Rene Allard sentenced to 27 months in prison, Louis Grasso gets 50 months

Dave Landry

Both plead guilty to one felony count of misbranding and altering drugs in a federal horse doping case that has, so far, netted some 30 accused, with many already handed prison sentences.

Trainer Rene Allard has been sentenced to more than two years in prison.

by Bill Finley

Sentences in the doping cases involving trainer Rene Allard and veterinarian Louis Grasso were handed down this week by U.S. District Judge P. Kevin Castel, with Grasso receiving a 50-month prison sentence and Allard getting a 27-month sentence.

Both had previously plead guilty to one felony count of misbranding and altering drugs.

The Allard sentence was three-months shorter than the one given to trainer Richard Banca, another key figure in the doping scandal that has sent shockwaves through the standardbred and thoroughbred industries. Government prosecutors had asked the judge to give Allard 30 months, while his lawyers lobbied for an 18-month prison term. The maximum sentence for misbranding and altering drugs is five years.

Commenting on the sentences given to Banca, Allard and Grasso, Damian Williams, the United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York, said the actions of the three amounted to animal abuse.

"Illegally doping racehorses is animal abuse in the service of greed," Williams said in a press release. "Such corruption threatens the health of racehorses and undermines the integrity of the sport. Today, three defendants have been sentenced for their roles in perpetuating, and profiting from, the mistreatment of animals. The sentences each defendant received appropriately reflects the seriousness of these offenses in the eyes of the law."

In its sentencing submission, federal prosecutors portrayed Allard as someone motivated by greed and that there were no limits to his doping routines.

"Allard, for years, trained and raced horses through use of a covert 'doping' scheme intended to corruptly gain a competitive advantage in races through the administration of performance-enhancing drugs (PEDs)," the sentencing submission read. "Allard obtained from co-defendant Louis Grasso and others unapproved, untested, novel PEDs that he caused to be administered to his horses, despite the inherent risks of administering unnecessary medications to the animals under his control. Allard was motivated by greed, fraudulently earning tens of millions of dollars in purse winnings through his craven efforts to manipulate races."

The submission continued: "The defendant's callous and casual doping of racehorses is serious conduct, meriting a serious punishment."

The prosecution also noted the volume of illegal drugs Allard kept at his barn, calling it a "small pharmacy worth of drugs."

In particularly troubling chapter in the Allard scandal, the Federal Bureau of Investigation intercepted a phone conversation in which two other alleged conspirators discussed the deaths of horses trained by Allard after they had been given illegal drugs. One reference caught on wiretap described the trainer's operation as the "Allard death camp."

Allard's lawyers, Max Nicolas and Rebecca Orel, asked for leniency, calling Allard a "good and decent person."

“Allard, for years, trained and raced horses through use of a covert ‘doping’ scheme intended to corruptly gain a competitive advantage in races through the administration of performance-enhancing drugs (PEDs. Allard obtained from co-defendant Louis Grasso and others unapproved, untested, novel PEDs that he caused to be administered to his horses, despite the inherent risks of administering unnecessary medications to the animals under his control. Allard was motivated by greed, fraudulently earning tens of millions of dollars in purse winnings through his craven efforts to manipulate races.”

~ sentencing submission

“Mr. Allard has no criminal history, and his two years on bail in this case were without incident,” Allard’s lawyers wrote. “He has an eighth-grade education. He is a family man who lives with his fiancé and their two young children, ages three and four, for whom he is the sole financial provider and for whom the effect of his incarceration will be devastating, a reality that is referenced in the Probation Department’s sentencing recommendation of 24 months.”

Through his lawyers, Allard expressed regret for his actions.

“Although Mr. Allard always purchased drugs from licensed veterinarians, he knew that what he was doing was wrong, and he was motivated in part by a desire to improve the performance of the horses he was training and thus to win more races,” the lawyers wrote. “By engaging in this conduct, he compromised the potential well-being of the animals that he loves and around whom he has lived his entire life. He is deeply sorry for what he has done and bears total responsibility.”

As part of his plea agreement, Allard had agreed to pay a $628,553 money judgment, which represents the value of the forfeited drugs.

According to the government, Grasso, Allard and Banca worked in tandem to procure and manufacture drugs that would give their horses a competitive advantage.

“Grasso, a veterinarian, not only accepted payment in exchange for prescriptions for powerful and medically unnecessary PEDs, but he also created, distributed, and administered custom-made PEDs that were all misbranded and adulterated substances designed solely to improve racehorse performance,” read a press release from the U.S. Attorney’s Office Southern District of New York. “Through this fraudulent scheme, Grasso helped corrupt trainers collect over $47 million in ill-gotten purse winnings.”

In the original indictment that covered Grasso, the government charged that Grasso and others delivered and received “at least thousands” of units of PEDs issued by pharmacies pursuant to invalid prescriptions. According to the indictment, Grasso was also manufacturing and/or selling “epogen,” pain shots of joint blocks, bronchodilators and a substance called “red acid.” Red acid is believed to reduce inflammation in joints.

Still another figure in the doping scandal, former trainer Nick Surick, will be sentenced Dec. 15.

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

Pennsylvania still incredibly strong, but other jurisdictions have greatly improved

Comparing this year Lexington and Harrisburg sire averages with the more recent pre-pandemic year of 2019.

by Brett Sturman

I received a note recently from a knowledgeable friend located in Ontario. The person wasn't quite sure, but had an inkling that Pennsylvania-bred horses had been less prominent in the past couple of years. Trotting sires in the state, including Greenshoe, Father Patrick, Bar Hopping and Cantab Hall as examples speak for themselves, but this person inquired as to the quality of top pacing stallions in the state outside of Captaintreacherous and Always B Miki. Being in PA myself it didn't occur to me there might have been a shift in the state one way or another, but maybe with this being the first year there wasn't a 2-year-old pacing crop from the late Somebeachsomewhere, perhaps there was at least a perception in the states standing compared to others.

Prompted to dig into the question, I'd now say that the state of affairs in PA continues to remain unequivocally strong. But what could be happening at the same time is an increase in the prominence of other state programs.

For example, let's take results from the 2019 Harrisburg sale, the last year prior to COVID-19 as a baseline. In that sale, yearlings eligible in PA averaged $52,248. At least week's sale, PA-eligible yearlings sold for $50,884, still a solid number. The difference is that in 2019 Pennsylvania was the only state other than New Jersey from that sale to have yearlings average over $50,000. Ontario has seen gains over that time, too. This year, Ohio and New York both crossed that $50,000 threshold for average and PA was actually a close fourth in that grouping (though you could say Ohio was skewed by a disproportionate offering of high-priced Downbytheseasides).

Obviously, the sale prices largely reflect the continued success of on-track performance for the progeny from each state's top stallions. At the top of the list for PA remains Captaintreacherous who continues to remain the only pacing stallion to average over $100,000 per yearling at both the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale and the Harrisburg Sale. In fact, he's actually increased year over year. The price of his Lexington yearlings went from $109,200 to $129,300 this year over last, and in Harrisburg they went from $113,590 to $120,073 over that same time period. Last month, his Allywag Hanover tied for the second-fastest mark in racing history with his 1:46 upset over Bulldog Hanover, and then just last week established the fastest mile ever on a five-eighth mile track when he won the Potomac Pace Invitational in 1:46.4 at Rosecroft. This year, Captaintreacherous' 2-year-old crop includes two sub-1:50 winners. Combustion, who took a 1:49.3 mark when winning an International Stallion Stake at Lexington, and Save America who has gone 1:49.4 on two different occasions in his freshman year, most recently when winning his Metro elimination in September.

Beyond Captaintreacherous comes Stay Hungry, a first-crop sire who has burst onto the scene this year. As a result of his early success, his yearlings at Harrisburg increased from $37,640 last year to $59,667 this year. Similar gains were seen at the Lexington sale where his yearlings went from an average of $61,593 all the way up to $76,063. He has six 2-year-olds thus far that have paced in 1:51 or better, including his lone sub

1:50 performer Kopi Luwak who took a 1:49.2 mark at the Red Mile. He also has standouts in Annapolis Hanover, Zanatta, and Bluegrass stakes winner Lyons Surfing.

Proven pacing sires in PA such as Sweet Lou and Always B Miki continue to hold strong as well. Always B Miki saw his yearling averages fall somewhat at Harrisburg from $61,095 to $43,448, but it was almost the exact opposite at Lexington where his offering of yearlings increased from $49,167 to just shy of $60,000. This year, he's the sire of the brilliant 2-year-old filly champion Sylvia Hanover (1:50.2), as well as the sire of $416,560 2-year-old earner and sub 1:50 performer Strong Poison (1:49.3). It's a similar story for the tried and true, Sweet Lou. He remains strong, with yearlings averaging $50,242 in Harrisburg and $72,968 in Lexington this year. In just the past month with his 2-year-olds, he's sired Breeders Crown champion Ammo, International Stallion Stake winner Mamba, and Bluegrass winner Admiral Hill. In that time, he's also the sire of Breeders Crown elimination and a 1:49.2 performer, Confederate.

What may bolster the pacing ranks in PA even more in the coming years could depend on new sire Captain Crunch. A son of Captaintreacherous who stands for $7,500 at Diamond Creek, his yearlings were highly regarded at this year's sales. His selection at Harrisburg averaged $55,688 over 32 sold horses, and that was paralleled at Lexington with an average of $62,000 for 34 yearlings. In fact, his average price at Harrisburg was better than any other pacing stallion offered at Harrisburg with exception to Captaintreacherous and Stay Hungry (both PA-eligible), along with Downbytheseaside (Ohio).

For as encouraging as the stallion prospects are in PA, the same holds true elsewhere, which is why other states have continued to gain prominence in recent years. New York has Chapter Seven on trotting side who just averaged massive average yearling numbers of $149,462 at Harrisburg and $129,300 at Lexington, but also has an extremely nice pacing stallion in Huntsville, sire of, among many other notables, 1:49.3 winner as well as Bluegrass Stakes winner All About The Hunt. Downbytheseaside put up remarkable numbers in Harrisburg, averaging $90,875 over eight sold yearlings to pave the way on the Ohio pacing front. There's no question that New Jersey is being carried almost exclusively on the trotting side with Walner and Muscle Hill and watch out for Tactical Landing, though Lazarus N may still prove to be a welcome addition on the pacing end.

Fitting farewell

Friends and family bid goodbye to Dave Brower at his Celebration of Life at The Meadowlands and beyond.

by Debbie Little

Mahatma Gandhi said: "There are no goodbyes for us. Wherever you are, you will always be in my heart."

That's true for our friend Dave Brower, who was given a loving send-off on Saturday (Nov. 12) at The Meadowlands.

Rather than hold a traditional wake and funeral following Brower's unexpected passing on Friday, Oct. 7, his mother, Rose, and sister, Laura, chose to hold a "Celebration of Life" service and sprinkle some of his ashes on the track at The Big M. The Browsers are a small, close family that also include Laura's sons, Devon and Mason, granddaughter, Amanii, and cousin, Gary Nikorak, that were present that night.

"Harness racing was his passion," said Laura. "I'm being opened up to that world now and I almost feel like I have to do right by him and I want to go to Kentucky and I want to go to The Jug and put a little piece of him everywhere he'd want to be."

The ceremony took place in the winner's circle prior to the races and was hosted by Brower's long-time TV partner and friend, Dave Little.

"Brow was always the host for important events at The Meadowlands, so it's weird for me to be the one hosting, because he no longer can," said Little.

Interviews were done with Brower's friends Bob Heyden, Gabe Prewitt, Nick Salvi and Les Stark, as well as his friend and boss, Jason Settlemyre, who was responsible for bringing Brower back to The Meadowlands after a seven-year hiatus.

Prior to spreading Brower's ashes on the track, a photo montage, put together by the Meadowlands TV department, was played leaving very few dry eyes in the house.

Little also spoke with Brower's cousin, Gary, and his 7th-grade social studies teacher, Jim Shoop.

This story from Mr. Shoop has been shared before, but it is certainly worthy of repeating.

"I was talking about famous Mongol leaders who invaded China in the 1200s and I just wanted to see if my students knew who Genghis Khan was," said Mr. Shoop. "So, I said to my class, 'Who is Genghis Khan?'"

"First hand up, Dave Brower. I said, 'Yes Dave.' He said, 'Genghis Khan just won the Driscoll Pace at The Meadowlands Racetrack.' So, I said, 'Not the answer I was looking for, but it's correct, you get an A.'"

Dave Brower's mother, Rose, and sister, Laura, sprinkle some of his ashes on the Meadowlands track during last Saturday's Celebration of Life.

Friends, family and the Meadowlands community gathered in the winner's circle to celebrate Brower's life.

One of Brower's closest friends, Scott Thornton, was unable to attend because he's out of town taking his boards to become a veterinarian.

Anyone who followed Brower on social media has seen many pictures of him at the house on upstate New York's Lake Sacandaga, owned by Thornton and his wife, Laura.

"He would come up every summer for 20 years," said Thornton. "He's the only one of our friends who had been to every single Labor Day that we had up there.

"He always sat on the deck. He had his chair on the deck. He would face the water and he would sit there for hours. Literally hours. And the first thing he'd do when he got to the lake was put out his chair and that would be his spot for the weekend."

Thornton has many Brow lake stories, one of which involved needing Brower to row across part of the lake to pick him up.

"He was very incompetent when it came to anything mechanical," said Thornton. "And if you don't know how to row a boat, it's very confusing. It's amazing how many people do not know how to row a boat and he is one of them. So, he was trying to get off the dock and he didn't know which oar to use. He's going backwards and it's just a mess. And he's finally getting out to me and he's rowing along and suddenly he stops and is just going in a circle.

"And I'm like, 'What the f are you doing?' But I knew what he was doing. We have a huge rock and we call it the Volkswagen because it's actually bigger than a Volkswagen. And he went aground on the rock. So, he's in the middle of the lake on a rock trying to row and he's just going in a circle. And he's like 'What am I doing? What am I doing?' I said, 'You're being an idiot.' And we were both laughing. It was just a typical Brow kind of thing."

Another lake-house memory involved a lot of water.

"We have a whole crew up there and we're all jokesters. And one of the things I do is I leave super soaker water pistols all over the place. So, anyone could shoot at any time. Brow always kind of stayed off on the side with that stuff. So, he was sitting in his chair, and we were walking up from the lake and the bastard had one of the super soakers and he shot me.

"And my saying whenever someone shoots me is if you set out to kill the king, be sure you kill the king because I'm going to get you back. And he knew that but he shot me and he's thrilled and everyone else is laughing."

Thornton went on to explain that later that afternoon when it was time to get ready for dinner, Brower took a shower, which signaled payback time.

"I said to my buddy, who also got shot, it's go time," said Thornton. "So, we got these huge five-gallon spackle buckets and we fill them with water. And we climb up on the roof with these two huge buckets of water. The house had sliders that open onto a deck and everyone would just hang out on the deck because it's summertime.

"It couldn't have been more perfect. He stopped right as he came out onto the deck and he slaps his hands together and says, 'Let's party.' He stood there and 10 gallons of water came kaboom directly on his head and just soaked him 100 per cent. That's my favorite memory of him."

The Celebration of Life service and the photo montage are both available on the Meadowlands' YouTube channel.

www.youtube.com/watch?v=dqzHTBeUAul&t=1264s

www.youtube.com/watch?v=8FLB6J_-Q08&t=196s

There are plans in place to spread some of Brower's ashes at the lake next year.

"I tried putting out his chair the weekend after he died," said Thornton. "I put the chair out with a little drink as an homage but I had to take it down. I wasn't ready for that."

Sparkling performances in Swedish Breeders Crown as Lara Boko sets new world record

by Thomas Hedlund

Four divisions of $320,000 Breeders Crown were held in Eskilstuna, Sweden on Sunday (Nov. 13) afternoon and in the foggy weather the fans were just able to see some really great performances.

The 4-year-old mares were first out and Timo Nurmos' Lara Boko (Djali Boko) entered the race as heavy favorite after her impressive win in the elimination two weeks earlier.

Driver Mika Forss aimed for the lead and hit Lara Boko's favorite position shortly after the start, which, obviously, was a factor that suited the horse and driver well. But Lara Boko has at some occasions been incautious with her energy throughout the races and when the field hit the first kilometer, the pace was set high. Glamorous Rain left the two hole with 500 meters to go and challenged leader Lara Boko at the stretch, but the leader held on and hit the wire in a mile rate of 1:54 over 1.3 miles, a new world record for 4-year-old mares over the distance on a 5/8 mile track.

"It's an incredible mark in the middle of November. The track is great, but it's not summer here by now. Lara Boko is special in many ways and today she was very fired up behind the gate, so I had some doubts about her, but she solved every moment of the race without problems. I hope that she can stay sound and be healthy. It would be interesting to face all the great mares next year", said Mika Forss after the big win.

Glamorous Rain finished second ahead of her stable mate Felicia Zet.

FRANCESCO ZET MAKES HISTORY

Daniel Redén-trained Francesco Zet (Father Patrick) came to Eskilstuna with eight wins in as many attempts as a 4-year-old this season and already before the final in the $320,000 Breeders Crown he had made history. Francesco Zet's triumph streak started already last fall when he won $800,000 Kriteriet at Solvalla and, some months later, the $320,000 Breeders Crown for 3-year-old colts and geldings. He started this season by winning the $200,000 Kungapokalen, followed by the $240,000 Sprintermästaren and the $800,000 Derby, the Swedish Triple Crown. No other colt or gelding in the history had managed to continue the winning path by capturing the Breeders Crown as a 4-year-old after two seasons like this, but Francesco Zet has shown, basically in every start this year, that he's something special.

ALN

Francesco Zet and trainer Daniel Redén after winning the Swedish Breeders Crown for 4-year-old male trotters. It was Francesco Zet's ninth straight win this year and 13th consecutive win going back to 2021.

Örjan Kihlström gently pushed Francesco Zet to the lead on the back stretch the first time and in front he was unbeatable, for the ninth time (13 wins in a row from last fall) 2022.

The son of Father Patrick jogged to a safe win in a mile rate of 1:54.2 and this might have been the last appearance for him on a racetrack.

"First of all I'm so proud and happy for everything about this horse. Francesco Zet is unlike all other horses that I've worked with in my life and I'm so happy that the season ended well. It's a pressure having him in this shape throughout an entire year and now we'll see what happens. Obviously I want to see him compete, but many breeders have contacted us regarding Francesco Zet's services as a stud and I'm aware of the difficulties with combining breeding and racing, at least for this horse," said Redén.

Sourire Frö was the runner up and Karat River claimed the bronze medal.

Francesco Zet's nine starts and wins this year have resulted in $860,500 in his bank account and, in total, he has made 19 starts with 17 wins and $1,498,706 in lifetime earnings.

DANCER BRODDE TOPS AMONG CROWN 3-YEAR-OLD COLTS

The 3-year-old colts and geldings division of the $320,000 Breeders Crown was more open before the race, even if Roger Walmann's Bedazzled Sox was the clear first choice.

Bedazzled Sox, who has shown great ability to leave quickly behind the gate, was not even close to reaching his favorite position and driver Torbjörn Jansson had to settle in third over as the leader was Dancer Brodde (Bold Eagle) and trainer/driver Johan Untersteiner.

Dancer Brodde was allowed to keep the pace quite slow during the race's first 1,200 meters and horses deep down in the field seemed to have obvious problems catching the front horses.

Bedazzled Sox finished strongly in third after an attack three wide at the back stretch and Dancer Brodde never got seriously challenged in the stretch.

The winner finished in a mile rate of 1:56.2 over 1.3 miles.

Post 1 behind the gate over 2,140 meters in Eskilstuna is kind of the mythic one since it's been historically tough for horses to keep the lead from that number.

"I've been driving here for 10 years and I know that post 1 is tricky, but I took a chance and chose that number, because I had a feeling that my horse would be fast if he had his day," said Untersteiner.

QUEEN BELINA WINS CROWN FOR SOPHOMORE FILLIES

Queen Belina (Nuncio) got stuck behind horses with plenty of power when the $560,000 Oaks was held at Solvalla in late September but in the $320,000 Breeders Crown for 3-year-old fillies, it was her time to enter the winner's circle.

Trainer Jörgen Westholm, who earlier this year succeeded in the $400,000 E3 with Spraven, stood beside the track and saw Kihlström behind his chestnut filly in Sunday's race. Kihlström found a perfect spot in second over and Queen Belina started the three wide attack with a half-mile to go. There were never any doubts about who was the best horse in the field this time and Queen Belina sprinted to a safe win in a mile rate of 1:57.1 over 1.3 miles.

"Queen Belina is just a fantastic individual to work with and I'm so satisfied right now. This is what we aim for every year, winning races like these," said Westholm after his first Breeders Crown triumph.

GOCCIADORO DOMINATED IN MONTEGIORGIO

Alessandro Gocciadoro sat behind winner Bengurion Jet (Maharajah) when the $134,500 Gran Premio Palio dei Comuni was held in Montegiorgio, Italy on Sunday afternoon (Nov. 13).

Bengurion Jet impressed in his elimination and Gocciadoro hit the lead with his horse in the final later same day. With a half-mile to go, Gocciadoro let stablemate Global Trustworthy take the lead and Bengurion Jet had to wait until the home stretch before he could attack for the win. The tactic succeeded and Bengurion Jet won in 1:54, ahead of Global Trustworthy and Africa Jet.

Gocciadoro can continue to capture big trophies in his home country this Sunday (Nov. 20) as the 4-year-old race the $217,000 Gran Premio Unione Europea is scheduled in Modena, Italy. He will drive Charmant de Zack from post 1 behind the gate and the duo will most probably enter the race as favorite.

THE FIRST "B-RACE" IS HERE

The $125,000 Prix de Bretagne is the first qualification race ahead of the 2023 Prix d'Amérique and the race is scheduled at Vincennes this Sunday (Nov. 20).

It's clear that a new generation trotters, both from France and the rest of Europe, are trying to reach the highest levels in the big races for older trotters. This can be ascertained after a glance at the entries' list for the race.

Last year's Prix d'Amérique winner Davidson du Pont is out of the game due to injury and many new names show up at Vincennes Sunday.

The definitive entries list was not ready when editing the news for HRU, but some of the horses in the list are:

Flamme du Goutier

Hooker Berry

Italiano Vero (4-year-old)

Zarenne Fas

Galius (runner up in PdA 2022)

Fakir du Lorault

Alcoy

Violetto Jet

Decoloration

Ampia Mede SM

Hussard du Landret

No laughing matter

There have endless trials for Sam and Jodi Schillaci on the road to success with 5-year-old One Last Laugh, but the full-brother to Meadowlands Pace winner One More Laugh is finally living up to his promise at Northfield Park.

by Bob Roberts

Not every horse fulfills the expectations that begin soon after the auctioneer's hammer drops on a high-priced hip number. Nor can every horse live up to the performance of his rich and accomplished older sibling. Blood is blood, but intangibles sometimes block a path to the winner's circle.

That pretty much sums up the ruckus that was the opening act of pacing gelding One Last Laugh's life at the races. He was rich in relatives, but very poor in behavioral choices. At least he was until the lightbulb in his head went on earlier this year, his fourth season at the races.

It's a bulb that is burning quite brightly these days. One Last Laugh has won 12 times in 2022 (he won only seven times in the previous three years), has banked $179,089, and his 1:49.1 mile on June 26 at Northfield Park is not only his lifetime mark, but the fastest time in the history of the stable of his trainer and co-owner, Sam Schillaci.

One Last Laugh's turnabout cost Hunter Myers, his regular driver, a pretty penny for pizza. Myers has made good on his promise to treat the stable hands when and if he and his race partner both shaded 1:50 for the first time in their careers. Make that a half-dozen Italian pies, thank you.

In the fall of 2018, Sam and Jodi Schillaci, the husband and wife team that races at Northfield Park, along with partners Sam Bova and Peter Barbato, raised their collective hand at $100,000 at the Lexington Selected Yearlings Sale for the son of McArdle out of the Sportsmaster mare, Fancy Creek Funny.

The breeding made the colt a full-brother to One More Laugh, a winner of 39 races and $2.6 million in purses. Among One More Laugh's scores was the $1 million Meadowlands Pace of 2010.

When the Schillacis brought One Last Laugh to Sahbra Farms, their northeastern Ohio training center located less than 20 minutes from Northfield Park, they were like kids on Christmas morning.

"We knew he had talent, but it was hard to get it out of him," said Jodi Schillaci, assistant trainer to her husband. "He trained down like a good horse, but when it was time to start racing, he would pull himself up, stop, freeze and wheel. It was terrible. He got to where he wouldn't turn and wouldn't go. Somebody would have to run out and get him, unhook the jog cart and walk him back to the barn. This went on for years."

While he made it to the races as a 2-year-old, One Last Laugh did little more than show up for a bit of exercise before dinner. He won just once in seven starts with three last place finishes, earning a not-so whopping $8,544.

One Last Laugh was a head case, which made for cases of upset stomachs for the Schillacis.

"We thought about the money he cost and we were sick," said Jodi. "He just did whatever he wanted."

She may also have wondered if changing his name shortly after purchasing him was such a good idea.

"It was a terrible name," she said. "I can't recall exactly what it was, but it was something Blue Chip."

It was Ridicule Blue Chip, perhaps fitting for a horse not thrilled with putting forth an honest effort other than emptying his feed tub.

Everybody involved with One Last Laugh during his stubborn days got a good workout. Sam Schillaci would train him in the mornings at Sahbra and end up with aching arms and sore hands. Myers got unexpected exercise when called into action.

"First of all, you could hardly jog him," said Myers. "He'd pull your guts out. I had to go get one a few times. Once, he froze and was standing in the track infield. I hopped on a bike and pedaled out to help Sam."

"I remember that day," said Jodi. "It was rainy and crappy. Hunter went out there and unhooked him and walked him back, calling him all kind of names. Sam had to pull the jog cart back to the barn. He wasn't happy, either."

Things got so bad, there was talk of trying to unload One Last Laugh.

"There absolutely was a discussion about giving up on him," said Jodi. "It went on for a good year. Sam Bova was adamant about not wanting to sell. And, I wanted to keep going with him."

The split decision meant that Sam and Hunter and a couple of other drivers (Ronnie Wrenn and Chris Lems) continued to wonder if a splash of One Last Laugh's liniment might soothe their throbbing arms.

Life got a little better in One Last Laugh's 3- and 4-year-old campaigns as he won six of 57 starts, but he was still the class clown during training and racing. As a 4-year-old last year, he piled up a dozen runner-up finishes with just two victories. Jodi said he, "never wanted to beat anybody."

Training out at Sahbra continued to be an ordeal.

“We knew he had talent, but it was hard to get it out of him. He trained down like a good horse, but when it was time to start racing, he would pull himself up, stop, freeze and wheel. It was terrible. He got to where he wouldn’t turn and wouldn’t go. Somebody would have to run out and get him, unhook the jog cart and walk him back to the barn. This went on for years.”

~ Jodi Schillaci

“At the farm, a groom would have to run him out to the track, and we’d have two horses waiting out there. We’d have to position him between them or he’d stop once it was time to go,” said Jodi. “At the races, Ronnie helped develop him a lot by putting him where he’d have to follow a horse. If you put him on the front end, he’d pull himself up.”

One Last Laugh began behaving and racing forwardly when an old hand took the reins during morning exercise.

“I think (semi-retired driver) Bill Irvine is a lot of the reason this horse has turned around,” said Jodi. “He jogs him every day and lets him do what he wants to do. If Laugh wants to go fast, he goes fast. He’ll be truckin’ out there every day and that’s not how we train our horses. For some reason, it’s just agreed with him and he started getting better and better.”

Irvine is 72 and has won over 2,000 races, mainly on the Ohio raceway and fair circuits.

“When Bill takes a day off, Laugh doesn’t go to the track, that’s how much they get along,” said Jodi. “They certainly have a thing going on.”

She also believes that maturity has helped One Last Laugh focus on his job.

“At age 5, he’s finally learned to like his job, but we honestly don’t know why he’s winning. It’s not an equipment change, because he’s still wearing the same equipment he did as a 2-year-old.”

Although he has made 40 starts this year, Schillaci doesn’t see One Last Laugh getting the winter off.

“It’s hard to give him a vacation because you can’t train him to do something he doesn’t want to do,” she said. “We’ll probably give him a few weeks off here and there, but to shut him down, that’s not going to happen. It would be too hard to get him back.”

There is one thing One More Laugh has yet to earn – a nickname.

“No, he doesn’t have one,” said Jodi. “If he did, after what he’s put us through, you wouldn’t be able to print it.”

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Emma Wahlberg on her never-ending harness racing dreams

by Chris Lomon

"Do you know what the coolest thing about harness racing is? That no matter how much you achieved the dreams never end."

The 22-word Twitter post by Emma Wahlberg two weeks before last Christmas was a window into the horsewoman's world, a heartfelt measure of her affection for the sport and its equine stars.

Now, nearly one year after those words were shared on social media, they continue to resonate with the 31-year-old Swedish-born Wahlberg.

"It does. Even if you have a really good horse, you never give up on achieving more. That's what makes horse racing and the horses so special."

Born in Håbo-Tibble, about an hour's drive northwest from the Swedish capital of Stockholm, Wahlberg's association with equines dates back to her early childhood days.

That affection for horses eventually led her to the stables of some of the country's most respected and successful horsemen.

"I started with pony racing. I started driving ponies when I was around seven or eight. I always liked horses. I used to ride when I was really young and I happened to end up in a standardbred barn later on in my life. I liked it right away. At home, I worked for Marcus Melander and his uncle Stefan. I started driving when I was 16 and I wound up moving to the U.S. in 2015 to work. I always liked the American racing style and the American horses. When I was living in Sweden, we would go to Florida for a family vacation every year and we'd always end up watching the races at Pompano. I enjoyed that a lot."

Wahlberg continued her connection with Marcus Melander when she arrived in the U.S., an opportunity to continue her standardbred education while working with top trotters and pacers.

It was during those times in New Jersey when she met her future husband, trainer Russell Earley III.

"After a while working with Marcus, Russell and I moved back to Ohio, where he is from. We liked the stakes program out here and the fair racing. There are a lot of opportunities for people like us to race and to make some good money with our own stable. There is the Buckeye Stallion Series, and if you get lucky enough to have a Sires Stakes horse, that provides some great opportunities, too.”

Does that mean the couple that races and works together stays together?

“Yes! It can be hard to work together all the time, but you have to separate the work part of your life with your personal life. That’s hard to do with horse racing because you live through the horses. They are our lives, but we get along.”

With a laugh, Wahlberg added, “And when we don’t, I usually get my way.”

The pair are very much hands-on with their stable of five horses. There are no set designations or titles for what they do in a day.

“The way it is, there is nothing he doesn’t do that I don’t do. I jog and Russell does most of the training, but we train together and try to do what the other one does. It works for us. I do enjoy the jogging and training. I love to drive, but that’s tough to do when there aren’t as many opportunities. Right now, we have the five horses. We never have more than 10. We like to do all the work ourselves without having to hire help. We like to do it all.”

Goals, both future and present, are strikingly similar.

“It’s no different than anyone else in the sport. It’s about making money and finding the best horses. We have always liked the older ones and the claimers, but lately, I’ve really enjoyed the young horses. Being around the babies, working with them, breaking them, developing, and getting them prepared, is fun for us. We’re just trying to get better and get better horses.”

Choosing a favorite horse, past or current, isn’t an easy question for Wahlberg to answer.

After a short pause, however, she opts for a veteran trotting son of Mr Cantab—Delphini, bred by Delmar Wagler.

“That’s a hard question because we love all our horses. We had Mr ProTab, who we retired last year and he’s now a riding horse. He was getting older, and we wanted to find him a good home. He wasn’t the best horse... I guess you could call him the best slow horse we’ve had. He made over $100,000 ($149,201 lifetime) for us and he was always good to us. He’d always be third or fourth, but he tried every time. We had him for about six years and we became quite close. He was more like a friend, or like a dog. I raced him Under Saddle as well. I drove him in amateur races and at the fairs too. He did everything with us. We’re happy that we found him a good home now. He’s in Florida and living the good life he deserves.”

Wahlberg and Earley are living their good life too, united in their passion for harness racing, and happy to be doing it side-by-side.

Finding time to spend together beyond the barn and racetrack can be difficult at times, but when they do get those opportunities, they are quick to take advantage of them.

“We basically spend all day at the barn, but when we do have time, we like to go out for dinner. Small things like that, which is all we basically do outside of racing.”

As for that racing part, Wahlberg will continue to chase the dreams she noted in that Twitter post, the one that has become even more meaningful since the day she first shared that sentiment.

The Ohio horsewoman recalls it word-for-word.

“Honestly, there are more downs than ups doing what we do, but it’s all worth it. And it’s not always about winning. We had a trotting mare named Starglider who would run every start, and we worked with her. When we finally figured it out, she made some really good money and became a nice horse for us. That’s a very nice feeling when you figure a horse out. We love being able to do something like that. And that’s a great example of why the dream never ends.”

Stewart and Tonkin dominate, win seven of eight Breeders Crown pacing semi-finals

by Adam Hamilton

Australia has never seen dominance like it before.

Maybe the world never has, either.

The Breeders Crown is one of the marquee events for young horses and one stable – the juggernaut that is Emma Stewart and Clayton Tonkin – won seven of the eight pacing semi-finals at Melton on Nov. 12.

That's never happened before in Australia.

But this dominance has been building.

Aussie harness historian Paul Courts confirmed Stewart and Tonkin bettered their own record with the haul of seven semis.

"They really set themselves for the Crown, but they've raised their own bar this year," Courts said.

"They won 10 of the 13 heats and then seven of the eight semis, that's their best haul yet."

Courts recounted Stewart and Tonkin's recent Crown dominance:

- 2021: Won eight of 13 heats and five of eight semis
- 2020: Won 10 of 13 heats and six of eight semis
- 2019: Won seven of nine heats and eight semis
- 2018: Won all nine heats and six of eight semis

Stewart and Tonkin's stable driver, Mark Pitt, who drove six of their seven Crown semi winners, spoke of their dominance.

"They've been renowned for quite a few years now for producing top young horses, but they just do it year-after-year. It's amazing," he said.

"I was just saying to Clayton the other day, this could be the best crop they've had yet. There are some really outstanding young horses in this batch."

One of them is unbeaten Bettors Delight filly Major Delight, who made it eight wins from as many starts in her semi-final.

She's drawn the pole for the final and will be unbackable odds.

"We haven't seen a filly like her for many years. I think when she works it out completely, she's going to be top of the tree," Pitt said.

That's a huge call when you consider Stewart and Tonkin had the magnificent Ladies In Red dominate as a 2-year-old filly just two years ago.

Is Pitt saying Major Delight is better than Ladies In Red at the same stage?

Stewart's already gone on record saying: "Clayton and I think there is something really special about this filly."

Stuart McCormick

semi-final for 2-year-old pacing fillies. It was one of seven Breeders Crown semi-final wins on the night for the team of Emma Stewart and Clayton Tonkin at Tabcorp Park.

Captaintreacherous colt Captain Ravishing has looked awesome winning five of his six starts since being transferred to Stewart and Tonkin's stable by owner Hass Taiba.

His only defeat came when he drew the back row and was forced to sit parked in record-smashing times when a tiring fifth over the unsuitably long 2760m of the Victoria Derby final last month.

Captain Ravishing has gate five in the final and will stifle betting.

He's paced closing quarters of 26sec flat or faster, including one of :25.1, in three of his wins for the new stable.

Stewart and Tonkin also look to have the 3YO fillies' Breeders Crown at their mercy with last month's Victoria Oaks winner Encipher, another outstanding Captaintreacherous filly.

She made it 10 wins from 17 starts when she led and blasted home in :53.2 and :26.4 to win her semi as she liked. And she's drawn to run to the front again from barrier two in Saturday night's (Nov. 19) final.

Then there are the 2-year-old boys.

Brilliant Captaintreacherous colt The Lost Storm showed he had strength to match his speed when he smashed the record time by a 2-year-old at Melton and still kept going for a narrow but outstanding win.

It was his fourth win from just five starts and he posted a blistering 1:53.9 mile rate for 2240m.

Stewart and Tonkin won the other semi in that division with Hes Watching colt Techys Watching, who also went quick time at 1:54.8.

It's very realistic they could win all four Group 1 Breeders Crown pacing finals at Melton on Saturday night.

Pitt is their stable driver, but Kate Gath is the regular driver on Encipher.

She also drove star mare Tough Tilly to win last night's Crown Mares' free-for-all for Stewart and Tonkin.

It was a fitting win for Gath, who was driving at her first meeting back home after completing her first New York Marathon the previous weekend.

"I ran the marathon to support EB Research and Tough Tilly races for the same cause," Gath said.

"I had some great support and I'm so glad I did it, but the last six kilometres were not enjoyable – pure torture – but I'm ready to have another crack now when the times is right."

Gath ran the New York Marathon in 3:28.23. It was just her second marathon.

Royal Mattjesty dead at 23

Winbak Farm is sad to report the death of world champion, Royal Mattjesty, p, 2, 1:50.3; 3, 1:50.2s; 1:48.4 ($1,653,367). The 23-year-old died away suddenly while enjoying a beautiful day in his pasture field on Nov. 4.

"We are deeply saddened over the loss of Royal Mattjesty," said Jack Burke, general manager. "He was a true champion on the racetrack and we were lucky to be able to stand him at stud at Winbak Farm of Canada and Winbak Farm of Delaware."

Royal Mattjesty was a $210,000 yearling out of the Hall of Fame mare inductee, Lady Hathaway.

He was a full-brother to O'Brien Award Winner, His Mattjesty, p, 2, 1:52.1f; 3, 1:51s ($1,038,861).

"We are proud to have been the owners of Royal Mattjesty, he was the complete package, with a phenomenal pedigree, success on the track, and outstanding looks," said Joe Thomson, Winbak Farm Owner. "We were proud to stand him in our stallion lineup and to raise and sell his offspring."

As a racehorse, Royal Mattjesty was the first horse to ever take a sub 1:51 record at 2, 3, 4 and 5. He was the winner of 19 races and finished first, second or third in 57 races.

Misty Coast, Killer Stripes sweep DSBF filly prelims

Odds-on favorites Misty Coast and Killer Stripes both completed sweeps of their respective preliminary rounds in the Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund series for 2-year-old pacing fillies at Bally's Dover with strong front-end wins on Wednesday (Nov. 16) – and gave driver Art Stafford Jr. a stakes double.

Misty Coast again earned top billing when she strolled to a handy 1:56.3 score in the third and final $20,000 division, extending her current winning streak to seven races in the act. The Powerful Mist-Cruisinthe coast filly dueled with Direct Mist (driven by Trae Porter) and cleared for the lead on the first turn before controlling sectional times of :28.3, :58.1 and 1:27.4. After facing a mild bid from Direct Mist at the midpoint of the far turn, Misty Coast accelerated to preserve her lead, coasting home handily to win by 1-3/4 lengths. Direct Mist was a strong second; Clearlydreamy (Victor Kirby) was a one-paced third after stalking the top pair throughout.

Les Givens trains eight-time winner Misty Coast, who paid $2.10 to win, for owner-breeder Stephen Messick.

Killer Stripes was Stafford's other stakes winner, repelling a stern challenge from Hold My Wine to win for the second time in as many starts thus far. Stafford quarter-moved from third with the Badlands Hanover-Tiger Style filly, clearing Hold My Wine (Michael Cole) just before completing the first quarter in :28.4. After traveling uncontested through a cozy :59.2 middle half, Killer Stripes faced pressure from Hold My Wine just above the eighth pole. Killer Stripes held her ground while driven out, staving off Hold My Wine's stretch-long bid by three-quarters of a length in 1:58.2. Chatty Kathleen (Pat Berry) rallied mildly for third, another 12-1/2 lengths behind.

Trainer Andrew Stafford co-owns the Winbak Farm-bred Killer Stripes, who paid $2.20 to win, with Thomas Ireland and Bonnie Benson.

Kims Secret Search completed the trio of second-round winners, lifting steadily out of third in line to Corey Callahan through the final three-eighths of the mile, eclipsing pacesetter No Gel Nikki (Montrell Teague) with an eighth to go, and edging clear to win by 2-1/4 lengths in 1:58.4. Spoiled Rotn Girl (Allan Davis) was third.

Kims Secret Search kicked off a stakes double for breeder Winbak Farm; John Wilkerson trains the Badlands Hanover-Search The Future filly for Kimberly Caulder.

Misty Coast, Killer Stripes, Kims Secret Search, and first-round winner Direct Mist all earned berths to next Wednesday's (Nov. 23) $100,000 DSBF series final, as did No Gel Nikki, Clearly Dreamy, Hold My Wine and Spoiled Rotn Girl.

Walner stud fee set at $40,000

The Walner Syndicate announced Thursday (Nov. 17) that the 2023 stud fee for its prized stallion has been set at $40,000. The fee for syndicate members – whose tremendous support and great mares helped launch the stallion's meteoric rise to stardom – will be $35,000.

Walner stands at Southwind Farms in Pennington, NJ, with his foals eligible to the reenergized New Jersey Sire Stakes program.

Walner's great popularity among owners and breeders starts with his sire production on the racetrack, with that success carried through to the sales arena.

With two crops of racing age, he is the year's leading money-winning sire of both 2-year-old ($3,706,210) and 3-year-old ($6,030,386) trotters, with his own sire, Chapter Seven, ranking second in both categories. His first two crops have now earned a total of more than $14 million.

He sired three of this year's Breeders Crown Champions in Special Way 2,1:52 ($692,775), the season's co-fastest freshman trotter and richest 2-year-old filly trotter; King Of The North 3,1:50.3 ($1,166,854), who won the Peter Haughton and Wellwood at 2; and Jiggy Jog S 3,1:50 ($1,122,718), whose other triumphs this year included the Kentucky Filly Futurity and an elim of the Hambletonian.

On the commercial side of the ledger, one of his shares commanded the top price at any auction in 2022, fetching $750,000 at the recent Harrisburg Mixed.

His 60 Lexington Selected yearlings, with a $525,000 top seller, led the sale in gross at $6,949,000 and registered an average of $115,817.

His 24 Harrisburg yearlings, with a $510,000 leading seller, had a second-leading gross among trotting sires of $3,238,000 and averaged $134,917.

This follows his tremendous sales output in 2021. He led both the Lexington Selected and Harrisburg yearling sales in average last year and sired the Lexington sale-topper at $800,000 and four of its five top-priced yearlings.

"I think Walner can certainly be viewed as a 'super sire,'" said syndicate manager David Reid, "That's proven not only in his production, but in his exceptional ability to move up mares. That's the mark of a truly great sire, in my opinion."

For further information regarding Walner, or to inquire about available breedings, contact David Reid at Preferred Equine Marketing, (914) 773-7777 or email davereid@preferredequine.com.
