Striving for better best

In a continued effort to try to respond to customer requests, The Meadowlands is shortening cards and still trying to eliminate courtesy tucks. Professional gambler Les Stark said he appreciates the effort.

The Meadowlands is once again doing what they can to keep their customers happy.

Different forms of the phrase, "The customer is always right" were popular among retail pioneers in the late 1800s and early 1900s.

There is a common thread between those turn-of-the-century businessmen and The Meadowlands' president/chief executive officer Jeff Gural and chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemyre, who work hard to put their customers first.

Often misinterpreted, the phrase was not intended to be taken literally, but more so to show that big businesses should be listening and understanding the needs of their clientele.

"Even though we get a subsidy from the state and a portion of the sports betting profits goes towards the purses, still, a significant amount out of the revenues generated come from racing, including our own product," said Gural. "So, it's important to me to listen to the customers and try to adjust when we get a good suggestion. Nothing would make me happier than to see people in the grandstand again."

The Meadowlands sent out a press release last week, with two specific areas of focus, the length of time of the race card and competitiveness of the races.

Both the Friday (Nov. 26) and Saturday (Nov. 27) cards last week saw the last race go off before 11 p.m. Since there were only 12 races on that Friday card, it's impossible to compare it with the two previous Fridays that each had 14 races.

However, the last race on Saturday went off at 10:58 p.m., a good 29 minutes earlier than on Saturday, Nov. 13, which also had 13 races. On Saturday, Nov. 20, there was one additional race that went off at 11:41 p.m.

Just going off that one weekend, if bettors wanted to have less time between races and the card to end earlier, they certainly got what they asked for.

"The length of time that the card takes to run is of no significance to me because I'm hardcore and I'm going to be there if it takes five hours or it takes 2½ hours," said professional gambler Les Stark. "I would say it would be better for the new person that's just getting involved with the game. We might attract some people by not alienating them by taking so long to run our races."

Stark has been in harness racing a long time and started going to The Meadowlands on a nightly basis back in 1987. And even though the time it takes to complete the card isn't important to him, the competitiveness of the racing certainly is.

It's something Gural has been working on, especially when it comes to eliminating "courtesy tucks" and punishing those that continue to create them.

"We've given some warnings but no one has been penalized yet," said Gural. "Unlike owners of almost all the other harness tracks, I'm actually a horseman and grew up when harness racing was in its prime and I remember how exciting the races would be when the drivers had a much different style and there was no such thing as courtesy tucks. Courtesy didn't exist nor should it exist in a sporting event."

"I think you're seeing races now where they do close the holes, not all of them, but when they do, the product is much better. It's much more competitive and the horses can come from behind. There were a couple of races [last] weekend that reminded me of the old days and, hopefully, we can keep that going."

Stark is in favor of trying something that will bring down the percentage of winning favorites, which currently stands at 50.

"The Meadowlands was a track that if they had 33 per cent favorites it was a lot years back when they were in their heyday," said Stark. "There are many reasons for this and I'm not saying it's because of the tucks, so don't misunderstand me, but at the same time, if they can cause the flow in the race to improve, and by that, I mean if horses are forced to go to the front, if it gets the flow of the outer tier to be more lively, if you will, then I would say I'd be for it."

"There have been some races where I've noticed that holes have been closed and I do believe that it's caused more action, if that's the proper word, as far as changing of the lead and horses getting involved, which allows more horses from the back to enter contention if they're good enough, and I think that's what they're trying to achieve."

Gural, Settlemaier and their team field 50 to 75 emails a week, which is a lot considering they only usually race twice a week. And all emails received are responded to, unless they are condescending, offensive or profane.

"They're not always critical," said Settlemaier. "It's actually nice sometimes because we get emails that say you guys are doing a great job. The majority of them are negative when you hear from customers because I feel that Jeff and I have put ourselves out there and we've done that intentionally because we want to be able to talk to our customers and have an open dialogue with them."

As a long-time regular customer, Stark appreciates the fact that The Meadowlands will listen.

"Not only do they hear you, but in my opinion, they actually listen to the complaints almost to a fault," said Stark. "I think the customers feel like they can voice their opinion and there's nothing wrong with that, but I do feel The Meadowlands takes each and every one of them very seriously almost to the point where maybe they should consider the good things about their product and not have to make changes just for the sake of the fact that there was a complaint. The Meadowlands is trying and they should get credit for considering all these people's ideas."

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Vincent Stallworth thankful for Fusco's mentorship which has led to impressive rookie results

by Chris Lomon

It's only fitting that a conversation with Vincent Stallworth would land on Thanksgiving long weekend.

Thankful is a word often used by the New Jersey-based horseman when he describes his life in racing, one that saw him branch out on his own as a trainer in 2020.

Despite the challenges of balancing a 10-horse stable, plenty of time spent on the road, and keeping his owners happy, the convivial Stallworth is taking everything, ups, downs, and everything in between, in stride.

"It's going pretty good, better than I thought. I have really good owners, good people around me and good people working with me. It's a tough road, but we just try and do the best we can do. Some days, it's about keeping your head above water, but we've done better than I expected."

A pair of horses, Drazzmatazz, a trotting son of RC Royalty, and Scott OnThe Rocks, a pacing son of Pacific Renegade, have been key contributors to Stallworth's success.

"Drazzmatazz, he races at Yonkers for $15,000, and he's been a really nice for us. He's made over $60,000 for us this year. Scott OnThe Rocks, he's also done very well for us too. My brother owns him. I also have some other ones – not high-class horses – but some that fit the conditions at Freehold, who are hard-trying horses. They race hard and they pick up checks. They are all pretty nice horses. I have a nice stable and I have owners who support me. I'm very happy."

Before going out on his own, Stallworth worked eight years for highly successful conditioner Vinnie Fusco, Jr.

Fusco, who topped the trainer standings at Freehold on multiple occasions, died at the age of 53 last March.

There's no doubt Fusco would be proud of what Stallworth has achieved early on in the training ranks.

In his rookie season, Stallworth went 13-7-8 from 60 starts, which yielded an impressive .325 UTRS and $78,788 in purse earnings.

This year, he's topped those numbers across the board, working hard to achieve those results.

"I think the biggest challenge is just trying to keep up with everything. It's different when you are training from when you are grooming. There are so many things that need to be done, big details and little ones, every day. You have to keep in contact with your owners, keep up with your paperwork and keep on top of your horses. It's all a challenge, but it's a good challenge. It can be a 24-hour day job. You get the horses ready, race the horses, then make sure they are okay after the races. When you aren't doing that, you are watching the races. A lot goes into just one day of work."

Not that Stallworth is complaining about any of it.

There is, he offered, nowhere else he'd rather be.

"I'm really enjoying it. I should have done it a long time ago, but now I'm glad I did it. I did it a bad time, with the pandemic, but I really wanted to do it. When I was working with Vinnie, the more I was around it, the more I wanted to go out and be a trainer."

Fusco's passing still affects Stallworth.

"It hit me hard when he died. I wanted to do this because of him. He was a great inspiration to me and I have so much respect for him. He meant a lot to me and taught me a lot of things."

One particular piece of advice Fusco passed along has stuck with Stallworth.

He's reminded of those words each early morning he arrives on the backstretch.

"Vinnie told me, 'Always do the best that you can do. If you do that, it's all you can ask of yourself.' And that's what I try to do every single day. What that means to me is to work hard at what I do, so at the end of each day I can say that I gave the best effort I had. You're going to have ups and you're going to have downs. There are going to be a lot of downs in this business, but the ups will always outweigh the bad times. Vinnie and I always talked about that and that's how I look at it.

"When I win a few races, I don't get too high and when we lose, I don't get too down on myself. I thank God, I thank the owners, the people that work for me, and I thank the horses. We do the best we can do. That's what I say every morning I wake up. I have great people and great help, people who work very hard. They love what they do and I love what I do."

Just two years into his training career, Stallworth is looking to raise the number of horses he has and to have horses that can perform in the stakes ranks.

His commitment to seeing that come to fruition is undeniable.

"Long term, I want to branch out and get more horses, higher quality horses, maybe some stakes horses. I just want to expand a little more, not too much more, but have some nice, classy horses. Right now, I'm just racing claiming and condition horses, but it would be nice to have a few that race in stakes company, and maybe go on the road with them. Down the line, maybe in a year or two, it would be nice to add a few more horses to the stable. I enjoy the ones I have, but I'd like to get some higher-class ones."

If Stallworth sounds unabashedly grateful, he most certainly is.

Armed with the advice he was given from Fusco, his late friend and mentor, Stallworth is excited to see what the future holds.

"I thank God for everything, even for the fact that we are racing with everything that's going on in the world. I love racing. I know it's a tiring job and a hard job, but I love every minute. I would never want to do anything else. I love working with the horses and I love the horses that I have. I can't say much more than that. I'm very grateful."

Women dominate Australia's Breeders Crown night

by Adam Hamilton

Beyonce said it a decade ago.

Girls run the world, or at least they did at Australia's huge Breeders Crown race night at Melton on Nov. 20.

Females trained and/or drove eight of the 10 winners. And they trained and drove three of them.

Female trainers and drivers have long been a huge factor in Australian harness racing, especially Victoria, but this was next level stuff.

Trainer Emma Stewart led the way when she and partner Clayton Tonkin trained – wait for it – six of the 10 Crown final winners: Honolua Bay (4YO pacing entires and geldings), Ladies In Red (3YO pacing fillies), Maajida (4YO pacing mares), Encipher (2YO pacing fillies), Act Now (3YO pacing colts and geldings), Just A Bit Touchy (2YO trotting colts and geldings).

Kate Gath drove two of them, Just A Bit Touchy and Encipher, and made it three Group 1 wins on the night when she teamed with her husband, Andy, to land the $A300,000 2YO pacing colts and geldings' final with Catch A Wave, a brilliant son of Captaintreacherous.

Fittingly, two of the real female trailblazers of Down Under harness racing, Kerry Manning and Jodi Quinlan, joined the party

- Manchego was ranked #1 in the USTA poll for 16 straight weeks
- Manchego's earnings total $421,596 in 2021, averaging roughly $47,000 per start with driving wins on outstanding 2-year-old trotter Plymouth Chubb and 3-year-old pacing colt Act Now.

Manning rewrote just about every driving record in Australia for a male or female at her prime and also drove former champion trotter Knight Pistol to win the Group 1 Harley Davidson Trot in Norway back in 1997.

Quinlan is one of only three female drivers to win Down Under's marquee sprint race, the Miracle Mile in Sydney, which she did on Sokyola back in 2004.

Gath, 39, summed it up best: "I don't really stop and think about things like that (females dominating) because it's just part of the sport here. It's great, it's not about guys or girls, it's about trainers and drivers.

"I've never been treated any differently because I'm female. All the guys have always welcomed me and treated me like they treat everyone else. I've never known it any other way, right from when I first started driving."

Gath is charging towards successfully defending her title as Victoria's leading metropolitan driver.

And Stewart is a lock for her seventh successive Victorian Metropolitan training crown.

The female theme preceded the night with the most-anticipated Breeders Crown final clearly being for an astonishingly strong crop of 3-year-old pacing fillies.

Champion New Zealand filly Bettor Twist crossed the ditch to tackle an elite group of Aussies, headed by Ladies In Red, Beach Music, Tough Tilly, Joanna and others.

Historically, the champion Kiwi fillies have dominated when they've raided Australia, but the tide has turned.

"The breed and training has improved over here (Australia) so much, the Aussies have overtaken the Kiwis in a lot of ways," champion driver Anthony Butt said.

"So many Kiwis wanted to tell me Bettor Twist would dominate in Australia, but I'd see lots of these Aussie fillies and I knew she'd be up against it, especially against Ladies In Red."

Bettor Twist endured a hard run outside the leader, but Ladies In Red stormed home from well back to win running away in a record-smashing 1min53.1sec mile rate for 2240 metres.

Ladies In Red has raced 17 times for 14 wins and three seconds. She's as good a filly as Australia has produced for 20 years.

She's got that strong U.S. connection being by Mach Three out of the former U.S. race mare Kabbalah Karen B.

"She's so good, you could put her in our biggest open-aged feature races and she'd be hard to beat," Butt said. "She's got it all."

She get that chance in race like the Miracle Mile in March, but for now, she's sticking to her own age and sex to chase a fourth Group 1 level in the Vicbred final at Melton on New Year's Eve.

Elitloppet gets major purse bump; will be tops in the world in 2022

One of the world's premier races will go for 11,350,000 Swedish crowns (over $1.25 million U.S.).

by Thomas Hedlund

Swedish track Solvalla announced on Tuesday (Dec. 1) that the Elitloppet for trotters will carry the highest purse in the world in 2022, surpassing the Hambletonian, Mohawk Million and Prix d'Amerique.

The total purse — counting trials and the final — has been bumped to 11,350,000 Swedish crowns (over $1.25 million U.S.).

The Elitloppet winner has collected 3,000,000 Swedish crowns ($331,838 according to current exchange rate) since 2008, but next year the famous mile race will increase its status quite dramatically. The winner of Elitloppet 2022 will receive 5,000,000 Swedish crowns ($553,063) and that makes Elitloppet the race with highest purse in the world next year. Until now, Swedish stakes races Kriteriet (3-year-olds) and The Derby (4-year-olds) have offered higher purse money to winners than the Elitloppet.

Italian top trotter to USA

Italian-bred 5-year-old Alrajah One (Maharajah), who won the Italian Derby 2019 for trainer Alessandro Gocciadoro, will cross the big ocean and settle down in America this winter.

Alrajah One was moved from Gocciadoro's barn after the final of Gran Premio della Lotteria in Naples and Holger Ehlert has trained the 5-year-old Maharajah son until now.

According to Italian website www.gaet.it the horse will change his home address in mid-December and Åke Svanstedt will be the new trainer. Alrajah One has a record of 1:53.1 and $996,495 is banked at his account so far.

In Sunday's (Nov. 28) $125,000 Gran Premio Duomo in Florence, Italy, Alrajah One finished third from the lead when the horse's previous trainer Gocciadoro collected another big triumph with his Vernissage Grif (Varenne). Vernissage Grif did the tough job outside of leader Alrajah One and was the strongest horse over the stretch as he won in 1:55.1.

Announcer, breeder, auctioneer Carl Becker, 84, dies

Carl Becker, a 2018 inductee into the Communicators' Corner of the Harness Racing Hall of Fame in Goshen, NY, died on Monday (Nov. 29) after a brief illness. He was 84.

Carl, a native of St. Elmo, IL, entered the harness racing industry as a breeder, owner, and track announcer in 1964. A protégé of Hall of Famer Stan Bergstein, Carl served as track announcer for Grand Circuit meetings at various Midwestern fairs, including Springfield, DuQuoin, and Indianapolis, as well as the Fall Trots at Lexington's Red Mile. He also worked for many of the sport's premier auction houses as a sales announcer, including the Standardbred Horse Sales Co., P.W. Tully's Garden State Sales Co., the Lexington Selected Sales Co., Tattersalls, and the Blooded Horse Sales Co.

A 1958 graduate of the University of Illinois, where he was named Outstanding Senior in the College of Agriculture, Carl was co-founder of both the Illini Classic and Hoosier Classic Sales Companies, and he served on the board of directors of both the Illinois Standardbred Owners' and Breeders' Association (ISOB) and the Downstate Classic, Inc. He also served a stint as superintendent of speed at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield in the late 1960s.

Carl established Fair Meadow Farm in 1980 and bred the winners of $40 million over the course of the past four decades.

Carl is survived by Bonnie, his wife of 60 years, as well as sons Jon, Kurt, and Kris.

Kull Funeral Home, 114 W. Washington Ave., Altamont, is in charge of arrangements.

Memorials may be made to Christian Harness Horsemen's Association or the donor's choice.

Following is the bio from Becker's induction into the Communicator's Hall of Fame induction in 2018:

Carl Becker was barely a teenager when he provided play-by-play for a summer softball league in Altamont, IL, but at that moment he knew he wanted a career behind the microphone. He was introduced to harness racing as a kid at the Effingham County Fair and has since spent more than five decades calling horse races.

Becker graduated from the University of Illinois College of Agriculture in 1958, where he majored in agricultural education and minored in animal science, and spent five years teaching agriculture in Beecher City. In 1964, he began calling races regularly at the fairs, and served as superintendent of speed at the Illinois State Fair and on his home county fair board.

In 1964, Becker took over the announcer's booth in Springfield from the late Hall of Famer Stan Bergstein, who had mentored the young announcer. Soon, major tracks were seeking him out to provide his insightful calls and commentary, most notably DuQuoin, Illinois, where he called the Hambletonian and World Trotting Derby, and The Red Mile in Lexington, where he announced Niatross' historic 1:49.1 time-trial.

In addition to his work in the announcer's booth, Becker bred horses and stood stallions at his Fair Meadow Farm adjacent to the Effingham County Fairgrounds, and has served as a pedigree reader for numerous auctions. Becker helped to transform the job of auctioneer and pedigree reader by combining his knowledge of breeding with his enthusiastic announcing style. He has worked the sport's two major sales, Harrisburg and Lexington, as well as Garden State Sales and Blooded Horse Sales. He remains active as a pedigree reader and still calls races at the fairs.

In 2000, Carl Becker was inducted into the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Association Hall of Fame.

Tom Cosentino, 59, dies

Tom Cosentino, 59, of Parlin, NJ and formerly Howell and Morganville, died Nov. 30, 2021, at Jersey Shore University Medical Center.

Mr. Cosentino was a Bronx native and long-time New Jersey resident. He graduated from Christopher Columbus High School and St. John's University with a degree in sports administration.

A veteran publicist and public relations professional, he began his career in 1983 as a media relations intern with his beloved New York Yankees. From publicity director at Yonkers Raceway to working championship boxing and launching the Ted Williams Card Company, his diverse practice spanned sports and events to, later, public affairs.

He was instrumental in passage of direct shipping legislation to support New Jersey's burgeoning wineries. That advocacy led him to his most recent position as executive director of the Garden State Wine Growers Association, where he brought regional and national attention to the award-winning work of the industry.

He welcomed sharing his decades of experience with the future of the trade, teaching as an adjunct, guest lecturing, and mentoring interns.

He was also a board member of the Jersey Coast Chapter of the American Red Cross.

His greatest achievement and source of most pride was his family.

Mr. Cosentino was a voracious reader and enjoyed nostalgia for classic cartoons and television. He was well-admired, charitable, and a great conversationalist on sports to politics and more. A good book, glass of wine, and great company were among his simple pleasures. All who knew and loved him knew the true strength of his heart.

He was uplifted by his devout Roman Catholic faith. He was an active parishioner of St. Clement Church, Matawan, for over 25 years, where he served as a Eucharistic and bereavement minister, past president of the Holy Name Society, Fourth Degree Knight, and member of the finance council.

He is survived by his loving wife of 32 years, Ann; son, John (Jessica) and granddaughter, Diana; son, Mark (Allison); and mother-in-law, Hilda Marotta. He was preceded in death by his parents, Arthur and Rose; brother, Frank; and sister, Geraldine.

Relatives and friends of the family are kindly invited to attend visitation Friday (Dec. 3) from 5-9 p.m. at St. Clement Church, 172 Freneau Ave., Matawan, NJ 07747. A Mass will be held at 10 a.m. on Saturday (Dec. 4) at St. Clement Church and Interment to follow at St. Gabriel Cemetery and Chapel Mausoleum, 549 County Road 520, Marlboro, NJ.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Red Cross or the American Heart Association.

Dr. James A. Myers, 78, dies

Dr. James A. Myers, 78, of Whitestown, IN, died Nov. 20, 2021. He was a doctor, mentor, prankster, Sunday School teacher, friend, and father.

A lifelong lover of horses, he achieved his boyhood dream of becoming a cowboy. He specialized in cutting and won numerous national competitions. In recent years, he owned and trained standardbreds, rising before dawn nearly every day of the week to train his horses at the Indiana State Fairgrounds.

Dr. Myers embodied hard work and self-reliance, and took delight in the great outdoors. He enjoyed bird-watching, walking in the woods, splitting logs, chopping down trees, and taking on other dangerous tasks on his farm against his daughters' better wishes. He shrugged off personal injuries; after one solo trip to the hospital, he hid copies of X-rays of his broken ribs from his daughters in a drawer in his kitchen. He enjoyed woodcarving and created long-handled spoons made from Osage orange and walnut wood harvested from his property, which he gave as Christmas presents.

He nurtured all generations of a sprawling family, who regularly gathered at his house to eat his famously good cooking. He taught his grandchildren how to whistle, whittle, snort, and sneak candies when mom wasn't looking. He was often taciturn, but also a great talker and storyteller. He could cut a rug: at family weddings, he pulled every niece, aunt, cousin, and sister-in-law onto the dance floor to do the twist, waltz, and box-trot, which he learned as a child.

The dusty bench in his barn was typically the place where he would share what he was reading. A literature major in college, he continued to study Shakespeare, Faulkner, Chaucer, and the Bible throughout his adult life. "True Grit" was an all-time favorite along with the poetry of Robert Frost. He wrote letters that opened with a weather report or bird sighting before settling into deeper, sometimes philosophical territory.

A graduate of Vanderbilt University and the Indiana University School of Medicine, Dr. Myers also served as a physician in the U.S. Army Medical Corps at Fort Campbell, Ky. As an obstetrician-gynecologist in Indianapolis for more than 40 years, he brought thousands of babies into the world. Half of Boone County, many joked. While respected for his skill as a surgeon and in the delivery room, it was his compassion and advocacy for his patients that distinguished him. His employees and patients alike came to him with their problems. He was also a mentor, who especially enjoyed coaching young residents, who sought him out for advice and midnight pizza.

Born Sep. 1, 1943, in Lebanon, he married his high school sweetheart, Linda Jones, on July 14, 1967. Though she preceded him in death in 1992, she forever remained the love of his life. He was also preceded in death by his parents, Ezra and Marjorie; sister, Jeannine; and brothers, Jon and Joe. He is survived by his brother, Jack; daughters, Anne Cleary, Caroline (Lindsey) Millar, and Susannah (Matthew) Beachboard; and grandchildren, Molly Cleary, Will Cleary, Lila Cleary, August Millar, Emmett Millar, and Olivia Beachboard.

His family will gather for a small and private funeral service in December. They are planning for a larger celebration of Jim's life in the Spring of 2022.

Final care has been entrusted to the Strawmyer & Drury Mortuary, 2400 N. Lebanon St., Lebanon. You are invited to visit the website where you may sign his online register and leave a personal message at www.strawmyerdrury.com.

Perfect Sting's book full and closed

Brittany Stallion Management is pleased to announce that the initial book for first-year stallion Perfect Sting is full and closed for the 2022 season. Applications are currently being reviewed and breeders will be contacted after the process is further along.

The 2-year-old Dan Patch Champion – likely to repeat that honor at 3 – stands his first season at Deo Volente Farms in New Jersey.

"To say the response was overwhelming would be an understatement," said Brittany's Art Zubrod. "Word got out early that plans were to send him to stud in New Jersey, and by the time the actual announcement was made, breeders were lined up to get in, so to speak. Shares are completely sold out, and that happened almost immediately."

There are several key factors leading to the horse's popularity, not the least of which is his pedigree. Perfect Sting is by the co-fastest pacer ever, Always B Miki (1:46) and from the fastest sophomore pacing filly ever, Shebestingin (1:47).

Another factor is the long-held belief that 2-year-old ability is perhaps the greatest indicator of future sire success. "With that in mind," Zubrod said, "Perfect Sting comes up, you guessed it – perfect." The horse was the first undefeated 2-year-old pacer to win the Breeders Crown, and wrapped up his 10-for-10 season securing the Dan Patch 2-Year-Old Pacer of the Year award.

Standing in New Jersey allows Perfect Sting's foals eligibility to a revitalized New Jersey Sire Stakes program. An additional $3 million-plus will be pumped in from Meadowlands gaming revenue that will allow for increased purses and the resumption of the New Jersey Classics for 2 and 3-year-olds.

"I personally haven't handled this volume of requests since Artsplace went to stud," Zubrod said. "We thank breeders for their enthusiasm and their belief in his future sire ability."

In Range to stand at Hickory Lane Farm, Ohio

Hickory Lane Farm in Findlay, OH is pleased to announce that it will stand the richest son of Bar Hopping, In Range (Bar Hopping–Ilia–Windsong's Legacy) 2, 1:54.1, 1:51.4s ($793,037.00) beginning in 2022.

A $185,000.00 yearling purchase, In Range as a 2-year old, finished first or second in nine of his 10 starts with earnings over $400,000, highlighted by his Breeders Crown elimination victory and second-place finish in the $650,000 Breeders Crown final, along with multiple Pennsylvania Sire Stakes victories. He comes from a family of proven 2-year old speed making him an ideal stallion for Ohio.

Syndication of In Range is currently in progress. The cost of a share is $10,000, which entitles the shareholder to two breedings per year for the first four breeding seasons. It is anticipated that shares will sell quickly. For further details contact R. ## 2022 purse increase; "Win And You're In" status for Doherty and Haughton Stakes

The Meadowlands and Hambletonian Society announce a purse increase and "Win And You're In" status for Doherty and Haughton Memorial Stake Events.

The $400,000 (est.) Peter Haughton Memorial 2-Year-Old Colt Trot and the $400,000 (est.) Jim Doherty Memorial 2-Year-Old Filly Trot at the Meadowlands will see a boost in added money for 2022 as well as a chance to earn free entry into the $600,000 Breeders Crown freshman trot divisions.

The Doherty and Haughton are two of the oldest and most prestigious stakes contested at The Meadowlands, with the Jim Doherty originating in 1977 (then titled the Merrie Annabelle) and the Peter Haughton debuting shortly after in 1981. The list of winners in both events include such standouts as colt Muscle Hill and filly Check Me Out. Both are raced on Hambletonian Day as part of a stakes-laden trot-centric race card.

"The Meadowlands has always been at the forefront in creating new stakes and hosting established Grand Circuit races," said Jason Settlemyer, chief operating officer and general manager of the premier racetrack in North America.

"The Hambletonian Day program provides some of the richest and most prestigious races for horses of every age and gait and if we can provide more incentive to participate in the 2-year-old trots this way we're happy to do it."

The Meadowlands has committed to increasing the added money for each race from $45,000 to $100,000. In addition, the winners of both the Doherty and Haughton Memorials, if eligible to their corresponding Breeders Crown division, will have their starting fee waived.

The Breeders Crown, harness racing's $6 million year-end championship series, is owned and administered by the Hambletonian Society.

"Win and You're In" entrants will also advance directly to the $600,000 Breeders Crown final but will be eligible to draw for the 1 through 5 post positions, as do elimination winners. They must enter at the prescribed time as all other entries and meet the qualifying standards as outlined in the conditions of Breeders Crown No. 36. The entry status is not transferable and only applies in the year of both events.

More information will be published in the racing conditions of the events when the stake schedule for 2022 is announced.

Nominations now open for Caretaker of the Year

Nominations are now being accepted for the 2021 Caretaker of the Year. The award, sponsored by Art Zubrod and Leah Cheverie's Fair Island Farm in conjunction with the United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA), recognizes the unsung heroes of the sport — the caretakers who maintain the health and welfare of the horses on a daily basis.

The Fair Island Farm Caretaker of the Year will receive a cash prize of $1,000 as well as transportation costs to the USHWA Dan Patch Awards banquet in Orlando, FL on Sunday night, Feb. 20, 2022, where he or she will be recognized and presented with a trophy. The winner will also enjoy a two-night stay at Rosen Shingle Creek, host hotel for the USHWA activities, as well as two complimentary dinner tickets. All nominated caretakers will receive a certificate recognizing their accomplishments.

"Leah and I are honored to continue the tradition of recognizing caretakers and the hard work they do on a daily basis," said Zubrod. "And it is especially gratifying to honor one most-deserving person as the Caretaker of the Year."

Initially titled Groom of the Year Award when first presented in 1982, the honor was instituted as a result of a suggestion made by Delvin Miller at the annual Harness Tracks of America meeting when he received HTA's Stanley F. Bergstein Messenger Award. Previously sponsored annually by HTA and Hanover Shoe Farms, the tradition was continued in 2015 by MGM Northfield Park and USHWA, with Fair Island Farm coming on board in

"Caretakers are the backbone of the racing industry, working mostly out of the spotlight, but most instrumental in the success of our equine athletes," said USHWA president Kimberly Rinker. "For 40 years the industry has recognized caretakers, and we are thrilled that Fair Island Farm will continue the tradition to honor one individual for their contributions."

Any caretaker working for any stable or farm in North America is eligible to be the Fair Island Farm Caretaker of the Year. All that is needed to nominate is a letter or email, 200 words minimum, from an individual or group detailing the skills and special qualities of the caretaker.

The winner will be chosen by a seven-person selection committee comprised of USHWA members, all of whom are former caretakers: Tim Bojarski (chair), USHWA president Rinker, Tom Charters, Moira Fanning, Dean Hoffman, Rob Pennington and Shawn Wiles.

All nomination letters and emails must be received and/or postmarked by Thursday, Dec. 23, 2021, and sent to chairman Bojarski at a159star@gmail.com or mailed to Tim Bojarski, 7523 Maple Road, Akron, N.Y. 14001.

Hunter Myers reaches 1,000 career wins

Hunter Myers made his 1,000th trip to the winner's circle after triumphing with Over Six in MGM Northfield Park's fifth race on Wednesday (Dec. 1).

Myers sustained a first-over journey, eventually besting his competition by two lengths. The 1:58 clocking was the fifth career score for the sophomore trotter, who returned $8.20 to win.

The 23-year-old Myers began driving in 2014. His 1,000 wins have helped him garner over $7 million in purse earnings.

Harness racing is in Myers' blood. He and his father, Michael, have been involved with the sport their entire lives.

"I have always had a good support group around me that likes and understands the ups and downs of racing," stated Myers. "My mom, dad and other family members have always been behind me all the way and have always pushed me to be the best that I can be."

In addition to his family, Myers says that harness racing is full of encouraging people that have and continue to help and show support.

"I receive a lot of support from my girlfriend Scarlett and the entire Wilder family," explained Myers. "Sam and Jodi Schillaci are also a big part of my support system. Sam offers a lot of great advice on both driving and life."

Hunter was driving professionally while attending Westfall High School in Williamsport, OH and began working with horses full-time immediately after graduating in 2016.

"I love to race horses and cannot picture myself doing anything else," said Myers.

Hunter drove his first race in June, 2014 at the Pickaway County Fair in Circleville, OH. It resulted in a second place finish in a $3,057 fair stake event aboard Indian Spirit. Just three weeks and seven drives later Myers scored his first win. It was a 2:03.2 victory in a $1,000 conditioned trot with Uptown Dreamer at the Jackson County Fair in Wellston, Ohio.

Myers' richest win is a $75,000 Ohio Sires Stake Consolation in October at Hollywood Dayton Raceway aboard Cash N Chips. He rates the best horses he has ever driven as Cash N Chips and Smothastenesewisky. Hunter credits his family's trotter, Simmy as the horse that has had the largest impact on his driving career.

Myers feels fortunate to have had the opportunities he has been given in his young driving career.

"There have been many people that have given me opportunities and I thank them all," said Myers. "There have been a lot of people that have stood by me for several years now, even when I was a rookie at the fairs not knowing what I was doing out there."

Crossover Racing 2022 is now officially open for enrollment

Diamond Creek's entertainment racing partnership, Crossover Racing, returns for another year after a great 2021 initial season. The Crossover 2021 stable was made up of seven horses, one of which was Breeders Crown runner up, Gulf Shores. Following him throughout the year was a highlight of the fully sold out stable, and we are excited to confirm that Gulf Shores will headline the 2022 group.

The 2022 stable has gone through a shake up and includes older horses such as Fortify and a group of 3-year-olds that are potentially among the best in the Diamond Creek Racing arsenal. ## Freehold Fall Race Series concludes Saturday with event to benefit Toys for Tots Following two successful events, the Peter Grandich and Company (PGC) Fall Series at Freehold Raceway will conclude on Saturday (Dec. 4) with a race to benefit Toys for Tots. Special guests this weekend will be Bruce Driver and Grant Marshall, who both won a Stanley Cup with the New Jersey Devils.

"Having first visited in the late '70s as a racing fan, and then as a racehorse owner, Freehold Raceway has provided me and so many others with what has been known for decades as the Afternoon Delight," said Grandich. "The ability to help others while enjoying the sport of harness racing is a true blessing for my wife and me."

In the PGC sponsored Toys for Tots Race on Saturday, Freehold Raceway will be collecting monetary and toy donations for children in need. Despite the pandemic, Marine Toys for Tots distributed more than 20.2 million toys, books and games to over 7.3 million less fortunate children during its 2020 campaign, and the organization now looks to eclipse that number this year. Bruce Driver and Grant Marshall, both of whom are Stanley Cup Champions and former New Jersey Devils, will join PGC at the track for the day. Additionally, they will both be present in the Winners Circle for the presentation to the winning horse and driver.

PGC most recently sponsored a Turkey Trot Race this past Friday (Nov. 26) on the day after Thanksgiving. Together with Freehold Raceway, monetary and food donations were collected to benefit Freehold Area Open Door, an interfaith agency that has been providing emergency food, funding, mentoring and scholarships to those in need from the Freehold area since 1987. New York Rangers great, Ron Greschner, along with New Jersey Devils Stanley Cup Champion and Jersey Shore native, Jim Dowd, were in attendance to support the event.

“Freehold Raceway has had a longstanding association with both Freehold Area Open Door and Toys for Tots,” said Howard Bruno, general manager of Freehold Raceway, before the PGC Fall Series began. “We are looking forward to supporting these worthwhile causes again this year. We are grateful to Peter Grandich for his sponsorship and coordination of these events.”

Breedings needed to benefit New Vocations

New Vocations Racehorse Adoption Program is currently organizing its 24th Annual Stallion Auction to be held via OnGait.com Feb 1-3, 2022. The Standardbred Transition Alliance approved charity offers retired racehorses a safety-net through rehabilitation, retraining, and placement in carefully screened and monitored homes.

New Vocations embraces racing and the excitement and joy of racehorse ownership. At the conclusion of a horse's racing career, New Vocations stands ready to assist with its aftercare needs. “We rehabilitate the horses, break them to ride and care for them until a qualified adopter can be found,” said executive director Dot Morgan. “Then we educate the adopters on the characteristics of racehorses, answer myriads of questions, encourage them through problems and offer training guidelines. New Vocations adoptees can be returned at any time, for any reason throughout their life.”

The stallion auction is New Vocations' biggest fundraiser of the year and a perfect opportunity for stallion owners to show their support of aftercare. Generating dollars is the ultimate goal, so if you don't have a breeding to donate, please consider a year-end contribution.

New Vocations is a 501 (c) 3 charity; donations are tax-deductible to the extent of the law. To donate a breeding, please email dot@horseadoption.com or call (937) 205-4667. Monetary donations can be made through the website at www.NewVocations.org or sent to New Vocations, 719 Dolan Lane, Lexington KY 40511. To maximize advertising, breedings need to be received by Jan. 1; however, breedings will be accepted right up until the auction Feb 1, and throughout the spring.
