Kentucky

Pacing powerhouse Bulldog Hanover tried his hand at beating the world record he set just a few months ago, but had glory pruned from his hands when Allywag Hanover lunged to the lead and stopped the clock in 1:46 to win the $153,000 Allerage Farms open pace on Sunday (Oct. 9) at The Red Mile.

Todd McCarthy kissing Allywag Hanover in the winner's circle.

"It was awesome," winning driver Todd McCarthy told HRU's James Platz. "And to do it with Allywag, who is a horse that I've had a relationship with for a while now. He's just such a fun horse to drive and to be a part of, so that was a big thrill today."

Driver Dexter Dunn laid the foundation for Bulldog Hanover's mark in history with a clip of :26.2, :52.2 and 1:19.1 while unopposed on the lead. McCarthy meanwhile kept Allywag Hanover ready in second and launched his attack on the turn for home. Bulldog Hanover fought for life with an eighth to go as Allywag Hanover unrelentingly kept pushing forward in the climb to the finish.

The pressure eventually mounted, and world champ Bulldog Hanover conceded the fight to Allywag Hanover as the 5-year-old Captaintreacherous gelding snagged the 1:46 mark to match Always B Miki's track record, set in 2016, while also lowering the world record for older pacing geldings set back in 2006 by Holborn Hanover.

"I thought that we'd probably roll on a little bit today," McCarthy said. "The question was if I was going to have enough pace to get by him Bulldog at the end. He's such a brave horse and he's obviously proven that he's no easy horse to get by, or even get near, sometimes. Today, I thought we had the right horse for it. When Allywag is at his best, he can go with anyone and he showed that today."

"The fractions were really good, you know. I was pretty excited when we got down to the half like we did. I was just hoping that if I could get Bulldog going a little bit early that he'd carry that momentum forward and we'd be down to the half in good time and we could go from there. Everything just fell into place perfectly for us.

"Full credit to [trainer] Brett [Pelling]. He's got that horse spot on and he's just such a fun horse to drive."

Dunn said Bulldog Hanover, "raced great. It was a tough mile and he put up the fractions. He maybe wasn't quite as sharp. I was coming into the last turn and I thought I might have been in a little trouble with him, but he still raced awesome."

"He's a really good horse, Allywag, so you expect that."

"I feel like I'm Marylou Whitney after the '04 Belmont and having to apologize to the crowd," said Adam Bowden, co-owner of Allywag Hanover, after the race. "We were told he was coming in ready to do this and it was pretty exciting. It set up perfectly for him. Todd, a masterful drive; Brett, a masterful training job."

"He's had two races – at Hoosier and Dayton – where [he was] locked in for his life and loaded," trainer Pelling said. "If ever a horse is sitting on one, it's after those trips. We know he can follow any speed and he was just sensational today."

Allywag Hanover collected his 23rd victory from 52 tries and pushed his earnings $1,545,280 for owner Allywag Stable. The David who slayed Goliath paid $23.82 to win.

Jeff and Paula Gural sponsored the Allerage Farms open pace.

Rebuff (Tim Tetrick) powering to victory in the Kentucky Futurity.

Kentucky

Amends for Rebuff in Kentucky Futurity upset

extra quotes by James Platz / story by Ray Coto for Red Mile

He disappointed as the 3-5 choice in the Hambletonian two months ago, but Lucas Wallin trainee Rebuff landed retribution in the third jewel of trotting's Triple Crown, the $430,000 130th Kentucky Futurity, on Sunday afternoon (Oct. 9) at The Red Mile.

"It's been a couple of tough races for him after the Hambo and he hasn't been himself," Wallin told HRU's James Platz. "So, we didn't know what to think for today's race. We hoped for the win, but it was a wide-open race. I'm pretty sure that I have the best colt out there, but he hasn't showed it the last couple of races, but today he did.

An overflow field of 12 made the move for the lead a scramble. By a :27.2 first quarter, Branded By Lindy cleared Temporal Hanover to take the top while Periculum pressed forward up the rim to then take over before a :54.3 half. Through the shuffle, driver Tim Tetrick secured a second-over seat to the far turn as Slay ventured forward uncovered to apply his challenge for the lead nearing three-quarters, timed in 1:22.3. Periculum clung to a diminishing advantage with the field towering behind him for home but held sway until about the eighth pole. Tetrick kicked Rebuff off his cover and slung to the lead in the final stages and post a one-length victory while finally procuring an American trotting classic. Temporal Hanover burst through horses to take second while Cool Papa Bell stormed down the center from near last for third and Periculum settled for fourth.

"Today was first time no shoes, that helped. Hambo day was just a fiasco. He didn't show up that day, it happens," Tim Tetrick said after the race. "He redeemed himself today. He's been a good horse [and] fun to drive for me. Perfect trip. I landed in a good spot – by the time I turned for home I was second over. When I flipped him, I knew he was good today and he got right by them."

Wallin praised the driver.

Tim Tetrick and trainer Lucas Wallin in the flower chair.

"It was perfect. Tetrick drove another perfect race and it probably couldn't work out better. It was a pretty quick half, : 54.3, second or third over... it worked out perfect," Wallin said.

Rebuff earned his ninth win from 20 starts and added to his account now worth $962,490 for owners Kjell Magne Andersen, Lucas Wallin and Pieter Delis. The Muscle Hill colt paid $23.90 to win.

"Obviously, it helps as a young trainer to have a percentage in a colt like this, but as a trainer to win a Triple Crown race, The Futurity, I think some would say that's the second-biggest race over here. Maybe not money-wise, but with all the history around it and everything, so that's fantastic," Wallin said.

"I think he's a stallion prospect for sure, but we haven't discussed anything. We're going to sit down at the end of the year and make a decision about what is best for him and we'll go from there.... The Breeders Crown is next. He's shipping home tomorrow morning and then we aim for Breeders Crown."

Golden Wall As opened the afternoon with a 1:51.2 pocket-pulling win in the $10,000 Cantab Hall, a race for Kentucky Futurity eligibles. Tony Hall steered the Anette Lorentzon-trained son of Walner to victory for owners ACL Stuteri AB and Kjell Johansson. He paid $3 to win the race sponsored by onGait.com.

Following the races, the Red Mile recognized Dexter Dunn as the leading driver of the six-day Grand Circuit meet and Chris Ryder as the leading trainer. Dunn ended the meet having driven 48 times and entering the winner's circle on 14 occasions.

"I obviously got to drive a lot of great horses, nice horses here," Dunn said. "It's always a pleasure to race here Grand Circuit time. But C.J. [Ryder] had his horses and did a great job with them, too. A lot of our winners were there. It was a lot of fun."

That C.J., one Chris Ryder, sent horses to the track 14 times over the six days in Lexington and had their picture taken eight times.

"We started on a roll and we finished on a roll," Ryder said. "I was really happy with the horses, so I'm thrilled."

Jiggy Jog repels Joviality in Filly Futurity showdown

extra quotes by James Platz / story by Ray Coto for Red Mile

The 12-horse competition condensed to the expected two-horse race off in the stretch of the $276,000 57th Kentucky Filly Futurity as even-money second choice Jiggy Jog S led 4-5 Joviality S in the straightaway and held firm on the front to land the spoils in 1:50 on Sunday afternoon (Oct. 9).

"That's a big mile she put up," Jiggy Jog's driver Dexter Dunn told HRU's James Platz. "I used her out of the gate and then re-moved her, then got attacked a little late. It's a long stretch, but to her credit she stuck in there."

"I knew she was getting tired. She was sticking her head out and, you know, [Brian] Sears was coming [with Joviality S] but he wasn't coming quick, he was just sort of grinding her down. So, I thought we had a chance of holding on, but I needed that post to come up pretty quick. I think both fillies were pretty tired. It was a big mile by them."

Jiggy Jog S jetted for the lead to the first turn but settled for the pocket when Date Night swept to the top past a :26.4 first quarter. But Dunn promptly pulled off the pegs to retake the lead with Jiggy Jog S as Selfie Queen loomed first over with Joviality S, overcoming a second-tier post, in tow. Past a :54 half, Jiggy Jog S kept plugging on the lead as Joviality S abandoned her cover around the final turn to begin her mission for the lead. Jiggy Jog S held a two-length advantage after three-quarters in 1:21.4 and dug her heels on the lead as Joviality S crept closer with each yard of the stretch. But Jiggy Jog S remained resolute on the lead and denied Joviality S by a neck with Selfie Queen holding third from a parked trip ahead of stablemate Mon Cheval.

"She's a little bit of a handful," Sarah Svanstedt, wife to trainer Ake Svanstedt, said after the race. "She has a temper and the groom is doing a tremendous job to keep her happy. But I'm so happy she made it today. She has been racing against some tough fillies and there has been bad luck in the races. But here we are today. If she wants [to lead] she can, but sometimes she wants the helmet. I guess [Dunn] felt he had plenty of horse today to do it."

A winner in eight of 22 starts, Jiggy Jog S has now banked $777,793 for owner Jorgen Sparredal Inc. The Walner filly returned $4.36 to win.

Crawford Farms sponsored the 57th renewal of the Kentucky Filly Futurity.

Lilbitalaxis prevailed narrowly in the $10,000 Love You, a race for Kentucky Filly Futurity eligibles. Dexter Dunn steered the Richard "Nifty" Norman-trained daughter of Walner to a pocket-popping head victory in 1:51.1 over fast-charging Bare My Soul. She races for owners Pinske Stables and David Hoese and paid $7.16 to win in the race sponsored by Morrison Racing.

Pebble Beach takes Tattersalls, Niki Hill reigns supreme in Glen Garnsey

extra quotes by James Platz / story
by Ray Cotolo for Red Mile

Class prevailed in the sophomore pacing stakes at Red Mile on Sunday afternoon (Oct. 9). North America Cup winner Pebble Beach clawed his path back to the winner's circle in the $363,500 Tattersalls Pace while Niki Hill's return to form continued with a decisive score in the $205,000 Glen Garnsey Memorial.

Pebble Beach found a covered trip after Mad Max Hanover powered to the front past a :27 first quarter. Driver Todd McCarthy stayed steady on the leader's helmet up to a :54.1 half as Fourevery Boy attempted to advance overland from fourth but stalled as the field crossed three-quarters in 1:22. Mad Max Hanover began to drift off the corner as even-money favorite I Did It Myway vaulted from second over for the front and Pebble Beach darted through an opening to the inside. Pebble Beach grabbed the lead as Mad Max Hanover gutsily battled to the finish but yielded a head at the beam with I Did It Myway third and Energetic Hanover closing for fourth.

"He's been racing terrific all the way through," McCarthy told HRU's James Platz. "We clashed with I Did It Myway there and he's having a phenomenal year. It's pacing home in :25 seconds every week, so I can't be disappointed with him, but it's definitely good to get that win today."

"He's been good every week but sort of hasn't been putting in [effort] at the end of his miles," trainer Noel Daley said after the race. "I didn't want Toddy [McCarthy] to keep driving him in front, then we kept ending up first over. I think he's best off a helmet, but it worked out. We followed a good horse, dashed up the rail, then [Todd] said he was looking to get goofy – running out down the lane, but he got the job done. He's a very quick horse."

A son of Downbytheseaside, Pebble Beach etched a 13th win onto his 24-race card and has now accrued $1,261,775 for owners Patricia Stable, Joe Sbrocco & Country Club Acres and LAExpressFoderaDeoVolente. The colt, who paid $10.92 to win, will make his next start in the Breeders Crown per Noel Daley.

Niki Hill meanwhile outplayed all her peers to notch a 1:48.4 win in her third start back from an injury.

the line going away. Queen Of Success burst through rivals to snag second, 2-3/4 lengths back, while Max Contract levelled out in third and Wickedly Innocent rallied for fourth.

"You know what, I'm stuck for words. She's just special," trainer Chris Ryder told Platz. "She's got a big engine. Sometimes I have a few concerns with her, like, she's not a high-speed horse, but when she's racing she puts them away. She's just got the ability to suck the wind out of them. Sea Silk followed her and Sea Silk was done over here. I don't know how she ended up or if she had something wrong with her or not, but this filly stepped up so much from last week.

"I was hoping that she would blossom down here. She had enough foundation in her that she should've done well, but you don't know.

"We have the Breeders Crown in two weeks, and I think we're ready to go. She's just a phenomenal athlete... She's on her own – Niki Hill is Niki Hill. Last week, she came out and went a lifetime mark and went faster today. I'm probably more proud of her. I'm stuck for words.

Atlanta (Yannick Gingras) winning the $57,000 Helpisontheway Allerage Farms fillies and mares trot.

Atlanta exits Lexington a winner

Last year's most celebrated horses – Test Of Faith and Jujubee – also record Allerage triumphs.

extra quotes by James Platz / story by Ray Coto for Red Mile

World champion trotting mare Atlanta graced the Red Mile winner's circle for the last time in her career as she scored a 1:50.3 victory in the $57,000 Helpisontheway Allerage Farms fillies and mares trot, a race part of her send-off tour, on Sunday afternoon (Oct. 9).

Driver Yannick Gingras pushed for the pocket with Atlanta from the pylon post while a revved Next Level Stuff clocked a :27.2 first quarter and :54.2 half. As the backfield began angling outwards to three-quarters in 1:22.1, Gingras pulled off the pegs and slid to the lead off the corner. When Dovescry closed down the center and settled for second, beaten a length, with Sorella sweeping home for third and Next Level Stuff fading to fourth.

"It's special," Gingras said after the race on winning in one of Atlanta's last starts. "All these wins [are] just one more trophy on her mantle. She's a great mare; she's one of the greatest in this industry and it's been a pleasure to drive her."

The win counts as No. 37 in the storied career of Atlanta, a 7-year-old mare by Chapter Seven. Competing for owners Crawford Farms Racing, Brad Grant and Howard Taylor, the mare added to her account now worth $3,440,719 as she approaches the last few starts of her racing career. Ron Burke trains the mare who paid $4.96 to win.

Test Of Faith flexed her class with a 1:50.1 stroll in the $73,000 Arlene Siegel Memorial Allerage Farms fillies and mares pace.

No Win No Feed A circled to lead Gia's Surreal after a :27.3 first quarter and coasted up the backside as driver David Miller motored Test Of Faith from fourth to the fore approaching a :55 half. She travelled around the far turn and into the stretch as she pleased, clicking three-quarters in 1:23.2 to then sprint home under wraps and cap the mile in 1:50.1. No Win No Feed A gave pursuit from the pocket in second, beaten 1-1/2 lengths, with Gia's Surreal third and Watch Me Now N fourth.

"She's just an ultra-durable, consistent, horse that loves to win," Miller told HRU's James Platz. "We're planning on racing her another year and she's already got a mark of :47 flat. It was a short field and I took advantage of an easy spot to go an easy mile."

"She's very special and ranks with every great horse that I've ever sat behind. She's just an amazing animal."

"She loves this track," said Ken Jackson, co-owner of Test Of Faith through Kentuckiana Racing, after the race. "She's had some incredible performances here. Brett [Pelling] wanted to bring her here and as did we, being from here and having the crowds that we get for the Grand Circuit races. So it's exciting; it's an incredible ride."

Reigning U.S. Horse of the Year Test Of Faith racked her 32nd win from 41 tries and has now banked $2,269,081 for owners Melvin Segal, Kentuckiana Racing Stable and Eddie Gran. Brett Pelling trains the 4-year-old Art Major mare. She paid $2.10 to win.

Last year's Kentucky Futurity champ Jujubee also regained his mojo from a late start to his 4-year-old campaign to post a 1:50.2 win in the $149,000 Tactical Landing Allerge open trot.

Rattle My Cage carved the early fractions of :27.2 and :55 but immediately folded to pressure from pocket-pulling Cuatro De Julio by three-quarters in 1:23.4. Driver Andrew McCarthy perched Jujubee on Cuatro De Julio's heels and uncorked the Greg Wright Jr. trainee in the straightaway to grab the lead with an eighth remaining. Ambassador Hanover split horses and chased the leader home to settle for second, beaten a half-length, with It's Academic closing for third and Cuatro De Julio settling for fourth.

"It's been a bit of a tough year for poor Jujubee, but the way he was today he felt slick as a needle," Andrew McCarthy said after the race. "I'm very excited now. [The trip] was one of them deals where, if it looked like they were going to go enough, I definitely wanted to drive him off a helmet today on the big track. And it kind of worked out that way where we could sneak in and pick up cover in the last turn. That was the original plan.

"This horse obviously really holds a dear spot in my heart. It's always a thrill to sit behind him and great to see him back in winning form today.

"It was a long time off, so he struggled a little bit when he first got back. He qualified really good, but then had a few other issues to iron out, but it seems like they are on track now. He was much better gaited today and it was a pretty smooth ride. Hopefully, he's getting on the right track now."

Wright Jr. said, "Unfortunately, he had a little setback there, a hairline in that pastern. We gave him the right time to let it heal. He came back and qualified good, but then he got sick and it's just one thing after another with him... So, today, was a big relief. He's just a good horse. He tries no matter what and it's just up to me to get him right.

"He doesn't have a whole lot left, Breeders Crown and the TVG. I'm not sure if there's anything else that we'll go to, but that's okay with me. I think if we shut him down, he'll come back great as a 5-year-old."

Jujubee recorded his first win of the year and his 17th from 27 starts to add to his millionaire status for owner-breeder Jon

Kentucky

Zeron returns to the bike early, drives at Lexington quotes by James Platz / story by Dave Briggs

Driver Scott Zeron made his return to the sulky on Saturday (Oct. 8) at the Red Mile after being sidelined more than two months due to injuries sustained in a racing accident on July 26 at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono.

Zeron finished last in his first start back after Ants Marching made an early break. The driver was fourth with Gung Ho in the $99,700 International Stallion Stakes division for 2-year-old pacing colts won by Combustion.

On Sunday, Zeron immediately made his presence felt in the fifth race, finishing second by a head with Bare My Soul in a $10,000 event for Kentucky Filly Futurity eligibles.

"I didn't intend on driving this weekend, but I trained horses all week here on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and I felt strong enough that I could come out here and do it. So, it feels great to be back out there. Second place still feels... well, it feels even a little bit worse than it did before," Zeron said, laughing.

"I feel good. There's no pain involved. My concern was with the muscles that have atrophied without being able to workout and keep a regular schedule on the racetrack, I was worried about grabbing horses. I won't put anyone in a position to use me when I don't feel like I can be at my best so I took my time.

"I've been in the race bike a bunch to get the feel of being back in the bike and be in the position that I'd like to sit in, so I wouldn't say I'm my best because I haven't won yet. When I win, I'll feel like I'm back."

Dave Landry

Scott Zeron returned to the sulky this weekend at the Red Mile.

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Dimitri Ferm in the Derby

by Thomas Hedlund

Mauro Baroncini-trained Dimitri Ferm (Nad Al Sheba) continued to establish his position as number one among Italian bred 3-year-olds as he claimed the $800,000 Derby del Trotto in Rome on Sunday (Oct. 9) afternoon.

Driver Andrea Farolfi used his post position 1 to his advantage as Dimitri Ferm kept the lead without any big problems. Farolfi seemed satisfied in front all the way and The Derby never fired up with Dimitri Ferm in the lead. When Farolfi started to increase the pace at the back stretch, the field divided and some of the horses racing on the inside got their chances to challenge for the top places.

Denzel Treb found good speed at the home stretch and got closer the leader when the wire approached. Dimitri Ferm had to be reminded what his mission was by his driver and when Denzel Treb closed the gap, the race's excitement began for real.

Dimitri Ferm held on and won the Italian Derby and claimed his 11th victory in his 19th start. Needless to say, this was his biggest success in his career even if it was his fourth group 1 victory in 2022.

Denzel Treb was second, Dolce Viky third and the mile rate was 1:56.3 over 2,100 meters.

DOUBLE FOR FATHER PATRICK IN OAKS

Alessandro Gocciadoro's name is not unusual when it comes to reports from big races in Italy, or any European country and on Sunday (Oct. 9) afternoon he sat behind the winner when the $250,000 Oaks del Trotto for 3-year-old fillies was held in Rome.

Delicious Gar (Father Patrick) started her career promising last season and continued to impress in the first starts of the year as a 3-year-old, but the three prior starts to the Oaks, including the elimination (second) to Oaks on Sept. 18, maybe didn't end as good as Gocciadoro hoped for. But when it was time for the biggest race in her career so far, Delicious Gar was on top again.

Gocciadoro was eager in seeking a position in front of the field and as the first turn ended, he left third over and let Delicious Gar travel outside of the leader. A push for the lead was tried at the back stretch and leader Due Italia was marked by the move as the field turned for home. Delicious Gar got advantage, held on and won in 1:55.1.

Father Patrick filly Daughter As was runner up after a pocket trip and Danish As was third.

FIFTY PER CENT EXTRA TO HOWLINGATTHEMOON

The $100,000 Kriterium for Danish bred 3-year-olds was on the menu at Charlottenlund in Copenhagen, Denmark, on Sunday (Oct. 9) afternoon and driver Jan Dahlgaard aimed for the lead from his inside position with Howlingatthemoon (Cantab Hall) and when the tactic succeeded, the Cantab Hall son was too tough to beat.

Howlingatthemoon kept the front position from post 1 and the only exciting moment that followed was when Robert Bergh connected on the outside with the race's first choice Harpy, with a lap to go in the 2,500 meters long race.

Harpy and Howlingatthemoon looked to be the horses fighting for the title and at mid-stretch, the leader got himself a safe advantage and Dahlgaard noted that the victory was his. Howlingatthemoon was one out of eight contenders in the race that had the chance to increase the purse with 50 per cent, so the Peter Rudbeck trained 3-year-old earned $75,000 instead of $50,000.

Harpy finished second and Harboe third. The mile rate over 2,500 meters was 1:59.4.

In the $60,000 fillies' division of Kriteriet, Bo Westergård hit the lead with his Hallöjsa Vang (S.J.'s Caviar) and she was never really seriously challenged for the win. Westergård made sure to steer the race in a suitable pace and at the stretch he gave his horse order to fly and she responded by leaving the opponents easily. A brave first over trotter Helena D.D. secured the second place ahead of strong (between horses) finisher Heimaey.

Hallöjsa Vang earned, just like Howlingatthemoon, some extra money and in this case she collected $45,000 to her bank account.

BROTHER BILL AND HONEY MEARAS SWEDISH CHAMPIONS

Timo Nurmos' 6-year-old Brother Bill (From Above) and Daniel Redén's 5-year-old mare Honey Mearas (Readly Express) captured the trophies in the $100,000 Swedish Championship at Åby racetrack on Saturday (Oct. 8) afternoon.

The mares battled early on the card and Honey Mearas were the race's first choice from post 1 behind the gate. The post position could have been a problem for her, but driver Örjan Kihlström was quick minded and lifted his horse out immediately when the car left the field in the 2,140 meters long race. A wild pace in front during the race's first half mile made Honey Mearas' path to victory easier and when Kihlström attacked at the back stretch, knowing that he had to let Honey Mearas do the job three wide throughout the last turn, he felt that he had the best horse in the field. The 5-year-old dominant among mares in Sweden flew to outstanding victory in mile rate 1:54.4.

In the open championship, Don Fanucci Zet was the first choice and from post 8, Kihlström hit the lead with Redén's trainee after 600 meters. Kihlström was allowed to lower the pace, but that didn't matter when strong finisher Brother Bill was served a perfect second over trip by Björn Goop. Brother Bill was all over the first over trotter's driver Joakim Lövgren's helmet and was just waiting for the attack order. And the order came as the stretch approached. Brother Bill was unstoppable, again, and the race reminded some of his last performance in STL Open, when Brother Bill flew to a safe win. This time the distance was 2,640 meters, and Björn Goop managed to save power in the energetic trotter, which resulted in a very easy win in a mile rate of 1:55.4.
