score in Bombardier Pace

Sunjet Ray may or may not end up being the race favorite in today's (Oct. 3) $28,000 Lucien Bombardier Pace for 2-year-old fillies at the Hippodrome 3R. Either way, she cannot read the tote board but that has not stopped her from having an excellent first season at the races.

The daughter of Sunshine Beach goes from post two in the fourth race feature today at H3R and will be driven by Stephen Gendron, who has driven the filly once, four starts back, to a game second place finish. She is trained and co-owned by four-time leading trainer at H3R, Francis Richard with Dr John Bradbury.

"We bought this filly privately," said Richard. "My friend John Bradbury called me up one day and said she was for sale, so we worked out a deal."

And what a deal that has turned out to be. Sunjet Ray has but five starts this year, but three of them wins with one second and one third place finish.

Her most important victory came two starts back when she was able to lead from start to finish in capturing the $50,000 Future Stars Series championship final at H3R in a lifetime best 2:00.2 clocking. She now sports $36,457 in earnings, making her the class of the field.

When did Richard's know the filly would become very good during its early training?

"I would say early in the spring," Richard said. "We could see she had something special in her, unfortunately I think with the Grassroots semi-finals the same weekend of the Bombardier Pace didn't help draw many for this race. It should still be a good race anyway."

Louis-Philippe Roy had been her regular driver as of late, but could not make it back to H3R for this race.

"LPR has been very busy the last couple weeks with driving, sales and stuff," Richard said. "So, he could not make it to drive her again, but Stephane Gendron knows her well. He went with her this summer and will be fine on Sunday."

What was it like for Richard's to win the rich final with Sunjet Ray?

"It felt so great to win that final," Richard said. "I own her with some great friends of mine and for most of them it was their first time winning a major Quebec-bred stake. Seeing them hoisting the big trophy in the winner's circle and all their excitement made me so happy. That's why we have horses, for moments like that."

In her last start, Sunjet Ray put in a game performance at Woodbine Mohawk Park, finishing third in a division of the Ontario Sire Stakes Grassroots, timed in 1:54.2.

Her main rival in the race is the race favorite Shezis A Beauty from post five. The invader from Ontario scored a lifetime best 1:56 clocking two starts back in winning a division of the Prospect Series at Grand River Raceway.

The daughter of Sportswriter has two wins, both on the front end. Trained by Gerard Demers, Samuel Filion will drive Shezis A Beauty for the first time.

Two other fillies that will be competitive in the field are HP Mary Sunshine (Sunshine Beach) and D Gs Shallow (Shadow Play) who have just achieved their best times, miles around 2:00 – 2:01. Obviously, in order to be able to aspire to great honors, they will have to do better today. And it's possible with two sulky masters, Pascal Bérubé (HP Mary Sunshine) and Jonathan Lachance (D Gs Shadow) in the sulky.

One of the "pioneers" of horse racing in Canada, but especially Quebec, Lucien Bombardier devoted his entire life to the industry. Born and raised near Bedford, Bombardier retired in 1992 after 16 years on the board of directors of the Canadian Standardbred Horse Society.

Strange fractional times at Red Mile provides opportunity

There seems to be some buzz about the fast fractional times posted at the Red Mile.

Whether those posted times were correct or incorrect, fans are always attracted to speed. So why not promote and market one of our strongest assets — speed? We break fractional speed records all the time, on any size track. Maybe we could promote and or market, the aerodynamic efficiency of a driver, two wheels, and four legs and how we have progressed and advanced these ingredients to almost limitless speed potential at any distance.

Also, give the fans and new fans different distances to handicap and ease up on the constant one-mile grind.

Considering changes suggested above, and or adding other Ideas, might introduce new and refreshing driver technique and new driving talent might also surface. Or maybe a co-min-gled think tank of harness gurus and marketing experts. The suggestions above are a start, let's run with new ideas and see where it takes us. More speed is definitely in our future.
