Breeders Crown proves this is the year of the “little guy”

Hope, beyond all else, is the economic driver of the entire game and this year's Breeders Crown saw a lot of dreams become reality for smaller stables, continuing a year-long trend in major stakes.

by Dave Briggs

The oft-heard lament in harness racing is “the little guy,” whom-ever that is, cannot compete with the big-money stables fronted by millionaires. Hopefully, this year's Breeders Crown – heck, this entire stakes season – disproves that.

Of the 12 Breeders Crown finals contested Friday (Oct. 29) and Saturday (Oct. 30) at The Meadowlands, five trainers won their first Crowns and six of the winners were homebreds.

Leading stables operated by Ron Burke, Nancy Takter, Tony Alagna, Erv Miller, Jeff Cullipher, Julie Miller, Brian Brown and many more heavyweights, failed to win a Crown this time around. That's not necessarily a good thing – those large stables are a critical part of the sport's economy and provide a strong percentage of the horses to fill fields and drive handle – but it does suggest the big stables don't win everything and others do have a chance.

Hope, beyond all else, is the driver of the entire game.

The vast majority of people don't go to horse sales hoping to buy the next fair horse. They're hoping to land the next Hambletonian winner. People who breed to race aren't dreaming of the prospect of racing them in overnights. They're praying to most part, because paying a premium does often pay off, but as we saw this weekend, it's no guarantee.

One of the beautiful things about harness racing, unlike most sports, is the possibility that people with limited budgets – and sometimes even amateur status – can take down the big outfits precisely because a great horse can come from anywhere and one never truly knows the size of their heart.

It's probably why the "little guy" narrative is so popular in a sport where participation is open to all with enough money to buy a horse. Almost none of us will ever suit up for an MLB, NFL, NHL or NBA team – and very few of us will ever have the bankroll to own a pro sports team – but we could end up with a horse that takes us to the very top of this sport.

Adam Ström stalltz

Lucas Wallin (with his Breeders Crown champion Rebuff) was one of five trainers that won their first Crown this year.

This year, the first-time Crown-winning trainers were: 28-year-old trainer Lucas Wallin (Rebuff – 2yoct); Mark Evers (Monte Miki – 2yocp); Greg Wright, Jr. (Jujubee – 3YOCT); Christi Noble (Ocean Rock – Open Pace) and Ake Svanstedt (Felicity Shagwell S – Mare Trot; Ecurie D – Open Trot). While Svanstedt certainly isn't a "little guy," consider that his win with Felicity Shagwell S snapped an eight-year, 0-for-36 Crown losing streak despite him sending out a plethora of talented horses in recent years.

As for the homebred Crown winners, they were: Bella Bellini (David McDuffee – 3YOFT); Jujubee (Jon Erdner – 3YOCT) Perfect Sting (Brittany Farms LLC and Val D'Or Farms – 3YOCP); Ocean Rock (Sandra Burnett – Open Pace); Monte Miki (Velocity Standardbreds – 2YOCP) and Joviality S (AM Bloodstock Inc., the breeding arm of owner Courant Inc. – 2YOFT).

Look beyond the Breeders Crown and you will see major stakes victories by smaller stables.

Ontario's Cecchin and Davies families won the $1 million Pepsi North America Cup and the Ontario Sires Stakes Super Final with Desperate Man, who was a $20,000 yearling.

Charlie May, a homebred owned by Pennsylvania's Don Tiger, won the $300,000 Carl Milstein Memorial, was runner-up to Perfect Sting in the sophomore pacing colt Crown and was first across the wire in the $700,000 Meadowlands Pace before being disqualified for interference (a challenge to that ruling is still working its way through the courts).

American Courage, a homebred owned by Fiddler's Creek Stables LLC and trained by Travis Alexander, won the $500,000 Messenger.

Hellabalou won the $375,000 Adios for owner Eric Good of Maryland and trainer Eddie Dennis.

Crown winners Monte Miki and Jujubee also won the $650,960 Metro Pace and $561,000 Kentucky Futurity, respectively.

One might also include Meadowlands Pace winner Lawless Shadow on the list. While he is trained by top conditioner Dr. Ian Moore and is owned by a group of Maritimers that have had some success before, they're not perennial candidates for the Owners of the Year award.

That's a lot of major stakes victories in one stakes season by not the usual subjects, which has made for an interesting year – not better per se, interesting.

It's certainly nice to see some different faces.

After all, wouldn't most of us like to see everyone who has the talent, drive and long-term devotion to this sport luck out to have at least one great horse in their lifetime?

That may be improbable for smaller outfits, but it's not impossible. There's always next year.

That, my friends, is the intoxicating elixir that drives people to horse sales or to breed their mares and keep trying.

Few things could be better than that.

BRUSH AND CRUSH

by DEAN TOWERS

Breeders Crown races lacked excitement

For fans and bettors, driver strategy and the modern half-in-half-out racing style put the kibosh on what's supposed to be harness racing's biggest day

by Dean Towers

At about 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon my email and text messages suddenly exploded.

"Terrible."

"As someone who bet the six I loved it. But objectively, half the drivers should be ashamed."

"It's the Breeders Crown and the drivers are acting like it's the 4th race at Chester on a Tuesday."

The Mare Trot had just concluded where Ake Svanstedt and Felicityshagwell left for the lead, got a :57.2 half and a :58.1 middle, and sprinted home leaving nine others in her wake.

Ake committed this tactical theft because Yannick Gingras and Atlanta didn't want a lead, David Miller on a race favorite chose not to leave, and the entire field was half-in-half-out waiting for Atlanta to move.

It's easy to excuse the race as being an outlier, blaming my text message blow-up as typical sour grapes. And just like me and possibly you at work, drivers make mistakes.

Unfortunately, though, this race style was a feature, not a bug.

The 3-year-old colt pacers reached the half in :55.4, the 3-year-old filly trotters triggered a :56.4 half mile.

In the Mare Pace, Joey Putnam got his horse on the move early, but he must've not gotten the memo. He and others had to wait (by my count) about 15 seconds for Tim Tetrick to move to get the flow going on the race favorite. Tim, it appeared, was waiting on Dexter Dunn to move out of the three hole, who never ended up moving.

"The clogging of the outer tier continues to be a problem," noted long-time professional handicapper Les Stark to me via email.

"It's a product of less competitive racing, and drivers who refuse to be told how they can drive. I was very disappointed with the lack of excitement in the Breeders Crown races."

Another handicapper who loves this game (sometimes I think more than life itself) simply noted to me, "our game has become boring."

This weekend, the Breeders' Cup will be raced at Del Mar, and at this very moment jockeys such as Ryan Moore and Joel Rosario, trainers like Dale Romans and Doug O'Neill are huddling up, discussing race strategy. They're trying to find ways to pin a favorite to the wood, race ride who they're trying to beat; they're ready to do everything possible to win a race. The result of this will be handles north of $100 million, with memorable races being shared on social media and rewatched on YouTube for years to come.

It's silly to profess harness racing can do the same with its main event, but I don't think anyone would disagree the lack of excitement is a huge issue on our biggest days. The Meadowlands, for example, has been working on implementing new rules (or enforcing existing ones) to encourage more action at the behest of bettors, fans and handle.

"While the answers aren't easy, not addressing the problem will ensure the demise of harness racing," said Stark.

After Saturday, I think there's a lot of people who agree with him.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Perfect Sting's main woman Diane Lewis has been along for the ride since before she was born

by Chris Lomon

Diane Lewis was along for the drive even before she was born.

Just hours before doctors delivered her, Lewis was in the sulky, sort of, at a historic New York racetrack.

"My mom (Terry) trained a horse at Monticello in 2:07, the same day her water broke. So, there I was, with my mom in the race bike, and I was going down the stretch at Monticello."

So, it would be rather fitting to say that the Monticello-born, Maryland-raised horsewoman was born to be in the standard-bred business.

James Lisa

Diane Lewis with David Miller and Perfect Sting after winning the Breeders Crown for sophomore pacing colts on Saturday (Oct. 30) at The Meadowlands.

At 11, she was working weekends at Rosecroft doing stalls and horse laundry. Aside from putting a few dollars in her pocket, the job gave her a first-hand look and appreciation for the long hours the harness racing world demands.

Lewis, now working in the barn of Hall of Fame trainer Joe Holloway as a groom and barn manager, has experienced the horse racing world like few others have.

Aside from grooming three to four horses at a time, she's busy tending to several other responsibilities.

Her days are anything but boring or repetitive.

"There is never such a thing as a 9-to-5 day. You're here seven days a week. Some days are shorter than others and some days are longer than others. You never know what your day is going to entail. It could go smoothly and planned just as you organized it, or there could be a curveball in the middle of it."

When those curveballs do come, Lewis is equipped for whatever it might happen to be.

And regardless of the outcome, there is, she noted, always a lesson to be learned.

"This business teaches you a lot of different things. It teaches you to go with the flow, it teaches you to manage a bank account, your checkbook, it teaches you patience. It really does teach you a little bit of everything. There are moments where you don't have the time you really need to finish a task, so you learn how to be efficient. I don't think this business is one way. It educates you in so many things."

Good or bad day, it's the horses that keep her coming back, just like they always have.

Whether they happen to be claimers or champions, each horse leaves a lasting impression on Lewis.

"I've had a lot of ups and downs in this business, but I've been lucky to have had so many great horses to learn from, horses that have taught me so much. I'm very fortunate to know what it's like to have overnight horses and Grand Circuit horses. I've also been given the chance to break babies and watch them have success on the racetrack."

Several horses come to mind, including multiple stakes winner and recent Breeders Crown champion Perfect Sting.

"From the day he walked into Joe's barn, I've been his groom, took care of him and broke him. To watch a horse from the very start, to see him turn into a champion, it's probably my biggest accomplishment in horse racing."

But far from Lewis' only success story.

"I've had a win as a trainer and I've won as an owner. Sailallone (a pacing daughter of Silky Stallone) gave me my first win as an owner. I was in Delaware and paid $1,500 for her. She ended up being a $15,000 claimer in the end, but she made $87,000 the first year I had her. She ended up having bad ankles, so we retired her and then I bred her. She had a baby who made it to the aces, but didn't do well, so she became my niece's riding horse.

"For me, watching them from the time they are babies, training down and making it to the races – that's just so rewarding and exciting. I took care of Dedi's Dragon when he beat Captaintreacherous in the Monument Circle in 2013. That was a big highlight. I took care of Charisma Hanover, who beat I Luv The Nightlife at Balmoral. Zero Tolerance is another one who I had from day one. I was the only groom she ever had. She's probably my all-time favorite. She had her issues, but she always would grind it out and give everything she had no matter what."

A pair of stars made a name for themselves in the Empire State, a duo who delivered Lewis with two memorable campaigns.

"I might be one of a very few grooms, or perhaps the only groom, who ever took care of two New York Sires Stakes undefeated fillies. Summertime Lea was undefeated in the New York Sires Stakes as a 2- and 3-year-old, and Zero Tolerance was the other one who went undefeated in those ranks as a 2- and 3-year-old."

The thought of caring for more of those top-caliber horses is something that continually motivates Lewis.

It's why she doesn't get complacent and why she doesn't dwell on past successes.

Lewis will, however, shed a tear of joy on occasion when she watches her horses on the racetrack.

"When Perfect Sting qualified his first race this year, I cried when he crossed the finish line. So, I cried at a qualifier. It's just certain moments that get to you. When you have those horses, ones that win your heart or ones that are so talented, it really does mean the world to you."

Not even a head cold can dampen Lewis' enthusiasm for racing and the horses.

As she learned from watching her mother and grandparents for so many years, toughing it out comes with the territory.

"You just have to get it done. The guy who ships our horses asked me this morning, 'Do you ever take a break?' I just looked at him and said, 'Do you know anyone in this business who ever takes a break?' He just smiled and said, 'You're right... stupid on me for asking.'"

Not that Lewis is complaining about her demanding harness racing career.

"I guess I was destined to be here and that's fine with me. If I had one goal it is to be the best I can be and then do better. Every horse that walks in here and every horse that is under my care, I always challenge myself to bring out the best in each one."

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Captain Corey will not race in 2022

by Thomas Hedlund

Hambletonian winner Captain Corey will not race in 2022. The owners of the 3-year-old trotter have decided to let Captain Corey work full-time as a stallion after x-rays showed the son of Googoo Gaagaa is not fully recovered from the injury that stopped him from further racing after the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes consolation in September.

Part-owner Robert Lindström told www.sulkysport.se that some of the biggest farms have shown big interest in Captain Corey.

"We have had divided opinions as to what we should do with the horse, but now we have decided and come to a decision since the latest x-rays showed a fracture formation that was not detected before. Captain Corey was x-rayed last week and veterinarian Patty Hogan then said that the healing went well, but now she has discovered a fracture formation on new plates that have been taken, which makes it difficult to take Captain Corey back to the level we want to see him compete at. It is simply too much risk-taking and then we choose to let him breed next year," Lindström told sulkysport.se.

Extreme exploded in Malmö

The $93,000 C.L.Müllers Memorial over 1.6 miles was the highlight of the race card at Jägersro in Malmö, Sweden on Saturday (Oct. 30) afternoon and Danish harness racing's new star Extreme (Chocolatier) posted a solid wire-to-wire triumph for driver Thomas Uhrberg.

Extreme claimed the prestigious $115,000 European Championship for 5-year-olds at Åby earlier in October and that day he bested horses like Aetos Kronos and Don Fanucci Zet.

In Malmö, Thomas Uhrberg sent Steen Juul's 5-year-old to the front and Extreme didn't have to use excessively much power during the race's first two kilometers, which obviously resulted in a speedy last half mile where Extreme left his opponents with several lengths over the home stretch.

Mile rate for Extreme was 1:57.2.

Cleangame continues to win

Jean-Michel Bazire-trained Cleangame (Ouragan de Celland) claimed his fifth consecutive win when he won the $115,000 Grand Prix du Centre-Est-Gontran de Noblet in Lyon, France on Sunday (Oct. 31) afternoon.

Six opponents faced Cleangame and Bazire could really play it safe from the start, which also became a necessary move since the 9-year-old gelding had problems finding the perfect gait directly after the race's departure. Cleangame lost lengths to his challengers and it took a half-mile until Bazire made contact with the rest of the field. And at that point, Cleangame got an immediate order to attack against leader Valzer di Poggio.

Cleangame was left in position first over, but with a half-mile remaining in the 1.7-mile long race, Bazire pushed the button and forced Cleangame to the front. The rest of the journey towards the wire became a safe trip for France's dominant trainer and driver. Bazire just focused on having his horse keep a nice gait and it seemed like Cleangame had plenty of power left to use when he hit the wire in mile rate 1:59.1.

The winter meeting in Paris approaches and horses such as Cleangame, and other well merited geldings, will have to pick the very right objectives since most of the races in Paris (in this category) exclude geldings.

French-trained winner in Orsi Mangelli

The prestigious 3-year-old race the $296,500 Gran Premio Orsi Mangelli was on the race card in Milan on Monday (Nov. 1) afternoon and the favorites in the two eliminations did their jobs on the road to the big final later the same day.

Italian Derby winner Charmant de Zack (Vivid Wise As) found second over in his elimination heat and driver Antonio di Nardo could wait with the attack until a quarter of a mile remained, which resulted in a close win in 1:57.2.

Philippe Allaire trained Callmethebreze (Trixtion) took a safe wire to wire win in the second heat and driver Andrea Guzzinati could just let his horse control the field completely over the stretch.

Callmethebreze was pushed hard for the lead in the final and Andrea Guzzinati managed to reach the front position after 300 meters. In front, nothing much happened and Callmethebreze cruised to easy win in 1:57.1.

Charmant de Zack finished third after a pocket trip and Chuky Roc claimed the silver medal via a third inside trip.

Luke McCarthy would have been a star in the U.S. like his brothers Andrew and Todd

by Adam Hamilton

There is no doubt Luke McCarthy would have been a star in the U.S. The gun (Australian slang for champion) Aussie horseman showed that during a working holiday in the U.S. back in 2009 when he seized a freakish opportunity to drive Muscle Hill to victory in the World Trotting Derby at Du Quoin State Fair.

McCarthy's phone rang while on his way to grab lunch in Lexington, almost 300 miles from Du Quoin.

"We were actually heading to a sports bar at The Red Mile so we could watch the Muscle Hill race that afternoon," he said. "A good mate of mine rang saying they'd pushed all the races back and telling me to expect a call from Greg Peck (Muscle Hill's trainer). Greg called soon after and said, 'Do you reckon you can make it here in time?'"

The opportunity arose when rain delayed the Du Quoin meeting by six hours, causing a clash with Mohawk that night. Muscle Hill's driver Brian Sears was one of many forced to miss the World Trotting Derby.

"I jumped straight in the car, still pinching myself it was happening. I was so nervous but I didn't need to be. Muscle Hill was something else and he did all the work for me."

That win, as life tends to do, opened some serious doors for McCarthy, but he was torn between two worlds at the time.

"I didn't go over there to drive, it was more to learn about training techniques," he said. "But I took a mare across with me, my great mare Fleur De Lil. She did a good job and then Noel (Daley) asked if I'd go down to Kentucky with his team, which Anton Golino was taking down.

"I started to get some better drives down there and then Muscle Hill won and I was getting offered loads of great drives, but I was committed to going back home.

"I had a nice young 3-year-old called For A Reason, who I really liked, and he went on to win four Derbys when I got back home. Then, when I was back home, I picked up (former U.S. pacer) Mr Feelgood, who I couldn't say no to, and he went on to win $AUD1 million for us.

"I did plan to go back (to the U.S.). I think I could've ended-up like Andy and Toddy (McCarthy's younger brothers) have, but things changed when I got back home and I didn't get back."

Luke does think back, wondering what might have been.

"Do I? Yes, of course I do. And I do wish, in some ways, I'd gone back over and given it a serious go, but I also achieved some great things here with some terrific horses," he said.

Little did we know at the time it would be forerunner to a stunning impact across North American by the McCarthy clan.

These days, Luke, and his parents John and Narelle, set the alarm for early rises whenever the big U.S. races are on to cheer for Andy and Todd.

"I'm just so proud of them," Luke said. "You sort of shake your head a bit at how successful they've both been and when you throw in Dexter (Dunn) from down here as well, it's just incredible.

"Andy's been there for 14 years and he's really worked hard for all his opportunities, in many ways he helped pave the way for Dex and Toddy when they went across. To see Andy doing so well now it's pretty special as a brother.

"The only disappointing part is not being able to get across there for the past couple of years to catch-up with them and go to some of the biggest meetings. I know that's been especially frustrating for mum and dad, but things are looking better now, at last."

Back home, Luke and wife, Belinda, were lured away from a hugely successful Queensland stable to New South Wales with the lure of the state-of-the-art new Menangle track, which opened in 2010.

In 2011, they established what's now up with the best properties in Down Under harness, Cobbitty Equine Farm. It's 65 acres, less than an hour from Sydney airport and just around the corner from Menangle racetrack.

And it's so much more than just an elite training centre.

It has also, much to the unplanned surprise of the McCarthys, become a breeding mecca. This season their stallion roster includes: McWicked, Rock N Roll World, Capt Midnight plus domestic stars such as Lochinvar Art, Bling It On, For A Reason and Jilliby Kung Fu.

"The stallions are something we didn't plan, it just sort of happened," Luke said. "We had Bling It On, who was one of Australia's best pacers at the time, get badly injured and need a year off. So, we decided to stand him ... and that started it all."

Luke and Belinda McCarthy and family after winning the Miracle Mile.

The other revered element to Cobbitty Equine Farm is its rehab and pre-training facilities.

It's no surprise when Lochinvar Art, Australia's champion pacer of 2020, was sidelined with a leg issue, trainer David Moran and owner Kevin Gordon immediately called the McCarthys.

"It was the logical fit. We hope to get him back racing, so he can do rehab and pre-training up there while he serves his first crop of mares," Moran said.

"And Luke and Belinda having shown how successfully they can do that, mixing breeding with racing to win some of our biggest races with Bling It On and For A Reason a few years back."

Team McCarthy, of which Belinda is the head trainer, is the most influential stable in Australia, especially at the open-class level.

Heading into Down Under's biggest series, the Inter Dominion later this month, Team McCarthy has the two standout favorites in two-time Miracle Mile winner King Of Swing and emerging 4-year-old Expensive Ego, who ran second to King Of Swing in this year's Miracle Mile.

"King Of Swing is our best hope. He's tough and seasoned and will relish the four runs in a fortnight. I'm not saying Expensive Ego won't, but it's a harder ask on a four-year-old, especially when throw-in all the travel between venues during that fortnight, as well," McCarthy said.

It's hard enough beating Team McCarthy anywhere, let alone in their own backyard of NSW where this Inter Dominion will be run.

The Inter Dominion, a gruelling series of three compulsory qualifying heats in the first week into the final a week later, starts at Menangle on Nov. 27. It then heads to Bathurst on Dec. 1, Newcastle on Dec. 5 and then into the Grand Final back at Menangle on Dec. 11.

2021 Breeders Crown Charity Challenge exceeds expectations

The 2021 Breeders Crown Charity Challenge presented by the Libfeld-Katz Breeding Partnership exceeded expectations this year and raised a total of $409,225.

Four tri-state charities benefited from the Challenge that ran July 2 through Breeders Crown night one on Friday (Oct. 29). Driver Grand Circuit points, online voting and onsite visit bonus points were tallied to award the first through fourth spots.

The John Theurer Cancer Center and Team Dexter Dunn captured the top spot by a slim three point margin and earned $134,050. Coming in second place and earning $84,500 was Special Olympics NJ behind a strong social media push by Team Tim Tetrick.

The enCourage Kids Foundation and Team David Miller finished in third place. Meadowlands Racetrack CEO Jeff Gural and his wife Paula generously matched the third place donation winnings giving the enCourage Kids Foundation $119,450. The New Jersey Pandemic Relief Fund and Team Yannick Gingras finished the Challenge in fourth place earning $59,725.

A special thank you goes out to the generous donations of sponsors including:

- Diamond Sponsors: FanDuel & Meadowlands Racing & Entertainment
- Platinum Sponsors: Nancy Takter, Ron Burke, Nifty Norman, Brett Pelling & Tony Alagna
- Gold Sponsors: Deo Volente Farms, Concord Stud Farm, Marcus Melander, Julie Miller, Linda Toscano, Hogan Equine Clinic
- Silver Sponsors: Dexter Dunn, Yannick Gingras, David Miller, Tim Tetrick, Noel Daley, Ake Svanstedt, Chris Ryder, Tom & John Cancelliere, Jim Campbell

Many thanks go out to the "Breeding for a Cause" bidders and the breeding donors Hanover Shoe Farms and Dr. Bridgette Jablonsky, the Captaintreacherous Syndicate, Blue Chip Farm and Chapter Seven Syndicate, Adam Bowden of Diamond Creek Farms, Southwind Farm and Muscle Hill Syndicate, the Walner Syndicate and Brittany Farms and Val d'Or for their generous donations. $10,000 was also donated personally by Marvin Katz to the Woodhill Community Center in Lexington, KY on behalf of the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale for their support of the Charity Challenge initiative.

To date $812,591 has been raised for local organizations in need through the Breeders Crown Charity Challenge, creative in 2019 to help host tracks forge a bond with their regional communities while also highlighting the benevolence of the harness racing industry.

Upset winners in Harvest filly finals

Just Call Me Song hit the right note, while Angelonia capitalized to score upset victories in series final action on Monday evening (Nov. 1) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The first card of November at the Campbellville oval saw 2-year-old fillies square off in a pair of Ontario sired Harvest Series finals.

The $46,600 final for 2-year-old fillies saw a compact group of five clash, but there was nothing small about the efforts turned in.

Momentarily delivered speed from the outside to make the front and post an opening-quarter of :27.3. The 3-5 favourite Day To Party was right-lined from third entering the backstretch and made the front at the half, but didn't exactly get an easy quarter, reaching the half in :55.3.

Day To Party got to slow things down in the third-quarter, pacing a :30 clip. Quebecoise angled out from third to come first-up, providing cover for 24-1 shot Just Call Me Song.

In the stretch, Just Call Me Song was ready to rock for driver Louis Philippe Roy, charging up on the outside and muscling ahead of Day To Party late to win 1:53.2 by a length. Momentarily finished third, while Ivory Hanover was fourth.

Trained by Eric Nadeau, Just Call Me Song had finished third and fourth in the preliminary legs of the Harvest Series prior to striking for the 24-1 series final upset. The victory boosts the season totals for the daughter of Sportswriter to two wins and $45,327 earned in 11 starts for owners 1876472 Ontario Inc., Roy, Michel Letarte and Jean Allaire.

A $2 win ticket on Just Call Me Song returned $51.10.

The $45,100 Harvest final for 2-year-old trotting fillies saw Angelonia come through at odds of 7-1 for driver Tyler Moore and trainer Dr. Ian Moore.

Post-10 starter Saundra blasted out to grab the top spot, posting a 27.3 opener. Angelonia also showed good early speed, landing a two-hole trip.

Saundra kept rolling along in the middle-half, posting fractions of :57.1 and 1:25.4, creating a few lengths of separation on Angelonia turning for home. The strong fractions proved too much for Saundra, as she faded in the lane. Angelonia took full advantage, trotting by and finding enough energy to win in 1:57.2.

Da Royal Miracle rallied from eighth at the head of the lane for second, while race-favourite Ladyflix came from sixth to finish third.

A daughter of Archangel, Angelonia entered Monday's contest off a fourth placed third effort in last week's second leg. The career-best effort of 1:57.2 improves Angelonia to two wins and $53,605 earned for owners Dr. Moore and Frank Cannon.

A $2 win ticket on Angelonia returned $17.

The Harvest Series was open to Ontario sired 2-year-old fillies, who were non-winners of $30,000 as of September 30, 2021.

The series final action continues Thursday evening (Nov. 4) with a pair of finals for 2-year-old colts and geldings. Post time is 7 p.m.

Always B Miki's stud fee set to $15,000

The Always B Miki Ownership group is pleased to announce that after the success of Breeders Crown weekend, that his 2022 stud fee will be $15,000.

Always B Miki had three Breeder Crown final winners with Niki Hill, Monte Miki and back-to-back Breeders Crown champion Perfect Sting. Always B Miki is currently the leading sire of 3-year-olds, both by average earnings and money winnings.

With his already proven ability to produce colts and fillies at the very highest level he remains the best value in the pacing market.

He will stand in Pennsylvania at Diamond Creek in 2022. Bookings can be submitted online at www.diamondcreekfarm.com, by emailing bookings@diamondcreekfarm.com, or by phone at 717.638.7100

Case Bateson notches first pari-mutuel win at 30-1

Although he notched five wins at Ohio county fairs in his first summer of competition, provisional driver Case Bateson walked out of the Hollywood Dayton Raceway paddock on Monday (Nov. 1) with a little added pep in his step. The 19-year-old son of Ohio Harness Horsemen's Association president Steve Bateson captured an $11,500 condition race in just his third pari-mutuel track effort. He swung wide into the stretch and collared pace-setting favorite Starthimup (Tony Hall) midway down the lane to score with Rock N Randy V, who Case co-owns with his father. The 5-year-old son of Pet Rock is trained by Jason Brewer—for whom Case has been working and getting experience while learning the ropes.

"I hope to make it a career," beamed Bateson following the victory. "I've moved closer to Jason's training center and am enjoying learning everything I can."

"Trust me, this doesn't mean his stall cleaning days are over," said Brewer, laughing. Brewer is a winner of over 4,000 races in his driving career. Not to be outdone, Brewer captured the very next race with Rock N Randy V stablemate Modern Rock AS in 1:52.3.

Hollywood Dayton races every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Post time is 4 p.m. every day except Monday, when the action kicks off at 2 p.m.

Plainridge Park adds dates to November schedule

Plainridge Park has announced that pending approval from the Massachusetts Gaming Commission, the track will be adding Sunday (Nov. 7) and Sunday (Nov. 14) to its live racing schedule. The additional days are to make up two cards that were canceled in August due to extreme summer heat.

The two new dates will keep Plainridge on a Sunday-Monday-Thursday-Friday schedule until the final week of the season when the Thursday (Nov. 25) card will be moved to Wednesday (Nov. 24) in observance of the Thanksgiving holiday. The final day of live racing at The Ridge for 2021 is Friday (Nov. 26).

Post time for all remaining race dates is 1 p.m.
